NUMBER 19

FIRST WHEAT OF SEASON ARRIVED HERE FRIDAY; BRINGS $1.00 A BUSHEL

J. H. Harrell is grower; wheat bought by Bailey County Elevator Company.

The first wheat of the season arrived in Muleshoe last Friday and was sold to Bailey County Elevator Company. The wheat came from the J. H. Harrell farm, better known as the Club House tract. The load consisted of 64 1/2 bushels for which Mr. Harrell was paid $1.00 per bushel.

The wheat on this place has had a fifty per cent hail damage but the yield is running ten bushels to the acre. Harvest started in real earnest over this section Wednesday and scores of combines are running at this time. Many of these machines will go on night shifts this week and if weather holds good, practically all wheat here will be harvested within the next three weeks. It is estimated that 150 cars will move from Muleshoe within the next fifteen days.

The price has been dropping nearly every day this week and Wednesday local buyers were paying 70 cents per bushel. It is understood that many farmers are preparing to store as much of the crop as possible to avoid dumping it on a low market. The problem of storage is serious, according to grain men, as a large per cent of farmers can only store a small amount. Practically all of the first few days cutting will be sold in order to pay current expenses. This section seems to be better prepared than most, however, for holding wheat.

Buyers state that they expect the price to go even lower, and, according to the Amarillo News, grain dealers there say that it will probably be three months before the market begins to recover. Estimates are that the crop here has been cut fifty per cent, due to high winds early in the season and by hail some days ago.

Goodland And Gaddy School Districts Merge

At an election held Saturday in the Goodland and Gaddy common school districts, a motion was carried to consolidate the two districts into one, according to Judge J. E. Adams. The motion was carried 14-3 in Goodland and 11-8 in Gaddy. It was necessary that a majority vote in favor of the consolidation be obtained in both districts.

The location of the new building, which is to be a brick, will be about two miles north of Goodland, and it is probable that it will cost between $15,000 and $20,000.

This marks the first consolidation of common school districts in Bailey county, and is indicative of a surging forward of Bailey county schools, for in the pool of school tax money of two or more districts it is possible to have more and better educational equipment.

At a meeting of the county board of trustees at the court house Monday night the following trustees for the new district were elected, who are to serve until the next school trustee election: Walter Hapke, C. G. Locke, C. C. Lancaster, B. D. Haldermann, C. B. Weaver, A. L. Reed and J. P. Tarlton.

THE JOURNAL ENGAGES UNITED PRESS SERVICES

With this issue of The Journal, readers will notice that we are adding the services of United Press (UP) to the regular features and local news of the paper. This is being done in an effort to supply our readers with the latest news at all times, and to give a comprehensive summary of the affairs of the state. United Press, whose Texas offices are in Dallas, employs a group of writers that has no peer in the state and with their services which are now ours, we feel that we may justly be proud of the variety and volume of live reading material that is to be furnished our readers.

This promises to be an extremely interesting political year in Texas. Gordon K. Shearer, veteran Texas political writer, who is now with United Press, writes familiarly and knowingly of the battle of words and ballots. Read his political observations each week in The Journal.

Arnold Buys The Muleshoe Tailor Shop

A deal was made Tuesday of this week whereby T. E. Arnold acquired the Muleshoe Tailor Shop, purchasing it from Howard Towery. Mr. Arnold took over the business Wednesday morning. State Telephone Will Build New Line Here Soon

Messrs. Cartwright, Phillips and Singer of the State Telephone Company were in Muleshoe Wednesday making preparations for the building of the telephone line from this place to Earth. Mr. Cartwright is chief engineer for the company and Mr. Phillips is assistant general manager. Mr. Singer is division manager and Muleshoe is in his territory.

These gentlemen stated that the material for construction of the line was now in Lubbock and that everything possible was being done to rush the work. K. K. Smith assisted in getting a final checkup on the line and practically all of the paper work is finished. It is understood, The State Telephone Company is carrying out a large building program in West Texas and the increasing demands for phones is keeping the company busy.

A $10,000 bond was voted at Circleback last Saturday to provide money for enlarging the school building to meet the needs of that school district. It is understood that the money will be used to build four additional rooms to the present structure.

“Bye, Bye, Jailbird”

After four hours of patient effort, using contraptions he had ingeniously improvised out of such material as could be found inside the walls of the local county bastille, Logan Rogers, one of the guests of Bailey county, who was awaiting admittance into the State penitentiary on a charge of possession and transportation of liquor, released himself from his involuntary confinement last Sunday evening and left for parts unknown.

He wrote a note stating that "staying in jail was not good for his health, so he had decided to leave, and hoped that no one would feel hurt over his departure."

The material that was used in operating the levers that lock the door of Bailey county's hoosegow, consisted of a broom, a mirror, a piece of half-inch pipe he removed from the steam radiator and a twisted strand of electric wire. The mirror attached to the end of the broom handle served as a periscope with which he could peer into the control box located just outside the door, and the strand of wire doubled and inserted through the iron pipe formed a loop on one end with which he could operate the safety levers. One end of the iron pipe was

At a meeting of citizens of Muleshoe Friday night at the court house ways and means of financing city activities were discussed. The city is somewhat short of funds at this time, with bills totalling several hundred dollars coming due within the next two months. The citizens finally decided to leave the matter up to the commission after the situation was explained, and this body will proceed to make arrangements to handle all obligations of the city as they come due. ARKANSAS CANDIDATE HAS GOOD CAMPAIGN 'TRUNDELS'

Here is a story that is going the rounds in Arkansas regarding a candidate who has announced for office. Harvey McGehee of Paris announces his candidacy in the following unique manner:

"As for myself, I am an Arkansas hillbilly, born and raised in the Boston Mountains north of Ozark, outran the dogs on Sunday morning to keep from having my face washed—did my sparring barefisted and on foot—never saw a train till I was 5 years old and was almost grown before I learned that Republicans were human like other people.

"I have farmed with a double shovel and Georgia stock and plowed an old mule 19 years old in new ground without causing—have taught school, practiced law and preached, and am a first class mechanic, having worked right smart around a sorghum mill. "I came to Crawford county five years ago and have since been elected to the legislature twice and been operated upon for appendicitis. "Last year I married the finest little girl in Oklahoma and we are living together happily in Van Buren. I want the office because I think I can make a living out of it and will promise if elected to make things so warm for crooks and law violators of all kinds that they will think that hell ain't forty feet from the court house. "I expect to spend the time between now and election on August 12, kissing babies and bragging on the women's cooking, complimenting the farmers on their crops and warming things up for my opponents."—Exchange.

Gruesome Gallery Of Electric Chair Dead At Huntsville

Huntsville, Texas, June 18 (UP)—The most intriguing sight to the visitor at the State penitentiary here is the photographic roster of 70 men who have died in the electric chair in payment for their crimes.

Three score men and 10, some cowering with terror and some iron-jawed and defiant, have been put to death since Texas substituted the chair for the hangman's rope seven years ago. Their pictures compose the gallery of the dead—a huge wooden board in front of the Bertillon department building.

Under each rogue's gallery photo is the date on which the subject died, and the crime for which he suffered death. Most of them were murderers. Some died for criminal assaults. A number of them are the pictures of men who became notorious for their crimes and their fights for life.

Whenever an execution takes place in the death house across a spacious flower garden from the photographic room, the picture of the chair's latest victim is taken from the files and fastened to the big board with thumb tacks.

Seven years ago the chair was inaugurated as the official means of execution. There were many protests when the gallies were abandoned, but most men who have seen both types of capital punishment say that the new killing machine is the most merciful. Three men died in the big frame chair in one night when the chair was first put into service.

One of the most memorable figures whose likeness can be found in the death gallery is that of George Clem Gray, who was executed five years ago for the murder of a Titus county youth. A few minutes before he was to begin the death march, Gray took a safety razor blade from his shoe and slashed his throat. It is said that he died in the chair from the loss of blood while the straps were being adjusted.

Down the line of pictures is that of George J. Hassel, the Plains farmer, who raised two families and killed both of them—two wives and eleven children in all. He never denied the 13 murders, and said he was glad to pay with his life for his crimes.

Pete Welk of Dallas County, electrocuted four years ago for a murder, is remembered by a photo of him that is in the gallery. He was a tempting subject for the sob story writers for months, and sympathetic persons by the dozens went to Austin and begged the governor to spare his life.

Two of Dallas county's most notorious killers, Frank and Lorenzo Noel, were photographed five years ago shortly before they were put to death for murder. They were the notorious Black Terrors, sought by a mob of 10,000 angry citizens in an assault on the Dallas county jail.

The Robinson negroes, whose pictures are close by, were executed a year later for the murder of a Dallas policeman. Then there is Robert Milliken, who died gamely, and Robert Blake, the youth from the Panhandle whose American Mercury story about his last days in the death house inspired "The Last Mile," one of the current musical show hits on Broadway. Blake's mother is getting a huge royalty from the play that her son's story was responsible for.

Possibly the most romantic figure ever executed was Harry J. Leahy, the "Iron Man from the Ranch Country," who was executed on August 2 last, for the murder of Dr. J. A. Ramsey of Mathis.

Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served.

Did you hear about the fellow who sneezed when speaking to the operator on the transatlantic phone and she connected him with Russia?—Judge.

A. C. Martin from South Texas was prospecting in the Muleshoe territory last week-end.

Ranchman, lawyer, social lion, Leahy fought his battle for life through the courts for three years, but he was twice convicted of a masterful murder plot and finally put to death. He died protesting against his conviction "on circumstantial evidence and the testimony of a Mexican," but he never said whether he was guilty or not.

Two of the latest additions to the Gallery are the pictures of LeRoy Merriam and Benny Aldridge of Dallas, both of whom were electrocuted for criminal assault.

The latest victim was William (Dagger) Pruitt, who died on the morning of June 6, protesting his innocence of the murder of William Mann of Dallas, for which he died.

There are pictures on the board of a few men condemned to die who were saved at the eleventh hour. The word "commuted" is used under their pictures.

One of them is Newt de Silva, the Italian hot-blood of Port Arthur, who saved a neighbor in a fit of anger because the other man refused to take a drink with him. He was saved from the chair at the last minute.

Bob Silver, the Kansas City bandit who participated in a holdup and murder at Fort Worth, also was saved at the last by the governor. He is studying law now, hoping to finally be pardoned and become a lawyer.

Three more men are in the death row now—which is never quite empty. Their pictures will be put on the board when they "go down."

The big chain in the end of the death house was built and wired by a "fer" several years ago, who was an electrician by trade. Soon after he completed the manufacture of the killing machine, he escaped the walls and has never been captured.

THE "CAN" IN CANNING

The pressure cooker puts the "can" in canning. While canning was a big improvement over the earlier methods of food preservation by salting and drying, it was not until the pressure cooker was adapted to household use that the bugbear of the canning season was destroyed.

It is no longer necessary to make canning an all-day job, with a bulky water-bath canner monopolizing the whole stove top, and the escaping steam making the already hot kitchen still hotter. The pressure cooker has changed all this. Because cooking at temperatures higher than boiling is made possible, the time for cooking is shortened. Instead of boiling the cans of meat, for instance, for three to four hours, they may be sterilized in the pressure cooker for thirty minutes at ten pounds pressure, if partially cooked before, and sixty minutes if uncooked. A proportionate time saving holds true in canning of vegetables. The pressure cooker is particularly adapted to the homemaker who has a garden where the vegetables are ripen-

OFFER $5,525 IN PRIZES IN NATIONAL CANNING CONTEST

To ward off a threatened surplus of farm products in many sections and to improve more housewives with the economy and healthfulness of home canned foods, a National Canning Contest is now under way to find the best jar of canned fruit, vegetables and meat in the country. Two hundred and twenty-two cash prizes totaling $5,525 have been hung up by the Sears-Robuck Agricultural Foundation, including a grand sweepstakes prize of $1,250 for the best jar of canned food entered in the contest. Any woman or girl is eligible to enter the contest, but entries must be in not later than October 1, 1930. ing in small amounts. By putting each day's surplus in her pressure cooker while doing up her morning kitchen work, she soon has the shelves full without the messiness of an all-day canning job. Only an occasional glance at the pressure gauge is required for one soon learns just how high to turn the flame to keep the pressure constant.

This saves not only time and labor but food as well for the pressure cooker makes it possible for her to can the small amounts which she would have thrown away rather than bother with when canning by the older methods.

"Not How Cheap, But How Good."

DO PEOPLE FEEL BETTER BECAUSE YOU PASSED BY?

I was in a doctor's office by appointment at five-thirty when his telephone rang. A woman's voice at the other end of the wire asked him to call at the house that evening.

His voice betrayed his irritation, but he promised to call. Then he snapped the receiver on the hook and exploded.

"There is a woman who has nothing to do all day but get about. She might just as easily have called me this morning or early in the afternoon. But, no, she has to put it off and spoil my evening."

"Nobody but a doctor has any idea how inconsiderate people can be."

On two different trips with two men I had an interesting opportunity to contrast their conduct toward their fellow human beings.

One of them had made several million dollars in the past few years. When ever he entered a dining car or a hotel he wanted everybody to understand that he is rich and important. Waiters dislike him, even though he tips liberally. I sometimes felt embarrassed by his critical demands for attention.

The manner of the other man is the exact reverse. You would never guess that he is a power in world industry. He never gives orders, but makes suggestions or very courteous requests. He seems surprised that anybody should want to do him a favor. He can make a waiter or a station porter feel a new sense of self-respect merely by his smile.

A noted preacher once remarked that one of the finest of all the sayings of Jesus is this: "I have compassion on the multitude."

Said the preacher: "Many men can be virtuous. Many can be honest in a hard, self-righteous way. But how many are really considerate? How many feel instinctive respect and sympathy? How many have compassion?"

A lot of twisted standards have somehow grown up in the world. A lot of very righteous people seem to think that a man is good if he does not smoke, does not take a drink, does not do this or that.

These are negative and unimportant. The real mark of a Christian and a gentleman is whether he treats other people as he would like to be treated. Whether they feel better or worse because he has passed by.

The Very Latest

By MARY MARSHALL

The very word "house dress" brings to the minds of many dresses of coarse cotton materials, in crude pinks and blues cheaply made and too generously proportioned. Perhaps house dresses used to be like that, and women accepted them as a matter of course, not expecting to look their best during the busy hours at home.

I had a pleasant sort of surprise in store for me the other day when I was asked to make selections from a number of inexpensive ready made dresses of the house-dress sort. When they were displayed by the models it was difficult to believe that they were house dresses at all. Many of them might have been chosen for sports or summer resort wear.

There was a trimly fitted short sleeved dress of pastel blue pique and a sleeveless dress of green and white cotton print with crisply pleated organite at the neck. Those of shantung silk especially appealed to me, though their price was amazingly reasonable. One of them, in pastel green, is shown here.

One reason that house dresses nowadays have such an air of smartness is that they are inspired by, if not actually copied from, dresses designed for sports wear.

MURDER

Ten persons out of every 100,000 are victims of murderers every year in the United States.

That is an appalling record. Nothing like that number of murders occurs in any other civilized country. But that fact, published everywhere, gives our own people as well as foreigners an incorrect impression of the life of the United States and in the cities which may be called "murder centers."

Think it over for a minute. How many people do you know who have had any contact of any kind with murder? How many people in this community have been murdered in recent years?

We all know that the life of every law abiding citizen, going about his or her business and not seeking trouble, is as safe in our midst as it is anywhere in the world. Gunmen do not prowl around our streets and byways looking for victims. Women are not afraid to go to the stores for fear of being shot down by stray bullets or intentionally. Yet the picture of life in the United States as Europe sees it would have all of us in constant danger of being killed by some irresponsible murderer.

Even in Chicago, from which place we hear more news of murders and murderers than from any other place in America, conditions are not at all like that. Americans, unfamiliar with the ways of big cities, hesitate to go to Chicago for fear of being killed. Chicago newspapers report that travelers with several hours between trains frequently do not dare leave the rail road station to look around the beautiful city, because they have heard so much about Chicago gunmen. The International Rotary Clubs recently felt impelled to send word to its members everywhere in the world assuring them that they would not be killed if they came to a convention in Chicago. The plain fact is that the matter is that almost every case of murder the victim is either a criminal, an associate criminal, or engaged in some reckless undertaking which exposes him necessarily to attack. Leaving out people who have invited murder on their own acts, and officers of the law taking the necessary risks of their vocation, our proportion of murders to population, even in Chicago, is probably as low as in England or France.

THE FISH ARE SAFE

JEFFERSON, Texas—Fishermen do not use hooks to catch fish any longer. A man walked briskly into a local drug store recently and among other things purchased the following: four pairs of dice, two decks of cards, a bottle of mosquito lotion and a half a dozen packages of cigarettes.

"What are you going to do?" an astonished clerk ventured.

"I am going fishing," was the ready reply.

The customer bought no fishing tackle.

TIRES
as good as these
USUALLY COST A LOT MORE MONEY

... but these are Goodrich Cavaliers... really fine tires at really low prices

MEAN that? Of course, we mean it! And we can prove it, too... any way you want to name! Find a tire that matches the Cavalier point by point and you'll find a tire that costs more! That's because Cavalier is made by Goodrich. Made under the strictest standards in the business. Made to stand up as only Goodrich Tires stand up... in spite of bad roads, high speeds, quick stops, constant punishment. It's bigger in cross section to give it riding comfort. It's thicker through the tread, to give long life and high mileage. Its carcass is of weltless cord... its tread rubber is dense and slow wearing. And the whole tire is water-cured to give it equal toughness all the way through. Yet with all that, Cavaliers cost less than just ordinary casings. So if you want to see a good tire... see Cavalier. Your size in stock now... and two sizes for trucks. They won't last long... so come in quickly. Tomorrow, sure.

YOU NEED NOT WORRY when roads get rough or when your schedule calls for high speed, if your tires are Cavaliers! Goodrich built an extra margin of stamina into these tires to keep tire worries off your mind. And still these tires cost no more and often less than merely ordinary quality!

We have a large stock of Heavy duty truck tires

30x5 8 ply $21.30
32x6 10 ply 37.80

Be sure and see these tires before you buy.

RISEN LORD AND THE GREAT COMMISSION

Matthew 28:1-20

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

"Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning" never truer than when the first day of the week came after the body of Jesus had been placed in tomb, following the crucifixion on the previous Friday. Parts of three days had passed, during which the Jewish Sabbath had been observed. As soon as work could again be taken up certain women made ready to perform the usual rites upon the body of their dear friend. With spices they came very early to the garden tomb.

Insurmountable difficulties did not hold them back, though it was not natural that they should question en route "Who will roll us away the stone?" For, meanwhile, the resurrection of the body of Jesus had taken place. There had been an earthquake, not to let the body out, but to permit the women to see within the dark tomb. When they arrived there was a messenger in the person of an angel to declare the good news and to give them instruction for immediate service. "He is not here" they were told. To-day many go to the grave to weep, as if their loved one was there entombed. No spirit has ever been placed in the grave. Death refers to the body only. At once with the death of the body our loved ones are in the spirit world.

The records in all four gospels should be read with care to obtain every detail. Jesus begins to appear to individuals and to groups. He met a company of women as they returned to the city. Then He came to Mary Magdalene, who tarried by the open sepulchre and thought He was the gardener, as she looked through her tear-dimmed eyes. A new world of joy was hers when He spoke just her name and said, "Mary."

Such joyous news was not to be kept by anyone. The angels said, and He confirmed it, that they should go forth His disciples, and even Peter was specifically named, lest this one who had so grievously denied Him should not know that all had been forgiven. There are at least eleven recorded appearances and there surely must have been another, though no record is given of it. Jesus certainly showed Himself to His beloved mother, for whom He evidenced such concern when in the midst of His agonies on the cross. During a period of forty days these various manifestations occurred.

It is fitting that Jesus should make a mountain in Galilee a place for a special conference with His disciples. It was in that area that His greatest amount of work was accomplished during the three years of public ministry. The attitude of the disciples is an index of the way in which mankind will ever regard Him. "They worshipped Him but some doubted." First He reasserted His almighty power and the resurrection was direct testimony thereto. Then He revealed that Kingdom-building had just begun, with Himself as the chief corner stone. He would go away soon, but their work and that of those who joined with them would be abiding. They were to testify of their faith through Trinitarian baptism. Climaxing all is an all-inclusive promise. As they went forth on this commission, "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

Prohibition Has Been On Spree Says Putnam

Houston, Texas.—Frank Putnam of Houston, prohibition repeal candidate for governor, addressing the Salesmanship Club last Monday, explained his promise to pardon all Dean act prisoners and said his chance to get in the run-off primary is as good as that of any other man in the race.

"Old man Texas," he said, "has been on a ten-year prohibition spree and is waking up with a terrible headache, dressed in a mother Hubbard and wondering how he got into it. I aim to get him sobered up and back to boots and breeches as quickly as possible."

"The quickest way is to elect a governor who will kill state prohibition enforcement by pardoning all of the state's 650 liquor law prisoners and by declaring his purpose to pardon all others as fast as they are sent up. This will compel the legislature to repeal or radically revise the inhuman and un-American Dean act. It will make Texas citizens safe in their homes, so far as the state government can assure it, in the enjoyment of their decent, ancient habits and customs.

"The desperate efforts of President Hoover, Senator Sheppard and Mrs. Ferguson to save prohibition by making its laws still more savage, come too late. If the existing state and federal laws could be enforced as to prohibition, we would have fifty million men and women behind the bars, and the other seventy million feeding them and standing guard over them. The whole situation is a monstrous absurdity."

HIGH IN THE ROCKIES!

By MARION WATSON

Today we are high in the Rockies—in a sea of mountains atop the world. Up shaggy slopes, through clammy tunnels, crackling over creeks and mountain streams, and out upon the shores of glass-green, half frozen lakes, we are winding our way through these "Alps of America" whose pinnacles pierce the clouds. Hour after hour, mile after mile, the giant range twists and tosses on the horizon, its heavy blanket of snow pierced by millions of spruce tops that rise through the silent whiteness like a village of cathedral spires. In the canyons, hundreds of feet below, armies of aromatic pines and aspen twinkle in the sunlight, as they stand guard in fantastic formations. Far up, as high as the eye can see, the mountain crests are outlined against a jutting sky-line of sapphire blue, and over all, is a brilliant, penetrating sun.

Now and then, a deer bounds out and crosses the road with an incredible spring. A bear ambles along and stares curiously over his shaggy shoulder. In the brush on a gentle slope, a flock of antelope graze lazily.

For sheer, indescribable beauty, these mountains are the premier spectacle of America. Submerged in centuries, yet enchantingly and eternally new, they are exhilarating as a rare old wine. Snow-clad peaks, gleaming white glaciers, rugged precipices, waterfalls, foaming torrents, canyons, beautiful lakes set in pine forests—flung together by the Creator in unparalleled profusion—are all visible in the course of a day's journey.

And here and there, in spots of picturesque appeal, are scattered vacation resorts famous throughout the world—Banff, Lake Louise, Jasper Park, Emerald Lake, Yoho Valley—where one can whirl through days of gaiety, participate in athletic sports of all kinds, or loiter in lazy comfort amidst surrounding unequalled in beauty. At some of these I shall pause for a brief stay. In a later article I shall tell you about them.

"I Cannot Praise This Konjola Too Strongly"

Says Wichita Lady Suffered For 12 Years From Stomach Trouble.

MRS. DELLA SETTLE

"I cannot praise this Konjola too strongly, because I tried many other medicines and treatments, but none gave the remarkable relief that Konjola did," said Mrs. Della Settle, 1719 Mildred avenue, Wichita. "I just had to force myself to eat, and nearly everything I ate made me sick. I had cramping pains in my stomach and bowels until I could hardly endure them, and I simply felt miserable all the time."

"Finally I decided to put Konjola to the test. That proved to be a wise decision. Right from the start I noticed improvement. I now have a much better appetite, and meals are a pleasure as food digests without pains or misery in my stomach. My bowels are functioning as they should, and it is certainly a relief to be rid of that tired, worn-out feeling. I gladly endorse this splendid medicine that restored my health."

Konjola has become the most talked of medicine in America because it makes good. And Konjola makes good in the most stubborn cases when given a fair trial and from six to eight bottles are used.

Konjola is sold in Muleshoe at McCarty's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Mauritz Advocates State Income Tax in Gubernatorial Race

Austin, Texas, June 19 (UP)—T. N. Mauritz of Canado, Jackson county farmer, is the only candidate in the race for governor born outside the United States.

In 1879 his parents applied for passports permitting them to come to America from Sweden. His father first came alone. Settling in Iowa, he wrote six months later for the family to join him. Mrs. Mauritz started the long journey with her two children—the boy, T. N., then three years old, and girl baby still in arms.

They settled on the Iowa farm, and purchased a Nebraska farm two years later.

There Mauritz worked on the farm until he was 15. He went to country school three months a year, tramping the three miles to the school house. Later he attended an academy for a term and a half. A bookkeeping and stenography course taken at Lincoln, Nebraska, equipped him to take employment in a bank there.

Thirty-six years ago the family came to Texas, attracted by its rich black soil. They settled in Jackson county, through which he was raised on the farm led Mauritz, now a country banker, to study the problems of the farm. Looking back upon the hardships a state income tax, he decided, is the method to equalize the tax burden. It is for the purpose of carrying the income tax plan before the people that Mauritz is making the race. Many concede that future years will see such a tax in Texas.

As proposed by Mauritz, the citizen would merely file duplicates of the report he files with the Federal government. His income tax would be computed from these reports. He proposes also an adjustment between other taxes and the income tax. To prevent the income tax becoming merely a source of additional revenue without reducing the tax burden, Mauritz would provide that the amount the State raises from income taxes must be deducted before computing the automatic property tax rate.

Cop: "Hey, where are you going?"
Drunk (crawling on stomach along sidewalk): "I'm gonna climb this wall if it takes all night."—Ohio Bell.

Simon: "Campbell, you had better take the street car home."
Campbell: "Sh' no use. Wife wouldn't let me keep it in the house."

A REALLY STUNNING TIRE YOU OUGHT TO SEE

It isn't enough to call the new Goodyear Heavy Duty Balloon an extra-mileage tire—it's an extra-style tire as well.

Once your car is shod with them, it takes on a new and smarter look; it stands proudly on a more solid and distinctive foundation.

In the first place this new Heavy Duty Balloon is bigger, handsomer, more massive; and around its sleek black side-walls runs a single identifying stripe of silver.

Then the outer rows of All-Weather blocks on both sides of the deep-cut extra-thick tread are prisms down into the side-wall, a touch as arresting as anything in modern sculpture.

The essential merit of this tire of course is in its capacity for extra mileage—it is made stronger and tougher in every part to withstand hard, fast, rocky road driving.

Before you buy your next tire be sure you see this stunning Goodyear Heavy Duty—you owe it to yourself not to overlook its remarkable advantages.

Texas Cowboys' Whoopee Party For Stamford

Stamford, Texas, June 19. (UP)—One of the features of the Texas Cowboy Reunion to be staged here June 26, 27 and 28 will be a roundup and get-together of the pioneer cattlemen of the State.

A permanent organization of the old-timers will be formed to hold annual reunions in Stamford. Only those who saw actual service in the saddle and on the ranges of the region prior to 1895 will be eligible for membership in the organization.

It is the plan of Col. R. L. Penick, chairman of the arrangements for the entertainment and reception of the early day cowboys, and his committee, composed of R. E. McDonald, John Selman, W. P. McDonald and D. T. Perkins to keep alive the history, traditions and associations that were formed during the early days of civilization in this area through having annual meetings of the pioneer cattlemen.

In addition to the active committee, Col. Penick and officials of the reunion association have selected an honorary committee made up of 50 pioneer cowboys who will assist in the program and formation of the old-timers' organization.

Each afternoon a western cowboy rodeo will be staged and an old-fashioned ranch dance will be given each evening.

All early day citizens of West Texas will be given special invitations to attend the affair.

The rodeo will be held in a natural amphitheatre a mile west of the business district of Stamford.

M. E. MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Methodist church met at the church with seventeen members, one visitor and seven children present. The meeting was opened by the president reading Exodus, the third Chapter. The business meeting was taken care of and then we took up our first lesson in the new book.

The Society decided to have an old fashioned box supper and a tacky party at the church on Thursday, June 26. The public is cordially invited.

The next meeting is our social meeting and will be at the home of Mrs. C. C. Mardis. Let us not forget about the box supper and each be on hand with boxes and dressed tacky.—Reporter.

Muleshoe Battles Clovis Nine To Six To Finish

The local base ball team was in Clovis Sunday for a return game that was rained out here some four weeks ago. The boys are making them all "sit up and take notice" having developed one of the fastest teams on the South Plains. The boys lost to Clovis by a score of 6 to 5, but it was a real fast game throughout. The home boys got three circuit blows off the Clovis pitcher but one was not counted on account of Eddie Moore having up so much speed he failed to touch all the bases. O. K. Angley knocked a ball so far it took six of the Clovis players to return it. Lefty Givins got the third home run with two men on bases which almost won the game for Muleshoe. The big pitch, Bentley Gwynn, and catcher, Roy Carr, had the Clovis guys guessing all the way through. The game as a whole was a dandy. We will have the Sudan team here next Sunday. This promises to be a real hot contest so come out and help put the locals over for a victory.—Reporter.

Prizes for the oldest old timer to register, for the best old time fiddlers and other such honors will be awarded by Jim Johnston, and Bud Johnston, who are staging the reunion.

An old timer is defined by the Johnstons as a person who has lived continuously for the past twenty-five years or more within a 150 mile radius of Lubbock.

The entire 5,200 acre ranch, most of it being under the caprock where spring water is found up and down the banks convenient to campers, will be thrown open to any and all who want to come and camp out for the three days. No charge for entering or camping will be made. A rodeo with attractive prizes will be held.

BYE, BY, JAILBIRD

Rogers was known. Pat was attracted by a staccato of xylophonic messages set up by the prisoner over the steam heating system, and immediately went to the jail to investigate. He notified Sheriff Douglas, who sent telephone messages to various points in an effort to apprehend the convict.

Mr. Bobo also found the note, in itself a masterpiece, which is reproduced as follows:

To whom it May Concern
I dont like to stay in Jail and I am not if I can help it. I did not get a Jail Sentence and their is not a law to compel me to stay here if I can get out. 30 days is not bad but 365 is to many for Poor little me.
You need not hunt for me for I will be many many miles away when you Read this. I got a wife to Support and Property to see after, and I can not do it here, the state is not gaining any thing by keeping me here. My health wont Permit me to stay confined in one place so long.

After the First Twenty-five Thousand Miles

THE VALUE of sound design, good materials and careful craftsmanship is especially apparent in the new Ford after the first twenty-five thousand miles. Long, continuous service emphasizes its mechanical reliability and economy of operation and up-keep.

As you drive the Ford through many months and years you will develop an increasing pride in its appearance and a growing respect for the substantial worth that has been built into it. From every standpoint—in everything that goes to make a good automobile—you will know that you have made a far-seeing, satisfactory purchase.

Wherever you go, you hear enthusiastic praise of the car and this significant, oft-repeated phrase—"I'm glad I bought a Ford."

A FORD owner in New York tells of a 13,000-mile trip across the United States and back in sixty days and says "the car was extremely economical to operate, comfortable and speedy." A grateful father tells how the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield saved his wife and children from serious injury.

To test tires, a large company drove a new Ford day and night, for an average of 500 miles every twenty-four hours. It was still giving satisfactory service after 105,000 miles.

A Ford car that had fallen into Fernaa Lake was submerged for twelve days before being raised. After a new battery and carburetor bowl were installed, it was driven back to Spokane under its own power.

Many police departments have written of the special advantages of the Ford in crowded traffic because of its alert speed, acceleration, and ease of control. An increasing number of fleet owners are also purchasing the Ford because their cost figures have given conclusive proof of its economy of operation and up-keep.

In addition to important triumphs in Germany, France and Italy, the Ford won six out of seven leading places in a contest in Finland, first and second in the Rafaela races in Argentina, first and second in the run from Copenhagen-to-Paris-to-Copenhagen, three gold medals in England, first ranking in the durability test over the tortuous Amanaces road in Peru, and first place in the 1930 reliability run conducted by the Royal Automobile Club of Sweden.

This contest was an exceptionally severe test of endurance and sturdy construction because it was held in the dead of winter and covered 600 miles of steady running over snow-covered country roads and mountainous hills.
