C of C Luncheon Well Attended

The Spur Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club joined in a luncheon at the Spur Inn Thursday evening with a great number of visitors present. Roy Dickson, President of the Rotary Club, called the meeting in order and presided the first part, going through with the Rotary portion.

Roy Stovall, who is the new president of the Chamber of Commerce, then took charge of the meeting and announced the program of the Chamber of Commerce. Clifford B. Jones was introduced and spoke on the work of the Chamber of Commerce in Red Cross and RFC work. Mr. Jones pointed out that through the influence of the Chamber of Commerce organization much had been secured from the Red Cross to relieve suffering and want in our community the past few years. He enumerated the various amounts of supplies which had been furnished and spoke of the many people who had been helped by influence of the Chamber of Commerce upon the Red Cross organization.

In speaking of the Chamber of Commerce in the management of the RFC work, he stated that it was through the Chamber of Commerce alone that some $12,684.00 in cash had been secured to assist in furnishing people in Dickens County work. He stated that the Chamber of Commerce had been our only means of securing these funds and that the Chamber of Commerce went forward when all other agencies failed. He emphasized the great number of people in the country who had been able to secure a means of support by this act of the Chamber of Commerce. He called attention to the many public improvements about the town and in the various communities which had been secured by reason of the Chamber of Commerce so ably handling the RFC funds.

M. C. Golding spoke relative to the attitude of business toward the Chamber of Commerce. He stated that the Chamber of Commerce was the organization in which business men could unite and promote community progress. It is the institution to which all community interests are referred and discussed, and it is the beginning point of all community plans which control and make a better community.

George S. Link spoke on the value of membership in the Chamber of Commerce. He brought out the fact that any business man should deem it a privilege to be a member of the Chamber of Commerce, and should link up and help foster those things which are of vital importance in community advancement.

Ray Dickson then was asked to take charge of the meeting. He introduced C. M. Frances of Stamford who stated that he was very glad to be present at the meeting. Also, Judge Landrum of Falls County was introduced and said he had enjoyed the evening very much. The meeting created much increased community interest and it is hoped other such banquets will follow during the year.

Western Union Office to Be Open More Hours

In keeping step with the program for a "New Deal" in its effect on business generally Miss Brasher, manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, has announced that effective May 9 the hours of the telegraph office will be extended 8 a. m. to noon, 1 p. m. to 6 p. m. and 7 p. m. to 8 p. m. with the approach of summer and longer daylight hours the new closing hour of the Western Union office will afford additional time within which all who so desire may file their telegrams. The extended closing hours of 8 p. m. will be of particular advantage to those who wish to avail themselves of the cheaper rate services of the telegraph company, such as the night message and the night letter.

B. C. JOHNSON SUFFERS BROKEN LEG

B. C. Johnson, manager of the Wooten Wholesale Grocer Company here, had the misfortune to get his right leg broken Sunday. Mr. Johnson had joined a number of friends in playing a game of baseball against Jayton team. He came to bat, made a safe hit and had gain second base. A member of the Spur team hit a single and Mr. Johnson endeavored to make home on it. The catcher was waiting to receive the returned ball and just as Mr. Johnson hit home plate the catcher turned into him, catching his right leg in some manner that caused a compound fracture.

The large bone between the knee and ankle was broken, just above the ankle, and the small bone was broken just below the knee. Mr. Johnson received treatment at the Nichols Sanitarium and aside from suffering much pain, is getting along nicely. He is enduring great pain at this time, but it is thought this will give way soon. He is at his home on North Willard Avenue.

ATTENDS PASTORS MEETING

Rev. Joe E. Boyd was in Knox City Monday attending a meeting of the pastors of the Stamford District of the Methodist Church. He stated there were 22 pastors present at the meeting. Church plans and revivals made up the discussions for the day.

Tuesday Bro. Boyd and J. W. Watson, who is conducting a training class at the Methodist Church this week, went to McAuley Tuesday where they attended the pastors meeting of the Abilene District. They reported a very interesting meeting there.

GEORGE SLOAN'S BARN BURNS

The barn at the George Sloan place in the northwest part of town was burned Tuesday afternoon. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. and Mrs. Sloan were visiting relatives in Haskell County at the time, and no one was supposed to be about the place. The barn was practically destroyed.

DICKENS COUNTY TIMES

Rev. German Dies Suddenly

Mrs. S. H. Nalley, of Soldier Mound community, received a message Monday that her father, Rev. G. W. German, had dropped dead on the street at Hugo, Okla., about noon that day. Arrangements were made and funeral services were held at Hugo Tuesday.

Rev. German had spent much of his time in different sections of West Texas, and while in Dickens County made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Nalley. He had been a minister of the gospel about fifty years. He was about twenty five years of age when he began studying for the ministry.

Rev. German was born at Kingsland, Arkansas, April 5, 1854. He celebrated his 79th birthday anniversary last month. He came to Texas in 1876 and settled in Falls County. His first wife died in 1880. There are five children: Mrs. S. H. Nalley of Spur, Mrs. Horace Young of Dallas, Mrs. Grady Allbritton of Houston, Mrs. A. C. Ammons of Waco, and L. E. German of Dallas.

Work of Home Beautification Club

The activities of the Home Beautification Club in Spur and surrounding communities have been greater this year than ever before by virtue of the RFC aid. Every school house and grounds in the county have felt the work of the organization in the form of improvement of some kind. The chairman of the committee gave the following information in regard to work done in Spur:

122 homes were entered in the contest, 311 trees were planted, 674 shrubs were planted, 100 flower gardens made, 109 lawns established, 80 unsightly places were screened, 386 roses were planted, six lily ponds were made and two rock gardens were built. This does not cover the town as a very large area was not reached. Twenty ladies composed the committee.

The colored people were not to be outdone in this matter and several homes in that district were entered into the contest. Eleven homes were entered, 86 trees planted, 17 shrubs, nine flower beds built, three lawns established, seven unsightly places were screened and eight rose bushes were planted.

In addition to the above there were 179 repair jobs done costing $5,525. All five parks in the city were improved. The American Legion installed a flag pole in the park on east side, and many other improvements were made.

At the cemetery there was 740 feet of water lines laid, 80 trees planted, 146 flower beds established, and all the weeds cut and debris moved away.

In the city every street was worked including 66 blocks graded and 18 blocks graveled. Our streets are in fine condition at this time (if the wind does not blow the grades down).

Many homes in the country have been greatly improved. There have been some 400 Chinese elm trees planted, many flower gardens, and practically every country home has met with some improvement.

The above are just a few of the hundreds of improvements that have been made. There has not been a ripple except in one case. W. B. Lee tried to report butter beans for vines, and this was not an intentional mistake for the beans had not begun to bear yet and Chairman Whitener had to show him the difference. Mr. Whitener, the twenty ladies, together with D. L. Gramberry of the Chamber of Commerce are responsible for the great list of improvements made. Mr. Gramberry was far-sighted in securing the RFC aid which furnished employment for hundreds of people in the county employment beginning months ago and closing just last week.

The RFC fund has been exhausted and no more will be secured, but if Mr. Gramberry gets an opportunity to secure any other assistance which will enable people to have employment, you may be assured he will get it. That work of the Chamber of Commerce has meant much to our county.

Meeting At Church Of Christ Closed

The series of meeting at the Church of Christ closed with the services Sunday evening. The preaching was done by Guy N. Woods, minister at Post, who brought some very fine sermons. Mr. Woods is a good speaker and he attended strictly to the duties relative to his congregation. Histalks were very instructive and he made the word very plain.

There were two baptized into the Church Sunday evening.

The singing was in charge of local people with T. C. Cooner as leader. It is hoped that Bro. Woods will come to our town again and conduct other meetings. He made many friends while here and his methods were well taken by members of his church and visitors.

TO OUR FRIENDS

We want you to know we appreciate the interest and assistance you rendered Tuesday night when our home was burned. Especially do we thank the members of the Fire Department for their timely and efficient work. All of you rendered service when it was greatly needed.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkey M. Bumpus.

Cowan Building Damaged by Fire

Just after nine o'clock Tuesday evening fire was discovered in the Cowan building located in the main business block on Burlington Avenue. The origin of the fire is not known, but indication shows that it was caused from a defective electric wire. It seems the fire originated in the bathroom of the W. M. Bumpus apartment as the greatest amount of charred wood is in that portion.

Mr. and Mrs. Bumpus had been away after about 5:30 in the afternoon. They had used no fire after that time that they knew about. Their household goods were greatly damaged by fire, smoke and water. Aside from the water damages, their apartment was all that was injured in the second story. Windows, plaster and many other injuries were caused to the building.

The stock of merchandise of Henry Alexander & Company which was located in the first story of the building received the greatest damage. Water ran through the ceiling and down the walls, soaking the merchandise in the shelves and on the tables. A mist formed in the store which absorbed the smoke and caused it to settle on the merchandise. The fixtures suffered water damages and some of them were ruined.

The store will be closed for a few days in order to secure adjustments for damages and to secure new merchandise to replace the damaged stock. One loss that rarely is considered will be the loss in time required to get back into business again after a fire. No one can estimate this loss in a condition of this kind.

The Fire Department did excellent work in gaining control of the flames. This is the first fire in the business section in a long time.

Hamlin Store of Bryant-Link Company In New Home

Under date of April 28 the Hamlin Herald gave a very interesting account of the Bryant-Link Company at Hamlin moving into a new home. Fifty years ago J. C. Bryant established the business at Anson, and has been in business in Jones County ever since. In his own account Mr. Bryant stated that "it was a hardware store," and "we did not sell binders or wagons. But we handled lots of spurs and bridles in those days." There were no buggies. When a young man went to see his girl he either rode or walked, and Mr. Bryant was no exception for he either rode or walked four miles to see the girl who later became his wife—Miss Sallie Hute.

When Mr. Bryant asked where the Link name came in, he replied, "Why George has been with us for 32 years. George came to Jones County the day I was married. Yes, Link came that day, and what a cold day it was. It was on November 24, 1887."

That was before there was a Stamford, or Hamlin, or Jayton, or Spur. The whole country was made up of pastures, cattle and wild game—just a few neighbors but loyal ones. Jones County and Stonewall County were united under one government at that time and cast fewer than 150 votes in both counties.

When Spur was started in 1909 Mr. Link came here as manager of the store. They started business here November 1, 1909, and through his influence Mr. Link has built up a great business institution. Mr. Link has felt all of his business life that any business institution should render the very best of service and he followed through on this principle.

BOX SUPPER AT PEACE FUL HILL

There will be a box supper at the Peaceful Hill school house next Friday night, May 12th at 8:00 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

COULD NOT SUPPLY THE DEMAND

County Agent G. J. Lane had a call this week from hotels at Big Spring for 200 pounds of country cured hams, cured by the A. & M. process. Mr. Lane endeavored to fill the order but was unable to secure the required amount. The price offered was 15 cents per pound which is two cents higher than that being paid for packing house hams.

Hotels all over the South are making calls for these country cured hams, and the farmers of Dickens County will find a ready sale for them if they will just prepare them. They must be prepared in a state that can be recommended. It seems that hams cured by the A. & M. process have a standard price and are considered standard in every respect since no inspection is needed for this type of hams.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS FEEDERS DAY AT SPUR

The Feeders Day at the Spur Experiment Station last Friday developed more interest in the feeding business among West Texas farmers and stockmen than any other event to date. There were 305 persons who are interested in the feeding business from various angles who registered asking for bulletins and the 168-day feeding experiment which closed at the station last Wednesday. Even with this large number who signed up, it is conservatively estimated that fewer than one of every three present signed up. The registrants did not include any of the great number of ladies present who joined their husbands in showing an interest in the live stock feeding business.

Lubbock County seems to have led in the number of visitors for the day. There were 30 registered from that county with Hale County running second with 15 visitors and Throckmorton third with 11. There were 31 counties represented.

Superintendent Dickson and his fine corps of helpers were very busy during the day showing the great number of visitors about the work. It was the greatest day of instruction the Spur Experiment Station has ever experienced. There were no long drawn out speeches, no one had a great amount of surplus information they desired to spill. The results were all tabulated and every one present was given a copy with the request that if they desired to ask any questions to do so.

Mr. Stalling, of Armour & Company, was present and appraised the cattle in the various pens. Then he was very kind to go back through the pens and explain to the visitors why certain types did not measure up to the market value prescribed by his company. This was very interesting, and any one in the feeding business, or expecting to engage in the business, received a great deal of helpful information.

Mr. Stalling is an expert buyer and knows the type of cattle that brings the top market price.

The afternoon was devoted to talks and questions. Some of the interesting subjects discussed were the trench silo, minerals added to feeds for cattle and home made leather.

Mr. Clinton, of Marlin, and Mr. Idol of Benjamin discussed the advantages of silage as feed for cattle. One of them made the statement that they fed silage with one pound of cotton seed meal per animal per day and secured a gain of 2 1/2-10 pounds per animal per day. In answer to the question as to what made the best silage, it was stated that any of the grain sorghums were good. The question of yield per acre is what should be considered and Mr. Clinton stated that he had found red top cane the best. This was approved by Mr. Idol. The question of expense of putting up silage came up, and the two men stated that it would be around 90 cents per ton. Mr. Dickson stated that at the Station last year they allowed $4.00 per acre for the use of the land and $1.50 per day for labor, and their average cost was 95 cents per ton. It was stated that the cost to put feed in trench silos would be about half the expense of putting it up in bundle feed. As to the size of the silo, Mr. Jones of the Extension Service, stated that it should correspond to the amount of feed to be used, or the number of cattle to be fed could be used as a basis. People can write the A and M College for specifications.

Mr. Jones discussed the adding of minerals to feeds. He stated that in sandy areas most feeds are low in phosphates and lime and a small quantity of oyster shell flour, ground limestone, etc., might be added to an advantage. However, he warned people against buying commercial prepared minerals unless they knew what they were getting. "Be sure you know the mineral before using it, for you can use harmful minerals and get a bad result," he said. The Spur Station used ground oyster shell (oyster shell flour) in the experiment just closed. Mr. Jones stated that no one need get alarmed in the event the minerals were not added to feeds. However, the feeding experiment just closed showed an increased gain where the mineral was used, other feeds being the same.

As a whole the day was very beneficial and the local experiment station is to be commended for the very excellent work done along these lines. The work of any experiment station can be used as a good basis by any farmer. Many times results of experiment station work are not the most glowing for often some experiment is made that is a failure, to prove at the same time some other method is a success. This type of experiment often has to be carried out. But it is better for one experiment station to do so and save many farmers the expense and trouble of doing so individually.

Knox Parr, of Fisher County, talked about home made leather and exhibited a number of articles which had been manufactured from home made leather—leather tanned and prepared at home. He stated that an ordinary cowhide now is worth about 60 cents, but a pair of check lines are not cheaper than when cowhides were worth $2.00 and $3.00. C. C. Haile, of Afton, stated that he is making most of the leather he is using at this time. He has a very fine method of preparing leather.

"Me and My Gal" will greet you at the Palace Sunday and Monday.

Council Plans For Clothing Contest

The club that is 100 per cent in exhibiting dresses and foundation patterns in the clothing contest in the county will receive a nice collection of books and bulletins on clothing was the decision of the Dickens County home demonstration council in its April meeting. The date for the contest will be set at the May meeting but it will be about the first of July.

The Council is giving three trips to the A. and M. Short Course to the winners in the two wardrobe demonstrators' contests and to the winner in the cooperators' contest. The dresses are to be made from prints, gingham, broadcloth, pique, or chambray except those of the demonstrators in class II; their dresses are to be of sheer material as voile, batiste, or dimity with a slip to wear with it.

Seven clubs were represented with Mrs. W. M. Hunter, Steel Hill; Mrs. L. B. McMeans and Mrs. Tom Gilmore, Twin Wells; Mrs. Matt Howell, Red Top; Mrs. I. E. Abernathy, Soldier Mound; Mrs. Cecil Fox, Spur; Mrs. A. T. Bural and Mrs. J. L. Hagins, Duck Creek; and Mrs. R. L. Glenn Prairie Chapel.

Committee On Education Makes Quarterly Report

The Education Committee of the Dickens County home demonstration Council, composed of two women from each commissioners' precinct gave the following report in the April Council based on the monthly reports of the home demonstration agent:

The committee found that extension work is being conducted in 19 of the 21 communities in the county with women and girl's clubs or both, with an enrollment of 234 women and 130 girls, based on this year's rolls.

During the three months the agent spent 46 days in the field; 27 days in the office; received 134 office calls; 52 telephone calls; made 158 home visits; made 63 visits to demonstrators; attended 78 meetings with 2399 in attendance; and traveled 4125 miles in the work.

In January three meat canning demonstrations were given when 576 cans were filled and 24 people trained. A meat canning demonstration was given in Silvertown with 84 women, home economics girls and vocational agriculture boys present.

The hooked rug demonstration was given in 14 clubs with 144 women present; braided mat demonstrations were given in nine girl's clubs with 115 girls.

Planting plans were drawn for four homes and the agent assisted in selecting and setting plants.

Five teams of girls in meat canning were trained and the winning team entered in the district contest at Lubbock.

Floor finishes demonstration was given in 18 clubs.

The bedrooms of the demonstrators in the girls' clubs were scored at the beginning of the work on bedrooms.

Two new women's clubs were organized at Spur and Duck Creek with 52 members in the two clubs.

A similar report will be made each quarter by the committee as one of its duties as outlined by Mrs. Maggie W. Barry, Extension Specialist in Rural organizations. —Reporter.

PARDON MISTAKES

The following article which appeared in the Star-Telegram recently, was clipped from the Donley County News by Mrs. M. B. Haile, a citizen of Dickens County the past 36 years. She has been on the frontier of Texas since 1852. In contributing this article she stated that the pardon privileges should be held sacred and feels that it is abused at time.

Police in a neighboring state, searching a house from which had fled two gunmen who had slain one peace officer and critically wounded another, found in the man's effects left behind a paper bearing the great seal of Texas and the signature of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson testifying to the release from the Texas penitentiary before his term of confinement had been served of a man known to police of several states as a ruthless killer. This was a man finally brought to book by the forces of the law after a long career of criminality and at great expense to society, and shut up for society's protection. He was turned loose by the Governor of Texas, and less than a month later the law was again hunting him to answer for a major crime.

The power of pardon is delegated by the people to the executive for two purposes, and for two only. One is to guard against the possibility of conviction of an innocent person. The other is to provide a means for regulating the punishment of a convicted person to the higher objective of punitive action by society. This higher objective is reformation of the criminal and conceivably it may be attained merely by the arrest of the criminal, by his trial, or by fulfillment of only a part of his sentence. The executive in whose hands rests the power of pardon has the responsibility to society which is thus implied. When a criminal is let loose again upon society by the Governor's exercise of the pardon power and almost immediately thereafter kills or robs, or commits some other offense against society, the Governor is thereby convicted of failure to fulfill the public trust which is imposed by investiture of the pardon power.

A major error of this sort in the exercise of the pardoning power cannot be excused. If the Governor can not be sure that a convict has abandoned the criminal way of thinking, is capable of returning to the ways of good citizenship and determined to do so, he should not be pardoned. If a Governor can be so grossly deceived in estimating the truth or falsity of a convict's reformation as to release one who immediately resumes his criminal career, that Governor, should in respect to the public trust decline to exercise the pardon power except on recommendation of those whose judgment is better.—Fort Worth Star Telegram.

STAMFORD ARRANGING FOR COWBOY REUNION

An intensive program of improvements including the doubling of the grandstand seating capacity of the rodeo arena is nearing completion at the Texas Cowboy Reunion Grounds at Stamford. More attractive grounds and a more orderly system of handling the crowds will greet the cowboys and other visitors who attend the fourth annual reunion here July 3, 4 and 5.

Congestion which resulted last year when thirty thousand people flocked to Stamford for the picturesque gathering of cowhands from this and adjoining states made the improvements necessary.

The new covered grandstands already have been completed, making it possible to seat twice as many people in the shade as last year. Bleachers and attractiveness and convenience of the arena in which the arena is located also are being improved. Work is now under way on a new four-gate automobile entrance to the grounds from highway 30 which is expected to relieve congestion in traffic which occurred on the opening day last year. Captain Koonsman of the Texas Highway patrol, who assists with the traffic each year, has worked out a new system of parking which will be put into effect.

A dam has been built on the grounds impounding a small lake which will fill on the east side of the natural amphitheater. When filled, the lake will cover several acres of ground and the water will stand about 15 feet deep. Sixty shade trees have been planted on the grounds. Nine hundred feet of new water lines have been laid for watering the trees and providing water for the chuck wagon area. Adjacent to the rodeo arena, one new corral 48 by 60 feet has been built and two others have been enlarged. The size of the judges' stand also will be increased.

Don't Divert the Gasoline Tax

"You have just paid blank dollars and blank cents for gasoline tax—road rent," a little slip reads that is being passed out by local filling stations and other stations all over Texas.

The slips, furnished by the Texas Good Roads Association of Houston, Dallas and Lubbock, are filled out and given to motorists when they fill up with gasoline.

They explain that one cent of the five cent tax goes to the educational institutions of Texas, yielding $36,000,000 annually or $5.00 of the $17.50 per capita public school allotment for the 1,567,700 school children of Texas.

The slips explain further that another cent goes to reimburse counties of Texas for highway bonds and that two cents goes for road construction and maintenance, while one cent goes to the federal government.

Motorists are urged, by the slips, to use their influence against further diversion of this road tax, in order that Texas highways may be eventually connected up with paving and may likewise be properly maintained for the use of those who pay the tax.

Compare these figures then check the riding comfort, beauty, and economy of operation, together with the first cost of the automobile, and you will have to admit that the FORD V-8 stands out in a class by itself.

Any number of the new V-8 owners will tell you that they are able to obtain from 17 to 20 miles per gallon of gasoline, and the 1933 V-8 has been reduced to the lowest oil consumption of any car in this price field. A comparison of Ford parts and labor charges will show a saving of 35 per cent to 50 per cent under other cars.

New Cape Outfits

For Young
Moderns

• Have Lots of 1933 Ideas

If you can think of a more practical, smarter outfit for a miss between the ages of six and fourteen than the cape ensemble sketched (McCall 7355), better snap it up right this minute. For our part, we don't believe there is a nicer outfit. For one thing, it has three wearable parts . . . the cape, a jumper and a blouse . . . and they can all be worn with other outfits. In addition, its lines are young and simple and easy for Mother to reproduce at home. Cotton tweed is an excellent fabric for it; and it might have a blouse of white broadcloth.

You'll find that many of the newest costumes for juniors show evidence of careful plotting on the part of designers to create something practical as well as good looking. Jacket and cape suits seem to be prime favorites; no doubt because of this flair for parts that interchange with other costumes. (By courtesy of The McCall Company).

Will Texas Insurance Laws Stand Up?

Sharp decreases in farm mortgage loans by insurance companies in Texas at a time when such loans are urgently necessary is seen by supporters of the Robertson Insurance Law if the statute's compulsory investment features are repealed.

The Robertson insurance law requires, out-of-state companies doing business in Texas to invest 75 per cent of the reserves of their Texas policies in Texas securities. To secure the minimum premium tax of two per cent, the law requires foreign insurance companies to invest in real estate mortgage loans.

Without these requirements, Texas insurance men, here fighting repeal of the compulsory investment features of the law, sought in a bill now before the house of representatives, believe that out of state companies would have little disposition to continue substantial investments in farm loans.

Figures compiled by the United States Department of Agriculture show that from 1927 to May 1931, a group of forty outstanding life insurance companies, including all the big Eastern firms which are fighting the Robertson law, had decreased farm loans 9 per cent.

Farm loans by this group of companies showed a $43,000,000 drop in 1931 and a $35,000,000 decrease for the first five months of 1932.

That this condition would prevail in Texas, is proven, supporters of the law say, by a comparison with the trend of farm loans in Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico and Oklahoma, Texas' four bordering states.

These four states have no compulsory investment protection such as the Robertson law gives Texas. The decreasing trend in these states is similar to that shown by the Department of Agriculture for the group of forty representative companies.

On Jan. 1, 1927 these four states had $103,620,000 invested by insurance companies in farm loans. By the end of 1931, that total had decreased to $89,663,000 for all four states.

These states collect more premiums and comprise a greater square mile area and a greater population than Texas, yet this state, under the Robertson law showed a steady increase in farm loans for the same period from $151,094,000 in 1927 to $162,077,000 in 1931.

Your Service Is Your Opportunity

The person who only works as much as he is paid for will never convince his boss that he is worth more. Doing the best work possible is part of the personality of a successful office woman, according to Ruth Douglas, director of business administration at Texas State College for Women.
Although personality is a gift, says Miss Douglas, it is one which may be acquired, and which is essential to success. She lists four parts to the formula—develop personality, seize every possible opportunity, make your self valuable, and taste the joy of achievement.

If you sell your time—eight hours per day—for twenty dollars a week, and you see how little you can get by with, you are cheating yourself, as well as your employer. Soon your time will be worth less than it is today. Your place of business—sometimes referred to as the old home town—is the place where your opportunities are. Look about and see the possibilities that may be developed.

This year I heard of a woman who said, "My salary has been cut 15% and I am just figuring how to reduce my efficiency 15%." Perhaps she was only joking. Whatever your position, and whatever your salary, it does not pay extra dividends to do only as much as you are paid for.
Couple your best efforts regardless of salary with optimism, enthusiasm, confidence, diplomacy, fair-mindedness activity, grace, charm, sincerity, and your business career will be successful.

Duck Creek School Closes

The Duck Creek school held their graduating exercises last Thursday evening. There was a double program—one a community school program given by the fifth and sixth grade pupils, and the other was the graduating exercises for the seventh grade class.

The program was enjoyed by a large audience. The invocation was given by Rev. Cox of Jayton; Welcome address by Miss Arline Hagins; Vacation Song, fifth and sixth grades, address by W. D. Starcher of Spur; Vocal solo by Mrs. W. D. Starcher; Reading by Mrs. Madge D. Twaddell of Dickens; Piano Solo, Miss Ann Lee of Spur; declamation, Edward Sifford of Spur; piano solo, Mrs. Cox of Jayton; salutatory, Vesta Marshall; class poem, Frances Arnold; Address, Rev. S. A. Sifford; class prophecy, George Simmons; song, graduating class; our colors, Winnie Marshall address, Rev. Cox; valedictory, Opal Webb. Prof. C. Evans awarded the promotion certificates which admits the graduates into high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans and Miss Duran have been elected as teachers at Duck Creek for another year. The school there has been very successful this year and people are proud of the results.

Duck Creek is a very fine community and all work together for the success of the school. The school house serves as the church building and all community activities are centered around the school.

Democratic Funds Are Pouring In

Definite results are beginning to be obtained in the campaign to raise Texas' share of the deficit of the Democratic National Campaign in 1932. $75,000, or nearly 10% of the National Committee's deficit was assigned to the Texas organization directed by Roy Miller and Senator Margie Neal, of which Frank Schofield is Director of Finance.

The best showing to date has been made in the Sixteenth Congressional District, which is represented by Representative Ewing Thomason. W. F. Boggess, Committee member from Del Rio, has remitted the quota in full for Val Verde, his home county, and the counties of Kenedy, Edwards and Jeff Davis. The amounts allotted to each county were on the basis of a dime for every Democratic vote cast in each county.

Navarro County, for which A. A. Allison is Finance Chairman, is the first of the larger counties to have its quota guaranteed. The Democratic organization there was given a quota of $800.00, of which more than $700 has been raised and the balance pledged. Hood County was the first county in the 12th district to complete its quota, represented by Representative Fritz Lanham. In the 11th District, Bosque County has practically completed its quota, and the Chairmen of several other counties in the District say that the amount expected of them is in sight.

Some seventy counties in all have notified Schofield that they are nearing the completion of their task. Results in Dallas, Harris, and other of the counties having the largest population, have not been as satisfactory. Schofield stated, but with the improvement in business conditions the State Headquarters believe that the campaign will be successful.

County Chairmen are being urged to remit all sums raised by them by May 15th, at which time a substantial amount from Texas has been promised to Chairman Farley.

In the next report it is hoped that Dickens County will have in their full quota. The various committeemen are working this week. It is thought the four Spur voting precincts will report in full by the last of the week.

WENT OVER THE BORDER

Fred C. Haile returned Saturday from Old Mexico where he spent a week fishing and enjoying a vacation. He went through the port of entry at Laredo, Texas, across the bridge to Nuevo Laredo, in the state of Nuevo Leon, Mexico. He passed over 37 miles of road to Carmorion and then enjoyed 43 miles of Mexico pike to Don Martin where Lake Don Martin is located. He said he found plenty of fish of average size. His best catch was with a fly, the silver dockum and a large spinner.

Mr. Haile stated that there are wonderful camping places back from the river. He found the water clear and very conducive to fishing. His greatest thrill was the sight of a 15 pound channel cat which had been taken on a plug.

The government of Mexico is endeavoring to make the people happy and prosperous. There is a large irrigation project under way between Don Martin and Carmorion. This, it is thought, will furnish employment for many people and promote prosperity. The life of the people there is very, very simple. The homes are of primitive type, and the people satisfied and contented, rather pacific in their attitude. In the evening as the moon shines, colored costumes of caballero and dark eyed senorita sway to the tones of guitar and mandolin played as only the Spanish can play.

It is a great place to spend a vacation, and Mr. Haile said, "Romantic Old Mexico is still there awaiting your visit and your pleasure."

McADOO

Four of the members of the Epworth League attended the Quarterly conference at Munday, May 5 and 6. Those attending were: Misses Helen McDonald, Virginia Adams, Beulah Mae Phifer, La Verne Cooksey and Mrs. Ben Eldridge, chaperon. They attended a banquet Saturday night and returned home Sunday afternoon. McAdoo baseball club won a victory over Crosbyton Monday afternoon 15 to 16.

Mr. Nettles made a business trip to Fort Worth this week.

The McAdoo Epworth League called a Council meeting last Wednesday night, May 3rd. All members that were present had a very good report.

The meeting was called together mainly to select delegates for the McMurry Summer Assembly. Miss Helen McDonald, Miss Beulah Mae Phifer and Miss Aline Allen were selected, so our community will be highly represented.

Rev. Parmenter is to deliver the Mothers Day sermon at the McAdoo Methodist Church next Sunday, May 14th.

The Juniors of McAdoo High School honored the Senior with a banquet May 4th. It was a very formal affair and a very good time was reported by all.

Mrs. John A. Allen of McAdoo gave a party at her home in honor of the McAdoo Seniors Friday night.

"Me and My Gal" will greet you at the Palace Sunday and Monday.

RUMBECK HOME BURNED

About 9:30 Friday evening it was discovered the Rumbeck home on East Third Street was in flames. The fire department answered the call and did efficient work. However, it seemed pressure was low and it took some time to get control of the flames. The residence and most of its contents were destroyed. Mr. Rumbeck stated they were able to save a few things from the home.

Mrs. J. L. Robinson, mother to Mrs. Rumbeck, and her two grandsons lived in a portion of the residence and lost practically everything they had. There was no insurance. The residence belonged to C. H. Perry living in California at this time.

Walter Gruben's home just west was damaged considerably. It looked for a time as if it might be destroyed, but the Fire Department gained control of the flames and saved it.

Mrs. Wayne McMeans and little son, Billie Wayne, of Swenson, are doing fine. Billie Wayne arrived Saturday.

Miss Margie Norton, of Floydada, underwent an operation Sunday and is getting along fine.

Virgil Morrison, of McAdoo, came back to the hospital Saturday. He was painfully burned with gasoline about ten days ago while spraying the chicken house. He is doing fine now.

E. M. Bursett, of Dickens, who underwent an operation three weeks ago continues to improve. Mr. Bursett had a very serious case but will make it through all right.

20TH CENTURY STUDY CLUB

The last meeting of this club year was with Mrs. E. L. Caraway Tuesday May 2nd at 3:30. In the absence of our President, Mrs. A. M. Walker, Mrs. Cowan presided until the new president, Mrs. P. C. Nichols was installed, then she took the chair. After a short business session the roll was called. Each one answered with "Why I Married My Husband."

Mrs. J. M. Foster gave a splendid report on her trip to the district convention at Hereford. There was no regular program for the day.

Mrs. Tom Teague gave a negro reading, "A Lil Bit O'Homey". A quartet, Mesdames Leslie Roberts, E. S. Lee, Tom Teague and G. J. Lane accompanied by Mrs. P. C. Nichols at the piano sang, "The Baby Looke Like Me." Mrs. G. J. Lane conducted a sewing circle and the prize was given to Mrs. W. B. Lee.

MOTHER'S DAY MAY 14

TO THE MOTHERS OF SPUR TERRITORY

How carefully and patiently our mothers cared for us during the days of our dependency. How much we owe them—love, honor, respect and support we are due our mothers.

There are mothers today in Dickens County, who with their husbands and children have made this Bank their bank for years, some since school days; others as brides with husbands, came here to allow us to assist in their savings plans.

To all mothers of Spur territory we dedicate this space. It is the mother spirit which directs her children and her children's children to the paths of thrift and comfort.

CHEVROLET REPORTS INCREASE IN TRUCK SALES FOR HAULING BEER

Concrete evidence of the spurt to automotive sales provided by legalization of 3.2 beer was contained in the report today showing that Chevrolet dealers sold more than 1,500 new trucks and passenger cars directly to brewers and distributors during the first twenty days of new beer.

Sales ranged from huge-van trailer type trucks capable of hauling several hundred cases of the newly legalized beverage to "Standard Six" passenger cars for use by salesmen and advance advertising men. In the first week dealers reported selling 549 trucks and 76 passenger cars, mostly to distributors, inasmuch as most established breweries already had fleets of trucks and passenger cars in use for local transportation of by-products which they had been manufacturing during the long dry era, officials said. A considerable volume of additional business was done with industries allied with the breweries, such as sugar suppliers, pretzel makers, bottle and cap manufacturers and kindred lines, it was stated.

State and platform bodies mounted on the regular Chevrolet 131-inch and 157-inch wheelbase are in high favor for hauling case beer for retail delivery, while van bodies are preferred by many wholesale bottlers because the closed body keeps out rays of the sun, reduces possibility of theft in transit, and provides an opportunity for advertising display on the side of the body.

A noteworthy feature of the report was that sales in volume resulted only in those states where beer was immediately legalized, distributors in states with pending legislation preferring to wait until they know where they stand before making automotive commitments.

The Home Owned Store

The following article was sent to the Times by M. K. Lawson of Afton, and is an extract of an address made by W. J. Pilkington.

"For many thousands of years the church has existed, and during all this time its influence has been felt in every community. They had churches even back at the time the Pyramids of Egypt were builded.

"The church could not exist if it was not for the support it receives from the community, and during these thousands of years the communities have supported the churches. Billions of dollars have been spent on them, and because the community during these thousands of years has supported the churches it makes them a community proposition. It is definitely and distinctly a part of the community.

It is out of the money that stays at home that the church receives its support. The church you belong to gets its support from the money that stays in the community, therefore, it is of vital importance that you spend your money so it will stay at home as long as possible.

"You all know your schools are a creature of the community, and can be supported only by the circulation of money within the community. They can only be supported by home owned stores and other institutions and individuals who keep the money at home. If it was not for this, your schools would be closed within forty eight hours.

Your community must look out for itself. Money that leaves your community cannot support anything at home. At least the profit involved in the dealings of everybody in the community should stay at home and be invested there that it may become a revolving fund for the benefit of everybody.

"It would be a good thing for you and your neighbors to sit down and quietly think of the causes that produced your community. Why is it there? Who made it? Where did the money come from that builded and supported your community? Who is going to support your community in the future? Who cares anything about your community?

Naturally only those who live there care anything about your prosperity. It does not take a large amount of common sense to reason this out, but people do need to think about their communities, families, churches and schools, and about those business institutions that belong where you belong. They are all a part of your life, one of the most valuable conditions.

One of the most encouraging, and found anywhere, is where the people of the community, churches, schools and home owned stores work together, build together and develop together. When some catastrophe overtakes the community, or even overtakes some individual of the community, the people are bound together and immediately jump to the help of that person. When credit is needed, as it often is, the home owned stores can always be depended upon to help. When the church needs financial help you know your home owned stores, those owned by your neighbors always help.

'WEAR A Carnation for MOTHER'

A New Word In Economy

A new word—"octane"—seems likely to become everyday language in the motorists' vocabulary with the introduction of this year's new cars. Already certain gas stations are displaying signs reading "high octane rating", and other dispensers of the better grades of fuel promise to cash in on the merchandising value of a high octane content in their gasoline.

Although an engineering term, the word "octane" did not approach popular usage until the introduction of 1933 Chevrolet Master and Standard sixes, both equipped with a device new to the industry known as the "octane selector."

Its function primarily is to give the motorist knockless performance and a nearly uniform cost-per-mile from all grades of gasoline, with resultant economy, according to J. M. Crawford, chief engineer of the Chevrolet Motor Company. By use of the selector in 1933 models, the recognized economy of Chevrolet cars may be increased by an average of as much as two to three miles per gallon, Mr. Crawford stated.

"Popular brands of gasoline vary on in octane content from as low as 40 to high as 80 or more," Mr. Crawford explained. "Similarly, a gasoline of a uniform octane content will vary greatly in results delivered in different parts of the country due to altitude and climatic variations. (Tests reveal that with an octane selector, the driver purchasing the better grades of gasoline gets additional miles per gallon for his money, and that all grades deliver knockless performance)

"Development of the octane selector grey out of a personal experience. A year ago I was driving from Detroit through the South and at every gasoline pump along the route where I stopped my motor developed different spark characteristics. One particular fill of gasoline figuratively 'knocked the cylinder head off'. It was so bad I dumped it rather than let a station attendant try to adjust the automatic spark timing to the octane content. It occurred to me then that if we could develop something easily adjusted to give the motorist uniform knockless performance from any type of gas we would be rendering an important service. From that came the octane selector or.

"Recently I drove over that same route and deliberately filled up on the same gas which gave me so much trouble before. I had to retard the selector more than five degrees, but my motor didn't develop the semblance of a knock.

"The device, resting on the distributor arm, regulates spark timing thru a range of ten degrees on either side of zero. The reading is advanced for good fuels and retarded for cheaper ones. A lock nut and adjusting screw sleeve are all that need to be touched to obtain maximum efficiency and greatest fuel economy.

"We have recently issued a booklet describing in detail the setting of the selector and covering the general theme of octane content of gasolines. It may be obtained free by any interested party by writing the factory or calling on a dealer.

"The name octane comes from a liquid known as iso-octane, which produces the least known knock in internal combustion engines. On the other extreme is a fuel known as normal heptane which produces most knock. To arrive at a standard for gauging gasolines the former is rated 100 and the latter 0. Equal mixtures of these two fuels would produce of octane rating of 50. Sixty parts of iso-octane and 40 of normal heptane would give an octane rating of 60. And so on.

natural resource commission to take control of the oil and gas and other natural resources of the state and relieve the State Railroad Commission of these duties.

It seems that the sales tax bill before the Legislature providing a sales tax on tobacco, face powder, toilet articles and other considered luxurious commodities for the support of the schools, has met with defeat since the House Committee failed to report favorable on it.

Speaking of banks, it might be interesting to our people to know that at the close of the bank moratorium deposits in the Spur National Bank increased $21,000 the first day of its re-opening. This is an index of confidence the people have at this time, and it is one of the best signs of the return of normal conditions. Take into consideration that what is true of Spur country to a great extent is true in practically all communities of the United States. Our going off the gold standard is restoring confidence and giving hope to foreign countries and soon trade conditions will pick up and the undernourished world soon will be able to buy their needs of the supposed surplus and clear the warehouses of their storage. The New Deal is on.

THE WASHINGTON OIL CONFERENCE

On March 27th last the leaders of the oil industry met in Washington with the representatives of the Governors of the various oil producing States. This meeting was called by Secretary of the Interior Ickes, at the request of President Roosevelt.

For over five years the public has agitated regarding the emergencies of been bombarded with news and prophecies of the oil industry. Special sessions of the various oil states' legislatures augmented problems of the oil business. Court rulings were involved; State militia was ordered out and military rule prevailed in Texas and Oklahoma oil fields.

Reputable oil concerns, with enviable records for fair dealing and long years of service and experience in the oil industry were publicly charged with being monopolists, indifferent alike to the fate of producers and consumer, concerned solely with their individual profits. Lesser producers, refiners and marketers, with equally enviable records for fair dealing, experience and service were pilloried and nailed to the cross of adverse public opinion when they asserted what they claimed were constitutional property rights and won Court decisions enabling them to produce oil while their less aggressive neighbors abided by legislative regulations later found illegal by the Federal Courts.

These and related conditions in the oil industry could only succeed in including themselves in President Roosevelt's "New Deal" program resulting in the Washington conference referred to.

Five years or more of acrimonious debate, dissension and disruption had engendered animosities in the oil industry which resulted in the development of two groups with distinctly antagonistic lines of thought. One of these groups, with far the larger capital investment, established the concept that petroleum is a one time crop, never to be replaced in the history of civilization. This school of thought claimed, and with abundant reason, that early exhaustion of the petroleum resources spelled disaster to industrial progress. This faction put forth the theory that new oil fields, however great their potential output, should be held in check until older fields were exhausted.

The opposing faction, claimed that our supply of oil will last 1000 years or more and scientific limitations of the extent of our oil resources were subject to constant upward revision, and that limitation of production from new oil fields is an economic mistake particularly to be condemned in this time of world wide distress.

The Washington Conference, representing these two widely differing view points quickly resolved itself into hostile camps. Both presented to Secretary Ickes separate bills of recommendations.

The majority—estimated by the conferees as representing 95% of the industry, an estimate later further increased by the Oil and Gas Journal to 99 3-4%—offered an exhaustive program providing for legislation covering the entire conduct of the industry excepting only transportation and the refining and retailing of finished products.

The minority, later scathingly referred to as "representing less than one quarter of one per cent" of the industry, presented to Secretary Ickes a series of nine recommendations.

The majority group stood solidly for:

Limitation of American oil production to meet "reasonable market demand".
Restriction of the development of new oil pools.
Equality of production from different leases in a producing field.
Proration of flush oil fields to allow maximum production from "strip per wells."

Maintaining a price for all crude oil based on the cost of producing from "stripper wells".

The thirty recommendations of the majority revolved about these six fundamentals.

The minority group, which resolved itself into a society assuming the name of "Independent Petroleum Association Opposed to Monopoly" offered Secretary Ickes nine recommendations, two of which are of moment to the American public.

The first of these is a recommendation that Congress enact legislation divorcing oil pipe lines engaged in interstate commerce from other branches of the industry.

The second is of the greatest importance, not only to Texas but to all States of the Union: "That the Federal Government respect and not infringe upon the rights and duties of the sovereign states to regulate the production of petroleum within their respective borders."

These two recommendations are worthy of study. States' rights are jealously regarded in many quarters.

CARS CHEAPER AND BETTER
MADE THAN FIVE YEARS AGO

Graphic examples of the tremendous value inherent in the latest offerings of the automobile industry are instantly apparent by a comparison of prices and features of the 1933 product with corresponding models four or five years old, points out H. J. Klingler, vice-president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

"What is true of our car is true of the industry generally," Mr. Klingler said. "And recent tests at the General Motors proving ground show that our 1933 Master coach, as compared with a Chevrolet coach five years old, lists for 12 per cent less, costs 25 per cent less per pound, has 86 per cent more horsepower, and 23 per cent greater maximum speed.

"Even a comparison between models only four years old tells a remarkable story of constantly lowering prices in the face of greatly improved styling and engineering. This is significant because the 10,000,000 cars built four and five years ago are that many years of age now in their owners' service, and they are finding their way with increasing frequency to dealers' used car lots in exchange for the faster, more attractive, lower priced and much more economical new 1933 product.

"A precise comparison of the modern car with one only four years old can be made between our 1929 coach and our new 1933 'Standard' six coach, because both have a wheelbase of 107 inches and are similar in weight. But there the similarity ceases.

"The 1929 coach listed at $595 as compared with $455 for the 'Standard' coach. Horsepower was 46 and is 60 now. Top speed is greater, and acceleration and economy are vastly improved.

"Prominent features on the 'Standard' that had not even a substitute device on the old model include an octane selector, stabilized front and mounting, Fisher no-draft ventilation, safety plate glass in windshield and draft deflectors, shock absorbers, non-glare windshield, gas gauge, counter-balanced crankshaft, no-draft door construction, aer-stream styling, bronze bushed pistons, form-fitting driver's seat and insulated driver's compartment, and a manifold heat control.

"Purchasers of the new 1933 cars give little thought to the tremendous influence all these improvements have upon the performance, style, safety and economy of their car, yet not a single one of those features was standard with the new Chevrolet which more than a million and a quarter people bought in 1929.

"Other improvements made in the past four years include rubber insulated engine mountings, down-draft carburation, constant mesh gears with silent second, and a steering ratio of fourteen to one as against the harder operated twelve to one on the car built in the boom year of the industry.

"The crankshaft of the 'Standard' coach weighs 57 pounds while the other was eight pounds lighter. Tire sizes measure 5.25 x 17 as against 4.50 x 20 with the higher wheeled car of '29. Motor lubrication is by forced feed to the camshaft and main bearings which the older car did not have.

"And one of the most noticeable differences is the deluxe wire wheel equipment of today's automobile contrasted with the disc wheels so familiar on the new cars of several years ago."

Plainview Asks For Next Convention

"We want the 1934 convention," is the slogan and cry of the two hundred citizens of Plainview who will be at Big Spring at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention, May 11, 12, 13.

Headed by President O. J. Sexton of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce, Bill Gouldy, President of the Board of City Development, and Director Winfield Holbrook of the regional chamber, the Plainview delegation plans to take a forty-five piece band and the Largent-Peret Orchestra to the convention staying all three days. The orchestra will play the Crawford Hotel dance on Thursday evening, and the Settles Hotel dance Friday evening. The last dance will be played with the compliments of Plainview.

Plainview entertained the 1922 convention and Albert G. Hinn of that city as chairman of the committee on bands originated the band contest idea which featured the conventions for nine years, and developed into the State Band Contest.

Plainview's delegation will contend for votes on the platform that it is their time, and that Panhandle-Plains section should have the 1934 convention, it having been in the southern part of the territory for three out of the past four years.

The delegation will also contend that Plainview has proved its capacity for taking care of large conventions citing its entertainment of the 1922 convention, the railroad celebration of 1928, the Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show crowds every year, and the 41st District Rotary Conference in 1931.

COLLEGE ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS

Each year we give through the State Department of Education, College Entrance Examinations. If a student passes these examinations with a grade of 70 he is admitted to any school in Texas. 16 credits secured in this manner warrant the issuance of a State High School Diploma. These examinations are of great importance to the high school student of the county. This year the examinations will be held on April 26, 27, and 28th, at the County Superintendent's office, McAdoo School, Dickens School, Twin Wells, Croton and Prairie Chapel. All students who have done high school work in un-accredited schools are urged to take the examinations at one of the above mentioned places.

Of course it is very hard for our children to attend college now, but more of them would find a way if they knew they had their entrance requirements met.

Unfortunately the student has to pay the state a small fee. 1 to 4 examinations cost one dollar, 5 to 8 two dollars, 9 to 12 three dollars, and 13 to 16, four dollars. However, most students would not take more than four examinations a year. The State uses this money to partly pay itself for the issuing of and grading of examinations, keeping record, etc.

APPRECIATION OF OUR MOTHERS

We are apt to take Mother pretty much for granted, all through the year. She is always there to love us and to serve us. All her tender helpfulness comes so sweetly, so naturally that we forget that it is a gift without price—a gift impossible to replace. But there is one day to do her honor—to attest in some slight measure our real, our deep and loving gratitude.

Also allow us to express our appreciation to our many customers of Spur and Spur trade territory, for their patronage and support, which has enabled us to continually improve our equipment thereby enabling us to serve them better. When in town come in to see us. Always remember that this is the Friendly Shop.

Legion Auxiliary To Observe Poppy Day

Spur will observe "Poppy Day" this year on May 27, the Saturday before Memorial Day, it has been announced by Mrs. Dave Wilson, chairman of the poppy committee of the local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. The Unit is making extensive preparations for the observance of the day and is hoping for the full cooperation of all other organizations and individuals.

Memorial poppies, to be worn in honor of the World War dead, will be made available to everyone in the city by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary Unit, Organization of the workers is going forward rapidly under Mrs. Wilson's direction and the Unit expects to have its "poppy girls" in all parts of the downtown district throughout the day. The flowers for the sale have been ordered from Texas Legion hospitals where they have been made by disabled World War veterans.

"Poppy Day" is the day of personal tribute to the men who lost their lives in the country's service," Mrs. Wilson explained. "It is a day when all can show that they still remember and honor the sacrifices made by those who defended America during the great war crisis, an dthat they are carrying on for America in time of peace. The poppy is a patriotic symbol which means honor for the dead and service for the living.

"No price will be asked for the American Legion Auxiliary poppies. The Auxiliary wants everyone to wear a poppy and to contribute for the contributions will be used for relief flower according to his means. All work among the disabled veterans and their families, the bulk of the money going to support the relief activities of our local Auxiliary Unit among needy families in this city."

Canned Meat Report

An estimated report on the meat canning done in the county this past winter and spring based on the club reports to Council show the following figures: Canned beef, 2,700 No. 2 cans and 10,180 No. 3 cans; Pork, 1130 No. 2 and No. 3, 100 No. 3 cans; Chickens, 52 No. 1, 220 No. 2, and 55 No. 3 cans; and 6 No. 3 cans of turkey. The total value of the canned meat is $5,399.75.

Mrs. J. W. Carlisle, chairman of the county council and club member from Steel Hill canned a well-finished beef valued at $18.00 on the hoof in 146 cans valued at $51.10, showing an increase in value of $33.00. "It pays to can meat. Then it is fine to have it ready for use anytime," says Mrs. Carlisle.

Pitchfork Ranch has canned 1,500 No. 3 cans of roast and steak and 300 No. 2 cans of chili since January. "That canned meat is just what we need for the camps during the summer. That amount will be just about half enough for this summer. We plan to can twice that amount next fall and winter," says Mrs. Virgil Parr, wife of the manager of the ranch. The agents gave a demonstration on cutting and canning beef in January and the above amount has been canned since.

MORE BEDROOM STORIES

"My room is all done except the reading table and chair," Nadine Foreman told her fellow club-members in their regular meeting last week. Nadine is bedroom demonstrator for the Espuela 4-H girls. She and her sister Pauline are improving their bedroom together for Pauline is using it as her home project in home economics.

"We turned the closet around so it would receive more light and be more convenient. Then we extended it to the ceiling too. We had the room papered with a very pretty pattern of paper. Then something had to be done to the dresser and bedstead. We decided to paint them with cream colored paint. It was a job to take all that old paint off but we did and then painted them. They look real nice now."

"The table is to be made to the top of an old sideboard and will be finished in natural oak to match the chifferobe. The chifferobe will be cleaned and given a fresh coat of clear varnish." Nadine explained.

"I'm so proud of my bedroom," said Irene Blasingame, demonstrator for the Prairie Chapel 4-H club, the other day in talking of her room. "It does not look like the same room. We have papered it and built a clothes closet. The closet is small but I am the only one to use it so is plenty large. The shelves are for linens and hats and I have my folded clothes in the dresser drawers. We wanted to make the grey linoleum rug harmonize with the color used in the room so after cutting the broken edges off we painted a green border and gave the design several touches of green throughout. Then we gave it a coat of clear varnish. The floor about the rug was stained. We are going to build a table and wash stand."

"I'm going to hang a little hand painted picture beside the dresser and a dog picture over the bed. The little bookcase I made two years ago in club work will go over the reading table," Irene finished describing her room and final plans.

DEMONSTRATOR BUILDS CLOTHES CLOSET

"My husband says if we move this fall he knows he will have to build another clothes closet for he built one in the house we were in last year and now this one," said Mrs. Guy Stull, who is bedroom demonstrator for the Duck Creek home demonstration club. "But, my, how we do enjoy using it. There is a low rod in one end for the children's clothes and they are taught to put away their clothes, too."

"The walls of the room have been painted at one time but I am going to paper them for the papered walls are prettier than painted ones I think. I took the old, scarred paint off the dresser and bedstead and repainted them with ivory paint."

"I have finished my hooked rug. It is very pretty. I used red and grey and I like the color combination fine. I am going to use boiling hot linseed oil on the floors. I'll be ready for our achievement day in June. You won't recognize it as the same room you saw last time club met with me," she told her club members proudly.

LUTHER MILLER HURT BY HORSE FALLING

Luther Miller, an employe of the Pitchfork Ranch, was seriously injured Tuesday while riding. It appears that he was trying to head a steer when his horse stumbled and fell. Mr. Miller was thrown against the steer and then the horse fell on him. He received an injury of the skull, but at the time it could not be determined just how serious.

He was rushed to Stamford to a sanitarium where emergency treatment was given. It has not been learned just what is his condition.
