Two Basin Sectors Gain Wildcat Sites

Howard County gained location for a prospector and a wildcat reentry was planned in Pecos. The Sterling Co., Midland, will drill No. 1-29 Shafter, a 7,600-foot venture in Howard, 1 1/4 mile northwest of the current lone well in the Sara-Mag, North (Canyon reef) field. Location is 1,800 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 29, block 25, H&TC survey, 20 miles northeast of Big Spring. Pecos Reentry Petroleum Technical Services of Midland has made plans to re-enter and plug back to wildcat depth of 2,500 feet, at No. 1 O. W. Williams, Pecos County 7,892-foot failure, 12 miles southwest of Bakersfield. It originally was drilled by Redco Corp., et al., as No. 1 Williams, and plugged and abandoned Dec. 15, 1962. It is 660 feet from most northerly south line and 1,900 feet from most westerly west line of section 4, block 180A, TCRR survey, abstract 7200 (some maps show Maximo Alvarez survey 4), 1/4 mile southeast of Queen gas production in the Barbasol field, but separated by a 2,427-foot failure. The gas discovery, Hytech Energy Corp. No. 1 J. L. Nutt Estate, was completed Dec. 5, 1974, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 1.150 million cubic feet of gas daily, through perforations at 2,301-2,317 feet.

Brown Schedules Pair Of Outposts

H. L. Brown Jr. of Midland has filed applications for permits to drill two outposts to the recent Wolfcamp gas pay opener in the Bluff field of Roosevelt County, N.M. Both have a projected depth of 8,200 feet, and are in section 4-8-37e, two miles northeast of Bluff townsite. No. 1-B Federal, 1/4-mile northwest outpost, is 1,650 feet from the south and east lines of the section. No. 1-C Federal, 900 feet from north and 1,650 feet from west lines of the section, is a 1 1/4-mile northwest outpost. The Wolfcamp strike, Brown's No. 1 W. L. Parkins, was completed Jan. 12, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 1,066 million cubic feet of gas per day, plus 24 barrels of 67-gravity distillate, through perforations at 8,000-8,049 feet. The new pay zone is surrounded by San Andres oil production.

Offsets Staked In Terry, Kent

Discoveries in Terry and Kent counties have drawn offset sites. Gulf Oil Corp. staked No. 47 Mallett Land & Cattle Co. as a 1/4-mile southeast outpost to the one-well Kingdom, North (Abo) field of Terry County. Drillsite is 660 feet from south and 1,900 feet from east lines of section 1, block D-14, C&M survey, 20 miles northwest of Brownfield. Planned depth is 8,300 feet. The discovery, Gulf's No. 46

DECLINE REVERSED— Wholesale Prices Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices reversed a four-month decline and rose 1.5 per cent in April as farm prices increased sharply, the Labor Department reported today. The April increase wiped out much of the 2.2 per cent decline in wholesale prices since last December. The December-March drop was the biggest four-month decline since 1951. Skyrocketing prices for livestock and fresh fruits and vegetables drove agriculture prices up a seasonally adjusted 4.8 per cent last month to lead the over-all rise in wholesale prices. But not all the price news was bad. Industrial commodities rose one-tenth of 1 per cent, the same as in March. Farm and food prices often change erratically from month to month, and because of this most economists regard trends in industrial prices as a truer measure of inflation. Nevertheless, the April increase in wholesale food prices seems to indicate a new increase is likely in retail grocery prices, which had dropped over the past two months. The Ford administration has forecast an inflation rate of about 6 or 7 per cent this year, or about half the 12.2 per cent increase in all of 1974 in the Consumer Price Index, the key measure of inflation. The consumer index climbed 6.6 per cent at a seasonally adjusted annual rate for the first three months of the year. Wholesale prices have risen at an adjusted annual rate of six tenths of a per cent over the past three months, compared with increases of 14.2 per cent during the final three months of 1974 and 34.9 per cent in the quarter ended last September. In April, the wholesale index for farm products jumped 6.7 per cent following four consecutive months of decline. The index for processed foods and seeds was up 3.5 per cent, largely as a result of higher prices for meats and manufactured animal feeds. The one-tenth of a per cent rise in industrial prices at wholesale last month was led by increases for lumber and wood products, fuels and power. Three of the 13 major commodity groups within the industrial index declined last month: metals; machinery and equipment; and hides, skins, leather and related products.

Final Action Set On State Primary Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — A compromise bill making a presidential primary poll a part of the 1976 presidential election in Texas was ready for final action today in the House and Senate. "I'll ask the House to concur Thursday if I have the votes," said Rep. Tom Scheiffer, D-Fort Worth. The Senate was expected to act on the conference committee report on Friday. The compromise bill was approved 9-0 Wednesday by the committee at a second session after three House and Senate members refused earlier to okay the bill until they had a chance to read the document handed them. The conference committee was appointed a month ago but has held no scheduled meeting until Wednesday. "I don't see any necessity to rush this out without reading it," protested Sen. Bob Gammage, D-Houston, at the first meeting. The measure, often called the "Bentsen Bill" because it was introduced and pushed by supporters of Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., a 1976 candidate for Democratic nomination, actually would elect delegates to the 1976 national political conventions. However, each candidate for delegate would be tagged as a supporter of a certain candidate, or "uncommitted," and this would give a statewide reading of how Texas delegates would vote in the national conventions for the presidential nominees.

Bullion Dealers Want To Buy Gold From Vietnam Refugees

By SIMON WINCHESTER The Manchester Guardian
 FORT SMITH, Ark.—A small task force of Swiss-American bullion dealers have flown in here quietly, joining dozens of immigration, Red Cross and welfare officials who have arrived to help the thousands of South Vietnamese refugees gathering on a nearby army base. The bullion dealers admitted, however, that their reason for coming "is not wholly altruistic"—they have come to relieve the Vietnamese of what are believed to be "considerable amounts" of gold bars, gold coins and gold dust. With this in mind, the three-man team from Deak, Perera and Co.—a large combine with offices in Zurich, New York, Washington, Macao and a dozen other major banking centers—has brought thick rolls of bank notes, a set of precision scales and large bottles of acid with which to test the refugees' bullion savings. "I expect my people to be here for two weeks at the very least," Otto Ruesch, the Swiss-born vice president of the company said here Wednesday. "We have been told by the State Department that many of the people coming here have brought out lots of gold and foreign exchange. We are (here) to buy it from them—and make some money for the company as well." Ruesch said he had also sent a team to Eglin Air Force Base in Florida, another refugee resettlement center, for the same reason. The Los Angeles office also will be sending a team to the West Coast resettlement center at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Rickover Boosts Oilmen

By ED TODD
 A plain-spoken independent oilman and an equally outspoken retired Navy admiral were on the same wave length and viewing a common horizon—plight of the oil industry—here Wednesday night. Adm. Hyman George Rickover, referring to the independent oil and gas producers and other "small businessmen," said "I very much admire and respect you folks" who represent the "spirit of free enterprise." And oilman Robert A. Dean, as if making an admonishing plea to the U.S. Congress, said lawmakers generally "have no expertise in the oil business." Both men were addressing the 13th annual meeting of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association (PBPA) at the Midland Country Club Wednesday night. The 75-year-old admiral, called the "father of the nuclear submarine," was responsible for the design and development of the Nautilus, the world's first atomic-powered submarine, in the early 1950s. Today, the U.S. Navy has more than 100 nuclear submarines. Dean, PBPA president, is president of the Midland-based Remuda Oil & Gas Co. Rickover's extemporaneous remarks on the oil industry came toward close of the meeting—long after Dean had lashed out at Congress and the national news media—and shortly after he had presented his prepared talk, "A Humanistic Technology." The admiral said the Permian Basin's oil and gas businessmen represent the "small businessmen in the U.S. who are not supported or suckered by the government." He said he respected that. "You," he told the gathering, "exemplify what the original promise of this country was." Earlier, Dean made swooping verbal blasts at what he termed anti-oil elements of the national press and the Congress. "The ignorance of the national news media and their willingness to mislead the American public is unbelievable," he said. He blamed that partially on laziness—failure to do "any research, telephoning or checking." Without naming names, Dean said writers and columnists "echo the same line" with the likely intent "to justify their own preconceived notion" and thereby have "become one of the most divisive forces in our nation." Another force adversely affecting the oilman's plight, Dean said, is the sometimes uncaring ignorance of the U.S. legislators. "... Those who are writing such ill-conceived legislation have no expertise in the oil business, and to some extent they can be excused for honest error." Politicians, Dean said, cast aside documented evidence in their law-making process and instead yield to the "un-

Lawmen Capture Robbery Suspect

PLAINVIEW (AP) — Lawmen at a roadblock 6 miles north of Plainview arrested a suspect today in the robbery of a Lubbock bank. Three hostages taken by the gunman as he fled from the bank reportedly were in the suspect's car when it was stopped by police. Authorities in Lubbock said a man wearing a ski mask and carrying a gun robbed a teller at the Lubbock National Bank this morning of $3,700 and fled north on U.S. 87, taking with him three hostages. The suspect's fleeing car was pursued at speeds up to 100 miles per hour by officers on the ground and a Department of Public Safety helicopter, authorities said. No shots were fired when the suspect was arrested, and the hostages were released unharmed. The suspect was returned to Lubbock, authorities said.

Winds, Tornadoes Menace Texas

Damaging winds injured at least three persons in a Bell County village and tornadoes menaced several other localities in Texas' latest round of nightly storms. By this morning a mass of violent thunderstorms had surged out of state toward the east after dumping as much as 3 inches of rain in places and lashing battering many points with hail, concentrating the assault on Central and East Texas. Fresh storms developed meanwhile, around Del Rio on the Mexican border and over the Gulf of Mexico south and east of Galveston early today. Additional thunderstorms were predicted again by evening across the central and east parts of the state. Sheriff's officers in Temple reported vicious winds injured two girls and a woman at No. 100 in Bell County. Hail the size of baseballs was reported at some points in the Central Texas Hill Country, and the National Weather Service said winds gusted up to 60 miles per hour in places. Clouds still covered most of South Central and Southeast Texas early today and moist air enveloped the coastal plains as a weak warm front dallied across the south part of the state. It was clear to only partly cloudy in North and West Texas. Temperatures near dawn ranged from 38 degrees at El Paso — eclipsing the record low of 44 there first registered in 1882 and the far West Texas city's chilliest ever for this late in the season — up to 79 at Brownsville and Corpus Christi on the coast. The Associated Press reported. Midland temperatures will creep into the low 90s both this afternoon and Friday for an early dose of summer in May. Wednesday's maximum, however, was a spring-like 83 and the overnight low was 50. Tonight's minimum should fall into the middle 50s, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Air Terminal. Plus-40 m.p.g. '75 Honda 4-pass. Nickel Honda. (Adv.)

Superintendents, Trustees Meet With Briscoe On School Funds

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe met today in a closed meeting with superintendents and members of school boards of Texas' seven larger cities about public school financing. A news conference was scheduled immediately after the session. Briscoe's meeting comes after a Senate education subcommittee learned Wednesday that one of two school finance programs before the subcommittee had been apparently underwritten by about $150 million. The governor, who is backing one of the two bills being considered by the subcommittee, was to meet with representatives of Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, El Paso and Amarillo. Tuesday the subcommittee heard testimony that indicated bills backed by Briscoe and the Texas State Teachers Association could each be financed with $500 million. But Wednesday Lynn Monk of the State Comptroller's office said his calculation of the cost of the TSTA measure was nearly $150 million more than that figure quoted the previous day. Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, the subcommittee chairman, asked for another calculation of the costs of the two bills. Mauzy said he hopes to have a bill out of the full committee by next Tuesday. In subcommittee hearings this week the emphasis has been on teachers' starting pay, which is currently $6,600 a year. The TSTA bill calls for an immediate hike to $8,000 with increases each year until $10,000 is reached in 1979-80. (Adv.)

Last 550 Evacuees In Thailand

By The Associated Press
 The last 550 foreigners trapped in Phnom Penh crossed into Thailand today and several described the Cambodian capital as a dead city littered with decomposing bodies and abandoned household goods, populated only by stray pets and Khmer Rouge soldiers. However, earlier evacuees in accounts released today told mixed tales of killings and kindness from the victorious Khmer Rouge. In Bangkok, reliable sources reported that the U.S. government has imposed a freeze on any more Cambodian and Vietnamese refugees who want to go to the United States. An embassy spokesman said he had no knowledge of any such directive from Washington. Associated Press newsmen George Esper, Peter Arnett and Matt Franjola, in a first detailed dispatch from Saigon following reopening of communications Wednesday, reported the city was quiet soon after it fell April 30 and that they were permitted to move about freely. "I saw no bloodbath," Esper reported. "I watched Vietnamese children curiously gather around North Vietnamese soldiers to see their weapons while the latter shyly looked away. "I saw children playing aboard abandoned South Vietnamese tanks just as if they were toy weapons." The AP newsmen said the morning of May 1 some markets were open and there was plenty of traffic, a shortage of gasoline and a run on bicycles. Peddlers were doing a brisk business in Viet Cong flags made of paper, cloth and plastic, and the flags appeared everywhere. "The war was over softly," Esper said. "One realized how softly the North Vietnamese move through the night ... I saw clearly then how they were able to often escape massive U.S. bombing raids." research, telephoning or checking." Without naming names, Dean said writers and columnists "echo the same line" with the likely intent "to justify their own preconceived notion" and thereby have "become one of the most divisive forces in our nation." ## Late Bulletins

AUSTIN (AP) — Comptroller Bob Bullock today urged defeat of the so-called Bentsen Bill that would set up a presidential primary in the 1976 spring election. HAVANA (AP) — Sen. George McGovern said today American baseball and basketball teams may be flying to Havana soon because Fidel Castro is receptive to using sports diplomacy for warming up relations between Cuba and the United States. AUSTIN (AP) — Senators voted unanimously today to urge Gov. Dolph Briscoe to sign a bill raising lawmakers' potential retirement pay.

Computerized X-Ray Machine Allows Excellent Inside Look

By BERNARD D. NOSSITER
The Washington Post

LONDON — A computerized x-ray machine invented in Britain will enable doctors for the first time to get sharp, well-defined pictures of a patient's heart, lungs, kidneys and other organs.

The body scanner was designed by the research laboratory of EMI, a billion-dollar conglomerate that produces electronic products, makes records and tapes and runs hotels and bingo halls. The company is calling its scanner a "breakthrough" and predicting that it will be a powerful tool in diagnosing disease.

The machine is now undergoing clinical tests at the Northwick Park Hospital in Harrow and will soon be tested at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester. EMI has just released a remarkable set of photos made by its scanner that show human organs with a wealth of detail found only in the sketches of an anatomy text.

Conventional x-rays can provide clear pictures of bones and hard objects inside a human body. But they are unable to distinguish the soft tissues of organs which appear as a blur. Ordinary x-rays, moreover, are further obscured by the fact that they portray a vertical cross section, superimposing bones and organs in a confusing mass.

The body scanner is said to be 100 times more sensitive, capable of discriminating between diseased and healthy tissue. Its beams, moreover, capture a horizontal slice of a human body, giving a doctor a view that he could get only by cutting a patient in two and peering down at his insides.

The scanner works on the same principle as ordinary x-ray machines, but is far more discriminating. In the conventional device, a beam of x-rays is absorbed by the dense object it encounters and an image of what is and is not absorbed is recorded on a film. The scanner beams dozens of x-rays through a patient and detects tens of thousands of differing absorption rates with crystals. These observations are fed to a computer that is programmed with a "knowledge" of the absorption capacities of different tissues. From this the computer builds up a picture of the organs and other matter inside a patient.

Strong Advantage
EMI's research director, William Ingham, says that the dosage of potentially harmful radiation that a patient receives from the scanner is no greater than the conventional x-ray.

The scanner should spare patients much of the exploratory surgery that is now undertaken to find out if an organ is diseased. It will also make unnecessary the injection or swallowing of unpleasant chemicals that are used to make tissue inside a body visible to the ordinary x-ray. This means that patients who must now be put into a hospital can be examined without an overnight stay.

EMI officials claim that the scanner will speed up diagnosis of cancer and other diseases. Many can now be spotted only after an organ is deformed. "The scanner will distinguish between healthy and diseased tissue, well before any deformation takes place."

Brain Scanner Adoption
The machine is an adaptation of a brain scanner that EMI developed three years ago. The brain scanner uses a single x-ray beam, however, and had to be refined to explore the body. Its organs move as a patient breathes while the brain is fixed in place.

Both devices were invented by Godfrey N. Hounsfield, a 56-year-old electrical engineer who runs EMI's medical electronics research section. His discoveries are a pure case of scientific serendipity, or happy chance.

Hounsfield was given the task of finding a new way to "read" characters for capture by EMI's computers. He tried scanning them with a beam of light and then with x-ray. From this, he realized that he could "read" shapes and densities inside an outer surface and began the work that led to the brain scanner.

These machines are not cheap. EMI sells its brain scanners for $375,000 to $470,000, depending on the complexity of the unit ordered. It plans to market the body scanner for $550,000.

The company contends that they save money in the long run by eliminating much expensive exploratory surgery, cutting down the time spent in a hospital and removing the need for uncomfortable chemical agents.

Monopoly Threatened
EMI has already sold 300 brain scanners, and 150 are now used by hospitals in the United States and Canada. The body scanner is being tested in two American institutions and only one in Britain because the North American market is so much bigger.

John Powell, managing director of EMI, says that "the American receptivity to change and sensitivity to medical economics is greater than it is in Europe."

EMI's monopoly, however, faces a threat. Pfizer, the American drug company, has announced that it too is planning to produce a body scanner. But Powell insists that EMI holds the basic patents and hopes to persuade Pfizer to leave the market to the British concern.

Despite their high prices, Powell expects to sell about a quarter of a billion dollars worth of scanners a year by 1979. Brain scanner sales are now almost $60 million a year.

Sworn statement of Charles Miller
"I really didn't expect it would work. I was very cynical. I was a heavy smoker for 37 years and I quit in five days."

Sworn statement of Mariellen Theob
"I really wanted to quit but I couldn't do it on my own . . . and after going to the Schick Center, it kind of took away that horrible craving that you get. I'd say go to the Schick Center because it really works!"

Sworn statement of Joe Brooker
"54 years I smoked . . . and approximately $10,000 for cigarettes . . . Maybe it don't work like this on everybody but the first day that I went . . . I never wanted a cigarette . . . and my wind came back, you know . . . I'd say 75% of what it was."

Sworn statement of G. E. To Inle
"The big difference between cold turkey and the Schick Center is . . . after the first or second day I had no desire to smoke."

Growing Up With Telephone

Over the years, my daughter has formed an almost pathological attachment to the telephone.

While other toddlers romped through the playground clutching frayed security blankets, my daughter lumbered after them with a toy telephone wrapped around her neck.

Jelly side down

By NANCY STAHL

When she was three, she slept with her left thumb in her mouth and her right forefinger in the telephone dial.

When she turned 10, I allowed her to use the real telephone. Since not one of her friends was considered old enough to make or receive calls, she filled the gap by holding 35-minute conversations with Dial-a-Prayer and a recorded time and weather message.

By the time she reached 13, she had developed into a lovely young woman with sparkling blue eyes, golden blonde hair, and one ear which was noticeably flatter than the other.

More often than not, she and her friends don't even talk on the telephone. They play records. Or one holds the line while the other washes her hair. When they communicate verbally, the result is a series of cryptic one-liners:

"No!!!"
"He DIDN'T!!!"
"My mother is even worse!"
Recently I had a telephone installed with an exceptionally long cord, which, like a trail of bread crumbs in the forest, I follow whenever I want her. It invariably leads to a closet.
"Now hear this!" I bellow at the closed door. "I want my coat."
"I can't talk," a muffled voice replies. "SHE'S listening."

Dear Abby

By Abigail van Buren

They Owe Apology To Each Other

DEAR ABBY: I am from Houston, and the women down here do not ask the men to dance. At least I've never seen it done.

I date a man who takes me to a place where people sit around and drink beer. There's music, and every now and then one of the women will ask one of the men to dance.

Last night I was feeling pretty good, so for the first time I asked my man friend if he would dance with me. He said he didn't feel like dancing. In less than a minute, a strange woman came over and asked him to dance with her. He said "yes" without batting an eye. (The woman didn't know that he had just turned me down, so it wasn't her fault.)

When he started for the dance floor, I said, "Okay, you just turned me down. Now there's gonna be big trouble!"

I really blew my top and asked to be taken home. He said I acted like a baby. (I'm nearly 50.)

I say, a man's lady friend should be more important to him than a stranger. He said he was just being polite. We may break up over this although I'm sure we love each other. Who was wrong?

HURT IN HOUSTON

DEAR HURT: Your man friend owes you an apology for accepting another woman's invitation to dance after having turned you down. And you owe him one for having made a scene in public. Kiss and make up. Maybe you both learned something.

DEAR ABBY: Having just read your answer to "NEEDS A REAR," I feel I must make a correction.

A foam rubber fanny is not "the living end"—it's the dead end!

BAINDRIDGE, N.Y.

DEAR BAIN: Touche ... which is also "the end."

CONFIDENTIAL TO THE MATURE TEENAGER: The May issue of "Teen" magazine now on the newsstands has an excellent article entitled, "Your Body His Body." I recommend it highly.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Book Review Unit Has Luncheon, Installs Officers

The Book Review Unit of the Midland Woman's Club met Monday in the Woman's Club for installation of officers, luncheon and book review.

Mrs. Martin Neill presided for a short business session, during which reports were given on 1974-75 activities. Mrs. Neill, president, also gave the invocation and welcome.

Mrs. B. J. Sharp introduced the guests and new members and presented Mrs. Neill with a book from the unit, "Flowers of the World."

New officers installed by Mrs. Ray Trammell were Mrs. Richard D. Jons, president; Mrs. Neill, first vice president; Mrs. Jennye Lee Guthrie, second vice president; Mrs. Thomas Kornegay, secretary; Mrs. Billie Gilbert, first treasurer; Mrs. F. E. Melear, second treasurer; Mrs. J. Wayne Campbell, historian; Mrs. W. Earl Chapman, parliamentary; Mrs. R. H. Jr., Mrs. Robert O. Lynch and Wilson, director to the Woman's Club, and Mrs. Jess Williamson, alternate director to Woman's Club.

A basket of roses was presented to Mrs. Jons by Mrs. Louise Barry.

The hostesses were Mrs. I. W. Hynd, Mrs. Laura S. Self, Mrs. Ray R. Rhodes, Mrs. Ken Clark and Mrs. Earl T. Glasgow.

The hostesses also were in charge of the decorations, which had a spring garden flower theme. Sun bonnet girls, ows and garden baskets of roses were used. The tables had green and white cloths. The hostesses were dressed in floral print dresses and wore large garden flower hats.

Mrs. Neill introduced Mrs. Clyde Angel of Big Spring, who reviewed "I Heard the Owl Call My Name" by Margaret Craven. Guests were Ann Lindsey, Belle Brooks, Hazel Tuttle, Toni Moore, Anne White, Mrs. Jack Reeves, Mrs. R. Donnell, Mrs. John Dublin, Mrs. J. W. Baugh, Mrs. Robert O. Lynch and Mrs. Lester Morton.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Don't Throw Away Canned Biscuits When They Become Outdated

Dear Heloise:

Here is my hint: when the time runs out on canned biscuits, don't throw them out.

Place one biscuit on top of another, (two to a stack) until you use up the can or cans.

Bake as usual — they rise and brown beautifully and will break apart where the biscuits were put together.

Men really enjoy these as they are so big and fluffy.

The old way the biscuits brown, but don't raise as they should. By the time they were brown, they were too hard.

Mrs. David Lee

LETTERS OF TRUTH

Dear Heloise:

Many times when I am doing an unpleasant chore like scrubbing stubborn, burnt pots, ovens, etc., I find myself frowning deeply, with an angry expression on my face.

I have discovered that if I stop frowning, the job loses its unpleasantness.

Georgiana Howard

True. Who needs ugly frown lines!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Two weeks ago Mother died. The day before she died, she wrote this hint to you. She asked me to type it. I started typing it but never finished it because we started talking and never got back to it. So here it is now as Mother wanted it.

Dear Heloise:

For years I have been meaning to send you this labor-saving hint for painters (inside and outside).

There is nothing harder to remove than spider webs especially up under the eaves of a house.

A handful of your (our!) nylon net beats a brush, rag, or what have you, for removing dust and spider webs. The webs stick to the net and are easily removed.

Try it painters — it saves hours of backbreaking work. Learned the hard way.

Thank you for taking the time to share this with us. You're beautiful. And may God bless you always.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

To reduce neck burning and irritation when shaving with an electric razor, shave the neck below the jawbone line first before the shell of the razor heats, then complete the shave by doing the face.

This procedure certainly helps.

Dear Heloise:

Perhaps ten years ago I read in your column about using transparent finger nail polish to combat the bite of the red bug.

I wish to inform you that it does combat successfully the redbugs of Texas and the chiggers of Missouri and Illinois.

Work Clothes For Summer Jobs
GENERAL CLOTHING

I recall going to a drugstore near our university sheepishly to buy the above cosmetic. The clerk remarked, "You're the third man who has read 'Hints from Heloise' and come in today to buy fingernail polish."

Brother Martin McMurtrey

Dear Heloise:
For candles that won't sit up straight, wrap sticky tape around the bottom of the candle, with the sticky side out.

The sticky side adheres to the candle holder, keeping the candle straight.

Jeannette Parks

Great. Just like you!

THIS COLUMN is written for you... the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of this newspaper. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Nun Is Lobbyist

By KENNETH T. WALSH
Associated Press Writer
DENVER (AP) — Sister Loretto Anne Madden is apparently the first nun to be a registered lobbyist in Colorado.

Sister Loretto, lobbyist for the Colorado Catholic Conference doesn't think there's any conflict between her religious vocation and her worldly role.

"Part of the Christian vocation is to be aware of what's going on in the world," she said.

"Man's salvation is really going to be worked out in temporal order. There are in-human conditions in the world that keep people from living human lives."

Sister Loretto first registered as a lobbyist last year and focuses on what she calls "quality of life issues," such as hunger, food stamps and insurance for newborn babies.

She's normally at the Capitol at about 8 each morning after attending Mass and saying rosary. She attends a committee meeting and sometimes talks to legislators from the House and Senate in the anterooms where the lobbyists generally wait to collar lawmakers.

Sister Loretto, 52, tries to be low-key and doesn't wear a formal habit.

"I would be a holy show," she said, noting that customs for nuns have changed.

"Today it's the time to be as unobtrusive as possible, especially as a lobbyist." Sister Loretto normally wears a simple dress to the Statehouse.

A member of the Sisters of Loretto, she holds a doctorate in sociology and taught for 19 years at Denver's Loretto Heights College.

"Last year I was learning the ropes," she said. "The state legislature is a lot more strenuous place than I envisioned it to be."

Alumnae Plan Saturday Crafts Sale

The Alpha Chi Omega Alumnae Club of Midland will have a Mother's Day craft sale from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday in the Dellwood Plaza Mall.

Proceeds from the project will be used for the scholarship fund for a Midland student planning to attend Midland College in the fall.

Items offered will include corn-husk doll centerpieces, candles, needlework and plaques.

The special feature will be a 110x110" quilt which has been made by the alumnae and which will be awarded at the close of the sale. The quilt will be on display Saturday and the public may register between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. Registrations also may be made prior to Saturday with members of the club. Additional information may be obtained from the sale co-chairmen, Mrs. Robert Southerland, 694-0258, and Mrs.

Women's Plant Business Blooming

SHAKER HEIGHTS, Ohio (AP) — Husbands laughed when five neighborhood housewives announced they were thinking of going into the potted plant business.

"That did it," said Sherry Providente, one of the co-owners of the Plant Co.

The women plunged in, parlaying fresh ideas and potted plants into a going concern.

"All of a sudden we've bloomed," said Mrs. Providente.

For a $25 fee, Mrs. Providente or one of her colleagues will come into your home and draw up a plan for decorating it with plants. This fee may be deducted from any plants you buy.

"It's a thriving business," said Herb Greenwald, executive director of the five-city Heights Chamber of Commerce. "They have proven there is still a place here for somebody with a new idea."

Mrs. Providente believes her firm is the first in the area in the plant decorating business.

"We work like interior decorators in the potted plant field," she said.

The firm also works with more conventional decorators, fitting a home with the proper plants.

It also has taken a page from cosmetic and houseware firms which do their selling at informal parties in clients' homes. It conducts plant parties.

A hostess invites a minimum of 12 guests. Two or more of the five owners attend, bringing with them plants ranging in price from $1.50 to $25.

"We're the first to try that approach toward plants," said Mrs. Providente. "The idea is working out well."

Each women put up $1,000 to start the business and they kept plants in their homes or garages until last November, when they opened their own store.

Each owner spends at least a day and a half in the store, and additional time on buying trips, house calls, lectures and decorating consultation. None has taken a salary yet.

"We're going to start taking one," said Mrs. Providente. "All of the bills are being paid."

Group Nominates Slate Of Officers

A covered dish dinner preceded the recent meeting of the Dandy Lions, auxiliary to the Southside Lions Club, held in the Southside Lions Building. Mrs. Harold Kirby and Mrs. R. D. Sellers were hostesses.

The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers for the 1975-76 year: Mrs. J. B. Whittle, president; Mrs. Ron Lewis, vice president; Mrs. Bill Anderson, secretary; Mrs. Sellers, treasurer, and Mrs. T. L. Bond, reporter. These officers will be installed at a joint banquet with the Southside Lions.

Mrs. Kirby gave a program on arts and crafts. Reports were given on the Lions district convention held in Midland last weekend.

League Members Attending Annual Conference

Mrs. William H. Jowall, president, and Mrs. Sanford Hodge and Mrs. John Redfern III, delegates, of the Junior League of Midland, Inc., are attending the 3rd annual conference of the Association of Junior Leagues being held through today in Colorado Springs, Colo.

An international voluntary organization, the association is comprised of 227 leagues representing more than 112,000 members.

"Frontiers in Voluntaryism" is the theme of the conference. Participants from the fields of government, law, business, social services and voluntary agencies have been leading a series of discussion groups. Discussion topics have included "The Changing Role of Women," "Voluntarism and the Governmental Sector," "Future of Voluntarism," "What Motivates a Volunteer?" "The Volunteer and the Agency" and "Citizen Involvement: How Do You Generate Support?"

More than 650 delegates are attending the conference.

The Island of Jan Mayen, a Norwegian dependency, has a population of 37.

Castro Wants U.S. Embargo Ended

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Fidel Castro has strongly urged Washington to ease its trade embargo with Cuba, denied any Cuban role in the assassination of John F. Kennedy and charged that the CIA was behind a number of attempts on his own life.

But looking into American television cameras, Castro pointedly said in English, "We wish friendship. We belong to two different worlds but we are neighbors. One way or another we owe it to ourselves to live in peace."

The Cuban prime minister held a news conference Wednesday night between private sessions with visiting Sen. George McGovern.

Castro said he felt President Richard M. Nixon had "a personal hostility against Cuba and many counterrevolutionary friends" but he added, "President Ford does not have any personal hostility."

"The fact that the Vietnam war is over helps to improve relations. It was very difficult during the war to improve relations" because Cuba strongly opposed America's policy, Castro said.

Earlier, the bearded leader took the wheel of a jeep and roared around the hilly countryside to show the senator and Mrs. McGovern a rum factory and several farm and housing projects.

Castro told the news conference, "We prefer a total lifting" of the 13-year-old U.S. trade embargo, but he added that resumption of shipments to Cuba of food and medicine "will help a lot."

He said he felt Washington should reciprocate with an "important step" to match his gesture in signing an agreement with the United States that virtually eliminated a wave of hijackings to Cuba. He said, "We believe this gesture has not been sufficiently" matched by the United States.

Castro and his associates have demanded a relaxation of the boycott before the two countries can negotiate other friction points such as release of U.S. prisoners in Cuban jails and compensation for $1.8 billion in U.S. property expropriated after Castro seized power.

Castro pointed out that Cuba "does not have any blockade against the United States and no military base in Florida."

On the Kennedy assassination, Castro said any Cuban role in the slaying of a U.S. president would be "absurd, irresponsible, crazy — and a very dangerous measure.... It would have been stupid on the part of Cuba to associate itself in a matter of such tremendous moment as the assassination of a president of the United States."

However, he said "it is not news for us" that the CIA was involved in various attempts to kill him and other leaders of the 1959 Cuban revolution.

Battle Shaping Up Over Ford's Plan To Eliminate Veterans Education Benefits For New Enlistees

WASHINGTON (AP) — A battle is developing over President Ford's plan to eliminate veterans' education benefits for persons joining the armed forces after July 1, a move military officials fear might reduce enlistments in the volunteer army.

Ford made the proposal Wednesday when he announced that with the end of the Vietnam war several other special benefits were being eliminated for new members of the armed services.

The wartime benefits eliminated by presidential order include primarily pensions for nonservice connected disability and burial allowances. The dollar value of these allowances and the education benefits varies according to a veteran's financial circumstances.

Ford stressed that his actions "will not affect the eligibility of the millions of Vietnam veterans already discharged, or those presently serving in the armed forces."

But while Ford ended the minor benefits immediately by order, he will have to get congressional approval to end post-service education benefits, and opposition is already developing there. He suggested removing the benefits for anyone joining the Army, Navy, Marines or Air Force after July 1.

A bill to eliminate the education benefits is being introduced by 23 House members.

But Chairman Vance Hartke, D-Ind., of the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee, protested that the move would be "short-sighted" and "contrary to the best interests of the nation."

Hartke noted that an armed forces testing report last fall indicated that one out of every four servicemen said they would not have enlisted if GI education benefits were not available.

Defense manpower chief William K. Brehm said last February that "the major reason most people come into the service is to be trained and for the educational benefits they can earn while in the service."

The recession probably will keep enlistments at a high level for as long as it lasts, and all of the services have been topping their enlistment quotas since last November. But defense officials are concerned that halting government-financed education and training opportunities may cause a dropoff in enlistments after the economy recovers and jobs become plentiful again.

The Pentagon is known to have opposed ending GI education benefits when the proposal was circulated among government agencies for comment.

New State Bar Officers Elected

AUSTIN—Gibson Gayle Jr. of Houston is the new president-elect of the State Bar of Texas, executive director H. C. Pittman announced Wednesday.

Gayle, who defeated Robert L. Dillard of Dallas, moves up from the Bar's vice presidency. He will become president July 5, 1976.

In other election results, Travis D. Shelton of Lubbock was elected vice president over Lew Hunt of Corpus Christi, and Joe Lea Jr. of El Paso was elected president-elect of the State Junior Bar over Wayne Meissner of Austin.

Shelton will take office July 4 along with John M. Lawrence III, incoming Bar president. Shelton is a former president of the Lubbock County Bar Association.

Lea, who moves up from Junior Bar vice president, will take office in July.

Ernie C. Rassman of Midland is chairman of the board of the State Bar.

Midland Student To Serve As Intern

Annie Johnson of Midland, a sophomore at Prairie View A&M University, will serve as an intern in the cooperative education program with the National Center for Atmospheric Research at Boulder, Colo., this summer.

She is majoring in mathematics with the computer science option. She is the daughter of Mrs. Vetta Johnson of Midland and a graduate of Robert E. Lee High School.

Priest, Nun, Housekeeper Murdered In Louisiana

EDGARD, La. (AP) — "Good Pope John said that any day is a good day on which to be born, and any day is a good day on which to die," the Roman Catholic archbishop of New Orleans said after a church robbery in which a priest, a nun and a housekeeper were killed.

Slain in this Mississippi River community 30 miles north of New Orleans were the pastor of St. John the Baptist Church, the Rev. J. Alcide Clement, 47; Sister Mary Patrick Harrington, 43, and Leah Lejeune, 56. They died after two robbers entered the church rectory Wednesday, authorities reported.

Archbishop Hanman was in the area on church business and rushed to Edgard, a community of 750 in Louisiana's bread, flat sugar belt, when he learned of the tragedy.

Sister Mary Patrick, who had just returned on a Mississippi River ferry from a visit to neighboring churches, was found in a hallway inside the front door, stabbed in the neck, the killers apparently used a pillow to muffle the sound of the shot.

Millet said St. Pierre regained consciousness about 20 minutes after he had been attacked and sprinted 100 yards to the courthouse to sound the alarm. He was released in satisfactory condition after treatment of his injuries.

In a special Mass for the victims on the day they were killed, Archbishop Philip M. Hanman said:

"The priest, the good sister and the elderly lady who was the housekeeper, although they met an untimely death, were all prepared to go to meet their Redeemer.

"Nobody expected such a tragedy to happen here in Edgard."

Third Juror Seated In Poisoning Trial

HOUSTON (AP) — With three panelist already seated, lawyers continue jury selection today in the capital murder trial of Ronald Clark O'Bryan, a Houston-area man charged with fatally poisoning his son with Halloween candy laced with cyanide.

Defense and prosecution lawyers have selected a juror on each of the three days the trial has been in progress. The state has used three of its 15 preemptive challenges to excuse prospective jurors and the defense has used two.

O'Bryan, 30, a Deer Park resident who worked in Houston as an optician, is accused of giving his son, Timothy, 8, a poisoned candy on Halloween night. The boy died a short time after eating the candy, identified as a Pixie Stix, a powdered confection packaged in a tube.

The state also charges that O'Bryan distributed poisoned Pixie Stix to four other children, including his five-year-old daughter Elizabeth.

According to police, O'Bryan escorted his children and two children of a friend on a trick or treat outing. Each of the children got one of the Pixie Stix. Another of the poisoned candies was found in the Trick or Treat collection of a child who called on the O'Bryan house.

O'Bryan is charged with capital murder in the death of Timothy and attempted capital murder in connection with the poisoned candy given his daughter. He is also charged with attempted murder in connection with the other three candies.

The state is asking the death penalty under a statute which permits capital punishment in cases of murder for profit.

Midland Student Wins Recognition

GAMBIER, Ohio—Paul W. Rutter, 1505 N. C St., Midland, Tex., is one of 57 Kenyon College students to receive special recognition in the recent honors day convocation.

Rutter, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Rutter Jr., received the Bookshop Award, presented annually by the faculty for an unusually commendable piece of academic work beyond the requirements of the college's regular course work.

He said they then entered the rectory and stabbed Mrs. Lejeune with a butcher knife. They found Father Clement in his upstairs bedroom and shot him, and then they encountered Sister Mary Patrick at the front door as they were leaving and stabbed her, Millet said.

The sheriff said Father Clement, 47, a quiet, slender man who had ministered to the parish's congregation of mostly poor, black sugarcane workers for the past four years, had been shot in the back of the head at close range. Millet said the killers apparently used a pillow to muffle the sound of the shot.

Winds And Rains Lash South, Midwest

By The Associated Press

Torrential rains set off flash flooding in sections of Texas, Louisiana, Missouri and Illinois. Nearly 3 inches of rain swamped Alexandria, La., in one hour late Wednesday.

Runoff from recent rains in North Dakota pushed the Souris River upward to the point where Minot City Manager John Arnold ordered Wednesday night that 3,000 residents be evacuated. The evacuation involved some 700 families northwest and southwest of the downtown area.

In the West, snow diminished in the northern Rockies. Rain showers with some snow at higher elevations lingered in scattered areas. Stockmen's advisories remained in effect only in northern and central Wyoming.

Showers ranged eastward over the Dakotas and into Minnesota. Thundershowers and storms extended through most of the lower two-thirds of the Mississippi Valley and east into Alabama and northwest Florida. Light rain sprinkled southern New England.

Skies were clear from the Far West into the central and southern Rockies and Plains, and from the Ohio Valley through the Middle Atlantic States.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 30 at Phillipsburg, Pa., and Laramie, Wyo., to 81 at Key West, Fla.

Some other reports: Anchorage 40 partly cloudy, Atlanta 64 partly cloudy, Boston 50 cloudy, Chicago 53 light rain, Cincinnati 56 clear, Cleveland 47 clear, Dallas 71 clear, Denver 41 clear, Detroit 49 clear, Honolulu 71 clear, Indianapolis 57 clear, Kansas City 62 clear, Los Angeles 55 clear, Louisville 57 clear, Miami 79 clear, Minneapolis-St. Paul 53 cloudy, Nashville 64 clear, New York 49 clear, Philadelphia 54 clear, Phoenix 60 clear, Pittsburgh 47 clear, St. Louis 67 cloudy, San Francisco 49 drizzle, Seattle 52 clear, Washington 56 clear.

Los Angeles Doctors Stage Wildcat Strike

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Interns and residents at Martin Luther King Hospital have called a wildcat strike and say they won't go back to work until the county comes up with more money for patient care.

The doctors at the county-operated Los Angeles facility walked out Wednesday, turning their backs on an agreement reached between the county and doctors at two other hospitals, County-USC and Harbor General.

About 1,200 interns and residents at all three hospitals had threatened to strike Wednesday if no agreement was reached.

Meanwhile, in San Francisco, a walkout of doctors went into its seventh day in a protest of soaring malpractice insurance costs. An increased number of operations was reported in San Diego on Wednesday after about 250 doctors held a one-day walkout Tuesday over the malpractice insurance issue.

The King doctors said not enough money went for improved patient care or better working conditions in the agreement reached by the Joint Council of Interns and Residents, the bargaining unit for interns and residents at all three hospitals.

"As far as we are concerned it's an indefinite strike until our immediate demands are met," said Dr. Louis Simpson, chairman of the 131 interns and residents organizations at King. To show good faith, he said his unit would reject higher salaries.

King Hospital spokesman Thomas Hawkins said there are 180 staff physicians still on hand to care for 263 patients in the 394-bed hospital.

"We are having no problem with patient care at all," Hawkins said.

The agreement reached at the other two county hospitals calls for 5 per cent salary increase, a 5 per cent patient care fund totaling $1.1 million and a one-half of one per cent boost in health insurance.

"I don't think much more could be squeezed out of the county financially," said Dr. Dan Asimus, a negotiator and leader of the interns and residents at County-USC.

Asimus said the contract was unique in that the doctors accepted less salary to put more money in the patient care fund. Binding arbitration for grievances was also agreed upon, Asimus said.

Asimus said it's a good contract and "I only hope that Martin Luther King eventually accepts it."

Institute On Wills, Probates Stated In Midland Friday

An institute on wills and probates, sponsored by the State Bar of Texas and the Midland County Bar Association, will be held here Friday at the Rodeway Inn.

Emil C. Rassman of Midland, chairman of the board of directors of the state bar, and Pat M. Baskin, president of the Midland association, will make welcoming remarks at 9:15 a.m.

The day-long event will be divided into two sessions, morning and afternoon, Baskin said.

Warren D. Barton of Midland will preside at the morning session which will include "Basic Considerations in Drafting Wills and Trusts" at 9:30 by Randall C. Jackson of Abilene; "Tax Considerations in Drafting Wills and Trusts" at 10:30 by John R. Crews of Lubbock, and "Life Insurance and Other Non-Probate Assets of Estates" at 11:15 by Rex S. Whittaker of Waco.

The afternoon session, moderated by Robert H. Dawson of Midland, will include "New Developments Concerning Probate Court Jurisdiction in Texas" at 1:30 by Allan Howeth of Fort Worth; "Income Tax Problems during Estate Administration" at 2:15 by Clarence P. Brazill Jr. of Lubbock, and "Responsibilities, Liabilities and Fees of Texas Probate Attorneys" at 3:15 by W. Truett Smith of San Angelo.

Lamesa-Big Spring Pony Express Mail Run Stated July 4

BIG SPRING—Riders on horseback will gallop across the West Texas landscape carrying sacks of letters this summer in a 1975 pony express run.

This year's Bicentennial event for Howard and Dawson counties, the cross-country run will begin in Lamesa and end in Big Spring on the Fourth of July.

Participating in the pony express run will be sheriff's posse and other riding groups from both counties. Riders will be changed at intervals during the Independence Day reenactment.

The purpose of the run is to strengthen the relationship between the two participating communities and to stress the importance of the early day mail riders.

Commemorating the event will be red, white and blue buttons made available by the Howard County Sheriff's Posse.

Two Houston Newsmen Face Possible Contempt Action

By PAUL RECER
 HOUSTON (AP) — Two Houston newsmen may face jail sentences for contempt of court because they refused to reveal the confidential sources of information used in news stories on alleged illegal police wiretapping.

Larry Connors of KTRK-TV and Jon Standefer of the Houston Post have been ordered to appear at a hearing on May 15 to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court.

Connors Wednesday declined in court to reveal sources of information for stories he has televised on alleged illegal wiretapping by Houston police. Standefer took a similar stand on Tuesday in connection with wiretapping stories.

The action came during a pre-trial hearing for Andrew Brown Bloom, a Houston-area man facing trial on narcotics charges.

Bloom's attorneys claim their client's charges are based on information gathered through illegal police wiretaps.

To support their contention, they have subpoenaed a number of police officers, telephone company officials, federal agents and newsmen.

In hearings earlier in the week, two police officers pleaded fifth amendment protection against self-incrimination when questioned about their part in illegal wiretapping.

Two telephone company security officers said they knew nothing of any illegal wiretaps.

The federal government has filed a motion to quash a subpoena against an Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms agent who was also scheduled to testify.

In the last few months, The Associated Press and other news media have published a number of stories quoting unnamed sources as saying that Houston police made wide use of illegal wiretapping during 1973.

Houston Police Chief Carroll Lynn said that a departmental investigation, started after he became chief in January 1974, indicates that wiretapping was in common use by two divisions of the Houston police department and that the wiretap expertise was shared with a number of other federal and local law enforcement agencies.

Lynn has also said the wiretapping was so sophisticated that it required the help of telephone company employees.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., the local telephone service franchise holder, has repeatedly denied this charge.

Social Security Tax Increase Likely But Hike May Be Put Off

WASHINGTON (AP)—What the corrective measures likely to go up to keep the retirement system solvent, but employers and employees may be spared an immediate tax increase, congressional testimony indicates.

In any case, Social Security Commissioner James B. Cardwell and Rep. James A. Burke, D-Mass., agreed there is no prospect that workers already retired or planning to retire in the future will have their benefits cut off.

Burke is chairman of a House Social Security subcommittee which heard Cardwell testify Wednesday that there is no justification for what he called "alarmist predictions" that Social Security has gone broke.

The system's deficit is estimated at $3 billion this year and due to increase unless financing is changed, Cardwell testified.

But he said the reserves of more than $46 billion would carry the system without reduction in benefits until 1980 or 1981 even if nothing were done.

Cardwell left no doubt that the administration wants corrective measures, but suggested that these might safely wait until the economy struggles out of recession.

Burke said, however, he expects his committee to produce legislation this year. Neither Cardwell nor Burke suggested what the corrective measures might be, agreeing that more study both by the administration and Congress is needed.

The choices being studied include increasing taxes on higher-income workers and their employers or increasing taxes on all those covered by the Social Security system or taking some general tax revenues to help finance Social Security.

The administration opposes the general revenue approach, but Burke has long advocated that the treasury make some contribution to the system that is financed by its own special tax.

At present the tax rate is 5.85 per cent on both employer and employee on wages up to $14,100. This means that those with higher incomes are not taxed on all their earnings. There have been proposals to increase the taxable earnings limit to as much as $25,000.

Cardwell, elaborating on the findings published earlier this week by the Social Security trustees, said the system's immediate problems are caused by unemployment, reduced contributions from the payroll tax, inflation and increases in the level of benefits through the automatic cost-of-living hikes.

Thieu Planning Life In England

AGENCE FRANCE-PRESSE — Former South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu plans to settle in England after a short rest in Taiwan, informed diplomatic sources said here today.

Thieu, who arrived here last April 27, four days before the Saigon government surrendered to the Communists, is at present staying with his elder brother, who was South Vietnamese ambassador to Taipei.

Try To Make Practice Of Arithmetic Relaxed, Be Sure Task Not Too Hard

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the fourth of a series of 14 articles prepared by Science Research Associates, Inc. that show how everyday situations can help children learn to add, multiply and divide.

Children come in various sizes, colors and shapes. They come from different environments and from different socio-economic levels. They have different talents and abilities. Each has personal hopes and ambitions.

But with all their individual differences they have one thing in common: Each likes to succeed at whatever he's doing. And that includes math.

When you help your children learn computational skills by including arithmetic in their everyday lives, try to make practice relaxed and informal — and be sure the task is not too difficult.

Finding someone else's mistakes is often more enjoyable than being in a spot to make them yourself. In checking someone else's paper, a child develops the ability to find his or her own mistakes — and at the same time is reassured by the fact that others make mistakes, too. And that includes adults.

Today's exercise was designed with this idea in mind. A student named Maria actually worked the exercises. The answers given are here. How many mistakes do you find? How many can your child find?

Correcting problems worked by someone else gives children confidence — and they may not even recognize that they actually have to DO the problems in order to check them.

Young learners will discover one mistake in the first column and three in the other two columns. Afterward, ask the child which problem was the hardest for

Refugees Say Lon Nol Got $1-Million Bribe To Quit

The Los Angeles Times — CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. — Deposed Cambodian President Lon Nol was paid a bribe of $1 million in American notes by his government to step down and leave the country, the man who succeeded Nol as president said here Wednesday.

The Cambodian government wanted to oust Nol so still resistance could be organized against Communist forces moving on the capital, Phnom Penh, said Soukhem Khoy, who arrived as a refugee at Pendleton Tuesday night.

"Not Able to Rule" — Nol was "strong" and had a firm grasp on both military and civilian officials, but he was ill and "not able to rule," Khoy said.

Former Cambodian Minister of Culture Long Botta, who arrived Monday night, added: "We thought we had enough time to strengthen the (anti-Communist) opposition to fight after his departure. We didn't know that we had no time and that the government would fall."

Payment Called Bribe. — Botta said he did not want to give Nol so much money. "I would have just given him a quarter of a million," he said.

Khoy was asked if he regarded the payment to Nol as a bribe. "Yes," he replied through his son, Vanruon, an agricultural engineer. But he did not specify the source of the money.

Khoy, 60, said he, Botta and other officials had decided that Nol had to leave the country if anything was to be done to check the Communists.

"It was so difficult to do anything with him there," said Khoy, who was president of the Cambodian senate when he succeeded Nol on April 1.

Other Officials Flee — Khoy, Botta and other officials were forced to flee to Thailand themselves when Phnom Penh fell to the Khmer Rouge on April 17.

Nol left Cambodia about a before the fall of Phnom Penh and flew to Hawaii, where he purchased a $100,000 home.

Khoy said he himself and most other officials took no money or gold with them when they fled.

"If we were rich we would not come to live in this camp," he said. "We would go to live in a motel or hotel or we would buy some houses."

Not demanded the payoff on the grounds that "it was necessary for him to have enough money to go and make a new life in another country," Khoy said.

Botta said that Nol had "many corrupt people about him; many corrupt generals," and that his brain was "not so well."

But despite the fall of Cambodia to the Communists, Khoy said the bribe was "a wise decision."

"If we didn't give him enough money he would not leave the country."

"Well, we paid the price to have Lon Nol leave, and the country fell anyway."

Khoy reiterated: "All the (Cambodian) people that are here in this country now don't have any gold. That's why we came here."

Khoy was asked if the United States could have done more to keep Cambodia out of the hands of the Communists.

"No," he said, "the firm responsibility was with the Cambodians. But the people were not very responsive to the government."

Khoy said he has received daily reports since the Khmer Rouge seized the government about the executions of "thousands" of Cambodians, particularly "the intellectuals and the rich people."

"They killed the army officers and their wives, also most of the Cambodian air force officers."

"There have been killing every day so far," he said.

Khoy said that Cambodians arriving by the hundreds in Southern California now "are here because our country is ruled now by Communists who are not democratic."

"They don't give freedom. We are here because we want to have freedom. All the (Cambodian) people here in the United States want to work and to run their own lives."

Khoy said he had no idea what he himself will do in the United States.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, May 8, the 138th day of 1973. There are 227 days left in the year. Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1948, President Harry Truman announced in a broadcast that World War II was over in Europe.

On this date: In 1492, the Spanish explorer, Hernando de Soto, discovered the Mississippi River at a point near the present city of Memphis, Tenn.

In 1846, the first battle of the Mexican war was fought at Palo Alto, Tex.

In 1894, the 33rd American President, Harry Truman, was born on a farm near Lamar, Mo.

In 1938, Spain withdrew from the League of Nations.

In 1942, the Pacific war Battle of the Coral Sea ended in a victory for the Allied nations.

In 1959, anti-American demonstrators were abusive to Vice President and Mrs. Richard Nixon during a visit to Lima, Peru.

Ten years ago: There was widespread rioting in Kashmir after the leader of Kashmiri Muslims, Sheikh Mohammed Abdullah, was arrested during a stopover in New Delhi, India.

Five years ago: President Nixon held a news conference in which he defended an American incursion into Cambodia and said U.S. forces would be pulled out shortly.

One year ago: Canadian Prime Minister Elliott Trudeau's government was toppled in a budget dispute, paving the way for parliamentary elections in Canada.

Today's birthday: Italian movie director Roberto Rossellini is 69. Writer Theodore Sorenson is 47.

Thought for today: If mankind had wished for what is right, they might have had it long ago — William Hazlitt, English essayist, 1778-1830.

Biocentennial footnote: It was 200 years ago today that news of the battles of Lexington and Concord reached Charleston, S.C.

House Speeds Refugee Bill Action

By JIM ADAMS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's emergency aid request to help up to 150,000 Indochina refugees start new lives is on an accelerated timetable for House action next week, following unanimous subcommittee approval.

The House Immigration subcommittee approved the bill Wednesday night after Judiciary Chairman Peter W. Rodino, D-N. J., took the extraordinary step of publicly telling the subcommittee to get moving.

"When this country forgets its immigrant heritage and turns its back on the homeless, we will indeed have written the end of the American dream," Rodino said.

The House Foreign Operations appropriations subcommittee scheduled hearings today on the measure. No Senate action has been scheduled.

There is no money figure in the bill but it authorizes such sums as may be necessary. Ford's advisers estimate the programs which it includes would cost $507 million.

Actual money would have to be appropriated in a separate action and members of the President's Indochina task force said they need that appropriation quickly to keep the refugee airlift operating.

An amendment by Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., to write a $507-million limit into the bill was rejected 4 to 3. She said she did not seek to limit the money for the refugees but wanted to require that any spending over $507 million get new approval from Congress.

James M. Wilson, deputy director of the task force, testified that $85.8 million of the $99 million the administration already has for refugees has been spent and the rest will be obligated by the weekend.

He said there is no danger of a cutoff of food and other needs of the refugees, but the airlift would have to be curtailed, causing overcrowding on Guam and Wake Islands and forcing hundreds of refugees to remain on board ships headed for those islands.

Lawrence A. Marinelli of the State Department said that when current funds run out the government can continue to provide food and other essentials, but cannot contract for air transportation or buy any large quantities of new food or medical supplies.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said on the CBS radio's "Capitol Cloakroom" that Ford ready has for refugees will get "substantially all" that he seeks.

"There will be some cuts but I think it will take care of the problem. Not to do it would be contrary to all of our traditions," said Jackson. The Americans for Democratic Action, a liberal organization, also endorsed the refugee funds.

As of Wednesday the number of refugees was 113,332. This included 71,284 on the Pacific Islands, 9,468 on their way to the islands, 19,348 at U.S. refugee centers and 12,004 cleared to begin life in this country.

Corley Murder Trial Recessed

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — The capital murder trial of Edward Eldon Corley has recessed here until Tuesday pending the arrival of another 226 prospective jurors.

After attorneys exhausted the first 92-member panel, only four jurors, two men and two women, had been seated. Jury selection began April 29.

Corley, 30, a former painter from Lake Cherokee, is charged with the Sept. 14 slaying of a Chapel Hill housewife, Vicki Lynn Morris. The state is seeking the death penalty.

Laundromat Mishap Brings $1-Million Suit For Damages

HOUSTON (AP) — The father of a boy whose arm was severed by a laundromat washing machine last Jan. 31, has filed a $1-million products liability suit in state district court here.

Alfredo Villarreal, who filed the suit Wednesday on behalf of his son Gerry, claimed in the suit the defendants were negligent in the design and manufacture of the product and in failing to warn, inspect and maintain the machine.

The accident occurred when Gerry tried to remove a rug from the washing machine. The suit said "After he had the rug partially removed, suddenly and without warning the machine started, and the centrifugal force severed his arm from his body."

Doctors at Ben Taub Hospital reattached the boy's arm but it has not yet been determined if he will regain use of the arm.

Defendants in the suit at Ametek Laundry & Drycleaning Equipment of East Moline, Ill.; Kuhlman Machinery Sales, Inc., Houston, and Emanuel Collins, operator of the laundromat.

After attorneys exhausted the first 92-member panel, only four jurors, two men and two women, had been seated. Jury selection began April 29.

President Of Tech Says Universities Preparing Persons For Life Complexities

Young men and women of today — the leaders of tomorrow — are being educated and trained in this nation's universities, and "we are doing the best we can to prepare them for the complexities of life which they face."

This was the comment of Dr. Grover Murray, president of Texas Tech University, in addressing the meeting of the Midland Downtown Lions Club Wednesday noon in the American Legion Hall.

The speaker was introduced by Kenny Jastrow, immediate past president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce. The program was arranged by Lion Duke Jimerson.

Dr. Murray said the need is greater today than ever before for trained, creative minds to meet and solve the problems of the nation and the world.

He explained, however, that while the public today expects more from their institutions of higher learning, the universities have not received financial and other support in keeping with the expanded expectations.

Dr. Murray reviewed the "incredible story" of Texas Tech from its establishment in 1923 until today when it is recognized as one of the state's four major institutions of higher learning. He said Tech opened with 910 students, compared to the present enrollment in excess of 22,000.

He said Tech's budget for its first year was $1.7 million, compared to this year's $111 million.

The purpose, operation and specific problems of the university were discussed by the speaker, who also spoke concerning the duties of the president of such an institution.

He said he is directly responsible to the school's board of regents, which, in turn, is responsible to the taxpayers of the State of Texas.

Dr. Murray also mentioned constituent groups of the university — faculty, supporting staff, student body, ex-students and people of the State of Texas.

The various schools of the university, and the fact that all are on one campus, were mentioned by the speaker, who emphasized the growth and importance of the comparatively new schools of law and medicine.

He said that the people of Texas, and particularly West Texas, well may be proud of Texas Tech and the part that it is playing in the fields of education, research and overall development.

Dr. Murray was accompanied to Midland by Dr. Clyde Kelsey, a Tech vice president.

Dr. Murray also mentioned constituent groups of the university — faculty, supporting staff, student body, ex-students and people of the State of Texas.

The various schools of the university, and the fact that all are on one campus, were mentioned by the speaker, who emphasized the growth and importance of the comparatively new schools of law and medicine.

He said that the people of Texas, and particularly West Texas, well may be proud of Texas Tech and the part that it is playing in the fields of education, research and overall development.

Dr. Murray was accompanied to Midland by Dr. Clyde Kelsey, a Tech vice president.

Rutter Heads National Group Of Inn Keepers

A. W. "Bill" Rutter Jr. has been named president of the National Inn Keepers Association at the group's recent annual session at New Orleans.

Rutter will serve as president of the association and head its activities in promotion, trade, political and financial matters for the 1975-76 year.

National Inn Keepers has a membership of more than 6,000 hotel and motel executives from across the country.

Rutter was recently named by a publication listing top Texas businessmen, "Men of Achievement in Texas."

He has been active here in the petroleum industry, motel, hotel and restaurant management and the life insurance business. Rutter is also part owner of Midland's Dellwood Shopping Center.

Student Arrests May Solve UT-A Campus Thefts

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Apprehension of two University of Texas at Arlington students Wednesday is expected to solve numerous campus thefts, authorities said.

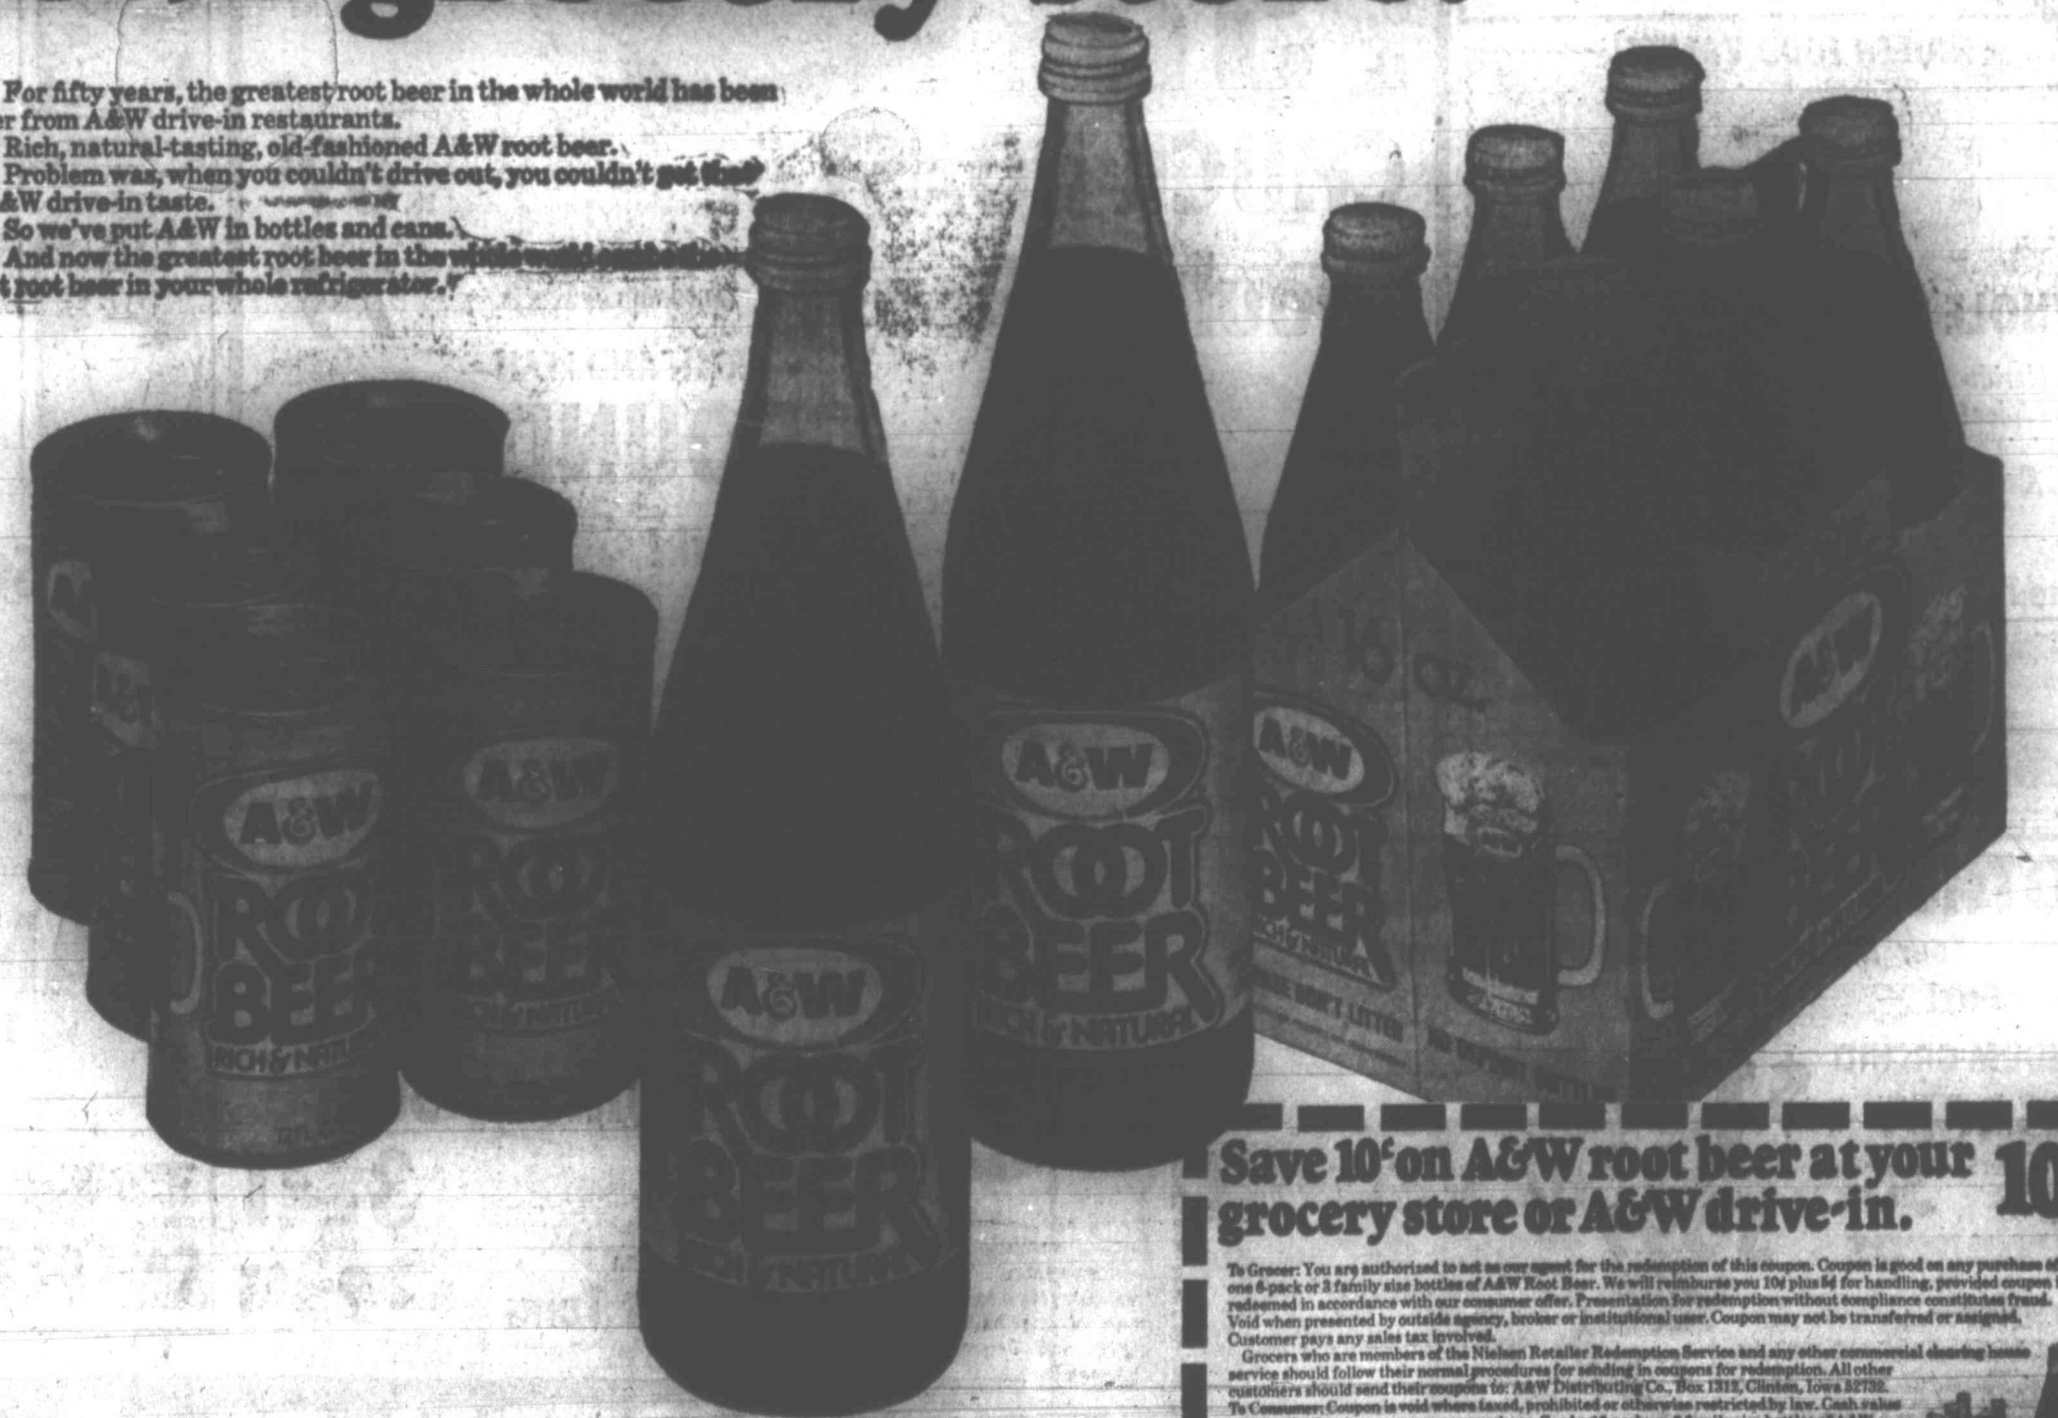

Boyce Megason, chief of the UTA police department, said an officer on patrol stopped the two on a campus parking lot and discovered a number of stolen items in their vehicle.

Police also found several key rings in the 'students' possession. Megason said it has not been determined what the keys will unlock but some are to university properties.

He said the recovered items were valued around $2,000. The students were expected to be turned over to county authorities.

Brewers Edge Detroit, 7-5

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Mickey Lolich threw the pitch where he wanted... low and inside. George Scott hit it where he wanted... low and inside third base. And when the Milwaukeeans were through running around the bases, three of them had scored and Scott was on second with a tie-breaking double that powered the Brewers to a 7-5 triumph over the Detroit Tigers Wednesday night.

Milwaukee and Detroit were tied 4-4 when Darrell Porter opened the Brewers' seventh with a triple off the previously unbeaten Lolich. One out later, walks to Don Money and Robin Yount loaded the bases. Bobby Mitchell struck out but Scott laced his double down the third base line on a 2-2 pitch—a low, inside slider.

Milwaukee's seventh was a walk and Jim Wolford's run-scoring single. That offset RBI singles by Jim Sundberg and Tom Grieve in the Texas ninth. Texas Manager Billy Martin was ejected during the Royals' two-run fourth. McRae sent a grounder down the third base line and, after Howell threw to first base for an apparent out, the ball was ruled foul. After Martin's ejection, McRae un-loaded his RBI double.

Held to two hits over the first six innings by Bill Singer, the A's erupted for nine runs in the seventh, climaxed by the seventh grand slam homer of Bando's career. The big inning made Vida Blue, who hurled a six-inning, the American League's first six-game winner. California's run was unearned.

Orleans 4, Yankees 3
Al Bumbry lashed his fourth hit, a tie-breaking base-loaded single off relief ace Sparky Lyle with two out in the ninth inning, lifting Baltimore to victory behind the five-hit pitching of Yankee-killer Mike Cuellar.

Red Sox 5, Indians 2
Jim Rice's homer triggered Boston's tie-breaking three-run sixth inning against Fritz Peterson.

Los Angeles 5, Astros 1
Jim Wynn's tie-breaking single in the sixth inning and three-run homer in the eighth supported Andy Messersmith's six-inning shutout in the Dodgers' triumph over Houston.

Messersmith chalked up his ninth straight victory over two seasons and his fifth in a row this season as Los Angeles won its 11th game in the last 13 games.

Shreveport 12-1
The Midland Cubs went into the fire when they open a six-game series against hard-hitting El Paso in the Border City tonight, but Manager Doc Edwards shell-shocked bunch was happy to leave Shreveport behind.

The Captains pummeled the Cubs, 12-1, Wednesday night to take four out of five games, the last four in a row.

Pitcher Rich Anderson, 5-1, held the Cubs to four hits, giving Midland just seven for the last two games. The Cubs spotted the righthander's shutout in the seventh when Jose Ortiz walked with two out, stole second and came home on Al Montreuil's single.

The Captains pounced on starter Dan Corder for seven runs in the first two innings as Jimmy Sexton doubled, scored on Steve Djonokov's single and then rode Ron Mitchell's hit home for a run.

The Caps' five-run second was featured by Djonokov's three-run homer while Harry Safertight clubbed a three-run job for the home forces in the sixth.

As the Cubs head for El Paso, there was one bright note. Wayne Tyrone will be back in the lineup tonight after serving a two-day suspension and paying the Texas League a $500 fine.

Corder, making his first start in over a week after suffering shoulder trouble, lasted just three innings while Mike Weiss, trying to pitch his way back into shape after reporting from Wichita, worked three innings and was mauled for eight hits and five runs.

The loss leaves the Cubs with a 6-5 edge over Shreveport in the season's series.

Bench In Groove

Reds, Dodgers Post Victories

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Johnny Bench says he's starting to feel pretty good. So does Tom McGraw. That could make the rest of the National League feel pretty sick.

"I'm finally starting to feel natural," Bench, recovering from an injured shoulder, said after he highlighted Cincinnati's six-run fifth inning Wednesday with his fifth home run of the season and the fifth grand slam of his career in the Reds' 10-2 rout of San Diego.

"I think this is the best I've felt since 1972," said McGraw, former bullpen ace of the New York Mets who has given Philadelphia some much needed relief, including 2-1-3 innings of hitless ball Wednesday night to preserve the Phillies' 4-1 victory over St. Louis.

McGraw, making his fifth appearance for the Phils—and extending his scoreless relief work to 7-2-3 innings—halted a St. Louis threat in the seventh after Wayne Twitchell had walked Lou Brock and Ted Sizemore with two out.

Twitchell and McGraw combined for a five-hitter and were backed by Mike Schmidt's two-run homer, his fifth blast of the year.

Bullets Down Celtics

It's Easy To Guess Suspension Wording

Official terminology used by Texas League President Bobby Bragan in revealing the two-day suspension of Midland Cub slugger Wayne Tyrone wasn't disclosed, but it's easy to guess what it said.

In dry-docking Wayne, the communique must have scolded, "Sticks and stones may break our bones, but names should never hurt us." Bragan was quoted in Shreveport the day after the incident which saw Tyrone vault a fence along the right field foul line to attack a taunting fan in a beer garden, that the Cub committed a "No-no" by going into the stands, regardless of the provocation.

We can understand the reasoning of the league office, but our sympathies still remain with Tyrone, who must find the verdict and the $500 fine pretty stiff medicine to swallow.

Since the entire Cub roster went over the fence right behind Wayne, the grounds for provocation must have been substantial.

Of course, Tyrone's alternative would have been to demand satisfaction behind the stands after the game, we suppose, but it was a challenge that would hardly have been recognized, let alone accepted.

A media witness who hid himself to the beer garden the next night said the slurs directed at Midland first baseman Aaron Randall were enough to incite anger even from a neutral.

Aaron, a Grambling College grad who

Battle Scene

By Ted Baillis

was raised in Louisiana, ignored the slings and arrows of abuse, maybe because the verbal rocks of the previous night were absent.

While the league office undoubtedly is obligated to exercise control over the actions of its players, it still leaves unanswered the question of how much abuse a player should be subjected to.

It would seem reasonable that some responsibility fall on the home club in preventing fan-jockeying that exceeds the normal bounds of decency. Although under present rules, we aren't sure that hurling obscenities at ball players isn't regarded as the right of the individual to express himself freely.

In any case, it would seem that the home club would be obliged to move for its own protection as well as that of the players.

After the Tyrone incident, there were Shreveport fans who expressed regret at the incident and volunteered that such language as sparked Wayne's retaliation were why they no longer brought their wives or young children to the ball park.

Capture 3-1 Edge Over Boston Five

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — The Washington Bullets, with a tenacious defense and Wes Unseld a titan on the backboards, stand poised to eliminate Boston's defending champions from the National Basketball Association playoffs.

"We're in a deep hole, but we're not counted out of it yet," Boston's John Havlicek said after Washington won 119-108 Wednesday night and took a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Conference finals.

Trying to rally his slumping mates, Havlicek recalled past heroics when the Celtics overcame a similar deficit to beat Philadelphia and tied New York before losing a deciding seventh game.

But this time, unless a freak injury to Washington guard Jimmy Jones intercedes, the Celtics appear disorganized against a team hungry for its first NBA title.

Only a spirited comeback prevented a complete rout before a capacity 19,035 fans in Capital Centre after the Bullets had taken a 21-point lead early in the third period.

Don Nelson, like Havlicek a 12-year veteran, conceded that the pressure would be on the Celtics when Game 5 is played in Boston Friday night.

"But if we win that one," Nelson said, "the pressure's got to be on the Bullets back here on Sunday because they don't want to go back to Boston."

In the only action tonight, the Western Conference series, tied 2-2, resumes with the Chicago Bulls visiting Golden State for a game against the Warriors.

Unseld, the NBA rebounding champion who was overshadowed when Paul Silas grabbed 25 rebounds to key Boston's lone victory last Saturday, hauled down the same number on Wednesday.

Scores 16 Points But the bulky center, who also contributed 16 points, seven assists and keyed the fast break, as usual downplayed his performance.

"Some days the ball just bounces your way," Unseld said. "If you go to one side and the ball bounces to the other, I don't give a hoot what type of rebounder you are, you won't get the ball."

Dave Cowens snared 17 rebounds for Boston before fouling out with seven minutes to play and Silas pulled down nine while playing only 34 minutes because of foul trouble.

"When Dave and Paul were both in the game, we cut their lead to seven," Havlicek said. "But when Dave fouled out, they went on to a comfortable victory."

Phil Chenier paced Washington with 27 points, Elvin Hayes had 22, and Kevin Porter 21. Yet, two reserves played key roles.

Nick Weatherston scored 18 points in 27 minutes and Jones, Washington's third guard, tallied eight in 12 minutes before suffering torn knee ligaments which will require an operation today.

IN NELSON GOLF CLASSIC—

Miller Is Seeking Fast Start Today

DALLAS (AP) — Johnny Miller's chance of success in the $175,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic will depend, to a great extent, on how he fares in today's first round.

"I need to get that good first round," Miller's new golden boy said before teeing off in the first 18 holes of the four-day chase for a $35,000 first prize.

"I'm a front-runner," Miller said. "If I get off to a bad start I might not do too good. But if I can open up with a good round, if I can get that fast start, I might be hard to handle."

The lack of a fast start has been his problem—that is, if he has had a problem—the last couple of months.

"I haven't looked it up, but my caddy told me I haven't broken par in the first round in something like the last four or five tournaments," he said. Actually, he hasn't broken par in the first round in his last seven starts.

And he hasn't won any of them.

By way of contrast, he won three of his first four starts this year, setting numerous records and capturing the imagination of the nation's golfing millions in the process. In every one of those, he had a first round in the 60s.

"That's been the problem, just getting off to a good start," Miller said.

For a brief time there was some question whether he would start at all. A foot infection made him a doubtful starter. Some antibiotics solved the problem, however. "It doesn't bother me at all now," Miller said before getting away on the 9,957-yard, par-71 Treston Trail Golf Club course.

Whether he wins or not, Miller appears almost certain of achieving one goal—reclaiming the No. 1 money-winning position. Miller had led that prestigious list from January 1974 until Jack Nicklaus edged past him two weeks ago in the Tour-nament of Champions.

Miller now trails by $1,299. Nicklaus isn't playing this week. So Johnny needs only a finish of 27th or better to regain the top spot.

Portions of the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday will be televised nationally by ABC.

El Paso Cops 4-1 Victory

By The Associated Press It was a high-scoring night for the winners in Texas League baseball Wednesday as Shreveport slaughtered Midland 12-1 to stay on top of the West Division and Lafayette whipped Alexandria 6-1 in the East.

El Paso took a 4-1 victory over San Antonio to scoop up a place in the loop's West Division. Arkansas at Jackson was postponed by rain again.

Shreveport's Paul Djanogov's three-run homer sparked a five-run second inning for the Captains. Harry Sateright added two more tallies with a sixth inning homer. The victory pushed winner Rich Anderson's record to 5-1.

For the second night in a row, Lafayette's Reggie Walton blasted in a three-run homer, his fourth this season. Winner Frank Ricelli is now 4-1.

Winning pitcher Randy Smith, 1-0, pitched seven innings and held San Antonio to one score with the help of Frank Kenyon and Mike Overy. Carlos Lopez knocked in two runs on a first inning double, while Ben Heise slammed in the Brewers' lone run in the fifth with a triple.

By BOB DILLON
Midland Lee's Rebels will have to wait until sometime Saturday night to find out who they face in the Class AAAA bi-district baseball playoff series.

Wichita Falls Rider and Trinity of Eules are currently in a best-of-three playoff series for the District 6-4A crown.

Lee, District 5-4A champions following its 4-2 victory over cross-town rival Midland last Saturday, travels to Levelland Friday for a tuneup game with the Class AAA Lobos at 4 p.m. while waiting for the outcome of the Rider-Trinity games.

Rebel Coach Ernie had tried to get a pair of games with either Carlsbad or Hobbs, but the New Mexico teams were both right in the middle of district play or had played their limit of games.

Rider and Trinity tried to open the 5-4A playoff series Tuesday in Eules, but a heavy rain washed out the game with the Rider's Rakkers leading, 4-3, with two out in the bottom of the sixth inning. The 6-4A Executive Committee ruled Wednesday that the game will have to be replayed over in its entirety today since the home team did not get to finish its time at bat in the bottom of the sixth inning. The series then moves to Wichita Falls Saturday with the second and if necessary, third game at Hoskins Field.

Lee racked up 6-1 records in both halves of the 5-4A race to win the title outright, thus giving the Rebels another crown.

The Rebels have a season record of 16-11 and have won 13 out of their last 15 games after being 3-9 at one time during the season. Levelland takes a 15-6 season mark into the game with the Rebels Friday and the Lobos went undefeated in eight District 1-AAA games.

Lee last was in the state playoffs in 1969 when the Rebels went all the way to the state finals against Houston Bellaire, losing 1-0, in the championship game.

Winner of the Rider-Trinity series will most likely face Lee in the first game in a best-of-three playoff games starting Tuesday at a site to be determined. In the past in baseball, the games are on a home-and-home basis.

Lubbock Monterey, winner of District 4-4A meets Amarillo Caprock Tuesday in Amarillo with the second and third games set for Lubbock on Thursday and Friday. The Plainsmen, defending state champions, stand 24-6 on the year and Caprock is 15-8.

El Paso Bowie and El Paso Burges meet in other bi-district action with the best-of-three playoff series starting Wednesday in Dudley Field in 7 p.m. (MST) game. The second game will also be at Dudley Field Friday and if a third game is necessary, it will be played at 10 a.m., Saturday, May 17.

The winner of the Monterey-Caprock series will face the Bowie Burges playoff winner in a best-of-three series in regional play while the winner of the Lake Highlands-Duncanville series, takes more on the Lee-6-4A winner in the other regional action.

With the 5-4A championship tucked away, Lee hopes to pound the ball like it did in loop play as the Rebels averaged .391 in 14 league outings as a team.

Bobby Stevens, first baseman-pitcher, set a new loop batting average with a robust .533 mark and he also shattered the runs-batted-in record with 31, breaking the old standard which was 18. Stevens also chalked up a 7-2 pitching record on the mound in district play.

Brett Blackwell, senior shortstop and all-loop selection last year, hit .429 in district play and the two talented seniors both have had a fine spring. Stevens takes a season batting average of .430 into the Levelland game while Blackwell has hit at a .409 clip.

Rusty Laughlin owns a .342 average on the year while Javier Torres is hitting .303. In loop play, Laughlin hit .356 and Torres .368.

OVER FLYERS- Islanders Cop 4-3 Ice Win

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The fans stood, cheering and waiting for hockey's tensest moment. The confrontation was set: New York Islanders goalie Glenn Resch against Philadelphia Flyers left wing Bill Barber in the heartstopping moment that one man has too lose—the penalty shot.

The two had never met off the ice and never spoke on it. But in an astonishing display of bravado, Resch skated over to his foe and said, "Tell me, Billy, what are you going to do? It's you or me."

Even more surprising was the fact that Barber answered the man he would try to beat on a solo breakaway.

"I don't know whether I'm going to skate or shoot. I'll see how it goes," Barber said.

Referee Dave Newell had awarded the penalty shot—only the sixth in National Hockey League playoff history—after Barber had broken in on Resch but was tripped from behind with 6:36 left in the first period.

As the crowd hushed and Barber swooped in, Resch readied for the onslaught. Barber faked, shot, and was stopped by the flashing right leg of the goalie. The save protected an early lead for the Islanders, who eventually were tied by the Flyers and won 4-3 on Jude Drouin's goal at 1:53 of overtime.

"It was me and (Flyers goalie Bertie) Parent," said Drouin. "If I had missed it, I would have shot myself."

But Drouin made good the shot, a backhand that rose into the net over Parent's outstretched right leg. So the magical Islanders found one more package in their bag of tricks and sent the series back to Philadelphia for Thursday night's fifth game.

New York, which trailed 0-3 in the best-of-seven series going into Wednesday night's game, trailed the Pittsburgh Penguins by the same margin before coming back to win their quarter-final series.

That set the stage for Drouin's dramatic goal and preserved the lustre of Resch's unusual save.

Lee In State Track Meet

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
E-T Sports Writer
AUSTIN—Individual and team state track titles will be decided here at Memorial Stadium in five divisions Friday and Saturday with both Lee and Midland High gunning for honors.

The AAAA division will begin Saturday along with A and B while the AA and AAA runners will vie Friday.

Lee will be entered in three events for a point potential of 40 points while the Bulldogs will have one individual.

Lee's Milton Jones, who finished third here last year, will be the Rebels' best bet for a first place finish in the shot put. Jones' regional qualifying toss of 62-9 1/2 is tops in the eight man field, but he could receive stiff competition from Lamar Consolidated's Greg Zulkowski, who had a 62-2 1/2 in his regional.

Midland High's Sam Zachery will also be in the shot after his 56-6 1/2 in the regionals two weeks ago. Zachery's effort, his best throw of the year, is the worst among the eight, but he is close to at least three others who have failed to clear the 60-foot mark.

Lee's Otis Butler will be in the 440 where defending state champion Erick Brown of Lufkin returns. Butler clocked a 49.9 in the regionals for an easy win, but he has a 48.8 Ewald (330 hurdles); Permian's also will be entered in the pole vault with a 13-6. Seven of eight pole vaulters own a 13-6 and should be one of the top events in the AA competition.

In the A division, Stanton will have a mile relay team that ranks fourth with a 3:24.9. Kenney McAllister, Johnny Gonzales, Gordon Eiland and Joe Hernandez will make up the team. Timpson is the favorite with a 3:22.5.

Stanton's Hernandez will be in the 800 and owns the second best time with a 1:59.5. Timpson's Donald Bogue is the favorite with a 1:58.4.

Rankin will have Alan Speed in the shot put with a 52-3 1/2 which ranks second behind Tom Van Pelt of Sebinal, who has a 52-4 1/2.

Rankin's Curtis Copeland will be in the high jump. Copeland has a leap of 6-0 to his credit, but defending champion Woody Bowles of Holiday is the favorite with a 6-4.

Crane's Arthur Lane will carry the area colors in the AA competition. He owns a 6-2 in the high jump, but five stand in a dead heat with 6-4. Lane with a 6-4.

AAA and AA competition begins at 1 p.m. Friday with field event finals and running finals will be held under the lights beginning at 7 p.m.

AAAA, A, and B action will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday with running finals slated for a 1 p.m. start.

Monahans appears to be the fourth best qualifying time, Houston Worthing (3:14.4) and Houston Madison (3:14.8) are the favorites while Abilene is rated the darkhorse with 3:17.8.

Other 5-4A thinclads entered in the state affair will be Abilene's Charles Green (220); Permian's Tommy Glass (800); Big Spring's Ricky McCormick and Permian's Lindon Dugan (mile); San Angelo's Brent

NBA Series Knotted Up

OAKLAND (AP) — The Chicago Bulls are bucking history, but guard Norm Van Lier says his team is going to beat the Golden State Warriors in the National Basketball Association Western Conference finals.

"We're the better team, and we're going to prove it. We're going to win the playoff," vowed Van Lier, even after Golden State tied the best-of-seven series at 2-2 Tuesday.

The Bulls have won only twice in 28 playoff games on the road. They must beat Golden State once on the road — either tonight or next Wednesday, in the seventh game of the series, to keep their championship hopes alive.

The sixth game will be played in Chicago Sunday.

The Bulls already have lost twice in Oakland, including Tuesday night's 111-106 defeat when they blew a 19-point lead.

Oakland's Rick Barry, who scored 26 of his 36 points in the second half, called Tuesday's game "the most memorable comeback I can think of. We could have quit and died, but we didn't."

Warriors Coach Al Attles agreed.

"It was a remarkable comeback," he said. "The Bulls play that slowdown game, so when you're way behind you've got to get something every time down the floor. You've got to hit a high percentage."

Van Lier blamed the Bulls' fall on their free throw shooting and fouls.

"We lost the game on the line," he said. "We made only 24 of 44 free throws. The turning point was when we were the dominant team and got into foul trouble. I still can't figure how we did that."

Bob Love, Chicago's high scorer with 27 points, and centers Nate Thurmond and Tom Boerwinkle each had four fouls by halftime.

Mrs. Morgan Keeps Hogan Park Lead

Mrs. ArDee Morgan continued to hold first place after the second day of the Hogan Park Women's Golf Assn. Handicap Tournament in the 18-hole flight. Mrs. Morgan's two-round score was 142.

Mrs. Larry Smith remained in second with 145 while Mrs. L. S. Melzer moved into third with a 147.

Mrs. Ralph McCleskey shot a net 33 in the nine-hole flight to take over first with a 74. Mrs. George Berry slipped to second with a 76 and Mrs. George Ashland was third with 80.

"Fundamentally, we made too many mistakes," Bowman said.

Laver, Borg Win Matches

DALLAS (AP) - Rod Laver, Solomon broke Laver's serve three times in that set. In the fifth and deciding set, Laver broke Solomon's service in the second game and then began to groove his serve and scored consecutive aces against Solomon in the third game. From that point on there was no doubt that the 36-year-old Laver had finally taken command.

The final game was marred by temperamental displays by Solomon who threw his racket after a call went against him.

Hawks Up For Sale

ATLANTA (AP) - President John Wilcox of the Atlanta Hawks said today there was a possibility that the National Basketball Association team would be sold in the near future.

Wilcox said that team owners had been talking to two groups for the past few months, but he declined to name them.

Canadiens, Sabres Scheduled For NHL Action Tonight

MONTREAL (AP) - Larry Carriere is a rarity in the National Hockey League.

Carriere, a member of the young Buffalo Sabres' defense, is one of the few players to move directly to the NHL from Canadian college hockey.

The 22-year-old Montreal native played with the Loyola Warriors for four seasons before being drafted by the Sabres with Buffalo captain Jim Schoenfeld in 1972.

Carriere was used to playing on a winner at Loyola and he thinks he will be in the winning side tonight when the Sabres meet the Montreal Canadiens in the sixth game of their game of their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semifinal. Buffalo leads the series 3-2.

"I believe we can win tonight," said Carriere. "We've got momentum and we're playing the way we can."

"We tried the emotion stuff before each of the two games in Montreal. We did a lot of talking off the ice, but we didn't do anything once we got onto them."

"We got mentally prepared for Tuesday's game in a quiet way and decided we would do our thing on the ice rather than in the dressing room."

At one stage during his young hockey career, Carriere had the choice between college hockey and the juniors and elected to go to Loyola, one of the better athletic schools in Canada.

He played on two Quebec championship teams under Coach Dave Draper. "I respect him," Carriere said of his ex-coach. "He helped me a lot. He's a great man and he knows his hockey."

Carriere said he did not regret choosing college hockey over the junior brand. One year, he tried playing junior hockey with the Verdun Maple Leafs, then of the Quebec Major Junior Hockey League, and also going to school, but finished his year at Loyola.

"The only disadvantage is that you play 40 games compared with 60 or so for the juniors. But in the colleges, you are still on the ice every day. Anyway, I played well enough and got drafted."

Carriere and his teammates know they will be in for a battle tonight as they attempt to finish the series. None of the Sabres is keen on playing a seventh game in Buffalo Sunday.

Canadiens' Coach Scotty Bowman said Wednesday he is sure his club will play a good deal better than they did in Buffalo Tuesday night - a game dominated by the Sabres and won 5-4 by Buffalo on Rene Robert's goal at 5:56 of overtime.

"Fundamentally, we made too many mistakes," Bowman said.

Allen Is Happy To Join Phils

Baseball

Baseball slugger Dick Allen said today he is happy to be back in Philadelphia and that he never wanted to leave in the first place. Allen, traded to the Phillies earlier in the day from the Atlanta Braves, was asked at a Veterans Stadium news conference if he was happy to be in Philadelphia and he answered by saying he was just glad to be back in baseball again.

Horace Stoneham, owner of the San Francisco Giants, said today he would like to sell the baseball team.

Stoneham, 72, confirmed only that much after published reports said a San Francisco syndicate, which includes National League President Charles Feeney, had offered $11.5 million for the franchise at a meeting of the team's board of directors Wednesday.

Hockey

The Vancouver franchise has been moved to Calgary and will play next season as the Cowboys instead of the Blazers.

The announcement was made Wednesday and the owners negotiated a lease to play their 40-game schedule in the 5,500-seat Stampede Corral.

Football

John McKay declined comment Wednesday on reports that the Southern California football coach will become coach of the Tampa Buccaneers when they begin play in the National Football League in 1976.

Bubba Wyche, who led Tennessee to three bowl games and Saskatchewan to three Canadian Football League division crowns, has signed to quarterback the Shreveport Steamer of the World Football League.

The Pittsburgh Steelers have signed four more draft choices and five free agents to National Football League contracts.

FEA Official Says Oil Industry's 'Image' Proving Stumbling Block

By JOE SALMAN

Tom Noel of Washington, a member of the Federal Energy Administration staff, told approximately 200 independent oilmen Wednesday afternoon that "image" is a major stumbling block in the oil industry's effort to present a true picture of its plight to those on Capitol Hill.

Noel, acting assistant administrator for management and administration of FEA, was a speaker at the Roughneck Luncheon of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association during its annual meeting.

"Those of you in the energy business must wonder how it can take so long for energy facts of life which seem obvious to you to sink into some heads in Washington," Noel said.

"I assure you that there are many of us who are just as concerned as you are that the problems of the oil and gas industry get a fair hearing wherever possible, along with the views of others who don't share your opinions.

"But, it is unfortunately true that there still are many people in Washington, and throughout the country, who cannot think of the term 'oil company' or 'oilman' without mentally conjuring up a Thomas Nast cartoon of a robber-baron type intent on enriching himself at the expense of others," Noel said.

Noel also told the oilmen that the success of this country's efforts to solve its energy problems depend in equal measure on two basic thrusts.

"First, we must conserve energy in all forms now to allow us to cut oil imports and reduce the rapidly increasing drain on our national economy resulting from payments to foreign countries for imported oil.

Second, we must explore for, develop and produce energy within this country to fuel the future needs of our citizens and the future growth of our economy."

Noel said it was to accomplish both these aims that the President proposed last week a gradual phase-out of price controls on domestically-produced crude oil.

"The near-term effect of this action would be to increase oil prices gradually, to the point where gasoline would cost about five cents more per gallon two years from now. This would encourage conservation of petroleum supplies, and experience has shown that higher prices are in fact the best inducement for energy conservation," the speaker stated.

Noel said that the President's postponement last week of a decision on imposing a second one-dollar-per-barrel fee on oil imports is a clear indication of the President's conviction that Congress and the administration are moving closer together on the issues remaining to be resolved in formulating an effective and viable national energy policy.

Noel also told his audience that he and others in Washington believe the best regulator of prices and supply of any competitive commodity is the free and open marketplace.

"Government intervention in the free market in the form of artificial controls on price or supply is justifiable only in a limited number of cases—where monopoly exists or where supplies of a vital consumer item are in short supply due to an emergency, or where temporary distortions caused by aberrations in the traditional market forces require temporary corrective action by the government," he added.

Noel said that the notion persists with many Americans that when something is amiss it can be corrected with a strong dose of government regulation.

"While regulation does indeed have its time and place, and it can serve the public well, it has the same danger inherent in all medicines—an overdose can kill the patient," Noel said.

Turning to the plight of the gas producer, Noel pointed out that since 1954 natural gas producers have been subjected to artificially low price ceilings on gas sold in interstate commerce.

"The result has been the deepening and ever more pervasive nationwide shortage of available natural gas supplies. The result was predicted by many for years, but regulation based not on economic realities, but on historical cost data, has continued," Noel stated.

Noel said the President's request for deregulation of prices would go a long way to solving the energy problem and many problems of the oilman.

"Removing artificial price controls on crude oil production and new natural gas production will raise the price of these fuels, but two highly significant and highly desirable results will parallel the higher prices.

"First, the higher energy prices will discourage consumption—and, that will allow us to cut imports of oil, benefiting our balance of payments situation.

"Second, the higher energy prices will provide both the economic incentives and the capital for investment required to encourage a vastly expanded effort to explore for and develop our massive domestic energy resources.

"And so, while most consumers would wind up with about equal added energy costs and reduced taxes—and in this case, lower- and middle-income families would even come out ahead—the nation would profit from reduced energy consumption and reduced capital outflow to pay for imported oil," Noel said.

The Roughneck Luncheon was sponsored by Lone Star Steel Co.

Sand Dunes Pool Gets New Oiler

The Sand Dunes field of Eddy County, N.M., gained its fifth Cherry Canyon producer and a location south extension to that horizon with completion of Texas American Oil Corp. No. 7-26 Todd-Federal.

It had a 24-hour pumping potential of 23 barrels of oil, gravity not reported, plus 39 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 1,174-1. Production was through perforations at 6,007, 6,036 feet, which had been acidized with 1,200 gallons and fractured with 12,500 gallons and 13,125 pounds.

Wellsite is 900 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 26-23s-31e, 20 miles east of Loving.

Devonian Oil Strike Assured

A Devonian oil discovery has been assured in the Arenas field of Ward County, with the flowing of 100 barrels of oil, no water, in 24 hours, at Gulf Oil Corp. No. 1 Edwards Fee, former Ellenburger well, four miles east of Monahans.

Flow was through a 4 1/2-inch choke and perforations at 8,037-5-8,046 feet, which have been acidized with an unreported amount.

It then swabbed and flowed four hours, through various size chokes, making six barrels of oil with gas following each pull of the swab. Testing continued.

It is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 7, block B-18, PSL survey.

Abo Discovery Gauges Potential

Yates Petroleum Corp., Artesia, N.M., has recompleted No. 1-DF State, former Canyon oil discovery, as an Abo gas discovery in Eddy County, N.M., 10 miles southwest of Artesia.

A final flow gauge of 900,000 cubic feet of gas per day was reported for the project. Flow was through a 1/2-inch choke and perforations at 4,926-4,971 feet, with no treatment reported.

Drilled to 8,269 feet in the Mississippi, it has been plugged back to 6,530 feet, and has 4 1/2-inch casing seated at 8,191 feet.

It was completed May 9, 1974 from the Canyon to pump 10 barrels of 40.7-gravity oil and 246 barrels of water daily, with gas-oil ratio of 13,380-1, through perforations at 6,505-6,750 feet.

A re-entry, it originally was

Permian Basin OIL & GAS LOG

Mallett Land & Cattle Co., was completed April 24, for 195 barrels of 28-gravity oil and four barrels of water per day, through perforations at 7,744-7,914 feet.

Offset In Kent

Marshall R. Young Oil Co. of Fort Worth, plans to drill No. 2-48 S. M. Swenson, et al, as a 1/4-mile southwest offset to the firm's No. 3 S. M. Swenson, recent Ellenburger discovery in the Beggs field of Kent.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 48, block 7, H&GN survey, 17 miles west of Clairmont. Planned objective is 8,000 feet.

The discovery was completed Feb. 20, for a daily flowing potential of 158 barrels of 41-gravity oil, daily, through a 7-64-inch choke and from open hole at 7,725-7,730 feet.

Fusselman Gas Flows In Pecos At TP Project

Texas Pacific Oil Co. No. 1-A Elsinore, 1/4-mile northeast stepout to the GMW (Montoya) gas field of Pecos County, has assured production as a Fusselman pay opener, with the flowing of gas at the daily rate of 4.3 million cubic feet, for an unreported time.

Flow was through a 21-64-inch choke and perforations at 12,293-12,419 feet, which had been acidized with 32,000 gallons and overflushed with 20,000 gallons.

The project was continuing to flow to clean.

It is 1,320 feet from south and east lines of section 72, block D, GC&SF survey, 17 miles south of Fort Stockton.

Strawn Opener Seen In Eddy

A Strawn discovery has been indicated in Eddy County, N.M., with the flowing of gas at the estimated rate of 490,000 cubic feet per day on a drillstem test at Burmah Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 Willow Lake Unit-Federal, wildcat project, one mile south of Malaga.

Tool was open 2 1/2 hours on the test taken from 11,395-11,552 feet. Gas surfaced in 42 minutes, flowing at the above volume on a 1/2-inch choke. Recovery from the test tool was the 2,000-foot water blanket, which was gas-cut, and 180 feet of gas-cut mud. Flowing pressures were 921-995 pounds; initial and final shut-in pressures were 7,288 pounds, times not reported.

The project was drilling ahead below 11,554 feet in lime and shale on a 14,000-foot contract.

It spots 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 22-24s-28e, 2 1/2 miles southwest of the Morrow gas opener in the Malaga field.

Second Producer For Midland Pool

The Braun (Pennsylvanian) oil field of Midland County gained its second producer and a 1/4-mile northwest extension with completion of Tom Brown, Inc. No. 1 Wylie, six miles southwest of Midland.

It finalized for a daily flowing potential of 124 barrels of 44-gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 2,258-1, through a 10-64-inch choke and perforations at 10,367-10,379 feet, which had been acidized with 1,000 gallons.

It was drilled to 10,800 feet, and has 4 1/2-inch casing set on bottom. The plugged-back depth is 10,510 feet.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 16, T. B. Brashears survey, abstract 860.

The discovery, Tom Brown No. 1 Braun, et al, was completed in August, 1967, for 292 barrels of 43-gravity oil and 24 barrels of lead water daily, through a 20-64-inch choke and perforations at 10,684-10,738 feet. Dual completion was effected as a Devonian gas discovery, however, it is not currently producing from that zone.

Union Texas Plans Reentry In Gaines

Union Texas Petroleum Corp., operating from Midland, has made plans to re-enter and plug back to 12,350 feet at No. 2 Norman, Devonian producer, and former Ellenburger well, for completion try as a third Canyon well and location south extension to that pay in the Norman field in Gaines County.

It was completed in June, 1970 from the Devonian for 996 barrels of oil and 21 barrels of water daily, through perforations at 12,270-12,280 feet, and dualled in the Ellenburger zone.

It spots 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 7, block C-45, PSL survey, 14 miles south of Seminole.

Four-Point Gauges Reported In Eddy

Cities Service Oil Co. has reported four-point gauges, and was calculating absolute, open flow potential at No. 2-AB Government, Wolfcamp confirmation and 3/4-mile northwest extension to that pay in the Russell field of Eddy County, N.M.

Through perforations at 9,114-9,140 feet, which had been acidized with 3,000 gallons, it flowed the following one-hour gauges: on a 19-64-inch choke, 1.850 million cubic feet per day; on an 18-64-inch choke, 1.150 million cubic feet daily; on a 17-64-inch choke, 850,000 cubic feet daily; and on a 16-64-inch choke, 580,000 cubic feet per day. It flowed 46 barrels of 54.1-gravity distillate and 7 1/2 barrels of water during the four-hour test.

It is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 10-20s-28e, nine miles east of Carlsbad.

The discovery, Cities Service No. 1-T Government, was completed April 30, 1974 for 3.8 million cubic feet of gas daily, through perforations at 9,206-9,231 feet, and dually finished from the Morrow.

The Wolfcamp zone ten-million cubic feet daily, on a 17-64-inch choke, 850,000 cubic feet assigned to the Burton, North field daily; and on a 16-64-inch

Operators Plan 15 Prospectors, 85 Development Tests In Basin Area

Projected exploration for 20, ULS, five miles north of Crane, 3,150.

The number of wildcats dropped from 17 to 15, while pool projects rose from 73 to 85.

The 13-county District 7-C of the Railroad Commission, headquartered in San Angelo, led in wildcatting, with six planned, while RRC District 8 with offices in Midland, recorded five, along with 52 development tests, and Southeast New Mexico drew sites for four prospectors.

LET CARTER'S HELP YOU SELECT BEDROOM SUITES WITH QUALITY FEATURES

Carter's thinks of you when they buy and get the best possible price without sacrificing quality. Some manufacturers, in their desire to economize, have omitted some basic construction features that determine the life of furniture. We watch for this and buy those lines that don't short-change you in quality... Sumter is one of those lines.

This purchase of fine bedroom furniture meets the test of proper framing, boxing, dust-proofing, drawer guiding, dovetail construction, good mouldings, and quarter-inch glass. It features solid maple mirror frames, drawer fronts and mouldings. Side panels and tops are maple veneer on solids. Drawer interiors are oak and mahogany. Compare it with any other line at the money-saving prices shown at the right.

Some Gun Control Advocates Find Fault With Ford's Compromise Plan

THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, THURS., MAY 6, 1975-1D

By EDMUND PINTO
WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of those who favor gun control object to President Ford's decision not to recommend handgun registration and say registration is a compromise approach compared to proposals calling for a flat ban on the manufacture of cheap handguns.

On the other hand, a major opponent of gun controls, the National Rifle Association, said Wednesday it was heartened by Ford's statement on gun control at his Tuesday night news conference.

Ford said he "was not going to recommend the registration of gun owners and I am not going to recommend the registration of guns or handguns ... If we can find some responsible ways to do it other than that approach, we certainly will consider them."

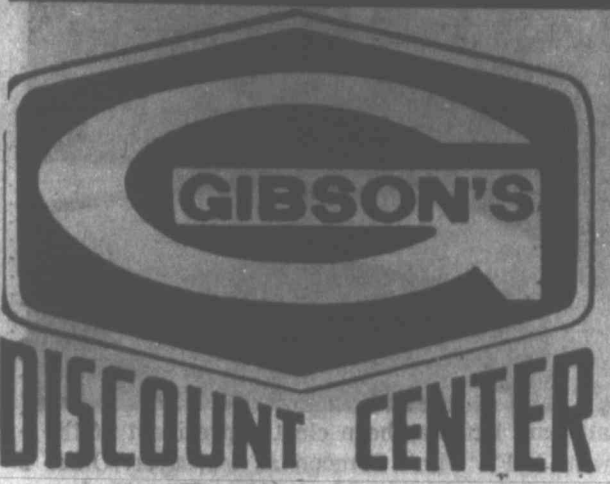

A congressional expert on gun control said Ford was still looking at the gun control issue "the same way as when he was a representative and registration was an extreme."

"That's not right," he continued. "Extreme is the Bingham bill. Registration is the compromise."

That bill introduced by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Rep. Jonathan B. Bingham, D-N.Y., includes language that would ban the manufacture, sale, transportation and ownership of handguns.

A leading congressional Republican supporter of handgun registration said he was disappointed with Ford's position against registration.

Rep. Robert McClory, R-Ill., member of the House Judiciary subcommittee on crime, which held hearings on gun control earlier this year, said he wants to see a registration bill passed.

Some Renewed Concern Seen In Market Over Inflation

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices were scattered over a wide range today, with blue chips leading the losers and some renewed concern over inflation.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials declined 4.93 to 831.51 after being little changed in the opening hour. Advances maintained a moderate lead over declines on the New York Stock Exchange.

Traders apparently were disturbed by news as the market opened that the government's wholesale price index in April was up 1.5 per cent, reversing four consecutive months of price drops. "We're in an indecisive market, torn between the bad news on wholesale prices and the fact that the market wants to continue up on its bulk-in momentum," said analyst Harry Laubscher.

Houston Lighting & Power, the most active Big Board issue, was up 1/4 to 20 1/4, including a 240,000-share block at 20 1/4.

The NYSE's composite stock index dipped 0.10 to 47.05, while the American Exchange's market value index added 0.13 to 99.53.

Among the blue chips giving ground in profit taking, Alcoa fell 1 1/2 to 14 1/8, DuPont 1 1/4 to 120, Kodak 1/4 to 104 1/4 and IBM 1/4 to 209 1/4.

Coal Stocks moved ahead, with North American Coal up 1/4 to 35 1/4 and Pittston Co. 1/4 to 60.

Ford Motor fell 1/4 to 35 1/4, despite a statement by Chairman Henry Ford II that the company intends to show a profit in the second quarter.

On the Amex, the most active issue, U.S. Filter, rose 1/4 to 19 1/4.

Cooling-Off Period Set For Teen-Age Marriages

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — In an attempt to curtail the rising divorce rate, the Roman Catholic Diocese in Orlando has set a three-month cooling off period for anyone under the age of 19 wishing to marry in the church.

Under the "Youthful Marriage Policy," priests also will scrutinize teen-agers to see if they are mature and financially stable enough to make a success of marriage.

Adopted Tuesday by the diocese's policy-making board, the program was drawn up by a committee of priests and laymen headed by the Rev. John Bluett, director of the Diocese's Family Life Department.

The diocese, which includes 13 Central Florida counties, has more than 140,000 members.

Father Bluett estimated that about 100 to 120 cases a year would be affected by the policy. He said the right of couples to marry who gave evidence "of required minimal maturity" would be guaranteed.

"The right to marry is a natural right of high priority," the committee's said. "It is not, however, an unrestricted right. Both Church and State can establish legitimate restrictions."

"Such restrictions must be founded in serious causes, whereby the proposed marriage is shown to be in conflict with Christian revelation, or posing a threat to the common good of society."

The committee said the goal is to fight divorce "where it begins — in hasty or ill-advised marriages, particularly among the young."

It said 33 per cent of all divorced couples are teen-agers and "seven out of 10 marriages involving teen-agers end in separation. In teen-age marriages where pregnancy was a factor, 90 per cent break up...."

"Many priests feel helpless where the legal and the minimal spiritual requirements are met by the couple, but their youth and-or pregnancy factor leads the priest to believe that marriage has little hope for success."

Under the policy, couples seeking marriage "when either party has not yet reached his or her 19th birthday" are required:

—To wait three months from the time of their first interview with a priest to the date of their marriage.

—Have in-depth interviews with the priest dealing with family background, parents' attitudes, desire to escape an unpleasant home situation, pregnancy, degree of infatuation.

—To submit to a study by the church of the couple's financial status and its ability to handle money.

—To attend special instruction and counseling sessions.

—To get written permission from the diocese's marriage court before the ceremony could be performed.

—To delay setting a firm wedding date until complying with all sections of the marriage policy.

Count Winners For Cross-Ruff

Traditionally, you count losers when planning the play of a trump contract. When you must ruff in both hands, however, check the winners as well as the losers.

South counted losers: none in clubs, since he could ruff in dummy; none in diamonds, since he could ruff in his own hand. South thought he could well afford to lose three trumps and two hearts.

Hence, South carelessly finessed dummy's queen of hearts at the first trick.

East won with the king of hearts and returned his trump. West took three top trumps and led his last trump, clearing the suit.

Suddenly some of the South's winners had evaporated. He could get one trump trick, one heart, two diamonds and two clubs. Down two.

Fatal Finesse
South should count five top cards in the side suits; he needs three trump tricks to make the contract. A cross-ruff is the best play for three trump tricks.

Since South must allow the opponents to lead trumps, he must not finesse at the first trick.

Declarer takes the first trick with dummy's ace of hearts, cashes his top cards in the side suits and begins the cross-ruff. He ruffs the first time in each hand with a low trump, and thereafter cannot be prevented from making one additional trump trick.

DAILY QUESTION
Dealer bids one club, your partner doubles, and the next player passes. You hold: S H K J 10 7 6 D Q Q J 9 5 C Q 10 5. What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts. The jump response to partner's takeout double is invitational but not forcing. If partner has good values for his double, he can go on; otherwise he can pass at a comfortable contract.

Five Men Charged In Heroin Seizure

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Two Mexican nationals and three Hidalgo County residents have been charged with smuggling a pound of heroin into the United States from Mexico.

The five men, arrested by federal agents near Madero, a small town south of Mission, were ordered held in the Cameron County Jail here following an arraignment.

U.S. Magistrate William Mallett set bond on Nicesoro Gutierrez Saenz, 53, and Octavio Gama Marron, 46, both of Diaz Ordaz, Mexico, at $250,000 each.

He ordered Manuel Ricardo Garcia, 30, of Pecos, David Ramiro Garza, 28, and Noe Sanchez, 21, both of Mission, held in lieu of $100,000 bond each.

MIDLAND Youth Center CHATTER

By GAYLE GRIMLAND, LESLIE MORGAN and VICKI THROCKMORTON

Well, Gang, our oven has been pre-heated to an average of 85 degrees each day. With so much to look forward to, our 3-layer cake (3 weeks hot to go) will be out of the oven in no time.

The first step is to congratulate Mary Owen, Lisa Howe, Kathy Johnson, Pam Scharbauer and Judy Blaylock for being the No. 1 girls golf team in the state. Next, "sift" through the volleyball team and wish the girls the best of luck in Reno for Nationals. Adding a little "spice" to the team will be Sara Moore, as she was invited to try-out for the Olympic volleyball team. "Blending together" the talents of the gym team and President Tim Blonkvist in his Farewell Speech next Wednesday will give us one heck of a good Assembly. The football boys, presently are in spring training, so omit the sugar. They're working on their talent which will be frozen until fall when they thaw out for a victorious season.

Set these sports aside to rise until 7 p.m. for a rewarding Spring Sports Banquet tonight.

The "pan" will be greased with the Chess Club meeting from 3-4:30 p.m. Monday in Room 215 and the F.H.A. meeting at 6:30 p.m., so that the end product will slip right out.

After being "separated from the yolk," the Band is "whipping" up a good time in Monterrey, Mexico, for its spring trip and concert. To "fold" in the year, I.C.T. has planned a banquet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. The Choir will be "hard packed" with food after a luncheon next Thursday: Holiday Inn, 12 noon. Also next Thursday morning, Seniors will "mix together" to "shake" out Dubious Awards and "level" their mouth with a hearty breakfast: Dellwood 7 a.m.

Next year will "measure" out to be a good one with Student Council officers like President Jeff Webb, and Vice President Sterling Price.

Julea Kinsey is not only "sprinkled" with persuasion but she is the top authority on it in Texas as was shown at the State Speech Meet.

Coming out of the oven this week feeling honored were Mary Overton and Sterling Price, as Junior Rotarians.

Mr. Rasco wants to thank all the people who helped the Youth Center along this year, including all students who worked.

Icing the cake will be Mom this Sunday as it is her special day.

Lacking the bowl, Gayle Grimland, Leslie Morgan, Vicki Throckmorton.

P.S. Congratulation to the Reds for being district baseball champs.
