Companies Lease Pitchfork Ranch

Seaboard Oil Corporation, Dallas has obtained one-half interest from Tide Water Associated Oil company in leases covering the vast Pitchfork Ranch in Dickens and King counties, oil sources reported last week-end.

The ranch consists of approximately 112,000 acres and is owned by the Pitchfork Land & Cattle Company. Chester Innes, Abilene worked out the arrangement with Pitchfork, paying $2.50 an acre bonus and 25c rentals for a 12-month prospecting option.

After seismicograph operations, lessors may select drilling blocks of 5,000 acres, providing an oil bonus of $100 an acre out of one eighth of seven eighths of any production on each block. Separate leases were made on each section of the ranch and one producing well will hold only one section.

Innes turned the deal to Tide Water which in turn assigned a half to Seaboard.

They Became Farm Owners

Pictured above are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Benson, route 1, Spur, being presented with a check in the amount of $10,000 by W. T. (Bill) Andrews, Executive Vice-president of the Spur Security Bank. The check represents the purchase price for a farm, and is the first insured Mortgage Loan made in this area. (Photo by B. and H. Studio).

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Benson, route 1, Spur, who have been renting a 160 acre farm since he returned from service with the Army, became owners of the same farm during a check delivery ceremony Tuesday night, February 13. They were presented a $10,000 check with which to purchase and improve the farm by Mr. W. T. Andrews, Executive Vice-President of the Spur Security Bank in a high-light of a LION CLUB banquet program. The ceremony was held in closing the first Insured Mortgage loan in this area. Maurice P. Vannoy, local County Supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration, presided at the presentation.

"We come to a point which will forever be close to the hearts of two young people," Vannoy said in introduction. "Tonight Edwin and Rose Benson leave the ranks of tenants and enter the ranks of home-owners. They are a typical young couple who have been operating under the handicaps of tenancy; they are in debt, like so many other young people who are starting out on their own. We who have had a small part in helping them overcome that handicap are happy with them on this occasion," he continued.

Wallace W. White, Field Representative of the State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, gave a short background of the Insured Mortgage Loan program. "Under the insured mortgage plan, borrowers must have 10 per cent, or an equivalent equity in the land, of the loan. The balance is secured from a private lending agency—a bank, an insurance company or an individual—and the United States of America insures that loan 100 per cent," Mr. White said. "The changes Congress recently made in our insured mortgage program were intended to help more farmers get Government-guaranteed loans to buy farms. The amendment to the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act will undoubtedly make more opportunities for tenants, share-croppers, farm laborers, and veterans in this State and throughout the country to get farm real-estate credit," he continued. "The lender gets 3 per cent return on his money and has an assured market for the mortgage. The loans are repayable in 40 years, but the lender, if he wishes, can turn over the mortgage to the Government after holding it for seven years and get paid in full. We congratulate the Bensons and express great thanks to the Spur Security Bank for helping this couple become home-owners," he said in closing.

In presenting the check to Mr. and Mrs. Benson, Mr. Andrews remarked that the insured mortgage loan program "gives us a chance to cooperate with families who don't qualify for regular real-estate credit but who deserve it a chance to become land holders." "I take great pleasure in presenting you with this check," he said in presentation, "and congratulations to you both."

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, Mr. White, and Mr. and Mrs. Vannoy, Miss Claynell Fowler, Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffman, Home Management Specialist from Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar McGinty, Byron Haney, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gregory were special guests.

Nettie Jo Fry returned home Friday from the Crosbyton Hospital where she underwent an appendectomy Tuesday of last week.

10% GOOD FIRE RECORD CREDIT IS GIVEN SPUR

Spur will receive a Fire Record Credit of 10 per cent for the year beginning March 1, according to an announcement from State Fire Insurance Commissioner Marvin Hill to local insurance agencies.

According to the report this is an increase of 5 per cent over 1948, and will result in the saving of insurance cost in Spur. Last year the city had a good fire record credit of 5 per cent.

The key rate for the City remains the same at 41 cents. This is expected to be lowered when the city is re-rated upon the completion of our present water expansion program.

A number of facts are involved in Spur's qualification for this credit. The work of the Spur volunteer fire department and its efficiency under past chief Lawrence Lee, together with program carried out by the city and members of local insurance firms.

The Fire Department works hard and regularly maintains a high peak of efficiency (as was demonstrated last week in our downtown fire) and have had lots to do with keeping the losses to a minimum. All members are well trained and know what to do when a fire does break out.

Legion Post Will Hold Open House

Chairman Maurice Vannoy, of the entertainment committee of the Williams-Puckett Post of the American Legion, announced today that open house and social night will be held at the Legion post tonight (Thursday) beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Vannoy stated that the post would be thrown open to all members of the local post and members of the auxiliary. Ex-Servicemen and women of the area are cordially invited to attend the social meeting.

Cotton Market In Texas Decline

Trading in Texas cotton markets declined last week, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Sales at Dallas, Houston and Galveston dropped 13 per cent and totaled 46,317 bales. Similar downward trends showed up in the week's total sales at the country's ten spot markets.

Country cotton markets were dull, too. Farmers put very few lots up for sale. Equities were down early in the week, but advanced some later. Some offers were as high as $6 per bale in central Texas.

Spot quotations for Middling 15-16 inch cotton climbed to 32-40 cents per pound at Dallas and Galveston, and 32.45 cents at Houston last Wednesday, but leveled off at 32.30 to 32.35 on Friday. This is about $1.00 to $1.25 per bale higher than a week ago at these markets. On the corresponding day last year, cotton was $1.25 per bale higher at Dallas, but $1.50 lower at Houston.

Commodity Credit Corporation reports that Texas farmers have placed 659,415 bales of cotton under loan this season and redeemed 45,220.

1949 Dodge Showing In Spur Tomorrow

R. C. Jones, manager of the Jones Motor Company, local Dodge and Plymouth dealers, has extended a cordial invitation to every one in this area to see the 1949 Dodge showing to be held in his showrooms at 124 E. Harris, beginning Friday, Feb. 25, at 9 a. m.

"The new Dodge has everything," Mr. Jones told the Texas Spur. "New exterior styling, greater interior roominess, and a new, higher 7.0 to 1 compression 'go-away' engine. The 1949 models are being manufactured on two wheelbases. The new Coronet and Meadowbrook models on a 121 1-2 inch wheelbase, a 4 inch increase, replace the former custom and de luxe cars. The new addition to the Dodge line is the lower-priced Wayfarer on a wheelbase of 115 inches," he said.

"The new Dodge has been designed from the inside out to provide more head room, leg room and elbow room," Mr. Jones said. At the same time, he emphasized that exterior dimensions have been decreased. The new models are lower in height, shorter in overall length and narrower in width in comparison with previous models—welcome parking and garaging news.

New features on the 1949 Dodge include attractive exterior styling with graceful body and fender lines and a new low silhouette; front end of the new Dodge is highlighted by the massive chrome finished grille; headlights spaced 5 1-2 inches further apart and 3 1-4 inches higher than previous models.

A distinctive rear end styling results from the natural looking body and rear fender lines, helps to accentuate Dodge's new low silhouette.

"I would like to personally invite all the people of this area to see this new car Friday in our showrooms. You will see the car of the year," Mr. Jones concluded.

Spur Named For Highway Patrol Station, Mar. 1

The announcement further stated that Patrolman Thomas E. Springer, who recently completed his prescribed training course in the state training school for Texas Highway Patrol, will be the patrolman for Spur, with headquarters here.

The site of the well is about 7 miles from southwest corner of Dickens county line and approximately 15 miles south of Spur. Two tests have been made in this area, one by Gulf Oil Company in 1937 and the other by Ohio Oil Company in 1947.

THE STANDARDS OF THE KINGDOM

International Sunday School Lesson for February 27, 1949

MEMORY SELECTION: "Seek ye first his kingdom and his righteousness"—Matthew 6:33.

Lesson Text: Matthew 5: 1-12: 7: 24-27

Our lesson for this week is taken from what we have come to refer to as the Sermon on the Mount. Whether this represents a summary of the teachings of Jesus or a comprehensive address upon one occasion makes very little difference. In it, the New Testament has its counterpart to the Ten Commandments.

No one can read these three chapters in Matthew, 5, 6, and 7, without being impressed by the high ideals and lofty vision which they contain. Burke, the great Englishman, said this was the most impressive political document which ever set forth the rights of man. This is true enough, for in these teachings Jesus dealt with human character in its relationship to God and man.

The goal of man's struggle for countless ages has been happiness. It has been sought in many various ways and thought to be in many different things. Jesus lays down the perfect rule by which every human heart can find blessedness which means happiness of the highest type, founded upon those things which never perish and which are indestructible, beyond the interference or denial of any other man, thus making happiness for any person depend solely upon the attitude toward life of the particular individual.

Proclaiming his famous "Be-attitudes," Jesus announced a philosophy of life which ran counter to the accepted values of mankind, yet it offered a spiritual program which could not fail to bring the benefits of complete happiness to those who genuinely accepted it. Those who are seeking happiness should remember that happiness does not come as spontaneous offering but as a result of the fulfillment of essential conditions.

Strange as it may seem, Jesus promised a great reward to those who were discontented with their lack of right things. The poor in spirit, those conscious of their own spiritual imperfections; the mourners, those who were alive to sin, sensitive to the incompleteness of worldly things; the seekers after righteousness, those who realized their own deficiency and were striving toward the goal of a more perfect life—to these Jesus declared would belong the kingdom of heaven, with its strength, patience and attainment of desires.

To the meek, those who knew self-restraint, who practiced self-control, rather than to the strong and cunning, Jesus promised the earth as a heritage. How surprising this is in a world accustomed to the power of wealth and of armed forces. Yet, the great Napoleon, on St. Helena, testified to the veracity of this law saying: "Alexander and Caesar and I founded great empires; but the empires perished because they were founded on force. Jesus Christ alone founded an empire on love, and to this day thousands will die for him."

And so, Jesus called attention to the great laws which would return mercy to the merciful and reward the poor in heart, the peacemakers and those constant to their ideals.

In this great sermon, the attitude of Jesus to the law of Moses was set forth in clear and convincing fashion. Jesus declared that he had not come to destroy the old law, although he proceeded to demonstrate that a new spirit should amplify it and elevate its spirituality. The laws of Moses were concerned with the external act, and so, the scribes and Pharisees depended upon ritual rather than the spirit, following the traditional customs rather than the divine perfection. Jesus said that it was not obedience to the physical law but the motive—the spirit—in the human heart which revealed membership in the kingdom.

Then, taking up various examples of the Mosaic law, Jesus pointed out the refinement and elevation which it was now time to implant and emphasize to the human race. Where the old law forbade one to take life, Jesus prohibited anger in the heart against another. Where the Mosaic code recognized the law of retaliation, Jesus exhorted men to love one another, even their enemies.

Finally, Jesus pictures for mankind a vision of perfection which it was to strive for, a goal worthy of the effort and difficult of accomplishment, but sufficiently divine to challenge the admiration and the emulation of man in every succeeding generation. "Be ye perfect" Jesus pleaded, for nothing less would enable man to share in divinity.

"Wake Of The Red Witch" Opens At Palace Sunday

Republic's "Wake Of The Red Witch," which opens Sunday at the Palace Theatre, is a spell-binding screen version of a great best-selling novel.

Garland Roark's book was a Literary Guild selection and sold a million copies. Astory with the movement and freedom, sweep and stirring excitement of "Wake Of The Witch" was tailor-made for the screen and Director Edward Ludwig and Associate Producer Edmund Gringer have succeeded in putting it on celluloid with exacting vividness.

John Wayne and Gail Russell head a lustrous cast which includes Gig Young, Adele Mara and Luther Adler. Wayne portrays a tempestuous second-torn between love and vengeance while Adler plays a shipping magnate whose vast empire reaches into every remote lagoon of the South Seas. He heads a giant enterprise called "Batjak, Ltd.," which rose from a group of tramp schooners pirating their way through the Dutch East Indies to a gigantic network of vessels captioned by men of dubious character and predatory tendencies.

When Wayne loses the woman he loves, he sinks his ship, the "Red Witch," with a fortune in gold bullion on board. The ensuing tale is one of blood-thirsty revenge, with Wayne and Adler striking at each other with violent fury.

Gail Russell lends charm and distinction to her role of Angeli, innocently caught up in the Batjak maelstrom until it ultimately destroys her. Adele Mara deserves special mention for a fine and sensitive performance as the half-caste beauty who is loved by Gig Young, the Sam Room of the story.

The film is highlighted by several sensational underwater sequences and John Wayne's battle with a giant octopus provides a memorable moment in the theatre. But the octopus is only one of the many natural perils he must face. At one point, he is put afloat on a raft and menaced by a school of hungry sharks until Adler rescues him, saving him for the more refined mental torture which is to follow.

All those concerned with the production deserve the highest praise for bringing "Wake Of The Red Witch" to the screen.

Hugo S. Sims Says:

"WHO" CAN GET MONEY

"If it can get the money, American industry in 1946 will go full-steam ahead with a vitally needed program of improving its facilities."

The above statement is taken from a review of business needs, published by James H. McGraw, Jr., president of a company which specializes in industrial publications. We call attention to the statement because the problem of American industry is not different from that which confronts everybody else in the United States. Obviously, if for the words "American industry" in the above sentence, we substitute "American home-owner" or "American farmer" almost any other kind of American, we can come to the same conclusion.

The motto, at the top of the survey sent out by the industrial organization, is "Give us the tools." This refers, of course, to industry, but it can equally apply to those who are trying to operate a household in a more efficient and time-saving manner and to practically every American who is engaged in any activity whatsoever.

The idea of the survey to which we refer is to persuade the people of this country that what Congress does about taxes on profits and on Americans with surplus money to invest would be part of the answer to the need of business for the money to get "the tools." Obviously, if business and industry need capital, capable and intelligent leaders should expect to secure increased capital investments from those who want to invest their money in fresh operations. They should not expect favors, in the way of taxation, insofar as current income and profits are concerned.

It should be obvious to any reader that if a corporation makes a large sum of money, it can install vitally needed facilities. The same observation applies to farmers and housewives. If they have the money, they can buy vitally needed labor-saving devices. However, this is not a reason for Congress to relieve either business or industry, the head of a house or a farmer, from the obligation of paying a proper and proportionate share of the cost of modern government.

WHAT GOES ON IN JAPAN?

There is little accurate information available to the people of this country about conditions in Japan, or about the policies of the occupation and the effectiveness of these policies in "reforming" the Japanese or fitting them for democracy. Recently, Gordon Walker, Tokyo correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor, reported that the recent elections resulted in a landslide victory for the conservatives who won a majority of the seats in the Diet.

Mr. Walker says this is, to a large extent, rejection of the policies which the occupation has been pursuing and abrogation of the middle-road political pattern represented by the Socialists who won a plurality in the 1947 elections.

Gen. Douglas-MacArthur hailed the 1947 results as evidence that the Japanese people had voted down the extreme rightists and were ready to employ what he termed true democracy. The General, however, seems not to take a serious view of the present trend. He declares that the "peoples of the world" can take satisfaction over the election which, at a critical moment in Asiatic history, "has given so clear and decisive a mandate for the conservative philosophy of government."

FOR POLITICAL PURPOSES

A bill has been introduced in the House of Representatives to protect racial and religious groups from false statements, with provision to make it unlawful to ship between states, import into the country or to mail printed or mimeograph material containing false statements against any racial or religious group.

The purpose of the measure, of course, is to give certain minorities an opportunity to belabor those who do not accept, in toto, the views of the minority. The sponsors of the measure do not take into consideration the possibility that, after all, the majority of the people of this country constitute racial and religious groups and that they may be suffering from the deliberate misstatements of some of the minority groups in the United States.

The bill is obviously introduced for political purposes. It can hardly be enforced, especially in view of the provisions contained exempting statements made by persons who honestly believe, upon reasonable grounds, that they are true.

Nearly every person accused of violating the terms of the measure will allege that the statements were made as a matter of "honest belief" and therefore excusable under the terms of the statute.

Angels of Mercy, Ethiopian Style

Only a hundred doctors and a few dozen nurses were available until recently to care for Ethiopia's total population of some 12,000,000. Now, with the aid of the U.N. World Health Organization (WHO), training programs in all parts of the country are turning out the necessary help to relieve the critical shortage of medical personnel.

HEALTH NOTES

41% of Loans Go To State Veterans

AUSTIN, TEXAS. — With the present incidence of chickenpox almost twice as high as records indicate for a seven-year median, Dr. Geo. W. Cog, State Health Officer, issued a statement today declaring, "It is a great mistake to treat even light cases of childhood diseases such as chickenpox, measles, mumps, scarlet fever or whooping cough as though they did not amount to much. That sort of treatment makes it possible for these diseases to spread and cause serious outbreaks among children and the resulting lowered resistance makes them easy victims to other forms of infection."

"Some of the most serious epidemics of chickenpox which we have had, have been traced to mild cases—that is, to cases so light that a doctor was not called. In some instances the children have continued to go to school and to associate, and play with other children. In others, after a few days, they have returned to school and have scattered these germs around among their schoolmates. Eventually a group of cases—sometimes very serious ones—have developed from the carelessly-handled mild case. The result was another epidemic that could have been prevented."

The State Health Officer said that the family doctor is the best judge of the seriousness of such childhood diseases, and suffering and anxiety will be avoided if the child showing symptoms of illness is put to bed and a doctor's advice sought and followed.

41% of Loans Go To State Veterans

About 41 percent of the $81,000,000 loaned by the Farmers Home Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, during the year went to returned servicemen to buy or equip farms, it was pointed out in the agency's annual report for 1946, released through the Dallas State Office by State Director L. J. Capplemann. Veterans who are becoming established in agriculture made up about a quarter of the 320,000 farmers participating in the program.

Supervised credit has proved well suited to the needs of many young veterans and their wives whose financial assets and farm management experience are limited but who desire to become successful operators of family-type farms, the report stated. Veterans receive preference for all loans. Special loans were made to 141 disabled veterans who bought farms suited to their abilities.

The annual report pointed out that many farmers are still earning low incomes. Despite the relatively high prices and good yields of recent years the average gross income from half the nation's farms is less than $1000 a year. "A large part of our farm population has not shared to a very great extent in the Nation's prosperity," wrote Dillard B. Lassefer, Administrator, in a letter to the State Director. "This fact is often overlooked. It can be completely realized only by examining the limited farming facilities of many rural families."

The report said that additional working capital and better farming methods are two of the main needs of low-income farmers whose output is limited.

Only those farmers who are not able to borrow from banks or other private or cooperative credit sources, are eligible for assistance from the Farmers Home Administration.

Applications for credit increased over the 1947 totals, but fewer loans were made because of smaller appropriations. There were 117,885 farm-operating loans, 1,904 direct farm-ownership loans, and 884 water-facilities loans made during the 12 months ending June 30, 1948. The number of families paying off loans in the same period totaled 146,000.

A new mortgage insurance program put into effect in October, 1947, aided 352 farmers in 33 states to buy, enlarge, or develop farms. Banks and other private lenders advanced $2,490,910 for these loans, and the Farmers Home Administration guaranteed the repayments.

The agency said its field workers gains in crop diversification, new sources of income, widespread adoption of modern practices on borrowers' farms. "The great majority of the families have built up their herds and flocks, worked out soil-conservation programs, improved their homes," the report stated. "Farmers and their wives who could not afford to enter into community affairs are becoming active in church groups, joining farm organizations, and taking a leading part in neighborhood activities. Children are finishing school with chances for college or special training."

VETERANS NEWS

Q—I am an honorably discharged World War II veteran. At present, I am in prison for a minor offense. May I receive a correspondence course under the provisions of the GI Bills?

A—Yes. The Veterans Administration makes contracts with approved schools and will pay for accredited courses, but no subsistence allowance will be paid.

Q—I am a World War I veteran and have been working out my income tax report. Do I have to show my compensation from VA?

A—Disability compensation is exempt from federal income tax. However, this is a matter within the jurisdiction of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Q—I would like to know why the pension I had been receiving under the law is now called compensation?

A—Public Law 494, 79th Congress, provided that the term "compensation" be applied to all service-connected disability or death benefits paid through Veterans Administration.

Q—What income limitation provision is attached to the pension I will get as the widow of a soldier who died in a Japanese prison?

A—No income provisions are applicable to compensation payable for service connected death.

January Telephone Damage Reaches Ten Million Dollars

January was the most costly month Southwestern Bell Telephone Company ever has known—$10 million dollars damage from ice, sleet, floods, zero cold, wind. Winter's paralyzing blows brought the most costly disaster in company history, and also the most extensive.

From San Antonio and Pecos, through most of central and west Texas, diagonally across Oklahoma, southeastern Kansas, northwest Arkansas, and Missouri to Hannibal on the banks of the Mississippi River, new storms caused additional damage every few days. And floods in Arkansas washed out miles of long distance lines. The areas affected are shown on the map above.

These figures show the extent of the damage: 24,000 poles down, 36,000 crossarms broken, 4,800 long distance circuits knocked out, 53,000 telephones temporarily silent, 500 communities isolated for a time.

Service restored quickly

Two things made it possible to restore service quickly. First, the diligence and skill of 4,200 telephone men. They came with their trucks and tools from all parts of our company territory and from other Bell System companies—Mountain States, Illinois Bell, Southern Bell.

Disregarding personal hardships and in the finest traditions of the business, these men worked from dawn to dusk—down "can" to "can" as Flint men say—seven days a week, under conditions that were always difficult. Sometimes they could scarcely walk on the ice crust, and their trucks were immovable on slippery highways. But, one way or another, they got to where they were needed, and they got the job done.

Reason No. 2—the teamwork that characterizes Bell System service.

Western Electric Company, supply unit of the Bell System, marshaled its nation-wide resources. From Western's warehouses or outside suppliers in 45 communities scattered through 21 states, the materials moved, at once.

A steady stream of poles, crossarms, drop wire, cable, insulators, steel strand, tie wire—all the things the storms had smashed—flowed into the iceed area. At no time was work held up by lack of supplies.

Wire shipments during the month were more than was required by Southwestern Bell in all of the fourth quarter of 1948 for normal purposes. In addition to wire, thousands of poles, crossarms, and tons of pole-line hardware were moved by truck, by express, and by air into the storm areas.

Equipment is standardized

In the Bell System telephone equipment is standardized. The parts that fit in Texas work equally well in Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas, or anywhere else. Thus, even the construction gangs from the other companies found no equipment puzzles—and their own tools worked perfectly.

Bell System teamwork met the challenge of these storms. Most of the service has been restored. But permanent repairs, especially on toll lines, will take months to complete. For every wire damaged by the storm must be retied and "restrung" to meet Bell System standards before the job will be finished.

Grasshopper Losses Can Be Avoided

Big crop losses attributed every year to the grasshopper can be avoided by taking early precautionary steps.

Dr. A. W. Young, professor of plant industry at Texas Technological college, insists it is not necessary to feed the grasshopper all spring so he can do his customary dirty work in the late summer. Several of the newer chemicals were used last year with great success. Chlorinated champhenes as Chlordane and Toxaphene are especially recommended, Dr. Young said. These insecticides are usually available in both dust and spray forms. County agents can suggest which is best for each area's particular treatment.

Although indications are that infestation will not be so high in the immediate high plains district this year, Dr. Young suggests farmers and ranchers be prepared with insecticides to stop the grasshoppers on their first appearance. High infestation has been reported in other parts of the state.

Retail Sales In Texas Drop 6%

Texas retail sales, estimated at $321 million for January 1949, dropped 6 per cent under figures for January 1948, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Apparel stores, with sales decreasing less than 1 per cent, food stores, with sales declining less than 2 per cent, and department stores, with sales dipping 3 per cent, recorded the smallest declines over this 12-month period. Lumber and building materials sales, showing the greatest fall in business for January 1949, tumbled 28 per cent from the January 1948 figures.

Greatest gains for 1949 in retail sales placed family clothing stores and men's and boys' clothing establishments at top with 5-per-cent jumps over January 1948, and drug stores, filling stations, and florists with 2-per-cent rises. General merchandise, eating and drinking places, and restaurants maintained nominal increases of less than 1 per cent over January 1948.

Christmas influenced retail sales for December 1948, when sales stood 80 per cent above those for January 1949 in jewelry, 49 per cent in family clothing stores, 53 per cent in men's and boys' clothing stores, 48 per cent in hardware stores, 58 per cent in department stores, 49 per cent in apparel, 47 per cent in women's specialty shops, 50 per cent in general merchandise, and 43 per cent in shoe stores. January sales of durable goods stores fell 26 per cent from December and 11 per cent from a year earlier, while nondurable store sales slid 44 per cent from December and 2 per cent from January 1948.

Wholesale Sales In December Above Same Period In '47

Though Texas wholesalers' sales and inventories for December 1948 showed increases over December 1947 of 8 and 13 per cent, respectively, monthly comparisons between November and December 1948 revealed a 3-per-cent decline for wholesalers' sales and a 4-per-cent drop in inventories at the end of the year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

The electrical group with a rise of 32 per cent presented the greatest increase over December 1947 wholesalers' sales. This gain was followed by climbs in machinery equipment and supplies (except electrical) of 12 per cent, and 7 per cent in both drugs and sundries and in groceries, but automotive supplies, hardware, and tobacco products fell below year-ago figures.

The upward trend of December 1948 over December 1947 continued into inventories, with the electrical group 53 per cent ahead of December 1947, machinery equipment and supplies, 23 per cent; drugs and sundries and automotive supplies, 20 per cent; hardware 7 per cent.

Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS

WHEN the price of meat threatens to wreck the bank balance for the week, serve meatless dishes two or three times. But be certain to plan tasty ones which are high in nutritive value. Rice and Cheese Casserole, originated by Nancy Holmes in the Best Foods consumer kitchens, is a good example. Try it with a tossed green salad for a delicious luncheon combination, or back it up with soup and a fruit dessert to treat the family to a satisfying dinner.

- Rice and Cheese Casserole
- 4 tablespoons vitaminized rice
 - 1 cup uncooked rice
 - 1 cup grated American cheese
 - 4 tablespoons flour
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - Pinch of thyme
 - 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 cup milk
 - 1 cup uncooked rice
 - 1 cup grated American cheese
 - 1 tomato, sliced thinly
 - 1/2 green pepper, sliced thinly

Melt vitaminized margarine in saucepan, add flour and salt and blend well. Add milk slowly. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly; stir in thyme and Worcestershire sauce. Cook rice in boiling salted water until tender; drain. Arrange layer of rice in bottom of casserole; brush with melted margarine; cover with part of sauce and sprinkle with cheese; repeat until all is used. Top with alternating slices of tomato and green pepper, brush with melted margarine and sprinkle lightly with bread crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 15 to 20 minutes. Yield: 4 servings.
