Stock Market Roars Ahead

Dow-Jones Average Near 700

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock prices leaped ahead today in extremely heavy trading following the busiest day on record at the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials advanced 5.79 to 698.45 at 1 p.m. CST and advances outnumbered declines by a 4-1 margin.

The ticker tape ran as much as six minutes behind trading in the first half-hour as investors rushed to cash in on the market's rapidly rising prices.

Declining interest rates and a federal court's ruling in favor of International Business Machines in an antitrust case sent stock prices soaring Monday on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials ran up 26.05 points to 692.66 Monday, the largest advance since a 28.39-point gain

In Midland, Joe Liberty, manager of Rauscher Pierce Securities Corp., said the present upsurge in common stock purchases is an indication that money previously being invested in short-term, low-risk financial investments is being shifted to presently more lucrative common stocks.

Liberty said there has been a "sharp decline" in the profit made from the short-term investments, and that interest rates on government securities and certificates of deposit have dropped considerably during the last several weeks.

Liberty predicted the stock market picture will remain bright if the present trend in dropping short-term investment rates and improved interest rates on long-term investments continues.

Panel Okays Raises For State Employees

AUSTIN (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today approved for full floor consideration a $108 million emergency pay raise bill for state employees.

A 15-2 vote sent the measure to the House for action, probably Wednesday. Senators passed a different version of the pay raise bill last week.

Several committee members expressed concern over whether Gov. Dolph Briscoe might veto the measure. Briscoe had asked for a 10 per cent across-the-board raise costing about $90 million.

The committee approved an amendment mandating reimbursement of the general revenue fund for pay raises to employees who normally are paid from special taxes or fees.

Many regulatory agencies are financed from sources other than general revenue. Rep. Fred Head, D-Troup, House sponsor of the measure, said the reimbursement would reduce the general revenue drain to $73 million, and possibly to as little as $63 million.

Speed in finally passing the bill is essential.

Rep. Bill Presnal, D-Bryan, the committee chairman, said the raises cannot be applied to Feb. 1 paychecks unless the bill is finally passed and signed by the governor no later than Friday.

House Speaker Bill Clayton promised speedy floor consideration once the bill clears the appropriations committee.

The Senate's $93 million pay raise bill was rewritten over the weekend to eliminate the possibility that some employees might make more than their supervisors.

Sen. Lloyd Doggett, D-Austin, sponsor of the Senate bill, worked over the weekend with House sponsors and representatives of state employee organizations to refashion the bill in a way that would wipe out that problem.

In the new version, the bill would:

—Give "classified" rank and file employees in salary groups 2 through 12, with maximum pay of $12,000 a year now, a 14.2 (See PAY RAISES Page 4A)

Commissioners Approve Paying Attorneys Fees

By ED TODD
The Midland County Commissioners Court, divided on the payment of $10,000 to two court-appointed attorneys in a 1974 capital murder trial here, Monday afternoon approved that measure in a 3-0-2 vote.

Commissioners Durward Wright and Charles Welch abstained from voting on the motion made by Win Brown and seconded by John Thomas.

County Judge Barbara Culver, a lawyer herself, voted "aye" to take the motion out of a deadlock.

That vote coincided with Atty. Gen. John Hill's opinion handed down last week. Judge Culver briefed the court on the summation of that opinion, requested by the commissioners last year.

That opinion, backed up by state law, states that the commissioners are obliged to pay "any amount reasonably set by the district judge."

Last year, 142nd Dist. Judge Perry Pickett issued an order directing the county to pay Midland lawyers Randall Lundy $5,000 and Bruce Pope $4,000 for their defense of Tommy Manus, an indigent.

Manus had been under the "death penalty" statute for the 1973 slaying of carnival worker Henry M. Moyah. Manus was convicted, however, for "murder"—not capital murder—and was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

Judge Culver discussed the attorney general's opinion to the mostly silent commissioners.

"You're the only person (here) with a shingle," Wright said to the judge, "What's your interpretation" of the opinion?

"I think you're stuck" with the payment. She said the district judge-set fee is one area in which "the county has very little discretion."

"This is one of those things that the county doesn't know how much to budget for, and the (district judge) doesn't know how many cases will need lawyers" appointed by the court

Front Is Providing Weather Contrasts

Parts of the Texas Panhandle-Plains staved in freezing weather and much of the southern half of the state basked in almost summertime warmth today.

Between the two sharply contrasting weather zones lay a cool front stalled along a line from around Dallas to Midland in early morning. There were a few showers and temperatures near dawn stood in the 40s to 50s near the frontal zone.

Midland's early morning temperatures included the overnight low of 42, following a Monday high of 79, and the weatherman predicted the high mark this afternoon and Wednesday to be in the middle 60s. Tonight's low should drop back near 40.

The National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal anticipates partly cloudy skies this afternoon and clear to partly cloudy for Wednesday, but no precipitation.

Toward the north skies were mostly clear and the readings dipped to 20 degrees at Amarillo and Dalhart and 32 at Childress and Lubbock. Under (See WEATHER Page 4A)

Jim Allison Jr. Named Publisher

Jim Allison Jr. has been named president of the Reporter-Telegram Publishing Co. and publisher of The Reporter-Telegram, succeeding his father, the late James N. Allison, in the two positions.

The senior Allison died suddenly of an apparent heart seizure in his home here on Jan. 14. He had headed the newspaper since Aug. 15, 1940.

Jim Allison Jr. had been serving as executive vice president and assistant publisher.

Allison said this morning that no other changes in executive management positions are planned at this time.

The other officers are Mrs. James N. (Helon Y.) Allison Sr., vice president; Robert M. Turpin, vice president and general counsel; W. H. Collins, vice president and editor; W. M. Woody, vice president and general manager; Mrs. Betty S. Simmons, secretary; Harold D. Valiquette, treasurer and assistant secretary.

Most Of Students' Lunches Go Into Garbage Cans

CAMARILLO, Calif. (AP)—An elementary school principal in this agricultural community became distressed by watching pupils toss most or part of their lunches into the garbage can.

To dramatize the waste, principal Jerry Moynihan gathered the pupils and teachers of Pleasant Valley School around a picnic table during a recent lunch hour. He dumped the contents of the nearest trash can onto the table.

Among other items, out rolled large, unpeeled oranges, shiny red apples with not a bite missing and an assortment of neatly wrapped sandwiches.

Sixth grader Arlene Medina prepared the official inventory:

There were 41 sandwiches, two burritos, two cartons of milk, two whole pieces of chicken, three bags of potato chips, 19 apples, 13 oranges, one piece of cake, a half can of chocolate pudding, four carrot pieces, a piece of Mexican bread, two small boxes of raisins, 19 pieces of candy and 14 cookies.

After the demonstration, Moynihan sent a letter to the parents of his 430 pupils, itemizing what had been found. And teachers launched lessons on food waste and nutrition — a logical subject in the fertile rural area which grows tomatoes, strawberries and lettuce.

"Since we did this, parents have been saying, 'Wow, I didn't know this was happening,'" says Moynihan. "The kids were impressed. Seeing it was the dramatic part of it."

He said the waste indicates that parents in the town 50 miles northwest of Los Angeles may be overpacking their children's lunch bags — or packing the wrong things.

"Kids tend to eat the goodies first," then lose their appetites for sandwiches and fruit, Moynihan said.

"You don't see too many Twinkies among the discarded food," he added, referring to a variety of commercial cake which parents often pack in school lunches.

Ford's Energy Program's Cost Revised Upward

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House officials say President Ford's energy program could cost consumers $95 a year more than originally estimated, or as much as $345 a year.

The higher figure was disclosed Monday as eight Northeastern governors filed suit challenging the President's power to impose new taxes on imported oil as a way of reducing gasoline consumption and increasing domestic production.

The governors' suit was filed on behalf of New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Maine, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Vermont. It charged that Ford had taken a law meant for one purpose and used it for another without bothering to consult either the public or Congress, as the governors say is required.

A similar suit also was filed against Ford's plan by the New England Power Co. and Rep. Robert F. Drinan, D-Mass.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said an average family could pay as much as $345 a year extra as a result of higher prices on oil and the end of price lids on natural gas and petroleum. The $345 figure was given as "the absolute outside" cost of the program, while the average cost hike was estimated as $375 per household.

Originally the administration said the program would cost an average family an extra $250 a year. The new estimate now includes higher indirect costs for petroleum byproducts, Nessen said.

Part of Ford's plan calls for a new oil import tax imposing a $1 levy on each barrel of imported oil starting Friday. An other $1 is added on both March 1 and April 1.

Nessen said New England actually would fare better under Ford's plan than 19 Midwest, Southwest and Rocky Mountain states. The first $1 per barrel tariff would be waived for New England and only 60 cents of the tariff would be applied for the region in March, according to Eric Zauser, acting deputy administrator of the Federal Energy Administration. The full $1 tariff would be applied in April, he said.

In a related development,

Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott said it is "thoroughly understood" that Ford will veto any debt ceiling bill carrying an amendment to delay the President's tariff on imported oil.

A provision delaying the tariffs for 90 days has been approved by the House Ways and Means Committee as part of a bill raising the limit on the national debt to $31 billion through June 30.

In other economic developments: —The Labor Department reported that productivity in the American economy dropped sharply again in the fourth quarter of 1974 as labor costs continued to rise. The output of goods and services fell at an annual rate of 10.1 per cent over the past three months.

—The 30 airlines of the International Air Transport Association announced an agreement that will boost passenger fares on scheduled flights across the North Atlantic by about 10 per cent on April 1. The agreement also provides for an individual excursion fare, known as the APEX fare, at about one-half the price of an economy class ticket.

—Shell Oil Co. reported that earnings for the last three months of 1974 were 99 per cent over the similar period for 1973, while earnings for the year were up 87 per cent from 1973. Marathon Oil Co. said its fourth-quarter earnings declined but that its profits for the full year rose 32 per cent.

—The United States recorded its second worst trade deficit in history last year as a result of skyrocketing oil prices.

East Midland Strike Finals

Diamond Shamrock Corp., Amarillo, has completed No. 13 Alice A. Snell, et al, as a Spraberry oil discovery in extreme northeast Midland County.

It gauged a 24-hour pumping potential of 21 barrels of 37.5-gravity oil, and 66 barrels of water. Production was through perforations at 7,015-8,503 feet, which had been acidized with 3,500 gallons and fractured with 6,338 barrels of fluid and 60,000 pounds of sand.

The project was drilled to 8,550 feet, and has 5 1/2-inch casing seated at 8,948 feet. The following log tops were picked: Upper Spraberry, 7,023; lower Spraberry, 7,520 and Dean, 8,320 feet.

Well site is 1,320 feet from north and west lines of section 3, block 36, T-3-S, T&P survey, abstract 1160, five miles south of Stanton.

Schleicher Wildcat Tests Gas, Distillate

I. W. Lovelady, Midland, continued drilling below 5,190 feet on a 5,500-foot Strawn lime wildcat contract, at No. 1 O'Harrow, Schleicher County test, after it flowed gas and recovered condensate on a drillstem test in the Strawn sand.

Tool was open one hour and 10 minutes on the test taken from 5,058-5,066 feet. Gas came to the surface in one minute, at the daily volume of 2.6 million cubic feet on a 3/4-inch choke, and increasing to 3.6 million cubic feet per day in 45 minutes. Recovery was 15 feet of 55-gravity distillate and 60 feet of filtrate water.

Project site is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 88, block H, GH&SA survey, 14 miles northeast of Eldorado.

Prospectors Set In Crockett, Coke

Exploratory tests have been scheduled in Crockett and Coke counties.

Texas Oil & Gas Corp. plans to drill No. 1-48 Todd as a 5,600-foot venture in Crockett, 20 miles north of Ozona.

Drill site is 1,650 feet from north and west lines of section 68, block WX, GC&SF survey, and a northwest twin to gas production in the Howard Draw field.

Coke Project
Tri-Star Petroleum Corp., operating from Dallas, staked site for No. 1 A. B. Allen, et al, a 4,400-foot Cisco prospector in Coke, five miles northeast of Robert Lee.

Location is two miles northeast of the depleted one-well David (Claco) field, 1,900 feet from north and 600 feet from east lines of section 403, block 1-A, H&TC survey.

Pecos Gas Sector Draws Confirmer

C. F. Lawrence & Associates Inc., of Midland, completed No. 1-120 Girvin as a second producer and 3/4-mile southeast extension to the Wodlaw (Queen) gas field of Pecos County.

Mexican Police Seeking Clues In Bomb Attacks

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican police are seeking clues to whether leftist or rightist terrorists were responsible for bombs that killed five persons and injured 27 in San Luis Potosi.

The explosions began in all three cities between midnight Sunday and 1 a.m., and investigators believed they were a coordinated operation.

Watchman Killed

In San Luis Potosi, 300 miles north of Mexico City, the first bomb, in a Sears-Roebuck store, killed the night watchman and tore the legs off a janitor. An explosion at another commercial establishment wounded two persons. An explosion shortly after noon in the lobby of the National Bank of Mexico killed four persons and injured 24. And an unexploded bomb was found in a movie theater.

Bombs exploded in Mexico City in the Labor Ministry building, another government office and two bank branches, all unoccupied, and no injuries were reported. The story was the same in Oaxaca, 300 miles south of the capital, where the targets were another Sears-Roebuck store, a branch of a government farm bank, the chamber of commerce and an automobile agency.

It was the first large-scale terrorist attack since last month, when 11 bombs exploded in shopping centers and government offices in Mexico City. There were no injuries then.

Sporadic Bombings

Mexico has had sporadic urban bombings since 1969, and most of them were blamed on two leftist guerrilla groups, the 23rd of September Movement and the Peoples' Armed Revolutionary Front. But last week an unexploded bomb was found in the House of Chile, a center for leftist Chilean exiles in Mexico City. The same day a bomb exploded in the home of a leftist professor at the National Agricultural University near Mexico City. No one was injured.

Winter Storm Is Starting To Move After Dawdling

By The Associated Press

Rain dampened a wide area from Texas to Illinois today and snow was scattered from California to Wyoming as a storm began to move after dawdling in the Southwest.

Unseasonably mild weather dominated much of the nation outside the northern Rockies and Plains. Overnight temperatures in the 30s were common in many Northern sections, and the 40s, 50s and some 60s dominated the Southeast.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from -32 at Butte, Mont., to 75 at Key West, Fla.

Some other reports: Anchorage 38 cloudy, Atlanta 54 clear, Boston 31 partly cloudy, Buffalo 29 partly cloudy, Chicago 32 cloudy, Cincinnati 40 cloudy, Cleveland 32 cloudy, Dallas 65 of Southern California through Southwest Utah and into Central Wyoming.

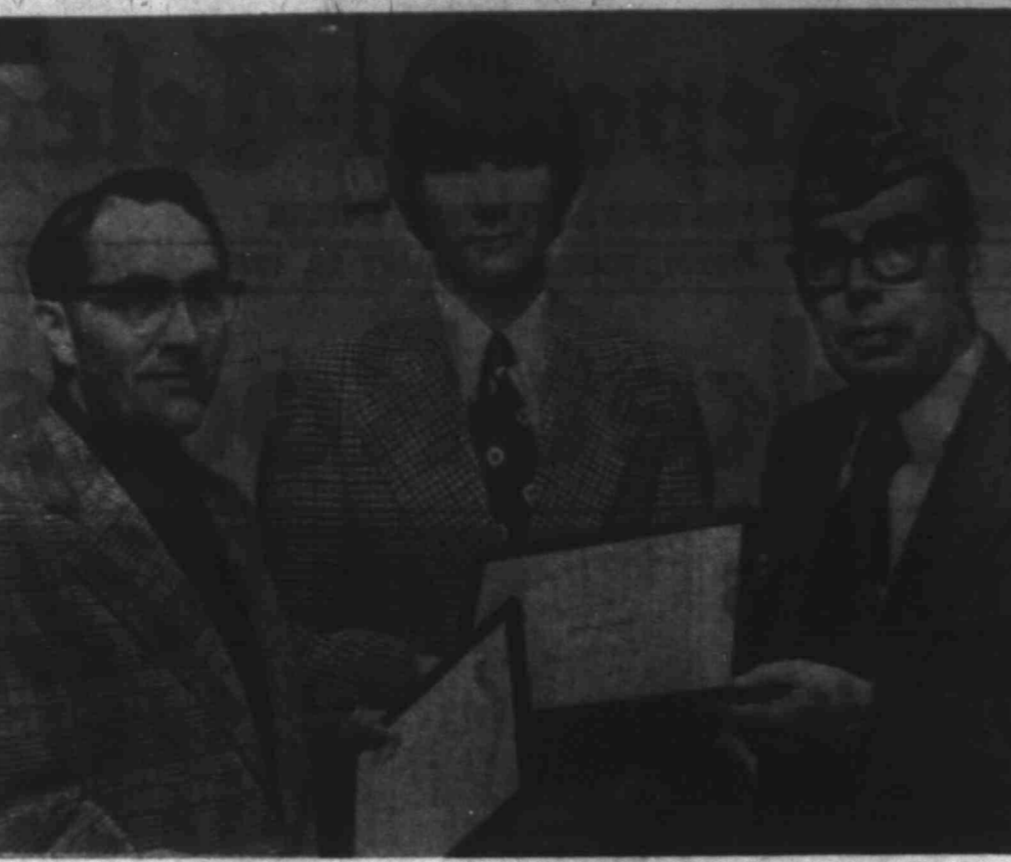

Light snow also sifted into western Montana and northern Michigan, and rain and snow chilled western Washington.

Dense fog again rolled over much of the western and central Gulf Coast and travel advisories were up in many areas.

Fair skies were confined mainly to the southeast quarter of the nation and parts of the Southwest.

Part-time area students named to the list are:

Bobby G. Burson, Shoshone; Mark S. Demas, Big Spring; James T. Jenson, Big Spring; John E. Johnson, Midland; Ken E. Marshall, Big Spring; Charles L. Middleton, Big Spring; Paul J. Sherman, Big Spring; Don H. Big Spring.

Bombings Dim Prospects For Cease-Fire By IRA

LONDON (AP) — Prospects for a new cease-fire by the Irish Republican Army dimmed today after six bombs exploded in London and Manchester, injuring 26 persons.

"We seem to have a blitz on our hands," a spokesman for Scotland Yard said. "We are expecting more."

The bombing Monday was the first large-scale attack in England since the IRA's Provisional wing ended a Christmas cease-fire on Jan. 16. The Provos' army council has been reported discussing a new truce at a meeting in Dublin. But violence resumed in Northern Ireland nine days ago, and five more persons have been killed there.

The bombing Monday began with an explosion during the afternoon in the basement hardware section of a Manchester department store. A man with an Irish accent telephoned a warning 17 minutes before, but the police were unable to clear the store in time. Nineteen persons were injured.

Church Expects To Head Senate Panel On CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Church, for years identified with legislative efforts to end the war in Vietnam, says he expects to be elected head of the Senate committee created to investigate U.S. intelligence operations.

The Senate voted 82 to 4 Monday to set up a special committee to carry out a nine-month, $50,000 probe of those operations.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield warned all agencies dealing with intelligence, including the CIA, the FBI and the Defense Department, to permit no documents or evidence of any kind to be misplaced or destroyed.

The allegations against these agencies are serious and deserve a sober inquiry that is "neither a whitewash nor a vendetta," Mansfield said.

Democrats Appointed

Mansfield named six Democrats — all generally considered moderates or liberals — to the 11-member committee and said the panel's first task will be the selection of a competent and discreet staff.

Concern was expressed during the two-hour Senate debate that nothing be done to improve national security and steps were taken to present a reputation of the Senate Watergate committee, now out of business.

Those voting against creating the committee were Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga.; Strom Thurmond, R-S.C.; James A. Helms, R-N.C., and William L. Scott, R-Va.

The Senate inquiry joins other probes under way by several other congressional committees and a special commission headed by Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Other Testifies

Richard Ober, a CIA employee now on the staff of the National Security Council, testified before the Rockefeller commission Monday about allegations of illegal CIA domestic activities.

Church said he believes the Senate inquiry is too serious to be dealt with "in any frivolous or carnival-like manner."

The Idaho Democrat, who said every effort will be made to select a staff that will not appoint some new Senate faces to the committee and his list includes three senators in their first terms.

At the same time, he said that public hearings will be held whenever possible and that transcripts of all secret information will be issued when public hearings are not appropriate.

Church, who has expressed some interest in his party's presidential nomination, said he will forgo presidential politics while working on the committee.

Church, 61, is widely expected to become chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee when its present chairman, Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., retires. He has obtained some expertise into CIA activities overseas through his chairmanship of the panel's subcommittee on multinational corporations.

Mansfield had said he would

Jane Alpert Now In Prison

HENRY, Pa. (AP) — Jane Alpert, an antiwar militant who pleaded guilty to bombing banks and federal buildings in 1968, has begun a 27-month prison term at the Pennsylvania Correctional Institution.

The jail is used by the federal government to house convicted women. Miss Alpert, 37, pleaded guilty to conspiracy charges.

Miss Alpert voluntarily surrendered to authorities last November.

The charges against Miss Alpert, a 1967 honors graduate of Swarthmore College, stemmed from bombings in New York that injured 19 persons.

Gals and men too, maybe? Know that "goop" we buy in a tube to cover up pimples and scars on our face, called "cover-something"? Or just about anything? And it does? Well, my daughter taught me instead of putting the tube on your face direct—to smear some on your finger and then wipe it or better yet pat, pat, pat it over the scars or pimples, whichever the case may be!

Works like a charm, loves. Doesn't look as if we were doctoring our faces with "smear 'em" make up. So natural...

Dear Heloise: I always read your column. With four children, I need all the help I can get.

With three females in our family, we have lots of shiny white shoes. I have found a great and simple way to remove those ugly black marks. Any of the pre-wash spray products does a fantastic job and doesn't harm the leather.

The shoes look as good as new. Just spray it on and wipe it off.

Helen Baker

Grabbed me a pair of white shoes and tried this little hint and, gals, I was amazed how easy it was to clean a pair of shoes. The dirt came right off—even grass stains. Bless you, Helen.

Dear Heloise: When I used a shag fabric-type toilet lid cover, the lid fell down too easily.

So I suggest to other mothers not to use them while you, are toilet training a little boy, please.

Dear Heloise: My telephone cord is not the long-type so I am not as lucky as others as I don't get my dishes or ironing done while on the phone.

But I keep my mending basket near and while having a pleasant phone conversation, I do my mending and in this way it does not seem like a chore nor does it pile up on me.

Jelly side down

By NANCY STAHL

I am not known to sparkle in the morning.

While I am not one of those mothers who leaps into a coordinated pant outfit at dawn and greets her family with plates of home-made muffins while crowing "What an absolutely fantastic day for a bakeseal!", I am probably the only person alive who can reconstitute a six-ounce can of frozen orange juice with her eyes closed.

The only time I have ever spoken with any degree of animation before 10:00 A. M. was the morning I tried to pry an Aunt Jermina waffle out of the toaster with a fork.

In fact, I probably would not speak at all if I were not constantly being verbally accosted by two unfatiguing cheerful children who persist in asking me insane questions such as "Where are my navy blue knee socks?" "Have you seen a red geography book?" and "Can you touch the tip of your nose with your tongue?"

When they are not asking me all sorts of things I really don't want to know, such as how sheep are slaughtered, what a heavy cigarette smoker's lungs look like, and what is written on the walls of the men's room at the Y. M. C. A., or arguing over whether you can die from drinking a whole bottle of Mr. Clean.

The fact that I could possibly have given birth to two children who invariably greet each day at 6:00 A.M. chirping like a carload of budgies completely disproves all laws of genetics.

While I could understand such personality differences had they been adopted, I distinctly recall being pregnant for eleven months with each of them.

I suppose that I just never got over morning sickness.

HOROSCOPE

by Carroll Righter

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Early day finds you with a considerable amount of energy which can be channeled constructively. Later, do not let confusion lead into your consciousness by one you don't understand negative beneficial early hours.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) Not a good time to make changes either in friends or activities, or you could later regret it. Social affairs can further your personal aims.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Listen to the suggestions of a high-spirited lady, instead of one who is only interested in what he can get out of you. Follow your own lead.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Try to please his ego and don't listen to a tentative proposal. Some new idea could be good if you study every phase.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 22) Make appointments you have been postponing for some time. Plan for the future intelligently, and start action on them in p.m.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 23) Forget pleasure areas and look into important monetary matters. You have some policy affairs that require more study. Get into it early.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) Get away from home early and enjoy whatever gives you real pleasure and relieve tension. Take health or beauty treatments.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Private talking in your best mode of procedure today, but the cure in conversing letters, reaching you that you do not quite understand.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) Practice what you preach and give you the best in what you carry through with their words. What is good, the aboveboard and all it fits.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23) Listen to high-toned ideas you are not thinking of your best field now. Use tact and avoid arguments with anyone. Spend wisely.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 23) Some new ideas are given you. Don't will lead to early advancement. Don't permit anybody to get you out of bounds. Be practical.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 24 to Feb. 23) Be constructive in handling obligations. Listen to what experts have to suggest. If you're sure you mean well, but could get you behind the eight-ball.

PISCES (Feb. 24 to Mar. 23) Talking with partners brings out money a fine idea, an unwise one. Avoid a serious thing who could take his eye out of you.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

Were Damon, Pythias Just Good Friends?

DEAR ABBY: My friend and I have a difference of opinion. He says Damon and Pythias were homosexuals. I say they were straight. Can you check this out and let us know?

DEAR NO MORE: Your solution is better.

DEAR ABBY: Last Christmas, when we had our annual Christmas party, an unusual thing happened.

Some of our guests mistook the "7 p.m." on our invitation for "4 p.m.," and while we were just halfway prepared for our party, two couples arrived at 4.

We were shocked but invited them in, offered them a drink and took turns chatting with them. In the meantime, we were trying to prepare the food, drinks, decorations and ourselves.

After a while we found out what had happened, but we didn't ask them to come back later and they didn't offer.

Abby, what would you have done in this case?

DEAR GOOFED: Same as you. I appreciate your sharing.

DEAR C AND B: I wrote to 12 leading universities. Their responses included yesses, noes and maybes.

I think the chairman of the English Department at the University of Chicago summed it up very well:

"DEAR ABBY: You asked if Damon and Pythias were gay. In dealing with characters of such remote antiquity, who exist more in the realm of legend, it is sometimes difficult to find much evidence of their most intimate details of their private lives.

"Damon and Pythias were famous for their devotion to each other, and they were Greeks. Beyond that, I think whatever they did was pretty much their own business, and even if I knew, I wouldn't say."

"One less than eminent authority said to me: 'I think Damon was okay, but I'm not so sure about Pythias.'"

Sincerely,

STUART M. TAVE

DEAR ABBY: I have a better answer to your CONFIDENTIAL TO "SAME FIGHT EVERY YEAR":

Apparently someone wrote in to say that she and her husband fought every year about whether they should go to HER parents' for Christmas and Thanksgiving dinner, or to HIS parents'.

You suggested a compromise. Thanksgiving, go to HER parents' and Christmas, go to HIS.

I also fought that battle for years, and finally came up with the perfect solution. Now I have my own Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners. I invite my parents and my in-laws to our home. They can either accept or decline. In any case, the problem of where to go is solved.

Southern Mexico Oil Discovery May Match Alaska's North Slope

DALLAS (AP) — Production figures from 61 successful wells in the new oil field discovered in Southern Mexico last year and projected figures from new wells indicate reserves from the field eventually could reach eight billion barrels or more.

Antonio Echeverria, chief oil reservoir engineer for the Mexican government, did not give the exact size of the discovery but he disclosed for the first time production figures allow estimates of its size.

Echeverria, manager of engineers for the nationally owned Petroleos Mexicanos (PEMEX), said at a meeting with Dallas and Fort Worth petroleum engineers Monday night the new field may be the beginning of a formation that extends 50 miles offshore.

The Dallas News in a copyrighted story today quoted an authoritative engineer as saying the Mexican oil find could be as large as Alaska's North Slope field. The Dallas engineer, who projected the eight-billion-barrel figure, has worked with estimates of reserves in Alaska and the Middle East.

Echeverria said, "We believe the trend in the geological formation where we have already discovered oil on land extends offshore into the Gulf."

He said drilling will be resumed in three weeks on a width of 50 miles offshore.

Seismic information pinpointed the drilling site, which normally would be in the middle of an expected new discovery area and not on the fringes, he said.

Echeverria said the 61 successful wells so far resulted from a total of 68 attempts. This is a very high percentage rate for oil drilling.

The field is producing 276,000 barrels of oil daily, an average of 4,500 barrels per well. About 50 new wells are expected to be drilled in the field each year, Echeverria said.

The Dallas engineer quoted by the News said the present production rate of the 61 wells equals one million barrels a day from the new field along with the crude oil. This gas is being piped to Mexico City and Vera Cruz for industrial use.

Echeverria discounted a natural gas discovery across the Texas-Mexico border at Laredo.

"The area of the natural gas deposits is very large but the amount of gas is small," he said.

Echeverria said Mexico must take care of its own energy needs before deciding to what other countries it will sell, adding that any excess will be sold to the "friendly nations" who can afford it. This, of course, includes the United States, he said.

didn't shut off the leak.

So, a spokesman explained, the fire was rekindled with a flaming oil rag.

"It's more controllable and less dangerous if a fire until the leak itself can be stopped," said a spokesman for Southern California Gas Co.

"We've always been able to put out the fire itself — what we need is to stop the leak."

Adair's latest approach was to drill another well at a slant. When it's completed he will aim for the well's core with a mixture of mud and heavy salt water designed to provide the perfect squeeze.

"They're working night and day around the clock now," the spokesman said.

He estimated the well digging will run three weeks more.

The blaze is spectacularly visible for miles in the San Fernando valley.

Tree Plantings To Kick Off College Landscaping Project

By LUANNA CROW

Eight hundred to a thousand trees will be planted on Midland College's new campus in February, marking the start of a three-phase landscape project.

The college's building committee, composed of board of trustee members, met Monday to hear recommendations of the Landscape Committee on landscape architect Art Glick's proposals for the campus.

The Landscape Committee, headed by Bill Mewhorter and James N. Allison Jr., had met earlier in the day with Glick to study his master plan.

The landscape architect's concept, which met with approval from both the Landscape Committee and Building Committee, calls for a belt of trees greening the college's roughly circular campus, with fingers of green extending inward to the interior grounds.

The first phase of landscaping will, according to Glick, "be enough to dress up the campus and to see it from the street."

In order to produce an "immediate effect," the trees in the initial planting will be of various sizes, the smallest being "whips," or plants with one-inch stems, and the largest ranging to three- or four-inch trunk size.

Among the varieties likely to be planted are Arizona cypress or Italian stone pine, honey locust, limber pine, Australian pine, Japanese black pine and

Liquor Election Slated At Lamesa

LAMESA — A local option liquor election in Justice of the Peace Precinct No. 3 is slated for Feb. 18.

Voters will decide whether sale of alcoholic beverages is to be allowed for off-premises consumption within the precinct.

The vote marks the second local option in Dawson County in less than a year.

Officials said that less than three per cent of the county's eligible voters will decide the fate of liquor sales in Precinct No. 3. There are only about 200 registered voters there as compared with 6,900 in the county.

The precinct encompasses the northeastern sector of Dawson County, taking in a few voters from O'Donnell's voting box and a few from Lamesa's voting box at the county airport, White said.

32.13 million shares, the heaviest trading day on record.

Advancing issues overwhelmingly led declines by a 7-1 margin on the Big Board.

Chase Manhattan's Bank's prime rate reduction to 9.5 per cent from 9.75 per cent highlighted interest rate declines which was one of the moving forces behind the day's stunning advance, brokers said.

Lower interest rates led investors to believe that bond and debt issues might become less attractive thus heightening interest in stocks.

Investors also reacted enthusiastically to a ruling by a federal court of appeals in Denver which overturned a previous decision against IBM in an antitrust case brought by one of its competitors, Telex Corp. IBM and Telex did not trade.

The Securities and Exchange Commission ordered them halted while investors absorbed the news of the decision.

Charged with aggravated assault is Julian Viscaino Dominguez, 908 S. Camp St. Police said a .22 caliber pistol used in the shooting was recovered. They said Rodriguez was shot twice when he walked up to Dominguez's car in the park.

Dominguez remained in Midland County jail today in lieu of a $3,500 bond.

Gas Well Lighted Anew After Wind Douses Fire

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Famed firefighter Paul "Red" Adair still faced the challenge of a stubborn natural gas well fire today even though the wind seemingly had delivered a knockout punch Monday night to the tenacious blaze.

The wind, howling up to 70 miles per hour in a sudden storm, extinguished the 125-foot flames about 8:30 p.m. However, while it put out the fire it

Top marks Monday afternoon mounted as high as 88 at Cotulla and Mineral Wells while the maximum was only 49 at Dalhart.

Forecasters looked for clouds and occasional showers to drift southward with cooler air following as the front started edging toward the south again. It was expected to be at least partly cloudy everywhere else and the cooling wasn't due in South and Southeast Texas until Wednesday.

Settlement Gives Midlander $12,500 For Waco Injuries

A $12,500 compromise settlement has been reached in 142nd District Court here in a non-jury suit stemming from electrical-shock injuries a Midland youth suffered in a swimming-diving meet at Waco last Aug. 1.

Richard Kendrick Snook, then 11, came in contact with an electrically-charged metal support pole when he was on his way to receive a diving award at the Lions Club Pool in Waco.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Snook of Midland, was hospitalized.

The pole had become "hot" apparently from a frayed electrical wire.

Defendants in the suit were the City of Waco, the Waco Lions Club, the Waco Lions Park Trust, and the Young Women's Christian Association (YWCA) of Waco. The city's parks and recreation department and the YWCA were co-sponsors of the event — the Hanco Invitational Swimming and Diving Meet.

Young Snook was at the meet as part of the City of Midland swim team.

In their original petition, the boy's parents had asked for $20,500 for injuries and damages.

Dollar Hits Record Lows

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — The dollar hit new lows again today on the Zurich foreign exchange market.

It opened at 2.41 Swiss francs, down from Monday's record low of 2.4275 francs. It recovered to 2.4175 francs, dropped to another new low of 2.4056, and at noon was 2.4105.

Gold also opened slightly lower on the Zurich bullion market, at $178 dollars per ounce, down 25 cents from Monday's close.

In London, the five major gold dealers fixed the price for morning trading at $176.8225 below the closing price there Monday.

French Finance Minister Jean Pierre Fourcade told the Paris financial newspaper Les Echos that the dollar's dominance in international trade is nearing an end. He said the West German mark and the French franc could become the moneys used for international settlements.

Brown Will Speak At Ozona Banquet

OZONA — C. W. Brown, McCamey oilman, banker and civic leader, will be the speaker at the annual banquet of the Ozona Chamber of Commerce on Feb. 13.

Brown, a past president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Permian Basin Petroleum Association, is a member of the board of McMurry College, Abilene. He also is a director of the West Texas Utilities Co.

He is a former member of the Texas Industrial Commission; a former mayor of McCamey and a past president of the McCamey Chamber of Commerce and the McCamey Lions Club.

Brown is a member of the executive committee of the Texas Democratic party and is active in banking and other business affairs at McCamey. He also is a trustee of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame at Midland.

Judge To Install Boys Club Officers

ANDREWS — County Judge Roy Bennett will install new Andrews Boys Club officers at a banquet scheduled for 7:30 p.m. tonight at the Boys Club.

New officers are Walt Randolph, president; Guy Wood, vice president; Norman Holman, second vice president; Dobby Olson, secretary, and Truman Kirk, treasurer.

$10,000 Attorneys Fees Payment Approved By Court

to represent indigent defendants.

The county's 1974 budget for such cases was $10,000 but that was increased to $20,000 and then to $30,000 for this fiscal year.

"We don't have to like it," Judge Culver said of the fees, "but until the laws are changed, we'll have to live with it."

Slate law provides that a court-appointed attorney in a capital murder case shall be paid at least $250 per day, and for non-capital cases at least $50 per day. Statutes, Judge Culver had noted some time earlier, do not encourage public defenders; the Criminal Justice Council decided against funding such programs. And a county-financed public defender for indigent defendants would be virtually prohibitive in cost, she had indicated.

Welch, indicating his opposition, asked the judge, "Who says what is an indigent?"

"The district judge," she replied, "has ordered the fees paid."

"In other words," responded Wright, "they (attorney general) give us three choices: pay, get sued, or sue."

In her action, the commissioners:

—Authorized Auditor Erma White to advertise for bids for a three-quarter ton crewcab pickup for the assistant county agricultural agent; John Garner, County agent Charles Green, who had by letter requested replacement of the agency's 5-year-old pickup, said the proposed one would be used "to transport youngsters and a maximum load of livestock." Welch, who made the motion that subsequently carried, had asked for a "plain vanilla" crew-cab pickup, meaning no chrome but air-conditioned, he explained to a questioning Brown.

—Approved, upon the inquiry of Treasurer Dee Thompson, the increasing of retirement-fund payroll deductions from 5 to 6 per cent and raised the annual maximum on which such deductions are made from $6,000 to $7,200.

—Deferred adopting a modified hospitalization plan.

—Approved District Clerk Marge Wallis' request to have two office phones transferred from back offices to the main office. "I think every self-respecting clerk ought to have a telephone," said Thomas in voicing his approval.

—Renewed a courthouse janitorial contract with Rollins Services and approved the service's monthly rate increase from $819 to $860. "Apparently this increase," Thomas said, "is tied with the minimum wage, which has gone up." Wright, saying he has "never seen a janitorial contractor I've been satisfied with in any place in any building anywhere," expressed some disappointment with the service.

—Let Mr. (Vern) Dawkins (courthouse maintenance engineer) jump on Mr. Rollins' if service is unsatisfactory and "we'll just look for any body else" to clean the building. Continued Thomas: "Let's not burn our bridges until we look through the yellow pages." He said he found 14 janitorial services listed.

—Discussed asking businessmen for bids to provide plant and guarantee trees and shrubbery on the courthouse square. Judge Culver, citing the closing of Los Puffins Landscaping & Garden Center, said the county had engaged the center as consultants. That was last August, and landscapers subsequently prepared plans.

"We really don't need a consultant now," said Thomas. "We have the plans."

—Discussed the proposed Memorial Court on the courthouse's southeast corner as the county's 1976 bi-centennial projects. The county had budgeted $10,000 for that project.

—Discussed the setting of a date to auction furniture and fixtures taken from the courthouse during its recent renovation.

—Discussed repainting the interior of the county's Exhibit Building prior to the Feb. 11 annual Midland Chamber of Commerce banquet, to be held there.

—Ratified the appointment of Kay Billing as secretary to the county attorney at $266 for a 30-hour work week. She replaces Jeanette Newton, who resigned earlier this month.

—Approved the temporary employment of three additional clerks in the Tax Assessor-Collector's Office during the two-month peak period of car income tax sales beginning Feb. 2. The pay rate will be $18 per day.

Love Story, Soviet Style

ORANGE PARK, Fla. (AP) — Jackson R. Tate says his romance with a Soviet actress is a true love story that ended with him expelled from Russia, the birth of a daughter and his lover imprisoned.

Now the 77-year-old retired Navy rear admiral has invited his daughter, Russian actress Victoria Fyodorova, 29, to visit him. The two have never met.

Tate said Monday that Victoria has applied for a visa but that it has been ignored by Soviet officials. Her acting career reportedly is in jeopardy for bringing the old romance to the fore.

"True Love Story" "I don't know why the whole world is interested in something that's 30 years old," said Tate while sitting across from his wife of 11 years, Mabel. "It's a true story, a true love story."

Tate was responding to a story in the Los Angeles Times of an affair he had 30 years ago with Russian actress Zoya Fyodorova, now 63.

"It was all very quick, you know," Tate said. "Zoya and I met at a party given by Molotov. Several months later Stalin didn't like it, didn't like me and didn't like us keeping close company."

Eight years in Siberia "He threw me out of Russia and sent her to Siberia. She was there for eight years before Stalin died and they released her."

Tate had to leave the Soviet Union in 1945. He said he never saw Zoya again. Tate said he did not learn about his daughter until 1973, when an interpreter helped the old lovers correspond.

Tate, who has lived in a retirement home here for the past decade and is a recent open heart surgery patient, said that when he and the blonde Zoya met she was then 34, had been a cinema star for 10 years and was at the height of her career.

Tate said the last time he and Zoya met was Victory-in-Europe Day in May 1945, the night Victoria was conceived.

Before Tate learned that Zoya was pregnant, he was declared persona non grata and given 72 hours to leave Russia.

Nine months after Victoria was born, Zoya was arrested, charged with espionage and sentenced to death. The sentence later was commuted to 25 years in prison.

Victoria Fyodorova is a graduate of the Soviet Film Acting Institute, played in her first film at 17. At 20, she starred in "Two," which won first prize in the 1955 Moscow Film Festival and was shown in America as "Love Ballad."

She received an "honored artist" state prize.

The 1973 edition of Actors of the Soviet Cinema said of her, "Up to now we have witnessed just a beginning of her creative path."

But since she applied for her visa to visit Tate, Victoria's career has been in jeopardy, Victoria told newsmen in Moscow she talked with Tate by transatlantic phone in 1973 and told him in English, "I love you, Daddy."

He replied in Russian, "Ya lubo tvaya ochi (I love you very much)." She recalled, "And then he said in English, 'And I remember when I said the same words to your mother.'"

PRINCIPAL IN WARTIME ROMANCE—Russian actress Zoya Fyodorova, pictured here in a 1947 Soviet stage performance with actor Sergei Lemeshev, is the mother of a daughter, Victoria, born of a wartime romance with an American Navy officer, the Los Angeles Times reported after a Moscow interview with the daughter, now a Russian actress herself. Movies Now Making Startling Comeback

By BOB THOMAS
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Can the movie industry continue to defy the nation's economy and maintain prosperity in 1975? Film leaders are confident, and they point to the list of attractions for the coming year.

While many other industries were hurting in 1974, motion pictures made a startling comeback.

Daily Variety reports that America's film theaters did their best business since the postwar boom of 1946. Income is estimated to have reached as high as $1.675 billion, an 18 percent jump over 1973.

Several reasons have been offered: the search for escape in troubled times, the need of neighborhood entertainment during the gas shortage, disenchantment with television.

Perhaps the soundest reason for the box-office upswing was the appearance of appealing attractions, starting off the year with "The Sting," "The Exorcist" and "Papillon" and ending with "The Towering Inferno," "Earthquake," "The Godfather, Part II," "Young Frankenstein," "Lenny," and "The Man with the Golden Gun."

The latter films are carrying their big grosses into the new year. They will be joined during 1975 by a new crop of hopefuls. Among them: "The Great Waldo Pepper" — Robert Redford barnstorming early airplanes in another film with George Roy Hill, who directed "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" and "The Sting."

"Funny Lady" — Barbra Streisand as a more mature Fanny Brice with Omar Sharif back as first husband, and James Caan as her second, Billy Rose.

"The French Connection II" — Gene Hackman back as Pop-eye Doyle chasing dope dealers in France.

Sheinwold On Bridge Caution Pays In High Contracts

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD
Old-line biologists used to say that the lower animals are ruled by instinct and man by reason. Modern biologists are inclined to credit many animals with the ability to reason. Perhaps some bridge players belong in this higher category.

A triumph for modern biology!

Tower Opposes Controls Proposed By Two Senators
WASHINGTON (AP) — Wage-price controls are no solution to the nation's woes, but instead are part of the problem, says Sen. John Tower, R-Tex.

Tower Monday criticized a bill sponsored by Sens. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Adlai Stevenson, D-Ill., which would give President Ford standby power to seek wage and price rollbacks.

Proxmire is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee and Tower is the ranking Republican on the committee.

Tower compared wage and price controls to "standing by to throw a rock to a drowning man."

Tower said Ford has not sought wage-price authority and observed: "Wage-price controls aren't part of the cure for our economic woes; they are part of the problem."

He said the best route out of inflation was a reduction in government budget deficits.

Southwest Wins Another Court Round

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southwest Airlines, a commuter carrier operating four jets only in Texas, kept the federal courts in its corner Monday and won another round in its battle to remain at Dallas Love Field.

The U.S. Supreme Court for the second time refused to consider a U.S. Circuit Court's order permitting Southwest to remain at Love Field rather than being forced to move to the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport. The Supreme Court first declined to review the lower court decision Dec. 16.

The court's refusal to hear the case again leaves the cities of Dallas and Fort Worth with almost no options in their efforts to make Southwest move to D-FW.

Southwest contends it is more convenient for the majority of its customers to use Love Field, located in the middle of Dallas. The airline also was not a party to an agreement by other airlines. The federal courts have repeatedly agreed with Southwest, saying the airline cannot be forced to relocate as long as Love Field exists as an airport.

In ordering that the lower court decision should be reviewed, the cities said the Supreme Court has ruled in previous cases that "federal courts should not decide questions of relationships between a state and its cities."

Bills Propose Bilingual Work In Kindergarten

AUSTIN — Bilingual education programs would be extended to kindergarten children enrolled in public schools under proposed legislation building on the current law mandating such programs in the first through sixth grades.

Co-authors of the bill are Sens. Jack Ogg of Houston, Chet Brooks of Houston, Raul Longoria of Edinburg and Tati Santisteban of El Paso. Ogg and Brooks sponsored the original bilingual program bill two years ago.

School districts with more than 20 children of limited English-speaking ability would be required to initiate the kindergarten-level program.

A similar bill has been introduced in the House by Rep. Carlos Truan of Corpus Christi. Co-sponsors included Reps. Paul Moreno and Robert O'Kelly, both of El Paso.

The House proposal includes a provision for voluntary enrollment of English-speaking children in bilingual programs.

Airlines Plan Rate Revisions

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Airlines plan to raise fares between the United States and Europe an average of 10 per cent on April 1 but are offering cheaper rates to people who buy tickets 60 days in advance. They also proposed reviving the youth fare, offering reductions for those between 12 and 21, but the U.S. government may block this.

All the proposed rate changes are subject to the approval of the U.S. Civil Aeronautics Board and the government aviation authorities in Canada and the European countries. The CAB abolished youth fares in May 1973, contending that they discriminated against older passengers. But Canada continued them and attracted considerable youth traffic from south of the border.

Still Higher Than Charters — The 30 scheduled airlines of the International Air Transport Association announced Monday the plan they hope will boost sagging transatlantic travel and help them compete with charter flights operated by the nonscheduled airlines. But the lowest summer rate proposed is still 35 per cent more than the fare Pan American World Airways charges on its charter flights for groups.

These are the key provisions of the proposal: —The so-called APEX ticket for people of all ages who book and pay 60 days before departure and stay abroad from 22 to 45 days. A round-trip between New York and London will cost $295 in winter, $309 in spring and autumn and $395 in the summer.

Regular Fare Increase —The regular 22-45 day excursion fare between New York and London will rise to $387 in winter, $411 in spring and fall and $458 during the summer. It also has no time restrictions and would appeal to students wanting to spend a summer, semester or school year in Europe.

Travel on the scheduled airlines' North Atlantic routes dropped more than six per cent in 1974, and the prospect for 1975 is gloomier because of the recession and higher hotel and meal costs.

Discrimination Suits Name Three Rental Companies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Texas companies, all in the Houston area, have been charged by the Justice Department with refusing to rent apartments to blacks.

Named as defendants in the suit are Casa Blanca Corp. of America, four partners in Halcyon Ltd., and those same four men and one other who are partners in the 901 East Austin Co.

Casa Blanca operates 1,500 apartment rental units in nine Houston buildings, Halcyon owns an apartment building in the Houston suburb of Pasadena and the East Austin Co. owns another complex in Pasadena.

The four partners in the Halcyon Co. are C. N. Papadopoulos, Robert J. Fairchild, Bernard Blumenthal and Boris L. Payan. The four men and Leon W. Vasiliades are partners in the East Austin Co.

The five individual defendants also are shareholders in the Casa Blanca Co.

Oklahomans Ask Beef Import Ban

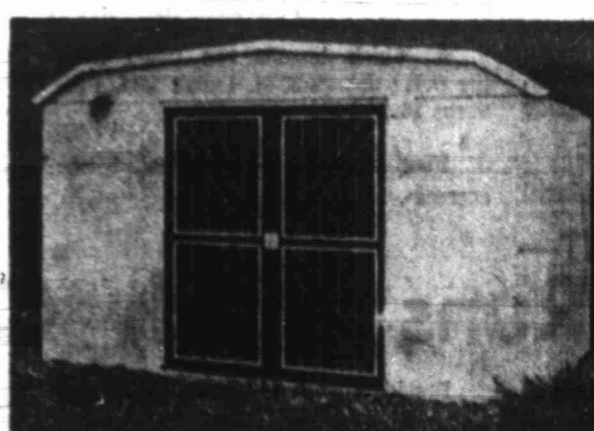

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Two Oklahoma legislators were flying to Washington today, armed with a resolution calling for a one-year ban on importing of foreign beef into the United States.

The resolution, passed unanimously by the Senate Monday after being approved earlier by the House, is directed to Congress and President Ford.

Sen. John Dahl, D-Barnsdall, and Sen. Wes Watkins, D-Ada, said they will take copies of the resolution on their trip to discuss economic problems of farmers and cattlemen with federal officials.

Wonderful Neighbors!

Another one of those kind, thoughtful and neighborly acts so typical among West Texans occurred a few days ago in Midland County . . . a richly rewarding experience for all persons involved. It was the second such happening here in recent weeks.

Vernon Chandler, a popular Midland County farm owner and operator, was the recipient on this occasion. Friends and neighbors were responsible for the action.

A few days previously, Chandler had lost part of his left arm in a cotton stripper mishap while harvesting his cotton crop.

Realizing that Chandler would be incapacitated for a period of time, more than 30 Midland County farmers determined to finish harvesting his crop for him. They met in the Chandler field at a given time, with cotton strippers, trucks and trailers, and in less than two days time the cotton was picked and on the way to the Midland Farmers Cooperative Gin, which gave it preference in ginning.

The wives of the farmers involved furnished the noon meal for the good neighbor crew.

There is something about an occurrence like this which touches the heartstrings of all persons aware of it.

Vernon Chandler and his family, of course, are thankful for and appreciative of the help given them in time of emergency by good neighbors and friends.

But the persons doing the helping reap a special blessing in their own hearts as a result of their kindness and thoughtfulness. And those who read or hear of it also have a good feeling about the whole business.

What would we do without good neighbors?

Swift Action Urged

Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, has urged the Senate to act swiftly on a bill which would create 29 new federal judgeships across the nation, including five in Texas.

The bill was introduced by Sen. Quentin Burdick, D-N.D., to ease overcrowding in federal courts.

The bill is of particular interest to Midland and vicinity, since it is likely that one of the new judges would be assigned to the federal court here.

Senator Tower said passage of the legislation is long overdue.

"The backlog of cases in federal courts is staggering," he said. "Many cases wait two years or more to come to trial. We must act now to speed up the administration of justice."

This is a matter which has been talked and then talked some more over a long period of time. Surely studies have been made to determine the need for additional judges. Prompt action, one way or the other, is merited.

The Burdick bill, incidentally, has been endorsed by Chief Justice Warren Burger.

The bill would add two federal judges each to the Southern and Western districts of Texas, and create one additional judgeship in the Northern district.

Hopefully, Tower's associates in the U.S. Senate will heed his plea for prompt action on the measure.

HEMISPHERE REPORT—

Military Runs Much Of Latin America

By WILLIAM GIANDONI

Copley News Service

It is easy to understand why the United States objects to "the tyranny of the majority," if you observe what is going on in Latin America these days.

There, it seems, those who are loudest in their denunciations of the United States for keeping Latin America in semicolonial status, as the propagandists would have it, are loudest in their demands for the kind of help that insures their continued dependence on the United States.

Those who are harshest in their criticism of the military junta that has run Chile since the elected government of Marxist President Salvador Allende was toppled, for the most part, represent military dictatorships or regimes whose democratic purity is subject to considerable doubt.

Those who are most ardent in their apologies for Premier Fidel Castro's Communist dictatorship in Cuba admit that he has not stopped exporting revolution and, in fact, that he has reaffirmed his willingness to support armed revolution wherever it may be waged against a capitalist regime.

Take a careful look at Venezuela, all but drowning now in petro-dollars, where the estimated $10 billion extra it will earn this year is that South American country's biggest economic problem.

President Carlos Andres Perez and his government have admitted that there is no way that sum of money could be put to work immediately in a country with a population of only 12.4 million people without causing horrendous inflation.

So what does Venezuela do? In truth, so far, not much more than talk. Talk of making $500 million available to the Inter American Development Bank for loans to Latin countries. Talk of investing millions in Central America. Talk of financing cartels in other raw materials and commodities that Latin America produces, similar to the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC), of which Venezuela is a founding member. Talk of nationalizing the U.S.-owned iron mining and oil companies that earn Venezuela most of its dollar income and putting the foreign exploiters out of business.

Of course, when questioned more closely, Venezuelan spokesmen admit that, even after the government takes over the iron mines and oil fields, the companies will have to stay on long enough to teach Venezuelans how to operate them.

But, above all, Carlos Andres Perez has talked about setting up an exclusively Latin American organization that would insure the region's "political security and economic unity." The group he en-

The Casualties Reach Home

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON With LES WHITTEN

WASHINGTON — Some of the biggest names in America have been linked to a Texas Watergate scandal, which involves a bungled wiretap operation, a coverup attempt and some accompanying shenanigans.

The story is every bit as fantastic as the Washington Watergate drama. After weeks of investigation, we now have dug the details out of unpublished court records and sealed grand jury evidence.

The roots go back to the late oil curmudgeon, billionaire H. L. Hunt, whose children and aides split up in a classic struggle over his enormous wealth. One faction was led by the Hunt brothers, Bunker and Herbert, who suspected another faction of siphoning funds from the senior Hunt's empire.

To satisfy their suspicions, the government charges, they hired wiretappers who, in Watergate style, botched the job. A wiretapper, spotted outside the house of a former Hunt executive, was arrested on Jan. 16, 1970. He trailed led to the two Hunt brothers, who began frantically pulling political wires to keep their names out of the scandal.

We already have reported the sworn testimony of two witnesses who told of a $50,000 to $60,000 "payoff" to the powerful Senate Judiciary chairman, Sen. James Eastland, D-Miss., whose committee has jurisdiction over the Justice Department. He made calls in behalf of the Hunt brothers to Richard Kleindienst, who was then the deputy attorney general, and to House Appropriations Chairman George Mahon, whose nephew, Eldon Mahon, was one of the prosecutors.

Kleindienst called both the head of the Criminal Division, Will Wilson, and Wilson's aide, Henry Petersen, about the case. Wilson and Mahon then spoke to Mahon's prosecutor-nephew. But all deny that they brought any political pressure to help Hunt. Eastland also swears he never received a cent from the Hunts, except a fair market price for some Charlois cattle.

The Hunt brothers managed to ward off an indictment for three years. But on Feb. 23, 1973, they were indicted. Both have pleaded not guilty. Bunker subsequently asked Sen. Eastland to inquire about a parole for Patrick McCann, one of the jailed wiretappers, whose testimony could be damaging to the Hunts. An Eastland aide, Courtney Pace, immediately sounded out the Federal Parole Board about McCann.

Here are a few other allegations in this bizarre case: —There is sworn testimony that Bunker Hunt discussed his pending prosecution with President Nixon at a barbecue, which former Treasury Secretary John Connally threw at his Texas ranch. A former-Hunt employee also was quoted in testimony as saying that Connally got fat legal fees and a bonus cattle deal from Bunker Hunt "to disguise a payoff" for his backstage help in the case. A Hunt spokesman conceded that the multimillionaire had business dealings with Connally but denied a payoff of any kind. At the barbecue, Hunt merely exchanged amenities with the President in a reception line, the spokesman said. We were unable to reach Connally for his comment.

—The case almost broke in open court last March when a lawyer started telling Federal Judge John Singleton in Houston about his suspicions of a coverup. Astonishingly, the judge abruptly silenced him. "I am liable to get the marshal up here and just put you in jail for making that remark," barked the judge. Singleton told us, in retrospect, his ire may have been "unwise."

—A key witness swore that lawyers hired by the Hunts offered him $1,250 a month if he would go to jail and keep his mouth shut. A second witness testified that he was also offered $1,250 a month for his silence and a third witness said he was offered $800 a month. The money was never paid, but the Hunts picked up the lawyers' fees for government does not violate some or most of those principles.

The other executives who signed the declaration were Gens. Velasco, president of Peru; Hugo Banzer, president of Bolivia; and Omar Torrijos, chief of government of Panama, all of whom head regimes produced by military revolutions.

The four remaining countries that participated in the three-day conference were represented by their foreign ministers or by presidential envoys. They were Argentina and Colombia, which have elected governments, and Chile and Ecuador, whose governments came to power by way of revolution.

RAY CROMLEY Ruling The Land From A Legislative Vacuum

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A series of presidents from Franklin Roosevelt to Richard Nixon has been accused of assuming imperial power. The fault, however, lies in Congress, which has abdicated its own power.

Pick any congressional hearing at random and study it in detail. The inaptitude of much of the questioning is astounding, even on matters of grave national importance.

The process by which money is voted by the billions is an abomination. Few congressmen, even those on the committees concerned, bother to find out whether specific requests are justified in whole or in part. If a fighter plane is to be built by the Defense Department, or a bridge is to be constructed in some foreign country as part of our assistance program, the lawmakers have no way of knowing whether the cost figures given them are realistic, or so shabby they invite sloppy management and spending.

This vagueness becomes dangerous when a new program is inaugurated, supported by precise figures based largely on the imaginations of those pushing the project.

In the end, more often than not, these legislators take the word of the potential witnesses in the case, according to largely undisputed testimony.

—Two witnesses in the case swore they were threatened with death if they testified against the Hunts. One said he was told that "the government can't help you if you are dead." The other testified he received a warning that he would "get killed if you double-cross the Hunts." A Hunt spokesman called the charge absurd, pointing out that both witnesses testified and remained quite alive.

We have traced the Texas Watergate case from Capitol Hill in Washington to Houston's plush Maxim's restaurant, from The Hague and London to Hunt's headquarters in Dallas. The Justice Department is officially silent on the case. But their court filings in Dallas state that Bunker Hunt and some of his henchmen "are the subject of the grand jury's investigation . . . of obstruction of justice."

TIMELY QUOTES

"U.S. prison wages" are designed to get prisoners to learn a useful skill — that's all. We do need to encourage prisoners to learn skills to prevent them from landing in jail again, but the prison system budget is woefully tight already and I just don't think higher payments are feasible. — Sen. John V. Tunney (D-Calif.) proposing penal reforms include a more realistic budget and better wages for convicts.

Return Of The Foot Soldier! Or . . .

WASHINGTON (NEA) — "Way back in 1968, when the race for nuclear supremacy was in its infancy, the first edition of the authoritative "Jane's Fighting Ships" appeared. In 1968, when few appreciated the military significance of the airplane, "Jane's All the World's Aircraft" was published.

Now of all times, when the superpowers are armed to the teeth with nation-destroying nuclear weapons, the first edition of a new series, "Jane's Infantry Weapons," has been published by Franklin Watts, Inc. in New York and simultaneously in London.

There's a lesson, says the editor, Maj. F. W. A. Hobart, an acknowledged expert and lecturer on small arms.

In a foreword to the new volume, he points out that the large numbers of nuclear weapons in the world today have ironically made the well-armed infantryman more necessary than ever before.

It is the ability of the infantry to hold back an enemy that would give politicians time to evaluate and negotiate before resorting to nuclear weapons. The lack of such an ability, says the major, might lead to the earlier use of nuclear weapons in case of an attack.

Thus the sword still reigns supreme, and we will not in our time see the publication of something called "Jane's All the World's Fleets."

Lee Youth Center Chatter

By BECKY HALL, LINDA KWAN & TANYA JONES

It's six down and one to go. Rebs, and we've got the first half 5-4A district basketball championship! It all depends on the outcome of the Lee-Midland game TONIGHT in the Midland gym. This win will make it official.

What checked at least a playoff game for the title was the 65-45 win over Odessa Permian Tuesday night and the 76-68 victory over the Abilene Eagles Friday. For all of the people who missed the bout with Permian, it was a real heart-slogger from the beginning to the overtime end. Abilene was no easy opponent for our bouncing Roundballers either. Midland will prove to be our toughest yet, so get to the MHS gym early for space is limited. The game will be televised on KMD-TV for all of you not-too-early birds, with pre-game activities to begin at 7:30. Remember tonight is not the end of the season; it is only the end of the first half play.

Friday, Lee will be in Odessa to again down the Broncos, but this time in their own territory. All of you who can should go and help make the second half results look like the first half's. Coach Stueckler and his Mighty Maroon have been working a long time for the chance to defend their 1974 crown and they can do it with our help. In other words, See ya' again Friday!

The JV and the sophomore basketball teams fought hard Tuesday against Permian but ended up with heart-breaking losses of 23-48 and 35-54, respectively.

Don't forget, tonight's the night in the Bulldog gym, beginning at 5:30 for the JV.

Talk about hearts — love, cupid, etc. are beginning to creep up with Valentine's Day only 17 days away. The National Honor Society has been thinking about Friday the 14th because that is the day of their annual Valentine's sale. The singing groups are practicing hard so they can sing to you "sweetie" one or more of the six songs available to choose from. If you aren't interested in a singing telegram, perhaps a written telegram or maybe a conversation would be more appropriate. Why not send all three? The Valentines are going for a low, low price and this only happens once a year. Start thinking now about your sweetheart and decide how many Valentines you are going to send her, because orders will only be taken from February 4 to 12.

Also nominations for Lee's 1975 Orientation Court will be received, beginning Feb. 4. This year, only the seniors will be able to nominate, but the entire school will make the final decision by their vote. Now is the time to be looking for the senior that truly is worthy of court.

MHS officers were installed Monday night, with Julie Beach presiding as president. Helping her finish the year with success will be Gary Parsons, Cheryl Berry, Patricia Bird, Sharon Wright and Anita Heard. Congratulations, group!

Saturday night was a great night at the LHS Youth Center. For those of you who were not there, you missed a great dance! It was such a great night that we are going to have another dance Feb. 21, after we beat Midland High again in basketball.

Thanks to those of you who set up for the dance and a special thank you goes to these people for cleaning up: Jean Ashland, Mica Custer, Tina Ashford, Janet Lively, Kaye Freeman, Janis Sanders, Richard Wilson and Bill Murraba.

The senior play is coming along great. There have been meetings for writing and practicing the skits. If you have a skit or want to participate in the play, listen on the announcements for the next meeting. If you can not make it to the meetings, contact one of the senior class officers. They are Bill Elliott, Scott Meaders, Paul Pensek, Becky Ellis and Jeri Cabanias. You had better hurry and turn your skit in because the performance is not far away.

A note to all senior girls: If you're interested in being a hostess to a senior girls party, be thinking of a theme for the party. There will be a meeting at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Cathy Meador's house to get all the interested girls together and decide on a theme. The party will be lots of fun, so we need to get a good theme and a lot of girls to help. See ya' Sunday at 2:30.

Lee's Fellowship of Christian Athletes did not quite cut it when challenged by the MHS group to a basketball game. Even though the guys lost, they raised enough money to finance their club through the year.

This week is the beginning of a lot of sports events for Lee. For some it is the first competition of the year. The volleyball team has got what it takes to win district again this year. The players really need our support at the games to carry them all the way to the top. Monday night, the girls will play Snyder in the Lee Gym. That is next Monday night. Don't forget!

The track team goes out Friday for the first time this year. The guys have been working for several weeks in preparation for a winning season. Friday, at the stadium in Odessa, the guys will participate in a practice meet against Permian. We know our tracksters will make a good showing. Good luck!

If you are in San Angelo Friday or Saturday, be sure to stop by to see the super Lee golf team in action. The golfers are entered in the San Angelo Invitational Tournament. This is not the first time the team has been out this year, but it is the first big tournament. If you can make it to San Angelo, the team could use your moral support as it takes top honors.

For all the swimmers, this weekend will be a biggy. They are entered in the TISCA Championship meet at Dallas. Our "red eyed" Rebels have made an outstanding performance in the last few weeks and we know that they will keep things "wet and wild" in Dallas. The meet will be held at Loos Pool. If you are in "Big D", stop by and watch the Rebs make waves.

The LHS speech and drama squad really let the people in San Angelo know that they were there. The squad took overall sweepstakes over 41 schools entered in the Angelo State University Speech Tournament. Individual placings include Jeff Saypta and Rica Thomas. Jim Kreuz and Billy Williams won first place in the standard division, while Tanya Jones and Perry Spears placed third in Cross Examination debate.

Tanya and Perry qualified for state meet as well as Rica, Jeff and Cindy Flynn. Keep it up, Rebs!

Congratulations to the VICA officers at Lee. They are Nettle Mitchell, Terry Driggers, Patti Campbell and David Butler. Competition with area schools begin soon for the VICA club. Keep up the hard work and good luck this year!

Have you ever thought about sending a mouse to college? If you haven't, we have just the thing for you. The American Cancer Society is sponsoring the campaign. It will be for the purpose of sending mice to colleges for research. It only costs $1 cents per mouse. Pamphlets and envelopes will be placed in every room at Lee. So if you want to send a mouse to college in your name, just drop $1 cents in one of the envelopes and it will be taken care of by the Junior Council or "100 Club." Midland High Youth Center challenged LHS Youth Center to a contest to see who could send the most mice to college. If your club or organization wants to send a bunch GREAT, just send as many as you want! It will take an effort on everyone's part to meet the challenge and provide research material for colleges. Thursday morning at 7:40, Junior Council members will meet to have their picture taken for the annual. The meeting will be on the patio and will only take a minute. Please attend!

All MHS members who ordered pins or want to order a pin, should bring the order form and the money to Mrs. Hetsel before school. The deadline for turning in orders is Friday morning. Don't forget! There are lots of events happening this week and through out the weekend. Hope to see all you Rebs at all of the events!

Becky,
Linda,
Tanya

P.S. Rebelites: Squad meeting will be held at 7:40 a.m. Wednesday.

P.S.S. Happy Birthday to Barbara Walker, Diann Brandon and Allison Ware!

Days Of Big Cars Appear Over

DETROIT (AP) — The standard-size family car, the 18-foot, 2½-ton American species of automobile, is on the verge of extinction.

Detroit auto makers are now designing cars for the late 1970s which will be about two feet shorter, 500 to 1,000 pounds lighter and several inches taller than today's full-size car.

The new standards will be about the same size as standard cars of the 1950s. But they will still be big by European standards — a little longer than a Jaguar sedan and a few inches shorter than a Rolls Royce Silver Shadow.

The new generation of standards may be forced to debut in 1977 when stricter federal anti-emission requirements go into effect.

Ford says its luxury compact Granadas and Mercuris, introduced last fall, are the first of its new line of small family cars. General Motors will move in that direction this March, introducing a new small Cadillac, two feet shorter and a half ton lighter than current models.

"We're reducing the size of the cars externally, and perhaps we'll sacrifice luggage space, but we're trying to retain the room inside the cars," says GM Vice President Ernest S. Starkman.

Harold C. MacDonald, vice president of product development at Ford, said Ford's late 1970s cars will have the same interior length as current models, but "the interior width will be reduced from 63 to 64 inches to about 61 inches."

The government expects U.S. auto makers to improve the average mileage of their cars to 18.7 miles per gallon in 1980.

After fuel shortages brought on by the Middle East oil embargo, the companies promised — after Congress threatened to legislate it — to improve the fuel economy for 1980 models by 40 per cent over 1974 models.

The car makers expect to meet that goal by building smaller, more efficient engines, designing aerodynamic cars and substituting lighter materials for conventional metals where possible. An industry yardstick says a 400-pound weight reduction adds one mile per gallon.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler say they can meet the 40 per cent goal by as early as 1978 if tough emission and safety standards set for that year are relaxed to current levels.

President Ford has proposed that antipollution levels be held through 1980 at the current California emissions standards, which are tougher than present federal standards, a compromise auto makers say will allow them to meet the mileage goal. Some federal officials say auto makers can make the goal

The singing groups are practicing hard so they can sing to you "sweetie" one or more of the six songs available to choose from. If you aren't interested in a singing telegram, perhaps a written telegram or maybe a conversation would be more appropriate. Why not send all three? The Valentines are going for a low, low price and this only happens once a year. Start thinking now about your sweetheart and decide how many Valentines you are going to send her, because orders will only be taken from February 4 to 12.

Also nominations for Lee's 1975 Orientation Court will be received, beginning Feb. 4. This year, only the seniors will be able to nominate, but the entire school will make the final decision by their vote. Now is the time to be looking for the senior that truly is worthy of court.

MHS officers were installed Monday night, with Julie Beach presiding as president. Helping her finish the year with success will be Gary Parsons, Cheryl Berry, Patricia Bird, Sharon Wright and Anita Heard. Congratulations, group!

Saturday night was a great night at the LHS Youth Center. For those of you who were not there, you missed a great dance! It was such a great night that we are going to have another dance Feb. 21, after we beat Midland High again in basketball.

Thanks to those of you who set up for the dance and a special thank you goes to these people for cleaning up: Jean Ashland, Mica Custer, Tina Ashford, Janet Lively, Kaye Freeman, Janis Sanders, Richard Wilson and Bill Murraba.

This week is the beginning of a lot of sports events for Lee. For some it is the first competition of the year. The volleyball team has got what it takes to win district again this year. The players really need our support at the games to carry them all the way to the top. Monday night, the girls will play Snyder in the Lee Gym. That is next Monday night. Don't forget!

The track team goes out Friday for the first time this year. The guys have been working for several weeks in preparation for a winning season. Friday, at the stadium in Odessa, the guys will participate in a practice meet against Permian. We know our tracksters will make a good showing. Good luck!

If you are in San Angelo Friday or Saturday, be sure to stop by to see the super Lee golf team in action. The golfers are entered in the San Angelo Invitational Tournament. This is not the first time the team has been out this year, but it is the first big tournament. If you can make it to San Angelo, the team could use your moral support as it takes top honors.

For all the swimmers, this weekend will be a biggy. They are entered in the TISCA Championship meet at Dallas. Our "red eyed" Rebels have made an outstanding performance in the last few weeks and we know that they will keep things "wet and wild" in Dallas. The meet will be held at Loos Pool. If you are in "Big D", stop by and watch the Rebs make waves.

The LHS speech and drama squad really let the people in San Angelo know that they were there. The squad took overall sweepstakes over 41 schools entered in the Angelo State University Speech Tournament. Individual placings include Jeff Saypta and Rica Thomas. Jim Kreuz and Billy Williams won first place in the standard division, while Tanya Jones and Perry Spears placed third in Cross Examination debate.

Tanya and Perry qualified for state meet as well as Rica, Jeff and Cindy Flynn. Keep it up, Rebs!

Congratulations to the VICA officers at Lee. They are Nettle Mitchell, Terry Driggers, Patti Campbell and David Butler. Competition with area schools begin soon for the VICA club. Keep up the hard work and good luck this year!

Have you ever thought about sending a mouse to college? If you haven't, we have just the thing for you. The American Cancer Society is sponsoring the campaign. It will be for the purpose of sending mice to colleges for research. It only costs $1 cents per mouse. Pamphlets and envelopes will be placed in every room at Lee. So if you want to send a mouse to college in your name, just drop $1 cents in one of the envelopes and it will be taken care of by the Junior Council or "100 Club." U.S. Destroyer Sails Abruptly From Greek Port CORFU, Greece (AP) — The American destroyer Richard E. Byrd abruptly sailed away from this Ionian Sea island at the request of the Greek government Monday night after anti-American mobs stoned two of the ship's officers and tried to set their car afire.

A 60-year-old Greek, Aristidion Mourtinos, died in a hospital several hours after his motorcycle overturned during the disturbances. Doctors said he broke his neck and fractured his skull.

The destroyer left Corfu eight hours after arriving for the first visit of an American warship to a Greek port since anti-American sentiment swept the country after the Cyprus crisis last July. Many Greeks blame the United States for the Turkish invasion of Cyprus as well as for its support of the Greek military dictatorship that collapsed last summer.

Transfer Sought For Erwin Trial

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Frank Erwin's lawyer wants his drunken driving trial moved away from Austin because of what he called widespread prejudice against his client.

Roy Minton, who successfully defended Erwin on a drunken driving charge three years ago, said in a motion filed Monday that Erwin did the best job he could as regent of The University of Texas System but "in doing so he profoundly antagonized certain members of The University of Texas community who differed philosophically from the defendant."

The 1972 trial also was moved to Belton, without objection by the prosecution, and a jury found Erwin innocent.

China Cancels Wheat Orders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mainland China has canceled orders for about two-thirds of the U.S. wheat scheduled for shipment through mid-1976, a Memphis-based commodity trading firm says.

Cook Industries Inc. said Monday that contracts calling for the delivery of about 600,000 metric tons, or more than 22 million bushels, from February through September were canceled at China's request.

"One would have to assume they (China) had reasonably good crops and don't need the wheat, but they did not tell us that," said William E. Barksdale, a Cook vice president.

Testimony Starts In Murder Trial

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Testimony started today in the trial of two soldiers charged with murder in the slaying of a highway patrolman last fall.

Jury selection was completed Monday. On trial are Larry Ross and Selwyn Ghoson, both of Fort Sill, Okla.

State Trooper Hollie Tull was shot to death when he stopped a car near Belton to question its occupants about a bank robbery at Walburg, in Central Texas.

Rail Operations Back To Normal

By The Associated Press
Operations were back to normal today on three major railroads that were partially shut down Monday by brief strikes. Pickets were removed by court order and by the leadership of the four shopcraft unions involved in the walkouts in the Midwest, Northwest and the South. The dispute went to mediation.

The walkouts apparently were in protest to the lack of a contract with the railroads. Industry wage negotiations are under way in Washington. Union leaders would not give a specific reason for the strikes.

"The railroads invoked mediation through the courts," William Crawford, a spokesman for the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen said Monday in Kansas City. "We were forced to end the strike."

Strikes had been called at midnight Sunday against the Burlington-Northern; the Chesapeake & Ohio, a unit of the Chessie System; and the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. U.S. District Judge Joseph Sam Perry issued a restraining order in Chicago halting the strike. The order is effective until 6 p.m. Feb. 5. A hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m. Feb. 3.

The walkout Monday temporarily shut down the Burlington Northern's service for about 23,000 commuters from Chicago's western suburbs. Service was restored by midmorning, officials said.

Pickets were up briefly in West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, Illinois, Missouri, Nebraska, Oregon, Washington and Colorado.

Other unions involved in the strike were the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Blacksmiths and the International Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers.

Bentsen Asks Some OPEC Members Get Favored Treatment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oil-producing countries who participated in the oil embargo against the United States last year should be distinguished from those who did not, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., said Monday.

Bentsen introduced Monday an amendment to the 1974 trade act to grant nondiscriminating trade status to nations that did not participate in the embargo.

As it reads now, the trade bill prohibits preferential trade treatment to members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) unless they sign bilateral agreements not to embargo oil shipments to the United States.

OPEC members who did not participate in the embargo against the United States and the Netherlands were Venezuela, Ecuador, Nigeria, Indonesia and Iran.

Bentsen noted that Venezuela actually increased oil shipments to the United States by 20 to 22 per cent.

The Texas senator also introduced a resolution urging President Ford to seek a meeting of Western Hemisphere finance ministers to discuss economic problems of the United States, Canada and Latin America.

NO RULING MADE ON CLAIMS, HOWEVER—

Judge Grants Injunction Against Bell Banning Document Destruction, Bugging

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Judge Peter Curry also enjoined Bell from destroying any documents relating to wiretapping or pertaining to the multi-million suit filed by fired Bell executive James Ashley and the family of deceased Bell vice president T. D. Gravit.

The judge, in effect, made no ruling on the claims of either side in the suit, but merely forbade Bell from destroying documents or wiretapping Ashley, his attorney or the Gravit family.

"I'm just saying they shouldn't do it," said Judge Curry in a brisk statement that ended a daylong testimony. Ashley's attorney, Pat Malone of San Antonio, hailed the ruling as a victory, noting: "I'm thrilled."

He also predicted that the complex case would go to trial on March 31.

Hubert Green, the attorney representing Bell, characterized the ruling as of little real importance.

"I don't think it's a tragedy," he said. "We're not enjoined from doing anything that we actually do."

In the daylong hearing, Ashley and a series of plaintiffs' witnesses claimed that Bell officials were destroying documents related to the suit that the Bell security force had tapped telephones of phone company employees and that the telephones of Ashley and Gravit were tapped at one time.

Allegations Denied
Witnesses for Bell, which included executives, an attorney and a repairman, systematically and in detail denied the allegations.

Here are the charges by the plaintiffs' witnesses and the reply from Bell:

Wiretapping charges—Ashley claimed that Bell had a "mini-frame" which they could use to dial into any telephone circuit and monitor conversation. He said he was told by Gravit that a Dallas Bell executive, Larue Robinson, a division manager, was tapped. Later, said Ashley, both he and Gravit believed their phones were tapped and they used a system of codes to establish contact from neutral telephones.

A Houston electronics expert, J. L. Patterson Jr., also testified that he found "strange" wires in the home phone of Ashley and the office phone of Maloney. Patterson said the wires could have been used to turn the telephones into "bugs."

Worked In Home

Ashley also claimed that Bell repairmen worked in his house three times when the family was away even though they were not called to the home. An Ashley neighbor, Mrs. Judy Stokes, said she admitted the repairman to the home on one occasion when the Ashleys were gone.

Bell's reply: Bell Security Manager William J. Jonas Jr., a former FBI agent, testified that he knew of no device such as a "mini-frame." He said Bell can tap telephones with equipment in the central office, but that it takes time to set up and is done only in the case of suspected telephone fraud or nuisance phone calls. He said he knew of no taps on the phones of Ashley or Gravit or on the phones of any Bell employee.

Richard Vehige, a plant manager for Bell, presented records indicating that repairmen visited Ashley's house to fix a defective system of phone chimes. He said several visits were required and that he finally ordered a repair foreman to fix the chimes "once and for all" on Oct. 9.

Earl A. Beitzing, the foreman, said he and a repairman were admitted to the Ashley home by Mrs. Stokes and were there when Ashley arrived between 1 and 3 p.m. on Oct. 9.

Charges Listed

Document destruction charges: Ashley testified that in a meeting in the summer of 1973 a group of Bell executives decided the company files should be purged of any correspondence that could be damaging in an anti-trust suit then in litigation. He said the files were reviewed and damaging documents were destroyed by Leo E. Eickhoff Jr., a Bell attorney, and by John Steel, a commercial engineer. Ashley quoted Steel as saying the papers would be shredded.

Ashley said the day he was suspended by Bell, Oct. 9, all of his personal effects were impounded. They were later returned, he said, but that some documents were missing.

"There were a number of instruments that were important to me in this litigation that were gone," he said.

Bell's Reply: Eickhoff testified that the files were "reviewed" by John D. Lawrence, a company attorney, but that none were destroyed or shredded. He admitted that documents in the files included a "competitive hot list" which mentioned the names of companies which were considering or had bought telephone equipment from firms other than Bell.

Eickhoff also denied any knowledge of a shredder machine in the San Antonio office.

Files Reviewed

John Steele, the commercial engineer, said he recalled delivering files for review by Lawrence, but did not know of any being destroyed.

Under federal regulations, the phone company is required to preserve most documents for up to 10 years and is forbidden to destroy them.

Charges Not Answered

Ashley, in his testimony, made several charges which were not addressed by Bell witnesses.

Ashley claimed that Bell officials and the FBI have a close working relationship.

"The FBI," he said, "can come in and get complete access to our files."

Because of this relationship, he said, Bell occasionally gets help from the FBI.

Ashley said when he was an executive for Bell in Lubbock, FBI agents warned him two weeks in advance that West Texas financier Billie Sol Estes was to be indicted.

"This enabled us to get some $30,000 from the collapsing Estes empire," he said, "and avoid $30,000 in lawsuits."

Ashley said he and Gravit became the subjects of an investigation by Bell security agents from 12 different cities.

Of the security agents, he said: "They're all ex-law enforcement agents, almost invariable ex-FBI agents."

In the basic lawsuit by Ashley and the family of Gravit, it is claimed that Gravit took his life after being harassed by an investigation. The suit also claims misconduct by Bell in setting telephone rates.

Ashley claimed that he and Gravit believed their phones were tapped and were forced to use "grubby telephone hosts" to assure the privacy of their telephone conversations.

Gravit died of carbon monoxide poisoning in the garage of his Dallas home last fall.

Boston U Rescinds Ziegler Invitation

BOSTON (AP) — The invitation to former White House news secretary Ronald Ziegler to speak at Boston University has been rescinded by the student government assembly.

Dean John Wickham of the School of Public Communication said the university faculty had asked the students to withdraw the invitation, which they did Monday.

"Ziegler took part in the Nixon administration's effort to suppress the free press," he said.

7-AA FIRST HALF TIE POSSIBLE—

McCamey Tests Crane

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
When Friday's final curtain fell on area basketball action, Lamesa, Greenwood and Odessa Ector owned first half cage titles, and when tonight's play ends, two more districts will have named first half champions.

Districts 7-AA and 5-A will end first half play tonight, but things might not end up as simple as the three districts that have already ended first half action.

For example, in District 7-AA, Crane travels to McCamey and the Golden Birds lead the first half chase with a 3-0 mark, but McCamey is 2-1 and could tie for the first half crown with a victory. The Ozona Lions also own a 2-1 record and they could force a three-way tie for the first half crown with a victory over Reagan County tonight coupled with a McCamey victory over Crane.

Coach Arlen White's Cranes, however, can make things simple with a victory over the Badgers. Crane was the pre-season pick to win the outright championship, and have been almost untouchable in district play.

District 5-A is in a similar situation with a three-way tie for first half honors possible. Shallowater has already insured themselves of a share of the first half pie with a 3-1 record and is idle tonight while O'Donnell and Seagraves try for a piece of the action. O'Donnell (2-1) is at Stanton (1-2) while Seagraves (2-1) is at Plains (0-3). Victories by O'Donnell and Seagraves would throw the first half into a three-way tie. Both would have to lose in order for Shallowater to win it outright.

District 6-A, the only loop not playing in halves, continues its rugged pace tonight with five teams still hopeful of winning the district crown.

Balmorhea holds the edge at this point with a 5-1 record, but they face Marfa tonight in a key district tie. Marfa is 4-2 and can earn a share of the lead with a victory. Rankin's Red Devils will host Iraan in a major survival battle with both teams still in the race with 3-3 marks. Clint, also 3-3, faces last place Wink in the other contest.

Hope springs eternal for all teams in the area's other three loops as second half action begins.

Lamesa's Golden Tornados, the only undefeated team with a 24-0 mark, is idle in District

3-AAA play tonight while Snyder travels to Brownfield, Sweetwater hosts Lake View and Lubbock Dunbar meets Lubbock Estacado in a city scrap. Lamesa already owns the first half title.

Odessa Ector, another first half title winner, also takes off, but there is a key game here when Andrews hosts Pecos. Andrews was third in the first half and Pecos was second. This will be a key tilt to determine who will challenge Ector in the second half. Seminole hosts Monahans and Kermit travels to Fort Stockton in other 2-AAA action.

District 11-B also starts the second half grind with Greenwood holding the edge after posting a perfect 5-0 mark in the first half to take honors. Greenwood will travel to Water Valley in a key outing tonight while major contender Forsan hosts Sterling City. Garden City is at Grady in the other matchup.

SEC Cage Race Wild Scramble

By The Associated Press
Auburn has luck, Kentucky has experience, and Alabama has Leon Douglas. And Southeastern Conference basketball fans have themselves the makings of one wild scramble.

"We have got the luckiest ball club in the world," said Auburn Coach Bob Davis, whose 14th-ranked Tigers slipped past Georgia 65-64 Monday night to retain their share of the lead in the SEC.

"Our experience pulled us through at the end," said Kentucky Coach Joe Hall, whose fifth-ranked Wildcats barely managed to beat Vanderbilt 91-90 to retain their share of the lead in the SEC.

"Leon Douglas is stronger than last year. He lost weight and jumps real well, and that makes Alabama stronger than last year," said Florida Coach John Lotz, whose club dropped a 73-67 struggle to ninth-ranked Alabama, which thus retained its share of the lead in the SEC.

All three are tied with 7-1 league marks... and lurking in the wings is Tennessee. The Vols are 6-2 in conference play after whipping Louisiana State 99-79.

Meanwhile, top-ranked Indiana took a while to get going but then rolled past Illinois 75-57 in a Big Ten battle. Scott May scored 19 points and Quinn Buckner had 17 for the Hoosiers, 19-0.

And No. 2 North Carolina State edged past Duke 95-71 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game, raising its record to 13-2. Oregon, rated 11th, outscored Air Force 17-4 at the start of the second half and rolled to a 77-47 rout of the Falcons.

In the major upset of the night, Louis Dunbar poured in 29 points to lead Houston past 17th-ranked Stanford 74-61.

In a coaching change, Press Maravich resigned at Appalachian State and was replaced, temporarily, by assistant Rusty Bergmann. Maravich had previously said he would leave at the end of the season.

Substitute Glenn Mason scored on a layup with 48 seconds remaining to give Auburn its eighth consecutive triumph.

Freshman Mike Mitchell led Auburn, 12-3 over-all, with 22 points.

Kentucky jumped to a 16-00 point first half lead, but the home team forgot to foul Vanderbilt finally took a 66-62 lead with 8:25 left. A basket by Kevin Grevey put the Wildcats back on top.

Grevey led Kentucky with 27 points and Jimmy Dan Carter finished with 11. Vandy was topped by Mike Moore with 27.

Douglas, Alabama's 6-foot-10 center, scored 36 points, grabbed 16 rebounds and forced Florida's big men to foul out near the end.

Charles Cleveland led Alabama with 17 points, but reserve Mike Lederman took game honors for Florida with 22.

Ernie Grundfeld scored 27 points and Mike Jackson netted 20 of his 36 in the first half for Tennessee, which made good on 80 per cent of its shots from the field in raising its overall record to 12-3.

Rare Rookie Earns Start In ABA All-Star Game

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Two rookies will be at HemisFair arena tonight when some of the top talent in the American Basketball Association East and West collide in the ABA All-Star Game.

Marvin Barnes of the St. Louis Spirits will start for the East, the first rookie to gain a starting berth in the mid-winter game since Artis Gilmore in 1972.

Barnes has averaged nearly 22 points and 15 rebounds per game and earlier this season turned in one of the top individual performances in league history, 48 points and 30 rebounds against San Diego.

The ABA's other rookie to find his way to the all-star spotlight is Moses Malone of the Utah Stars, a 19-year-old who until seven months ago was attending high school in Virginia.

He garnered a reserve spot on the West squad.

Malone has averaged almost 18 points, 14-rebounds and has shot better than 58 per cent from the floor.

Barnes will be the only player on the starting five of either team who has never seen All-Star Game action.

He is joined on the East squad by Julius Erving of New York who has played in four such contests, Louie Dampier of Kentucky with seven All-Star tests, Freddie Lewis of St. Louis with three and Artis Gilmore of Kentucky with four.

A veteran lineup commands the west also headed by George McGinnis of Indiana with three all-star games, George Gervin of San Antonio with two, Swen Nater of San Antonio with two, Mack Calvin of Denver with five and Ron Boone of Utah with three all-star selections.

Five non-rookies are getting their first crack at the All-Star slate. For the Eastern Division, Dave Twardzik of Virginia and Brian Taylor of New York are the first-time picks.

On the Western Division squad, non-rookies seeing their first all-star action will be Travis Grant of San Diego,

Retired Navy Captain 'Makes It Big' As Cosmetics Manufacturer, Purveyor

When you think of Joe Namath selling panty hose, it doesn't sound so strange to hear that a Navy fighter-pilot sells cosmetics.

At least it didn't sound strange to James S. Swope, president of the Dallas-based Cosmetics International, Corp., which has a Midland office on North Big Spring Street.

Swope, a retired Navy captain and fighter-pilot from Killeen, says he came down with the "jungle rot" (a skin fungus) while serving the Navy in Guadalcanal.

"When I left the Navy four years ago, after spending time in Bethesda Hospital, I still had the skin fungus. I came across a man who manufactured skin cream from the aloe vera plant. I tried it and it worked. The fungus went away and it never came back."

Swope says since the cream worked so well he decided to invest some money in it. The company was then known as Venus International and has since been changed to Cosmetics International.

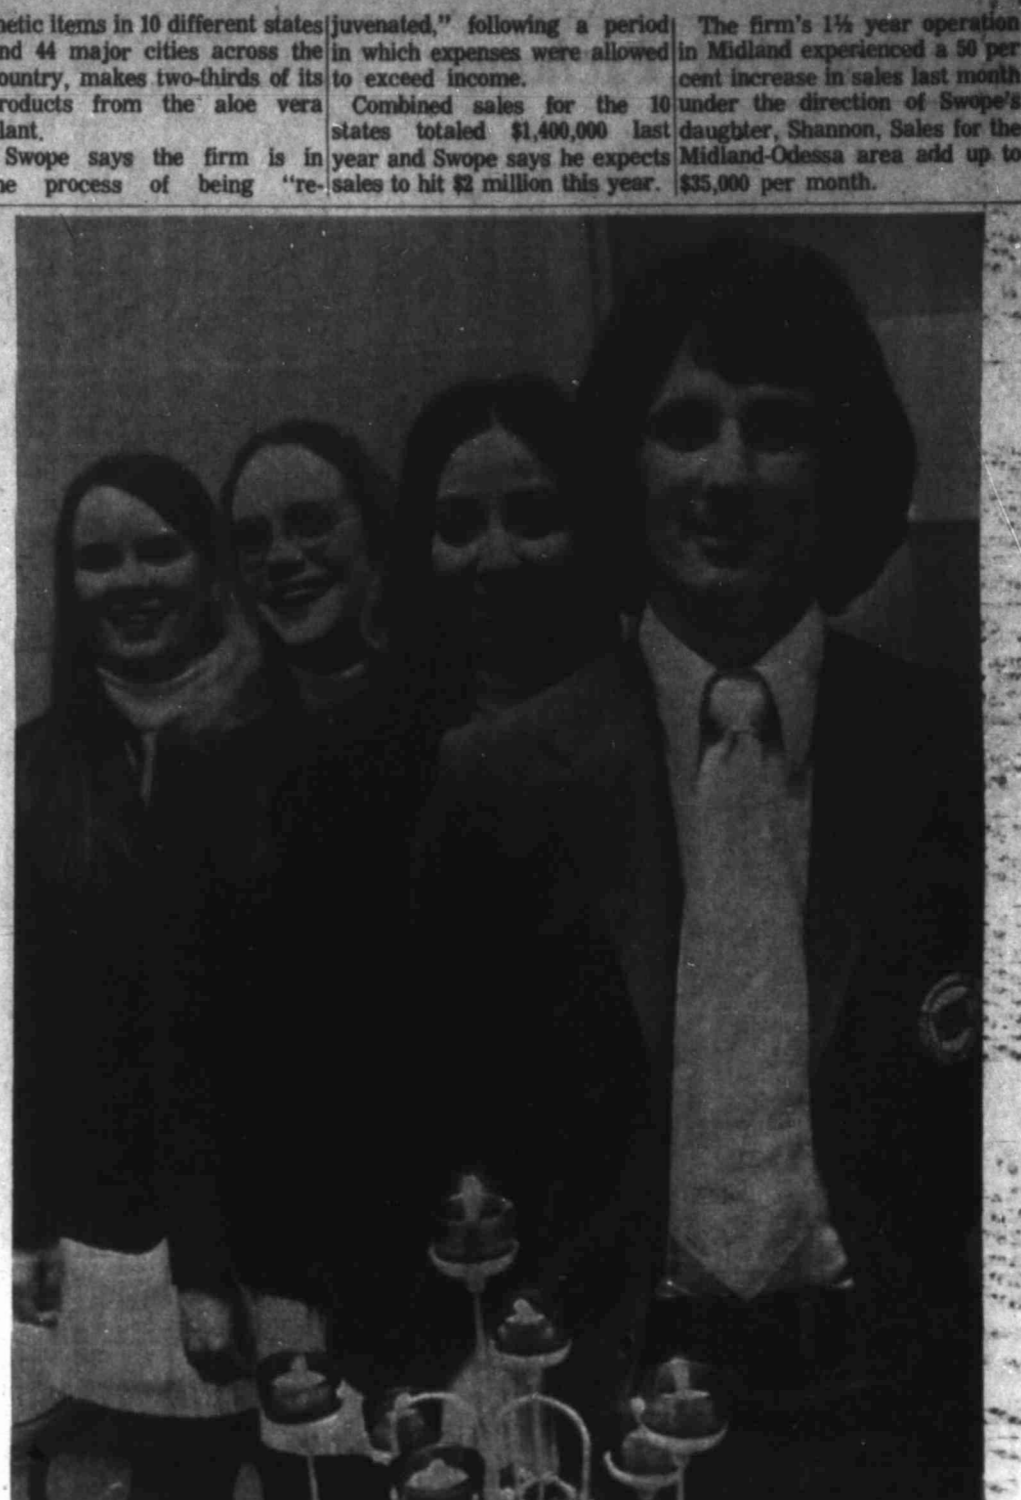

Swope started as a division manager in Fort Worth, was promoted to vice president and last February was named president of the corporation.

The company, which manufactures and distributes 151 cosmetics items in 10 different states and 44 major cities across the country, makes two-thirds of its products from the aloe vera plant.

Swope says the firm is in the process of being "rejuvenated," following a period in which expenses were allowed to exceed income.

Combined sales for the 10 states totaled $1,400,000 last year and Swope says he expects sales to hit $2 million this year.

The firm's 1 1/2 year operation in Midland experienced a 50 percent increase in sales last month under the direction of Swope's daughter, Shannon, Sales for the Midland-Odessa area add up to $35,000 per month.

Area Hospital Gets Medicare

McCAMEY — McCamey Hospital has been approved for Medicare retroactive to Nov. 20, 1974, according to administrator Emil Villafranca, who said he had been notified by the Social Security Administration in Dallas.

The hospital lost its Medicare status when it closed in 1971. Chairman of the hospital board Mrs. Shirley Campbell resigned her post in order for her daughter, Mrs. Joan Vick, R.N., to be employed by the hospital. Medicare requires a minimum of four registered nurses to be employed at the hospital.

Remaining board members are Jerry Coomer, Jack Carr, Merle Eddleman and Mrs. Gladys Gilbreath.

Thrift Reported

Two fire extinguishers were reported stolen from the First Baptist Church, 2100 W. Louisiana St., Monday. Police said the extinguishers were discharged in an upstairs hallway.
