20,000 Arrive

Fish, a member of the House Judiciary Committee's Immigration subcommittee, said that so far 20,000 refugees have arrived in the United States, that another 100,000 are at staging areas in the Pacific and an untold number are on board ships.

A White House spokesman said that about 60 per cent of the refugees are children not seeking jobs and about 35,000 are heads of households.

The spokesman also said Ford has received communications from AFL-CIO President George Meany and Pope Paul VI urging him to take in the refugees.

Asked if he thought some of the opposition to the refugees was racist, Scott replied, "Enough to make you sick."

McGovern Criticized He singled out for criticism Sen. George McGovern, of South Dakota, the 1972 Democratic presidential nominee, who has suggested some refugees might want to return to Vietnam rather than settle in the United States.

Scott described McGovern's position as advocating sending the refugees back to Vietnam, and said it was a betrayal of professed liberalism.

Battle For Right To Build Pipeline Under Way In Washington Hearings

By JAMES GERSTENZANG Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle between companies seeking permission to build a pipeline to carry natural gas out of the Alaska wilderness is under way before the Federal Power Commission.

The opening session Monday produced only a few details of the two proposed pipeline routes.

El Paso Alaska Co. wants to build a pipeline from Prudhoe Bay on Alaska's North Slope south to Point Barrow on Alaska's southern coast where the gas would be liquefied and shipped to California.

Ataskan Arctic Gas Pipeline Co. wants to carry the natural gas through Canada and into the United States in a 2,625-mile-long pipeline stretching into Pennsylvania.

El Paso has maintained that the Alaskan Arctic route, because it would enter Canada, would jeopardize U.S. interests by involving a second government.

Paul R. Connolly, the chief lawyer for El Paso, questioned William Brackett, vice chairman of Alaskan Arctic, about gas to the eastern United States and as much as 37 per cent the Arctic affiliated group studying the feasibility of the pipeline. Brackett said 11 Canadian and eight U.S. companies were represented on the Canadian study group, but he denied that this would result in a "Canadian tilt" to the over-all project.

Connolly also questioned Brackett about the availability of pipe segments with diameters of 48 inches, as required for part of the plan advanced by Alaskan Arctic.

"Every engineer with whom I spoke is appalled that they think they can get 48-inch pipe in the time frame they have proposed," Connolly said at one point of his questioning.

Cross-examination of Brackett was based on a statement he filed with the commission outlining Alaskan Arctic's case. His company has claimed the El Paso route would increase by as much as 85 per cent the cost of transporting the natural gas to the eastern United States and as much as 37 per cent the

Harlingen Man's Body Discovered In Business Place

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Authorities looked for clues today in an investigation into the death of an 88-year-old Harlingen man whose bound and gagged body was found late Monday in a downtown business establishment.

Harlingen Police Capt. John Doster identified the man as William Oscar Haugen, proprietor of a physical fitness center here.

Doster said Haugen was found on the floor of a room in his business establishment. He said Haugen's hands were tied behind his back with a leather belt, his feet were tied with wire and a sock was stuffed in his mouth.

He said a basket of dirty clothes had been placed over the man's head.

An autopsy was ordered. Officers said they had not been able to determine if anything had been stolen from the business.

Nepal Avalanche Injures Climbers

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Seven members of a Japanese women's mountain climbing expedition and six Sherpa guides were hurt in a weekend avalanche on Mt. Everest, the Nepal Foreign Ministry announced today.

The avalanche swept down the Nuptse face of Everest onto a camp at 20,000 feet early Sunday, according to radio reports received by the ministry.

There was no word on whether the group would continue their attempt to put the first women climbers on top of the 29,000-foot Mt. Everest, the world's highest peak.

Canada Increasing Natural Gas Price

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada is increasing prices of natural gas sold to the United States while it cuts taxes on U.S.-bound crude oil.

The National Energy Board will implement a two-stage increase in rates for natural gas from the current $1 per thousand cubic feet to $1.60 by Nov. 1. The board estimated the increases will yield an extra $583 million a year to Canada.

Responding to sharp drops in export demand, the board on Monday announced cuts in export taxes on crude oil from $5.50 to $4.70 on a barrel of light crude, from $5 to $4.20 for heavy crude and from $4.40 to $4.20 for Lloydminster blend crude.

The board had recommended that the full increase in natural gas prices take effect Aug. 1, natural gas price was based on the coal price.

Donald told the House of Commons on Monday, but instead the government decided to implement it in stages to reduce the impact on American consumers.

Canadian natural gas, sold mainly in the Pacific Northwest and the northern Midwest, amounts to about 5 per cent of U.S. consumption.

The board gave an exception to Inter-City Gas Ltd., which will be allowed to export gas at a price of $1.30 a thousand cubic feet.

Macdonald said $1.30 was the commodity rate for fuel in the company's export market at International Falls, Minn. Macdonald said that the alternative fuel in the area is coal, and the natural gas price was based on the coal price.

Bombs Discovered In Three Hotels In Ireland City

LIMERICK, Ireland (AP) — Security forces sealed off the center of Limerick early today after bombs were discovered in three hotels and more were feared planted in other buildings. None exploded.

Official sources theorized the bombs may have been planted as a diversion in a plan to spring Dr. Rose Dugdale, a British millionaire's daughter turned revolutionary, from Limerick jail.

She is serving a nine-year sentence for raids carried out for the Irish Republican Army. She allegedly masterminded a $19.2 million art theft from the mansion of millionaire Sir Alfred Beit and the bombing of a Northern Ireland police post from a hijacked helicopter.

Police squads descended on Cruise's Hotel after midnight called by staff members suspicious of a guest who refused to allow a porter to carry his bags to his room.

Police said the man fled, but searchers found a half-pound gelignite charge attached to a 10-gallon drum of gasoline outside the hotel.

A police spokesman said other bombs were found in the Royal George Hotel—charge hidden in an attache case—and the Ard Hu Hotel.

WELCOME SPEAKER—Mrs. J. L. Rose, president of Church Women United, left, and Mrs. Henry C. Libby, CWU member representing St. Luke's United Methodist Church, welcome the guest speaker, Rusty Wall, assistant to the district attorney, to a recent meeting during which he told the group about women in prison and their problems.

Prosecutor Speaks To CWU

By PATSY GORDON
The prosecution had its "day in court" when Rusty Wall, assistant to the district attorney, Jim Mashburn, spoke to Church Women United Friday on their observance of May Fellowship Day at St. Luke's United Methodist Church.

This year's theme of CWU is "Open to Live Fully," an invitation to experience wholeness as persons through personal growth and sharing in the lives of others. For Christian women, this also means becoming open to those who have been cast out by society because of prison records, and to those who have been deprived because of economic circumstances. It is the goal of CWU to assist all women in transition so each may attain a full and meaningful life.

Wall enlightened the church women with his presentation on "Women and the Prison System." He cast a light on what happens to women offenders in prison and after they are released. Also, he discussed some of the problems encountered when the women make a re-entry into society.

The prosecutor discussed three areas—what and where facilities for women inmates are; what it is like to be on parole and the problems it presents; and probation, the "halfway house" to prison.

Wall pointed out some interesting statistics about the Texas Department of Corrections at Huntsville. He said the department houses approximately 17,000 prisoners, 700 of these being women.

These women are confined to the Goree Unit, located approximately five miles southwest of the main prison. The unit covers 889 acres and those serving time there have been convicted both of serious and less serious crimes. However, said Wall, there are plans to open a second unit, Mountain View, and current plans call for the more serious offenders to stay at Goree.

There are facilities at Goree, said Wall, for in-service training. The unit is responsible for the garment factory, where uniforms are made for prisoners—both male and female. The work done there is strictly voluntary, but the women are encouraged to participate.

Many of the women are also attempting to get an education while at Goree. The Whiteside School District gives them the opportunity, as well as the men, to earn a General Equivalency Diploma (GED). Wall said approximately 70 percent of the women are taking advantage of this, while throughout the prison system, approximately 56 percent of the total prisoners are participating.

Wall said that under the statutes of law, a person has to serve 1-3 of his sentence, or 20 years for a more serious offense. His time can be reduced through "good time" and this makes it possible for an earlier release.

There are three persons who sit on the Board of Pardons and Parole. These are appointed by the governor of Texas, the chief justice of the Supreme Court of Texas and the chief justice of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals. There must be unanimous agreement on a parole application before release is approved.

And before a prisoner is released, he or she may participate in a work furlough program, where they work outside the prison during the day and return during the evening. They also undergo outside preparation where a chance is given to visit family and interview for job opportunities, Wall said. He noted

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:
I've seen several of my hints in your column and have learned many more from it. Maybe this will be helpful, too, especially for those trying to balance budgets. (And who isn't these days. Right, gals?—H.)

We opened a separate savings account and every payday (every two weeks for us), we put one-twenty-sixth of major annual bills into the account, such as car, life and house insurance, taxes, etc.

If you like, you could also include car registration fee, Christmas club dues, and any other annual bill you might have.

If we have a few extra dollars, we throw them in the account for unexpected bills such as doctor, dentist and car repairs.

Sure comes in handy when the bills arrive, and a lot easier saving a few dollars a payday instead of having to dig the money up all at once for a big bill.

Don't forget you will also be making a little interest on your account. And another thought:

When you pay bills annually, you usually receive a savings over paying them monthly or quarterly.

Janice Beggan

Dear Heloise:
Friends, aunts and grandparents of little children can bring sparkles to their eyes for a few pennies.

All that takes is a surprise letter or picture card with a stick of gum, or a small piece of candy, etc. It makes no difference whether they live in the same city or a great distance away.

What a bountiful reward for a little thoughtfulness!

Helen Gaines

Little children aren't the only ones that would appreciate your idea.

I know when I was in college, I was very thankful for the couple of dollars that Mother would include in her letters near the end of the month. They always came at just the right time.

When funds are low (especially for college students), a little money—and the thought behind it—can really brighten one's day!

Heloise II

LETTER OF LAUGHTER
Dear Heloise:
One of the best ways to really get your house clean is to invite guests a week ahead.

Lucille M.

How very true!
I can get more done in that one week than I can in a month of Sundays otherwise.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:
Here's a hint for new gardeners, and hopefully we'll have a lot of new ones this year.

When planting small seeds of any kind, mix a pint of dry sandy soil with a package of seeds. A quart container, or larger, of most any kind will do fine to mix them in, but be sure you mix sand and seeds thoroughly.

This will help to keep them from being planted too thickly, thereby wasting seeds.

Sylvia

Dear Heloise:
I have a marvelous idea for stamp-saving housewives.

Instead of licking stamps, I use an empty shoe polish bottle—the type with the applicator on top.

When all of the polish has been used, clean it and refill it with water. Sure saves a lot of licking.

Mrs. O. Dukas

Dear Heloise:
I do a lot of embroidery-type sewing and have found that if I'll rinse the thread before I use it, it keeps the thread from shrinking after I wash the finished product.

No more puckered pictures.

Nadine Sanderson

Dear Heloise:
My 10-year-old daughter used my plastic dish pan, that had sprung a leak, as a cute and practical little bed for our little puppy.

She cut a "door" on one side and put a baby blanket in it. It's practical, because it can be washed if need be, and the little dog loves it.

Betty Thurston

THIS COLUMN is written for you... the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of this newspaper. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

A Few Joys Of Living Alone

Those of us who live cheek by jowl with several other people occasionally fantasize over the prospect of living completely alone.

While I dearly love my family, I do occasionally wistfully consider:

Sleeping Alone. There are several obvious joys in sleeping alone. Not only can you fling your arms about without stubbing them on noses, but you don't have to share pillows and blankets or try to sleep with the light on because someone insists on finishing chapter twenty-two of "Portnoy's Complaint." The only cold feet in bed are your own; you couldn't put them in the small of your back even if you wanted to.

Not only do you have no one's irregular breathing or snoring patterns to contend with, but no one will shriek "Stop that, you murderous bolshevik!" at 2 a.m.

The Bathroom. You never find yourself standing out in the hall with a mouthful of Pepsodent toothpaste because someone else has to use the bathroom.

You never have to take a cold shower because four other people have had hot ones.

Eating Alone. People who eat alone are never obligated to eat something simply because it is good for them. If you choose never to have anything to do with green vegetables, no one will lecture you on the vital importance of the Basic Seven.

You never have to watch anyone put catsup on cottage cheese, pick mushrooms and/or green peppers out of something you have spent hours putting them in, or stick two carrot sticks under his upper lip and declare that he is a walrus.

As time draws near to the end of the 1974-1975 school year, everyone is beginning to look toward the future. A brief look at the past, however, will reveal that a tribute should be given to Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors, faculty, and in fact, all of Midland.

REMEMBER WHEN...
In the month of September we started things off Saturday before school began with "Maroon Day." Since then, every day has been a Maroon Day. We welcomed Dr. Glen Newick and Joe Smith as our newest Rebel administrators. Seven Smartie Seniors were named National Merit Semifinalists: Dick Bowden, Tim Brown, Barry Halvorsen, Chris Johnson, Bill Kelly, John Reynolds and Carl Rutz. Two smartie administrators, Lu Goode and Joe Smith, obtained their doctorates. The Maroon Platoon stood undefeated in pre-district football standings.

REMEMBER WHEN...
The fall of the Odessa Broncos really set the mood for an exciting Homecoming gala. All eyes were on the Queen, Donna Nipp, and her duchesses, Linda Ewan, Becky Ellis, Mary Jane Morales and Crystal Stewart. Three of the four football victories this month were ours. The Youth Centers were busy also sponsoring the successful Halloween Carnival and firewood sale.

REMEMBER WHEN...
November saw the fall of the Mojos! The Mojo dynasty was NO MO! After an exciting battle to the finish, and a tie with Midland High, Lee was crowned District Co-Champions with San Angelo. Because of our 21-7 victory over the Bobcats, Dixie met Wichita Falls Rider in bi-district play. "That's all right, that's O.K. we're number one in 5-A!" — and we've got the bell to prove it!!

Keith Bishop, Blaine Murray, Junior Miller and David Sledge were named to the All-District Football Team. On the honorable mention list were Steve Degenfelder, Gary Bowman, Russell Mathis and Greg Rendall. The man who really put it all together, Jim Acree, was named the 1974 Coach of the Year. While the football season was coming to a close, the Booming Basketball Brigade was beginning its phenomenal season. During the Thanksgiving holidays Lee hosted the Tall City Basketball Tournament. This was the place where it all began, as we won our first tournament.

REMEMBER WHEN...
In the month of December the basketball pre-district games came to a close with a record of fifteen wins and one loss. Hobbs got us the first time, but Lee doesn't make the same mistake twice. The Plainview Tournament and the Howard Payne Tournament were the second and third tournament wins. At the Texas Tech Invitational Swimming and Diving Meet, the men took first and the women took second.

REMEMBER WHEN...
January and the new year brought a new basketball season for the 1974 district champs. The move toward the district title this year put Odessa High, San Angelo, Abilene Cooper, MHS, and Permian behind the scene and made the Rebs the star. The end of January found the Rebels leading the way to state. At the Football Banquet, all outstanding players were recognized, and Lance Posey was presented the Lena Douglas Award for maintaining the highest grade point average of those on the varsity football team.

REMEMBER WHEN...
February came with songs, carnations, and telegrams. Julie Naglee and Ann Higgins were named to the All-Tournament Team at the Monahans Invitational Volleyball Tournament. Preparation for baseball season began when five Bat Girls were chosen by Coach Ernie Johnson and the baseball team. They were Linda Ewan, Diane Smith, Susan Wallace, Judi Ottmann and Bobbie Salgado. Three senior choir members were selected to sing with the All State Choir: Gayette Lott, Milton Jones, Kathy McGee. The senior play was staged. The basketball season ended with Lee and Midland High tied for first half, and Abilene High with second half honors. After the play-offs, Lee had the crown out-right. The Cindermen won two invitational relays: Brownfield and Comanche. Polly Haney took third in the Free-X

Division at the San Angelo Gymnastics Meet.
REMEMBER WHEN...
In March the Lee Red Basketball team defeated Wichita Falls Rider, Lubbock Monterey, El Paso Bowie and Coach Paul Stueckler headed his players for state (in his new wardrobe) in a game that was viewed by 7,200 fans. Hearts still are thumping when thoughts of three overtimes come. Junior Miller and Bret Blackwell were named to the 1st All-District team, and Ronnie Parish to the 2nd. Junior was named district 5-4A Most Valuable Player. Our guys placed 1st in the regional swim meet, while the girls placed 2nd. Brad Swendig qualified for All-American consideration. District baseball play began, and the Reds started another winning season. The Boys Golf Team took first place at the Del Rio Golf Classic, while the tracksters were running away with first place honors at the Yaleta Relays. All-State Band Participants were announced. Those participating from Lee were Dan Shipman and Nan Gordon. Robert Fox won 1st place in the Men's Single Tennis Championship held in Abilene. Tanya Jones and Berry Spears qualified to compete at the National Debate Tournament to be held in Indiana. To end the busy month fourteen seniors were honored at the presentation of the 1975 Rebelec Court. REMEMBER WHEN...

April brought a tie for the first half baseball title to the Reds. Lee took the lead for the second half title by defeating the Big Spring Steers. Milton Jones broke all track records with a mighty heave of the discus. Going to the state track meet are Milton Jones, Russell Kellner, Tim Parker and Otis Butler. Larry Hicks and Robert Stiles qualified for regionals in tennis. Lee won the UIL Literary Sweepstakes in regional competition. Liz Norton qualified in this tournament to go to state. The Lee Band was one of three bands to receive sweepstakes honors in the UIL Contest. The senior dinner was fun. On the band's yearly trip to Corpus Christi, the honor band received a superior rating and the symphonic band received an outstanding rating. The ICT went to a state convention and took first place for the outstanding club display. Cosmetology students participated in the State Meet. Winners included Carlotta Fuentes, Ami Thomas, Debbie Payne, and Yolanda Lara. Liz Norton won medalist in the State Girls' Golf Tournament in Austin. The Foreign Language Festival was held with all the language clubs joining in the fun. National Merit Finalists Richard Bowden, Tim Brown, Barry Halvorsen, Bill Kelly and John Reynolds were announced. The Lee High Chorus received a superior ranking in Corpus Christi. The Girl's Choir received a 1st while the Boys' Choir received a 2nd. LEE WON ITS THIRD MAJOR DISTRICT TITLE!!! This time the crown was a baseball.

The past has been a memorable one with achievements accomplished beyond all expectations. May has just begun and is promising to be as fruitful as the months of the past. The Junior-Senior Prom is scheduled Saturday. A junior council meeting will be held at 7:40 a.m. Thursday. Next week, three new chatter writers will be reporting. Good-bye and REMEMBER WHEN, Tanya, Linda, and Becky P.S. Happy Birthday to Trey Ford, Brenda Jeary and Michele Gilles.

Cuevas' New Trial Hearing Delayed

HOUSTON (AP) — Motions for a new trial in the case of Ignacio Cuevas, convicted in connection with the Aug. 3 Huntsville prison shooting, will be heard May 23 by State District Court Judge Miron Love. Cuevas, the lone prison inmate survivor of the prison escape attempt and shootout that followed, was assessed the death penalty by a jury last month. The hearing, scheduled Monday, was postponed after defense lawyer Will Gray amended his original request. He said his new petition contended that he did not have enough time to complete his investigation before the Cuevas trial began. Gray also contended in the original petition for a new trial that the jury was coerced into its death penalty verdict when Judge Love allowed it to deliberate 18 hours.

Boston Newspaper Wins 4th Pulitzer Prize In 9 Years

NEW YORK (AP) — The Boston Globe has won its fourth Pulitzer Prize in nine years, and playwright Edward Albee has been honored with his second Pulitzer in eight years.

The Globe took honors at the 89th annual awards Monday for meritorious public service in its "massive and balanced" coverage of the Boston school desegregation crisis and Albee for drama with "Sweeney," a philosophic comedy that had a 65-performance run on Broadway and left town $150,000 in the hole.

In 1966 the Globe won an award in the same category and Albee was cited in 1967 for "A Delicate Balance."

Dumas Malone's five volumes of "Jefferson and His Time" won honors for history, making Malone, 83, the oldest person ever to win a Pulitzer Prize.

"The War Broker: Robert Moses and the Fall of New York," a 1,246-page, topical and controversial review of the so-called master builder's career by Robert A. Caro won for the best biography.

Ohio's small Xenia Daily Gazette won the prize for general local reporting for its account of an April 3, 1974, tornado that virtually razed the town.

National reporting honors went to the Philadelphia Inquirer team of Donald L. Bartlett and James B. Steele for a seven-part series, "Auditing the Internal Revenue Service," which bared inequities in the federal taxation system.

Two Chicago Tribune staffers, reporter William Mullen, and photographer Ovid Carter, were cited for international reporting. They traveled 10,000 miles across Africa and India to report on a famine that threatened almost half a billion lives.

Special local reporting honors went to the Indianapolis Star for a six-month investigation of police corruption.

The editorial writing prize was captured by John Daniel Maurice of the Charleston (W.Va.) Daily Mail. His winning editorials were on a school textbook controversy that has led to violence.

Her trenchant essays on Washington and the nation won for Mary McGroarty of the Washington Star the Pulitzer Prize for Commentary.

Garry Trudeau received the editorial cartooning award for his "Doomsday" strip with its commentary on the Nixon administration, the Vietnam War, and the ascension of Gerald R. Ford to the presidency. It was the first time since the editorial cartoon awards were started in 1922 that the prize went to a strip cartoon which usually appears on the comics page.

Mills Resumes Capitol Hill Duties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills' tax-writing experience will be used extensively now that he has returned to Congress, according to his successor as chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Mills resumed his Capitol Hill duties Monday following weeks of treatment for alcoholism.

Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., who succeeded the Arkansas Democrat as committee chairman, told a reporter: "I personally intend to consult him extensively. Especially when we get into general tax reform, we hope to use his expertise extensively."

Mills had not been in Washington during the present session of Congress. In the wake of widely publicized incidents linked to his association with a strip dancer, he did not seek reappointment as committee chairman, but continued as a member of the committee.

Mills told newsmen Monday he intends to be active on the committee, but would not take

Deputy Found Handcuffed In His Car's Trunk Tells Story Of Being Abducted

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — wrapped in Rangel's raincoat, Fellow officers found a missing Dallas County deputy sheriff shackled with his own handcuffs and imprisoned in the trunk of his patrol car today.

The unarmed deputy, Genaro Rangel, told of being kidnapped after halting a Fort Worth taxicab for a traffic violation about 1:45 a.m. near the southwest corner of Dallas County. It was about four hours later before his vehicle and Rangel were found on an Interstate 30 exit ramp six miles west of Texarkana near the town of Nash, Texas Ranger Max Womack said.

"Man, it was rough rolling around in the back of that car," Rangel exclaimed after being freed.

Although investigators would search continued for an armed man, about 35, who abducted Mount Pleasant with three occupants. Rangel's vehicle was carried a sawed-off shotgun found a short time later.

part in the final shaping of an energy tax bill now nearing completion because he had not heard testimony or discussions.

Asked whether it was difficult to drop to the No. 2 position on a committee he had headed for 17 years, Mills said, "Not at all. I was No. 2 a long time (before becoming chairman). It's fine — you don't have all that responsibility."

Mills said he thinks his difficulties were caused in part by assuming too much responsibility and working too long hours — "I learned I'm not a man of steel." He said he intended to limit his activities, and that he turned down a subcommittee chairmanship.

Ullman later said, "My impression is that he won't want any special responsibility for the present."

Several committee members, who asked not to be quoted by name, expressed the opinion that a potentially awkward situation would be averted by the tact of Ullman and Mills.

"Wilbur has always been a gentleman and he will certainly be one now," said one member who frequently differed on issues with the former chairman.

Mills said he intends to maintain complete sobriety and thinks he can do so, but added, "alcoholism is an insidious disease" and no alcoholic can be sure.

He said he thinks he will complete his present term in Congress and has made no decision about running again.

Proposals For More Regulations! Nuts!

WASHINGTON (KFS) — One thing safely can be said about the 94th Congress: It would like to saddle American business with a new layer of government regulation (or even partial nationalization).

A list of the proposals made since January brings the New Deal's "Alphabet Soup" to mind — RFC, NRA, TVA and the like. Speeches have been made or bills introduced on behalf of a National Energy and Conservation Corporation; a National Grid Corporation of electric power; a new Reconstruction Finance Corporation, various utility bond guaranty authorities, plus such government railroad entities as ConFac (Consolidated Facilities Corp.).

Corporate executives justifiably are suspicious of government panaceas. But I would caution businessmen against politicians and pundits who bluster about "socialism" as if they believed the industries listed above originated in free markets and private entrepreneurialism.

"State partnership in corporate enterprise seemed natural in the early 19th Century. In the first place, many corporations were chartered to do work traditionally part of the function of the state. These jobs included road building, banking and the digging of canals. Secondly, since each franchise was a privilege and favor, the state had the right to exact a price, which might include strict control or even profit sharing. Pennsylvania, for example, not only owned stock in its banks, but after 1806, invested in turnpikes, bridge companies, canal companies and finally in railroads. States and cities both engaged in railroad boosting. Between 1827 and 1878, New York state lent, leased, or donated $10,308,944.77 for enterprises.

Instead, Congress' new proposals should be faulted on their economic and political merits. A few are plausible. Most are the recession-prompted ideas of legislators who exercised no real power until the 94th Congress. Reuss, for example, recently said that he'd like to see a couple of publicly-owned banks and oil companies as yardsticks "to keep (private concerns) on their toes by giving them a little government competition."

On this basis, congressional restructuring of U.S. industry becomes palpably ludicrous. Kudos to National Review editor Jim Reynolds who recently told a laughing audience that Gulf Oil Corporation had come up with the most appropriate response of all — "They tried to buy Ringling Brothers Circus to serve as a yardstick by which to measure Congress."

Just a second, and I'll tell you yes or no

Illustrated by L.A. Times Syndicate

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON with Les Whitten WASHINGTON — Intercepted messages and reconnaissance reports reveal that the gigantic month-long Soviet naval exercise, just concluded, was a mock nuclear attack on the United States.

Other ominous intelligence reports compiled by the Central Intelligence Agency, Defense Intelligence Agency and State Department show that the Russians also are constructing supersophisticated, bomb-proof underground installations around Moscow.

These awesome activities have American intelligence analysts gravely perplexed. "We live with the possibility of nuclear war every day," one top intelligence official told us. "But no one really believes it will ever happen. Now here are the Russians actually practicing for such a thing. It's really scary."

Our sources caution, however, against jumping to any conclusion about the developments in Russia. The Soviets, they say, show no indication that they are abandoning the detente with the United States. On the contrary, the dismissal of Kremlin hardliner Alexander Shelepin, according to intelligence analyses, suggests that Moscow still wants friendly relations with the West.

More ships were involved in the mock nuclear attack than have ever been deployed in Soviet naval history. Not even the United States, with all its allies, has ever held such large-scale maneuvers.

More than 220 Russian vessels participated in the worldwide exercises, including the most powerful cruisers, destroyers and submarines in the Russian fleet.

They sailed from their home ports into the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, the North Sea, the Indian Ocean and the Mediterranean and zeroed in on American sea lanes.

Soviet battle groups, playing the role of U.S. warships, were dispatched throughout the seven seas. Then, long-range Russian reconnaissance aircraft located and intercepted them.

Significantly, some of the Soviet planes operated out of bases in Cuba, Guinea, East Africa and the Soviet Union itself. The use of Cuba as a military base, some sources pointed out, comes close to violating the Monroe Doctrine.

Throughout the exercise, Soviet planes and ships engaged in simulated attacks.

The scenario they used, the intercepted messages show, was a nuclear war. And the compelling drama began with a simulated Soviet nuclear attack on the United States.

Official spokesmen refused to confirm that the spectacular exercise was a mock nuclear war. But our sources say they are worried about Russian sensibilities.

Around Moscow, meanwhile, the Kremlin is building a reported 27 subterranean facilities which are designed, say our sources, to be used as command centers in the event of nuclear war.

of Fresno (Calif.) NOW chapter. "I was hounded out," Ms. Ahern told me, "after they learned I was in the pro-life movement. They would change meeting places and times without telling me, and hassle me at meetings. It's ironic that I can't be for equal pay and the other issues and still be against abortion."

Tut, tut, you women bishops of NOW. Must you excommunicate your own members and even fall into factual error by charging that the pro-life movement is a papal plot? Al Smith ran for President way back in 1928. But NOW President DeCrow still charges "that the Catholic Church is the money and the power behind the anti-abortion fight."

Anybody who has observed this movement knows that just isn't so, that many pro-life organization officers and members are Protestants.

'Music Is Power'

Most persons enjoy music, to varying degrees, but all too few of us give it the thought or support which it so richly merits.

We are inclined to take so much for granted, and this certainly is true as it relates to good music and the story behind it. Neither do most musicians receive the credit they deserve, in keeping with the long training and almost constant practice in which they are or have been involved.

But it isn't too late to correct some of our shortcomings in the area of music and musicians.

National Music Week is an excellent time to give thought and attention to this matter.

The 52nd annual observance of National Music Week has as its theme, "Music Is Power."

The theme undoubtedly will go unchallenged, since the tremendous power of music is a generally accepted fact. It would behoove us, then, to take advantage of every opportunity to become more familiar with good music.

The National Federation of Music Clubs, sponsor of the observance, offers opportunities for doing just this, through its local chapters and other participating organizations.

It is only fitting that the Tall City of Midland, which is and long has been blessed with good music and fine musicians, should join in the spirit of the occasion by presenting several special events.

A special music display may be viewed this week at the Midland County Public Library.

The Midland Music Club, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, will present an ensemble of women in a special program scheduled at 3 p.m., May 11, in the Museum of the Southwest.

The Musicians Club, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, will present its annual musicale at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., May 13, in the Midland Woman's Club. It will feature a wide variety of musical talent from the community.

But music in Midland ranges far beyond just these two clubs. Music has been emphasized in the Midland public schools from their very beginning before the turn of the century.

The two high schools, of course, have top-ranked marching bands and choirs. They also have fine stage bands. Junior high schools also have great bands. There also is the Midland Downtown Lions Club's "Big Name" band, which has attracted international attention. Other organizations have musical units of various kinds—all providing music for music-loving Midlanders.

The Midland-Odessa Symphony Orchestra and Chorale, as most persons know, is one of the finest, most popular and most widely acclaimed musical units of its kind to be found anywhere. Its final concert of the season is scheduled here tonight.

Then there are the scores of talented, dedicated music teachers who are working with the youth of the city, launching some of them, hopefully, on outstanding musical careers. All of them will have a far greater appreciation for music as a result of their early training. Recitals featuring the students now are under way here.

A snappy salute and generous applause are directed to all musicians, music lovers, music directors, music students and music organizations during the Music Week observance.

Thus the Jews smote all their enemies with the stroke of the sword, and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would unto those that hated them—Ezther 9:5

Who's Excommunicating Whom These Days?

WASHINGTON — Out in San Diego, Calif., a relaxed, sensible city, there is a fuss over how Bishop Leo T. Maher denies the sacraments to Catholics espousing abortion or belonging to organizations promoting abortion. The National Organization for Women (NOW), being such an outfit, is in the middle of this loud quarrel.

Scepter and all, Bishop Maher made it clear that he wasn't excommunicating anyone, he was only insisting that Catholics practice their faith. It takes a militant organization with far greater powers, NOW, to excommunicate its members over the abortion issue — and it has. Anyway, there now are loud shouts from feminist groups that Bishop Maher, a no-nonsense Irishman, is a typical male chauvinist cleric, repressing the right of free association and thought. Karen DeCrow, national president of NOW, said the bishop's pastoral letter "is a direct challenge from the Roman Catholic hierarchy to women who want to control their own bodies."

Naturally, some Catholic women, wore their NOW buttons to church to receive Holy Communion in defiance of the bishop. Naturally, they were denied the sacrament. And, naturally, that caused more verbal hell-raising. In Washington, Jan Liebman, NOW's legislative vice-president, promised even more protests on Mother's Day when an apostolic delegation meets here.

Bishop Maher since has declared that his letter was not intended to condemn NOW, but rather its pro-abortion stand. He further explained that he was just reaffirming the Church's teaching that "abortion intended as a deliberate and direct interruption of the generative process of life is a serious moral crime because it violates the fundamental right of existence which God has imparted to every human being."

He also explained that people affected by the order, presumably NOW members, have not been excommunicated and are free to attend worship service and participate in the life of the Church.

As for women, Bishop Maher said: "From its beginnings, the Church of Christ has claimed for woman the restoration of her original dignity and her emancipation from cultural inequities and the stigma of inferiority imposed in the past."

Bishop Maher said young people question how a practicing Catholic could advocate abortion, so he wrote the letter "to show the honesty of the Church's position. We must show the world we practice what we preach."

All right, you San Diego Catholics, if you believe in abortion, you still can go to church, but you can't have the sacraments.

But what about you NOW members who are against abortion? Well, NOW's hierarchy is likely to excommunicate you from this elite body of feminism for holding such convictions. On Dec. 18, 1974, in James Thurber's Columbus, Ohio — the heart of Middle America — Mrs. Pat Goltz, 31, Lutheran and militant feminist, was canceled as a member of the Columbus NOW chapter on grounds that she "publicly advocated the limitation of a woman's right to choose abortion, a fundamental policy of the National Organization For Women."

Chapter President Erica Scurr had informed Mrs. Goltz that her "active and public" support of "Feminists for Life" contradicted NOW policy.

Mrs. Goltz was defended by Benson Wolman, executive director of the Ohio American Civil Liberties Union, and somehow also a member of NOW's Columbus chapter.

He argued that: It didn't fit NOW to deny any member freedom of speech; Mrs. Goltz had never misrepresented NOW's position on abortion in public or private; it is desirable for NOW to allow rational dissent, and that by rejecting Mrs. Goltz, NOW would adversely affect its standing with state legislators.

Mrs. Goltz said she joined NOW in 1970, campaigned ardently for the Equal Rights Amendment by testifying, demonstrating and even sitting in at the Ohio State Rotunda. She also helped found "Feminists for Life" because she feels "permissive abortion kills unborn women and men and exploits their mothers."

No matter, Goltz is out, and so is Karen Lorene Ahern, one-time member

Legendary Newspaper To Survive

By BILL ROBERTS
TOMBSTONE, Ariz. (AP) —

The Tombstone Epitaph, a legendary frontier newspaper which chronicled the Old West's shootouts, is winning its struggle for survival, thanks to 13 University of Arizona students and their professors.

"These so-called kids have given us older people some insight into their ability," says Mayor Jack Hendrickson, owner of the Lucky Cass Restaurant here. "It seems some of these kids have more ability than us."

Earlier this year, the weekly Epitaph came dangerously close to publishing its own obituary. Tombstone, once a colorful mining city of thousands, had dwindled to little more than 1,000.

Started in 1880

For the Epitaph, that spelled declining revenue and a local circulation of barely 300.

The first issue of the Epitaph hit the bustling streets of Tombstone on May 1, 1880. For decades, it covered the adventures of pistoleros and lawmen, including Wyatt Earp, from a rambling adobe building not far from the O.K. Corral.

Today, University of Arizona students work from an office at the Chamber of Commerce, sending their stories back to the Tucson campus for editing and eventually to a commercial printer for publication.

The new arrangement dates to early this year, when the skidding economy forced News paper owner Harold Love of Detroit to stop the weekly publication.

Students Take Over

He donated the paper's name to the university journalism department in February. In return, 13 students in the department's community newspapers project class began publishing it biweekly.

The university does not accept display advertising and gives the paper away free of charge, depending on grants and money within the journalism department budget to finance the operation.

"It's strictly a local newspaper," says instructor Phil Mangelsdorf. "Right now we don't take advertising, although free classified advertising is accepted."

Mangelsdorf says he feels his department has enough money to keep the paper going for a year and should be able to arrange financing to continue it after that. Meanwhile, his students are receiving valuable experience, he says.

The latest issue of the paper, the fifth since students took it over, came out May 2. That's the newspaper's 95th birthday.

Fewer Soviet Jews Now Enter Israel

Agence France-Presse

JERUSALEM — Immigration of Soviet Jews into Israel since the beginning of the year is down more than 50 per cent compared with the same period last year, according to government figures issued here.

The figures showed that between Jan. 1 and April 30 this year, Israel received 3,000 Soviet Jewish immigrants, compared with the 1974 figure of 7,200 immigrants.

Archaeologists Slate Meeting

DALLAS (AP) — More than 1,000 archaeologists from the United States and abroad are expected to attend the meeting of the Society for American Archaeology here May 8-10.

Archaeological projects ranging from research on early man in the New World to identification of animal bones in the Middle East will be covered in the 250 papers to be delivered in 40 sessions.

Use Of Imagination Can Make Arithmetic Practice Enjoyable

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the second of a series of 14 articles prepared by Science Research Associates, Inc., that shows how everyday situations can help children learn to add, subtract, multiply and divide.

The process of adding, subtracting, multiplying and dividing is called "computation" and is a basic part of the mathematics language. "Computation" is the "arithmetic" part of mathematics. Some might compare it with learning grammar as a part of the "alphabet" language. Or with scales and chords when one is learning music.

When mathematicians solve problems, they seldom do computation by hand — they use calculators and computers. They may even make mistakes when they compute by hand. But for all people, some knowledge of basic arithmetic is necessary in everyday life.

Practice is necessary to develop arithmetic skills but a little imagination can be used to make it palatable and, perhaps, even fun.

There are many opportunities for a child to practice computation with everyday things, and such imaginative number play also can be applied to more traditional paperwork problems.

Pages of problems offer the most drill in the least space — but such pages can be overwhelming to a child who is just learning to add. Particularly if he is having trouble and if he feels he has to work "every single one of them."

But if the page is interesting, if it seems relaxed and unpressured and captures the child's attention, he seldom feels anxious or overwhelmed by arithmetic problems.

Today's exercise provides children a "goal" — to get the spacemen back to their ship so they won't be "suspended" in space.

The space maze provides practice in addition. It has 33 problems but if the child finds the proper "path" back to spaceship, there will be only 16 problems to work.

With a crayon, the child should lightly trace the route to the space ship, then work only those problems marked on the path. If the child wants to go ahead and work all the problems at a later time, that's O.K. too.

Drill is needed in arithmetic — but it doesn't have to be dreary.

If you would like a 32-page color booklet incorporating additional arithmetic problems that may help your child, send $1 to The Reporter-Telegram. Be sure your name and address are printed clearly. Your booklet will be mailed directly to you from Chicago.

Child, 2, Pulled From Well After Five-Hour Ordeal

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "We got you, babe. Come on," crooned a rescue worker after chiseling the final inches to 2-year-old Michael Smith, trapped 10 feet down a narrow well in a bean field.

The naked toddler was freed after a five-hour effort by rescuers Monday night. Michael was reported in satisfactory condition today at a nearby hospital.

"He was shaking from the cold water, but he was okay," said Dade County fireman Raul Chavez.

Cries For Mother
The child's cries for his mother encouraged rescuers as they used a mechanical shovel to dig a hole parallel to the 9-inch-wide well. Jackhammers and chisels were used to tunnel horizontally through limestone to the child.

"He started slipping toward the end, and we got scared we'd lose him," fireman Gregory Gerlach said.

Chavez kept hold of Michael with two hooked poles to keep him from falling deeper and drowning. He never went farther than chest-high in the water.

Hooked By Diapers
"We had him hooked by the diapers, but they were the disposable kind, and after a few hours, they sort of disintegrated," Chavez said. "We had him pretty good, though, and I kept telling him to keep his head turned up so he wouldn't go under water."

Michael's mother, Barbara Jean Smith, 20, said she had taken her son with her when she went to pick beans in the field at $8 a day. Miss Smith, who is unmarried, said she couldn't afford a babysitter so she left Michael in a car at the edge of the field.

Straw baskets had been placed over several wells in the field.

"One of the pickers took this one out," said Miss Smith. "I found out about it when a lady called over to me and said my baby done fell in the well."

"He's my only boy."

Turned Around
Chavez said that at one point, Michael turned completely around in the hole.

"He was a squirmy little devil," the fireman said.

It was the sixth time in about four years that a child has fallen into one of the barely visible irrigation wells in south-Dade County vegetable fields. One child died; the others were rescued.

The county has passed a mandatory well-capping ordinance covering fields in which the public can pick fresh vegetables, but this field was not covered because it was privately picked.

Arkansas Lass Named New America's Junior Miss

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A $1,500 scholarship for overall scholastic achievement went to Miss New America's Junior Miss, LeAnne Sullivan, 17, of Manchester.

As America's Junior Miss, the 17-year-old brunette from Fayetteville, Ark., will travel a lot.

But she made her first airplane ride on her way to Mobile and the 18th annual America's Junior Miss competition with high school seniors from every state.

Miss Forshee wept when she was chosen Monday night. She won a total of $12,000 in college scholarships and was a double winner in preliminary events.

America's new premier high school senior said she sprained an ankle during rehearsals for her talent number, a dance as a music box mannequin, Sunday, and had a sore throat.

"I feel great. I had some pain killers. I'm all mixed up, but happy. I'm so excited about it," she said after the nationally televised finals.

"I'm looking forward to next year. I'll be traveling a lot, and I love traveling."

Her father, Robert Forshee, said his daughter has competed in amateur dance contests since she was about 5 years old.

Miss Forshee had won preliminary judging in poise and appearance and youth fitness.

First runnerup was Miss Michigan, Pamela Miller, 17, of Battle Creek, who received a $6,000 scholarship. A $4,000 scholarship was awarded to the second runnerup, Miss Hawaii, Corlis Chang, 17, of Honolulu.

Third runnerup was Miss Ohio, Taryn Lee Hunter, 18, of Columbus, with a $2,500 scholarship. A like amount went to fourth runnerup Miss Kentucky, Valerie Parr, 17, of Lexington.

Others among the seven finalists were Miss Maryland, Claudia Miller, 17, of Sparks, and Miss Oklahoma, Kay Northcutt, 18, of Oklahoma City. They received $1,000 scholarships.

Miss Scholz was among the 10 semifinalists, along with Miss New Jersey, Margaret Moiz, 17, of Moorestown, and Miss Colorado, Deborah Anderson, 17, of Golden.

The 50 contestants chose Miss Washington, Debra Scholz, 17, of Chapparo, for the Spirit of Junior Miss Award and its $1,000 scholarship.

FDIC Chairman Says Confidence In Banks Needed

HOUSTON (AP) — The chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. says public confidence in the U.S. banking system needs restoring.

Frank Wille said Monday recent failures of two billion-dollar banks and the near-failures of two more have severely undermined public trust and have obscured the fact that neither the number nor the rate of bank failures is out of line with past experience.

Wille told the Texas Bankers Association convention that the failures have, however, dispelled the misconception that "large banks are immune to mismanagement, mistake or misconduct."

Typical of the declining economy, he said, bank examiners are currently more severe in classifying all bank loans.

"That accounts, at least in part, for the fact that the number of banks under constant watch by regulatory agencies has risen from a low point in 1973," he said.

He said the list of "problem banks" now is at a "mid point" of its historical 150 to 250 bank range. But he said over 98 per cent of the 14,500 U.S. banks in — 44 — still education and present no concern for regulatory agencies.

LIONS SPEAKER—Dr. Grover E. Murray, president of Texas Tech University and one of the nation's most distinguished geologists, will be the speaker Wednesday noon at the meeting of the Midland Downtown Lions Club in the American Legion Hall. He will be introduced by Joe P. Eves, president of Adobe Oil Co.

On Dean's List
Mrs. Em Cangett maintained a 3.8 average last fall to make the Dean's honor list at the University of Texas at Permian Basin. She is majoring in — 44 — education and present no concern for regulatory agencies.

Shreveport Spills M-Cubs Twice

SHREVEPORT, La. — The Midland Cubs not only lost a Texas League doubleheader here Monday, but had to post bond for designated hitter Wayne Tyrone after the Cub went over the fence and after a fan during the first game.

and manager Edwards were right behind him. Contacted Tuesday morning, Edwards said, "The fan got personal with Tyrone as he walked down to our bullpen. He made some nasty remarks that included vulgarity and racial slurs. They were uncalled for and there's just so much you can take."

RANGER RALLY TIPS ANGELS—Cattfish Loses Again

By The Associated Press Earl Weaver knew how to hook the Cattfish. He got the weatherman to throw out the line and reel him in.

For seven innings in Baltimore Monday night, Weaver's Orioles flailed away at Hunter's pitches. In all that time, all they could manage against him and the rest of the New York Yankees was four hits and one run.

It was clearly a time for a little strategy. "We talked about it in the locker room before the game," said Bobby Grich, whose eighth-inning bunt—and Hunter's wild throw with it—helped the Orioles to their 3-1 victory.

Cubs Surprise NL East Team

CHICAGO (AP) — A funny thing happened to the lowly Chicago Cubs on the way to Wrigley Field from a horrible spring in Arizona. They became instant winners.

"I guess we're making believers out of a lot of people all around," said Manager Jim Marshall after the Cubs boosted to 15-6 their first-place record in the National League East over the weekend.

"Sure, we're getting what we need, when we need it—especially hitting and great relief pitching, but we don't think it's luck as much as constantly working on fundamentals.

"It would be foolish to be even thinking pennant after one month of play, but the great thing about our fast start is that it's a tremendous lift to the confidence of our young players."

Last month's 12-5 record marked the club's best April since the 1945 Cubs posted 7-2 en route to the team's last pennant.

From what transpired in their Scottsdale, Ariz., camp, it appeared the Cubs might even rise out of last place which they clinched last season with a 66-96 mark, 22 games behind the NL East champion Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Cubs wound up with a 6-16 Cactus League record. Their pitchers were being bombed when they weren't complaining about lack of work. The team batted .249 and the pitchers had a collective 5.16 earned run average.

Pitching Coach Marv Grissom, installed by Marshall to spruce up a questionable mound staff, ran into howling protest when he wouldn't let the pitchers work behind a screen at the slab.

Grissom figured the pitchers needed to learn how to field their positions more than they needed protection of their skins.

Among many question marks, the biggest was whether the Cubs got fleeced in trading agent Lafayette.

The Associated Press reported the Cubs continued to make deals with the Texas Rangers in the East race Monday.

The clubbed 19 hits in a triumph over Alexandria and crushed the Drillers' East lead to four games over Arkansas, which saw its game with Jackson rained out.

Shreveport opened a two-game lead with a 3-1 and 2-1 doubleheader sweep of Midland.

In the other Texas League game, San Antonio nudged El Paso 6-5.

Jack Clark went 6-for-6 with two home runs for Lafayette, but he couldn't be any happier than teammate Scotty Wise, who broke a 0-for-40 slump with three hits, including a two-run homer. Joey Martin also homered for the Drillers, who now have won nine of 10 decisions.

Ron Mitchell's two-run homer ahead of Mitchell Page's single broke a 1-1 tie in Shreveport's opening triumph over Midland. The Captains took the nightcap as Page knocked in both runs with a homer and a double and Tim Jones won his first game with a five-hitter.

San Antonio scored five runs in the first inning and then went hitless until the eighth as El Paso tied the score. Then Will Aaron homered to break the deadlock and the Brewers held on for the triumph.

Phils, Allen Talk

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies' Manager Danny Ozark says his knowledge of the Phils are not even close to finalizing a deal with the Atlanta Braves for controversial slugger Dick Allen. "I'd like to have him if we can get him," said Ozark Monday. "It's between (Phillies Personnel Director Paul) Owens and Allen now. They're continuing to talk. We have to satisfy him." Phillips owner Ruly Carpenter said, meanwhile, that he will continue to make every effort to obtain Allen. But he cautioned that there is about "one chance in 10" that an agreement can be reached. Carpenter said the Braves' demands for a player in return are still too high to meet. The New York Daily News reported, however, that Carpenter was prepared to make an offer to the Braves today in an effort to bring Allen back to Philadelphia. "The big thing is that (Braves General Manager) Ed Robinson gave us permission to speak with Allen and find out his thinking," Owens told The News. "Once we settled that, we were prepared to move." The paper said the Braves are believed ready to accept Alan Bannister or Mike Anderson, outfielders. The two were made expendable by the trade that brought center fielder Francisco Madero from the San Francisco Giants for Willie Mont-

Rozelle Rule Under NFL Players' Fire

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Ocie Austin, who had a short-lived career in pro football, says Pittsburgh executive Dan Rooney "didn't have an option" other than signing at the Steelers' terms. He and the Steelers were $3,000 apart, said Austin, who was making $26,000 in his 1971 contract. Austin, 28, testified Monday at the U. S. District Court trial of the Rozelle rule. He said his bargaining power had been hurt when he injured a leg in 1970. The Steelers offered the same $23,000 for 1971, "but my reaction was negative. I told Jim (Rooney) I wanted $26,000. The best he offered was $23,000 for making the team." "I thought to myself, 'If this is the best they can do, maybe it's best for me to play the season without a contract,'" said Austin. He played out the option and was traded to Washington in 1972. John Henderson, former wide receiver with the Minnesota Vikings, also testified he could not make a trade as a free agent in 1972, although he sent out inquiries to about a dozen clubs. Henderson, 32, said one hangup was the 5.5 per cent federal wage guidelines which Minnesota General Manager Jim Pinkins told him applied to athletes.

Increases In Food Stamp Benefits Go Into Effect July 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Increases in the benefits available to users of food stamps will go into effect July 1, according to the Agriculture Department.

The announcement came Monday, at the same time President Ford asked Congress for an extra $85 million to keep the food stamp program operating through June 30 because of an unexpectedly large number of participants.

Agriculture officials said food stamp users will receive a cost of living increase in benefits with the start of the new fiscal year. There will also be an increase in the amount of money they will be allowed to earn while remaining eligible for stamps.

Under the food stamp program a family buys a fixed amount of stamps and then — depending on income and family size — receives additional stamps as a bonus. The stamps can be spent like cash for food.

For example, a four-member family with an adjusted net income of $150 a month now pays $41 for stamps worth $154 in food. Beginning July 1, the same family will get $162 worth of stamps for $41.

Income standards apply only to persons who are not receiving welfare payments. Persons getting public assistance are automatically qualified for stamps.

Beginning July 1 when a four-member family's income reaches $450 a month, the cost of $162 worth of food stamps will climb to $131 from the previous level of $130. At an income of $480 a month the price will rise to $138 and will remain at that level to the top eligible income of $540 a month.

Some families in the higher incomes will not benefit from the increases in the stamps they can buy. Officials estimated the number at about 9,800.
