Wheat Harvest Opens This Week

The Wheat harvest opened in the Muleshoe country Wednesday.

The first wheat to reach the local market was marketed by L. E. Tucker. The field yielded 22 bushels per acre. It was guessed at 10 bushels by all the neighbors.

All wheat harvested to date has doubled the production the farmers expected. The first wheat was purchased at a premium price, $1.35 per bushel.

The acreage in this territory has been increased over that of last season. The local elevator managers expect a good yield, in spite of the drouth.

Chauncey Depew, 93 Years Old, Gives views

Washington, D. C. (AP)—From a perch on the 93rd rung of the ladder of time, Chauncey M. Depew believes he has an unclouded perspective, and here are some of the things he said he saw recently on one of his periodical visits to the Capital:

"President Coolidge will run again, is immensely popular and probably will win in 1928 on his accomplishments.

"Governor Smith of New York has had Providence on his side, and has greatly strengthened his position by his letter on the question of the Roman Catholic church as it might affect his public duties. He has demonstrated good qualities of leadership.

"The American girl of today is not a bit different from the girl of 70 years ago.

"The 'crime wave' is a myth, enhanced by an extraordinary amount of publicity. 'Horrible' crimes of recent years had their counterpart in past years.

"A man over 90 years old can be considered as not a candidate for office, and, therefore, people will talk to him, and that helps him to get the true perspective."

Popular American Heroes Made by Their Nicknames

It has been true ever since American history began, that our popular heroes have had nicknames, picturesque and easily remembered. It was true in the old days when Americans took their politics more seriously than they seem to do today, and when military heroes were given affectionate nicknames and elevated to positions of high honor.

Today some of our greatest national heroes are found in the world of sport and many an American knows all about "Babe" and "The Georgia Peach" and "Little Poker Face" who couldn't name three members of the President's cabinet or three members of the United States Supreme Court.

There's an interesting article on the subject of "Nick Names" by Elmo Scott Watson in this issue. It is illustrated, with portraits of several men and women who are known far and wide by their nicknames. You'll enjoy reading it.

Reception At Ed. Bickel Home Last Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bickel gave a reception at their country home last Friday night, in honor of their son, Bradley Bickel, who was married to Miss Hattie May Moore on June 2 at Farwell. The happy young couple, who have the good wishes of numerous friends in this section, will make their home in Plainview.

That's In Muleshoe

(BY Sherman B. Vance, Muleshoe, Texas.)

Where there is more of smiling and less of crying.

Where there is more of giving and less of buying.

Where a man makes friends without half trying.

That's in Muleshoe.

Where the future looks a little brighter.

Where your burdens are a little lighter.

Where prosperity gleams the whole year round.

That's in Muleshoe.

Where there is more of work and less of sorrow.

Doing things now instead of tomorrow.

Where things are made of everything that's good.

That's in Muleshoe.

A beauty spot away out on the Plains.

Where there is no swamps and valleys and all those things.

Where you feel like a man the whole year round.

That's in Muleshoe.

Where there is no dry and yellow and sunken faces.

Something not to be compared with other places:

It matters not, my friend, where you roam.

You'll find no better place to make your home.

That's in Muleshoe.

But in this space I tell, forsooth, The simple, plain, unvarnished truth:

But with your own eyes you should see.

Then I'll believe you and you'll believe me.

That's in Muleshoe.

Miss Beth Mardis returned from Plainview, the first of the week, where she has been a guest in the home of Roy Hewitt.

Boy Scouts To Sacramento Mts.

Over 300 Boy Scouts of Eastern New Mexico will attend one of the ten-day periods to be conducted at their new camp in the Sacramento mountains. Minor Huffman, area executive, reports that the Second Period has already received its quota of registrations, and that the Third Period is almost completed.

The kitchen, dining room and six bunk houses are already completed, and the rest of the buildings are under construction. Work will start on the swimming pool in the next ten days. When completed, this will be one of the most modern camps in the Southwest.

A corps of expert instructors have been selected to help the Scouts with their work. Chief John Templeton, of Muskogee, Okla., is the latest to be added to the staff. He is Special Field Commissioner for the National Scout Organization and will have charge of wood carving and handicraft.

The program of instruction will cover Indian lore, campcraft, handicraft, horsemanship, nature study, swimming, pioneering and other scouting activities. Local Scout leaders are making arrangements to attend one period. Scouts or parents desiring information should see the Scout Master.

Sane Law Is Asked For the Farmer

Memphis, Tenn., June 7—A plea for "sane, constructive and comprehensive farm legislation" as a defense against Bolshevism was made by Congressman Chas. Crisp of America, Ga., in an address before the American Cotton Shippers Association, which began its annual meeting, which began its annual meeting here Monday.

"The farmers are the only representatives of a basic industry not receiving a fair return for their efforts," Crisp said. "They are not getting their share of the National income. Railroads were never more prosperous. Manufacturers are declaring the greatest dividends in history. Banks are filled with money seeking investments. All America is prosperous—except the farmer."

The Georgia representative called on the cotton shippers and other business men to cooperate with Congress in order to "prepare Congress the best method of relief."

In his annual address, President W. J. Neal of Waco urged the association to adopt resolutions pledging the body to seek aid in procuring Government control of the Mississippi and preventing measures against a recurrence of disastrous floods. President Neal called for the study of new uses for cotton. Of the movement for legislative farm relief, he said:

"The agricultural situation in our country has not found the answer to its problems. From one source to another, farmers have drifted into a dangerous state of mind, and need the sincere and unselfish help of our worthy business organizations in shaping their legislative program."

Miss Gertrude Pyritz of Lazbuddy is in Muleshoe for a week's visit and is the guest of her friend, Miss Elizabeth Welch.

Good Rain Falls Over This District

Monday night of this week the long-looked-for rain came. It ranged from one-half to two inches. The entire Muleshoe territory reports rain.

Farmers are working from sunrise to dark in order to finish planting the crops.

The rain will put this part of the Plains in tip-top condition.

Posie Cunningham Makes 35 Bushels Acre

Our old-time friend, Posie Cunningham, reports his wheat is making 35 bushels per acre. Part of the wheat was summer fallowed, and there is a decided difference in the yield when wheat is handled in this manner.

The Muleshoe country is rapidly becoming a noted wheat growing district.

Methodist Church Notes

THE CHURCH.—Well, I started in to write something about the Church that I have in mind, but here it is, an outstanding fact before all the world, a divine institution, set in the world by the Creator of us all, for the good of His people. It is not here by our will, but it is here for our good, our salvation.

Well, what value do we place on the Church? Do we appreciate it, and give unto our Heavenly Father genuine, heartfelt thanks for giving to His people the Church for our own good and comfort? In what way do we express our thanks?

The Church is not only a great blessing to the world religiously, but move the Church of Christ out of Texas and property values would fall fifty per cent in six months, and in time there would be no market for Texas property; and we can safely state, also, that most men would not build their homes and rear their children where there was no church.

Well, with these facts before us, have we been placing the right value on the Church? And have we been giving it a just support? How about our loyalty or even our respect for her services? Are we noticed in the services for our regular attendance, or for our usual absence? Our loyalty or unfaithfulness is recorded in our conduct just at this point, for by our actions we make known our loyalty or disloyalty to our church. Too often religious obligations are met and fully paid by excuses or by cold indifference.

The Lord's call to service, through the channel of His Church, should move the heart of every man and stir every ounce of red blood in his body to quicker action. Oh, it should be felt a great privilege to go, to serve, and to sacrifice for our Lord. Excuses should be spurned by every one who loves God, and who values His love and service for men. "By their fruits ye shall know them." And "By our fruits we shall be known."

Christ gave all for the Church. Can we afford to give less than all in return?
J. E. PAYNE, Pastor.

Plumbing In Modern American Homes

It is not at all necessary today that a home be palatial or even imposing in appearance in order that it may be modern. A modern home, which is a home that includes in its equipment plumbing facilities, is now demanded by the most modest wage earners; in fact, the landlord who tries to rent a house without these facilities, finds a hard job ahead of him.

The prudent housewife in selecting a home, whether it be owned or rented, gives particular attention to the kitchen and bathroom; she knows that modern plumbing facilities in these rooms means much towards the happiness, contentment and health of her family.

Typhoid fever, dysentery and diarrhoea are some of the water borne diseases that are becoming less frequent as plumbers become more and more numerous. These diseases are becoming more relegated to rural districts, where, owing to the fact that large areas are sparsely settled, modern methods of sanitation are seldom used. Realizing this, forward looking sanitarians are now endeavoring to promote sanitary plumbing in rural communities as a means of health protection.

When a farm home has a wind mill and water storage tank, sanitary plumbing facilities can be installed at a comparatively small cost. The added advantages gained by such plumbing service should create a demand for such equipment in every rural community. This is the day of progress and advancement. With plumbing established as one of the most important of health factors, it will only be a matter of a short time until we can see plumbing facilities as much in vogue in the country home as it is today in the city home. It is, in a large measure, the convenient facilities for bathing which invite the daily bath, to which the average American owes his clear eye, quick step and healthy body. That "Cleanliness is next to Godliness," is becoming more the religion of the American people.

Who is "Babe" or "The Bambino"? Who is "Little Poker Face"? Who is "The Galloping Ghost"? Who is "The Flying Finn"? Who is "Trudy"? If he can't, then he isn't able to read the newspapers. For, whether in Seattle, Wash., Portland, Maine, Hibbing, Minn., or Baton Rouge, La., those names in print have met his eye constantly and he rarely fails to recognize them. George Herman Ruth may have an unfamiliar sound, but not "Babe" Ruth, he of the home runs. Harold Grange is not an especially striking name in itself, but translate "Babe."

It into "Red" Grange, the "Galloping Ghost" of football, and it becomes all other matter evident. Paavo Nurmi might be just "an" other of those foreigners, but "The Flying Finn" was spread across the printed page too often not to be pretty well known by this time. To the University of California, where she was a student, she was known as Miss Helen White, but the whole world has followed the fortunes of "Little Poker Face." Not so long ago "Gertrude Ederle" meant no more than the name of any other girl swimmer who had a few records to her credit, but she emerged from a baptism in the English channel with the name of "Trudy" and that's the name by which 60 per cent of us know her.

Nicknames! They're as characteristic of America as baseball or hot dog sandwiches or the movies. Perhaps the fact that we are a sports-mad people accounts for the fact that we are given to thinking in terms of nicknames. Of there may be many historic reasons. Mr. Webster defines a nickname as a "name given in derision or familiarity," but long ago we dropped that derision, part of it and retained the familiarity, to which we added fondness. Perhaps it was one of the natural developments of the growth of a democracy. We declared that all men are born free and equal and have the inalienable right to free and easy methods of addressing each other.

Of course, during the early years of the republic, while the aristocratic tradition still prevailed, we weren't so free and easy. If we used nicknames at all, it was for some Revolutionary military hero such as "Swamp Fox" Marion or "Mad Anthony" Wayne, but not in speaking about the President of the United States. Who would have us the greatest number of national heroes whose nicknames are household words. Christy Mathewson is dead, but the name of "Marty" and "Big Six" will last as long as there are men living who saw that great pitcher in action. It is said that his fame was so great that one morning the mail man brought to him a letter which had traveled across the continent. The only mark on it was a big figure "99" on the address side.

The great baseball pitcher may be the hero of the hour, but when his arm loses its cunning then the crowd soon forgets, unless he has had a popular nickname to fix his personality in the mind of the fan. So Christy Mathewson is almost unique in the history of baseball.

They may soon forget the man on the mound, but the man who pulls them out of their seats when he slams one into the bleachers or over the fence for what the sports writers call a "cleatful clout"—well, that's a different matter. Of course there's only one "Home Run King." But you don't have to use that name. In speaking of George Herman Ruth of the New York American League team. Just say "Babe," "Bambino" or "Hultan of Swat" and anyone'll know whom you mean. Time was when Tyrus Raymond Cobb held somewhat the same position. In public esteem that Mr. Ruth does. Perhaps that was because he was known as "The Georgia Peach" and even the fact that he is not now the great baseball player he once was. The Virginia and Massachusetts aristocrats were succeeded by Tennessee backwoodsman and the new Jacksonian democracy came into power, it grated on no one's finer sensibilities to refer to President Andrew Jackson as "Old Hickory," a title, albeit an affectionate one, won in sundry battles with the Indians and the British. But Jackson was not the only man who carried into the White House. There was William Henry Harrison, who, even though he was the son of a family of Virginia aristocrats, was better known as "Old Tippecanoe" than by his real name. There was Zachary Taylor, the "Old Rough and Ready" of Mexican war fame, and as late as the last quarter century the "Rough Rider" of the Spanish-American war may have helped put Theodore Roosevelt in the Executive mansion as much as did the affectionate "Teddy" or the historic initials, "T. R." Although he had no military record to commend him to the electorate the man who came out of the Illinois backwoods in 1890 needed none to win for him. The "Hall Splitter" and "Honest Abe" were two nicknames well calculated to catch the public fancy until the simple name of Abraham Lincoln had him immortal.

But lest it be thought that a good nickname is a sure asset in winning the Presidency, consider the list of men whose nicknames have appealed to the imagination of the populace and should have helped them on the road to the White House but didn't. There were Henry Clay, known variously as "Harry of the West," "The Mill Boy of the Slashes" and "The Great Compromiser"; Stephen A. Douglas, "The Little Giant"; John C. Fremont, "The Pathfinder"; Daniel Webster, "Black Dan" and "The Expounder of the Constitution"; Winfield Scott, "Old Fuss and Feathers"; George B. McClellan, "Little Mac" and "The Young Napoleon"; Winfield Scott Hancock, "The Superb"; James G. Blaine, "The Fish Cuter" and William Jennings Bryan, "The Boy Orator of the Platte," all of whom aspirated and aspired in vain.

But if the popularity of nicknames in politics has declined in recent years the increasing popularity of sports has more than made up for that loss. Naturally the national pastime has given position on a major league team, and "T" is still a nickname that means one man and only one to the fan. Flatland also has its long roll of nicknames, beginning with the great one and only John L. Sullivan, for whom "John L." was sufficient to identify him at any time, although he was also known as "The Boston Strong Boy," "Fuglistam has known the following: James J. Corbett, "Gentleman Jim"; Bob Fitzsimmons, "Rudy Bob" or the "Kangaroo"; Jack Johnson, "The 'Bangor'; Sam Langford, the "Boston Tar Baby"; Battling Nelson, the "Durable Dane"; Harry Greb, the "Pittsburgh Windmill"; Fred Fulton, the "Plastered Plasterer"; Jess Willard, the "Man Mountain" or the "Potawatomi Giant"; John Harrison

"The Georgia Peach."

Dempsy, the "Manassa Mauler"; Georges Carpentier, the "Orcutt Man"; and Louis Angel Firpo, the "Wild Bull of the Pampas."

Football has furnished some great individual stars, of course, but for some reason or other popular nicknames never cling to them. That is, until one Harold Grange stalked across gridiron history and left behind him the titles of "The Galloping Ghost," "The Red Rover" or just "Red." Team nicknames, however, have been popular and more enduring. Who will soon forget the "Four Horsemen" of Notre Dame, who rode roughshod over a great Army team to win that title? Or the "Fraying Collars" of Center colleges, who sprang into sporting fame when they humbled the mighty Crimson of Harvard. Virtually every college has its nickname, based upon the colors of the school or some animal mascot, but few enjoy the picturesque descriptive names, such as the "Golden Tornado" of Georgia Tech, the "Green Wave" of Tulane or the "Thundering Herd" of the University of Southern California.

In other sports nicknames are not so common. There are a few which, applied to the outstanding exponents of their arts, have given them national renown. An Indian once saw a girl named Helen White play tennis and was so impressed by the fact that, regardless of how the tide of battle ran, her countenance remained immobile, called her "Little Poker Face." Those who have seen Charlie Paddock rub recognize the appropriateness of the "Fastest Haman." And American runners who saw only the heels of Paavo Nurmi can tell you why he is called the "Flying Finn." Tennis also has its "Big Bill" and "Little Bill" for

"Little Poker Face."

Messa, "Tilden and Johnson, respectively, and "The Comet" for the brilliant Maurice McLoughlin. But for alluring alteration in nickname or menagerie has anyone ever yet in all different realm of sport been able to confure up the equal of the "Boudin-Bouquet of Biarritz" for Jean Borotra, the French tennis champion?

Mother! It's Cruel to "Physic" Your Child

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 63

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

Dr. Caldwell's SYRUP PEPSIN

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even if the child is chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only cures gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

KEEP AWAY FROM CALOMEL !! IT IS QUICKSILVER - MERCURY

Never take calomel. It is mercury—a dangerous drug. If you are constipated, bilious, sick, headachy, stomach sour, meals don't taste right, hot days make you drowsy and lazy, take Dodson's Liver Tonic. That's all you need. Calomel salivates. That's why you have to take salts the next day to get it out of your system so it will not eat your bones. You have to stay at home a day to recuperate from that shock if you will have it handy to take nights before going to bed.

FARMER WOMAN IN OKLAHOMA

Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Because It Gave Her Health and Strength

In a sunny pasture in Oklahoma, a herd of sleek cows was grazing. They made a pretty picture. But the thin woman in the blue checked apron sighed as she looked at them. She was tired of cows, tired of her tedious work in the dairy. She was tired of cooking for a household of boarders, besides caring for her own family. The burdens of life seemed too heavy for her failing health. She had lost confidence in herself.

One day she began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and her general health began to improve. She took it faithfully. Now she can do her work without any trouble. She feels well and is no longer blue and timid. This woman, Mrs. Cora Short, R. R. 2, Box 287, Oklahoma City, Okla., writes: "Everybody now says: 'Mrs. Short, what are you doing to yourself?' I weigh 135 and my weight before I took it was 115. I have taken seven bottles of the Vegetable Compound. Other women who have to work hard and keep things going may find the road to better health as Mrs. Short did, through the faithful use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Ask your neighbor."

CHILD'S BEST LAXATIVE IS CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

HURRY MOTHER! A teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup" now will thoroughly clean the little bowels and in a few hours you have a well, playful child again. Even if cross, feverish, bilious, constipated or full of cold, children love its pleasant taste.

Tell your druggist you want only the genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on the bottle. Mother, you must say "California." Refuse any imitation.

STRIPES IN BATHING SUITS; FOOTWEAR FOR THE JUNE BRIDE

BATHING suits tell a story of ingenuity made this season ranging from the ultra-elaborate to the severely simple. As to the fanciful sort fashioned of silk, satin, crepe and other materials their novelty knows no bounds. Perhaps those of taffeta in plaids of every description pronounce chic most definitely. Sometimes the plaids are contrasted to achieve a most startling effect, such as a bathing ensemble which emphasizes a bizarre novelty plaid for the suit with a plain black plaid for the beach coat. There are also many charming ones. But it is real, very real these days. Indeed as vital and thriving, likewise as esthetic as midday's favorite millinery salon, with a clientele just as eager and discriminating. The fascinating interest of footwear as now exists may be directly traced to the outstanding importance of the ensemble theme. It is as if the milliner, the couturier, the jeweler and the shoe-fashionist have formed an alliance to work together in bringing each detail of the costume into a unit. That is why women of fashion are so enthusiastically maintaining a ward-models of gay silk print. Those fashioned of cretone or gingham, processed so as to be waterproof, are as unique as they are fashionable. Let those who are inclined to the fanciful bathing suit select models of such fabric as makes its appeal, but for the bathing enthusiast who goes in for the zest of the sport the two-piece jersey-knit swimming suit consisting of form-fitting slips and trunks or tight is the popular choice. Just as in the case of so many of the new sweaters which so fashionably flourish stripes that run around and around, so are many of the smart bathing suits distinguished by their stripes of many colors as here pictured.

It must be kept in mind, however, that even the simplest bathing suit is expected to be accompanied by a spectacular beach equipment. When military emerges from the ocean blue she will don a pair of dainty rubber shoes which proudly boast shapely high heels, with straps across the ankle in latest approved fashion.

Another novelty is the triangle of robe which shall include footwear to complement the individual costume. A most enthusiastic patron of the fashionable shoe-shop just now is the summer-time bride-to-be. From the daintiness of the footwear everywhere displayed, one suspects that the makers thereof must have had the requirements of the June bride's trousseau in mind.

When Lady Newly-Wed makes her appearance at the country club, she may very properly choose to accompany her all-white or pastel sports frock with a pair of white kidskin excelsior such as is shown in the lower right corner of this group. An interesting lace treatment and tiny perforated scallops add a charming touch. The white kidskin pumps with hand-made buckles of jet beads interpret the smart black-and-white mode for afternoon dress. A center-strap sandal of white kid (see below to left) is an essential for the all-white costume. Another popular sandal pattern exhibited at the top to the right in this group is of rose-blush pliable gay rubber which is designed to serve either as a cap or a stouper protection. Interesting, too, among beach necessities are cushions formed of multi-colored leather strips. PETER DELIVERED FROM PRISON

LESSON TEXT—Acts 12:1-17. GOLDEN TEXT—Many are the afflictions of the righteous; but the Lord delivereth him out of them all.—Ps. 124. PRIMARY TOPIC—God Takes Care of Peter. JUNIOR TOPIC—God Answers Prayer for Peter. SENIOR TOPIC—THE MIRACLES AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Does God Deliver Us? YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Power of United Prayer.

1. Peter's Imprisonment (vv. 1-4).
1. By whom (v. 1).
Herod, the grandson of the wicked Herod who slew the innocent children of Bethlehem.

2. The reason (v. 3).
It was to gain the favor of the Jews. Herod was not a Jew, but an Edomite, therefore knew that his success was dependent upon his having the good will of the Jews. Herod for the sake of popularity manifested a deep sympathy for degenerate Judaism. It was but the sympathy of the politician. Since the church had developed so as to be a successful rival of Judaism, indeed was already displacing it, he saw an opportunity to curry favor with the Jews by putting forth his hands against it.

3. The method (v. 4).
It was arrested, put into prison and guarded by four quarters of soldiers. A quaternion is a guard of four soldiers. Humanly speaking, it was impossible to escape. They had doubtless heard of Peter's escape from jail before, so they thought they would take no risks this time. However, they made one fatal mistake—they left out God.

4. The Church of God in Prayer (v. 5).
The church was at a crisis. Her situation was most grave. James, one of the brethren of the church, was dead, and Peter, the most prominent of all, was in prison. In this desperate strait they did the wise thing—they betook themselves to prayer. It was a noteworthy prayer.

5. It was unto God, not unto men, or to be heard of men. This is a very common fault today. All true prayer is unto God.

There is a peculiar power in the united prayer of God's people.

6. It was an intensely earnest prayer.

7. It was more than unceasing prayer. It was the earnest desire of the soul as it stretched itself out toward God.

8. It was united prayer. They especially offered prayer to God for Peter. Their prayer was concentrated, definite and specific.

9. Peter Delivered by an Angel (vv. 6-11).
1. Peter sleeping (v. 6).
This shows that he was not greatly disturbed over the matter. The Lord keeps a perfect peace those whose minds are stayed upon Him. (Isa. 26:3).

2. Peter leaves the prison (vv. 7-10).
A heavenly light shone in the prison. The angel smote Peter on the side; the chains fell off. Peter put on his clothes and passed by one guard after another, through the iron gate out into the city.

3. The effect upon Peter (v. 11).
Although the matter was so wonderful to Peter, even outside his consciousness, when he came to himself he was assured beyond peradventure that God had miraculously delivered him from Herod's wicked hands.

IV. Unconscious Unbelief (vv. 12-19).
1. Behavior of Peter and the church (vv. 12-17).
Peter went to the house of Mary and knocked. The knock was answered by Rhoda who was so overjoyed that she forgot to open the gate, and ran in and told them that Peter was at the gate. The disciples were not prepared for such good news, and even accused her of madness. She, undaunted, insisted. They offered an explanation that perhaps it might be Peter's guardian angel in his likeness. They got more than they expected. Peter rehearsed unto them the Lord's dealing with him, and instructed them to make these things known unto James and the brethren.

2. The behavior of the soldiers (vv. 18, 19).
There was great agitation among them as to what had become of Peter. This was a serious matter since they were responsible for him. Not being able to account for Peter's escape, Herod concluded that they be put to death. After this Herod went down to Caesarea. Here he was adored as God. Because he arrogated this honor to himself, the Lord smote him. Herod died, but the Word of the Lord grew and multiplied.

Quarantined!

Millions of cockroaches already exterminated! Beware!

THERE'S PANIC in Bagville! Cockroaches are dying by the thousands!

Use Peterman's Roach Food in your house. Exterminate every roach.

Don't fight roaches with a spray. You must have a powder, Peterman's is the right powder.

It enters roaches through their hiding places. They carry it back on their legs and bodies to their nests behind baseboards, under floors where no spray could possibly reach.

Every adult roach, the young, every egg in the entire colony is exterminated. No odor. Nothing is left but a little dry dust. Use Peterman's Roach Food now. Keep them out. Don't let them get a start.

Here is the right insecticide for each insect: PETERMAN'S ROACH FOOD exterminates that cockroach army. PETERMAN'S ANT FOOD exterminates ants. FLYOSAN kills flies and mosquitoes. PETERMAN'S DISCOVERY exterminates bedbugs. PETERMAN'S MOTH FOOD protects against moths.

You must have a specific insecticide for each insect. No single insecticide will exterminate them all. We have had nearly 50 years' experience. We know that is true.

Peterman's has the right insecticide for every insect. On sale wherever drugs are sold.

The editor has been asked a number of times why the court proceedings are not published in the local newspaper. The answer is, because our aim is to build, boost, and publish items that are of general interest. Items that tend to give information about the private business of people, should, we think, be omitted. It only puts the paper in a bad light with those who are forced to go to court where their troubles and misfortunes are aired. We believe this is the best policy, and shall adhere to it, and if it does not suit all the people we can not help it.

Rev. F. C. Booth is in a meeting at Longview; Rev. Roy Ballas is assisting him. Several Circlebackians are attending the meeting and report good work.

To be Taken As Before

The honeymoon was over and John and Bertha had dined together for the first time in their new home. The young wife had made a supreme effort to make this dinner one to be remembered all their lives. Certainly he would never forget it. But, like a brave man and a good husband, he stuck to his guns and declared he had never tasted anything like it. Nor had he—nor, let it be hoped, would he ever do so again.

"Really, darling," she cooed, "on your word of honor, did you like what I provided and cooked for you?"

"Like it?" he answered, "Why, I never enjoyed anything so much in my life!" (suppressing a shudder.)

"Everything—from soup to pudding?" she persisted.

"Yes, sweetest—every mouthful."

"Oh, darling, how relieved I am!" she burst out. "I was so afraid you might complain. You see, I quite forgot to order the syrup for the pudding sauce. I had to get something, so I took your cough syrup. But was afraid you'd taste it!" —Tit-Bits.

A real dinner every day at Moeller's cafe.

PRIZES OFFERED FOR BEST VOICES

National Radio Audition Open to Young Singers in This Country.

America's future generation of vocal stars will be disclosed to the world this Fall as another of the wonders of radio. Every young man or woman with the gift of song, whether from country, town or city, will have an equal chance.

A nation-wide quest for the best young singers and the opening of the door of opportunity to them has been undertaken by the Atwater Kent Foundation, an institution established for scientific and educational purposes by A. Atwater Kent, the Philadelphia radio manufacturer and sponsor of the Sunday night grand opera hour, broadcast over a network of nineteen stations.

The Foundation has announced plans for a "National Radio Audition," to find by competition the best undiscovered voices in the United States. Prizes aggregating $17,500, with tuition for a musical education in certain cases, are offered as follows:

The two winners of first place in the National Audition—a man and a woman—will each receive a gold decoration, $5,000 in cash and two years' tuition in a leading conservatory.

Winners of second prizes will each receive $2,000 in cash and one year's tuition.

Winners of third prizes will each receive $1,000 and one year's tuition. Winners of fourth prizes will each receive $500.

Winners of fifth prizes will each receive $250.

Musical, civic and women's clubs in each community in each state will be invited to hold local contests to select the best young man and best young woman singers of their town. These winners will then be certified to a state audition, which will be broadcast by a radio station in each state. A state winner of each sex will be chosen and will receive a silver medal.

The next step is a district audition. The young men and women who have won state honors will be taken to a central broadcasting station in one of five districts, where an audition will be broadcast to select the two winners—a young man and a young woman—from that district.

The two winners in each district will receive gold medals and the ten finalists thus selected will be taken to New York for the final National Audition, to be broadcast over a national network of stations. All expenses of contestants in the district fare, hotel bills, entertainment, etc., will be paid by the Atwater Kent Foundation.

The spirit and purpose of the National Audition are indicated in a statement by A. Atwater Kent, president of the Foundation, who said: "The discovery of one of those rare voices, of which each generation produces a very few, seems to me an event of profound national importance. Even when such a voice could give pleasure to only a few thousand people in a year it was a national treasure. Now that millions may enjoy it on the same evening through the medium of radio, such a voice has become priceless.

"The National Radio Audition, supported by the Atwater Kent Foundation, is an undertaking to search the entire country for beautiful voices and to offer these singers an opportunity for full development, recognition and reward.

The principal qualifications for contestants are as follows:

Must not be over 25 years old; must never have been associated with a professional theatrical or operatic party; must never have been paid principal in any concert held outside their own state; must declare an intention to follow a musical career and must be free from theatrical or musical contracts.

This limitation permits choir singers to enter the auditions, even though they may have received special compensation for singing in churches. Other groups from which entries are anticipated are students in musical schools and locally prominent singers in high schools and colleges. Musical organizations in each state are also afforded an opportunity to participate.

His Reply

"A man and his wife had enjoyed their previous holiday on a farm so well that they wished to repeat it. The only thing that made them doubtful was that they had been somewhat annoyed by the close proximity of the pigsty to the house.

Finally the man wrote to the farmer and explained the objectionable feature. He received the following reply:

"We haven't had any pigs on the place since you were here last summer. Be sure to come." —Tit-Bits.

For the motorist who wants to cut down expenses

The quickest and surest way to cut down summer motoring costs is by making certain that you are getting maximum mileage from your gasoline. During the touring season you travel great distances. The number of miles you get per gallon is your most important cost factor.

Is it any wonder, then, that motorists who actually check their mileage are using Summer Conoco exclusively?

They use Summer Conoco because it is packed with miles—extra miles. And it delivers these extra miles without sacrificing any of the other essentials of good gasoline: ready starting, rapid pick-up and steady sustained power.

For motorists, the Conoco sign is the economy sign. Look for it at service stations and garages.
