Rotarians Enjoy Good Program

The Rotarians of Spur enjoyed a very fine program at their meeting at noon last Thursday. Sam Z. Hall, Superintendent of Schools, had charge of the program which was based on school talks by the principals and teachers.

Mrs. McKnight, teacher of vocal music, gave a number of solos which were greatly enjoyed. Miss Curby, teacher of piano, presided at the piano. R. B. Neilson, High School principal, gave some very interesting facts relative to the high school work. He stated that the enrollment the first day at Senior High School was 271 (others have enrolled since). He stated that the main theme of teaching in the High School is good citizenship.

Coach G. B. Wadzeck stressed the importance of the co-operation of the citizenship in making a winning football team. He stated that it means more to the boys than any one might think. F. F. Vernon, principal of the Junior High School, was not present, but Mr. Hall stated that there had been more than 200 students enrolled in the Junior High the first day.

O. L. Kelley, principal of the East Ward school, gave a very fine talk relative to the importance of the early training of the children. He stated that the East Ward school was giving the foundation training, and upon this the higher education had to be built. He asked that people visit the East Ward school and observe the new methods of teaching. He stated that today teachers taught words to the children instead of teaching them the A. B. C.'s as was done in earlier days. He stated that the new method of learning seemed to be very popular and was getting the job done.

President Morris Golding stated that he hoped the people would get behind our schools and help the faculty get the job done. He admonished all to stand by the Bulldogs during the year and help them be winners.

Rotary in Spur meets every Thursday at noon at the Spur Inn.

FIRM OF B. SCHWARZ & SON CLOSED YESTERDAY

The big store of B. Schwarz & Son was closed all day Wednesday in observance of a Jewish holiday, the Day of Atonement. Mr. and Mrs. Golding and their children observed the day in full according to the laws of the Jewish religion.

Since starting business in our city nine years ago this store has been closed for every Jewish holiday even though the day came on Saturday, or any other busy day of the week. It is one instance in which religion is placed above merchandising.

The store will open today with its usual fine display of merchandise.

A. B. Smart returned Thursday from a business trip to Fort Worth.

DID YOU EVER EXPERIENCE THIS?

Get up in the morning: from an advertised mattress, shaved with an advertised razor, put on advertised underwear, hose, shoes, shirt, collar, tie, suit, eat advertised breakfast food, drink advertised coffee, put on advertised hat, light advertised cigar, drive to store in advertised car. And then turn down newspaper advertising on the ground—"it doesn't pay?"

BOY FALLS FROM CAR; ARM BROKEN

Leroy, 3-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bell, six miles south of Spur, fell from a car last Friday and suffered a broken arm. Just what caused the fall is not known, but a wheel of the car passed over his left arm causing the fracture.

The boy was rushed to Nichols Sanitarium where an X-ray was made and the fracture set. He is suffering quite a lot but seems to be getting along fine. He suffered some bruises about his face in the fall.

The fire company answered the summons and within a few minutes had the flames under control. However, the house was badly damaged as it was small and a boxed structure.

Boosters For Tech Game Here

The game will be played at the Tech stadium and will be called at eight o'clock.

The game is destined to be a thriller since the University eleven and the Matadors have up quite a lot of rivalry. The representatives here Wednesday gave many reasons why the Matadors should win the game and the University team are harboring many reasons why it should go their way. Tickets for the game are on sale at various places in Lubbock and a full stadium is anticipated.

Lubbock Boosters Here Tuesday

Boosters from Lubbock advertising the Panhandle South Plains Fair which begins next Monday were in our city Tuesday afternoon renewing acquaintances and making new friends. There were 15 cars in the motorcade carrying about 60 people. They entered the city led by a state highway patrol who sounded the siren announcing their arrival. There was a very good number of people ready to receive them.

The band played a number of selections, some songs were sung and announcements made. Judge V. J. Campbell acted as master of ceremony for our city introducing the various ones on the program.

Jimmie Kennedy was the main speaker for the visitors. He stated that they had come to Spur to invite the people to attend the 21st annual session of the Panhandle South Plains Fair at Lubbock which starts Monday, September 24th. He enumerated a number of attractions which will be at the Fair this year and stated the program will be bigger and better than ever before. He thanked Spur for giving the visitors the largest and best reception of the day and then renewed his invitation to be at Lubbock next week for the big fair.

The visitors spent about thirty minutes here and while the program was going on, many went into the various business houses distributing literature and circulars about the fair. They returned to Lubbock by way of Crosbyton and Ralls.

Attended Production Credit Association Meeting At Houston

Geo. S. Link, President of the Stafford Production Credit Association, returned Tuesday from Houston, where he attended a meeting of representatives of all the production credit associations in Texas, held there Saturday.

S. M. Garwood, Production Credit Commissioner of the Farm Credit Administration, Washington, D. C., was principal speaker at the meeting, which was under direction of Tully C. Garner, President of the Production Credit Corporation of Houston, the central agency which supervises the activities of production credit associations in Texas. With Mr. Garwood was T. B. Clausen, field representative of the Production Credit Association of the Farm Credit Administration, Washington, D. C. The meeting was attended also by officials of the Farm Credit Administration of Houston.

The chief topics of discussion by Mr. Garwood centered around the relationship of production credit associations to the Production Credit Corporation and the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, and policies of the Farm Credit Administration with respect to production credit.

Production credit associations form one of the newer branches of the farm credit system, having been in existence in Texas a little less than a year. They are designed to supply a complete short-term credit service to the farmer; to finance the production and harvesting of crops, the raising of livestock, and many other farm operations. The associations make loans directly to farmers on the security of their products, discounting such paper with the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston.

RELIGIOUS RALLY OF COLORED PEOPLE HERE THURSDAY

Rotary In Old Mexico

The next annual convention of Rotary International is to be held in Mexico City June 17-21. M. C. Golding, President of the Rotary Club in Spur, will foster in our schools the study of our neighbor republic, Mexico.

It would be a fine thing, and we can think of no activity that would be more profitable than an essay or oratorical contest on Mexico, our nearest neighbor. Mexico City, because of its lofty position in a tropical region (7,434 feet above sea level) enjoys a climate of market equibality, with an average temperature in summer of 65 degrees. The night are always pleasant and cool.

The most ancient capital on the American continent, Mexico City has an authentic history dating back to the Twelfth Century. Consequently the ancient and the modern are blended in pleasing variety. Construction work is progressing on the highway from the northern border of Mexico to Mexico City, and completion of 1935 is expected. Motorists on this road must carry along supplies of everything necessary for automobiles and passengers, as gasoline stations and modern hotels are not encountered frequently. Those who have made the trip by auto or rail say it is worthwhile, and the traditional Spanish phrase, "Mi Casa es su Casa,"—My house is your house, expresses the welcome to all strangers within gates.

Mr. Golding is offering three cash prizes for the three best orations written and delivered at the Rotary Club on Mexico. Mr. Sisto, Teacher of Spanish at the High School, has charge of the work and is assisting the students in securing material for their subject matter.

Mr. Golding has always manifested his interest in our schools and is a booster for the boys and girls of our community. If there is anything he can do for the young people in a public spirited way, he is on the job all the time. Again, he wants our young people to learn more about our sister republic, Mexico. If we learn more about them, understand their customs better, it will bring us into closer relationship with them.

Canning Kitchen To Open Next Week

According to reports from Chas. Whitener the Relief Canning Kitchen will be ready for business next week. He stated that they expect to start canning greens from the relief garden probably Monday and will put up several hundred containers.

In securing the canning kitchen, the County Commissioners' Court made provision for the building, S. M. Swenson & Sons furnished the lot for the building, the Texas Relief Commission furnished the equipment and the City of Spur will furnish the water used for canning purposes.

Most of the equipment is here, several thousand cans are on hand ready to be filled, the relief garden has quite an amount of foodstuff that is needed to be canned. Several people need the employment and later on all the foods canned will be need to keep people from suffering from hunger. The kitchen is a good project.

Consolidated School District No. 1 Opens

The schools in Consolidated District No. 1, including the former districts of Afton, Duncan Flat, Midway and Croton, opened their first session Monday. The location of the new school site is just north of Afton where a plot of ground consisting of 20 acres has been secured. Bonds have been voted and approved and sale is available at par, and it is thought a contract for a new modern building will be let about October 1.

School was started Monday, using the school buildings at Afton and drafting into service three church buildings which the Board of Trustees feel will be adequate for the present. It is hoped to have the new building before many months.

The students are being transported to the school by six large International buses, sold to the district by the Spur Truck & Tractor Company of Spur. The buses were delivered to the Board of Trustees Friday and were properly inspected and mechanical adjustments made. Each bus will convey about 65 students to school each day. There will be more than 400 students in the new school organization.

At the opening exercises O. C. Southall, the new superintendent, explained the condition and spoke highly of the Board of Trustees whom, he said, had given of their time and money in order to secure the organization of the new school. He announced the curriculum which contains many vocational subjects including vocational agriculture. There was a large representation of the parents present, and others interested in the welfare of the schools were there to co-operate in the new system.

There are fifteen teachers in the system:

O. C. Southall, Superintendent.

C. W. Giesecke, High School Principal.

E. M. Robertson, Mathematics.

F. M. McCarty, Commercial Department.

T. L. Arthur, Vocational Agriculture and Science.

Mrs. Garlin Murphy, Spanish.

Miss Amelia Hargis, English.

Tom Porter, 7th grade.

Miss Lalla Lay, 6th grade.

Miss Cedonia Dittrich, 5th grade.

Mrs. Ruth Barton, 4th grade.

Miss Oleta Bailey, 3rd grade.

Miss Ethel Hulsey, 2nd grade.

Miss Sallie Rattan, 1st grade.

Mrs. Joe Koonsman, 1st grade.

All teachers meet the requirement of the state law relative to affiliated work, and it is the hope of the faculty to conduct the classroom work on the basis of affiliation and secure the full affiliation as early as possible.

The citizens of the four districts seem to be glad they have consolidated and are greatly interested in the progress of the school. They feel they will be able to give their children a much better advantage for an education from now on. All seem to feel their schools will be greatly improved under the new system and they have much community pride in the new movement.

Yellowstone Shows Here Next Week

The Yellowstone Shows and Carnival will be in Spur all next week featuring twenty attractions. They have the latest riding devices for the children, a number of side shows and many other attractions.

The week of performance will be under the auspices of the local Fire Department and a certain per cent of all receipts will go to the support of the Fire Department.

The carnival and shows will be located at the southeast corner of the townsite just east of the Farmers Cooperative Gin.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Splendid crowds at both services last Sunday and fine interest. We would like to have a full house next Sunday. My subject for the morning will be "Woman". Sunday night, "Man." A hearty welcome awaits you.

R. C. Brown, Pastor.

Schools At Girard Starting Good

Paul S. Rogers, Superintendent of the Public School of Girard, was in town Saturday and stated that the school in his city was opened Monday, Sept. 10. There was a good representation present, and much enthusiasm and interest shown in behalf of the school for this year.

The faculty consists of eight teachers, with all of the high school teachers holding degrees from approved colleges. The enrollment for the first week reached 175 with the possibility of others beginning in the very near future. The scholastic statistics is large enough to justify the addition of one more teacher. However, no such arrangements have yet materialized.

HIGHWAY ENGINEER REVIEWS WORK FOR BEAUTIFYING TEXAS ROADS

By GIB GILCHRIST
Texas State Highway Engineer

Very little, if any, thought was given to the question of highway beautification or roadside improvement in Texas prior to 1929. Up to that time it seemed that the only idea of highway construction was to provide a travelway of from sixteen to eighteen feet without regard to adequate location, safety or attractive road-sides.

Early in 1929 Judge W. R. Ely, member of the State Highway Commission, began to try to impress upon the writer and other engineers of the Department the desirability of preserving trees that happened to be within the limits of the right-of-way on which the roads were to be constructed. The engineers at first met this with mental opposition as they considered that trees in ditches and along the shoulders were simply in the way and interfered with what they considered the primary purpose of the road. Judge Ely persisted in his views, however, and before the end of 1929 the writer was thoroughly sold on that plan and subsequently every other engineer in the Highway Department has become enthusiastic not only about the preservation but about other more recently adopted forms of roadside improvement.

You will see that when our plan first started it consisted of the preservation of existing trees and other growths along the right-of-way, and on that particular phase of improvement we now have on the right-of-way of Texas highways more than 100,000 trees with a diameter of six inches or greater.

The next phase of improvement was to search out and identify small shoots that were coming up on the right-of-way from roots that had been left when the road had been constructed. Those were identified either by white wash on the trunk or by stakes or some other act that would give identity as being marked for preservation. Some 300,000 of these small plants were so identified and since they are coming up volunteer the percentage of living trees that we will have from this source is high.

The next step in roadside improvement was the cultivation and nourishment of wild flowers on the right of way. This was done at first by allowing them to go to seed without cutting and even that plan has resulted in a remarkable increase of wild flowers along the road, but it must be remembered at the same time other undesirable growths thrived. Our men soon became more expert, however, in cutting weeds and grass without disturbing the wild flowers and practically every man who works along the right-of-way has become imbued with the desire to assist in making Texas roadsides beautiful.

In the summer of 1932 we began sowing wild flower seeds and in 1933 quite a large number were scattered at various points along the highways resulting in a considerable increase of wild flowers in those areas. This has been followed up to a greater extent and we have probably 20,000 pounds of wild flower seeds now ready for sowing during the present year. It is believed that by 1936 we will have vast areas of native wild flowers along the State highways of Texas.

The writer happened to be in Washington during cherry blossom week last April. Almost every school child in the United States knows that the cherry blossom trees in Washington were a gift of the Japanese government and everyone who has seen them marvels at their beauty. There were literally thousands of people in Washington during cherry blossom week to see the blooms and nothing should be said that would tend to detract from the wonderful sight they present when they are in full bloom. On the way back to Texas the writer drove from Amarillo to Austin, and beginning in Brady, Texas, and from there into Austin the Texas wild flowers were in full bloom, and to a native Texan especially, they presented a greater attraction and a more impressive sight than any artificial blossoms that could be imagined. There is no reason why Texas, especially Central Texas, should not join the Texas Highway Department in improving and cultivating areas adjacent to the right-of-way of State highways by cutting out under-brush in wooded areas and in selecting and planting additional wild flowers at other points so that this grand old State in 1936 will so impress visitors that they will come back annually to see the roadsides.

The next distinct phase of roadside improvement was the transplanting of native trees to the right-of-way and during the past winter more than 500,000 such trees and shrubs were transplanted. There has been much comment as to the cost of this work. As a matter of fact, the work was done by our regular maintenance forces who planned for maintenance in advance and so conducted their operations that they could spend a few weeks on this shoulder and ditch work. The cost of transplanting these trees and shrubs was a part of our maintenance cost of shoulders and ditches and it might be interesting to know that our general maintenance charges for the present year, including the roadside improvement, will be less than they were the previous year. We believe that when these plants are well started and require no further attention, that the cost of the particular items of ditches and shoulders will be less than fifty per cent of what it was when such growths were not encouraged. Of course, there have been numbers of these plants that have not survived, but nothing can be done about that except that our experiences this year will teach the engineers and county foremen and others what kind of plants stand the greater chance to survive and they can be replaced next year if desired.

The next phase of this work is securing of small roadside stopping places or "posta", this name having been suggested by Mr. J. Frank Dobie of Austin, Texas, who has manifested considerable interest in this plan and who has been of valuable assistance. Before the end of 1934 it is expected we will have more than 200 of such stopping places, mostly sites of natural beauty. These areas will, of course, be part of the highway right-of-way.

Beginning now is a plan that will be carried out largely through the Women's Organization headed by Mrs. Frank W. Sorrell of San Antonio. The women are being asked to encourage the improvement of areas adjacent to the right-of-way such as the elimination of unsightly road signs, improvement of fences, the propagation of wild flowers and improvement of wooded areas. This work also includes a series of contests that will inspire filling station operators to improve their property with flowers instead of signs. This work also includes getting school children interested in making their grounds adjacent to highways attractive with flowers and trees. Another phase of improvement will be cities and towns vying with each other for attractiveness in roadside beauty.

The Texas plan does not follow any precedent. There is no precedent for it. Nothing has even been planned of this magnitude where it is not contemplated to artificially improve small areas but, on the other hand, to preserve and plant millions of those shrubs and countless wild flowers not only within the right-of-way but identified and preserved outside and adjacent thereto. As has been brought out, this plan includes stopping places for the traveler, not only just off the pavement but in small tracts adjacent to the right-of-way. Plans are being made for tables to be used by visitors and a good many of them have already been installed.

The writer's conception of the Centennial is that the entire State should be dressed up and that the location of the Centennial should be in every community in this State and along every roadside. It should be a Texas affair on a plan commensurate with the size of the State and in keeping with its tradition.

KILLED A BIG SNAKE

Marvin Smith of the Lower Red Mud community, killed an unusually large and poisonous snake near his home Thursday. He brought the reptile to Spur for display, and many curious passers-by stopped to look at it. It was a diamond back rattler about five feet long and about 10 inches in circumference, with 13 rattlers. There have been several of these large snakes killed in the country surrounding Spur during the last few months, but this one is among the oldest and largest ones.

CONN-MOORE

"At the call of the trumpet to rally around the flag of opposition, the enemies of the Administration are without plans or purpose except to impede President Roosevelt's plans, to frustrate his purposes. Such is the stupidity and selfishness of the lower grade of partisan politics."—Columbia, S. C. State.

Casey Jones, Mrs. K. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Hearst of Roaring Springs, were in Spur Monday night.

Misses Wilma Thacker and Ruth Groves of Matador were shopping in Spur Tuesday.

The plains country received a good rain Friday night, and much cooler weather came to this area. Following a dust storm, rain fell from an inch to three inches in the surrounding community Friday night. From the comment of the farmers, this was the most appreciated rain that has fallen in many years.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and snaky and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum, and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a chills, bad taste and your breath is foul. Arteries often break out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. Best drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

A PARODY ON THE UNCLOUDY DAY

Oh, they tell me of a home where the woman doesn't fuss,
Where the women all have their own way.
Oh, it must be a house where no men ever cuss.
Oh, it must be beneath the clay.

Oh, they tell me of a place where the men don't lie
And all is the truth he may say,
And it must be a place where his woman don't pry
In his business affairs each day.

Oh, they tell me of a home where the men don't steal
A home where he has three meals a day.
Oh, it is bound to be where to all her wishes he kneels.
It is bound to be beneath the clay.

There is only one mistake,
That the Lord could make;
When he made man poor mortal of clay.
If he had made heart and lung
Of the stuff he made the tongue
He could work through the longest hot day.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By ANN PAGE
NO matter what the weather or the thermometer says, July and August and, specifically, the weekend of the Fourth through Labor Day, are summer. And summer is vacation time, out-of-door time, picnic time for the whole family.

Though only a few of us will get to the World's Fair, to the seashore, the mountains or the lake, there are many favorite spots where we can spend summer evenings, Sundays or week-ends and gain needed rest and refreshment.

The presence of icy cold watermelon on our tables also shows us that summer is here. Since watermelon is an outstanding value in the stores this week-end there is no reason why all of us should not enjoy this refreshing fruit.

Following are three Sunday Dinner Menus at different cost levels prepared by the Quaker Maid Kitchen.

CLUB WOMAN DOUBLES FRUIT BUDGET

"My fruit budget for this year calls for 50 quarts of canned fruit and fruit juice and I have 112 quarts canned," says Mrs. Dock Reid, home demonstration club woman at Dry Lake. "I have canned 24 quarts plums, 8 quarts grapes, and 80 quarts of peaches. I may can some apples later."

"My complete budget will not be filled. I have not canned any vegetables this year. I have enough corn left from last year and 10 quarts of pickles left over. I want to can some leafy vegetables from our fall garden. Then of course the meat will be canned later," she added.

TERRACES AID TREES

"We have worked to keep the trees alive this summer," says Mrs. Jim McArthur of the Red Top home demonstration club. "They in front that were benefited by the terraces we built at Mr. Dickson's suggestion have grown right along this summer. With the terraces those trees received the water from the lot and pasture that formerly was lost, while those trees back of the house have had to be watered by hand."

Mrs. McArthur plans to yard improvement demonstrator for her club next year. They have made several improvements this past spring in moving some shrubs from the center of the yard and setting them at the base of the house as foundation plantings. A rock cobble stone walk was laid from the front steps to the gate. She plans to sod the yard with Bermuda grass and finish the foundation plantings.

SAY - IF SHE'D BEEN ANY NICER I'D HAVE HAD TO CALL A COP.

Several years ago several groups of Chinese elms were set about the home. It has meant work and thought to keep them alive and growing this year. The McArthurs feel that they have been well repaid for their labor for already they are enjoying the shade and the improved appearance of the home since it is framed with trees.

FARMER HAS LAID ONE FOURTH MILE OF TILE

C. C. Neeley, McAdoo farmer, has made and laid 1200 feet of concrete hollow tile in his garden during the past six weeks. He also has 275 feet more made ready to lay. For this amount he has used 10 sacks of cement, thus the tile has cost him a little better than half a cent a foot besides his labor.

"We made from 118 to 150 feet from a sack of cement; we used five parts sand to one part cement," he said. "We made the tile at odd times during the past few weeks. Since we had only 100 boards for pallets we made that many or less at a time. My 15 year-old son and I worked together and we have become quite efficient at turning the tiles out," he added.

"In laying the tile we used tin coverings for the joints, cut from discarded tin cans. The tile is laid in rows four feet apart and are laid on a level. We did not make a feed line but made each line a separate row. To complete the garden we need to lay 700 feet yet; we have 275 feet of it made."

"The tile we made too late to use in the spring and summer garden but we have planted beets, carrots, turnips, radishes, mustard and other things in the fall garden over the tile. It is growing nicely. We have cabbage, beans, peas, and peppers from the summer garden saved by surface irrigation. You know, we have not had any rain yet. We could not save the tomatoes."

"We want to put out strawberries and some more grapes this fall. We hope to have a worthwhile garden next year to show the results of our work. That is the reason folks do not have gardens; it just takes lots of work," he finished.

CLUB ENROLLS NEW MEMBERS

Three new members gave new life and interest to the Chandler home demonstration club in its regular meeting Monday afternoon when it met with Mrs. Clark Forbis. Plans were made for the club exhibit to be held in November.

Mrs. Ruby Lefevre enrolled as wardrobe demonstrator class I and Miss Bertha Cooper as wardrobe demonstrator class II. The club expects 100% of the cooperators to keep a record of their clothing expenses during the year beginning August 1.

Members present were: Mrs. Frank Forbis, Mrs. Les Turpen, Mrs. Ruby Lefevre, Mrs. Clark Forbis, Mrs. Edna B. Hamm, and Miss Bertha Cooper. — Reporter.

DUCK CREEK GIRLS CHECK GUIDES

In checking over the inventory guides for girls in their club meeting Tuesday morning the Duck Creek 4-H club found that they had allowed their score to drop during the summer vacation. The Guide includes correct posture and grooming in personal appearance, health habits and selection and care of clothing.

The club lost half its membership when school started for four girls entered high school elsewhere.

Those present Tuesday morning were: Ruth Matlock, Marguerite Bural, Pauline Hagins, Dot Swaringen, Miss Nell Durham, sponsor, Miss Cora Durham, visitor, and Miss Pratt. — Reporter.

BRIDGE ON HIGHWAY 18 OPENS NEXT WEEK

The big concrete bridge across the Double Mountain river at Sagerton on Highway No. 18, will be opened with appropriate ceremony and a big barbecue next Wednesday, September 26. The program will start in the morning and high officials of the Highway Department will be present.

To co-operate with the Highway Department a number of citizens of Stonewall County are circulating petitions asking the Commissioners' Court to call a bond election, the proceeds of the bonds to be used to buy the right of way for Highway 18 through Stonewall County. If the citizens of Stonewall County vote this bond issue, they will help themselves and provide a highway route that will benefit West Texas more than any other route that could be established.

D. L. Granbery attended the highway meeting Tuesday at Asperment.

From The Editor Of The American Boy

During the coming year, the boys of America will get a half-rate to adventure and fun! THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION, the nation's leading magazine for boys, formerly $2.00 a year, now costs $1.00. A three year subscription, previously $3.50, costs only $2.00.

Griffith Ogden Mills, editor of THE AMERICAN BOY, brings boys the hearty assurance that the new prices will in no way affect the editorial contents of the magazine. It will be as large, as beautifully printed, as full of high-spirited adventure as ever.

"THE AMERICAN BOY's leadership has been no accident," Mr. Ellis states. "We publish the magazine on the firm belief that boys deserve a magazine as good as any publication for grown-ups. So we use the best illustrators—obtainable—well-known artists who work for the biggest magazines. We send our staff writers all over the country digging up the interesting facts of science, interviewing world-famous explorers, talking to coaches and athletes."

"We encourage and assist our writers to go everywhere for material—to Haiti, Africa, the South Seas, China—and bring back adventure for American boys. We hire experts on hobbies and boy problems to advise boys and young men. These steps ac-

Pure Food and Low Cost Traditions Build Up Nation-Wide Organization

JOHN R. THOMPSON, JR.

Under the banner of service to the public—the eternal principle of successful commerce—the famous John R. Thompson corporation is launching its forty-third year.

At the helm of the organization, which serves a million meals a week to American men and women, is John R. Thompson, Jr., of the second generation of restaurateurs.

Able executive, alert to modern shifts in tastes and habits, Mr. Thompson observes rigidly the inexorable rules and traditions of his father. These pertained especially to the highest possible pure food standard.

"That, with us, is a basic principle," said Mr. Thompson, who in March of 1933 resumed the presidency of the corporation with its far-flung interests in property, incident to operation of 116 restaurants in thirty-nine cities.

Pure food—fresh juicy beefs, skillfully prepared vegetables, dairy products, and breads, topped by good coffee, four million cups being served a month, have proved the magnet to patrons. And thus are nation-wide organizations built. The son, like the father, believes in completely equipped laboratories for testing all foods for quality; giant storage space for large, low-cost buying, permitting quality food at low prices to the public.

Said a famous Parisian chef: "The restaurant business is not learned by one man. It is custom and tradition, weighed to a delicacy, and passed down to the next generation."

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

- By ANN PAGE THIS week and next yellow Elberta peaches will be at the height of their season and the price is moderate. Since late peaches will be scarce and high, now is the time to do canning and preserving. Thompson seedless and Malaga grapes are plentiful and reasonable. Cantaloupes are good and attractively priced, and honeydew melons are fine but expensive. Tomatoes, lettuce, celery, cucumbers and cabbage, together with beets and carrots, are plentiful and cheap. These vegetables help to make summer salads and cold plates the appetizing things they are. Meats in general are a little cheaper or no more expensive—which is good news. The Quaker Maid suggests the following menus: Low Cost Dinner: Veal Fricassee, Black-eyed Peas, Lettuce and Cucumber Salad, Bread and Butter, Chocolate Pudding, Tea or Coffee, Milk. Medium Cost Dinner: Baked Ham, Mashed Potatoes or Yams, Creamed Cabbage, Bread and Butter, Green Grapes in Lime Jelly, Coffee (hot or iced), Milk. Very Special Dinner: Fruit Cup, Baked Ham, Scalloped Potatoes, Cauliflower Hollandaise, Green Salad, French Dressing, Corn Bread, Butter, Sponge Cake, Sliced Peaches, Whipped Cream, Coffee (hot or iced), Milk.

Fashion Marches On Fall Fashion Crop Ready With Slenderizing Styles by Mmc. LANE BRYANT Noted Fashion Counselor

NEW YORK—The first fruits of the fall fashion crop show no signs of a drought this season. Instead, they offer choice pickings in the way of smart new dresses for the Larger Woman who seeks clothes that make her look tall and slender. To get the effect of slenderness, designers are featuring styles finished at the neckline with jabots, wide revers, and bows. Such treatment gives the illusion of more dress and less woman. For it is true that whatever width is added at the top makes the hips look narrower. The new dresses come both with and without separate jackets. The jackets are of various lengths, ranging from the hip length style to the full length separate coat. For the woman of an economical turn of mind, a dress-with-jacket offers the delightful advantage that it serves as a fall suit, and again as a spring suit when one's heavy winter coat is hung away. Silks, woollens, and lustrous velvets now come into their own and may be chosen with the assurance that they are correct. Satin, too, comes into the fashion picture. One fashion warning, however, must be issued for the benefit of the Larger Woman—be wary of satins! Glossy satins, unless cleverly manipulated, are treacherous. Their lustrous surface catches every gleam of light and highlights every spare ounce! But in the picture above is shown a satin creation that cleverly avoids the usual pitfalls. Glossy satin is used for the blouse, but the effect of the lustre is minimized by a softly draped neckline. Below the waist, the dull side of the satin is used and slenderizing features, a curved seam at the hip, setting into a flare, do first rate work in making the Larger Woman look slimmer. The second dress, in silk crepe, is also ideally suited for Larger Woman wear. It displays transparent veivet appliques, and wide revers. And its pointed fitted wrist, plus curved seams and pleats in front, bring out the slenderizing idea. If you would like to know more about these dresses, or if you have fashion difficulties which this article does not answer, I will be happy to help you in any way I can. Write me: Mmc. Lane Bryant, Fashion Bureau, 6 East 45th Street, New York City.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything. What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and 3/4 of our food decays in our 25 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes. When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped tomcat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25¢. ©1934, C.M.Co.

Reading Fun In Store For Boys

Here's important news for the boys of America. THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION, the nation's quality magazine for boys, has been reduced from $2.00 a year to $1.00. The three-year rate, formerly $3.50, has been reduced to $2.00. "For a long time we have been seeking a way to reduce the cost of THE AMERICAN BOY to readers," states Griffith Ogden Ellis, editor. "Recently we have effected savings that made the cut possible, and we think boys will agree that the new price is big news on the reading front. We hope boys will help us to spread the good news by telling their friends." Along with the cut in cost, the magazine's publishers are planning a magazine that will continue to set the pace in fiction, articles, and departments. The favorite characters of millions of boys will parade through THE AMERICAN BOY in new stories. Douglas Renfrew of the Royal Canadian Mounted, Hide-rack, the red-and-gold collie, Bonehead Jim Tierney, the detective, will give the reader many exciting hours in the months to come.

William Heyliger, whose true-to-life gripping vocational stories have won him wide acclaim from parents and librarians, as well as the hearty approval of boys, is working on new stories. Staff writers are interviewing famous coaches and athletes and world-renowned explorers, to bring boys the color and fun of sports and travel.

In short, THE AMERICAN BOY, under its new price, will continue to give boys a magazine that measures up to the best standards set by adult magazines. Send your subscription to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan. Enclose your name and address and the proper amount of money, and THE AMERICAN BOY will soon be headed your way, loaded with reading thrills.

No Man Need Remain A Cripple

Biology tells us that some forms of animal life are capable of growing new parts to replace those that have been lost. Cut off a quarter of the flat worm's length and he proceeds to grow more worm again. Pull off one of a crab's claws and he sprouts a new one.

Dame Nature has not seen fit to grant man this privilege but Science has done wonders in helping man to do for himself what Nature failed to do for him.

Now, no man need be a cripple just because he has lost a leg or lose his usefulness because of the loss of an arm. Both of these can now be replaced with artificial members of seamless aluminum alloy so light, so easy in operation, that men, women and even children, who have suffered an amputation, can still engage in almost any form of work or play.

Himself the wearer of an artificial limb for many years, D. E. Hedgecock, President of the Hedgecock Artificial Limb and Brace Company, says, "Losing an arm or a leg now may not be so very much worse than losing all one's teeth—that is, if the artificial member is made of modern materials, is properly designed to suit the needs of the individual and is fitted by experts who desire, conscientiously, to help the client regain the greatest possible usefulness."

"If armless or legless men who are discouraged and feel that life is over for them, could visit our busy laboratories, in Dallas, they would face the future with new hope and ambition, for every one of our employees has lost some natural member but still is able to do the intricate, painstaking working which the manufacture and fitting of artificial arms and legs requires."

How Movie Stars Say "Happy Birthday"

Evidently stage and screen stars make a great deal of fuss over birthdays, much as they hate to see their own come along. Eddie Cantor, Rudy Vallee, Mary Pickford, Fredric March and Irene Dunne were among the thirty famous actors, illustrators and writers that sent unusual birthday greetings to Harry Evans for the second birthday issue of the Family Circle Magazine, the weekly periodical distributed locally by the Safeway Stores to their customers.

"Believe it or not" Robert Ripley even cabled his good wishes from Bengazi, Africa, and all of them sparkle with humor and originality. They are reproduced in the second anniversary number of the Family Circle that will be distributed this coming Friday and Saturday.

Other features of this issue, according to the Safeway Stores, will be a special fiction story by Irvin S. Cobb, special recipes for school lunches by Ida Bailey Allen, noted homemaking authority, and recipes for bread and muffins by Julia Lee

Let Chevrolet tell its own story of riding and driving comfort

Make the ownership test

THE best way to get at the truth behind the fine things you hear and read about the new Chevrolet, is to get in the car and drive. Take this car, drive it over the same routes, in the same way you drive your present automobile, and let the results you can see and feel tell their own story. You have heard that Knee-Action makes bad roads good, and good roads better. A ride will prove it. You have heard that Chevrolet provides shock-proof steering, Synchro-Mesh gear-shifting, a remarkably flexible 80-horsepower engine, and cable-controlled brakes. A few minutes at the wheel will show you what a difference these advancements make in safety and driving ease. And when the ride is over, and you step out refreshed and ready for more, you will know why so many thousands have found it impossible to return to ordinary driving after an experience like this. That is the Ownership Test—easy, enjoyable, and the most practical way to choose a car.

One Ride is worth a thousand words

Old Feud Renewed Friday; Slaton Tigers vs. Bulldogs

Game to Be Played At Fair Park, 3:00 P. M.; "Red" Williams, Snider, Referee

The Spur Bulldogs began practicing Monday afternoon for one of their toughest football games of the season, their ancient enemy the Slaton Tigers, who come to Spur Friday at 3:00 p. m. to renew hostilities. Coming out of the game with Levelland with no serious injuries the Dogs are looking for Tiger Meat.

Slaton lost to Snider last Friday in their opening game, but that is no indication of their real strength. Coach Paul Wright used a large number of substitutions in an effort to test his squad. With another week's practice behind them the Tigers will be ready and after the Bulldog's scalp, which they have taken several times in the past. A strong, aggressive, hard tackling team is always put out by Slaton.

The Dogs, have been trying to correct mistakes made at Levelland. Coach Wadzeck felt good after the Levelland game but is still pessimistic over his team and is a long way from being hilariously pleased with the football the squad is demonstrating.

"Red" Williams, well known Snyder football official and Principal of the high school there, has been secured as referee for this first game at Spur. Supt. Hall stated Monday that Mr. Williams had been contacted for a number of games this year. His assistants were not announced.

Admission tickets were placed on sale this week by students and drug stores. A record crowd is forecast for the season's opener as Spur fans have manifested more interest than ever before in the local high school football team.

Spur And Levelland In Tie Game, 0 To 0

BILL STARCHER

The Spur Bulldogs played the first football game of the season with the Levelland Lobos last Friday afternoon at Levelland. Neither team was able to score. Although this was the first game of the season for both teams they gave the on-looking crowd a thrill as both teams played in mid-season form in an effort to score a victory.

In the first quarter Levelland made three first downs and drew three penalties to the Bulldogs one first down and no penalties.

In the second quarter Levelland made three first downs to Spur's two. In this quarter, the big full back for the Bulldogs, Jim McArthur, made a get away for seventy five yards before he was pulled down from behind by McCann, fleet halfback of Levelland, on the 15 yard line.

The third quarter was almost even both teams making three first downs with no penalties assessed on either side.

The last quarter was decidedly a Bulldog quarter. The Spur team made five first downs to none for Levelland, invading Lobo territory to the ten yard line in an effort to score. No penalties were assessed on either team.

Spur scored 12 first downs to Levelland's 9, and gained quite a few more yards from scrimmage than Levelland did.

Spur made one substitution, while Levelland made three.

An Article On "It" And Those Who Have "It" and Those Who Want "It"

(Nedra Hogan)

The Home Economics Class 1B considers personality development a very important thing. We have asked ourselves some very helpful questions, and we believe that if you, too, answer them honestly they will help you decide if you have "It".

1. What is your secret ambition—the one you never talk about for company?
2. What have you done to realize this ambition?
3. Are your day dreams centered entirely upon yourself?
4. What is the real cause of the moody fits of depression that you have?
5. How many friends have you that can be counted on in a pinch?
6. Are you that kind of a friend to anyone? To how many people?
7. Are you envious? Jealous?
8. Do you like people?
9. Are you a good listener?
10. Do you find it a bore when someone asks a favor of you?
11. Are you constantly asking favors of other people?
12. Are you conceited? Do you talk too much about yourself?
13. Do you insist upon having your way regardless of other people's wishes?
14. If you were choosing a friend would you choose yourself?
15. If you were having a party would you pick yourself as first choice of a guest to be asked?
16. What trait in you seems to strike other people as most pleasant? Most unpleasant?
17. Are you ready to give more than you get?
18. Have you a pose?
19. What do you talk about? Are you really well informed about anything?
20. What are your chief interests in life? Are they selfish or unselfish? There is also another important thing to think about.

How Shy Are You?

To test yourself, answer the following questions prepared for you by William Moulton Marston, distinguished psychologist, educator, and author. Each question may be answered in three different ways. If you answer in an unqualified "no", score yourself 10 for that question. If it is "yes", score 0. If it is "sometimes", score 5. Where several examples of the same type of shyness are included in the same question, you may score yourself on each example, then average these part scores together to get the complete score for the question. To arrive at your total score for the test, simply add the ten question scores. Then read the paragraph at the end of the questions to find your rating.

If you want to know what kind of impression you make on other people set your friends to score you.

1. Do you dread meeting people for the first time? Attending parties or other social functions, or making calls on comparative strangers?
2. Do you hate to ask favors of people, to ask for a job, or to ask strangers to direct you in traveling?
3. Do you look anxiously at a group of people who are laughing and talking together, and without making any effort to join them? Do you feel awkward or tongue-tied when you are a member of such a group?

Music Classes Increasing In College Trained Teachers

(Julia Jo Reed)

The High School has a class of 43 who are studying music and Glee Club work under Mrs. McKnight. The class meets in the Music Studio in the Junior High school and Miss Curby is at the piano. The work will consist of Glee Club singing with two and three part singing. After a time the club or class will make public appearances wherever and whenever called upon.

Mrs. McKnight is teaching four regular classes in the Junior High School in the Principles of Music and Singing three days in each week and penmanship the other two days. Also, Mrs. McKnight has a choral club composed of 30 girls in the Junior High School who will do choral singing and they will also make public appearance upon requests.

Also, Mrs. McKnight leads singing Monday and Wednesday in High School Chapel and Tuesday and Thursday in Junior High School. General Assembly song books have been ordered by the school for both Junior High School and Senior High School and much interest is expected to be manifested in singing in our schools this year.

Library News

The Spur High School library, which contains about 1225 volumes, was opened this week for reference work. Reliable high school students are placed in charge of this phase of the work. Reference books, which may be checked out for one period at a time, are to be used either in the study hall or at one of the tables in the library itself after the student librarian has been informed of the name of the person desiring the book and the subject in which it is being used. This information is placed in a large ledger which serves the double purpose of keeping track of the books and making it possible for teachers to check up on actual library work of the pupils.

In addition to the reference books, there are several hundred volumes of fiction which are to be used by the pupils for their outside reading work in English courses. These books were purchased last year from a fund created by assessing a fifty cent voluntary library fee. If one chose to read the new books, he paid his fee; if he did not care to read them, he did not pay it. The same system will be in force again this year with the exception that those who paid their fee last year are automatically entitled to the use of the new books this year without further payment. Only new students in the school are asked to pay the fee this year. It is hoped that enough will be paid for a large number of new books to be added again this year.

Beginning on Monday, Sept. 17, fiction books may be checked out every afternoon after school, and only at that time. Miss Buster and Miss McNeill will issue these books, and they must be returned to those teachers, not the student librarians. Fiction books may be kept a week, and penalties for overtime are: 1 cent the first day, 2 cents the second; 4 cents the third, 8 cents the fourth, and so on doubling each time.

Many Pupils Transported By Bus This Year

Many of the Pupils of the Spur Schools who live at a distance of over two miles from school are being transported by bus in the six busses that are delivering pupils at the buildings each day. They not only come from the Spur District but are coming from the following outlying districts around Spur: Wilson Draw, Duck Creek, Steel Hill, Antelope, Twin Wells, Red Mud, Espuela, Dry Lake and Highway. Mr. Blackmon is operating the bus for Highway this term. Mr. Rumbek has made transactions with the Red Mud people and the Spur School to transport the High School pupils of Red Mud and part of the Twin Wells pupils. J. S. Pope drives the bus owned by the Spur District and makes Twin Wells, Duck Creek, Steel Hill, Antelope and Wilson Draw school districts. J. R. Laine drives the Soldier Mound bus this year. Glenn Latham is again driving the Red Hill bus. G. L. Delisle has been employed by the Spur Board to drive the Dry Lake-Espuela bus. These busses are carrying loads approximating the following numbers:

- Espuela-Dry Lake 50.
- Highway 30.
- Twin Wells, etc. 50.
- Red Mud 15.
- Soldier Mound 70.
- Red Hill 40.

Pupils living in Spur are given aid by the State to ride on the buses; pupils who live in outlying districts and their grade is not taught in the district of residence will receive High School tuition and transportation aid from the state. Grammar grade pupils living outside the Spur District will have to pay transportation costs as well as tuition for four months, in that they are given five months free school if they transfer before the 1st day of August.

CHAS. A. JONES

Chas. A. Jones came to Spur from Kansas City, Mo., to take charge of the Spur Ranch in August, 1907, after its purchase by S. M. Swenson & Sons from the Espuela Land & Cattle Company, Ltd. of London. When Mr. Jones assumed his duties as manager it was the second time that the Ranch was under control of American capital.

Mr. Jones had always been associated with interests of service to humanity in a large way. Before coming to Spur he assisted his father in the management of the Kansas City Missouri Water Works and was purchasing agent for the Western Division for Armour & Company of Chicago. He had been trained to do great things in a big way.

When he assumed the management of the Swenson interests at Spur, it was the plan of the company to build a railroad into the country and to foster the building of a town in this section. Mr. Jones looked over the holdings of the Swensons and selected the present site of Spur. In so doing he had to oppose the opinions of the railroad engineers who surveyed the railroad right-of-way and who had selected a place some miles east of Spur. Mr. Jones had carefully studied every location and pointed out to the proper authorities that with plenty of natural drainage, good water, plenty of building sand and gravel and other favorable conditions that the present location was the logical one. He took the matter up with Mr. Daniel Willard, then Executive head of the Burlington System and later President of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, in conference at about the present site of the depot in Spur and Mr. Willard agreed with Mr. Jones on the location of the town.

The townsite was surveyed and business locations were made, and Mr. Jones supervised the sale of lots on the opening date, November

CHAS. A. JONES

1, 1909. The sales were very rapid averaging a lot per minute during much of the first day. He has considered Spur his home since the town was started, and although he spent many years as manager for the Swenson's sulphur mining interests in Brazoria County and with the Swenson office at New York City, he states frequently that his real friends are at Spur.

He was born in Georgia, April 12, 1861. He moved with his father to Kansas City, Mo., and later to Colorado where he became engaged in the newspaper business and was editor of the Delores News. The call of the West has always appealed to him, and for this reason he has been one of the staunch builders of that great domain. He is the embodiment of courtesy and kindness, yet frank in his expressions with the principles of right his aim in any decision. His friends love him because of his frank honesty.

At this time he has retired from active duties of the Swenson interests, being succeeded in a very able manner by his son, Clifford B. Jones, recently Divisional Administrator for the Public Works Administration. Mr. Jones has personal interests which employ his time and he serves in an administrative way for his friends, being of invaluable service to them. He spends much of his time at Spur where he numbers his friends by his acquaintances, and the remainder of his time is spent in Kansas City, in California and other places where he feels he can be of service. He is very active and few people have the rich experience and knowledge of pioneer life that he possesses. It is a heritage of happiness to talk with him for he is capable of conversation on most any subject. Bearing an atmosphere of highest culture he is very Democratic in his manner and causes everybody to feel at ease in his presence. He is a man among men—a builder of the Great West.

Government Will Receive Cattle Already Bought

The federal government's cattle buying program in Texas was halted abruptly Tuesday of last week, it was announced this week by C. Z. Crain, head of the commodities distribution department of the Texas Relief Commission.

Crain said he was informed of the action in a telegram from George W. Barnes, representative of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration at College Station. Cattle have been bought by Agricultural Adjustment Administration representatives, turned over to Texas Relief Commission county administrators, who, as representatives of the Federal Surplus Relief corporation, have been responsible for shipment of the livestock from concentration points out of the state and to processing plants in the state.

The wire explained that the order was issued to permit AAA officials at Washington to make an audit of all operations. It did not say when the program will be resumed.

Crain hastened to assure ranchmen that all cattle bought by AAA representatives will be received by the Federal Surplus Relief corporation, even though they may not reach government pens for several days. He estimated that perhaps 20,000 head will be so received. These will not be shipped out of state but will be processed for canning in Texas plants. With approximately 2,000,000 pounds of bonded meat on storage at Fort Worth and San Antonio, it was believed the 19 government plants in Texas can be kept busy until buying is resumed. There are some 8,000 persons employed at these plants and, with cattle distributed in the fresh meat program, the state itself is able to consume some 3250 head per day.

Crain estimated that between 800,000 and 1,000,000 head of cattle have been bought and that the government has expended approximately $25,000,000 in the program in Texas.

MRS. C. P. MORRIS SUFFERS BROKEN LIMB

Mrs. C. P. Morris fell and broke her left limb Sunday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Birl Hight, on Trumbull Avenue. Mrs. Morris was descending the stairs and missed the bottom step which caused her to fall. She was rushed to the Nichols Sanitarium where an X-ray was made which revealed a very bad fracture. It was advised that she be taken to a specialist and she was rushed to Fort Worth by ambulance, Webber Williams making the trip. Mrs. Morris was accompanied by Mrs. Hight and her grand-daughter, Miss Alice Wright.

They arrived in Fort Worth about nine o'clock Monday morning and reports came back that Mrs. Morris stood the trip fine. She was permitted to rest a few hours and then an X-ray was made and the recommendation of the local surgeon was found after the fracture was set and the limb put in a cast where it will be correct. At four o'clock Monday have to remain for several weeks. Mrs. Morris seems to be getting along fine, and her many friends hope she will make rapid improvement.

Mrs. Morris will enjoy a birthday anniversary next Sunday and will be 85 years of age. Before the accident Sunday night she had been very active, could go about the place and do a great deal of work.

Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Hight left the home to enjoy a little drive. Mrs. Morris was left with her grandson, Edwin Earl Hight, who is very attentive to her. However, she told

A CORRECTED STATEMENT

It seems that the Times had the wrong information last week relative to the illness and death of Wiley Vaughn. His father stated Friday that Wiley became ill and he brought him to Spur where he could secure the care of a physician. The child was treated and his condition was considered not serious. Mr. Vaughn stated that he was advised he could take the boy back home and if he became worse to bring him back to Spur for further treatment.

The request was complied with and the boy seemed to be all right until Friday morning, September 7, when there was a change for worse. Mr. Vaughn brought Wiley back to the sanitarium. Dr. Alexander being in charge of the case, remained with the boy and did everything possible during the entire time he lived after reaching Spur. The boy grew worse and died about three o'clock in the afternoon of September 7.

Mr. Vaughn stated that he was not advised to leave his son at the sanitarium the first time he brought him to Spur, as was formerly reported. Every consideration was given Wiley and everything possible was done to save his life.

Note—We make the above statement in behalf of Mr. Vaughn as our report last week could have left the impression that the child was not given due consideration. Mr. Vaughn was very kind to give us the above statements.

May Change Renters

A lot of renter are asking these days whether or not the two-year contract which they signed to reduce the acreage of cotton gives them any right to stay on their farms during 1935.

This question arose some weeks back. I put the question squarely up to the administration in Washington. In answer to our inquiry we got the following from the AAA: "There is, as you know, no legal authority by which the agricultural adjustment administration can say to a landowner or landlord that he must retain the same identical tenants on his farm or farms as heretofore. To do so would interfere with the usual and normal relationships between landowners and tenants."

Whether a land owner has the right to dismiss his tenants, farm the land himself, still carry out a reduction contract and get paid for his reduction is in dispute.

But there can be no argument over the right of an owner for any reason sufficient to himself to change tenants. In making the change, the new tenant will carry out the contracts of the old tenant and get the same payments for reduction as the old tenant would have gotten.

Many renters feel that the signing of a two-year contract to reduce acreage, which same contract was signed by the land owner, gives them

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE
STRAWBERRIES are so plentiful that they are being sold at little greater cost than in the height of their summer season. Enjoy this winter treat while it lasts.

California navel oranges are at the height of their short season and they are particularly delicious to eat out of hand or in salads or desserts. For breakfast juice, Florida oranges are fine. Grapefruit continue plentiful.

Spinach and green beans are abundant and cheap. Broccoli though fine and inexpensive is not being used so much as it was. Cauliflower and new cabbage are cheap. Peas continue plentiful and good. Beets and carrots are particularly economical.

With Lent in the near future, favorite meat dishes should be enjoyed now though well cooked and seasoned fish is equally good.

The Quaker Maid suggests the following menus for your Sunday dinner.

- Low Cost Dinner
 - Pan-browned Chopped Beef
 - Mashed Potatoes
 - Green Beans
