

WITH THE WILD CATS

The Gulf well on section 25, H&GNRRCo. Survey, Block No. 2 of Benson & Sons holdings, in east Garza County continues drilling with reasonable progress. The well should be drilling around 1,800 feet at this time, but the type of formation is not revealed. This is to be a deep test unless production is made, and it will require several weeks to complete it to the contract depth.

The J. F. Morrissey No. 1, on Section 290 H&GNRRCo. Survey No. 1, on the Williams-Moore Block, nine miles west of Spur will probably start drilling again today after a few weeks shut down on account of material. Casing was being set yesterday after three days of cleaning out the well and rigging up, and indications were that the drill would be in action today. This well is 2,000 feet deep now with favorable showings of formation.

The House No. 1, location on the Litchfield Block in Red Mud community is being delayed temporarily until titles are worked out. Hamner and Ponder, attorneys, are approving titles for drilling operators to whom Mr. Bryant has given a contract. A big standard rig will be moved on the block within the next few days according to Mr. Bryant's statement.

Another activity in the oil game was started Tuesday when a well was spudded in on the I. J. McMahan place in Dry Lake community. This well is about eight miles west and a little north of Spur and is being drilled by Sossoman and associates. The well should be below the 100 foot mark this morning. A delay was encountered Wednesday morning and drilling did not start until afternoon yesterday.

The Thad A. Bryant, Jr., et al, No. 1, on the D. D. Hagins place in Section 118 in north Kent County has a derrick up and ready for the machinery to be installed. Just how soon this well is started up is not known. Work is expected to begin on it any week, but no time has been set.

Representative C. L. Harris, who has been in Austin the past two months looking after matters pertaining to his office, returned to Spur the last of the week. He stated that he will make his announcement for re-election within the near future, and wants the people to know he appreciates their consideration for him. He stated that he has been working hard for this district and hopes to do some useful things for the people here when he gets back to Austin for the next regular session of the Legislature.

Citizens Hear Discussion On County Unit System For Schools Of County

The Dickens County Educational Association held its regular meeting Thursday night in the school auditorium at Dickens. O. L. Smith, the president, was in charge of the meeting and conducted it in a very businesslike manner. A fine program was furnished by a traveling music company who make it their business to give musical programs to schools, using several different types of musical instruments.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the county unit system of education. J. D. Wilson, superintendent of schools, was the first speaker introduced. He introduced some entertaining features at the beginning of his address all of which was introductory to the subject he discussed. He stated that it is recognized that the child is the most important factor of our nation and as the child is reared so will be our future citizenship. The child is entitled to a good public school education.

Then he stated that the present rural school system of Texas is the most expensive of any in the United States. Texas a much older state than others, ranks 37 in the line of public education and yet Texas has enjoyed more public domain than other states. We have a district system while others, 21 of them, have gone on the county unit and state unit system. Mr. Wilson said that we duplicate on work and expenses, and if the state would get on the county unit system that taxes can be lowered and we could have $40.00 per year per capita instead of $22.00 which we now have. The only thing necessary is that we release our local feelings relative to our schools. The interest in our school system should be above the interest of any individual. He stated that California with a state unit system has a $60.00 per capita and ranks among the first of the states in education.

Mr. Wilson continued further and said that district lines prevent children from securing equal education. He stated the bill as proposed will do at least three things to save money: (1) it will save in cost of insurance and the buying of school supplies; (2) The Tax Assessor will assess all taxes on the same equal basis and save the expenses of two or three assessments; (3) It will take the office of County School Superintendent out of politics and place the selection in the hands of a competent County Board of Education.

In conclusion Mr. Wilson stated that he hoped he lives long enough to see the county unit system in effect in Texas.

Dr. Jackson Reads Paper

Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, of the Education Department of the Texas Technological College, read a very fine paper giving his views of the County Unit System. He stressed that under the present system a person must offer themselves as a candidate for the office of County Superintendent and must take all the muck-raking of political schemes. For that reason

Farmers To Vote On Agricultural Act Saturday

The farmers of Dickens County will vote their approval or disapproval of the Agricultural Adjustment Act next Saturday at various places. It is stated that all farmers who grew cotton in 1937 are eligible to vote, and that they may vote at the place most convenient to them, since all votes will be checked up at the County Agricultural office before the results will be sent to the state office.

If the producers fail to approve the marketing quota they will not be able to secure the government loan which is provided for in the bill. The Agricultural Adjustment Act will not become a law unless it is approved by a two-third vote of all farmers who produce a certain commodity, then the law becomes effective on that commodity. To illustrate, the bill provides for marketing quotas for wheat, corn, cotton, rice and tobacco. The producers of cotton may vote favorable to the marketing quotas on that commodity and the bill will become effective for it, and at the same election the producers of tobacco may not approve the marketing quota for

Dairy Products Demonstration Of Much Interest

As part of the work of the County Home Demonstration Agent, a dairy products demonstration was held Monday at the First Methodist Church with a number of ladies attending the school. G. G. Gibson, of the Dairy Extension Department at College Station, was the main instructor for the school with Miss Jean Day assisting. Schools of this kind are being held over the western district of Texas, and the object is to instruct and demonstrate how quality dairy products may be produced.

Mr. Gibson gave a demonstration with his lecture on the manufacture of butter. He explained the higher qualities that is contained in good butter and demonstrated how many of the defects may be eliminated. The manufacture of butter is one of the most trying events in all the work of a home maker.

Mr. Gibson gave a demonstration on the manufacture of cheese. He explained the process and actually produced a good quality of cheese. Miss Day gave out a number of leaflets with instructions on how to produce cheese.

A projection demonstration was given in regard to the care of milk, showing the different methods used in producing and caring for milk. This film introduced the entire process including cleanliness, sanitation and all. Then Mr. Gibson took a number of bottles of milk and with a process of recognized filtration showed the importance of filtering milk before it goes through the separator.

He complimented the work of caring for and handling of dairy products done by the ladies present. He stated that the work is above an average, but at the same time explained wherein some improvements can be made. He stated that proper pasture for the dairy cows has much to do with quality products from the dairy herd.

He explained temperatures and acid contents of milk in producing butter and cheese and recommended that the ladies secure a good dairy thermometer if possible because they would know by it if they had the right temperatures.

Several home demonstration clubs were represented at the meeting. These ladies will carry the message back to their community clubs and the influence of the school will be almost county wide. A number of ladies are preparing to enter products at the Panhandle Dairy Products contest at Plainview in the near future, and they stated this school is of great assistance to them.

Spur Chapter Of The F.F.A. To Be Host To A Dickens County Livestock Show And Judging Contest March 19th

Scouters Training Course Next Week

A Scouters training course will be held in Spur Thursday and Friday, March 17-18. The object of this school is to develop leadership in scouting. Just who the lecturers will be has not been announced yet, but possibly Lyndon T. Grant, commissioner of the Eastern District, will be in charge of the school and assisted by other scout leaders of the South Plains Council.

Troop 35 is being registered again at this time for the third year of work. This troop has been outstanding in its work and since its organization has developed five Eagle Scouts, five Star Scouts and five Life Scouts, with all others of the troop being of the rank of First Class and Tenderfoot. The troop started with 12 boys two years ago. The number has reached 36 with 34 still in the troop. Only two have dropped out not counting those who have moved away. It is planned to organize a senior patrol to hold the boys together and to let members of this patrol serve as leaders in assisting beginners in the work.

Scout Master Wadzeck has studied with the members of Troop 35 and has passed all work for the rank of an Eagle Scout. He comes up this month for recognition of the rank of an Eagle Scout.

Both troops of Spur have done excellent work. Troop 36 is much younger as an organization, but they have done fine work. Since Scouting has been reorganized in Spur every proposition by way of a contest offered by the South Plains Council has been won by Spur Scouts. This should make everybody feel proud of the boys in Scout work here.

Spur Schools Active In League Events

H. C. Foote, principal of the Grammar school, stated this week that all students are busy now because in addition to their regular work they are doing quite a lot of work for Interscholastic League events. Attendance is good at school.

Coach Wadzeck reports that around 35 to 40 boys are reporting every day for workouts in Interscholastic League events. The entire list of events sent out by the state department is being represented in practice in Spur schools now. Eliminations will be held the last of this week to determine who will represent Spur schools in the County and District meets.

The county contest in literary events and track and field events will be held in Spur April 1-2, and Spur schools will have representation in all events.

Saturday, March 19, is to be a big day for the Vocational Agriculture Department of Spur High School. The Spur, Afton, and McAdoo, chapters are having their livestock show that day. There will be beef steers, hogs, and sheep shown that day in the pens of three and as individuals. On the same day and at the same time, Spur is sponsoring a judging contest. These are: (1) Plant Propagation, which will include: Grain Judging, Commercial Grain Grading, Grain Identification, and Budding and Grafting. Dr. Young, Head of the Plant Industry Department at Texas Tech College, will be the judge. (2) Livestock Judging, which will include: Hogs, Sheep, and Beef Steers. Mr. Mowery, of Texas Tech College, will judge this contest. He will also judge the Project Show. (3) Dairy Products Judging, which will include: The grading of Butter, Whole Sweet Milk, and Cream. Mr. Renner, Head of the Dairy Manufacturing Department of Texas Tech College, will do the judging. (4) Poultry, which will include: Banded Plymouth Rock Cocks and Hens, Rhode Island Red Cocks and Hens, White Leghorn Cocks and Hens, White and Brown Shell Eggs, and a 50 question examination on the Standard of Perfection. Mr. Crockett, a local poultryman, will judge this. About 25 schools with more than 200 boys will be present that day. Banner awards will be given to the high team in each contest; and ribbons will be given to each first, second and third individuals in each phase of each contest.

The prizes for the livestock show will be announced in a circular to be printed and given out with advertisements for the business concerns that contributed toward the prizes for the contest and show.

Trustee Election April 2nd For All Schools

The regular election for the selection of trustees for both common school districts and independent school districts is scheduled for Saturday, April 2, that being the First Saturday in April. There will be three members of the County Board of Education to be selected. These are selected one from each Commissioner's Precinct.

A re-election or a new member is to be elected in Precinct No. 3, Precinct No. 2, and Precinct No. 4. The member in Precinct No. 1 and the member of the Board at Large will hold over.

All common school districts are expected to vote on trustees and all independent school districts will elect members that day whether they be new members or the re-election of present members.

Spur Sponsors Track And Invitation Meet

A track and field invitation meet will be held at the Charles A. Jones Memorial Stadium Friday afternoon beginning at two o'clock on March 25. The following schools have been invited to send contestants to this tournament: Jayton, Girard, Dickens, McAdoo, Patton Springs, Roaring Springs, Matador, and Crosbyton. This meet is held for the purpose of stimulating interest in track and field events, and to give practice for the County Meets. It is hoped the contestants from Dickens County will make a better showing at the District Meet in Lubbock on April 8 and 9, than has been made the past few years. It will be recalled the Dickens County boys used to be strong District and sometimes State Contenders for high honors.

Coach Wadzeck has the Meet so arranged that it will be possible to run it off from two to five o'clock.

The Times was requested to announce that Mrs. Cliff Bird, who is ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reese McNeill, is not able to have company at this time. Mrs. Bird has just recently returned from a sanitarium in Lubbock, and her condition is serious.

To Be Presented In Concert Here Soon

Sponsored by the local high school band, approximately 55 members of the famous Texas Technological College Band will present a varied program at East Ward Auditorium, 8 p.m., March 18, 1938.

The scarlet clad Tech musicians, widely known for the quality and versatility of their playing, are making their fourth concert tour of Texas towns. These tours are conducted with view of bringing one of the finest units of the college to the citizens of West Texas. Concert numbers will be presented which have been selected from a large repertory rehearsed during the entire school year.

Concert personnel is chosen from 135 players. Each musician appearing on the programs represents the best talent available at the college. Wherever the Tech band has played, the unit as a whole, has been highly applauded. West coast critics presented in several of the largest high schools in Los Angeles for three consecutive years where the band went to play at football games between the Tech Red Raiders and Loyola University. They broadcaster over stations KNX and KFI, and twice gave concerts at the Pacific Southwest and International Exposition in San Diego.

Tech band is one of the major musical organizations of the Southwest. Where other college bands have adopted swing music exclusively, Tech players concentrate on compositions created by classical and modern musical genius, using swing music only occasionally. Special performers will lend attraction to the programs.

Leaving Lubbock March 14, the band will travel in two chartered busses.

Tickets will go on sale the first of next week. These can be secured at Gruben's Drug Store or at any of the schools.

Split by the rock of internal dis-sension among its members, the Senate investigating committee, which has held the political spotlight in Texas these past two weeks, was out of action, probably for the duration of the summer campaigns this week. The committee unceremoniously quit work during its Austin session, when Senator Joe Hill and Chairman Tom Holbrook walked out, breaking a quorum, as Senator Weinert of Seguin was absent. The break came after Hill attempted to renew his motion for subpoenas for the bank accounts of Attorney General Bill McCraw, Tom C. Clark, his former law partner, and the account of the McCraw & Clark partnership. The motion lost on a tie vote, Hill and Holbrook voting yea, and Sens. Collie and Stone no. Then Hill moved to recess until Thursday of this week, and that motion lost by the same vote. Then came the walkout, right in the middle of cross-examination of Land Commissioner Bill McDonald, about his own personal bank account. Without a quorum, the committee automatically went out of session, and can only be called back by action of three of its members.

Land Probe About Done

The committee did a fairly effective job of investigating the Land Commissioner—the job it originally began. The adjournment will probably have little effect upon that phase of its work, since the record already compiled about the Land Office is sufficiently complete to effect changes in Land Office procedure by the next session of the Legislature, most observers here believe. When the committee strayed off into the political arena, and mixed into the Governor's race, it quickly lost public confidence, and without a majority of its own members convinced of this, it probably will hold no more sessions until after the primary elections. Bill McCraw, appearing by invitation at the session here this week, served notice that he will run for Governor, which everybody already knew, then underwent a two-hour questioning at the hands of Chairman Holbrook, in which he answered some questions with the greatest of ease, and wise-cracked his way around the others in a manner that kept the laughing crowd with him, and confused the solemn Holbrook. Opinion here was that McCraw, if he didn't help his race by his appearance, certainly didn't hurt it. Meanwhile, Gov. Allred still withheld any statement of his intentions, but observers here almost unanimously had swung back to the belief that he will not run, and is simply holding off a commitment until the last possible minute. Harry Hines, Allred-appointed Highway Commissioner, and oil man, this week brought in a 10,000 barrel well, opening a new field in Henderson county, indicated to close friends he will spend some of his new oil riches by entering the race for Governor, provided Allred stays out.

Budget Task Starts

Affecting the pocketbooks of every Texan was the work of a Senate finance subcommittee, headed by John Redditt of Lufkin, which this week began preliminary work on the appropriations bills for the next biennium, to be submitted to the regular session next January. Under new authority granted by the last session, the Legislature is given vast power to effect economy by reorganizing departments and even whole bureaus. The budget bill worked out by this committee, however has to run the gauntlet of the House and Senate, and compete with the budget compiled by the Board of Control, before it can have any real effect upon the state's expenditures.

Fine Fishing Seen

A fine fishing season on the Texas Gulf coast, due to start soon because of the mild winter, is seen by Coast experts who have been observing the situation for years, and Texas salt-water sportsmen are already oiling their reels. Jim Sorensen, operator of Cottage Haven, at Rockport, whose 19 years experience in guiding Texas fishermen to where they bite, and R. H. Phelps, veteran boatman of Rockport bay, have relayed confidential information to this column that prospects were never better in the Rockport-Aransas area, for an early and plentiful fishing season. A few tapon already have been reported, a month ahead of their usual schedule.

Leprosy Tempest

A tempest in a teapot was the comment of State Health officials this week, anent the sensational charge, voiced in New York by Dr. Victor G. Heiser, international Leprosy expert, that lepers walk the streets of Texas cities. Health officials cited official records, showing one death and 15

Notes

Speeding on Texas Highways is so common that few motorists actually know what the legal limits are, so the Highway Department will soon post large yellow signs, warning drivers that the maximum legal speed limits are 45 miles for passenger cars, 40 for busses and light trucks and 25 for heavy trucks . . . Independent school districts are not legally liable for damages when pupils are injured while attending school, under a ruling of the San Antonio Court of Civil Appeals in a suit brought by parents of a student at Victoria independent school . . . Sixty seven percent of reversals of criminal cases by Texas appeals courts are based upon eight grounds, Maury Hughes, Dallas criminal barrister, said in a YMCA talk. The grounds are hearsay evidence, confessions, misconduct of jury, circumstantial evidence, improper arguments by counsel, mention of defendant's failure to testify, lack of corroborative evidence, and inflammatory remarks by lawyers . . . Better economic conditions in Texas are reflected in a reported decline in delinquent ad valorem taxes due the State, Comptroller George Sheppard revealed. In 1937, delinquent taxes totaled only 12.72 per cent of the tax roll, as compared with nearly 30 per cent five years ago.

School Census Being Taken This Month

The County Superintendent's office reports this week that the scholastic census is being taken this month. All children who will have reached the age of six years before the first day of next September should be reported to the census taker. Also, the age limit includes all persons who do not reach the age of 18 years before September first next.

It is important to get all children of school age enumerated as it means quite a lot of money to the schools in Dickens County. If a child in Red Mud community of school age is not enumerated, it means a loss to the Red Mud school of $22.00 for the year, and this is true of any other school in the county. Parents are requested to cooperate with the scholastic census takers in seeing that all children are enumerated in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Milam left the first of the week for Dallas, where they will buy new spring and summer merchandise for the Whitacre-Milam Variety Store.

C. Hogan, former Spur business man, but who has made his home in Abilene for the past several years, was in Spur the last of the week transacting business and visiting with relatives and friends.

OUT OF WHOSE POCKET?

By Edward Wright, Jr.
Comes the thousands of dollars that insurance companies pay each year on automobile fires. Yours and mine—recently in East Texas several convictions have been secured where owners of insured cars who attempted to defraud their insurance carriers by willfully burning their automobiles. Who pays for these losses? You and I—Ho? Insurance rates are determined by computing the actual loss experience of the insurance companies and basing the rates on such a figure that the companies can earn a reasonable profit for their services. In the last two years, you and I are paying from 20 per cent to 30 per cent more for the same protection that was previously secured at a more reasonable figure. You and I are paying for those instances where an individual lowers himself to criminal character by willful destruction of his property. The time has come for us to realize that we are the "Goats" and do all we can to eliminate such occurrences from our community. The arson laws in Texas are so constructed that a conviction can be secured on circumstantial evidence. No eye witness is actually needed to complete a case. A car owner who sets his car on fire will pay in the long run by his loss of self respect and the realization that his community looks upon him as a criminal even though he was successful in his claim against the insurance company.

We make this appeal to the people subscribing to this paper to rebel against the continued mis-use of insurance in view of the fact that it is you and I who are paying.

Miss Helen Hale, student in T.C.U., Fort Worth, spent the week end here with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Hale and friends of the city.

CITIZENS HEAR DISCUSSION—

a great many of the best qualified people refuse to offer themselves as candidates. As a result he said the smooth, handshaking politician often is elected over people who are well qualified and our school system in the county suffers on account of inefficiency on the part of the school superintendent.

J. L. Beard, Deputy State Superintendent, said he had hoped that Dickens County would adopt the county unit system and be among the first.

He stated further that at the last State Legislature a general bill was on the calendar but failed to get before the body. In all probability the next session of the Legislature will pass a general bill and it will be better for Dickens County to adopt the system under the special bill now pending because it will more nearly meet the needs of the county than will a general bill.

Mr. Beard stated that Dallas County has the unit system and would not give it up for anything; Williamson County has it and the system is a great improvement over the district system; Ector County has the county unit system and are going forward in a great way.

Mr. Beard stated further that under the county unit system better provisions can be made relative to the retiring of bonds. Also, he said that certain districts that will need more school buildings soon cannot vote more bonds now because they have reached their limit.

buildings under the county unit system.

O. C. Thomas, superintendent of Spur Schools, stated that Spur district would not join the county unit system because he felt the district can work out its problems better as it is.

Spur Schools Have Speech Elimination

Representatives for story telling, declamation and extemporaneous speech events for the county meet were chosen Tuesday afternoon by Superintendent Tunnell of Matador and two of his teachers.

In the first grade story telling division Virginia McNeill was chosen to represent Spur in the county meet. Genevieve Taylor, Earnestine Berry, and Meredith Woods were other contestants in story telling. These first graders memorized their stories and told them before the judges.

For the second and third grade divisions of story telling Netha Lynn Gray was given first place. Others entering this division were: Eugene Walthall, Helen Virginia Marrs, Bobby Bailey, Barbara Jean Berry, Sherrod Campbell, Billie Mae McKimney, and Winona Crouch.

Stories were told these contestants and they went before the judges and told these stories in their own words. It may seem somewhat unfair to have third grade pupils compete with second grade pupils in this division but this is the arrangement the State Inter-scholastic League office makes.

Declaimer Louise Ince was chosen to represent Spur Grade School girls. Ouida Lisenby, Allie Beth Arthur, Ruth Jones, Idalee Golding, Dorothy Barber, and Mary Louise Burnam were other entries in this division.

In grade school declamation for boys Alfred Walker was selected to represent Spur Grade School in the county meet. Other boys entering this division were Billy Ray Barrett, Charles Ensey, Joe Ericson, and Matthews Gruben.

Among junior girl declaimers in high school Belva Swann was selected temporarily to represent Spur. No final selection was made since one of the girls in this division was ill Tuesday. Others entering were Naomi Pickens, and Opal Gene Laverty.

For junior boy in high school James Franklin Laverty was selected for first place, and Walter Foreman, Jr., was placed second.

Margie Bell, Peggy Hogan, Thelma Hale, and Peggy Stephens were the survivors in the preliminary eliminations from a group of ten senior girl declaimers. Others who entered this contest were Ruby Mae Adcock, Letha Crouch, Betty Lynn Brown, Marion Hale, Margaret Berry, and Iris Nelson. Selection of two representatives for Spur High School will be made at a later date from among these four girls.

Fike Godfrey and Carl Arthur had been previously selected to represent Spur boys in senior declamation.

GIRLS, FUN AND SONGS FEATURE NEW COMEDY

Easily the most lavish potpourri of music and mirth, fun and beautiful girls of the current season, "The Big Broadcast of 1938," Paramount's latest musical comes to the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday and Preview Saturday nite, with a splendid cast starring W. C. Fields and including Martha Raye, Dorothy Lamour, Shirley Ross, Ben Blue, Bob Hope, Lynne Overman, Rufe Davis, Leiff Erikson, Grace Bradley and Tito Guizar. And just to make the cast of stellar performers overflow from sheer abundance, the producers have tossed in specialty routines by Mme. Kirsten Flagstad of the Metropolitan Opera and Shep Fields and his Rippling Rhythm Orchestra, currently heading the popularity lists among dance orchestras.

Always hilarious, always tuneful, always girl-filled and most of the time more than a trifle mad, "The Big Broadcast of 1938" is the story of a transatlantic boat race and a handsome radio announcer who can never keep track of the number of ex-wives to whom he is paying alimony.

BLUE SAVING STAMPS can be had only at Bryant-Link Company.

Grammar School Grounds Are Being Improved

The school grounds at the Grammar School are being improved at this time. A number of flower beds have been built and flowers planted. This has been the work of the Agricultural department. A great number of evergreens have been planted and about 40 shrubs have been set out.

Some playground equipment has been added. Some swings made of steel have been placed on the grounds. These will accommodate five children at a time. Also, a number of see-saws have been built and these will accommodate ten children at a time.

Diamonds for play ground ball have been outlined and low places on the school ground have been filled in. It makes quite an improvement in the appearance of the grounds.

Playground Ball Tournament Practice

Saturday approximately 300 students met on the Spur School Playgrounds for a practice tournament in playground ball. This tournament was not run off according to tournament style, but more for each school to get as many practice games as possible to prepare the contestants for the County Meet which will be held in Spur on Saturday March 26. The following schools sent four teams to this tournament: Dickens, McAdoo and Spur. Wichita, Highway, Espuela, and Dry Lake sent two teams each while Spring Creek sent one team.

Since this tournament was for practice no winners were selected. Each team from each school got to play at least two games, and some teams played more games.

Tennis players were also present for practice from McAdoo, Dickens, and Spur.

Farmers Discuss Proposed Farm Bill

A number of farmers of Precinct No. 3 met at the East Ward auditorium Tuesday night to discuss the merits and demerits of the new proposed farm bill which is to be voted on Saturday, County Agent Lane discussed the bill from various angles and a number of questions were asked relative to it, all of which were answered so far as could be done at this time.

Practically every farmer present stated that he thought the new bill will be an improvement over the old plan. The farm allotment and base acreage were explained to a measure, and it seems that the new bill is going to get a fine margin of votes so far as this section of the county is concerned. All recognized the bill is not perfect, but that it is better for the farmers to be under the marketing quota plan than to continue with the old plan. The referendum to be voted Saturday, if carried, will continue in force for one year.

FDA CLOSES YEAR WITH GOOD RECORD

Farm financing in this county is evolving from a practice of merely borrowing and repaying money to the practice of planning how to borrow less and meet obligations well in advance. W. A. McKimney, county supervisor, Farm Security Administration, said this week in reporting on activities to the end of 1937. The County Farm Debt Adjustment Committee has helped 31 farmers adjust their indebtedness, and is now working with 15 other farmers whose debts are in serious need of attention. The total amount of indebtedness involved was $176867, and covered 16,789 acres of local farm land. The Committee also reports $3150 in taxes paid into the local treasury as a result of this work; and the creditors made a voluntary reduction of $9467 on the debts which were larger than the value of the property involved.

These adjustments were a result of cooperation on the part of both the creditor and the debtor, after the supervisor and the county FDA committeemen helped the farmers analyse his problems. This included listing debts and assets to indicate to the creditor that the farmer was doing all he could to meet his obligations in full.

"A majority of farm debts can be economically and satisfactorily adjusted when farmers have some method of learning how to secure equitable financing, and when creditors can be helped to see that the farmer is honestly trying to meet his obligations," Mr. McKimney said. The FDA committee has no money to lend. It can only serve as arbitrator between the two parties, and as a source of financial information for the farmer. It is a section of the Farm Security Administration and serves as a financial advisory council to debt-distressed farmers.

In King County the Farm Debt Adjustment Committee has assisted three farmers and is working with one more to adjust their farm indebtedness. The amount is $23,778 covering 1,023 acres of land. Taxes to the amount of $603 was paid, and the creditors volunteered a reduction of $2068.50, approximately 60 cents per acre.

GENE RETURNS IN ANOTHER ACTION RANGE ADVENTURE

That man's here again! Gene Autry is at the Palace Theatre Saturday in another of those rip-roaring, top notch Republic musical westerns. This time it's "Springtime in the Rockies," and the picture is just as splendid and unforgettable as the song on which it is based.

"Springtime in the Rockies" deals with the adventures of four agricultural college cowgirls who journey out to the wild and woolly west to teach dyed-in-the-wool cow-punchers how to punch cows. A novel touch is added by the complications arising when the girls bring sheep into the cattle country. It is an accepted fact that sheep ruin a country for cattle. They eat up not the vegetation alone, but the roots as well, so that the prairies are soon barren, and the soil dry.

Smiley Burnette deserves credit for his good performance in the comedy role of Frog Milhouse—the same character he plays in every Autry western. Other members of the cast deserving mention are Polly Rowles, Ruth Bacon, Jane Hunt, Ula Lane and Tom London.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Foote were in Lubbock Tuesday night to hear the address of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Many Visitors At School Last Week

The Spur school held visitors day Wednesday of last week and many patrons and others interested in the schools were present during the day. It is thought that East Ward school led in the number of visitors, there being around 200 people who visited the schools. About 150 guests were at the Grammar school, and more than 100 registered at the High School and many did not register.

The pupils at East Ward and the Grammar School had exhibits of work in each room and the guests enjoyed seeing these exhibits.

The school faculty feel that the morale of the school was greatly improved by people visiting and seeing the work. All teachers stated they join in extending patrons of the school an invitation to visit the schools any time in the future they desire. The pupils enjoy having their parents visit the schools, and more visiting would likely help interest along.

Attorney George Dupree, of Lubbock, was attending to legal matters in our city Tuesday.

How A Neighbor Newspaper Feels About It

The following article recently appeared in the Waco Herald-Tribune under the caption of "The Commentator". It gives an idea of how the press of Texas feels in regard to Senatorial Committee investigations. Many other papers have had similar articles on the subject, but this one seems to cover the ground more thoroughly.

On the threshold of spring, with its robins, its violets and—yes!—its dogwood blooms effulgent and aromatic in the little wooded valleys, a committee of the Texas state senate turns to another chapter of investigation.

So far this investigation has been a piecemeal affair. It follows the Alfred compass. It started out with W. H. McDonald, commissioner of the state land office.

The guns were ostensibly leveled at Mr. McDonald and his conduct of the land office. But the leaf sights were raised to perforate and destroy the political character and gubernatorial ambitions of William McCraw, attorney general of the state of Texas who is in the race for governor. As for McCraw, if he can't take care of himself that's his little problem. But—

During the investigations some high sounding words have been uttered intended to assure the people of the holy nature of the Galahdean crusade. You would be disposed to a belief that they were simple, uncalculated man-to-man utterances until you noted the size of the megaphone amplifying these words over hill and dale to the uttermost fringes of Texas. Again, if McCraw can't take care of himself that's his own little problem. But—

These yodlers from the Alpine hill on which the capitol granite pile rests to awe visitors with its symbolism of official honesty, political forthrightness and devotion of the public's affairs, throw their voices afar, but there is a growing suspicion among the common folk that the echo hurled back is that of an inspired Charlie McCarthy. And for the third time—if McCraw can't take care of himself that's his own little problem. But—

Here is a new wrinkle in the political pouts played, as of old, on the cloth of the field of gold—both liquid and hard.

IN TEXAS WE ARE WITNESSING THE SPECTACLE OF THE TAX-PAYERS FINANCING A POLITICAL CAMPAIGN.

And if not the political aspirations of Governor Alfred, who already has served two terms and can't make up his mind whether to continue his great service to the people of Texas for another term, then financing by the state's taxpayers of a one-sided program to cast vilification and contumely upon a certain candidate in Alfred's arrogation to himself of a right that doesn't exist for any man—that of dictating to the people of Texas whom their next governor shall not be.

Surrounding the governor are his crew—a hand-picked group of individuals obscure outside their own bailiwicks and probably in them, but with a sudden, tremendous rise to affluence that defies the most glowing tale in the elxion of Horatio Alger.

Who are these men? What do they do? Are the taxpayers paying or are they not paying the salaries of some of them? And what of the Affluent rise of other, though not official, members of the political family.

If the taxpayers are paying the salaries of those on the rolls, then the taxpayers have an investment in them. How are they delivering on that investment to those who pay them? Do they have rights and privileges peculiar to themselves; and denied to other folk? Are these little princelings strutting in political ermine the political OGPU, the purgers, gleaners and rewarders of the administration? Are all others of contrary political belief or persuasion a species of bourgeois who must be liquidated by one-sided proceedings after the manner of Stalin's purge?

If the taxpayers have a big stake in politics, and they have, and if they have a stake in the labyrinthal but one-sided investigations which have featured the gerrymandering and meanderings afield of this investigation, then why wouldn't they have just as much of a stake—even a greater stake—in widening the investigation to include those inspiring this investigation, and those hangers on in the luxury of being uninvestigated?

If we are to have an investigation, then why not liberalize it? Why play favorites? Why not the Colonel's ladies as well as the Judy O'Grady's? If the taxpayers must finance the ambitious plans of Alfred to throttle and decimate those others in the gubernatorial lists while he himself spends his time scratching himself behind the ear trying to make up his mind whether the dogwood is calling or not, then why not, while he is waiting, extend it to those officially and unofficially in his political clique and family?

The purge is the order of the day in certain parts of Europe, but Texas is still a component of a great democracy.

But has the purge come to Texas? The purge smothering all outside the touch of the august robes beneath a weight of contumely and persecution by totalitarian methods abetted by "storm troops" who have received political reward and favor?

Once Governor Alfred tackled the job in the attorney general's chair, he said, the common people would be able to buy without being abused by "interests". There would be better times ahead. But he failed to say these better times would not embrace his great constituency, but the few who bore the Alfred name and flew the Alfred colors.

It is a matter of common knowledge that a group of those who rode the crest with Alfred have continued riding the crest in ways more remunerative than by holding public office. Why not investigate that?

If we are going to have an investigation, then by all means let it be an investigation instead of an affair from ambush. Let it investigate impartially instead of insidiously. Let it investigate those others bearing the Alfred name. Let it investigate liasons with what is naively described as "homeless" oil. Let it investigate those who answer when the master summons them to heel by a snap of the finger. Let the investigation be of the people, by the people, for the people.

Tear into Bill McCraw, Tom Clark and on down the line. No objections whatsoever. But as soon as you get through with that bring on the Alfred gang and swear them to the witness stand. Boy, howdy, we're just itching to hear the testimony.—Waco Herald-Tribune.

Money Tycoons Blamed For Whiskey Depression

By H. Phelps Gates

Recent attacks on America's "economic royalists" are bringing to light new facts as to how repeal was forced upon a depression-ridden people by a small group of multimillionaires as a scheme to exploit the working classes.

Some of the millionaires who propagandized repeal as a "popular revolt" now have huge sums invested in the brewing and distilling industries and are being repaid many times over for the amounts they contributed to repeal prohibition, a national survey of the situation reveals.

Falsely characterized by wet propagandists as spontaneous public revulsion to prohibition, repeal now stands striped of its promotional glamor, in the light of confidential papers made public by the Senate committee.

Eleven wealthy men contributed over half the sums expended by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment in a campaign to make it appear that prohibition was "unpopular" with the masses, and to instigate a "revolt" against the 18th Amendment. Fifty-three wealthy individuals gave over three-fourths of the campaign funds of the repeal organization up to the time of the hearing, the records show.

Today in many quarters repeal is receiving partial blame for the "business recession," and multimillionaires who sponsored the return of liquor are feeling the pinch, too. Billions of dollars spent for liquor are being diverted from other channels of trade. After four years of repeal dry campaigners are capitalizing on the fact that the nation now faces many of the same conditions which were used by wet propagandists in their efforts to stir the people into a frenzy of dissatisfaction.

Virginia Treats 88 Per Cent More Drunks

Virginia, where liquor is sold under state monopoly, treated 88 per cent more inebriates in 1937 than in 1933, the year before repeal, according to Dr. J. S. DeJarnett, superintendent of Western State Hospital, the state institution which cares for Virginia's drink victims.

Albert Power Home Destroyed Monday By Fire

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Power, three miles north of town was destroyed by fire about two o'clock Monday afternoon. The fire is of unknown origin unless it caught from an oil stove. Mr. and Mrs. Power had been working with some meat, taking it up and wrapping it to hang in the smokehouse. They were about through and Mr. Power said he believed he would go to town and get some things needed. Mrs. Power continued with work at the smokehouse and the man plowing in the field discovered the fire as the flames were breaking through the roof.

Mrs. Power had been cooking a ham on the stove, but when Mr. Power started to town she thought she had the fire turned out. However, that is the only source the fire can be accounted for. Everything in the home was destroyed, the family saving nothing from the home except the clothing they wore at the time. The meat in the smokehouse was saved and part of the canned fruit and vegetables in the cellar were saved. The cellar was destroyed.

No insurance on the household goods. Mr. and Mrs. Power are living in Spur at present until a new home can be provided for on the farm. They have one son, Ellis at home. The elder son, Bill, is in Columbia University. The daughter, Miss Helen, is working in town.

A number of friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moore Tuesday evening and remembered Mr. and Mrs. Power with a nice shower. Other friends assisted in different ways. They are worthy people and good citizens, and people wanted to show their appreciation for them.

Mrs. Joe Butler, who has been spending some time in Valley Mills, Texas, arrived in Spur the latter part of the week, to visit with relatives and friends.

Mrs. W. P. Davis, of Longview, is spending some time with J. W. Davis and Mrs. Deana Gyr, at their home several miles north of Spur.

Soldier Mound H.D.C. Club Meets

"For the greatest home comfort and utility, the water supply should be dependable, adequate, convenient, and above all protected in such a manner as to insure a high degree of safety," Miss Jean Day told the Soldier Mound Home Demonstration Club in her demonstration on "Simple Water Systems for the Rural Home," last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Paul Loe.

Wells, whether dug or drilled should be amply protected to insure against any surface drainage and seepage from the sources of ground pollutions. The walls should be of water-tight construction, and a tight cover should be put over the top.

The same safeguards should be provided for underground cisterns. Springs should be provided with covers and an overflow pipe and a pump installed if possible.

A tight underground septic tank with shallow distribution of the waste in porous soil generally is the safest and least troublesome method of treating sewage upon the farm.

Those present were Mesdames W. H. Condon, Jno. Bachman, Ollie

Hindman, I. E. Abernathy, V. L. Groves, W. E. Ballard, H. P. Berry, Floyd Barnett with Mrs. Hughie Duncan and Mrs. D. N. Loe visitors and Miss Jean Day, Agent.

"NEW FIRES"

"New Fires", a new comedy with a new theme-interest, new situation, and a new high level in dramatic entertainment, will be offered on Thursday evening, March the seventeenth, at the East Ward Auditorium. This play will be produced by the high school department of speech, and the indications are that it will be unusually attractive from several angles. It has been produced by many as the "perfect high school play". "New Fires" affords a rare combination of adolescent, sophisticated, and rural characters, refreshing humor, general wholesomeness, a splendid basic theme—in short—"New Fires" is a success on both sides of the footlights. The public is urged not to miss this unusually fine comedy.

Johnnie Sparks, of Highway, was in Spur the latter part of the week attending to business.
