Whoa, Now!

By Grady Lackey

We overheard a prominent citizen say this week that the only reason we don't have law enforcement in Spur is because the majority of the people don't want it. Most of us will revolt at such a statement . . . we most certainly want robberies prevented, burglars arrested, drunken brawlers tossed in jail, life and property protected in general . . . But are we willing to obey all the laws to the letter when they start hitting close to our own lives?

Undoubtedly we want the bootleggers arrested and punished who are selling liquor and beer to teen agers who are getting drunk and wrecking automobiles . . . But leave the one alone who is selling a fifth now and then to our friends for their social drinks which are a "necessity" now days . . . Believe it or not, it's the same liquor in the stomach of the drunk in the gutter that goes into the so-called "social" drinks. It's a violation of the same law to sell a case of beer to a teen ager and to sell a prominent citizen a fifth of liquor for his bridge party.

Undoubtedly we want the speedsters arrested who are making race tracks of our city streets . . . but when we're a little late to work, just overlook our 50 mph down Burlington. A business man going to work at 50 mph can kill a child just as dead as a thrill seeking hot-rod going the same speed.

Undoubtedly we want the folks down the street with their smelly old milk cow to get rid of it . . . but let us keep a nice clean billy goat because the kids just love to play with it. It's a violation of the same city ordinance to keep our nice clean billy goat as it is for our neighbor to keep a milk cow. Let's get back to the original idea . . . do we or don't we want the laws of our city, county and state enforced in Spur? Are we willing to obey them ourselves and pay our fines when we violate them? Do we truly want a police officer to enforce the laws that we're used to breaking now and then, along with the more serious violations?

The city commission will soon employ a city policeman to enforce the law in Spur. The success he meets will be measured by the cooperation and support he receives from the citizens of Spur. Before he gets here, stop and consider our own reaction the first time he whistles us over and gives us a ticket for running a stop sign.

Do we really want the law enforced in Spur?

Bulldogs Prepare for Opener Sept. 15 Here

Thirty-six Spur high school Bulldogs took to the gridiron Monday of this week to start preparation for their tussle with the Matador Matadors in the local stadium Friday, September 15.

Coach Sam Hawkes and his assistant Coach Billy Hahn have strenuous workouts daily, forming the football machine which has been chosen as a strong contender for district honors this year.

Sporting twelve numeral winners, the Bulldogs are due to have a heavy yet fast line, a fast and experienced backfield, reasonable depth in most positions, along with a lot of high spirit and a wholesome desire to win. Coach Hawkes has several times expressed a high opinion of the moral character of the present team in general.

In preparation to meet the Matadors, Coach Hawkes states that the neighbor from the north sports a 190 pound fullback called "Pistol" and a "wait till next year" attitude carried over from last year.

The Spur coach states that the definite starting lineup cannot be determined this far from the opening game, but that the team will use a T-formation again this year with the spread formation used just for variety.

"In Near Future" States Mayor Hogan; Employees' Retirement Plan Discussed

The City of Spur will employ a city policeman in the very near future, according to a statement by Mayor Ned Hogan following the city commission meeting Monday night.

A group of approximately 35 businessmen and civic leaders met with the commission in the city hall Tuesday to discuss with the mayor and the commissioners the need for city law enforcement. The need for such was discussed primarily as dual for traffic control and for protection against burglary.

Mayor Ned Hogan states that present City Marshal John Hazelwood has been informed of the city's intentions and that the city hopes to have a new man on the job by September 15.

In discussing the qualifications of such an officer, the group visiting the commission meeting pointed out that one should be properly trained and experienced in law enforcement of this type and should be young enough to adequately care for the job physically. They pointed out, and the commission approved, that such an officer should be mobilized in a city vehicle.

Also discussed at the Tuesday meeting and now being investigated by City Secretary James Cowan, is the state plan for the retirement of city employees. Cowan states that the state has a plan whereby city employees pay a small percent of their salary, the city pays a small percentage of its total pay roll, and the state contributes a small amount to a general retirement fund for city employees who have reached retirement age.

"Participation in such a program," states city commissioner Dr. W. F. Patrick, "will enable our city to remove those who are of retirement age from active employment without terminating their source of livelihood. In Spur, as in other cities, we will be able to maintain younger more efficient help without turning the older employees out in the cold."

Although this retirement plan is a major phase of the overall plan for proper law enforcement in Spur, Mayor Hogan states that its acceptance or rejection by the city will in no way effect the commission's intention to employ a city policeman. He adds that the retirement plan can be had in Spur only by a general city election.

The action by the city commission Tuesday night came as the result of several weeks' study and investigation on the part of the commission as to the need of a city policeman, the qualifications, the procurement, etc.

How to Watch Football Games Explained by Famous Coaches

Watch the blocks and the actions of the kick-coverers if you want to appreciate the kick-off. Diagram from "How to Watch Football."

Do you know what to watch for at the kick-off in a football game? Do you know where to look for exciting action on a pass play? Do you know a T-formation from a Split-T?

To get enjoyment out of a football game, you needn't know how to play, but you ought to know what to watch for. That's the consensus of eleven famous football coaches who have combined to write a new 48-page illustrated booklet on the fine points of being a football spectator.

Entitled "How to Watch Football", it is authored by top-flight members of the Big Ten and Big Seven conferences and carries the endorsement of The American Football Coaches Association.

The booklet may be obtained free of charge from Phillips 66 Dealers in this area.

Ray Eliot, head football coach at the University of Illinois advises, "Don't keep your eye on the ball" if you want to appreciate football's most spectacular play—the kick-off. Instead, watch how the receiving team forms inter-ence. Watch how the kick-coverers counteract the interference. The flight of the ball is the least important part of the action.

Equally sage advice on how to enjoy the game comes from Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, Don Faurot of Missouri, Benny Oosterbaan of Michigan and Forest Evashevski of Iowa. Each contributes a short informative article on some phase of offensive strategy.

Jules Sikes of Kansas and Stu Holcomb of Purdue tell what to look for on a pass play. The role of the flanker is described by Bill Glassford of Nebraska. Wesley Fester of Minnesota, explains punting, while Bob Voigts of Northwestern and Ivy Williamson of Wisconsin talk about defense.

If you want to be able to "expert" the games this fall, "How to play Football" will give you the background you need. In addition to articles by the coaches the booklet contains schedules of the leading college and professional teams as well as a key to the understanding of officials' signals and a summary of penalties.

August Recorded As Hottest Ever In Spur

AUGUST BREAKS ALL RECORDS WITH AVERAGE MAXIMUM of 103.2

According to records of the Spur Experiment Station, the month of August broke all existing heat records.

Over the 31 days, the daily minimum was 70.2 degrees and the average daily mean temperature (and we do mean "mean") was 86.8 degrees.

The blistering month followed an average July and another record-breaking month of June.

Along with the extensive heat wave, the Spur area is still mighty dry as the result of the next to driest season on record. According to the Experiment Station report, the Spur growing season, from May through August, received only 4.69 inches of rain. July brought 2.81 inches of this; May, 1.36; August .46; and June only .06.

Although there have been several years on record with less rainfall to date than 1952, this year is second only to 1934 in scarcity of moisture during the four-month growing season. The average annual rainfall for the station is 21 plus inches.

SHOWERS HELP CROPS

Most of the county received light to heavy rain last week end to bring growth to the feed crop and a little brighter outlook to farmers.

The heaviest rainfall last week end was reported in the area between Espuela and Highway with over two inches falling in places.

Afton farmers reported from a half to one and a half inches with the McAdoo area getting approximately one inch. The immediate Dickens farms received only a trace while Croton got from one to one and a half inches.

County Agent Charles Taylor reports that where it rained the farmers will make a fairly good feed crop. His estimate in acres of feed is approximately 60,000.

To date the county has ginned approximately 100 bales of cotton with the county agent's latest estimate of the entire crop between 7500 and 10,000 bales. The county also has approximately 60,000 acres in cotton.

The norther which cooled the area the first part of the week was a big boost to opening cotton and growing feed. Taylor reports that the dry, hot winds had damaged the crops nearly as much as the lack of moisture.

A local weather prognosticator (commonly known as "fools"), has predicted, however, an early, hard winter, but with plenty of moisture in preparation for good crops next year.

Last Minute Rush Hits Car Inspection Stations In Spur

J. R. Whitmire local employee of the State Department of Public Safety, Motor Vehicle Inspection Division, reports that vehicle owners are responding at a fairly steady clip this week as the September 6 deadline on automobile inspection approaches.

The six inspection stations in Spur have been kept busy the last few days. Inspectors report that a good many more vehicles are failing to pass the inspection than were earlier encountered.

Whitmire reports excellent cooperation with the program by local inspection stations. These are Spur Auto, Spur Motor, Hoover-McAteer, Godfrey and Smart, Jones Motor and Rickels Motor.

Because of the last minute rush and the great number of vehicles yet to be inspected, Whitmire predicted that possibly several hundred vehicles in the county will not make it by the Saturday deadline. He added, however, that the inspection stations will continue to inspect vehicles after that date. Strict and rigid enforcement immediately following the deadline, but violators will be stopped and reminded.

Sheriff and Mrs. Leon Jones and daughter, Tommy Darlene, of Lufkin were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Scudder this week.

Miss Mary Spann, formerly of Spur, visited friends last week end while in Spur.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wilson, Jr. state that Linda is home from Plainview. She was brought home Saturday and is doing real well in her recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Steel visited with her sister, Mrs. W. C. Carpenter at Tahoka.

Plans Made For Annual South Plains Fair

Premium lists for the 35th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair, scheduled here Sept. 29 through Oct. 4, have been distributed throughout the area to 3,000 exhibitors, county agents, home demonstration agents, and vocational agriculture leaders, the fair association announced this week.

Entries into the livestock division of the fair were coming in earlier than ever before, and fair officials interpreted this to mean another record breaking fair for the South Plains.

A record attendance is forecast this year. Last year's mark of 148,937 visitors was the first attendance record since 1935, which was 145,273.

Leading agriculturists from Lubbock and the South Plains make up the Fair's list of superintendents. They are: Walter Wells, Lubbock, general agriculture superintendent; Robert Gibson, Floydada, and Raymond L. King, Lubbock, assistant general agriculture superintendent.

Committee To Plan Conservation Needs

Within a few weeks farmer committeemen will start a "Farm-By-Farm-First-Things-First" approach. The farmer and the committeemen working together will decide what conservation practices the farm needs. They will discuss what the 1953 farm program has to offer. When the visit is finished the farmer and the committeeman will have developed a sound conservation program for the farm.

It will not be compulsory for any farmer to participate in the 1953 program, but committeemen will offer each farmer a chance to participate. Committeemen serve much like trustees, church officials, and community project workers. They serve because they believe in the future of our land and the preservation of our soil. When your committeeman calls on you to offer you a chance to have a part in the 1953 program, he will appreciate your cooperation by either taking a little time to select your practices or by telling him that you do not wish to participate in the program.

COTTON FIGHTS IN TROPICS OR ARCTIC

Wherever the U. S. fighting man goes, cotton accompanies him. In Arctic cold or tropic heat, the soldier wears cotton uniforms, carries cotton equipment, and shoots ammunition made from cotton linter cellulose. Here, soldiers outfitted in cotton parkas lift an injured buddy onto a cotton canvas stretcher to be lowered down a cliff by tow rope for medical treatment.

Did You See It?

Friday, August 29th at 3:30 p. m., McClurkin Jewelry of Spur, Texas, exclusive WYLER Watch dealer, dropped a regular stock model Wyler shock-proof watch from an airplane, flying at an altitude of one thousand feet, at the Old Settlers Reunion of Roaring Springs, Texas.

The drop was witnessed by some 500 to 1,000 people, who when the watch was retrieved, saw that it was still running, undamaged and on time.

This amazing test is proof of the superior shock resistant, break proof qualities of the Wyler Incaflex watch line being shown by McClurkin Jewelry of Spur.

McClurkin's is making it possible for you to win one of these rugged time pieces, so on Friday, August 29th, at 2:15 p. m., placed an eight-day Seth Thomas spring driven clock in their show window, fully wound and sealed, to run until it runs down and stops. The person making the closest guess at the time and date that the clock will stop will be given, absolutely free, the choice of either a lady's or gent's Wyler Shockproof watch.

Fill in the coupon (or make your own) and bring, mail or send it to McClurkin's in Spur, Texas.

For absolute fairness, persons are limited to one guess. No guess filed during the last three hours the clock runs will be considered. Duplicate prizes will be given in case of tie. Winner (s) will be notified by mail.

Come to McClurkin's and see the watch and the clock running in their show window and file your guess at when the clock will stop - - YOU MIGHT WIN!

AIRPLANES INVADE COTTONFIELDS

Airplanes play an important part in cotton insect control. Skilled pilots fly low over the cotton rows while special attachments on the planes emit a stream of poisonous chemical dusts or sprays to kill the boll weevil and other cotton-attacking pests. Intensive control programs are being carried out by the cotton industry to combat the tremendous damage done by insects.

For Sale, Bargain: Stainless Steel Teeth

Not many people know it, but Uncle Sam buys millions of dollars' worth of stainless steel teeth. Don't get upset. They're not the chewing kind. They're the jet plane kind.

You see, stainless steel teeth are blades that fit inside the engine walls of jet planes. The blades help to drive air into the firing chambers. There are more than 1,000 of these teeth in each engine, and up to a little while ago each one had to be forged—a slow, fussy, expensive method.

The problem was dumped in the lap of G-E specialists, and they solved it.

The result is that today we roll a continuous strip of stainless steel, cut the teeth to length, and weld them to a base. Works fine. The cash saving: 55%. Critical material saving: 39%.

There's an extra reason to be happy about this, since all of us taxpayers have to foot the bills. Millions of dollars will be saved by the military services in future blade production. And the how-to-do-it is being shared through the U.S. Air Force with other jet engine builders.

Good Morning BEGINS WITH BREAKFAST!

Eat at least this much breakfast.
by Betty Baker

Breakfast can make the difference between a good or bad morning. For a good morning, breakfast is a must. Not coffee alone. Not surprisingly enough, a whopping big breakfast—you know the kind, with potatoes on the side. Coffee by itself gives you practically no food value; in contrast, there's a good morning meal, one very likely to put you to sleep if it's over again, make you lousy and listless. Aim for a hearty breakfast when you get breakfast on the table. Eggs, of course, because of the high-quality protein they contain. And enriched yeast-raised bread is almost equally important. It's rich in three B vitamins—thiamine, niacin, and riboflavin—as well as the mineral iron. Spread your toast with margarine or butter and you add vitamin A. Vitamin C is yours in a glass of orange, tomato, or grapefruit juice. Add to this egg-toast-juice combination a cup of coffee or a glass of milk (and bacon and cereal if you like) and you've got a combination to chase any listless feeling—plenty of energy to see you through the morning.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

ITS THE LAW IN TEXAS
TRADE MARK RIGHTS
EXPLAINED

From the alarm clock that jolts us awake in the morning to the electric light that we turn off at night, Mr. and Mrs. Average American are constantly surrounded by products which have been purchased by their brand names. The constant use of trade-marked products with satisfactory results, combined with persistent advertising, makes us trade-mark conscious.

What does a trade-mark actually do? It identifies merchandise as being the product of a particular manufacturer or distributor. The use of trade-marks is very ancient. They were used by the brick-makers of ancient Egypt; the lamp-makers of old Athens; the helmet-makers and armorers of medieval England. While a trade-mark is most often a word, it may also be an emblem, symbol, slogan, or other device. The intended function of a trade-mark is to distinguish the goods of the proprietor from the goods of other in the market place. The expression "trade-mark", "brand name" or more simply "brand" or "mark", are synonymous.

A person or company becomes the owner of common law rights in a trade mark through adoption and use of the mark on goods. The law affords protection to the owner by prohibiting others in the field from appropriating the mark or one similar as to be likely to cause confusion.

There is a twofold purpose behind such legal protection: first, it protects the purchaser from deception and assures him that he is getting what he wants; and second, it protects the trademark owner from piracy of the good will, reputation and property rights which he has built up in a mark through manufacture or sale of merchandise carrying the mark.

Trade-marks are frequently among the greatest and most valuable assets of a company, for they symbolize the good will and reputation of the company. To achieve such a status, however, a trade-mark must be carefully selected. Among other considerations it is, of course, important that a mark be chosen which is not confusingly similar to any other trade-mark used by another or similar goods. It may be necessary to conduct a search of marks already in use in order to determine this question.

When a word or symbol has been selected, it must then be properly used in connection with the goods to become a valid trade mark. Once in use, it should be carefully guarded. It is possible for a good trade-mark to lose its legal protection due to improper use by its owner or the public.

The Federal and most State governments, including Texas, have, by legislation, provided for the registration of trade-marks by their owners. While a trademark need not be registered to receive protection in the courts, such registration does afford benefits to trademark owners.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform-not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Adult Night Classes To Be Taught At Wayland College

Dr. R. L. Dobson, chairman of Wayland Baptist College's division of Bible and religion, will again teach an evening course in Bible for the benefit of adults who need further training but cannot enroll in regular classes. The class will meet from 7 to 9 o'clock, Thursday evening.

The course chosen is Bible 123, New Testament History, because of demands from students taking Bible 113, Old Testament History, under Dr. Dobson last spring. Students from Lubbock, Muleshoe and Plainview were enrolled in Wayland's first experience in adult education in evening classes.

This class is open to all adults who are not regularly enrolled in day classes at Wayland. It may be taken for credit of three hours at regular credit hour charges. However, adults who wish to take it to help them with teaching Sunday School classes or merely for their own appreciation and understanding of the Bible but do not desire college credit may audit the course at the nominal charge of $10 for the 18 week course. They will not be required to take examinations.

Dr. Dobson, who will teach this course, has been professor of Bible at Wayland College since 1948. He holds the B. A. degree from Baylor University, the Master of Theology from Southwestern Baptist Seminary, Fort Worth, and Doctor of Theology from Central Theological Seminary, Kansas City.

Registration will be held at the first class meeting, Thursday, September 11, according to Mrs. Roy Boles, registrar.

From Conemaugh, Pennsylvania, Mrs. George Gelles and children, Tony and Brenda, were visiting in the home of her mother, Mrs. R. A. Drennon.

Here's money-making NEWS about your U. S. Defense Bonds!

New law gives your Series E Bonds ten more interest-bearing years!

CONGRESS HAS PASSED A NEW LAW that now makes it possible for all United States Series E Bonds to continue earning interest ten years longer. There is nothing for you to do. Simply hold your bonds and they'll go on earning. You may still cash your bonds at any time after the first sixty days you have held them. But holding your bonds is the smart thing to do! For your government bonds are as safe as America itself.

Money you put into U. S. Bonds regularly and leave there is steadily growing into a larger and larger sum. And now, too, remember, your Series E Bonds earn 3% interest compounded semiannually when you hold them to maturity!

So if you have bonds which are coming due this month, remember the new money-making chance your government is giving you. Just hold onto your bonds and they'll go on earning for you. In the meantime keep up your regular saving with more U. S. Defense Bonds—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. It's the easy, systematic saving plan that lets you save before you draw your pay.

3 new money-making opportunities for you!
New Series H, J, and K
Defense Bonds pay 2.76% to 3%!

If you want to get the interest on your bonds in the form of current income, or if you want to invest more than the annual limit for E Bonds, ask at your bank about these new bonds:

SERIES H. A new current-income bond, available in denominations of $500 to $10,000. Sold at par. Matures in 9 years 8 months and pays approximately 3% interest per annum if held to maturity. Interest paid semiannually by Treasury check. Annual limit, $20,000 maturity value. Issued only by Federal Reserve Banks and Branches and at the Treasury.

SERIES J. A new 12-year appreciation bond, available in denominations of $25 to $100,000. Sold at 72% of par value. Pays 2.76% compounded semiannually if held to maturity. Annual limit, $200,000 issue price jointly with Series K Bonds.
