GOSPEL MESSAGE AT CHURCH OF Services Held For CHRIST DRAWING GOOD CROWDS Virgil Dement The Gospel Meeting being held by the local congregation of the Church of Christ continues to draw unusually large audiences. The meeting has been characterized by several responses to the Gospel Invitation and splendid cooperation in the congregational singing. Reports of the meeting have spread about us and as a result visitors from church. es in this area are availing themselves of the opportunity to hear Mr. McClung's splendid messages.

In anticipation of the success of this meeting the local congregation of the Church of Christ has remodeled the front of the mmetinghouse auditorium. A modern baptistry, beautifully draped and enhanced by a "likeness of Christ and the Lost Sheep," painted by Miss Clay, local artist, provides a convenient and inspiring setting for the baptismal services.

Surrounded by a wealth of Christian Fellowship, Mr. McClung con- themselves in the undersirable potinues to stir the souls of members sition of Esau who for a mess of and visitors alike with his "Christ pottage sold his birthright. A FORMAL Helen Gilbert wears a formal ensemble of white chiffon and white fox. The luxurious coat of fulllength white fox skin is nipped in slightly at the back of the waistline and is superimposed over a white flat crepe lining. Shoulders are wide and full with the sleeves giving free play to the arms. Worn over a softly gathered gown of white chiffon with corselet of rhinestones and pearls the ensemble stresses a formal note of elegance.

Karper and Mrs. Don L. Jones Vernon; Frances Springer, Dallas, Joyce McCully, Miriam Reed, and Mrs. W. P. Foster, Jr., presided in the dining room and poured punch at a brides table laid with a lace cloth and decorated with baskets of white shasta daisies.

A Bale Tu

Manufacture of another tire as large as the one shown above would require more than a bale of cotton points out Everett R. Cook of Memphis, president of the Cotton Research Foundation, new uses division of the National Cotton Council. The body of this largest tire in the world weighs 2,642.7 pounds, and has a carrying capacity of 45.800 pounds. Second largest single outlet for cotton, the tire industry consumes in excess of 500,000 bales annually. Seeking to protect the tire market from encroachments of rayon, the Foundation recently has filed patents on processes for making stronger cotton tire cords.
