WO KILLED, THREE INJURED AND MUCH DAMAGE BY TORNADO

Two persons were killed and six injured seriously by a tornado which struck Running Water, Hale County town, and Flag, in Castro County, last Thursday evening.

The dead are J. A. Snypes of Running Water, and R. A. Cassidy of Flag. Six houses were blown away at Running Water and a number of automobiles were tossed about on the prairie near that place. At Running Water three houses were destroyed.

Hail and rain followed the storm at Flag, damaging crops in a strip three miles wide and several miles long.

The injured were Mrs. J. A. Snypes, her three children, Ivan, Fiodelle and Evelyn, and Mrs. J. A. Morgan, running Water, and Mrs. R. A. Cassidy, Flag.

The storm was also very severe in the vicinity of Olton. It is reported that in the town a theatre building was demolished, a garage wrecked and a vacant building, formerly occupied by a drug store, was blown from its blocks. Other small buildings were wrecked or partly wrecked, and many windmills in that section were blown down. Much damage to crops is also reported.

BIG BILLS TO BE PASSED BEFORE CONGRESS RECESS

Although the possibility of a summer recess of Congress was discussed a few days ago on the floor of the Senate, the majority leader, Senator Watson, declared there will be no recess until the farm relief bill (H. R. 1) has been finally disposed of until the tariff bill (H. R. 2967) has been passed by the House and referred to the Senate Committee on Finance, and until the census reapportionment bill (S. 312), now the unfinished business of the Senate, has been passed by the House.

Senator Nye of North Dakota, expressed the opinion that there should be no recess until action has been taken upon proposals to repeal or suspend the operation of the national and origins clause of the immigration law. Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, who is opposing any repeal or suspension of this provision, said he believed it could be disposed of in one or two days.

Senator Jones, of Washington, said he would be willing to agree to a recess as soon as the Senate has acted upon his proposal for an amendment to the rules regarding executive sessions.

MRS. W. L. KOONS GETS SEVERE SHOCK DURING AN ELECTRICAL STORM

During the electrical storm last Saturday evening Mrs. W. H. Koons received an electrical shock which it was at first feared would prove serious, but we are glad to report that such was not the case. The lightning struck near the kitchen sink, where Mrs. Koons was washing dishes. The children were in the kitchen at the time and they, as well as their mother, were dazed by the shock. We understand that very little if any damage was done.

INDICATIONS SHOW BULK OF TRADE IN VICINITY COMING TO MULESHOE

A large crowd was in town again last Saturday, the occasion being the regular Trades Day. Local firms report that business was good throughout the day, and the large number of tickets that were turned in indicate that the people of this community are doing the bulk of their trading in Muleshoe.

The prizes for the day were bills of groceries, amounting to $10, $7, $5 and $3, respectively. The winners were: First—Bill Barbee. Second—Wm. Daily. Third—Ozell Robinson. Fourth—Mose Glasscock.

There will be a free picture show next Saturday, starting at 2:30. There will be no drawing next Saturday. Save your tickets for the following Saturday, June 22nd.

FIRE DESTROYS CHICKEN HOUSE AND CONTENTS AT HOME OF ED HUPP

About 2 o'clock Monday morning, fire was discovered in the chicken house on the farm of Ed Hupp, in the YL community. The family at first thought the barn was on fire, but upon investigation found it to be the chicken house. The fire started from a brooder lamp in one corner of the building. The lamp had never caused trouble of any kind before, Mr. Hupp stated, and it is not known whether there was an explosion or not.

The building was entirely destroyed, together with a number of chickens and turkeys. All the fowls that were in the building were burned to death. There were about 200 young chickens, about a dozen hens, 15 or 20 fryers, 30 young turkeys and two turkey hens. Rufes Gilbrath, who lives in the YL community, was returning home from Muleshoe when he saw the fire, and thinking it was the Hupp home, he rushed out to the farm. The family were up and had done all they could to extinguish the flames, but their efforts were unsuccessful.

MULESHOE WINS GAME FROM FRIONA SUNDAY

The reporter, in announcing last Sunday's baseball game, intended to state that Friona would play here Sunday and that Muleshoe would play at Farwell next Sunday, the 16th. The rain Saturday night "left the ball ground in bad shape for Sunday's game. However, after thoroughly draining and dragging the ground, it was in fairly good shape when the time came for the game Sunday afternoon. A good crowd witnessed the event. Muleshoe won another victory, the score being 17 to 5.

DELEWARE CORPORATION PURCHASES JOYCE-PRUIT COMPANY'S INTERESTS

The Joyce-Pruit Company, with stores at Roswell, Clovis, Portales, Hope, Carlsbad and Artesia, N. M., have sold their entire business to the Sunset Stores, Incorporated, of Delaware. These stores will probably continue under the original name, and we understand that there is to be no change in the local management. The Joyce-Pruit Company is one of the pioneer business institutions of Eastern New Mexico, being organized in 1892.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McAdams and children spent Sunday with Mrs. McAdams' sister, Mrs. Everett Sieren and family of Clovis.

Advertising Our Town

As a rule, advertising is a paying proposition for any line of business. It pays to advertise your town or community—sometimes. Occasionally there is an exception. There are certain kinds of advertising put out by towns that work hardships upon its citizens. Muleshoe is getting its share—"in great gob."

We have rambled about over the country quite a bit in our time and have seen a good many "main streets," but as an example of slovenliness, we will put the Main Street of Muleshoe up against any we have ever seen, and let our other pair of sox it will be a winner.

Far be it from us to attempt to say who it is to blame for the run-down appearance of this street. If it is the citizens as a whole, it is high time, and past, that they wake up and make some effort to remedy the situation. If it is the city officials who are to blame, the people of the town have a right to know just why this street is not made at least half way passable. Possibly there is not money enough to have it "that town with the hog pen in the middle of the street." If you think such talk is not true, just go to any town within a radius of one hundred or more miles of here and let the people know where you are from and see how quick they will tell you about it.

Tourists have begun to pass through, and "pass through" is right. After being bogged down to the running board of a car in the business part of town and having to be pulled out, they "pass right on through" and at the first town they come to, proceed to tell one and all that if they are thinking of taking a trip to be sure and not go through "that town with the hog pen in the middle of the street." If you think such talk is not true, just go to any town within a radius of one hundred or more miles of here and let the people know where you are from and see how quick they will tell you about it.

One would think the appearances that the election for street improvement which was held some time ago was defeated by 100 to nothing instead of carrying 5 to 1. It certainly begins to look like the whole affair was a farce. There has been more "gab" and less action than in anything we have ever seen. The people went to the polls and voted for better streets. Are they going to sit around now, like a bunch of hool-overs on a limb, and be made the laughing-stock of three states? We don't believe they are—judging by the remarks which have been made the last day or so.

WAR TROPHIES RECEIVED BY LOCAL LEGION POST

The local Post of the American Legion this week received a number of German war trophies, consisting of German rifles, bayonets, sabres, helmets and one machine gun. These trophies were captured in France by Texas troops during the World War. They have been stored at Camp Mabry and are being sent out by the Government to Legion Posts that have been active in membership drives.

TEXAS-OKLAHOMA LINE TO BE FINALLY DRAWN

The Department of Justice has taken steps which it believes will dispose finally of the Texas-Oklahoma boundary dispute, to carry out the findings of the Supreme Court of the United States, it has been stated by the Attorney General, William D. Mitchell. Communications have been sent to the governors of Texas, Oklahoma and also to the governor of New Mexico, advising them of the plans for final settlement and to arrange a compact to confirm title to the lands involved.

COMBINATION RAIN, SAND AND ELECTRICAL STORM SATURDAY NIGHT

A short time before dark last Saturday evening, Muleshoe was visited by a combined rain, sand and electrical storm. Sheets of water and rolls of sand were visible in the air, while the lightning flashed and thunders roared. The storm did not last but a few minutes, but Judge Klump, who has charge of the Government gauge, reports that 80 one-hundredths of an inch of rain fell during the time.

We have heard of no damage from the wind or lightning, though it was feared at the time that damage from one or the other would result, and some fear was also expressed that the storm would be accompanied by hail, but such was not the case.

FAMOUS CROSS OF SNOW IS NOW A NATIONAL MONUMENT

The famous cross of snow in the Holy Cross National Forest of Colorado is to be preserved as a National Monument. A proclamation just issued by the President of the United States has set apart as the Holy Cross National Monument an area of approximately 1,292 acres including this noted landmark. The monument takes its name from a gigantic Greek cross formed by two snow-filled crevices on the side of the mountain. The cross is visible for miles around, and is an object of great public interest.

GONE GRAIN COMPANY CONSTRUCTING A NEW ELEVATOR IN MULESHOE

Construction of a new elevator was started in Muleshoe this week by the Gone Grain Company of Lubbock. It is to be located on the north side of the Santa Fe railroad, across from the E. R. Hart Lumber Company's warehouse. The capacity of the new elevator will be 9000 bushels, but it is being built so that the capacity can be increased later. It will be equipped throughout with modern machinery.

The Gone Grain Company has purchased considerable grain and feed here during the past season. They announce that the new elevator will be ready for the fall crop this year. Muleshoe already has two elevators, but the large amount of grain and feed products that are marketed and stored here each season, together with the fact that this amount is increased from year to year, has led this company to believe that there is room for another, and the prospects indicate that their investment will meet with success.

LOCAL STUDIO REPORTS GOOD BUSINESS DURING ENGAGEMENT IN CITY

We wish to call the attention of our readers to the ad in this issue of The Journal of the Chase Studio. Mr. W. L. Chase, the photographer, has conducted the studio in the rear of March Dry Goods Company's store for the past few weeks—and reports that he has enjoyed a good patronage from the people of Muleshoe and vicinity during that time. Saturday is to be his last day in Muleshoe. He is offering a special rate on pictures for that day. He, with his wife and two children, expect to leave the first of next week on a trip to Canada.

Mr. J. C. Whaley, of the Whaley Mill & Elevator Co., of Gainville, Texas, and Mr. D. T. Lacy, President of the First National Bank of Gainville, were business visitors here last Wednesday.

Warm and Cold Zones

An evergreen is a tree which stays green all winter—that is to say, the leaves do not fall in autumn, as do the leaves of deciduous trees. Many evergreens are conifers (cone-bearing trees), but not all conifers are evergreens. The larch is a conifer, but it is not an evergreen.

Spruce is a familiar evergreen. It was so named because it was first known as a native of Prussia—French "prusse" and middle English "pruss" or "spruce." Spruce is an old name for Prussia. Fir is an old word, long in the language, always used for the tree; pine is Latin, also the name of the tree which it designates today. The hemlock has also been long in the language.

There are evergreens which are not trees. Almost all tropical plants, botanically speaking, are evergreens. The holly is an interesting northern evergreen, much used for decoration purposes at Christmas.

The rhododendron is an evergreen shrub. Its name, according to Webster's New International dictionary, comes from Greek words meaning literally "rose tree." It was so named because of its large flowers.

Other evergreens of the north include certain varieties of the cedar, ivy, laurel, etc. The words are all "old"—that is, they have been in the language for centuries, often nearly in the forms we know today as the names of these plants or similar plants.

Spanish Sailor First to Discover Australia

While in South America, Doctor Rosenbach of Philadelphia is said to have acquired many interesting papers, including one which bears the only known signature of the discoverer of Australia, Capt. Pedro Fernandez de Quiros. It commissions Gaspar de Gay and Manuel Noble as sailing masters of the ships San Pedro and San Pedro y Pablo, about to proceed on "the discovery of the unknown austral regions of this South sea by order of the king," and is dated Lima, July 27, 1605.

On leaving Callao harbor Quiros was, it is related in records of him, asked to lay down a course, and he replied: "Let her go as she is; God will take her somewhere." The ships came to the land fringe of Australia—"southern land"—and were separated by a storm. Returning, Quiros, now penniless, got a new outfit from Spain to continue the exploration, but died of fever on reaching Panama.

Good, Clean Fun

A villain with a hooked nose and club feet is after a green girl. He invites her to a cup of tea. "There's a hole in one of your stockings," he observes. "Don't lie to me," she retorts, "and I'll tell you if you get rough." He approaches. "This is not a fair way to treat me," she sobs. The villain hazard deathly scared. The hero drives up in his candy-lace, putt, putt. "Stymie come," thinks the girl. "The hero swings at the villain and tops him with an iron. "See the birdie!" gasps the villain. "Quite a smatch," says the girl. "He might be ferocious, but not for me." The hero, and offers her a diamond ring. "Divot here," she says.—Los Angeles Times.

Busy Human Heart

The adult heart—the only organ in the body whose muscles never rest nor sleep during life—makes an average total of 108,000 beats every 24 hours! How does this busy organ find time to "eat" and fortify itself for its arduous labors?

Prof. Y. Kato of the Okayama Medical college, Japan, in the Japanese Science Monthly that nature has provided what he described as little "dinner pails" from which the muscle fibers of the heart are ingeniously "fed." These "pails" are tiny, tube-like organs between the muscle fibers, and their duty is to collect food materials from the blood and pass them around to the heart muscles.

Slippery Thief

For years a mysterious thief, too smart to be caught, has stolen electric light bulbs from subway stations in New York city. The loss runs into thousands annually. Stories by passengers who have caught a glimpse of the thief from cars have given police a good idea of the way he operates. Waiting until the platform are empty he takes out two or three bulbs and puts them into his pocket. It is believed he goes from station to station and at the end of a day collects many dollars' worth of bulbs. The wonder is he isn't out after bigger game in New York city.—Copper's Weekly.

The Limit

Little Anita was in the first month of the first year of her school life. Laboriously she had learned the consecutive order of numbers as far as seven. She couldn't imagine that anything in the counting line could exist beyond that figure.

Just at that time her mother reached another milestone on the road of life and the members of the family wished her many happy returns of the day. When it came to Anita's turn, she said:

"Many happy returns of the day, mother. I hope you live—" and then after a long and thoughtful pause, "for seven years more."

A portion of the northern half of Dawson County, Texas, has been released from the areas regulated under the Federal pink bollworm quarantine. The amendment removes restrictions on the interstate movement of cotton lint, cottonseed and certain other products from the area so released.

The direction of the Department of Agriculture has confirmed the superior yielding qualities of Acala cotton, as compared with Mebane, Lone Star and Delfos cottons, under conditions prevailing in most of the cotton growing areas of California.

Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, former Assistant U. S. Attorney General in charge of prosecuting prohibition cases and for several years a thorn in the flesh of liquor men, is now attorney for an aviation corporation with offices in Washington. Her salary is said to be $30,000 a year, which is several times what the Government paid her.

OKLAHOMA BOYCOTT CASE

The Supreme Court of the United States has handed down its decision in the case of United States vs. American Livestock Commission Company et al., and sustained the order of the Secretary of Agriculture in the so-called Oklahoma boycott case against certain market agencies and livestock dealers operating at the Oklahoma National Stockyards. The case, which dates back more than three years, has attracted wide public interest by reason of the boycott by various market agencies, of a co-operative livestock marketing association.

and credit situation in the country generally, with particular reference to the possibility of restricting speculative credits is proposed in resolution introduced in the Senate by Senator King of Utah. The resolution states that the inquiry is proposed "to remedy such defects in existing law" as permit "the use of reserve funds of banks, in carrying trading in securities, contrary to existing law." At the request of Senator King the resolution was referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency.

EDUCATIONAL PREPARATION A GROWING REQUIREMENT FOR SUCCESS IN MODERN BUSINESS

Death-Knell Sounded for Guesswork and Slipshod Methods by Advancing Technical Proficiency in Finance, Trade and Industry—How Banks Are Developing a Professionally Qualified Generation of Younger Bankers.

By HAROLD STONIER
American Bankers Association

THE great school of Experience is still holding classes in America, but the scientific spirit of the age has so generally invaded the workshops of industry and trade that they have largely become technical research and training laboratories in themselves and are no longer run on the old-fashioned cut-and-dry methods of former generations when Experience was considered the only teacher. It would be hard to find a working force in any pre-eminently successful business or industrial organization in the United States today but what the dominating leadership is schooled in the scientific principles of its specific field, whether manufacturing, merchandising or finance. The rapidly advancing standards of business in this country, with their relentless demands for efficiency as the only hope for survival in the competitive struggle for economic existence, has sounded the death-knell for guesswork and slipshod methods.

As a result, educational preparation in the techniques of commerce, industry and finance are virtually essential to outstanding success in these fields, as it is already an absolute prerequisite in the various recognized professions. This is not to depreciate the value of native ability and experience in business, but education after all is merely a means for helping the individual to apply the net good of the accumulated experience of many to his own day's work—a means for helping special ability to come into its own more rapidly and surely and for enabling all classes of ability to gain the maximum of success to which they are entitled.

These facts are plainly recognized by practical, work-day business in every line. Every progressive business organization in America is emphasizing the importance of education as never before. Education has come to be looked upon as the answer to many of the problems within the organization as well as to problems affecting industry as a whole.

Business Organizing Institutes
Institutes for developing specifically qualified workers are being operated or organized in many lines of business and industrial activity. These institutes are trying various types of educational work with a distinct trend toward more and more emphasis upon education for the rank and file of business employees of all grades.

We have been having business failures in this country at the rate of about 2,000 a month. This score speaks for itself. It is glaring evidence of incompetence on the part of thousands of business men in handling the problems inherent in their fields of endeavor. The detailed records show that practically 75% of business failures in this country is due to lack of training and competence on the part of those who failed. This is conclusive evidence that no one should undertake executive business responsibilities without adequate education and training. It is for that reason that every enlightened business organization is today insisting as never before that its employees take advantage of some type of technical training.

American banking is fortunate and has reason to be proud in that it has a record of twenty-eight years of definitely organized educational activity among its workers to its credit for developing trained bankers. People in banks of large numbers are taking advantage of the educational opportunity given by the great non-commercial college of the banking business, The American Institute of Banking. They see on every hand evidences of the value of the training it gives. Of the 10,000 graduates of this Institute, 70% now occupy official positions in American banks. The other 30% are still too young to have attained such heights. Here is an example and an encouragement to the people of all lines of business.

The American Institute of Banking has a membership of 64,320. Of these 33,851 are class enrolments, comprising younger bank people, both men and women, who are learning the scientific technique of their chosen business at the same time they are engaged in the practical work of earning their livings at it. The difference between the 33,851 enrolled in classes and the 64,320 total membership comprises older bankers who have taken the Institute courses in the past or are at the present time sponsoring some type of educational work in the organization.

Banking Educates Its People
It has been estimated that there are probably 275,000 bank officers and employees in the United States at the present time. These figures would mean that about one banker in every six is either enrolled in Institute classes in banking or is actively supporting some educational function of the organization. No statement could possibly give more emphasis to the importance placed on education by the banking interests of America than these facts of educational work in the organization.

The American Institute of Banking

is the educational section of the American Bankers Association. It was formed twenty-eight years ago by bank employees and officers and has been carried on ever since as a voluntary organization. Many students who have graduated continue their membership in order to give active support to some type of educational work other than the actual class program.

The greater part of the educational work is carried on in 100 cities and towns in the United States. Here the local chapter of the American Institute of Banking has its regularly organized courses of study under supervision of the national body with local instructors and directors to fulfil the standard requirements regarding text material, classwork and examinations. Instructors are recruited from the staffs of leading universities, from members of the legal profession and from among accountants and bank men who have made a record in some field of activity in banking that marks them as experts. All instructors must be approved by the national organization. They are compensated by the local units. The students pay tuition in which they are frequently aided by the employing bank and this together with contributions made by the banks for general classroom overhead, finances the educational program.

Education a Pathway to Advancement
Leading banks in various parts of the country are insisting that their employees take work in the Institute. This is frequently a part of their contract of employment at the time they enter the bank. It is also now quite generally understood in the field of American banking that study in the American Institute of Banking is considered one of the basic factors in the promotion of the individual to a place of importance in a bank.

The Standard Certificate of the American Institute of Banking is annually gaining a greater and wider recognition among the bankers throughout the United States. These certificates are coming to have the same importance in the banking world that certificates of education have in the field of the general professions. This is a practical example and one thoroughly well demonstrated by seasoned experience of the new spirit of American business.

ONE COW VS. ONE DOZEN

"Why milk twelve poor cows when one good cow will do the work of the twelve?" asks the bulletin of the American Bankers Association Agricultural Commission. It declares that analysis of more than 100,000 individual yearly records from cows on test in dairy herd improvement associations indicate that on the average: Cows that produced 100 lbs. butterfat a year returned $14 each over feed cost; Cows that produced 200 lbs. butterfat a year returned $54 each over feed cost; Cows that produced 300 lbs. butterfat a year returned $96 each over feed cost; Cows that produced 400 lbs. butterfat a year returned $138 each over feed cost; Cows that produced 500 lbs. butterfat a year returned $178 each over feed cost.

In other words, one 500-pound producer will return $10 more over feed cost than twelve 100 lb. producers. This does not take into account, either, the added labor of milking and caring for the larger herd, or the much greater expense of providing stable room for a dozen instead of a single animal. The figures are based on farm prices from all parts of the country.

ARE SOUTHERN STATES THE "SHAME OF THE NATION?"

In a scathing reply to the editorial of a Chicago newspaper, quoted as pointing the finger of shame at the South, Holland's Magazine, The Magazine of the South, in the current issue says: "Utter and amazing ignorance, not only of the South but of our country as a whole, is revealed in a recent editorial in the Chicago Daily Tribune entitled 'Public Life in the States Alone,' which takes note of Louisiana and her political problems, of Oklahoma's impeachment trials, of the 'Ma' Ferguson episode in Texas, and of Bilbo of Mississippi—but which does not mention, oddly enough, Al Capone or Len Small of Illinois—and goes on to say that the Southern States are remote from centers of commercial activity, culture and learning, and are the shame of the nation."
"After the first wave of surprise at a so gross display of sheer ignorance, we are amused at being termed the 'shame' of anything by a newspaper in such an abattoir as Chicago, with its putrid politics, its guarded elections, its gangster-ruled streets, its St. Valentine's Day slaughters, its 'barons,' and its neighboring Her-ms and in the Southern states at least are settled in courts of law, and not with machine guns. The Southern States have no unelected United States Senators, nor does any of their senators send a floral offering and his personal card to a gangster's funeral."

"The South, in six years, increased its manufactured-products values $567,000,000. In those same six years, manufacturing values in the rest of the country decreased $279,508,000, but an idea in a trader's mind, one of the country's water-borne tonnage. Over 61 percent of all active cotton spindles in the Nation are in the South. Such facts as these are endless. If this be remoteness from commercial activity, make the most of it."
"The South was steeped in culture and learning, and its cities were the sites of recognized colleges and universities, more than three-quarters of a century before Chicago came into existence. Its first college was founded over 140 years before Chicago. In fact, when Chicago was founded, there already were 40 universities and colleges in the South—as against only 20 in the Middle West and 36 in the remaining states. Two of these Southern colleges were in Louisiana and Mississippi."
"The second college founded on American soil was in a Southern State—the College of William and Mary, at Williamsburg, Virginia, in 1693. Only one other university was founded in America during that century—Harvard, in 1636, located in Massachusetts, which is not a Middle West State."
"In the eighteenth century, beginning with the founding of Washington and Lee University at Lexington, Virginia, in 1749, the South saw 13 colleges and universities founded within its borders, and 14 founded in the rest of the country. No college or university was founded in the Middle West during that century."
"The first American college established in the nineteenth century was the University of South Carolina, at Southern ... fifteen... founded... prior to the establishment... of any such institution in the Middle West. Before the founding of Chicago's first university, the South had 38 colleges and universities. Of these, three were in Texas, two in Louisiana, and one in Mississippi—states, according to the learned Tribune, 'remote from culture and learning.'"

"Of the twosome Southern universities founded while Chicago was still an idea in a trader's mind, one was Wesleyan, in Macon, Georgia, the oldest woman's college in the world, and the first to award a degree to a woman. Subsequent Southern colleges, preceding Chicago's first, included the famous Baylor in Texas, in 1845—Baylor College for Women and Baylor University."
"Today, there are in the Southern States 189 recognized colleges and universities, The Middle West has only 116. The remainder of the country has 275."
"In justice to the Middle West, the North, and the East, it should be understood and stated that this ridiculous editorial in the Tribune does not reflect the attitude and opinion of the public in those sections toward and regarding the Southern States, but is actuated probably by jealousy and is indicative of a narrow policy that has characterized the Tribune's attitude toward the South for many years. Business men in Chicago and the Middle West know its utter falseness and it is to the interest of those same business men—many of whom seek Southern patronage—to see that such misstatements are not circulated in the future."
"If the editorial writers for the Tribune are weary of recording murders, gang fights, and bootlegging in Chicago—as they have reason to be—and are merely seeking a new subject, we suggest that they choose one on which they have more information. A little knowledge is a dangerous thing, but none at all is gross ignorance."

The nurse tried to force his head back upon the pillow, but with perspiration pouring from every pore, he thrust her aside:
"Eventually—why not now," he shouted, "you'll buy milk from contented cows that have the skin you love to touch. There's a picture ahead that hasn't scratched yet. There isn't a coffin—a carload—reach for a—"
But the orderly thrust him back upon the pillow and gagged him.
"I'd walk a mile for a—," remarked the orderly, but a welcome faint drowned his voice as the nurse slumped across the register.

The Appointed Place

The big business man had died and gone to—well not to heaven. But hardly had he settled down for a nice long smoke when a heavy hand slapped him on the back, and into his ear boomed the voice of a persistent salesman who had pestered him much on earth.

"Well, Mr. Smith," choristed the salesman, "I'm here for the appointment."

"What appointment?"

"Why, don't you remember?" the salesman went on. "Every time I came into your office you told me you'd see me here!"

Thou and You

A reader asks "when and by whom was the plain language, thee and thou, changed to you when speaking to a single person?" We can only say that the change was brought about by public usage. If one were to adhere strictly to the laws of grammar, then one should still address a single person as thou instead of you, and some people do this yet, but the ordinary custom has become to drop the second person singular, even when only one person is addressed, and to use the second person plural. There is no law of any kind requiring this. It is simply the custom.—Exchange.

I have completed a course in the direction of Luzier's skin specialist. For the present I will operate my Beauty Shop at the home of Mrs. R. L. Faulkner, Mrs. Lilla Daniel.

What's Doing In West Texas

Anson is doing a great deal of building. A theatre with a capacity of 450 on the main floor and 100 in the balcony is to be erected by Knox Pittard. The plans call for a modern theatre front, three entrances, the foyer of tile. Floor will be of cement and tile. The dimensions will be 90 by 120 feet.

Hereford celebrated the opening of a new $40,000 Baptist Church by starting a revival in it. All precedents in church construction were broken in the decoration, seating and architecture of the distinctive church. One thousand auditorium theatre chairs are in supply. The rows of colored roof, eaves and circular-topped windows suggest the Spanish motif.

The De Leon Free Press recently celebrated its 40th birthday. It was established late in June in 1888, eight years after the establishment of the town, and has been published continuously ever since.

O'Donnell Methodists are spending $3,500 remodeling their church. Seven Sunday School rooms will be built, besides other improvements. When completed, this will be a splendid edifice, and up-to-date in every respect.

Tahoka is to have a new business block. C. A. Hill of Lamesa has announced that he will erect a brick building 50 by 125 in size to house a chain grocery store and an automobile agency. The old Howell building, one of the first garages erected in this section, will be razed for the new structure.

A Big Spring building is nearing completion. It is the $55,000 Read building which contains seven stores on the ground floor and a 25 room hotel on the second floor. It extends Stewart's new high school building will cost $80,000 and will be completed by August 15. The school board will make plans to organize both a Junior and a Senior High School, according to C. D. Wright, president of the board.

Brownfield is rushing its street paving. At a meeting of the City Council recently, a Wichita Falls firm was employed as engineers on street paving with instructions to start actual construction as soon as possible. It is thought that the proceeds of the bonds recently voted will provide for the paving of several additional blocks.

The Coleman Chamber of Commerce recently elected Jim O'Neal to serve another year as secretary of the civic body. Elmo V. Cook, head of the agricultural department and teacher of agriculture in Coleman High School, tendered his position to accept a position as agricultural agent in Bosque County.

Borger, the world's largest carbon black manufacturing center, has ten plants now operating or nearing completion, with 99 units, representing 315,000,000 cubic feet of residue gas daily. Four hundred and seventy-five thousand pounds of carbon black for tires, etc., are made every day.

The Wichita Falls cheese plant is buying 27,000 pounds of milk a day from farmers and dairymen in the area, which means an income of $600 daily and $20,000 monthly from a source that was non-existent only a few months ago. Other creameries and purchasers of milk in that city swell the total considerably.

Perryton will soon have a modern three-story hotel. It will contain 41 rooms and will supplement another good hotel under construction containing 26 rooms. Paving of 14 1/2 blocks in the business district is under way and a $50,000 theatre, equipped with viaphone, is nearing completion.

CLOVIS BEER DEPOT WRECKED BY OFFICERS

Officers in Clovis raided a "joint" there last week in which a number of bottles of home brew were found. Searching in the rear of the building they also found a complete bottling plant. The equipment and beer were seized by the officers and two negroes, Booker T. Washington, known as "Tighteye," and a porter at the Clovis hotel who is known as "Brownskin," were arrested in the raid.

W. J. Hill was arrested at Clovis in connection with the theft of an auto wheel and casing in Clinton, Okla. He at first stated he would be glad to go back to Oklahoma and prove that he was not guilty, but later he declared he would resist extradition.

A man, giving his name as McGill and his address as Plainview, paid a fine of $20 in Clovis city court on a charge of immoral conduct, after which he swore out a complaint against a new Mexican boy by the name of Frank Muenes, charging him with theft of $13 from the woman with whom McGill was involved.

TEXAS TOWN CLAIMS LOWEST LOSS BY FIRE

New Braunfels, Texas, with 4,500 population, claims the maximum insurance credit of any place its size. An ordinance requires roofs of all buildings, even to barns and chicken coops, to be covered with sheet metal or other inflammable material. The law was passed one night 35 years ago when a blaze swept through the town. In the last 10 years the town has had less than $100,000 in fire losses. Some years no losses whatever have been reported.

State Senator Tom Deberry of Red River County has proposed to the Senate that the barber bill be amended to revoke the license of any barber who talks religion, baseball or politics to his "prostrate patron". Next!

Littlefield's Trades Day, Monday, June 3, was a huge success, attended by a large crowd. Reduced prices were offered for contests held during the day, and Col. J. W. Horn was Marshal of the events of the day. A registered Jersey heifer, registered sow and a pen of pure-bred chickens were some of the prizes.

Col. Earl D. Church of Hartford, Conn., has been sworn in at the Department of the Interior as Commissioner of Penitents. Colonel Church is an insurance man with 33 years' experience.

STATIC ELECTRICITY CAUSES MANY FIRES IN COTTON GINS

Static electricity is one of the principal causes of fires in cotton gins during the ginning process, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Fires in cotton gins cause a large annual loss in the United States. In some seasons amounting to $1,350,000. In 1917, cotton gin fires in Texas alone caused a loss of approximately $1,000,000.

Matches cause most of the cotton gin fires, engineers of the United States Department of Agriculture conducted some tests with matches during the ginning season in Texas. In these tests more than 600 matches were mixed with the seed cotton and run through the gin without causing a fire anywhere except in the huller breasts. Even there only four small fires occurred.

Residents of Thorndale have voted to incorporate town.

RULES

New regulations for putting into effect on July 1 the act of March 2, 1929, to supplement the naturalization laws of the United States have been approved by the Department of Labor.

One of the most important features of the new law, in the opinion of officials of the Department of Labor, is the provision for the issuance of certificates of citizenship to persons who have derived their citizenship through others, namely, children through the naturalization of their parents, women through the naturalization of their husbands and step-children through the marriage of the mother to an American citizen. Heretofore there has been no provision by law by which certificates of citizenship could be issued to persons who become citizens through naturalization of others, the law providing only for the original under a naturalization proceeding.

For the first time in the history of the country photographs as a means of identification will be required on naturalization papers.

EUROPEAN MARKETS FOR AMERICAN FRUITS SUSTAINED

Maintenance of European markets for American fruits, despite the desire of European countries to reduce imports of fruits by increasing their own production, is reported by Milton J. Newhouse, just returned from a six months' survey of European fruit markets. Efforts are being made in northern Europe, particularly in Sweden, Denmark and Germany, to increase production of apples and pears, while in more southern and centrally located countries, including Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Austria and Switzerland, such efforts include the softer fruits as well, Mr. Newhouse says. Hungary, particularly, is planning to expand apricot plantings.

HIGH BEEF PRICES UNIVERSAL

Declaring relatively high beef prices a world-wide situation, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in Washington reports that low output, high prices and a reduced volume of international trade are the outstanding features of the cattle and beef industry in most of the important exporting countries.

FLOOD CONTROL PLANS MAY BE RE-DRAFTED

President Hoover has announced that he had referred to the Secretary of War and the Attorney General for study and report questions involved in a brief submitted by a group of Senators and Representatives interested in the Mississippi River flood control, asking that the proposed contracts for starting of work be suspended pending entire re-consideration of the plans and authorities under the Flood Control Act.

President Hoover pointed out in this connection that before the merits or demerits of the question can be sent into the must first determine the legal questions involved, as to whether or not the plan and method have not already been conclusively determined by the Flood Control Act and the executive decisions of President Coolidge.

THE CUSTOM OF WEARING FLOWERS HAS BEEN BROUGHT TO A FINE ART

When one arrives at transparent velvet the quest of a fabric of supreme loveliness ends. It would be difficult to find any material more exquisite to touch and to sight than the exquisitely sheer, colorful velvets which are living sieges to the heart of the fashionable world these days.

Were these enchanting velvets less lustrous, or supple or wearable, we might have gone on holding the thought that velvet was decidedly a winter-time fabric. As it is, modern velvets have proven conclusively their eligibility for membership in the class of all-time-year-round materials.

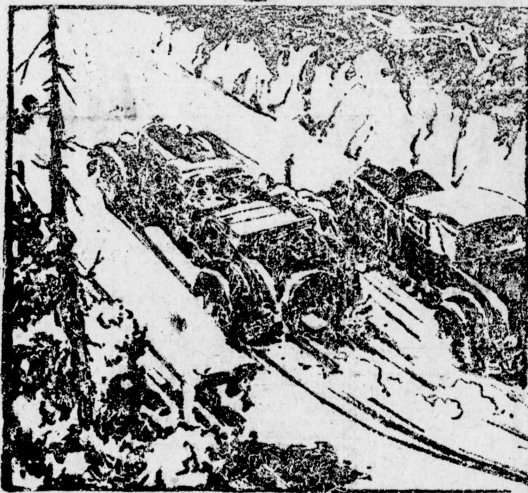

According to the opinion of those who create our styles, transparent velvet is only at the beginning of its possibilities. A widespread vogue is already assured for dainty sheer velvets in such delightful shades as sea-pearl, opulent, citron, tiger-lily, purple shades, straw colors, independent blue, light browns, chartreuse, tangerine and a host of other equally exquisite colors. Ensembles, wraps for both day and evening, sports jackets, coats, frocks and even beach pajama sets will feature the use of summer-weight velvet.

The handsome evening wrap pleated and fashioned of transparent velvet in the new much exploited tangerine shade. The tulips which form the boutonniere are in lovely tangerine tones, forming a perfect complement to the dark tangerine of the velvet.

It is not by accident that this boutonniere tunes in so exquisitely with the coat. Fashion this season insists that flower accessories become in their coloring and general spirit an integral part of the costume. Wherefore the boutonniere or corsage is no longer chosen haphazardly, but is always selected to complement the costume either by accentuating a perfect match or blend, or else just as perfect a contrast. NEARLY ALL STATES HAVE CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S SCHOOLS

Great advancement in this generation in the humanities is shown, says the United States Bureau of Education, in the fact that nearly all the states are now providing by law specialized education for crippled children that gives them a chance to lead independent lives, in addition to physical and medical care.

The bureau has compiled and printed the laws from the various states that provide this training. These laws, it states, indicate a growing conviction that a gradual transition from private to public responsibility for crippled children is developing. This transition is not yet complete. Only a few states, for example, have laws providing special public school classes which are the final solution for such children.

Minnesota was the first state to provide by legislation for public care and treatment of crippled children.

SLAUGHTERING INCREASES 6.3 PERCENT

More meat animals of all classes were slaughtered under Federal inspection in April than in April last year or March this year, according to a report by the Bureau of Animal Industry. The report shows 622,292 cattle, 460,297 calves, 1,118,935 sheep and lambs, and 3,761,230 hogs slaughtered during the month. Compared with April, 1928, this represents increases of 6.3 percent for cattle, 5.0 percent for calves, 9.9 percent for sheep and lambs, and 9.1 percent for hogs.

BOVINE TUBERCULOSIS SAID TO BE ON WANE

An official announcement by the Bureau of Animal Industry, in Washington, contains the names of 706 counties and 27 towns that have successfully completed the campaign against bovine tuberculosis. This number is an increase of 219 counties within the last year. In all of the 706 counties now designated "modified accredited areas," the extent of tuberculosis among cattle is less than one-half of 1 percent, as disclosed by the last tuberculin test. In addition all reactors were removed.
