Double parking on Burlington avenue, will no longer be allowed and parking in front of the post office will be for a limited time only, parking by fire plugs will also draw a penalty. The city council intends to enforce these laws and it is hoped that the people of Spur will aid in this drive to make Spur a safer place to live.
Enforcement of local ordinances and uniform act regulating traffic will be put in force at once. Those who do not abide by these ordinances will be given a ticket and a fine will be assessed.
The city fire zone has been extended.

DUCK CREEK SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

John (Skeeter) Lewis was elected to serve as supervisor for the unexpired term of Tom Murdoch at an election held at Jayton, October 14. Oscar McGinty, supervisor from Zone 4, assisted in holding the election and commented on the increasing amount of publicity given soil conservation in the last few years. "At the time I was first elected to serve as supervisor for the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District in 1940, there was little to be seen about soil conservation in any publication. Now, however, you can hardly read a paper or magazine without seeing some article about soil conservation. Large and small business concerns, banks, railroads, newspapers and manufacturers are aware of the fact that their success as business concerns is dependent upon the conservation of our soil, and many are sponsoring soil conservation movements through one means or another. The Second National Bank of Houston is sponsoring Louis Bromfield, noted writer and soil conservationist, in a series of talks. Bromfield will be in Lubbock the 13th of November, and I would like to encourage as many as can go to hear him."
"To bring the point closer to home," McGinty continued, "I would point out the fact that our personal health is dependent upon soil conservation. If our soils become deficient in any one of the minerals, the animals that eat the plants will be lacking in that mineral and the people who consume the beef will fail to get that particular mineral. There are sections of the country that are deficient in a mineral the lack of which is responsible for goiter."
Lewis, in accepting the job as supervisor, said, "I realize the importance of soil conservation, and I promise to fulfill the duties of supervisor to the best of my ability."
Elmer Shugart, cooperater of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District, whose farm in the East Duck Creek conservation group is subject to overflow water, has reversed the usual procedure and cut his terrace system in numerous places so the outside water can go on through his farm in the quickest way possible. "Of course," Shugart added, "I will repair the terraces after I get the crop off but right now I have about 40 bales of cotton open and a big rain would do me more harm than good."
Horace Wood dusted in 14 acres of alfalfa the first part of the week. Wood explained, "I know it is very late to seed alfalfa but if I can get a rain on it in a few days and if we have a late freeze I can get by with it."
Dee McArthur seeded 15 acres of alfalfa about the first of September and has not had enough moisture to bring it up. McArthur intends to over-seed the alfalfa with wheat in a few days if it doesn't rain. "I will have a late wheat crop anyway, and if it does rain enough the alfalfa will do all right with the wheat as a nurse crop."

TWO KILLED IN HEAD-ON COLLISION EARLY SUNDAY MORNING NEAR SPUR

Six Others Less Seriously Injured
Two men suffered fatal injuries and five others were seriously injured in a head-on collision about 2 a.m. Sunday approximately five miles north of Spur on the Dickens highway.
The dead were: Jessie Lee Tucker, 34, a Levelland mechanic. Lorenzo (Shorty) Gutierrez, 39, a Mexican of near Kalgary.
Jessie Lee Tucker who was riding in a southbound 1940 Chevrolet, driven by J. T. Karr, also a mechanic of Levelland, died a short while after being admitted to Nichols General Hospital. He is survived by his wife and three children and a brother, J. T. Tucker all of Levelland. The body was removed late Sunday from Chandler Funeral Home to Levelland by Plains Funeral Home.
J. T. Karr was less seriously injured and was dismissed from the hospital Sunday and returned to Levelland.
Lorenzo (Shorty) Gutierrez, who died several hours after entering the hospital, was one of six Mexicans in a northbound 1937 Ford. He is survived by his wife and six children, also six brothers and two sisters. He, with his family, had made their home on the Clark Jones farm near Kalgary for the past two years and intermittently since 1938. The body was prepared by Campbell Funeral Chapel and burial was in Sweetwater.
Gutierrez was riding in the Ford driven northward by Tony Velasquez, 21, a Mexican farm laborer who lives near Spur and who sustained a fractured jaw, a laceration of the chin that extended into the mouth and injuries to the left leg and right arm. His father, Joe Velasquez, 52, suffered a concussion, and his lower jaw was fractured in two places.
Dr. M. S. Riley, oral surgeon of Lubbock was called here to see both Tony and Joe. Tony's jaw was set Sunday morning, however Joe was in such state of shock that Dr. Riley will return in a few days to administer to Joe. Joe and his son, Tony were the only two remaining in the hospital. Others having been released after treatment.
Both Chandler Funeral Home and Campbell Funeral Chapel brought the victims to the hospital from the scene of the accident.
Investigators reports disclose that the point of collision was on the west side of the road. The right front fenders of both cars absorbed most of the impact, drawings made at the roadside indicated, L. W. Wilhite and Jim Riddles, state highway patrolmen investigated the accident.

DISAPPEARS FROM HOME

Richard Hugh Elwood, 16, of Los Angeles, mysteriously disappeared from his home on September 18. He is tall and thin, 6 feet 3 inches, weighs 143 pounds, has wavy brown hair, large brown eyes, long lashes, a very slight jagged scar on his left forehead and small ears. He wears glasses when driving, or in the theatre. Most likely he will be wearing brown oxfords, corduroys, a T shirt or a wool plaid shirt. He also had in his possession a navy type pea coat and a tan gabardine hunting cap with brown woolly earflaps and a brown and white parka suit. Unusually goodlooking, genial and a willing worker, Richard Elwood has Social Security card No. 566-28-8122, issued in his own name, also a Star Scout card and identification cards from University High School in Westwood, Los Angeles. He is a senior.
The family car, a Chrysler New Yorker sedan, was discovered in good condition, by police in Las Vegas, Nevada, on September 21, where residents stated it had been parked for 3 days. No one observed a person leaving the car or anyone returning to it.
The youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mike Elwood of 12350 Hanover Street, Brentwood Park, Los Angeles, cannot understand why their son who is exceedingly fond of driving, would leave the car in Las Vegas. They fear that Richard believes it was stolen instead of being safely returned to them.
Richard has been identified in Blythe, California, where he is known to have hitch-hiked with another youth into Arizona. He was also seen in Phoenix, Arizona as late as October 5.
Anxious to contact their son so he will know everything is all right at home, and desperately concerned as to his welfare, the parents urge anyone knowing Richard's whereabouts to telephone them collect at Santa Monica 50096, or wire 12830 Hanover Street, Los Angeles 24, at once.
A reward of $250.00 is offered for information leading to his return. Have you seen this boy?

SPUR-LOCKNEY TILT WILL BE OUTSTANDING GAME IN 4-A CLASH FRIDAY

Out of the Spur-Lockney clash this Friday night will come a strong contender for the district 4-A championship. With both teams in good physical condition there will be plenty of good football in store for the hundreds of rooters who attend.
Each team has an unblemished record in conference play. Lockney tripped up Crosbyton by a score of 12 to 7, while Spur was handing Paducah a sound licking last Friday night 12 to 0.
Longhorns Show Improvement
The Lockney Longhorns have been showing improvement under Coaches Kelley and Hansard this season and are double trouble for any team they will meet in a conference game. With such good boys as Carthel, Quisenberry, Guthrie and Logan in their backfield any team is going to have to play forty eight minutes of hard football to win over these lads. The Longhorns are also boasting of a hard and fast charging line that can also deal out misery to opponents.
Bulldogs Outweighed
With an average weight of eight pounds per man over Spur, and with some slight injuries, the Bulldogs go into this game rated as underdogs as was the dope bucket against Paducah. Followers of Spur will have the opportunity of watching four of the best backs in the conference with Allredge, Wright, Barclay and Simpson in action and an outstanding line of hard tacklers and down-field blockers ranging from end to end.
Bass, regular starting left end who has been out of the game since October 3, with a dislocated elbow, will see some action against the Longhorns according to Coach Sam Hawkes, who has been pouring on the heavy stuff on offense in daily workouts this week. A large following of fans will accompany the team.

BULLDOGS SCORE TWICE TO WIN OVER PADUCAH AFTER HARD-FOUGHT TILT

Stiffest opposition to the season was encountered by the Spur Bulldogs last Friday night at Paducah against the Dragons on their home field, with Spur taking the game by a score of 12 to 0.
Spur scored in the first quarter and again in the fourth quarter and again in the fourth, failing to convert for the extra points.
Outstanding line plays were made by both teams, with the Bulldogs having the edge due to "better" offensive attack, both in the air and on the ground. J. Simpson was tossing passes that connected for several gains but was rushed by three to four linemen in each attempt. J. Sandlin for Paducah also connected with his pass attempts for gains but was bottled up on ground plays. Beck and Rochelle also piled up yardage, in line defense play, Lee, flashy left end was entitled to the honors for the Dragons.
Spur was kept on the defensive in part of the second and most of the third quarter but came back strong on offensive attacks and marched to their second touchdown of the evening. Wright, breaking away for a fifty-five-yard gallop to score, Deryl Roberson, hard charging tackle, pulled the fans out of their seats when he threw a beautiful block on Lee, Dragon end on the Paducah 2-yard line that allowed Wright to go over for the score.
Alertness on the part of the Bulldogs line and backfield gave evidence of their superior training in the clutch. Lockney Longhorns are the next opponent for the Bulldogs, Friday night, October 24.
The team will be accompanied by the band and pep squad and hundreds of well wishers.

Max Broughtley of the WTCC, said that no opposition was expressed at the meeting to the proposal to abolish the state general fund ad valorem tax as had been predicted by some sources. The plank proposes that the tax be abolished and counties permitted by local option to levy the 30 cents per acre in the referendum, flood control and farm-to-market roads.
Joe James, also of Abilene, research director for the WTCC, attended the meeting.

CURRENT COMMENTS

Leon Guinn

A tip from reliable sources in Washington reveals there will be more State Department protests to propaganda in the Russian press against President Harry Truman, other national figures or even policies of the United States. The White House has reached the conclusion that silence will be more effective than any diplomatic protests to a government which has definitely embarked on a wide campaign of abuse to the United States. The U. S. Great Britain and France have openly accused Soviet Russia of stalling along with Austria agreements until the Communists in Austria build up more strength.

As many feared the United States is losing a fight against the high foreign birth rate. Or at least information released by the Population Reference Bureau reveals the U. S. reveals we are in a mighty poor place on the birth rate. The United States is estimated to have seven per cent of the world's population doing 40 per cent of the world's work in providing food, clothing and shelter. In the 16 nations asking Marshall Plan help, for example, nearly 3,000,000 babies were born last year alone; yet Europe has been unable to live on its own natural resources for the past 150 years.

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK

For the motorist fearful for the cold months ahead, the word is getting around that we will have another shortage of antifreeze this winter. A shortage of shipping drums will make alcohol short, and we are producing other solutions at an obsolete rate used in 1939. Incidentally, a new method of eliminating rust from radiators amazes tilters in a major motor maker's laboratory. It's a metal device whose galvanic-cell action causes rust and scale to dissolve and drop to the bottom of the radiator; from which place it is easily removed. Practice by some garages in the nation of charging exorbitant prices for parts and repairs is causing several insurance companies to make up a national list of "approved garages" to which motorists may go for car repairs if they want to collect insurance for damages.

The Real Estate industry has a good idea in starting a campaign to prevent extension of rent controls beyond their present expiration date, February 25, 1948, if the industry can offer a better solution to the problem. The National Association of Real Estate Boards, for instance, has issued a statement claiming that decontrol of rents when the present act expires is the next major step to lick the housing shortage. With some members of Congress already on record as favoring further extension of rent control, the real estate fraternity, however, can look for a thorny road ahead.

THE BIRTH OF TEXAS

By Wm J. Elliot

All true Texans love and are proud of their state, but few know that geologically speaking, Texas is of comparatively recent creation.

The following is the story of the creation of the present body of land known as Texas. If the reader can discard the picture he has in his mind's eye of the present form of Texas it will help him to follow the building up of this new land; this Texas of ours. "In the beginning" a great sea existed where Texas now is. "The Cambrian Sea." This sea extended far South, West, and North and for a considerable distance East. It was in fact part of "The Primeval Sea."

In that sea was a small island. It was in, what is now Central Texas, and the remnants of it are still there. It is known as "The Llano Uplift." Some distance East of this small island was a much larger body of land known to, and called by, geologists "The Llanooria Land Mass," also believed to be an island.

Llanoria was located partly on what is now The Gulf Coastal Plains of Texas and Louisiana, extending East into the sea. Although there is not a visible sign of it today, Llanoria is believed to have contributed largely to the building of Texas by the erosion of its land surface. It is known that the two islands, Llano, and Llanoria, were of Pre-Cambrian age, (or land of the first creation). There was also a range of mountains North-West of Llanoria named The Ouchita Mountains, and at a later period another range of mountains still West of them The Wichita mountains and a western extension The Amarillo Mountains. These mountains with Llanoria are believed during the many millions of years that had passed, to have supplied by their erosion the material which laid the foundation of the present Texas.

For the first signs of this new land, this new Texas, one must look for and find The Permian Deposits. These deposits are believe to have been laid down about 200,000,000. Two hundred million years ago.

It so happens that The Spur country is placed about the center of these Permian Deposits which form a North-West and South-East bed. The sediments which formed the bed, were carried by currents in the sea from the higher lands previously mentioned, and when dropped formed a shoal which finally rose to the surface, and became land the first of Texas.

It is not known how far the Permian strata extends under the present plains, but the deposits from the next period of time. The Triassic, are easily identified and followed. They extend under the Llano Estacado, and The High Plains, West and North-West, into New Mexico and Arizona.

These Triassic deposits came from the same sources as the Permian and were laid down unconformably, this means that between the intervals of the deposition of the sediment, there had been a good deal of erosion from earlier deposits, before the later deposits were placed.

It is mostly by Fossils (petrified forms of life) that the different strata or periods of time are surely identified. Some of these fossils that lived during the Permian and continued into the Triassic Period have been found in the Spur country. They are known to geologists by such names as Stegocephalians, Trilophosaurus, Desmatosuchus, and Phytosaurs. All those named with many other reptiles became extinct during the Triassic Period.

Note. The Amphibians and reptiles mentioned above have mostly been found in the Triassic Strata in New Mexico and in Arizona, proving the same period of time.

The elevation of this new land above sea level, was very slow, and continued over a long period of time. For millions of years the land surface was low, and little above high water; very similar to the present Texas coast, near Galveston and Houston, with bayous extending far into the low coastal plains. On the higher lands vegetation soon started, and the trees grew into quite large timber. Those who have visited the Fossil forests in Arizona can have a very good idea as to the size and length, to which some of the timber grew. While the trees here did not grow quite so large and tall as those in Arizona, they were of the same species.

Those trees in the Petrified Forest have been preserved as agate. A few of the trees here petrified in the same way I have found in the Double Mountain valley specimens of agate, in no way different from that of Arizona. In the Palo Duro Canyon and in the Canadian valley numbers of a similar kind of petrified trees are found, having same beautiful colors as those in Arizona.

The majority of the fossil trees found in The Spur Country are petrified mostly without the minerals being in solution in the water, while petrification was taking place. It is the minerals in the water that gives the beautiful colors to the agate. The petrified trees here were however preserved in the same sea, and at the same period of time as the Arizona Forests were. The Triassic.

At the end of the Triassic Period, the Jurassic Period started, but here and in most of Texas there is not a sign of it. A period of time extending over many millions of years, entirely lost to Texas. Here in this part of Texas as the Cretaceous takes over and of it the Spur country has ample evidence of the tremendous length of time, during which the new Texas was drowned. Just when the drowning of the New Texas started is uncertain. It may have taken place at the beginning of the Jurassic Period or soon after. If so, the time that the New Texas was under water was enormous, about 90 million years. There is, however, no question but that during all of the Cretaceous time, a period extending over 60 million years a deep sea existed, and extended over the new land. This New Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and North over what is now the center of The United States and Canada, connecting with the Arctic Ocean. Note. In the desert West of Winslow, Arizona, shark teeth are to be found, of a species known to have lived during the Cretaceous Period. In the center of Kansas fossil shells (Aureella) are found, that live only in arctic water.

At the end of the Cretaceous Period, the New Texas arose from under the sea water, in outline much as it is today. The old Llanoria Land Mass had entirely disappeared, leaving no visible sign of its ever having existed, much as did the fabled Atlantis. On the small island first mentioned as being in the Primeval Sea and now part of central Texas, The Llano Uplift, fossils are found that antedate by many millions of years, fossils found elsewhere in Texas.

To help to relieve the tremendous length of time that the sea was over the new land, just remember it is only the upper or later part of the Cretaceous deposits that show, and are laid down unconformably, on The Triassic. Here, all the Jurassic, as well as the early and well passed the middle of the Cretaceous Period, no sediments have been left not a trace of anything to mark this long period of time. All the chalk or (Caliche) had to be deposited a grain at a time. Again, think of the thousands of oysters and other shell-fish that are found in the Caliche, all of which were petrified for ages, before the elevation of Texas and The High Plains took place, other ways, they would have perished away, leaving no trace of their ever having lived.

There is some question as to when the elevation of West Texas and The High Plains took place. The accepted belief is, that it was at the end of The Cretaceous Period, although they may have been further elevated later, at the time when the Rocky Mountains were pushed up. Since Cretaceous times this part of Texas has not had sea water invade the land, while the Coastal Plain has been flooded several times, to as late as the Pleistocene, (The Ice age).

And so with the re-birth of Texas from under the sea where it began, I leave it "as is."

Grid Stars Pit Manpower vs. Horsepower

Seven iron men vs. 90 horses... the forward wall of the Wayne University football team of Detroit works out in novel fashion at the blocking sled, providing the perspiration, while four attractive Tartar fans offer inspiration. The mechanized practice session sought to discover whether the forward wall could "hold that line" against a Chevrolet. The Tartar line admitted they'd had a workout, but said they'd never faced prettier competition.

State 'Top' On Migrant Labor

Dr. Robert Wells, who directs the Unitarian Service committee's program for migrant farm labor at McAllen and Harlingen farm labor centers, told the Alliance for Guidance of Rural Youth here today that "Texas is doing the best job of any state of the union as regards migrant farm labor."

There is more consciousness of responsibility in Texas than there is on this question in other states," he added.

"This is not to say there are not problems to be solved. I have been greatly assured, however, that the approach of Texans to their problem is a positive one and we can look forward to eventual solution of these difficult problems."

Recommendations for improving health, housing, employment standards and general welfare of children of migrant families were drawn up for presentation Wednesday by the alliance to the National Citizens Committee on Migrant Labor at its organizational conference in Washington. Dr. Wells will again address the group Wednesday afternoon on conditions in Texas labor camps and on Texas farms and ranches.

WINTER GRAZING COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 21—

It's going to take plenty of winter and spring grazing to fall in line with the government program of saving feed grain.

E. A. Miller, Extension agronomist of Texas A&M College, offers a few pointers on planting winter grain crops. He says that as soon as there is enough moisture in the ground, forage crops can go into the soil. If the land is not too hard, it's safe to go ahead and plant even in dry soil. The seed will germinate when it finally rains.

Grain planted for grazing can be planted a lot thicker to provide more forage. Oats, wheat, barley, rye and Italian ryegrass are good winter grazing crops. A mixture of oats, wheat and barley makes a good combination for grazing when no harvesting is planned. In this mixture, barley provides more grazing in the fall and early winter while the oats and wheat will usually offer good grazing in the spring. Rye, especially abuzzi and halbo are good crops on the sandy soils of East Texas and the West Cross Timbers area.

Vetch or other winter legumes can be planted with grain to improve the grazing. Over a large area of Texas, hairy vetch is planted with rye or other grain crops for seed production and soil improvement as well as grazing.

In the southern half of Texas, when enough moisture is in the soil, hubam and annual yellow clover sweet clover are first-rate crops, good for grazing, seed and soil improvement.

Mr. Miller says that winter and spring grazing not only will help to save badly needed grain, but will also cut down on the cost of livestock production.

Mr. Alvin Camp and Mrs. Truman Morrow were business visitors in Sweetwater recently and while there visited with Mrs. Bob George and Mrs. K. T. Loftin both are former Spur residents.

Mrs. Loftin has been quite ill but is reported to be improving.

WALLS PRODUCTION "DESERT FURY" DUE

Beginning next Sunday the Palace Theatre will present Paramount's Technicolor drama, "Desert Fury," with co-stars Elizabeth Scott, John Hodiak and Burt Lancaster and a supporting cast headed by Mary Astor and Wendell Corey.

The Hal Wallis production tells a modern story in a setting as old as time itself—America's desert. Against this colorful, ever-changing, ever-inspiring background is laid the tale of a notorious mother, a headstrong daughter and the gambler-killer who came between them.

Lizbeth Scott, sultry blonde beauty, plays the daughter. In defiance of her mother, who not only runs her own gambling establishment, but the town as well, Lizbeth becomes involved with gambler Hodiak. He is a brooding, unhappy man who cannot keep away from the desert town where his wife met death in an automobile accident. With Hodiak as his constant companion is Corey, a strange, cold fellow who does everything he can to keep Lizbeth and Hodiak apart.

Also violently opposed to the girl's interest in Hodiak is Burt Lancaster, state highway patrolman, who suspects the two men of more than gambling and who is himself in love with Lizbeth.

Temper and emotions reach crescendo proportions when Lizbeth learns her mother's bitterness toward Hodiak stems from their romance of long ago and when events point to the murder—and not accidental death—of Hodiak's wife.

Mary Astor portrays the mother. Corey, recruited from Broadway where he scored a hit in the stage success, "Dream Girl," is said to give a performance that marks him for future film greatness. Lancaster, who recently scored a sensation in "The Killers," is this time on the side of the law.

Lewis Allen directed; screen play by Robert Rossen.

MISS TALLEY WINGHAM and Stanley Darden of the Windham ranch east of Dickens were business visitors here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Buckner of near McAdoo were Spur visitors Saturday.

WEEKLY SWING OF SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

(USDA)—Many southwest farm products set lower trends last week, but grains and cotton continued to climb, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Cotton harvesting made good progress but car shortage hampered movement to market. Spot sales scored a record volume for the season, although some farmers still held for higher prices. Prices advanced around $3 for the week.

Poultry showed considerable weakness off and on during the week, but most markets steadied somewhat toward the close. Eggs held mostly unchanged. Dallas and Fort Worth bought select candled eggs at around 55 cents per dozen. New Orleans paid 63 cents for fresh grade A large eggs, and Denver gave 55 to 60 for large white. Heavy hens turned generally at 24 to 28 cents per pound, and fryers 32 to 37.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Loe of near Girard were business visitors here Tuesday. Mrs. Loe stated that their son, Cpl. Jim Loe who is stationed at Williams Beaumont hospital at El Paso is soon to receive his discharge from the Army and will be home.

Appointment of George D. Wilson, Houston businessman and civic leader, as Texas State Chairman for the 1948 March of Dimes was announced today by Basil O'Connor, President of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The 1948 campaign to be held Jan. 15-30 will mark the tenth anniversary of the National Foundation, established by Franklin D. Roosevelt to "lead, direct and unify the fight against infantile paralysis. The March of Dimes each January is the sole support of the National Foundation.

Mr. Wilson formerly headed the trustees of the University of Houston, the Houston Board of Education and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He has been active in the American Red Cross and served on the Presiding Bishop's Committee on Laymen's Work of the Protestant Episcopal Church. He was 1947 March of Dimes chairman for Texas.

In announcing that Mr. Wilson had accepted the state chairmanship, Mr. O'Connor revealed that since 1943 infantile paralysis has taken a tragic toll, with more than 72,000 Americans having been stricken.

"Thousands are warned, 'continue to face the fight for recovery. This summer, fortunately, we had a breathing spell as polio incidence nationally did not approach the awful total of 1946.

"The cost of the 1948 epidemic alone will run to some $30,000,000, without taking into account the large sums necessary to care for those stricken this summer. We do not know what 1948 may bring, but we must be prepared."

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Waddell and Emma Lee, Mrs. Helen Peterson and two children, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Waddell of Abilene visited last week-end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. BULLDOGS WIN OVER PADUCAH 12-0

The Bulldogs won their second conference game of the season Friday night when they trampled the Dragons to a 12-0 victory at Paducah. In the first quarter of the game Alldredge ran to Paducah's 3-yard line and Wright plowed through the line to score the first touchdown. The game was a real battle with hard playing on the part of both teams. No scores were made during the second or third quarters, but in the fourth quarter Spur managed to get the ball down in Paducah's territory and Wright scored a touchdown on a 15-yard run. The Bulldogs will journey to Lockney for their third conference game Friday night.

SCANDAL

This job of keeping up with the new (and old) romances is just too much for an old and disreputable person like me, but here is the report of the ones I do see:

Don't tell them, but I was hiding on the other side of the camera when Nelle and Steele and Doris and Dennis had those cute run. The Bulldogs will journey only ones I saw either.

Bunky, what's the matter, letting Gaiken hold Winona's hand in English class. Better watch that. Who is that cute McAdoo boy that Doris Ann has been seen with quite frequently—not bad at all Doris Ann.

Myra Alice and Wayne Smith sure were doing all right in the show the other day, but why did your mother come after you, Myra?? Zeida Cox and Tommy have been seen around together a lot lately—good deal.

Who was the cute out-of-town boy Virginia Ruth was with, come on and tell us. Ju Ron and Carolyn have been seen together several times—cute couple don't you think? Good luck kids.

They say old flames never die, how about Bobbie and Joe Randall. But do they say anything about Joe Max, who represents the third party.

At last Jamie and Darold seem to have straightened out, well that's good.

Ruby Neil, you should have learned by now that you can't go with them all.

The oil well proves interesting to some people it seems, that is, interesting if you can get out there. eh, Peggy Rogers.

Barbara Brunley seems to get around quite a bit—first with boner and then Joe Max, and by the way, Joe Max—let's be a little more polite next time you lose your temper.

Who is this Eddie Hill all the girls are talking about? What does Amarillo have that Spur doesn't? Virginia should know. Mariene, we have seen you with Smokey lately, has there been a "family" quarrel? Why is everyone going around with a long face? Maybe it's because Patti's man has gone back to California.

Looks like Dona Gene's 5 by 7 picture came to life, yup, that gorgeous hunk of He-man came to the game Friday.

Somebody said Bobbie and Troy had broken up, but for some reason I don't think so? I thought you couldn't play golf at night—but a few of the dear old SHS students have changed all that.

"What else," you say, but I guess that's all—that is until the next issue of the "Rowel."

JUNIOR NEWS

By Doris Chambless

The Junior Class enjoyed a party Monday night, October 20, in the high school gym. This party was carried on very nicely. Everyone came dressed barn style. After several games were played, the group assembled in the lunch room to eat their attractively arranged sack lunches. Girls brought lunches and boys brought cokes and candy. In co-operation with Coach Hawkes the party was dismissed by 9:30 so the football boys could be home by 10. The entertainment committee responsible for this gay time were: Chairman—Doris Chambless, Tommy Alldredge, Patsy Hyatt, Jimmy Koon.

BULLDOGS PREPARE FOR COLD WEATHER

By Duane Durham

The Spur Bulldogs are wishing for some cold weather so that they can make use of their new warm-up jackets.

These jackets are royal blue with gold bulldogs on the back. They are overcoat length and have a zipper hood to protect the head.

For the boys to get the full benefit of these warm coats they will have to win the district and district.

ARTABAN INITIATION

The freshman Homemaking girls had a grand time from Tuesday, October 14 through Thursday, October 16. During these three days they were initiated into the Artaban Club.

Twenty-five Homemaking I girls came to school Tuesday morning wearing their dresses backward, one foot all dressed-up in a high-heel shoe with hose, and on the other foot was an Oxford with a bobby sock. Wednesday the same group wore half of their hair pinned up and the other half combed out. One-half of their face had makeup and the other side had cold cream on it. The attire of these girls for Thursday was one of their mothers' dresses without a belt, an old hat, and carrying a purse. At noon they scrubbed the steps of the high school building with a toothbrush.

The formal initiation was held in the Homemaking Department Thursday night at 7. After the completion of the initiation cookies, sandwiches and punch were served.

"And I don't mean electric light bill, either. It's a service bill today!"

Because lights are only a small part of it. It's a cooking bill and a cleaning bill and a heating bill and a cooling bill and a hot-water bill, as well. It covers food preservation and entertainment washing and ironing and sewing and a lot of other things besides. It's the biggest bargain in your family budget. When the cost of practically everything else has gone UP, the price of your electric service has stayed modestly LOW. Small Informal Wedding Unites Miss Ouida Lisenby - John Louis Shone

Minnesota Avenue Christian Church in Washington, D. C. was the scene of a small informal wedding uniting Miss Ouida Yvonne Lisenby, daughter of Mrs. Ed Lisenby, formerly of Mrs. John Louis Shone, and son of Mr. John Lewis Shone of Washington, D. C. The ceremony was performed at 11 a.m. on October 2nd before an altar decorated with white chrysanthemums and with the Reverend J. Lloyd Black officiating. The bride was lovely in a suit of cream de cacao with white blouse. Her accessories were of brown and she carried an old-fashioned nosegay of bronze and gold baby chrysanthemums.

Attending her sister was Miss Mary Louise Lisenby dressed in a suit of fawn-colored wool and carrying a bouquet similar to that of the bride. Mr. Spencer Bernard Lisenby acted as best man. The bride's mother, dressed in purple crepe with gray accessories, wore a corsage of orchid chrysanthemums. Mrs. John Lewis wore a gray suit with pink pin stripe and a corsage of white chrysanthemums.

A beautiful three-tiered wedding cake decorated with tiny doves and yellow roses of spun sugar and topped with a miniature bride and groom was the center of attraction at a party immediately following the ceremony at Hotel Statler. After the party the bride and groom departed for a wedding trip to historic Williamsburg, Va.

Those attending the wedding were: Mrs. Ed Lisenby, Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey Francis Sullivan, Jr., (Mrs. Sullivan is the former Miss June Lisenby), Mrs. Spencer Bernard Lisenby, Billy Scott and Miss Julia May Albin.

A week before the wedding Mrs. Shone was complimented by a miscellaneous shower in the apartment of Miss Julia May Albin. Approximately twenty guests were present for an evening of gaiety and chatter and to watch the bride-elect open her gifts beneath a white umbrella with green streamers and yellow roses entwined to carry out the summer shower motif.

Mr. and Mrs. Shone are at home at 1701 19th street, Southeast, Washington, D. C.

more telephone calls

- More and more calls from more and more telephones have taxed the capacity of switchboards and operators alike during these days of equipment shortages. Even so, most calls at most times go through promptly.

If, at times, you do not hear "Number, please?" immediately, it's because hundreds of other people are calling at the same time and operators are doing their best to answer each call in turn. This is especially true during the busiest hours of the day—midmorning and early evening.

We're putting in more equipment as fast as we can get it. Our aim is to eliminate delays and answer every call promptly.

A REPORT FROM GREECE

This is about Greece, written from London while I am waiting for a ship for New York. Our committee on Foreign Aid has recently returned from a week in Greece.

Before going there, I had rather expected to see people dying in the streets from starvation and want. I believe Greece is in worse shape than any nation in Europe, but the aid program of the U. S. and the efforts of the people are preventing the complete collapse of the country. The Greeks made a heroic effort during the war to hold the enemy and give aid to the Allies and since VE Day vast sums of money of many nations have been spent there to arrest the ravages of disease and starvation.

At present our nation is in the midst of the 300 million dollar aid program in Greece which is being administered by former Governor Griswold of Nebraska. The object of the program is to help stabilize the country and prevent the further extension of the Russian Iron Curtain.

It is no secret that the principal object of American foreign policy in Europe is to assist democratic peoples and prevent the extension of Communist terrorization and domination to the Atlantic Ocean, enveloping all Europe. If the Iron Curtain of Russian Communism comes to the Atlantic, billions of additional American dollars will have to be spent on our national defense program and American security will be in jeopardy. For right or wrong that is the prevailing viewpoint of our Government. No one knows for certain just what may develop; history will record whether our policy is right or wrong. We are taking a chance and if we lose, our efforts and our money may go for naught.

Greece has about the same population as Texas, but it is only one-fifth the size of our state. And what is more important, most of the country consists of a series of rugged mountain ranges and the land available for agriculture is very limited. Moreover the people depend principally on agriculture for a living as there is practically no industry. The annual rainfall is about the same as in West Texas.

We first went to Athens and then to Macedonia in northern Greece, where much of the guerrilla warfare is being carried on. In company with Greek soldiers and officials, we went as far north as the Bulgarian and Yugoslav borders. In this part of Greece I saw scores of farms which would normally be planted to wheat lying idle because the people had fled from their farms and villages as a result of the terrorization program of the so-called bandits and guerrillas. It is estimated that 25,000 have fled from their homes because of the guerrilla menace, and they are living in the cities under unspeakable conditions. There are about 16,000 of these bandits in widely separated areas who hide out in the mountains and conduct sporadic raids upon the villages.

Some of the bandits are accepting the offer of the Greek Government to surrender on a promise of no punishment. I talked to a number of these surrendered bandits in different localities. Most of them were quite young. Their stories and everything I heard in Greece confirmed the charge that the bandits are being inspired and supported by the Communists across the Greek borders to the north.

The primary need in Greece is employment and freedom from the reign of terror of the bandits. Governor Griswold and his staff are actively pressing for action in the American aid program but their job is difficult and success is not assured. The Greek Government has been reorganized under Prime Minister Sophoulis, age 86, but the Government is still weak and the Greek army at present is doing a poor job of suppressing the bandits and restoring order. I found no one who thought American troops should take over this task. Such a policy in my opinion is not only unnecessary but would be a tragic mistake otherwise.

The top men in the agriculture program of the American Mission in Greece are E. N. Holmgren and B. F. Vance, both of whom were former administrators in the AAA program in Texas. As perhaps they were selected because Greek agriculture is similar in some respects to our own, I visited many dry-land farms and many farms where underground water is pumped for irrigation. The average farm is 7 acres in size. The irrigation program seems to offer the quickest way to increase production.

The Greek cotton crop will not be adequate to meet the needs of the country. Greece normally raises about 60,000 bales of cotton. There is a surplus of olive oil and tobacco for export but the Greek currency is on such a weak footing that the export program is far from satisfactory. There is little confidence in the value of the currency.

The war devastation in Greece was terrific and many of the highways and railroads are impassable, and the great ports for Athens and Salonika are not yet in full operation. It takes time to repair the ravages of war.

Of one thing I am sure, the rank and file of the people in Greece do not want Communism and they will not willingly accept it. They are close to the Communist states of Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Russia and the rank and file want no part of it. But Communism operates through terrorist methods and when a police state is established freedom is lost. That is the principal reason why Communism is such a threat throughout the world.

I have been forcefully struck during our study in Europe with this fact: You do not learn too much about a country at the embassy or at the seat of the government. You learn more by visiting the people in the streets and in the work-shops—by visiting them in their homes, on their farms and in their villages.

If you start a conversation in a village the whole neighborhood gathers about you. The people seem anxious to express their opinions and I found the people in Greece were well informed and greatly interested in current problems. They are well aware of American aid and they are grateful for it. That is not true throughout Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McArthur of Red Mud community were Saturday visitors in Spur.

One who has not been in Greece cannot realize the abject poverty of the Greek people. The most they could hope for is a chance to earn a meager existence and live in peace.

Our nation is seeking to follow a policy of enlightened self-interest in Greece. It is a gamble of our powerful country in the interest of world stability and peace. In six months we should know whether the chances of success are good.

In addition to conferences with members of the American Mission in Greece, we met at length with Prime Minister Sophoulis and various other Greek officials. We made no promises in behalf of Congress or the American people. We sought to get facts which will be of assistance to Congress when further action is taken in Washington.

$100,000 Cake

"Something out of fairyland," says 3-year-old Rue Howell, of Dallas, at sight of the jeweled birthday cake, valued at $100,000, prepared for Arthur Everett, pioneer Dallas business man, on his Golden Anniversary celebration. Rue is 3 1/2 feet tall, while the cake measures over four feet, iced with gold and blue sugar frosting, festooned with pearls and garlanded with diamonds, sapphires and other precious gems, the rare confection is the one little girl's dream of but seldom so exact in fair tales.

In the first four months of 1947 124 million pounds of peanuts were exported by the United States.
