

DICKENS COUNTY HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS REPORT MUCH ACTIVITY

CLUB HAS PLANT CONTEST

In a contest to identify native plants the McAdoo 4-H club girls learned Tuesday morning that they need to study their plants more closely. To learn native flowers, shrubs, and trees is one of the goals in club work this year.

The Ball Jar contest which consists of one quart each fruit and vegetables will be held at the next meeting of the club that will be an achievement program at the home of the garden demonstrator.

Members present were: Clara Rich, Daisy Jo Rose, Louise Dozier, Dorothy Lee Hines, Doris Early, Mary Lee Brock, Wanda McLaughlin, Ruth Ward, and LaRue Holmes. —Reporter

CLUB WORKS ON RECIPE FILES

The McAdoo Home Demonstration Club met in an all day meeting with Mrs. Leonard Cox, Tuesday, September 23, each member bringing a covered dish.

The morning was spent in making recipe files. Miss Pratt was there in the afternoon for the regular meeting. She gave information concerning the Ball Jar contest and judging the yard of the demonstrator. She also discussed storing dry foods and seeds, and the labeling and arrangement of canned foods.

Those making recipe files were: Mrs. A. Y. Allen, Mrs. Leonard Cox, Mrs. Norman Eldredge, Mrs. C. A. Allen, Mrs. Johnnie Wooley, Mrs. J. S. Hodges, Mrs. Jim Early, Mrs. Price Brownlow, Mrs. G. G. Allen, and Aline Allen. Others present were: Mrs. L. B. Fox, Mrs. Jim Eldredge, and Mrs. D. E. Woods.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Jim Eldredge, Tuesday, October 8th. —Reporter

CLUB HOLDS ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAM

"I am glad I was a yard demonstrator for I made improvements I know I never would have made if I had not been demonstrator," Mrs. T. D. Hale told members of the Prairie Chapel home demonstration club Wednesday afternoon at her achievement meeting.

Only two members laid flag-stone walks but all the cooperators repaired their yard fences and removed the rubbish and learned and located five native shrubs, a report of the cooperators showed.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. F. Alexander, Mrs. Leslie Peak, Mrs. Johnnie Hale, Mrs. R. C. Alexander, Mrs. C. W. VanCleve, visitors, Mrs. Vaughn White, Mrs. Carl Randolph, Miss Pratt and Mrs. O. C. Thomas of Spur who judged the yard.

DEMONSTRATOR TELLS OF WORK

"The first thing we did to improve my yard was to remove the old picket fence, reset the posts and build a wire fence," reports Mrs. T. D. Hale of Prairie Chapel club. "Then the ground was broken deep and levelled for the sand had drifted in until the yard was not level. We laid a flagstone walk using red shale rock that is very pretty with the green grass growing between them. We set the Bermuda grass roots in rows about eighteen inches apart. As it grew we set runners out between the rows until it is now a solid turf across the front. We have set the sides and back yard this fall."

"We had enough trees already growing. I set a few shrubs in the foundation planting and will complete it this fall," added Mrs. Hale.

R. H. Hill, of Duncan Flat community, was transacting business in our city Monday.

TELLS STORY OF ACHIEVEMENT

"I have learned a lot through my work as a yard improvement demonstrator because I didn't realize what moving our yard fence 18 feet could do for the yard. Our yard was too small for a country home. I learned that you must have foundation plantings to tie your house to the ground," Mrs. Floyd Barnett, of the Soldier Mound home demonstration club, told her cooperators and visitors when she had her achievement program.

"After moving our fence we took out two dead cottonwood trees from the center of the front yard and filled in a bad wash using 20 loads of soil. One of the goals in yard work was to lay a flagstone walk so every time the car left the place we collected rocks. In a short time we had enough to lay a walk from the porch to the gate and a stepping stone walk from the back door to the outbuildings."

"We set trees, foundation shrubs and grass in March. We used flowering shrubs, as spirea, weigelia, crepe myrtle and lantana and native ones as sage, beargrass, wild currant and wild plum. My planting plan will be completed in December when I put out the evergreens in the foundation planting. I started a rose garden with six plants," continued Mrs. Barnett.

"We have a well-sodded front lawn and will set the rest of the yard next year. The grass has made the place so much cooler, kept out the dirt, and has served as a play ground for the family. When we would finish our evening meal, Betty Jo would say, 'Let's go sit on the grass.'"

"My family deserves more credit than I for what has been done in the yard for without their help my accomplishments would be small. They have been only too glad to carry out every suggestion our home demonstration agent has made about improving the yard," added Mrs. Barnett.

ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAMS ORDER OF MONTH

Yard achievement programs are being held in the women's home demonstration clubs this month, finishing up the demonstration for the year. The county home demonstration council is giving a scholarship to the Short Course next year to the demonstrator who scores the highest on her yard. The yards are being judged the afternoon of the achievement program by the following score card: general appearance of the place, 15; planting plan complete, 25; report of cooperators, 25; demonstrator's story, 15; exhibit table of native shrubs ready to transplant, 10; number names in guest book, 10. Mrs. O. C. Thomas, Spur, is judging the yards. Judging will not be completed until the last of the month when the last club has held its achievement program.

Demonstrators' yards that will be judged are Mrs. T. D. Hale, Prairie Chapel; Mrs. Floyd Barnett, Soldier Mound; Mrs. R. L. Griffin, Duck Creek; Mrs. Tom Gilmore, Twin Wells; Mrs. R. Y. Allen, McAdoo; Miss Bertha Cooper, Chandler; Mrs. Matt Howell, Red Top; and Mrs. E. A. Bailey, Friendship.

CLUB FILES RECIPES

"The home demonstration club cook book is my best source of recipes," said Miss Cora Durham, farm food supply demonstrator for the Duck Creek home demonstration club, when the club met in her home to file recipes. "I have copied many of the recipes from it for my files for I did not want to cut the book."

Mrs. J. L. Hagins, who was the club's delegate to Short Course gave a report of her trip.

Those present and working on files were: Mrs. E. Durham, Mrs. J. L. Hagins, Mrs. C. R. Bennett, Mrs. H. A. McLaurin, Mrs. E. E. Hagins and Miss Cora Durham. —Reporter

HARLEY SADLER BRINGS BACK STREET PARADE

Harley Sadler and Bailey Bros. Circus will be in Spur, Monday, October 28, under the auspices of the American Legion. Harley has been in Spur many times with his theatre, and many friends will be glad to see him again.

One of the outstanding features with the Harley Sadler-Bailey Bros. Circus is the parade of The Gay Nineties. The only motorized circus in the world today carrying parade equipment, Cages of wild animals drawn by imported shetland ponies, horses, clowns, dogs and monkeys, bands and calliope. The Bailey Bros. Circus parade has one of the oldest band warrens there is to be found in the world today, being over seventy-five years old. This parade is very beautiful both in color and appearance, and here you will see the worlds largest elephant, standing over fourteen feet high. Worth traveling miles to see. This parade will delight the hearts of everyone. Watch the newspapers for announcements.

Governor Allred Rebukes Memphis Police

ADVISES CHIEF ABOUT EX-CONVICTS

"Let That Be A Lesson to Officers"

The following letter, which is self-explanatory, was sent by Gov. James V. Allred to Chief of Police Will Lee of Memphis, Tenn., recently. Its contents are timely in view of the Governor's state-wide move to establish county parole boards and thereby provide a means of rehabilitating pardoned and paroled convicts.

September 24, 1935.
Mr. Will D. Lee,
Chief of Police
Memphis, Tennessee.

Dear Sir:
I am in receipt of your letter of September 20th returning the copy of the parole of Carl Thompson, and in which you state:

"We are in receipt of a letter from your Secretary Edward Clark under date of the 18th inst, attaching carbon of your proclamation number 28051, paroling Carl Mack Thompson, a Texas convict, to me, without even showing me the courtesy of asking whether such an arrangement was satisfactory or not.

"We have our own criminals to deal with and do not take kindly to having them imported from other states into Tennessee. We are at a loss to understand why you should presume, if you did presume, that this convict should be paroled to me. It is unfair and without justification.

"Your proclamation is returned herewith and in the event this paroled convict shows up at Police Headquarters he will be immediately taken into custody as an undesirable person and charged with vagrancy, which charge will be prosecuted vigorously and this procedure will be followed as long as he attempts to remain in Memphis.

"In writing you as I have I beg to assure you no discourtesy is intended, but I have a duty to perform as Chief of Police of this City and I intend to do this without fear or favor."

The parole to which you refer is self-explanatory, in that it is "conditioned up his" (Thompson) "conducting himself in an EXEMPLARY MANNER; and conditioned further that he is hereby paroled to the Chief of Police of Memphis, Tennessee, to whom he shall be held accountable for his action and TO WHOM HE SHALL REPORT AT SUCH TIMES AND PLACES AS THE SAID CHIEF OF POLICE, TENNESSEE, SHALL REQUIRE. If he is guilty at any time of ANY MISCONDUCT or violation of the law, or for any other reason the Governor may deem sufficient (including any facts not known to the Governor at the time of this clemency), this general parole is subject to revocation at the Governor's discretion, with or without hearing, as the Governor may determine, and the said Carl Mack Thompson may be, by order of the Governor, returned to me and confined in the penitentiary until the end of his sentence."

I confess that I was "presumptuous" in paroling this man to you. I presumed the great City of Memphis had a human-hearted chief of police who would at least be fair, who would be interested in helping rather than kicking down a man who has been in the penitentiary. You are the first chief of police to whom I have paroled a man who has declined the opportunity to be of some service.

Frankly, I assumed that the best evidence of a man's desire to be a law abiding citizen would be his willingness (as provided in the parole) to report to police headquarters just as often as the chief of police might require.

As to his being sent to Memphis—if you had waited until he reported to you you would have found that his mother, wife and child live there. Thompson had expressed a desire to return to his family. The district attorney who prosecuted him and the injured parties all recommended Thompson's parole because, in their minds, there was a doubt as to his guilt. In a recent letter this man's mother says that she is 63 years old; that her health is bad and this son is "all we have to depend on for a living and I believe God will answer my prayers—never had any trouble before and I pray my broken heart will be relieved by sending my dear son home." I am sure your statement that he would be promptly arrested when he reports to you will hardly be God's answer to anybody's prayer.

Frankly, Mr. Lee, I am surprised that a man big enough to be chief of police of Memphis would make the astounding statement that:

"In the event this paroled convict shows up at Police Headquarters he will be immediately taken into custody as an undesirable person and charged with vagrancy, which charge will be prosecuted vigorously and this procedure will be followed so long as he attempts to remain in Memphis."

Evidently you figure that if a man has ever been in the penitentiary he ought to be there the rest of his life; and that it is your duty, as an officer, to make it as hard on him as possible so that he will be forced to return to crime, ultimately winding up where you think he ought to be always—in the penitentiary. Frankly, this attitude on the part of a few police officers throughout the country is responsible for one of society's greatest problems—that of rehabilitation of convicted men. It is too often true that when a man comes out of the penitentiary he cannot get a job; if he conceals it and gets a job, he is promptly discharged when people find out about it. All too frequently he is treated as you think he ought to be—by being arrested because he is an ex-convict.

Society's responsibility does not end with prosecution of a man for crime or with his conviction, EVEN FOR VAGRANCY. I hope upon reflection you will conclude that you ought not to arrest a man simply because he has been in the penitentiary in this or any other state. I am sure if you continue this attitude—of arresting and prosecuting a man because he has been in the penitentiary—you will not only have failed as a chief of police, but as a man. In hours when you must be alone with your conscience, no great comforts can come to you from such an inhuman course.

I do not want to be officious, but you saw fit to lecture the Governor of Texas, who is truly concerned not only with the welfare of men turned out of the penitentiary but with what he deems to be the coldly cruel attitude of the chief of police of Memphis, Tennessee; hence, these statements are made, not by way of retaliation but rather as an appeal to you to be the kind of man the citizens of Memphis undoubtedly would want you to be. I am sure the attitude taken by you in your letter does not reflect the sentiments of the splendid citizenship of Memphis.

I have prevailed on one of the great est Christian organizations in the world, the Salvation Army, of Memphis, to undertake this responsibility—which would have required but little of your time and might have paid rich dividends in the form of a restored manhood.

I trust upon reflection you will try to present a little more of the milk of human kindness in your official attitude.
Sincerely yours,
James V. Allred, Governor of Texas.

Project Gives City Complete Net Work Of Paved Streets

it certainly is a big program for a town the size of Spur.

The work will be a triple covering treatment. The first covering will consist of a priming coat of oil base, which will be followed by a double coating of asphalt surface treatment. When completed it will be a similar pavement to the highway between Spur and Dickens which has proven very satisfactory to the traveling public.

The paving project will include paving Granite Street to Calvert Avenue; First Street and Third Street, will be paved between Cowan Avenue on the East side to Calvert Avenue on the west side of town. Second Street will be paved from Willard Avenue east to Cowan. Harris Street will be paved from the city limits on the east side to the city limits on the west side—the full length of Harris Street. Fifth Street will be paved from Willard Avenue east to Trumbull Avenue. Sixth Street, where the gins are located, will be paved from Parker Avenue east to the city limits.

The various avenues are: Calvert Avenue will be paved from Harris Street north past the High School. Miller Avenue will be paved from Harris Street north to Hill Street. Carroll Avenue will be paved from the railroad crossing north full length, and the railroad crossing will be paved to the south side of the railroad right of way. Willard Avenue will be paved from Sixth Street north full length. Burlington Avenue is paved except between Sixth Street and the depot and this block will be put in. Trumbull Avenue, Keeler Avenue and Cowan Avenue each will be paved from Sixth Street north full length.

Since Highway 18 has been routed out Hill Street, that work will be included in the highway construction when the east end of Highway 18 is paved.

With the above program any one can understand how near our town will have a system of paved streets complete. Almost every block in town will have been paved when this project shall have been completed. When completed this will make Spur one of the cleanest, prettiest towns in all of Texas. Our city authorities are to be commended for their work in this respect and everybody will be glad when the streets are paved.

Where people do not have in their curb and gutter on streets where the paving will be done, the city authorities will furnish the sand and gravel and do the work free and the property owner will furnish just the cement used. This will be a very economical way for property owners to get in their curb and gutter and improve the looks of their property.

3 Ways Disposing Of Tax Exemption Cotton Certificates

open to all producers who wish to participate.

As in 1934 Producers have the same privilege in 1935 to buy and sell Certificates from producers within the county. Before any local transfers can be made under this section they must also be recorded in the County Office and the producer certify that they are surplus to him and he is receiving a uniform price as fixed by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Transfer from one Producer to Another within the same State

Any cotton producer may transfer or assign to any other cotton producer who is a resident of the same state any Certificate issued or re-issued to him or any portion thereof which is not needed by him to procure bale tags for any cotton produced by or for him in the crop year of 1935-36 or the crop year of 1934-35 at the uniform price fixed by the Secretary to be paid for each pound of tax exemption expressed in each Certificate which is transferred or assigned. In such case the statement, stating that the Certificates are surplus to the producer shall first be executed and filed by the person who will be the transferor or assignor with the Assistant in Cotton Adjustment for his county and found acceptable, which Assistant shall file such statement in his office if acceptable. No producer acquiring Certificates under this section shall acquire any greater amount of Certificates than an amount which when added to may be amount he may have left over from all Certificates issued or re-issued to or otherwise acquired by him in for 1934 and in 1935 will be sufficient to procure bale tags for all his line cotton produced by or for him in the crop year of 1934-35 and in the crop year of 1935-36, which has not already been identified by bale tags thereto affixed.

Where Transferer designates Transferee

If the producer desiring to transfer or assign his certificate designates by name and address a transferee who is a cotton producer residing in another county within the same state to whom he desires to transfer it, the procedure shall be as follows: The producer shall deliver the certificate to the Assistant in or for his County, who shall immediately cancel such certificate and in lieu thereof re-issue a certificate in like poundage in the name of the transferee, bearing the transferee's address, and deliver the reissued certificate to the transferor for his delivery to the transferee. A receipt for the reissued certificate shall be signed by the Concerning Rights—Whose Rights?

The following editorial came out recently in The Prairie Farmer and we are reproducing it in order that people may have an opportunity to study the farmers' problem from another angle. It, at least, will furnish some new ideas. It makes no difference how this publication stands on any question, we want our readers to get an opportunity to study every question from different positions.

"Mark Sullivan, story journalist and AAA hater, lays down this pronouncement as a fundamental principle of government: 'The farmer should have the right to decide what crops he should raise, and how much.'"

"That is a 'right' that has no value. Farmers like everyone else are primarily concerned with income. The right with which they are concerned is the right to live. In a world of controlled prices they can live only by controlling their prices, which means adjusting production to effective demand. The right to raise corn on every available acre is of small consequence compared with the right to get a living price for that corn when it goes to market.

"So much for the farmer's side. As a principle of government the right of an individual to do as he pleases with his own property is secondary to the rights of the public.

"The city property owner cannot add a porch to his home without a building permit. He cannot build a bonfire in his back yard without the consent of the city council. He cannot keep a pig to furnish his own meat. If he builds a new home, the location and plans must satisfy the building commissioner, and a host of inspectors pester him until you would think it was their house instead of his that was being built.

"It is no longer legal for a man to beat his own wife. It is against the law for him to keep his children out of school to mow the lawn. If he tires of these restrictions on his personal liberty, he cannot even take his own life legally.

"The day of rugged individualism transferor on a prescribed form, setting forth the name and address of the person to whom and the price at which such certificate is being transferred. In the event that the intended transfer is not effected, the producer may have re-issued to him by such Assistant another certificate of like poundage in lieu of the certificate re-issued to him upon surrender of such reissued certificate and upon establishing the fact that no part of the transfer price has been paid.

in land ownership is past. The right of the farmer to let his Canada thistles go to seed has been taken away. He cannot peacefully enjoy the company of his tuberculous cows. He cannot plant barberry bushes around his hom to propagate wheat rust. Government inspectors interfere with his right to produce cornborers unmolested.

"That is only a start. We are approaching the time when a title deed will not give its owner the right to ruin his farm by letting it wash away to the river. We are beginning to realize that this same land will have to produce food for our grandchildren. Our right to ruin that land is not a right at all.

"Our rights as property owners are secondary to the rights of the public. Public interest demands that we farm better, that we stop soil erosion and the wasting of soil fertility. Public interest demands, too, that we refrain from ruining our markets by producing too much. The rights of all of us are superior to our individual right to do as we please.

THE HAUNTED HOUSE
BY JOHN HOWARD LATHAM

Remains of dobe walls moulder in a big pasture down the river a ways from the Rancho del Hondo. Nothing remains today but a trace of the adobe foundation and a sagging pole corral. In a few years they will be gone and with them the memories that habitate ancient ruins. The old stage road between Carrizozo and Hondo used to cross the river several miles below Dobe Walls. At that time a bunch of Mexican robbers were using the old house as a hide-out and they frequently looted the stage. On one such occasion they killed the guard and driver and took $50,000 in gold. Vigilantes trailed them to the old house and in a gun battle all but three of the robbers were killed. Those three, however, refused to reveal where the gold was hidden. They swung at rope ends from an ancient cottonwood on the arroyo bank near the house.

Dobe Walls is place of memories. Long ago natives and alien treasure seekers tore down the walls and dug up the floor in search of buried loot. Quiescent vagueros used the corral as a branding pen for many years, then abandoned it for the home corral. China grass and the chapparal so common to the southwest have overgrown the location. Today, it would take a native eye to discern the shambled foundation of the old house and the quadrangular lines of the corral.

A long time ago a wise old Mexican pastor named Estaban repaired the carals a bit and quartered his sheep there. He did not use the old house but camped in the open. Now the old pastor knew about the buried loot and he spent considerable time trying to locate it. Leaving his dog to care for the flock he would dig about the ruins all day long. But he found nothing, and after a while he became disgusted and quit.

After he had been there a time, the pastor began to see strange flitting lights about the old house, and to hear queer noises. Sometimes he would hear chains rattling and the sound of men digging, or the clink of coins. At other times he would see shadowy figures swaying in the breeze beneath the old cottonwood tree. To Estaban this meant that the ghosts of the bandits were trying to recover their treasure. Oh, he was very wise.

One night he dreamed that one of the bandit ghosts came and stood looking down on him. There was blood on its hands. He awakened, restless and afraid, to find the moon had gone down and the coyotes had ceased howling. In the distance rose the wailing cry of a panther and near at hand a shadow flitted through the trees. On Estaban's pillow was the print of a bloody hand.

Now living in Carrizozo at this time was a brujo (wizard or fortune teller) that was famed far and wide for his genius at locating treasures. Estaban thought the lights and noises at the old house a muy buena sign of buried loot and the strange happenings at the old house. The fortune tel-

A WORD ABOUT THE GAME
FRIDAY NIGHT

Some people around our city have the idea that there will not be much to the game here Friday night between Spur and Flomot. It may be well for Spur people to be on their guard about this game as there is plenty of material at Flomot to make a real football team. That is no small country school as there are some ten or twelve teachers, several school buses are used to convey children to school and there is an enrollment of about 300 students. There is a fine school spirit at Flomot, and those people are coming here to give Spur all they have, and it might be plenty. Flomot held Turkey to a 6-6 tie last week and Turkey has a good team. So let's all be out to the game Friday night and expect to see a good one. Also, give our visitors a friendly reception and be good sports.

Supt. Southall, of Patton Springs school, was attending to business affairs in our city Monday.

ler told Estaban that he was on the eve of a great fortune. He said that Estaban must go in the dead of night to recover the loot. If he did not, something terrible would happen to him. Quien sabe—who knows?

Estaban followed the instruction given by the brujo. The next night he took his pick, shovel and lantern and set out to recover the treasure. It was nearly midnight. The moon was full and the sky was flawlessly clear. As he neared the old house he fancied he could see dark forms swaying beneath the old cottonwood tree. He could not be certain for they vanished as he came closer. Arrived at the old house he measured off ten feet south of the old tree and began to dig.

By this time the wind had risen to a moaning wail, clouds had sprung up and scurried across the moon, and the far away howling of the coyotes came to mingle faintly with the wind. In the distance thunder rolled and lightning flashes added a weird glow to the scene.

Estaban soon discovered that instead of digging a new hole he was actually taking the filling out of an old one. That was encouraging. About three feet he came upon a rusty old gun and the hull of an old saddle with a bit of leather still clinging to it. A bit farther he found the skeleton of a man. He carefully laid the skeleton to one side and went on digging. The wind blew his lantern out; he worked on in the darkness. At last his shovel struck metal. At the moment a strange thing happened. Behind him the skeleton rose to its feet. A cloud swept down and blotted out the whole scene.

After a while the moon shown down again. Beneath the old cottonwood tree was a deep hole. Beside it was a pick and shovel. Estaban and the skeleton had vanished. Neither have been seen or heard of since. And ever after that the old house was known as espantosa—or haunted.

MAKES THE EDITOR FEEL GOOD

Rev. E. L. Yeats, pastor of the First Methodist Church, has always held a big place in the friendly circle of the Times editor. We do not know why, but Bro. Yeats has always commanded our respect and friendship, we feel largely because he is a good man. That is why we appreciate the very kind thing he did a few days ago.

A nice present was found on the editor's desk. It was a desk tree which Rev. Yeats had made from a piece of Juniper tree which came from the mountain near Ruidosa, N. Mexico. It was turned with a lathe and has five compartments which is enough to take care of the paper clips, pins, etc. of any business man's desk. To say we appreciate this remembrance does not begin to express our feelings, and we don't care if every member of the Methodist Church gets jealous. We think you have a wonderfully good man for a pastor. We thought it long before he so kindly remembered us, and if you members feel toward him as we do, you will never let him move away from our fine little city.

A BIG MELON TO THE EDITOR

The Times family received a pleasant surprise Saturday afternoon. J. T. Cozby, of White River community, came into the office with one of the largest watermelons we have ever seen and announced it was for the editor and family. Just how much this melon would have weighed is not known, but probably 40 pounds or more. It was a big one. Mr. Cozby stated that he had grown the melon on his farm at White River, and if he can grow other vegetables in proportion he would have no use for a bank unless it would be for a place to keep his money. Mr. Cozby enriched his contribution to the Times family with a sack of fine sweet potatoes. These were grown on his farm, too, and were creditable as samples for any portion of Texas.

The Times family appreciates being remembered in these kindly ways. It helps to clear away the gloom and enables us to go to work in a little more earnestness for the good of our community. Thanks Mr. Cozby.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULIAN CAPERS, JR.

Austin.—Political straws which show which way the wind blows, appearing out of the Aug. 24 election, brought about two important legislative events last week in the special session.

First, the senate passed by an overwhelming vote, Senator Clint Small's bill defining an open saloon as any place where liquor is sold to be drunk on or adjacent to the premises. The senate has heretofore been regarded as the more moist of the two houses; but the very close vote on repeal and the very large territory represented by the dry sentiment, has had its effect on the upper body.

Second, the house recommitted to committee the Calvert-Hoff Heinz bill providing old age pensions, with instructions to strike out its provision imposing a tax on domino parlors. This provision was written in so that the house could consider and add from the floor all manner of taxes to finance the pensions. But the fear of many members that they might be charged with opposition to pensions if tax measures for which they felt they could not vote were added to the bill caused the reversal of procedure. It now appears the house is determined to pass a bill ordering pensions paid and then enact as separate laws, the tax-raising bills necessary to finance the pensions. Meanwhile, the senate indicated it may take a hand by writing its own revenue measures for this purpose were asked of the attorney-general.

A second special session, at a cost of about $100,000, will be necessary, in the belief of most members of both houses. The pension matter is likely to be long drawn out. Two distinct schools of thought have developed. One wants to pay a pension to everybody who is 65 years old, without other restrictions, apparently simply as a matter of reward for attaining this ripe old age. Senator Roy Sandeford of Belton heads this group, with a bill providing a 3 per cent sales tax to raise the $40,000,000 it would require. The bill is said to have been written by Ex-Gov. Jim Ferguson, who is here professionally lobbying for a sales tax. The senate is against a sales tax, and barring a miracle, will not pass one.

The other school of thought would pay pensions as charity only to old persons who are indigent and without relatives to whom they could lawfully look for aid. Such a bill following the restrictions laid down by most Highway commissioners and other public officers learned some new facts about Comal county when they visited New Braunfels recently to attend the dedication of a new $200,000 concrete bridge over the Guadalupe river. County Judge B. W. Klingeman told them the county had the smallest percentage of delinquent taxes in the state. He also reminded them Comal was the first county in Texas to ever impose a tax for public education. The tax was declared unconstitutional at that time, but county officials collected it anyway to provide free public schools.

The report of Rep. Augustin Celaya's $1,000 oil investigation committee filed in the house last week, as a predicate for an additional appropriation to continue the probe, brought scarcely a ripple of excitement. The committee used its material for newspaper headlines thruout the summer and the reshaped material already published, wasn't very exciting. Political observers here were wondering whether Rep. Sidney Latham of Longview, the committee's chief cross-examiner, planned to announce as a candidate for railroad commissioner against Chairman E. O. Thompson, or whether the material gathered by the committee would be used in another attempt to create a separate oil and gas commission. All such attempts have failed in the past.

Ed Clark, No. 1 secretary to the governor, saved Sen. John Redditt of Lufkin, his senate seat last week. Redditt, president pro tem of the senate, became governor for a day when the governor and lieutenant governor both left the state. He was about to be sworn in as governor, by Chief Justice Sharp of the supreme court, when Clark suddenly recalled that taking the oath would vacate Redditt's other office.

Bullpups Win Second Game From Paducah

Displaying a lot of power and playing heads-up football the Spur Hill Bullpups defeated the Paducah High second team for the second time in two weeks Friday afternoon at the Jones Memorial Stadium 24 to 0. The Pups goal was never threatened by the Paducah team.

On the eighth play of the game Martin went around right end for five yards after returning a punt from Spur's 40 yard line to the Paducah 28 yard marker. Cravy went over right tackle for eight yards, followed with four more, then Martin covered the balance, behind some good blocking, to score the first touchdown. The try for point failed.

The balance of the first quarter was a see-saw with Spur showing more power than Paducah, and making consistent gains with the ball. One nice pass, Martin to Kinney, was completed for 30 yards. The Pups threw Paducah for several losses and then intercepted a pass on the 33 yard line. Hahn went around left for 29 yards, Cravy 2 at center, then Cravy went over the line for the second touchdown. Spur again failed to convert.

Kicking to Spur's 49 yard line, a Paducah boy was put out of the game for slugging, Paducah being penalized 25 yards. Little Martin went around right end for 30 yards. Garner went the other five on the next play for the third touchdown.

The third quarter saw a number of penalties with Coach Martin of Spur using all of his substitutes. The fourth quarter failed to show any scoring until the last play of the game when Garner intercepted a pass and raced 53 yards for a touchdown. Spur failed to convert.

Playing for Spur were: Kinney, Arrington, Layton, Martin, Willhoit, Smith, Bingham, Martin, Hahn, Garner, Cravy, Hutto, Lisenby, Tolbert, S. Dunn, McArthur, Draper, Bill Haralson, H. Perkins.

Playing for Paducah were: Irans, Lewis, Fuller, Best, Burns, Gibson, K. Propes, Gibson, Goodwin, Faulkenberry, Self, Norriod, Puckett, Willburn, Richardson, Houeg, Standridge, Moore. Quarterback Gibson was the outstanding Paducah player.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND

Director, Physical and Health Education New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

Summer Heat

Too many cautions cannot be printed against sunburn. No matter how much is said or written, no matter what one's past experience may have been, the majority of people show unreasonable haste in acquiring a sunburn.

Burn from the sun is no different from any burn. It isn't confined to a sore skin. Poisons, or body toxins, are formed. The child may be feverish and nauseated. In attempting to throw off the poisons, the kidneys may be injured. Sometimes severe prostration results.

In all cases of sunburn, it is advisable to place a child in a physician's care. Wise treatment will prevent the complications. But the greatest wisdom is shown at the beginning. Take the sunburn gradually, a little each day. Give the skin a chance to tan painlessly.

Are you making your child's life a nightmare by insisting on regular promotion at school? Don't miss Dr. Ireland's next article.

Chevrolet Told How Kidnappers Caught

How underworld whispers put special agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the United States Department of Justice on the track of the kidnapers of Charles Boettcher, II, of Denver, and how a soapy shaving brush pushed into the eyes of one of them by a helpful Chicago barber made the final capture easy was revealed in the twelfth Chevrolet Motor Company's series of "G-Men" broadcasts, Saturday, October 5, at 9 p. m.

Sankey, one of the kidnapers, hanged himself with a strip of cloth in his cell. Alcorn, his partner, pleaded guilty and is serving a life sentence in a Federal prison.

Boettcher was running his automobile into his home garage in February, 1933, when he was carried away by the pair after they had handed his wife a written demand for ransom. On payment of the money he was released 13 days later and two agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, heavily disguised, took up residence in the Denver underworld, and began to haunt known criminal dives.

The ruse was immediately productive. A drunk dropped the names of Sankey and Alcorn, and the chase began. It ended for Sankey in a Chicago barber's chair, where a buzzer notified agents in a rear room the moment the kidnaper came in and the co-operative barber had soaped his eyes so he could see nothing until the handcuffs were on his wrists.

Alcorn was stopped in his Chicago apartment before he could reach a gun on the table.

Jim McArthur, of Red Mud, was in Monday looking after business affairs. He stated that if frost will stay off another three weeks that there will be lots of late cotton.

Don't Be Caught By Old Age Pension Slickers

"It appears from newspapers reports that unscrupulous persons in several sections of the State have been posing as Old Age Pension agents and have been attempting to collect fees for 'assisting' in securing pensions for old people."

The people of this State are warned against paying money to anyone who offers to help them secure an Old Age Pension or to put their name on the 'rolls' or do anything else in this connection for pay.

Numerous requests are received daily by the Office of the State Auditor. These letters come from all parts of the State from persons interested in Old Age Pensions. These people ask for application blanks and for the names of the proper persons in their districts to whom applications should be made for pensions.

It is suggested that the people watch the newspapers for facts on pension procedure and wait until the proper agency has been designated to which applications may be made. They should remember that at this time no one is authorized to receive applications for Old Age Pensions.

TWO DORMITORIES, MUSIC HALL TO BE ERECTED

Work will begin sometime in December on two new dormitories and a music hall addition to the auditorium at Texas State College for Women at Denton as the result of a PWA allocation made this week for $536,360.

Of the $536,360 allocated, $241,360 is an outright grant to the college and $295,000 is a loan to be repaid with interest at four per cent.

Each of the three buildings will cost approximately $175,000. Shirley Simons of Tyler is architect for the two dormitories and the firms of Whitson & Roberts and Dewitt & Washburn of Dallas are architects for the auditorium addition. Preston M. Geren of Fort Worth is associate architect for all three buildings.

MEDAL CONTEST STIMULATES INTEREST IN FIRE PREVENTION

More than the usual interest is being taken by the students of Spur, Patton Springs and McAdoo High Schools in the essay writing contest for the Hartford medal. Instructors in each of the three schools report that some of the homes should be far less likely to be destroyed by fire because of the practical efforts being made by the contestants.

They are applying the safeguards suggested by a booklet called "Hints for Household-ers"—a booklet of fire prevention suggestions given out by the Clemmons Insurance Agency, the local agent for the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, the donor of the medal that will be awarded to the winner of the essay contest. A sample medal is on display in the window of the Clemmons Insurance Agency as well as one in McAdoo and one in Patton Springs schools.

It is probable that the medals, with the name of the winner engraved on it, will be presented in each school about the latter part of October. The actual writing of the essays is due to close at the end of this week and the winners will be announced at the presentation of the medals.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

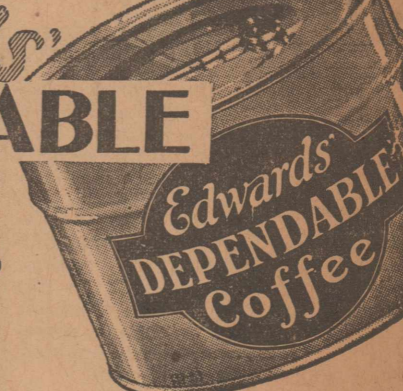

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.
