

Dates are Announced For Jr. Stock Show

Premium lists and entry blanks for the South Plains Jr. Fat Stock show have been mailed to more than 125 county agents and vocational agriculture teachers in Texas and New Mexico. George Wilson, general chairman of the show, announced this week.

Dates for the show are March 17-18-19. A survey of the area's agriculture leaders revealed these dates most favorable.

FFA and 4-H club exhibitors are expected in record numbers this year from the 29 counties in Texas and New Mexico. In the establishment of the show area, Wilson predicted more entries this year than in 1951 when entries hit a record of 568 pigs, 266 calves and 142 lambs.

Entries will be accepted for the 19th annual show up to March 8, Wilson said. The barns at the Panhandle South Plains Fairgrounds in Lubbock will be opened March 15. Animals must be checked in by 6 p. m. the next day. Weighing, classing and identification will begin upon arrival.

In addition to regular premiums, the Kiwanis club offers showmanship awards for the top three neat exhibits in all divisions. Cash awards will be $6 for first, $5 for second, and $4 for third place in the steer, swine and lamb divisions.

Other special awards are offered by the Panhandle Plains Poland China Breeders association and the American Berkshire association.

Entertainment for exhibitors will include the annual barbecue and free movies. The barbecue is financed by Lubbock civic clubs, Lindsey Theatres will extend complimentary passes to exhibitors.

Bill Tinney is vice chairman of the show. Committee chairmen are: Guy C. Victory, finance; Henry G. Lawson, sales ring; John E. Key, entertainment; R. C. Harvey, buyers; and O. J. Sexton, sale clerk.

Officials of the fat steer division are: W. B. Griffin, Tahoka, superintendent; Earl Sears, Lamesa, assistant; and W. L. Stangel, Dean

NOT TOO LATE TO SAVE ON 1951 INCOME TAX, BAR SAYS

Waiting until the last minute to file your 1951 Income Tax return? Even if you have already filed, some tax savings may be possible.

While there are few bright spots in the tax picture for the average taxpayer, lawyers say that some lucky individuals may be able to take advantage of certain relaxed provisions of the 1951 Revenue Act. For example, you may now claim an exemption for a dependent whose gross income during the year was any amount less than $600. Previously, an income of $500 or more by the dependent barred your claim for an exemption on his account.

If you sold your home during 1951, you may avoid being taxed on any profit made in the transaction by purchasing and occupying a new home within one year. The new residence must cost as much or more than the sales price of the old one. However, you may include notes and other liabilities forming part of the consideration in figuring the cost of your new home.

Suppose you bought a home in 1945 for $5000 and sold it on July 1, 1951, for $8500, making a profit of $3500. If you buy and move into a new home not later than June 30, 1952, costing as much as $8500, no tax will be due on your $3500 profit. This is true even though you may pay only $500 or less as a down payment on the new home and the balance of the purchase price is represented by a note and mortgage.

However, the Bureau wants a record of your transactions, even though no tax is due. If you have already repurchased, both your sale and your purchase should be shown on separate Schedule D and attached to your tax return. If you have not bought your new home as yet, but expect to do so before the one year limit runs out, report the 1951 sale on Schedule D anyhow. But, enter the word "None" in the Gain or Loss column and add a short explanation that you expect to purchase or rebuild. Then, when you do replace, write the collector giving him full details on the transaction. If your plans for replacement should fall through, an amended 1951 return would be necessary.

Another new feature which may save taxes for some people is the removal of one limitation on medical expense deduction for all persons over 65. They are no longer limited to excess over and above 5% of adjusted gross income. The limit still applies to all taxpayers under 65, unless their husband or wife happens to be 65 or older. In this event, both husband and wife may deduct medical expenses without reference to the amount of adjusted gross income. However, the general limitation of $1250 per individual still applies in all cases.

If you have passed up any of these savings, an amended return may pay dividends.

The new Self Employment Tax is causing extra tax return headaches for some people this year. If you had net earnings of $400 or more derived from a trade or business which you conducted during 1951 as a sole proprietor or as a partner, this new tax may apply to you. Public officials, railroad workers, ministers and various professional people are excluded from the application of this tax, as are non-resident aliens.

Similarly, income derived from farming, interest and dividends from securities, and gains and losses resulting from sale or exchange of capital assets are excluded. Rentals from real property are excluded except in the case of a real estate broker.

This new tax covers many people newly added to the list of those covered by the Social Security Act, and is imposed to help finance the benefits they may later receive. If you are liable for the Self Employment Tax, you should obtain separate Schedule C and file with your regular tax return.

Applying in many instances where no regular income tax is due, this tax will also force some people to file returns even though their gross income of less than $600 would not otherwise require a filing. Suppose you operated a very small business and grossed only $500 in 1951. Under the old law, no return would be required. However, under the 1951 Act, the Self Employment Tax is carried from Schedule C to Form 1040 and collected as a part of your total income tax liability. If your net income from this small business was $401, you would be required to file a complete 1040 return along with Schedule C in order to comply with the law.

(This column, based on Federal law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Legumes Important In Crop Rotation

Texas farmers come dry or wet weather, have recognized the value of using legumes in their crop rotation plans. Despite the prolonged drought during the fall and winter of 1950 and 1951, seed purchases were heavy.

The state office of the Production and Marketing Administration at College Station has just released a report covering the amount of legume seed farmers secured under the purchase order program for the 1951 legume production program. The report shows that 32,677,172 pounds of all types of legume seed were secured by farmers under the program. The total included 10,631,089 pounds of lespedeza. Other large orders were for winter peas, both Austrian and Dixie Wonder, hairy vetch and hubam sweetclover. Smaller orders were for Madrid sweetclover, mellitus indicia (annual yellow blooming sweetclover), Singletary peas, Willamette and common vetch.

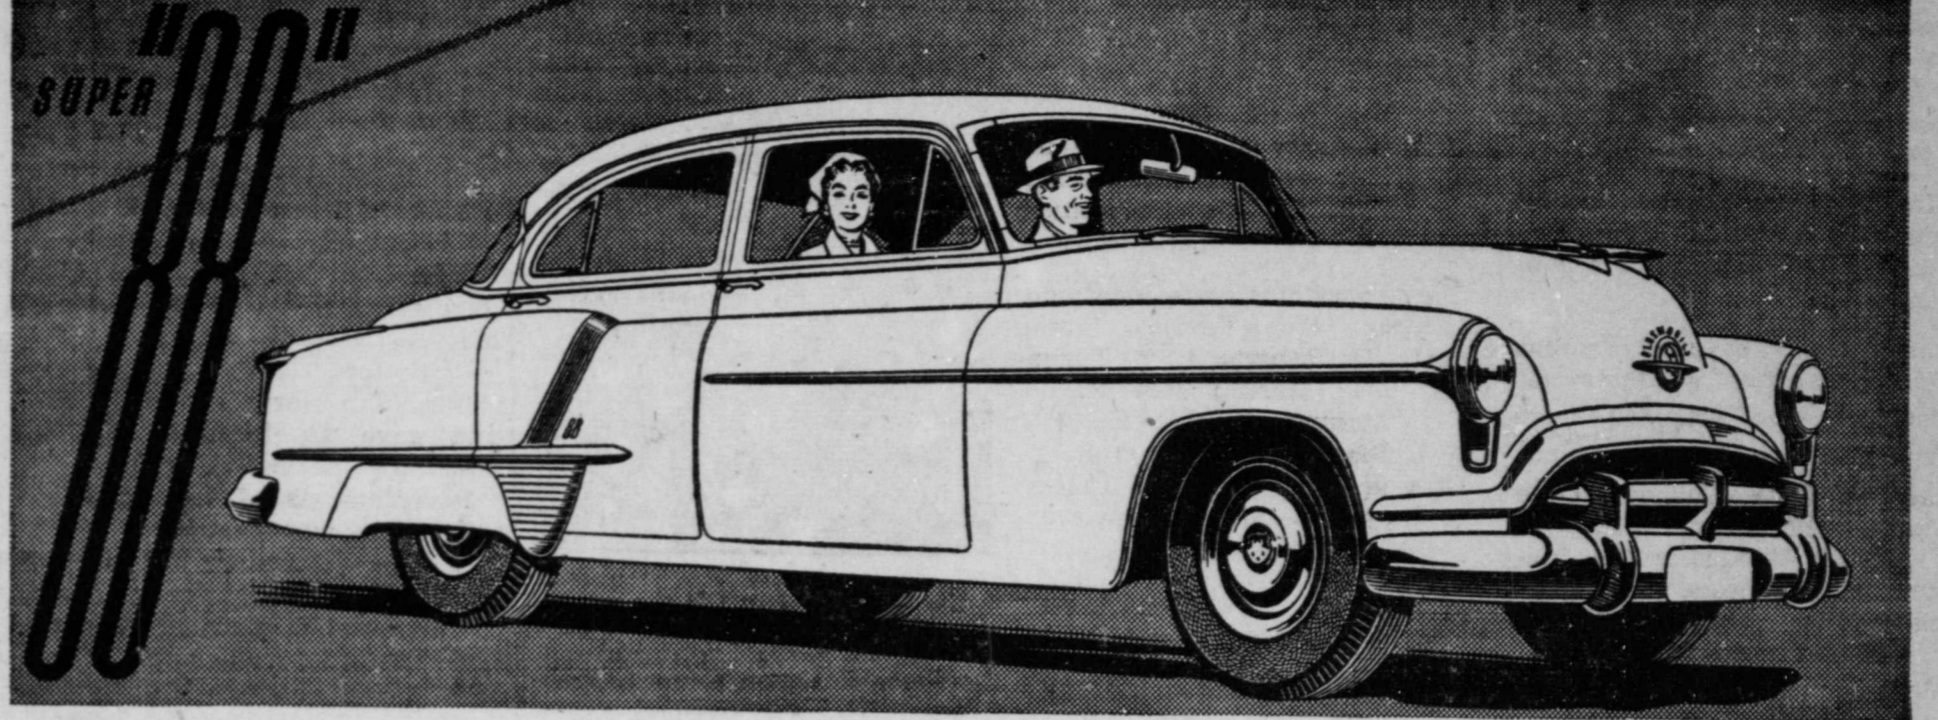

In addition, a great deal of home grown seed were planted, says E. A. Miller, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Planting of sweetclover and hairy vetch were especially heavy from home grown seed supplies.

Miller adds that reports from county agricultural agents show that an estimated 1,513,398 acres legumes were turned under in 1951. Seed were harvested from 187,910 acres with a total production of 44,452,422 pounds. Most of this seed production was from sweetclover, hairy vetch, alfalfa, Singletary peas and crimson clover.

Hints For Homemakers

By Hartese North
Electrification Adviser, Dickens County Electric Cooperative, Inc.

Desserts are something special in the way of foods. Mothers find them useful bribes, surprises and gestures of love, especially gestures of love.

Do you remember how lonely you were when a sore throat kept you home from school? How you sat, neglected and apart, in a chair by the sunny window while the house was cleaned and dusted? And how much better you felt the minute your mother found the time to stop and say, "Now, what would you like for dessert?"

The dessert your mother cooked just for you is still your favorite. It is sweet, simple in flavor, soft in texture. Peach Cake? Bread Pudding? Cream Mold? In our home the treat was baked custard... pale gold and tender... made in individual custard cups.

You're off in a Swirl of Power!

WE'RE willing to wager that not one person in a hundred knows what really goes on inside an automobile engine—so let's take this by easy stages.

The instant you nudge Buick's Fireball 8 Engine into action—a whole string of things starts to happen.

Eight sparks begin to crackle in well-timed sequence. Eight pistons start gliding up and down with rhythmic precision. Eight pairs of valves dance open and closed—to let fuel charges in, exhaust gases out of cylinder after cylinder.

All right, you say, what's so complex about that? Can't anyone build an engine that does this to perfection?

Well, we'd better add, these things happen at the rate of more than 10,000 times per mile—and that's 100 times per second at 35 miles an hour!

So—it's important to know that Buick uses a deep-breathing valve-in-head design that shoots a fuel charge in—cleans exhaust gases out—in a hurry.

It's important to know that all the power released by the fuel concentrates its driving force right on the head of each Buick piston. (Everyone who has recently built "new" high-compression engines copied this "Buick first.")

But most important of all—Buick adds one more twist which others still haven't copied.

Every charge of fuel rushing into a Buick engine becomes a twisting, swirling, high-compressed ball that flashes with sudden, consuming completeness the instant the spark sets it afire.

And to add this all up: clean, complete combustion—10,000 times per mile—is the secret of getting more power—more miles—from each gallon of gasoline.

So we're not simply using picture words when we tell you that Buick—and only Buick—has a FIREBALL ENGINE—or that you're off in a swirl of power with one of these high-powered performers under the hood.

1952 has brought a lot of sparkling new improvements which you'll want to see and admire when you come to our showrooms.

But the thrill of thrills is still what you and a Buick—and a Fireball 8 Engine—can do out on the road. When do you want to try a sample?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Technicolor Musical Highlights the Life And Times of Lotta Crabtree, Top Star Of The Gold Rush Era

"Golden Girl," new Technicolor musical set in Gold Rush days and detailing in song and story the life and times of famed entertainer of the period Lotta Crabtree, opens Sunday at the Palace Theatre. To play Lotta, Twentieth Century-Fox selected from its roster the most promising young star of recent Hollywood years, Mitzi Gaynor, whose vivacious presence and rounded talent gifted supporting roles in "My Blue Heaven" and "Take Care Of My Little Girl."

Further evidencing the film industry's intention of satisfying the demand for fresh and winning faces, two of Miss Gaynor's co-stars in "Golden Girl" are Dale Robertson, who in their previous assignment together, "Take Care Of My Little Girl," had eyes only for Jeanne Crain, and Dennis Day, top-ranking radio and recording singers who Mitzi GAYNOR gives Dennis DAY a sisterly kiss in this scene from 20th Century-Fox's "GOLDEN GIRL," in color by Technicolor.

Though a century separates Mitzi Gaynor and Lotta Crabtree, who struck gold in her career during the famous California gold strikes of 1851, in other ways the two are very close. Both are known for their pert, bubbling effervescence, both began dancing professionally at the age of eight, and both went on to round out their terpsichorean talent with equal force at singing and as comedienne. Lotta Crabtree was known as "The Queen of Fun" and "The Merry Madcap," designations which stands up as well for Mitzi Gaynor.

This plum assignment falls Mitzi's way on the strength of her sparkling showing in secondary roles, such as the one with Betty Grable and Dan Dailey in "My Blue Heaven." Dale Robertson's fast rise dates back to a couple of westerns, wherein he showed off the kind of rugged appeal that had fans comparing him to Clark Gable. Dennis Day's comedic as well as vocal abilities are best known from his prominence on the Jack Benny radio program, though Dennis has also won fame with his won airer, "A Day in the Life of Dennis Day." Barton's background runs the gamut: vaudeville (the old Palace), comedy (the original Jeeter Lester in "Tobacco Road"), drama (Eugene O'Neill's "The Iceman Cometh") and musical comedy (the current Broadway hit, "Paint Your Wagon," also a Gold Rush

Senior Round-up Held By Methodist Women Amid Western Regalia Tuesday Night

The annual Senior Round-up banquet given by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church was held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., March 11.

"Tomater cocktail" was served from an old covered wagon by means of bucket and dipper to the guests as they arrived.

The entrance to the banquet room was made to resemble a covered wagon. A campfire scene was portrayed at the foot of the stairs with an imitation fire, coffee pot, skillet, baregrass, tumbleweeds, and a sleeping cowboy. A large yellow moon completed the western effect.

Western scenes painted on screens by Helen Dean Bingham were formed about the walls of the room.

The tables were placed before the campfire scene in the shape of a horseshoe and were covered with brown cloths centered with Painted cattle brands. Red lanterns provided the lighting effect.

Plate favors were small sand dunes centered with blooming yucca, and the place cards pictured wild horses.

The girls were presented red cedar covered wagons with ribbons of the school colors, blue and gold, on the back. The boys were given plastic gun whistles with cowboys on top.

The menu consisted of "buffalo meat," ranch beans and spuds, "prickly pear salad," "sour dough rolls," "saddle soap," "cactus pie" and spring tea.

The program included C. O. Fox, foreman in charge of the ranch; Gordon Bennett, guest speaker, from McMurry College of Abilene; special music by Orion Lewis, also of McMurry College, accompanied by Mrs. George Tyson. "Stunt rider" which were magic tricks, were done by Lewis.

Approximately 40 persons attended this annual affair.

Yugoslavia Repatriates Greek Children

In compliance with recommendations of the United Nations General Assembly, Yugoslavia has been repatriating to Greece a number of Greek children removed from their homeland during the post-war guerrilla struggle in that part of the world. Above, one of the touching scenes which took place near the Greek frontier station of Idomeni upon the reunion of a mother with her two children.

established by the Official Highway Travel Map.

Mr. D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, announced today that the Department's new 1952 Official Highway Travel Map is now available free to the general public. The Official Highway Map is revised and published annually. It is used by all state agencies as the basis for computing official car mileage. The new map is 28"x36" and is chock-full of travel guidance and information on Texas. The material is illustrated and in color for easy comprehension and appearance. Several important changes have been made in this year's map which includes a topographical relief drawing along with the addition of symbols which show the locations of the 854 roadside parks & turnouts. Special emphasis has been placed on indicating various recreational, scenic, and historical spots. All U. S. and State highways are shown. The more important Farm & Ranch to Market roads which serve the cross-country motorist are also shown. The travel information reflected on the map is designed to supply motorists with guidance needed for safety, comfort, and pleasure while traveling Texas highways.

The back side of the map is jam-packed with factual and pictorial Texas history. The story of Texas is unfolded with the map. Many famous milestones and landmarks are described and portrayed pictorially. There are 26 pictures in full color of the more popular historical points of interest in the State with a full caption explaining each scene. A panorama is used to introduce some of the more popular historical characters in a "passing parade" of Texas history.

Included also for the first time is a map of Mexico, incorporated with the small U. S. map, showing the principal highways and cities, however, it is primarily for geographical purposes.

This new map can be obtained by mailing the map card distributed by the Tax Assessor-Collector's office with the sale of license plates, or by writing directly to the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, Texas. Copies are also available in any Highway District Office or the Highway Travel Information Bureau.

Farmers will need to use every "trick in the bag" to meet 1952 agricultural production goals. Using certified planting seed is a practice that will pay.

Complete Forage Program Combats Area Dry Weather

Moisture conditions, mostly on the short side, in all sections of the state for the past two years have clearly pointed up the necessity for farmers and livestock producers to plan for a reserve supply of feed.

A. W. Crain, associate pasture specialist for the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, points out that little can be done about the weather but much can be done to prevent situations such as have faced livestock and dairy producers since the beginning of the present drought. He advises as a corrective measure, the planning of a "complete" forage program.

He says regardless of how good permanent pasture may be, supplemental pastures or sored forages are needed to provide adequate forage for farm and ranch livestock.

By properly planning his supplemental pastures, a farmer can usually provide ample forage for the seasons when permanent pastures do not furnish adequate grazing. Crain classifies the present extended dry period as an example of the "unusual season" and adds that it is the sort of situation that livestock men must always be prepared to meet. Neither permanent nor supplemental pastures will furnish adequate grazing under very adverse weather conditions and here is where storage comes into the picture.

Crain suggests that farmers provide at least one ton of hay and three tons of silage for each cow on the farm. Without silage, at least two tons of hay are needed. He says that forage stored as silage retains more of its nutritive value than when stored as hay.

To up production during favorable growing seasons, Crain recommends the use of fertilizers on both permanent and supplemental pastures.

in cotton-insect control

Early season control gets the young plants off to a healthy start . . . and it's no problem at all for aldrin.

So powerful that an early season dust or spray for an acre of ground contains only 2 ounces of actual aldrin, aldrin goes to work at once . . . with dead bugs falling in an hour or two. Even if rain falls the next day, aldrin's killing job is accomplished. At the same time aldrin does less harm to beneficial insect parasites which help to depress aphid and mite buildup.

Lowest cost . . . On an acre-for-acre control basis, aldrin costs less to use (either spray or dust) than any other cotton insecticide. And aldrin is approved in every cotton area in the country!

Aldrin can be sprayed as you cultivate . . . saving an extra operation. Aldrin will not clog spray nozzles . . . use any conventional equipment.

If you want the best at lowest cost . . . ask your dealer for aldrin . . . available everywhere.

Dickens County History Recorded In Publication

The following article, taken from The Handbook of Texas, is presented for readers interest. If readers wish to report inaccuracies, they should write to the Managing Editor, The Handbook of Texas, Texas State Historical Association, University Station, Austin 12, Texas.

It is hoped that The Handbook of Texas, a two-volume work containing approximately fifteen thousand articles dealing with every phase of Texas life from the primitive Indian to the present time, will be available for purchase late in 1952. As a reference and general information book, this publication will be a basic starting point for information and bibliography on practically every person, place, thing, or event of significance in Texas history.

Dickens County, lying partly on the south plains and partly in the rolling terrian below the Llano Estacado, was created in 1876 and named for J. Dickens (James R. Dickens), a victim at the Alamo. The county has an area of 930 square miles, with soils ranging from red and chocolate to sandy. Mesquite is the only timber. Altitude varies from 2,500 to 3,500 feet; rainfall averages 21.84 inches; the mean annual temperature is 61.4 degrees.

Dickens County was late in settlement, distance from railroads and unfavorable reports on rainfall and fertility discouraging agricultural immigration. Herds of buffalo and antelope attracted Indians to the area as late as 1883. The first settlers were buffalo hunters and mustang hunters. By the middle 1870's cattlemen were grazing herds on the open range. In 1874 an army supply camp called Anderson's Fort was located four miles north of present Spur and was the base of operations for Ronald S. Mackenzie's expeditions against the Indians. The site of the fort on Duck Creek is called Soldiers' Mound. Mackenzie Peak, west of Dickens, also received its name from the operations. In 1877 W. C. Cockum's store in a dugout on Duck Creek was the only supply point and post office in the county. By 1870 the Spur Ranch had extensive holdings in the county, and its manager, S. W. Lomax, visited the region and foresaw its agricultural possibilities.

In 1880 the county had three houses and one school; its population of twenty-eight was composed of cowboys on the Spur, Pitchfork, and Matador Ranches. In 1881 Dockum built the county's first frame store building with lumber hauled from Fort Worth. A Christmas ball promised for the opening of the store was delayed until March, 1882, because of bad weather. In 1884 Lomax planted 150 acres of the Spur land in feed. His experiment was reasonably successful, so he tried cotton in 1891 and built a gin on the ranch in 1892. Homesteaders were discouraged by the drought of 1886, and by 1900 the large ranches, bought out many homesteads and employed their owners in ranch work.

Population rose from 295 in 1890 to 1,151 in 1900. In 1893 the Texas Central Railroad surveyed a road across Dickens County, but the line failed to materialize and the Stamford and Northwestern, which reached Spur in 1909. Other villages by 1909 were Dickens, Afton, Elton, and Gilpin. Tap and Draper, early post offices have been discontinued. Dickens was chosen county seat when the county was organized in 1891. In 1893 a courthouse, hotel, two stores, and a wagon yard made up the town. The TEXAS SPUR, published by Oran McClure in 1909, was the first newspaper in the county. A model farm operated by Edwin J. Clapp, agricultural expert of the Hearst newspapers, antedated the establishment of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Spur. Special emphasis is placed on Hereford breeding. Dairying has become important since 1925. County population increased from 5,876 in 1920 to 7,139 in 1950.
