SPUR BUSINESS MEN SEND WINNER OF CLUB GIRL CONTEST TO SHORT COURSE

SPUR LAUNDRY INSTALLS ADDITIONAL MACHINERY

The Spur Laundry is installing a new water softener which will have much to do with the efficiency of the plant. Mrs. Lewis continues to build up the laundry and it is hoped she will be able to give us one of the best laundries in Texas.

We understand, also that the laundry is now making preparations to take care of the collar business of the town. It might pay us to throw our work to the laundry and thereby give assistance to making it greater in the course of time.

OFF TO EASTERN MARKETS

Mrs. Newt Harkey, of B. Schwarz & Son's big store, is leaving in a few days for St. Louis, Baltimore and New York for the purpose of purchasing new stock for the store. She will buy the staple lines in St. Louis and Baltimore and the novelties in New York.

The purchase made by Mrs. Harkey will place this store in the city class for supplies this fall and winter. She states that should any one desire any thing special she would be glad to get it for them while away.

There is a big move on foot by Spur merchants to keep their lines of merchandise up to standard, and there will be no need of any one going to Dallas or any other city for their needs for they can get the same things in Spur and save money.

A BRIDAL SHOWER

Members of the Christian Ladies Aid Society gave a very delightful shower to Mrs. Elzy Watson Wednesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Watson returned from their honeymoon trip to Colorado the last of the week. They married and started for Colorado at once and had been away several days, and this was the first opportunity their friends had of extending them the glad wishes. Many beautiful and useful presents were received by Mrs. Watson which were a great delight to her.

Dr. Leburin Sanford, of Lamesa, is here this week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Link.

George Gabriel, of Roaring Springs, was looking after business affairs here Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Grimes returned Sunday from a few days vacation and visit with friends in Junction City, San Angelo and Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wilkes returned the last of the week from a big fishing trip and a visit to friends in Junction, Fort Worth and Dallas. They traveled about 1500 miles with comparatively no car trouble.

A WORD OF APPRECIATION

I wish to thank the good people of the Spur trade territory for the patronage given the Lyric Theatre under my management. The business grew all the time, and I feel that it was due to your appreciation of the manner in which I handled it. Again thanking you, I am,

Very Truly Yours,
W. W. FLOURNOY.

The winners of the Club Work for Girls of Dickens County were Misses Odel Harris and Dannie Street, both of Dickens. The girls were promised a trip to the Short Course given at the A. & M. College and to assist them in securing this trip different business firms of Spur made small donations. This is a great work and Spur people are always willing to lend assistance to it. Of course, the young ladies are very grateful for the opportunity, but we feel that they deserve the kindness shown.

RECEIVED SAD MESSAGE

Mrs. H. P. Schrimsher received a message Monday that her sister in Mineral Wells had died of acute appendicitis. Mr. and Mrs. Schrimsher left immediately for Mineral Wells in answer to the summons.

Friends deeply sympathize with Mr. Schrimsher in their sad hour.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR

There comes a time in the life of all human events, more especially in the growth and development of government, when the services of a big, broad-minded, courageous and intelligent leader is needed, and badly needed. Whether it be in a school precinct, a small town, a county, a large city, a state or a nation, there comes a time in the process of government building when the need of this leadership is recognized above and beyond all other requirements.

This time is now at hand in Dickens County, as is evidenced by the bitter fight that has developed in the County Judge's race. This leader has developed in the person of one candidate who both mentally and physically stands head and shoulders above them all. Clean in his thinking, clean in his habits, clean in his business dealings, clean in his personal campaigning, and clean in his speech making, this man has grown from an already important factor in this Campaign to the leader of the hour.

As you have already guessed this man is none other than our fellow-countryman and neighbor, W. A. Craddock. Mr. Craddock is a successful farmer and knows the problems the farmer must face and grapple with. Mr. Craddock is an educated man and knows the needs and requirements of the schools and other educational institutions. Mr. Craddock is familiar with the parliamentary usages and will preside over your Commissioners Court with dignity and intelligence. Mr. Craddock has had plenty of business experience, and will give you a business administration.

With the knowledge that he has all these excellent qualities it behooves us, fellow citizens, to each and every one go to the polls on Saturday July the 24th and vote unanimously for W. A. Craddock for COUNTY JUDGE.—An Admirer. (Political Advertisement)

IMPROVEMENT AT LINK HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Link are having the fence removed from the front of their residence and having it replaced with a nice line of concrete work. In order to keep out stray stock they are having concrete post constructed with a chain at the top, which will be very appropriate. Chas. Whitner is doing the work and is taking a great deal of time to make a good job of it.

HON JUDGE HIGGINS SPEAKS IN BEHALF OF MOODY

Attorney Robert Higgins, of Lubbock, but for many years a citizen of Marlin, spoke in Spur in behalf of the candidacy of Attorney General Dan Moody for Governor. In the course of his address Mr. Higgins stated that the only accusation the politicians could get against Mr. Moody, is that Moody is too young. In reply to this Mr. Higgins said it was wonderful how it is getting to be a sin to be young. He then stated that some of the greatest achievements rendered in the annals of American history were accomplished by young men. He said "When only thirty years of age Alexander Hamilton founded the American system of coinage, a system that has done wonders for our country. If Jim Ferguson and Lynch Davidson had been living at that time they might have told Mr. Hamilton he was too young to take charge of the United States Treasury. Continuing he said, "Thomas Jefferson was only thirty-three years of age when he wrote the Declaration of Independence. There were many older men than he at the time, but they placed the work on a young man. No doubt there were some Jim Fergusons and Lynch Davidsons who told Jefferson he was too young, but we never hear of their names, while

BRYANT-LINK COMPANY

Fifty Years Ago
Things are different. Some better, some worse. Folks boiled coffee and settled it with an egg. Ladies rode side saddles. Little Johnnie wore brass toed boots and daddy wore brogans. It took twenty minutes to shine shoes with Mason's Shoe Blackening. Ladies dresses reached the ground. People served pot liquor instead of canned soup. Indigestion was called plain stomach ache. About the only crooks people now remember were lightning rod agents. Cottonseed were considered fairly good fertilizer.

The fellow who owned a buggy was considered a rich man. A man who rode back riding was considered the swiftest way for the doctor to reach his patient.

We like most of the changes and hope the future may have in store greater blessings for the human family.

Our buyers go to market next week to select merchandise for you. We have about twenty people who go and naturally our business is sought after by the best concerns in the wholesale world. We have option on the lines of merchandise of greatest merit and by quantity buying get prices much better than the average merchant who has only one store to buy for.

We only handle durable lines of merchandise. We could buy cheaper goods but we know our customers appreciate values and the wonderful business we have built up has come to us because we have given you merchandise of merit.

If you need any kind of tin work, we have one of the best equipped shops in this part of the State. We can do any kind of tin work, we make our own corrugated tanks and they are better. We make a specialty of tin roofs. It pays to roof your building with tin. It will last life time.

Mr. Brown, who has been in charge of our furniture department, has resigned and is going to Houston for his health and to do out of door work. He expects to engage in the cotton business. Mr. Wester, from Sulphur Springs, a young man who has been reared in the furniture business, is coming to take Mr. Brown's place.

Our Mr. Lewis visiting friends in New Mexico this week. He says that the rabbits in that country are in fine condition this year.

Say, folks, we feel good over the crop prospects and are hopeful that 1926 will be better for us than 1925 whether oil will come in or not.

We have a new man in our grocery department. Mr. Vester Patterson, from Gunter, Texas. He comes highly recommended to us as being a man of good Christian Character and a groceryman of real ability.

Come to Spur, the best town between Stamford and Lubbock. Lots of good stores here and we have the best plant OF ITS KIND in the State so far as we have been able to find out.

Come with the crowds and bring the children.

BRYANT-LINK COMPANY

the name of Jefferson adorns the annals of our history.

In speaking of Senate Bill No. 180, Mr. Higgins stated that "Mr. Moody had no more to do with the passage of that bill than did any of you to whom I am speaking. Mr. Moody never was in the State Legislature in his life more than making a visit to the legislative halls. Then why heap the responsibility upon him as Lynch Davidson is doing? Mr. Davidson, while in the Senate proposed a measure that was many times more dangerous to the anti-trust law than is Senate Bill 180. The only thing about Mr. Davidson's proposed bill was that he could not get action on it."

In reference to the present administration Mr. Higgins stated that he did not see how the people could confide in Jim Ferguson as their friend. "A man that will use a public office to favor his political friends is betraying us common people. Mr. Ferguson has made it convenient to secure great appropriations for roads in certain counties, and, My friends, Dickens County was not one of them. The Citizens of West Texas have to travel dirt roads while Jim Ferguson, the supposed friend of the laboring man, is taking the States money and turning it over to rich people for paved roads in their counties. The courts of Travis County ruled that through Mr. Ferguson's influence, the American Road Company was paid $600,000 too much profit. Does that appeal to you as being your friend, when he takes your money and turns it over to a construction company, and then with out bond for your security?"

"People we have but to refer to the records to get what has been accomplished by the present administration. We find by searching the records that bidders on road work were refused as the lowest bidders on the excuse of incompetency in one county and the same bidder accepted as the highest bidder on favorable terms in other counties. Do you believe that is good business, and do you believe Mr. Ferguson's such influence that friend?"

Mr. Higgins stated in the course of his remarks that he had known Dan Moody a long time, that he had been in school and that Mr. Moody was one of the most efficient boys in school he ever saw. He stated that an ordinary boy could not have made enough to clothe himself and take care of a widowed mother as Dan Moody did when he was in school. He said that when a school boy "Dan Moody was either studying or was on the run to do some task to make a few dollars to care for his home."

Upon being asked privately about Moody's record in the State University Mr. Higgins said, "He was one of the best in his class. He did not know what fail meant and could accomplish more to the length of time than any person I ever knew."

Mr. Higgins implored the people to vote for honest officials for every office from the Governor down. He stated that he was not a politician, was not running for office and did not expect to go into politics, but said, "I am an American citizen, and have the deepest interest in the affairs of our State."

There were approximately fifteen hundred people who heard Judge Higgins' talk, and many who had declared themselves for other candidate before, stated that they expected to support Dan Moody for Governor.

NO BAND REHEARSALS AT PRESENT

We are authorized to announce that at present there will be no Sunday afternoon band concerts as so many of the members are away on their vacation. However, the practice is being kept up and some excellent selection learned so that when normal conditions are met the band will be able to give some good numbers.

Mr. Collum, the director is working diligently and the members still have a greater degree of interest than ever before. The Northwest Texas Fair will soon be on us and the band is making every preparation to be prepared for that occasion. There will be one place that we will appreciate the need of our band.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. West, of Bronte, Texas, were in our city Wednesday. Mr. West is editor and publisher of the Bronte Enterprise.

DICKENS COUNTY INCLUDED IN POTASH FIELD

Hon. John M. Spellman, of Dallas, President of the Society for the Scientific Development of Texas' Natural Resources, has made a list of West Texas Counties that are included in the field for Potash development. Of this list of counties. Dickens County heads the list and will be included in the survey at the proper time. The counties are Dickens, Potter, Randall, Midland, Dawson, Borden, Ward Glasscock, Loving and Reagan.

Mr. Spellman will put forth an effort to secure aid from the Federal Government which has been appropriated as the result of a bill recently passed by Congress and approved by President Coolidge. This bill was introduced by Senator Shepherd and no doubt he had the development of West Texas in mind when he placed the measure before Congress.

The chief thing that brought Dickens county before the eyes of the Society for Scientific Development and caused Mr. Spellman to take so much consideration was the well drilled just south of Spur. This gave an opportunity for the study of different strata and the fact of Potash formation was revealed.

There is no doubt about the Government furnishing funds for the development of this new field. If this field is developed it may supplant the importation of Potash from Germany and thereby reserve our national earnings to the amount of several hundred thousand dollars.

Oyster Cocktails with Mayonnaise
Pick over and clean selected oysters. Par boil in their own liquid until they are plump. Drain, when cool remove the tough muscles. Marinate soft portions with French dressing, cover and thoroughly chill. Dispose on small lettuce heart leaves, arrange on small individual plates, allowing five oysters to each service. Set a small rose of mayonnaise on each oyster, using a pastry bag and small rose tube. Serve at once.

Grape fruit Salad
Remove the sections from a large heavy grape fruit that has been cut in halves crosswise. Chill. Arrange lettuce leaves on individual plates. Slightly thin mayonnaise dressing with cream, just before serving pile the fruit in center of lettuce leaves and mask with creamed mayonnaise. Sprinkle with paprika. Serve at once, with a layer of the mixture, put together in pairs. Serve with oyster, clam or lobster cocktails.

Roast Stuffed Brisket of Veal
Select the fancy brisket or shoulder of veal; weighing five or six pounds; have bones removed and stuff (receipt for stuffing given below). Sew and skewer into shape, dredge with flour and psinkle with salt and pepper. Cover top with thin slices of salt pork, also bottom of pan. Bake in a hot oven, allowing 20 minutes to the pound. Bast every ten minutes with juice in pan. Add one cup of boiling water and continue basting. Remove pork from top of meat 30 minutes before done and brown richely. A delicious gravy may be made from the fat in pan.

Stuffing
Melt four tablespoons of butter, add one cup of cracker crumbs; stir until butter is absorbed. Add one teaspoon of finely chopped parsley, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon salt, one onion finely chopped and one cup of chopped mushrooms. Add 1-4 to 1-2 cup of hot water and stir until well blended.

Baked Potatoes
Select smooth, medium sized potatoes. Wash and scrub with a vegetable brush. Place in a shallow pan. Bake in a hot oven from 40 to 45 minutes. Turn once while baking. Remove from oven and serve immediately. If allowed to stand after baking unless skin is broken and steam allowed to escape, they will become soggy.

Cabbage au Gratin
Cut 1-2 head of boiled cabbage

pastry and fill with following mixture. Beat the yolks of two eggs until light; add one cup of sugar; the grated yellow rind and juice of one lemon; 1-8 tsp. salt. Cook one one-half cups of seedless raisin in a very little water until plump. Drain (reserve water). Cool and chop. Add to first mixture and if the latter seems dry add a little of the raisin water, dot over with 1-2 tbsp. butter and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. When cool, cover with meringue made of the white of two eggs beaten until stiff, add gradually four tsp. sugar and continue beating until mixture will hold its shape when piped on pie. Sprinkle lightly with sugar and cook slowly at first in the oven, then brown quickly.

GREENLAND STATIONS TO WARN OF HURRICANES

"Greenland's Icy Mountains", famed in the century old hymn, are in reality one immense flat ice cap extending two miles above the sea level and spread over a base of rock surface for hundreds of miles. Except for the margin along the coast, which is rough and broken like other arctic ice formations, this ice is, so far as is known, so smooth an airplane could land on it most anywhere without difficulty. It has been represented by some that the special contour of this ice-cap causes the cold winds that form above it to develop hurricane velocities, and that they are influential in causing many North Atlantic storms that take a heavy toll of life and shipping.

Scientists feel that meteorological observation should be taken at points where these winds originate, and such may ultimately be of great value to vessels at sea. To establish stations for making observations and for investigating other weather phenomena characteristic of Greenland, the University of Michigan has sent an expedition which left Sydney, N. S., the last week in June, and will set up a base at Holstensborg, Greenland. S. P. Fergusson has been loaned by the Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture to supervise the installation of the meteorological stations proposed by the expedition. He will direct the selecting of sites for stations, serve as meteorologist in charge of all instruments and methods during the three months this summer, conduct aerological work with balloons and make observation of temperature, barometric pressure, clouds, wind velocity and directions and other conditions.

Another problem to be studied by the expedition is that of dealing with icebergs near their birth place, on the border of Greenland's ice-cap. It is thought that it might be possible to break them up with explosives, much as ice dams are broken, before they drift down to endanger shipping on transatlantic steamship lanes. This summer's expedition is chiefly for reconnaissance in preparation for the major explorations and studies to be made in 1927.

COURTSHIP AND BUSINESS

John Jones was glum. His voluble friend, who had been trying to tell him a brace of stories in the hope of shaking a smile out of him, gave it up at last. They had been intimate for years.

"Out with it old man, what's wrong? 'A whole lot," said Jones. "I don't understand it, but my wife is so difficult that I dread to go home. She greets me with a complaint before I have slipped off my coat; or the mark of tears are on her face; or she spits out a hard luck tail before I have crossed the threshold. I don't understand it."

"Perhaps, your attitude toward her has changed?" asked the friend.

"Nope! Treat her as I've always treated her. Awfully fond of her, but she's making a little merry hell for me."

"When you were engaged, you used to stop at the florist's and send her some choice flowers, ed?"

"Yep."

"And a pound of candy when you went to see her?"

"Yep."

"And you talked to her about things that interested her, very little about business and you didn't bury your nose in the newspaper so that she had to repeat her question before you answered it, eh?"

"Y-e-e-s, I guess so."

"Well," said his friend, "I suggest that you resume your old habits that helped to make you interesting to her—candy, flowers and those nice little attentions that make a lover a lover."

"I'll try it," said Jones.

And he did. He stopped at the florist and at the confectioner's for some choice chocolates. He reached home with the bundles under his arm.

His helpmate saw the offering and burst into tears.

"What's the matter," he asked helplessly.

"Everything the matter. Jackie's down with the whooping cough, and Ping Pong has distemper and now you've come home drunk!"

Jones was a little dashed, but it proved to him his friend was right and he had been dead wrong. He became a lover again.

Business is a good deal like marriage. Many marriages are like Jones'. They are failures because he efforts to charm and serve that mark courtship drops out of life at home. It is not perceived that marriage is continuous courtship—when it succeeds.

Many business men behave toward old customers as Jones behaved before he saw the light. They think the old customers will take care of themselves and that all advertising effort should be spent to secure new customers.

It is a strange blindness that fails to see that methods and service that attract customers are the same that will keep them. It will not do to take a customer for granted.

It is as true of customers as it is of dollars that a customer kept is a customer earned.

The backbone of every business is its steady customers—the men and the women who come to stay.

If you want them to spend their money with you, spend a little time and thought and care on them. Of course, you will not deliberately give them cause to quit you. But you must go further than that. You must give them the best reason for staying with you. You must keep them sold. In other words treat them as you did when you courted them.

OIL SITUATION LOOK GOOD

The attitude of the people in regard to the oil outlook is still hopeful, and conditions look very encouraging. There has been a great deal of money exchanged hands as a result of the future prospects. However, there has been no oil displayed that would indicate that a good strike has been made.

The Deep Rock twenty miles southwest of Spur is getting along fine. They are still using the reamer and lowering the eight inch casing. How long it will require to get this work over is not known. Prospects are looking good and the log is showing up fine.

The Jones No. 1, six miles northeast of town is in operation now. The drill is moving steadily day and night and casing is being placed on the ground ready to hand the next string. There is much hopes in this well proving a good one. Mr. Clancey is on the ground all the time and is using every available effort to push the work.

The Garrett Hall, No. 1, on the Pitch Fork Ranch is plodding away. Mr. Mikels has everything in good shape at the well and work is progressing. The eight inch casing has been received and has been placed at the well ready when it is needed. The well seems to be a very prospective one and the log is showing up very encouraging.

All three of these wells are in the Spur territory and all of them look very good. The formation and every thing else carries out about the same

REGULARITY IN FEEDING MORE IMPORTANT THAN MILKING

Of all dairy operations, milking on most farms takes the greatest amount of time, and to many persons is the most irksome task. It has been commonly assumed that cows should not only be milked regularly, but also by the same man each time. Doubtless this has had much to do with the distaste many persons have for dairy work.

Experiments by the United States States Department of Agriculture at the experimental farm of the Bureau of Dairying at Beltsville, Md., showing that with cows that are average to good, milking may take place at irregular hours without any market effect upon production. Whether very high producers would show similar results has not been determined.

It was found, however, that when irregular milking was accompanied by irregular feeding the production was lessened about 5 per cent. Apparently cows are more sensitive to changes in the feeding routine than to variations in hours of milking. The conclusion is not to be drawn from these experiments that regularity in doing dairy work is a matter of little importance, but rather that cows can occasionally be milked later than usual if there is something else the dairyman desires to give his time.

Though it is generally believed that a cow will produce more when milked by the same person, the practice in many large dairies where there are several milkers is to milk the cows as they came rather than to reserve certain cows for each man. At the Bureau Experimental Farm, twelve cows were divided into three groups of four cows each, and each group was milked regularly by the same man for 40 days. The same twelve cows were then milked by the same men in such a way that no cow was milked twice in succession by the same man. After 40 days the cows were changed to regular milking again for 40 days. The result shows an increase of only about 0.05 per cent in the milk and butter fat through steady milking by the same man. This is so little as to be almost negligible.

We give S. & H. Green Saving Stamps.—SPUR DRUG STORE.

COOPERATIVE BECOMES BIG FACTOR IN MARKETING OF EGGS

Thirty per cent more eggs were marketed cooperatively in the United States in 1925 than in 1924, it is estimated by the United States Department of Agriculture. A number of recently formed cooperative organizations reached their full stride as marketing agencies during the year and many of the older associations received larger quantities of eggs from their members.

Gains in the cooperative marketing of eggs are particularly large in Missouri, where county exchanges and centrally established assembling and packing plants, have been developed. In Minnesota a substantial increase in cooperative marketing of eggs was due largely to the expansion in the business of the Minnesota Egg and Poultry Exchange, a federation of 17 local units and 22,000 members. This organization did not begin operation until the latter part of 1924. Yet in 1925 it handled a larger number of cases of Minnesota eggs that had ever before gone through cooperative channels in that state.

New cooperative associations organized to handle eggs began operations last year at Hannibal, Mo., Portland, Me., and Wauseon, Ohio. Fifty-eight cooperative elevators, creameries and stores began in 1925 to handle eggs as an additional service to their members. Large quantities of eggs were marketed for cooperative associations through cooperative sales agencies in New York, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

RETURNS—SAYS SON IS NO BETTER—HAD BREAKDOWN
(Delayed from last week)

W. A. Craddock has been in Austin for several days, returned to Spur Monday. He was called away on account of the illness of his son, John, who had a very severe nervous breakdown. Mr. Craddock stated the boy was normal mentally, but that the muscles were breaking down.

He took his son to the Scott & White Sanitarium at Temple, where a thorough examination continued through one and one half days. Then the doctors held no encouragement. Mr. Craddock then took the son back to Austin, where he could be with his mother.

John is about twenty-three or twenty-four years of age, and has spent a great deal of his life in Dickens County. He has acquired a good education through the kindness of his parents and his own efforts. He is a very successful teacher, possessing great qualities of leadership. It seems that his condition is untimely after he has made such great preparation for the future in this life.

Mr. and Mrs. Craddock have made great sacrifices in order to give their children good educations. Mrs. Craddock has spent most of the past six years in Austin over-seeing the children while they attended the State University, and Mr. Craddock has continued faithfully with the farm here to make a support for them. They have sacrificed companionship for each other for the sake of their children.

YOUNG MAN TAKING CASING CAUGHT BY NICHOLS
(Delayed from last week)

Some three weeks ago M. Hargrove lost two casing which were taken from his truck at the Hargrove gin. Again Tuesday night while at church a visitor in Spur from Oklahoma had a cushion stolen from his car. This caused people to become alarmed and it was decided something to be done.

Officers M. L. Nichols and Ed McArthur were notified of the occurrence and they got busy. Wednesday morning the officers apprehended a young man at Jayton and found both casings and the cushion in his possession. An arrest was made and the man brought back to Spur, hailed before the courts and was assessed a good reasonable fine. He paid off and went on his way.

It seems that this was the first offense of the young man, and it is hoped it will be his last one. We are sure that it will be better for him to live straight and not be so embarrassing to his people.

K. K. K.

Miss Lera Harris was hostess to the Kolonial Kard Klub on Thursday evening of last week at 8:15 at the home of Mrs. William Manning.

After several hands of bridge Miss Annis Albin was awarded High Score prize and Miss Dorothy Williams High guest prize.

The following members and guest were then served with a salad course and iced drinks: Mrs. S. B. Scott, Jr., Misses Mildred Williams, Thelma Caraway, Dorothy Love, Lois Lee Annis Albin, Epsen Young, Nellie B. Albin, Dorothy Williams and Flossie Hawley.

Edgar Bulls and Clark Vaughn of Commerce, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Rash the first of the week. Mrs. Baxter Scroggins has returned to her home in Wichita Falls after spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Pink Higgins.

A new comer had just arrived at Gatling Gulch and being possessed with quite an amount of cash and finding there was no bank in the place, approached the clerk of the hotel Faro.

"Is there any one around here with whom it would be safe to trust a large sum of money?" he inquired timidly.

"Well," said the clerk, considering, "there's Pike Casey up in that third house on the left—he died last night."

Little Elsie was sitting on her grand father's lap. After looking at him intently for sometime she said:

"Grandfather, were you in the ark?"

"Certainly not," replied the astonished old man.

"Then, why weren't you drowned?"

A young woman of heroic build met a man who had known her father and mother. As he gazed at the plump

June the light of memory came into his eyes. "Let me see," he mused, "which side of the house do you resemble most?" "Sir," she cried in accents far from mild, "I don't resemble the side of any house."

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS:

You are hereby commanded to summon G. A. Montgomery by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of Justice Court of Precinct No. 3 of Dickens County, to be holden at the office of D. numbered on the docket of said Court No. 713, wherein W. D. Starcher is plaintiff and G. A. Montgomery is defendant, said suit being on two notes for the principal sum of $36.30 and $36.28 respectively, dated February 18, A. D. 1922, due June 18, 1922, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent and 10 per cent per annum, notes made payable to W. D. Starcher and signed by G. A. Montgomery, as maker of said notes.

D. A. YOUNG,
Justice of the Peace, Precinct No. 3, Dickens County, Texas.

Were any of your boyish ambitions every realized, asked the sentimentalist.

"Yes," replied the practical person. "When my mother used to cut my hair I often wished I might be ball headed."

CHRYSLER "60" SALES ALREADY MOR THAN $18,000,000

The first sixty days following the introduction, May 10, the public has paid more than $18,000,000 for the new Chrysler "60", J. E. Fields, vice-president in charge of sales of the Chrysler Corporation announced yesterday. Unfilled orders aggregated several million dollars has necessitated still larger production in an effort to catch up with the demand the car has created.

When the car was unveiled to the public production was set at 350 cars per day after a careful study of market requirements. Within two weeks demand has caused an increase to 400. That was followed early in June by a second and third step-up, first to 425 and 450 per day. Late in June the figure was set at 500 for this one car.

Mr. Fields pointed out that Chrysler policy for standardized quality and the features included in the car have combined to insure overwhelming success it has attained. Unit for unit in this car, he said, the same standard quality which is found in the "70" and Imperial "80" is apparent—in engineering design, materials, craftsmanship, rigidity of test and inspection and in all characteristics which determine dependability and long life.

Features of the "60" include 60 or more miles per hour; remarkable acceleration; extraordinary gasoline economy, exceeding 22 miles per gallon; typical Chrysler dynamic symmetry; astonishing riding ease and roadability; the safety of four wheel hydraulic brakes; oil filter and air cleaner; full pressure lubrication—seven bearing crankshaft; impulse neutralizer; road levelizers front and rear and roomy luxurious bodies that combine the Chrysler characteristics of compactness.

Sales of other Chrysler models, particularly of the "70" and Imperial "80" are also said to be at the highest point ever reached.

DICKEN COUNTY FARMERS ENDEAVOR TO IMPROVE DAIRY HERDS

July 16 marks the beginning of a definite dairy development in Dickens County with the introduction of 22 high production Jersey bulls. The animals are tied up in circles of four or five bulls to the circle, five circles in all.

Circle No. 1, located at McAdoo on the edge of the Plains has five bulls owned by E. E. Neely, M. C. Formby, F. F. Henry, C. C. Neeley. One bull is owned in common by J. W. Jones, Messrs. Robertson and Hunsucker. The Majesty blood line is represented in Circle No. 1.

Circle No. 2 has four bulls of Agnes Laddie breeding. The owners are E. J. Howell, J. L. Hutto and H. C. Boren. R. N. Jones, R. C. Jones and D. W. Thomason have an interest in this Circle. One bull in circle No. 2 is yet to be placed.

Circle No. 3, with 5 bulls, of Tormento breeding, includes Spur and vicinity. The owners are W. T. Wilson, W. F. Shugart, J. H. Hooper, R. E. Dickson and A. E. McClain.

Circle No. 4 is composed of four Cid bulls, all half brothers. In fact, two of them are twins.

M. S. Tavers, J. L. Karr, Walter Powell and Charlie Perrin own the Cid bulls. The Cid bulls cost $350.00 a piece. It will be interesting for folks to know that the sires of these Cid bulls sold for $30,000 June 5, 1924. This fact alone will cause Cid blood to be sought after.

Circle No. 4 is composed of four bulls of Fern's Lad breeding. The leaders are A. L. Pettigrew, Albert Power, W. L. Lusk and J. A. Legg. There are a number of other men interested, including R. E. Rogers, Mr. Porter, B. F. Middleton.

Circle No. 5 is composed of older bulls and are from Santa Gertrude's Jersey Farm, where the Cid bulls are from. Circles Nos. 1, 2, and 3 are composed of Lasater bulls.

Breeding Service

Five dollars ($5.00) is the fee on all these bulls. There will be no credit. It must be paid in advance by either buying breeding certificates from the keeper or the Spur National Bank.

These bulls cost from $200.00 to $350.00. The keepers of the bulls do not have the authority to grant credit or do free breeding.

In fact, the man keeping the bull is only part ownership in a bull circle. No one person owns a bull to himself. The owners are joint owners of a circle.

The rules and regulations of a circle are made by the members of the circle.

The governing body of each circle is composed of two members of the circle, W. B. Lee, banker, and Fred S. Reynolds, County Agent.

BULL CIRCLES

What is a bull circle? What are the advantages of a circle?

A group of men voluntarily associate themselves together, buy a number of bulls owned jointly and agree to exchange bulls every two years.

The advantages are:

1. The best bulls that can be bought.
2. Service fees can be collected to help pay the heavy expenses of buying and keeping a bull.
3. The circle settles the bull question for a number of years.
4. Every body has access to high powered bull service.

5. Regardless of circumstance death or removal of keeper, the bull remains in the county to sire high production daughters.

6. Should a bull die or otherwise be incapacitated, adequate insurance places him with equal or better bull in the form of another bull.

7. In fact, these bulls are here to stay, to bless this surrounding country with high powered dairy animals for numberless years to come.

8. The entire country, including every family making a living in Dickens County will be benefitted by the good bulls. How? By the prospect induced as a result of the dairy that is developing and that will be further developed.
