Senator Mayfield's opponents see little in any of his legislative work. Neither of the bills went any further than the Senate. The story is told that Senator Mayfield went to the late Senator Cummins, aged and grown gray in the Senate, and told him of the urgent political necessity for his pushing an amendment to the Esch-Cummins bill through the Senate. From these figures it seems to be attributed by the Senator to his to be more economical to store cotton in warehouses and sheds and pay storage than it is to let it remain out in the weather and pay the reconditioning charges.

By storing cotton saves a great amount of bad cotton going o nthe market. This damaged cotton must be used for some purpose, and as a result it is manufactured into some cheap grade of articles which is thrown back on the people to consume.

Our loval compress has made adequate provision for storing cotton and gives it first class attention. There could be many other means of torage provided in the community which would save a great amount of otton from being damaged. It might pay those who are holding cotton either on the yards or at home to make some provision for housing it and save the expense of reconditioning it. According to reports made to railroads and other shipping companies they will be held responsible for these expenses if they accept damaged cotton for shipment.

We obtained in the amount $200,000 from the State to re-construct and hard surface the road from Dickens west to the county line, and north to the county line. The road from Dickens east to the county line has been designated a State Highway. Just recently we secured a grant of aid from the state to rebuild the road from Dickens to Spur. BRYANT-LINK COMPANY "How big was George Washington,

That people called him great? Was he like old Goliath, tall,

His spear a hundred weight?" Our conception of great men often s similar to the lad who naturally supposed Washington was by nature superior to all other men, when in fact he was just a man who made the best of his opportunities in life and forgot self in serving humanity. Yes, he was great; someone said he was a man upon whom greatness was thrust, which was almost true for he loved his country home, Mount Vernon, where he had fields forests and gardens of flowers all planted by his own artistic and architectural skill. No prettier spot on all this earth than the one which stands to this day the home of the immortal Washington. He was a home builder as well as a nation builder and it should be an inspiration to every young man and maiden of this great country to tollow Washington's example in home building. The thing that has kept the stars and stripes from ever trailwe have been a nation of home owners and if we as a nation drift into rent houses, apartments and hotels, we will find ourselves a weaker nation, our children will not have the memory of a real home and will be satisfied to drift here and there seeking gold and pleasure which they will not find, and in the end will feel their lives have been failures.

Every man can own a home if he will pay the price. It may be denying himself an auto; he may not be able to join the procession and go the to the main highway; I am for a hard gait of the crowd. What would you think of Washington if he had never community out through Afton to the cared to own a home? Well, he main highway; I think a hard surface simply would not have been our Washington.

SPECIAL DEVELOPMENT SECTION THE DICKENS COUNTY TIMES

The Spur National Bank

Located in Spur, Texas, is one of the really reliable financial institutions of this city. With a capital and surplus of $100,000, this well known bank has shown a steady growth, and this has been accomplished by the unstinted efforts of the officer sand directors who have always been identified with the upbuilding of the community in which

In a review of this kind, setting forth the qualifications of any business institution, the bank comes in for due consideration for their efforts put forth in town and community building. In this the Spur National Bank is no exception to the rule, for with such men at the helm as W. B. Lee, active vicepresident and W. T. Andrews as cashier, and a board of directors composed of men who do things, there is nothing pertaining to community development that they cannot accomplish.

The banker is your friend; he is one of the greatest boosters a town can possess. If you have a worthy project he will lend you a helping hand; if the proposition is lacking of foundation he will so advise you, for your banker is your best

The Spur National Bank has grown by leaps and bounds since its organization, and they have ever been on the alert for anything that meant the betterment of the town or community.

With a capital and surplus of $125,000 and deposits of over $1,000,000, on the last call, certainly bespeaks prosperity for not only the community, but for the Spur National Bank as well, and we predict under the guidance of men who understand the banking business in the minutest detail, The Spur National Bank will continue to grow and prosper.

As in all cases of community development the officers and directors of the Spur National Bank are ever for anything that tends to the progress of the community, and you will always find them working wholeheartedly for anything that means progress. Remember this-The Spur National Bank is for Spur and the Spur community at all times.

The Spur Bakery

Located in Spur, Texas, and under the efficient management of Mr. Sam Sparks, is rendering a service to its many customers in this section and baking a really meritorous product. Prompt and efficient service given to special occasions and parties.

In the whole food scheme of the home there is no article that deserves more attention in its preparation than bread. Through many ages of man's development it has occupied a place of distinction in food value. It is therefore fitting that the quality of the ingredients be given the careful consideration it deserves. Therefore, never before in the history of this city has such wholehearted enthusiasm been manifested over a food product as they have over the bread as baked by the Spur Bakery. The reason:

Because their bread is a quality bread, made from the best materials in this modern bakery, equipped with the most

Bite into a slice of the bread as baked by the Spur Bakery if you want to know how good bread really can be made. It has a mightly appetizing flavor—a flavor that puts it in a class to itself. This bread calls for the best materials, the choicest flour, doubly tested for food value, pure milk and kettle rendered compound, refined granulated sugar, pure crystal salt and fresh yeast-all ingredients that go to make it your most nourishing food.

A visit to this well known bakery will convince you of the extreme precautionary measure used to make it sanitary in every respect. The management is also interested in the growth of this section of Dickens county. He is a Spur booster; he is ever for any move that will tend to further the interests of his community and the communities he serves, and in this review we are more than glad to present for your consideration the Spur Bakery in Spur—your home institution.

Hart-Shaffner & Marx clothing for men being featured in this department. A full line of groceries and hardware also handled here. George S. Link is manager of the local store.

In this review of the onward progress of this section, and in which we are setting forth the qualifications of the various establishments of Spur, we are pleased to have identified with us the above reputable establishment—the Bryant Link Company, one of the really meritorious firms of this city.

Handled in the big stock of Bryant-Link Co. are the West Texas Utilities Company

Under the efficient management of Mr. Burrow, has rendered a service of the kind that has given entire satisfaction. Many thousands of dollars have been expended in improvements and no expense is spared in maintaining the service and keeping it up to the highest standards of

Under the able supervision of trained executives, the West Texas Utilities Company has proven its worth to this section of the state. More and better equipment is added when necessary, and this is done in order to keep the service up to the very highest standards at all times.

Electric power has become an important factor in community development. The West Texas Utilities Company conceives it to be a duty of paramount importance to do more than keep abreast of this section of the state, but to keep far enough ahead in the realization of its potential possibilities Even during the lean years of the not far distant past service facilities were provided far ahead of profitable demand, and for this fact the West Texas Utilities Company is recognized for its true worth.

In a business so large as that of the electric company many problems arise that call for immediate solution. In a region such as that served by the West Texas Utilities Company, the rapidity and scope of community development depends to a great degree upon the ability and willingness of the electric company to keep itself in constant readiness not only to meet such problems, but to anticipate them. To carry out this purpose of providing for future demand and realizing the rapidly growing population of this section, the West Texas Utilities Company spares no pains or expense in keeping its plants up to the very best.

The West Texas Utilities Company has a deep sense in their civic responsibilities. The principal activities of the past have been but briefly reviewed, but our readers may feel assured that this company and its management will leave no stone unturned in keeping eternally at the problems of bettering its service as each day passes, and will be found working unstintedly and wholeheartedly for the advancement of the towns and communities it serves.

C. R. Edwards & Co.—Dry Goods

One of the leading dry goods establishments of this section of Dickens county, and under the personal management of Mr. Edwards, has builded an enviable reputation for the quality lines they handle. Their stock includes the best in every particular, and is a place where your patronage is sincerely appreciated.

Too much can never be said in a commendable way about a firm that has been instrumental in the upbuilding of a city in which they operate—a city that has been successfully builded, successfully developed from a business and social standpoint. This is certainly true of the well known store of Edwards—one of the real mercantile establishments of Dickens county—a firm that is a household word in every home in this section of the state. No matter where you go in the Spur community you will hear the name of Edwards, for the Edwards' are town and community builders.

The Spur Creamery

Located in Spur, Texas, is one of the really essential industries of this section. Have been supplying the Dickens county territory with quality cream and drinks to that end that they are held in the highest esteem. The well known Coca Cola drink is also bottled by them. Is under the efficient management of Mr. Roy Stovall.

In setting forth the qualifications of this concern it is well to state that they have been supplying the people of Spur and this territory for some time with their quality produ featured among which is the celebrated Coca Col-There is not a man, woman or child that is not f bottled Coca Cola, and it is firmly implanted the people of this section.

In addition to Coca Cola many othin bottled by this company, and in this connection we must say that all the drinks bottled at this plant are made from pure fruit juices and nothing but distilled water is used.

In the bottling of drinks and the making of ice cream at the Spur Creamery, the utmost care is exercised. The right piece of machinery that comes in contact with the drink mixing and bottling, is thoroughly sterilized, the bottles being boiled and run through many sterilization processes. You are thereby assured that when the drink or cream is ready to serve you that there is no danger of anything that might be injurious to the health.

An important feature, one which we wish to call to the particular attention to the readers of this paper is that preparations are being made on a big scale to handle the cream and dairy products of the farmers of this section. They will buy all the cream you bring in, and will at all times pay the highest market prices. This is a decidedly important factor in the conduct of our local plant, and you will know that you are keeping the profits at home. Remember the Spur Creamery is a Spur institution. Patronize it.

In going into this review of Spur from a development standpoint we feel that this section would not be complete without commendable mention of the above named firm and motor car dealership-The Spur Wrecking Company, under the able management of Berry & McGee.

As in all cases of standard merchandise or equipment of any kind, mere mention is practically all that is necessary for a well known product. This case applies with force to this opular motor car and truck, and the sales of these cars is facie evidence that Dodge Bros. have come to the front inception of their new car. Much can be said of the this automobile, but should we go into minute terling qualities ,it would take many pages in efore, a demonstration, which will be gladly en will convince the most skeptic of the realization of the

NEARLY 200 TREES FOR CITY PARKS

Through the co-operation of the itizens of Spur there have been approximately 200 shade trees purhased and are being planted on the little parks of the city. The park on Hilll Street has been placed in fine condition. Walks have been graded out and trees planted. The ground has been plowed and arrangements are bing made to plant flowers and set out shrubbery during the spring. It is reported that one of the ladies or ganizations will foster the work of beautifying this park.

The park on Cemetery road will receive similar treatment to Hill Street park. The trees have arrived for this park and are being planted this week. It is thought some organization of the town will have supervision of beautifying this park.

The west side park on Third Street will receive proper attention and shade trees will be substituted where needed. This park has a number of fine shade trees on it now but needs others and there should be some other improvements made. Bryant-I ink Company will foster beautifying this park, and when Bryant-Link Company has charge, the work goes over in a creditable manner.

Highway Park out in the new addition has been cleared of the mesquite and has been plowed. The city has agreed to lay the pipe line and furnish the water for the trees on this park. Trees have been purchased and the citizens in Highway addition have agreed to see that proper attention is given toward caring for the trees and making other needed improvements.

Chas. Whitener has done more toward creating interest in the parks of our town than anyone else. In fact, it is due to his interest in seeing a Epur beautiful that has stimulated these improvements. He has superintended planting the trees and has not received a penny for this work.

A more democratic Beader could not be found anywhere and it is for the traditions that he upholds and his conception of life in the small as well as large things that has won him the admiration he so splendidly deserves.

Architects from Lubbock were selected and engaged immediately from Ribble and Rible, to draw up plans for the new high school building, which is being voted upon the 6th day of March, were also decided upon at the meeting.

As citizens of tomorrow we should provide our school children with the very best facilities possible and our duty to them must not be neglected. We look to them for leadership for the future of our community and nation and only with the best equipment can they concentrate on their

The site for the new building has not yet been selected, but we know that the most suitable location that can be obtained will be selected. Quite a number of sites have been suggested among a favored one is the block just west of the base ball park. The building will possibly be made of white brick and is to have every possible convenience and chief among the improvements will be a large auditorium and modern stage and fittings .- Post Dispatch.

MAIN STREET

Life is full of paradoxes, and business. imself a product of that very "Main Street" for which he expressed such ontempt. This in itself would not be significant. But one could string list of names across the continent, and every name would be that of a successful and /worthy man whose birthplace was some Main Street or other.

Main Streets are not only charming places, American satirists to the contrary, but they are breeding spots of genius. Our small towns, aided by the little red school-houses, have turned out many men who are shaping the destinies of America today.

Colonel Lindbergh, our aviator extraordinary and Ambassador of Good Will, first saw the light of day in a small town; Calvin Coolidge, the President of these United States, is another of many examples of Main Streeters that might be given; and there are, too, John J. Pershing, Henry Ford, James A. Reed, Charles G. Dawes and William E. Borah.

And so Main Street has much of which to boast. True Main Street is not inhabited entirely by geniuses, but neither is Broadway.

Main Street needs no defense. The calibre of its citizens, both those who still live on it and those who have left it for larger spheres, speaks for

Hold your head high, Main Street! Those who flaunt your failings are too blind to see your virtues.

THE PRESIDENT ON THE PRESS

President Coolidge, in a recent address at the dedication of the National Press Club's new magnificent Grantham and Mrs. Tobe Westfall, Washington home, gave it as his opinion that the American press has become invaluable to business, but has lost much of its power in molding public opinion.

> The press "appears to have lost much of its power as a director of public thought," declared the President, and since he made the declaration newspapers throughout the country have been debating the question.
