He came to Sonora from Kerrville to succeed C. H. Jennings as game warden in Sutton, Menard and Schleicher counties. While here he lived at the home of Mrs. George Trainer.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Remschel of Kerrville where he was born and reared, the young man attended Schreiner Institute and Texas A. and M. College. At the latter school he was awarded his degree of Bachelor of Science in Animal Husbandry in 1936. He was a first lieutenant in the United States Army Reserve Corps.

Review of This Year's Work and Plans For Next Will Be Discussed

When Sutton county ranch owners and operators meet tomorrow afternoon at the courthouse they will have two major pieces of business to handle. According to H. C. Atchison, Jr., county agent, they

a) Election of a county committee for 1938, members of which will go to Big Spring for a District 6 meeting December 10 and 11 to hear details of the 1938 range program.

b) Discussion of the range conservation work this year linked with information regarding work which may still be done before the close of the 1937 period—December 31.

Mr. Atchison said Thursday that he hopes it will be possible to build about $10,000 worth of spreader dams, spreader terraces and dirt tanks before the first of January. Two outfits are to be available for work in that time and the two should aveage about five miles of terracing each working day. Both labor and time elements prevent cedar and pear work.

County Allotment Not Used A rough guess by Mr. Atchison as to the amount of work done in Sutton this year is $40,000. Slightly more than seventy-five thousand dollars was the county's allotment for "earning" by practices of the range conservation program.

Expense of administering the program this year has been about $1,000. Range inspectors are paid, county committee members get $4 a day when in session (usually once a month), neither Mr. Atchison's salary nor that of the office secretary, Miss Muriel Simmons. is paid by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, sponsor of the range program work.

Administration expense is deducted, proportionately, from the check of each one who has participated in the program. For that reason, Mr. Atchison points out, much additional work could have been done this year at little, if any, additional expense for handling.

Reports Being Prepared About ten compliance reports have been completed. It is likely that the final reports showing percentage of compliance will be sent Station in groups of ten or fifteen. AAA Payments Will Begin in Few Days

Applications May Be Checked at 3000-A-Day Rate

College Station, Dec. 1.—The Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee expects payments under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program to start early this month, according to Geo. Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the group.

The committee, in the course of its monthly meeting at Texas A and M. College, indicated that most of the payments would be made in December, January and February.

"The state AAA office here at College Station is equipped to check applications and to pass them on to the general accounting office at the rate of some 3000 a day," Slaughter said. "This means that the limiting factor in paying farmers and ranchmen is the number of applications which we receive from the counties."

No payments can be made to any county until it has sent in at least 75 per cent of its total applications, according to Slaughter. This minimum has been set as the lowest figure from which the county expenses of administering the program can be calculated. The county expenses are deducted from the payments.

The committee took steps to urge counties to send in their applications for payments as soon as possible. Meanwhile the committee pointed out that farmers had until December 31 to earn payments under the 1937 program by sowing soil building crops, especially winter legumes, and by carrying out other conservation measures

"Texas farmers earned only about four and a half million dollars in payments out of the more than six mllion allotted to the state under the 1936 program," Slaughter said.

Washington.—The government is spending millions of dollars to protect and propagate big game which pioneers of the West almost wiped out in the last century.

Scores of big - game preserves have already been established and state and national laws have been passed for the protection of the relatively small number of big game

This campaign to prevent the extinction of big game from the United States was begun on a large scale only a few years ago. Already it has more than doubled the number of many animals and birds.

Workers under the Works Progress administration are improving five federal big-game preserves in North Dakota, Nebraska, Wyoming, Montana and Oklahoma. The work is being supervised by the United States biological survey.

Eastern Waterfowl Protected.

Hundreds of other projects for improving wildlife habitat already have been completed, are under construction or are planned. These include 17 waterfowl refuges along the Atlantic coast from Canada to flight without fear of guns.

Virtually every state has from two to ten wildlife refuges which protect animals and birds native to that region. The total of these is in excess of 5,000,000 acres.

The new western preserves, however, are the most extensive projects for preserving big game which once roved the great plains in large numbers. The five preserves comprise more than 120,000 acres.

The smallest is Sully's hill game preserve, near Devil's lake, N. D., containing approximately 1,000 acres where buffalo, elk, whitetailed deer, as well as ring-necked pheasants, wild geese and ducks and other species of birds, find sanc-

The federal elk refuge at Jackson, Wyo., contains 18,737 acres originally established for winter feeding of elk. It also provides sanctuary for deer, as well as for sage grouse, wild ducks and geese.

Near Valentine, Neb., is 20,000,acre Fort Niebara game preserve, where buffalo, elk, deer, beaver, as well as sharp-tailed grouse and prairie chickens, are protected. The project now is 90 per cent complet-

The largest of the five preserves is the Wichita mountains wildlife refuge, comprising 61,480 acres devoted to the perpetuation of buffalo, elk, deer, Texas longhorn steers, as well as turkey, quail, prairie chickens, wild ducks and geese.

Another federal big-game refuge is being established near Moiese, Mont. Known as the national bison range, it comprises 18,521 acres devoted primarily to bison, although it also offers sanctuary for elk, deer, mountain sheep, beaver, blue grouse and wild ducks.

ROAD SERVICE

FORD offers two new cars for 1938— the Standard Ford V-8 and the De Luxe Ford V-8. They are different in appearance - but built to the same high standard of mechanical excellence - on the same chassis.

Because people liked our 1937 car so well, they bought more than of any other make. They liked its looks, its smooth performance, and the way it handled. We have improved on that car in the newly styled Standard Ford V-8.

But some folks wanted still more size and style, with the same Ford advantages. For them, we designed a new De Luxe line.

The De Luxe Ford V-8 Sedans are longer with more room, larger luggage space, and fines appointments all around, De Luxe cars are equipped with the 85horsepower engine only.

The Standard is even lower priced than the De Luxe. It has graceful new lines and well-tailored interiors—with a choice of engine sizes—85 or 60 horsepower.

Before Ford made V-type 8-cylinder engines available to every one, they were used only in expensive cars. Since then, four million Ford owners have learned the genuine enjoyment of driving an eightcylinder car with all-around economy. The thrifty "60" engine, especially, makes possible in Standard models a very low first cost and equally low operating cost. With two distinct designs, two engine sizes and two price ranges, you'll find a 1938 Ford car to fit your needs exactly.

That child fatalities in the United States increased only four per cent during the past twelve years, while adult fatalities increased 186 .75 per cent, is attributed directly to the growing attention that states and cities are giving to the promotion of child safety.

Authorities in safety everywhere point to this marked difference as definitely proving the effectiveness of the methods for accident prevention, which are being used so widely, not only in the United States, but in almost all civilized countries.

FIND NEW SOURCE OF MANGANESE ORE

Discovery Vitally Important to Steel Industry.

Washington.—With Cuba today the United States' only nearby commercial source of manganese, vital to the manufacture of steel, widespread interest was aroused in official circles here by the recent announcement of Cyril von Baumann, noted explorer, that he had discovered rich deposits of the ore in Ecuador, South America.

Von Baumann, who returned to this country from South America recently with his wife, leaving his explorer-partner, Andre Roosevelt, in the Ecuadorean jungles to complete their explorations, did not announce the exact location of is discovery. However, he said he estimated the deposit was worth $5,000,000.

Only a small amount of manganese is now mined in the United States, which, except for Cuban supplies, is dependent on such far away countries as Russia, India, South African Gold Coast and Brazil.

Used in Steel Making. In the nine years through 1936, imports accounted for about 90 per cent of total United States consumption of manganese ore in steel making. Of the total ore imported, Russia accounted for 44 per cent; Brazil 23 per cent; the Gold Coast, 19 per cent; British India, 9 per cent; Cuba, 6 per cent; all other countries, 22 per cent.

At present, production of the ore by the Cuban-American Manganese company, near Santiago, Cuba, amounts to between 10,000 and 12,-000 tons monthly. While it is pointed out that this amount probably could be stepped up considerably, additional nearby stocks of manga nese would be desirable to supply the demand of the American market in the event of an emergency.

Manganese is of particular significance to the United States in that it is one of the eight basic war materials in which this country is not cow testers Dec. 6-9, inclusive, with self-sufficient, according to the natural resources board. The army and dairy husbandry department as dinavy munitions board places it at the head of the list of 23 vitally necessary raw materials for wartime manufacturing.

Vitally Important.

With daily threats of general conflict in Europe, and the Far East already involved in undeclared war, officials here see a double importance in von Baumann's announcement. It is pointed out that if the Ecuadorean supply proved as rich American steel industry, largest and Dr. H. S. Williard, dairy deas the Cuban-American holdings, the user of manganese in the world, partment head at the University would be able to get its supply at of Wyoming, Laramie, Wyo. Dr. distance it would have to be shipped. But more important, it was noted here, the United States navy also would be in a position to protect shipments from this source as well as from Cuba, in time of war

It was felt here that while difficulty of production in the undeveloped interior of Ecuador would defer for many years the actual ap pearance of Ecuadorean manganese on the market, development of the new find could be speeded up, in scouts of Ozona are busily enevent of emergency, to the point gaged preparing for the dedica-

--after all who authorizes a bank to do business

EVERY incorporated bank in the United States conducts its business under a charter issued either by its state government or by the federal government. Before a bank charter is issued specific requirements must be met such as minimum paid in capital and in many cases, paid in surplus.

A charter is the bank's authority from the government, state or federal, to carry on a banking business under the regulation of banking laws and supervision of government authorities. For this reason, it is much more accurate to say that the United States has a "chartered banking system," rather than a "private banking system."
