County Agent Reynolds to Give Terracing Demonstration in the Various Communities

County Agent Fred S. Reynolds made known that he had plans for terracing schools to be given at farms in the various communities. Each of the schools of instruction will last about two days, and he expects to be able to teach a number of farmers the art principles of the work in that time. In the line of instruction will be included the use of the level in terracing, drainage, ditching, measuring, etc. In other words, give the farmers all of the practical knowledge of civil engineering that is ordinarily needed on the farm.

This is an excellent plan which will make the farmers independent of outside help when they have any terracing to do. It would be impossible for the County Agent to go to each farm in the county and do the terracing on it personally. It would require two or three days to each farm to do this work, and considering three hundred working days per year he would be able to take care of only 100 farms if he devoted his entire time to the work. Then it would require nine years to cover the county one time with this work. By that time the first farms terraced would be in very bad condition and need much attention.

It is not the duty of the county agent to direct the farm work individually. He has too many farm problems to solve for the people. But he will have rendered a great service to the farmers if he can assist them in learning how to solve problems for themselves. Then they can go ahead with their farm improvement programs whether the county agent is present or not.

Mr. Reynolds feels that it will require a full month's work to hold these demonstrations in each community. Many farmers realize their farm needs attention but do not know how to solve the problem. These schools will give them a very fine idea of what is needed and how it can best be accomplished.

SMITH-HINDMAN NUPTIALS

A very quiet little wedding occurred at seven thirty Sunday morning when Mr. Homer Hindman and Miss Eula Opal Smith were united in marriage. The ceremony was at the home of Rev. and Mrs. I. A. Smith, Rev. Smith officiating. Just members of the families were all that was present.

Mr. and Mrs. Hindman left Sunday for Dallas and other points to enjoy the State Fair and visit friends. They will return about the last of next week, and will make their home in Spur.

The bride is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. I. A. Smith and has been in Spur the past four years. She is noted for her lady-like characteristics and womanly charms.

Mr. Hindman is a young business man in our city and has been with the Spur Service Station a long time. He is noted for his honest upright manhood, and clean life.

The Times join their many friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Hindman a successful and happy life.

DR. BLACKWELL

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
Little Gray Dell Jenkins, of Tuscola, Texas, had her tonsils removed Saturday. She was able to return home Wednesday.

Mr. Riding, of Afton, brought his little boy in Monday and had his tonsils removed. He is doing fine.

Mrs. J. W. Hilton, of Afton, was here Monday for a minor operation.

Cecil Hedges, of Girard, was here Wednesday getting his eyes treated.

Mrs. Wright, of Jayton, was here Wednesday getting her eyes treated.

NOTICE TO FARMERS

The County Agent, Mr. Reynolds, requests us to announce that there will be a co-operative shipment of live stock Tuesday, October 26th. All persons interested will please notify Fred S. Reynolds or either of the two Banks at Spur either personally or in writing not later than Saturday, October 23rd. All stock to be shipped must be in the shipping pens at Spur not later than Monday, October 25th. Also, you are requested not to bring in your stock unless you are notified as there may not be enough to make a complete shipment. Mr. Reynolds will notify in time to make your delivery.

CARD OF THANKS

To my many friends who supported me in the Popularity Contest I take this method of thanking you and I sincerely appreciate your vote. Would like to thank you personally, but that is impossible. Thanking you again.—Creola Jordan.

Oil Wells Are All Drilling Hard Now

The six inch casing is now in the Mikels Well and drilling has been resumed again. The formation is still showing up good, and the chances are there may be a strike any day. Mr. Mikels says in all his experience this is the best showing he has ever seen.

The well is now drilling in thirty five feet of sandy lime and the sand is getting stronger. Mr. Kennedy, of the Moutray Oil Company, after applying the lime and acid test to the formation, stated that Mr. Mikels is liable to pick up a well any time within the next two hundred fifty feet. The formation in this well seems to be different from that of the other tests around.

The Mikels well, the Jones No. 1 on the Davis lease and Blackwell No. 1 are all in close range of each other, the farthest one being only about fourteen miles. The Moutray Company have demonstrated their faith in this territory by locating two wells close in the territory.

Work on the Jones No. 1 and the Blackwell No. 1, is progressing nicely, and it will not be long until these two wells will be down to the exciting depth. The Moutray Company has a good territory, and probably this company has been more careful in their geological surveys in locating these wells than has ever been known in history. They mean business too.

The dependency of the farmers may enable the Mississippi Senator to put over his cotton plan, provided the Southern Bankers' Association will stand by him. But if the plan goes over at present it will be only a few years until the farmers will be independent of the Bankers.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jordan and family, of Spur, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jordan and family, of O'Donnell, Texas, are attending the fiftieth Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jordan.

Mrs. H. F. Jackson, of Stamford, was here the first of the week visiting her children, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jackson.

The Cardinals winning the world championship in baseball last Sunday enabled that team to bring the honors west of the Mississippi River for the first time in forty years.

Joe E. Poteet, of McAdoo, was looking after business affairs in our city Wednesday.

W. J. Elliott and daughter, Miss Dolly, of Spring Creek community, were doing some trading with our merchants Wednesday.

Mrs. J. P. Goen, of Dickens, was doing some shopping in our city Wednesday.

E. D. Chambers, of Afton, was transacting business in our city Tuesday.

The "Sunshine Store." Everybody is happy here. Business pretty good. We have lots of friends, and thousands of things to be grateful for. Some of us have been living in West Texas a long while. We like it all except the sandstorms and we haven't had any of them to speak of this year. So it has sure been to our liking. We have never seen a more bountiful crop of everything. The pastures have been like the meadow of spring all summer. Even the flowers kept blooming all these months. Most of the people have been healthy—no plague or special disease has come our way—no storm to destroy life and property like that, that swept the Gulf-kissed shores of Florida and made her proud towns and cities appear as wrecked morgues. No war directly effects our nation like that in China and other spots of the world. Bolshevism does not control here as in Russia, our government is not tottering like that of Mexico. We have so much of which to be proud and thankful. We dislike to hear anyone knock on the country—the flag of these United States is to us the greatest flag and represents more of sacrifice to attain Christian ideals than any other. It is a privilege to live under the protection of "Old Glory". There are imperfections in our government, but it is the best in the world, we think and we are for Uncle Sam. We have a great president how one who fears God and depends on Him in guiding the affairs of this great nation.

Selling merchandise? Yes, we sure are, and we are well prepared to serve you. "Gold Plume Coffee Month." Don't forget to help our grocery bunch to lead all the merchants who sell Gold Plume Coffee in Texas. They have led and we believe by the help of their friends they will lead this time. So come on and get your five cans of Gold Plume.

DICKENS HIGH SCHOOL NEWS
Miss Willie Riechbourg's music and expression pupils gave a fine program Monday morning in chapel. We are, indeed, proud of Miss Riechbourg for she is always so willing to help in everything.

Mr. Odus Lusk is back in school, after spending a week at Goiman with sick relatives.

The girls and boys have received their medals from the Fair Association, which they won in the races. They will be presented later.

Several patrons were present at the chapel program. We are always glad to have them.

Mr. D. C. Waldron visited in Clarendon for the week-end.

Misses Opal Harris and Dannie Street will leave for Dallas next week to attend the Fair, as they won the trip free by their club work in canning and sewing.

Miss Gordon met her club class Monday. Miss Gordon has a fine class of girls doing club work here.—Reporter.

W. R. Stanley, of Dry Lake community, was talking to friends on our streets Saturday. He stated his vegetable patches looked good to him since cotton was ringing around the ten cent mark.

O. L. Allen, of Croton community, was transacting business in our city the last of the week. He stated cotton might go down but there was no use to grumble. "We have just over-done the thing again." But he continued that we would get by in some manner.

Mrs. S. D. Sparks left Saturday for West Virginia to attend the funeral of her sister, Miss Australia Tetty.

Terry County won sixth place at the South Plains Fair at Lubbock. Dickens County might have done better than that if we had only made the trial.

J. L. Robinson, of McAdoo, was a business visitor in our city Saturday.

for a big fall trade. Big car of Furniture coming soon and our present stock is in good shape. "Sellers Cabinets" are better. Treat your wives right—buy her a Sellers. It will save her many steps and keep your food clean and sanitary, and we sell them on easy terms to good people.

Children respect well dressed fathers. That's what every father wants—the respect of his children. Good style helps to win it. You will be as well dressed as your son when the label "Hart Schaffner & Marx" is in your clothes. Men, we owe it to ourselves to look our best. No wonder sometimes our wives do not seem to appreciate us as when we were courting them. We simply don't look like the fellow she thought she was getting. Come on fellows, let Barrett, Ensey or Browning fit you up. Go to the barber shop and get a hair cut and shave of that week's growth of whiskies on your chin, put on a Hart Schaffner & Marx suit, a pair of our Packard shoes, an E & W shirt, a Lion Special hat, a suit of our special Munsing underwear, go home and see how surprised and happy the kids will be and watch that old girl of yours put her arms around your neck and tell you, you are the sweetest man in the world. Now she may be telling a big fib, but we all like to hear it just the same.

Every department of our big store is getting ready for the rush. We know it's coming. We felt it a bit last Saturday, and next Saturday, "Oh, Boy!" watch the crowds. We sell only for cash now, not because you may not be good, but we must shape our business for 1927.

We notice the city of Ralls has a club called the "Laff-A-Lott Club." Now that's a fine name for a club. We ought to organize one here and elect our friend Hargrove president. Also notice the Ralls Banner advocating in their plan of diversification to add to the cow, sow and hen, ducks and fish, as they have lakes that will make real duck farms, now, and fish ponds that rival the lakes of Minnesota.

Come on with the crowds and bring the children.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hyatt, who have been with the Spur Hotel for many years, left last week for Abilene where they will make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt were in this country in an early day and have seen it develop from a howling wilderness to a land of fine farms. They have great numbers of friends all over West Texas who are always glad to see them and who wish them well in their new home. We will miss them greatly.

W. S. Smiley, of Duncan. Flat community, was greeting friends on our streets Saturday. Mr. Smiley stated that he had plenty of kraut, meat, beans, pumpkins, etc., to do him next year and ten acres of fine alfalfa with hogs on it, and if his cotton did not sell for a good price that he would live just the same. Mr. Smiley stated farmers were spending too much money running after pickers and that they would come out winners by using home people even if they did not get the cotton out so early.

R. L. Emmert, of Dickens, was doing some trading with our merchants the last of the week.

A. J. Slayton, of Dickens, was doing some trading with our merchants Saturday.

Miss Lillian Rape, west of town, was doing some shopping here Saturday.

I. E. Abernathy, north of town, was in looking after business affairs here Saturday.

T. W. Morgan, of Espuela, was greeting friends on our streets Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Donald, of Hot Springs, New Mexico, are here this week visiting friends and we hope will remain.

Contest is Nearly Over at Salem's

Time these days is short and passes away quickly do you realize the contest is nearly half over even though it has just commenced? Each week the votes count less the harder you work the further advanced you will be later. Let your friends and relatives give you their support. They need dry goods and you need their help, so do we want and appreciate their business.

We are now carrying the largest stock of staple goods being carried in Spur and can take care of all their needs.

All the candidates now are working harder than ever before. They are very interested and anxious. Who will win the Ford we do not know, the end will tell the story, but remember your work will not be for nothing. There are other valuable prizes to be given away.

SALEM'S GUARANTY

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ericson, left Tuesday for Tockmorton, to visit with relatives and friends.

W. F. Bradley was in doing some trading with our merchants the last of the week.

Willie Edwards, of Croton community, was here greeting friends on our streets Saturday.

Wm. A. Smith, of Dry Lake, was a business visitor in our city Saturday.

W. K. Harvey, of Soldier Mound, was transacting business here Saturday.

Joe McDaniel, of Red Mud, was looking after business affairs here Saturday.

W. O. Davenport, of Watson, was doing some trading with Spur merchants Saturday.

We want to say that we are still very grateful for the good line of subscriptions that are coming in as a result of the contest that we set in motion last week. It makes us feel that the people believe in us and that our friends are growing numerically. Again, we appreciate these subscriptions as we have always tried to stand for honest principles, the upbuilding of the country, and all those things that really make peoples' lives great and noble, and as your subscriptions keep coming in we are assured that a great number of you stand for those same great principles, too. Good! Let's stand hand-in-hand for the right and for progress and we will be a great people in a great country.

We believe we have as fine a bunch of contestants as can be found anywhere. They want to do the right thing in the right way. They are workers, and all are trying to win the first prize. One of them will win it, win it honestly and still hold the friendship of the other contestants, for the others who lose it will be good losers. These contestants are your neighbors and some of them are your neighbors' girls. Let's do all we can to make the contest a pleasant one with them.

That fine Essex car will be the pride of the winner. Mr. Roy Harkey, who has been selling this car, has placed it before the people in an admirable way. This is a new model car and the manufacturers are making it a better car every year. Many people who have seen it have praised it for its neatness, its smoothness in running and the liveliness of its whole machinery. Any lady will be glad to own and will be her pride to drive it.

Until we checked up the votes we did not know who was leading. We asked all contestants to check in their votes by noon Wednesday, and here they are. We never want to know the standing of the candidates until we get ready to report them, then we cannot tell any one.

Total of votes checked in Wednesday was 28,150.
This is a good beginning and we feel all the contestants are worthy of any one's support. We expect to report each week just how the votes stand as they are checked in to us. Watch the Times and get the results.

Miss Margaret Shugart was able to return home Tuesday after having been with us some time.

Miss Velma Morrow, of Aspermont, underwent an operation for appendicitis Wednesday and is doing fine at this time.

Miss Martha Parker, city, underwent an operation Wednesday for appendicitis. She is doing fine at this time.

Mrs. R. E. Dickson had a number of teeth extracted Wednesday. Dr. Brammen did the work. She is doing all right.

Little baby of Mrs. W. C. Cooper fell from a moving care and the front wheel passed over its body Tuesday. It was rushed to the sanitarium and Dr. Blackwell immediately summoned. However, aside from bruises there were no injuries that were serious.

Mrs. J. A. Brown and son, J. C. Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Oran Bethel, of Elton, returned home Sunday from Wichita Falls where they had been visiting Mrs. Brown's brother, W. G. Marrs.

NOT MUCH FOR THE FARMER

A bale of cotton in Floyd County was sold at $9.50 bringing a total of $50.06. The seed brought $7.00, making the gross receipt for the bale $57.06. The farmer paid $20.40 for the picking; $13.60 for the ginning and the rent amounted to $10.80. The gross expense of picking, ginning and rent was $44.86. This left the farmer $12.20 for his work of raising it and taking all the risk of damages that might befall a cotton crop.

The picker could have pulled this bale in three days; the ginner probably was twenty minutes ginning it, but the farmer had spent around four months raising it. Yet both the picker and the ginner received more for their part than did the farmer receive.

We wonder of there is a way to get cotton picking and ginning regulated according to the prices of cotton? Well, it might not be best for cotton might go back up to thirty cent some time. But what we wanted to say is, that it looks like the farmer who raised the above mentioned bale of cotton did a lot of work for only $12.20. What do you farmers think?

P. H. Leatherwood, of Plainview, was in our city the first of the week looking after business affairs and greeting old time friends.

O. M. Smith, north of town, was in looking after business affairs Saturday.

J. A. Culbert, east of town, was in doing some trading Saturday.

In the Kitchen with 6 Famous Cooks

SIX TRADITIONAL NEW ENGLAND DISHES

(Ed. Note: This is one of a special series of articles contributed by 6 Famous Cooks. Their recipes are "different." Cut them out and paste them in your cook book.)

Probably no section of the country is as famous for its traditional dishes as New England. The eating of beans and brown bread has become almost a rite in many of those old homes.

MISS LUCY G. ALLEN

Miss Lucy G. Allen, head of the well-known Boston School of Cookery, has spent all her life in New England. She has taught hundreds of women cooking in her classes, and has written many cook books, among them "Choice Dishes for Clever Cooks," and "Table Service."

She has contributed to this unusual cooking series recipes for six typically New England dishes.

Boston Bake Beans

It's the preparation and the slow cooking which makes Boston Baked Beans superior to all others.

Pick over one quart of pea or kidney beans, cover with cold water and soak over night. In the morning, drain, cover with fresh water and simmer until the skins begin to break. Drain again. Wash and score a three-inch cube of fat salt pork. Put the beans in a big, earthenware beanpot. Bury the pork in the beans, leaving the rind exposed.

Mix one tablespoon of salt, one tablespoon of molasses, three tablespoons of sugar, and one-half teaspoon of dry mustard; add these seasonings to one cup of boiling water and pour over the beans. Then add enough boiling water to cover the beans. Cover the beanpot, put in hot oven and bake six or eight hours, uncovering the last hour of cooking.

Steamed Brown Bread

For a most delectable meal, serve steaming hot brown bread with the beans. It's a prime combination. Many folks like to eat catsup with the beans. Here's the original New England Brown Bread:

Mix two cups cornmeal, one cup of rye meal, two teaspoons of soda, two teaspoons of salt, one-half cup of molasses and about three and one-half cups of milk. Let stand for one hour, stirring occasionally. The bread is better, if the meal swells before the mixture is put into the tin. Butter baking-powder tins, fill a little over one-half full, cover and steam several hours.

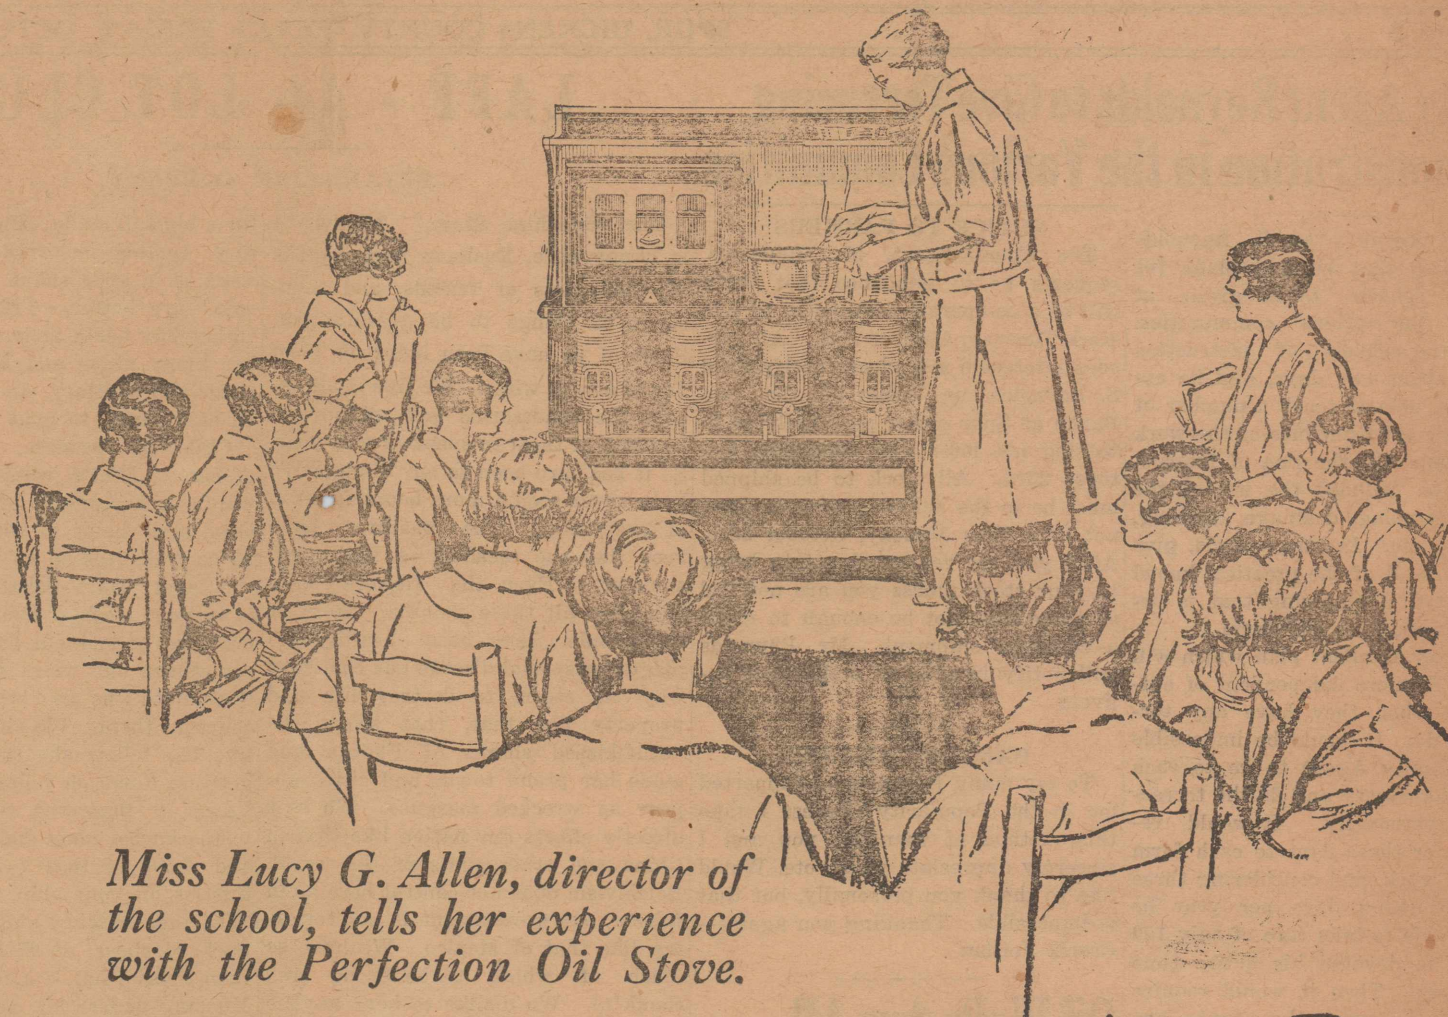

And Chowder

A hearty dish, liked especially by men, is fish chowder. It's economical too. Buy a four pound haddock, skinned with the head left on. Remove the fish from the backbone, cut into two inch pieces and set aside. Put the backbone broken in pieces and the head into a stewpan, add two cups of cold water, bring slowly to the boiling point and cook twenty minutes. Put into the chowder kettle an inch and a half cube of fat salt pork cut into small bits, and fry out.

Add one sliced onion and fry for five minutes. Add three or four medium sized potatoes cut in thin slices. Strain the stock from the fish bones over the potatoes and cook until they are soft.

Add the fish and simmer ten minutes, then add one quart of milk, one tablespoon of salt, one-eighth teaspoon of pepper, three tablespoons of butter and either three or four pieces of pilot bread or six or seven cooking crackers. The longer a chowder can simmer or stand before serving the better it will be.

BOSTON SCHOOL of COOKERY Tests and Approves

Miss Lucy G. Allen, director of the school, tells her experience with the Perfection Oil Stove.

MISS LUCY ALLEN, director of the conservative Boston School of Cookery, is one of six famous cooks who recently put the Perfection Stove to a rigorous, practical cooking test. Like the other five famous cooks, Miss Allen cooked by every cooking process, and gave us her opinion of the Perfection.

Uniformly Good Results

"I cooked many meals on the Perfection Stove," says Miss Allen. "The results, whether using the top of the stove, the oven, the broiler, or the toaster were uniformly good. There were several features sufficiently pronounced to recommend the stove to the most particular people.

Easy to Work on

"The Perfection is an easy stove to work on. There is no reaching across several hot plates, as there is with a gas or coal range.

"The flame never varied from the point at which it was set, whether it was low for stewing down pumpkin or high for baking beans several hours.

Clean Kettles

"There was no black deposit on the cooking utensils, even when the high, yellow tipped flame was used for broiling steak.

"The long chimneys burn every drop of oil completely before the heat reaches the utensils.

"We were so well pleased with the 1926 Perfection Stove, both as to results and operation, that after completing the test we kept it to use for auxiliary work in our classes," she concluded.

Tested and approved by the Boston School of Cookery! That means that the Perfection was used under all possible cooking conditions—for slow cooking, for fast cooking; for baking, for frying, and for broiling. In every case it was found efficient.

Six Cooks Agree

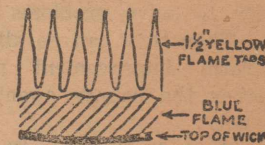

The other five famous cooks who tested the Perfection were enthusiastic, too, about the results obtained. And, every day 4,500,000 women get real cooking satisfaction from their Perfections.

See these 1926 Perfections at any dealer's. All sizes from a one-burner stove at $7.25 to a five-burner range at $130.00. When you cook on a 1926 Perfection, you, too, will be well pleased with it.

SPUR HARWARE & FURNITURE COMPANY

We heard a farmer state the other day that it looked hard to work all summer to raise cotton, be in debt and now the price is down and he could not pay. Another good farmer spoke up saying that he observed those farmers who had mazed in a few cows, some hogs and a few chickens and were selling some cream and eggs along were not grumbling much about hard time. "I'm the goat," he continued, "But I won't be another year."

With approximately fifty millions acres planted to cotton this year in the United States, and now reported a 16,627,000-bale prospect the cotton market is somewhat like the Arkansas farmer's wagon that had no brake on it—it "sorter crowds down hill."

MUSCLES MAKE UP THE BACK

Friday Health Talk No. 3
By Lavina B. Conklin, Chiropractor.

Under the skin and flesh outer covering is a layer of muscles which makes up the back. As these muscles are weak or strong, so will the back be weak or strong. And these muscles depend upon the spinal nerve for their strength.

Uncle Ben Says:

"If you want to get all stock ed up, do your own paper hanging."

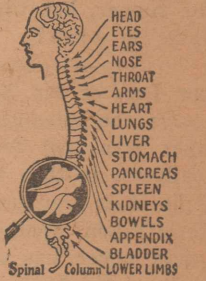

There are five separate layers of muscles, containing over thirty major muscles, each of which has one or more nerve filaments leading to the spinal cord and the brain. Spinal irritation of these nerves results in contracted and weak muscles.

In cases of weak back, or backache, first thought should be of the chiropractor, for a skilled chiropractor is eminently competent to secure the best of results in such conditions in the least of time, by removing the cause of the trouble.

Weak Back Made Strong

"Nearly five years ago I sprained my back, lifting a heavy board. For three weeks I was laid up, then returned to work, but in less than a month I broke down with severe pains in my back. The doctor said it was Lumbago—that I must lift nothing heavy. For over four years I suffered repeated attacks of this trouble. Then a friend directed me to a chiropractor who had helped him. After the third adjustment I was able to run for a crowded street car and stand up all the way home, two things I could not do for four years before."—J. M. Ryan, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 2202-G.

COMMUNITY BANKS HELPS

Over the mantel-piece in practically every Milwaukee home sits a "community fund bank." Pennies drop in from day to day. When the Chest Drive comes, Milwaukee expects to see the Fund a great success.

The local Boy Scouts have lent a helping hand in the preliminary work. When the slogan "A Community Fund Bank for Every Home" was adopted, the question of getting the banks to everybody's door was a serious one. Then the scouts volunteered for the job. The boys covered the city and suburbs thoroughly.

Looks funny! the other morning we picked up a newspaper and saw one of Sears, Roebuck & Company's "ads" in it stating that the company would sell good casings 30x3 1-2 for $9.65. We came on up the street and as we passed a certain home merchant, we saw the same sized casing priced at $8.95, and yet people say they save money with mail order houses.

The present cotton condition makes the farmers feel somewhat "blue," but they have something to be thankful for yet. They have plenty of feed. Old Jersey can eat the feed, the farmers can sell enough cream to buy bread and the children can have plenty of bread and milk for supper, but what about the poor folks in town?

Walter Lee, of the Spur National Bank, says the advantage that a newspaper man has over people of other callings, is that they can tell the people their troubles. Well, you are wrong again, Walter, the newspaper man never has any troubles. He has lived by faith so long that even hard times look hopeful to him. Let's be faithful, true and loyal to each other, try to save all we can, pay all we can on our debts, come clean with each other in every respect and we will get by all right. Oh, yes! One thing we almost forgot—subscribe for the Times so you will have something to read and you won't think about your troubles.

We heard a good farmer say the other day that he had spent $160.00 hunting cotton pickers and had no pickers either. That is about the price of picking eight bales of cotton, and probably that good man spent ten days hunting pickers. At two hundred fifty pounds per day the man could have picked about two bales.

The home merchant has sincerely stood by the people during the close summer months, extending them credit and various other accommodations. Now, may we ask, "who is entitled to the cash trade?" A dollar spent with home people eventually gets back to you, and it places your home merchant in a good condition to help you next year in case you need help.

The cackle of the hen will help the hurt that low-priced cotton makes.

Cotton may sell around ten cents. In fact, it is selling at that price now, but if we can hold ourselves down and let home people pick as much of it as possible, we will have ten cents per pound for cotton in this community. That is about as good in the long run as fifteen cent cotton picked by important labor who take the money out of the country.

MEASURED HIS 5-ACRE PLOT

County Agricultural Agent Fred S. Reynolds went to Prairie Chapel community Tuesday and measured the 5-acre tract of cotton of M. S. Faver. Mr. Faver is one of the contestants in the Dallas News and Dallas Journal "More Cotton on Fewer Acres" contest.

The rules require that final measurement be made in October in order to be in line. Also, when picking begins the farmer is supposed to have a disinterested party to supervise the picking and weighing.

Mr. Faver is one of these farmers that has confidence that Dickens County is just as capable of winning in a contest, and also, that his farm is capable of making the standard yield. The main thing is for Dickens County farmers to get to believing they can do things, and then the battle is won, for they can do it if they believe in their ability sufficiently.

GO WEST, MR. PRESIDENT
There is considerable merit to the plan of an Iowa congressman to introduce a bill proposing that the Government establish a Summer White House west of the Mississippi river, to permit the President to "breathe the air of the West and come into closer contact with Western sentiment." A few months in the West, living close to the folk who take their politics seriously, would be of benefit to any administration. It's out West where all the political troubles begin.

"GUILTY" SCRUB BULL BECOMES LOCAL VILLAIN

Scrub-bull trials, as a means of creating interest in improved livestock have acquired many diversified features according to reports received by the United States Department of Agriculture. Such a trial, recently held in Portage County, Wis., as described by County Agent H. R. Noble, attracted an attendance of 3,500 persons. The trial occurred in connection with a dairy bull being the prisoner before the bar. The judge pronounced the verdict of "guilty" following the presentation of evidence in which purebred and scrub sires were compared. But contrary to the customary sentence of execution in such cases, the prisoner received a reprieve in the form of sale to officials of an adjoining county for a second trial, the sale price of the inferior animal being $17.50. Thus the bull has begun to acquire a "court" record as a local undesirable. A band which furnished music for the trial "drummed" him out of the county.

The Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, has fostered such educational scrub-sire trials and on request furnishes an outline and guide for conducting them.

CHINESE SOLDIERS GUARD SCOUTS AGAINST BANDITS

From far-off China, where, as in most other parts of the world today, there are Boy Scouts, comes word to the national headquarters, Boy Scouts of America, Washington of the difficulty under which Scouting is sometimes carried on in the Orient. A New York boy, bound for a hike in the Westchester hills or down in the Jersey pine barrens or along the beaches of Long Island, simply boards a train and starts for his destination and when he is ready he returns. But in China, without settled central government, the Boy Scout who goes on a hike takes a soldier along. The average around Canton seems to be at least one soldier to two scouts. And it is apparently an average that must be maintained if the Chinese Scout be at all interested in returning eventually to his home.

The story comes from R. D. McDermott, who accompanied a Scout group in China on a camping trip, of five days duration out of Canton. The party as it left that city consisted of ninety Boy Scouts, thirty leaders of Girl Scouts, two scoutmasters and two photographers, plus Mr. McDermott, otherwise "faan kwai loo" or "the foreign devil." The soldiers came a little later, seventy-five of them. Why, appears in the words of Mr. McDermott:

"You see one reason is that we are in Canton, Kwangtung province. Canton is the capital of the province and is located in the heart of a rich delta formed by the Pearl river. Aside from this narrow delta region and several valleys formed by branches of the Pearl, the province is very rough and mountainous. Now one of the curses that rests on China is banditry and this particular province seems to have its share of these ruthless bands of outlaws, who at times may be peaceful farmers or merchants but who under adverse conditions turn robbers."

"The mountains in the province afford a safe retreat for them if they are threatened by the law. During normal times a province may keep them suppressed but such times have rarely occurred during the last fourteen years of China's stormy history as a republic. The chief activity of these robbers is to capture the prominent Chinese citizen and students and hold them for ransom. Consequently very few of the people will venture off the beaten paths without an escort of soldiers."

But the party were not attacked by bandits and had five pleasant days afield with experiences which, if not unusual in China, are little unknown to the Occidental. After the party picked up the soldiers some miles out of Canton, it was taken up the West river in five junks pulled by tugs. The river junks are thirty feet low and eight feet wide, with a curved roof so low that a grown man must always stoop beneath it. The party made its headquarters at the Buddhist monastery on the side of Leng Woo mountain where it was received with the greatest courtesy, but the "foreign devil" found the monastery bed of boards with a stone for a pillow favorite couch of the Chinese, not conducive to the rest required for mountain climbing. For the hike up the mountain the next day the Chinese Scouts filled their canteens with tea instead of water and for climbing replaced shoes with heavy grass sandals. In the evening, at another Buddhist monastery where the party halted, the Scouts put on a Scout camp fire program. In their blankets and paint they made up as American Indians.

"This was no doubt the first time in the long history of this monastery that the wild Indian war whoop and cries had re-sounded through its many halls," says the narrator.

DO WE EAT ENOUGH RAW VEGETABLES?

Do we eat enough raw vegetables? By Spur Grocery. And are there many pleasing ways of serving them? It is very certain that much of the nutriment is taken from vegetables by cooking them, especially is it true when the process is done by the water method. Potatoes should always be cooked with their jacket on to get all the content of them. Spinach needs no more water than is retained on the leaves after the thorough washing it receives in preparation for the table. By watching it carefully until it cooks a few minutes it will not burn. It needs very little cooking. Twenty minutes is ample. This leafy vegetable is coming into its own as a salad dish. Carrots are delicious eaten raw when grated and served with lettuce or spinach in salad. Spinach is coming into its own as a salad. By rolling the leaves in a form bundle and cutting them into shreds, combining with onions sliced very thin or chopped and mixed with French dressing. Let it stand long enough to marinate. Serve on salad plates, with grated carrots over the top. This salad can be varied extensively by adding chopped celery and shredded lettuce to the finely shredded spinach, adding onion juice to give it a favor. Serve with mayonnaise dressing after it has been marinated in French dressing. Equal amounts of raw grated carrots, shredded spinach and finely diced celery, combined with nut meats, makes the most delectable salad imaginable. The raw vegetables taken in this way are very palatable. The addition of the mayonnaise or French dressing gives it piquancy. "Eat carrots to make you beautiful" is an old saying, and is now occupying a seat of honor as far as following its precepts are concerned. Not altogether is it being used for the beautifying effects, but because it is tasty, when combined with other vegetables and topped with an oil dressing. Try serving a raw vegetable each day; it will prove a wellspring of joy to the family and result in better health, which after all, is the secret of real beauty.

Contract has been let for the construction of a 42 room modern hotel at Tulia, the cost of which will be approximately $70,000.

Carlsbad will be host to members of the Pecos Valley Medical Association on October 28. A trip to the Carlsbad Cavern is included in the convention program.

A bond election fostered by the Marfa Chamber of Commerce recently carried for the issuance of $58,000 for waterworks and $56,000 for sewerage.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is ready to serve farmers of its territory in the shipment of car load lots of extra good native vaccinated Missouri pigs averaging about eighty pounds.

A number of improvements in the distributing plant of the West Texas Utilities Company have been made at Rising Star.

A saw mill with 100,000 board feet capacity per ten hour shift, and a large box factory are under construction at Alamogordo by the Breece Lumber Company of Albuquerque.

The building program at Crowell which has been steady for the last few years is still going forward, with about $15,000 now going into the construction of new homes.

The Winters Chamber of Commerce directorate have worked out a model method for the renewal of memberships to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. They proposed that each director of the Winters Chamber of Commerce renew a certain number of memberships and secure new ones in lieu of continuing the service of the regional membership solicitor. In exchange the West Texas Chamber agricultural manager is to show motion pictures to rural communities tributary to Winters, and the publicity manager is to aid in community advertising schemes. The proposal has been accepted by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, as a great saving will be effected through the arrangement and at the same time Winters will have the benefit of personal work of the regional staff members. Winters offers this plan to all West Texas towns.

Streets in the paving program for which will begin at once.

President Arthur P. Duggan of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has announced the program for the second quarterly executive board meeting of that organization to be held in Fort Worth October 15. Big problems concerning the protection of West Texas' interest will be discussed, among them being the proposed raise of insurance rates, state equalization of taxes, and the question of the proposed Kansas City, M. K. & T. and St. Louis Southwestern railroad merger.

The syrup mill west of Morton has begun operations which are expected to continue for a long run as a large acrage of sorghum and sugar cane planted there for syrup making purposes has made a big yield.

COW OWNERS TAKE IMPORTANT STEP

By Fred S. Reynolds.

At a meeting of cow owners of Spur Friday night, October 1st, at the Christian Church, it was decided to do away with the present unsatisfactory method of herding. After a thorough discussion of the facts it was decided to establish two or three pens just on the edge of town, within easy access to all the town. Each owner is to take his own cow to the nearest pen by stated time in the morning. A herder hired and selected by a committee will take the cattle from the pens and herd during the day, seven days a week, rain or shine, deliver to the pens at a definite time in the evening. Each owner will again go for his cow to lead her home. This does away with the herding of cows through unprotected lawns and flower gardens.

Herding will continue for the balance of the season, until cold weather in December. A committee composed of C. C. Haile, Joe Lambert, and Fred S. Reynolds were appointed to select a herder and supervise the herding. Applications for this job which will be a good paying job should be made to the committee. The plan will be put into operation next spring. Arrangements for bull service was discussed, the details to be settled later. However, a new herder will be hired as the present one is herding only part of the cows and giving unsatisfactory service.

SCOUTS IN SESQUI RELAY

Boy Scouts, two to the mile, in relay carried a message from the Governor of New York State and from the Mayor and the President of the Borough of Richmond, New York City to the Mayor of Philadelphia, in which the latter was invited, as the chief magistrate of one sesquicentennial community to join in the celebration of such an anniversary in another. Staten Island, which is now Richmond New York City recently celebrated its 150th anniversary. As a part of the ceremony it was arranged that a relay of Scout runners should carry a parchment invitation from the Richmond Borough Hall to the Philadelphia City Hall, bearing the invitation to attend the ceremonies in New York. Scout Executive Joseph D. Carstang of Richmond Borough arranged the event. The distance from Saint George, Staten Island, to Philadelphia is about 95 miles so that some 190 relays were required.

It took the scouts eight hours and twenty minutes to cover the distance, including one bit of ferrage across the stream between Staten Island and the mainland.

WARNS OF LIVE WIRE

Applying the principles he had learned as a Scout Lew Kilburn of Troop No. 24 of Atlanta, Georgia, is reported by Dr. Thomas C. Pelot, and his wife of that city, as having performed a good turn recently which, according to the physician, was notable in that it may have prevented loss of life and injury from electric shock. The incident as described by Dr. Pelot was as follows: Scout Kilburn and a chum, not yet a Scout, came upon a pine tree which had fallen across a number of electric wires breaking them and leaving the ends, highly charged with electricity, dangling on the pavement. The scout knew that this was a dangerous situation for both pedestrian and vehicular traffic so he stationed his pal at one end of the block and himself took post at the other to warn passerby and automobiles of the danger. Man automobiles detoured to other streets as a result of the warning from the boys. As a further result of their efforts the police were notified of the incident and the electric company was called upon to make immediate repairs.

J. M. Hahn, of Highway community, was greeting friends on our streets Saturday.

W. D. Sprayberry, north of town, was in doing some trading Saturday.

The Love Dry Goods Company of Spur, Texas, places the entire $35,000 stock of well selected merchandise on the Altar of Sacrifice--Nothing to be Reserved

Owing to the conditions prevailing over our country, and knowing the needs of Our friends in the purchase of their fall necessities, and the small price of their farm products in being able to meet their debts, and buy the requirements for their families, we, as usual, are willing to accept in good grace our portion of the burdens, trusting that the wisdom from the present lesson will find us in better shape in the future. We all pay for our experience in life, and it is as well to take it first as last. We are offering our friends at this time, while they are in need of the bargains, values of the best to be procured. We want you to come in and see that we are actually doing our part in our way to help you get the best for your money at a period when it will do you the most good. We realize that if the cotton crop had sold as we expected, it would have presented a very different condition for all. We are not going to be able to tell you that we expected to do it--it is needless for us to attempt the lengthy program, but you are going to find that we are making a great sacrifice in your behalf in our great effort to not only relieve your condition, but at the same time pay our own honest obligations. Here we come with values that are the kind that give you the same kind of good results that the merchandise gives sold by us in the regular way gives.

NOTICE

This is pay time of year, and as cotton is now being picked, we are going to expect our customers to help relieve their indebtedness to us that we may have funds in paying our own debts. We are not expecting pay from mortgaged cotton that belongs to others, but certainly will expect the proceeds from that which is obligated to us. We advise our customers to be careful in this connection.

Respectfully yours,
