There is nothing that possesses life that can enjoy more happiness and at the same time create more dissention than the blessed town cow that roams about over town to the detriment of people's lawns gardens, city parks and other means of improvement intended to make our town beautiful. And it is remarkably astonishing how the owners and supposed keepers of these blessed town cows can have as litle concern as they have in regard to the conduct of these animals. It does not seem to jar their avoirdupois or excite their psychical realm for their cows to walk over a neighbor's lawn, which pro bably cost from $100.00 to $300 to build, plowing it full of hotes so that no one can keep it in condition; nor does it have any effect either mentally or physically on the said owners of these town cows if their cows cross over into a neighbor's garden and enjoy a feast of peas, lettuce and other vegetables growing in that gar-that needs milk to drink that these cows might give. Well, if destruction is any mark of good milk these cows should give quality milk and the children should grow fat and healthful. But what about that neighbor who has planted a garden that his children may have fresh vegetables rich in vitamin (whatever that is) and is playing the gentleman by buying his milk from the home dairy? Should not his children and his rights be con sidered too, especially when he pays for them?

The people of Spur have contri-buted several hundred dollars this year to give our unemployed jobs and our parks have been made beau tiful by these people who wanted to work. Recently a herder driving the town herd out, watched several old cows plow wright across one of these parks, and then rode across after them. The park supervisor tried to call his attention to this but the herder never even looked around, but rode calmly on. Where M WF FAI?

IT IS AN ACCEPTED FACT THAT MAN MUST EAT THRICE DAILY.

But where to eat—that is another problem, and particularly at noon-time. Eating is not all that should be done by men and women who work. Especially during the warm days that are rapidly coming, there should be good food, quickly served and slowly eaten, and we do our best to give service.

DOMESTIC RABBIT and FRIED CHICKEN are our choice meats. Remember we are open DAY and NIGHT.

WHERE TO EAT

Spending money is an art; people do not always spend wisely; we are not telling you that we want to spend your money for you, but we will appreciate very much to show you a few things about better merchandise. You know, quality is to be considered.
