Reeves Gets Gas Strike

Texaco Inc. No. 1 Keith Gas Unit has been completed as a Fusselman-Montoya gas discovery in Reeves County, 13 miles southeast of Toyah.

It gauged a calculated, absolute open flow potential of 34 million cubic feet of dry gas per day, through perforations at 14,187-14,432 feet, which had been acidized with 55,000 gallons.

Drilled "tight", total depth is 14,894 feet. It has been plugged back to 14,480 feet, in a 5-inch liner hung from 10,400-14,894 feet.

The following tops were picked under derrick floor elevation of 2,843 feet: lower Mississippi, 13,565; Wolfcamp, 13,597; Devonian, 13,885; Silurian, 13,992; Fusselman, 14,150 and Montoya, 14,246 feet.

Location is 900 feet from south and 1,900 feet from east lines of section 13, block 54, T-7, T&P survey.

Garza Area Probes Set

Amoco Production Co. has scheduled No. 1 Thomas Hughes as a 9,600-foot wildcat in northwest Garza County, 4 1/2 miles northeast of Southland.

Drill site is 704 feet from most southerly north line and 475 feet from most easterly west line of Thomas Hughes survey 1, Scrap File 4034, abstract 1119, three miles northwest of the depleted Ellenburger discovery in the Seale field.

Union Oil Co. of California has staked site for No. 14-C K. Stoker, et al, as an 8,200-foot probe, one location east of the recent Ellenburger oil pay opener in the Rocker "A" field of Garza.

It spots 750 feet from north and 475 feet from west lines of section 938, block 97, H&TC survey, five miles northwest of Justiceburg.

The Ellenburger discovery, Skelly Oil Co. No. 1-939 Stoker Deep, was completed Jan. 3, for a daily flowing potential of 331 barrels of 40.2-gravity oil, through a 17-64-inch choke and from open hole at 8,165-8,177 feet.

Yates Finals Abo Discovery In Eddy

Yates Petroleum Corp. has completed an Abo gas discovery in Eddy County, N.M., No. 1-DJ High Hope-Federal, four miles northeast of Hope.

The calculated, absolute open flow potential gauged 1.120 million cubic feet of dry gas per day, through perforations at 4,479-4,529 feet.

Drilled to 7,434 feet, it has been plugged back to 6,000 feet, and has 5 1/2-inch casing seated at 6,912 feet. The perforations have been acidized with 9,000 gallons and fractured with 120,000 gallons and 285,000 pounds.

The following tops were picked under ground elevation of 3,969 feet: San Andres, 302; Glorieta, 1,627; Tubb, 2,960; Abo, 3,617; Wolfcamp, 4,530; Chester, 6,638; (Continued On Page 8D)

State Pay Raise Bill Hits Snag

Hunt Pushed For Bombers

By JEFFREY MILLS Associated Press Writer An intensive FBI hunt is under way for members of the radical Weather Underground in the bombing of the State Department in Washington and the attempted bombing of a federal building in Oakland, Calif.

"A special task force is carrying out an intensive investigation under the direction of high-level personnel," a federal investigator said early today.

Number Not Disclosed The investigator, who declined use of his name, refused to say how many agents were assigned to the task force. But he said it included "a substantial part of the Washington field office and agents across the country."

The FBI has said the Weather Underground, which has claimed responsibility for a number of bombings since 1970, is believed to have less than 30 members.

Authorities think the radical group is comprised mainly of college-educated whites from upper middle-class families.

The organization, originally known as the Weathermen, went underground after indictments in 1970 in Chicago charging them with interstate conspiracy in connection with violence there.

After the bomb hidden in a bedroom caused $350,000 in damage to the State Department early Wednesday, there was a rash of bomb scares in Washington and elsewhere around the country.

The threats caused evacuation of the Interior and Treasury departments as well as the Alfred E. Smith Building near the New York State Capitol in Albany and the Prince George's County Courthouse in Upper Marlboro, Md. Anonymous callers also said bombs were hidden in the Agriculture Department and Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

The only search that yielded a bomb was in Oakland, where officials found a device in the George P. Miller Federal Building and exploded it harmlessly.

Warnings Given

Callers identifying themselves as members of the Weather Underground told The Associated Press and several newspapers in advance about the bombs at the State Department and in Oakland. The callers said the bombs were in protest of U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia.

Federal investigators believe the bomb hoaxes were not the work of the Weather Underground. "The Weathermen

FIVE YEARS FROM NOW — These Midland high school seniors will be 22 and that galvanized black-on-white car tag they're displaying should still be on someone's car. Cheryl Smyth, left, and Debbie Carlton, both 17, hold one of the county's 51,015 sets of passenger car tags to last five years. In subsequent years, decals will indicate the year of registration. Tags go on sale Monday at the courthouse.

FIVE-YEAR-PLAN OPTIONAL—

License Tag Sales Start Monday

Texas goes on the five-year plan next week. And it has nothing to do with a regime or anybody's politics. It's car and other vehicle license tags that are to be used until 1980 when another series of plates go on sale.

The black-and-white Texas plates will be available here beginning at 8 a.m. Monday — first day of sale — in the Midland County Tax Assessor-Collector's Office in basement of the courthouse.

Lineberger says his office will issue "probably 63,000 or 64,000" of the plates in the first year of the five-year plan.

The two-month period of tag sales continues through April 1. On midnight of that date, the 1974 tags become invalid. Sets of 1974 plates sold through Jan. 24 total 61,587. And Mrs. Shuffield projects that, based on Midland County's trend in past years, an additional 3,000 to 4,000 sets of plates will be sold in 1975.

Late Bulletins

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, reporting heightened interest in his offer of conditional clemency for Vietnam draft resisters and deserters, announced today he is extending the program to March 1.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford welcomed British Prime Minister Harold Wilson today for two days of talks in which he said they would be tackling the global problems of inflation, food and energy.

Sugar Refineries Shut Down

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The second largest, Amstar's refinery here, has just reopened after a week's shutdown. "Other refineries indicated they, too, were shutting down," said Saul Kolodny, a spokesman for Amstar Corp. in New York City. "I would characterize it as a temporary oversupply in the market."

This is the industry's slack season and part of the slump is normal, he added. But there was nothing routine about the accompanying sag in prices. Amstar's wholesale list price for a five-pound sack of sugar has taken five steps down from a peak of $3.74 last Nov. 25. The latest, effective Friday, is $2.48. Kolodny said supermarket prices often reflect the higher wholesale price of sugar that was in the supply pipeline and hasn't been depleted.

During the week ending Nov. 23, a time when sugar was reported in short supply and people were stocking up, the nation's refineries shipped 217,877 tons a week, compared with 173,067 tons for the same week a year earlier.

Ford To Make Decision On Amnesty Plan's Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is about to disclose whether to extend his amnesty program in an effort to sign up thousands of draft evaders and deserters who have failed to come forward.

The military processes only unconvicted deserters, while the Justice Department processes unconvicted draft evaders. Each segment of the program reported an increase in calls and signups as the Friday deadline neared.

Chairman Charles E. Goodell of the Presidential Clemency Board has urged a six-month extension, arguing that many of the more than 100,000 eligible persons don't know about the program.

The clemency program is divided in three parts, one administered by the Clemency Board, another by the Justice Department and the third by the Defense Department. Nessen did not indicate whether Ford also was considering extending the portions administered by the defense and justice departments.

Bank Cuts Prime Rate To 9

NEW YORK (AP) — Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, the nation's third largest bank, dropped its prime lending rate 1/2-point to 9 per cent today, effective immediately.

The move comes on the heels of a statement Wednesday by Walter Wriston, chairman of the nation's second largest bank, First National City Bank of New York, that it would lower its prime rate to 9 1/2 per cent on Friday.

Federal Reserve Chairman Backs Prompt Temporary Tax Reduction

By CARL C. CRAFT
WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Arthur F. Burns of the Federal Reserve Board said today he opposes permanent tax reductions but hopes Congress will act quickly to approve a temporary tax cut.

"I believe the magnitude of tax reduction suggested by the President is reasonable, a temporary cut is reasonable, and a quick tax cut is highly desirable," Burns told the House Ways and Means Committee.

Burns said that instead of dealing with "problems of income distribution and income redistribution, I would push a flat percentage cut for individuals" and a "quick tax cut would be more beneficial than one that comes along later on."

In response to questions at a hearing on tax-cut legislation,

Burns said he is against a permanent tax cut now because it would be "dangerous to reduce taxes permanently and thereby erode the tax base of this country."

Burns said the Federal Reserve system will allow a moderate expansion of the country's money supply to meet heavy deficit spending by the federal government.

But Burns said the Federal Reserve would not contribute to a new round of inflation.

"You can ... expect from the Federal Reserve system, as long as I'm there, that we will not release a new wave of inflation on this country," Burns told the House Ways and Means Committee.

Asked by committee Chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., whether the Federal Reserve system would make sufficient new money available to finance the proposed $35 billion and $50 billion budget deficits in 1975 and 1976, Burns said the system would try to expand the money supply and bank credit at a moderate rate.

Ullman has urged the Ways and Means Committee to approve a tax-cut bill by next week to help boost the slumping economy.

Ullman, an Oregon Democrat, said he had a "very cordial and frank discussion" with Burns at a private meeting Wednesday, but their session failed to break the impasse on Ford's oil import tax program. The tariff hike, opposed by most congressional Democrats, goes into effect Saturday.

When a fellow Democrat suggested that the tax-cut bill also carry a repealer of the oil depletion allowance, Ullman urged that the tax bill be left unencumbered so that supporters of the oil depletion allowance won't delay the measure.

Ford indicated to a group of economic writers Wednesday that he was flexible on the question of tax cuts, even though Ullman is pushing a tax plan that differs from Ford's.

Ford said, "We'll do everything we can to sell our program, but we do have to end up with what the judgment is of Congress. I hope that there won't be too much deviation."

The key difference between the two plans is who would benefit from a tax reduction.

Ullman's plan would provide no tax relief for persons with more than $30,000 in annual income. Ford's plan, on the other hand, would give the person making $30,000 a rebate of just over $600, if the taxpayer is claiming four dependents and has average deductions. Rebates would rise to a maximum of $1,000 for a family with $41,000 income or more.

At the lower end of the income scale, Ford's tax rebate would give a family with $5,000 income an average refund of about $12 and families with incomes below $4,300 would get nothing.

Ullman's proposal would give a taxpayer at the $5,000 level a total tax break of about $360. If the taxpayer has paid no tax because of low income, he or she would receive a check from the government for about $200.

lion and put them in a separate appropriations bill that can be passed any time in the next two or three months without jeopardizing the March 1 pay raise.

Briscoe must sign the bill by midnight Friday for the employees, who are paid once a month, to get the increases on their March 1 paychecks.

The bill provides these increases:

- 13 per cent for "classified" employees in salary groups 2-22, who now make $4,300 to $22,000 a year, and for non-classified workers making less than $676 a month.
- 9 per cent for classified employees in groups 13-21, who now make $10,522 to $23,220, and for non-classified workers earning from $1,267 to $1,935 monthly.
- A flat $214 a month for non-classified employees making between $676 to $1,267 per month.
- $174 per month for anyone making more than $1,935 monthly.

Employees in most state agencies are considered "classified" employees. Non-classified employees include state college and university employees, district court and appeals judges and agency executives whose salaries are individually set by the legislature.

The bill as originally approved by the Senate appropriated $83 million, but a House committee raised it to $125 million. The House cut it back to $83 million, however, after the sponsor, Rep. Fred Head, D-Texas, implied that Briscoe might veto the more expensive measure.

The Senate sent to the House Wednesday a bill enabling persons to receive retirement benefits from more than one state retirement system, if they were qualified.

Legislators got their first look at Briscoe's budget proposals, which recommend state

Panhandle Area Braces For Snow

Cold and sometimes freezing rain chilled Texas' Panhandle Plains sector today, and there was a promise of snow there by early Friday.

While the Midland forecast held no promise of snow, the weatherman predicted a 30 per cent chance for rain this afternoon to follow this morning's light rain and mist across the city.

Wednesday, the thermometer reached 60 degrees, cooling to 40 for the overnight low. The National Weather Service at Midland Regional Air Terminal anticipates a high mercury mark this afternoon in the upper 50s, followed by a low tonight in the middle 30s and a high Friday in the lower 50s.

Low-Pressure Trough

Official observers credited the moisture to a trough of low pressure in the Panhandle and to warm, damp air from the Gulf of Mexico overrunning a cool layer nearer the ground behind a weak and almost stalled front, which eased into the state two days earlier. By early morning, its forward edge lay along a line linking Paris, Groesbeck, Fredericksburg and Rocksprings.

The rain froze around Dalhart in the Upper Panhandle, and it was raining toward the south past Lubbock, into the Big Bend country and to around Uvalde and Seguin in areas farther to the east. There also were scattered showers and light rain along the cold front in West Texas near El Paso and Hondo.

Fog Cloaks Coast

In addition, fog cloaked much of the Texas coast, again cutting visibility to zero in some areas. Snow was forecast on the heels of the rain in the Upper Panhandle, and light rain or drizzle was predicted throughout the rest of the state.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 33 degrees at Dalhart and Amarillo in the Panhandle up to 71 downstate at Alice, Brownsville, Cotulla and Victoria. The Associated Press reported.

Oil Import Limit Proposed Instead Of Ford's $3 Tariff

WASHINGTON (AP) — An oil import limit, with secret sale of import tickets by competitive bid, was proposed to Congress Wednesday as a substitute for the $3 a barrel tariff proclaimed by President Ford.

The plan was suggested by M. A. Adelman, Massachusetts Institute of Technology economist, in testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on multinational corporations.

Adelman said that the attempt to cut consumption and oil imports by raising the price through a tax increase would be both ineffectual and useless.

"Because world oil is a monopoly, Adelman said, lower demand in the United States will tend to push up prices.

After people turn back their thermostats and cut their driving he said, a further increase in price will not lose many sales and the oil cartel of producing nations will have incentive to raise prices more.

"To limit and eventually destroy the cartel, we must promote free competition," Adelman testified.

He proposed sale of import tickets by auction, making them transferable by sale or exchange under conditions that would hide the origin of particular shipments of oil.

"This system would force the cartels to compete in national markets," he said. "The members could no longer publicly refuse to bid, or agree on very low bids. They cannot stand behind them and privately chisel."

Hardie Named Chairman Of Heart Fund Campaign

Thornton Hardie Jr. has been named chairman of the 1975 Heart Fund campaign in Midland. Harry Clark, president of the Midland Division Heart Association, announced today.

Hardie, a veteran Midland attorney, will coordinate the efforts of community volunteers who will visit residential areas during February, designated as American Heart Month.

Volunteers will distribute educational materials and collect funds to support research, educational and community programs sponsored by the Midland Division Heart Association.

Hardie is a former city councilman and past president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Robert Steward will assist Hardie as vice chairman in the drive against heart and blood vessel diseases.

The new chairman pointed out that heart disease, the leading cause of death in the nation, kills more Americans than all other causes combined. He urged area residents to support the Heart Fund drive and to "give generously when a volunteer visits."

Two Midlanders Face 'Pot' Charge

Two Midland men have been arrested for felony possession of marijuana, and one of them also has been charged in a recent burglary of the Bill Thorp Pharmacy in San Marcos.

Charged with the burglary in which 100 syringes and a large quantity of pills were taken is Billy Blake, 204 E. Spruce St. Police said the burglary occurred Jan. 7. A $20,000 bond was set in the San Marcos incident.

Blake and Mark Flournoy, also of 204 E. Spruce St., were charged here before Justice of the Peace R. H. Pine with possession of marijuana in excess of four ounces. Pine set a bond on each at $7,500. Blake has been released from jail.

Plaintiff Denied Damages In Suit

A jury determined contributory negligence on part of both the plaintiff and defendant in a $30,000 pedestrian-car suit in 142nd District Court here Wednesday.

Plaintiff Thomas H. Mitchell, 58, of Route 1, Midland, took nothing by the suit's 10-2 decision determined in more than 4½ hours of jury deliberation.

Mitchell, walking a picket line here in 1972, claimed that his knee was injured when the bumper of a car driven by Steve Wayne Powers hit his thigh. His foot was caught under the car, and caused his knee to twist.

The jury, in denying Mitchell a judgment, ruled that he failed to keep a "proper lookout" at time of the mishap and that Powers failed to apply brakes on the car.

Fred Forward was the jury foreman.

Some Analysts Say Auto Industry May Be Operating In Red

DETROIT (AP) — Some financial analysts say the nation's slumping auto industry, traditionally among the most profitable in the world, may be operating in the red for the first time.

Investment counselors for several large banks and brokerage houses predict that together the four major auto companies probably will lose money in the first quarter of 1975.

A half-dozen analysts surveyed by The Associated Press said they could not recall the industry as a whole reporting net losses in a quarter before, and certainly never in a non-strike period.

The analysts predict that General Motors Corp. this quarter will make no more than the $120 million it earned in the same period last year, its lowest return in 26 years. GM earned a record $2.4 billion in 1973.

Lesses Expected
The Ford Motor Co. is expected to lose between $75 million and $100 million this quarter, compared with a $124 million quarterly profit in 1974.

The analysts estimated Chrysler Corp. will lose at least $25 million and as much as $50 million this quarter. They made no predictions for American Motors Corp., the No. 4 auto maker, although they said AMC is expected to lose.

Combined 1974 profits of the Big Three are expected to be off about $5 per cent, to about $1.3 billion. GM, Ford and Chrysler had record combined profits of $3.6 billion on sales of $71 billion in 1973.

Meanwhile, there were these other economic developments:

Stock Prices Up
—Stock prices moved higher for the sixth straight day, with the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials up 11.19 to 705.96 at the close on Wednesday. It was first time since Aug. 22 that the Dow had closed over 700.

—A spokesman for the Commerce Department said the agency plans to revise its monthly index of leading economic indicators. He said the index had given only a faint warning in mid-1973 that recession was on the way, then at the start of 1974 the inflation factor turned the indicator sharply higher when it should have gone the other way.

—The Labor Department said 651,700 Americans filed new unemployment compensation claims during the week ending Jan. 18, compared with a record 970,000 filed the previous week and 464,300 during the same period a year ago.

—Chairman Walter B. Wriston of New York's First City National Bank predicted that by the end of the week the prime interest rate will be cut another one-quarter of one percent from the generally prevailing 9 1/2 per cent. The prime is the interest rate banks charge their best customers. It usually signals a trend in consumer loan rates.

THEATRE PARTY — Mrs. George Thomas, left, and Mrs. Michael B. Wisenbaker of Act IX, auxiliary to the Midland Community Theatre, discuss plans for the theatre supper party being planned following the opening performance of "Anything Goes" Friday. The supper, which will benefit the theatre, will be held in the Petroleum Club of Midland. Special guests will be entertainers in the musical.

TIA To Cut Back No More Than 1 Or 2 People At Terminal

HOUSTON — Texas International Airlines has announced plans to reduce its work force from 2,400 to less than 2,000 employees because of a strike which has shut down operations since Dec. 4.

Texas International spokesman Jim O'Donnell said the cutback in employee strength will affect "at most one or two people" at the Midland Regional Air Terminal operation.

O'Donnell said TIA has also agreed to sub-lease its hanger at Terminal to Aquila Air Inc., a fixed base operator at the airport.

The spokesman said the hanger was "surplus" property and that TIA did not foresee any "future need" for a hanger at Terminal.

He said the sub-lease of the hanger was not a "direct implication as to future flight service at Terminal. "Midland isn't expected to be dealt any harsh blows in future flight service," O'Donnell said, "but there may be some cuts in flight service there."

The TIA official declined to give further information, saying, "We are in a bind with competing airlines and don't want to supply them with any more of our flight service information than we have to."

O'Donnell said smaller airports, such as San Angelo, where TIA is the only major air carrier will not feel the effects of the flight service cutbacks.

He said Midland would suffer only slight cutbacks because of the lower level of competition in comparison with a totally competitive airport such as Albuquerque, N.M., where cutbacks in flight service will be heavy.

According to The Associated Press, TIA plans to reduce its post-strike flight schedule by almost 20 per cent.

Robert D. Gallaway told the AP furlough notices have or will be sent to some 18 per cent of the management and union employes, including pilots, stewards, mechanics and striking ground agents.

He said that after the end of the strike it will take months to recover passenger traffic lost to competitors since the strike began.

"These cuts will occur primarily in the competitive markets where we expect sharply reduced passenger loads," he said. "Fortunately, for the smaller cities that rely entirely on Texas International and in which we do not compete with major carriers, we will be able to essentially maintain our pre-strike level of service."

Gulf Oil Ordered To Equalize Crude Cost To Refiners

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gulf Oil Co. has been ordered to comply with federal regulations it contends are unfair and unlawful or face a possible penalty of $2,500 a day.

The order was issued by the Federal Energy Administration on Wednesday after Gulf refused to comply with regulations designed to equalize the cost of crude oil to all refiners.

Z. D. Bomer, president of Gulf Oil Co.-U.S., said in a letter to FEA Administrator Frank G. Zerb that Gulf wanted the regulation tested in court.

An FEA spokesman said the regulations already have been challenged by Marathon Oil in U.S. District Court in Toledo, Ohio, and a ruling is expected within a few days. The deadline for compliance with the regulations is Friday and the FEA decided not to wait and issued an "immediate remedial order" to Gulf late Wednesday.

Gen. Haig Pays Transport Bill

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — A spokesman for Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr. says Haig has sent the U.S. Treasury a $91 check to compensate the government for transporting Haig's liquor when he moved from Washington last October to become supreme allied commander in Europe.

The spokesman said the liquor was incorrectly sent as household goods without Haig's knowledge. Some vodka and wine were reported to have been crated under the label "glassware."

Nuclear Power Plants Ordered Closed For Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — A five-month, the now-defunct special government study group is investigating atomic power plant safety, a concern highlighted by a Nuclear Regulatory Commission order shutting down 23 plants to check for flaws in a key emergency system.

The commission telephoned the shutdown orders Wednesday and gave the reactor operators 30 days to comply after cracks were found in a 10-inch-diameter pipe at the Dresden No. 2 reactor that Commonwealth Edison Co. operates at Morris, Ill.

The order is the second such government move in the last metallurgy, water chemistry and plant operations of nuclear reactors around the country.

There are about 40 atomic reactors in the United States. The 23 reactors involved in the latest shutdown are boiling water plants that use heat from the nuclear reaction to convert water to steam which drives generating turbines.

The Dresden No. 2 pipe would play a key safety role if something ever went wrong at the plant requiring the reactor core to be flooded with cooling water to prevent catastrophic release of radiation.

cy conditions when water under pressure is pumped through the pipes.

This might seriously reduce or cut off emergency cooling water to the reactor core, leading to a nuclear fuel meltdown which might be followed by a non-nuclear explosion that destroys the core's protective shielding and releases vast amounts of radiation to the environment.

Reactor manufacturers and operators have maintained such an accident is highly unlikely. Critics have disagreed.

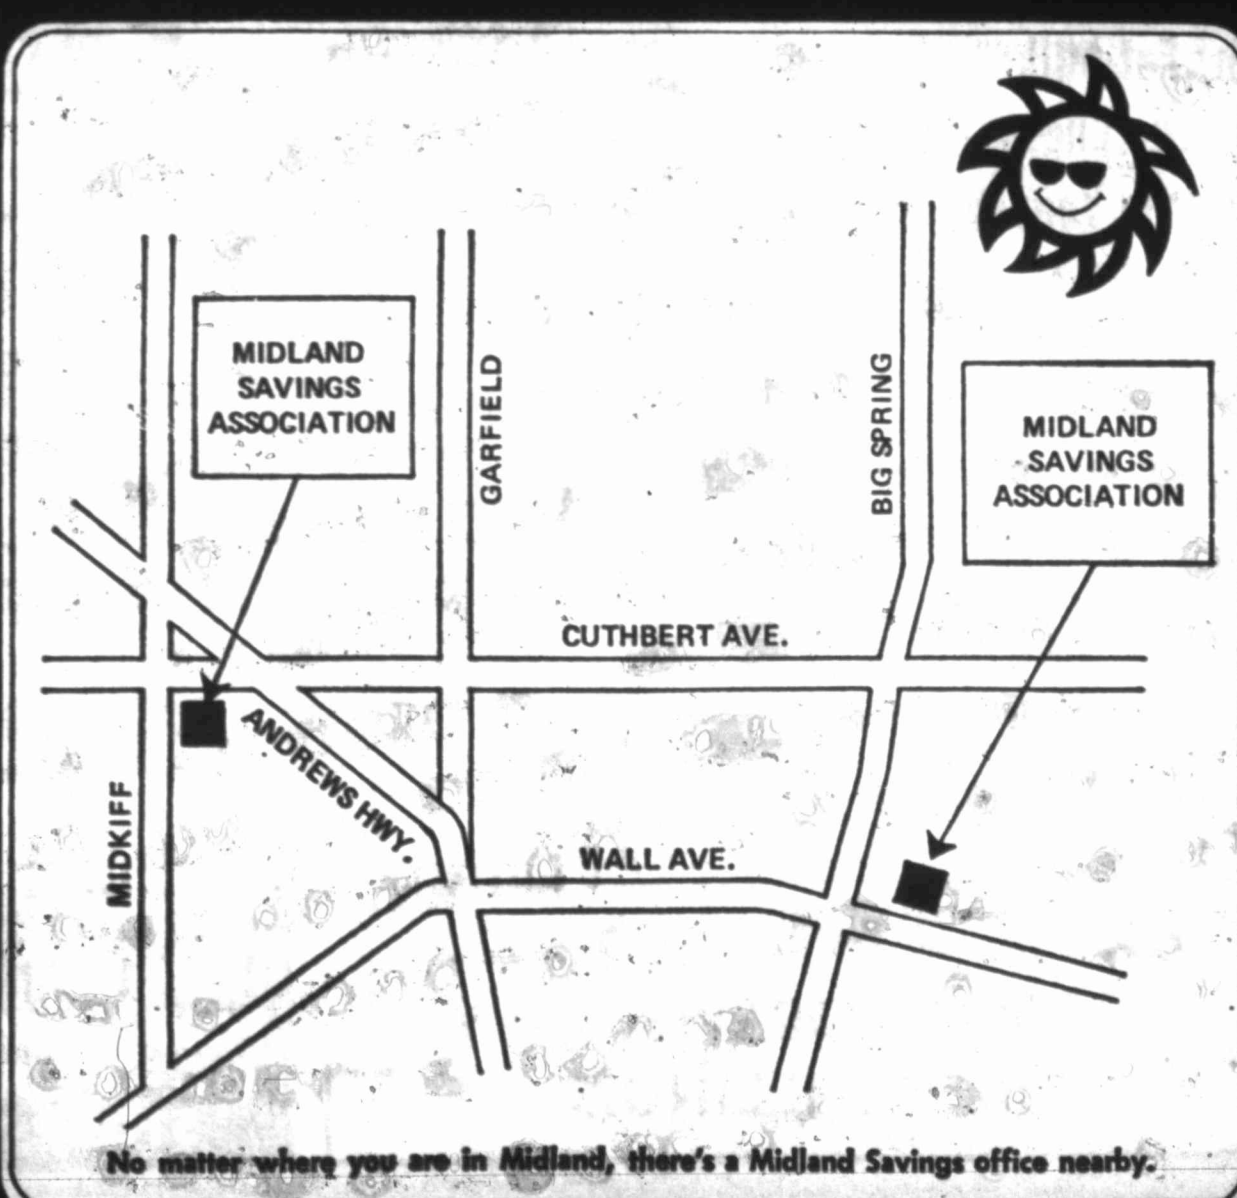

Gromyko Adds Syria To Tour

MOSCOW (AP) — Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko has added a two-day visit to Syria to his Middle East trip, Tass announced today.

The Soviet news agency said Gromyko would visit Damascus on Saturday and Sunday. It announced previously that he would arrive in Cairo on Monday to continue consultations with the Egyptian leaders.

Egypt's Middle East News Agency reported that after his talks in Cairo, Gromyko would visit Iraq, Iraq and Syria are the two biggest purchasers of Soviet arms in the Middle East.

Favorite Recipes Given For Buffet Entertaining

Fredell Lack, young violinist scheduled to appear with the Midland-Odessa Symphony Orchestra at 8 p.m. Monday in Lee High School Auditorium, is the wife of a prominent Houston doctor.

Like millions of wives of professionals, entertaining is an important part of the violinist's social life. Entertaining for Dr. and Mrs. Eichhorn means hospitality in the leisurely and informal tradition of the South. Serving for the couple is buffet style, primarily. Following are some of Mrs. Eichhorn's favorite recipes.

Carried Chicken
1 Cook chicken, covered in water, in pot.

2. Brown 2 onions and minced celery in butter. When onion is clear, add 1/2 teaspoon thyme, 1 teaspoon marjoram, savory, 1 clove, minced garlic, 1 tablespoon of curry powder, 1/4 of an apple (cut into small pieces).

3. Sauté this mixture several minutes.

4. Add flour and some of the strained chicken broth to make a thick sauce. When sauce is as desired, add diced chicken.

5. Serve with the following: Boiled fluffy rice, chopped peanuts, stewed hard boiled eggs, shredded coconut, mango chutney, green onions and chopped crisp bacon. Sprinkle these as desired on each serving. Serves 6.

Meat Sauce For Spaghetti
Cut up and sauté 5 large onions, 3 large green peppers, 1 clove garlic. When golden colored, not browned, add 2 cans of tomatoes, 2 cans of tomato sauce, 2 cans of tomato paste and 1 1/2 to 2 pounds of ground beef. Let this simmer at least three hours. Serve over cooked spaghetti. Sprinkle on Parmesan cheese.

Spanish Chicken and Rice
Dip the parts of a large fryer in seasoned flour and fry as you would for fried chicken, just until brown on all side (10 minutes). Next, chop up 2 onions and 2 peppers and saute in Dutch oven or iron skillet. Then place browned chicken (still not cooked) in oven pan, pour over it sauteed onions and peppers, pour over it 1 cup uncooked rice, 1/2 cup of tomato sauce, 1/2 cup water. Cook in oven, stirring occasionally for one hour. Serves 4.

Shish Kebab—Rice Pilaf
Have the butcher cut up a leg of lamb into 1 1/2" cubes. This should be marinated overnight in a mixture of salad oil and vinegar (half and half) and one minced onion. The cubes of meat are put on skewers, alternating with slices of onion, wedges of tomato and rings of green peppers, and either cooked in the broiler under the flame, or in a barbecue pit.

Rice Pilaf, according to Mrs. Eichhorn, goes well with it. Heat 3 tablespoons of bacon fat in heavy skillet. Add 1 cup of rice. Cook, stirring constantly until lightly browned. Add 2 cups consommé and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Bring to boil. Cover and cook over low heat about 20 minutes. Serves 8.

Jelly side down

By NANCY STAHL
My son is a loser. Granted, he is handsome, popular, and semi-intelligent, but he is probably the only child alive who has managed to misplace fourteen toothbrushes in a single year.

He has also mislaid nineteen house keys, six windbreakers, and two athletic supporters. He is the only boy in grade seven whose mother sends him to school wearing mittens attached to each other with a string through the sleeves, and whose teacher sends him home with a PTA notice stapled to his undershirt.

Last night I confronted him as he lay on the floor reading an issue of "Playboy" which he had skillfully concealed inside "Agriculture in the Middle Ages."

"Where are your new boots?" I demanded.
"What new boots?"
"The new boots I spent $24.98 on last week."
"Oh. Those new boots." He went back to reading.
"Well?"
"Well what?" He looked up impatiently.
"Where are they?"
"Where are what?"
"Your new boots!" I barked.
"All you ever do is scream at me!" he wailed and stormed off into his room.

I suppose that it all evens out in the end, as I discovered last week that we have three woolen hats belonging to someone else, the bottom half of a strange pair of green ski pajamas, and an unclaimed orthodontic appliance.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Those Shopping Carts Need Seat Belts!

Dear Heloise: While grocery shopping with my 11-month-old son in the baby seat of the shopping cart, I looked away from him for a few seconds hunting an item on the shelf. I was still right beside him. In that instant he climbed up and fell backwards into the cart on the groceries. He wasn't hurt, but it really frightened me as he could have fallen on that hard floor. Today when he and I went shopping, I took along an old stretch belt of mine and buckled him in snugly against the back of the seat. The belt goes easily through the bars in the seat. The buckle is in back of him where he can't reach it to unfasten it. It worked. He couldn't climb out and, while I still kept an eye on him, I still felt much easier in my mind about him. Mrs. Richard J. Bokern Jr.

Now, that idea is really a life saver and a wife saver, for anything that keeps us easier in our minds helps us wives. God bless you and kiss the little one for me.

Dear Heloise: never have to answer them again. Your boss Yes, sir! Congratulations. Why don't cha take me and my housewives with you all? And some more of our bosses ... Heloise

Dear Heloise: Try as I have with everything possible, I cannot keep the armadillos from rooting up everything we plant in our yard. Including grass plugs. Any answer? Amos La Rosa and Neighbors

Have a cup of joe on me and celebrate. I had the same trouble for two years in my mountain cabin and one of the old-timers in the hills said, "Honey chile, go getcha a couple boxes of blood meal at any garden shop and sprinkle it in your yard and you won't catch one around." I did. They didn't anymore. (Come around that is.) Cost about a buck a box and even fertilized the lawn beautifully. Bless hillfolk and you all, sir. Heloise

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise: Someday I am going to retire. (I am one of your bosses) and you know what I'm gonna do? I'm gonna buy me a half acre plot somewhere with a one-room cabin and an inside toilet. Then I'm gonna rip out the two phones from our home and my office and take them THERE. The secret is I'm not going to ever get them connected. I am going to laugh all day and look at those phones and know that my wife and I will

Dear Heloise: I wonder how many women and girls still have pairs of those Pettipants that were the rage not too long ago. I discovered three pairs in my lingerie drawer and wondered what to do with them. It was a cold day so I put them on and would you believe they are just the thing to wear under pants suits? Besides being warm, somehow, I see a difference in the "fit." So girls try them, you will wonder how you got along without them. B.G.

Dean Finding Wages Of Watergate Good

By MIKE SHANAHAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. Dean III, out of his prison denials for less than a month, begins a Watergate lecture tour Sunday which will earn him at least $175,000 over the next nine weeks.

Unlike a similar campus tour planned by former White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, Dean's plans so far have stirred little complaint from those who believe no one should profit from Watergate.

Dean will speak in more than 30 college lecture halls through the first week of April at an average fee of $3,500 for each two-hour appearance. The first one at the University of Virginia will pay him $4,000, according to school officials.

Robert Walker, president of the Boston lecture bureau handling Dean's appearances, said the demand for Dean's speeches is the highest that Walker has encountered in 15 years in the business.

"Dean is in a class all by himself," Walker said Wednesday.

Served Four Months
When he was released Jan. 8 by U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica, Dean had served four months of a one-to-four-year prison term for his self-acquainted role in the Watergate cover-up.

Despite his repeated telling of the Watergate story before various forums, Dean apparently remains the most fascinating of Richard M. Nixon's former White House aides.

John Herring, the University of Virginia official who administers the lecture and concert program at the Charlottesville, Va., campus, said students had tried to book Dean for a speech before he entered prison.

Of the 4,500 persons likely to hear the former White House counsel's first speech, Herring said, "Personally I would like to see them turn their backs and walk out on him."

Rocky Defends Ford's Energy, Foreign Policies

MILLBURN, N.J. (AP) — Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller says Congress has jeopardized U.S. trade agreements with the Soviet Union and oil-producing nations.

During a vigorous defense of President Ford's domestic and foreign policy late Wednesday, Rockefeller accused Congress of second-guessing the President's foreign policy at the risk of harming U.S. treaty negotiations.

Rockefeller also defended the administration's energy policies and Ford's request for an additional $30 billion for ammunition and supplies for South Vietnam.

Rockefeller said the money was intended to fulfill a pledge already approved by Congress to provide up to $1 billion for South Vietnam.

"We have a moral obligation. The South Vietnamese are running out of ammunition," he said. "It isn't the question of a new decision."

However, Herring said he opposes any move to block Dean's appearance for whatever reason, saying, "That's still censorship."

Except for a minor and confused dispute over whether television cameras and tape recorders would be allowed at the Virginia speech, the only dissenting voice heard about the Dean appearance has come from the student newspaper. An editorial said $5,000 was too much to pay for the views of a convicted felon and disbarred lawyer.

At Michigan State in East Lansing, however, a speech planned Feb. 25 by Ziegler has stirred calls for demonstrations and a boycott.

Commitment Withdrawn
Ziegler is to be paid $2,500 for his lecture on "Uses and Abuses of Power," and the student government has withdrawn an earlier commitment to pay half the cost.

While the university now will pick up the full tab, the elected student council said in a resolution Tuesday, "It's unfair that Ziegler should continue getting richer as a result of his participation in an attack on the American people on behalf of special interests."

Michigan State became the first stop on Ziegler's tour when students at Boston University voted Monday to cancel his Feb. 26 speech on their campus. When Ziegler first announced the tour, he said he was speaking out because he was "fed up with Richard Nixon taking it in the ear."

FROM GAS STATION TO DONUT SHOP — As gasoline stations close, many of them are being changed into various other types of business. Here, a former station in the Philadelphia area has been converted into a donut shop. (AP Wirephoto.)

Old Gas Stations Don't Die—They Just Turn Into Another Line Of Business

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — What happens to gasoline stations forced to close because of the energy crisis? They become drive-in banks, jewelry stores, printing plants, florist shops. Even a doughnut bakery.

They have plenty of parking, ideal locations, are attractive to business and generally need little conversion.

Regis McCann took over an old station in suburban Abington Township and turned it into a carpeted display area for plants, flowers, vases, pots and other gardening accessories.

"I have suitable space for a lot less money than I'd pay in a shopping center. And also it's a lot more practical," he says.

He covered the concrete floors of the two service bays with wooden slats to simplify watering the plants. In the summer he opens the glasspanoled overhead doors to give the place an open market look.

Robert C. Groves converted his station into a jewelry store.

"People just don't read our sign out front," says Groves' secretary, Terry Ruschmeyer.

"When one of our trucks is getting filled up, other cars pull in right behind it and the drivers are really annoyed."

"Some ask to use the restrooms, or else they want to know where we keep our paychecks. One out of five people who pass by stares in, and that makes me feel like a monkey in a cage. But it's really a nice, bright, sunny place to work."

Charles Kahn Jr., a Philadelphia realtor, moved a doughnut maker into two shuttered stations.

"Their kind of operation lends nicely to the old service station facility," Kahn says.

"The bays can be used for the bakery and the front salesroom for the doughnut counter."

Kahn also has converted stations into used-car lots, dry-cleaning plants, a printshop, the place an open market look.

More Railroads' Aid Is Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Heading Penn Central's warnings that it may have to stop running trains in two weeks for lack of money, the Senate has passed another $275 million in federal aid to Northeast and Midwestern railroads.

But a spokesman for the House Commerce Committee said the panel "will not be stampeded" into passing the legislation. "We're not fools," he said.

"The railroads are not going to close down, regardless of their press statements."

The committee may open hearings on the administration bill next week and House Republican Leader John J. Rhodes said he had been assured the House will act on the measure before Feb. 14.

Freighter, Barges Collide

CHALMETTE, La. (AP) — A collision between a string of oil barges and a freighter turned the Mississippi River below New Orleans into a cauldron of flames, fog and smoke.

There were no reports of serious injuries. It took firefighters four hours to bring the flames under control Wednesday night.

A spokesman for the Coast Guard said it was not known how much oil had spilled into the river.

Coast Guard spokesman Dave Opra gave this account of the incident: The tug Mama Lere, with three oil barges in tow, was headed upriver in heavy fog when it collided with the empty grain freighter American Wheat.

The collision touched off an explosion. Burning oil showered over a half-mile-wide area and spread over the river's surface.

The Mama Lere and the American Wheat were grounded. The tug was barely scratched, but the American Wheat caught fire, was tipped open and started taking on water.

Meanwhile, the three oil barges — two of them burning — broke loose from "Mama Lere." One was taken in tow fairly quickly, but the two burning barges drifted downstream.

They passed through a major interchange, where about 10 boats were moored, without incident.

A few miles farther, however, they slammed into five other barges and knocked them loose from their moorings. Four were recovered without incident. One, loaded with grain, caught fire.

Later, the Coast Guard said the barges had all been secured and that the fires were under control.

Boat Changes
For six days of the week, the Grand Place in Brussels, Belgium, is a hot market in the evenings, a flower garden in the afternoon. On Sunday it is transformed into a bird market.

Thousands Of Jobless Workers To Lose Health Insurance Policies

By JOHN CUNIFF
 NEW YORK (AP) — Many thousands of jobless workers already have lost or soon will lose their protection against medical expenses because of termination clauses in their health insurance contracts. Although some large national Blue Cross plans, such as in the steel, automotive, telephone and oil industries, continue protection from four months to a year, the majority of plans protect the jobless worker for only 90 days. The situation, which has gone relatively unnoticed, could cause severe personal hardship for the families of the unemployed as well as for many financially strained hospitals. Already, said Alex McMahon, president of the American Hospital Association, medical institutions are preparing "get sick now, pay later" plans. Some hospitals will be badly pinched, he said. The problem is worsened by the tendency of individuals to get sick more often during times of recession and unemployment, according to a study made by Blue Cross. McMahon said the hospital industry as a whole could meet the challenge, but said many institutions will have to borrow, postpone improvements, and reduce research and community activities. There could be some deterioration in the quality of care, he said. "We already have told hospitals to be very careful about committing their money," McMahon said. "We can't manufacture it." While inequitable, he said some hospitals might have to raise charges for patients able to pay. The failure to protect laid-off workers during a time of financial stress seems to be a serious oversight on the part of unions, legislators and insurance officials, although most proposals for a national health insurance program contain remedies. At the moment, however, three alternatives are open to the worker threatened with loss of hospital and medical insurance: 1. He or she can convert from company group coverage to non-group individual coverage. A Blue Cross study of 74 Blue Cross plans showed 38 offer a laid-off worker a conversion policy with the same benefits. In 36 plans the workers obtain less comprehensive coverage. 2. The jobless worker can apply for Medicaid. Eligibility varies from state to state, as do benefits. 3. If unable to qualify either for insurance or Medicaid, a jobless worker and his family can use the emergency rooms, clinics and outpatient departments of voluntary and municipal hospitals.

Silence Not Golden

The United States in all too many cases in the past has assumed the role of the silent giant.

Uncle Sam is the perfect gentleman. He is big and strong and, gentleman that he is, he does not want to run over anybody.

This is all well and good, but it can be overdone to the point of absurdity. This could result in a false impression, which could invite serious trouble.

In other words, silence is not golden... as the U.S. once again is finding out in the United Nations.

During the almost 30 years since its birth at San Francisco in 1945, the United Nations has been a necessary instrument of peace in the world.

It is felt by many, however, that the U.N.'s days of standing as a symbol of mutual conciliation among nations may be ending.

President Ford himself urged the U.N. to guard preservation of the "proper interest of a minority."

The proper interest of a minority theme later became the subject of a speech in which the U.S. ambassador to the U.N., John Scali, condemned "the tyranny of the majority" — a warning to the Third World that the patience of the United States of America is not unlimited.

This is the very thing which other nations must be made to understand.

The offenses by the U.N. majority are many. The most profane was the 95-17 vote for a resolution granting the terrorist Palestine Liberation Organization permanent status as a non-voting observer at the U.N. Yasser Arafat, the PLO leader, had the impudence to address the General Assembly with a holster strapped openly to his belt.

Another affront to the sanctity of the U.N., you will recall, was a Bible Verse

"Do not judge by appearances, but judge with right judgment." — John 7:24.

NICK THIMMESCH

Can Arafat Really Deal With Terrorism?

WASHINGTON — The question of the legitimacy of the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) was dramatized in Paris earlier this month when the Arab terrorists pulled off two mindless attacks on successive Mondays.

France, with its evehanded policy toward the PLO, was rewarded with suffering and becoming involved in (1) the bombing of a Yugoslav airliner, hit at Orly Airport when a terrorist rocket missed its target, an Israeli El Al plane; (2) the wounding of a dozen people by grenades and gunfire of terrorists attempting to attack another El Al plane, and (3) the consequent seizure of 10 hostages by the terrorists and hijacking of an Air France plane after the terrorists held the hostages 17 hours in a restroom.

Now this kind of violence and banditry is not new with Arab terrorists. The attack record is as old as the dispute between Israel and the Palestinians. It was intensified after the PLO was established in 1964.

The PLO, which now denounces terrorism, is hardly unified. At best it is a collection of undisciplined groups with a membership of 6 million Palestinians. About one-fourth of them belong to guerrilla groups which differ and argue over tactics.

The Black September teams of Al Fatah, for example, are not averse to a vote by the General Assembly to suspend South Africa's participation, a clear violation of the Charter. Still another came when the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization suspended cultural aid to Israel and voted to exclude her from participation in European regional meetings. There have been numerous other offenses.

Many persons have asked whether the United States should turn its back on the United Nations. The answer, obviously, is no. Such action would not benefit the most powerful and most benevolent nation in the world.

But it certainly would be proper for the U.S. representatives to refuse to attend General Assembly meetings when they are devoted to discussions which clearly are calculated to embarrass the United States.

It also is suggested that America review its contribution of 25 percent of the United Nations budget. Why should this nation underwrite something which definitely is working against it?

It all boils down to the fact that the United States no longer can be a silent giant. It should and must speak out in righteous indignation on those occasions when its good name is at stake. To be inactive is to abandon principle.

And please don't think that Uncle Sam cannot speak out effectively when he is aroused.

And that time could be now!

THE BIBLE

Can you quote it?

1. Emerson said, "When it is dark enough, men see the stars." On the 4th day of creation, God brought forth the stars. Sea-faring men and air pilots could never navigate, were it not for the stars. They also determine the weather. What does Psalm 147:4 tell us about their names?

2. What does Deuteronomy teach against worshipping stars? 4:16-24.

traveling overseas to commit murders — as they did at the 1972 Olympics at Munich, where 11 Israeli athletes were slaughtered, and at the U.S. Embassy at Khartoum in 1973, when one Belgian and two American diplomats were killed.

Other groups, like the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (Marxist-Leninist), relish hijackings and airport shoot-ups, such as the massacre of 28 people at Israel's Lod Airport in 1972.

When Arab terrorism occurs, there is usually some form of condemnation from an Arab source. Jordan, for instance, not only condemned it but went to war in 1970 in a showdown with the guerrilla movement — and won.

Since the rise and acceptance of Yasser Arafat and the PLO by the Arab States, there have been even more mouthings of disavowal of violence. The Paris bureau of the PLO "strongly con-

Really Big Mistake

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON With LES WHITTEN

WASHINGTON — There has been the usual exchange of political potshots as the conservative Republican in the White House and the liberal Democrats on Capitol Hill draw up the battle lines for 1975.

But behind the scenes, the leaders of both parties are demonstrating an unusual willingness to work together for the good of the country.

President Ford has told subordinates that he is willing to compromise with the new Congress. He has pointed out, as a simple political reality, that the White House has lost power to Congress in the wake of Watergate. He wants his subordinates, therefore, to cooperate with my good friends who affect legislation.

In the same spirit, House Speaker Carl Albert has urged Democratic leaders to put the national welfare ahead of their political welfare.

A tacit understanding has been reached that the President won't try to embarrass the Democrats on the spending issue, and the Democrats will work with him to find a formula that will hold down spending yet stimulate the economy.

The hostility of the Nixon era has been replaced by a determination to disagree without rancor and to seek workable solutions.

Footnote: The adviser who always has the last word with President Ford is his wife Betty. She read over the final draft of his latest tv address, for example, and disapproved of the word "stagflation" from the speech. "Betty didn't like it," he explained sheepishly.

INFLUENCE FOR SALE: The lessons of Watergate made little impression upon former Congressman Roger H. Zion, R-Ind., who wasted no time after his defeat setting up business as a lobbyist.

demned" the attacks and hijackings at Orly this month. The Black September organization immediately denied any part in the assaults. And any Arab embassy you want to phone here in Washington is quick to denounce these latest acts.

Well, that's all fine. Everybody, including Arab officials, Arafat and the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, is against Arab terrorism. But whose babies are the several organized terrorist groups and their "free-lance" sympathizers?

Arab terrorism or even that practiced on its behalf by allies like the Japanese Red Army belongs to the PLO. And the PLO, since being legitimized by the Arab states at the Rabat summit, belongs to those Arab nations. The responsibility for the terrorism, in the first instance, belongs to Arafat, if he is truly the leader of the Palestinian movement, and in the second instance it belongs to the Arab leaders who designated the PLO and Arafat as the authentic representatives of the Palestinians. After that, the responsibility falls on any other state which recognizes the PLO, such as India.

Now various Arab sources and government spokesmen will argue that:

1—The Jews themselves were once terrorists when Israel was being formed, committed massacres of civilians and gloated over the exploits of Jewish underground outfits like the Stern gang.

INSIDE REPORT

Kissinger's Double Lever Is Revealed

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The swift build-up of Israel's military power from the wreckage of the October 1973 war to by far its greatest strength ever has now become one of the two flimsy levers for Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's imminent resumption of shuttle diplomacy.

The other lever is the promise of manifold economic goodies for Egypt — if a new Israeli-Egyptian agreement is reached.

Kissinger's strategy the past year was to give Israel the confidence of maximum military security by reorganizing and rebuilding its military machine, a long and costly process that is nearing completion.

The confidence of maximum military superiority would then be used, so the Kissinger thesis goes, to make it possible for Israel to start major withdrawals from the Arab lands seized in 1967, on grounds that continued possession of these lands as Israel's security cushion would no longer be needed. Israel, in short, could find her security in armed superiority, not occupied Arab territories.

The rearming of Israel to achieve that purpose following the 1973 war has radically transformed and strengthened Israel's military might.

High-level Pentagon specialists say that Israel now possesses a more powerful arsenal of sophisticated air been ordered, and the penalty for halting the project would be $1.8 billion. So the workmen are still at it, hammering the facility together, although there is no longer any need for it.

The Air Force maintains that the move will save $29.8 million over a five-year period. On the contrary, Rep. Don Mitchell, R.N.Y., who represents the Rome area, contends the move will cost the taxpayers $70.2 million over five years.

But one thing seems certain: The Air Force will wind up with a $2.6 million installation it doesn't want.

MYSTERY DEED: An intriguing document arrived in our mail a few weeks ago. It was a deed, dated July 30, 1970, showing that James V. House of Summit County, Colo., had sold Richard Nixon of Washington, D.C., a parcel of Colorado property for "valuable considerations."

Had the former president invested in mountain property, which he didn't list in his financial statement? And where did he get the money?

Hours of detective work established that the deed was authentic. The land is a five-acre lot located about 15 miles southeast of Colorado Springs.

We had even more difficulty locating James V. House, but we found him. He had a dispute with the Internal Revenue Service, he told us, and couldn't find anyone to listen to his protest.

So he deeded his property over to then President Nixon. "I tried to get his attention every other way," House said, "so I thought this might do it."

It didn't work. The IRS was not impressed, and Nixon turned down the property.

And Speaking Of Better Government

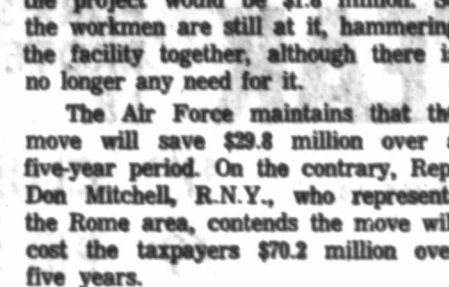

NEW YORK (NEA)—For the seventh year, National Urban Fellows is conducting a nationwide recruiting effort with the goal of increasing the supply of competent urban administrators.

The program recruits and trains young people — mainly members of minority groups and women — for careers in local government. A short, intensive summer session at Yale University leads off the Fellowship year. Those who successfully complete this are then assigned to serve for nine months as special assistants to mayors, city managers and other administrators in more than 30 cities around the country. Pay ranges from $7,500 to $12,500.

In the first six years of the program, National Urban Fellows were awarded to 153 persons out of more than 1,800 applicants from 32 states.

Eligible to apply for the seventh Fellowship year, July 15, 1975 to Aug. 31, 1976, are: Citizens of the United States who are between the ages of 24 and 39;

Winter Storm Builds Up

By The Associated Press
A new winter storm built up in the Southwest today and flung a band of snow, sleet and rain over a wide area from Arizona to Illinois.

In the Northeast, snow, ice and wind lingered from a storm that dumped heavy snow over the northern Midwest only a day ago.

The National Weather Service said the new storm was being fed by "a very moist stream of air" and it issued heavy snow warnings for most of southern Colorado. A travel advisory was in effect for East Central Arizona.

Rain, Snow Scattered
Rain and snow were scattered from New Mexico into Northwest Texas. The rain began freezing or changed to sleet during the night in the Texas Panhandle, Northeast Kansas, northern Missouri and western Illinois. Travel advisories were out for most of these areas.

A winter storm watch was in effect for central and northern Illinois.

Snow persisted in parts of the Northeast. High winds diminished after gusting at 62 miles per hour at Albany, N.Y., and 70 m.p.h. at Martinsburg, W.Va.

Strong Winds
Freezing rain ended over Maine, but strong northwest winds cracked tree limbs and broke power lines coated by heavy ice in southwestern sections of the state Wednesday.

Light snow persisted in parts of Montana, North Dakota and Upper Michigan.

Dense fog again brought out travel advisories along most of the Gulf Coast outside Florida.

Fair skies were confined to California, the central Rockies, sections of the Midwest and coastal areas of the Middle Atlantic states.

Temperatures remained above normal in much of the eastern third of the nation. Overnight lows in the 30s and 40s again were common after highs Wednesday in the 50s and 60s as far north as Central Indiana and Ohio.

The mercury hit 78 at Little Rock, Ark., to break a record of 76 set 28 years ago.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from -32 at Butte, Mont., to 72 at Key West, Fla.

Some other reports: Anchorage 18 clear, Atlanta 61 cloudy, Boston 43 rain, Buffalo 30 snow, Chicago 26 clear, Cincinnati 32 cloudy, Cleveland 32 cloudy, Dallas 54 partly cloudy, Denver 19 partly cloudy, Detroit 30 cloudy, Honolulu 74 rain, Indianapolis 30 cloudy, Kansas City 30 cloudy, Los Angeles 40 partly cloudy.

Louisville 34 partly cloudy, Miami 73 partly cloudy, Minneapolis-St. Paul 2 partly cloudy, Nashville 42 partly cloudy, New York 43 partly cloudy, Philadelphia 43 partly cloudy, Phoenix 54 cloudy, Pittsburgh 33 snow, St. Louis 33 cloudy, San Francisco 38 clear, Seattle 31 cloudy, Washington 47 clear.

Republicans Not Overjoyed By Prospect Of Nixon's Return To Political Activity

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prospect of a return to political activity by former President Richard M. Nixon is creating little enthusiasm among top Republicans.

Nixon discussed the possibility of doing some fund-raising and campaigning, once his health improves, at a luncheon in San Clemente, Calif., last Thursday.

Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller brushed off a question Wednesday on whether Nixon could still help the Republican party.

"Let's not bring up the past. Let's go forward," Rockefeller said.

House Republican Leader John J. Rhodes said Nixon "might be effective" in helping the GOP at some future date — "but not now."

Senate GOP Leader Hugh Scott refused to discuss the possibility, then lapsed into German to declare "I can't speak English."

Republican National Chairman Mary Louise Smith also refused to say anything about Nixon.

One Republican official said "we've had no calls yet" in viting Nixon, though he said one Southern Republican group was seeking the former president as a campaign speaker last fall.

The strongest reactions against a Nixon re-entry came from those who asked that their names not be used. "Isn't that the craziest thing you've ever heard?" asked one top Republican aide.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona told fellow Republicans about his luncheon with Nixon at their weekly policy luncheon Tuesday.

"There was silence when he said that," one GOP senator said.

Another senator, asked if he could think of any colleagues who would want assistance from Nixon in the 1976 campaign, replied, "No, I can't."

Knievel Plans Tour Of Britain
LONDON (AP) — Motorcycle showman Evel Knievel plans a tour of Britain this spring that will start with an appearance at Wembley Stadium here May 26, his agents say. It will be the daredevil's first appearance outside North America.

Last summer, Knievel succeeded in attracting wide attention for an attempt to jump across the Snake River Canyon in Idaho on a rocket-powered device. The jump, however, failed.

PORT MORESBY, Papua New Guinea (AP) — Papua New Guinea's new currency, to be known as the kina, will go into effect in late April, Finance Minister Julius Chan announced.

The exact date for the changeover from Australian currency to kinas, will depend on when new banknotes are delivered from the printers in Australia and coins minted in London, he said.

Federal Officials Join Hospital Probe

DALLAS (AP) — Federal authorities have decided to join in an investigation of Texas mental institutions stemming from a lawsuit by several patients at the Terrell State Hospital.

A Justice Department spokesman said Wednesday its role will be as a friend of the court but it may choose to take sides if the evidence warrants.

Michael Lotman, an associate director in the civil rights division, met with lawyers in the case to discuss possible involvement in the statewide probe.

He told U.S. District Court Judge William Taylor that the government staff would help gather evidence on an advisory basis and would inform the court if the investigation warrants federal participation on behalf of the patients.

Although Lotman and lawyers for the patients questioned whether an adequate probe could be made before the April 7 trial date, Judge Taylor said he would not postpone the case. Taylor said he still hopes to complete the trial while the legislature is in session in case state action is necessary.

State attorney Lynn Taylor agreed and said, "This has been delayed enough. We're ready to go to trial April 7."

The state's lawyers also complained to Taylor that medical experts and photographers have been "disturbing" the patients while observing at the hospitals.

"We're not trying to keep them from gathering evidence, but poking a strobe light in a patient's face is abusing the privilege," Lynn Taylor said.

Judge Taylor told the lawyers to report at once any specific incidents in the future for him to consider corrective action.

In the meantime, both state and investigative personnel, federal staff and experts for the plaintiffs will be observing in 10 state hospitals to evaluate treatment standards for patients.

Shipping Oil By Tanker Claimed More Hazardous Than Offshore Drilling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The environmental risk of transporting oil by tanker is 50 times greater than the hazard posed by offshore drilling, says a noted oceanographer.

Dr. John M. Hunt of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution made the statement Wednesday before a Senate panel studying the impact of supertankers on the marine environment.

The National Ocean Policy Study Committee scheduled the hearing because President Ford has signed a bill allowing construction of deep water terminals for oil supertankers off the U.S. coast.

The ships, up to three times the size of conventional tankers, are too large for most U.S. ports. The terminals would be buoylike platforms built up to 30 miles offshore. The big ships could tie up alongside them and have their cargo pumped ashore through pipelines.

Hunt, vice chairman of the National Academy of Sciences workshop on marine pollution, told the Senate hearing that oil spilled by offshore drilling is less than 5 per cent of that spilled by shipping oil in tankers.

The scientist said academy studies have shown that 2.13 million tons of oil are spilled into the world's oceans each year through transportation, compared to 40,000 tons traced to drilling operations.

The total oil pollution, from all sources, was estimated by the study to be about 8.11 million metric tons annually. That includes 1.9 million tons deposited by rivers and urban runoff.

Hunt said natural oil leakage adds 600,000 tons of oil annually. "It is unfortunate that the whole subject of offshore drilling has been so clouded by emotion and politics that the real facts have been obscured," said Hunt, who added that he was venturing a personal opinion. "The presumed hazard of offshore drilling has been blown up all out of proportion to its true hazard in the marine environment."

He did not amplify his statement about "emotion and politics." But administration plans to triple the leasing of offshore oil and gas rights this year have stirred widespread controversy.

The administration has contended that it is environmentally safer to meet the nation's energy needs through expansion of offshore drilling rather than increasing imports in tankers.

Mother Keeps World War II Vow To Build Chapel

DORA, N.M. (AP) — During World War II Mrs. Antonia Dora made a vow that she would build a chapel and dedicate it to the Virgin Mary if her five sons, who marched off to the military, returned safely. Now this promise has been carried out with the dedication of the St. Mary's Church of Dora.

Mrs. Chavez is the mother of 13 children, and when her five eldest were called for military duty, she had no objection to their serving their country. She only prayed that they would not have to kill, or be killed. And then it was that she made her vow, and her prayers were answered. In order to carry out the full terms of the vow, the chapel was to be built by the hands and with the financial help of members of the immediate family, and this has been done. It has taken 30 years to realize the dream.

Mrs. Chavez was born at Santa Rosa, N.M., in 1887. Although she is 87 years old she is active and helps with housework in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Johnny Paiz here, where she has lived for the past five years. Mrs. Chavez has, in addition to the 13 children who have all married, 50 grandchildren, 113 great-grandchildren and 10 great-great-grandchildren. Every member of the family with the exception of the tiniest tots has contributed in some way to the building and furnishing of the church. The children, the grandchildren worked on it, and Johnny Paiz donated the land. Many brought lava rock for the altar in small quantities from Mrs. Chavez' birthplace near Santa Rosa; one son brought a door; another brought carpeting; others supplied the skills to build the beautiful small chapel. The religious objects and symbols came from Clovis, some from relatives there and some from keepsake collections that are very old and meaningful. California relatives sent money. Mrs. Chavez herself bought the statue of the Virgin Mary by squirreling away a few cents at a time over a 30-year period. The church will be the setting for mass once a week when a priest from Portales visits. At other times it may be used for meetings of religious groups.

Theater Stimulates Tv-Stunted Imaginations

By TERRY GANEY
ST. LOUIS (AP) — If the traveling minstrel of the Middle Ages could return, he might find a job to his liking in St. Louis.

A small drama company, the Metro Theater Circus, is only a few hundred years and a few thousand miles away from traveling troupes of medieval times.

The drama group's concept is modern, however, and is designed to bring the theater closer to children while making them more aware of their imagination and their five senses.

"We try to actively involve them in the entertainment," said Phyllis Weil, director of the group.

The seven-member troupe performs an average of 10 times each week at St. Louis area public and private schools. In its 17 months of existence, the circus has performed before more than 25,000 children.

It is partially funded through federal and state grants.

The schools are charged a small fee for the one-hour performances which take place before audiences of not more than 250 pupils. Following the performances, individual actors meet with small classes of children for instruction in pen-tomime, creative dance, movement and rhythm.

Using no formal costumes or props, but relying on the magic of a child's imagination, the troupe acts out adaptations of children's books such as "Alice in Wonderland" and "The Princess and the Frog."

A gymnasium floor becomes a stage, and a flute and temple blocks provide the musical accompaniment.

Following a recent performance at the Mascoutah, Ill., Elementary School, Donald P. Schmitt, director of instruction, called the program "excellent," since "the kids became participants rather than just viewers."

In an age when television has stunted the creativity and imagination of children, Mrs. Weil says, the MTC "can reinforce the imagination and creative talent within every child."

"Through the process of drama, the child can be guided toward an exploration of his five senses and his imaginative powers and toward a growing awareness of interpersonal relationships," Mrs. Weil said.

The giraffe's remarkable neck holds no more bones than the neck of a mouse.

New Oil, Gas Drilling Sites Total 104 In Permian Basin Sectors

One hundred and four applications to drill oil and gas tests were applied for last week with regulatory agencies governing the petroleum industry in the Permian Basin.

Included in the total were 17 wildcats and 87 pool applications.

Two weeks ago, 112 petroleum projects were scheduled in West Texas and Southeast New Mexico.

Last week, District 8 of the Texas Railroad Commission (TRC) was the leader in both wildcatting and pool development categories. That TRC district office processed seven venture applications and 39 field project applications.

RRC District 8-A recorded three probes and 21 field tests, and District 7-C, reported five prospectors and 17 development projects.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

Living Together Not Enough Now

DEAR ABBY: I have been living with Don for two years. I am 22 and he is 25. I hear girls at the office talking about bringing covered dishes to family gatherings, going to his folks' or hers for dinner, or for the weekend, or the holidays, and I get more heart sick every day. I've begun to realize what marriage is all about. It's really belonging to someone who loves you enough to want to make you a member of his family.

Don is always telling me what a wonderful arrangement we have, and how much he loves me.

The past several months I've been asking myself: "If it's so wonderful and he loves me so much, why do we lie, sneak around and let people assume we are married?"

Why doesn't he ask me to marry him, and become a member of his family? They don't even know I exist.

DEAR HEARTSICK: Because he doesn't want a legal commitment. And if he is able to get all the benefits of marriage with none of the responsibilities, why can't he do that? You agreed to live with him without marriage. You walked into it of your own free will, and you're free to walk out. Why don't you? I think you're ready.

DEAR ABBY: Is it unmanly for a girl to wear a hat or a knitted covering on her head when she's inside a building?

Our principal always asks the girls and boys both to remove their hats when they are in school.

He said that someone should write to DEAR ABBY and ask about it, and if you said it was all right, he would ask the boys only to remove their hats when they're inside the building.

He said he didn't believe that anyone would write to you and ask. Well, I'm writing.

OKLAHOMA STUDENT DEAR STUDENT: Customs, rules and traditions are made up by those in authority, and they differ drastically. (In some houses of worship it's considered disrespectful to wear a hat. In others, the head must be covered. In some schools, all that's required of the student is that they come with the HEADS ON... and what's ON their heads is no consequence.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO "RED": You're right. I was unfair to redheads. I should have said, "Never tell a redhead OR A BLONDE OR A BRUNETTE that you love her unless you intend to marry her." (And you can throw in those ladies with the new, two-tone jobs, too.)

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

State Trooper Testifies In Odessa Murder Trial

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Testimony continued today in the ninth day of the murder trial of Larry Ross, 21, and Selwyn Gholson, 26, charged in the Sept. 14 shooting death of state trooper Hollie Tull.

The two men, both of Ft. Sill, Okla., are accused of shooting Tull when he stopped a car near Temple to question the occupants about the robbery of the Walburg State Bank, in which three persons were shot.

The trial was interrupted Wednesday when State District Court Judge Don Busby ordered a 15-minute recess to allow a witness, Patrolman Sam Bartholomae, to regain his composure. During his testimony about the discovery of Tull's body, the officer broke into tears.

Bartholomae, Tull's longtime friend and riding partner for four years, testified that when he arrived at the scene, he saw "a body" next to Tull's patrol car.

"It didn't look like Hollie," Bartholomae said. "The head had been blown away." He said he and another officer identified the slain trooper by a watch that Tull had been given by his family and was particularly proud of.

In other testimony, law enforcement officers told of Gholson's arrest in a field about four miles from the death scene and how he led officers to $3,000 of the stolen money.

Officers also testified they found a shotgun which the Highway Patrol identified as originally issued to Tull.

Man Arrested At Austin Admits Houston Slaying

HOUSTON (AP) — Authorities say a man being held by Austin police led them to a spot in Waller County where the body of a Houston woman was discovered.

The body of Ida Whitaker, 61, was found four miles west of Brookshire late Wednesday, Houston homicide detectives said.

She had been shot with a .38 caliber pistol and her hands and feet were bound, they said.

Officers said the man led them to the body and told them he kidnaped her and took her car from a Houston shopping center parking lot Tuesday after his car broke down following a convenience store robbery.

The man was arrested in Taylor and was being held by Austin authorities in another kidnaping and auto theft, Houston police said.

Economists Upset About Predictions

By DONALD C. BAUDER Michigan and the Conference Board.
Copley News Service
Is the economy depressed, or are the economists depressed?
It's an intriguing question. Certainly no professional group is as upset about its own performance as the economists are.
At the end of 1973, economists almost unanimously forecast that the economy would rise in 1974 in real (after inflationary) terms. It didn't. Real GNP (gross national product) fell 2 per cent.
This year, almost every economist is predicting that real GNP will fall.
Humble Pie
But are they so gloomy because of the numbers they keep seeing or are their tummies upset because of all that humble pie they have been eating? Last fall, the National Association of Business Economists got together in Denver and endlessly flagnellated one another for their forecast failings.
Then, in San Francisco in December, a number of professional economics groups caucused for a second group psychotherapy session, marked by a collective outpouring of guilt.
Does the double dose of downers account for those downbeat forecasts? I put the question to four economists. Only one thought it might be true.
Pessimists Off Base
Julian H. Taylor is senior vice president and economist for the Southern California area of Bank of America, and B. of A. is one of the few institutions which sees any real growth this year. Taylor thinks some economists may be looking inward rather than outward in their pessimism, but he said, "Not all dogs have fleas."
He is critical of some economists who are pessimistic for the sake of headlines: "They're like losing gamblers who try to get their losses back with one big wager. These guys think they can regain respectability by setting themselves up far away from the pack." He is less bearish than most because he feels that consumer mood is not as dismal as many say—and he points to surprisingly strong Christmas sales as an indicator.
He thinks his brethren may be putting too much faith in the presently pessimistic consumer mood studies, such as those by the University of Prof. J. Philip Wernstein of the University of Michigan business school definitely thinks that, the so-called "professional pessimists" are skewed by their own feelings. "The ultrapessimist who thinks the economy is sick is sick himself," snorted Wernstein. Here he is referring to the authors (mainly gold proponents) who think a total depression is imminent.

But he doesn't consider those pessimists bona fide economists. He doesn't think the true economists have a built-in bias because, "These economic models which are highly computerized do not have many judgmental inputs in them, and their forecasts are about in line with those of other economists."
Budget Expansionary
Continued Wernstein: "One reason economists are pessimistic this year is that they are underestimating the amount of stimulation which will come from the current budget. My own estimate is that this budget is expansionary by $35 billion," which, he says, is adequate for doing the job.
Robert G. Dederick, senior vice president and economist of Chicago's Northern Trust Co., is the former president of the National Association of Business Economists' and as such delivered the eulogy to his own profession at the NABE Denver convention.
"Economists' on the whole, have been sadly lacking in foresight," he told the assembled sinners in Denver, and, hence, "the public has ceased to believe in our prescience."
Consumers Gloomier
He still feels that way, but he doesn't think the fact has altered his brothers' forecasts. "Actually, the consumers have been gloomier than the economists right up until recently," he said, "and now the businessmen are gloomier than the economists as well. The businessmen have made a 180-degree turn toward the gloomy, while the economists have only turned 90 to 120 degrees," he said.
Wesley Hillendahl, economist for the Bank of Hawaii, who correctly saw some of the negatives which his colleagues missed last year, doesn't think the economists' gloom this year reflects internal insecurity. "Actually, I am more concerned about false optimism than the reverse," he said.

Questions Remain On Market Issues

By JOHN CUNNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — Like a great weight dropped onto a seesaw, the country's multi-billion-dollar institutions leaped onto the stock market this week and bounced prices almost over the playground fence.
Amidst great cheering from the floor of the New York Stock Exchange, records were set. The bulls were waltzing.
Once again the action also induced from the players and on-lookers those ancient queries: Does what goes up necessarily have to come down? Will the public, which has been on the playground benches, join in the fun? The answers will be coming over these next few days when, in thousands of households more accustomed to huddling from financial adversity, the question will be asked: Should we get in on the action? At the moment, there doesn't seem to be much chance that the public will do so. One survey after another shows families to be much more concerned with conserving than risking their assets.

The public had all but withdrawn from stock market activity over the past year, and there is no less an authority for this than James Needham, chairman of the Big Board. Like the institutions, they were more concerned with those high interest rates, which offered in this time of financial and economic upheaval much more assurance of reward than could stocks.
Now that interest rates are falling — the prime rate is down to 9.5 per cent and yields on short-term government securities dropped Monday to the lowest in two years — the institutions are thinking stocks again.
Thomas Jefferson had a special fondness for pickles.

A FINE TOY — Young Kellie Jones thinks this miniature locomotive included in the Texas and Pacific Railroad exhibition currently on view at Museum of the Southwest would be a fine toy to play with, and museum assistant director Jerry Maxfield joins her in admiring its intricate workmanship. The T&P show, which went on view earlier this month in the museum's Turner Memorial Gallery, 1705 W. Missouri St., is free to the public between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. each weekday and from 2 until 5 p.m. on Sundays. Kellie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jones.

Young Artist Competition Scheduled This Weekend

ODESSA — Students from numerous Texas colleges and universities, along with those from various high schools in the state, will be among the participants in the 13th annual National Young Artist Competition scheduled this weekend on the Odessa College campus.

They will join talented young instrumentalists and vocalists who will be converging on the area today and Friday from many other parts of the nation.

The competition, held each January under auspices of the Midland-Odessa Symphony and Choral, will culminate in finals Saturday night, at which winners in the various competition categories will be named. From this group, "performing winners" will be selected to return to Midland-Odessa in March to perform with the symphony orchestra in concerts in the two cities.

Finalists, winners and performing winners will share $5,600 in prize money.

Almost 90 young musicians have been accepted for the competition. Of this total, 25 are entered in college piano competition, 13 in college woodwinds, 14 in college strings, 15 in college voice, eight in secondary schools piano, five in secondary woodwinds, and seven in secondary strings.

College piano preliminary auditions will begin at 8:30 a.m. Friday in the OC main auditorium, with college-level woodwinds prelims scheduled to begin at the same time in the OC Fine Arts Building auditorium.

College strings prelims are to begin at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the fine arts auditorium. The piano auditions will be continuing throughout the day.

Saturday's schedule calls for secondary woodwinds auditions to begin at 8:30 a.m. in the fine arts auditorium, with secondary piano prelims to begin at the same time in the main auditorium. Secondary strings prelims will begin at 10 a.m. in the fine arts auditorium, and college voice preliminaries are scheduled to begin there at 1 p.m., continuing through the afternoon.

All contest events, including the finals beginning at 7:30 p.m.

First GOP Candidate

John C. Fremont, soldier and explorer, was the first Republican candidate, nominated at the Philadelphia GOP convention in 1856.

New Museum Director Named

The new director of Midland's Museum of the Southwest will assume duties here next week.

Sam H. Grove, who has been associated with the Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago, was named director of the museum here several weeks ago by the institution's board of trustees. He succeeds Ronald D. Desne who resigned late last summer to become director of a museum in Nashua, N. H.

Museum assistant director Jerry Maxfield has served as acting director in the interim.

Grove's appointment to the Midland post is effective Feb. 1.

At the Field Museum, Grove's responsibilities were in the area of research art. His specialties are scientific illustration, scientific model making, and exhibit design and preparation. He spent two years in the United Arab Republic as guest illustrator for a U.S. Navy medical research laboratory dedicated to studies of African diseases.

Grove is a desert ecology enthusiast and has conducted studies in southeastern Algeria of prehistoric rock paintings found in that sector of the Sahara.

Museum of the Southwest, established here in the mid-1960s, is an institution with a three-prong outreach to the public: Art, science and regional history. The museum occupied several temporary locations in the city before moving into its permanent home, the Turner Memorial Gallery at 1705 W. Missouri St., in 1968. Since then, the institution has grown into a "complex" that includes the Naomi and L. E. Lancaster House at 1705 W. Indiana St., and the museum planetarium in Bailey Park. The planetarium was completed in 1972.

The Pin Tells Whole Story

By JAY SHARBUTT
NEW YORK (AP) — It was a cold, gray day when I arrived at NBC to see "Archer," a new private eye series they say is on tv tonight. I was curious about it because I'm in the private eye game myself.

I had a whisky, punched a guy tailing me, glimmed a secretary and made sure my shoulder holster was tight. Then I entered the screening room. It was quiet there. Too quiet. You could hear a pin drop.

The show started. It was Brian Keith, about 45, stocky, with straight teeth and a crooked smile, played Lew Archer. The credits said Lew Archer is a gunshoe created by Ross Macdonald, who writes books. So far, so good, I thought.

It was then I heard the pin drop. It fell as these wealthy parents were telling Archer they'd gotten a letter from their 22-year-old son. He was doing 20 years in a Turkish slammer on a drug rap.

Somebody picked up the pin and muttered, "Excuse me." I paid no attention. The son's letter was more important at the time.

It said he could bribe his way out of jail if they'd give $50,000 to a guy named Androcles, who was acting as a courier. The parents hired Archer to tail Androcles in case it was a film-flam.

It was a film-flam, a serious one. Archer learned the kid was not in jail. The kid was in an underground radical group called "Lovers of the Earth." At least, that was the name on the bus. The bus was at a Beverly Hills mansion surrounded by an electrified fence and guarded by two black watchdogs. The group and the mansion were run by a fuzzy-haired radical. Archer knew was really a con man.

Only this customer was no ordinary bunco artist. He got his rich-kid, do-good followers to put the bite on their folks for big dough, using the old jail gag. Then he bumped them off. It was quite a scam. He told the kids, who seemed to be judging 30, he wanted to redistribute the world's resources.

Archer decided to straighten him out. He got a pal to infiltrate the group. The pal was young, wealthy and fuzzy-haired. He was also the editor of a radical underground paper called "Underground."

If you watch this show tonight, you'll learn the rest. Archer.

At the end, I had a whisky, punched a guy tailing me, glimmed a secretary and made sure my shoulder holster was tight. Then I left the screening room. But something kept bothering me.

It was the pin. The one I heard drop in the screening room. I went back and found the guy who'd picked it up. He gave it to me. I took it to the police lab for analysis. Something was on the head of the pin.

L. Caldwesky, a friend from the old days, gave me the report. "It's the plot of a show called 'Archer,'" he said.

WTSU Choral To Give Concert Here Wednesday

CANYON — The West Texas State University Choral under direction of Dr. Hugh Sanders will present a concert at Midland's Robert E. Lee High School at 11:30 a.m. next Wednesday. The concert is one in a series planned by the vocal ensemble in Texas and New Mexico during its 1975 spring semester tour.

The Midland program will be selected from a repertoire consisting of compositions ranging from the middle ages to the 20th Century, and in styles as varied as Brahms' "Gypsy Songs" and a Robert Shaw arrangement of a spiritual.

Composed of selected voices from the campus at large, the WTSU Choral has achieved both statewide and national recognition for its public performances in recent years, including those before the Texas Music Educators Association, the National Convention of the Music Educators National Conference and seasonal tv specials.

Dr. Sanders, who was appointed director of choral activities at WTSU in 1970, has also attained a wide and growing reputation as an interpreter of choral music. In 1974 he was a participant in a professional-level choir college conducted by Robert Shaw on the Princeton University campus. He has held numerous offices in the Texas Music Educators Association, and has accepted an invitation to serve during the summer term of 1975 as a distinguished visiting professor at the University of Southern California.

The upcoming Midland performance of the WTSU ensemble is sponsored by the choral music department of Robert E. Lee High School.

Tickets On Sale Now For 'Pippin'

LUBBOCK — Tickets have gone on sale for the single performance of the hit musical, "Pippin," here next Wednesday night.

The presentation by a national touring company of the musical will begin at 8 p.m. in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium. The performance is sponsored by the Texas Tech Office of Cultural Events, and tickets, ranging in price from $2.25 to $7.50 for the general public, are available daily at the box office of the University Center at TTU.

"Pippin," described as a fantasy-musical, was one of the most popular musicals to hit Broadway in recent years, and has continued to draw capacity crowds there. "Pippin" has music and lyrics by Stephen Schwartz and book by Roger O. Hirson.

In the touring production, the rebellious son of the Emperor Charlemagne will be played by Barry Williams, probably best remembered as the elder son Greg in television's long-running "The Brady Bunch."

"Pippin," which opened on Broadway in the fall of 1972, garnered many Antoinette Perry (Tony) awards, including those for scenic design and lighting. Ben Vereen of the original company won an award for best actor and Bob Fosse won two awards, one for his choreography and another for his direction.

Griffith Ignored Only In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was the 100th anniversary recently of the birth of D. W. Griffith, the moody genius whose silent films captivated moviegoers from a fledgling art.

In commemoration, the Museum of Modern Art in New York City has begun a mammoth retrospective look at Griffith. The director's early films are being shown through Feb. 23. His features from 1914 to 1931 will start May 15.

The Postal Service has issued a D. W. Griffith commemorative stamp for this year.

But in Hollywood, there were no events planned around the anniversary Jan. 23. To devotees of the Griffith art, that seemed natural.

They argue that the great director was allowed to languish in bitter obscurity during the last 15 years of his life.

Louis B. Mayer and other film moguls came to the Griffith funeral at the Hollywood Masonic Temple July 28, 1948.

Donald Crisp, who had played U. S. Grant in "Birth of a Nation," delivered a eulogy, remarking pointedly: "I cannot help feeling that there always should have been a place for him and his talent in the motion picture field."

"It is hard to believe that the industry could not have found a place for his great gift," Griffith had proved an embarment to the film establishment, not only because of its own neglect of him.

With his first and greatest masterpiece, "Birth of a Nation," he created controversy that has continued from 1915 to the present day.

As Lewis Jacobs comments in "The Rise of the American Film," "Birth of a Nation" was "a passionate and persuasive avowal of the inferiority of the Negro ... At one point in the picture a title blatantly editorialized that the South must be made 'safe' for the whites."

The film's first release stirred race riots in Boston and other "abolitionist" cities and brought denunciations from liberals for its "perversion of white ideals."

Showings of "Birth of a Nation" have attracted picketings in recent years.

David Wark Griffith came by his prejudices naturally. He was born Jan. 23, 1875, in Oldham County, Ky., the son of a Confederate colonel whose exploits and loud voice gave him the nickname of "Thunder Jake."

Sleeping in the social patterns and Victorian manners of the Old South, Griffith left the family home to travel the country as an actor, working on sailing ships, building jobs and in lumber mills between stage assignments.

His wide experiences and his sense of drama provided the rich background when he began directing short films for the Biograph Co. in 1908.

Merry-Go-Round Theater To Do 'Yellow Brick Road'

HOUSTON — The Merry-Go-Round Theater, the Alley Theatre's training unit for young people, will present its ever-popular production of "The Yellow Brick Road" in two performances Saturday at 10:30 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Adapted by Iris Siff, executive director of the Merry-Go-

COLORFUL CHARACTERS — Among the colorful 1930s-type characters in the musical "Anything Goes," which will open Midland Community Theatre's new season at 7:30 p.m. Friday, are a "public enemy" kind of gangster, played by Bill Shaner, and a brassy showgirl, to be portrayed by Fuffy Green.

MUSICAL OPENS FRIDAY — 'Anything Goes' Not Just Charming Museum Piece

A nostalgic look backward to the 1930s will be offered Midland Community Theatre audiences in coming weeks during performances of the musical "Anything Goes."

But the show is not just a charming "museum piece" by any means: Its songs by the late, great Cole Porter remain among the most memorable (and hummable) of any to come from Broadway, and its original book by Guy Bolton and P. G. Wodehouse (revised by the great "Life With Father" team of Howard Lindsay and Russell Crouse) is still fresh and full of fun. Proof of all this is the fact that "Anything Goes" has continued to have productions in every decade since the 1930s, with the number of productions vastly increasing during the late 1960s and early 1970s. It's even had a revival on Broadway!

Set aboard a luxury ocean liner enroute to Europe, "Anything Goes" is full of assorted and colorful characters, including a debonaire playboy, a brassy showgirl, a "public enemy" type gangster and his moll, a sweet young thing and her ambitious mother, a bishop and a titled Englishman.

Rounding out the cast are dancers nicely skilled in those fast-paced tap routines that were a feature of '30s musicals, plus a slew of singers.

In Midland Community Theatre's production, which opens at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Fuffy Green will be seen as show girl Reno Sweeney, the role played by Ethel Merman on Broadway back in 1934. Bill Shaner will be seen as Moonface Martin, the gangster, and Julie MacCurdy has the part of Bonnie. Michael Calkins, young professional actor from New York, will be in the role of the romantic lead, Billy Crocker, whose love interest, Hope Harcourt, will be played by Coila Morrow. Billie Hunt will be seen as Mrs. Harcourt.

Charles Dixon has the role of Sir Evelyn Oakleigh, a gentleman of title with an eye for the ladies, and Monty Cottier will portray Whitney. John Tyler will be seen as the bishop and Mike McLaren will play the ship's purser. Others in the cast are David Barlow as the steward, Dan Macklem as a newspaper reporter, Jerry Albertus and Jess Atkins as photographers, George Lindsey as Ching and Yoichiro Fujiwara as Ling. A bevy of beauties known as the "Eallen Angels" will be portrayed by Alice Moxey, Patti Herd, Barbara Buckley and Susie Hitchcock. Dwight Bellamy will be seen as the ship's captain.

Singers will be Patti Herd, Sally Mogford, Barbara Buckley, Jan Moore, Joan O'Grady, Carol Walker, Alan Murray and Tom Long. Dancers will be Doutha Shaper, Dan Macklem, Peggy Jacobs, Jeanette Dillenburger, Beverley Hicks, Alice Moxey, Leslie Sigmon and Franette Aaron.

MCT's Art Cole has staged and directed the production, with assistant director Gary Sullivan serving as technical director. Charles Sutton is stage manager, the choreographer is Cherry Jones, and Paul Lavery Jr., is musical director.

Seals for Friday's gala opening performance (with, don't forget, a 7:30 curtain!) are still available and may be reserved by telephoning the box office, 682-2544. Tickets for all additional performances of the musical through Feb. 22 also on sale daily at the box office.

Elvis Presley Hospitalized For Several Days Of Tests

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Singer Elvis Presley, who reportedly is concerned about a weight problem, has been hospitalized for what is described as several days of tests.

Maurice Elliott, vice president of Memphis Baptist Hospital, said details on tests or treatments planned for Presley were not known.

Presley was ushered into a suite on the 18th floor about 4 a.m. Wednesday, but there was no explanation of whether the timing was because of illness or an attempt to avoid publicity.

"We don't have much information, really," Elliott said. "His physician told me Presley will be in the hospital for several days for a general medical workup, but nothing more."

Elliott said there might be a further report today from Presley's physician, Dr. George Nichopoulos.

Meanwhile, the Memphis Commercial Appeal quoted a Presley source as saying the singer has a liver problem.

"Elvis has a liver problem that has nothing to do with alcohol. Elvis does not drink. The purpose of the hospital stay is to try and diagnose the nature of the ailment," the newspaper quoted the unidentified source as saying.

The newspaper said its source stated that one effect of the ailment was a swelling or puffiness in the face.

Presley turned 40 on Jan. 8, but did not make public appearances at the time. Sources said then he was worried about his appearance and weight.

Comedy Begins Run Friday At Playhouse

ODESSA — Permian Playhouse, Odessa's community theater, raises the curtain on its fourth production of the 1974-75 season at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

The attraction is a comedy import from Britain, "How the Other Half Loves," by playwright Alan Ayckbourn. The six members of PPH director Enid Holm's cast are Sandra Magill, Wallace Hestand, Patsy Allen, Dave Davis, Doris Russell and Gary Theriot.

Seat reservations for all performances of the comedy through mid-February may be made through the Permian Playhouse box office, 363-2329. The theater is at 310 W. 42nd St.

Concert Tickets Available At Door

Symphony season subscribers from both Midland and Odessa will be in audience for Monday night's concert by the Midland-Odessa Symphony and Chorus.

They will be joined by non-subscribers, inasmuch as single tickets will be for sale to the public in the Lee High School auditorium lobby before the 8 p.m. event.

Featured in the concert will be Houston concert violinist Fredell Lack, joining the orchestra in a performance of the Beethoven Violin Concerto. Also programmed for the concert are Alan Hovhannes' "Mysterious Mountain" and Ravel's "Daphnis and Chloe" Suite No. 2. Dr. Thomas Hohstadt will be on the podium.

20-Year-Old Feline Is Still Able To Ward Off Invaders

By JAN WILLIAMS

Aside from a little arthritis in her back legs, 20-year-old Flappers is still in good enough health to ward off invaders on her domain at the Albert Horne home here — including an Irish Setter who thinks he's a cat.

Flappers, a gray feline who still has a lot of kitten in her, also has an 18-year-old companion, Sunshine—one of the kittens from her last litter.

The Hornes first met Flappers six months after they moved to Midland in 1955. A friend who was leaving town had a litter of kittens to give away, and Flappers was the last holdout. As a goodwill gesture, the Hornes accepted the kitten.

Company For Children

"We had just moved to Midland and didn't have any pets for our children to play with, so we thought maybe the cat would be company for them."

Eventually, however, all the children grew up and left home. But the cats are still there and now they're company for Dr. and Mrs. Horne.

"As each of the children left home, they all said goodbye to the cats because they didn't expect them to still be living when they returned."

The Horne's children all attended Brigham Young University and served two-year missions in various parts of the country. Merrill now lives in Galveston, Steven is in Albuquerque and Charlotte and Russell are in Salt Lake City. Danny, now serving the Mormon Church in Michigan, will return home this summer.

Quite A Homecoming

"The cats were here when all the other children returned home. If they're still here when Danny returns, it will be quite a homecoming."

When Danny returns to Salt Lake City, Mrs. Horne says, he'll take along Jeremy, an Irish Setter who has been a part of the family for two years.

But apparently there will be no love lost between Jeremy and the two cats.

"Jeremy is jealous of the cats. He tries to eat their food and sit in my lap and do everything the cats do."

Jeremy also likes to tease Flappers, who has given him his share of scratches. Mrs. Horne says both cats hold their ground where Jeremy is concerned.

"When both cats get after him, he runs and cries."

Neither cat, Mrs. Horne says, has ever been really sick.

"Flappers got sick about six months ago, but she survived and is fairly healthy now. I guess if they can survive four boys, they can survive anything."

Mrs. Horne recalls that Flappers used to bite her when she would scold or reprimand any of the children.

"I guess the cats loved the kids as much as the kids loved them."

The cats, who still prefer the outdoors at night, have chairs on the patio, complete with heating pads for cold nights.

"Putting up the heating pads is like putting up the Christmas tree every year. It has become a ritual around here."

Friends have suggested to Mrs. Horne that she have the cats put to sleep since they've both lived long, happy lives.

"But they're still happy and healthy and as long as they are, it's our responsibility to take care of them."

Arkansas Probes Bell Activities

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The state attorney general's office has started a routine investigation into Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. activities in Arkansas, Deputy Atty. Gen. Clarence Cash said Wednesday.

He said the investigation was undertaken in response to a request from Arkansas Consumer Research.

James B. Nichols, vice president of Southwestern Bell's Arkansas division had said earlier Bell welcomed the inquiry.

Arkansas Consumer Research asked for the investigation, a spokesman said, because of allegations made against Bell in other states. He said the group had no evidence of any wrongdoing in Arkansas.

Action Planned On Illegal Alien Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under pressure from growing unemployment, Congress may act on an immigration bill that the government estimates could open up one million jobs held by aliens illegally in the United States.

House Judiciary Committee Chairman Peter W. Rodino, D-N.J., is planning quick action on a bill he introduced to prohibit an employer from knowingly hiring an illegal alien.

His Senate counterpart, James O. Eastland, has indicated he is relaxing his opposition to such a measure.

Rodino told a news conference Wednesday the committee would give top priority to the bill, which he has sponsored in the last two sessions of Congress. It won House approval twice but died in the Senate, where Eastland, the Senate Judiciary Committee chairman, opposed it.

Rodino said he thought the economic benefits of the bill would force Senate consideration, and other observers said the pressures would be too great for Eastland to resist.

Rodino said the illegal alien problem "has now reached severe, almost crisis proportions."

Under his bill, a warning would be issued to an employer who hired a person he knew was an illegal alien, but subsequent violations would bring fines of up to $500 and possibly imprisonment.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service estimates that 4 million to 12 million illegal aliens are living in the United States and that Rodino's bill would force 1 million to leave their jobs.

Court Hurts Explorers

By The Associated Press
The home court advantage was no advantage for the LaSalle basketball team Wednesday night. And the officials were no help, either.

The home town fans didn't especially inspire the nation's seventh-ranked club and the referees burdened the Explorers with a load of costly fouls.

The result was a 91-67 upset victory by unheralded Western Kentucky.

"At times we seemed ready to blow it open, but Western Kentucky kept hanging in and hanging in," said LaSalle Coach Paul Westhead. "We couldn't put them away."

The Explorers, an impossible team to beat at home this season, had an 11-point lead with less than seven minutes left. But three of their starters were saddled with four fouls each — and Hilltopper star Mike Odemns took advantage of the situation at the end.

The 6-foot-5, 235-pound brute barged inside for many of his game-leading 33 points to help the Hilltoppers get off the floor and knock out the heavily-favored home team.

"Undoubtedly some of the fouls hurt us," said Westhead. With LaSalle's Joe Bryant, Donn Wilber and Billy Taylor in foul trouble, Odemns was clearly the difference between the teams. He not only conducted on 14 of 18 shots from the field but picked off 13 rebounds.

In other college basketball games, 10th-ranked North Carolina whipped Wake Forest 101-91. No. 13 Marquette stopped Xavier 73-55 and No. 20 Kansas breezed past Colorado 81-56.

LaSalle's 11-game winning streak went out the window when Wilson James scored a field goal with 1:13 remaining to send Western Kentucky ahead 87-65. Odemns scored right back to cut the margin to two again with 16 seconds left. With nine seconds left, LaSalle got a break when Odemns was called for traveling, but Western Kentucky stole the rebound pass and Johnny Britt dribbled in for the final field goal.

LaSalle, which was up 46-38

at halftime, was led by Taylor and Bryant, each with 22 points.

Brad Hoffman hit a career high of 21 points and Mitch Kupchak also scored 21 to lead North Carolina over Wake Forest in an Atlantic Coast Conference game. Hoffman scored 15 of his points during the second half as the Tar Heels pulled away after twice trailing by seven points in the first half. The Tar Heels had a 49-48 edge at the half.

Lloyd Walton sparked a late first-half spurt and finished with 20 points to lead Marquette over Xavier. Walton scored six points in the final four minutes of the first half when the Warriors, 12-8, snapped a 26-26 tie and pulled to a 10-point halftime lead.

The Demon Deacons got a 26-point performance from sophomore Skip Brown, 22 of those in the first half.

Lloyd Walton sparked a late first-half spurt and finished with 20 points to lead Marquette over Xavier. Walton scored six points in the final four minutes of the first half when the Warriors, 12-8, snapped a 26-26 tie and pulled to a 10-point halftime lead.

Donnie Von Moore scored 17 points as Kansas whipped unheralded Colorado. The victory left the defending Big Eight champion Jayhawks at 3-1 in the conference, one-half game behind Nebraska, 4-0.

The Jayhawks coasted to a 49-31 halftime lead and enjoyed several 30-point advantages during the stretch. Kansas made liberal use of substitutions. Kansas' Dale Greenlee added 15 points, and Danny Knight had 10. Greg Mueller was high for Colorado with 14 and Brad Hunt had 13.

Elsewhere, Southern Illinois clobbered Illinois State 91-61 behind Mike Glenn's career-high 29 points. The Southern Illinois guard, called the best at the school since Walt Frazier played there several years ago, helped the Salukis pull away from a 32-32 halftime tie.

In other games, it was George Washington 80, Navy 58; Jacksonville 66, Richmond 58; Boston College 85, Providence 77; Niagara 71, Cornell 54.

70 in overtime; Pittsburgh 70, Temple 61 in overtime; Miami of Ohio 74, Dayton 62; Kent State 52, Toledo 48; Penn State 88, Syracuse 84; Clemson 106, The Citadel 75; St. Joseph's 61, Hofstra 60 in overtime; Delaware 80, Gettysburg 68; Nebraska 73, Oklahoma State 58; Missouri 77, Oklahoma 66; Duke 113, Davidson 76; St. Bonaventure 108, St. Francis (N.Y.) 89; Marshall 107, DePaul 96; Ohio U. 75, Bowling Green 69 and Fort Lewis 73, Air Force 62.

R-T BASKETBALL POLL — Kashmere Still No. 1

Upsets took their toll in the State AAAA top 10 with Corpus Christi Carroll, Midland Lee and Houston Yates biting the dust among last week's top 10, but defending state champion Houston Kashmere rolled on unscathed and unharmed as the state's No. 1 team in The Midland Reporter-Telegram weekly ratings.

Kashmere, with the fall of Carroll to Corpus Christi Miller last Friday, remains undefeated, the only such survivor in the state, with a 31-0 record and a 62-game winning streak over a two-year span.

Kashmere hasn't allowed its opposition to reach 50 points in the last five games and the Rams' victories during the last week were by 77-41 and 100-42 margins.

Carroll, 27-1, remained No. 2, but suffered more than a defeat at the hands of Miller when 6-8 sparkplug Preston Bailless suffered a broken elbow and was lost for the season. Bailless had been averaging 16 points a game and was the top rebounder and shot blocker.

Fort Worth Paschal and South Oak Cliff both posted a pair of victories to remain three and four while Midland Lee stayed in fifth despite a 71-66 loss to Midland. One reason was that sixth place Houston Yates lost 105-94 to Houston Wheatley, now sixth at 22-4, in the District 17-AAAA first-half decider and then lost its opening game of the second half to Houston Sterling. As a result, Yates slipped to 13th.

Newcomers to the top 10 were Deer Park, No. 8, Forrest Brook, No. 9, both of whom wrapped up first half district titles. San Antonio Jefferson, No. 10, also clinched its first half title.

Houston Worthing, San Antonio Roosevelt and Midland High, ranked 18 through 20, also moved into the top 20 by virtue of overall record and status in district play. All three either won or shared first half titles.

Coach Whytall will send 23 Rebel swimmers for the boys and girls competition while Midland High Coach Jesse Marsh will send a similar number of Bulldog swimmers.

'76 Olympics Stand Pat

AMSTERDAM (AP) — Despite reports of staggering new expenses to the 1976 Olympics in Montreal Wednesday, International Olympic Committee President Lord Killarin said the Summer Games remained committed to the Canadian city.

"There is no question of the Games taking place anywhere other than Montreal," Killarin maintained, although a new stumbling block was uncovered in a Montreal hearing on the financing and construction plans of the event.

The soaring costs, now estimated at double the $310 million originally projected, could be heightened by a complex arrangement involving the Olympic village.

Firemen Watch Liquefied Gas Tanks Burn At Irving

IRVING, Tex. (AP) — Keeping close watch to be sure that additional tanks, and with 71,000 gallons of fuel were kept cool as they would not ignite.

"We could have put it out this morning and we could stop it this afternoon," the fire chief said Wednesday, "but we don't want to. If we did that, there'd be gas escaping all over this area, and we can't take that risk."

He said the best alternative is to keep pouring water onto the unaffected tanks while the fire burned out.

Williams reported the flames broke out after a gas company employee filled a delivery tank truck and started to drive away, apparently forgetting to disconnect a hose from storage tank to truck.

After the hose snapped, he said, sparks set off a series of explosions which ripped open two big storage tanks and later a trailer tank parked close by.

Three tanks containing the remaining 71,000 gallons stand a short distance to the west.

Although the fire for a time threatened to involve several city blocks and an estimated 400 people were herded to safety from homes and business places, there was no report of injuries. Some of the persons forced from their homes were sheltered in the John R. Good Elementary School.

Firemen from neighboring Dallas, Fort Worth and Grand Prairie teamed with those from Irving in battling the blaze. They also took steps to keep escaping gas from flowing into storm sewers and starting fires elsewhere.

Many of the evacuees were from a big apartment complex. Police closed Highway 183 near Texas Stadium on the Dallas-Fort Worth route. They said ramps were being constructed to carry traffic over fire hoses spread across the roadway but advised motorists to use alternate routes wherever possible.

Flames which at times shot 100 feet high were allowed today to consume liquefied gas from three tanks in an area where about 400 residents of this Dallas-Fort Worth suburb were evacuated.

Dallas Fire Chief Lewis Williams said the tanks originally contained 14,000 gallons of fuel and he had no idea how long it would take the remainder to burn.

Four explosions set off the spectacular blaze Wednesday morning in two of the tanks owned by the Liquefied Petroleum Gas Co. A fifth blast touched off a third tank several hours later after it appeared the fire was under control.

Rep. Mahon Denies Retirement Reports

WASHINGTON — Rep. George Mahon has denied a published report he will retire at the end of his present term.

Although not definitely saying he would seek re-election in 1976, he termed reports of his possible retirement as "utterly absurd."

Syndicated columnist Rowland Evans and Robert Novak predicted last week Mahon might retire, primarily because of the heavy vote against him when he was re-elected chairman of the Appropriations Committee by the Democratic Caucus.

Clean Hands Help Youths' Getaway

SEATTLE (AP) — Clean hands helped two young men escape authorities after parachuting 320 feet from the Space Needle.

Carl Fast, operator of a nearby service station, told police he took down the license number of a blue van that sped through his station lot just after the parachute incident Tuesday.

Fast said, however, he took the number down on his palm. And before he could pass it on to police he forgot and washed his hands.

Recall Of Candy Pacifiers Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six companies are being urged by the Food and Drug Administration to recall candy pacifiers which the government says could cause babies and small children to choke to death.

The pacifiers, manufactured in Hong Kong, are sold in assorted flavors and are labeled as not for infant or baby use.

However, the FDA said Wednesday that the very nature of the product makes it likely that children may receive one.

Euthanasia Bill Offered In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — Euthanasia would become legal under a bill introduced this week in the Hawaii Legislature.

But the proposal by Republican State Rep. Howard Oda would require a patient to give prior consent in writing.

Oda's "Death With Dignity" bill would authorize doctors to end a patient's life if his condition leaves him incapable of a rational existence. A similar proposal was killed in the Senate last year.

Rehabilitation Leader Speaks At Downtown Lions Club Meet

Dr. Ray Tatum of Big Spring, district supervisor for the Texas Rehabilitation Commission, was the speaker Wednesday noon at the meeting of the Midland Downtown Lions Club in the American Legion Hall.

Dr. Tatum, who was introduced by Lion Duke Jimerson, said that he and his staff work closely with the Big Spring State Hospital, which he termed one of the finest of its kind anywhere. The hospital provides office space for the district office, which serves a number of counties in this area.

The speaker traced the history of the rehabilitation program and reviewed its expansion in recent years as a result of medication breakthroughs and improved treatment techniques in mental illnesses.

The purpose of the rehabilitation program is to be of assistance to patients so that they may be able to return to their communities and achieve a rounded life there, Tatum said.

He told of diagnostic procedures and the methods followed in working with patients. Adjustments to home, social and economic life when they return to the community were cited.

Community involvement, he said, is most important in the program. He told of the work of community counselors and discussed training programs and job placements.

The "Halfway House" is one of the most important elements of the patient adjustment program, Dr. Tatum said. He explained that the first such facility was established at Big Spring several years ago. There now are 19 houses located in the area.

CBS Won't Sell Air Time To GOP

NEW YORK (AP) — The CBS television network has refused to sell time to the Republican party for three half-hour shows the GOP had hoped to show this spring to help polish the party's image.

A spokesman for the network said the Republican application was rejected because of CBS's policy of selling air time for political broadcasts only to political candidates.

Spokesmen for the NBC and ABC television networks said their companies had made no decision as of Wednesday on the Republican's request to buy air time.

Stock Market Prices Mixed As Trading Continues Heavy

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed in continued heavy trading today, giving up a sharp early gain under the pressure of profit taking.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, up about 7 points in the early going, was off 39 at 705.57 by noon. Gainers maintained a moderate lead over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Prices registered a strong initial reaction to a prime rate cut from 9 1/2 to 9 percent by New York's Chase Manhattan Bank. But some traders who had been expecting some further interest rate reductions evidently chose the moment to cash in on profits after the dramatic rise of the past six sessions.

American Telephone & Telegraph, the NYSE's most active issue, rose 3/4 to 48 3/4.

The NYSE's composite index gained 12 to 41.15.

Champion Home Builders, the Amex volume leader, was up 3/4 to 3 1/4.
