Cinco de Mayo celebration and 1st Annual Sutton County Car Expo fill the park with fun

The Best of Show winner, Tye Farmer, also won Best Overall Truck and Best Mini Truck - Wild.

by Storie Sharp thing for everyone, with vendors selling jewelry, crafts and toys, all kinds of great foods and over the state of Texas, the American Sales & Service, Inc., weather couldn't keep anyone from having fun. The cold wind on Saturday might have kept some from venturing over to the Sutton County Park, but it didn't keep the 25 teams that came to play ball from taking the field. With games going on the Bronco baseball field and in the draw behind Poplar St. there was never a dull moment for softball fans.

As the sun set the music started and dancers filled the slab and car enthusiasts got to get a glimpse of what Sunday would bring as the car show participants did a "Sonic Cruise" through town.

The sun was shining bright on Sunday, bringing out everyone that hadn't stopped by on Saturday. The fajitas were sizzling, the music was playing and the cars were shining as the judging began at the 1st Annual Sutton County Car Expo. In addition to judging the vehicles, the sound systems were graded on a decibel level machine, grading the best base and some loud speakers. Some entrants even had to sit on the top of their car to keep the roof on (or so it seemed from this amatuer's observance). Sound quality was also judged.

The Car Expo was exceptional for its inaugural year, with promises of only bigger and better yet to come. The event wouldn't have been possible without the support of many generous sponsors, including

Voters, Take Note

Early voting has begun for the Chapter 41 and school board elections. Anyone interested in voting early can do so in the Administration office from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

It is important that everyone be aware of a new state statute that says some form of identification must be shown in order to vote, so don't forget to take your voter registration card or drivers license when you go

Chapter 41 is a very big issue for Sonora ISD. In the first election there appears to have been some confusion about how to vote and it failed by approximately 11 votes. This failure caused Sonora ISD to have to send Austin approximately $80,000 more than would have been if the vote had passed.

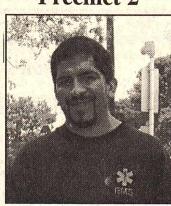

When you vote "FOR" the proposition on the ballot you are saying that you want Sonora ISD to partner with another district so that they can send the partner district money instead of Austin. The only option available to our district right now is Option 3, which only allows us to send our money to the State. Either way, money will have to be paid to help educate other children in other districts. This does not exempt us from being Chapter 41. It does allow us to have a choice as to where the money is sent and voting "FOR" will save Sonora ISD approximately $90,000. A sample ballot will be in next week's issue of The Devil's

Please make an effort to vote. Early voting continues through May 11, 2004. Election Day is May 15, 2004 from 7:00 a.m to 7:00 p.m.

"I will have a strong commitment for providing Sonora's students with one of the best educational opportunities in Texas."

Your vote and support is appreciated.

Election Day is May 15, 2004 7:00 A.M. to 7:00 P.M. at Hudspeth Hospital.

Susanna Street swings for State

Susanna Street, Sonora High School senior, earned a trip to Austin to compete in the Class 2A State Tennis Tournament, girls singles division, to be held May 10-11 at the UT tennis facilities. She achieved her goal by earning a silver medal at the Regional tournament held in Abilene April 30-May 1.

Street went to Regional as District Champion with a season record of 28 wins and 2 losses. This record earned her four gold, one silver, and one bronze for the season helping Coach Larry Jennings secure a seeding of 3rd at Region. This seeding came behind last year's state champion as 1st seed and this year's district champion from Canadian, TX as seed 2.

First round opponent, Chrystal Trejo, from Tornillo, couldn't compete with Susanna's experience, losing 6-0, 6-0, after a valiant effort to overcome Susanna's strengths. This included a powerful second serve not seen very often at this level of tournament play.

Sharon Schaffner. Henrietta, faced Street in the second round. She, too, had difficulty keeping up with wellplaced serves, down the line winners, and few unforced errors falling 6-1, 6-1.

After an hour and half rain delay, she began her semi-final match facing a formidable opponent in the #2 seed, Ashley, Gretchen Canadian. Gretchen was coming off a huge win for district champion by defeating last year's state champ, Lindsey Short, Spearman. She is a talented player that showed skill, poise and passion for the sport, much like Susanna. Her only drawback was her lack of experience. With Ashley in her first year on varsity and a freshman, Street's experience pulled her through another match with a score 6-1, 6-0.

Moving into the championship match on Saturday, having dropped only three games in three rounds, Street was ready to take on the reigning state champ. Both came ready to play; Street took an early lead with a 6-3 1st set win. Street was up 3-0 in the second set; Short began a comeback few can only imagine. A number of factors went in Short's favor allowing for a 7-5 score in the second set pushing the match to a deciding 3rd set. Lindsey's talent, speed and determination to win led Street to only her 3rd loss for the season.

"I should have won that match," exclaims Street. "But, rather than let it dampen my spirit or hurt my confidence, it has given me even more resolve to win a State Championship for Sonora, my town and my school."

Street continues, "I have accomplished many goals in my 5 years of tournament play. I have many more still to achieve. I look forward to this challenge and am proud to represent my community and my school in this tournament."

Congratulations, Susanna. Good luck at State. Bring home

Ask the Historical Society

by Jo-Ann E. Palmer, Secretary Sutton County Historical Society

Q. How did the Camp Three in One gas station get it's

A. A contest was held by Mrs. Pfiester to name the station. Charles H. Evans Jr. won $5 for coming up with the winning name. It was located at her tourist camp, you could get gas, oil and groceries there so he named it Camp Three in One

Q. Where is W. S. Strader buried?

A. In the May 18, 1928 issue of The Devil's River News there is mention in the 35 Years Ago column of the following: County and District Clerk, W. S. Strader, after a lingering illness died in Sonora, Sunday morning, Jan. 11th, 1891, and was buried Monday in the city cemetery. Deceased was born in West Virginia about 33 years ago, where his parents now reside. He came to Texas about 1879, was a citizen of Menard county about 10 years and moved to Sutton County shortly after the location of Sonora. He was well liked by all who knew him, and at the election of county officers last fall, was chosen County and District Clerk of Sutton County, which office he filled until death called him to the other world.

This notice says he was buried in the city cemetery, not the Sonora Cemetery, the term normally used in the news. There was a small cemetery located within the city limits. There are at least three burials in it. One a baby, one a young woman who died after breaking her hip. It was called the City Cemetery. We wonder if he was buried here also as Ray Davis told us there were about 5 graves in the little cemetery. She said she would walk down Main St. to Crockett St. and turn left and the cemetery was just a block or two down, about halfway between both draws. She couldn't tell me which street corner it was on and we couldn,t find any gravestones in that area.

With all the war news going on one item seems to have been overlooked quite a bit lately, the dedication of the monument

Washington D. C. A lot of people say they don't know any WWII vets. If they asked they looked at the gravestones they would find some more. From newspaper articles we know that Lt. William M. Penick USAAC was killed in Florida while serving in the military. Pvt. 1C John Bevans (Pete) Cooper USA 330 Rangers was killed in Barrakapore, India. Staff Sgt. J. H. Brasher USAAC died in an aerial action near the So. Pacific Isle of Ceram.

Pvt. 1C Isidro Virgin was killed in Italy. Sgt. R. W. Hill USAAC died in a bomber raid over Germany. Staff Sgt. David G. Ramirez in the 7th Cavalry died in the Admiralty Islands. Staff Sgt. James S. (Jake) Morgan Jr. in the 6th Armored Infantry Battalion died in Northern Italy. Pvt. Geronimo Muñoz with the 3rd Army Infantry (Patton) died in Germany. Cprl. Arthur W. Awalt Jr. a field artillery man died in Leyte Islands. Quartermaster 3/C John Aldwell Nisbet USN was killed in action in the Pacific Theater. Pvt. 1C Pablo A. Soto, USA infantry was killed in the Philippine Islands. Lt. Marvin Smith USAAC died off the coast of Florida.

There were a lot of famous people that served in WWII, sports professionals, Yogi Berra, Jack Dempsey, Gil Hodges, Tom Landry, Rocky Marsciano and Barney Ross.

Politicians include Spiro Agnew, Lloyd Bentsen, George Bush, John Connally, Robert J. Dole, Gerald Ford, Barry Goldwater, Lyndon B. Johnson, John F. Kennedy, Ed Koch, Richard Nixon and J. Strom Thurmond to name a few. Also govt. servants, Henry A. Kissinger, John Mitchell, Elliott Richardson and Cyrus Vance.

You will find journalists that served in WWII include Dave Garoway, Bill Mauldin, Pierre Salinger and Mike Wallace. Authors include Art Buchwald, Alex Haley, Louis L'Amour, Norman Mailer, James A. Michener, Leon Uris, Thornton Wilder and Herman Wouk.

Just ask around, maybe one of your grandparents served during WWII or great grandparents. Remember they had the women in the military and many other female groups working for the war effort. While the men were away many of the women stepped in and took over their jobs. They learned how to weld, rivet, work machines that the men worked in peace time. They helped build ships, make would find quite a few right weapons and ammunition. They here in Sonora. If they went to took over farms and ranches and the Sonora Cemetery and ran them until their men came home. They learned how to mow the lawn, clean the gutters, fix their cars when they broke down and to cry because they missed their men. They canned food because of rationing and sewed and knit clothes to go off to the troops. They worked in VA Hospitals as volunteers, reading to men who had been blinded or lost their arms and writing letters to their loved ones for them.

There were a lot of ways your ancestors contributed to WWII. Some couldn't pass physicals so they served on local committees to raise money for the war. They volunteered to collect scrap metal, silk and cooking grease to be recycled for the war effort. They planted victory gardens, worked as volunteers and helped wherever they could in the war effort. They pitched in and served in the Civilian Patrols and helped protect the home front. Even if they didn't go off to war they worked in many ways to help the troops win. You didn't have to be a soldier to win the war, you could be a "good soldier at home" and do everything you could to help the war effort.

While we shouldn't forget the men who are fighting now we should stop and take a few minutes to say thank you to those who fought before them and show them proper respect for their efforts. Many of these WWII vets are quite elderly and won,t be with us much longer, they deserve our respect and thanks, not just in death, but now while they can appreciate it. I don't mean just on Memorial Day or Veterans Day but other times of the year when a holiday doesn't demand it.

While you are at it remember those who fought in Korea, Vietnam, Grenada, and in Desert Storm and Desert Shield and all have been in around the world. They all deserve a thank you from us too. You can leave magazines at the VA hospitals, knit or crochet colorful lap robes for the patients, send little cards to them on and off during the year to let them know you care. With the new conflict there are many young people in VA hospitals right now. We have done a lot to help those overseas but many seem to have forgotten those who have come home and are confined to hospitals. You would be amazed at how long some of these men and women have been confined to hospitals, some will never be able to go home. So when you help the ones overseas don't forget the ones who have come home.

We will have a regular column next week, no sermonizing, I promise. If you have any questions concerning Sutton County history send them to "Ask the Historical Society," P.O. Box 885, Sonora, TX 76950-0885 or stop by the office at 307 Oak Street, Monday mornings, Friday mornings and Saturday mornings or give me a call at 325-387-5084 during those same times or give me a call at home at 387-2855 in the evenings. We still need more people to help gut the old WTU/ice house building at the corner of Water and Prospect Sts. We work there every Saturday we can from 8-4 trying to get it ready to become a huge new museum for Sutton County. Many people have asked me when it will be done. My answer is, when you all get down there and pitch in physically and help. The money from the concert won't go very far and we need a lot of volunteer help to turn that old building into a museum, a showplace for local history. The Miers Home Museum will continue to function as an 1890's home museum but this museum will cover the other so called "actions" we ranching as well as many other aspects of Sutton Co. history.

My Mother

She would bake my favorite cake (Chocolate with pecans on top) for my birthday and I don't know how she did it but when she bought me a gift it was something I always needed. Yes, she spoiled me and I keep telling my wife that I am too old to change. God created women uniquely and they have the ability to have children and to show or give that special kind of love that we need. In our world today it may not just be our mother; it may be a grandmother or someone else that is not even kin to us. That love we received and has warmed our lives and our hearts reminds me of how much God loves us (Psalm 36:5 &7). Yes, it is an unconditional love and no matter how bad we are or what we have done God still loves us (1 John 4:7-10).

Don't ever take someone's love for granted. Thank them and let's give a prayer of thanks to God for His love to us (Psalm 52:8, Romans 5:8). This week let's call, send a card, flowers, take to dinner or go visit our mothers or the ones (it might even be a mother in -law) that have had a wonderful part in our lives. Better yet, you may go to or even take them to church next Sunday.

Cinco de Mayo Celebration, Car Show and Softball fill the weekend

by Ruthie Bounds, Chamber of Commerce Executive Director

Though I have lived in

Sonora all my life, and have truly appreciated this town and the sense of community, I am still amazed at what a wonderful community Sonora really This past weekend the Cinco de Mayo Celebration took place in Sonora. And what a wonderful celebration it was. A couple of years ago a representative of the Knights of Columbus came to the Sonora Chamber of Commerce to express concern and a desire to enlarge the Cinco de Mayo celebration. The leadership of both organizations agreed that this should be a time for our community to celebrate the Hispanic heritage of our area. As is the policy of the Sonora Chamber of Commerce the chamber agreed to help for three years with the organization of the Cinco de Mayo celebration. This is only the second year for the Sonora Chamber of Commerce to be involved in the Cinco de Mayo celebration with the Knights of Columbus and I can say that I have rarely had this much fun while working this hard. The board of Directors for Sonora Chamber of Commerce helped to make this possible by being on hand to help wherever needed and to relieve Donna & I, as well as helping to set up and take down.

This year's event was more fun than ever! We were fortunate to have two other event organizers that wanted to work with the Knights of Columbus to hold their events in conjunction with the Cinco de Mayo celebration with the 3rd Annual St. Ann's Softball Tournament and the 1st Annual Sutton County Car Expo. Both of these events were extremely ccessful, even with thirty m.p.h. north winds blowing all day Saturday. The Friends of Historic Sonora Main Street Program organized a parade in downtown Sonora that many said was wonderful even in the inclement weather. The wind blew too hard to set up the rides for the children on Saturday out at the Sutton County Park and some of our vendors did not return to set up on Sunday, after being wind blow and exhausted by the cold weather, but a good time was had by all. Crowds of people flocked to the softball games and to the car show. Lino's Custom Stereo hosted the 1st Annual Sutton County Car Expo, and I think everyone would agree that it was one of the biggest things to come to Sonora in a while.

Having never attended a car show of any kind in my life, I was amazed! Families from all over West Texas were here to exhibit and enter vehicles in the Sutton County Car Expo. Crowds were large, and stayed out at the park all day both Saturday and Sunday. We want to thank all of the vendors, participants, sponsors, and spectators for taking part. Young and not so young alike seemed to get a "big kick" out of the cars, trucks, dragsters, motorcycles, music and fun. We hope that all of the non profit organizations that set up booths were able to raise money for their charities, and that all the businesses that also set up booths did well. Sonora is a wonderful place to live, and with all the out of town visitors this last weekend, hope that the visitors got a taste of what a wonderful community Sonora is to visit Thanks to everyone that helped to make this event a success.

Local fisherwoman hooks second in Babes on the Bay Tournament

Carolyn Jones, JoAnn Jones and Kim Jones make up the Hill Country Hookers fishing team.

The 5th annual Jim Ehman Memorial Babes on the Bay Tournament in Rockport, Texas was held on Saturday, April 24, 2004. Local banker and new Chamber of Commerce Board of Director, JoAnn Jones was part of the "Hill Country Hookers" who finished 2nd in the "Guided - Any Bait" competition. The team was guided by Capt. Gary Tinnerman of Saltwater Safaris Bay and Flats Fishing Guide Service. The catch weighed in at 16.6 lbs. Other areas of competition were "Guided - artificial", "Un-guided - any bait" and "Un-guided - artificial". Awards were also given for the Largest Red, Flounder and Trout and for the Red with the Most Sports

The Babes on the Bay tournament is limited to amateur women and is simply a trophy tournament. This year there were two women from Florida and one from Alabama fishing in the tourney, but most of the women come from the coastal bend, Houston, or San Antonio. The inaugural event hosted 92 women anglers. The next year's women-only contest attracted nearly 200. Almost 300 women fished in the next one, and the fourth year 354 anglers in 107 teams came out to rival or exceed participation in other major coastal tournaments that are open to all anglers. This year the tournament hosted 446 women in 128 teams, and the representative from CCA stated that this is the largest fishing tournament in Texas.

An ongoing agreement between CCA-Aransas Bay and CCA-Texas results annually in the return of a portion of the take raised at each Babes on the Bay tournament. This money helps fund trout and redfish releases in Aransas Bay through the Lone Star Legacy program, a perpetual endowment fund set up by the TPW Foundation to supplement the maintenance of state parks and/or wildlife and fisheries projects. This notion of returning to the bays what is taken is an essential element of the tournament and its sponsors.

Girl Scouts take time to stop and smell the flowers

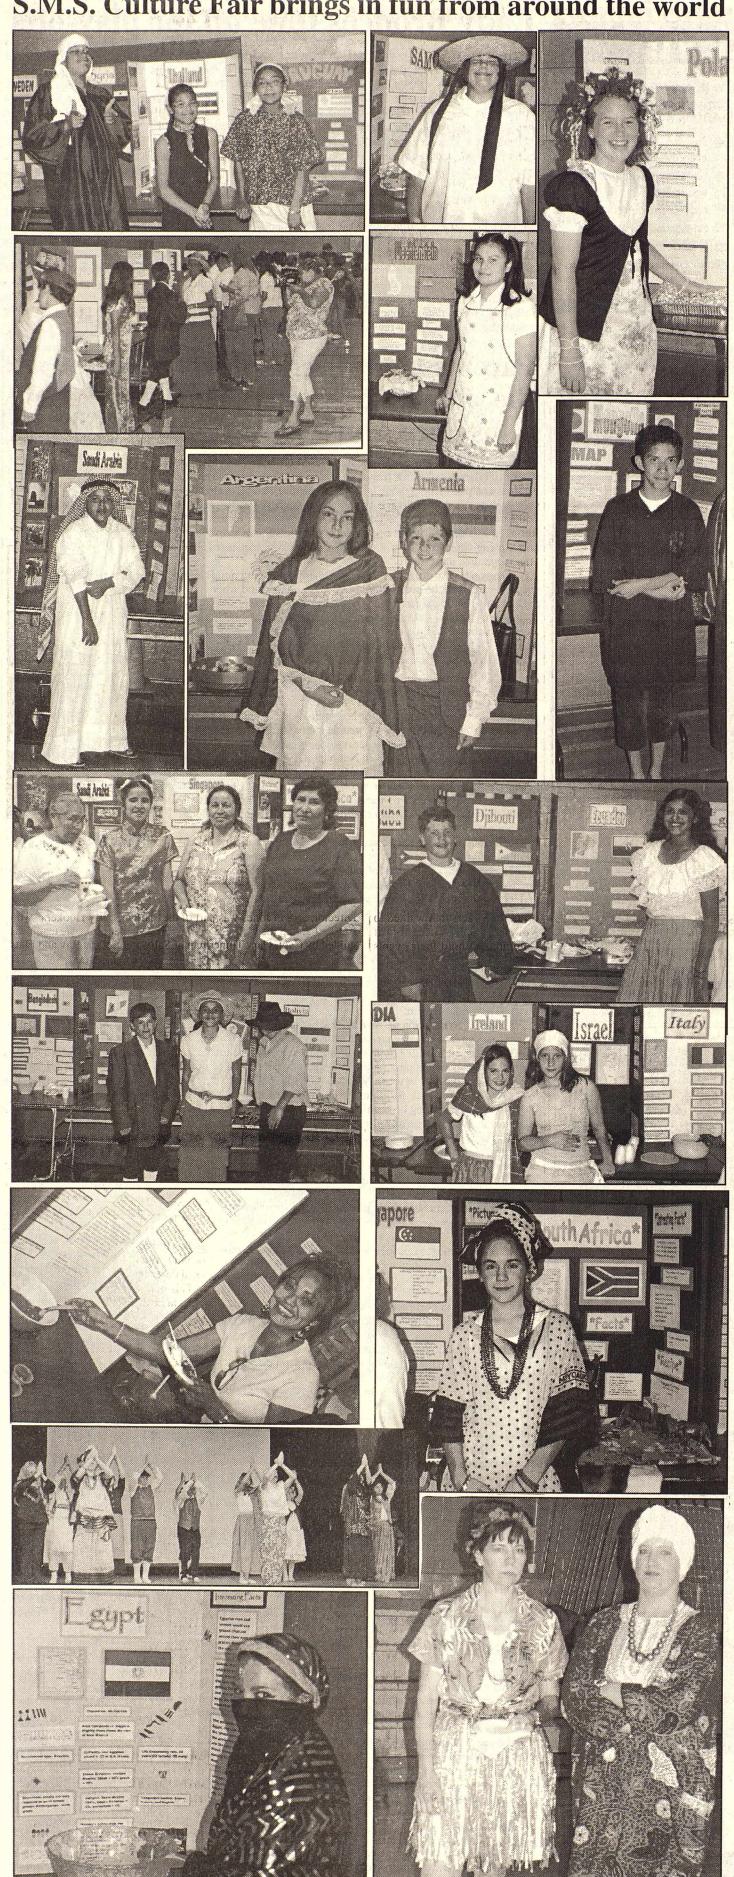

Girls Scout Troop 100 and Daisy Troop 215 hiked Eaton Hill on April 27, 2004. Maggie Ramirez, Allison Freeman, Shainah Johnson, Amber West, Laura Sanchez, Katelyn Lipham, Cassandra Amaro, Alexis Garza, and Sydney Burnham, Kelisha Alvarado, and Cipriana Tobias

submitted

The girls had a great time learning about various wildflowers and wildlife. Allison Freeman was a great help in guiding our troops. She was able to give a complete history of The Eaton Family. The Girls Scouts enjoyed meeting the men building a concrete slab and receiving explanation of the new projects taking place on Eaton Hill. Most of all the girls enjoyed each other's company and a breath of fresh air!

Lady Broncos tune up for play-offs

by Tryon Fields

In preparation for the up coming play-offs, the Lady Broncos played Albany in San Angelo last Thursday. Eager to get back on track, Sonora played good defense, hit the ball very well, and had pitched excellently to defeat the girls from Albany by a score of 11 to I in five innings.

Albany scored their only run in the top of the first inning on the Lady Broncos' only miscue. An errant throw put the second batter aboard, a single moved her to third and an excellent bunt would score Albany's only run. Sonora responded in all five innings.

Timely hitting and being aided by numerous Albany errors, the Lady Broncos scored 2 runs in the first, 2 in the second, 3 in the third, 2 in the fourth, and 2 in the Sonora only had five hits; however, every batter put the ball in play.

Kayla Fields, Meghan Krieg, Debra Martinez, Adriana Castillo, and Brandy Neff were the Lady Broncos who had the hits. Krieg, and Neff each had 2 RBI's, with Tamika Marshall and Jamie Duran each having 1. Krieg led the team with 4 stolen bases and Martinez had 2. On defense, Sonora was led by the pitcher Meghan Krieg with 12 strike outs, 3 walks, and 1 hit bats man.

Kayla Fields, Brandy Neff, and Jamie Duran each had a put out and Meghan Krieg also had

The Lady Broncos will begin their quest for a trip to the Regional Finals this Thursday. Their opponent will be the Lady Wolves from Colorado City.

The Lady Wolves are the second place finishers from District 3-2A. Game time is 5:30 P.M. at San Angelo Central's Softball Complex. So Come out and support the Lady Broncos!!

GOOD LUCK LADY BRONCOS!!!!!

Parents and Peers Have Bronco Track the Power to Stop Teen Substance Abuse

A new effort launched by the National Youth Anti-Drug Media Campaign hopes to reduce teen drug use by enlisting the power of parents and peers to intervene with young people who have already begun drug use and underage drinking. Research shows that teens look to their friends and parents when it comes to problems with drugs. By taking early action, parents and friends can stop teens from using drugs and help them avoid serious consequences that can jeopardize their future.

Teens who use drugs risk damaging their developing minds and bodies - and face the possibility of addiction. How, and when, you respond to your teenager when you suspect or find out your child is using drugs could have a serious impact on his or her future. Research shows that the earlier kids try marijuana, the more likely they are to become addicted to drugs later in life, and young teens using marijuana are four times more susceptible to becoming dependent than adults.

Any drug use puts teens at risk. Not every teen that uses drugs will become dependent, but there is no way to know if a teen will progress from use to addiction or how quickly that could happen.

More than 100,000 young people enter drug treatment programs each year for dependence on marijuana and other illicit drugs; and according to the latest National Survey on Drug Use and Health, more than two million youth have a clinically diagnosable dependence on illegal drugs or alcohol.

Friends and parents of teens need to recognize symptoms of youth drug use so they can make a difference in the futures of young people before it's too late.

If you suspect your teenager has tried drugs or alcohol, then you know your son or daughter is at a critical crossroads. Parents need to be aware of the signs of substance abuse - declining school performance, a new set of friends, becoming withdrawn, uninterested, or argumentative, and they should be prepared to take action.

Let your teen know that you know about their drug use. Tell your teen that you love them and that you're worried

Explain that drugs have serious consequences and that you want to help them.

Resources and information on what to do when a teen is suspected or known to be using drugs are available on www.TheAntiDrug.com.

Signs & Symptoms of Teen Drinking and Drug Use How can you tell if your child is using drugs or alcohol? It is difficult because changes in mood or attitudes, unusual temper outbursts, changes in sleeping habits and changes in hobbies or other interests are common in teens. What should you look for?

You can also look for signs of depression, withdrawal, carelessness with grooming or hostility. Also ask yourself, is your child doing well in school, getting along with friends, taking part in sports or other activities?

Watch List for Parents

* Changes in friends

* Negative changes in schoolwork, missing school, or declin-

* Increased secrecy about possessions or activities

* Use of incense, room deodorant, or perfume to hide smoke or chemical odors * Subtle changes in conversations with friends, e.g. more secretive, using "coded" language * Change in clothing choices: new fascination with clothes that highlight drug use * Increase in borrowing money

* Evidence of drug paraphernalia such as pipes, rolling papers,

* Evidence of use of inhalant products (such as hairspray, nail polish, correction fluid, common household products); Rags and paper bags are sometimes used as accessories

* Bottles of eye drops, which may be used to mask bloodshot eyes or dilated pupils

* New use of mouthwash or breath mints to cover up the smell

* Missing prescription drugs—especially narcotics and mood

These changes often signal that something harmful is going on—and often that involves alcohol or drugs. You may want to take your child to the doctor and ask him or her about screening your child for drugs and alcohol. This may involve the health professional asking your child a simple question, or it may involve a urine or blood drug screen. However, some of these signs also indicate there may be a deeper problem with depression, gang involvement, or suicide. Be on the watch for these signs so that you can spot trouble before it goes too far.

Building Your Support Group

The key step in dealing with a substance abuse problem is finding a trusted, professional counselor. They are trained to listen and can help you find solutions to your problems. Most communities have established local coalitions that can support your family through this difficult time. Whatever path you take at this point, know that there are many caring professionals that want to help you successfully work through the situation. Although it may be difficult to make the call, the earlier that you seek help for your child the bet-

These are community and health specialists who can guide and inform you:

* School counselors and student assistance professionals

* Employee assistance professionals

* Family doctors or pediatricians

* Nurses

* Faith leaders

GOLDING MOTORS

* Community health centers

* Adolescent prevention or treatment professionals

* Local community anti-drug coalitions Ask your child if there is someone they trust (like a coach or student adviser) and feel comfortable talking to. They shouldn't necessarily make the final decision, but they are more likely to be an active participant if they have a say in what

USDA establishes watershed approach for Conservation Security Program

WASHINGTON, May 4, 2004 -- Agriculture Secretary Veneman today announced the watershed approach and details of the enrollment categories that will be used in the fiscal year 2004 Conservation Security Program (CSP) sign-up to be held this

"Watersheds are nature's boundaries and are a good way group together producers working on similar environmental issues," Veneman said. "With a rotation through the nation's watersheds, every farmer and rancher will have a chance to participate in the program and will provide the flexibility needed to expand the program as more funds become available."

In order to implement CSP this fiscal year, the Natural Resources Conservation Service will immediately begin to train employees on the selection process to determine priority watersheds and establish enrollment categories as described in the Federal Register notice published today.

USDA will use watersheds as a basis to determine CSP participation. Economically, the $41 million budget for CSP in fiscal year 2004 will permit NRCS to write 3,000 to 5,000 contracts. With 1.8 million potentially eligible producers, CSP funds must be focused.

Administratively, the law requires that NRCS not incur more than 15 percent technical assistance costs associated with CSP. Under this scenario, a nationwide program would not work; a watershed rotation offers a fair, science-based alter-

All CSP applications that meet the sign-up criteria will be placed in an enrollment category regardless of available funding. In addition to legal contract requirements, the categories will consider the applicants' current stewardship (soil condition, tillage intensity, existing practices and activities) and will sort producers based on these factors. Categories also will examine producers' willingness to perform additional conservation activities during their CSP con-

RRC: Make propane cylinder safety a priority for spring

AUSTIN -- Spring and summer are major outdoor seasons for the Lone Star State and perfect for outdoor barbecues and cool nights on the patio, but powering up the propane equipment for the festivities calls for serious safety considerations.

Texas Railroad Commission, the state's chief energy agency, wants consumers to enjoy safe use of their propane cylinders for grills, outdoor lanterns, mosquito control equipment and patio heaters. And with more and more Americans using propane to cook on gas-powered grills in the outdoors, it is important to consider safety each time the grill gets lit.

"Before firing up your propane equipment, check it for problems such as worn hoses and proper air adjustment," said Commission Chairman Victor G. Carrillo. "Worn or defective parts should be replaced, and maintenance should be performed according to the manufacturer's instructions. To check for leaks, brush connections and hose with soapy water or commercial leak detection ment until the leaks are repaired." According to the Hearth, Patio and Barbecue Association (HPBA), purchases of barbecue grills have increased steadily since 1985 with 8,446,500 grills shipped to suppliers in 2003. Such popularity shows a serious call for safety when using propane marketer for a visual inspection," said Commissioner Charles R. Matthews.

HPBA statistics show continued use of gas-powered grills over charcoal and wood-fired grills in the waning years of the 1990s. While 48 percent of grill owners own a charcoal grill, 61 percent grill with a Propanepowered grill, according to the HPBA. Moving that propane equipment to and from the propane dealer is just as important as ensuring proper connections once the equipment is installed at home.

"When transporting propane cylinders, people must remember to plug or cap the outlets and be sure to keep the relief valve upright," said Commissioner Michael L. Williams. "Take the refilled cylinder directly home and remember to store it outdoors, in a shady location. Always extinguish smoking materials while transporting or using propane cylinders. Make sure the cylinders are stored away from dryer or furnace vents or children's play areas."

Consumers may find they need a new safety device when they take their older propane cylinders to be refilled. An overfilling prevention device (OPD) is required by the Railroad Commission's LP-Gas Safety Rules. The OPD offers additional protection against filling the cylinder with too much propane.

Remember to barbecue safely this summer by using this safety checklist:

Check equipment for worn hoses and proper air adjustment. Worn or defective parts should be replaced. Maintenance should be done according to the manufacturer's instructions.

To check for leaks, brush connections and hose with soapy water or commercial leak detection solution. Bubbles indicate a possible leak. Don't use equipment until the leaks are repaired.

What could possibly rival the phenomenal wildflower display we have enjoyed this spring? Perhaps only the Prince of Color himself: the painted bunting, and he has arrived in a flash of painted splendor.

Looking at the remarkable coloration of this bird, it is as if the Creator designed him purely for our delight. The female painted bunting is a lovely olive green, but her beauty is eclipsed by the fantastic coat of colors worn by her mate. The male painted bunting sports a vibrant blue head with red eye ring, brilliant red to orange breast and bright yellow to lime green back. Charming to the eye and ear, the painted bunting is often overlooked. They rarely visit feeders and prefer the cover of heavy underbrush. However, with little effort you can locate one by his beautiful song in the morning hours and briefly in the evening. It is the males' habit to perch and sing during this

Statewide committee cracks down on insurance fraud

AUSTIN - The insurance industry says fraudulent claims are getting to be a pain in the

To combat the problem of phony claims, including fake neck injuries from minor traffic accidents, the industry has formed a group called the Texas Committee on Insurance Fraud, according to the Insurance Council of Texas.

"The smell of money is luring more and more people to fake injuries, set fire to their homes, stage car accidents and even stage their own death to illegally obtain money from insurance companies," said Craig Sparks, chairman of the new organization.

The task force plans to lobby for tougher insurance fraud penalties in the next regular session of the Legislature. The committee also intends to push for stronger prosecution of people, groups or even companies caught perpetrating an insurance fraud.

For its part, the Texas Department of Insurance has started funding special prosecutors for district attorneys in the major metropolitan areas. Dallas County DA Bill Hill recently became the first prosecutor in the state to take on an attorney whose sole responsibility will be insurance fraud

The reason why all this matters: higher claims paid translate into higher premiums.

To report suspected insurance fraud, call the state's Insurance Fraud Hotline at 1-888-327-8818.

Approved 21-7, the package caps property taxes at $1.05 per $100 valuation, raises the state portion of the sales tax to 6.75 percent and expands sales tax to previously exempt items such as newspapers and bottled water, and imposes a business payroll tax of 1.25 percent or $500 per full-time employee.

The measure also would legalize and tax video slot machines at seven existing horse and dog tracks and three Indian reservations. That would produce an estimated $1.5 billion in revenue while the other taxes would amount to an additional $2.8 billion. At the same time, the property tax cut would provide $4.7 billion in relief.

A variety of homestead exemptions could lower your property taxes!

A homestead exemption lowers the property taxes on your home by lowering its taxable value. If your home is valued at $50,000 and you receive a $15,000 homestead exemption, your home will be taxed as if it were worth $35,000.

Who qualifies for an exemption?

Anyone who owned a home on January 1 and used it as a primary residence on that date is entitled to a $15,000 homestead exemption to lower school taxes this year...and it doesn't matter if your home is a house, condominium or mobile home. Counties, cities and special taxing districts may also offer homestead exemp-

Are other exemptions available?

If you're disabled - or if you're 65 years old or older - you are entitled to an additional $10,000 school tax exemption on your home. And if you qualify for the over-65 or disabled exemption, you're also entitled to a permanent, locked-in "ceiling" on the school property taxes on your home. (Starting this year, the county, city or junior college may adopt a tax ceiling to lock in 2004 taxes as the highest amount for over-65 or disabled homeowners.) The over-65 or disabled homeowner's school tax ceiling transfers to the surviving spouse, if the spouse is 55 years of age or older at the time of death and lives in and owns the home. These homeowners (or their surviving spouses 55 years of age or older) also may transfer the percentage of school tax paid, based on their former home's school tax ceiling, to a new home.

Do I have to apply each year?

No. If you had a homestead exemption on your home in 2003, you won't need to reapply for 2004 unless your chief appraiser requires it. However, if you haven't received an exemption on your present home - or if you've moved to a new home - you'll need to file for an exemption for 2004. If you are 65 this year, you may file for the over-65 exemption up to one year after the date you turned 65. And if you became disabled, you need to file for the disabled person's exemption.

When and where should I file?

¡Varias exenciones de residencia pueden rebajar sus impuestos de propiedad!

Una exención de residencia reduce sus impuestos de propiedad. Por ejemplo, si su residencia tiene un valor de $50,000 y Ud. recibe una exención de $15,000, sus impuestos se calcularán como si el valor de su residencia fuera de $35,000.

¿Quién califica para una exención?

Cualquier dueño de una residencia principal el día 1º de enero tiene derecho a una exención de residencia de $15,000 este año para rebajar sus impuestos escolares... y no importa si la residencia es casa, condominio o casa móvil. (Los condados, municipios y distritos especiales de impuestos tambien pueden ofrecer exenciones de residencia.)

¡Hay otras exenciones?

Si Ud. es incapacitado-o si tiene 65 años o más-tiene derecho a una exención adicional de $10,000 en sus impuestos escolares de propiedad. Y si Ud. califica para la exención para los que ya cumplieron 65 años o está incapacitado, tambien tiene derecho a un "tope" permanente en sus impuestos escolares de residencia. (Comenzando éste año, el condado, la ciudad o una universidad de dos años puede adoptar un tope de impuestos en los impuestos del 2004 como la cantidad más grande para los dueños de hogar de 65 años o más o incapacitados.) La exención para los que ya cumplieron 65 años o éstan incapacitados y el tope máximo se pueden transferir al esposo/ esposa sobreviviente si el o ella tiene 55 ó más años de edad y es dueño/dueña de la casa en donde vive. También el dueño de una casa nueva que tiene más de 65 años puede trasladar un porcentaje de tope máximo de los impuestos escolares que le tocaron en su

¿Debo solicitarla cada año?

No. Si Ud. recibió una exención de residencia en el 2003, no hay necesidad de solicitarla de nuevo en el 2004—al menos que se lo pida su jefe de valoraciones. Sin embargo, si no ha recibido una exención en su residencia actual—o si ha cambiado de domicilio tendrá que solicitar una exención para el 2004. Si Ud. cumpliera los 65 años durante este año, tiene hasta un año de esa fecha para solicitar una nueva exención. Y si cumplió los 65 años o resultó incapacitado, tendrá que solicitar las exenciónes adicionales.

¿Dónde y cuando debo solicitar mis exenciones?

Debe presentar su aplicación en la oficina local del distrito de valoraciones antes del día 30 de abril. Si necesita más tiempo, favor de ponerse en contacto con nosotros antes: 387-2809
