BOTH AMENDMENTS RECEIVE MAJORITY

According to returns both constitutional amendments received a majority of the votes cast by Texas citizens and will become a part of the supreme law of our state. We feel that in passing these amendments that the people have taken a forward step in our government and have bettered conditions.

In raising the Governors Salary to $10,000 a year we have placed the highest official of the state on a basis that will add more dignity to the office. We were offering only $4,000.00 for a man or woman to serve as governor of our State. And while we had been remarkably lucky most of the time in securing a good official yet we were taking a big chance on getting just a $4,000 man. A citizen remarked that there had always been plenty of applicants for the place. That is true, but it would not have been long until these applicants would have been of inferior type, or would have been people who were attached to big business concerns that asked for the office in order to further their business interests and within a few years probably it would have been impossible to put over a law that would have been to the interests of the masses.

Some fellow stated that it would raise taxes to pass this amendment. We wonder if we will be able to tell the difference? It is estimated that if every citizen would drop a penny into the State treasury that it would pay their part on the increased salary for two years. That would be a heavy increase in taxes—one half of one cent per year.

As to the Supreme Court Amendment there will be no increase in increase in expenses. We had the Commission of Appeals composed of six members each of whom were drawing the same salary that members of our supreme Court. Had the commission of Appeals will be done away with and we will have six more judges on our Supreme Court drawing the same salary that the commissioners drew. The great difference will be this: the commission of Appeals reviewed the cases appealed and made up the decisions but could not pass on them officially. After these decisions were made, many times they were filed away for weeks waiting for the approval of the three members of the High Court. Had the commission of Appeals had authority to render the decisions many cases would have been passed upon weeks before they were. Now since our Supreme Court will have nine members as by these decisions are reached the judges will give them out and the cases will be disposed of in a business like manner.

The only thing that did not look so favorable was the fact that voters in West Texas did not support the amendments. It might have been that newspaper men did not do their part in getting the people informed of the advantages to be secured by the amendments. However, it appears that voters in Texas become excited over amendments and rarely give their approval to have the constitution changed, feeling that somebody will get some advantages by the change. Well, somebody does get the advantages but 99% of the time it is the people in general who get that advantage. They just fail to make a study of the conditions and see wherein it is to their advantage to make the constitutional change. All of us will make a more complete study from now on and will take pride in voting for our interests.

DICKENS COUNTY WELL REPRESENTED AT THE A & M SHORT COURSE

This year when the Farmers Short Course at A & M starts the 29th of July there will be fifteen representatives from Dickens County. Eleven women and four girls. Five women are being sent by the Red Mud Club, these are: Mrs. Ed Fuqua, president of the club; Mrs. W. M. Rhodes, Mrs. W. G. Henson, Mrs. Joe Thornton and Miss Mattie Howell. The women raised the money by saving their Sunday eggs for club money, by getting subscriptions for a farm paper and by selling one hen. Two women are being sent from the Steel Hill Club, these are Mrs. C. H. Scott and Miss Fannie Stewart. They raised their money by paying in birthday money, by charging for tardiness and absences and various other ways. Wichita and Croton club is sending two members, these are Mrs. J. M. Price and Mrs. J. J. Wasson. They raised their money by having a play and a sock supper, also by getting subscriptions to a farm paper.

The Womens Home Demonstration Council is sending the other two women, Mrs. D. F. Christopher of Duncan Flat, winner in the Living Room Contest and Mrs. L. B. McMeans, winner in the Clothing contest. The Chamber of Commerce is sending the first winners in the Clothing Contest Mary McCormick and Katherine Rose. The other two girls, Edith Hicks and Lucille Rose are paying their own expenses. Dickens County should be proud of these club members. What they gain at College Station will be a help to the other members when they return. Last year there were only five went from this county.

GOLF TOURNAMENT AT ESPUELA GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB WAS CLOSE AND THRILLING

James O. Smith, by turning in a score of 78 for the last 18 holes of the 36 hole final match, won the Espuela Golf and Country Club handicap tournament from Tom Dickey, the runner up on Wednesday of last week, while Mrs. W. P. Simpson won the consolation.

The tournament was followed by a chicken barbecue Friday evening at which time trophies consisting of a cup to the winners and runner-up and dozen golf balls to the consolation winner, and a dozen golf balls to C. P. Ensey, who won the driving contest on July 4th.

A business meeting was held at the conclusion of the barbecue and W. T. Andrews was selected president, replacing W. F. Godfrey. T. H. Dickey was elected secretary and treasurer, replacing Mr. Andrews in this capacity. E. C. Edmonds, A. C. Hull, T. C. Ensey, W. P. Simpson, and W. F. Godfrey were chosen as directors. Plans were made for the purchase of grounds where the links are located and there was some talk of the construction of a club house. W. F. Godfrey, Roy Harkey and E. C. Edmonds were placed on a committee to inquire in this matter.

As a distance runner Spencer Browning proved himself a good tomato grower. Contributed.

THE GOODNESS
of old-time cooking . . . in an easy, modern way

WHEN housewives of Colonial days ladened their tables with savory, steaming, Dutch-oven dishes, they set traditions of good cooking that only the Westinghouse "Flavor Zone" oven can equal. For this most modern of electric ovens cooks by the same method that produced the crackling brown roast turkeys, fragrant gingerbread, rich baked beans and spicy puddings of long ago. It first browns the food to perfection, then cooks it to wonderful tenderness, without any watching or tending during the whole cooking process. You can put the entire evening meal in the cold oven when you are clearing up after lunch—or during the morning, if you want most of the day free from household duties. Then you set the clock and adjust the thermostat on the oven door.

The current comes on automatically at just the right time. At just the right temperature, it is automatically shut off. Cooking continues by stored heat until everything is done to a turn. Delicious results are certain because every step in the cooking process is controlled with scientific precision. And you can always duplicate your best results.

service in the past year. Miss Holliday is twenty years old and took charge of her father's paper last February. At that time there was some talk among Jackson residents about the need of a water works system, county authorities were trying to improve the health of the mountain people by sending out public health nurses and there was a movement afoot to build a hitherto unknown—a modern hard road through the county.
 Week after week the girl editor promoted these projects, and today the road has been built, the health service is recognized and valued and contracts have been signed for beginning work on a modern water works system for Jackson.

THE COW, THE SOW, THE HEN!

But the cow is the basis of all of them. She gives milk that furnishes the cream, and then provides much of the food for the other two.

But the greatest good done by the cow is furnishing the proper balanced foods for the family, and also, giving the family a daily income. Selling the cream keeps the farmer from being broke more than one day.

We pay the steady price the year around, one that the farmer appreciates. Bring us your cream, and let's work together to build a big farming industry fostered by home people.

Don't forget to try our Espuela Brand Butter, and that Bulgarian Buttermilk is hard to beat.

No sooner had they approached the cave than the monkey jumped down, ran ahead and perched on the rock that blocked it. Tarzan put his shoulder to the rock and exerted his herculean strength. The rock rolled away and with a cry Mary caught Bobby in her arms. Greystoke came out blinking into the light as Bobby turned. "This is Lord Greystoke, Tarzan's uncle," he cried.
 Greystoke turned from the beautiful girl to the strange handsome jungle man and suddenly uttered an exclamation as his eyes rested on the hunting knife suspended from Tarzan's neck.
 "Why, that's the knife I gave my brother, the Earl of Greystoke!"
 Tarzan did not take in the excitement of Mary and Greystoke, until Mary as best she could tried to explain it. Then he looked at Greystoke. "You—my people—my flesh—my blood—like Mary and Bobbie?" he asked.
 "I—don't know," returned Greystoke uncertainly. "You certainly look like my brother. You have his knife—and yet—" He paused as he looked over the papers, and Mary told where they had been found and how Black John got them and they got them back. As he put the story together he was convinced. "My search is ended," he said. "We can return to England now and my nephew shall take his rightful position as Lord Greystoke. But first, before I return, I should like to visit the hut where my brother died."
 "All right," answered Mary, "we will take you to it."
 Meanwhile at Greystoke's camp his secretary and three of the blacks were returning from searching for Lord Greystoke. The secretary came to a sudden stop as he saw Black John tied to the stake. Greystoke in hand he advanced cautiously. "What's all this?" he demanded.
 "Lies came readily to Black John's lips. "A dozen natives attacked us—left me a prisoner here and carried off Lord Greystoke and the boy."
 A skeptical smile curled the secretary's lips. He spoke to the natives and at once they began a search of the camp. "You tell an interesting story, my man," he said, "but I believe the boy told the truth and you are not the real Earl of Greystoke." Black John listened in dismay as the secretary went on, "Lord Greystoke evidently had reason to tie you up—so you will have to remain as you are until he returns."
 Black John's scheming mind was working fast as the secretary turned away toward the tent. Suddenly he called to him. The secretary heard, hesitated, then returned.
 "Lord Greystoke will never return!" confessed Black John. There was still a sneer of doubt on the lips of the secretary. Black John eyed him and said suggestively, "Now, if I were free, we could return to England—no one would question my right to the Greystoke title and estates—and you would get half!"
 The secretary was actually startled by the boldness of the proposition but when he got over the first shock he eyed Black John speculatively. He was considering the idea. Black John hastened to tell what he had done to Lord Greystoke and Bobby and the secretary nodded as he realized that if Greystoke were dead in the panther's cave there was every chance to get away with the scheme.
 "Tarzan and the girl have the papers and trinkets," went on Black John, "but there are other things at the hut that will be of use to prove I am Lord Greystoke."

LIVING IN THEIR NEW HOME

The Highway addition addition has new citizens in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Klingman. The duration of their citizenship is one week but in that short time they have proved their real worth to the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Klingman were married at Glenco, Okla., Wednesday of last week. Mr. Klingman left Spur on Monday July 15th and drove through to Glenco, arriving there Tuesday afternoon. Many of their friends in the town were very sure the wedding would be that evening and made all preparations to show them a good time even after being told the ceremony would not occur until next day. Mr. and Mrs. Klingman planned to get away soon after the wedding ceremony but when they started to leave discovered all the air was out of the casings on their car. That gave the neighbors an opportunity to give them a program of remembrance, which they did. After bidding them a hearty god-speed and wishing them much success permitted them to start for their home in Spur.

Mr. and Mrs. Klingman visited a brother near Lawton, Okla., Wednesday night and arrived in Spur Thursday afternoon. They made a selection of furniture at Bryant-Link Company, bought a new electric stove from the West Texas Utilities Company, had the city to connect on city lights, secured a bill of groceries, and with a pound of Espuela Butter a quantity of Spur cheese and a quart of Bulgarian buttermilk, Mr. and Mrs. Klingman made themselves comfortable in their nice little home just recently completed on Harris Street in Highway addition.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Klingman was Miss Ruth Dorothea Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Moore of Glenco, Okla. She was educated in the high schools and colleges of that state and had for the last five years served as court stenographer in Pawnee, Okla., which position she filled faithfully and well. As for Mr. Klingman, all of us know him by virtue of his work at the Spur Creamery. He has been associated with our creamery ever since it started into business and it is largely through his efforts in the manufacture of first class products that the creamery has met with the success it has.

Early in the year Mr. Klingman conceived the idea of building a nice home in Highway addition. He stated that if he ever needed it for his own home it would be a good investment and be a means of saving some of his money. It was a proposition of preparation and many time a young man can never tell just how early he will need a home. These young people now enjoy the thrill of this new home and if it is not all paid for they will get much pleasure out of working together to acquire full ownership of it.

All friends in Spur join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Klingman much happiness and success in our city. It is hoped they will enjoy our town and fall in line to make it a better place in which to live.

Plans are being made for a crowd of 25,000 to 30,000 people to attend the opening from all parts of the country, according to Monte E. Owen, Secretary of the Sweetwater board of City Development which organization is sponsoring the opening of this 260 acre field with its 118 by 100 foot hangar, a office building, and a $20,00 restaurant and fountain, all ser-

DOES IT PAY?

To own your own electric light plant, to build up, establish and maintain a source of revenue for the city. Does it pay individuals or corporations to make investments for the future if so why not a city build for the future. Cities and school districts vote bonds to build for the future. But to build for the future in Spur is to do business with Spur where the profits derived from the water and light departments of the City of Spur will go back to you in the way of City improvements, street paving, park development and finally eliminating taxes.

The City of Spur solicits your business on a fair and reasonable rate and as courteous service as the best.

Declare Your Wash Day Independence

Your Declaration of Independence is in this invitation from us. We ask you to send us the family wash—everything from the daintiest laciast garment to the children's rompers.
Independence from drudgery, from loss of precious time! Independence from reddened hands, aching back and head, steamy house hurried meals, when every motion is torture. Independence from the knowledge that on Blue Monday (wash day) the famiyl doesn't fare so well—and knows it!

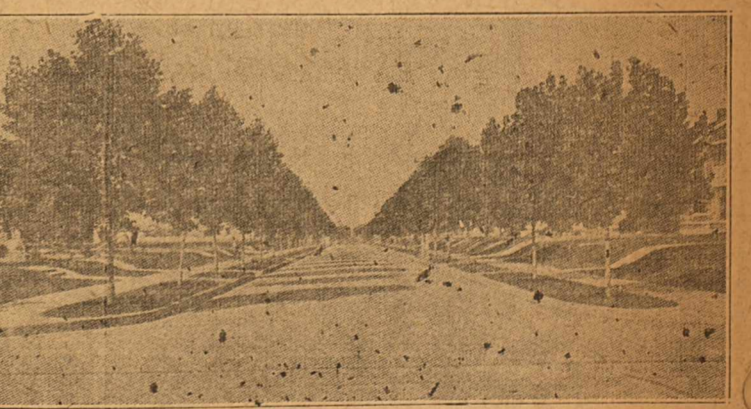

All this blessed Independence is yours when you simply gather the wash hand it to our driver—and forget it. It returns to you with an immaculate sweet smelling freshness, like new.
And the cost to you for, "life, liberty and pursuit of happiness" is so very little you wonder why you ever allowed yourself to be the slave to the tub.
You declare your independence the moment you phone us to come for the wash. So easy! Ring us now and tell us when to come.

FARM NOTES

By E. L. Tanner, County Agent
Dickens County

LAST CALL FOR FARMER'S SHORT COURSE

All farmers who intend to take the FARMER'S SHORT COURSE at College Station next week should prepare to leave Saturday in order to be at College Station Monday morning at 8 a. m. when the big show starts. Remember this is the chance to learn the latest in any line you are interested in direct from the College. You spend a week down there and get any information you want from any of the departments. Railroad fare will cost about one cent per mile. Meals down there are $5 for the time there and room only $1.50.

MILLET FOR QUICK FALL
HAY CROP

Millet is one of the best quick hay crops for a season like this when lots of folks are going to be short on roughness. There are several varieties of millets but those belonging to the foxtail group of millets are the best to use. Of these the one called common millet is the quickest to mature. Big German millet is about two weeks later in maturing. However 60 days is time enough to mature a good crop of hay. For hay it should be cut in the bloom and before the seed are formed. If you are short on roughness I sure would get line dup on the seed and be ready to take the first break that comes your way in the way of a season. I have seen wonderful crops of millet sown in September made in this country.

Millet is a cow feed and if used in moderation is alright for horses. However not over half of a horse's roughness should be millet on account of the effect on the kidneys. But there are times when there is no choice.

PLANT ALFALFA

If you want a nice crop of good hay after such a spell as we are having now I would advise you to plant alfalfa. Good alfalfa fields after a good rain any time from now on will make a supply of hay for keeping the mules and cows going that will cost a lot of good money if you have to buy it. And so if you want the hay plant it this fall. There is not a farm in the county which cannot do as much as five acres that will grow alfalfa. Get to thinking about it get the seed on hand and be ready for the first fall rains. From this year on you will be setting right when it comes to a spotted season.

Fall plant is best. Luther Carr of the Espuela Community told me about planting ten acres in the fall three years ago. He prepared his land during the summer by twice listing it and following each time in the lister furrow with a small turnplow. He harrowed it down flat and sowed broadcast about ten pounds of seed per acre then harrowed it both ways to cover it. This was after he got his season along in September. He says that this field was not bothered by weeds at all next summer. He got one light cutting the next spring and two fairly heavy cuttings.

Mr. Carr also has five acres he sowed in the spring. He prepared the land for spring planting by breaking it ten inches deep with a breaking plow and kept it clean till the middle of May. He then got the season he was waiting for and sowed it. He covered it with a section harrow. The stand was not as good as the fall stand and the weeds have given him a lot of trouble. However by clipping them back he got a reasonable stand. He hauled off the first clipping and let the stock eat it for it was mostly weeds. He clipped it later and let it lie on the ground. He says that he could begin to see the alfalfa by now and then the late clip he got a very light crop of hay.

Speaking of returns on his investment, Mr. Carr says that it is hard to estimate. The moral effect of having it is as much as anything almost. When a fellow knows that he still has a chance even on a late shower to make some hay it keeps him all pepped up. He never knows when he is whipped. In the three seasons he has had his alfalfa he has averaged 625 bales per year. In addition, he has pastured hogs and cows on the five-acre block a good part of the time. The ten acre block is not fence din and is in his field where he pastures in winter. He says there is a lot of good picking in that to acres during the winter and early spring before he takes the stock up. Right now he says there is about two weeks good pasture on that ten acres as the dry season has cut the growth down too low for cutting. This year he has got 180 bales off the ten acres from a light cutting. He has been using the 5 acres for pasture altogether this season.

On sandy land Mr. Carr says that the gophers are tolerably bad but that they are easy to control by the use of the U. S. D. A. system of poisoning.

And just think there is alfalfa growing on almost every type of land in the county. All a fellow has to do is to make up his mind that he is going to have an even break hereafter for a hay crop and put it in this fall. GET THE SEED AND BE READY!

EGG STAMP ISSUED LAST WEEK

The following egg stamps were issued last Saturday; Mrs. Joe Cornett, Roaring Springs; Mrs. M. D. Wallace, McAdoo; Mrs. T. G. Rankin, Spur. Our egg campaign is coming on nicely. All it takes from now on is the right kind of cooperation from the owners of the sixty-four egg stamps we have put out. Keep the young roosters off the yards early; keep the eggs in as cool a place as you can. Remember they sure do evaporate through the shell this time of year and an infertile egg becomes a number two in no time. The yolk becomes plainly visible in the shell through a candle and will move around when it is twirled above a candle. The stiff white which shows up around a fresh egg when you break it also becomes watery under the influence of heat and so a number two is the result. Those folks down in Dallas like good fresh eggs but they are a long way from your back yard and it takes everybody pulling together to get it to them. An dso far we sure are all doing that in pretty good style. And Man Clark of Dickens also dropped in and got a stamp.
