AAA PROGRAM WRECKED BY COURT DECISION

BETTER BUSINESS CONDITIONS PREDICTED FOR 1936

General Business Continues Active Upward Trend

Outlook For Next Spring And Entire Year Of 1936 Distinctly Promising

Prospects for a continued improvement in business conditions are apparent as the new year starts, in the opinion of Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director and statistician in the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

"The upward trend in general business activity which began in July has not yet been reversed, and during the past three weeks the rate of increase has been very noticeable, but there are indications that a temporary recession in industrial activity may occur early in the new year," Dr. Buechel pointed out. "Notwithstanding this possibility, the outlook for next spring and the entire year of 1936 is distinctly promising. Such uncertainties as exist are mostly of political origin—the convening of Congress, and the tradition unfounded though it may be, that a presidential election year is detrimental to business.

"Among the reasons for expecting a relative good business year in 1936 are: The cumulative improvement in farm buying power; the probable cyclical unswerving in construction, both residential and commercial, as well as in other durable good industries; and the present tendency of many industrial concerns to launch programs of plant improvement with the view to lowering costs of production as evidenced by the sharp rise in activity in the machine tools industry. Although these constructive forces will, in part, be offset by growing taxes, a widening of profit margins will nevertheless result as industry attains more nearly its normal production stride."

Veteran Surgeon To Locates In Spur

Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Hodges arrived in our city the first of the week to make their home here. Dr. Hodges is a veteran surgeon of many years of experience and has been on the government staff for some time. He has opened an office at the City Drug Store, where he may be secured when needed.

Dr. Hodges is a graduate of A. & M. College and is a very successful man in his profession. They have secured an apartment at the home of Kate Buchanan on Hill Street.

Dr. Hodges has come to our city stating that he hoped he could be of service to the farmers and stockmen of this community. Many times the services of a good veterinarian has been needed, and the best way to have a good one when needed is to use him.

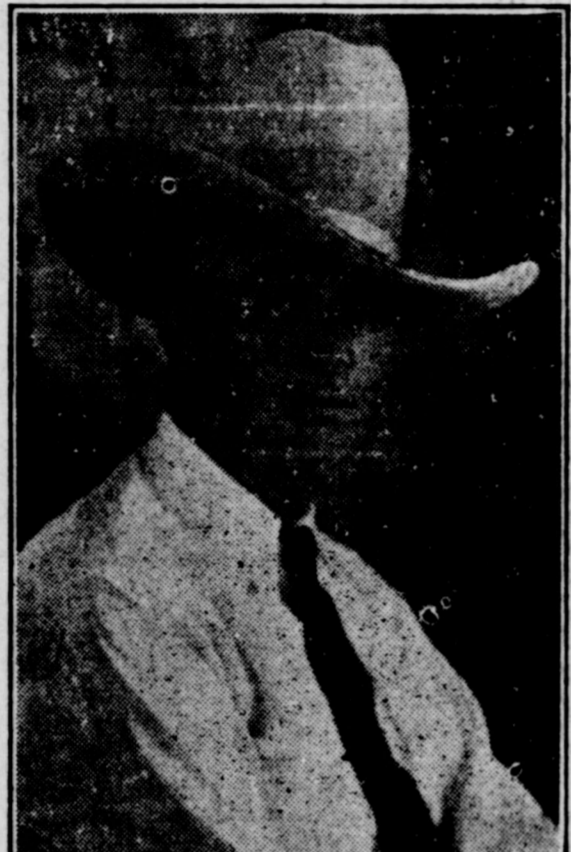

Our Mr. DuPriest is in town this week and will remain until he gets all of your typewriters, Cash Registers and Adding Machines in good condition, if you will phone him at 30. He plans to get away about Saturday, afternoon unless you get your work to him by that time. Either phone or bring in your machines now and get them in good condition. Mr. DuPriest has work waiting for him at another place, but wants to do your work before he leaves.

Lisenby Market To Braynt-Link

George Lisenby, who has been conducting his market at the Bailey Food Store, has moved his business to the grocery department at Bryant-Link Company. Mr. Lisenby has his market nicely arranged in his new location and is serving the public in a fine way. He will appreciate a portion of the business from the public.

The Times, this week, has a letter and a cheque from L. D. Campbell, of Houston, requesting that the home town paper continue to arrive at his address. Mr. Campbell is working for the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank at the South Texas city, and reports that he recently had a promotion from his firm. He is doing well and wished all his old friends here a merry Xmas. Thanks Leland and the best of luck to you.

HIS MURDERER GIVEN THE ELECTRIC CHAIR

The above is the photo of W. B. (Bill) Arthur, Sheriff of Dickens county, who was killed in a jail break at Dickens on Saturday afternoon, October 27, 1934.

The Court of Criminal Appeals yesterday gave Virgil Stalcup, Arthur's murderer, the electric chair. The execution date has not been set.

DEATH GIVEN MURDERER OF BILL ARTHUR

Court Of Criminal Appeals Upholds District Courts Death Verdict

The Court of Criminal Appeals, at Austin, Texas, Wednesday ruled to uphold the Lubbock District Courts death penalty verdict against Virgil Stalcup, convicted murderer of Dickens County Sheriff, W. B. (Bill) Arthur, in 1934 according to word received by the Times Wednesday afternoon.

The higher courts refusal to intervene with the Lubbock court's decision leaves Stalcup thirty days to appeal to Governor Allred as his last hope before the date is set on which he goes to the electric chair at Huntsville.

Sheriff Arthur was shot and killed in a jail break at Dickens, October 27th of 1934. Stalcup and Clarence Brown were being held to answer to a charge of robbery with firearms, when the two called the sheriff into their cell to alter an unpleasant condition existing there.

As Arthur walked past the cell door both men attacked him, one firing a shot through his neck, just above the collar bone. Arthur fell to floor and died a few seconds later without uttering a word.

Stalcup and Brown then took the Sheriff's keys and made their escape in his car, going toward Crosbyton, Texas.

They were captured six days later at Houston, Texas and returned to jail at Lubbock.

In the February of 1935 they were brought before the District Court at Lubbock, where Stalcup was first given the electric chair. He appealed his case to the Court of Criminal Appeals, who, Wednesday, upheld the district courts ruling. According to District Attorney Ben Blair, of Lubbock, Governor Allred is not expected to grant another appeal, even though Stalcup's attorney intimated that he would appear before the Governor within the next thirty days.

Clarence Brown, Stalcup's accomplice in the "Bill" Arthur killing and Dickens jail break is now serving 99 years in the penitentiary at Huntsville.

The action of the higher court was proudly received in Spur and Dickens County. Citizens were glad that after almost two years the courts have taken final steps to attain justice for the death of a noble man and great county official.

J. P. Caudle, of San Angelo, was in our city Tuesday and Wednesday greeting friends and looking after business affairs. Mr. Caudle once was in business in our city, having owned the Spur Truck & Tractor Company and has many friends in this community.

PROCLAMATION BY GOV. ALLRED

To All Whom These Presents Shall Come

Whereas, it is fitting that we dedicate ourselves in all lines of endeavor so that we may continue the glorious progress in the coming century, which has been Texas' during its first one hundred years, and

Whereas, no more worthy effort could be made than that of rededicating ourselves to the principles of democracy and the standards of conduct, religion and law which were advocated by the founders of our state, and

Whereas, the churches of Texas are planning to celebrate the Centennial Year with a call for all citizens to co-operate in this great movement.

Now therefore, I James V. Allred, Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby urge all patriotic citizens and organizations to back the churches of this state in the Texas Centennial Revival which is designed to preserve our State for another one hundred years of glorious progress toward brotherhood.

In Testimony whereof I have hereunto signed by name official and caused the Seal of the State to be impressed hereon at Austin, Texas, this the 27th day of December A. D., 1935.

James V. Allred
Governor of Texas.

By the Governor,
R. B. Stanford,
Secretary of State.

SEES ANOTHER NEW DEAL ACT CRUMBLE

The U. S. Supreme Court's ruling on the constitutionality of the AAA—main pillar of the administration's farm program—marked the tumbling of another of President Roosevelt's new deal acts along with the NRA, and cast serious doubts over the legality of other vital reform and recovery laws.

U. S. Supreme Court Rules AAA To Be Unconstitutional

Recovery Agency Announces All Benefit Payments Must Stop Immediately

In a Supreme Court decision Monday the Agricultural Adjustment Act was laid on the shelf and the processing tax was made invalid. The decision which was a 6-3 vote of the members of the United States Supreme Court was made on the grounds that the Congress could not pass laws invading States Rights.

With the decision rendered against the AAA, the next question before the people is what will become of the social security law, the Guffey coal control bill, the Wagner labor bill and other laws passed by Congress upon the basis, that body had power to legislate for the general welfare of the country.

The decision of the Court was rendered by Justice Owen J. Roberts. The three members of the Court who did not concur in the decision were, Justices Louis D. Brandeis, Harlan F. Stone and Benjamin Cardozo.

During the life of the AAA $1,127,000,000 had been paid to farmers for crop reductions and other benefits since 1933. What will be the program of the administration is yet to be worked out. The president has already called a conference of his advisors and a new program will probably be instituted soon.

Wednesday while president Roosevelt was seeking congressional appropriations to reimburse farmers, the commodity markets of the nation churned under the stimulus of the removal of the processing tax.

Hogs gained around $1 per hundred while Flour was down by almost a $1.35 a barrel. Cotton slumped. Sugar spurted.

Allen Auto Supply Opens Business Here

The Allen's Auto Supply, a new business in our city, will open its doors for business tomorrow (Friday). The owner and manager for the business is C. V. Allen, formerly of Crowell, who was in the auto parts and supply business in that city a number of years.

Mr. Allen will conduct a wholesale and retail business, selling a wide range of auto parts and supplies. Ralph Gillette, formerly of Knox City, will be on the road all the time and it is the purpose of the firm to serve a great portion of territory in this section of the state.

Mr. Allen is moving his family to Spur the last of this week in order for his two sons to enter Spur schools at the beginning of the second semester. He thought best that the children remain in school at Crowell until they finished their midterm work before making the change. One son will be in high school and the other son will attend Junior High.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen are bringing a good name to Spur with them and by all reports our community has secured some good citizens in their coming.

Dumont Wildcats To Play Tech Picadores

The invincible Dumont Wildcats will meet the Texas Tech Picadores in a hard fought battle of basket ball honors at Dickens Gymnasium Friday evening, January 17. This is expected to be one of the hardest contested games that has ever been played in Dickens County since the Wildcats feel they can defeat the Picadores.

These two teams played a game in a gymnasium in Lubbock recently and the Picadores proved too many for the Wildcats. However, the Dumont team was short on substitutes and while they led the first two quarters, could not hold up the entire game with just five men. At the game to be at Dickens, January 17 there will be plenty of substitutes on the Dumont team and they say they are going to give those Picadores a run for their money.

There will be two games in the gymnasium that evening. The Dumont girls will play the Spur High School girls in a friendly contest. The first game will be called about 7:30 o'clock in the evening. A small admission will be charged. Herman McArthur and Loren Doolin are the coaches for the Wildcats.

Ericson's Grocery In New Location

Ericson's Grocery and Market moved Tuesday into the building formerly occupied by the Bailey Food Store. All the stock of merchandise was arranged and Mr. Ericson was ready for business Wednesday morning. He has a much handier store in the new location, more room, and feels he is better prepared to serve the public.

Mr. Ericson grew up in West Texas and has a great number of friends here who enjoy trading with him. He has enjoyed a nice business since engaging in the grocery business here and hopes to go forward in a greater way in the future.

Bailey Food Store Moves To Rotan

The Bailey Food Store which has been one of the live groceries in our city for sometime, is being moved to Rotan this week where it will open for business. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey sold the business some weeks ago and are having to take it back. It reopened for business two weeks ago and the stock has been reduced until it can be moved.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey have many friends in our city who regret to see them leave us. They are good business people, and our neighbor city of Rotan is getting some very fine citizens in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey.

Henry Alexander, manager for Ericson's Grocery and Market, left for Dallas the first of the week to buy a new selection of merchandise for his store.

MAHON BACK IN OFFICE AT WASHINGTON

Congressman Just Returned From Philippine Island Celebration

(Special to the Times)

Washington, D. C. Jan. 9.—Congressman George Mahon arrived in Washington Friday morning for the beginning of the Second Session of the 74th Congress. He had returned to his home in Colorado City on December 20 from the Philippine Islands where he had attended the celebration sponsored by their Government to commemorate the opening of independence for the Islands. The trip was made at the request of the President and upon invitation of the Philippine Government because of his membership on the Insular Affairs Committee of the House.

Mr. Mahon expressed enthusiasm over the value of the trip which had also taken him to both Japan and China. The trip had afforded an opportunity to study from first hand sources economic conditions in the Far East, particularly regarding the textile industry and its relation to foreign markets for American goods.

In discussing the approaching session, he said that he expected a very active but much shorter one than last year. He was immediately concerned with becoming settled in his office here so that he could give his attention to the correspondence from the District as well as legislation confronting the House.

ANNOUNCING THE REMOVAL OF ERICSON GROCERY & MARKET TO THE LOCATION FORMALLY OCCUPIED BY BAILEY FOOD STORE

We are now open in our new location and invite our friends and customers to call on us.

We feel that in our new location we will be better able to serve you.

Boy Scout Councils Meet At Lubbock

The date for the annual meeting of the South Plains Boy Scout Council has been set for Tuesday afternoon and evening, January 28th, at the Hilton Hotel, Lubbock.

Over two hundred scouters and friends from seventeen towns are expected to attend this meeting. The program in the afternoon calls for group sessions following brief reports by district chairmen and a report by the nominating committee. At 6:45 p. m. the Annual Banquet will be held in the Ballroom of the Hilton Hotel where new officers for 1936 will be installed and the presentation of special awards will be made.

Plans for the year 1936 Boy Scout program are to be presented at the meeting. A special feature in the form of a series of tableaux are to be given by the scouts during the banquet program in addition to special music and group singing. The speaker for the meeting has not been decided upon as yet.

The meeting is open to all scouters, friends, and others interested in Boy Scout work. Tickets for the banquet are available at Boy Scout offices and everyone planning to attend is urged to make their reservations as soon as possible.

The Famous Store Closing Business

The Fomus Store, operated by Edward Thomas, is going out of business in Spur. A close-out sale starts today and everything in the store is being placed at the disposal of the public. Prices are being slashed and everything goes according to statement by the management. Read the list of bargain on pages four and five of this issue of the Times.

The P. T. A. met at Twin Wells Friday night, January 2. After a short prayer, offered by Mrs. M. P. Ducan all business was attended to. Then a nice program by the senior pupils of the school was rendered. After which a social hour with refreshments and singing was enjoyed by all present.—Reporter.

Ben Lyle Criles, formerly of Gainesville and once shop manager for The Rusk Cherokee, is now with The Times office.

Wilson Named On Liberty's All-Eleven

Bobby Wilson, Southern Methodist's half pint of dynamite, was selected by 1,521 players from all parts of the country for halfback position on Liberty's All-Players All-America eleven, it was announced by the editors of that magazine yesterday.

Players on varsity squads in ninety major colleges regarded the 147-pound senior from Corsicana, Texas as the fastest and shiftest player of the season. Great credit was bestowed on him for the hand he had in every one of the twelve scheduled games his team won.

In this third annual selection of an all-players team, unique insofar as no "experts" were called in for advice, the players themselves rated their opponents on ability in the fundamentals of individual and team play. Wilson was given a rating of 93.12 by his opponents on the field.

Gold footballs were sent to all members of the first team today, the magazine announced.

Tribute To W. R. King

The Christmas just passed carried a gloom of sadness to many people in Spur community on account of the death of one of our good citizens, W. R. King, which occurred Christmas eve. In his going, everybody who knew him, felt they had lost a dear friend and to those living in his immediate community a good neighbor.

Mr. King was ill just a few days, having an infection in one ear which seems to have developed into a form of meningitis. Going to Lubbock to a specialist, his condition was pronounced hopeless and recovery impossible. Then it was that a sad expression went over the countenances of all citizens who knew him, and until the end came about five o'clock Tuesday afternoon, anxiety was at a high tension, all hoping that some higher power might intervene and Mr. King might be left with us.

Being a rather reserved, quiet man, people have learned to know him until they came in personal contact with him. He was unassuming in his ways and was always willing for people to enjoy their own opinions in regard to any subject, yet he was firm in his convictions and would stand for what he considered right regardless of consequence.

His place in the community will be hard to fill. He was active in civic improvement and did everything with in his ability to make the world a better place in which to live. He was active in the church, filling many important places, all of which he did as a matter of duty and service to mankind and to his God. Probably there have been more prayers sent up to the throne of grace in behalf of his good wife and two precious children from Christian people in our town than have ever been done in the departure of any other person in this country. He was loyal to his church, and was cooperative with his pastor. Being a member of the Board of Deacons he was helping to carry the load of responsibility of the church.

He was an active member of the Masonic Order and at the time of his demise he was serving as secretary to the Blue Lodge, Royal Arch, Council, and Knights Templar in our city. His Masonic brethren knew that when they entrusted anything to his care that it would be looked after in proper manner.

His ten years of service at the Ritter Hardware Company would be an compliment to any citizen. He was faithful, reliant, and always ready to do his part and more along with his fellow employees. And on Christmas morning when friends started with the body to Waco to the old home, where funeral services were to be held the next day, many neighbors were left with tearful eyes feeling that good man had gone. He is being missed by many. His good wife and children have lost their greatest earthly friend and protection. He was very devoted to his family and was willing to make any sacrifice for their happiness.

He spent the greater part of his forty years in Texas. He was born in Tennessee, but came to Texas when just a child and settled near Waco. He married Miss Mozelle Harper which proved a happy union for ten years until he passed away. Two children, Celesta Rhea and Willis, Jr., graced the home, and it was a very happy family. When friends visited their home there was always an atmosphere of welcome. Their home was a rendezvous of happiness, a source of divine pleasure, and the atmosphere and influence of that home is going to be missed in Spur community.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Windham believe spring and summer cultivation has prolonged the blooming of their roses. Mrs. Windham is yard demonstrator in Hamrock Home Demonstration Club in Ellis county.

MULSHOE—"This year we have made and laid 1800 feet of tile and have raised more and better vegetables on less ground than ever before." Mrs. E. L. Smith, farm food supply demonstrator of the West Camp home demonstration club in Bailey county, told Miss Alma Stewart, home demonstration agent.

"I have canned 865 containers of food of 54 varieties, and I have dried and stored 1000 pounds. My pantry is valued at $230.90." Mrs. Smith said. She has recently added 50 feet of shelves to her pantry which were made from scrap lumber.

WIN WALTER CAMP TROPHY

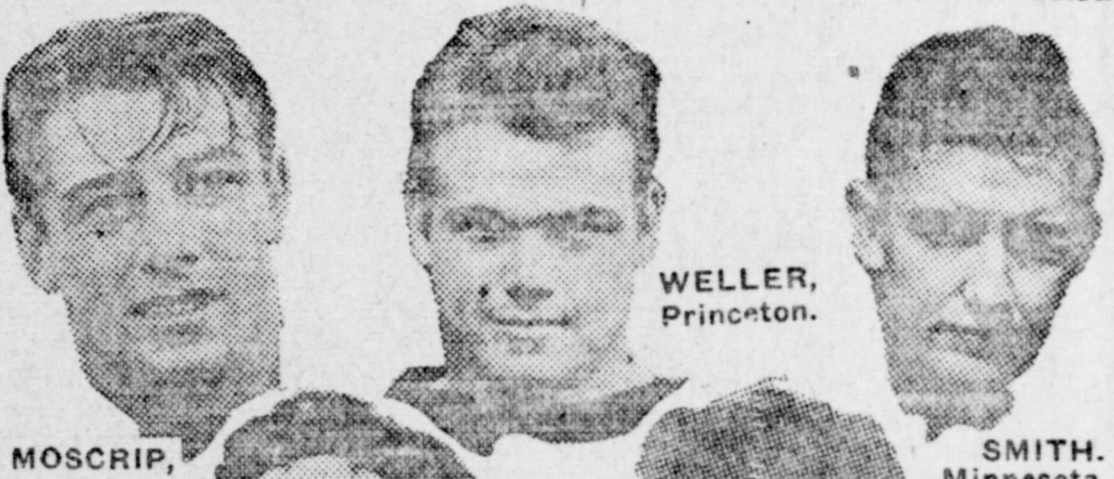

Highest Honor in College Athletics, a Tiny Gold Football, Goes to 11 Men Chosen for Historic All-America Team

BERWANGER, Chicago. SMITH, Ohio State. SMITH, Alabama.

LESTER, Tex. Christian. GRAYSON, Stanford. So. Methodist.

MOSCRIP, Stanford. WELLER, Princeton. SMITH, Minnesota.

WILSON, So. Methodist. TINSLEY, La. State

Nine colleges are listed in the selection of players for the final and greatest of all the All-America football teams. Southern colleges get five of the eleven places in the choice made by the Collier's judges for the team which is a perpetuation of Walter Camp's original and official All-America. They get as their certificate one of the tiny gold footballs which Walter Camp, father of modern football, designed fifty years ago. One of the most unusual features of the Collier's selection is that it contains three men of the same name—the three Smiths. Nothing like this has happened since Walter Camp first started his selections in the days when college football was just an infant.

Let's Talk About Clothes
YOUNG MODERN
TEXAS STATE COLLEGE (WOMEN'S)

Until recently jackets and short coats were looked upon with scorn. The women who wore an odd coat over a dress displayed poor taste, and was often looked upon as being very sloshy. Today, however, this attitude has changed. Women are striving to gain that carefree slouch appearance, and we find slouch hats, shoes and coats mentioned among the necessary items in the modern wardrobe.

Coats have already proved to be one of the most interesting garments in this new category. They present opportunities for a great deal of originality on the part of the wearer, and can be used in many unique combinations. Collegians at Texas State College for Women (CIA) wear bright slouch coats with dull skirts and of course sweater suits. Three cornered scarfs add interesting notes and offer smart ideas for striking color combinations.

Styles and patterns of the coats are numerous. We find tiny velvet Eton jackets made bell-hop style. There are short checked coats, ornamental with large buttons, wide and stand-up collars and deep cuffs. The lumber jack has proved an outstanding type of coat. They are made in suede, pigskin and corduroy and can be easily adapted for house wear as well as for out of doors.

The swagger coat brought a number of variations. This season, we see short trotter length coats in brushed wool. They have tiny Peter Pan collars, wide sleeves and a yoke that boasts three large wooden buttons. Fan-shaped coats, made in blending plaids, are smartly fastened at the front with "frogs."

"Peas planted in alternate rows between corn for two years doubled the production of cotton on that land for men in 1935" says J. D. Fitzwilliams of Bastrop county. Fitzwilliams planted peas and corn on land for two years where he had been getting a bale of cotton to seven or eight acres. He gathered the corn, picked the peas, pastured the stalks and the vines each year, then turned the remaining trash under. From 20 acres treated in this manner he reported 6 bales of cotton harvested in 1935.

W. P. Fretwell Passes Away After Short Illness

William Phillip Fretwell, 82, passed away at his home near Glenn Sunday evening after a short illness. The funeral services were held at the home at 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, G. Earl Woods, minister of the Church of Christ at Spur, officiating. After these services the body, under the direction of the Kinney Funeral Home at Spur, was taken to Duffau in Erath county where interment was made Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Fretwell was a native of Georgia and was born December 11, 1853. He came to Texas at a young age and settled in Bell county. He was married to Miss Mary M. Parrott in 1874 and moved to Erath county where they made their home until 1915 at which time they moved to Dickens county and settled in Afton country. He lived in that community until his death. One daughter, Mrs. Lee Dixon, still survives. There are 12 grandchildren and five great grandchildren in the family. Early in life Mr. Fretwell became a Christian and affiliated with the Church of Christ. He lived a faithful and devoted member in the church until his death. He was an upright citizen and a good neighbor.

Time for Thought Spring Prints Oklahoma Writer

Hail little New Year! Out you go, Fresh and lovely And white as snow. It's campaign year You'll be a sight— All mud-splattered After the fight.

According to all the stars and planets which govern our destinies and according to the Republicans who would love to govern everything, 1936 is going to be a busy one for us all. We will have to sit steady in the boat watching the ripples, and on the alert or our "ears will be leaking" as friend Hubby often remarks. Whatever your reader, it is up to the woman to do some thinking. They don't have to get out and lead parades, put the children under a tub while they galavant all over the country, but they can aid their country at this crucial moment by keeping up with what is going on in the world. They are then able to form worthwhile opinions and stick to their guns through thick and thin.

This is decidedly not a political column gals, but through a political year you've got to know a few things or go batty listening to everything around you. Some of you are luckier than others and when the static gets too bad you can go to another part of the house and not hear it, but woe is me, mine is a two by four, any kind reader of this column having ear muffs will do me a great favor by sending them to this paper and they will be forwarded.

After New Year, Spring is just around the corner, Milady is looking forward to it in a chic print as bright colored as Springtime itself. Nothing brightens the old winter wardrobe like a gay print. The shops are full of frocks (and the shelves are filled with pretty materials for the lady who prefers to design her own. See them before you don your Spring suit. Pardon me, you may already be wearing yours with that new scintillating straw! Aren't they swanky? I have in mind a soft grey flannel suit the coat made fingertip length and flaring. The collar Peterpan with a bright purple taffeta scarf through slots in the collar. A blouse the same color as the tie, made it the very smartest outfit I've seen. Is Spring is just around the corner then the wearer of this stunning outfit was on tip-toe with expectancy.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

The above short articles were sent to the Times by the editor of the Tipton (Okla.) Tribune, who, we understand is a lady. Her husband used to assist her with the pen work, but when the Democrats took charge in Washington, he went fat at forty and accepted a government job that does not require so much thinking, or mental activity otherwise as conducting a newspaper. Then he handed the keys of his personal business to his wife and told her to do the best she could as they had a living guaranteed for four years whether the paper run or not.

It is our opinion that the end of that four years, if Friend Hubby does not secure a new government appointment that the people of that little Oklahoma town will insist that he go home, don a cook apron, study a cook book and learn the art of slinging a dish rag instead of a pen. Woe unto you, Mr. Hubby, we see your finish unless Uncle Sam continues to give you a job.

Jackson To Run For Weigher

Gaston Jackson has authorized us to announce him as a candidate for the office of Public Weigher for Precinct No. 2 (Afton) for election to a second term. Mr. Jackson is now serving his first term and has handled the affairs of the office in a very fine way and he asks the people to give him another trial, hoping to be able to give them better service with the experience he has already had in the office. Mr. Jackson is a Democrat of the Southern type and asks for your consideration in the July Primary.

Haile Announces For Commissioner

C. C. Haile, of Afton, was in town the first of the week and stated that some of the neighbors in his community had been talking to him about making the race for Commissioner in Precinct No. 1. He stated that he was taking the matter under advisement and said that if enough people insisted to make him believe that he was really needed for the place, that he would make the race. Mr. Haile is a stock farmer and pays quite a lump of taxes each year. He has handled his personal business in a very fine way, keeping in good financial condition, and he says that if he is asked to serve as a member of the Commissioner's Court that he will be just as careful about the county's business.

W. F. Cathey In Lubbock Hospital

W. F. Cathey, one of the progressive farmers near Dickens, is in a Lubbock sanitarium suffering from a deficient blood condition. It appears that the blood in his body does not have sufficient red corpuscles which is causing him much weakness.

A number of people went to Lubbock Saturday to have blood tests made and it was found that Neal Chastain could match up. Mr. Chastain gave one and one-fourth pints of blood Sunday for a blood transfusion and Mr. Cathey seems to be resting better.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULIAN CAPERS, JR.

Austin.—The football wars replaced problems of state this week. Gov. Allred and wife entrained for Pasadena and the Rose bowl, where the SMU Mustangs were to break lances with Stanford's Cardinals; Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul and other state notables trekked to New Orleans, where Fort Worth's Campbellite Horned Frogs engage L. S. U., and dozens of less ambitious legislators and officials went to Dallas, to see Amarillo's Sandies down Greenville's Lions for the state schoolboy title. Among the latter were Col. E. O. Thompson, chairman of the railroad commission, Amarillo resident, and loyal Sandie rooter.

At Indian Village, Livingston, in Polk-co. another notable gathering of state greats was scheduled for New Year's day, as Cooper Sylestine whose Indian name is Ticaiche, was to be elevated to the rank of new chief of the Alabamas, with fitting ceremony. A medal commemorating 100 years of peace between the whites and Indians was presented with Madge Thornall of Houston, great-great-grand daughter of Sam Houston, participating, Congressman Nat Patton, Sen. Gordon Burns and County Atty. Clem Fain Jr., honorary chief of the tribe, were to figure prominently.

Still another of these community celebrations, which are lifting many Texas towns and cities out of the rut of being merely another community, lending a distinctive atmosphere and creating a background and a tradition for them, was the observance of the "Cowboy Christmas Ball" at Anson, Jones-co. Inspired by the classic poem written 50 years ago by Larry Chittenden, the "Christmas Ball" attracted hundreds, including dozens of sons and daughters of old-timers who are mentioned by name in Chittenden's famous poem, many coming in the costumes of 1885. Re-enactment of the ball is planned as an annual event.

Vice President John Garner back from his junket to the Philippines, looks forward to the day when he can retire to his beloved Texas and devote all of his time to hunting and fishing, probably in 1940. With that end in view, the vice president has recently purchased the 6000-acre Carla ranch in Dimmit-co, long owned by Mrs. Colon Schett of Cincinnati. Deer abound on the ranch.

A favorable decision for the state by the U. S. supreme court in the T. & P. oil land case was Atty. Gen. William McCraw's best Christmas gift. The court threw out the railroad's appeal on the ground that no substantial federal question was involved, after the red-headed Attorney General made his first appearance and argued five minutes before the highest tribunal, thereby enriching the state school fund and setting an important legal precedent regarding mineral rights under former public lands.

Ralph Yarborough, 32, assistant attorney general under Gov. Allred, fought this case successfully thru the Texas district and appeals courts, and last week won deserved reward when the governor named him district judge in Austin, to succeed Charles A. Wheeler, resigned. Interesting was Judge Wheeler's reason for quitting his $4,000 job "Since my election the salary has been reduced 20 per cent," he wrote. "The cost of living has increased approximately 30 per cent. The state deficit is such that no salary warrants for district judges have been paid by the state treasurer since April, 1935, thus compelling judges either to borrow money or discount their warrants from one to one and a half per cent.

Texas counties are busy issuing bonds to refinance old issues on more favorable terms, and to finance new projects, taking advantage of federal aid. During the week, $14,298,000 of such issues came to the attorney general's office, with $10,053,000 for new money to secure federal aid funds. Hidalgo-co submitted $7,040,000 of refinancing bonds, issued by seven road districts, and Maverick-co's water control and improvement districts submitted $2,000,000 for refinancing and $1,858,000 of new issues. School district issues, recently authorized in special elections, totaling $1,268,000, were approved, enabling the schools to take advantage of federal grants. The list included Cumby in Honkine-co, $13,000; Barnhart, Iron-co, $20,000; Crum, Denton-co, $20,000; Petersburg, Hale-co, $17,000; Garwood, Colorado-co, $33,000; Highland Park, Cedar Hill and Irving, Dallas-co, $333,000; Avoca, Jones-co, $15,000; Forrester, Ellis-co, $29,000; Manor, Travis-co, $37,000; and Thorndale, Milam-co, $10,000. Many other communities plan similar school bond issues.

"BEAUTIFUL TEXAS"

You have read, in the beautiful stories,
Of a country far over the sea,
From whence came our ancestors
To establish this land of the free.
There are some folks who like to travel
And see what they have over there;
But when they look, it's not like the book,
And they find there is none to compare.

Chorus—

To beautiful, beautiful Texas,
Where the beautiful bluebonnets grow;
We are proud of our forefathers
Who fought at the Alamo.
We can live on the plains or the mountains,
Or down where the sea breezes blow,
And we are still in beautiful Texas,
The most beautiful State that we know.

We can travel on beautiful highways,
By the city, the village and farm;
Or travel above on the skyways,
And the beauty below us will charm,
White cotton, green fields, blue rivers,
Wheat fields and fruit trees that bear;
We can look every way, then we will say
That Texas has beauty to spare.

While we're speaking of beautiful Texas,
There's one thing we just have to say,
About six million people are glad they're here to stay.
'Tis great to be healthy and happy,
And that seems to be our good fate;
So let us all smile, for life is worth while
When we live in this beautiful State.

cessor soon after congress meets. T. W. (Whit) Davidson of Dallas, executive lieutenant governor, is reported the most probable appointee, with J. P. Rice of Dallas, having the backing of Sen. Tom Connally. There is a rumor that Congressman Hutton W. Summers of Dallas, chairman of the house judiciary committee, may be appointed if a deadlock develops.
It took 115,000,000 dollars to operate the state government in Texas in 1934. Here is how each dollar was spent: Highway 30.9 cents; schools, 30.5 cents; relief, 9.3 cents; eleemosynary institutions, 5.3 cents; Confederate pensions, 2.5 cents; judiciary, 1.79 cents; miscellaneous items consumed the remainder.
Gasoline taxes brought in 39.94 cents of each tax dollar, real estate 25.86 cents, and gross production tax on oil, 7.17 cents. The balance came from miscellaneous sources.

THIS WEEK IN TEXAS HISTORY

1823—The first Mexican colonization law, offering liberal inducements American colonists, was passed.
1827—Stephen F. Austin issued a call for volunteers to resist the Fredonian Rebellion at Nacogdoches.
1833—The State Legislature reaffirmed its recognition of Pedraza as President of the Republic of Texas.
1835—Santa Anna's congress passed the Amnesty Law by virtue of which Stephen F. Austin was eventually released from prison in Mexico.
1858—Anson Jones died Jan. 7 in the old Capitol Hotel at Houston where he was inaugurated Governor 20 years earlier.
1928—For the first time in history Texas gave her 20 votes in the Electoral College to the Republicans in the election of Hoover.

Leroy Garrison, who has been here spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Garrison of Red Mud community, has returned to College Station where he will resume his work in A. and M. College.

STEPHEN F. AUSTIN SELECTED MOST OUTSTANDING TEXAN

Stephen F. Austin was selected the most outstanding figure in Texas history by high school students throughout the state following a recent poll conducted by Texas State College for Women at Denton. Sam Houston ranked second and David Crockett, third. The nine other famous Texans who lead in the balloting and who will be included in the original Texas Hall of Fame, which is being established at the college, include Moses Austin, James Bowie, James W. Fannin, James Hogg, Mirabeau Lamar, Robert LaSalle, Ben P. Milan, Deaf Smith, and William B. Travis.

In the near future the college will attempt to secure portraits of these twelve Texas heroes, and later on when funds are available busts will be obtained. These will be placed in the college library.

Four hundred and fifty-two high schools of the state participated in the project. Two ballots were submitted, the final one containing the names of thirty-nine outstanding Texans.

Ray Sanders, who has been confined to his room on account of illness is able to be up again.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brian, of Aspermont, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Link.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cohlma and daughter, Miss Lorene, and son, Donnie, of Waurika, Okla., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Gabriel this week.

Above-Value Loans Account For Tragic Fate Of U.S. Cotton

A LETTER TO MR. TUGWELL:

The following is a reproduction of a letter written by Walter Parker New Orleans economist, to Rexford G. Tugwell, under-secretary of Agriculture, under date of December 3, 1935, and published in the Cotton Digest under date of December 14, 1935.

The news bulletin relative to your plans to place 1000 tenant farmers on farms of their own, suggests to me that my own very unhappy experience in attempting to assist tenant farmers to become proprietors may prove of some value to you.

I own a most fertile river front farm, located seven miles from New Orleans, on a concrete highway. The place has a new seven-room house, electric lights, and power, an irrigation plant, barns, chicken houses, hot houses, etc. An a full equipment for near market production.

Four years ago I turned the farm over to a family. They paid me no rent. They paid no taxes, they were free to make the most of a $15,000 investment, I even bought them two mules and a cow. They failed. Then the Government gave them jobs.

Two years ago I turned the place over to another family. They paid no rent. They paid no taxes. One of the members of the family held a job with E.R.A. The family was free to make the most of its opportunities. This family also failed to get any where. Just lived mostly at my expense.

Both families were selected with some care from among the tenant class.

I have now rented the place to a Michigan farmer for a cash consideration, payable each month in advance and he seems to be making good.

PARKER'S EXPERIENCE.

My experience forces me to the conclusion that the combination of inherent laziness, unwillingness to assume the responsibility of proprietorship, a natural tendency, long ingrained, to rely upon others, plus a now widespread conviction that the Government will provide, stand as a barrier to proprietorship among by far the major portion of the tenant farmer class in the South, at least.

In addition to all this, there is the triple impasse in which the United States now is—that of a creditor country, a surplus country, and a high tariff country—all of which vitally and adversely affects the farming class in that they must sell the products of their toil in a market held down by world competition, while buying all their supplies in a domestic market made high by a high tariff and by many cost-raising factors imposed by the Government.

So long as the United States remains in its triple impasse, demands for crop control compensating benefits, processing taxes and the like will continue to plague a people who, lacking experience with a world creditor environment, permitted their country to change from world debtor to world creditor without preparation. DISADVANTAGES.

Obviously export producing agriculture, which must sell in an open world market and buy all its supplies in a high priced tariff protected domestic market, must operate at a severe economic disadvantage unless it receive compensating benefits.

A people who have lost half of their natural income cannot pay for a high tariff protection for industry, heavy compensating benefits to agriculture and the high cost of government imposed restraints and restrictions on their every profit earning enterprise. The economic well being of the and sale of a large surplus. In no other way can the wheels of the economic life of the United States be made to turn fast enough to supply employment for its labor and capital.

Wealth is created through work and production, not through idleness and non-production.

In the case of cotton, the production of which is now controlled by the United States, this country by no means has a monopoly. While production is being restrained in the United States, some 50 other countries are encouraging greater and still greater production.

LAST FREE MARKET.

The last free market for United States cotton was in 1928-29 when the world consumed 15,256,000 bales of United States produced cotton, and 10,626,000 bales of foreign grown cotton, a total of 25,882,000 bales.

After five years of nostrums, market manipulation by Government, the crop control and above-value loans by the old Farm Board, and the AAA here is the record in 1934-35:

World consumption of cotton in bales, 1934-35:

United States cotton	11,314,000
Foreign cotton	14,150,000
Total	25,464,000

In other words, as a result of economic experiment by the United States the world, in a single year, consumed 3,900,000 fewer United States bales, and 3,500,000 more foreign bales than in 1928-29.

Of course the tariff wall, which prevents a free flow of commerce in as well as out played a part in developing the tragic fate of United States cotton, but by far the most acute case was the above-value loans made on unsold cotton, which compelled the Government to take millions of bales on mortgages, while foreign producers sold cotton to the mills.

BUT ONE REMEDY.

There is but one remedy for this unsound economic situation. That remedy does not lie in nostrums, above-value loans, crop control, or buying cotton by the Government.

It lies only in obedience to the rules applicable to a world creditor nation. That means a low instead of a high tariff on imports, so that surplus producing agriculture may buy in the same kind of market in which it must sell; open channels of trade so that buyers of United States exports may pay through the normal processes of international trade; an opportunity for United States enterprise to function at practical and economic costs; the right of the people of the United States to live within their reduced incomes.

Prosperity can belong to the United States only as a result of sound thinking and sound acting. This is true of agriculture as it of other enterprise.

The policies of the United States during the past five years appear to have been developed on the theory that prosperity belongs to the United States as a right and an inheritance, and may be wooed back by extravagant spending and the violation of every economic law known to men.

The policies of the United States during the past five years appear to have been developed on the theory that prosperity belongs to the United States as a right and an inheritance, and may be wooed back by extravagant spending and the violation of every economic law known to men.

THE REAL PROBLEM.

The problem is far greater than simply the problem of present day seeming over-production. In the past the economic life of the United States gained monster impetus from free play of enterprise and from the presence of an every ready world market for practically all the surplus products of the United States. The result was open opportunity for every body, each succeeding younger generation included.

Now, with the markets largely closed by artificial barriers in the channels of trade, some 500,000 boys and girls leaving schools and colleges each year face, with deep concern and hopelessness, deficient opportunity.

Unless the United States obey the rules applicable to a world creditor nation, and in that way reopen opportunity, succeeding younger generations may be expected to demand the change, new experiments, strange and untried ventures in government, and thereby develop a school of economics which cannot fail to spell ruin and trouble for the future.

The remedy lies in sound economics and open markets and normal trade, not in crop curtailment, nostrums, group benefits and the like, even though present day distress has driven us to these measures as temporary expedients. Under existing conditions even the most capable farm proprietors require government aid. This applies to farm proprietors who are free of debt, as well as those burdened by mortgages.

Even though the Government should give, outright, lands and houses, cows and mules, to tenant farmers, the problems of the tenant farmer class will not be solved.

WHY TENANT FARMERS.

The tenant farmers in the South are the results of two major causes: (1) The continuing economic handicap of the South's farm proprietors, incident to forced selling in a world market and forced buying in a high tariff protected domestic market; and (2) natural selection which consigned the ambitious element of farmers to the tenant class.

Were the United States to obey the rules applicable to a surplus producing world creditor country, the farming element as a whole would enjoy a parity of economic opportunity with other enterprises in the United States. In this case, at least, the better element and the tenant farmer class might hope to become self-sustaining farm proprietors, especially when aided by the government.

But as matters stand, I very much fear that in most cases your attempt to change tenant farmers into farm proprietors will encounter just about the same unhappy results that my two efforts in that direction encountered. Please remember, I selected tenants for my experiment with some care, I did not take "run of mine" tenants.

The purpose of Government helping these unfortunate people better their deplorable economic position is a laudable purpose. But you will find the problem far greater than aiding them, with long credits, to own their own land.

I gave them the full use of rich, developed lands, houses and all necessary equipment, without obligation of any kind on their part.

LUBBOCK—"I am making four times as much cotton per acre on my terraced land as I am on that land which is not terraced." J. C. Head of Lubbock county told C. C. Johnson, county agricultural agent.

"I have contoured my 30 acre pasture and am going to re-seed it with grass seed as soon as I can obtain it, he added."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

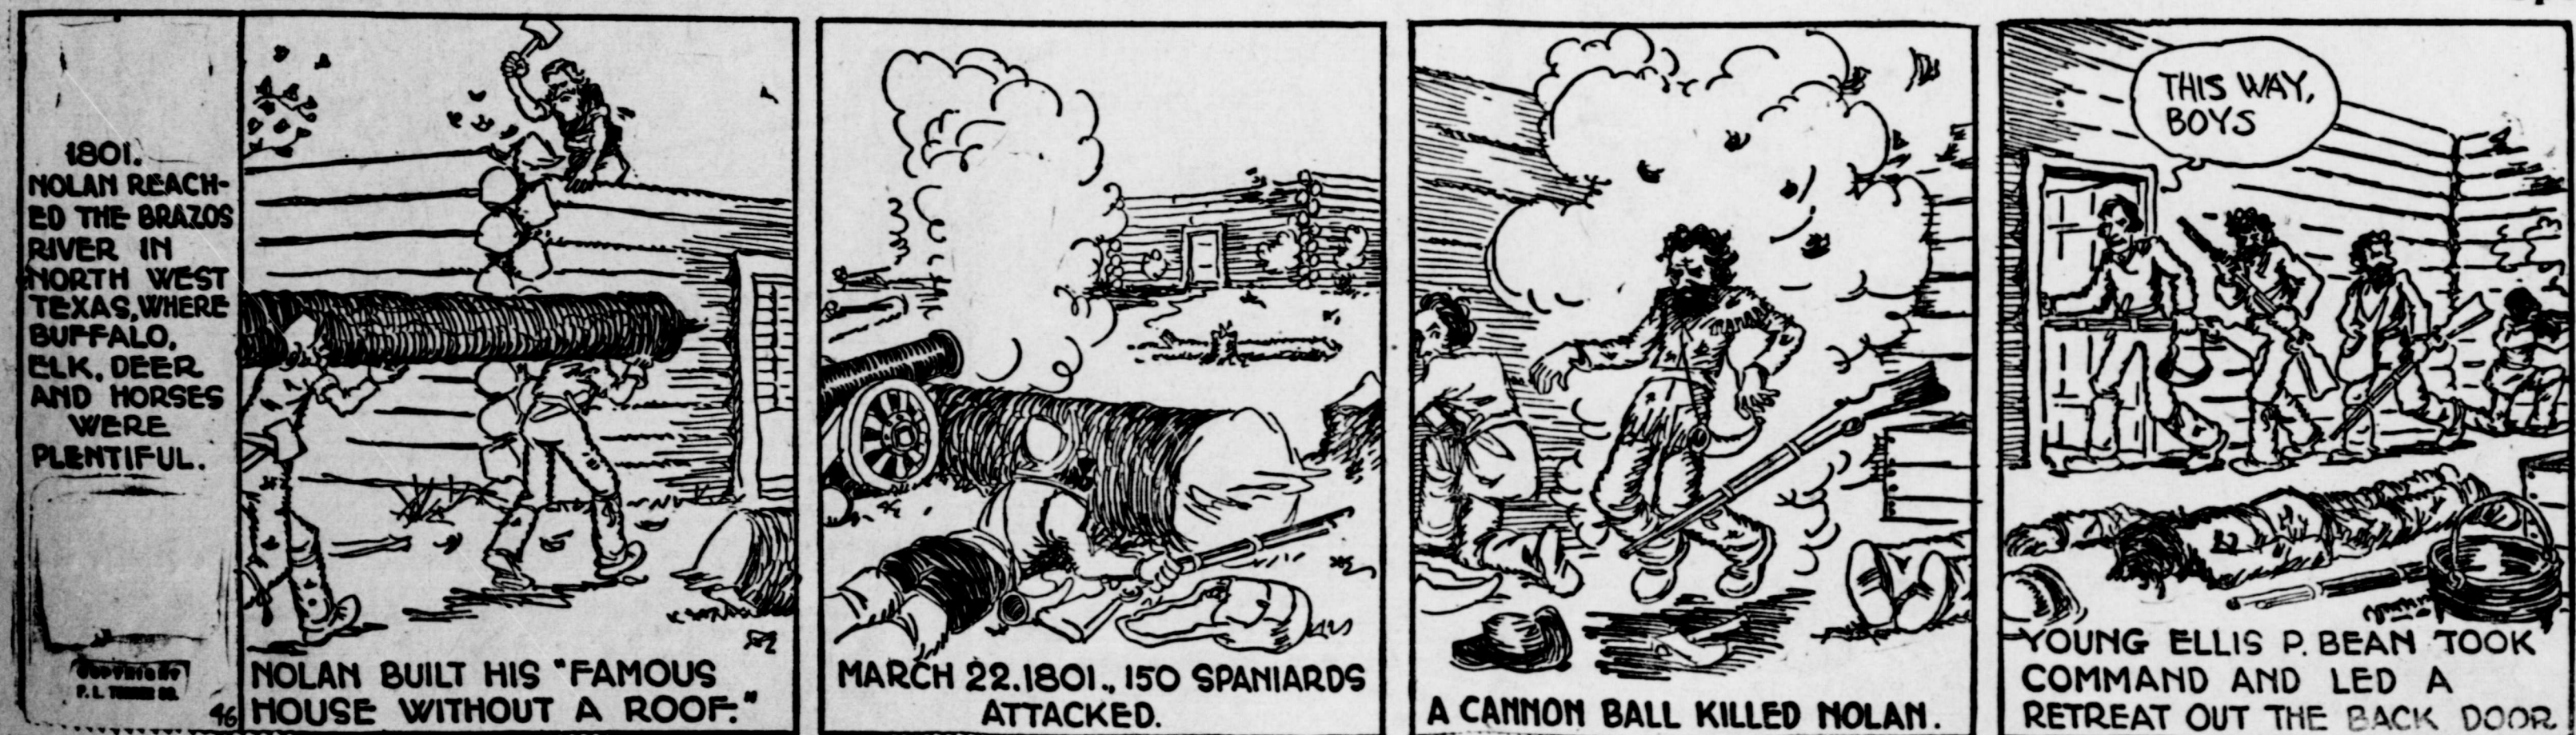

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas broats up your stomach. You have thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. Sold at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

COMING; Sunday and Monday, January 19-20, the late Will Rogers in his last production, "In Old Kentucky," with Dorothy Wilson and others supporting.

SOCIETY

COLLETT-FARLEY
Miss Nell Collett and Mr. Ready Farley were quietly married at five o'clock last Sunday afternoon, in the home of Dr. Standifer, at Turkey. The pastor of the First Methodist church of that city, read the ceremony.

Miss Collett was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamp Collett of Spur, and was a graduate of the local high school a few years ago. For the past year Miss Collett has been serving as nurse in the Standifer Hospital at Turkey where she has many friends.

Mr. Farley is an employee of one of the leading grocery firms in that city, and is spoken of as a splendid young man, by all who know him.

A reception was held after the ceremony, when a large number of friends and best wishers for the young couple gathered for the cutting of the wedding cake.

The Times joins Miss Collett's friends here to wish she and Husband much happiness and good luck. They make their home in Turkey.

CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS
Mrs. G. J. Lane was elected president for the club year 1936-37 in an all-day meeting of the Twentieth Century Study Club meeting with Mrs. J. M. Foster Tuesday. Mrs. O. L. Kelley was elected first vice-president, Mrs. L. D. Ratliff, second vice president; Mrs. O. C. Thomas, recording secretary; Mrs. Joe Long, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ray Sanders, treasurer and librarian; Miss Clara Pratt, reporter; and Mrs. J. M. Foster delegate to City Federation.

Reports on the bank, hatchery, Extension Service, hotels, telephone and other local business were given in the roll call on 'Know Your Town'. The members enjoyed a turkey dinner with all the trimmings as well as the association with each other and the program.

Those present were: Mesdames, E. L. Caraway, E. J. Cowan, F. B. Crockett, H. C. Foote, B. F. Hale, O. L. Kelley, J. A. Koon, G. L. Lane, E. S. Lane, Ray Sanders, A. M. Walker, W. B. Lee, C. N. Lane, C. V. Smart, T. H. Blackwell, J. M. Foster and Miss Clara Pratt.—Reporter.
