

Red Cross Drive To Start Next Monday

The Red Cross drive for new members will start Monday and it is hoped that the quota for Bailey county will be filled at once. The quota for this county is only 150, and everyone should co-operate in making it successful.

There will be workers in every section, and remember that one half of the funds raised will be used by the local chapter in this county.

The Roll Call period opened last Sunday, but workers have been unavoidably delayed here, so they plan to put the program over next week.

The work of the Red Cross in our own land and the assistance given people of other lands should have a particularly strong appeal to all of us. Each year leaders of the great religious faiths, Protestant, Catholic and Hebrew, commend the Red Cross to membership in its ranks. Compared to the work which the organization does, the membership fee is small, and you have a chance to give some unfortunate a helping hand.

OVER TWO HUNDRED SAVED FROM WRECK OF STEAMER

Norfolk—More than 200 of the 339 passengers and crew of the steamer Vestra who abandoned their sinking ship off the Virginia Capes Monday were safe Tuesday, but for the rest, some of whom could be seen floating dead upon the stormy waters, there was no hope.

Vice Admiral Taylor of the battleship Wyoming reported that it was not thought possible any more of the unaccounted for were living and that he was leaving the scene of the disaster.

If the Admiral's belief is well founded, the death list will be near 120.

It has not been fully determined how the ship came to sink, but much blame is placed on the commander of the vessel by the passengers for not calling for help sooner. The ship encountered heavy storms upon leaving port. It was said that the commander waited nearly 24 hours after trouble developed before calling for aid.

TALKING TO HIS MULE

Over the hill trailed a man behind a mule, drawing a "dixie" plow. The clochopper was "broadsided."

"Bill, you are a mule, the son of a jackass, and I am a man, made in the image of God. Yet, here we work, hitched together year in and year out. I often wonder if you work for me or I for you. Sometimes I think this a partnership between a mule and a fool. For I surely work harder than you do. Poking here we cover the same distance, but you do it on four legs and I on two. So, mathematically speaking, I do twice as much as you do.

"Soon we'll be preparing for a corn crop. When that time comes, I give one-third to the landlord for being kind enough to let me use this corner of God's universe. The other third goes to you and what is left is my share. But, aside you assume all your third with the exception of a few cobs. I divide my share among seven children, six hens, two ducks and a henker. Bill, you are getting the best of me; it isn't fair for a mule the son of a jackass, to rob a man, lord of creation, of his substance. And come to think of it, you only help to cultivate the ground. After that I cut, stack and husk it, while you look at me over the pasture fence and 'hehaw' at me.

"All fall and part of the winter, the whole family, from granny on down to the baby, pick cotton to buy raise money to buy you a new set of harness, and pay interest on the mortgage on you, and, by the way, what do you care about the mortgage? It does not worry you say. Not a darn bit. You leave that to me, you ungrateful, onerous creature.

"About the only time when I am your better is election day, for I can vote and you can't. But if I ever give any more out of politics than you do I can't see where it is."—Exchange.

RELIEVING THEMSELVES

Practically everybody would be glad to see some practical means of farm relief brought about by legislation, but the wise farmer is not depending too much on politicians for a betterment of his condition.

Some instances in which farmers have successfully sought relief through better methods are related in recent magazine article which gives food for thought. Here are a few:

John D. Brader of Oswego, Kan., rented out three-fourths of his land seven years ago and devoted the rest to dairy cattle and poultry. From 17 cows and 350 hens he cleared $2,600 last year. Fifteen years ago he was a renter; now he owns his farm and is president of a bank.

A. E. Nelson of Convik, Minn., found a few dairy cows profitable so he increased his herd, likewise increasing his monthly milk check to an average of $308.

Henry Hogenam of Emmet county, Iowa, got out of the beaten path by raising 30 acres of beets which brought him $3,600 last season. William M. Olson, another Iowa farmer, raised a big flock of poultry in connection with his other farming operations and made money.

In many sections of the South the "cow and hen" are bringing prosperity to farmers who formerly grew poorer and poorer through depending on cotton alone. In every state many progressive farmers are bettering their condition by similar means.

There is no denying that agriculture is in a bad way generally, but a better planned farm program would enable many farmers to overcome this condition to a great extent.

W. M. U. MEETING

The W. M. U. of the Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Walker.

Due to the fact that our study books had not arrived, we had a short business session and adjourned. We will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock with Mrs. L. S. Barron in our regular monthly business meeting. Don't forget our Christmas Bazaar to be the 8th of December, which is about 17 days from now, at the Elkie Hotel. Let's make this one the best we have ever had.

DEER SHOOTING SEASON OPENS NOVEMBER 15

Muleshoe Wins From Sudan

Muleshoe High hung up another scalp last week, winning from Sudan by a score of 9 to 0. The game opened with Sudan kicking to Muleshoe. Thus Aitchison received the ball and galloped 80 yards for a touchdown. Shortly after this, Muleshoe registered a safety and from there on, both sides failed to score.

It was a good clean game and a brand of foot ball worth seeing. It is understood that the next two games for the local team will be played away from home.

Auto License Received Here

The 1923 automobile license have been received here, it was announced at the sheriff's office, which is combined with the office of Tax Collector.

Some 750 tags for cars were received and 200 for trucks. It is said that this number is insufficient, as there were about 1055 cars and trucks registered for 1923.

OLTON THRESHING LARGE CROP

The farmers of Olton are threshing one of the largest crops ever raised in this country. All crops are producing heavy yields this year in spite of the delayed rains of last summer. The grain sorghum yield is very heavy, many fields producing 75 bushels per acre. Eighty per cent of the crop is being harvested with the combine. The cotton crop is very good. A large part of the crop will produce half a bale per acre.

Many Turkeys Bought First Of the Week

Turkey-time is here again and Muleshoe is helping to provide the cities with Thanksgiving meat. In return, the city folks will place many dollars in the Muleshoe trade territory.

Monday and Tuesday of this week, the Muleshoe Produce Company bought 700 turkeys, for which $2,500 was paid. Wednesday morning, the CP Produce bought 233 turkeys, paying $1,000 to the raisers. It is estimated that this is only a small percent of the crop in this section.

Students of the High School will present the play, "Tea Toper Tavern" tonight (Thursday) Admission 20 and 30 cents. Everybody is invited to be present.

HOOPER ASKS COOPERATION OF PEOPLE IN MESSAGE

Looking upon Republican victory as a vindication of great issues and a determination of the true road of progress, Herbert Hoover in his first message to the American people as president-elect, asked for a cooperation and unity of spirit of all leaders of opinion and of action for the common service of the country.

"I can make no adequate expression of gratitude for the overwhelming confidence of our people who without regard to section or interest have selected me for the president of the United States," he said.

"There has been a vindication of great issues and a determination of the true road of progress. The Republican party has again been assessed with a great responsibility. In this great hour there can be for me no no feeling of victory or exultation. Rather, it imposes a sense of solemn responsibility of the future and of complete dependence upon Divine guidance for the task which the greatest office in the world imposes.

Mrs. E. L. Gardner and sons, Ellisworth and James Elmer, and Mrs. B. Gardner returned to their home in Hollis, Oklahoma, after spending seven days with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. March and family.

Check Votes of Recent Election

The County Commissioners canvassed the vote of the recent election last Monday. The County went strong for Hoover the vote being 501 to 143.

There were a few minor errors, but otherwise the tally sheets were found correct. The Communist party received one vote as did the Socialist.

In one box, Pat E. Bobo received generous support for Associate Justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals, while in one precinct Meade P. Griffin, District Attorney, received several votes for Justice of the Peace.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wyer entertained with a six o'clock dinner last Wednesday evening honoring the birthday of Rev. W. B. Hicks. A very delightful evening was enjoyed and all declared Mrs. Wyer a wonderful cook.

CARD OF THANKS

I take this method in thanking the people of Muleshoe and surrounding country for their kindness in visiting me while in the hospital at Lubbock. Very Respectfully, J. E. W. JENNINGS

Goodland News

The children of the Goodland community are very proud of the good equipment just purchased by the trustees. One of the best selections made was a large United States flag, which hangs in the front end of the building. We know that every school room should have a flag and that every child should be taught its meaning. The new basket ball court has been well used this week.

Although the weather has been more favorable for cotton picking than for school, we are glad that almost every child in the district is attending school regularly.

Friday morning of last week the pupils were entertained with a few good stories. Jimmie Marie Adams told the story of the "Three Little Pigs." Lois Marie Locke told "The Three Bears." Ola Weaver told "El animadas," Wilburn Holloway told "Jack and the Bean Stalk."

Friday, November 16th, at 2:45 P. M., the children will entertain the patrons of the community in a real story telling hour.

Last Sunday was a very interesting day for the Goodland people. Sunday school was well attended. The lesson, "Peace and Good Will Among Men," was presented to the senior class in a very interesting way by Mrs. Henry Hanover. The B. Y. P. U. program, led by Elmer Locke, was also an interesting feature of the day. Mrs. C. D. Shepperd organized the B. Y. P. U. in this community some time ago and under her direction much progress is being made. After the B. Y. P. U. program, a fine talk was made by Mr. Adams. His subject was, "What November 11th Means to the World."

The Wilson Community joined the Goodland people in their afternoon church service.

We are very glad to report that Mr. Leo Reed, who has been in bed many days with typhoid fever, is doing nicely.

Crops in this section of the county are good and the farmers are working hard to get it harvested.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Adams and children took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Locke last Sunday.

Miss Laura Green has been a welcome visitor of the young people's Sunday School class last Sunday.

PEACH ORCHARDS MAY BECOME A PROFITABLE SOURCE OF INCOME IN CARLSBAD

N. M. 001 irrigable land along the Rio Grande. One thousand trees have been planted on a farm which already has an orchard of five hundred and fifty heavy bearing trees.

A WOMAN IN LAMB COUNTY, ACCORDING TO A LITTLEFIELD PAPER, WILL REALIZE OVER $5,000 ON TURKEYS THIS YEAR.

She is Mrs. W. K. "Happy Hill Farm" who raises pure bred large Bronze turkeys, and will sell 700 for breeding purposes this year.

James E. Biggs, field representative with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in charge of the Northwest District, has been secured as one of the principal speakers for the Dalhart Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held November 17.

Nine shipments of calves have been shipped into Texas and consigned to various fairs. The calves were from C. C. Pritchard, of Artesia, N. M., two from John Fanning, of Lakewood, N. M., and four from Charley Foster, of Lake Arthur, N. M.

The main streets of Abernathy are now cleared after having been torn up during the last few days. The improvement machinery which hindered traffic for a few days left a nicely graded and level road behind.

Mr. J. J. Scribner has disposed of his place here and moved his family to Lubbock. We regret the loss of these good people from our community and wish them well in their new location.

700 HOUSES DESTROYED AND 3,000 ACRES OF LAND RUINED BY VOLCANO

Rome, Nov. 12.—Five thousand people are homeless. 700 houses have been destroyed and nearly 3,000 acres of farm land laid waste in the Mount Etna region, said a report issued Monday by Signor Giurati, Minister of Public Works, who returned from the danger zone over the week-end.

The Giarre correspondent of Lavoro d'Italia reported that the volcanic center of the fruit-growing region of the slopes of Mount Etna, appears doomed to perish under the relentless onslaught of lava's still pouring from the volcano. The lower part of the neighboring village of Randano has already been invaded.

A dispatch to La Tribuna from Catania says the manufacturing plants of Carrabba have been dismantled and its houses vacated while the population awaited the approach of the lava flow.

Mrs. J. W. Franks, of Sudan, is spending the week in the J. O. Jones home.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB

The Music Study Club will meet with Mrs. Keeney, Monday, November 19th at 4:00 P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Pavelcek, Miss Opal Morris and Mr. Buford Butts celebrated Armistice Day by hunting. They killed a number of ducks and near the Red-shoe headquarters came upon a coyote. All four took a shot at it, but Opal claims the honor of firing the shot that brought him to ground.

Mrs. L. H. Cooper, who has been employed at the Gupion Hotel, left Wednesday for her home in Denton.

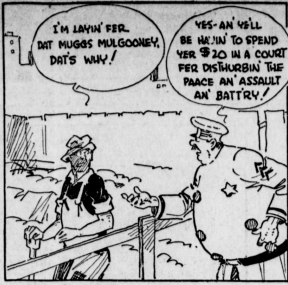

George Barton, of the John S. Britton Dry Goods Co., made this territory Wednesday.

Good Harden and Miss Iris Harden motored to Floydada Saturday night to meet their sister, Miss Elizabeth, of Electra, who spent the week-end here with home folks.

Delma McCarty was transacting business in Lubbock Thursday.

The big county grader nearly ruined our lakes in the middle of town yesterday, and just after the recent rains had nearly filled them with sufficient water to last all the winter.

Muleshoe's where the bright lights are. The Journal there reports that for the second time this year the Aurora Borealis was visible there between 4:30 and dawn one morning last week. Who stays up that long in Muleshoe? Why?

Just UP early Doc, and Why?—? The early bird gets all the strawberries. And then again, you just might see the sun come up some time on these old Plains of ours.

FALL TIME IN TEXAS

Will H. Hayes, Austin, Texas

There's something about these fall Texas days, the cool of the nights, the midday sun's rays, that peeps up a fellow and gives him about the sort of a feeling folks have when they should.

If you live in Texas you know how it feels to eat. In Texas, breakfast enough for three meals, to breathe in the air, and the sunshine inhaled, and go to your work with no fear you may fall.

The fall days in Texas put vim in your veins, put cheer in your heart where once there were pains, make all your hours joyous and all your tasks light—these fall days in Texas are just about right.

Folks who don't live in Texas don't know what they miss, when fall comes along with its weather like this; and we down in Texas just wish that that they all would come to see Texas and stay through the fall.

They would grow to like Texas in the fall of the year, in the days when God's blessings so clearly appear, that they'd stay here through life and be happy and glad to live where the fall time won't let them feel bad.

It's fall time in Texas, write the folks back at home, invite them to Texas; tell all of them to come; and if you don't write them, just mail them this rhyme, which bids them see Texas in the joyous fall time.

Sense of Sight in Plants Seem Proved

The sense most developed in plants is that of sight, which causes them to see light, but not to distinguish objects. This sense limitation is found among many living creatures, such as the cuttlefish, oyster and coral, etc., which possess no localized visual organ, but give proof of their luminous impressions by the contractions that they manifest when exposed to a ray of sunlight. Similarly, it is easy to gauge the influence of light on plants. Cultivate a plant in a room with a window only on one side and its stalks in growing will incline toward the source of light. Physiologists explain this by suggesting that the side to the dark grows more quickly than that exposed to the light. There remains, however, the fact that the plant has reacted to the "light," of whose effect it was unconscious.

A sense common to many plants is that of touch. Of this the most illustrative example is, as its name implies, the sensitive plant, whose leaf responsive to the touch is the catchily whose two halves close down upon the other by means of a central hinge.

Old Dog Wouldn't Be Let Out of Picnic

This dog story is told by Harry Preston in his sporting reminiscences. "Memories"—a delightful panoramic view of the sporting world of America and England for the last fifty years, reprinted in the Kansas City Times:

Tom Gannaway, owner of many winning bull terriers, had a wonderful, almost human, old dog, who had regularly shown with great success. Gannaway lived just off Westminster. One day he was preparing two other dogs for the show at the Horticultural hall in Westminster. The old dog looked on. He was not entered, and so was left alone. During the afternoon a friend of Gannaway's said to him:

"You haven't entered the old dog, have you, Tom?"

"No," said Gannaway.

"Well," said the friend, "he's here, all the same."

And in fact the dog had gone on his own and taken over a square bench and now sat there, looking quite unruffled despite a laughing crowd round him. The bench he had jumped into was under an entirely different classification of dogs.

Mrs. Albert Taylor and son, Elliott, of Lubbock, spent the week-end here with Mr. Taylor.

FORD AXLE UNDERGOES MOST RIGID OF TESTS

Increasing the ratio of strength to weight has been one of the outstanding recent tendencies in the automotive industry. In the Ford factories, this tendency has been carried to lengths which have resulted in some revolutionary processes, and some original applications of old processes. The rear axle shaft of the Model A Ford car and Model AA Ford truck is one of the interesting examples of how substantially increased strength is being obtained in a piece of material of given weight.

The story of this Ford rear axle shaft is the story of how a bar of steel from the rolling mill, having the same properties throughout its length, emerges from the factory as an axle shaft, containing no less than three distinct conditions of steel in one piece, each condition designed to perform a different kind of work. It is all a matter of heating and re-heating, tempering and hardening, in automatic furnaces that insure absolute uniformity of production. The shaft begins as a bar of special Ford carbon manganese steel, of uniform diameter throughout its length. It goes first to a rolling furnace, where one end is heated for the upsetting machines which forge the differential side gear blank. This does away with the use of separate steel gear blank forging, and makes possible a gear which is one piece with the axle. It is then conveyed to the gear cutting machines and the teeth are cut in four gears at a time on each machine.

To the first half-million new Ford owners

TO THE half-million men and women who have received new Fords in the last eleven months, there is no need to dwell on the performance of the car.

You have tested its speed on the open road. In traffic you have noted its quick acceleration and the safety of its brakes. You know how it climbs the hills. On long stretches you have come to appreciate its easy-riding comfort. Continuous driving has proved its economy of operation and low cost of up-keep.

This is an invitation to you to take full advantage of the service facilities of the Ford dealer organization so that you may continue to enjoy many thousands of miles of carefree, economical motoring.

The point is this. You have a great car in the new Ford. It is simple in design, constructed of the best materials and machined with unusual accuracy. It is so well-made, in fact, that it requires surprisingly little

Famous Sculpture a Tribute to Liberty

Because the attack of the citizenry on the Tyranny in Paris on August 10, 1792, has been ably described by historians and authors, little can be added to make the picture complete, a writer in the Detroit News remarks. But at Lucerne, Switzerland, there is a monument that adds a detail, by no means least, to this picture of the overthrow of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette.

This monument is known as the Lion of Lucerne and is the figure of a lion cut in the solid rock of a little park at one extremity of the city. The lion is sorely wounded with a broken spear, but is guarding with his dying strength a shield emblazoned with the fleur-de-lis of the Bourbons.

It is a monument to the courage and fidelity of the Swiss guard which was massacred by the French citizens in the revolt against their monarch. Louis gave orders to his guards that they were not to fire on the mob. It became so unruly, however, that the Swiss were forced to shoot and the action, believed by the revolutionists to have been prompted by the king, only increased the general feeling against Louis.

Reflected in a mirror-like pool which is just below it, the Lion of Lucerne, with the names of the Swiss guard beneath, pays mute tribute to their loyalty even to a foreign king.

Cake Has Long Held Place in Big Events

From birth to death man has made a cake the symbol of the great events of this human existence, although, neither the cake which signaled the christening nor the cake that was eaten at the funeral could be partaken of by the one supposed to be thus honored, says Helen Buckler, in the New York Herald Tribune Magazine. In olden times guests at obsequies, in Yorkshire were served light, sweetened cakes, washed down with hot spiced ale poured from a tankard in whose handle was stuck a piece of lemon peel, bespeaking the bitterness of death.

Or if the family were wealthy enough, wine replaced the ale, and savory biscuits were given out to be carried home wrapped in paper on which were printed coffins, skulls and crossbones, hour glasses or spades, insignia of mortality, and sealed with black wax.

Horse Power Machine

Persons who claim to feel as "strong as a horse," who enjoy the opportunity to put their strength to a practical test, will be interested to know that a device known as the srostrometer, high gauges the strength of human beings in terms of horse power, has been perfected. It consists of a bicycle transmission and a hand-wheel geared to a cylinder which offers resistance to the motion of transmission. The person being tested is required to maintain the velocity of the resist cylinder at a predetermined number of revolutions per minute. When the machine is in motion a weight brake is gradually applied until the revolutions fall below a given standard. The weight registers upon a scale beam on which the horse power is the unit of measure.—Washington Star.

Wood for Golf Clubs

The golf clubs known as drivers, spoons and brasses are made of wood; putters are sometimes made of other material also. The heads of others are of malleable iron. Formerly the heads of woodier clubs were made of boxwood and maple, but today these woods have been almost entirely supplanted by an American wood—persimmon. The old shafts were made of various woods such as ash, hickory, wood and greenheart, but modern shafts are almost exclusively of hickory. The finest are made of split hickory. This is hickory which is split from the wood with the grain and not sawn off the plank.

"Open Range" Has Gone

The bureau of animal industry says that there are essentially no cattle ranches in Montana operating on the old principles, using open range exclusively. There are, however, large tracts of public domain that many ranchers make use of at certain times of the year. In the vicinity of Butte, Mont., it is the customary practice for many of the beef cattle ranchers to make use of the national forest ranges during the summer months, and many of these operators make use of the available public domain in their vicinity during the early spring months before turning their cattle onto the national forest ranges.

Curious Use for Garlic

A new raw material for the manufacture of a strong adhesive has been found abroad in the form of garlic. According to a patent recently granted, garlic yields a substance of high adhesive power. The bulbs are crushed and pressed and the juice thus obtained is boiled down at a temperature of 50 degrees centigrade. The residue from the pressing process is then boiled in water for an hour and again subjected to pressure, and the juice obtained is in its turn boiled down and added to the extract first secured. The final product can be treated in this way with the same result.

TEXAS AND TEXANS

By WILL H. HAYES

East Texas Dairy Show

Perhaps more than any other section of Texas, East Texas is profiting from diversified farming. Most East Texas farmers raise a sufficient variety of products to live at home and to have something to sell to their neighbors in the towns and cities. With milk product factories began a few years ago to encourage more extensive dairying, East Texas responded quickly by increasing its dairy herds. It is now proposed to hold an East Texas dairy show to bring all that vast section in competition in the production of better products and the raising of more profitable dairy herds. Dairy shows have been held in many parts of Texas and they always result in increased interest in dairying. Just as poultry shows have boosted the poultry business, visitors to the Texas State Fair at Dallas say that the dairy and poultry shows attracted such attention as any other feature of the great fair.

Permanent Sectional Exhibits

Copying somewhat the plan of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in maintaining a permanent agricultural exhibit at Fort Worth, the Rio Grande Valley section is arranging for permanent exhibits at San Antonio and Houston, in which will be shown the most fruitful and vegetable production of the section. Texas communities, in all parts of the State, are learning that it pays to use all reasonable efforts to let the world know what they have.

Plainview's Big Hotel

Determined not to be outdone by other progressive young cities of the State, Plainview is asking for bids on a 10-story hotel building to cost a half million dollars. Strange as it may seem the Texas towns that build modern hotels find in most cases that however large may be the buildings, they are seldom large enough to take care of the business they attract.

Building Costly Church

Having at last caught up with the demand for the erection of fine hotels, Arroyo is to have a $300,000 church which will be constructed by the Baptists of that city. A few years back the expenditure of a hundred thousand dollars for a church building, even in the largest cities of the State, was regarded as extravagance. The Arroyo church building will be four or five stories high and will contain all the modern facilities for religious education.

University Bible Courses

A news report that the number of Bible courses being taken by students at the University of Texas is rapidly increasing may be a surprise to many who have thought that there is no religious instruction given there. While the State does not pay for religious training, many of the churches maintain Bible chairs near the University campus, and courses given by these count as credits toward a University degree. It is a co-ordination of religious education with the unusual facilities of the University that is a great saving of expense to the churches in the training of ministers and other religious teachers and students.

Gasoline Investigation

As a result of recent investigations into the methods and the prices of gasoline filling stations, Attorney General Pollard will recommend that the next legislature take immediate steps to regulate these. Gasoline has become as essential to the economic progress and the comfort of the people as water, and while the greed for gain may be no greater on the part of gas companies and dealers than in any other business, the governmental control of public utilities has come to be recognized as necessary and beneficial to all parties.

Branding Sheep

The sheep and goat business has grown to such proportions in Texas that owners of herds will ask for some kind of a State branding law for their protection. At present, owners usually paint a brand on the fleeces, but there is always a possibility of any number of growers using the same brand. Flocks have become too valuable to take any unnecessary risks of losses.

"Fleecy Flocks"

Speaking of sheep is a reminder of the catchy slogan adopted by the sheep and goat raisers of the Ozona section, the euphonious wording being "The land of fleecy flocks." That is a slogan that is likely to stick and in a way to create a good impression of the section as a sheep and goat country.

Big Bend Roads

The commercial secretaries of the "Big Bend" country are agitating the building of complete systems of hard-surfaced highways for this section. It is the great scenic part of the State and would prove as attractive to tourists as Colorado if only it had as good roads. To "agitate" is all right for a beginning, but action is necessary to success in road construction as in everything else of a progressive kind.

Pecan Growers Meeting

The West Texas Pecan Growers Association will meet in Brownwood November 15-16. Speeches will be made and resolutions of some kind will be adopted. Pecan growing has reached the stage where more than this is needed, and more than all things else is cooperation in gathering methods and in marketing. A half dozen buyers in the United States are making more profits from the pecan crop now than all the growers are getting.

Drums and Fifes

Brady legionnaires looked on the drum and fife organizations at the National meeting at San Antonio and at once decided that they would like to have something of the kind so they have organized their own with 25 members. There is something about the music of drums and fifes that thrills as perhaps other music seldom does.

Marble Falls Prosperity

A brief news item tells in a most forceful way why Marble Falls prospers. Here it is. Marble Falls ships annually 250,000 pounds of wool and mohair, 2,000 bales of cotton, 125 cars of cattle, 250 cars of cedar timber, 100,000 pounds of poultry, 75 cars of hogs, 50,000 pounds of pecans and 100 cars of granite gravel, besides many cars of other things. Plentiful products produce prosperity.

A Kansas City telegraph clerk automatically proceeded to count the words of a message presented by a stranger. There was no signature, so the clerk read the message, which said: "I am holding this place up." Confirmation was evidenced by the muzzle of a revolver, which also indicated that the message was "collected." And the customer collected $42.35; all the money in the till.

GOVERNMENT COTTON ESTIMATE IS 14,133,900 BALES

The Government has placed its estimate for the present crop at 14,133,900 bales, which is 140,000 more than that made public a month ago.

The ginning up to November 1 was given at 10,602,997 bales. Cotton made a gain of about $2 per bale yesterday as a result of the estimate.

The European corn borer will continue to advance in the corn belt, although the outlook is not so dark as it first appeared, according to a writer in the November 15 issue of the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman.

The clean-up method of control has proved effective in Ontario counties where complete destruction of the corn crop was observed over large areas in 1925 and 1926.

AIRLINES IN WEST TEXAS ARE LIKELY

Stamford, Nov. 10.—A letter sent from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce headquarters here to all secretaries of member chambers of commerce and unit directors by President A. M. Bourland, and Manager Homer D. Wade, urged them to co-operate with their communities in realizing the advantages of aviation.

One of the reasons for this act on the part of the heads of the regional organization is the development that is sure to take place in aviation in West Texas since the purchase of the Texas Air Transport company by a group of financiers, headed by A. P. Barrett of Fort Worth.

This company expects to have a network of airline routes in all of Texas and particularly in West Texas.—Lubbock Journal.

JUSTICES HELD INVALID

Austin, Nov. 7.—The Texas fee system of paying justices of the peace from fines and costs they collect, was declared unconstitutional today by the Court of Criminal Appeals, because the justices have a "direct personal and pecuniary interest" in convictions.

The ruling is in line with one by the United States Supreme court, which knocked out the municipal fee system in Ohio.

Under the decision today A. R. Kelly of Nueces county is ordered released from sheriff's custody, where he has been because of failure to pay a $1 fine and costs in Justice of the Peace B. G. Moffett's court at Corpus Christi.

The law allowing justices to be paid from the proceeds of fine and costs was held to be in contravention of both the state and Federal constitution.

Because of the hundreds of justices in Texas who have been paid for many years through fees, the decision will have a far-reaching effect, and may involve the rights of other county officers to be paid through fees, if they have an interest in conviction.

MILK SOLD BY YARD

Milk may be sold by the square foot or the lineal yard if dairymen adopt a new process invented by a Copenhagen, Denmark, milk producer, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. His machine rolls dried milk into sheets like tissue paper, and in this form it is claimed the product will keep for several years without any change in quality.

SQUIRRELS AND BIRDS

Nuts are ripening, squirrels and woodpeckers are beginning to store their winter's food, and electric company trouble-shooters are sharpening their climbing spurs for their yearly struggle to keep the lines intact against these marauders.

To a nut squirrel a porcelain insulator upon a pole looks like a new and superior nut. He goes after it, usually in the morning when the crossarm is wet with dew. He puts his paw on it and too often manages to touch the wire. As a result there is a short-circuit, the end of the squirrel and the beginning of trouble for the lineman.

Red-headed woodpeckers are also trouble makers for the lineman. These birds have discovered that it is easier to dig a hole in a dry pole than a tree. They accordingly dig hundreds of holes in poles, and into mud-hole drive an acorn for safe-keeping. When it rains the acorn swells. This starts cracks in the pole which hold water and cause the pole to rot. No means of thwarting woodpeckers has not yet been found.

HOG CHOLERA NOW IN MANY STATES

Reports from many states again show that hog cholera is widely prevalent, according to the November 15 Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman.

During the months of September, October and November hog cholera makes its greatest ravages and has destroyed from $20,000,000 to $65,000,000 worth of hogs annually in recent years. This year in order to learn the situation the United States department of agriculture made a survey to determine the hog cholera situation. The following summary of these reports show the situation as compared with a year ago.

States reporting more hog cholera this fall than a year ago in Iowa, Illinois, Ohio, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Maryland, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Florida. States where the extent of the disease is approximately the same as last fall are Indiana, Kentucky, Kansas, Arkansas and Mississippi.

The following states report the existence of less hog cholera than a year ago: Virginia, Alabama, Louisiana and Texas.

A Meal On One Dish

THE newest thing in the planning of one's meals is to have them a one-dish affair. That is, the entire meat course is served in the kitchen and the plates arranged with the food brought into the dining room. Often such a meal is served at luncheon and is a complete meal in itself. But with the addition of a cocktail or soup and a dessert it becomes more formal.

Typical Menu
 Fresh Fruit Compote
 1/2 lb. Sliced cold Vienna Sausage
 Hot Roll
 Hot Cabbage Salad
 Coffee

To prepare the apples, scoop out their cores, leaving the bottoms intact. Fill the centers with sliced Vienna sausages, about six each, cheese on each. Put in a covered baking dish with half a cup of water. Bake until apples are tender and delicious.

 In making savory corn add to two cups of canned corn, two well-beaten eggs, two tablespoons chopped, canned pimiento, two tablespoons melted butter, three-fourths cup milk, and salt and pepper. Pour into a buttered baking dish and cover the top with buttered crumbs mixed with an equal amount of grated cheese. Bake in a moderate oven until set and browned on top.
 Hot cabbage salad is prepared by slicing one-half a cabbage as for cole-slaw. Make a dressing by mixing two slightly beaten egg yolks, one-fourth cup cold water, one tablespoon butter, one-fourth cup hot vinegar, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon mustard and a dash of pepper; stir in the top of a whole boiler until thick. Add the cabbage and stir until heated.

Salem has at last lived down her witchies says the New York Times. The day when persons suspected of practicing witchcraft were burned to death is now so far submerged in the mists of legend that its shadow never intrudes upon the up-and-coming prosperity of the modern Massachusetts town. Belief in witchcraft connotes ignorance, and that ignorance has been effectively banished from the scene must be at once evident to any traveler who, far into the Station railroad station. For the first thing that attracts the eye is a sign, prominently placed, which reads: "Information—'Chamber of Commerce'" with a firm painted hand pointing the way.

Character Colors
 What is your color? Not your racial color, but your character color? Some one has taken the pains to catalogue the colors of mankind, as follows: When he is mad, they say he's red. When he's a coward, they call him yellow. When he's straight, they say he's white. When he's loyal, they say he's true blue. And when he's got no pep, they say that he's colorless. Some folks have as much pep as a mummy in a museum. But the mummy may be excused on account of his age.

It Left the Evidence
 A stench emanating from beneath a counter in an Indianapolis business office became so offensive that the colored janitor was called to investigate. It was decided in a consultation that the cause of the odor was a dead rat. The janitor got down on his knees and began to pull at the papers and sundry articles; but his efforts to find the animal were unavailing. At last he emerged and exclaimed: "Phew! But dead rat is gone, but he sho' 'd leave his evidence!"—Indianapolis News.

Drugs Excite the Kidneys, Drink Water

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful beverage, lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

"Drooping pains" of youth continue right on through life; you always have pains of some kind.

Denver Boy

is a Winner

Every mother realizes how important it is to teach children good habits of conduct but many of them fail to realize the importance of teaching their children good bowel habits until the poisons from decaying waste held too long in the system have begun to affect the child's health.

Watch your child and at the first sign of constipation, give him a little California Fig Syrup. Children love its rich, fruity taste and it quickly drives away those distressing ailments, such as headaches, bad breath, coated tongue, biliousness, feverishness, fretfulness, etc. It gives them a hearty appetite, regulates their stomach and bowels and gives tone and strength to these organs so they continue to act normally of their own accord. For over fifty years, leading physicians have prescribed it for headache, biliousness, constipation, etc. More than 4 million bottles used a year show how mothers depend on it.

Mrs. C. G. Willcox, 2855 1/2 West St., Denver, Colorado, says: "My son, Jackie, is a prize winner for health, now, but we had a lot of trouble with him before we found his trouble was constipation and began giving him California Fig Syrup. It fixed him up quick, gave him a good appetite, made him sleep fine and he's been gaining in weight long since the first few days, taking it."

To avoid inferior imitations of California Fig Syrup, always look for the word "California" on the carton.

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

The eagle may be the national bird of America for 264 days in the year, but there's one day when he isn't. That day is the last Thursday in November, and on that occasion the "king of birds" is temporarily dethroned and his place is taken by another. "Meleagris Americana" is the name by which he is known to ornithologists, but the average American, who is interested in him for gastronomic rather than ornithological reasons, knows him simply as "the turkey." And on Thanksgiving day he is "King Turkey."

The turkey is a true "native American" and therefore it is appropriate that he should be one of the principal symbols of this typically American festival day. When the first white men arrived on this continent they found wild turkeys in great profusion. That he was one of the "first Americans" is proved by the fact that his bones in fossil deposits show that he is of prehistoric origin. The Indians had partially domesticated the turkey, and they appear to have been roasting him for some time before the first white men for domestic turkeys have been found attached to pueblos and cliff dwellings in excavated ruins of untold centuries of ages.

The turkey's association with the Thanksgiving dinner dates from the very first celebration of that event. Of that first Thanksgiving day, held in 1621 in Plymouth, the land of the Pilgrims, Edward Winslow, who participated in the three-day celebration of thanksgiving proclaimed by Gov. William Bradford, wrote back to England as follows:

"Our harvest being gotten in, our Governor sent four men on fowling; that so we might after a more special manner rejoice together, after we had gathered in the fruit of our labours; there was one day killed as much fowl, as with a little help besides, served the company almost a week, at which time amongst other recreations, we exercised our Armes, many of the Indians coming amongst us, and amongst the rest their greatest King Massasoit, with some ninety men, whom for three days we entertained and feasted, and they went out and killed five Deer, which they carried to the Plantation and bestowed on our Governor, and upon the (captain) (Standish) and others."

There is no doubt that chief among the "fowls" at this feast was the wild turkey. However, according to Mary Austin, writing in the New York Evening Post, "Our elevation of the turkey to the place of honor on the Thanksgiving dinner table is not entirely owing to its traditional importance to the first American Thanksgiving day; it is a tribute to the homelike instinct of the Puritan women, who made the turkey brood a part of that association of men and their wild brethren which is inseparable from the human life of home. The Indians domesticated the turkey chiefly for his feathers, which they prized. But I have no doubt that the English housewife, arriving chickens, got her first feeling of being at home from the brooding cluck of the turkey hen about her door.

It is a curious paradox that this native American bird should come to our Thanksgiving tables bearing a foreign name which gives the erroneous suggestion that he came from the European-Asiatic country of Turkey. Yet such is the case and here is how it came about. The Spaniards, who conquered Mexico, found turkeys, both wild and domesticated, in that country as early as 1519. They began sending the strange birds from the New World back to Spain and the Jewish merchants, who were the leading dealers in such commodities at that time, called them "American Turkeys," meaning "American parakeets," from their habit of strutting. From "tukki" the word was corrupted to "turkey" and it became a common domesticated fowl in Europe.

It is probable that not one turkey in a thousand which will grace the Thanksgiving table this year will be a native wild turkey. For the original New England wild turkey (Meleagris Americana) is all but extinct in the part of the country where he first made his appearance on that festival board. The wild turkey of today (Meleagris gallopavo silvestris), according to ornithologists, is found in greatly reduced numbers only from Pennsylvania and Ohio south to the Gulf states and west to Arkansas.

There is a smaller variety, the Florida wild turkey, in that state; in southern Texas is another, the Rio Grande turkey and in the Rocky Mountain region, another, Merriam's turkey. All modern domesticated turkeys are derived from the Mexican wild turkey (Meleagris Mexicana) of the earliest days. From him comes the exquisite pencilled variety of the modern domesticated bronzed turkeys. Other varieties, bred up from "sports" of this wild progenitor are the Narragansett, the Buff, the Black, the Slate, the Bourbon Red and the White Holland.

But whatever the variety of the turkey we eat on Thanksgiving, the truth of the matter is that he is an immigrant, so far as ancestry is concerned. For he traces back to the Mexican turkey which was carried to Spain spread through other European countries and then came back across the water to a new home farther north. In the range of the allied but distinct wild species which the Pilgrim and Puritan fathers hunted through the woods of Plymouth and Massachusetts Bay colonies. So perhaps it is appropriate that a state which borders on Mexico, rather than a New England state, should now be the "turkey state of America." And that is what the state of Texas is. It produces one-tenth of all the turkeys raised in the 48 states of the Union. Down in the "Heart of Texas" district, comprising 17 counties, the farmers have found that it is more profitable to raise turkeys than it is to raise hogs. So they have gone into the turkey business on a large and co-operative scale. One year they shipped 200 cars of dressed turkey—4,000,000 pounds of drumsticks and wishbones and gizzards of fowl. These are shipped all over the United States and it is a curious "coast-to-Newcastle" proposition the Texas turkey treat." Cuero, Texas which is said to be the largest shipping point for turkeys in the world is generally credited with being the birthplace of this unique ceremony. Just before Thanksgiving a turkey day is set aside. All who have turkeys to sell drive them to the central market, sometimes for 20 to 30 miles, the flocks consisting of as many as $100 to 10,000 fowl. Thirty men drive 8,000 turkeys 13 miles in two days in a drive of this kind, a wagon is driven just in front of the turkeys and a little crew is scattered to the leaders to keep them moving. Those that become tame or tired are placed in the wagon and hauled to town. At nightfall, provision is made to stop under a grove of trees where the turkeys may roost.

When the harvest festival rolls around, this Texas community pays homage to its most famous and profitable crop and celebrates the end of the season with appropriate ceremonies. The turkey reigns as un-crowned king of the festival, and a parade is held.

A similar ceremony is held at Brady, Texas, another important shipping point. A writer in the New York Times described last year's "turkey trot" at Brady as follows:

"The hour for the fourth annual parade of turkey has arrived in Brady, Texas. Miss Carmen Anderson, the turkey queen, selected by a secret committee, sits smiling on her float. The turkey queen, escorted by the chamber of commerce band seems about to come to the front along the pavement, but she is swung into line. Fifteen hundred live turkeys, judding, strut and scold along the pavement, and it is that nation may live joyfully on Thanksgiving day."

In the line of march are turkeys for President Coolidge, Vice President Dawes, Speaker Longworth and Governor Moody. And the parades do not represent all the turkeys in the heart of Texas. Five thousand are in buyers' yards, not far away and 20,000 birds already have been shipped to northern markets. Only the plump are selected for the Thanksgiving sale. Many are still on the farms, being fattened for Christmas, when the prices will be higher than at present.

The big birds receive more consideration than those that took part in the Texas turkey trots before the World war. Then Tom and Jack drove their little herds to market, and buyers, assisted by four or five boys, drove a herd of 100 ten miles in a day. Recently the turkeys have been brought in to market by truck. However, they are not in a good humor for their triumphant exit from the farm. For turkeys are given nothing to eat for fifteen hours before the execution, although they are given water. They do not stir. They march inside and the doors close for an minute they are sent to a refrigeration plant, ready for shipment to New York, Milwaukee or Dallas.

They are given a bath with hazel eyes, they are bled and white in color. They gobble-gobble. Even the sight of the yawning doors of four tiers of turkeys does not stir them. They march inside and the doors close for an minute they are sent to a refrigeration plant, ready for shipment to New York, Milwaukee or Dallas.

early as 1799. After the Dominion of Canada was formed in 1807 it was customary to have at least one day of Thanksgiving every year, although there were some irregularities in this respect. Usually Thanksgiving day in Canada was on a Thursday in October or November. Since 1921, however, Thanksgiving day is set by parliamentary statute for the Monday of the week containing Armistice day November 11—"The Pathfinder. Some acts are quicker than thought

A Doctor Talks About Cascara

It is unfortunate that many people judge the thoroughness of a laxative by its violence. The salts that rush through the system may not even penetrate the film of poisonous matter that has coated the colon. A long list of drugs will "loosen the bowels" but what is the best way to CLEANSE them?

The world's best laxative is one that Mother Nature makes in her own laboratory. It is the bark of a tree, called CASCARA. The Indians used to chew this bark—and reach old age without a sick day. It is the best thing there is today, for any system; best for the blood. The most beneficial in its action on the bowels, of anything yet discovered. For many reasons:

Mother Tells How Milk Emulsion Saved Her Son's Life

"In November, 1918, I wrote you in reference to my son's condition at that time. He had just gotten over the flu and double pneumonia and he looked as if he would never be a well boy again. His lungs were very weak and he had an awful cough. We thought he was going into consumption. He had pneumonia four times. This had taken all of his vitality and left his lungs in a very bad shape. "I saw Milk Emulsion advertised in the Birmingham News, got a large bottle and gave it to my son. It did him so much good that I kept on giving him Milk Emulsion until he had taken 125 bottles and now I am very proud to tell you that my boy is a well, strong young man, 15 years old, and in excellent health. I give Milk Emulsion the credit and praise for having saved his life. "I can publish this letter if you like, as I am very grateful to you for what your Emulsion did for my son. MRS. J. A. The Sacred Pumpkin

"The pumpkin, or pompon," we read in Peters' "General History of Connecticut," published in 1781, "is one of the greatest blessings, and held sacred in New England. Of its meat are made beer, bread, catsup, sauce, molasses, vinegar and, of thanksgiving days, pies, as a substitute for what the blue laws brand as anti-Christian mixed pies."

Englanders were called pumpkin heads. As every meal was required to have its hair cut round by a cup, "when cups were not to be had, they substituted the hard shell of a pumpkin, which, being put on the head every Saturday, the hair is cut by the shell all around the head."—Gas Legit.

OLD FOLKS SAY
WAS RIGHT

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice.

He treated constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are all the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a combination ofenna and other mild herbs, with pepsin.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs!

A bottle will last several months, and all can use it. It is pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. Elderly people find it ideal. All drug stores have the generous bottles, or write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. B5, Monticello, Illinois, for free trial bottle.

PAUL'S EXPERIENCES IN JERUSALEM

LESSON TEXT—Acts 21:18-22. GOLDEN TEXT—Be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might.
PRIMARY TOPIC—How a Boy Held His Uncle.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul Proves His Courage.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Religious Prejudice and Fanaticism.

I. Paul's Vow (21:18-20). Upon Paul's arrival at Jerusalem representatives of the church there gave him a most cordial reception. In order that the brethren in Jerusalem might graciously receive him, it was proposed to him by the elders that he take a Jewish vow to prove that he was in no way opposed to the law. The effort was to remove prejudice.

II. Paul's Arrest (21:27-40). How this act complicated the Christian Jews we are not told, but it only enraged the unbelieving Jews, causing them to resort to mob law. These malicious Jews on the basis of a supposition seized Paul, dragged him from the temple and beat him mercilessly, intending to put him to death. Paul was rescued from the mob by the Roman guard. The chief captain, not being able to get any information from the howling mob, bound Paul and took him to the castle. In order to protect him, the soldiers lifted him upon their shoulders and bore him up the stairs.

III. Paul's Defense (21:27). Paul's chief concern was not his own safety. He used this last opportunity of witnessing for Christ.

1. His jail claim for a hearing (vv. 13-14).
(1) His birth (v. 3). He was Jewish in Tarsus, a city of no mean reputation.

(2) His education (v. 3). He was educated in a school under the tutelage of Gamaliel and instructed "according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers."
(3) His zeal (v. 3). He was as zealous toward God as those Jews who were trying to destroy him.

2. His former attitude toward Jesus (vv. 4, 5).
"I persecuted this way unto the death," so that his attitude was one of hatred as was that of the Jews.

3. How his attitude was changed (vv. 6-10).
This change of attitude was brought about by the intervention of God. While on his way to Damascus with authority to bring the Christians to Jerusalem to be punished, Paul was smitten by the light from heaven, and the voice of the Lord said, "Why persecutest thou Me?"

When Paul inquired as to what he was to do, he was told to go into Damascus where he would be told what to do. Ananias was sent by the Lord to make known His will.
4. The Lord commissioned him to go to the Gentiles (vv. 17-21).
It was not of his own will that he preached to the Gentiles, but by the Lord's direct commission.

IV. Paul Before the Sanhedrin (23:1-10).
The Roman officer, in order to learn why Paul was arrested, commanded the chief council to assemble, and brought Paul before them.

1. Paul's earnest look at the council (vv. 1, 2).
This was a solicitation of their honor to give him a fair hearing, and also a look of conscious integrity and unflinching courage.

2. Paul's stern rebuke of the head of the council (v. 3).
"God shall smite thee, thou whitened man!" This was a just sentence, no doubt directed by the Lord. Paul showed that he had the highest respect for the office, but the man then executing it was not worthy of it.

3. Paul's appeal to the Pharisees (vv. 6-10).
Seeing that he could not get a fair hearing, and perceiving that the body before him was made up of Pharisees and Sadducees, he appealed to the Pharisees for his preaching and something in common with their belief.

V. The Lord Stood by Paul (v. 11).
He was in great need of grace to sustain him. He may have begun to question the wisdom of his going to Jerusalem, but it assured him that his course was right, and thus comfort was brought to him.

VI. The Conspiracy to Kill Paul (vv. 18-22).
More than forty men banded together for the purpose of getting Paul out of the way. This plot was known to Paul's sister's son (v. 19), who reported it, and thus doubtless saved the apostle's life.

Letters "Relayed" in Early Colonial Days

In the English colonies in America before 1639 such postal facilities as existed were supplied by private enterprise. In 1630 the General court of Massachusetts took the first step toward the establishment of a government postal system. In Virginia such a planter was required to convey the dispatches, as they arrived, to the next plantation, and so on. In 1672 the government of New York established a monthly mail to Boston, and this practice was followed in other colonies. Benjamin Franklin was identified with the early interests of the colonial post office. In 1737 he was appointed postmaster of Philadelphia. In 1733 the delivery of letters by penny post was begun. In 1770 the colonies combined to establish their own post office and to pay the necessary officials. The Continental Congress appointed a committee to devise a postal system, which went into effect July 26, 1775. Benjamin Franklin was unanimously appointed postmaster general.

Cutting Critique.

Robert Saint-Hubert, professor of painting at the Fontainebleau school, was shown over a very blatant new apartment house the other day by its owner, a New York builder.
"Yes," the man said, at the end of the visit of inspection, "I guess there ain't an apartment house like this in the world. Twenty-four stories, 7 elevators, 3,000 rooms, 800 bathrooms, and best of all"—here he paused impressively—"best of all, sir, the place is fireproof, absolutely fireproof, throughout."
"Oh, what a pity!" said Mr. Saint-Hubert.

NOTICE

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff of any Constable of Bailey County—Greeting:
YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED That you summon, by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Bailey, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published once a week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, T. J. Broom and the unknown heirs of T. J. Broom, J. A. Enswinger and the unknown heirs of J. A. Enswinger, and Wm. E. Thomas and the unknown heirs of Wm. E. Thomas, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Hon. District Court at the next regular term thereof, to be held in the County of Bailey, at the Court House hereof, in Muleshoe, on the 31st day of December, 1928, then and there to answer a Petition filed in said Court, on the 27th day of October, A. D. 1928, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 469, wherein Hale County is plaintiff and T. J. Broom and the unknown heirs of T. J. Broom, and J. A. Enswinger and the unknown heirs of J. A. Enswinger, and Wm. E. Thomas and the unknown heirs of Wm. E. Thomas are defendants. The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, to-wit: In two counts, the first of which is a trespass to try title suit, plaintiff alleging that he is the owner in fee simple of tract No. 3, in League No. 170, Hale County, School lands located in Bailey County; that on the 15th day of June, 1923, the defendants unlawfully entered and took possession of same and withhold possession from the plaintiff, who is the owner of said land and entitled to possession of the same. Plaintiff sues for title and possession of said land.

The second count alleges that the plaintiff was the owner of tract No. 3, League No. 170, Hale County School lands located in Bailey County, Texas, on June 13th, 1916 and on said date sold same to T. J. Broom, and in said deed reserved a vendor's lien to secure a note executed by said T. J. Broom to plaintiff in the sum of $1204.82 bearing interest at the rate of 5% per annum, and providing for 10% attorney's fees. Said note provides that interest is payable annually as it accrues, and that in default in the payment of any installment of interest matures all of said indebtedness. That the other defendants are claiming some sort of title to said land, under a pretended conveyance of said land but which claim is inferior to the claim of the plaintiff. Default having been made in the payment of six installments of interest, plaintiff has matured all of said note and placed it in the hands of an attorney for collection. It prays for judgment on its note and for a foreclosure of its lien on said land, and for judgment declaring its title superior to any of the defendants' pretended claim. Said Petition has indorsed on the back thereof, suit to try title as well as for damages.

HEREIN FAIL NOT. And have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Muleshoe, Texas, this 27th day of October, A. D. 1928.
