What's Your Safety Quotient?

For safe driving, make it a family rule that children are not permitted to distract the driver.

Here's a checklist of driving do's and don'ts for harassed and harried mothers who have to make so many extra "last minute" shopping trips during the holidays.

Remember, while such devices as nylon safety belts, dashboards cushioned with urethane foam, and laminated safety glass windows minimize injuries when accidents occur, they do not prevent collisions from taking place. It is also important to keep windshield wipers in good operating condition at all times, and glass areas clean of snow, sleet, and dirt.

Observe these 14 rules prepared by the National Safety Council, and your "SQ" will put you at the head of the class:

1. Never leave children alone in the car, regardless of whether or not the motor is left running.
2. Have youngsters ride in back seat whenever possible.
3. Allow no eating of lollipops or ice cream on sticks in moving car.
4. Permit no rough-housing, friendly or otherwise.
5. Have family rule that children are not permitted to distract driver (remember, always pull over to the curb and stop car if it becomes necessary to admonish children).
6. All riders must be seated while auto is moving.
7. Hands, heads, and possessions must remain inside the car at all times.
8. All doors locked when vehicle is in motion.
9. No sharp-edged, hard or heavy toys permitted which might become lethal flying missiles in case of sudden stops.
10. No objects stowed at any time on window deck behind rear seat.
11. Infants firmly strapped in car bed or halter type safety seat belt at all times.
12. Driver should be physically fit. Don't drive when tired or high-strung. Car should be mechanically safe also.
13. Children in back should not be sitting in drafts. Crack side vents to provide necessary ventilation, prevent exposures leading to colds or infections.
14. Always remember to be alert to the actions of drivers of other cars. They may not be as careful about their driving habits as you are.

Up to 30 percent can be added to the life of farm machinery by giving it proper winter care. With the continuing price-cost squeeze, proper machinery care, says W. L. Ulch, extension agricultural engineer, can cut farm expenses and increase profits.

Here's a suggestion from the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council—Christmas comes but once each year and it shouldn't be too hard to make the Holiday Season a safe one. But, if safety is forgotten, death can strike with suddenness. It often strikes or comes from unexpected sources. The Council urges every family to make Safety their number one New Year's Resolution.

JOE PALOOKA says

Let's give our friends overseas the tools to help themselves

Joe Palooka and his sidekick, Humphrey, say: "The CARE Self-Help program is a wonderful way to show needy people overseas that Americans really care about their welfare." Joe, the comic strip character known to millions as the stalwart champion of the underdog, is appealing to his followers throughout the U. S. to support CARE's work. Contributions to CARE, New York, or any local CARE office, deliver farm tools, trade kits, books and other materials to the needy in Europe, Asia, Latin America and the Near East, giving them the means to become self-supporting and build a better life for their families.

—BABSON . . .

37. In many sections of the country there will be a greater demand for co-operative modern apartments than for single houses, although old apartment houses will sell for less. More young people and old people will insist upon every modern convenience and upon locations not absolutely dependent on automobiles.

38. Well-located woodlands will continue to increase in price. This certainly applies to pine wood tracts, especially in the South.

39. Canadian oil reserves should begin to recover in price unless there is rationing of gasoline in the United States in late 1958.

40. The most important factor in connection with real estate is the parking problem, which is a curse of almost every city. Suburban real estate and farms owe much to the automobile, but the automobile industry is now reaching a stage where it could revolutionize present real estate prices. We owe the automobile industry a debt of gratitude for our present prosperity. It is bellwether of general business for 1958. It is, however, like everything else, subject to the business cycle and may be a cause of the next depression. Another probable cause will be the failure of one of the big corporations whose stock is among the "30 Blue Chips" of the Dow-Jones Industrials.

41. The "bloom is off the stock market". We will have rallies and reactions during 1958, but the broad trend will be downward. This is the first time for many years that I have said this in my annual report. There is too much talk about missiles, bombs, and fallout.

42. While the stock market has been going up during the past few years, the bond market has been going down. The reverse will take place during 1958. While the stock market is going down, the bond market will begin to creep upward. This especially applies to tax-free bonds, the purchase of which I strongly recommend.

43. Good cumulative non-callable preferred stocks will also be in demand during 1958. Owing to the money market, they recently suffered in price; but owing to lack of supply, they will be the first stocks to recover. Remember, I am now recommending only high-grade cumulative non-callable preferreds.

44. The large fortunes made in the stock market have come from buying non-dividend-paying stocks at $5.00 a share or under. These will be the first to reach a buying level. If you are to buy these low-priced stocks, you should seek companies without too much cumulative preferred stock outstanding. This is the opposite of the "preferred" recommendation in paragraph 43!

45. Large banks balances will continue to be a good investment in 1958. Many savings banks are now paying 3 percent to 3 1/2 percent interest. These balances, however, should not be looked upon as permanent investments, but rather as a means of enabling you to have cash available when common stocks reach a low level. This time may NOT come in 1958. Here, again, much depends upon President Eisenhower's condition.

46. Although many corporations interested in atomic energy, electronics, rare metals, and other growth industries will become more prosperous and profitable to investors, some of these new companies will be wiped out. Hence, investors should be very careful in connection therewith.

47. Utility stocks should hold their own with regard to dividends and marketability. Electric power will always be in demand.

48. Most railroad stocks should be avoided. Most passenger business is now being operated at a loss. Trucks, buses, airplanes, and private automobiles will ultimately force the government to take over the railroads. In the meantime, the securities of the long-haul railroads, which specialize in heavy freight, will be the best to own. The short-haul roads should be avoided by investors.

49. Notwithstanding the above, we cannot now become panicky or too bearish. Our country is not now operating on the Gold Standard which was responsible for many of our national crises, but is now on a Political Standard. Although Newton's Law of Action and Reaction must continue to operate, yet Congress can for a while lengthen the prosperity cycles. This will attempt to do even if it requires an economic dictator to temporarily regulate money, wages, prices, rents, taxes, and industry in general. I cannot forecast disarmament in 1958. It appears to me now, however, that the present race in guided missiles, atomic underwater navies, surprise satellites, and other tremendously destructive military equipment could ultimately rob us of our freedom and turn us back to slavery unless disarmament becomes a serious goal. The Sputniks should hasten either the elimination of world wars. Sputniks should shorten the cold war now in progress.

50. Speaking realistically, the hope of the United States and the world depends upon our spiritual relationships. Only as we grow spiritually, along with our material growth and military power, can the world be kept in balance. Therefore, my final appeal is for the support of all churches of all denominations and their ministers, priests, and rabbis who are carrying the torch of righteousness.

IT'S THE LAW

Keep Records This Year
Save Tax Headaches Next Year

There is no time like the present to start a procedure that will aid you with next year's income tax calculations. That is to maintain a record of your income and outgo. Such a record can be simple and brief but it may save you tax dollars and many hours of work in filling out tax forms.

The average man who works for a wage or salary doesn't have to concern himself about keeping books and records—at least so he thinks. His employer keeps a reliable record of his earnings and Uncle Sam looks primarily to the employer for information on his earnings and for the withholding of various taxes out of his wages.

Perhaps you own your home or are paying it out in installments. It's likely that some day you may sell that house. When you do you'll want to be able to prove whether you realized a gain or a loss on that sale. If a gain in capital resulted, it probably will add to your income tax. If a loss was suffered, it probably will reduce your income tax.

You may have made certain capital improvements on the house while you lived in it, but unless you can show what out-of-pocket expense you incurred while making them, you may not get credit for them in your cost basis so as to prove that you had no capital gain or that you had a loss.

Or perhaps you received that little summer cottage on the lake as a gift from your father. If you ever sell it, you should be able to show Uncle Sam not only the cost of improvements you made on it while you owned it, but also what its fair market value was at the time Dad gave it to you.

It may be that you are receiving an annuity on an insurance policy. If so, do you know how much that policy costs you and how much of that cost you have recovered tax-free to date?

There are many kinds of transactions you enter into that may some day affect the computation of your personal income tax. The best proof of the cost of anything you've purchased is a receipted bill or cancelled check. If one of these pieces of evidence relates to any transaction that may affect your income in later years, it's a good idea to keep it. Your "par-

Juvenile Delinquency Not Caused By Any Single Factor Says Judge

By Judge Sarah T. Hughes
 (Ed. Note: This is one of a series of articles on the state's growing problem of juvenile delinquency by one of Texas' foremost authorities on the subject, District Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, who has handled more than 25,000 juvenile and family relations cases, along with an even greater number of other civil cases in 22 years on the bench. "Family law is probably the most important phase of the law," says this internationally known jurist, whose work has been honored throughout the United States and in Europe as well, and whose name was put in nomination for vice president of the United States in 1952. A discussion of a different aspect of the problem will appear every other week.)

Plain to see is the fact that our increasing juvenile delinquency has many different and complex causes. There is no single factor which brings it about, and therefore no single cure.

But is there, perhaps, any one factor which is bigger than any other of its many causes? I think there is.

WE ALL NEED IT

Every person, adult or child, needs—most of all—a sense of his own significance, his own individuality. A grown person wants to be recognized in his home, his church, or his club, or her boss's interest. A husband who comes home and tells his wife about a good business deal he has made wants her to listen and be interested. A wife who cooks a special treat is disappointed if she isn't complimented.

It is even more important for boys and girls to have a sense of their own significance. Failing to get it starts many upon the road to delinquency, running with gangs, committing acts of vandalism so as to be considered "smart"—to be recognized by someone. A few may get that sense of importance through robbery, rape, murder.

NO RECOGNITION

I have had many cases in the Juvenile Court where I thought the principal reason for the boy or girl being there was that he or she had been given no recognition as an individual, no feeling of significance.

One of my vandalism cases involved a stepfather who gave all his attention to his own children, while the mother loved her husband more than her son by her previous marriage. This made him feel left out, and he satisfied his need for recognition by joining a gang of boys in destruction of property.

FELT HUMILIATED

Another boy, living with his father and stepmother, was required to clean house, wash dishes, and dress his younger sisters. If his mother had been tired from working all day he would not have minded being called on to help, but for a boy of 14 to be constantly required to do what he considered girls' work made him feel very insignificant in the eyes of his friends. So he began to stay out late at night, breaking into empty box cars and vacant buildings and taking what didn't belong to him.

A third little fellow of 11, with superior intelligence, had the hobnobbing instinct and frequently ran away from home. He landed in jail in various Texas towns, but being confined didn't bother him, because he could brag to his friends about having been in jail.

SOMETHING TO BE PROUD OF

Then his mother tied him to the bed for nine days, but that didn't faze him either—he could brag about that.

Finally, his mother prayed over him, and that would have been all right if she hadn't prayed out loud that "the devil be taken out of Charles." That pleased him very much because he didn't know of any other boy who had the devil in him.

I'll always remember how Charles fairly beamed in court when the officer said that he had stolen 25 bicycles. He was quite sure that this was a feat no other little boy of 11 had accomplished.

"BELONGING"

The principal factor bringing all three of these boys to court was a failure in the home to make them feel that they, as individuals, had any significance. There is always something to compliment a child for—to make him feel important and wanted. There is always the chance to LISTEN with interest and affection to what he has to say, always the chance to make him feel that he "belongs," to make him feel appreciated for himself.

The story is told of the prisoner who escaped and was found by police standing in front of a poster with his picture on it. When he was asked by the officer why he was standing where he could be readily identified, he said, "Oh, it's so wonderful to be wanted by somebody!"

"TO KNOW THAT I MATTER"—That is what these youngsters need—to be wanted by somebody, to be recognized as individuals, to be important to their friends and

Governor and Friend

AUSTIN—After signing a proclamation designating the month of January, 1958, as "March of Dimes Month" in Texas, Gov. Price Daniel has some words of encouragement for tiny polio victim George Craig DeVilleneuve, Jr., 22-month-old, of Austin. Stricken at the age of 10 months, Craig will eventually make a 100 per cent recovery, his doctors say. Cost of his treatment is paid by March of Dimes funds supplied by the Travis County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

ODDLY ENOUGH

IGLOOS PROTECT AGAINST THE COLD SO WELL THAT DWELLERS OFTEN WEAR SUMMER CLOTHING. (INSTEAD OF COOLING THE IGLOO, THE ICE-LIKE ICE INSIDE A WINDOW PANE—ACTS AS AN INSULATOR.) ON THE DESERT (WHERE IT IS JUST AS COLD AT NIGHT AS IT IS HOT DURING THE DAY) ARAB'S WEAR SEVERAL LAYERS OF CLOTHING TO TRAP THE AIR. SWEATERS ARE NOW MORE POPULAR THAN EYES IN AMERICA BECAUSE THEY PROTECT SO WELL AGAINST THE COLD YET LOOK SO GOOD AND ARE SO VERSATILE. A DAUGHTER GIRL ONCE SAID THAT AN INVITATION TO DINNER RAYS OFF WITH INTEREST.

BETTER SCHOOLS AND YOU

WHAT SHOULD A SCHOOL BUILDING COST? The divorce courts have found that the single thing which causes most family fights and breaks up most marriages is money. One of the things that causes most school fights and more community rifts is money, too.

The newest phase of the money argument about schools is centered around whether we're throwing our money away on elaborate school buildings. The facts of the matter are so obscure that men and women of good will are having a hard time making up their minds about the argument.

The biggest stumbling block comes when we try to compare school building costs. A building in Texas, which requires very little artificial heat, could cost far less than a similar one in New England, where the winters are longer and harder. Cost of labor is another factor. Labor costs less in Mississippi than it does in New York. Whether the locality has the materials at hand makes a difference, too. If you have to ship in every brick and every piece of lumber, the costs are bound to be higher. School codes are a nightmare to school architects and school boards, and make a big difference when you start figuring the school bill. Some states, for example, have regulations prescribing the exact size of every single classroom. This doesn't always make sense but the laws are on the books and architects have to abide by them. Some laws call for ceilings that are many feet parents. A young boy, recently asked what he thought could be done to stop juvenile delinquency, said, "People give many answers to that—larger playgrounds, stricter law enforcement, more scout troops, but I say what we need MOST is someone to really believe in us."

The recognition children need, their sense of belonging, comes chiefly from parents who love them, and that love which is necessary for children to grow into worthwhile citizens will be discussed in my next article.

'The Sun Also Rises' To Show At Palace

Ava Gardner stars along with 4 other top flight Hollywood stars in Ernest Hemingway's first and most talked about novel, "The Sun Also Rises".

The dramatic Hemingway love story opens Wednesday and Thursday, January 8 and 9 at the Palace Theatre.

This love story shocked the world and was so daring and delicate that it could not be filmed until now. Tyrone Power, Ava Gardner, Mel Ferrer, Errol Flynn and Eddie Albert make up the cast about the story of people caught up in the turbulent currents of "the lost generation" immediately after the first World War.

Filed in marvelous color and ranging from the bullfights in Spain to the gay sights in Paris, "The Sun Also Rises" is one of the greatest love stories ever filmed. It projects a girl's desperate love for a man whose war wounds rendered him a trispartite, unfulfilled lover . . . a tormented dervish who had to watch the girl he adored go from man to man to man to man . . . Obviously, so delicate a theme was conceived only for mature adults and not recommended for children.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Robertson from Colorado City and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Hazzar spent their Christmas holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Williams, Joann and Willie Louise.

OUR NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION

Happy New Year . . . in case I didn't get to wish you one in person. Here's hoping 1958 will be the best, most prosperous year ever for you and your family.

Lots of folks like to take the beginning of the year to make some resolutions for the future and I have one to offer during this first week of 1958. Mr. E. M. Clark, our president, wrote it to explain the policies and objectives we try to follow in furnishing your telephone service and I thought it would make an appropriate New Year's resolution for us to make and dedicate to our customers.

WE DEFINE OUR OBJECTIVES

"OUR OBJECTIVE is to furnish the best possible telephone service at reasonable cost — a cost consistent with financial safety and fair treatment of employees.

"SERVICE ranks above everything else in this policy. And the only good service is one that is continually improving. To furnish this service we need the best people, the best equipment, the best methods, and the best management we can develop.

"REASONABLE COST has been defined as one that produces an ever-growing public demand. Our equipment, training, and methods would net us nothing if the cost of service became so high that people would not buy it.

"FINANCIAL SAFETY should not be endangered by setting the price of service too low. In the long run, a price that provides profit large enough to undertake new research and development results in better cheaper service to the public.

"FAIR TREATMENT OF EMPLOYEES means good pay, good working conditions, reasonable job security, and opportunity for advancement based on merit. It is people — employees — who are the most important element in the success of any business.

WE ACCEPT THESE RESPONSIBILITIES

TO THE EMPLOYEES: Provide machines, methods, equipment, direction, leadership, job training, incentives to progress, selection for promotion.

TO THE PUBLIC: More and better service at a reasonable cost. Contributions to public welfare and national defense.

TO THE OWNERS: Run business in a sound, profitable manner.

LOOKING AHEAD

"PROGRESS has long been the keynote of the telephone business. And, if business forecasters are anywhere near correct the next 20 years will bring more growth and development than we have ever seen before.

"THE FUTURE can be faced confidently with a policy of equal consideration for owners, employees, and the public. There you have it. We do our best every day to live up to this resolution and we hope you feel we're succeeding on our efforts to give you the best in telephone service.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.
