October Poultry Report Shows Gain

Only three members of the Dickens County Poultry Association made reports for October. These are being produced in a recapitulated form below, and all three reports show a gain in favor of the farmers.

It would be very interesting if all farmers would keep records of their flocks, and we would be pleased to publish these reports every month. The reason we are so late this month is that we thought there would be other reports come in and we would get to include them too. It would be much more interesting to have fifteen or twenty reports instead of three and it would show the real interest the farmers have in their flocks for every farmer in Dickens County realizes the value of poultry.

We wonder if it would be a good thing for the farmers to have a contest and see who can make the most profit from the farm flocks in 1928. It will be surprising to know what 100 hens properly cared for will do for the far mduing the year. A number of farmers have met a great deal of their current expenses the past year with the eggs produced on their farms. The hen has been one of the factors to pull some out of difficulties caused by the failure of cotton—both prices and all—the past two years. Yes, and if the hen can help the farmers to get out of financial embarrassments, the hen will be a good factor to cling to in order to keep off financial embarrassments.

Takes in Two Whiskey Peddlers Saturday

Deputy Sheriff S. B. Scott and Special Policeman Rawlings landed two negro whiskey peddlers in "nigger" town Saturday night. The officers caught the two negroes with the goods on them and have plenty of evidence to convict them.

The two negroes were landed in the county jail at Dickens and thus far have been unable to make bond. As the grand jury is in session this week, very likely their cases will be investigated by that body, indictments returned and the cases tried during this term of district court.

There have been several whiskey peddlers apprehended in Spur this Fall by our officers. Night Watchman Malone and City Marshall Denson landed three Mexicans a few weeks ago, and the same night Sheriff Jones assisted by Officers Denson and Malone captured two negroes in the Flat. These whiskey peddlers must have been enjoying a good patronage otherwise they would not take such risks. The man who will patronize these law violators is no better than the one that sells it. In fact, the one who buys it just offers an inducement for the peddler to violate the law.

Why The New Ford Has Been Delayed

Messrs. W. F. Godfrey and V. C. Smart, of the firm of Godfrey & Smart, returned from Dallas the first of the week where they had been in conference with the distributing headquarters of Ford cars for Texas. There are 245 dealers under the Dallas branch and there were 245 of them present. These dealers were summoned to Dallas for the purpose of seeing the New Ford which is rapidly being prepared to go on the market.

In conversation with Mr. Godfrey he made the following statement: "There is one thing and only one, that is holding up the New Ford. It is this, there is one little piece that does not meet Mr. Ford's approval, and this little piece will be as right as all the rest of the car when it is offered for sale."

"Personally Mr. Ford has worked in overalls from eight to twenty hours a day ever since the plant has been closed down. He must know personally all about the material workmanship and every detail about the new car. It must meet Mr. Ford's approval before it goes to the people, and Mr. Ford is hard to please just at this time.

"At 9:30 Friday morning we saw the New Ford car, and what I mean by new is, that it is a new car from the radiator cap to the differential. Also, we inspected the New Ford from differential to radiator cap. I don't see how the people can be disappointed in this New Ford car for it meets every ideal and every requirement. The new Ford will take you there and bring you back—in style."

Such is the report that has been brought back to Spur about the new car that Henry Ford expects to place on the market soon. No doubt there will be a number of these new cars that will be ready for the people by Christmas, and many will be driving them by that time. However, it will be impossible to supply the demand the first month, but there is no doubt about the supply after the immediate rush is over. The local Ford agency did not authorize us to say so, but from what Mr. Godfrey said this week, and taking into consideration former accounts about the car, it is going to be the pride of those who are privileged to drive them.

The local agency is asking people to visit their plant next Friday and Saturday and hear their story of the New Ford car. It will be one of the most interesting stories told in a long time.

Shugart's Studio Enjoys Good Holiday Business

The Shugart Studio, which is located up stairs in the K. of P. Hall, is enjoying a wonderful patronage. Mr. and Mrs. Shugart were in our city three years ago and did a great deal of good work which has been a lasting advertisement to them for this visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Shugart this week expressed a great appreciation for Spur people, stating they feel more at home in this community than any other place they have been. They have been enjoying patronage from people as far north as Matador. At this time they are making a special on Christmas pictures.

Painless Child Birth Assured by Science

A new method of painless child birth, said to be free of the dangers of administrations of ether or twilight sleep, which caused a sensation several years ago, has been developed at the Lying-in Hospital here. Without publicity or formal announcement, the method has been practiced at the hospital for months, it is announced, and more than 150,000 New York babies have been born by it.

Known as the "analgesia method," it was developed by Dr. Asa A. Davis, in charge of the medical department of Lying-in Hospital, and Dr. William Gwathmey, a member of his staff. "Analgesia method," physicians said, means elimination of the pain, with the elimination of the consciousness. The treatment was described as an injection of ether, olive oil and quinine, the mixture being absorbed slowly through the membranes of the intestines.

Dr. Gwathmey said it had been successful in 90 per cent of cases. Discovery became known when Dr. Joseph Safchick of Brooklyn enthusiastically announced he was the father of a son born to his wife Friday by the new method. Dr. Safchick had made a study of the method and persuaded Mrs. Safchick to try it. The child was born in the Shore Road Hospital in Brooklyn, and the mother was reported to have said she felt no pain whatsoever.

C. T. Burns, owner of the Fulton Grocery and also postmaster at Elton was transacting business in our city Monday.

Every One is Entitled to a Home

If we should be allowed to advise the young people of the land about any one thing to do in life it would be this: own a home and make it as attractive as you possibly can. Keep it clean, plant some trees and flowers; watch them grow until you become a part of them. Every man and woman is entitled to a home; it may be humble, but your children should grow into maturity with the memory of a home. The log cabin where Lincoln was born was home to him and though he became president and lived in the first mansion of the land we imagine there were memories hovering around the little log shanty that were dearer to him than the thoughts of living in the White House. We also believe every boy who starts in life with the ambition to own a home can do so if he is willing to pay the price, which means work and economy but it is worth all it costs and more. The great reason that has kept the stars and stripes from ever going down in defeat has been that we have been a home owning nation. Around our fireside the children have been taught to love their country and God. We believe in home; to us there is no shrine half so sacred; it is one place we never commercialize. Yes, you may live cheaper in an apartment or a hotel but you lose a big part of the joy of real home ownership. Did you ever plant a tree, dig about it, water it and see the tiny branches as they peeped forth and care for it until it was a tree that shade you from the sun of Summer. Well, it's a "grand and glorious feeling." Did you ever pluck a flower that you had planted and nurtured, look at its beauty, inhale its fragrance and think you have been helping God to develop this matchless perfection. Every boy and girl has this opportunity. Make your home attractive to your children.

Now we haven't said all this for selfish motives, but we do have lots of things in our big store that will help in making the home beautiful. Nothing, perhaps, in all the ages of scientific achievement compares with the radio. It brings the talent of the world to the most secluded home. We have the greatest speaker that has yet been produced. Come in and hear it. "Kolster." It gives you the lowest and the highest note of the artist. "Atwater Kent," which needs no introduction. They make more than a third of all radios made so they claim. Sonora talking machines that also place the world's greatest artists at your command. Furniture. Our furniture department is just over full of beautiful chairs and suites for all the rooms, mirrors, pictures, rugs, shades and many little novelties that add the final touch to the home. The first cost is the last when you buy good furniture. Your auto is fine to have but it is a constant expense and sometimes when the home is not attractive keeps the children out until the wee hours of the night. Most bad strikes are committed after the clock strikes twelve.

We have had a great business this Fall and now December is here and we are expecting it to be the best of all. We have made real preparations to sell you your Christmas goods. Come and see our Hardware Department. We think we have gifts that will please the most fastidious. Mrs. Dickey, a sales lady of real ability, has charge of our toy and gift department. She is anxious to sell you just the items you want and will gladly help you by suggestion. Start 1928 by building a home or starting a fund to build.

Come on with the crowds and bring the children.—BRYANT-LINK COMPANY

Dairy Meeting Monday Night

As a beginning of the educational work on dairying in this county, Mr. Reynolds has announced a meeting of farmers interested in dairying to take place at Spur High School Auditorium Monday night, December 5. The meeting will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Instead of the contemplated lecture there will be a four act comedy, entitled, "oe Guess Runs a Boarding House," teaching the fundamentals of dairying.

Everybody remembers the Joe Guess play that was given at the Fair last year. This is a new play of similar nature which will be very instructive to the dairy farmers. It is free.

Mr. Reynolds is bringing a dairy specialist, Mr. J. M. Roddy, here to put on the play. Mr. Roddy is a practical dairyman, having had years of experience in the work and has traveled and studied extensively.

The play will be profitable to the one-cow owner as well as the large dairyman. Remember there is no admission charge. Be on hand at 7:30 p. m., December 5 and get this valuable message.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Boland of Jayton were in our city Saturday greeting friends and taking advantage of bargains offered by Spur merchants.

W. M. Hunter, east of town, was greeting friends on our streets the first of the week.

Miss Billie Saddler, Charming Ingenue, With Harley Saddler's Own Company

Miss Saddler will be in Spur beginning Monday evening with Harley Saddler's show. Everybody in this country knows Harley Saddler and know about his clean, up-to-the-minute shows that he gives. He will be in Spur all next week.

Mr. Saddler is showing in Stamford this week and is unable to accommodate the people. Hundreds have been turned away from his tent door because there was no room within. Mr. Landrum, the advance man for Saddler shows, was in our city this week and reported that Mr. Saddler has a far better line of plays this year than he has ever had before.

Spur Bulldogs to Meet Hubbard

Spur people are to be favored with the greatest football game at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon they have ever seen. Hubbard eleven is to meet Spur Bulldogs here that day and it is going to be a battle royal. There have been only two teams that have scored on the Hubbard team this year and only three teams have scored on the Bulldogs. Hubbard is tied for the Central Texas championship in Class B schools, and Spur stood second in West Texas, district No. 2, having lost to Floydada.

The people of this country will see a big game Friday. May we mention also that Hubbard is the former home of Mr. Cluck, who is now in charge of the Spur Bulldogs.

Married at Baptist Parsonage Sunday

Mr. Hinton Moore and Miss Noble Tallant were married at the home of Rev. and Mrs. F. G. Rodgers last Sunday morning, Rev. Rodgers officiating. There were just a few friends present to witness the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore have spent most of their lives in Spur country and are well known by many people. Mrs. Moore is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Tallant at Peacock and has been employed at the Spur Inn for a long time.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore will make their home in Spur and are comfortably situated in Mrs. Hisey's property on Carroll Avenue. Mr. Moore is employed in town and will continue with his work.

MURDER CASES AFFIRMED

The cases of Robert Benton, who was given the death penalty, and Son Gipson, who was given fifty years in the state prison, were affirmed by the court of criminal appeals at Austin yesterday. Benton and Gipson are the two negroes sentenced by the district court at Crosbyton for the murder of Bob Morgan.

The information was received by Sheriff Elmer Reed at Crosbyton who phoned Attorney W. D. Wilson at Spur. Judge Wilson was a special prosecutor in the cases.

Morgan was ruthlessly murdered by these negroes, both of them confessing to the crime.

C. L. Love of Love Dry Goods Company, made a business trip to Borger Sunday to spend a few days looking after the Love Dry Goods Company's store in that city.

To The Children Of Spur Territory

It is just twenty-four days until Santa Claus is expected to visit our town, and it will be necessary for us to get our Christmas letters to him soon. There will be just three more issues of the Dickens County Times published before Christmas and we want to let Santa Claus know about all the good little boys and girls in this country by printing these letters and see that Santa Claus gets them.

Start your letters to Santa Claus right now. We want a number for the Times next week and we want to know just how many children are interested in Santa Claus' coming to Spur. We want to extend him a welcome to our country and make him know we appreciate his coming, not for the presents he might bring, but because we love him and know he is a grand old man who loves all good little children.

There has been a big snow up north and Santa Claus has had a fine time getting the millions of presents ready for the children. Now he wants to know how many and what kind to bring to Spur country. All the children should write him what you want and give him the thrill of his life in coming to Spur. We want all children both in town and in the country to start your letters now and let's get them to Santa Claus.

FORMER PASTOR HEARD FROM

This week The Times is in receipt of a letter from Rev. I. A. Smith who is now pastor of the First M. E. Church at Wellington. Brother Smith had a little bad luck while passing through Matador country, having lost a box containing some valuable clothing. Rev. Smith stated that he and Mrs. Smith like their new home fine and feel that they have a great field.

HE THANKS HIS FRIEND

George T. Gilkinson, groceryman of Higgins writes to the Times to thank some unknown friend for sending him The Times each week.

"I have been receiving your wonderful paper," he says, "but do not know who is sending it, although I appreciate it and wish to thank the person that is sending it."

Mr. Gilkinson says Higgins is a real live West Texas town and is "booming right along."

Red Top News

The Red Top Demonstration Club met at the Christian Church Monday, November 21. The demonstration was "Christmas Suggestions," or "How and What" to make for Christmas presents.

Miss Gordon brought a number of finished articles and the ladies brought their work so there was a variety of things suitable for gifts, all of which can be made at home.

Eleven members were present at this meeting. The next meeting will be a social the first Monday in December, to be held with Mrs. M. Howell.

This is also the time to elect new officers for the coming year and each member is urged to be present.

A number of people enjoyed the school program given by Mrs. Parker and pupils Friday night.

Brother Luther Billberry filled his appointment here Sunday and Sunday night.

Brother Rice preached Sunday afternoon to a large crowd at the Christian Church.

The Premier Nuisance—The Noise Maker

Arms on armor clashing bray'd
 Horrible discord, and the madding wheels,
 Of broken chariots rag'd; dire was the noise
 Of conflict.—Milton.

Even during what Richard III calls "this weak piping time of peace," when "grim-visaged war hath smoothed his wrinkled front," there are those who seem loath to allow peace to fold her wings and dwell among us. They are not warriors, far from it, ofr they likely would be among the last to volunteer their services for deadly conflict.

These enemies of peace in times of peace, these disrupters of quietude, these destroyers of serenity and concord, have no ambition to risk their precious lives in a war wherein men seek to kill each other. Their object in life seems to be to make both night and day hideous with loud, unnecessary and sleep and peace-destroying noises. Just how these noise-makers themselves endure with equanimity, even with a parent's pleasure, the bedlam they create is more than reason and good sense can discover.

They may be described in Macbeth's words, "Full of sound and fury, signifying nothing." Again he says "Methought I heard a voice cry 'Sleep no more! Macbeth does murder sleep!'"

Surely those who are members, wittingly or unwittingly, of the "Unnecessary Noise-Makers' Association" murder sleep. And they all but murder those who would have sleep and who need it that it may "knit up the ravell'd sleeves of care," and rebuild tissue and reposit nerve, that they may on the morrow pursue their vocations with opened eyes and quickened mind, alert and vigorous.

Worse than this, tragic and terrible as it is, these unthinking and unearring makers of useless and terrible noises also may be guilty unwittingly of literal murder. In cases of very serious illness, when the patients are much in need of refreshment and strength that sleep alone can give, is it not likely that being intermittently awakened and nerve-shocked by these awful terrors of the night they in some cases succumb to their ailments when otherwise they would recover?

Without much doubt there are those over whose bones might be raised a stone bearing the inscription, "Murdered by makers of uels e s s noises!"

And then there may be those who are destined for the realm of eternal woe because the anger induced by being awakened at all hours of the night caused them to "take the name of the Lord in vain," at the same time mentally and orally consigning the noise-maker to that place of torment where he may meet him, wheer they will have a chance to quarrel about it throughout eternity. Surey, however, the swearer should be entitled to much more of consideration than the noise fiend who caused his rage and ruin.

One can but wonder if he who dashes through the streets of a city at all times of day and night, with the cut-out of his motorcycle or automobile open, even thinks of the discomfort of others, the condemnation of himself, the pain and sorrow he may be causing—in fact, is sure to be causing, to greater or less degree. Especially on calm, warm nights when windows are open and it is difficult to sleep because of the heat, it can be safely asserted that one noisy "pop-pop" machine, tearing through through miles of streets at all hours of the night, awakens probably ten thousand people. The making of such noise at such times is a crime, and the ordinances of Texas towns should forbid such orgies of din and bedlam.

Surely Morpheus, nor any other self-respecting little god, would ever think of making his home in a place where such conditions reign day and night.

We are told that the ancients, and ple in this day and time, undertook to drive demons out of their communities, and even their bodies, by making loud noises. Judging from noises city dwellers hear these days and nights it is small wonder that demons, not to speak of decent human beings flee from these enemies of comfort, serenity and sweet content.

The noise-maker is utterly oblivious of the fact that he more than likely is making it impossible for tired little mothers who have been trying for hours to get their sick babies to sleep are thwarted in their efforts by the noise he is making. Such a condition may result in much more serious consequences than he dreams of.

Many visitors to Spur, which is up to date in noises as well as in better things, have been heard to remark that Spur was not only the City of the Hour, but also a city of noise, as most other cities are. To the ordinarily observant citizen two-thirds the noise made by locomotive whistles, automobile horns, motorcycle and truck cut-outs and joy riders could be eliminated without adding to the danger of depestrians but very greatly adding to the peace, quietude, serenity and comfort of our citizens.

No one complains of necessary noises, but every one should complain of those that are not necessary and should continue their complaining "until something is done about it."

There is hardly a surer index to the coarse character of an individual than the unnecessary noise he makes, both as to his loud speaking and the fuss resulting from his actions and little incidental deeds. For example, some come into the house almost jarring the building with their heavy footsteps. They slam the doors, yell out for some one in another part of the house, and begin loud talking and otherwise making all sort sof noise.

When such a one enters with his characteristic bluster and racket, those who may be reading or writing, or trying to meditate upon some particular subject find their train of thought hopelessly wrecked, and confusion taking the place of orderly thinking.

This type of noise-maker is self-centered. He considers no one but himself and imagines that his advent is of such moment that it should be announced in some way, and his method of heralding his arrival is in keeping with his coarseness, unrefinement and stupid nature.

Some men enter office where quietude prevails, where other men are trying to use their minds for thinking worthwhile thoughts, and begin talking at the top of their voices. Their loud words reverberate through out the halls and offices, disturbing not only the person to whom they are addressing their wordy and noisy remarks, but all others within hearing. And of course their conversation is of little consequence.

Loud and vociferous talkers do little quiet and serious thinking. Therefore their utterances are of no particular consequence. Noise-makers are shallow thinkers, and shallow thinkers come to profitless conclusions.

The boisterous, blustery, loud-mouthed person is never one of culture and refinement.

If he were he would not manifest these characteristics of the uncultured and unrefined. This is as true of me nas of women, but coarseness in women is less to be endured than in men. Even the noisy, uncouth man expects to find women quieter, more cultured and more refined.

Shakespeare makes King Lear say of Cordelia—
 Her voice was ever soft,
 Gentle, and low—an excellent thing in woman.

It is not only an excellent thing in woman, but in man also. A loud, coarse voice signifies coarseness in other characteristics. Particularly in laughter does this obtain. Goldsmith put it impressively:

The watch-dog's voice that bay'd the whispering wind,
 The loud laugh that spoke the vacant mind.

Even if the loud talker's conversation were interesting in the thoughts it expressed, which it isn't, he would still be dreaded instead of welcomed. No matter how beautiful, or how informing, or how entertaining his communication might be, it would be quite unwelcome when shouted into one's ear like the blast from a factory whistle.

The loud speaker—the human one—is like his message. He is forcing himself on the attention of his victim, and usually he has a selfish motive in doing so. He has something he wants to "put over," and he not only imposes his noise and personality upon his enforced listener, but wants his aid in attaining his selfish ends.

The loud speaker to a refined person has about the same effect that a modern jazz orchestra would have had on the refined musical ears of Beethoven or Bach, or Wagner, or Verdi. Either of these masters of music would have stopped his ears and run from such discord.

A grand piano to tomtoms, an Eolian harp to a tin pan, a violin to a "corn stalk fiddle and a shoe-string bow," a nightingale to a hooting owl, a canary to a jaybird, a Gallicurci to the screams of a maniac—such is the comparison of soft, gentle words with those of the uncouth and clamant shouts, the boisterous

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens have many friends in Spur who appreciate them a great deal and who regret to see them leave us. However, we hope they meet with much success in their new field.

DICKENS COUNTY GIN REPORT

The government report of November 14, showed there had been 22,618 bales of cotton ginned in Dickens County that date. There had been 11,872 bales of the same date in 1926. However, this should not be significant as last year was very unfavorable for both picking and ginning cotton, while this year has been the most favorable year for both picking and ginning.

The same report for Kent County showed 6,347 as compared with 5,463 one year ago. Conditions in Kent County were similar to those in this county.

Believe It Or Not!

An apple, 'tis said, is an emblem of health—and if so—then the "sign of the apple" should be our trade mark for our store is in fact—a Temple of Health. "Prevention" is as much a watchword as "cure."

Don't let Fall and Winter colds drag along. Get after them and cure them quick. Virtually every big ill—if first a minor ailment and if taken in hand in time—almost always can be cured at the least possible cost.

Our drugs are fresh and they are compounded only by registered pharmacists.

"LONG DISTANCE?"

"What will it cost me to talk to my brother in Kansas City?"

The Long Distance operator is glad to answer such questions. Quickly as possible, she looks up the rate to Kansas City and answers the enquirer. She does not hesitate to suggest how his call may be handled with greatest economy.

Soon afterward, perhaps, she tells a business man how he may place several calls at once and have them completed in succession, as he sits at his desk. In that way, he can cover his trading territory, in person, within a few hours.

Or she may be telling a mother how she can keep in touch with a son at school by calling once a week after 8:30 in the evening, when low Station-to-Station rates prevail.

Or she may be talking to you. She will enjoy helping if you will call upon her.

GIVE SOMETHING FOR THE HOME

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

Give something for the baby,
For Mother, too, and Dad,
A doll for sister, maybe,
An engine for the lad,
And yet, this glad December,
As up and down you roam,
The finest gift, remember,
Is something for the home!

Though something for a minute
Some heart a moment cheers,
The gift with Christmas in it
Is something for the years.
The little gifts are pleasant,
The gifts as light as foam,
But, for the great big present,
Give something for the home!

There isn't any other
That hearts will hold as fast,
That pleases Dad and Mother
Like something that will last
A chair, a table near it,
A lamp to light the gloam—
To bring the Christmas spirit,
Give something for the home!

Poultry Expert Speaks To Lubbock and Crosby People

LUBBOCK, Texas, Nov. 23.—Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S., national poultry expert of St. Louis, Mo., arrived in Lubbock Monday to conduct a series of lectures and clinic demonstrations on poultry over Lubbock and Crosby counties.

Meetings will be held at Slaton, Ralls, Acuff, Shallowater and Lubbock and all South Plains people interested in poultry raising are cordially invited to attend any of the meetings.

The citizenship of Lubbock through the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, are offering a special invitation to all South Plains people to attend the meeting which will be held at Lubbock at the courthouse at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Dr. L. D. LeGear is a graduate veterinary surgeon, a practical poultry raiser and a national poultry expert of 35 years of experience. He comes highly recommended by the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, and Missouri State Board of Agriculture. He has addressed audiences of 2,000 and more farmers and others interested in the poultry raising industry, many times in Missouri and other states.

LeGear will discuss methods of housing, feeding and caring for flocks to get the highest egg production; raise baby chicks, how to detect and how to successfully hatch, feed and cure diseases of poultry and how to cull flocks.

One important feature of his clinic demonstration is post mortem examinations. LeGear invites anyone to bring in sick poultry. He will kill the fowl, dissect it and show the cause of the disease in order that the remainder of the flock may be cured and saved.

All the meetings are free and free individual consultation will follow each meeting. Every poultry raiser, whether on the farm, back lot or commercial plant on the South Plains should attend at least one of the meetings.

Dr. LeGear talked to Florida poultry raisers last Spring. He visited

California last summer and the this fall. He has a poultry farm in St. Louis where he raises poultry and makes a daily study of his life work. He goes from Lubbock back to his home at St. Louis.

Meetings on the South Plains will be held as follows: Tuesday afternoon and evening, 2 and 7:30 p. m.; Slaton; Wednesday evening, 7:30 p. m.; Ralls; Friday, afternoon, 2 p. m.; Acuff; Friday evening, 7:30 p. m.; Shallowater; Saturday afternoon, 2 p. m., court house, Lubbock.
