Pastor Preaches First Sermon at M. Church Sunday

V. B. Hicks, new pastor of the Methodist church, delivered his first sermon in the church Sunday to a congregation. Rev. Hicks is Rev. J. E. Payne, former pastor, who goes to the Olmstead. Rev. Hicks comes from O'Donnell, where he has been for the past three years. The following is from the O'Donnell Index:

"Rev. W. B. Hicks, who has been pastor of the Methodist church here for the past three years, will go to Muleshoe, Texas, for the coming year. It is a splendid town in a splendid country and Bro. Hicks is to be complimented on the fine place which he will have as a pastor. The Hicks' have many friends in O'Donnell who regret to give him up."

The Journal joins the entire community in extending a cordial welcome to Rev. Hicks and family to Muleshoe.

Chevrolet Company Opens New House

The Chevrolet Motor Company today announces the opening of a new $625,000 parts and service building in Flint, Mich. This structure marks the completion of a two million dollar parts and service program extending over the last year and a half and involving in addition the construction of four major supply depots and a complete reorganization of those at Oakland and Tarrytown.

Preventing Infestation in the Fruit Orchard

One precaution in preventing infestation in the fruit orchard is to collect and burn all mummified peaches, plums or other stone fruits hanging on the trees as these will carry over the brown rot. Prof. G. W. Adriance, horticultural department, A. & M. College of Texas, points out. The dead twigs on pecan trees, cut off by twig girdlers, should also be collected and burned as they contain the eggs of the insects which may be kept under control by means of this precaution. Prof. Adriance adds.

School Takes Week-end Holiday

The Muleshoe schools turned out Wednesday for Thanksgiving, and it is understood that they will not open till Monday. In order that the teachers and some of the pupils may spend the holiday at their homes it was decided to take Friday off, making the last time out later. Quite a few are preparing to witness some of the big football games which are being staged Thursday.

Misses Virginia Egbert and Helen Carles were at Duran; N. M., on a hunting trip last week-end.

County Attorney Levi Pressly was in Farwell on business Tuesday.

Mr. Robinson is an experienced chicken man, and states that Muleshoe is an ideal location for the chicken and produce business. He will have his farm in operation sometime in January and will have pure bred chickens and eggs for the trade about February 1st.

The weekly drawings, which have been held on the streets each Saturday for some time, will be discontinued after next Saturday till further notice. This is being done on account of disagreeable weather. It is understood, however, that the drawings will be resumed within a few weeks. The parties holding the lucky numbers Saturday were: Mrs. W. H. Kistler, $10; Lucile Mick, $5; J. Shaw, $5; Aline Evans, $5.

Four Ways Starting Good Poultry Farm

There are four ways of starting a good farm poultry flock, D. H. Reid, head of the poultry husbandry department, A & M. College, pointed out in a recent discussion of how to start a good farm flock.

"First," he said, "by buying the flock; second, by buying a few good breeders and raising the flock; third, by buying hatching eggs or baby chicks; fourth, by buying half grown pullets."

"The best way, in my way of thinking, is to buy either hatching eggs or better still baby chicks and start off with an entirely new flock. The old hens or scrub poultry that may be running around about the farm place should be sold early in May and the poultry house thoroughly cleaned from diseases and parasites. Leave it open and vacant for a couple of months while brooding the baby chicks, then disinfect it and it should be found virtually free of poultry diseases and parasites. The ground outside the building should be broken up if possible and a good crop of green stuff allowed to grow in order to kill the parasites that may be on the surface of ground."

Grain and Cattle Shipments Heavy

For small town shipments of grain and cattle Muleshoe does not exactly stand at the bottom of the list. According to late and reliable reports there were 65 cars of grain and 80 cars of cattle shipped from this place this month up to the 23rd.

New Type Beef Cattle Likely

There is apparently no doubt but that the type of beef production which will prevail in the future is that in which cattle of from six to eighteen months old will play a conspicuous part, according to G. W. Barnes, beef cattle specialist, Extension Service, A. & M. College of Texas. During the last 15 years quite a change has come about in the feeding of cattle. Policies and practices which were considered to be correct a few years ago are today obsolete. This has been especially manifest in the case of beef production. While the beef making activities a decade back centered around the steer from 24 to 48 months of age, today most interest is found in the use of much younger animals of both sexes, Mr. Barnes said.

Muleshoe Citizens Attend Banquet in Plainview

A number of Muleshoe citizens attended a banquet given at the Ware Hotel, Plainview, Texas, by the Texas Utilities Company Tuesday night. This banquet was given for the purpose of drawing the people of the Plains towns closer together, and discussing the progress and future plans for the development of this great section of Texas. Judge Kelso, known as "the Texas Utilities Company," was a wonderful host, setting before the visitors many good things to eat, and making each and everyone feel that he was an especial guest.

After the feast, Judge Kelso gave an outline of the history of the Company, going back to twelve and fourteen years ago, when the Plains were known as a desert to the people of the East. He told how they had built their first lines, and the coming of new settlers, till today the Plains of Texas is an empire in itself. The Texas Utilities Co. has had no small part in the upbuilding of this territory, and it stands squarely behind every move for the betterment of each town or community, no matter how small.

Response to the address of welcome for Muleshoe was made by Hon. Pat R. Bobo, prominent attorney of this city. Those present from Muleshoe were M. V. McCarty, Sr., Pat K. Bobo and C. S. Holland.

$5,000 in Cash For Pelts of Bank Robbers

According to a large poster handed in at the Journal office there is now an open season on bank robbers. Besides getting the thrill of exterminating this vermin, there is a nice cash bounty of $5,000 for each pelt presented to the Texas Bankers Association.

The poster says there is no limit to the place of killing. It can be in the banking house, as the robber or robbers leave the bank, or even ten or twenty miles down the road as they flee. It applies to night attacks as well as daylight holdups.

Banks are suffering from hold-ups to such an extent, and it is becoming so difficult to convict one even if caught, that they are taking this step in the hope that the "trial and conviction" will be a little more beneficial.

The Methodist Women's Missionary Society met with Mrs. Lawrence Wednesday, November 23rd. Our lesson was a review and the study of "The Synagogue," conducted by Mrs. Stone and Rev. Hicks.

After the business session a delicious plate luncheon was served to Mesdames Stone, Faulkner, Wallace, Carl Elrod, Nina Elrod, March, Hicks, Lawrence and Harold Weyer. Mrs. May and Mrs. Ware were guests of our Society.

We are glad to have Rev. and Mrs. Hicks with us. We shall meet next Wednesday, November 30th, with Mrs. Nina Elrod.

Mr. Neil Rockey of the Muleshoe Motor Co. left Thursday morning for Dallas to attend a Ford dealers meeting.

Fire Department Puts On Big Picture Monday

The Muleshoe Fire Department will have a big picture at the Brooks Theatre next Monday and Tuesday. The proceeds of the show will go to purchase hats and coats, which is needed very badly. The boys are giving this show and guaranteeing that besides serving a good cause, that you will get your money's worth. The name of picture is "One of the Bravest." By purchasing the coats and hats in this way it will save city tax money and you are benefited two ways. You are asked to come out and see this show Monday and Tuesday and help buy this needed equipment. Prices are 20 and 40 cents.

"The Eagle of of the Sea" at Brooks Theatre

"The Eagle of the Sea" What thoughts that phrase must bring to mind! Galleons of gold! Merchant ships! Men-o-war! Valiant vessels! Bold buccaniers! Plundering pirates!

All these will be seen at the Brooks Theatre when Frank Lloyd's first Paramount production, "The Eagle of the Sea," makes its local debut. This Charles Tenny Jackson story traces the life of Jean Lafitte, noted American pirate, from the day he adopts the name "Captain Sazara," until he wins the woman of his heart. Needless to say, this is only accomplished after many hazardous voyages, lively adventures and fierce fights. "The Mystery Pilot" and comics will be run in connection with this big picture, Friday and Saturday.

New Improvements on Green Farm

W. T. Black has a contract for making extensive improvements on the C. L. Green farm, which are to be made at once. Part of the work is the building of a new tenant house and additions to the Green home. There are quite a number of new improvements going on throughout the community, and others scheduled to start soon with the coming of new settlers from the east.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Barron Tuesday afternoon in business social meeting.

The first part of the meeting was taken up in discussing the Bazaar, which is to be held December 10th. After the business hour a number of games were engaged in. Everyone was given the end of a string and told to follow it. Mrs. Coker, our capable and loving president, found a box of useful gifts hidden away in a dark corner. Ask Mrs. Coker if she was surprised and she will say, "oh, I wondered why everyone acted so strangely." Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

Those present to enjoy the meeting were, Mesdames Coker, Barron, Walker, Winn, Roberts, Alsup, Harper, Ray Griffiths, Welch, D. A. Dodson and Byron Griffiths.

New Hatchery and Produce Opens Here

A new and complete hatchery has just been opened in Muleshoe by Mr. L. O. Wiseman, formerly of Sedan, in the old drug store building. Mr. Wiseman is an experienced hatchery and poultryman and is in position to give the community the very best of service in this line. He now has incubators of 10,000 egg capacity ready to go, and can add to this on short notice as the trade demands. People of this community are very fortunate in having this hatchery, as it will save them time and trouble of shipping from distant towns. We wish to call your attention to the advertisement in this issue of the Journal.

Poultry Possibilities.

Poultry ranks high among the products of the United States, and is gaining every year.

In 1926 the average value of poultry produced on every farm keeping poultry in California was over $600 per farm. If California can profit by raising poultry and buy commercial feeds shipped from the East, can't the farmers of Bailey County do equally as well if not better with the mass production of feeds we have?

It don't cost much to get a start of poultry. You can buy baby chicks at from $10 to $15 per hundred, depending on the time of season, or if you have a flock of good hens you can have your eggs hatched for $3.50 per 100 eggs, and with proper care taken of eggs and fertility of eggs you can depend on from 60 to 90 per cent hatches. The male birds can be sold as early broilers at a good price, enough to pay for the cost and raising of the pullets to maturity. Or the males may be caponized at broilers and fat maturity from 7 to 12 months old will weigh from 6 to 14 pounds, according to breed bring 30 to 45 cents per pound on foot. You can see if you don't intend to sell as broilers or fryers it pays to caponize. Capons develop faster and takes less feed to mature. In other words you can take what would ordinarily make a 25c, 50c roaster and make a $2.50 to $5.00 capon. The operation is very simple with proper tools which cost $3.00 to $5.00. The loss from operations is very small.

Why not make 1928 a banner poultry year for Bailey County, as well as make Bailey county a banner poultry county? Let your poultry keep you instead of you keeping them. Give them the proper care and they will keep you. Observer.

Face Skin Treatment.

NOW that Helen Crane was wholly awakened to the consciousness of natural feminine charm and beauty her enthusiasm in the pursuit of it brushed aside almost every other interest. The vanity that had been submerged by years of self-indulgence and indifference was now a salient factor in her life, firing her on toward her goal.

"I'm giving you a very nice little gift for your operator," said the beauty genius upon Helen's appearance that second morning. "All our girls are put through a thorough apprenticeship, but this girl usually takes our special cases. She will take you to an isolated booth and expect her work to you. I want your loving labor at home to be effective, Mrs. Crane." One of her rare smiles came. "I always thought massage loosened the skin and made more wrinkles."

"Not the delicate manipulation that I will give you," said the operator. "Miss Whyte has an aversion to the ordinary massage followed by hot-water applications. She believes they do harm. But in your case she has advised it. Your skin is in too sluggish and unhealthy a state for any other treatment than professional massage. It must have that attention for a while to get it back into normal condition."

Later, in the soft reclining chair in her particular booth while being swathed in white, Helen ventured: "I always thought massage loosened the skin and made more wrinkles."

"Not the delicate manipulation that I will give you," said the operator. "Miss Whyte has an aversion to the ordinary massage followed by hot-water applications. She believes they do harm. But in your case she has advised it. Your skin is in too sluggish and unhealthy a state for any other treatment than professional massage. It must have that attention for a while to get it back into normal condition."

Finds It Soothing.

The operator's finger-tips moved lightly, with delicacy, accuracy and strength. "You see, I'm working only with the finger tips, always moving upward and outward. On your cheeks and around your chin I massage in circles. But on your forehead and around your mouth I stroke with the length of my fingers." She demonstrated her meaning as she spoke. The gentle soothing motion dropped Helen's eyes.

"I've heard of so many preparations I'm sort of bewildered," she roused herself to say.

"You see, first I rubbed in softly a cleansing cream that liquefies when applied on the skin, perfectly eliminating dust, grit, and other deteriorating elements. It takes the place of soap and water. Water does not properly cleanse the face, and soap contains lye and other deleterious ingredients which cause injury to the skin. Now then, after the cream was rubbed in I wrapped your face in steaming hot towels to remove the cream and open the pores to make them ready for the skin tonic."

"This skin tonic and astringent produces an evenly measured excretion of the moisture and fat-secreting glands. Abnormal diminution or increase of these secretions makes the skin either dry or dull, or unduly moist and oily. But if you use this tonic it will make the pores normal, the skin firm and more active, therefore lighter and clearer in color. Following the use of cleansing cream it removes any oil left therefrom and is delightfully cooling, giving one's skin the realization of absolute purity and cleanliness."

Patience Needed.

"Should it be patted on?"

"Yes, for five minutes daily, with a piece of absorbent cotton, or with a patter."

"Hot towels again?" said Helen, frowning.

"Madame must not get tired—it takes a lot of patience, this beauty building, but . . . the result! Just one more I'll steam your face then I'll cover it with a lotion which will close the pores again. More towels, but cold this time, followed by a plaster of cotton soaked in witch hazel. The idea is to thoroughly close the pores so the dirt can't enter. An ice rub helps, too."

"But can I do all that myself?"

"Certainly, madame. The massage treatments will be discontinued after one or two more, and you'll only have to consider the care of the skin as it is normally treated. It's quite simple. Cleanse your face with some good cleansing cream just as you have seen me do it. Always remember to rub upward and outward. It will give better results. Your face is plump. You may use tissue cream and pat it in firmly. Since much of the work of our bodies is done while we're asleep it is well to leave the skin 'foor' on all night so that it has a chance to work deep into the pores and enrich the skin."

His Advice

Water—What'll you have, sir?

Diner—I should like some ham and eggs and some kind words.

Water (returning with the order)—There you are, sir.

Diner—Here are the ham and eggs, but you've forgotten something.

Water—What's that?

Diner—The kind words.

Water (bending low and whispering)—Don't eat the eggs!

MOTHER!

Look at Child's Tongue if Sick, Cross, Feverish

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless, "fruity laxative"; they love the delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Fast Clock

"My, doesn't the time go fast." "It certainly does. Why, it is now eight o'clock, and when I looked at the clock five minutes ago it was half-past seven."

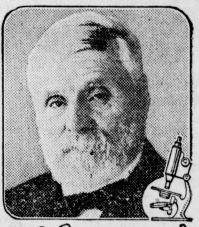

Doctor at 83 Found People Preferred His Prescription

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination ofenna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs? All drug stores have the generous bottles.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

The Discovery That Brought Peace of Mind!

Corrects the Chemistry that Make One's Pores Offend

Do you know why thousands of people who never have to take a laxative, do eat a candy cascaret now and then? They have found that cascara sweetens the whole system—brings an immaculacy of person that means everything. It prevents bodily chemistry from ever making one unconsciously offensive to others. And what a perfect regulator of the bowels!

Salts affect the lining of the bowels. Mineral oils leave a coating that the blood must carry off through the pores. How much better to cascade the system, and cause the bowels to expel everything by normal muscular contraction! To say nothing of the cleaner, sweeter condition that lasts for days—a wholesome condition that makes the use of deodorants quite unnecessary in January or July! Men and women whose years have brought on sluggishness often find that a cascaret only once a week is all the tonic they need.

Cascara is splendid for children, too, and they love the taste of this candy laxative which every druggist has for 10c and 25c.

"IT WAS YEARS before I knew the one best way to conquer sluggishness. Now, I can do so with the comfortable feeling that I'm removing all taint to perspiration, too. That's the big virtue I see in the candy laxative—"

We Think So, Too.

Conditions in this county are more favorable at this time than they have been for years, according to many old timers, who predict 1928 will be a banner year for the Plains. There has been a good feed crop harvested, and it appears at this time the cotton crop will be better than we thought. Prices have been good, and very few people were in debt when the harvest season opened.

Just why people will rent poor land in the more congested districts of the east when they can own better land on the Plains is more than the writer has been able to figure out. Good land may be purchased here at from $20 to $35 an acre with very liberal terms. The land will often produce enough in one year to pay the purchase price.—Lubbock Avalanche.

And especially when the farmer puts farming on a business basis. No matter what section of Texas he is in, if it is a one crop proposition he is going to slip up if he is not very careful. There is always many acres of rich land in Bailey county that need good farmers, and at prices and terms that the eastern renters with some means could easily handle. Yes, opportunity is knocking, and many are taking advantage of it. The Plains offer the eastern renter what he has often longed for—a home of his own.

Not of Indian Origin

As to the origin of the expression "Indian summer," Mr. Albert Matthews has shown that it does not occur anywhere either in printed books or manuscripts until the year 1794, but at that time it was in use throughout the Atlantic states. The popular belief that Indian summer weather was predicted by the native Indians in conversation with the first European settlers finds no documentary corroboration, and the idea that the term "Indian summer" was employed by the early settlers seems to be a myth. In general, neither this term nor anything corresponding to it is to be found in any Indian language. The term "Indian Summer" in its present usage was introduced into England from America. In 1778 Horace Walpole used the same expression, but he evidently had in mind the intense heats of the midsummer weather in India and the West Indies.

Eminent Domain

Eminent domain is the right of a government to take private property for public uses without the owner's permission, provided just compensation is given. In this manner land is obtained for parks, post offices, forts and sites used for other public purposes. Governments often confer the right of eminent domain on railroad, telephone and other private companies engaged in railings generally regarded as essential to the public welfare. Eminent domain is based on the principle that an individual's private interests should not be permitted to stand in the way of the interests of the whole community in which he lives.—Exchange.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

THE LUCKY AGE

NO VISION of the millenium formed in the Fifteenth century could have equaled the realities of 1927. A great part of the things which people were most hopelessly trying to accomplish then has been done today.

People who talk about "the good old days" are either ignorant or silly. Civilization has been set back in its progress from time to time. The Dark ages succeeded the grandeur of Rome, which, after all, was only the grandeur of the nobility. The common people of that city did all the work, got all the cuffs and kicks, and shared all the poverty.

But children born today find the world on the up-grade, and, as far as opportunity for enjoyment is concerned, getting better and better. We are not yet free from war, or sure that this plague has been exterminated.

But the busy inventors of war machinery are arranging for the next war to extend far behind the battle lines, into the interior cities, and into the meeting places of the statesmen who usually make wars.

And when that is possible, wars will become fewer and fewer.

The son of a poor man today can get a better education than could the son of a king in the days of Louis XIV. He can also get better food, and better medical care, and more sensible, although not such elaborate clothing.

One of the greatest of all accomplishments is the doing away of superstition which made fear one of the most dreadful burdens of life in the days of witchcraft and black magic.

Poverty there will be as long as there is idleness in the world. Crime there will be as long as inequality exists, and rascality will be long in exterminating.

But the general standard of conduct is higher today than it has ever been, and more safeguards are thrown by the nations around the foolish people who fall easy prey to designing schemers.

The hours of labor are much shorter than they ever were, and the wages are better.

We still have much to learn about the cause of financial depression and the means of removing it, but panics occur with less frequency, and even great shortages of crops do not affect the people of a nation as they used to.

Mothers used to pray that their children might be born under a lucky star.

And this age, while it is capable of improvement, is the best age that the world has ever known—more filled with opportunity, and more rich with the fruit of human labor.

Trees in Miniature

Anyone can grow miniature trees. Cut a thick-skinned orange in two and remove the pulp from one of the halves. Put a coating of shellac on the outside of this little "boot" and fill the hollow with rich soil. In it plant a couple of seeds of an evergreen tree, such as pine or cedar, and prop the boot upright in a room where it will get plenty of sunlight. Water the soil occasionally, and do not let the room get overheated.

When the roots begin to force a way through the orange skin, cut them off level with the surface, taking care not to injure the shellac coating. When the tree has attained fair growth, it may be transplanted to a large flower pot, but the entanglement of its roots will permanently stunt its growth.

Bismarck Was Hungry

"So hungry I can't sit up straight," was sometimes the plaint of Otto von Bismarck, and according to Herr Emil Ludwig's book on the Iron Chancellor, his remedy was to stuff himself as full as he could not bend in any direction.

"I took some stuffed eel, boiled ham and potatoes," he writes of one supper, "and ate several sausages next, but had too much and had to take some rum. I finished a box of figs, and while I write you I am eating my second box of marasquin and drinking a crock of Erfurter rock-cellar beer. It is excellent!" He figured he smoked 100,000 cigars in five years and killed 5,000 bottles of champagne.

Pretty Cold in Montana

Going through Montana recently we got into conversation with a native son, editor Harry Daniel in Thrill Magazine. "Gets pretty cold up here in the winter, doesn't it?" we observed.

"Well," observed the Montanan, "there's a statue of Old Man Wilbaugh, the pioneer cattle king, on a little hill over in Golden valley. There he stands with his hands hanging helplessly at his sides, while he gazes forever across the plains he loved. But, believe it or not, it got so blamed cold up here one last winter that the old man had to keep his hands in his pants pockets all day long."

Our Wonderful Language

It takes a spelling contest to bring out how many words there are that are spelled in two ways. Several filled this year on the word "brier," spelling it briar. They were marked wrong—a careful look at Webster's latest International reveals "brier" a variant spelling of "brier." "Skillful" was a poser for many of the graders. Webster permits both the single and the double "l" form. The last man to drop out in one match went down on "ascendant." He spelled it with an "e." Either way is permissible.—Cap-per's Weekly.

Beer of Ancient Days

Researches conducted by an eminent Assyriologist deals a scholarly blow to the notion that the Egyptians were the first brewers. A thesis by Doctor Huter, the Assyriologist, published by the German Society for the History of Bibliography of Brewing, shows conclusively that the Egyptians learned the art of making beer from the Babylonians. Sumarians in the seventh millennium before this era used beer in religious sacrifices, early authentic records indicate. The art of making appears to have been perfected in the fifth millennium and after the time of Hammurabi hops, emmer, a special kind of wheat, and barley, were used.—Exchange.

Town Failed to Live

Up to Expectations

The old town of Quindaro on the Missouri river above Kansas City was founded in 1856 by free state boomers who came from New England. Kansas City and Leavenworth were either neutral or were dominated by sympathizers of the South.

The New England emigrants wanted a "port of entry" of their own. The town was built up rapidly with a large hotel, great warehouses, a steamboat landing, and other evidences of a "future great metropolis." During the Civil war, however, the men all went to fight. When they returned the Union Pacific was building west through the Kaw valley, and a little later the Hannibal bridge was constructed, forever making Kansas City the "port of entry."

Quindaro was abandoned. Its hotel and warehouses went to decay, and now all that remains are the ruins and the memory of a struggle of a few brave men who believed they were right, but who were mistaken in their judgment as to the geographical location of the "future great metropolis."—Kansas City Star.

The BABY

Why do so many, many babies of today escape all the little fretful spells and infantile ailments that used to worry mothers through the day, and keep them up half the night?

If you don't know the answer, you haven't discovered pure, harmless Castoria. It is sweet to the taste, and sweet in the little stomach. And its gentle influence seems felt all through the tiny system. Not even a distressful dose of castor oil does so much good. Fletcher's Castoria is purely vegetable, so you may give it freely, at first sign of colic; or constipation; or diarrhea. Or those many times when you just don't know what is the matter. For real sickness, call the doctor, always. At other times, a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria.

knows a thing or two about the flattering becomingness of the finest sweaters. They are as favored for the little daytime hat as they are for the evening mode. So it is that the woman of fashion is adding a feminine touch to her otherwise severely simple little felt skullcap or toque, or to her tiny draped or stirred velvet chapeau, as the case may be.

However, lace is not content to serve merely as a wee bit of a veil. Gradually it is invading itself into the millinery mode as an accepted trimming feature. In fact, a great deal might be said in regard to the evolution of the brief nose veil, for even now we note that the majority of the sparkling "dine and dance" hats are flouting a flutter of lace, the mode having its beginning in the shy appearance of a seamy yet intriguing eyebrow curtain of lace.

Sometimes the lace sparkles with a glint of gold (see first hat in this group) for as promised this is turning out to be a metallic season. Sometimes a drape of exquisitely fine black

Very effective black-and-white millinery is making its way from Paris to our shores. Black lace plays a lovely part in millinery of this sort (see hat center of group). A smart dotted eyebrow veil for street wear is shown last in the group.

Lesson for November 27

ISAIAH TEACHES TRUE WORSHIP

LESSON TEST—Isa. 1:1-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—O magnify the Lord with me and let us exalt his name together. I saw the Lord and he heard me and delivered me from all my fears.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Worshipping God.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Worship That Pleases God.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Worship That Pleases God.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Nature of True Worship.

Isaiah had a long ministry, beginning in the days of Uzziah and extending through the reign of Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah. For a history of the nation in this time see Kings, chapters 15 to 20. Isaiah's visions present the redemptive purpose of God through the consummation of Messiah's kingdom. Chapter 1 is the title to the whole book. It contains the great arraignment of the people for their sins.

- I. The Moral State of the People (vv. 2-4).
1. Filial ingratitude (v. 2).
The universe is summoned to hear the Lord's complaint against Judah and Israel for their base ingratitude.
2. Brutal cupidities (v. 3).
The ox and the ass are proverbially stupid, but Israel's stupidity exceeded theirs. Israel would not recognize His right as sovereign, nor author of mercies.
3. Habitual evil deeds (v. 4).
They were not sinners in a merely, but in nature and heart were laden with iniquity. By heredity they passed their vices from generation to generation.

- II. Their Consequent Miseries (vv. 5-9).
1. Their perplexity (v. 5).
Chastisement only hardened them. Their afflictions were followed by deeper and more heinous sins.
2. Their awful confusion (v. 6).
The calamity which befell them extended to all classes. No one was able to minister to their comfort.
3. Desolations in the country (v. 7, 8).
Revolts from within and invasions from without left their country desolate. Physical ruin always follows moral and spiritual decadence.
4. A saved remnant assured (v. 9).
God's purposes cannot fail. A remnant was saved in Israel—a remnant shall be saved in the church.

- III. Formal Worship Rebuked (vv. 10-15).
Their awful calamities were not due to the neglect of religious rites and ceremonies. They punctiliously observed the forms of religion while indulging in iniquitous practices.
1. God does not need sacrifices (v. 11).
Worship and service are not for God's benefit, but for that of the worshippers themselves.
2. God's attitude toward formal worship (vv. 12-14).
The very rites and ceremonies which God ordained for the purpose of helping men to approach Him become disgusting and irksome to Him.
3. God's refusal (v. 15).
Every act of worship while the heart and life are steeped with iniquity only incites the anger of the Holy One.

- IV. An Amended Life God's Requirement (vv. 16-20).
Though the nation had so grievously sinned, their case was not hopeless. In order to enjoy that mercy there must be:
1. A cleansing.
"Wash you, make you clean." The washing by water symbolized the cleansing by the blood of the Son of God.
2. "Put away the evil of your doings."
There could be no cleansing while continuing in sin.
3. "Cease to do evil."
4. "Learn to do well" (v. 17).
One can only cease to do evil by learning to do well.
5. "Seek Judgment."
One must not only be upright himself but should protest against the wrongdoing of others. Friends should be removed from the oppressed. Justice should be done to the fatherless and the widows should be befriended.
6. Encouragement to come to God (v. 18).
Though their guilt was great and the judgment which befell them awful, God's pardoning and cleansing grace were sufficient.
7. Conditional promise (v. 19).
This means that they could only enjoy good on God's terms.
8. Solemn warning (v. 20).
Rebellion against God brings ruin.

- Religion
Trusting God with a sincere and open heart, ready to obey what He suggests, asking His guidance, and trying to take it, believing in Him and simply trusting life to Him—that is religion.—James Reid.

- Cost of Discipleship
Christ calls us to count the cost of discipleship, but He never asks us to count the gain. He knew we could not; there is no arithmetic to compute that.—W. L. Watkinson.

Embarrassing Position Experienced By Bronx Lady

Miss Jeanne Ginsberg, Bronx, N. Y., writes: "I had become accustomed to arising each day with a heavy head, dizzy and bad taste in my mouth. My bowels were frequently clogged and constipated. BLACK-DRAUGHT was used by the Confederate Forces in Georgia

A war-time package of this popular, purely vegetable laxative medicine has been on exhibit for many years in a war relic museum on a southern battlefield which thousands of tourists visit every year.

107 Years Old

Great-Grandmother of 200 Children

ON Feb. 4, 1927, Mrs. Riddle said: "We have used Black-Draught in our family for many years. We think it is the finest medicine for constipation that we have ever tried. My health has been generally very good, and I have not had much need for medicine, but a small dose, now and then, of Black-Draught will serve to keep a body in good shape.
"My children and grandchildren use it, too. My daughter keeps Black-Draught in the house almost all the time. We are rarely without it, as it has proved to be reliable and effective.
"I can recommend Black-Draught to others, for we have always found it to be a fine medicine, and we use it frequently in our home whenever we need a medicine for constipation."

ON Nov. 18, 1926, Mrs. Pridden said: "My health is very good, and I have not needed to take much medicine, but we have used Black-Draught in our family for a good many years and have always found it beneficial. As a mild purgative it is very satisfactory, and I can recommend it."

and Mrs. Pridden's oldest son enlisted in the southern army. Six of her children were living this year, three of whom were unmarried and residing with their mother.
The United Daughters of the Confederacy in a nearby city sent a bouquet of flowers to Mrs. Pridden on the occasion of her 103rd birthday anniversary, and other southern societies have honored this distinguished North Carolinian.

D. 1924, the defendant D. V. Osborn made, executed and delivered to plaintiff payable to the order of plaintiff, the first of the series being for the principal sum of $3520.00 due on or before six months after date; the second of the series being for the principal sum of $900.00 due on or before one year after date; the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth of the series being for like amounts, due on or before two years, three years, four years, five years, six years, seven years, and eight years, after date; each respectively, and that default in the payment of any of said notes or any installment of interest due thereon shall mature all of said notes, etc. Said notes were given in part payment for a certain lot or parcel of land situated in Bailey county, Texas, being 230 acres of land described as the north one-half (N 1/2) of Section 14, Block "Z" in W. D. and F. W. Johnson's Subdivision in Farmer and Bailey counties, Texas, as shown by the plat of said Subdivision of record in volume 3, page 272, of the seed records of Bailey county, Texas. That the defendants E. C. Cravan and wife, Mrs. E. C. Cravan, C. L. Griffin, Humble Oil Company, K. T. Martin, and K. T. Wherefore plaintiff prays among other things, that he have judgment for his debt, interest, attorney's fees and costs of suit, and for foreclosure of his lien on the above described property, land and premises, and the same be decreed to be sold according to law; that the sheriff executing said order of sale, shall place the purchaser of same in possession thereof within thirty days after the day of sale, and for such other and further relief special and general, in law and in equity, that he may be justly entitled to, etc.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Muleshoe, Texas, on this the 23rd day of November, A. D. 1927.

C. C. Mardis, Clerk, District Court, Bailey County, Texas.
