Motley-Dickens County Old Settlers To Hold 2-Day Meet

An extra day has been added to the next meeting of the Motley-Dickens County Old Settlers' Association convention which meets at Roaring Springs Wednesday and Thursday August 21-22. This is the fourteenth convention of this association. The Board of Advisors has seen proper to add an extra day and a good program has been outlined for this day. Everything relative to the Old Settlers' Association is free, but there will be attractions for which admission will be charged and these will be located close by so that any one may enjoy them if they desire.

One new feature will be chuck wagon lunches served both days. These will not be free, but will be at a very nominal price. This is being provided for since there will be no public table this year. People can either take basket lunches or buy lunches at the grounds just as they desire. There will be plenty of barbecue in addition to the chuck wagon lunches, and there will be no need of any one being hungry at the meeting.

Thursday, August 22, is rightly considered the Old Settlers' day since the regulations of the association provide for this day. A good program has been prepared, the outline of which is as follows:

Wednesday Morning, Aug. 21

10:00. Tournament Riding.

Wednesday Afternoon

1:00. Goat Roping.
3:00. Negro Ball Game.
5:00. Horse Racing.
5:30. Soft Ball Tournament.
6:00. Old Time Square Dance.
9:00. Boxing Contest.

Thursday Morning, Aug. 22

10:00. Tournament Riding.

10:30. Song Service conducted by H. D. Marshall in the Gym.
11:00. Memorial Services conducted by Rev. A. P. Stokes, Afton.
12:00. Basket Lunch. Bring your lunch.

Thursday Afternoon

1:30. Musical program by Jeff Morris' Cotton Pickers.
2:00. Address of Welcome by Judge Glenn of Matador.
Response by Judge Cloud of Dickens.
2:20. Early Day Experiences by Old Settlers.
3:00. Baseball Game.
4:00. Election of Officers.
4:30. Old Time Square Dance, conducted by Frank Hallford.
5:00. Horse Racing.
5:30. Soft Ball Tournament.

It is thought that probably Thursday night will be taken up with the Old Timers making their own program which might be a square dance. There is plenty of good shade and good water on the convention grounds. The school gymnasium has seating capacity for thousands and the Roaring Springs School Board have given free use of the building for the two days.

The Motley-Dickens County Association is the oldest one in this country, but it has been confined strictly to Old Timers and the spirit of commercialism has been kept out of it. It is a get-together time when old acquaintances are renewed, old times talked over and the spirit of the West kept up.

Bulldog Football Camp Opens Next Monday

Coach G. B. (Blackie) Wadzeck, of Spur High School, will return Sunday from two weeks of study of football plays and tactics as practiced by some of the best known coaches of the United States, who were brought to Texas Tech at Lubbock. The annual football camp will be opened by the coach the next day after his return, the first practice sessions being Tuesday, August 20.

Coach Wadzeck will have a lot of new plays to try out on this year's squad but has announced that the camp will be devoted largely to fundamentals and conditioning. The coach has spent quite a bit of time this summer preparing for this fall and will do his best to turn out a winning combination.

Managers for the 1935 season will be Sylvan Golding, manager last season and Johnnie Nichols. Both of these youngsters are hustlers and will be two of the hardest worked members of the squad. Manager Sylvan was very popular with the boys last year and will be ably assisted this season with the addition of Johnnie to his department.

The Times ran a list of prospects last week. Any boy who wants to play football at Spur and is eligible is asked to come to camp whether he can contribute anything or not. Coach Wadzeck has extended a blanket invitation and is looking forward to a squad of around 60 for the camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lambert, of Monahans, spent a few days here the last of the week visiting relatives and friends, and attending the funeral of Mrs. Lambert's aunt, Mrs. S. F. Starrett. Mr. Lambert is with Atlantic Pipe Line Company at Monahans.

New Highway Stock Law Now In Effect

The new State law which prohibits the grazing of stock along public highways became effective Wednesday of last week, August 7. This provides that persons who permit their stock to graze along a fenced state highway is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not in excess of $200 for each offense, and each day shall constitute an offense.

The law provides that a person may drive his stock across a highway and may drive stock along a highway, but such stock must be attended by some one all the time.

This new law is to be executed by local officers and by highway patrolmen who have authority to file complaints.

The purpose of this law is not to work any hardship on people, but to protect persons on the highways. Many accidents are caused every year from stock running loose along the highways. There have been several deaths as a result of cars hitting stock along the highways, and the purpose of the law is to avert all of these.

Local authorities state they trust that people will co-operate in trying to comply with the law as it will be to the interests of all concerned. The state law does repeal the local option law in effect in Dickens County regarding stock running at large.

Season Tickets Selling Fine

According to reports from those in charge the season football tickets are selling reasonably rapidly. There have been 128 tickets sold and collections made. It is hoped that at least 250 to 300 tickets will be sold by September 1.

The new stadium is to be dedicated September 13 at which time it is hoped to have the Governor of Texas with us and other prominent citizens of the state. Also, one of the best pre-season foot ball games in history is to be played that evening. The first evening at the new stadium will be worth the price of the season ticket. Also, it will mean something for all who buy season tickets to say they had a part in getting the new stadium lighted and that is what the season tickets mean.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 5 Suspended Sentence Or Probation Amendment

Proposition Number 5 on the ballot of the August 24th special election reads: "For (and Against) the Amendment to the State Constitution authorizing the Courts to place defendants on probation."

Proponents claim that if this amendment is passed, many who are now sent to the penitentiary for first offenses will be permitted to enjoy suspended sentences under restrictions of the court.

The only restriction under the present suspended sentence law is the fact that the defendant must not be convicted of a felony—that is, a crime punishable by confinement in the penitentiary. The judge or court has no control nor can it set up or impose any other restrictions.

It is the understanding of those who have studied the amendment that if passed it would permit the Legislature to pass laws giving the courts the right to suspend sentences and place defendants on such probation as the court might deem proper. In other words the court could suspend sentences subject to certain limitations. If these restrictions or limitations were not observed the Court would have the authority to have the defendant committed to the penitentiary without further ado. Many courts now refuse to grant suspended sentences for the reason that they have no control over the defendant after the same is granted. It is pointed out that this would prevent many first offenders from having to go to the penitentiary and reclaim many of them for society.

If a suspended sentence is given under the present law the only limitation is that the defendant must not be convicted of a felony. The court has no control over him nor can it impose other conditions.

Among the things which he placed his approval on while here was the transfer of the home cannery from the Texas Relief projects to the WPA projects. Also, Miss Pratt, County Home Demonstration Agent, was allowed extended assistance in her office.

Works Supervisor Here Last Week

L. O. Scott, works supervisor of WPA for District No. 7, was in our city the last of the week and fixed up several projects for this county. He will return about September 1 at which time he will approve other works projects.

Several other projects were discussed while Mr. Scott was here and which will be approved in the near future no doubt.

Baptist Revival Started Sunday

The revival meeting at the First Baptist Church started with the morning services Sunday and is expected to continue for two weeks. Dr. Ewton conducted the services until Monday evening at which time Rev. Webb, of Memphis, took charge and has been doing the preaching since. Rev. Webb has been delivering some fine messages and people are very complimentary of the fine thoughts he is giving out.

Rev. Virgil Reynolds, of Abilene, has charge of the music and people are getting a great thrill out of his playing. A large choir is assisting with the singing.

Large crowds are attending the services. The evening services are held on the lawn just east of the church where there is good seating accommodations and the atmosphere is cool. The morning services are held in the church auditorium which is cool and pleasant at that hour.

The church and pastor extend a cordial invitation to everybody to attend the services and cooperate all they can.

W. M. Bumpus Installing New Cafe

W. M. Bumpus, who has been operating the Spur Coffee Shop for several years, is installing a new cafe in the Hale Building just south of Sanders-Chastain Pharmacy. New equipment is being installed and arrangements are being made to take care of a great number of people.

There will be both counter and table service. Also, private tables are being arranged where people may take their guests and be to themselves. The Spur Coffee Shop will be merged into this new business and it will be run in that name. Mr. Bumpus stated he hopes to get ready to open the new place to the public before September 1.

G. H. Smith, of McAdoo, was transacting business in our city Wednesday.

CAP-ROCK SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The Cap Rock Soft Ball League finished the first round of their schedule Monday evening with Spur heading the League with four wins and no losses.

Games scheduled for Monday evening are: Jayton at Roaring Springs and Girard at Dickens.

Sanitarium To Open Soon

The Nichols Sanitarium has been leased to Dr. Floyd R. Copeland of Dallas, and will be opened to patients in the very near future. All rooms are being renovated and refurnished. New paint is being applied over the wood-work and all rooms will be decorated in very brightly colors. Dr. Copeland will be here soon to take charge and give the public the service rendered through a sanitarium.

TYPEWRITER MAN HERE!

R. E. DuPriest, the typewriter, Cash Register and Adding Machine expert, will be in Spur all this week repair machines. If you are having trouble with any of your machines call the Times, 30, and will fix'em.

Mr. DuPriest will be in Jayton, Peacock and Swenson the first of next week doing repair work.

YOUR OFFICIAL BALLOT FOR AUGUST ELECTION

Below we are printing the ballot of Proposed Constitutional Amendments to be voted on August 24. Voters will make decisions on them just as they are below, and the wording is the same on all ballots. This ballot is being published in order that the voters in the county may acquaint themselves with and be able to vote as they desire.

Exemption Certificates Not Needed In 1935

The new election law which requires that voters who do not have poll tax receipts to have exemption certificates does not go into effect until October 1, 1935. The voting of overs and unders in the election of August 24, at which time voting for or against adoption of proposed Constitutional Amendments, will be done just as it has been done in years past. The new law will have no effect on any election until 1936.

Any person who was 60 years of age and more January 1, 1935, will be privileged to vote August 24 without a poll tax receipt. Any person who has reached the age of 21 years since January 1, 1934, will have the privilege to vote in the election August 24, without a poll tax receipt since such person was not old enough for assessment in 1934.

Next year is Presidential election year and the exemption certificate law will become effective for that year. Persons must secure their exemption certificates on, or before January 31, 1936, just as regular voters receive their poll tax receipts. Any one who knows they will be 21 years of age in time to vote in any election next year can secure such exemption certificate in January.

Sam Morris Speaks Here Today

Sam Morris, former pastor at Stamford, will speak in Spur this afternoon at four o'clock in the interest of prohibition. Mr. Morris has been speaking several weeks in the interest of a dry Texas, having visited many of the larger cities and towns. He is an able speaker and one of the leading orators of the state. He has a good message for his hearers and those who hear him will be highly entertained and instructed from reliable sources.

The time is four o'clock, the place is in Spur on the streets where everybody can hear him.

New Cafe In Davis Building

A new cafe is being opened in the Sol Davis Building just north of the City National Bank. Mrs. Jeanett Everett and Mrs. Harry Inman are installing the new business and expect to be open for business by Friday.

Mr. Inman and Mr. Alexander, who have been operating a domino parlor in this building, will continue their business at the rear of the building. The front will be used for the cafe where good things to eat will be served together with cold drinks, candies, etc.

RETURNS FROM MARKET

Henry Alexander, manager of Henry Alexander & Company, returned from eastern markets Friday where he had been several days buying new merchandise for his store. Mrs. Alexander who accompanied him remained in Chicago where she will visit relatives and continue the buying campaign. She expects to return about September 1.

Mr. Alexander stated that the markets look encouraging and that all merchants who were there seemed to be optimistic in regard to a fall business. He stated that many new lines are out and soon there would be a big supply of new merchandise in Spur at the disposal of the people.

GOLDINGS RETURN FROM MARKET

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Golding, of B. Schwarz & Son, returned Saturday evening from the East where they had been on a buying tour. Mr. Golding reported a busy market and stated that everything seemed to be steady. They were joined in Dallas by Mrs. Harkey of the Breckenridge store and Mr. Schwarz of the Hempstead store.

Mr. Golding said that in ready to wear that no place in America could excel Dallas firms. That speaks very fine for Texas. He said that in various lines of other merchandise that is necessary to consult other markets.

They made a big purchase of new merchandise while away and are joining in making Spur the best market for merchandise to be found in West Texas. New merchandise is arriving daily and the latest on the market can be bought right in Spur at right prices.

WHEAT FOR SALE

Subject to previous sale, change of price without notice, we offer 5,000 bushels of No. 1, re-cleaned wheat at $1.25 per bushel, f. o. b. our elevator. 25 cents per bushel deposit at time of order, balance on delivery before October 1, 1935. S. M. DOUGHERTY, Dougherty Grain, Co., Dougherty, Texas.

Spur Schools Will Open Session September 2nd

Vacation days are almost over and the time is almost here to begin another term of school. With good crop prospects in view and the recent rain the Spur Public School is looking forward to a successful year. School will begin Monday, September 2nd. Many pupils from surrounding school districts have transferred to Spur High School. The enrollment in the high school promises to be the largest the school has ever had. All buildings are being cleaned and repaired. A new oak floor has been put in the Senior High School auditorium and this floor has been leveled so comfortable study hall conditions may exist.

The Spur schools are happy to welcome the great number of pupils from the rural communities. It is the intention of the Spur school to add such courses as will train students to go into the world and make a living for themselves. The present trend in education is to train the pupil to do things better than he is going to do after he leaves school. In accomplishing this purpose Spur High School is offering a number of elective courses with the required ones.

Vocational Agriculture, Home Economics, and Commercial Courses will be offered as in the past, and this year Public Speaking and Band will be added. In Science, Biology will be offered instead of Physics or Chemistry. This change is made because so few students take either Physics or Chemistry and the per pupil cost is obviously very high. Credit in Advanced Arithmetic and Civics will be required of all seniors before graduation. One-half year in Business Arithmetic is required because it is felt so many students graduate without a knowledge of the fundamentals in Arithmetic. Naturally Civics is required so that the high school may do its part in developing better American citizens. Only extracurricular credit in Band will be given this year, but a full credit will be given for a year in Public Speaking.

Miss Quannah Lewis, a graduate of the University of Oklahoma, will teach Public Speaking. Miss Lewis majored in this field and has taught this course in Sweetwater and Post High Schools. Burgess Brown, a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University will direct Band and teach Science. A regular class in Band Music will be offered without cost to the student, and private lessons may be had for a small fee. Spur High School is fortunate in securing the services of a well trained band master. Mr. Brown has been with the famous Cowboy Band for several years while it was under the direction of Mr. Wiley who is now at Texas Tech. The Spur High School Band will be open to all students of the Spur Schools.

A complete list of the Spur School faculty will appear before school begins.

Spur Laundry Makes Improvements

The Spur Laundry has been making some needed improvements recently. A new sky light has been placed over the wash room which affords more light and also gets rid of a portion of heat that formerly went out into other departments. Another sky light has been placed over the finish department which affords quite a lot more light.

D. A. Wilson, manager, stated that soon an addition would be made to the building in order to secure more room. The business has outgrown the building and this will have to be extended. Mr. Wilson stated that since the laundry owns the building that they can extend it enough to take care of the present business and have room to add much more business.

The Spur Laundry is serving a large territory and is adding to its business all the time. Good service is being given which is a very fine way to get more business.

CORRECT METHOD FILLING SILO DEMONSTRATION

A trench silo filling demonstration will be conducted in Dickens County Friday, August 23. The place for holding the demonstration has not been selected. Make inquiry of the Dickens County Agricultural Agent, or Mr. White, the King County Agent. Any one wishing to have the demonstration conducted on their farm, may see either agent and make arrangements for same.

E. R. Eudaly, of the Department of Dairy Husbandry of the Extension Service, will be present and demonstrate the proper method of filling trench silos.

Price Campbell Discusses Holding Company Legislation Now Pending

Synopsis of Discussion on the Holding Company Legislation From Talk by Price Campbell, President of West Texas Utilities Company, Before the Executives, Department Heads, and District Managers of the Company, Assembled in Two Day Conference on New Business and Operating Policies in Abilene Recently.

Many of you and other West Texas citizens are wondering what part the West Texas Utilities Company played in any lobby against the holding company bill, the so-called Wheeler-Rayburn bill that was, however, not drafted by Wheeler or Rayburn, but by some of the administration New Dealers. While the Constitution of the United States protects every one's right to protest and warn members of Congress against proposed legislation and no one has a better right than the party who is to be affected, this company has taken very little action. We were advised by some in position to know, including a Congressman from this section, that nothing at this time in Washington could stop the many socialistic bills being strong-armed through Congress by New Dealers, swarming around our democratic administration. It is really up to the people back home who nevertheless expect their representatives to act also as claim agents that their communities may get a share of the loot back from the increasing tax burdens to be imposed upon them.

We, of course, are not concerned about the holding company bill except as it affects this operating company's interest, the interest of our communities, state, and the constitution of our national government. It is very doubtful legislation so we prefer to take our chances at this time on the constitutionality of the bill, should it pass as drawn, rather than spend a great deal of time, effort, and money on advising the people and in turn our congressmen as to just what this trick measure really provides for and what the outcome could be should some bureaucratic administration see fit to take advantage of its many provisions. While I have read the 293 pages of the Senate bill and House bill report several times, it is hard to tell just how far reaching the measure might be and just how soon the government bureaus in Washington could take over the facilities of this company and operate them to the advantage of its political appointees. It took some of the best legal talent in Texas to interpret just how the government could, under the New Dealers' draft of the measure, use our lines or operate our property. While it is generally understood the bill was to be a regulatory measure for holding companies, it goes away beyond regulation or reform, all directly in opposition to any recovery measure as set up by the democratic platform. The New Dealers evidently do not want regulation but want the trick measure left as they have drafted it. There should be regulation of holding companies to prevent abuses of the past, but all holding companies in all businesses should be included. Holding company regulation is already provided for in the Securities Act, all of which I am very much in accord with as I do not believe in pyramiding of securities. This measure, however, is to pass a death sentence over all good and bad holding companies alike, should the Commission decide that due to geographical location and several other means or excuses provided within the bill for the federal Power Bureau of Washington to assume that any holding company was "unnecessary"; then the Washington bureau itself could in fact be the holding company, thus placing our political federal government in business, if the courts in the future should tolerate such an act. The bill defines "Holding Company" as anyone or any corporation holding as much as 10% of the voting stock in any concern or in any other corporation. Holding company is generally thought of as being a company owning a voting control of another corporation for financing, engineering and major consulting benefits. More than 80% of all business in the United States is thus transacted under holding company procedure. There are considerably more holding companies in other businesses than in the utility business. Considerably more in transportation, petroleum industry, and even in newspapers, such as Scripps-Howard and Hearst papers where there is more pyramiding than in the average utility holding company. As said before, in our judgment there should never be more than one holding company. There are many instances where one holding company renders many benefits to certain sections of the country due to diversification of risks with more able financing benefits that can be brought in to many sections of the country where needed. The Middle West system is working and has been for two years to eliminate all but one holding company and this one operating principally as an investment trust and consulting agency. The holding company is not in reality costing this operating company one thin dime and they own all the common stock and are not receiving any common stock dividends from this company and have not in quite a number of years even though they brought in many millions of dollars of their cash which is invested in facilities to serve West Texans and for which the holding company only got in return common stock. Part of this common stock was issued on some real appreciation in value of properties and some over-payments on actual physical value through purchase of some properties and land for water supply development, all of which was returned to this operating company in common stock and cancelled out. This the Federal Trade or Power Commissions know to be a fact, the propaganda which continues to flow from these sources of their old reports notwithstanding. The public, that is, the bondholders and preferred stockholders of this company, have many millions of dollars more actual cash money in value of equipment and facilities to serve West Texans behind their security than is represented by the face value of their securities; that includes the sum total of all bonds and preferred stock outstanding.

While we, of course, are interested in the situation from a selfish standpoint, I believe that it is every one's duty to fight this legislation on purely American grounds. This type of legislation concentrates too much power in the hands of the federal government, and if it should pass as is, unquestionably other businesses would be faced with similar attempts of federal confiscation and control. For instance, if this bill should pass, there is just one other measure needed for them to get control of newspapers and that is to declare newspapers are vested with a public interest, such as radio and they become a public utility. Then all who own 10% control in any newspaper would immediately come under such a public utility act and be controlled from a bureau in Washington. The Courts declared in 1931 and 1933 that the newspapers are not public utilities, but if the present socialistic tendencies should continue, the Courts might hold in 1936 that newspapers are, like the radio, vested with a public interest. It is not likely that this company will be called upon to testify in the lobby probe being staged in Washington at this time as we have spent less than $200 all together in informing our friends and in turn Congressmen as to what this bill as drawn could really mean to this operating company and in turn the communities in this section of the state.

The lobby probe, I believe, was started to investigate both sides of the controversy. It would be very easy for the special probes to investigate the administration New Dealers' activities in strong-arm lobbying for their pet death sentence measure. New Dealer aids have been trying to sit in and lobby directly before the joint conference committees the past few weeks. Most of such lobbying evidence is already in book form, entitled "Handout" which discloses how New Dealers connected with our democratic administration have employed a great number of press agents for control of propaganda through newspapers, radio, movies; that they have employed more detectives or snoopers in Washington and throughout the country (paid through NRA and other agencies) than ever has been done before, even during the war periods. "The Old Boat Rocker" is another book by a good democratic southern newspaperman which can be obtained from any book store and which discloses, in a humorous vein, just how these socialistic measures have been planned and how the plan is working out. David Lawrence in week before last Saturday Evening Post discloses how well the socialistic platform has been carried out and how well the stable platform of 1932 has been entirely sidetracked. There is a bright side, however, as Disraeli says: "The world is a wheel and it will all come around right." This nation, made up principally of Anglo-Saxons, can be trusted when awakened to protect their democratic party and their democracy that has been well maintained under the constitution which provides for state rights over and above bureaucratic control in Washington and provides for private initiative in business. Through private initiative in our utility business, we have provided more electric service in this country than all the rest of the world put together enjoys and at rates way below that of all other countries. The electric service costs today to the average household are less than one-tenth of that he pays in various forms of taxes, yet the heavy taxes at this time are not even keeping up with the present political program of "sharing the loot." This country is going in the hole at the rate of hundreds of millions of dollars a month while the other major countries have practically balanced their budgets with England showing a surplus.

The matter is really up to us and others as individual citizens and taxpayers. There is little actual good this company can do by lobbying in Washington. History seems to be repeating itself there, but the wheel will pass on as it did nearly one hundred years ago when, on March 12, 1838, Daniel Webster delivered an address in the United States Senate. Such address sounds as if it were delivered by some stable Southern democrat today, yet it was nearly one hundred years ago when Daniel Webster made the following speech in the United States Senate:

"There are persons who constantly clamor. They complain of oppression, speculation and pernicious influence of accumulated wealth. They cry out loudly against all banks and corporations, and all means by which small capitalists become united in order to produce important and beneficial results. They carry on mad hostilities against all established institutions. They would choke the fountain of industry and dry all streams.

In a country of unbounded liberty, they clamor against oppression. In a country of perfect equality they would move heaven and earth against privilege and monopoly. In a country where property is more evenly divided than anywhere else, they rend the air shouting agrarian doctrines. In a country where wages of labor are high beyond parallel, they would teach the laborer he is but an oppressed slave.

Sir, what can such men want? What do they mean? They can want nothing, sir, but to enjoy the fruits of other men's labor. They can mean nothing but disturbances and disorder, the diffusion of corrupt principles and the destruction of the moral sentiments and moral habits of society."

FORMER SPUR GIRL MARRIED SATURDAY

Miss Ethel Booth, formerly of Spur but at this time living in Lubbock, was married Saturday afternoon in Lubbock to Fred West, John T. Smith, minister of the Church of Christ, read the nuptial rites in the presence of a few friends.

Mr. and Mrs. West will be at home at 1617 Seventeenth Street in Lubbock.

Mrs. West came with her family to Girard in 1910 where she resided about 13 years. She has been in Lubbock the past five years. She is well known in this country and has a great number of friends.

G. H. Watson, of west of Dickens, was in our city Saturday looking after business affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Haile, of Afton, were doing some trading and visiting friends in our city Saturday.

IT WAS A GREAT DAY FOR THE FARM WOMAN WHEN Maytag

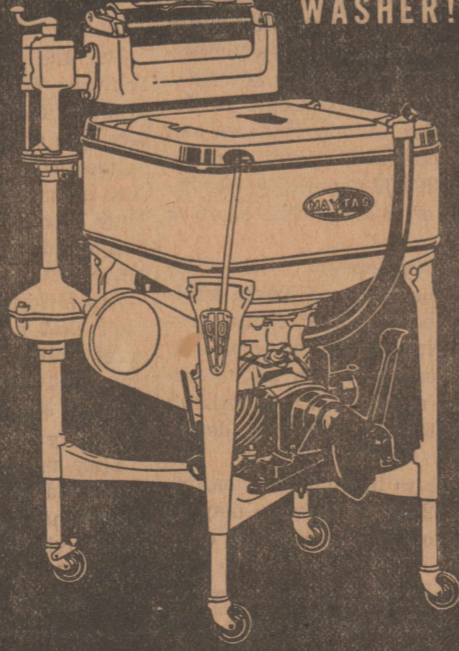

• Farm washings, that used to require the better part of a tiresome day, became a pleasant duty of less than two hours when the Maytag Multi-Motor washer was introduced. Today it is the favorite farm washer everywhere.

• The Maytag's roomy, cast-aluminum tub keeps the water hot for an entire washing. The Roller Water Remover has an enclosed drain that reverses itself. The auto-type shifter, the handy hinged lid, adjustable legs, and a score of other Maytag features are a joy every washday.

• The Gasoline Multi-Motor is built by Maytag—built for the woman to operate. It starts with a thrust of the foot pedal—operates smoothly and quietly. Electric models operate. It starts with a for homes with electricity.

20 YEARS AGO. . . A view of Safeway Store No. 1 located at American Falls, Idaho, as it appeared in 1915.

Safeway Stores Celebrating 20th Birthday Today

It was in the Sagebrush deserts of Idaho that the embryo, later to be the nationwide organization of Safeway Stores, came to life just twenty years ago.

This month wherever the familiar orange-colored name of Safeway hangs over a modern grocery store there will be celebration of the brief two-decade period that the organization has been in existence.

Founder of Safeway Stores was M. B. Skaggs, who remains at the head of the organization as its chairman of the board of directors, only 47 years old. Born in Aurora, Missouri, fourth child in a dozen sons, and daughters of a preacher-grocer-postmaster, Mr. Skaggs has breathed the pungent atmosphere of the grocery store from the time he could walk.

Familiar as he is today with every department of the business—advertising, store arrangement, real estate, purchasing—his one great theme is personnel. He realized early that to build an organization of many units, some them 2,000 miles from headquarters, he must have earnest, trustworthy, intelligent helpers. He wanted men able to bear responsibility, with courage to take the blows of misfortune, and with vision to grasp at every advantage.

He also realized that if a man was to assume responsibility he was justly entitled to share in the profits accruing from his efforts. With the opening of his second store Mr. Skaggs devised a bonus plan whereby the manager received a generous salary and in addition a percentage of the net profits of his store. The plan was successful and is still in effect.

So well has he built that those who will honor him most at the anniversary will be the members of the Safeway Employees' Association—Mr. Skaggs' own idea, that association.

At the age of 19 Mr. Skaggs opened a restaurant, confectionery and meat market at Diamond, Missouri, in partnership with a brother. Later his father moved to Oklahoma and at Andarko, Mr. Skaggs, a brother, and his father opened a grocery store.

A few years later the family moved to Southern Idaho, and in 1915, at American Falls, was started the grocery store that became No. 1 in the system. The store grew, particularly when Mr. Skaggs learned that he could buy carloads of peaches, cabbages, and other fresh fruits and vegetables and sell them cheaply and quickly.

Another store was opened in Burley, Idaho. Others came in rapid, but carefully planned succession until 1921 the organization invaded the West coast, beginning at Portland, Oregon. Since that day there has been no limit, save judgment, to the expansion of the Safeway Stores, still following the policy of careful, quantity-buying, quick sales at a small margin of profit.

Demand GOOD LIGHTING

NOT THIS WAY

Inadequate and improper lighting conditions cause near-sightedness and eyestrain in children.

BUT THIS WAY

The STUDY LAMP provides light of the right quality and quantity for reading or studying.

More than half the boys and girls who fail in their studies have defective vision!

That puts it squarely up to parents to provide proper lighting conditions for study and reading. For poor lighting is the chief cause of eye strain and near-sightedness, in children.

If your child holds his book abnormally close to his eyes when reading, or if he squints, or complains of headaches . . . beware!

To make sure that your child will have proper lighting when the duties of the new school year arrive, let one of our representatives make a free survey of your home. The sightmeter will tell you the results. Your local office will be glad to tell you when our lighting representative is available.

Much of the surplus food of the nation, at varying times, has been disposed of by Mr. Skaggs, to the benefit of the producers, the consumers, and himself. Through nationwide sales in lamb at critical times, beef, fruits, vegetables at others, he has eliminated the surpluses and maintained prices, at the requests of producers.

Livestock men, fruit and vegetable growers are his friends. They come to him with their problems and seldom does he fail to throw the great organization's power to their rescue, with resulting bargains to housewives.

Once a contract is signed for the purchase of a huge quantity of any commodity, Mr. Skaggs puts his accountants to work figuring, not "how much can we get for this?" but "how little can we sell this for, and still make a fair profit?"

Thus it is that in his beautiful California home at evening this still-young business man sits watching contentedly the cool mists of the Pacific roll in. At his back is an organization of service, far more perfect than he had dreamed a short time before. Happy in contemplation of the past he is equally certain of the future—a clearly defined program of progress, but only such progress as will benefit the producers of food, the consumers of food, and those thousands of young men and women in his own organization who have bridged the wide gap between the two so efficiently.

INSPIRING OPPORTUNITIES

Lubbock, Texas, Aug. 13, 1935. Many young people are now finding inspiring opportunities in banks, whole sale houses, with various government recovery agencies, and other big employers as a result of a few pleasant months spent in Draughon's Business College of this city, according to the Employment Report just released. In one PWA office alone a number of graduates have accepted excellent positions, with attractive beginning salaries, during the past few days; and hundreds of other office workers will be needed by this and other government agencies as projects develop.

With business and crop conditions the most promising in many years, young people with the foresight to prepare will find the opportunities of a life-time awaiting them through the far-reaching Draughon placement facilities.

Those who are interested in business careers are invited to write for Catalog C showing training and time required, low cost, methods of placing graduates, a long list of recent placements, and starting date of classes. A post card will do. Adv.

MRS. SAM STARRETT BURIED AT CROSBYTON

Mrs. S. F. Sarrett, many years a citizen of the Pansy community on the Plains, died in a Lubbock sanitarium about one o'clock Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Starrett had undergone an operation in which a tumor was removed from the stomach Wednesday morning.

Funeral services were held at the church at Pansy Friday afternoon at four o'clock. Rev. H. T. Harris, the pastor, Rev. J. V. Bilberry of Spur, and Rev. J. A. Brittain of Plainview, both former pastors, made talks in regard to the exemplary life which the deceased had lived. Mrs. Starrett had been a member of the church at Pansy many years. Interment followed in the Crosbyton cemetery.

Mrs. Starrett's maiden name was Miss Belle Leatherwood. She was born in Johnson County 62 years ago. She spent her girlhood period in that county and was married there to Mr. Starrett. She and her husband moved to the Plains country in 1908 and reared a large family—twelve children.

The deceased is survived by the husband, five sons: Jim Starrett, Conda Starrett, Palmer Starrett, and Stacy Starrett of Crosbyton, and Carl Starrett of Silver City, N. Mexico; seven daughters: Mrs. R. M. Spence, Mrs. J. C. McCracken, Mrs. R. C. Rathael, Mrs. D. D. Thornhill and Mrs. Homer Smith of Crosbyton, Mrs. H. F. Woods of Louisiana, and Miss Lena Starrett who is at home. One brother, Henry Leatherwood of Plainview, and one sister, Mrs. E. K. Richardson of Crosbyton, still survive. There are 19 grandchildren in the family. One sister-in-law, Mrs. Lizzie Dillard of Cleburne, attended the funeral services.

Mrs. Starrett was converted when just a child and became affiliated with the Baptist Church. She lived a devoted Christian life, and the influence of her and her husband for good was always outstanding in the community where they lived.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones, of McAdoo, were in our city Saturday doing some trading and greeting friends.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blasts up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blisters. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

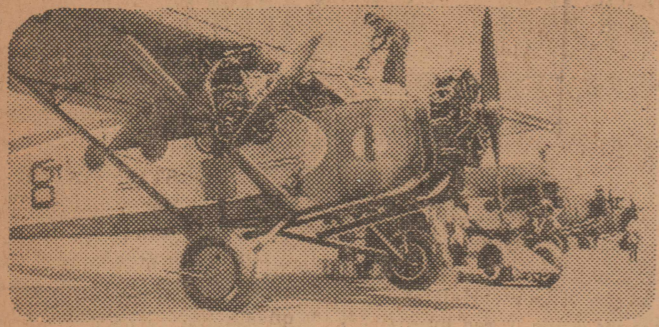

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25¢ at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

In summer when the intense heat creates such a loss of water from the body by way of perspiration this water must be reproduced if health is to be maintained. Another effect of the warm weather is to decrease the appetite so that it is difficult to eat enough food. Both needs of the body may be supplied at once with refreshing beverages from fruit juices. These juices are left from both canned and

When Is a Plum Not a Prune?

Query Which Stumped George Rector Can Now Be Answered, Judge Gordon Reports After Research Work

By JUDGE GORDON
Radio Food News Expert

GEORGE Rector and I conducted a cooking school out west, and after the session was over, housewives asked us all sorts of questions. Mr. Rector and I could answer most of them, but one stumped us. I can answer the question now as I have done some research work on it. "When is a plum not a prune?" was the question.

All prunes are plums, but all plums are not prunes. The prune is "a plum which can be dried without the removal of the pit without fermentation—the result being a fleshy pulp with a high degree of sweetness." Plums which will not do this are not prunes.

No longer is the prune a lowly boarding house dessert. Imaginathe recipes. Our radio experimental kitchen tried them on me, and they were great!

Frozen Prune Whip

- 1/2 cup prune pulp
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 egg white
- 1/2 cup sugar
- Pinch salt
- 1 cup heavy cream

Prepare the prune pulp by rubbing cooked prunes through a sieve. Add the orange and lemon juice. Beat the egg white until stiff and then beat in the sugar. Add the salt. Fold into the prune mixture and add the cream, beaten until stiff. Turn into the freezing tray of a mechanical refrigerator, or pack in a mixture of 2 parts ice to tive cooks have made it the most popular dessert. Last year in California and Oregon, the prune centers of the United States, approximately 410,000,000 pounds of prunes were produced. The prune is America's most economical luxury, as well as being exceedingly healthful. It is rich in vitamins A and B, and in iron, calcium and phosphorus—even the plebeian stewed prune is rich in these health-giving elements.

Of course, some imagination is necessary to make a tempting side dish or dessert but the result can be truly delightful. I like prune whip, and I like spiced prunes as a relish. Here are one of salt. Let stand for 3 or 4 hours, or until frozen.

Spiced Prunes

- 1 pound prunes
- 1 quart water
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon whole allspice
- 1/2 teaspoon whole cloves
- 3 inch pieces stick cinnamon
- 1/2 cup vinegar

Soak the prunes over night in the water. Add the salt, sugar, and the spices tied in a cheesecloth bag. Simmer for 15 minutes; then add the vinegar and cook until the syrup is thick. Serve as a relish with meat.

be served as punch in place of tea or coffee for larger gatherings such as dances, afternoon teas, and receptions. A good general proportion is one half fruit juices and one half water or other liquids such as cold tea or gingerale. Usually a gilded flavor is more pleasing than just one thing, so that two or perhaps even three varieties can be used to an advantage. Here as in so many cases, a good sense of taste is an important element in the success of the undertaking. Some lemon juice should be added in every case as it brings out the flavor by adding water and straining. Beverages of this sort should not be too sweet and, needless to say, should be ice cold.

COMBINATIONS FOR FRUIT JUICES

1. Pineapple Juice, Apricot Juice, Lemon Juice, Ginger Ale.
2. Orange Juice, Pineapple Juice, Lime Juice, Tea.
3. Peach Juice, Fresh Grapes, Lemon, Ginger Ale.
4. Sour Cherry Juice, Grapefruit Juice, Lemon, Tea.
5. Strawberry Preserves, Lemon, Water.

RECIPES

GRAPEFRUIT JUICE PUNCH: One cup grape juice, 1-2 cup lemon juice, 1-2 cup tea, 1-2 cup carbonated water, and 1-4 cup sugar. Plain water or tea may be substituted for the carbonated water if preferred.

ORANGE DELIGHT: Juice of three oranges, and Juice of one lemon. Measure and dilute with equal volume of water. Add one third a cup of sugar, some mint leaves and a red cherry in each glass.

PINEAPPLE LEMONADE: Juice of three lemons, 1-2 cup of pineapple juice, 1-2 cup or more of sugar, and equal volume of water.

DAIRY WEEK STARTED MONDAY

In view of the fact that Governor Allred has proclaimed the week beginning August 12 as Dairy Week, Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, urges with this more extensive use of milk, that both producer and consumer be concerned as to its quality. The use of clean safe milk is a health measure.

Interest in improved methods of producing wholesome milk has increased greatly in the past two decades and the striking advance in milk control has been responsible for the enormous saving in infant life.

Milk is perishable and especially during hot weather. To insure milk of good quality requires cleanliness, sterile utensils, protection against flies, careful bottling and maintenance at low temperature. The presence in fresh milk of large numbers of bacteria, due to insanitary methods of production, is a health hazard.

Among the diseases which may be transmitted through milk are tuberculosis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, septic sore throat, and undulant fever. Numerous milk-borne outbreaks of disease occur every year in this country from the use of milk that might have been safe with proper care.

We should firmly insist that the milk be carefully produced, so that we will have the maximum practicable protection along the line from the cow to the consumer.

PARTY FAVORS

YOU MAY have always believed that marshmallows were for eating only, but if so you have been mistaken. Of course the army of marshmallow party favors may be said, strictly speaking, to be edible, but most of them are such fetching creatures that all but the youngest admirers will want to preserve them intact.

The marshmallow pup, for example—you may call him a lamb or even a lion if you prefer. His body is two plump marshmallows fastened together with toothpicks, with a third one for his head at an appropriate angle. Cloves make his features, which have an appealing humanness, while his legs and his cocky tail are jelly strings. With only a little coaxing he may be taught to sit up and beg, or do all sorts of tricks to amuse youngsters and their elders equally.

And who could be so irreverent as to eat a Pilgrim father, sober in a black crepe paper cloak and high hat? He stands with such squareness on his two stout marshmallow legs as to impress the most frivolous snowman, all unclad, with marshmallow arms akimbo; or a soldier with a cocked paper hat and a toothpick musket, is less solemn but still an arresting figure on any party table.

Elephants and kangaroos and pussy cats, as well as almost any other beast or fowl can be evolved from marshmallows with the aid of scissors, toothpicks, jelly strings, wire, and perhaps a handful of nuts and raisins. To make the work easy, wet the tools with which you work—especially the scissors and toothpicks if fancy directs you to anchor your creation to a place card, that can be done without glue by using a little water.

the Division of Cotton Marketing at Austin, Texas on the quality of cotton classed from the Texas crop shows that there is an increased percentage of Extra White grades this week as compared with last week. The per cent of cotton classed in the Extra White Standards is less than 10 per cent, most of which is Middling and lower.

The report shows that of the cotton classed last week, only 9.5 per cent is Strict Middling White, and 53.5 per cent is Middling White; Strict Low and Low Middling White is estimated to be about 18 per cent.

Last week Spotted cotton of the grades Strict Middling and above constituted a little more than 8 per cent of all the cotton classed, and Middling Spotted more than 2 per cent.

Less than one per cent is lower than Middling Spotted. Nearly 80 per cent of the cotton classed this week is Middling White, Extra White, and below in grade.

The report shows that of the cotton classed last week only a negligible proportion is shorter than 7-8 inch, and less than 2 per cent is 7-8 inch.

The largest proportion of cotton classed last week is 15-16 inch, this length being nearly 57 per cent, and one inch and longer cotton being over 41 per cent.

Of the cotton classed last week and to date, 99.6 per cent is tenderable under Section 5 of the U. S. Cotton Futures Act.

Guy Travis, of Lamesa, representative of the Brown County Life Insurance Company, was in our city the first of the week in the interests of his company.

Mrs. T. J. R. Swafford, of Merkel, is in our city visiting her husband and looking for a home to move into. She is desirous to be a Spur citizen.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moore, of Spur Tailors, left Saturday for points in Colorado to enjoy a few days outing and vacation. They were accompanied by an uncle and aunt from Anson.

A. E. McClain, of Catfish community, was attending to business matters in our city Wednesday. Stated there was only a light shower in his community Tuesday morning.

VENTILATED PANTRY FOR CANNED FOOD

"With the ventilated pantry which any home may have it is possible to keep the canned foods at least 15 degrees cooler than the rest of the house," Mrs. W. O. Garrison, Red Top club, told club women of the county Saturday when they met to hear reports of the Short Course.

"The ventilated pantry on exhibit at the Short Course was in the kitchen of the Rural Work Center and was a room about four feet square with shelves on the walls. In the floor and in the ceiling were holes 22 by 9 inches covered with screen to keep out insects and to allow cool air in and warm air to escape. The shelves were made of three inch boards spaced about a half inch apart so that there was a circulation of air on the shelves about the cans and jars," Mrs. Garrison said.

CLUB WOMEN HEAR REPORTS

Members from nine home demonstration clubs in the county heard reports of the recent Short Course in an all-day meeting held at the East Ward

School in Spur Saturday. Demonstrations were reproduced and reports of all lectures and recreational programs were given by those attending the Short Course for the ones who did not attend. Mrs. C. W. Van Cleve, Prairie Chapel, who attended the recreation programs each afternoon led the group Saturday in songs, games, and stunts that may be used in the local club meetings or other community gatherings.

"There are three periods in Extension Work in Texas," said Lucille Harris, Espuela club, in quoting Miss Mildred Horton, Vice-Director and State Home Demonstration Agent, in her talk on 'Home Demonstration Club Women of Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow'. The first period from 1912 to 1918 was a period where the individual was helped; the second period, 1919 to 1929, the emphasis was placed on the clubs; the third period, from 1929 to the present time the emphasis has been on the demonstration."

"If we are to read just agriculture and place rural life on a higher plane we can do it by studying the philosophy of Seaman A. Knapp and O. B. Martin and make the Demonstration Philosophy our guiding star. Our present interpretations of the demonstration idea came from Mr. Martin and our present success came from that," said Miss Horton.

Plan For Employment

LUBBOCK—The current Employment Report just issued by Draughon's Business Colleges, of which E. C. Hutton is local manager, shows a long list of young people who have been placed in excellent positions during recent months. Because the students recommended by Draughon's Colleges have been making good for more than fifty years, many firms continue to call Draughon's for help even though they may have many applications on file. A new illustrated booklet called "Planning Your Future" describes the far-reaching methods for placing graduates, training and time required, cost of tuition, etc. Young people interested in good starting positions and opportunities for advancement, should mail Coupon at once for free copy of "Planning Your Future"—showing how we can train and place you, at a saving in time and expense. MARKETING is pleasanter these days when so many foods are again reasonable in price. Meats while not appreciably lower, have apparently reached their peak for the time being. Most vegetables are cheap, some are moderate, very few high. Butter is one-third cheaper than it was a few weeks ago. Eggs have maintained price and quality but are reasonable. Seafood and fish of many kinds are plentiful and cheap. A wide choice is possible in fruits as winter fruits linger and summer fruits are in market, including peaches, melons and berries, all reasonably priced. YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
 Director, Physical and Health Education
 New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

Summer Camps

The summer camp is one of our most valuable gifts to childhood. There are camps to fit almost every purse, and nearly all give more than money can buy.

In selecting a camp, look first to the leaders. If there is understanding of children, kindness, and tolerance, you have a safe foundation. To run a successful camp, one must have a sincere love of children. Look next to the camp facilities, especially sanitary features and water supply.

Inquire into the daily menu. Are the food essentials provided, both in quality and amount? How about the milk supply? Children on vacation will need lots of it. At home, vegetables can be purchased in cans; at camp, they should be bought fresh from the farm.

Finally inspect the program, but be wary of the overloaded day. Fatigue may offset every benefit the camp has to offer. There should be outdoor sports, woodcraft, scouting, handcraft in moderation, balanced by long restful nights of sleep in the open. If you can afford a camp for the son or the daughter, by all means untie the apron strings. If it does no more than that, the camp justifies its existence.

"Do explorers drink milk?" asked a little girl. Dr. Ireland tells next week how she was answered.

Fashion Marches On Foundations Tell Inside Story Of Fashions For Larger Women

by Mme. LANE BRYANT
 Noted Fashion Counselor

WHAT figure the Larger Woman will cut in the matter of dress is at times determined by her choice of foundation garments. They are the inside story of what she should wear.

To begin with, there are two major types of the Larger Woman. One, we stylists call regular, and the other irregular.

Sketched to the right is a lady of regular proportions, in an all-in-one garment—which is the type she should wear. She is 44" bust, and may be anywhere from 46" to 49" hips. And while the lady to the left doesn't meet these measurements, because she is an irregular, she has achieved practically the same results with two separate garments.

But, if you are like the lady to the left and your problem is a large diaphragm, you would be wise to wear a corset a few inches higher at the waistline, and a longer brassiere attached to it. And regardless of type, if you are large through the shoulders, you should be wearing a garment with built-up top, instead of shoulder straps. For extra control at the bust, there are brassieres of heavier fabrics, or all-in-ones with top of self-material flat rather than shaped

Though, if you prefer the more youthful line at the bust, there are shaped or uplift types both in brassiere and all-in-one.

Both types of garments sometimes have inner belts which offer the double advantage of special support, and the nice flat look of an over-all top garment. Some are fitted, with curved elastic bands, to give particular support to pendulous abdomens.

The all-in-one shown here is made with coiled wire, instead of ordinary boning. This looks like a regular spring, flattened, and is preferred by women who don't like stiff boning.

But whether you prefer the stiff or the flexible boning, the garment you choose should support, and at the same time it should fit the body in motion. It should be designed with inserts, hookings, and lacings as to give with every move you make. I feel that the Larger Woman should be thoroughly at ease in her clothes—at rest, at play, or even running for a street car.

Would you like a free fashion booklet which will tell you about the newest styles? All you need do is write me: Mme. Lane Bryant, Dept. C, Fashion News Bureau, 6 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

Texas After The Racketeer

There's this much you can say for a rattlesnake—At least he warns before he strikes!!

As much cannot be said for the stock promoter and seller of the blue sky and boundless sea. By subtle means, fair or foul, he gains the confidence of his victim, fleeces him or her of every available dollar and is gone again.

The new law became effective May 23rd of this year. Today a few of the

Patent Applied For

To walk with or against traffic, that seems to be a moot question. If paths or sidewalks were placed along main highways, pedestrians would not be required to walk in the highway, where many are at the mercy of drivers.

But as long as such paths or sidewalks are not provided for the safety of pedestrians, it might be a sensible thing for pedestrians to think about the advantages of walking on the left side of the road, facing traffic.

When pedestrians walk on the right side of the road they are somewhat in the position of the person pictured above, equipped with a periscope to see what is coming from behind. Although not as many pedestrians are hit while walking on highways as under some other circumstances, the death rate is very high. Out of a total of 13,220 pedestrians hit while walking on the highway in 1934, there were 2,690 who were killed, according to figures computed by the Travelers Insurance Company.

Experience shows that there is no easier way to get one's name in the newspaper than by using the streets and the highways in a careless manner.

as. Which crowd are you going to run with? Will this grand old state of ours, on August 24th, follow the constructive leadership of the righteous forces which have built homes, established businesses, improved cities, erected schools and colleges, founded orphanages, and helped suffering humanity on its way to God or will this state repudiate such constructive leadership and follow after the breweries, the corrupt politicians, and all the other forces of vice and saddle-back upon us the curse of the open saloon and the bawdy houses?

YOU DON'T HAVE TO "BREAK IN" THE FORD V-8

You can drive it 50 miles an hour the day you buy it

THE FORD V-8 is ready for normal driving when you buy it. There is no tedious period of breaking-in for 500 or 1000 miles. You can drive it up to 50 miles an hour the first day. And after the first hundred miles you can drive it as fast as you desire.

The reason for this is as important as the result. The Ford V-8 needs no breaking-in because of unusual accuracy in the manufacture of moving parts and the smoothness of bearing surfaces. Clearances are correct when you buy the car. It is not necessary to depend on a long wearing-in period to eliminate tightness and insure smooth running. Longer life, greater economy and better performance are bound to result from such precision methods. The Ford V-8 gives you fine-car construction, along with fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty.

Meet Good Gulf!

If you haven't had Gulf gas in your tank lately, try it just 3 weeks and discover what it can do.

Then see if you don't agree with an army of amateur "testers"...

750 said "Put 'er there"

750 car owners agreed to fill their tanks with Gulf for 3 weeks—to check it against their regular brands for (1) mileage, (2) starting, (3) pick-up, (4) power, (5) all-around performance.

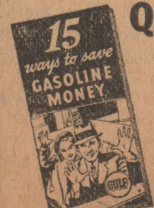

Result: Pals for Life

At the end of 3 weeks, 7 out of 10 owners found Gulf better in one or more of the 5 points—many on all five.

Why? That's easy! Gulf is 5 good gasolines in one. Controlled refining gives it not only 2 or 3, but all five ideal gasoline qualities.

Regarding the National Housing Act

tangible results may be summed up as follows:

Two sets of operators are under indictment awaiting trial for violation of the law. Other cases are pending. The operations of one of these parties extended from coast to coast and Canada to Mexico, with headquarters in San Antonio. He is known to have received as high as $5,000 daily from the investing public, most of whom were not able to afford the loss. The promoter and his associates lived in royal luxury and ease.

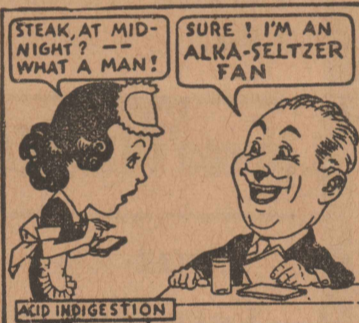

In El Paso a gang that has mulcted some $300,000 or more from credulous investors in the past four years, folded their tents and departed shortly after the arrival in that city of an investigator from the Department of State. It is impossible to compute the saving thus afforded. In another Texas city a stock salesman returned $4,000 to one of his victims when apprised that the State Department was investigating the matter.

"But the job has only begun," Secretary Mann declares. "Our objective is to rid this State of these racketeers, as far as is humanly possible. It can be done only with the assistance of the people of Texas. No purchaser should buy any form of security without first determining if the seller is registered and licensed by the Department of State. We should likewise be apprised of cases of fraud. The time has come in Texas when the securities racketeer must take his rightful place alongside the convicted murderer, hijacker and common thief—behind prison bars."

WHO WANTS REPEAL?

The following editorial is taken from the publication "The Voice of Temperance" which is edited by Sam Morris who is making addresses over Texas in the interest of prohibition. "The Protestant ministers of Texas, do they want it? The church members of Texas, do they want it? The Independent Order of Good Templars, do they want it? The Anti-Saloon League, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the W. C. T. U., the Texas drays, do these forces want repeal? No. Well, then, do the women's clubs want it, do the schools, college professors, and educators want it, do public school children want it? Do Mother's Clubs want it? Do the Humane Societies want it? Do the relief forces want it? Do the charity organizations want it? The answer is ever the same, 'No.' Well, who then does want it? Do the railroad employers want it? Do the airplane transport companies want it? Do the wives of drunkards want it? The Mothers' Congress, the World Purity Federation, the Federated Clubs, the Christian Endeavor Societies, the Epworth Leagues, the B. Y. P. U.'s, do these forces want our prohibition laws repealed? No, well, then who does? It couldn't be the fire departments; it couldn't be the insurance companies; it couldn't be the state hospitals for the insane, the poor houses and the schools for the feeble-minded because they only get the victims of drink, not any revenue from them. It couldn't be the reformers of the country, surely it isn't the Salvation Army, or the Volunteers of America. Well, who then is it that wants prohibition repealed, for everybody knows that liquor debauches, wrecks, and ruins more people than any other scourge upon mankind. I'll tell you who it is that wants it. Here are some of them: the breweries, the distillers, the saloon-keepers, the gamblers, the toughs, the bar maids, the dance hall keepers, the bums, the dead-beats, the white slavers, the procurers, the keepers of disreputable houses, the ward healers, the peanut politicians, the shyster lawyers, and all those who care nothing for the souls of men and women but who are interested in commercializing on vice, who are interested in grafting on immorality, who want to profiteer on the profligacy of your sons and daughters. That's the crowd that wants this law repealed." It is a choice of leadership in Tex-

BE WISE - ALKALIZE!

Culinary Jingles

by Marcia Camp

I've travelled the whole world over
And partaken of heathen fare,
I've dined on dishes exotic
And nibbled at viands rare.
But even while thus regaling,
This was my heart's deep dream,
"Oh, for a wedge of American pie,
Oh, for some home-made ice cream!"

IF A VOTE were to be taken to determine the most popular of all American desserts, pie and ice cream would probably be close rivals for supremacy. If pie came out on top, it would probably be because that is generally home-made and regarded as a fundamental test of culinary skill, while ice cream is most frequently ordered casually from the corner drug store.

Even after the mechanical refrigerator came along, homemakers went on buying instead of making ice cream. What they bought was always creamy, whatever other faults it might have. What they made by the old recipes, was far too likely to be a mass of tiny ice crystals, no matter how many expensive ingredients they put into it.

And then along came marlows! Marlows are ice creams made with marshmallows, and they have the creamy texture of the nicest commercial ice cream you ever tasted. You know the incredible velvety smoothness of melted marshmallows? Well, the marlows have just enough of that smoothness; but the flavor disappears entirely! Nobody would ever suspect that you had used marshmallows in your ice cream unless you chose to enlighten them. The marshmallows are the only mystery about marlows. Once the secret is out, anybody can make them, and make them perfectly.

Even for the most gala occasion, the homemaker can set about making a marlow with perfect composure and no fear of failure. All she need concern herself about is the recipe itself, which can be made the day before. From the moment a marlow is placed in the freezing trays of the mechanical refrigerator it can take care of itself until the moment of serving. Or, if you prefer, use an ice cream freezer and omit agitating. An ordinary mold will do, in an ice-salt pack, if you see it has a good cover, sealed with adhesive tape. When the recipe selected is Festival marlow, any hostess may be confident of an appropriate climax to the most elaborate dinner.

FESTIVAL MARLOW

- 3 tb. raisins
- 1 tb. orange marmalade
- 2 tb. figs
- 10 marshmallows
- 2 tb. candied cherries
- 12 blanched almonds
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup candied teas
- 1/2 cup pineapple
- 1/2 pint whipping cream

Finely chop the raisins, figs and candied cherries, and cook them until tender with the water. Add the marmalade, marshmallows and steam them until the marshmallows are entirely melted. Add the almonds, chopped fine, and the vanilla; and cool. When the mixture is cold and slightly stiffened, combine with the stiffly beaten cream, pour into refrigerator trays, and freeze without stirring.

Lubbock Making South Plains Fair Bigger And Better

A quarter of a million people are expected to trek through the turnstiles at the 22nd annual Panhandle South Plains Fair at Lubbock September 23 to 28, inclusive, officials of the fair estimate.

They figure it this way. Last year a total of 143,265 men, women and children were checked in at the various gates during the six days. It will be remembered that the weather was dry and the crops were short last year and few cotton pickers came in to help gather the short crop. This year crops are showing promise of a bumper yield. Thousands of cotton pickers will be required to help in the harvest, and fair officials estimate that the attendance at the fair will swell in proportion.

A number of new departments and new features will be added to the fair this year. Parker F. Prouty, president, and A. B. Davis, manager, have announced, some being a direct result of the fact that no State Fair will be held in Texas this year.

The officials of the Texas Extension Service, ordinarily extremely busy with the State Fair, will be free to concentrate all efforts in their respective districts on district fairs. County educational exhibits, portraying the work of the home demonstration clubs under the supervision of county home demonstration agents will be set up in the Woman's building.

A forty percent increase in premiums of the Milking Shorthorn division will be offered, due to the fact that the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association will use moneys usually spent on premiums at the State Fair at the Panhandle South Plains Fair and at other district fairs in Texas.

SON KILLED IN WAR, AGED PARENTS JUST FIND THEY ARE DUE BENEFITS

Mr. and Mrs. John Creation of 306 East 11th Street, Austin, learned in late August, 1918, that their only son, Leroy Bats Creation, had been killed in action at Hill 212 in France. They have been receiving monthly payments from his insurance in recent years, but only Thursday learned they might receive also a federal benefit amounting to $35 a month, simply by applying for it. Meanwhile life has been hard for the Creations, who are 80 and 72 years of age. They own their home, but getting along, even for old folks, on a limited insurance income isn't easy. Wynn Goode, State Service Officer of the American Legion, who has his office on the first floor of the State Land Office Building, Thursday filled out the application which will make life a bit easier for them. Mr. Goode, has been doing this for six years, as State Service Officer, and his predecessors in office have been on the job since 1924.

Any widow or a World War veteran killed in action or who dies as a result of war injuries or any dependent parent of such a Veteran is entitled to a monthly benefit payment upon making application, Mr. Goode said. Though this fact has been widely advertised, there are yet many like the Creations of Austin who do not yet know about the service, he said.

Mrs. O. Moore Hall, Mrs. P. A. Ramsey and Mrs. W. R. Jimison left Wednesday for Denton where they will visit relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Alph Glasgow left Sunday for points in Tennessee where they will visit friends and enjoy a vacation. They expect to be away about two weeks.

W. A. Harris, of Espuela community, was transacting business in our city Saturday and stated he expected to leave this week for Tennessee to visit his father.

A message received Wednesday about noon announced the arrival of a son in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pike Nichols, Jr. at Abilene. The little man arrived about 10:30 Wednesday morning and will be known as Pike III.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

THE prices of meats and poultry have continued to lose altitude during the past week, lamb and fowl most spectacularly. Egg prices have not changed but lower prices are anticipated for butter.

Green beans are temporarily the brightest star in the vegetable firmament with peas, carrots, beets, cauliflower and lettuce almost equally so. They are all plentiful and consequently cheap. Onions, celery, broccoli and tomatoes are fairly high.

Melons and berries are the best fruit choices, particularly cantaloupes, honeydews and watermelons, blackberries, raspberries and huckleberries or blueberries. Here are three menus made up from reasonable foods adapted to different budget levels:

Low Cost Dinner

Cold Cuts Potato Salad Cole Slaw Bread and Butter Fruit Gelatin Soft Custard Tea or Coffee Milk

FOURTH OF JULY week is the beginning of the real picnic season and picnic foods are plentiful and attractive in price. Frying chickens, eggs, for deviling, watermelon tomatoes, celery, olives, pickles, salad materials, lady-to-eat meats, fresh fruits, suggest picnics.

For plates at home keep on hand a variety of vegetables, raw or cooked and marinated, to be served plain or as vegetable salads. Vegetables in variety are plentiful and cheap.

The meat picture has changed in that the price of beef is now moderate and lamb, though still moderate, higher. Veal and pork are also reasonable.

Melons are at their best, cantaloupes plentiful and cheap, honeydews and honeyballs moderate. Small size oranges are cheap.

Here are three menus made up from reasonable foods adapted to different budget levels:

Milk and Explorers

That was the problem bothering one little girl who was convinced of the value of milk. "What do Artie explorers do?" was the question put to her school teacher. And again "Do they take cows on ocean liners carrying little boys and girls?"

Shows thought, doesn't it? As a matter of fact, it's the keystone of the educational arch. Curiosity. And that very wise teacher took advantage of her opportunity. So the class was launched upon a series of investigations and live discussions. They discovered the meaning of pasteurization, bottling, germ free milk, refrigeration on board ship and in dining cars. And in a most convincing way they reassured themselves of the importance of milk to adults as well as to children. For they learned that explorers and sailors do indeed use milk in huge quantities.

How should you protect your child's health in summer? Dr. Ireland will discuss it next week.

SAFEWAY STORES

Invite you to their 20th BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Just twenty years ago in the little town of American Falls, Idaho, M. B. Skaggs, a young man from Anadarko, Okla., opened a small grocery store, which today is known as Safeway Store No. 1. From this modest beginning the organization has grown to be one of the important food concerns of the nation. This little store for the year of 1915 was an outstanding, modern, sanitary store, selling well-known brands of merchandise priced at consistently low every day prices, enabling food shoppers to save substantially on their purchases. No greater compliment can be paid us on this, our Twentieth Birthday, than the loyal patronage of the hundreds of thousands of patrons who have made our success a lasting one. In sincere appreciation, we offer this week's outstanding food values.
