Spur Cagers Win 2: Are Unbeaten In District Play

The Spur High School boys' basketball team continued their winning ways as they won two district tilts, Lockney and Post and defeated Old Glory in the Jayton tournament. Spur defeated Old Glory, 43-27 last Thursday at Jayton; edged by Lockney at Lockney Friday night, 37-35 and in Tuesday night's tilt defeated Post, 43-40.

In the Jayton tournament Mark Parsons scored 13 points and Ronnie Cloude made 11 to lead the Spur team in the victory over the Old Glory team. Tournament play will continue this week end.

Spur took their second district win of the season, against no losses, as they battled the Post Antelopes in Spur Tuesday night and finally defeated the Post 43-40. Parsons again led the Bulldogs with 17 points. Ronnie Cloude copped second honors with 12 and Jimmie Holder followed with 9.

4 County Officials Seek Re-Election

Politics came to the front this week as four County officers announced they will seek re-election. They are: County and District Clerk, Fred Arrington; County Treasurer, Mrs. Ava Johnson; County School Superintendent, Robert Williams, and Justice of the Peace, Precinct 1, E. V. Arthur.

Other officials whose term will expire this year include: County Judge, W. H. Hindman; Commissioner Jim Offield, Precinct 2 and Commissioner Henry Edwards, Precinct 4; Justice of the Peace, Precinct 3, J. E. Berry and District Judge, L. D. Ratliff.

With the poll tax deadline, January 31, fast approaching, only 363 people have paid their poll tax, according to County Clerk Fred Arrington. Arrington said he expects a last minute rush to push the final poll tax total as high as 1,800.

Following are the announcements of three of the officials who are seeking re-election:

COUNTY CLERK
"I am asking you to re-elect me your County and District Clerk, for the coming term, subject to the Democratic Primaries. I feel that it is unnecessary to list my qualifications, because you know my record, and my service to you, speak for me.
"I shall duly appreciate the support of each of you."
Fred Arrington.

COUNTY TREASURER
"To the Citizens of Dickens County, Texas:
It has been a privilege for me to serve the people of my county as County Treasurer, and for the opportunity of so serving I am very grateful to every one. Should you see fit to re-elect me to the office of County Treasurer I will serve you to the best of my ability. I have tried to serve the best interests of the people of Dickens County at all times, and I feel my experience should qualify me to handle the duties of this office.

"I want to thank you for the consideration given me in the past and I will appreciate your vote in the coming election."
Yours sincerely,
Ava Johnson

COUNTY SCHOOL SUPT.
"In announcing my candidacy for re-election to the County Superintendent's office in Dickens County I want to first sincerely thank every citizen young or old for your past friendship, help, and cooperation. I want you to know that I am aware of the fact that the people of Dickens County have been very good to me.
"While serving you as your County School Superintendent I have had and still have a sincere desire to so serve that you shall never be embarrassed for having elected me to this public trust.
"In face of the grave problems that now face our schools let us all work together to provide the class rooms, the program, and the qualified teachers to which our children are entitled. And if re-elected I shall discharge the responsibilities of the County Superintendent's office to this end."
Thanks,
Robert Williams

Dickens County Farmers Receive $691,052.00 In Soil Bank Money

The Dickens County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office paid county farmers $691,052.00 in conservation and acreage reserve payments in 1957, according to W. W. Gunn, office manager.
Payments were listed as follows:
Conservation reserve rental, $282,286.00; Acreage reserve cotton, $180,919.00; Acreage reserve wheat, $74,847.00, and $153,000.00 for conservation reserve practices.

The ASC office is currently taking applications for conservation reserve land, (5 to 10 years) at $10 per acre rental for each year for the life of the contract. Gunn points out that this land cannot be grazed or harvested and cottle burrs, sunflowers and tumbleweeds must be controlled. A vegetative cover must be established on conservation reserve land and assistance in establishing this cover is available.

Gunn also says that the local office has received notification from the State ASC office that applications for cotton in acreage reserve, for one year, may be received January 13.

From one acre to the entire cotton allotment may be signed in this program with a limitation of $3,000 per farm per man. This land may not be grazed or harvested during the year contract, and cottle burrs, sunflowers and tumbleweeds must be controlled Gunn states.

to amounts charged for these services, has for some time been studying the garbage and trash removal department.
"The prices charged for this service has remained the same for many years, but the cost of labor, materials and supplies has increased steadily. Due to this fact, and the amount of pickup required, the department has shown a consistent loss of money.
"The vehicle used by this department is very expensive, and will have to be replaced soon. The council feels that in order to give the city more modern and better service, prices charged for the service will have to be adjusted. Compared to the amount of service rendered, the council feels that the adjusted charges will still be small."

Migrant Farm Worker Fee To Be Wiked Effective January 1, 1958

The U. S. Labor Department today announced that the fees charged agricultural employers of Mexican farm workers entering the United States under the Migrant Labor Pact with Mexico would be increased, effective January 1, 1958, to $10 per worker for contracting and $5 per worker for recontracting. The present fee for contracting workers is $7 and that for recontracting is $4.
Dempsy L. King, District Supervisor for the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security in Lubbock, said the increases, announced in Washington, had just been relayed to him by Regional Director Ed McDonald in Dallas.
The Labor Department said the increases were ordered to bring fee collections more closely in line with actual transportation and subsistence costs incurred by the United States in bringing in Mexican nationals and making them available to employers.
The contracting fee is collected at the time when employers contract for workers at the Farm Placement Service reception centers maintained along the Mexican border by the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security. No fees are charged employers for extension of work contracts beyond the original contract date. However, if the Mexican workers are recontracted to another employer, the new employer is charged a contracting fee.
The fees, as collected, are deposited in a revolving fund established in accordance with the provisions of the Farm Labor Act of 1951. This law stipulated that employers of Mexican farm workers brought in under the act should reimburse the United States Government for essential expenses, not including salaries or expenses of regular departmental or agency personnel, incurred for the transportation and subsistence of Mexican workers to and from the United States. The act set $15 as the maximum fee which could be charged employers for this purpose.

Give Delinquent Significance In Home, Among Friends Judge Says

What Is Real Love For A Child And What Is Its Place In Combating Juvenile Delinquency?

By Judge Sarah T. Hughes

(Ed. Note: This is one of a series of articles on the state's growing problem of juvenile delinquency by one of Texas' foremost authorities on the subject, District Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, who has handled more than 25,000 juvenile and family relations cases, along with an even greater number of other civil cases in 22 years on the bench. "Family law is probably the most important phase of the law," says this internationally known jurist.

whose work has been honored throughout the United States and in Europe and Asia as well and whose name was put in nomination for vice president of the United States in 1952. A discussion of a different aspect of the problem will appear every other week.)

Real love in the life of a child, so necessary in combating juvenile delinquency, is not trying to "possess" him, not just giving him material things. It is giving him a sense of his own significance in his home and among his friends. Real love does not over-indulge him, give him too much in the way of material possessions or passing pleasures, excitements, stimulations. Instead it provides understanding and emotional security as he runs up against the hard knocks life hands us all from time to time.

NO SENSE OF BELONGING
A little girl 4 years old was in my court a number of years ago, the subject of a custody suit. At the end of the day I took her in my office and told her she would stay with her mother that week end.

She looked up at me and said, "Which mother, my old mother or my new one?" You see, Patsy had two mothers and two fathers. She had been shifted from one to the other, been involved in several custody cases and consequently had no sense of security, of belonging, such a necessary part of love in the life of a child.

THEY WOULD BE THERE
On the other hand, a young soldier taken prisoner in Germany kept his sanity by remembering his room at home, mentally counting the things in each drawer of his chest.

He knew the accustomed place of each and felt a security in the certainty that they would be there when he returned home.

And of equal importance is the need for love to include guidance for future living as an adult. The child should learn at an early age that there are rules to be obeyed and limits beyond which he cannot go.

HOLD TO LIMITS
A little girl I saw in a grocery store was amusing herself by taking things off the lower shelves. Her mother threatened her with a spanking, bed, and several other things, but the child paid not the slightest attention.

Evidently she was sure her mother did not mean what she was saying. She had not yet learned of any limits beyond which she could not go.

THEY WANT GUIDE-POSTS
Children really want to be made to observe rules. They may act like they don't, and undoubtedly they will see how far they can go, but in a recent youth forum discussion it was the consensus of opinion that boys and girls want their parents to set up rules for them to follow, to provide them with guide-posts.

To put it another way, we should keep actively helping the child to learn to swim, or standing by to give help if he flounders, until it is plain that he can now swim as well or better than we can. We should never do what some of us do, in our role as parents or simply as members of the community. We should never throw a child into deep water before he has learned.

BAD EXAMPLES CONFUSE YOUTH

Modern living conditions, with cars, taverns, easy money, and a multitude of bad examples to confuse the child on every hand, are indeed "deep water." It takes real swimming to keep from going under. What many people have misunderstood as "progressive education" — allowing the child to do as he pleases in order to "express himself", so as not to "warp his personality", is throwing him into deep water before he can swim.

He may fight against guidance, but subconsciously he counts on it to stop him whenever he is not strong enough.

RESPONSIBILITY OF ALL
While guiding young people is principally the job of parents, those who have no children likewise have a responsibility. We all come in contact with children in situations which put us in varying degrees of responsibility towards young people not our own. Too often we fail to speak the kindly but firm word that will stop a youngster in a group under

TAKE TIME TO LISTEN
And too often we simply don't take the time to listen to a child's talk. The feeling of being able to tell a sympathetic grown person what he is thinking and doing is important in helping to give a child a sense of significance. Opportunities to help by being a "listening post" come most often to a parent, of course, but often also to the really receptive non-parent.

CAGNEY PLAYS STRANGEST ROLE IN 'MAN OF A THOUSAND FACES'

"Man of a Thousand Faces", starring James Cagney, Dorothy Malone and Jane Greer, announced as Universal-International's special release for Hollywood's Golden Jubilee, has its local opening Wednesday and Thursday at the Palace Theatre.

Filmed in Cinemascope, the picture deals with personal secrets and times of the late Lon Chaney, strange star of silent movies and known as filmland's legendary mystery man.

Cagney appears as the famous wizard of pantomime and make-up whose private life was even more fantastic than the affairs of maladjusted characters he portrayed on the screen.

Chaney, the picture reveals, was the son of deaf-mute parents. Beginning his career as a humble vaudeville clown, an early matrimonial disgrace — behind the grotesque movie make-up which ironically brought fame and fortune.

Miss Malone has the role of Chaney's first wife, Cleve Creighton, frustrated showgirl who almost destroyed the actor through her own shocking suicide attempt. Chaney's second spouse, Hazel Bennett, the one person who knew his secrets, is portrayed by Jane Greer. Roger Smith enacts the part of Lon, Jr.

Actual Hollywood history, recreated in detail, provides the colorful background for "Man of a Thousand Faces". Irving Thalberg, played by Robert J. Evans, is shown as the Universal Studio executive who launched Chaney on a screen career highlighted by such sensational pictures as "Hunchback of Notre Dame", "Phantom of the Opera" and scores of other worldwide hits of the silent movie era.

Marjorie Rambeau and Jim Backus have other leading parts in the production lauded as "fabulous" by preview critics.

Outbreak Of Influenza At Years' End Was Big News On '57 Health Scene

It was a good year for public health.

For the first time in Texas history live births passed the quarter-million mark. More than 252,000 births were recorded at the year ended, compared with 72,000 deaths. That's a health 3 1/2 to 1 ratio of births over death, and indicates a natural population increase of 180,000.

Other health events were equally significant. An influenza epidemic—the worst since 1918—caused a flurry of activity among health officials in months just before the year died. Before it was over almost two million doses of vaccine were rushed into the vaccine—and early warning—undoubtedly lessened the epidemic's impact.

As the official state agency for city planning assistance, the State Health Department processed 14 applications for federal financial aid. Total cost of projects, all in cities of less than 25,000, is $451,252, of which the federal share is $216,483.

Spring floods were behind the urgency of 58 special health projects costing $417,000, including control of insect vectors, rehabilitation of water plants, and chlorination of thousands of farm wells.

Almost 1,100,000 pounds of food had to be removed from sale channels as being unfit for human consumption during the year.

Four separate episodes of radioactive isotope mishandlings were investigated, and a toxicological information center was initiated to instantly provide information on antidotes in cases of industrial and household chemical poisonings. The center operates in cooperation with the Texas Medical Association.

Almost 1,800,000 shots of polio vaccine were distributed throughout Texas, cutting the incidence of polio to less than half of the previous year. Only 729 cases were reported in 1957, compared with a five-year median of 1751 cases. Five hundred nursing homes, housing 8,000 aged people, were inspected and licensed during 1957, and 21 hospital construction projects were approved by the State Board of Health under terms of the Hill-Burton Act.

Construction of city sewerage plants with federal help got underway with the allocation of $3,500,000 to 42 separate projects, and a statewide water sampling program was begun. With game wardens collecting samples, some 500 samples per month are being analyzed at the State Health Department laboratory.

The past year saw 2116 medically indigent crippled children placed under care, and penicillin and department-manufactured biologics were furnished in record quantities to physicians of medically indigent patients.

Electricity can save you from carrying 2 1/2 tons of wet laundry 40 miles to the clothesline!

In a year's time, a leading magazine tells us, the average housewife of a family of four washes 26 tons of wet clothes and walks 40 miles to lug them up on the line.

We're glad electric dryers and automatic washers make this big job a little easier. And, of course, this is just one of the many jobs electricity helps you with each day.

What else do you use that helps so much to do so many things—get costs so little?

West Texas Utilities Company

NOTHING ELSE NEAR THE PRICE HAS WHAT'S IN THIS PACKAGE!

It's one of Chevrolet's dollar-stretching Delrays!

The handsome Delrays are the lowest priced of all the low-priced Chevrolets. And they're full-size Chevrolets—wider, lower and nine lively inches longer. In size, in style, in fine details and construction, no other car priced so low gives you so much!

When you're thinking about buying a car because of its extra-low price, there are two things it pays to watch for. First, be sure you get full measure when it comes to size. Don't settle for a cut-down bargain model. Second, be sure you get all the equipment and conveniences that you'd normally expect to be standard. Look for such everyday things as an instrument panel switch for the dome light, a booster for vacuum windshield wipers and crank-operated vent windows. Chevrolet's Delray models are the lowest priced in the line. But they're full-size Chevrolets—wonderfully lower and wider, with the same increased length as other models. They're all Chevrolet, with bold new sculptured styling and beautiful Body by Fisher. And they're equipped to do you proud. Nothing else near the price has what's in this package. See it soon at your Chevrolet dealer's!

See your local authorized Chevrolet dealer for quick appraisal—prompt delivery!

Cadillac

It Says "Greatness"...in Any Language!

Wherever highways exist and motor cars are known, the name "Cadillac" signifies but one thing—the unmistakable leader in its field.

For the motor car that has borne that distinguished name for the past fifty-five years has been so well designed and crafted that it has become a synonym for everything good and desirable in a product.

And never have these virtues been more evident than they are in the Cadillac car for 1938.

A single, sweeping glance at the new "car of cars", for example, reveals a grace and majesty and elegance never before attainable in modern automotive design.

A brief journey at the wheel provides irrefutable proof of the forward strides that have been made in Cadillac performance and in Fleetwood coachcrafting.

And a study of the facts about Cadillac economy and dependability indicates a soundness of investment beyond anything in Cadillac's brilliant past.

If you haven't as yet inspected and driven a 1938 Cadillac, you should do so very soon.

Whatever your favorite among Cadillac's wide selection of models, which includes the distinguished Eldorado Brougham, you will find it a rare masterpiece in everything a Cadillac can be.

Another Hale county grain producer, Hubert E. Settiff of Route 1, Plainview, was the top winner in the first statewide hybrid grain sorghum production program. The Texas Certified Seed Producers, Inc. sponsored both programs in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

USDA'S PLANT QUARANTINE DIVISION SEEKS VISITORS HELP
 The cooperation of American travelers and visitors from foreign countries to America is being sought by the USDA's Plant Quarantine Division in an effort to keep destructive insect pests and plant diseases out of this country. F. M. Fuller, extension entomologist, said that plant quarantine inspectors last year at ports of entry intercepted 300,000 lots of unauthorized fruits, plants and other agricultural materials and that they harbored some of the world's most destructive insects, plant diseases and nematodes.
