SPUR, DICKENS COUNTY, TEXAS.

Whole Number 204

Whippet Touring Car And Many Cash Prizes Offered By Times

On December first the Dickens County Times will give away a Whippet touring car valued at $562, and six other cash prizes to the seven contestants who finish with the highest scores in a popularity contest to be conducted by this paper. There will be no element of chance in this contest, for the prizes will be awarded in the nature of salaries to the seven contestants who obtain the best results for the Times in the way of increasing its permanent circulation and preside in Dickens County and the surrounding territory.

Elsewhere in this issue there is a page announcement of the contest, together with list of prizes and rules governing the contest.

Votes will be issued on subscriptions obtained by contestants through their own efforts, extent of their acquaintance and through the assistance of friends who would like to see them win.

Contestants may have anyone, anywhere, help them get subscriptions and vote coupons. Each contestant is entitled to one nomination blank starting her out with 10,000 votes. She may also obtain an unlimited number of vote coupons which must be voted by her, or by her friends not later than one week after they are published.

A vote schedule, showing the number of votes allowed on subscriptions and renewals and payments of arrears in subscriptions appear with the page announcement.

Bonus Votes
In addition to the regular number of votes allowed on subscriptions, bonus or extra votes will be allowed on totals of $30 in subscriptions as indicated in the page announcement, but these bonus votes are allowed only on SUBSCRIPTIONS THAT GO TO ADDRESSES WITHIN A RADIUS OF 150 MILES OF SPUR. The paper prefers subscriptions that go within the natural trade territory of the business men of this county.

Short Campaign
This will be a short campaign, and candidates who enter early and promptly enlist the interest and support of all their friends and acquaintances are certain of a large return in proportion to the amount of effort they put forth.

Commissions
Any contestant who fails to win one of the seven named prizes will be paid a cash commission provided she remains active until the end.

$20 Guarantee
All contestants who turn in business every day are guaranteed at least $20 in this campaign. A more liberal arrangement could not be asked.

Start Early
An early start is half the race. Those who start early will find many of their friends will become interested and not only subscribe or renew their present subscriptions but will assist in getting others to do the same. Also those who start early will enlist the support of many who might otherwise subscribe for someone else. Remember that N-O-W spelled backwards reads W-O-N.

See the contest manager today and find out all about the contest, then you can decide whether to compete or not.

Cows Shipped To Spur This Week

W. B. Lee, Active Vice President of the Spur National Bank, stated Monday that the carload of registered cows purchased at the Dallas Fair, should arrive last night. He stated further that the farmers would be given an opportunity to see these cows today or tomorrow.

All farmers who can (and most all can) should make arrangements to get just one good registered Jersey cow on their farm. It will be the starting point of high grade cows for Dickens County. Either of our banks will be glad to assist any reliable farmer to secure registered cows for their farms.

Farmers who do not secure a registered cow soon, will be behind time in a few years, since other farmers are getting registered stuff. Let's lead the State in good cows.

EASTERN STAR CELEBRATES SEVENTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

On last Thursday evening, members of the Spur Chapter of the Eastern Star celebrated the Seventeenth Anniversary of the granting of the charter to this chapter. The following program was rendered:

Address of welcome—Mrs. Leonard Joplin.
Vocal Solo—Miss Lucille Lucas.
Reading—Miss Ada Dabney.

Vocal Solo—Robert Glasgow.
Mrs. Kate Senning has the distinction of having been first worthy matron of the Spur Chapter, so it was most fitting for her to make a talk on this occasion, after which the other past matrons and past patrons answered roll call with a word or two.

Then the Reverend McClellan presented the birthday cake bearing seventeen candles to the past matrons and past patrons. Mrs. Leonard Joplin, present worthy matron and Mr. T. C. Ensey, present worthy patron lighted the candles and Mrs. Senning cut the cake.

Following this, a social hour was held, after which lovely refreshments of cherry pie a la mode and hot chocolate were served.

The following people were present at this celebration: Messrs. and Mesdames R. E. Dickson, W. D. Starcher, Geo. S. Link, Hargrove, A. B. Hogan, Sparks, Jimison, McNeill, Jack Reector, T. C. Ensey, E. S. Lee, Jennings, Jim Hahn, C. A. Brinnell, H. C. Allen, Mmes. Snodgrass, Fite, Leonard Joplin, C. R. Edwards, Dillard, W. D. Wilson, Kate Senning, L. R. Barrett, Clemmons, S. Smith, Irl Joplin, M. ## Opening of Gambill's City Auditorium-Store Encouraging Should Be Good one

The opening of Gambill's 5-cent to 5-dollar store in Spur last Saturday was one of the greatest in the history of that company. Lester Harris, manager of the local store, in commenting upon the days business said, "We are well pleased with the results. We appreciate the business and the courteous attitude of the customers during the day." Referring to the business Mr. Harris again stated, "We are going to give the people real bargains."

In giving an estimate of the number of people visiting the store its initial day, he said he believed there were at least three thousand people passed through the doors. "We had many more sales than that," Mr. Harris said, "But some of the customers made two and three purchases during the day."

R. H. Gambill, one of the owners and general manager came up from Abilene the last of the week to look the store over before the opening day. He seemed to be so well pleased with the conditions that he returned home Friday and told his clerks to do their best. After the close of business he was given a report of the days business, and was so well pleased that he spent some fifteen minutes talking about the day.

This new business will add much to the conveniences of Spur's trade territory. There are many items sold at this store that could not be purchased bought many of these in other towns while others were purchased through the mail order houses.

Wholesale Candy House For Spur

It is reported that Spur is to have a wholesale candy house soon. The business is being installed by Lee Hammack, who has been in the whole sale candy business for some time. Mr. Hammack is a resident of Spur and is interested in the growth of our town, and feels that this business will mean a great deal to the people here.

He stated that he had hoped to open for business Saturday, November 3. This will depend on whether the building is completed in time. He expects to have a traveling salesman to represent the business in other towns and aim to supply all of this portion of West Texas. The business will be known as the Spur Candy Company.

Cecil Fox Painfully Burned

Cecil Fox had a very painful accident at his home last Thursday evening. He had been filling a gas heater and was attempting to light it. A negro boy who was assisting him attempted to throw the torch out at the door but failed, causing the flame to scatter over the basement floor of the home.

Mr. Fox attempted to procure the torch which had ignited some gasoline spilled on the floor, and suffered bad burns on both hands and his right limb. He went to Nichols Sanitarium where he remained until Sunday to have his wounds treated. He seems to be doing all right at this time.

Night Classes At Business College

President Harrow, of the American Business College, stated this week that there will be night classes for the accommodation of students started next week. He is making official announcements relative to these classes elsewhere in the Times. We understand these classes will continue up until ten o'clock in the evening. We ask that people interview Mr. Harrow in regard to these classes. sey, Guy Karr, Francis Clay, Bill McAlpine, Robert Glasgow, M. A. Lea, Dan McMahan, and the Reverend McClellan.

The fact that we need a city auditorium is no longer questioned. There is not a week passing that the statement is made, "We sure need an auditorium in Spur". In making our plans for this building we must not forget the progress and growth of Spur. Any building that would accommodate present conditions would be inadequate within four or five years. It will be far more economical to build an auditorium sufficient large to take care of the growth of Spur for a few years to come and then arrange it so that an addition can be made to it later.

Taking into consideration the present conditions and growth and the prospects for future growth, we would say that our auditorium should have a seating capacity of not less than three thousand, and we believe it should be larger than that. We now have one thousand school children and if we had a proper meeting place there are many occasions where we would have fifteen hundred people in addition to these. Then we would have only five hundred to go on. If our meeting should be great importance at present time, we would more than fill an auditorium of three thousand capacity.

Many West Texas towns have built auditoriums that within five years have been far too small. Now they are under necessity of doing away with these buildings and erecting new ones, or going to a great expense of remodeling them. It will be more economical to build one for Spur that will take care of our needs in years to come.

Cotton Report

According to reports from the Department of Agriculture on October 24 there had been 449 bales of 1928 cotton crop ginned in Dickens County. This is much under that of last year which was 2679 the first of last October.

Kent County has 383 bales of this years crop as compared with 453 bales one year ago.

SOME INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE

Mutual Insurance, as everybody knows, is insurance at cost. Your local Mutual Aid is not in the banking business. It is rendering one of the greatest services to its community that is possible to do. You just actually pay for the insurance you get and do not pay a lot of surplus money to build skyscrapers in the north and east. By patronizing your local Mutual Aid you are keeping Texas money in Texas.

Of course, practically all the funds paid in go to paying the death claims, etc., of your friends and neighbors when ill luck befalls them. However, the small amount which goes for expenses covers the printing of the policies and to her necessary forms; rent for office space; stamps; salaries of the secretary and other office help. All this money is paid to Texas citizens for the service rendered, and stays in Texas. It goes to the local groceryman for food and to the local clothing store for clothes, etc., then right back to you whether merchant or farmer.

Where does your money go when you pay into an eastern or northern insurance company about three times as much as it actually costs to maintain the insurance. It builds skyscrapers in Chicago, New York and other large distant cities. It buys private yachts and expensive automobiles for the highly paid presidents and vice-presidents; then goes to the Eastern manufacturers of these articles and never gets back to the grand old Lone Star State.

Where had you rather your money would go? Rather pay in more money and let it be used for the benefit of the large corporations and trusts in the east and north or just pay the actual cost of the insurance to your local friends and neighbors and put the balance in the local savings bank and draw interest for you. Don't let your Mutual Aid Policy lapse. Pay your death claims promptly—who knows who the Lord will see fit to call home next week. Spur Mutual Life Insurance Co. C. C. Haile, Secretary. Fred C. Haile, Field Manager.

BRYANT-LINK COMPANY

When Summer hides away and Autumn winds have the chill that changes the leaves from green to gold we are made to think of the harvest time. When the barns are filled with forage and yellow grain and the turkeys roost a little higher in the trees and the pumpkin is made in faces scary to behold, it's wonderful to live at this great time of the year, each season brings its different joys, but there seems to be a finished feeling when Autumn comes and the leaves come flying down.

Give us the heart to understand the graciousness of spreading trees. The changing seasons wisely planned the storm and sunshine all of these, for all the brightness of the down, and cheerful of noon and night and all that joy is builded on. Give us the grace to see it right. Let us remember each kind word, by weight of goodly feeling blest. Each gentle thing we've said or heard and blot from memory all the rest. Give us grace to see and know the benefits along the way. The many things that help us so; "Let us be thankful every day." It's a good old world if we are looking for the good. We meet with trouble, our plans often fail and most of our failures are caused by leaving God out of our plans. The foundation upon which every life that is successful must be built is religion founded on the ideals taught by the Man of Galilee and the Ten Commandments which we cannot break the least one of them without paying the penalty which impairs our happiness and usefulness. Wouldn't it be a great world if all of us lived as we know that we should live, but old self creeps in and we break one or many of the Commandments thinking we can get by but we can't. No man has ever yet broken one of God's laws and gotten by. He may have a bold face and fool the world, but we can't fool ourselves.

How about the harvest, will we have enough for our real needs? Yes if we are careful and do not waste. We think the country as a whole will have cause to be thankful. We have seen better harvests and many worse ones, we are not complaining, we believe in the people of this country and expect them to pay their notes and accounts as promptly as they possibly can so we can pay our debts, and when the new year 1929 comes we may be able to ask for help and grant to others who have dealt on the square the help they may need.

We have changed the arrangements in our Hardware Department and added some bargain counters, so you can easily select the little things you need and forget to call for. Our store is the Home of Radios, Atwater Kent, Kolster, Crosley and Majestic, the four leaders. Easy Washers, not just as good but better. Plan now to buy your wife a Copeland Electric Refrigerator for Christmas, nothing will add more to her joy and it will pay for itself in the saving of foods and the saving of doctor bills.

Come on with the crowds and bring the Children too.

One of the great features of the South Plains Music Teachers' Association, which meets in Spur next week will be the Clark-Whitlock Recital on Friday evening, November 2. This will be a musical program given by real artist which lovers of music will enjoy.

The personnel of this recital is composed of the ablest musicians found not only in the State but to be found in the West. Mr. Wallace R. Clark is head of the Department of Music at the West Texas State Teachers' College and is particularly noted for his fine tenor voice. Some have even classed him with John McCormick. Mr. Clyde Whitlock is associate director of the Fort Worth Conservatory of Music and is well known for his musical ability. He is a very able violinist and has always met the approval of his listeners.

These two great artists will be accompanied by Miss Pauline Brigham head of the Department of Piano at the West Texas State Teachers' College. Miss Brigham is not excelled in her work by any one, and has been asked to play before some of the most noted audiences in the world.

It seems this will be one great opportunity for the people of Spur to hear great musical talent. Make arrangements to attend this recital and be benefitted by this great program.

VISIBLE AND INVISIBLE TEMPORAL AND ETERNAL

The things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.—II Cor., iv, 18.

The continuous presence of God is as much evident, just as impressively manifested, by everything about us, as is life itself; and nothing can manifest life without manifesting God.

Life itself, and the laws and conditions which produce and maintain it, are unmistakable signs of His presence. The life process, creation and function of life cells as carried on in the body, the themselves silently proclaiming His omnipotence, omniscience and omnipresence.

The intelligent combining of chemical elements constituting the body and their selection with such wonderful discrimination from other elements in the earth and air, constitute evidence of the presence of the Infinite so overwhelming and conclusive that it is difficult to understand him who says that he doesn't believe in Divine direction of the universe and all that it contains.

These thoughts apply to all living things. These living things of themselves know nothing. Even greater than their beauty and their comfort to man in their testimony to the presence of Him who designed them and created the men and women who look upon them with wonder, admiration and appreciation.

Even he who asserts his disbelief in miracles is living in the midst of them all the time.

"For by Him were all things created, that are in the heaven, and that are in the earth, visible and invisible."

But let us consider for a moment eternal unseen things. God Himself is unseen. "No man hath seen God at any time," the Bible tells us.

Neither has man really seen any of his fellows. He has seen the fleshly bodies in which they dwell, but not they themselves. The real man is mind, soul, spirit. These are not seen.

Mind, intelligence, is invisible and eternal. Love is not seen, but we know but we know that it is. Truth is not seen but we know there is truth. Not one of the emotions, virtues or attributes of man is seen, but we know that he has them.

We know that life is, but we do not see it. We only see it manifested.

Power is invisible, but we know of the existence of nothing better than we know the existence of power. Asked what propels steamships, railroad cars, elevators and so on, and we reply, electricity, steam, or whatever force it may be. We do not see it, nor do we know why it has power, but we know that it does have it.

Not one of what we call "natural laws" can we see, but we know that they exist as well as we know that we ourselves exist. Attraction, gravitation, centrifugal and centripetal force, adhesion and cohesion, and so on, are about us all the while and we know that they exist together with the phenomena attributable to them, but we do not see them.

We do not see the principle of anything. We can no more see the principle of mathematics than we can see the principle inherent in honesty, but both are familiar to us, or SHOULD be—especially honesty.

Mind and Its Product

We can no more see the mind which thinks than we can see its product—thought. But we know there is mind, and we know there is thought.

Yet we know there can be no thought without the exercise of mind. And mind must think; it can't help it. He whose mind it is can govern the thought from his thought factory—the mind.

But we can not hold it up to men's eyes and say, "Look, here is a thought I've just turned out." But man can, however, with his material hands use material objects to form outlines or pictures which he and others have agreed shall represent certain thoughts. But even though printed a million times these words can never show the thought itself, nor the mind evolving it.

Also man can use his material lips and tongue for making certain sounds which, although not seen, yet are carried to the brain by certain effects induced by sound waves upon the tympanum of the ear. These effects called sounds, picture to his mind certain thoughts, just as the images of trees and other material objects on the retina of the eye convey to it the presence of certain objects.

How this is done, nobody knows. It is where man must stop. How and, immaterial, recognizes certain phenomena expressed by material means, we can not tell. There is a very thin partition here separating the material from the mental or spiritual, but it is separated, definitely, completely, eternally.

The brain, composed largely of phosphorus, is itself material, a part of "the earthly house of this tabernacle." Of itself it can no more recognize sound or sight, taste or feeling than can other parts of the body. But we must tread softly here. It is holy ground. The burning bush is near. The Mount of Transfiguration is in the distance.

That which we call power of mind consists not in force, but in intelligence. Therefore mind's control of physical power, or power derived from the mingling of material substances, comes of intelligence—knowledge of how to combine these in a way to get the desired results.

We are at just as great a loss to account for the nonexistent phantom creatures seen by what we term a disordered mind as we are those which the sane, normal mind looks upon. Just why the victims of delirium tremens, or he who is suffering from mental abnormality induced by drugs, imagines the existence and sight of creatures that never lived on land or sea, who knows?

How does he create in his own mind pictures of creatures that never existed and give them expression?

A greater tragedy than a lifeless body is an unintelligent mind, if we may use such a term.

A mind overworked becomes as a body overworked—broken down, powerless. In this, as in things material, we judge the cause by the effect.

The unsound mind is no longer a thought factory, but a producer of products, useless, pitiful, unaccountable. The machinery has been worn out, or clogged, or eaten by rust. Its output therefore is anything but perfect.

The Sound and the Unsound Mind

A sad thought is that man can cause the sound mind to become unsound, but not always can he cause the unsound mind to become sound. Thanks to the splendid men who have studied these things, much progress is being made in this wonderful field of scientific and humane endeavor.

Of course when the Apostle Paul wrote the sentence at the beginning of this article he was referring to things spiritual. Yet there are things material, including animal life, too small to be seen with the naked eye. These were not "dreamt of" in the philosophy of ancient man. However, some of the infinitesimally small species of animal life may have made him dream and—scratch. Also they probably prostrated him with illness, just as they do his modern brother.

As To Our "Little World"

Doubtless these creatures we can scarcely see without the aid of lenses felt more or less timid and humiliated in the presence of larger insects until the microscope discovered the still smaller ones.

For example, the festive chigger may have dug in anywhere he could because of the humiliation superinduced by his diminutive body. But, thanks to the microscope, he now probably struts about referring contemptuously to the humble though interesting little germ.

The atom, for a long time supposed to be the smallest of all material objects, now points the finger of scorn at the electron and jeeringly remarks, "Look at that miserable little fellow over there. Why, he must necessarily revolve about me, just as the earth does about the sun!" This recalls the lines some one wrote about small and smaller things—

Big fleas have little fleas upon their backs to bite 'em,
And little fleas have lesser fleas,
and so ad infinitum.

The chigger may have diseases caused by germs, and the germ in turn have an eye affection for which a still smaller germ is responsible. The converse of this proposition is also true, as the writer of the couplet just quoted realized:

And the great fleas themselves, in turn, have greater fleas to go on;
While these again have greater still, and greater still, and so on.

Bats probably think they amount to something, but what would be their thought if they were to be suddenly confronted with a live specimen of the pterodactyl of a former age?

The minnow may laugh at the tadpole, but what must be his apprehension when he meets a shark, or the shark's when he meets a whale?

The crowing rooster lords it over the barnyard fowls, but he hunts cover instanter when an eagle comes into sight!

The elephant likely considers himself some big beast, but his pride would receive a severe jolt did a dinosaur of ancient ages loom suddenly onto the landscape in the elephant's vicinity!

Men once had the idea that our little world was the biggest thing in the universe, but the telescope has made it a mere pigmy among the worlds compared with some.

"When I consider Thy heavens, the work of Thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which Thou hast ordained; What is man, that Thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that Thou visitest him?"

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday School was well attended, having a number of new members and several visitors with us.

Our pastor brought a wonderful message just as he always does, making some at least want to give up all worldliness and get on a higher plain of Christian living.

The B. Y. P. U. had a good attendance. The adult union has grown out of its first class room and moved into a larger one.

Just preceding the preaching service we were favored with a trio sung by Mesdames Con Moore, Schrimsher and Smith. After which the pastor brought another wonderful message resulting in four new members.

After prayer meeting last Wednesday evening the chair went into election of officers as follows:

President—T. J. Seal.
Vice-President—W. S. Patrick.
Secretary—Mrs. Andrews.
Assistant Secretary—Mrs. Schrimsher.

MANY SCENES OF RARE BEAUTY IN DE MILLE'S "THE KING OF KINGS"

Cecil B. De Mille's motion picture Life of Christ under the title of "The King of Kings"—a work of tremendous magnitude and rare beauty, which ran for many months at enhanced prices in New York, Chicago, Boston and other cities will be on view at the Lyric Theatre on Nov. 1, 2, and 3.

Mr. De Mille begins the story with the greater Galilean ministry of Jesus makes the counter motive the opposition of Scribes and Pharisees and High Priest, and develops the first grand climax in the Cleansing of the Temple. Here arises the second opposition; the resentfulness of Judas when Jesus refuses the temporal kingdom.

Many Wonderful Scenes

From scenes of great beauty in and around Bethany—the children in the Olive Grove and the raising of Lazarus—the action goes to the Upper Room of the Lord's Supper and thence to the Garden of Gethsemane. This wonderful sequence is preceded by the scene when Judas bargains with Caiaphas to betray Jesus for thirty pieces of silver, and it is followed by Peter's denial of the Lord.

The scene before the Sanhedrin is brief. But a second and grander climax is reached in the trial before Pilate, the opposing factors of Good and Evil being so stoutly matched and the apparent triumph of the Evil so heartbreaking. The "return of the action" is already at work in the remorse and subsequent suicide of Judas and in the spiritual triumph of the Divine Sufferer on Calvary.

Crucifixion Awe-Inspiring

The third and highest dramatic climax is the crucifixion of Jesus. In it, the art of De Mille has been touched something of the same divine fire that animated the pencils of the Old Masters. Finally the acme of spiritual beauty is in the quiet and lovely denouement from the Magdalene's strange encounter with the "gardener" whom she found to be her blessed Lord, and the final message of the manifested Saviour: "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature!"

Filming Begun with Prayer

Begun with prayer, the filming of the picture was most reverent. Incidental to it were the building of vast architectural reconstructions, notably the Second Temple, the streets of the Via Dolorosa, the jagged ravines and Hill of Calvary, the Hall of Pilate, the towers and turrets of Jerusalem. For use in the structures or in the outdoor scenes, ten thousand archaeologically correct properties were devised, bought or used.

All Studios Co-operate

All the California studios lent of their resources. Eminent players from many companies vied for the parts. As an indication of the size of the work, no fewer than 550 actors have named-character roles, thereby portraying hundreds of New Testament characters that reads of the Gospels have longed to visualize; while the great "ensemble" or mass scenes have enlisted as many as 5,000 men, women and children.

Learned Scholars Assist De Mille. The producer was fortunate in obtaining the active co-operation of the Reverend Doctor George Reid Andrews, Chairman of the Federal Council's Committee on Drama and Motion Pictures, and of the Reverend Father Daniel A. Lord, S. J., the Drama Professor of St. Louis University. The well-known Rabbi, Dr. J. M. Alkow, supervised the Jewish antiquities, while Clifford Howard the writer on subjects, edited the story which was adapted from the New Testament narrative by Jeanie Macpherson.

ENTERTAINED WITH A SHOWER

Monday evening of this week Lorene Simmons honored Mrs. G. A. Porter, Lucy Lea Hagins, with a lovely shower at the home of Mrs. W. J. Driggers. After several games had been played every one's fortune was told Mrs. Porter was told that she would soon fall heir to a great fortune. At that moment little Miss Robbie Lou Driggers, dressed in a gypsy costume appeared at the door she was dragging a gypsy van laden with the brides gifts. Mrs. Porter received many useful and beautiful gifts.

Miss Evelyn Bennett toasted the bride, Mrs. Brown Smith the girls left behind and Miss Lorene Simmons toasted the mother.

Gifts were sent by Mrs. Frank Stephens, Misses Lorilla and Frankie Stephens and Fannie Stewart, Mrs. Mitchell Baker, Mrs. T. E. Gregory, and Mrs. W. S. Carlisle.

A refreshment plate of hot chocolate, cakes and marshmallows were passed to the following: Misses Malissa McKay, Mary Pearl Hagins, Atdean Simmons, Evelyn Bennett, Gladys Johnston, Maud Dozier, Alice Wright, Eula Mae Gregory, Marjorie Booth, Ora Pearl Johnston, Robbie Lou Driggers and Lorene Simmons; Mesdames P. Booth and Dalton Johnston.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Mesdames Ned Hogan and C. Hogan were most gracious hostesses on Friday evening when they entertained with a "42" party in the lovely new home of Mrs. C. Hogan.

Upon entering one was given a very "spooky" feeling, for skeletons could be seen on every side, and black bats flew at random around the rooms. Tallies were small black cats, and Jack-o-lanterns adorned the score pads. Plate favors in keeping with the occasion were given to the guests.

For further entertainment of the guests, piano and vocal selections were beautifully rendered by Mary Elizabeth Hogan, Ella Mae Hogan, and Robert Glascow.

Lovely refreshments of pumpkin pie and coffee were served to the Mesdames G. S. Link, J. E. Morris, W. B. Lee, B. Hight, Oran McClure, C. A. Love, Cecil Hicks, W. E. Manning, J. B. Reed, T. A. ~WHY it's 2 minutes instead of 60 to complete your Long Distance call

THE AVERAGE time required to get your connection on a long distance call is about two minutes. In most foreign countries you are lucky if you get it within an hour. Sometimes it takes all day.

The reason for this superior service in the United States is that there are 5,000 people out of 350,000 in the Bell System whose sole job is bettering your telephone service. In the Bell System headquarters and Bell Laboratories are 5,000 telephone workers—scientists, chemists, engineers, business experts who are engaged solely in improving telephone service.

These workers are a guaranty of continued progress in furnishing you with the best possible service at the lowest possible cost.

WONT NEED SO MANY 'KERICHS THIS YEAR

(By Leo Klingman)

Many people who have previously suffered from colds in the winter season can find that they do not need so many extra handkerchiefs this year, do to the fact that scientists have discovered that Vitamine A, as found in butter, ice cream and milk builds resistance to the cold germ.

An extra pat of butter at the table, or in cooking thus has more justification than the flavor it adds to the foods. A dish of ice cream, or a glass of milk is more vigorating than that amount of other foods.

ENCRE NOUS CLUB

Mrs. Jennings entertained members of the Encre Nous Club and other friends on Wednesday afternoon.

Progressive "42" was the diversion for the afternoon. When a lone 34 hand was played the winner took a walk through the forest, until she came to a pond where the wild animals were drinking. She was given one as a reward.

At the conclusion of the games lovely refreshments were served. Appropriate plate favors were found on each plate.

The following guests were present: Mmes. M. C. Golding, M. H. Brannen, Pauline Clemmons, John King, B. F. Hale, Roy Harkey, Hill Perry, Oran McClure, D. Y. Twaddell, Webber Williams, W. D. Wilson, R. BATTLES-McMAHAN

Miss Moselle Battles and Mr. Charlie McMahan were married last Friday morning about 7:30 o'clock. There were a few friends who witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. F. G. Rodgers, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Spur.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Battles, of Espuela community, and has been in this country the past four years. She attended Spur High School and has been actively engaged in club circles of the community which have prepared her to a great extent to be a home keeper and to do her part as a life partner.

Mr. McMahan has lived in this country the past eight years and has been engaged in farming a few miles northwest of Spur. He attended Spur schools and took advantage of opportunities offered him. Probably his greatest opportunity was in the selection of his better half.

Mr. and Mrs. McMahan will make their home on the old homestead northwest of town where he will continue his work at farming. Friends join in wishing these fine young people a happy and prosperous life together.

MARRIED IN JAYTON

Miss Lucy Lee Hagins and Mr. G. A. Porter were married in Jayton Saturday evening, October 13. Just a few friends witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. Hilbert.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Hagins of Spur, and was one time bookkeeper for the local Western Union office. She spent most of her childhood days in the Duck Creek community, and two years ago her parents moved to Spur, she coming with them. She has many friends in this community who appreciate her for the pure character she possesses.

Mr. Porter was for a number of years connected with the Western Union Telegraph and Cable Company. At one time he was manager for the local office where he rendered the public fine service. He had been with the company at Edinburg, Texas, the past two years, but a few weeks ago resigned to take up other work.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter are temporarily located in Spur until he is able to get into business. Friends join in wishing them well all through the journey of life.

SMITH-MOORE

A very quiet wedding occurred at the home of Rev. and Mrs. F. G. Rodgers last Thursday evening. The contracting parties were Miss Valie Oree Moore and Mr. Marvin B. Smith, both of our city. Rev. Rodgers performed the ceremony. Soon after the ceremony the couple left for other points, but were only gone a short time, and both were back in Spur Monday to start their work.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Moore and has spent the past four years in our city. She is a graduate of Spur schools and is a student of Theodore Irvine School of Dramatic Art in New York City. She taught expression in the Dickens Schools one year and this year was teaching her second year in Spur schools. She is an active worker in church and has had much to do with the success of B. Y. P. U. work in our city.

Mr. Smith is a son of Mrs. M. L. Smith, of Memphis, Texas. He has been associated with the Tri County Lumber Company the past year where he has rendered efficient service to his company. He is a student of Civil Engineering at the North Texas Branch of the A. & M. College, where he pursued his studies for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are at home in Spur where he will continue his work with his present company. Mrs. Smith will continue her work in the schools of Spur.

THE DAY OF THE RURAL CHURCH IS NOT PASSED

With the movement toward cities and towns, the consolidation of schools, and other general changes it has been said that "the day of the rural church is passed," but we maintain that there has been,—is,—and always will be a work for the rural churches,—a place for them that no other church or organization can fill. Our proof of this is that the Steel Hill Baptist Church, with a membership of about sixty-five, has found and is doing a great work. This church, which was organized in May, 1911, has had a continuous existence since that date. At times the attendance has been poor and workers few, but each time just as it seemed that all was in vain the Lord has manifested his power and the church work has progressed with renewed vigor. More than once we have come through such trials realizing more fully than ever that "all things work together for the good of those that love the Lord."

At this time the work is really going forward under the guidance of our consecrated, God, fearing, and energetic pastor, Rev. J. V. Bilberry. Real progress is being made despite the adversities of poor crops and the overwhelming forces of evil with which we are constantly coming in contact. It is largely through the untiring efforts of our pastor that different phases of the work, especially the Sunday School and the B. Y. P. U., are being developed and have taken on new life. In the Sunday School, with about forty regular attendants, a unique practice has been adopted—that of recording the number of chapters read from the Bible during the week by those attending Sunday School. This was begun at the suggestion of our pastor in September, 1927 and since that time our records show that the adults have read about 2,805 chapters; the seniors and intermediates 8,933 chapters; the juniors 3,288 chapters; and the primaries 871 chapters; a total of 15,897 chapters read in a little more than a year. As is obvious, this practice has resulted in more people reading their Bibles and those who were already Bible readers are becoming more familiar with its teachings.

Although our B. Y. P. U. is not standard, the Lord is being exalted in this work and the people edified. What is more the young people really enjoy this service. They deserve special consideration for their willingness and ability which indicates for them and the cause of Christ a bright and glorious future. The Drill (or Bible Drill) each Sunday evening is highly beneficial as well as fascinating for those who bring their Bibles. Our ambition and prayer is that more members of the B. Y. P. U. will bring their Bibles in order to take part in this exercise.

These activities have attracted not only many Baptists but others of the community have felt the influence of this work and are helping greatly in carrying on the cause of Christ. To these we are grateful and to God we are thankful for sending them our way. Some who are members of other denominations, not having the opportunity of attending their own church, have shown that they do not hold denominationism above spiritualism and have joined hands with us in trying to "overcome evil with good." It is as though we were all travellers on the journey of life and we may take different paths and by-ways of denominationism on the upward climb, we all expect to approach the throne of God by way of the cross, through our faith in Jesus Christ. While we appreciate this co-operation, we regret that only a comparatively few of the members are carrying the burden of the church work. We realize that one of the great problems confronting us today is that of making each member feel his duty and realize his opportunity to serve God. If each individual would stop and think—consider how much the church needs him and how great is his need of the church—our attendance would be doubled, the burden made lighter for all, greater spiritual progress of the church, and all would be happy in having done his duty to him self and to his God.

These facts are not stated in a spirit of boastfulness, but in a spirit of thankfulness to God for this opportunity of manifesting our love and faith in Him through service. Since it has been proven in the business world that "it pays to advertise" why not advertise the greatest business on earth—the business of saving souls—not only by publishing what the church is doing, but also by each individual's making his daily life a demonstration of what Christianity and the love of God means to him and what it may mean to all who will accept Him as their Savior. Our preaching dates are: Saturday before the first Sunday in each month at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The first Sunday in each month at 11 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. We have Sunday School each Sunday at 10:00 a. m. and B. Y. P. U. at 7:15 p. m. New members and visitors are always welcome at any service. —A Member.

TEXAS TECH WINS OVER ST. EDWARD'S

LUBBOCK, Oct. 14 — Sidney Knowles, giant Matador tackle, scooped up an enemy fumble and charged 55 yards for a touchdown to give Texas Tech its third consecutive victory over the St. Edwards University eleven from Austin here Saturday. The score was 13 to 6.

Scoring in the first quarter on a 22-yard end run by "Handsome Ramsome" Walker, Tech's offensive flash, and again in the third on Knowles play, the Matadors managed to hold their goal line inviolate save in the second period, when a 20 yard flip, Dyer to Brotherman, across the goal line, gave the Saints their tally.

Throughout the last three quarters the Saints outplayed the Matadors both offensively and defensively, counting 20 first downs to Tech's 3, but lacked the scoring punch when the Matador line stiffened in the shadow of the goal post.

FORMER WEST TEXAS EDITOR GIVES POLITICAL VIEWS

Below we produce a letter written by Jas. T. Buck, former editor of the Crosbyton Review and a life long Democrat. Mr. Buck has been one of the foremost characters in the development of West Texas. He is a noted author and writer and is a close student of political questions. The letter was published in the Lynn County News last week. It is as follows:

I beg space in your valuable paper to refer to an article in one of the Lubbock papers by Judge Clark M. Mullican deploring the desertion of life-long Democrats from Al Smith to Hoover and his pleading for them to return to the fold. In this article Judge Mullican says prohibition is not an issue, which is a direct contradiction of what Al, the nominee, says. Al repudiated the dry plank of the Democratic platform before the Houston convention adjourned and in his acceptance speech he reiterated his statement that prohibition was one of the issues and that he would point the way to modification if elected President. This is in line with his long official record in New York, which shows him to be a willing and subservient tool of Tammany Hall, one of the most corrupt political organizations that has ever disgraced the political history of our nation. He has invariably worked and voted for the saloons and other elements of vice whenever measures effecting their interests came up. It is this element that has kept him in office and it is this same element that he is counting on to elevate him to the Presidency. He has always lost the rural support for Governor, but the cities, contaminated with their horde of vice, came to his rescue and elected him. Of course there are many good people supporting him, but some of them are so prejudiced and blind to anything that does not contain a Democratic label that they cannot see the error of their way.

Smith's Legislative Record

He was several times a member of the New York Legislature and here are his votes on questionable measures, as copied from a reliable magazine: "Voted 10 times against local option, voted 4 times for saloons in church and school neighborhoods, killed Mullen-Gage prohibition enforcement law, voted twice to increase saloons' liquor selling hours, voted 3 times to repeal a law closing saloons on Sunday, sponsored bill for saloons within 200 feet of schools, voted to limit no-saloon areas, voted for hotel bars in towns 'dry' by local option, sponsored bill to preserve licenses for convicted saloon keepers, voted twice for Raines-law hotels". Now, if this record of voting for the liquor interests does not show how Al Smith stands on the moral issues, what will it take to show a blind man?

Literary Digest on Tammany Hall

In the issue of the Literary Digest of Oct. 22, 1927, several months before the convening of the Houston convention, an article appeared under the caption "The Shadow of Tammany Hall" in which it is said "The Democratic organization of the city of Albany is an annex of Tammany and an apt student of Tammany methods. There the lid is blown off. Gambling pools and all manner of vice and corruption are being exposed. The red-light district has crawled to the very steps of the State capitol. Democratic leaders are under indictment. Tammany Hall is still, and always will be, the sinister Tammany. The sooner the State and Nation realize this the better for both." Further in the article we note: "National Democracy has never yielded to Tammany within its own party. Tammany has controlled its city and its State, but it never has been able to clutch national authority. It never has been able to get its greedy political fingers into the National cash register." This was written several months before Al was nominated and it now looks like Tammany may get its "greedy fingers into the National cash register," and it will, unless the people of this great nation rise up in their might and vote for that peerless humanitarian, Herbert Hoover, for President.

State to Manufacture and Sell Liquor
Al Smith says he wants the 18th Amendment so changed that each of the different States may press upon the liquor question and go into the manufacture and sale of beverages if they wish. Wonder if Judge Mullican endorses this, and if so, will he endorse one of the "true blues" for bar tender at Lubbock when Al becomes President and liquor dispensaries are established over the country?

Hoover A Good Democrat

John J. Blaine, the wet Republican Senator from Wisconsin, has come out for Smith and gives as his reason: "that Hoover is a Democrat; that Hoover urged the election of a Democratic Congress in 1918", and quoted Hoover as saying: "I am for President Wilson's leadership, not only in the conduct of the war, but also in the negotiation of peace, and afterward in America's burden is the rehabilitation of the world." Senator Borah of Idaho, that greatest of all Western Statesmen says that "Herbert Hoover was the man that Wilson leaned on more than any other individual during the war." Not Honor-Bound To Support Smith
No true Democrat should feel the least honor-bound to support Al Smith, for he not only repudiated the prohibition plank of the Democratic platform, but he had the brazen audacity to appoint a life long wet Catholic Republican, John L. Raskob by name, to manage his campaign. Wonder what Grover Cleveland, Woodrow Wilson, and William J. Bryan would say of this if they could come to life? We are wondering if they are not squirming in their graves over this brazenness and breach of party etiquette. Judge Mullican doubtless reasons that it is all right for Raskob and the other wet Republicans to desert Hoover and support Smith, but that it is very wrong for dry Democrats to desert Smith and vote for Hoover, who is far more a good Democrat than is Smith. But why not vote for principle instead of party anyway?

What Has Hoover Done?

Judge Mullican asks, "What has Hoover ever done?" He did more than any one else in alleviating the sufferings of the hungry millions in Belgium and France during the darkest period of the World War, and when the United States entered the conflict he became one of President

Wilson's truest friends and most trusted co-workers and as Food Administrator did as much or more than any one American to bring about victory and peace to the allied armies, and he is known as a great humanitarian, while no one heard of Al Smith during the Great War. Hoover has served in the Harding and Coolidge administrations as Secretary of Commerce, and as such he has achieved much good for our nation in the way of bringing the commerce of the world to our shores. He handled the flood relief with success during the Mississippi river flood two years ago. In fact he has handled everything that has been entrusted to his keeping with success, and is capable of grappling big international problems and there is no question but what he is the best qualified man in America today, by training and experience, to administer the affairs of our nation.

LOVE SAYS SMITH SEEKS NEGRO VOTE

RED OAK, Oct. 6.—Asking a "square deal" for the Republican standard bearer, Thomas B. Love of Dallas, speaking here Saturday in the interest of Herbert Hoover, said that followers of Governor Smith are making "intensive and baseless appeal to anti-negro prejudice south of the Mason and Dixon line."

Love said a Texas Congressman recently asserted that Hoover abolished segregation and worked negroes with white employes at Washington.

"My experience in departmental service at Washington convinced me that such a charge must be without foundation. Week before, last being at the capital, I made a first hand investigation," Love stated. "Records of the Department of Commerce show that neither Secretary Hoover nor any other Secretary of Commerce 'abolished' any segregation, for the good reason that there has never been any such to abolish."

The speaker said that while the negro question had been injected into the campaign of the South, Democratic leaders were "putting forth an effort to corral the negro vote in the North by appealing to negro prejudice in every conceivable way."

"It is needless to say that there is not and never has been any segregation of the races in New York, dominated by Tammany Hall. On the contrary, in 1913, when Tammany had a majority in both houses of New York and Smith was speaker of the house, they passed a law prohibiting segregation in hotels, restaurants or other public places.

"The large wet negro vote in Harlem has always helped to elect Smith Governor of New York and without it he would lose the city in November by half a million votes," Love said.

Would You Know One If You Saw It?
If you ever came face to face with a germ, would you recognize it? Of course it is not likely that you ever will see a germ, unless you own a tremendously powerful microscope, for you would have to magnify one over a thousand times to make it as big as a pin head. But you should recognize the fact that these tiny germs can get into your blood streams through the smallest cut, and give you typhoid fever, tuberculosis, lockjaw, blood poisoning, and many more dangerous and perhaps fatal diseases. There is one sure safeguard against these dangers — washing every cut, no matter how small, thoroughly with Liquid Borozone, the safe antiseptic. You can get Liquid Borozone at ALL DRUGGIST

Judge Kimble Speaks In Spur

Judge Elliott Kimble, of Plainview, spoke in Spur last Saturday afternoon in behalf of the Democratic national ticket. Probably this is the first time in the history of Spur there has been a speaker in the interest of the National Democratic ticket. Judge Kimble was introduced by Judge E. G. Worswick, who also made a short talk urging people to support Governor Smith for President.

In his opening remarks Judge Kimble spoke of the close relationship of Dickens County and his home county, stating that the first meeting held in Hale County was conducted by a Dickens County minister. He then asked the question, "What has Hoover done?" This question seems to be a campaign slogan for the party this year as it will be observed that all speakers ask that question. Then he stated that President Wilson appointed Hoover as food administrator and the first thing he did was to price wheat twenty cents per bushel lower than the farmers could get for it. He then asked, "Why do people vote for Hoover?" "Oh, they say it is prohibition," he continued. "Could they give us more than we have?" was his next question.

In referring to the stand of Hoover and Smith on the Volstead Act, he stated that "Mr. Hoover says it is an experiment which he will appoint a committee to investigate to see if it is a good law." In this the Judge paraphrased Mr. Hoover's statement made in a recent address in which Mr. Hoover stated that if the "Present prohibition law could not be enforced that he would appoint a Senate Committee to investigate and see if it is a good law." He then stated that Hoover had been nominated by Andrew Mellon, one of the wettest men in America, and that his nomination was seconded by Nicholas Murray Butler, President of Columbia University, who is another wet. He then stated that Governor Smith says the prohibition law is not a good law, "But as long as it is a law, he will enforce it."

In referring to Governor Smith's legislative record he said Governor Smith demanded a law to pension widowed mothers in order that they might take care of their children.

Governor Smith is against the Ku Klux Klan.

Passed a bonus law in New York to help soldiers long before any other State thought of it.

"Governor Smith has always been for the working people, and has stood for their interests", Mr. Kimble said.

In speaking of the Anti-Smith leaders in Texas Mr. Kimble said, "Colquit vetoed the law requiring saloons to close at six o'clock. Cyclone Davis has been on every side of the question. Cane Johnson fought prohibition in 1887." In speaking of Senator Tom Love, he quoted Love as saying he was only following his conscience in political questions, then stated that "If Love ever had a conscience I have been unable to detect it."

In conclusion he gave the ministers a little round. In referring to Dr. Stratton of New York, he said, "I heard Dr. Stratton speak, and if he has an ounce of religion in his heart you people are not sitting before me." Then he said, "Dr. Stratton talks on Sunday, using the Lord's day for political purposes. None of the Smith speakers have ever done that." He then spoke of Dr. Frank Norris stating that "Dr. Norris not only makes political speeches on Sunday but takes up collections after these speeches. Honestly, I believe that Frank Norris is speaking more for his pocket than he is for Hoover." He then said "I have the same right to talk about them that they have to talk about me."

Judge Kimble was applauded a number of times during his address. He held his audience at perfect attention and is a good speaker. He went from Spur to Matador where he spoke Saturday night.

NOTICE—All ladies visiting the Lyric Theatre this Thursday night will receive a piece of nice chin ware free. Don't forget it. See a good show.

BAPTIST CHURCH REPORT

We had a splendid message brought to us at the eleven o'clock hour by our pastor. His subject, "The Call of the Broken World." There was a full house, and a wonderful response with eight additions to the church. Bro. Rodgers brought us a great sermon on "The Waste of Sin" at the evening services. There was the largest crowd ever at the B. Y. P. U. The pastor is leading the church into the most wonderful graded Sunday School in our history. Come worship with us.—Church Reporter.

PRESBYTERIAN SERVICES

"Jesus is Coming" will be the subject of Sunday night's sermon.

This is a much discussed subject, and you will be interested in hearing it treated from a Scriptural and sane view point.

"Use What You Have" will be the subject Sunday morning. This message is calculated to give encouragement.

Everyone cordially invited to these services.—Rev. E. P. Buie, Pastor.

HIGH SCHOOL REPORT CARDS

This year Spur High School is using a new type of report cards. This card has much information. Each parent and patron should carefully observe.

No pupil will be exempt from examinations on any subject unless his average is 90 on citizenship and attendance. We believe that each pupil will be more interested in his work if the parents will discuss this report card with them. If this report card is unsatisfactory a talk with the teacher will help make the next report more satisfactory.

The reports to parents are made every six weeks. Please see that these cards are signed and returned promptly. If you cannot come and talk with the teachers, call the High School Principal by telephone and discuss the pupils work.—O. C. Thomas, High School Principal.

GIRLS AT DALLAS FAIR

Dickens County was represented by five very fine young ladies at the Dallas Fair. These were Misses Bobbie Marten, Fannie Mae Hall, Una Hooper, Bessie Fuqua and Mary McCormick.

There were five West Texas Counties represented: Baylor, Knox, Haskell, Wichita and Dickens, and our county had more representatives than any of the others.

Miss Osbourne, our County Demonstrator, accompanied these young ladies to the fair, and all declare they had a great time.

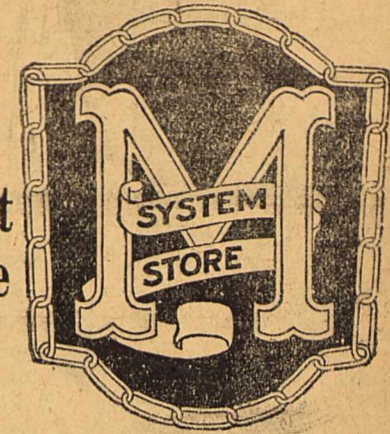

Miss Lucile Robinson, of Turkey, was a week end guest of Mrs. Viola Lee at Nichols Sanitarium.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Clay were visiting their daughter, Mrs. N. T. Cochran, in Abilene Sunday.

J. W. Hilton, of Prairie Chapel, was greeting friends on our streets Wednesday.

Charlie Fox is in Fort Worth this week visiting friends.
