Supplement Pasture Can Bridge The Gap

COLLEGE STATION, October 2. There are lots of mighty good reasons why farmers and livestock producers should plant now supplemental pasture. E. M. Trew, associate agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, lists some of them.

Because of the drought, he says, perennial pastures have taken a terrific beating and livestock should not be permitted to graze them until the pastures have had a chance to come back. The plants that come back, after rains do fall, will be in very poor condition and if grazed off immediately, the desirable pasture plants may be lost. Then too, livestock no doubt will go into the winter in poor condition and the cost of wintering will be much greater per animal if supplemental grazing is not provided.

A recent study made by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station shows that in Central Texas the cost for supplemental feed for wintering an ewe was $10 more and for a cow $24 more when no pasture was available.

Stockmen, points out Trew, who used supplemental pasture for late fall, winter and spring grazing know their value not only from the standpoint of what is done improvement. He recommends the planting of at least one acre of supplemental pasture for each cow or animal unit.

Another mighty important reason for planting pasture now is to supply the need for green feed. A lack of green feed or good substitute over an extended period of time can result in vitamin A deficiency and other troubles.

Right now most areas of the state do not have moisture available for germinating seed but Trew suggests, if the seed bed has been prepared, that seeding be done even if the seed must be dusted in. The time gained by this operation, prior to a rain, will mean two weeks to a month earlier grazing. He says put down the fertilizer because it will not be lost even if no rain falls.

For planting in East Texas, Trew recommends oats, barley, rye or ryegrass with vetch or Crimson clover. For the Gulf Coast area oats, barley or Italian ryegrass with Hubam or Madrid sweetclover. In the Blacklands and Grand Prairie areas, oats, barley, wheat or Italian ryegrass overseeded with Hubam or Madrid sweetclover. For the West Cross Timbers areas, oats, wheat, barley Abruzzi rye with hairy vetch or overseeded with Hubam or Madrid sweetclover. For the Central Basin, Rio Grande Plains and the Edwards Plateau areas, oats, wheat or barley with Hubam or Madrid sweetclover and for the Rolling and High Plains areas, wheat, oats, barley and rye with Madrid sweetclover.

And finally, Trew says don't forget the perennial pasture. When rains come, these pastures should be renovated and fertilized so that when growing conditions become favorable, they can get off to a good start.

L. D. Ratliff was in Amarillo on business the first part of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Schmidt of San Benito were guests in the R. L. Walker home recently. Schmidt is Mrs. Walker's brother.

WASHINGTON AND 'SMALL BUSINESS'

In a short time American taxpayers may make a major investment in Communism.

The Mutual Security Agency, the old Marshall Plan under a new name announces it will guarantee dollar returns to American investors in Tito's communist government Yugoslavia.

MSA states this guarantee only applies on investments made in Yugoslavian enterprises. Americans cannot own any plants, C. W. Harder says, because everything is owned by Tito's government.

Here's the MSA guarantee. If American investors in Yugoslavia cannot get their money out in dollars, the MSA will dig them out of the U. S. Treasury, in the event the Communist Yugoslavian government follows the communist habit and expropriates all foreign investments. MSA is willing to discuss a guarantee against this with American tax dollars.

The Yugoslavian government has announced it is interested in investments in the nation's mining, cement, power, and export industries. As everything in Yugoslavia is state owned, it is merely a bid for American capital to aid Communist development of the country.

Thus while American men and dollars are being spent to defend against Communism, and to fight Communism in Korea, the MSA is now ready to use American dollars to build up the economy of one of communism's strongholds.

© National Federation of Independent Business

Here's the comment around Washington.

"Unless people watch out, the MSA will be buying a seat in the New York Stock Exchange for Joe Stalin."

But, MSA is doing a fine job giving away American tax money.

The total now stands at almost $15 billion.

Elsewhere in Washington, even supporters of the Office of Price Stabilization are embarrassed by some OPS actions.

An example of actions that have earned OPS the name of Office Plenty Screw is the filing of a treble damage suit for almost $1 million against 12 leading New York night clubs on charges they failed to pass along their plush lined customers substantial savings on food and drink costs. Somehow, somebody in OPS has decided that the prices at the El Morocco are putting a serious strain on the average American family budget.

But of importance to many family budgets is the consent judgment just won by the Anti-Trust Division of the Department of Justice against Luxene, Inc.

It was found Luxene had entered into agreements with dental laboratories over the country to fix prices on plastic material widely used in making dental plates. Newell H. Clapp, Acting Assistant General in charge of anti-trust enforcement states this judgment should result in lower prices to the public on dentures, as Luxene, through agreements with laboratories had been taking an artificially big "bite" out of people who need artificial teeth to bite with.

Highway Community News . . .

Church was well attended this Sunday. The lesson study was taken from the book of Acts. Come out and be with us; we need your presence. The Lord will be pleased and you will receive benefit.

Joe and Sue Dell Hahn are visiting his mother and brothers, other friends and relatives of this and Dry Lake Communities. Their home is in Onterio, California.

Fishing seems to be the order of the day. Kelsey Putman and Jimmie Hahn spent the week on the shores of Possum Kingdom Lake. The guest of John Cage of Croton, M. E. Tree, and Forrest Martin were at Lake Kemp for three days. Mr. Tree reported catching the largest fish.

Ike and Velma Simmons were in Lubbock on Friday getting their son, Gordon who is attending school there, located in a new boarding place.

Mrs. Mary Putman and Mrs. Jimmie Hahn are renovating garments such as coats and skirts in preparation for the cold weather in prospect soon. Some nice results are being reported.

Raymond Whitford and family were guests in the Earl Thomason home Sunday and were visitors at Church. They are from Ft. Worth.

Mrs. J. E. Hemphill spent two days in the home of her daughter, Mrs. David Clay of Croton.

The Pace home was the scene of a lawn party given in honor of his father, M. A. Pace of Portales. A watermelon feast was enjoyed by friends consisting mostly of elder group of the community.

The Earl Dozier family were in Rotan this week end as guests of her sister. Their baby son, Elden, spent the past week there visiting. Incidentally the Doziers are sporting a new car of which they are very proud. They were very unhappy though for having the bad luck of losing an oversized hub cap from the car on the Moore road coming from town and would appreciate it very much if the finder would return it.

W. B. McIver is home from the hospital and is seemingly much improved.

Mrs. M. F. Degley was in Lubbock over the week end as a guest of her mother and was visiting with her husband who is spending most of his time there in the business of spraying and dusting cotton.

The Harry Martin family of Dickens were guests in the community and attended church here. He assisted in the worship service.

Cotton picking has begun on the Pace farm. They were also seen hauling a fat calf to the locker plant Monday.

ALL-CROP Harvester Sets the Pace

There's only one ALL-CROP Harvester. Built by Allis-Chalmers, it's the "standard" of performance in the harvest field.

Whether in harvesting soybeans or any of the other threshable crops, the ALL-CROP Harvester is tops.

It costs less, is easy to operate, and has a complete line of attachments for special needs. For example, the new wide divider attachment pictured at the left permits you to harvest two 40-inch or 42-inch rows more easily. Curved rod extensions reach ahead and below dividers to gather in lodged or tangled beans.

Let us show you why the ALL-CROP Harvester continues to set the pace for a dependable home harvest of beans, grain, and seeds.

Trends In Food Preservation

COLLEGE STATION, September 25. This is the day of trends, and the family food supply is keeping step with the general tendency to change and improve. Self-sufficiency, in providing meats, fruits and vegetables for the family table, has always been the tendency for farm and ranch families in Texas. The methods of preserving these foods have definitely changed and improved during the past decade. Louise Mason, foods and nutrition specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A and M. College says canning still retains a major portion of the food preservation budget, but freezing is catching up. Home freezers came into use immediately after the last war, and consistently have increased in number since. The specialist says Extension Service reports show more families are helped each year in improving their food conservation by freezing. At the mid-century mark there were approximately 5,000 more home freezer owners than in 1949. This figure had climbed to nearly 33,000 by 1951 with many more thousands using community frozen food lockers. The 1951 report showed two and a half million quarts of fruits, vegetables and meat canned, plus nearly 400,000 quarts of pickles and relishes. The same report estimates that in addition more than 24 million pounds of vegetables, fruits, meats and poultry were frozen. Miss Mason says, "Another measure of the increase is shown by the demand for the bulletin, FROZEN FOODS. This information prepared by the foods and nutrition specialists is available to homemakers in Texas through county Extension agents' office."

Competition is the life of the OIL BUSINESS. The demand for oil increases every year. Americans need more oil for more automobiles, for more airplanes, more ships, more high speed locomotives and more of many things besides. And just as one merchant competes with another for your business, oil companies compete for it, too—for the gallons of gasoline and quarts of motor oil you buy; to supply the ships, the locomotives, the industries, the airplanes. The competition is intense, and it spreads throughout the industry. Oil companies compete with each other to find and produce more oil. Pipe line HUMBLES OIL & REFINING CO. - HUMBLES PIPE LINE CO.

"BUY DEFENSE BONDS TO REPLACE OLD TRACTORS," SAYS 'MAID OF COTTON'

Tractors, cotton and thrift are woven together in the fabric of American life, according to Miss Pat Mullarkey, Dallas, Tex., 1952 Maid of Cotton. Today, there are a million tractors on Southern cotton farms and 25,000 are added annually, sparking the trend to cotton mechanization. These tractors will last about 10 years. By putting the annual depreciation of the tractor, 10 per cent of the purchase price, into U. S. Defense Bonds each year, the thrifty cotton farmer can pay cash for a new tractor when he needs it. So, the young lady in the made-of-cotton costume reminds the cotton farmer: "Save for your new tractor the easy Defense Bond Way."

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Blair and children of Dallas were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Koon and Mrs. B. F. Middleton of Afton.

Mrs. Jack Rector left Sunday for a visit in Amarillo with her sister, Mrs. Barron Chapman. She will return the latter part of this week.

Mrs. Dennis Bingham of Lubbock was week-end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abb Bingham.

DICKENS LADIES ATTEND FAMILY LIFE WORKSHOP

Mrs. Harry Martin, Mrs. Cecil Welch, and Mrs. John A. Scott were among the seventy-five people present at the Family Life Workshop sponsored by District 14, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, Tuesday in Lubbock Senior High School Auditorium from 8:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Hostesses were Mrs. M. E. West, president, and the vice-presidents of the Lubbock City P. T. A.

Mrs. Martha Graves, district chairman of education for family living, and Miss Gertrude Watson, co-ordinator of home and family life education in the Lubbock public schools, discussed special phases of the subject.

Invocation was asked by W. P. Clement, registrar of Texas Tech. The welcome was given by Nat Williams, superintendent of Lubbock public school.

Luncheon was served to the group in the school cafeteria. Following the luncheon, Miss Imogene Webster accompanied Mrs. Arnold Meeker as she led group singing.

In the afternoon a film titled Working Together was shown. A discussion followed the film.

The next meeting will be on October 3 when the girls will report on the use made of the meeting time for September 29.

TROOP IX

The Brownies of Troop IX met at the regular place and time on Monday, September 29. The jumping rope project was completed. A new project which will be a surprise gift was begun. This project will require the use of spoils from which mothers have used the thread. Songs and games were played during the last part of the meeting.

TROOP VII

The Brownies of Troop VII met with their new leader, Mrs. John E. Norman, Jr., in the Little House on Monday, September 29. This was an organization meeting as it was the first for this school year. After the roll was checked and other business was considered, the group went on a hike to the Park. The last part of the period was devoted to games. Fifteen members were present.

"Carson City" Coming, Stars Randolph Scott

"Carson City," Warner Bros. adventure story set against the brawling Nevada capitol during the turbulent 1870's, begins its local engagement at the Palace Theatre on Sunday.

Photographed in color by Warnercolor, the western epic stars Randolph Scott, with Lucille Norman, Raymond Massey and Richard Webb in featured roles.

As in "Fort Worth" and "Colt 45," Randy again carries the Scott tradition of action and drama based on early west history which has kept the rugged, handsome actor a perennial screen favorite. In "Carson City" he plays the role of a construction engineer of a railroad being built to haul gold and silver ore from the rich Comstock Lode in the mountains down to the main line. Opposition forces, led by Massey, resort to sabotage and murder in order to hamper the project. The townfolks look to Randy for justice, and get it in the form of an exciting man hunt climaxed atop the ledge of a mountain.

TROOP VI

With their new leader, Mrs. Arnold, the Brownies of Troop VI met in the Girl Scout Little House on September 24. Checks were made for a Fly-up ceremony. New members were given parent consent blanks.

Among the highlights of the filmplay is the introduction of an outlaw group known as the "champagne bandits" who robbed gold-laden stagecoaches but served al fresco meals to passengers to promote their good will if they should later be asked to describe the holdup men. Passengers were often too tipsy or kindly disposed to the bandits to reveal much about them to law officers.

"Carson City" is also the second film to employ the new Warner Bros. color process called Warnercolor, first used in the recent "The Lion and the Horse."

Visiting in the home of Mrs. R. L. Westerman Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Phillips of Lubbock.

Girl Scouts

TROOP III

Because of a conflict with school programs the members of Troop III did not meet at the scheduled time. At the next meeting on October 2 each girl will be expected to report on the progress she has made in badge work.

TROOP IV

Members of Troop IV planned other ways of doing their projects and did not meet on September 29.
