Plans Underway for Making 480 New Mattresses

Plans are well underway for making the 480 cotton mattresses for Bailey county. The materials were obtained through the Surplus Marketing Administration, and the work is being carried on through the Home Demonstration and the Triple A offices.

In most cases four mattresses are being made each day in each center. The purpose of the mattress program is the use of surplus cotton and to place some good bedding in the homes of our county, Miss Lillie Gentry, Home Demonstration agent said.

The following opening dates have been set for the communities over the county: Stegall, June 17. Mrs. Charlie Phipps, supervisor, with 21 mattresses to make.

West Camp, June 17. Mrs. W. H. Morgan, supervisor, with 51 mattresses to make.

Progress, June 18. Mrs. Albert D. supervisor, with 39 mattresses to make.

Maple, June 19. Mrs. Ora De-ment and Mrs. Paul Powell, supervisors, with 79 mattresses to make.

Mapleview, June 26. Mrs. Chas. Beatty, supervisor, with 70 mattresses to make.

Bula, June 25. Mrs. G. B. Sayer, supervisor, with 111 mattresses to make.

Help for other centers will be set soon.

Crop Insurance Pays Flood Damage

When wheat, insured by Federal Crop Insurance, is destroyed by an uncontrollable factor, such as floods shown above, or by hail, insects or drought, certificates of indemnity to wheat producers may be issued. There are 11,040 Texas wheat farmers who have this kind of insurance on 4,943,435 bushels of wheat. Wheat insurance is designed to stabilize farm income.

Replanting Is Again Necessary Following Rains

Farmers in many sections of the county started the day last Monday by planning for putting in their crops again. Heavy rains Saturday night, and again Sunday afternoon, flooded fields, covering freshly planted seed to such depth that the whole job must be done over again.

For many farmers it will be the fourth planting this season. The Baileyboro and Goodland communities were especially hard hit, many reporting fields badly washed. Seed has been obtained promptly, and tractors are beginning to run again today.

In the wheat section to the north of Muleshoe, damage is reported to run as high as fifty and sixty percent. A number of wheat farmers are running binders, not waiting for the grain to ripen for combining. In some fields where wheat would have made 40 bushels to the acre, it is said that the yield will not be more than 20 bushels at this time.

In the truck growing section, it is claimed that vegetables have suffered less than other crops. Onions and potatoes will be in good shape when weeded out, it is thought, and the market on these is expected to be very good due to adverse conditions in the southern part of the state.

Total rainfall for June, up to Wednesday, the 18th, was 4.67 inches.

Three Narrowly Escape Serious Injury In Wreck

An automobile accident that was very near being tragic, with a delay in a wedding center and treatment for the occupants of the car at the clinic last Saturday morning.

At Mrs. J. W. Tarleton, daughter, Frances, of Lubbock, enroute to Clovis, N. M., where Miss Frances was to be married. Due to Highway 70 being blocked, they came around the detour from Sudan to Needmore. A short distance north of Needmore a front tire blew out, throwing the car out of control, and causing it to turn over. The left side was crushed in, but luckily the passengers escaped with minor, but painful cuts and bruises.

Help was soon available and the car and the Tarletons were brought to Muleshoe. They were discharged from the clinic just before noon.

Mr. Tarleton stated that they were traveling between 45 and 50 miles an hour when the accident happened, and that he managed to keep the car straight for some two hundred feet before it went over. He stated that he considered themselves lucky to come out with bruises and cuts.

"KENTUCKY BOUND"

"Uncle Shorty" Bartlett, local constable, declares that he is "Kentucky bound" as soon as Roy Hogan gets his cotton in, and is able to relieve him of his constabulary duties. "Uncle Shorty" plans to visit relatives in the Blue Grass state.

Cotton Farmers To Be Paid If Government Takes Title

Farmers with cotton in the government loan will receive full payment for their cotton if the government should take title to the cotton.

This was emphatically pointed out today by J. C. Smith, Bailey County AAA Secretary, when he was advised by the U. S. Department of Agriculture that title not be taken to loan cotton until prior public notice.

The government should take a loan cotton, the cotton farmers would be paid any amount by which (1) the redemption of their notes (which in principal, interest, and charges on the pledged cotton were exceeded by (2) a fair price for the cotton at the time it would be determined by Secretary of Agriculture on basis of the then prevailing area market prices for cotton reasonable. However, if the cotton in grades, staple length and locations.

Muleshoe Scouts To Defend Their Swimming Crown

Members of the Muleshoe Boy Scout troop will attend the annual swimming meet to be held at Littlefield Monday, June 23. The local scouts are defending champions, having won top honors in the meet the last five years.

Entries will be in three divisions: Junior ages 12-13; Intermediate, ages 14-15, and Senior, ages 16-17.

At least four Muleshoe scouts will enter in every division of the meet, according to Irvin St. Clair, troop leader.

In winning the meets for the last five years, Muleshoe scouts have hung up several records. They have also won honors in other swimming contests in this section. A former Muleshoe scout, Lester Hammons, who is now in the U. S. Army, stationed in Washington, is holder of the back-stroke record in the Clovis swimming meet.

The Littlefield meet there will be contests in each division in breast stroke, side stroke, back stroke, free style, diving, free style relay and plain relay.

Winners of first and second places at Littlefield will be eligible to compete in the district meet at Lubbock.

Representations to the effect that the government will not give full payment for cotton equities when and if it is necessary for the Commodity Credit Corporation to take title to the cotton," the AAA official warned.

The notes secured by 1938 crop cotton, the maturity date for which was extended to July 31, 1941, are not callable on demand. The notes secured by 1939 crop cotton matured on July 31, 1940. The notes secured by 1940 crop cotton do not mature until July 31, 1941, but they are callable for payment on demand at any time. It is possible that the government may find it desirable to take title on Aug. 1, 1941, to any cotton remaining pledged to secure notes which are overdue at that time. In the event, however, that the government should take title to any of the stocks of loan cotton at least ten days public notice of such action would be given by a press release.

Sudan Votes Down Road Bond Issue

Voters of Sudan and the surrounding area went to the polls June 9, and voted a majority of 33 votes favoring issuance of $145,000 in bonds to build roads radiating out of Sudan, but the vote of 125 for and 93 against lacked 20 of being the required two-thirds majority, and the issue was declared defeated.

The issue if successful would have made possible the building of approximately 30 miles of surfaced roads.

SEED MAN HERE

Emory G. Hanson of the State Seed Department of North Dakota, was here last week from Fargo, N. D., observing development of seed planted in this section.

Mayor Proclaims 'Clean Up' Week In Muleshoe, June 18-25

All Property Owners Urged To Cooperate

Heavy rain for the past month has caused the finest growth of weeds and grass for many years, and the ground has become so thoroughly soaked that ditches and lakes are standing with water that soon becomes an ideal breeding place for mosquitoes.

There are vacant lots in Muleshoe in which weeds have grown waist high, and these are also producing a bumper crop of mosquitoes. Some of these lots belong to people who do not live here, but the citizens are demanding that city officials do something about it.

Such a condition causes a typhoid threat, and is very poor advertising for the town. City officials are asking everyone to clear all lots and alleys of weeds, cans and rubbish. The mayor has proclaimed a cleanup week with the hope that other means will not have to be taken in order to eliminate this health threat.

2 Bailey County Boys Left Friday For Ft. Bliss

Melvin Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Clark, who reside a few miles west of Muleshoe, and Junior Ross, left Friday for the U. S. Army training camp at Fort Bliss, El Paso, Tex. They were called into training by the Bailey county selective service board.

Bailey county has received a call for three boys for Friday, July 11, according to an announcement by Ross Smith, secretary of the local draft board.

Tuesday, July 1, all boys of Bailey county, who have reached the age of 21 years, and who have not previously registered will be required to do so. Registration will be at the local selective service office on the first floor of the county court house.

This second registration day was authorized recently by President Roosevelt.

Selective service officials estimate that approximately one million men will register for service on that day.

Registration will take place in the United States proper, in Puerto Rico, Hawaii, and Alaska, and every male citizen who has become 21 years of age since the last registration day, Oct. 16, 1940, will be required to comply with the regulations.

Henry Writes To Sympathetic Dad

On the back page of this week's Muleshoe Journal will be found the first of a series of weekly letters from an imaginary Army rookie to his mythical World-war-veteran dad.

Par from being imaginary or mythical, however, are many of the incidents described in the letters, which are written by one who was "over there" during the first World war, and who has been an interested observer of Army training camp conditions and procedures of today.

True to Army life, these letters will give absorbing and even informative to the reader.

College Day To Be Held Sunday At M. E. Church

Next Sunday, June 22, is College Day at the Methodist church in Muleshoe. All local young people who have been attending college and are home for the summer months are extended a cordial invitation to be present for the occasion.

A special service will be dedicated to them at the regular morning worship. Every year, more and more local young people have been going from the Muleshoe high school to higher institutions of learning and it is the desire of the local Methodist church that they attend services here when they are back in the home town.

The number of college students in Muleshoe and other parts of Bailey county has grown immensely in the past few years, and they are always welcome and urged to take part in activities of the church.

An invitation is extended to all young people of the community to attend the services here Sunday as well as in the months and years to come.

Like Christmas they come around once each year. Harley Sadler and his own company, which is known as "truly a Texas Institution," have been appearing here for these many years. It has been the policy throughout the existence of the Sadler company to play under the auspices of some civic or charitable organization wherever they go and this year they are being sponsored in Muleshoe by the American Legion.

According to Harley, much new equipment has been added this year. The outfit has been entirely remodeled and one of the most elaborate stage offerings in the store for the theatre-goers of this section. Aside from a new line of plays which will be mounted with special scenery, an abundance of artistic talent will be on hand, such as singers, musical acts, comedians, dancers, and other novelties that go to make up a most enjoyable evening's entertainment.

The shows will be open at 7:15, and the big musical comedy presentation will commence at 8:30. The big tent theatre is water proof and comfortable in all kinds of weather. Popular prices will prevail, children 10c, adults 20c, special reserved chairs 10c and 20c extra, government tax included.

Wheat Quotas In Effect On Bailey County's 1941 Crop

Wheat quotas are now in effect and will apply on the 1941 wheat crop. Lonnie Arnold, chairman of the Bailey County AAA committee, announced this week. Tabulations compiled in the local AAA office indicate wheat farmers of Bailey county approved wheat marketing quotas by a vote of 51 to 3, a majority of 94 percent, when they voted in the nation-wide wheat referendum Saturday May 31.

Arnold also announced that preliminary but official figures from the state AAA office indicate that Texas farmers approved quotas by a vote of 13,974 to 938, or 93.7 percent, while the United States voted 80.3 percent for quotas.

"All farmers who have planted within their wheat allotments for this year," Arnold said, "will continue to sell or feed all the produce. They may also dispose of any old wheat carried over from previous years."

Since quotas are approved, wheat farmers who planted within their allotments are eligible

Local Children First To Finish Stamp Books

Rex Robison, age 6, and Peggy Jo Robison, age 8, are the first to complete their Savings Stamp books. It was announced Tuesday by A. J. Gardner, postmaster. Rex and Peggy Jo are children of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Robison, and were among the first to start a savings account with defense stamps.

They traded their stamps for a $25 defense bond this week and are continuing to add to their savings.

Last Saturday a meeting of defense bond chairman of the 19th congressional district was held at the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock, with 125 persons from 25 counties attending. Among the representatives from Bailey county were R. L. Brown and A. J. Gardner.

George W. Dapree, district chairman, presided at the meeting. Frank Scofield, state administrator of the defense set-up for Texas, was the principal speaker for the occasion. He said: "Texas has become 'exhibit A' in the nation for its response to the defense financial drive. America, one of the few nations left where you can hang up your hat and then go back and get it, does not have to sell patriotism to its people. This darkest time since the Civil war will be responded to by a people who realize they can aid the government and invest for themselves at the same time.

"The nation is on the verge of the greatest spending spree of its history, and there will be days after the war, if there is one, which nation will not be so bright as now."

Scofield advocated a salary allotment plan, whereby employees would petition their employers to deduct a certain amount of money one day a month. One day a week and pay them the balance saving stamps rather than money. Those stamps could be applied to defense bonds and "we would find ourselves back to a savings plan—something that would do more for the country than anything in the last 30 years."

He predicted there would be no coercion of the public now. "There will be no need to blacklist those who don't subscribe to defense saving bonds and stamps," he predicted. "Americans don't have to do anything—but die—and they'll subscribe to bonds and stamps in the traditional American manner."

To Hold Meeting

Wednesday evening of this week, W. B. Wages, missionary of the Plains Association, and L. A. Stidham of Dallas, editor of the Baptist Progress, began a meeting at the American Legion Hall in Muleshoe. Services will be continued for ten days or two weeks.

Both Mr. Wages and Mr. Stidham are affiliated with the Baptist Missionary Association of Texas.

All residents of Muleshoe and the public in general are invited to attend all services.

Local Youths Go To Booster Meeting

New officers for the union were elected, Horace Edwards of Muleshoe being the new president for the ensuing term.

The meeting was accompanied to the group by Mrs. S. C. Beavers.

Mr. and Mrs. Some will move to their new home July 1.

Wheat Quotas In Effect On Bailey County's 1941 Crop

Overplanted wheat farmers, Arkansas, who have a marketing excess may dispose of it in one of three ways, (1) they may market it and pay the penalty, which will be 50 percent of the national average loan rate of 96c per bushel, (2) they may deliver it to the Secretary of Agriculture through the local AAA committee for relief purposes or other purposes that will divert it from the normal channels of trade, or (3) they may deposit it under bond in which case the wheat is sealed in storage approved for government loans and the farmer will be eligible for a loan on it at 60 percent of the regular loan rate.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
(From files of June 18, 1926)
Wm. G. Kennedy called at The Journal office and requested us to make his announcement for reelection to the office of County Judge and Sup't. of Schools.

E. R. Hart Lumber Co. Inc., report the sale of three combines this week. J. W. Waide, Pose Cunningham and a Mr. Parrish were the parties making the purchases.

I. A. Todd, wife and son, Ralph, of Las Cruces, N. M., are here this week visiting in the Carles home. Mrs. Todd is a sister of our accommodating and efficient postmistress, Mrs. B. W. Carles.

Ivan B. Mardis was appointed city clerk at the last meeting of the city board. His office will be at the Blackwater Valley State Bank.

A picnic was enjoyed by some of Muleshoe's young people Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Dodson and J. H. Johnson and wife acted as chaperones. Bacon was broiled and all kinds of eats that go with a picnic were brought out. Outside of some clothing to be patched as a result of sliding down the sand hills, no damage is reported. Those present were: Misses Kathryn Neal, Reta Lea Dodson, Polly Alford, Gladys Dorman, Opal Johnson and Stella Mae Griffin of Plainview. The boys were Jesse and Harold West, Tom Bellew, Jimmie Cox, Bill Hart, David Anderson, "Donkey" Rutherford, (the two boys working for Hart's), and Mr. Gardner of Hollis, Okla.

TEN YEARS AGO
(From files of June 18, 1931)
H. E. Lindsey and J. J. Woodside, joint owners of a 40-acre tract of land located three miles northeast of Muleshoe, are the lay-Vallies to embark in the irrigation type of farming, having finished their irrigation well last week.

At a business meeting of the Baptist church last Sunday, Rev. C. A. Joiner, the pastor, was granted a two weeks vacation from the duties of the church.

Attorney Pat R. Bobo left Sunday for Mineral Wells to be gone a couple of weeks.

The S. E. Cone Grain Co., this city, is completing an extension of the loading track to their elevator, extending the length 150 feet and doubling the capacity so that eight cars may now be loaded at one time.

FIVE YEARS AGO
(From files of June 18, 1936)
What is perhaps the largest single deal for real estate ever made in Bailey county was closed with the filing of a deed at the court house here embracing 14,688 acres of land located in Bailey and Cochran counties, being the culmination of a contract between officials of Childress county, party of the first part, and C. R. Woolsey and C. E. Davis, Lubbock, parties of the second part.

The Panhandle Construction Co., Lubbock, will this week finish installation of the $32,377.79 sewer system in Muleshoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dameron and children returned to Muleshoe the latter part of last week from this week's vacation trip to various points in Texas and Oklahoma.

Following a 17-year struggle by veterans of the World war, bonus bonds began flowing into Muleshoe last Monday. Gilbert Wollard was the first to receive his, and W. B. McAdams was the first to obtain certification. The first day of this week there were over 55 ex-soldiers who received their quota of bonds from the government. It has been calculated that approximately $76,000 in "baby" bonds and over-plus checks will be received by Bailey county veterans.

4-COUNTY MEDICAL GROUP MEETS AT LITTLEFIELD

The Four County Medical Association held its regular bi-monthly meeting at the Baton hotel in Littlefield June 11.

Doctors from Lamb, Cochran, Hockley and Bailey counties were present. Dr. Malone of Lubbock was guest speaker of the evening. Special guests included superintendents of the Farm Security Administrations of the four counties, who are Fred Nix of Lamb county, H. A. Pounds of Hockley county, J. W. McDermott of Bailey county, and Mr. Findley of Cochran county.

Vaccination Is Urged Ahead Of Vacation Trip

Vacation time is once again at hand and among preparations for your summer vacation, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges that you include vaccination against typhoid.

"If you have not been vaccinated against typhoid recently within the last year or two don't wait until just before your vacation to be vaccinated against typhoid," Dr. Cox urged.

"Typhoid fever is a germ disease. Water, milk or other foods that have been contaminated by typhoid germs are the main sources of the disease. A great deal has been accomplished by public health measures to prevent the spread of typhoid from such sources. The protection of public and private water supplies from contamination, the extension of community sanitation, the sanitary supervision of food, pasteurization of milk, and other public health measures have all helped to safeguard the public against the disease. Typhoid is much less prevalent than formerly, but it is still a source of much unnecessary and avoidable illness.

"The typhoid-producing germs are passed in the discharges from persons ill with typhoid or who have had it at some time. Some persons continue to pass the germ long after recovery from the illness and become what is known as carriers." If these carriers of the disease germs are careless in their personal habits before handling or preparing food for other people, the food may become contaminated and be a source of danger. Some of the most serious outbreaks of typhoid within recent years have been traced to foods handled by careless carriers.

Another source of danger in the rural areas is the unprotected water supply. You cannot tell whether water is safe for drinking purposes even if it looks clean. It is wise to boil water used for drinking purposes in non-urban areas. For the same reason, unless you are certain of the source of your milk supply while on camping trips, you had better boil that also.

Texas High As Shorthorn State

Fifth in the nation last year and seventh for the first six months of this year, the record of Texas as a Shorthorn state as determined by the number of new members in the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association Chicago, Ill., according to word from the association office.

Though the same states as last year are represented in the high 10, only the first three—Iowa, Illinois and Indiana—repeated their last year's winnings. Pointed out is the even distribution of new business among the leading states, there being a difference of but 13 new members between fourth and tenth position.

The top ten states in new memberships are: 1. Iowa, 58; 2. Illinois, 57; 3. Indiana, 50; 4. Oklahoma, 33; 5. and 6. Missouri and North Dakota, 31 each; 7. Minnesota, 28; 8. Texas, 26; 9. Kansas, 25; 10. and 11. Michigan and Ohio, 20 each.

Says Shorthorn secretary H. J. Granlich, this year is seeing the most new members, the most sales and the most pedigree recordings for the breed in over a decade. Up to May 1, 539 new memberships have been received, which is a 7 percent increase over last year's sensational 74 percent increase over the year before.

Pedigree recordings for the first half of the year are coming in at a 12.5 percent greater clip, and transfers, which are the index of business being done by breeders, are up a substantial 19 percent over the very good 1940.

Even more significant of trends in the livestock industry, thinks Granlich, is the fact that the total 1940 income from Shorthorn public auctions exceeded by 43 percent the figure for 1939. Last year those stockmen who held auction sales gained a total of $10,000 more than in the previous year, yet prices remain on a soundly profitable basis for both buyer and seller.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES NOW HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO BECOME PILOTS
High school graduates who are ambitious to become pilots in the Regular Army Air Corps now have the opportunity. Even if their educational qualifications will not permit them to become commissioned officers, they still may fly Army airplanes and may look forward to careers as pilots. All that need to do is to enlist in the Army Air Corps and this course of training will be open to them after July 1, 1941, as soon as administrative details can be arranged. They will be taught to fly and they will be paid while learning. After they have qualified as pilots their futures as regular Army pilots are assured.

All this is made possible by a bill which has just passed Congress and which has been signed by the President. It authorizes the Secretary of War to detail men for training and instruction as aviation students, in their respective grades.

All qualified young men are interested should apply nearest Army recruiting station. Let's Go America, Keep 'Em in!

Sandy? Say, when is Ann, McTavish going to let you marry her?

Andy: It's very uncertain. Some fool gave her a big box of stationery with her name printed on it. She won't get married until it is used up—after she writes very few letters on account of the postage.

WARNING
To All Automobile Owners
The past few days we have had several cars in our shop that had been operating with a slight amount of water in the motor and transmission, causing failure of expensive bearings. The owners of these cars were unaware of this condition until trouble developed.
Driving through deep water which many had been forced to do was the cause of the water getting into these parts. If you haven't carefully checked your motor and transmission, it will be wise for you to do so. It will be a lot safer to drain and flush the motor and transmission and have the front wheel bearings cleaned and repacked as moisture will quickly damage the highly polished surfaces of ball and roller bearings.
It may save you some money to look after these items promptly.

Then how long is a quart of this great New Motor Oil?
STRAIGHT FROM SIZZLING DEATH VALLEY COMES YOUR ANSWER...
The lock-guarded engines of 6 coupes faced the Death Valley desert with oil, exactly up to "Full". Not a drop could be added. The destination of all 6 identical everyday engines was... Death!
Here were 6 high quality motor oils getting the same strictly fair opportunity to show how long they'd let an engine live on one exact fill and no more.
Down in Death Valley—hotspot of the U. S. A.—every car sputted at 57 miles an hour, till its oil gave out and the engine smashed. The brand of oil that used up quickest was outlasted 8,368 miles by a revolutionary new oil in this impartial, certified test. This new oil exceeded the average mileage of the other 5 oils by all of 7,057 miles! Certified. This longest-lasting oil in the test, which your car can have today—at popular price—is new

The record long life that defied Death Valley comes from a new laboratory creation... man-made... called Thialkone inhibitor. Its action in some ways suggests Vaccination—which puts the right protective substance on guard to keep a trouble from even starting on you.
The trouble aiming to start on motor oils lurks in the engine's normal grime. Filth is formed that tends to start the oil "feathering". First one drop spoils—then two drops "catch it"—then four—then sixteen—faster, faster, FASTER. Soon oil stamina is sapped; the engine sputters, and cries for quart after quart... but

Farm Labor Shortage Seen

A shortage of farm labor in Texas may be experienced in the summer and fall months. Summarizing prospects, however, T. R. Timm, extension economist in farm management, says the probable shortage will be more in the form of the wage farm operators will be able, or required, to pay than a physical shortage.

TESTAMENT OF A REPORTER

(For the benefit of those who give but a passing thought to a newspaper reporter's line of duty, we are herewith reproducing an article from the Publishers Auxiliary—a newspaper journal published in Chicago. It was written by Ben Heck, a New York newspaper, PM, which has been given wide publicity. —Editor.)

I saw Jack Dempsey knocked out of the ring in Atlantic City and come back to me.

I saw Ben Joy, knocked down three times, climb back on his feet and land a haymaker.

I saw Pete Ortiz tossed on the horns of a bull, land on his feet, running blood, wave his fingers aside to make the kill himself.

I saw the coal miners of Herlin, Ill., walk unarmed into the barking guns of the militia, fall in heaps of dead, and win their strike.

I saw Blackie Weed stand on the gallows and spit in the sheriff's face, laugh when they tightened the rope around his neck and go through the trap still grinning.

I saw Joe Gans riding in an ambulance to his death bed with his fists still clenched and twitching and his chin still ducked down against Ben Nelson.

I saw Chris Haggerty of the IP climb an icy telegraph pole in the Dayton flood, tap out his last message: "Dayton, Ohio—IP everywhere"—and slide unconscious to the earth.

I heard Hugo Haas stand up in the first National German assembly.

I saw a German who believes the might of guns will only win for us an ignoble place in the human family. If this is treason, kill me. They killed him on the Redwing steps in Berlin.

I saw Lou Gehrig beat out his last homer with his spine tied in a knot.

I saw Jesus Maria Lopez, before the firing squad in Chihuahua, smoke his last cigarette, grin at his startled rifleman and say: "You bullets, my friends, will have no effect on the thoughts in my humble head. They will continue in other humble heads."

I saw Teddy Roosevelt, shot by an assassin, stand up that night in a Milwaukee auditorium and with a bullet still in his midriff, deliver the finest oration of his career. If anything happened to him as a result of the morning's accident, he cried to the throng, he hoped their memory be tempered by the memory of what a hell of a good time he had had out of life.

I saw Ben Welch, blind as a bat, come prancing out on the Palace Theatre stage and crack jokes that convulsed his audience.

I saw Eugene Debs, the Socialist leader, come out of the Atlanta jail and say: "America is the greatest country in the world with the brightest happens to dim that future."

I saw George Gershwin writing his last tune for the Goldwyn Folies with a brain tumor driving an ice pick through his skull.

I saw Billy Petrolle, twice beaten, come back in his old Indian blanket in Madison Square Garden and while the daylight out of Jimmy McLarnin.

I saw garment workers in Chicago march singing into a double wall of mounted police, get tripped to death and win their strike.

I saw a survivor of the Titanic, a servant girl from Galway, who told me how her friends in the steege had died. Unable to find places in the life boats, they crowded into the forbidden but now deserted precincts of the first-cabin saloon, taken possession of the elegant piano and played and sung Irish tunes as the ship went down, themselves with it.

I saw Bill Heywood on the light he skipped back and fled from his native U. S. A. to die in Russia. He was under sentence as a radical. I met him in the gallery of a burlesque.

I saw a burlesque manager, having a last look at the country he loved. "They put on a great show here," he said, chewing on his peanuts. "I always like to place like this just to watch those bumps in the audience laugh."

I saw an AEF soldier on a hospital cot with both legs off and a fake jaw riveted to where his face had been, moving his mouth stiffly, and squeak like a mamma doll. "We won."

I've seen these things and many things like them. I've seen the end of an endless saga of misfortune that hits the eye of the reporter he gets to see the queer stamina of little people in big troubles. He is given a privileged look at the undaunted moment of the soul of human history. He sees a lot of disaster and wreckage, but if he keeps his eyes open he usually gets a look at the flag of man still flapping above some corner of the shambles.

I've seen this flag a hundred times where it never belonged. I've seen it come out of the many big and little hells in the hearts of people and straighten up in victory. And I'll see it again. I'll see England win.

THE NAVY WATCHES JAPAN

Whether or not this government will use the Navy as an active belligerent in the Battle of the Atlantic, is a question that no one but possibly the President can answer. Whatever the eventual result may be, the soul of human history has been written in the concentrated our fighting ships in the Atlantic—of which the most important is the strange Empire of Japan.

For many years, the American people have been accustomed to swift changes in the status of U. S.-Japanese relations. Both sides have done considerable diplomatic bluffing. Many times alarmists have said that the navy was going to attack Japan. In fact, the navy was the very brick of war. But so far, nothing much has happened, outside of a few minor incidents which were swiftly settled, such as the sinking of the Panay some years ago.

Now, according to a number of responsible correspondents who know the Japanese character and Japanese conditions, there is a chance that matters will at last move from the talking to the shooting point where are the principal reasons they use to substantiate that position:

First, Japanese leaders are confident Germany will win this war, and they believe that, therefore, the future of Japan will depend on the future of Hitler's "new order."

Second, they are convinced that this country cannot be frightened on the future of Hitler's "new order" position which says in effect that if Japan moves into the South Pacific, we will use force to stop her.

Inasmuch as the Japanese leaders are also convinced that Japan must dominate the lands and treat of resources of the South Pacific Islands if she is to survive as a first class power, they have come to the point of view that eventual war is certain and there is little use in longer trying to prevent it.

Third, working on the assumption that war is inevitable, the Japanese strategists feel that this is the time to fight it, while the United States has its hands full in the Atlantic and must attempt to dominate two oceans with a one-ocean fleet.

By 1946, the U. S. will have a formidable two-ocean fleet, and then, think Japan's naval men, Nippon's chance of winning a war would be extremely poor.

Fourth, Japan knows her position is precarious so long as she must depend for the bulk of essential supplies, such as steel and petroleum, on the United States. Therefore, it is their opinion, the thing to do is to strike out and obtain by conquest essential raw materials for herself.

This government is taking Japan very seriously. The bulk of our fleet is operating in the Pearl Harbor area. The Atlantic fleet is small and its few capital ships are mostly obsolete and slow.

Large concentrations of aircraft, particularly Flying Fortresses, have been sent to Hawaii and even farther east.

Therefore, it is their opinion, the thing to do is to strike out and obtain by conquest essential raw materials for herself.

It is significant that recent pronouncements of Japanese strategists have become very blunt. Premier Matsukawa scarcely bothers any more to conceal his dislike for the United States. His admiration for the Axis, Germany's successes in Europe have stiffened Japanese spines, and encouraged Japanese saber rattlers. The reality is that the Pacific can accurately be described as a tinder box today.

THE FARMER PAYS AND PAYS

Recently a group of city business men were discussing the problems incident to factory management, taxes, strike threats, governmental regulations, etc. All agreed a loud "Amen" when one suggested that he was inclined to "farm and thus dodge all of these problems."

It sounds like a simple solution but we rather think these same men would feel, a year or so later, that they had jumped from the frying pan into the fire. They might find themselves confronted with labor problems, even though of a different character; they might find taxes even higher compared with income; and when they bought certain essential machinery or equipment they would probably discover that labor costs were following closely on their heels.

While the farmer is a primary producer he is also one of the nation's largest consumers. All the costs of strikes, labor troubles, high taxes and increased material costs are reflected in the prices he is obliged to pay for clothing, paint, lumber, processed food, etc. and certain implements.

It sounds like "easy money" when a farm boy who has been driving a tractor for $50 per month and board, goes to a government defense project and for his work receives $120 for 3 hours and $180 for 8 hours on Saturday and Sunday, a total of $960 per week or about six times his former wage for similar work. At the same time his brother or a neighbor's boy is conscripted for military service at $100 per month and "keep."

If the farmer needed government help to make ends meet when he was paying $5000 per month for tractor drivers, how in the world is he going to get necessary supplies and equipment when such merchandise costs must include the much higher labor and material costs plus the increased taxes required to defray the tremendous cost of the National Defense program.

On the basis of $150 per hour and a 40-hour week, with time-and-a-half for overtime, applied to agriculture, we would like to see some statistically-minded economist tell what the farmer would have to get for his wheat or pork or beef, and what wages would have to be paid labor, so they could then meet the higher cost of existence.

Somewhere by some one, at some time, we have been assured that all would share equally in the sacrifices necessary to insure national defense.

It is one thing to advocate a high wage for industrial labor so that increased material costs be developed for farm products but no one can make us believe that the average carpenter, plumber, brick mason or tractor-driver is going to eat the amount of food that industrial labor consumes.

Economists tell us of the terrific drain on the Treasury that would result from increasing AA-A "parity payments" to $450,000,000, and yet other Federal Departments are spending billions, a large portion of which goes to the government regarding the cases have been cited where ordinary laborers upon payment of union dues, have become master craftsmen over night and entitled to the "prevailing wage."

This is no time for acreage reduction plans or for the fostering of pig killing — food feeds to win wars — but it is high time that a better balance be struck between what the farmer gets for his work and what he has to pay for the necessities of life and equipment. Reprinted from "Farm Machinery & Equipment," St. Louis, Mo.

A CORRECTION

In last week's Journal, we stated that J. Clyde Taylor would move to his new home "one block west of Mortgage Hill." Mr. Taylor has objected to the location, claiming that he is "smack-dab in the middle of Mortgage Hill."

The Journal set its engineer to run a new location yesterday. The engineer found that Mr. Taylor was absolutely correct, and we are glad to make this public correction.

Best chance of our actively entering the European war, therefore, would be for France to make this transfer. No one believes we would sit quietly by and let the Germans occupy Dakar, and no one believes Hitler could be stopped from doing that without a scrap.

Well-substantiated reports come from Vichy the effect that France will conclude a permanent peace with Germany, and give to the Reich certain important French possessions. One of these possessions is Dakar, which this government regards as an important definite threat to American security if held by an unfriendly power.

Mr. Taylor is now a full member of the Purple Rocking Circle—in good standing. (Maybe).

YOUR NAME

By CHARLES DIDWAY

If you are "one of the Jones boys," you can probably trace your family tree to Welsh ancestors, inhabitants of that part of Great Britain which has shown its true colors in a valiant effort to give as good as it takes in the current European war.

Bill glanced at Jody, and her satisfied face was very lovely, highlighted by the little fire. He laced his hand together to stop their shaking. "Tonight I told you father what I'm going to do. My idea is to give Thorpe his own medicine, and force it down him until he's finished; a wild bunch of our own, tougher than his, made up of men that hate him as much as we do."

"Take ten," he said, "and call them Rice; Take another ten and call them Price; A hundred more and dub them Hughes; Take fifty others, call them Pughes; Now Roberts name some hundred more; And Williams name a legion more; 'And call,' he moaned in languid tones, 'Call all the other thousands—JONES!'"

Natal Americans of the past who have borne the name of Jones were John Paul Jones, naval commander; Bolton H. Jones, painter, and Frank Jones, actor. (Editor's Note: Present day Jones of more than average prominence include the business manager of The Journal.)

Four explanations are given to account for the surname Morris. (1) It is derived from the personal name "Maurice." (2) It comes from "Moors" and originally indicated a person of dark complexion, like a Moor. (3) It comes from the Gaelic "mor" (great), and "rhy," (a warrior); "great warrior" (4) It is derived from the personal name of the father of the saint name Mary Gaelic (Mhoire). Most Morrisches choose the third explanation which, after all, is the most likely one.

Robert Morris was an American financier and statesman. Senator P. Morris (1802-1864) was an American poet and Gouverneur Morris was a famous statesman.

The original form of this surname was "Falconer." A falconer was one who caught and trained falcons, or one who hunted with falcons, which were hawks used in oiden times for the pursuit of game. The use of Faulkner as a family name appears as early as 1130.

This surname, also spelled "Osborn," and "Osbourne," is from the ancient English personal name "Osborn," derived from "os" (a hero), and "beorn" (chieftain). Sherard Osborn was a British admiral who died in 1875.

This government, beneath the surface, now regards France as being virtually an Axis ally. There is good reason for that. The real head of France today is Admiral Darlan, who like the Germans, hates the English, and has always had a reputation for playing whatever political angle seemed most profitable at the moment.

Ever Macaulay today is suspected of anti-democratic principles long ago, and he is so old and so ailing now that he is head of the new French total state in name only.

Four explanations are given to account for the surname Morris. (1) It is derived from the personal name "Maurice." (2) It comes from "Moors" and originally indicated a person of dark complexion, like a Moor. (3) It comes from the Gaelic "mor" (great), and "rhy," (a warrior); "great warrior" (4) It is derived from the personal name of the father of the saint name Mary Gaelic (Mhoire). Most Morrisches choose the third explanation which, after all, is the most likely one.

Robert Morris was an American financier and statesman. Senator P. Morris (1802-1864) was an American poet and Gouverneur Morris was a famous statesman.

The original form of this surname was "Falconer." A falconer was one who caught and trained falcons, or one who hunted with falcons, which were hawks used in oiden times for the pursuit of game. The use of Faulkner as a family name appears as early as 1130.

This surname, also spelled "Osborn," and "Osbourne," is from the ancient English personal name "Osborn," derived from "os" (a hero), and "beorn" (chieftain). Sherard Osborn was a British admiral who died in 1875.

This government, beneath the surface, now regards France as being virtually an Axis ally. There is good reason for that. The real head of France today is Admiral Darlan, who like the Germans, hates the English, and has always had a reputation for playing whatever political angle seemed most profitable at the moment.

Ever Macaulay today is suspected of anti-democratic principles long ago, and he is so old and so ailing now that he is head of the new French total state in name only.

Well-substantiated reports come from Vichy the effect that France will conclude a permanent peace with Germany, and give to the Reich certain important French possessions. One of these possessions is Dakar, which this government regards as an important definite threat to American security if held by an unfriendly power.

Roper got up silently, and went out of the house. Lew Gordon was playing solitaire when Bill Roper got back to the little shack by the loading pens. Roper took off his hat, tossed it aside, and went down.

"I can't just sit well figure up the terms of the split." "What did Jody say?" "She's quitting me, Lew." "What the devil else can you expect to do if you go on with this wild, stubborn—"

"I couldn't expect anything else." Lew Gordon looked baffled; obviously he had counted on Jody to turn back Bill Roper's offer.

"You ready to draw up the terms?" "Hardly seems it can be done in a minute. It'll take a few days to—"

"I'm leaving in a morning. My terms are firm and simple. You can work out the details any way that suits yourself."

"Let's hear your idea of them." "I don't figure to take much with me. I'll be open for business on Saturday, June 21. The seventh column will be on hand to handle the delinquents on or about July 1."

"I want the Pot Hook camp, and the water camp of the Three Bar,

"The brands are going to be terrible mixed up," Gordon said.

in your mind—I can't do it, Bill. There's just aint the money."

"There won't be any trouble about that. In Texas I may need a fifty thousand dollars; but I don't have to have it all at once. I'll work out easy enough, Lew."

Even the rough provisional terms that they were noting here provided innumerable complications. In the next few hours, as they worked it out, many a consideration came up that Bill Roper hadn't thought of.

Bill Roper headed south shortly after sunrise. Today Dry Camp would be going east by railroad, beginning the long roundabout way which would bring him to Texas long before Bill. With his camps as a secure base, Pierce was to begin the missionary work which would lay the foundations for Bill Roper's wild bunch.

Lew Gordon had shaken hands with him gravely at his departure; an uncomfortable job for Bill, which he was glad to get over with. But Jody Gordon—he had not seen her again at all. He was thinking of her now as she had flared up at him the night before, war as a little eagle, but very lovely still, with the fire in her eyes.

Watchful always, he knew when, two miles off, a horseman dropped from a lookout just at the crest of a rise; and he knew that the rider had seen him and was moving to intercept his trail.

He did not have so long to wait for he had thought. No more than ten minutes had passed when the unknown rider came dusting around the shoulder of a sand hill and headed toward him at the dead run. Roper turned his horse broadside to the approach and waited.

The rider was Jody Gordon. She appeared to have taken to the saddle in a hurry, for she wasn't wearing a hat, or anything else she should have been riding in. What distance she had come she had made fast, for her pony's flanks were heaving.

"You sure punish that horse," he said. "I've got no call to save him. I'm not going any place."

There was a little silence, awkward for Bill. Roper, as she sat and looked at him, the lower lid of her eyes were violet, so that he knew she had not slept; but he could not read her faintly smoky eyes.

"I don't know how to use it. Later on I'll send you a list of the northern camps I want, they'll amount to about the same as the ones I want in Texas."

"I sure sounds to me like you're wanting me to buy you out in cash," Gordon said. "And if that's what's wanted."

"I think I'll know how to use it. Later on I'll send you a list of the northern camps I want, they'll amount to about the same as the ones I want in Texas."

Peeping Tom
I saw her swimming in the brook... moment swift and fleeting... from the shock of that brief... heart almost stopped beat... worked his way around the trees... To where the view was clear... nd then on trembling hands and knees... He edged a little nearer... He'd never seen such perfect lines... As she was there displaying beneath the spreading towering plumes... In languid splendor playing... for twists and turns were full of grace... Her body smoothly moulded... nd, O! What joy was on his face... As each new charm unfolded... nd when she floated with the stream... The sight was so entrancing... er wondrous body seemed to gleam... From sunbeams softly glancing... He yearned for her with heart and soul... And then he fell to wishing.

Garner Wants Smooth Wire
Former Vice President John Nance Garner, who is known as an ardent hunter and fisherman, is advocating the use of smooth wire by ranchmen and farmers, especially on the bottom of their fences.
Deer and other game animals often crawl under fences instead of jumping them. A cut from barbed wire means that screw worms have easy access to the deer's body and will eventually kill it.
"I have seen deer come down to the water, wade in and lie down, completely submerged except for their heads," the former Vice President said recently. "This is to drown the worms."

Manslaughter
In Franklin county, North Carolina, a man was convicted of manslaughter for shooting at a wild turkey. The hunter did not know that another man was anywhere near when he shot. He missed the turkey but killed the man. However, as the hunter was hunting during closed season and was therefore engaged in an unlawful act, the court held him guilty of manslaughter.

Look Out for the Birds
Insectivorous birds help farmers protect their crops from insects. Blackbirds, wrens and mockingbirds are protected by the Federal Government because of their assistance to mankind.

I've been on one of those rodeos once in my life and I had more fun than throwing shelled corn at newtweeds. They tell us that over in St. Pete, Florida, they are really going to "whup 'em up" between the dates of May 15 and August 1. It's one of those famed Florida fishing rodeos you hear so much about. You go out and fish, have a great time and then, if you are lucky, you get a nice prize. Tough life! I'll have another round of it, please! How to become A SKILLED DRIVER
By RAY W. SHERMAN

EDITOR'S NOTE: We believe many motorists in this community would drive better if they better knew to drive. In the interest of safety, we will publish from time to time articles on driving. "How to Become a Skilled Driver," written for the Ford Good Drivers League by Ray W. Sherman, noted authority on driving. These articles are reprinted through courtesy of the Ford Motor Company.

BE A GOOD SPORT
A good driver has to be a good sport. When he notices another car trying to pass him in traffic, he lessens his speed and lets the other fellow in. Why not let him pass? It's evident he is driving faster than you care to. But that's his business, not yours. Safety requires that you give a little.

If the light turns green, you theoretically have the right of way, but don't take it for granted. Maybe that fellow coming up the street has poor brakes. Maybe his eyesight is bad. In any event, make sure you give a little.
If a pedestrian decides to cross the street in the flow of traffic, the driver must know how to handle the emergency. To a skilled driver, only one person has the "right of way" and that is the "other fellow." Be a good sportsman.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living

We all want to have a share in helping make America strong. We know the brunt of the burden must fall on Industry which is turning out planes and ships and guns and tanks and ammunition. But we women... we house-keeping women who have no active part in Industry want to do something too. Each time the paper comes, each time we turn on the radio and hear more of the things that make us realize it is vital that America becomes invincible, we think again about our part in this great defense effort. Being women, one of the things we naturally think of is conserving.
A number of women have asked me about saving—in cans and aluminum pots and pans which might be collected and used in the manufacture of defense materials. The spirit behind such an offer of cooperation is splendid. It's the kind of spirit needed in this country today if we are to be united, as we must be, in the face of danger. But so far there is no need for this program of saving. Of course there may be fewer new utensils of certain types for some time to come, and substitutes may be employed in the making of various household articles such as refrigerators and vacuum cleaners and thermometers.
Manufacturers are working on a substitute for tin cans. But there's no indication so far that the aluminum or tin we could save at home would make enough difference to defense production to be worth the effort of collection. For instance, it would take 60,000 coffee percolators to furnish enough aluminum for just one bomber!
But let's keep that spirit of cooperation alive. There's the real contribution that we women can make in these days of intense activity as our husbands and sons become, in a sense, swallowed up in the huge magnitude of our total national effort. After a while they may not be able to "see the woods for the trees." Then, as Mr. W. L. Batt of the Office of Production Management says... "Is it not for you, the women of America, to keep defense a living issue in the home; to make of each uncertainty, each dislocation which reaches into the life of the family, not an annoyance but rather a tangible symbol of participation in the common and worthwhile effort of our country?"

How About HOME COMFORTS?

When you look over your home to see what repairs are needed, make a note of missing comforts.
How about built-in kitchen cabinets... a breakfast nook... more closet space to make house-keeping easier? Perhaps you'd like the attic partitioned off for a guest room — or a "rumpus" room in the basement.

No need to do without modern conveniences simply because your home can't install them for you at a small monthly cost on the FHA plan of payments arranged to suit your income.

Texas Almanac Is Off The Press

A book of 576 pages, The Texas Almanac for 1941-42, just off the press, is the largest volume in the long history of this biennial publication of The Dallas Morning News. A number of new features are included in addition to the usual chapters and statistical tables on such topics as agriculture, industry, population, history, soil and water resources, weather, minerals, manufacturing, transportation, wholesaling and retailing, government, education and civic affairs.

Has Texas really had more than six flags? How has the relationship of rural and urban population changed since 1930? When was the tapir, sabre-toothed tiger, and carmel found in Texas? Who was governor in 1837? What facilities has MacKenzie State Park at Lubbock? Who won the Dixie Series in 1931? What are the total retail sales of Brady, Texas? These are typical of the wide variety of questions that can be answered from the pages of the new book.

New census figures on population, manufacturing, agriculture, wholesale and retail trade and service businesses are included. The historical chapters are supplemented by a number of supplementary topics including a long list of Texas historical landmarks. There are especially complete chapters on highways and parks and anticipation of increased tourist trade in Texas during the next two years. The usual large folded maps, showing railroads and highways respectively, have been brought up to date, and there is an individual map of each of the 254 counties of Texas, accompanying the county articles. New developments in Texas, including the defense industries, chemistry, conservation programs, changes in farm and farm tenancy, aviation, new army and navy camps and posts, and political activities are covered. There are more than 50,000 separate and distinct facts about Texas in this "Encyclopedia of Texas."

Farmers Pledge All-Out Defense

Texas farmers are solidly behind President Roosevelt's foreign and domestic programs and stand ready to do their part in the national defense, George Slaughter, chairman of the state AAA committee, said last week in a wire to the President following his speech at the White House.

The wire, which was signed by the state committee which is composed of 12 Texas farmers and ranchmen and H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas A. M. college extension service, pledged full support of the President's program from the AAA committee and organization. "I know that I can speak for the AAA committee, and I feel sure that the great bulk of Texas farmers will agree, when I assure the President that agriculture is with him all the way," Slaughter, himself a Wharton county farmer, declared.

Farmers are being asked to greatly increase the production of certain foods, such as tomatoes, poultry products, and pork. The state chairman said, "and Texas farmers are coming through just as everybody knew they would."

"I British needs more food from America, then the American farmer will produce it." Referring to the recent signing by the President of the bill providing for 85 percent of parity loan on the five major commodities: Slaughter, wheat, corn, cotton and soybeans, the Texas farmers were sincerely appreciative of the President's efforts during the long fight to achieve parity prices for agricultural products, a goal which has been reached this year for the first time since the farm program began in 1933.

Defense Jobs In Texas Are Past Half Billion Mark

AUSTIN, June 15—Within the borders of Texas, national defense activity represented in government contracts and expenditures has topped the half-billion dollar mark.

The exact figure, according to E. Frank White, acting state director for the Office of Government Reports, is $509,199,524, thru May 31. This amount does not include, Mr. White said, awards to Texas concerns which fulfill their contract outside the state.

Biggest threat to the Texas total during the last two weeks in May came with the $163,840 contract to Consolidated Aircraft of San Diego, Calif., for the construction of heavy bombers at the Fort Worth plant. A later contract to Consolidated does not indicate the proportion allocated to the Fort Worth plant, Mr. White said. Also included during the two-week period was a contract to the Pennsylvania Shipyards of Beaumont for ten C-1 cargo vessels. The total of this award, made by the U. S. Maritime Commission, is not available.

Total Texas awards during the period, May 16-31, amounted to $170,529,548.

57 Chapels To Be Built At Army Posts

FORT SAM HOUSTON, June 18—Fifty-seven regimental chapels are soon to be erected at Army posts and camps in Texas, Oklahoma and Arizona to serve the religious needs of the soldiers during ten C-1 cargo vessels. The total of this award, made by the U. S. Maritime Commission, is not available.

Each chapel will be 95 feet, 7 inches long and 37 feet wide, and the construction will conform with other camp buildings. Built with a slanting roof, the peaks of the chapels will be 29 feet, 6 inches high, with a 52-foot spire.

Designed to serve all faiths, each chapel will have a movable altar, constructed so as to be adaptable for use by the several religious groups. A series of doors and panels in the altars will provide the essential requirements for each kind of service. Both pulpit and lectern are designed to serve particular altars, and the altar both are movable. There are two chaplain's rooms, one on each side of the altar.

The tramp entered the doctor's office. There was a worried look on his face.

"Doctor," he said, "you've got to help me. I swallowed a quarter 25 years ago."

"Good heavens, man!" ejaculated the doctor. "Why have you waited all these years? Why didn't you go to a doctor the day you swallowed it?"

"To tell the truth," replied the tramp, "I didn't need the money at the time."

An American applied at a Canadian recruiting office to enlist. "I suppose you want a commission," said the officer. "No, thanks," was the reply. "I'm such a poor shot I'd rather work on straight salary."

Muleshoe Library News

Several new names have been added to the list of regular readers at the Muleshoe Library. Mrs. Cecil Robinson, Billy Daniel, Helen Holt and Mrs. A. E. Schmitt have recently purchased library cards. Use of the library by the public has increased by some 25 percent since the close of school.

A new list is being made up from which the committee will order several new books. We invite you to leave your request with the librarian for some book you would like to read and if this is done soon, your request will be included in next week's order.

One very popular book on the library list is "Death Comes For the Archbishop," by Willa Cather. Miss Cather has recaptured for America an aspect of its history in this story of the church, venerable and rich in tradition, becoming primitive amid pioneer conditions.

It is not a tragic or pathetic tale, but one full of happiness and triumph; and yet it moves one to tears by the picture of goodness and beauty seen through the medium of a faithless art.

There are also a number state books which may be free, and the public is invited call on the library any time to inspect these books. Use of public library. — Library committee.

Strike Measure Brings Results

WASHINGTON, June 18—With word from the War Department that more men were on strike than at any other time since the beginning of the emergency, the bill to stop strikes by Senator Tom Connally of Texas effected a crystallization of sentiment among both executive and legislative authorities expected to end this irritating interference with national defense efforts.

The measure, known as Senate 1600, authorizes the government to take over and operate in the national interest any plant or factory engaged in the production of defense articles in which the production of such articles is hampered or impeded by the existence of a strike or other labor disturbance.

Senator Connally emphasized that strikers, who are stopping work in plants that ought to be running 24 hours per day in behalf of our defense, are attacking the national welfare and the national safety by a form of creeping paralysis.

"My bill," pointed out Connally, "denies to no man his fundamental rights. It does demand that there shall be no stoppage of work in national defense plants. The processes of mediation and conciliation will be preserved. In the meantime, however, the plants must continue to operate under government direction and government protection. Men who do not desire to work may quit their jobs. Those who desire may continue to work with the government's protection. No right is denied any citizen."

"America faces a great crisis. The national security is involved. The nation does not propose to have its safety imperiled and its program for national defense delayed by the actions of selfish and willful groups who seek to take advantage of the nation's necessities to improve their own conditions at the expense of the safety of one hundred and thirty millions of people. Strikes in defense plants must stop. My bill will stop them."

FINGERPRINTING U. S. CIVIL SERVICE AIDS ORDERED

WASHINGTON — President Roosevelt made another move to check up on subversive elements in the Government service recently by ordering all employees in the federal civil service whose fingerprints are not now on file with the Government submit to fingerprinting.

He also ordered that before any original appointment or reinstatement is made to a federal position the person concerned shall be fingerprinted in accordance with the procedure established by the Civil Service Commission or by the head of the department or agency in which the appointment or reinstatement is to be made.

Old Fiddlers To Play At Reunion

STAMFORD, Tex., June 18—The main feature of the Texas Cowboy Reunion, which annually attracts thousands of visitors to Stamford, are the old fiddlers contest and the chuck wagon meals which are served from wagons brought in from well-known West Texas ranches for the occasion. This year's reunion, the twelfth annual showing, will be held on July 3, 4 and 5.

The old fiddlers contest, the biggest free attraction of the reunion, will be held in the Coombes Roundup Hall on the morning of July 4, the second day. No entrance fee is required of the contestants and spectators are admitted free. Prizes totaling $32,500 to the four top winners, as follows: First, $15; second, $10; third, $5, and fourth $2.50.

More than 25 contestants from throughout the state are expected to enter this year's contest, according to J. T. Stoll, Stamford, chairman. A number of registrations already have been received. Contestants must not be less than 50 years of age, and professional musicians are barred. Each contestant is allowed to select the two tunes he plays, but they must be "breakdowns." The fiddler may play alone or select his own second.

Among the ranches expected to send chuck wagons this year include the 6996 ranch of Guthrie, the Matador ranch of Matador, the DDD ranch, Reynolds Land and Cattle Co., Kent county; SMS Flattop ranch, Stamford; SMS Spur ranch, Spur; the SMS Throckmorton ranch, Throckmorton, and the Bar-Cross ranch of Colorado City.

These wagons and their cook crews come in from the ranches immediately after the spring roundup and branding operations are over, set up and feed the visitors the regular chuck wagon grub and plenty of it at very reasonable prices. All the wagons also participate in the big parade which this year will be staged on the first day of the reunion, July 3.

Other principal features of the reunion this year, besides the three daily rodeo performances, will be the quarter horse show, the annual official show of the American Quarter Horse Association, the cowboy sponsor contest, which this year will be staged in the arena as a part of the afternoon and night rodeo performances, the annual convention of old-time cowboys, two big dances each night, and a demonstration in the arena at each night performance by the famous Stamford Square Dance Team, which recently returned from the National Folk Festival at Washington.

Cotton Research Bill Is Passed

A $25,000 cotton research bill, designed to find new uses for cotton, has been passed through the Texas Legislature by the two former members of the Texas Senate, Senators George Moffett of Chillicothe and Marshall Forby of McAdoo.

Governor O'Daniel has signed the bill which will permit the expenditure of a quarter of a million dollars during the next two year period at Texas Technological College, Texas A. & M. College and the University of Texas. The fund will be administered by the presidents of the three schools and all money will be spent on actual research and none for building purposes.

The bill had previously been introduced six times in the Legislature by Senator Moffett, and this session he was joined by Senator Forby, another Senator who lists his occupation as a dirt farmer.

Senator Moffett said that an expanded market for Texas cotton will do more to relieve unemployment in the small town areas, and will do more to fill up empty houses and stores than anything we can do for this state. He stated that the lack of marketing for cotton products has curtailed the cotton acreage and consequently has driven thousands of Texas farms. "It is quite proper," he said, "that Texas, the leading cotton state, should take the lead in finding new uses for cotton."

Senator Forby pointed out that the DuPont Industries in the northeast spend millions each year in research. "The only thing wrong with this bill," Forby said "is that we passed it in Texas about 29 years too late. When we find markets for the cotton we can produce in Texas, this state will forget about hard times. Prosperity will be here again."
