

A bit about Sonora Women in business.....

On page six of this issue of the NEWS are advertisements of eight business firms owned and operated by women.

This feature is presented this week as a part of the observance of National Business Women's Week when attention is called to the important part in business life that women are playing today.

In the larger towns it is to be expected that many types of business will be operated by "the ladies." In the smaller towns, the average person would say, there aren't so many "on their own" serving the community with merchandise or services.

In Sonora, there are nine business houses where women are "at the helm." This week the NEWS pays tribute to them as being integral factors in the progressive community life of Sutton county.

Presenting:

ALLISON, Miss Clara—and Miss Sally Wardlaw—the first a native of Sutton, the other of Reagan county — "graduated" from confectionery to drug business—in business "quite a few years" as one expressed it.

BARTON, Mrs. Totsie—native of Menard county but reared in Sutton—in ranch business several years—in food business in Sonora since May, 1935—outside interests through the years: her home, children.

DRAPER, Miss Grace—born, Mason county—reared, McCullough county—Sonora since 1928 when came to teach—in beauty shop business for self year and half—out-of-business interests: crossword puzzles.

DRISKELL, Mrs. Tom—born and reared, Kimble county — four years Sonora teacher—in laundry business "several years" — outside interests: Order of Eastern Star and Sunday School work.

MCDONALD, Mrs. Josie—born and reared, Lampas county — Sutton resident many years — serving Sutton people and traveling public in hotel business since 1896—"after hours" interests: forty-two, bridge.

RUTLEDGE, Mrs. Birdie — born, Colorado county; reared, Lavaca county—to Sutton in 1925 after living in Fort Worth, Ozona and San Angelo—in food business in Sonora since 1925—outside interests: "I haven't any but I do like a good picture show."

SPEED, Mrs. Ardena—born, Marion county, Tenn., but a Texan since she was thirteen—to Sutton, 1918, after 14 years in Pampa—in dairy business here since 1922—outside interests: Order of the Eastern Star.

WHITE, Mrs. Troy—born, Atascosa county; reared, Tom Green and Sutton—here since early 1900's—in business for self since 1923, longer than any other firm of that type—likes to work with flowers—"kept busy through the years with twins, now 14, and three other children."

CENTENNIAL BUILDING IN DALLAS SEEN BY SONORAN

A great deal of construction work remains to be done on the grounds of the Central Centennial Exposition in Dallas, according to Howard Espy, Sutton ranchman, who returned Sunday night from a visit there and in Fort Worth.

The motorist may drive only a part of the way through the grounds, Mr. Espy said. Only a few buildings seem to be completed. The Exposition opens June 6.

Mr. Espy was accompanied by Louis Dell Whitehead and his sister, Miss Lois Nell, both of Del Rio. The group stayed in Dallas but attended the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth several times. Rodeo events there, Mr. Espy said, were very good.

UTILITY WORKER TO LIVE IN ELDORADO

Popular Sonora business man, Nolan Kennedy, manager of West Texas Utilities Co. for several months, will assume his duties as manager in Eldorado next week. He and Mrs. Kennedy have lived here more than four years, since coming from San Angelo where he was employed by the same organization.

Actor and Wife, A Screen Writer, Here

Mr. and Mrs. Tully Marshall of Hollywood, Here Tuesday

Sonora's record as the overnight stop of notables in all walks of life was increased by two persons Tuesday when Tully Marshall, player of both screen and stage, and his wife, Marion Fairfax, screen writer, stayed at the Three-in-One Tourist Camp.

Mr. Marshall and his wife were on the return trip to California after a three months vacation. They travel in an automobile and house car trailer.

It was in 1916 that Marshall first went to Hollywood on a vacation trip and "ended up" in a picture called "Paid in Full." Previously he had been quite successful in stage work. Since the "Paid in Full" picture he has appeared in more than 140 pictures including such well known ones as "The Covered Wagon," "Oliver Twist," "Intolerance" and "Drums of Love."

During the twenty years since the time of his first picture Mr. Marshall has returned to the stage only one time. That was when he appeared in "The Streets of New York."

In a story of an interview with the couple in San Antonio Monday the San Antonio Light said:

"No less well known to the movie colony is Mrs. Marshall, who was one of the first playwrights contracted for movie work. She was taken from the stage to the movies at the same time as William DeMille and the two are largely responsible for modern screen writing technique."

LEGISLATOR THROUGH HERE ON WAY TO SOUTH TEXAS

Residents of Aspermont, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Westfall were visitors in Sonora for a short time Monday while on a trip to the Rio Grande Valley.

Mr. Westfall is a representative in the state legislature from the 118th district. He is a candidate for re-election at this time. Before securing the state office he was county judge in Stonewall county for two terms.

UNCLE OF W. D. MARTIN BURIED IN SAN ANGELO

Funeral services were conducted in San Angelo Wednesday of last week for C. P. Martin, uncle of W. D. Martin and a brother of J. W. Martin of Brawley, Cal., who formerly lived here.

Mr. Martin, who was sixty-five, had been a road supervisor for Tom Green county for several years. Besides the brother in California he had three others living in Texas and two sons—one of San Angelo and the other of California.

W. D. Martin attended the funeral.

Lions Entertained By Attorneys and Children Tuesday

About 850 of Tickets To "Three Wise Fools," March 30th, Have Been Sold

An unusually large number of guests were present at the Lions Club luncheon Tuesday noon—St. Patrick's Day—when three attorneys of this section entertained members of the club with short talks and amusing stories.

H. L. Winfield, banker from Fort Stockton, who recently announced as a candidate for the position of State Senator representing the twenty-seven counties of the 29th senatorial district, was a guest. He brought greetings from the Fort Stockton club of which he is president. Mr. Winfield continued his trip to Edwards county later Tuesday. His announcement is to appear in the NEWS in the March 27 issue.

Irish People Praised
Reasons why the Irish people are "the greatest on earth" were given by Judge Joe Montague of Fort Stockton who professed, unnecessarily, to be a "full-blooded Irishman."

Weaver Baker, district attorney, of Junction made a brief talk. Other guests who were introduced were: Coke Stevenson, Junction; Leslie Nance, former member of the club who now lives in Ozona; Mickey Bell, Fort Stockton; Bob Davis, Rio Frio.

Noble T. Poindexter, new manager of West Texas Utilities Co., was introduced as a new member, by transfer from the San Angelo organization. Mr. and Mrs. Poindexter and child came here Sunday from San Angelo where he has been

Beautification of Sonora and County Discussed Sunday

Minister Shows Relationship of Beauty of Religion and of Surroundings

"I was common clay until someone came along and planted roses in me."—Old Proverb.

The close relationship of religion and beauty in community surroundings was emphasized Sunday morning when the morning service at the Methodist Church was used for an explanation of the local and state beautification program.

The Reverend Mr. Rorie, pastor, explained at the beginning of the service that a church should have a beautiful side and that "there should be beauty in the heart before there are beautiful roses in the yard." The possibilities of securing beauty where none had existed before were pointed to by quoting the proverb reproduced above.

An outline of the state organization responsible for the beautification of Texas during "Centennial Year" was given by Mrs. Roy E. Aldwell, Sutton county chairman.

PETUNIA TO BE FLOWER HOMES HERE TO FEATURE

In response to a suggestion from the state landscape engineer, the petunia has been chosen as a flower for Sonora and Sutton county homes to use as a "predominating" flower for yard planting.

The petunia is best described as a foundation flower with funnel-shaped blossoms. Two species are common—one red-purple and the other white.

It is hoped that Sutton people will plant the brightly colored one more extensively in order to secure the best possible effect.

who is in charge of the work of nine committees appointed recently.

Commendation For H. L. Taylor
The state-wide campaign originated when prominent Texans realized the need of "dressing up" Texas this year. The state highway department extended complete cooperation and a state-wide, district-and-county, organization was established.

Praise was expressed by Mrs. Aldwell for the work of H. L. Taylor, section foreman, state highway department, and his employees who have done a great deal to make Sutton county more presentable.

Wayside parks are being completed rapidly on both the Ozona and Junction highways. Driveways have been laid out, cactus and other plants set out and ovens built for the use of travelers and Sutton county people. Markers are to be (Continued on page 8)

Plans Being Made For Study of Bible

Two Weeks Course in Summer To Include Handicraft Work

Arrangements are being completed by the Rev. T. O. Rorie for a Daily Vacation Bible School for two weeks immediately after the end of the school year in May.

The school, inter-denominational in plan, will be held before pupils leave to spend the vacation months in various places. Children up to and including those of the junior department of a Sunday School may be enrolled. Thirteen years of age is usually considered a maximum.

At the end of the first week a picnic is usually given for the children. When the school is ended a display of the work they have done is made. In addition to study of the Bible classes are often held in such subjects as basketry, woodcraft and painting.

The Reverend Mr. Rorie said Wednesday that the following would probably be in charge of the various divisions of the school: Mrs. J. Franklin Howell, Primary; Mrs. Maysie Brown, Junior; Mrs. M. O. Britt, all others enrolled. Support of the school, the Reverend Mr. Rorie, is usually by the sponsoring churches which participate.

'Birthday' Observed By Store This Week

J. C. Morrow, Manager of Corner Drug Nearly Five Years

Seven years in the business—and one might safely say, social—life of Sonora and Sutton county were completed when the Corner Drug Store closed its door Tuesday night.

Queerly enough the firm's first prescription was filled for L. W. Elliott who with the late Bob Steen and A. C. Elliott opened the store for business in its present location in 1929. Second customer of the pharmacy department was Frank Bond, ranchman. Since that time 28,482 prescriptions have been filled.

J. C. (Carl) Morrow, manager of the store which is now owned by the Elliots and Mrs. Belle Steen, has been closely related to the business life in Sonora since 1915 when he came here as manager of a "Corner Drug Store" owned by John Allison and Lea Aldwell. It was where the bank is now. A year later Mr. Morrow, who was reared in Sterling City and who worked in San Angelo for Central Drug Co., became a business partner of the late Dr. H. R. Wardlaw and Lea Aldwell in the operation of Sonora Drug Co., located where the Speed Laundry is now.

Mr. Morrow was gone from Sutton county for a few years but in 1931, at the time of the death of Mr. Steen, returned to become manager of the store he directs now. The store's sales staff is made up of R. C. (Bob) Vicars, Hillman Brown and Mrs. Steen.

Recovering from injuries received several weeks ago when a pipe struck him, E. C. Saunders, veteran Sutton county surveyor, returned Tuesday from Ballinger where he has been visiting his son, Alec, and Mrs. Saunders. Mr. Saunders says that it was found that he had suffered rib injuries. For several weeks he has not been able to lie down to sleep.

Court Session, With Light Docket, Ends at Five Thursday

Mexican Youths Given Suspended Sentences; No Jury Trials Heard in Term

Suspended sentences of two years each were given Louis Puryear and Jack Turner, 22-year-old men, on a theft charge after a hearing Thursday morning before Judge Joe Montague.

The youths waived jury trial and each testified briefly before Judge Montague.

Both have been in jail here for some time. They plead guilty to a charge of stealing firearms and clothing from the car of B. W. Hutcherson, sheriff, September 25. Turner has been in jail since September 27 and Puryear has served sixty-two days while waiting for court to convene.

Petit jurors who had been ordered to report Thursday morning were excused until that afternoon. When they reported then they were dismissed. It had been thought that the case of J. C. ("Pecos Pete") Meador, charged with assault with intent to murder "Shorty" Pointer of Eldorado, would be heard. The case was continued by Judge Montague until the next term when the defense declared several of its witnesses could not be in court.

Grand Jury in Session Twice

Grand jurors, excused since Monday afternoon, reported again Thursday. George H. Neill was appointed foreman in the place of Authur Simmons, in charge earlier in the week but who could not be present at the Thursday session. In his instructions to the grand jurors Thursday morning Judge Montague said, in part:

"... you are especially urged to investigate a burglary which has occurred in the shadow of the courthouse, as one might say. The sheriff will present to you the evidence he has."

Late Thursday afternoon an indictment charging three Mexican youths with burglary and theft was returned by the grand jurors. Those named were Gregorio Morales, Jesus Reyes and Manuel Fabila.

They were alleged to have broken into the Sonora Wool and Mohair Co. Tuesday night and to have stolen 186 pounds of dead wool which they sold the next morning for 10 cents a pound. They were arrested later the same day and kept in jail.

Each was given a 3-year suspended sentence.

In the report of the grand jury after its Monday deliberation the group commended the way in which county buildings were kept. The portion relating to the courthouse property was as follows:

"... the appearance of the courtyard has been materially benefited by improvements being made and those in charge are due the thanks of our citizenship."

The five-year-old damage suit of W. H. Hill against the American Angora Goat Breeders Association was continued at the plaintiff's request. It was stated that H. P. Malloy, a principal in the case, was ill. The case was filed March 6, 1931.

"Continued by agreement" was the case of Ed Roe against the Kirkland Estate, L. W. Elliott, Independent Administrator. On the motion of the state and the prosecuting witness the charge of swindling against H. L. Gray was dismissed. It had been "continued for arrest" from the September term.

On Tuesday Judge Montague granted a divorce to Thelma Thiers from Alfred M. Thiers. Plaintiff was given custody of two children. The next day the bonds of matrimony were severed between Frances Fay Wilson and Sandy Wilson.

Those making up the grand jury this term were:

Rip Ward, Joe M. Vander Stucken, Authur Simmons, George H. Neill, S. R. Hull, Leonard Gibbs, J. T. Eubank, W. E. Caldwell, Howard Espy, W. A. Carroll, Dan Cauthorn, George Barrow, B. M. Halbert, Jr.

Mrs. H. V. Stokes returned Saturday after a week's visit in Lampasas with her father, H. B. Casbeer.

Austin Conference Next Week To Unify Texas Efforts

Sportsmen from all over Texas will gather in Austin Friday and Saturday of next week for a conference to discuss Texas efforts for the conservation of wildlife.

C. H. Jennings, game warden in Sutton, Menard and Schleicher counties, made an announcement this week in regard to the meeting.

Patterned after the North American Wildlife Conference in Washington in February, the Texas meeting will be attended by individual sportsmen and representatives of such organizations as the following: sportsmen's groups, land owners' organizations, educational institutions, civic bodies, departments of the state government which are interested in any phase of wildlife development.

A recent proclamation by James V. Allred, governor, calls attention to the need of wildlife conservation measures and the necessity of a unification of all efforts so that the best results may be obtained.

TRACE INDIAN ART TO FIRST TRIBES

Work Is Attributed to Race Met by Early Whites.

Washington.—That the beautiful incised and engraved Indian pottery of Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas was made by the tribes first encountered by white men in this region is confirmed in a paper just issued at the Smithsonian Institution, by Winslow M. Walker, formerly of the staff of the bureau of American ethnology.

In a burial site near Natchitoches, La., Mr. Walker found earthenware bottles and bowls of this type associated with such objects as glass beads and scissors, which were undoubtedly of European manufacture.

The burial site can be traced historically to a branch of the Caddo tribe which occupied the country during the early days of white colonization, and some of whom were found dwellers. Thus, Mr. Walker points out, "the chronological data offer a clue which should assist considerably in the interpretation of many of the archeological remains in northwestern Louisiana, southern Arkansas and northeastern Texas."

One skeleton of an old woman was recovered from the ancient graveyard which is a notable illustration of the extreme head distortion practiced by the southeastern Indians on their children. The head was flattened both at the front and rear until, "it was pointed and almost of the shape of a miter."

Tunnel to Link Ireland and Scotland Proposed

London.—While President Eamon de Valera of the Irish Free State continues his efforts to sever every tie between Great Britain and Ireland, a Belfast engineer has an idea for joining the neighbor islands by a submarine tunnel.

The author of the scheme, William J. Stewart, represents South Belfast in the British parliament. He also is one of the heads of a large engineering firm.

His idea is to run a tunnel under the narrowest part of the channel separating southern Scotland from Ireland, a distance of about 15 or 16 miles.

It is estimated that the cost of an Anglo-Irish tunnel would be at least $250,000,000, but supporters of the scheme argue that the money would be quite as well used in providing employment. On the other hand, it is reported that the mention of such a plan for providing a closer link is arousing those stalwarts in the Free State who agree with de Valera that the Englishman's place is on the far side of the Irish sea.

Locked Curbs Tested in London to Aid Traffic

London.—Three miles of one of the main streets in the East end of London is to have pedestrian guard rails along the length of it in one of the greatest road safety experiments yet undertaken by the ministry of transport.

The experiment will, in addition to the guard rails on both sides of the road, have pedestrian crossings and traffic light signals all interlocked to guard every road crossing of importance.

"Jaywalking" and the thoughtless stepping into the road from the footpath thus will be prevented. In the three-mile stretch of road, one of the busiest and most dangerous in the East end, pedestrians will thus be kept off the roadway except at pedestrian crossings.

It will also have the effect of allowing vehicles to proceed nearer to the curb and is expected to facilitate the smooth flow of traffic.

"Grouch" Aid to Health,
Seattle Doctor Believes

Seattle.—A good laugh a day may keep the doctor away, but a "healthy" grouch is good for the health, too. At least, that's the opinion of Dr. Frank M. Carroll, city health commissioner, who argues nothing aids the nervous system more than "a good mad."

Doctor Carroll, however, partly agrees with Dr. James J. Walsh of Fordham School of Sociology, who told a Bridgeport (Conn.) audience recently that laughter was good for innumerable bodily ailments.

"There are times," Doctor Carroll said, "when a grouch does more to clear up worries than laughter. I am inclined to believe that laughter is a sign of good health rather than an aid to good health."

FEWER TEXAS FAILURES
BUT LIABILITIES GROW

Austin, March 18.—Commercial failures in Texas during February declined substantially in number from the preceding month and moderately from February, 1935, according to report of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Statistics show eighteen failures during the month compared with twenty-eight the month before and nineteen the corresponding month last year. Total liabilities of the bankrupt firms at $248,000 were up 35 per cent from last year and 61 per cent from the preceding month and average liability per failure increased 40 per cent and 133 per cent respectively over the two comparable periods.

ENGINEERS CHANGE FACE OF THE WORLD

Big Projects Advance Toward Completion in 1935.

Washington. — Dynamite and steam-shovels, dredges, riveting "guns," concrete mixers, picks and shovels—these, plus the hands of hundreds of thousands of men, have changed the face of the world noticeably during 1935, according to the National Geographic society, listing some of the major engineering projects completed during the year.

"Premier engineering event of 1935 was the completion of Boulder dam across the Colorado river between Nevada and Arizona. Other projects of major importance finished during the year included: the bridging of the Mississippi river near New Orleans, and of the 'Little Belt' in Denmark between Jutland and the Island of Fyn; electrification of the Pennsylvania railroad between New York and Washington; changing to standard gauge of 150 miles of the Chinese Eastern railway between Harbin and Hsinking; the inauguration of a great ship canal in Russia connecting the Baltic and White seas; the completion of a highway between the Texas border and Mexico, D. F.; opening of the Moscow subway system; and the placing into service of the world's largest steamship, Normandie.

Boulder Dam.

"The huge solid block that constitutes Boulder dam, and bars the Colorado river, contains 4,500,000 cubic yards of reinforced concrete. It rises 726 feet and is thus the highest dam in the world. Water was first permitted to gather above the dam February 1, but the last concrete was not poured until May 29. By the end of the year the water level had risen more than 200 feet up the face of the dam and had formed a lake reaching nearly 80 miles up stream. Work is still in progress on the power house immediately below the dam, and it is not expected to be in readiness for operation for at least a year.

"In the Tennessee valley, where a co-ordinated system of dams is under construction, two of the major new structures are nearing completion. Norris dam, in the Clinch river 30 miles northwest of Knoxville, built primarily to impound water for use downstream, and for the incidental generation of electricity, will be finished early in the new year. Wheeler dam, at the upper end of Muscle Shoals, 15 miles above Wilson dam, will also be completed in a few months. Wheeler dam was built to control floods, facilitate navigation, and produce electricity.

"Construction of three great dams in the Northwest was in progress: Bonneville dam, across the Columbia river near Portland, Ore.; Grand Coulee dam, also on the Columbia in north central Washington, and Fort Peck dam, on the Missouri river in northeastern Montana. Work was under way on 14 dams in Ohio which eventually will control the flood waters of streams that feed the Mississippi system.

"In the United States, a ship canal in Texas connecting Brownsville, on the lower Rio Grande, with Port Isabel, on the Gulf of Mexico, is nearing completion; excavation for the All American Irrigation canal to carry Colorado river water to the Imperial valley of California is in progress; and preliminary work is under way on the 135-mile ship canal planned to extend across northern Florida from Jacksonville to Port Inglis.

New Bridges.

"The 8 1/4-mile bridge to connect San Francisco and Oakland, across San Francisco bay, has passed well beyond the halfway mark in construction. It is scheduled for completion in approximately one year. August marked the halfway mark also for the great suspension bridge across Golden Gate, San Francisco. It will reach completion about the same time as the bay bridge.

"The great Triborough bridge which will connect the Bronx, Manhattan and Queens, New York, was within six or seven months of completion as the year ended. Five new steel highway bridges across bays and river mouths along the coast of southern Oregon, are nearing completion.

"Among other bridges of more than local importance completed in the United States were: a highway bridge, carrying the Lincoln highway across the Juniata river, near Bedford, Pa.; two highway bridges over the Niagara river in the region between Buffalo and Niagara falls, connecting the New York mainland with Grand island; two highway bridges over the Cape Cod canal, at Bourne and Sagamore, Mass., and a vertical lift railway bridge over the canal near Buzzards Bay.

"Ambitious tunnel projects planned and under construction were many, but few important bores were completed during the year.

"Pacific slope water was brought through the Continental divide to the Atlantic side, in Colorado, as the result of the completion of a 12-foot tunnel, February 4. The tunnel extends under Independence pass near Leadville and brings into the Arkansas river basin water that formerly flowed into the Colorado basin."

Residents Here Many Years, Theo Savells Observe 39th Anniversary

Memories of their wedding trip of "just a few days" to San Angelo were recalled Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. Theo Savell as they observed the thirty-ninth anniversary of their marriage in Sonora.

Mr. and Mrs. Savell were married at the bride's home, located where A. F. Kasper lives now. Mrs. Savell's parents were Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Miers. She is a sister of W. A. Miers, Sutton ranchman.

It was quite a trip to San Angelo in those days, Mr. Savell recalled yesterday. A Baptist preacher married them, then they started to San Angelo. They spent the first seven days, depending on the weather.

Family Operated Stage Line

After a few months he began driving a stage and kept that up for nine months without missing a day. He and his brother, Tom, and their father operated the hack line for several years, then he started "working for wages."

Soon after the Savells were married he operated a store and wagon yard where the Kirkland Building is today. The land had been leased from Mrs. J. A. Ogden, mother of Cy Ogden of 1936 Sonora.

A bit later he worked in a saloon and a little later put up a building near the first location, just about where E. S. Long's barber shop is."

Saloon Keeper Many Years
As well as he can recall it, Mr. Savell was in the saloon business for himself from about 1902 to 1918 (when national prohibition came). His business was known as "Favorite Saloon." In his home today is a portion of a mirror which came out of the Diamond Saloon, early day one of San Angelo, which was located near the San Angelo National Bank corner.

After he went out of business in Sonora Mr. Savell bought the Wentworth place—three and a half sections of land—with Bob Martin, now of Del Rio. They operated together for a year, then he sold his interest to Bob Glasscock and bought Mr. Glasscock's interest in fourteen sections which he owned jointly with Bob Peacock.

The "Old Peacock Place" was operated with Mr. Peacock for about two years, then Mr. Savell became sole owner. He still has it, thirty-two miles southwest of Sonora, where he and Mrs. Savell live a part of the time. They have two children — Miers, Sutton county ranchman, and Mrs. Bryan Hunt.

Freight wagon driver, stage driver, butcher shop owner (that was his interest for a time), saloon keeper, storekeeper, ranchman—Mr. Savell is known as an early day Sutton citizen who, peculiarly enough, is considered a ranchman but, as he says it with a laugh, "never hid very much tanching after all."

night of their wedded life in an Eldorado hotel "when Eldorado was hardly more than a wide place in the road." A Mr. West owned the hotel.

Settled First in Tom Green

Not a native West Texan but one who has lived here "since '85 or '86," Mr. Savell has seen the country grow from the wide open type to one of many ranches. He was about thirteen when he, his father and stepmother, and his three brothers and two sisters came with their cattle from Madison county to Tom Green county. Three of the boys were big enough to ride horses and drive the cattle so the "family wagon" wasn't exactly overcrowded.

A load of lumber for a Wiley Taylor was the cargo of the freight wagon Mr. Savell drove to Sonora from San Angelo the first time he came here. He thinks that the material was used in building the first schoolhouse on the ground where the Masonic Hall is now. It was a four-day trip from San Angelo; ranch supplies was the usual load. A round trip usually took six or for Sparks and Koenig and while holding that job he ran for county treasurer against Judge Burroughs. He was defeated. Then about 1901 he and his brother-in-law, W. A. Miers, bought the saloon business of Lehev and Hill in a small, frame building where the A. & W. Drug Store is today. As Mr. Savell told it yesterday:

"I don't know how we got the business for neither one of us had any money to speak of. We had some credit, though, so we used that and were able to get by. After about a year I bought Will out

SYSTEM OF SUPPORT OF ATHLETICS SHOULD BE DETERMINED NOW

Recently attention has been called to the need of a systematic plan of support, by Sutton county citizens, of athletics at Sonora high school.

It is the belief of the NEWS that intensive study should be given by some group to that problem.

It may well be recognized as a premise on which to work that Sutton county citizens are primarily interested in football. Basketball and track events may appeal more and more through the years. Proof of this may be seen in the fact that there was a heightened interest in the basketball this year.

High school athletics are similar, in one respect at least, to those of colleges and universities. Football carries the load. Basketball, track and baseball, when the latter is attempted at all, must have the "charitable affection" of the cash customers who delight in seeing a pigskin sail through the air on crisp, fall days.

Preliminary to a study of a plan of financial support of the Sonora athletic program should be preparation of a budget for the coming year. A fairly accurate estimate may be made of funds needed for the carrying on of the three major sports.

It is quite possible that a system of season tickets would solve the problem. Sale of these all-inclusive admission tickets early in the school year might secure a foundation fund which, with "drop in" admission fees, would take care of the year's budget.

Whatever the plan decided upon, if it is arrived at after a careful study of the many phases of the problem, it should solve for the next year at least, the ever-recurring one of how to take care of Sonora boys and girls who want to represent their town in athletic competition with other boys and girls.

Cooking School Monday and Tuesday Will Attract Many

Sutton county women are evincing more and more interest in the Kitchen Chautauqua, sponsored by the NEWS, national advertisers and local merchants, in the high school auditorium Monday and Tuesday next week.

Promptly at two o'clock Monday afternoon Mrs. Johnetta Howard will begin her second annual Cooking School in Sonora.

As a special feature of the school this year it has been arranged, tentatively, that Mrs. Eudora Hawkins of the West Texas Utilities Co. will have a place on the program at the School.

Mrs. Hawkins is an expert on electric cookery and will explain special points in the operation of electric ranges and will also answer, as best she may, any questions that bother the housewives who attend the School. She travels over the entire district in which Sonora is located, going into the homes of electric current users and helping them secure the best possible service out of their use of the utility for baking and cooking.

Contest Enthusiasm Shown Tuesday the Falfurrias Creamery Co. of Falfurrias, Texas, wired that it would again participate in the School. The company, large producer of butter, was represented in the School last year. Sonora merchants who are participating are Piggly Wiggly, operated by Lomax and Trainer, and

The Piggly Wiggly firm will supply all groceries used by Mrs. Howard and the Vander Stucken concern will furnish the meat used.

Mrs. W. C. Gilmore who, with Mrs. M. O. Britt and Mrs. R. D. Trainer, is in charge of the Cake Contest arranged for Tuesday afternoon of the School, reports that Sutton ladies are showing interest in this feature. The Parent-Teacher Association is completing arrangements for the sale of all cakes entered. All of them become the property of the organization, which will use the money from their sale in beautification work on the school grounds.

Notes May Be Taken

Memorandum pads furnished by J. H. Story, representative of Morton Salt Co., a School participant, will be given ladies as they register at the door both afternoons. These may be used for making note of hints given by Mrs. Howard and for memoranda of any particular recipes the housewife likes. A printed program will be given each one at the door.

Pleasing features of several kinds, some new, some used last year, have been arranged and it is believed that, all in all, the 2-day School Monday and Tuesday will be enjoyed a great deal by every woman who attends to learn from Mrs. Howard the best ways of cooking tasty dishes in the most economical and efficient manner.

Miss Gardner Hostess To Music Club Friday Night

The Sonora Music Club was entertained Friday night of last week at the home of Miss Jamie Gardner. Miss Marie Watkins read the life of William J. Marsh, the composer of "Texas, Our Texas."

The work of Frank La Forge, an American composer was described by Miss Thelma Rees. A piano number, "May-Night," by Palmgren, was played by Wilma Hutcherson. Plans are being made for a special program for Music Week, the first week in May.

A salad course was served to: Misses Callie Mae Love, Marie Watkins, Gertrude Babcock, Wilma Hutcherson, Thelma Rees.

Mrs. O. G. Babcock, Mrs. Sterling Baker.

Mrs. B. H. McLain and son, Bobby, returned Tuesday from Ballinger where her mother, Mrs. A. J. Voekel, has been seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Karnes and daughter were visitors in San Angelo Wednesday.

"A trip around the world" was given by the Methodist Woman's Missionary Society Wednesday night at 7:30 when six "sight-seeing" buses carried the passengers to each "country."

Three of the countries, Ireland, Japan and the United States, were shown at the church. Ethiopia was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hix Hall. At the O. L. Richardson home, Mexico was seen and at Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Awalt's Hawaii.

The "tour" attracted a great many "passengers" both of the Methodist Church and of other churches. The Reverend Mr. Rorie said Thursday noon that about $54 was made by the organization of women and that the group was grateful for the excellent patronage that was given it.

WNU Service.

A WEEK after they opened the office in the Kern building where you could go to make a quiet little bet on the ponies and maybe win a few dollars, Grandma Hostedder went before the city council and raised "so much fuss about the outrage" that the city fathers had to do something about it. The Evening News, a conservative paper, printed the story, and this frightened the mayor half out of his wits. He ordered the place closed at once.

Twice after that other places started up quietly, and met the same fate; Grandma Hostedder saw to that.

But finally they elected a new mayor, and a new city council, and the mayor himself liked to lay a little bet now and then, and to watch the ponies gallop around the oval. So it came about that a somewhat modern booking office (that was the dignified term given it) came into being, where you could go and bet a little money on any horse no matter where, for direct wires came into the office from all the tracks.

Grandma Hostedder was away for a couple of months during all this and when she came back to town there was a pretty how-to-do. She called a meeting of the Reform league and declared the nuisance had to stop. She went around from door to door and tried to stir up resentment. She collected a few followers and on Tuesday night they were on hand when the council met in Town Hall.

Grandma Hostedder faced them, her dander up. She declared the betting establishment was a disgrace, that it took the very bread out of the mouths of children, and that if the city council didn't order the chief of police to close the place she would get out an injunction.

The council ended by passing an ordinance permitting horse racing at the county fair grounds and then Grandma Hostedder did blow up. She waved her umbrella at the mayor and called him a gangster, whereupon the mayor arose and extended her an invitation to attend the first race meet as his guest.

During the next three weeks Grandma put on a whirlwind campaign against the race meet and against betting. She trudged from door to door, but the resentment was dying down. Business was better and all the merchants were looking forward to the opening, with prospects of increased sales.

It was no go. A week before the track opened Grandma had a nervous breakdown. They took her to the Little Flower hospital for a rest. Severely shaken by her defeat she refused to see anyone.

The day the track opened the mayor sent his private car to the Little Flower hospital. Four of the mayor's stenographers went with it. They posed as indignant housewives and begged Grandma to accompany them to the track for a demonstration. Grandma listened and finally, a new light of battle in her eye, agreed to go.

The stage was all set when the mayor's car arrived. Hastily men went about the business of getting the first race under way. Grandma had a seat in a box just opposite the judge's stand. She looked a little pale, but nevertheless there was battle in her eye.

A bugle blew and the crowd cheered.

"Here they come!" The horses were being paraded before the stands.

Horror of horrors! The third horse in line had a big white ribbon draped along his side and on it in gold letters ran the legend:

Grandma Hostedder's Entry
Lucky Boy.

The crowd went wild. Already they had spotted Grandma, her pert little hat at a belligerent angle, her eyes snapping cold defiance.

At first Grandma did not understand and then suddenly it dawned on her that she had been duped. She started to get up, but the girls flocked about her so that she could not escape. Miss Henderson, the mayor's secretary, in her quiet, efficient way began whispering things to Grandma.

"You see, it's like this. The horse is really yours. It's one they had out at your ranch at Clearwater. Somebody brought him in and entered him under your name. Really it is!"

Grandma was wide-eyed. "Why, it's that colt of Molly's, ain't it? It must be."

Ask Jeff Slagle what happened in that race. He'll tell you Grandma Hostedder can swing a wicked parasol. Yes, sir. In her excitement she busted his brand new straw hat all to smithereens.

And Jeff will tell you also that Lucky Boy was just a common old plug from the livery stable they hired for $2.50 and that nobody expected him to come anywhere near winning. But he did—beat the mayor's own entry.

The other day Grandma Hostedder was before the city council again, raising Cain because that august body hadn't appropriated enough funds to keep the race track in shape for the summer meet. "Us breeders," she began, "demand action—"

FARM CONSUMPTION OF NITROGEN GAINS

Use as Fertilizer Highest in Recent Years.

Washington.—World agricultural consumption of nitrogen gained substantially during the agricultural year 1934-35 and totaled 1,792,000 metric tons, the highest figure attained in recent years and compares with 1,750,000 tons used by agriculturists in 1929-30, according to reports reaching the Commerce department's chemical division.
 Manufactured nitrogen for all purposes aggregated 2,030,861 metric tons in 1934-35 compared with 1,887,590 tons during the preceding year and 2,203,540 tons in 1929-30, according to estimates by the British Sulphate of Ammonia federation. Nitrate production was only 1 per cent greater than consumption in 1934, according to estimate.
 Phosphate rock exports from Tunisia reached the highest level of the year in October and totaled 175,000 tons compared with 154,000 tons in October, 1934. Total exports of rock during the first ten months of 1935, however, declined about 20 per cent to 1,210,500 from the corresponding period of 1934.
 In keeping with the industrialization policy the Mysore government (British India) is considering the establishment of a factory at Mandya for the manufacture of artificial fertilizers and sulphuric acid, according to a report from Calcutta.

New Gas Developed.
 A German firm claims to have developed a special gas, easily handled, that will exterminate rodents, insects and weevils, according to a report from Berlin. The material is packed in cloth sacks and enclosed in air-tight containers for shipment. In use, the sacks are buried in grain where contact with air liberates a gas which is said to be highly efficient as a pest exterminator.
 The sale of carbolineum, offered as a substitute for linseed oil, has increased to a notable extent in Germany during recent months, according to advices from Frankfurt-on-Main. Paint stores throughout the country are offering carbolineum in all colors, including white, as well as paints made of the material, the report states.
 A German paint manufacturer claims to have found, after extensive tests, that activated carbon saturated with ammonia possesses valuable rust-proofing properties. Combined with linseed oil or other drying oils, it produces a rustproof product fully as effective as red lead paints, it is stated.
 The municipal street cleaning department of Stuttgart, Germany, has decided, after several years of experimenting, to operate its several hundred trucks with sewage gas. At present the department is operating one large garbage truck and two small vehicles with sewage gas and the remainder of the fleet is now being converted, according to a report from the American consulate at Stuttgart.

Foreign Trade Grows.
 United States foreign trade in coal-tar dyes, colors, stains, etc., increased considerably in 1935, preliminary statistics show. Imports of such products during the first 11 months of the year amounted to 4,219,000 pounds, valued at $5,619,000, compared with 4,037,400 pounds, with an invoice value of $5,161,100 for the corresponding period of 1934. Exports of coal-tar dyes, colors, stains and color lakes amounted to 17,638,000 pounds, compared with 16,953,300 for the first 11 months of 1934, and the invoice value rose from $5,284,000 to $6,184,700, statistics show. Exports of such products from the United States are distributed widely throughout the world while imports originate almost entirely in Germany and Switzerland.

Tigers Kill 47 in India; Hunters Bag 22 Animals
 Calcutta.—Tigers in the Sundarbans, the desolate stretch of sand flats to the south of Calcutta, have had a record year as killers, it is shown by a forest administration report.
 They claimed no fewer than 47 human victims in 1934—the highest number since 1916. In the year before only 15 persons were killed by tigers in this area.
 On the other hand, 22 tigers were killed during the year—exactly double the 1933 total.
 The Sundarbans are the chief haunt of the famous royal Bengal tiger.

Stage Death Stab by Actor Is Real
 Munich.—An actor in an Austrian village was stabbed to death accidentally by a fellow performer in a stage scene because the guard had been left off a dagger blade. Villagers at Biscofsen, a tiny village near the German frontier, were watching a rollicking folk farce. Franz Melsel, in his part, playfully stabbed Rupert Penn, a fellow peasant actor, with a dagger. As he did so, Penn fell to the floor. The "properties man" had forgotten to put the wooden guard on the sharp blade. It penetrated to Penn's heart.

Mrs. Howard To Use Texas Product Only

Sherman Firm Recently Has Made Plant Improvements

Mrs. Johnetta Howard has chosen Mrs. Tucker's Shortening exclusively for her Cooking School, Monday and Tuesday afternoon, chiefly because the manufacturer is one that has remained on the cottonseed oil standard and because the continued use of cottonseed oil help the Southwest.
 Mrs. Howard knows that there has been a tendency by some to shift from cottonseed oil as it costs more than many substitutes. As use of the oil makes Southwest business better, Mrs. Howard appreciates the company's policy.
 The Sherman concern was the first to place on its containers the statement — "Made Exclusively from Choice Cottonseed Oil." A recent visit to the plant of the Interstate Cotton Oil Refining Co., the manufacturer, revealed many improvements in method and equipment during recent months. These have helped improve the product. New refining processes and a cellophane inner-seal for the cartons have helped insure factory-fresh, sweet and odorless cartons.
 Speaking of frying, the cooking expert uses this shortening for deep fat frying because it heats without burning, smoking or popping; makes foods more digestible and, as it does not absorb the odors of foods fried in it, may be used over and over again for economy.
 The word "economy" reminds the cooking expert that Mrs. Tucker's is a superior shortening and that the housewife does not have to use as much of it as she does ordinary cooking fats.
 The company is urging Texas friends to visit the plant during the Texas Centennial. It is always open to visitors, and Southwestern people will be interested in seeing how shortening is made.

CRANE TRACK MEET WILL ATTRACT MANY ATHLETES

Crane, March 18. — Five teams more than competed in last year's Permian Basin Relays have already accepted invitations to this year's track meet the afternoon and night of April 4 on the Crane football field.

According to Coach George A. Harris, Crane Athletic Director, teams that will be present this year are: Wink, Kermit, Pecos, Monahans, Odessa, Midland, Crane, Fort Stockton, McCamey, Iran, Big Lake, Barnhart, Sonora, San Angelo, Robert Lee and Big Spring.

provided by the state highway department at each of the parks to show the name of the donor of the land.

Twenty-five Sutton ranchmen, it was said, have agreed to build ranch entrances. Mrs. L. W. Elliott is chairman of the Ranch Entrances committee. The state is also suggesting that ranchmen give their places names and some are adopting their brand as a name for their ranch.

City entrances, money for which was given by the Lions Club, are to be built on three highways. The one on the Junction highway is under construction. Mrs. W. E. Caldwell is chairman of the committee in charge of this work.

In concluding her talk, Mrs. Aldwell said:

"We must not be asleep to the beauty that can be created around us. California as a state is much over-rated and there is no reason why Texas cannot do as much or more as California has done. Texas, too, has the natural advantages which may be developed to give beauty."

Town Possibilities Described

Suggestions for cleaning up and beautifying Sutton county were given by Mrs. W. L. Davis, chairman of the Filling Stations and Garages committee. Among the suggestions she made were:

—The cleaning up of a lot adjoining a citizen's property to secure a more attractive town.

—The creation of a pleasing backyard as well as the improvement of the plot in front of the residence.

—The improvement of business buildings with paint and perhaps with the addition of flower boxes.

Cleanliness, order and beauty were declared by B. H. McLain to be cardinal points to be considered in a genuine appreciation, permanently, of the beauty which may be created in a community. Appreciation, he explained, is a matter of growth from day to day and must be built as a permanent thing rather than one for the moment only.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Kelly and son, Jamie, of Texon, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. James.

Mrs. Louis Roueche and daughter, Nina, and Joyce McGilvray visited in Midland Saturday and Sunday.
