Fourth Grand Capital Prize $30.00

Beginning Friday we are starting a great subscription campaign, endeavoring to give a number of people an opportunity to make a little money and affording our subscribers and other friends an opportunity to help them. This is open to everybody irrespective of your station in life. There is nothing special about this, no privilege accorded to one person that will not be granted another. You will have an opportunity to subscribe with a neighbor and assist that neighbor in making something. At the same time you will have the privilege of casting your vote for that neighbor and assist her in becoming the most popular person in this campaign.

For three years we have not made a special demand on our subscribers for their renewals, feeling that they had enough to employ their attention. During that time many have voluntarily remembered us financially, and in addition have expressed their appreciation for the work we have been trying to carry on. We feel that others who could not help during the past three years are just as zealous for the cause of community prosperity. We have been in West Texas 28 years, and during that time we have learned to love and believe in West Texas people. We have tried to stand by our subscribers and we believe that every one of you will remember us to the extent of your ability.

The meeting is to be held under the supervision of Elder A. C. Bates, District Superintendent. We give a special invitation to all ministers of different churches to be present.

SPUR BAKERY

C. E. Hawkins, formerly of Eastland, became associated with the Spur Bakery Tuesday and will do all the baking for that firm. Mr. Hawkins has had much experience in the baking business and has done baking in some of the largest bakeries in Texas. He is neat and sanitary with his work, his slogan being that if bread is not clean it is not intended for people to eat. He comes well recommended, and the Spur bakery feels that through his service the people will be well pleased with Spur Bakery bread. Mrs. Fox states that they want people to try their bread and if any fault is found to let them know.

The Spur Bakery is a home institution, pays taxes to help make the community progressive, serves home people, and wants to make Spur bread the best. It is for this reason that they want you to tell them if their products are not right. They want to make them right. They have a big line of cakes, pies, cookies, jelly roll and many other good things to eat.

Dry Lake School Opens

The Dry Lake school started work Monday with an enrollment of 51 pupils. There are three teachers in the school, Homer E. Barnes is principal, Miss Gladys Fox is teacher of the intermediate division and Miss Kittie Marie Hull has charge of the primary grades. The Trustees of the school are Jeff Smith, E. C. Hindman and J. C. Dopsen, all of whom were present for the school opening.

It is the plan of the school board to have an eight months term of school this year. Organization of a Parent-Teachers Association is being fostered which will mean much to the school. Also, the Board of Trustees and the faculty have agreed to have a meeting at least once each month and talk over the school problems. This is intended to keep the board and the teachers united in ideas about the school and help to develop a good understanding. Dry Lake always has had a fine school and every patron in the community is planning to have a good school this year.

Federal Men Study Ravens

E. R. Kalebach and S. E. Oldens of the Bureau of Biological Research, Washington, have been in Spur for the past ten days studying the life history and habits of the ravens with a view of finding suitable methods for extermination or at least control.

Kalebach and Oldens are making their headquarters at the Experiment Station where suitable laboratory facilities are available for the work.

Numerous attempts have been made in West Texas to poison, destroy by dynamite, destroy by fire, destroy nesting places and roosting places but up to the present there has been no effective method of killing these birds as they have a very high degree of sense of danger.

Kalebach and Oldens have been able to trap over 300 of these ravens. Each of these birds has been given a number, a little metal leg band, and have been turned loose, in order that they may be able to secure rather definite information relative to the habits of migration of these birds. These studies have been conducted with wild geese, ducks, plover and other birds until a lot of very valuable information has been obtained.

If we are to ever get rid of the ravens it is necessary to know how to do it. These men are here to get this kind of information and it is to be regretted that some one in the community broke into their traps and killed about 50 ravens, leaving the dead birds about the traps and scaring the other birds away.

A penalty of $500 is inflicted against any one disturbing in any way Uncle Sam's bird studies and it is to be hoped that every one will lend full cooperation in this study and that no one will again be guilty of interfering in these studies. They may expect Federal prosecution if caught, and efforts will be made to catch them.

Let John A. measure you for your NEW SUIT.

DICKENS COUNTY TIMES.

GIN REPORT

According to reports turned in by Spur ginners at three o'clock Wednesday there had been 9,180 bales of the 1931 cotton crop ginned in Spur.

According to the government report received this week the total bales ginned in the county up to November 1 was 12,394. At the same time last year there had been only 5,680 bales ginned. In Kent County there had been 4,600 bales ginned up to November 1, as compared with 2,010 bales at the same time last year.

Cotton seed was bringing $11.00 on the market Wednesday. Ginning was still going at 25 cents. Cotton was being from $5.00 to $5.30 for low middling up to $5.75 for strict middling.

PARENT-TEACHERS MEET AT DUCK CREEK

All parents are requested to attend the Parent-Teachers meeting at Duck Creek, Friday night, November 20. The purpose of this meeting is to revive interest in the movement and to study in a friendly way some of the problems that confront our school. The success of this meeting will be governed largely by the support given by our parents. So if possible, come out and help us to make it a big success. Mrs. Twaddell has promised to be on hand and assist in getting the work under way.

While no formal program is planned we hope to provide entertainment that will make the evening a pleasant as well as profitable one.

Teachers Institute Held Last Friday

The County Teachers Institute for Dickens County was held in Spur last Friday under the supervision of Mrs. Madge D. Twaddell, County Superintendent of Schools. There were about 100 teachers present, every school in the county being represented. The meeting was opened by an invocation by Geo. S. Link, Clifford B. Jones introduced the speaker of the morning, Dr. Paul W. Horn, President of Texas Technological College at Lubbock.

Dr. Horn's address, while practical, was rather along psychological lines. He dealt with the manner in which different types of the human mind may work. He stated that the lawyer always had certain fundamental principles which guided his action and assisted him in reaching a conclusion. It mattered not what might be the nature of any case brought before the lawyer it had to meet the requirement of some certain great principle. He stated that the mind of a physician worked in an opposite manner. The physician begins with the individual case and reasons out the best methods of treatment.

Then Dr. Horn stated that the mind of a school teacher was more like that of the physician than that of the lawyer. He said that the school teacher had to deal with each problem individually it matters not how many great principles of education may be applied. If the teacher has 25 or a hundred pupils under his control he has that many that must have special, individual consideration—that no two of them can be treated just alike.

There were some announcements made at the close of Dr. Horn's address. Judge O. C. Newberry was introduced then and spoke of the importance of teachers cooperating with the County Commissioners Court in regard to health and employment situation. He brought out that at times there may be patrons in the dis-

SPUR SCHOOLS OPEN; RECORD ENROLLMENT

Dickens County Educational Assn. Elects Officers

At a meeting in Spur last Friday as a part of the County Institute work, the teachers of the county voted unanimously to continue the County Educational Association which was organized last year. Many teachers expressed the view that the county educational association was the one means whereby patrons, boards of trustees and teachers get together and discuss school problems. In defining the organization Mrs. Madge D. Twaddell, County Superintendent, stated that it is intended for every body in the county who is interested in the education of youth.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Madge D. Twaddell; Vice President, G. S. Dowell; Secretary, C. W. Giesecke; Reporter, W. D. Starcher.

The first Thursday night of each month has been designated as the regular time of meeting. Spur will have the first meeting.

Red Cross Drive In Full Progress

The local Red Cross drive for membership seems to be meeting with success and the people are responding in a great way. The membership goal has been reached already and it looks as if the people are going to exemplify their appreciation for the much needed help give our county last winter and spring. The Red Cross organization spent something around $16,000 here last winter helping those who were unfortunately. It would be very fine if every home in the county could be represented on the Red Cross roll this fall. The membership drive will close November 26, Thanksgiving Day.

It is hoped that Dickens County people will never need Red Cross aid again. However, there will be other sections where calamities will come and where people will need aid. The Red Cross will be there, and the only way it can do so is to have the support of all the people. Let's pay our membership fee and be a member and a means of helping the unfortunate.

MRS. GILBERT PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Lillie Beatrice Gilbert died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Luther Powell, 721 North Miller Avenue, last Thursday morning after an illness of about six months. Mrs. Gilbert had been afflicted with a malignant tumor and suffered intensely the last few weeks she lived.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the First Baptist Church. Rev. F. G. Rodgers, the pastor, made a very excellent talk on the occasion. Interment was in Spur Cemetery, Webber Williams acting as funeral director.

Mrs. Gilbert's maiden name was Lillie Beatrice Wilbanks. She was a daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Wilbanks, and was born in the state of Alabama. She came to Texas when she was about 18 years of age and has resided in this state ever since. In 1894 she was married to E. J. Gilbert. Six children mourn her departure. They are Mrs. Dan Holleyman of Kilgore, Lanier, Wendell and Miss Gladys Gilbert of Lubbock, Mrs. Henry Gruben and Mrs. Luther Powell of Spur.

Mrs. Gilbert became a member of the Baptist Church while she was a child. She lived faithfully and devoted by the teachings of Christianity and she spent a life of service with her family and friends. She was widely known in Spur, having made her home here for about 10 years. In 1926 she moved to Lubbock where she had resided until a few weeks before her demise.

The schools of Spur Independent School District started Monday with a record breaking enrollment. The schools of Spur have been delayed this year on account of the extreme need for the students to assist in harvesting the cotton crop, the first one to be made in Spur trade territory in four years. The long vacation and the great amount of work done by the student body in the cotton fields, enables the children to start school with a super amount of energy and interest.

The school will continue practically incessantly until the full 180 days of school work shall have been accomplished. Superintendent Hall announced Monday that two days would be given Thanksgiving holidays since all the teachers would be at Amarillo attending the State Teachers Association. He stated further that no Saturdays would be included in the school work until after Christmas as the children are needed in the cotton fields every Saturday until the present crop shall have been harvested. He stated that after Christmas there would be a complete schedule compiled, each pupil supplied with a copy, a copy placed in each room of every school building, a copy posted in the office of each building, and a definite understanding in advance of what Saturdays would be used in school work.

A number of patrons were present at the opening exercises at the various buildings Monday. At the High School a number of songs were sang by the student body, a number of selections given by the ukelele girls and several talks by different ones. Rev. Wright Randolph, pastor of the Church of Christ, gave the invocation and afterward made a very splendid address. Alton Chapman, County Attorney and a graduate of Spur High School, talked to the students emphasizing that nothing worth while is accomplished without much work. Supt. Hall then made a few announcements and turned the work over to R. B. Neilson, High School Principal, who assigned the various classes to different rooms for enrollment, locker and book assignments. The pupils assembled again in the afternoon of Jayton, received the lesson assignments and Tuesday morning entered into the See SCHOOL OPENING, Page 8 ma extend well into November in emergencies.

In western and northwestern Oklahoma and in north Texas one sees what happened after rains fell there around September 22—plows, discs, harrows, drills churning up the soil in every direction. Here, too, it is said, there was talk of reductions as long as the weather was dry. That talk has all disappeared now. Every one is in a rush.

Wheat has taken on a new significance in these parts. Three years ago it was a cash crop. Now it is a combination cash and feed crop. There are big wheat farmers who have not sold a bushel of wheat this year and who sold only a little last year. They will plant as much wheat this fall as ever and plan to feed every bushel of it.

Good Demand Seen For Fat Turkeys

The facts that the cold storage holdings of turkeys are small, that importations are being received and that quotations are appearing earlier than usual indicate that storage stocks of turkeys on hand have been sorted over and that the best trade is already in the market for fresh stocks of superior quality at high prices, says the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman concerning prospects for turkey prices.

A strong pre-holiday and early holiday demand can be anticipated. One of the best commercial observers writes: "With this storage situation existing, there is quite likely to be a demand for matured turkeys even before the Thanksgiving market opens up and finished turkeys will be in demand for this market. Inasmuch as conditions look favorable for at least fair prices for Thanksgiving and Christmas markets, producers are urged to finish out their flocks to get the highest market price."

Producers are urged to prepare their birds for the market immediately. The good old days when "turkeys were turkeys" and sold mostly to the neighbors through the "shooting match" are about over.

The markets in the cities demand fished birds and the better the bird the more it sells for per pound. Catch a few of the birds in the flock, weigh them, examine their breasts and legs for flesh. Range turkeys will probably show little flesh at this time, while pen birds may be more plump and finished.

The breasts should be nearly three inches wide at market time, so the gangly, lean bird will need feed to fill out the frame. Every effort should be put forth to bring young toms up to a minimum of 16 pounds and over, dressed young hens to 11 pounds and over, by November 10 to 15—the early market

The only condition accompanying this gift is that the picture must be framed and hung in the school house. 'Dogs' Are Driving Farmers to Wheat

Leashed to a sort of economic treadmill! That almost completely describes the position of wheat farmers this fall, according to the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman. Try as they may, they can hardly see their way clear to materially reduce their wheat acreage.

Everywhere in the wheat section one encounters the same proposition: What can we plant if we don't plant wheat? All our machinery is wheat growing machinery. Our soils are wheat soils. The dogs (taxes, interest and debts) are at our heels. We can't quit or they will get us.

There is the rub. Wheat farmers are driven to do a thing that many of them know many contribute toward a still larger wheat surplus. But they are no longer independent. They must go on.

Oklahoma and Texas wheat farmers will plant nearly as many acres of wheat this fall as they planted last fall. All across the dry area of central Oklahoma from 25 to 80 per cent of the wheat stubble is still unturned—waiting rain. There is talk here of 25 to 50 per cent reduction. One wonders if this is serious talk. What would happen in this dry area if good rains should fall between the time this is written and the last of the month... Planting dates in Oklaho-

20 Autos Won in Nationwide Contest — More to Come

ONE hundred bright and shiny new automobiles had rolled into the possession of contest winners in every part of the United States some days ago, as the Certified Cremo Twenty Word Clear Band Statement Contest passed the hundred mark in the number of winning slogans it had evoked and the number of prizes awarded.

Sixteen states were still to win their first automobile in the contest, under rules of which an automobile is awarded every day of the week except Sunday, until further notice, to the writer of the best twenty word statement on the quality and merits of the Certified Cremo Clear, each word written on the back of a Cremo cigar band.

Outdoor Summer Is Easiest Ever For Woman Who Knows the Secret

More than ever, this is an outdoor summer. Highways and byways call. Week-end trips are easier and pleasanter than before. Railways, boat companies and bus lines offer striking inducements to seek relaxation here, there and everywhere, and of course one's own car is a constant temptation to whirl into a new world of recreation. It's become easy to dodge home cares. Attractive clothes for summer have been designed so they can be tossed into a porcelain washer and then dried without the old-fashioned wringer if one has an ABO Spinner which spins clothes ready for the line.

RECIPES AND MENUS

Denton—During the present period of economic stress there is need for a food guide which will furnish the maximum of health and energy from a minimum expenditure of time and money. Food standards must not be lowered, but more careful consideration must be given to the planning of the "three meals a day."

In planning menus, budget the amount to be spent for food and figure the "per person per day" allowance. As much money should be spent for milk as for meat, fish, and poultry. Fresh fruits, green vegetables, and whole grain cereals should also come in for an equal share. From two to four times a week serve tomatoes, dried beans and peas, nuts, eggs, and cheese. Sugars and starches are used to furnish the required energy. The home manager should attempt to adapt her menu to local prices.

MENUS

Sunday:
Breakfast: Tomato juice, bacon, waffles, coffee, milk.
Dinner: Baked chicken with dressing, rice, stuffed squash, fruit salad, rolls, vanilla ice cream, cookies.

Supper: Toasted cheese sandwiches, whole wheat bread, butter preserves, hot chocolate.

Monday:
Breakfast: Cream of Wheat with raisins, scrambled eggs, toast, coffee, milk.
Lunch: Ham souffle, buttered spinach, cabbage and carrot salad, bread and butter sandwiches, Mocha Sponge.
Dinner: Crown Rib roast, potatoes (baked), buttered beets, lettuce and tomato salad, biscuit, butter, baked apples.

RECIPES

PEANUT COOKIES: Cream 2 T butter; add 1-4 c sugar, and 1 egg well beaten. Mix and sift 1 c baking powder, 1-8 t salt, 1-2 c flour and add to first mixture. Add 2 T milk and 1-2 cup peanuts (copped). Drop from a teaspoon on an unbuttered sheet. Place a few half peanuts on top of each. Bake from 12-15 min. in a slow oven.

BUTTERED SPINACH: Wash spinach thoroughly. Put into a stew pan. It is unnecessary to add water, as sufficient water adheres to the leaves to cook the spinach. Cook from seven to ten minutes or until tender. (The spinach should be especially made of leadless glass and laid in molten sulphur, as cement disintegrated rapidly in the waters of the pool. The erecting engineer states that zinc is the only metal having lasting properties in this building, as anything with lead or copper as part of the alloy quickly disintegrates.)

Acid Test Given U. S. Products In Building Over New Zealand Gas Pool

CHICAGO—The new Government bath emporium at Botorta, New Zealand, erected over a boiling mud pool that constantly emits deadly gases which quickly destroy ordinary construction materials, is attracting the attention of architects, builders and engineers throughout this country because of the American products used in the structure.

Great difficulty was experienced not only in erecting the building, but in obtaining materials for its construction that would withstand the tremendous heat and the disintegrating effect of the carbonic and sulphuric acid and sulphuretted hydrogen gases of the pool. During certain phases of the construction, the workers were compelled to wear gas masks, into which fresh air had to be pumped constantly during their operations. Boards made of preswood material manufactured at Laurel, Miss., were used for panelling the walls and ceilings throughout the building.

In one of the bathing pools enclosed within the structure, the bricks had to be specially made of leadless glass and laid in molten sulphur, as cement disintegrated rapidly in the waters of the pool. The erecting engineer states that zinc is the only metal having lasting properties in this building, as anything with lead or copper as part of the alloy quickly disintegrates.

not lose its color during the preparation.) Remove from the fire; cut the spinach finely. Four browned butter over it and garnish with hard cooked eggs.

BLANC MANGE: Soak 2 T gela-tine in 1-2 c milk for five minutes. Scald 1-4 c milk with 1-8 t sugar, and add soaked gelatine. Strain, cool slightly and turn into a wet mold, and chill. Serve with any preferred jelly or whipped cream.

THE BIBLE—KEYSTONE IN THE ARCH OF CIVILIZATION

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path.—Psalms cxix, 105.

The Bible is the keystone in the arch of civilization, governmental jurisprudence, and the social structure. Should it be discarded the arch must collapse and ruin and destruction follow.

When the Bible is cast into the junkheap the beginning of chaos is upon us.

Confusion and perplexity, wretchedness, and woe unutterable, must of necessity follow. Sin and beastliness must then inevitably pervade the earth.

The Bible is the pillow upon which the heads of millions of God's saints and heroes have rested as they were passing over to the great beyond.

His martyrs have held it to their bosoms while they awaited the creeping flames, or the twisting of the thumb screw, the agony of the stocks, or the stealthy step of the wild beasts which were to tear them into pieces at the command of pagan monarchs—martyrs for God, His Christ, and His Word.

Some Testimony

The testimony of some men worthy of credence as to the New Testament, about which skeptics have during many centuries sought to cast suspicion and doubt, is here given:

We are told by scholars that a hundred years before the Council of Nice, which some assert got together the New Testament, Origen quoted 5,745 passages from the books which compose it; that Tertullian A. D. 194, quotes 380 passages; that infidel writers like Celsus, A. D. 150, and Porphyry, A. D. 304, quoted scores of passages as we have them in the New Testament now.

There are said to be nearly 1200 manuscripts of the Old Testament extant, all agreeing substantially with each other.

The Bible takes up and analyzes human nature, dissects human motives, purifies human thought; points out all our weaknesses and tells how to overcome them; it recognizes our sorrows and puts a song of gladness into our hearts; it warns of our troubles and perplexities and tells how to prevent or disentangle them; it anticipates our weaknesses and tells us where to go for strength.

"The Great 'I Am' Speaking"

When reading the Bible we realize that it is God speaking to us. In it He says everything that it is necessary for Him to say. It informs us of our history and that of all other creatures and all created things, from the beginning to the present, and tells us what is to be the end of all.

It tells of reward for good and punishment for evil, and of promises that He is sure to fulfill. It is an unfailing guide to happiness temporarily and eternally. To those who are earnest and sincere He will give understanding.

If we pray as did the Psalmist, "Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law," we shall learn what we want to know.

The Bible is the greatest of all literature. It contains the profoundest philosophy, most perfect system of ethics, logic and jurisprudence. Indeed, its teachings and commandments are the basis of all human law.

After searching through all other books we find all that they contain worth knowing, and vastly more, in this storehouse of wisdom and truth.

Is not my word like as a fire? saith the Lord, and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces.—Jeremiah xxiii, 29.

Information as to God

Through God's Book, the Bible, His children may know who He is, what He is and, what His will is; they know who they are and their destiny.

They may have His admonitions, advice, counsel and instruction. They may know their duty to Him and their fellows. They may know His will concerning them.

The Bible is the apothecary shop of spiritual ailments which heal and soothe and console. It pours the balm of spiritual truth into the broken heart; it fortifies and strengthens, encourages and inspires.

It explains the principle as to life and death, and makes them simple and glorious.

Its teachings, warnings, wisdom, commandments, admonitions and adulations are adapted to the needs of individuals and nations, past, present and future.

The Bible is God's Word, pure, undiluted, sweet and comforting. It has a power possessed by no other book because it IS the Word of God, "quick and powerful."

It is the Book of Wisdom, instruction, advice, information, comfort and consolation. All other books from all the libraries of earth can not offer its consolation and comfort in the hour of death comes.

The Bible contains everything man needs to know as to life here and hereafter.

There is nothing mediocre in the Bible. It has the eloquence of God's own emphasis, and God is not a practical joker.

"Welcome, dear Book, in thee heaven's manna lies;
Thou art the great elixir rare and choice;
The key that opens to all mysteries
The Word in characters, and God the Voice."

Camera Shows Radio Comics Waste Funny Faces on "Mike"

An interesting study of the varying facial expressions with which a pair of comedians attack the microphone was obtained in a composite photograph of the "Sisters of the Skillet," Eddie East and Ralph Dumke, who broadcast nonsensical "housekeeping advice" over WJZ and associated NBC stations, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays at 8:45 P.M. (E.S.T.) and over WJAF and associated NBC stations Mondays and Wednesdays at 10 A. M. (E.S.T.).

The photo proved that when Eddie (left) and Ralph are expressing amusement, indignation, intense interest, or bewilderment over one of the household "problems" submitted by their audience, via the microphone, their faces are reflecting the same feelings in the studio.

The boys decided that if all the smiles and grins with which they greet their own jokes, unseen to the audience, were hooked up to a washing machine, it would take all the labor out of "Blue Monday".

"Think of the energy wasted when you smile," said Eddie to Ralph. "Why by the time the smile spreads across your ten-acre face, you've done as much work as plowing a field the same size!"

"Search the Scriptures"

It would indeed be an amazing transformation in things terrestrial if men and women would only heed the admonition to "Search the Scriptures."

It is astonishing to find from your own investigation—by inquiry of those with whom you come in contact—just how few read the Bible, even casually!

If men KNEW more about God, they would DO more about GOD! But the idea appears to be with most men that all they have to do to find out about him is to go to church. That is one of many helpful ways. The principal and most effective way is to "Search the Scriptures!"

That means to "STUDY the Scriptures!"

Men do not know more about Him because they do not give enough attention to His Word.

It is by studying it that they learn what He has to say, and it is from this that we can learn about Him best.

Men are too much concerned about the "things of this world" to give much time to those of the next. And this is just what the adversary wants them to do. He wants them busy, but not with study of the Bible.

The Book itself warns about this particular thing.

In fact, it warns about everything that man should give attention to and his sufferings are largely due to the fact that he either hasn't studied the Bible enough to know of these warnings, or else goes along headstrong and willful, ignoring or defying them.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.—John i, 1

Living Book of Living God

The Bible is the Living Book of the Living God, the Eternal Book of the Eternal God.

The Bible is one continuous story one complete whole, harmonious in its teachings, complete in its purpose, glorious in its blessed influence.

Besides the inherent, self-evidencing testimony of the Bible itself as to its authorship, besides the uniqueness of its subject-matter, language and phraseology, there is the testimony of thousands well worthy of credence.

The Bible, some one has impressively said, is "God in print."

It is His Truth, His Thought, His Will, His revelation, His prophecy, concerning Himself and the creation.

It is there recorded in symbols, letters forming words, emblems of thought, made through the agency of men chosen by Him for that purpose.

It proclaims His law, imparts His wisdom, breathes His love.

The Bible proves itself by itself. Its general harmony is proof of its inspiration.

Man without the Bible would be altogether material-minded, and material mind is void of sentiment, intelligence, affection, emotion, and all the finer attributes which come of the study of God's Word.

What Is It

The Bible is a great spiritual symphony, prepared by many composers and played by many musicians.

It is a continued story by various authors, about forty of them, written under varied and diverse circumstances, during about 1,500 years, but all in thorough accord and concord.

It is a symposium comprising contributions from men in tune with the Divine thought, will and plan.

It is the only professedly recorded account of the Creation, defining and describing God that is

Uncle Sam Is Urged to Advertise If He'd Succeed as Wheat Merchant

Uncle Sam, with a surplus of more than 200,000,000 bushels of old wheat on his hands and a new crop moving to market, might profitably take a leaf from the experience of successful manufacturers and business men in the opinion of M. Lee Marshall, president of the Continental Packing Corporation.

The manufacturer or business man who finds himself with surplus stock on hand, Mr. Marshall points out, turns to advertising as his first step in merchandising. He doesn't expect the public voluntarily to come clamoring for his goods. He knows that to enlarge his market he has to stimulate interest in and demand for the product he wishes to move.

And since our present low per capita wheat consumption—which our surplus is due—is a result of the government's active "Save Wheat" propaganda during the war, a campaign equally specific in its encouragement of increased wheat consumption might be expected to prove effective.

"The Federal Farm Board or the American government could spend profitably as much as $10,000,000 on a campaign to enlarge the consumption of wheat products," Marshall declares. "It is now costing the Board $2,500,000 or $3,000,000 a month to carry the wheat it has accumulated. A movement to increase wheat consumption would be a business-like undertaking toward disposing of wheat which the taxpayers really own. At the same time it would contribute materially to the improvement of general business."

"I am convinced that the mere withholding of the Farm Board accumulations of wheat does not offer a complete solution of the wheat problem. The solution will only be complete when the holding plan is supplemented by an intensive campaign to increase wheat consumption in the United States."

"Restoration of pre-war consumption would solve the surplus problem. The time is ripe for a campaign with that objective."

"Prior to 1917, the average annual per capita consumption of wheat in the United States was five and one-half bushels. Largely as a result of an intensive campaign by the government, during the war, for a reduction in the use of wheat, our average is now only about four and two-tenths bushels per capita. That shrinkage means a difference of almost 150,000,000 bushels yearly in our domestic demand.

"If the United States today consumed wheat at the average of other countries, we would witness an additional demand for 300,000,000 bushels annually, if not more. The annual consumption in Canada, for instance, is seven and four-tenths bushels per capita. The French average is seven and five-tenths bushels. In England it is about six bushels per capita."

Marshall, who is the world's largest buyer of flour, would rather see the wheat farmers getting $1 a bushel for their wheat than 50 cents, even though his purchases would cost him more.

"With increased purchasing power for the wheat farmer," he says, "business and employment in general would improve. Wheat is the key to the whole field of commodity markets."

sands of years ago.

Take the Bible out of the world and spiritual darkness unutterable would prevail.

When it is taken out of the individual life, darkness prevails there also.

The Bible is "The Word of God which liveth and abideth forever."

"A glory glids the sacred page, majestic as the sun. It gives a light to every age; it gives but borrows none."

Recent Elections Point Toward Demo Victory

The recent elections held for selecting congressmen and governors in various states has slight indication that the well organized Democratic party may land their Presidential nominee in the White House, if they are judicious in selecting a nominee. Of the five congressmen elected to fill vacancies in the House, three were Democrats coming mostly from former Republican strongholds.
The First Ohio Congressional District in which Cincinnati is located sent John B. Hollister, an avowed anti-prohibitionist to the House filling the place made vacant by the death of Speaker Nicholas Longworth. Hollister, a Republican, won over State Senator David Lorbach by more than 15,000 majority. In the Twentieth Ohio District the results were quite different. Martin J. Sweeney, a Cleveland municipal judge, and a Democrat carried the district 2 to 1 over D. Hayden Parry, a Republican.
In the Eighth Michigan Congressional District Michael J. Hart was elected by a majority of more than 5,000 over F. O. Eldred, the Republican nominee. Two years ago that district went 20,000 Republican. The Seventh District in New York went Democratic but this place was held by a Democrat. John J. Delaney defeated William L. Padgett the Republican nominee by more than 16,000 majority. This place had been made vacant by the death of Congressman Matthew V. O'Malley.
The Second Congressional District of Pennsylvania returned a Republican to Congress. This district has been overwhelmingly Republican throughout its history and Edward L. Stokes had no difficulty in carrying his party to victory. He fills the vacancy made by the death of the late Congressman George L. Graham.
In the gubernatorial race in New Jersey A. Harry Moore, the Democratic nominee swept into office, defeating David Baird, Jr., by about 250,000 majority. Senator B. Harrison Moore, Republican, carried that state in the race for United States Senator by 200,000 majority in the 1930 election.
In the governor's race in Kentucky the Democrats carried the state by a good majority. Circuit Judge Ruby Laffoon, Democrat, was elected Governor over William B. Harrison, Mayor of Louisville, by nearly 50,000 majority. Judge Laffoon carried with him the entire state ticket of his party.
In the election the voters of Mississippi ratified a ticket which was in opposition to the policies and administration of Governor Bilbo. Martin S. Conner, a former speaker of the House of Representatives of that state, was elected Governor and will be inaugurated into office January 19.
The Democrats seem to have the majority in the House at this time and if no vacancies occur in their ranks, they probably will organize the House in the next Congress which meets December 7. The membership now stands 217 Democrats, 214 Republicans (after the death of Congressman Wurzbach Friday) and one Farm-Labor member. The Democrats are almost unanimously settled on Floor Leader John Garner, of Texas, as their candidate for Speaker of the House.

A WEDDING
Sunday morning Nov. 15th at nine o'clock, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Bennett, Mr. Jesses Hobson and Miss Estella Morgan of the Soldier Mound community, were happily united in marriage, Rev. Bennett officiating. It was a very quiet wedding, the bride's parents, her sister, Miss May Ruth, and a younger brother were the only witnesses.
Mr. Hobson is the son of the widow Hobson, better known as Grammother Hobson, who has made her home in the Soldier Mound community for many years, and it has been the happy privilege of the groom to take care of his mother and younger brothers since the death of his father. This he has faithfully done and has proven himself to be a young man of integrity and sterling worth. The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Morgan, also of the Soldier Mound community and is an accomplished lady of high aspirations, and Mr. Hobson is to be congratulated in winning for his own such a beautiful and lovely wife. Miss Morgan graduated with honors from the high school at Wichita Falls last year, and is in every way well fitted to undertake the task of making the man of her choice happy. The many friends of the happy young couple join us in wishing them a long and prosperous journey together through the many and varied vicissitudes of life.
Their former pastor, W. B. Bennett.

Texas Meat Slogan Wanted

STAMFORD, Nov. 16—Citizens of Spur are invited to put their thinking caps on, maybe win one hundred dollars, and do a great service to Texas. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has announced a contest to select a trade-mark for Texas fed meats.
To the man, woman, or child who suggests the best trade-mark for Texas fed meats, which will be used to identify such meats and popularize their use and demand at markets, cafes, and hotels, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is offering a cash prize of one hundred dollars.
Complete details may be obtained from the local Chamber of Commerce secretary, but anybody may qualify. A trade-mark may be a mark, a device, a symbol, phrase, slogan or a combination of any two or more of these. The entries must be sent to the Stamford office of the West Texas Chamber not later than January 15, 1932. Any person may submit as many entries as he desires, but each must be on a separate piece of paper and bearing the contestants name and address.
Three judges yet to be named will pick the winner. The contest originated with the Livestock Committee of the West Texas Chamber, which is working for increased consumption of Texas meats in Texas, and the promoting of feeding Texas livestock in Texas. John M. Gist of Odessa is chairman of the committee, and Paul T. Vickers, Midland, secretary.

NOW IS THE BEST TIME TO BUILD HOME

Home building may be the factor that leads the country back to prosperity. At no time in fourteen years have conditions for construction of a new home been more propitious. Land and material costs are at bottom levels.
According to a survey by the Indiana Limestone Company, few cities are actually overbuilt with residential structures. In fact it is declared there would be a distinct home shortage if the thousands of families now living "double" with other families were spread out again.
A new trend in the present home-building movement is the demand for a distinctive home at moderate price. With the shrinking of assets and lowering of incomes, the average home-owner today is in no mood for building palatial estates. Combining beauty of design, spaciousness, and a pleasing combination of color-tone and texture, the Hoopstone house here illustrated reflects all the dignity and permanence of the mansion. A convenient floor plan is arranged with large living room, dining room, gallery and kitchen on the main floor and three good-sized bedrooms with two baths on the second. Above the garage, at one end of the house, is a cheerful study room.
The Architects' Service Bureau, Bedford, Ind., from whom this and many other designs may be obtained, declares that while the distinction and beauty of Indiana limestone are perhaps the chief reasons for its popularity, a powerful feature in its favor is the low maintenance cost.

"Six Little Kitchens" Barely Appease Appetites of Radio's "Sisters of the Skillet"

RADIO'S famed funsters, the "Sisters of the Skillet" recently spent a busy day in the interests of bigger and better solutions for perplexing domestic problems. They called at the John Wanamaker store in New York City, and experimented in its "Six Little Kitchens".

The railroads are to be congratulated upon this concession. Heretofore their philosophy has seemed to be to solve all their difficulties by increasing freight rates.

Red Top-Catfish

Several of the Red Top ladies planned a Hollowe'en party and of course the Catfishites were invited some came dressed in costume, and there were the regular ghosts, clowns and a witch to tell fortunes.

Tommy McArthur was working in town that day and the store did not close until late, so he was late, also his dad, who was to bring him out. Matt Howell and wife went in with Gene Fry that day and he came back home for another bale of cotton and was late getting back to town so the Howells had to wait for him, but after Mrs. Howell received the last basket of groceries at Bokus Pokus that night, they were glad to miss the party.

Everyone put in a full week gathering cotton this week and several bales went into the gin. Leonard Ward broke his truck some way and had to go get Albert Fry to take in a bale.

Bill Rucker got word Thursday evening that his father was very ill and to come.

Dad Rucker was up to Highway staying with his daughter, Mrs. Penn Howell. Bill and family stayed that night and next day and left Dad feeling as usual.

The pie social and program given at the Catfish school house Friday night was enjoyed by quite a crowd. Mrs. Tom McArthur, sons and Hope and Glen McClain came over from Red Top and as they turned a corner near Leonard Ward's ran into a coyote, knocking it over, they stopped and finished killing it. They thought it probably was hurt some way, and Leonard said he shot one in the yard a few mornings before that and it may have been that one.

Mrs. Otis Garrison of Red Top, was visiting in the Fuqua, Stone-man and Howell homes Saturday.

Clark Howell and J. C. Lewis attended a party given by Grover Seaton, down on Lower Red Mud. Each boy spent the night with their sisters. Mrs. George Johnson and Mrs. Alfred Fuqua. Clark came home early Sunday, thinking he would have company, but Glen failed to come.

Wesley Lewis, wife, two daughters and a niece, spent the day Sunday with Matt Howell's family.

Dumke's insatiable appetite for solving household problems although they did manage to grab a bite of home-made "hot dogs". Fortified by this additional experience, the "Sisters" will be ready to convey new points of view on vital housekeeping questions to their radio audiences on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays at 8:45 P.M. (E.S.T.) over WJZ and associated community and will probably stay at the Bill Rucker camp. Mrs. Otis Garrison and family spent Sunday visiting the Epps family, who live on the John Martin place. Mr. Epps and family intend to move to California in a short time. A Mr. Crafton will live on the Martin place next year.

The Shackelford family of Catfish have been hauling cotton for Leonard Ward and Glee Sweeney, but had to pull for Jim McArthur this week.

After being cloudy for several days it began raining Friday morning by daylight, so everyone got to rest from cotton pulling, it helps to get a rest once in a while. Mrs. Howell says she will get to fill more cans. She tries to keep NRC stations and on Mondays and Wednesdays at 10 A. M. (E.S.T.) over WEAJ and associated NRC stations. Constant study of the work being done in such up-to-date domestic science laboratories combined with their own inventiveness keeps the "Sisters" prepared to solve whatever problems their listeners present.

She also got to run over to Mrs. Fuqua's and up to Mrs. Fry's and talk of canning and club work in general, especially about the 4-H pantry tour to take place Dec. 2, 3.

Miss Pratt was out to the Red Top club meeting Wednesday and she also visited with several of the ladies and to look over their work. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hight, of Spur, were out in the Catfish community Wednesday. Came to see Mrs. Matt Howell but they were all away from home working. Not any of the farmers out this way took a holiday. Bill Rucker came up to the school house and hoisted the flag.

Wesley Lewis went in with two more bales of cotton Thursday, his Wife Will Reveal What Food Sustains Captain Hawks in Air

WHEN Captain Frank Hawks goes on one of his record-breaking rampages, setting new long-distance speed marks day after day in his Travelair "Mystery 13" plane, awed citizens ask, "Does he ever rest?" and "How does he eat?" Mrs. Frank Hawks, wife of the famous aviator, will answer such questions as these in a talk with Winifred Carter to be broadcast over WEAJ and associated stations of the NBC, Tuesday, October 20, at 10 A. M. (E.S.T.). This interview will be one in the Crisco series of radio interviews with wives of famous men, broadcast every other Tuesday.

daughter, Miss Edrie, accompanied him as far as Tom McArthur's and she and Herman went to Sweet water to attend the institute. Mrs. Otis Garrison attended at Spur, Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Epps sold his feed to the Swensons and hauled the first load Thursday to the Bill Rucker camp. Uncle Bob Williams has passed another milestone in life and Saturday night a host of friends and relatives met at his home on Catfish and entertained him with games, music and dancing, after which a bountiful supper was served to all. All join in wishing him many more birthdays, and then this one makes him 82 years young.

A bunch of cotton pullers moved in P. M. McClains house this week to gather cotton for A. E. McClain. Everyone is trying to get the fleecy staple before the weather gets too cold.

Gene Fry helped Ed Fuqua to get his truck mended and hauled off Mr. Fuqua's first bale of cotton then they went and hauled off 4 bales for Gene. Each neighbor is trying to help another.

WHAT MIGHT BE DONE WITH THE 70 PER CENT

Our State Legislature, and all other state legislatures of the cotton growing states had only one view in enacting acreage reduction laws...

The 1930 census showed that there are 495,489 farms in Texas. Of these number 90,815 farms were without chickens...

Another remarkable thing the census report exhibited. Of the 495,000 farms in Texas there were 109,000 that had no milk cows on them...

The census report shows that 195,135 farms had no hogs on them. Not even a hog to the farm. Can you feature a farmer, who is expected to be a producer of the state...

There is another feature that should demand the attention of the Texas farmer. It is estimated by specialists that an annual food requirement for a family of five is about $600.00...

H. Williamson, state agent vice director of extension service, stated recently that Texas farmers have a home market for east $250,000,000 worth of foods...

O. B. Martin, director of the Extension Service of the A. & M. College and the United States Department of Agriculture, recently stated as follows:

"In the 180 counties in which county and home demonstration agents are employed no farmer need go farther than ten miles to find the answer...

"Undoubtedly the most sophisticated, best trained audience we have played before" was the comment Lucius Pryor made after the recent performance of the Jitney Players at Texas State College for Women (CIA).

NEW KINDERGARTEN PLANS INAUGURATED AT CIA

DENTON—Emphasizing a new system of individual advancement according to development, the kindergarten under direction of Texas State College for Women (CIA) has recently inaugurated a plan whereby children may complete one year's work in four months.

Using a scientific basis, work is planned by student teachers and supervisors so that each child receives separate instruction and attention which will cope with individual problems and advances the child without placing him under a standard regulated by his classmates.

RARE BOOKS BEING ADDED TO CIA LIBRARY

DENTON—Four hundred rare Texas books, which were purchased earlier in the year by Dr. L. H. Hubbard, president of Texas State College for Women (CIA) are now being catalogued preparatory to immediate placement on the library shelves of this college.

The books were purchased from the collection of J. C. Ingram of Groveton. The Texas Almanac, beginning with the year 1857 when the first almanac was printed in Texas, and continuing down to the present time, represent from the point of rareness and value one of the most outstanding features of the entire collection.

With the addition of these volumes, the Texas collection in the CIA library is placed in a favorable comparison with the old libraries and wealthiest institutions that have gathered similar collections in this state.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and two children of Lubbock, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kellam Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Cairnes, of Claremont, were in our city Monday greeting friends and doing some trading.

The cotton growing south will make a sad mistake if it assumes that the limitation of cotton to 30 percent of the crop area has solved its troubles. What is done with the other 70 percent is going to be of more importance.—Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman.

Milder

because they're fresh CAMELS are never parched or toasted!

FOLKS who smoke really fresh cigarettes made from choice sun-ripened tobaccos never have to give a thought to their throats. That's because such fresh cigarettes retain natural moisture - and are gratefully smooth, cool, throat-friendly, mild. Camels are the fresh cigarette - everyone knows that now - they're blended from the finest Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos that money and skill can buy. We would never dream of parching or toasting these choice sun-ripened tobaccos - that would only drive off or destroy the natural moisture that makes Camels fresh in nature's own mild way. The Camel Humidor Pack protects a fine cigarette fresh with natural moisture - it could do little or nothing to freshen a cigarette that is dried-out or factory-stale. If you smoke for pleasure, see for yourself what freshness means in mildness and flavor - switch to Camels for just one day - then leave them, if you can!

SCHOOL OPENING

regular school routine of work. No time was lost, as the faculty and student body realize that every day must count to keep the schools from extending so far into the hot summer months.

There were several graduates present for the opening exercises. A number of the class of '31 were in the auditorium for the opening exercises, and after the assignments went to various rooms for classwork, the former classmen assembled on the campus and talked over former school day events.

On account of financial conditions the number on the faculty have been reduced three from last year. However, this not expected to mar the class of work to be done in the schools. Spur schools have more credits of affiliation than any other school in the county. Spur has 26 regular affiliated credits, and these credits are not restricted to the State of Texas alone, but hold good in the all Southern Affiliated Association of high schools and colleges. Any school to secure entrance credits in full for its graduates must have 16 full affiliated credits. Spur is the only school east of Crosbyton, south of Matador, north of Rotan and Stamford and west of Munday that fulfills this condition.

There is another very fine feature about Spur schools that is a great help to students who attend. There is a very large list of elective subjects. In many schools a student must take the prescribed subjects whether they like them or not. Spur schools have so many prescribed subjects, and a large number of electives such as commercial subjects, vocational agriculture, home economics, domestic science, foreign languages and science. Any student going through Spur schools can elect approximately half of his course and get those subjects most adaptable to his liking.

The following is the list of the faculty for this year:

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL
Sam Z. Hall, Superintendent, Instructor in mathematics.
R. B. Neilson, Principal, instructor in history.

MISS PAULINE BUSTER, instructor in English.
MISS SARAH McNEILL, instructor in English, algebra and history.

C. B. MIDDLETON, instructor in vocational agriculture.
WEIR WASHAM, instructor in science and mathematics, athletic coach.

MISS IIA LASSETTER, instructor in physics.
MISS LOUISE BARGANIER, instructor in domestic economy.
JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL
F. F. VERNON, Principal, instructor in arithmetic.

Mrs. O. A. White, instructor in reading.
Mrs. W. A. McAlpine, instructor in English.
Miss Marie Oliver, instructor in geography.

WARD SCHOOL
O. L. KELLEY, instructor in Fourth grade.
Miss Ella Mae Hogan, instructor in art and third grade.
Mrs. Faust Collier, instructor in low third grade.

Mrs. W. K. Williamson, instructor in high second grade.
Mrs. Dan H. Zachry, instructor in low second grade.
Miss Annie Mae Lassetter, instructor in low second grade.

MISS ALICE WRIGHT, instructor in high first grade.
MISS RUTH LOHN, instructor in low first grade.
Mrs. L. B. Tillotson, instructor in music and penmanship.

There is one new teacher in the Senior High School this year, Miss Louise Barganier, a graduate of the College of Industrial Arts. Her home is at Lott, Texas, and she comes highly recommended. There is a new teacher in the Junior High School, Miss Jane Douglas Wilson. She is a home girl, a graduate of Spur High School and the past two years has been away attending college. Weir Washam, the new athletic coach is starting his first year in Spur High School. He is a Baylor graduate and a teacher and coach with an excellent record. F. F. Vernon is the new principal of Junior High and is a local man, receiving his advanced schooling at the University of Texas.

Get him or her a Bristle Comb for Christmas. Fuller Brushes make good Christmas presents. See your Fuller man. L. P. COX, Lubbock, Texas, At Wilson Hotel while in Spur.

MRS. BUTLER ENTERTAINS
A very nice birthday entertainment was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Butler last Thursday. Mrs. Butler acting as hostess. The occasion was in honor of Miss Charle Hayes, a niece of Mrs. Butler. The home was beautifully set in decoration which were in Thanksgiving motif, large red chrysanthemums arranged to suit the setting.

Games was the means of amusement. Pumpkin pie and coffee composed the refreshments. Those enjoying the occasion were Mesdames J. I. Hayes, Vance Martin, Bynum Brittain, Clarence Thannisch, the hostess, Misses Edith Ince, Alva Ince, Louise Rogers, Velda Crouch, Mary Green of Roaring Springs, and the honoree.

S. L. Porter, of Croton country, was attending to business matters in our city Tuesday.
County Agent Grady Lane and family had as their guests the past week Mr. Lane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Lane, of Clifton, Roscoe County.
Joe Potect, one of the good McAdoo farmers, was attending to business affairs in our city Tuesday.

THIRTEEN YEARS AT THE CHURCHES

Thirteen years have elapsed since the sound of cannon ceased on the far flung battle lines of Flanders' Field. Where poppies now grow undisturbed and where row by row the little white crosses show where lay the earthly portion of those who gave all. As they were told to make the world free for Democracy and that there might come permanent peace to the troubled world and to prove that "might was right."

I wish I could pay a worthy tribute to those who went over and those who offered kigagod ot4.m and did not comeback, and to those who came back maimed and lamed for life, and those who offered all and came back to the normal pursuits of life. They did all they could. All that they can do is offer his life for his country, in service to death; in a war as described by Sherman as "hell." If hell is worse we should try to so live as to become such citizens as would not be welcome in that place. War, that hideous monster, that has haunted mankind as far back as we have history and back of that the archeologists find evidence that those who lived and died without a written history lived in fortified cliffs and places where the enemy could not easily approach.

Why should we have war? What was accomplished by the last great war? Was anybody richer or happier when it was over? Why should my boy have to shoot some German father's son? We do not allow folks to kill many of the birds and animals and yet sometimes spend billions and make men kill men. Most of us do not believe in war and we should so express ourselves. How can we do so in words and ballots. Vote for men to our high offices who oppose war. If we are teachers teach what the awful results of war are. We can't continue to have war, for the implements of war are a thousand times more deadly now than when Washington crossed the ice-packed Delaware, or when Lee handed Grant his sword.

Modern civilization makes war either impossible or civilizations continued progress impossible. We can't go to war under present conditions and go on. Continued warring means to go back to little tribes and clans living in constant dread of the enemy, just living to live that's all. I don't want my boy to kill some Japanese boy to whose mother he is just as dear as my boy is to his mother. All men are equal in the sight of God, the color of the skin does not effect the heart. While I'm trying to express myself as being against war I want to tell you, gratitude is the cement that holds the world together, and I'm indeed grateful to the boys who gave beyond measure in the World War, and I know they are doing all they can that their boys may be kept from such a disaster.

We are beggars after all and even in our poverty we forget to be thankful to the Great Power that permits us to live another moment. And as we love to live and should value life even more than we do—may we work, hope, and pray that wars may cease. Come to see us. GEO. S. LINK, with Bryant-Link Company.

Let John A. measure you for your NEW SUIT. MRS. FLENNIKEN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. T. W. Flenniken, of Haskell mother of Mrs. E. L. Adams of our city, died Monday last week of an illness of two weeks. Two years ago she suffered a very severe attack of the heart which weakened her greatly, and two weeks before her death she suffered a stroke of apoplexy.

Mrs. Flenniken was a native of Texas, being a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Hamlin of Paris, Texas. She was born in that city April 27, 1860, grew to womanhood and was married there to Mr. T. W. Flenniken December 22, 1881. He died of cancer of the stomach December 22, this year and her husband would have passed their golden wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Flenniken became a member of the Christian Church when she was quite young. Her father baptized her into the church. She lived a faithful and devoted Christian life, improving every opportunity to assist those who might need her help. Just before her death she expressed her willingness, stating that she was prepared to go.

Upon learning of her mother's illness Mrs. Adams left at once for Haskell and remained until the end. Mrs. Flenniken had made a number of visits to Spur and had a number of friends here especially among those people in the church. She seemed to enjoy associating with Christian people and made friends easily.

Funeral services were held at the First Christian Church in Haskell Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Foster, of Coleman, a former pastor, made a very beautiful talk on the occasion. Interment was in Haskell cemetery.

The deceased leaves her husband and children to mourn her departure. There are six children: J. B. Flenniken of Wichita Falls; T. E. Flenniken of Weibert, V. L. Flenniken of Lamesa, Mrs. E. L. Adams of Spur, Mrs. W. W. Wealthly of Eunice, N. Mex., and Mrs. M. O. Satterwhite of Kilgore. 25 grandchildren attended the funeral.

trict who are not able to meet their current school taxes and there may be certain needed repairs to be made on the school buildings or about the grounds.

Judge Newberry said, "It would be a fine thing to employ these patrons to make these needed repairs and let the amount be applied on their current school taxes. This would be much better than importing some one into the community to do the work. Give the home people a day of work every time you possibly can."

A health demonstration which included measuring, weighing, physical inspection and posture of the student was given by Misses Olga Buresh, district health supervisor, and Ruth Koelker, district health nurse. This was followed by a hand washing demonstration and a demonstration of how to prepare hot school lunches. All the teachers seemed greatly interested in this feature of the work.

The principal address in the afternoon was made by Sam Z. Hall superintendent of city schools of Spur. Mr. Hall used as his subject: "The Little Red School House Grows Up." He brought out the fact that the school in any community was the fruit of the civilization in that particular community.

"The school is not the promoter of civilization, but civilization is the promoter of the school," was his statement in this respect. "The right and privilege of every child to secure an education is one of the foundation stones of democratic government," Mr. Hall said. Then he described the schools of earlier days telling of how the school house was placed on a poor plot of ground, its three windows on each side, the old time benches, the teacher's dignified expression, etc., the spelling contests, Friday afternoon programs and other features which characterized the little red school.

"The lads and lasses who received their training in the schools of long ago are the ones who, today, are formulating new ideas and curricula and planning the beautiful structures in which we teach and learn." He said, "The complex structure of civilization rests upon the individual's social inheritance and progress he has made in effecting better conditions by means of knowledge which has been handed down to him."

Mr. Hall then pointed out that under conditions of former days how difficult were the problems of discipline, how paper wads, rubber bands, crumcy, tinmies, the custom of teachers punishing many pupils and the lack of cooperation between teachers and pupils. He pointed out that the only incentive for learning in such school houses and with such equipment was "the fierce desire that some children had for book knowledge."

Then Mr. Hall featured the fact that "if pupils today had the same fiery zeal in their souls, they could with the aid of the magnificent buildings, marvelous equipment, and specialized teachers astound the world with their learning and power." These were just a few thoughts brought out in Mr. Hall's address.

After the general session had completed the program the institute divided into three sections: viz the high school section, the grammar school section and the primary section. In each of these sections problems of mutual interests were discussed.

County Home Demonstration Club News

CLARA PRATT, County Home Demonstration Agent

SEND IN CANNING RECEPTS
Will each homemaker send in to me a list of the things you have canned this summer and fall? We want to make a complete report for the county and need your cooperation to make it an accurate report. If you do not have the budget cards that have been given out please count your containers of leafy or green vegetables, starchy vegetables, pickles, fruit, preserves, etc. and send the list to me. I shall appreciate your sending it as soon as possible. This includes everyone who has done any canning, and not just the home demonstration club members. Thank you.

FINISHING AND DEMONSTRATIONS

Each woman or girl who has been conducting a demonstration this year in any phases of work carried this year should be finishing her work soon. Each demonstration is worthy of a story telling in her own words the record of the work done, the value of the demonstration, and the influence it has had on others. These stories should be considered an important part of the demonstration and should be turned in soon.

A trip to the Short Course is being offered to the 4-H Pantry demonstrators and will be given to the best demonstration in the county. In the judging the following score card will be used:

Budget	15
Storage and Recipes	15
Results	15
Story	40
Pictures	15
Total	100

No pantry demonstration will score the full 100 points. Where one falls in one point it may score high in another, this makes each one have an equal chance with another. The judging will be during the pantry tour or immediately following.

SPECIAL COOPERATORS IN THE LIVE-AT-HOME PROGRAM

Due to the united efforts of nearly every club member, the Chamber of Commerce, and the home demonstration agent at least 950 families have been reached this summer and fall in the live-at-home program. Of this number about 600 were helped by club members. The agent reached more than 200 by giving demonstrations in the communities that do not have home demonstration clubs. More than 150 families have used the canning kitchens in Dickens and Spur.

This means that at least 1100 families in the county have made some provision for the food supply for the winter. We are very anxious to make a complete report to hear the announcements and help in planning for the coming year's work. He will deliver a special message at both morning and evening hours that will appeal to all. The budget for the new year will be taken up and discussed. All other services at the regular hours. FLIES, MOTHS, AND MOSQUITOES BELONG IN SAME CLASS WITH DREADED BEDBUG

It seems that some people are getting the idea that if they take a membership in the Red Cross organization that it guarantees them a meal ticket for this winter. Let's not fool ourselves into such an idea for if we do, we are liable to get hungry during the time. The Red Cross works only where hazardous conditions exist and since Dickens County has made a good crop this year, no hazards should exist.

The only reason we were able to get Red Cross support last winter was on account of the long period of drought that existed. The Red Cross is not a charitable institution. It works only where immediate relief is needed—in territories visited by storms, floods, earthquakes, long periods of drought, etc. People out of work and conditions that may have been brought about by carelessness is not considered a reasonable excuse by the Red Cross.

The Welfare League which was organized in Spur last winter is not carrying on this winter. It is no longer an organization, and people who have been working in the country will make a mistake by moving into town and expect to get help through the Welfare League. If you have a job in the country, stay with it. If you can have a place to live in the country, keep it, and help the farmer with feeding and milking the cows, taking care of the farm stock in general, get a little milk and a few eggs each day, and don't waste any money. You will need it before spring opens again.

Many families have acted wisely and canned fruits, vegetables, and many are now canning meats to be used as food during the winter. The ant always lays in store during the harvest time to take care of winter conditions. The example of the ant is worthy of our consideration. A family with a well-willed pantry can get by with very little cash.

The 20, 30 and probably 50 cents spent each week for tobacco and cigarettes would keep a family of three or four supplied with meals. The meal would give sustenance to all, the tobacco gives sustenance to no one.

CHICAGO—Bedbugs are the most universally abhorred of all household insect pests, it was revealed today in a "Social Register" of insects compiled by the American Research Foundation.
"Because bedbugs are so generally disliked, American housewives have waged relentless warfare on them with effective pest destroyers and have succeeded in curbing them to a very large degree," the Foundation reported.
"but many other insects which cause even more damage than bedbugs are given little attention and therefore have multiplied in such proportions that they constitute real menaces to public health and property."

In its "Social Register," the Foundation lists eleven insects in the order of their "popularity" as follows: Flies, moths, mosquitoes, crickets, ants, carpet beetles, book lice, centipedes, fleas, cockroaches and bedbugs.
"Flies, moths, and mosquitoes are the most numerous of insects because they are too often accepted in American homes as necessary evils," the Foundation asserted in a bulletin covering a nationwide survey of insects.
"they are just as easy to destroy as bedbugs and cockroaches if attacked through their breathing pores by the spray of an effective pest destroyer and their number would be greatly reduced if housewives realized that they are just as much to be abhorred as the more loathsome bedbug."
