Angelo, Fraser Assail Eckhardt Price Ceiling Proposal

Mayor Ernest Angelo Jr. and Charles Fraser, senior vice president and head of the oil department at the First National Bank here, today offered strong rebuttal to oil price ceilings as suggested by U.S. Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston during two sessions of the Midland-Odessa Citizens' Forum held Friday and Saturday.

Angelo said, "Price controls have never worked anywhere. There is no one in government or industry with enough knowledge of the oil business to determine a price which would give the petroleum industry the strength it must have for the future of our country."

Eckhardt suggested fixing the price of oil and new oil at a ceiling of $7.50 per barrel and is proposing the measure in the House. Presently, old oil is selling for $5.25 per barrel and new oil is going at $9 to $11 per barrel.

Eckhardt suggested during the forum sessions that new oil prices are a major cause of inflation in this country.

Angelo said the congressman would have the petroleum industry come under the same type of regulation as was forced on the gas industry under the guidelines of the Federal Power Commission. He said those regulatory methods have proved to be "total disaster."

Angelo cited an "extremely complicated" relationship between the cost of producing petroleum and pricing with a major factor being one of "risk" by the oil companies. He said this complication is not understood by those who would attempt to control the pricing of oil in this country.

Saturday, Fraser told the congressman, "A roll back to $7.50 per barrel will result in at least half the drilling rigs in West Texas being shut down."

Fraser said no one knows what the price of crude oil or natural gas needs to be fixed at to elicit the maximum rate of domestic production. He said, "No one is smart enough to figure that out."

"I don't understand," Fraser said, "why it is not better to keep the price uncontrolled and let the consumer decide when the price exceeds what he is willing to pay."

He said consumers will control what is charged for petroleum products at the "gas pumps."

"It is up to the American public to decide whether or not they want to be dependent on foreign oil by setting domestic prices too low—Eckhardt's proposal would set the domestic price far too low," Fraser said.

Fraser said he would appear next week before the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs to testify on depletion rates.

Concerning the forum, Fraser said, "Anyone who would attempt to justify a program for controlling oil prices based on the positions presented and the people represented at those two meetings would have to be an absolute hypocrite, but I fear that is the intent of those responsible for arranging the forums."

It would challenge those people to invite Rep. Eckhardt back, along with Reps. George Mahon and Richard White for a well publicized repeat performance."

Speakers of the forum, one in particular, were very critical of the posture expressed by the Permian Basin Petroleum Association, in effect labeling the members as typical oil executives, and the villains in a plot against the American public which will lead to world war."

"There appeared to have been little effort made to have any significant cross section of the Midland-Odessa populace either aware of the meetings or present as evidenced by the meager turnout of less than 40 persons of each city. I find it difficult to justify using federal tax money to fund an outcry against free enterprise and to sanction proposed legislation, which if passed would doom our local economy."

Midland Woman Found Dead In Car

Mrs. Susan Allene Kyser, 31, 4326 W. Dengar St., was found dead inside an automobile parked in the closed garage of her residence early today.

Mrs. Kyser was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace John Biggs, who withheld a ruling in the death pending an autopsy.

Early-Filing Midlanders Should Get Rebates Soon

Midlanders who filed their income tax returns Jan. 1 through Feb. 13, should soon be getting their tax rebate checks, if they haven't already.

According to Gene McClesky of the Internal Revenue Service in Midland, the scheduled mailing of rebate checks was Friday and affected those who filed their returns Jan. 1 through Feb. 13.

McClesky said he did know of some persons who received their rebate checks over the weekend. He did not know, however, how many checks had been mailed to date or when the next mailing date would be for those who filed after Feb. 13.

David Holster, Midland postmaster, said there had not been an unusual increase in the amount of mail going through the post office due to rebate checks.

"I know a number of rebate checks have come through the post office, but they are included with other mail and we have no way of checking how many," Holster said.

Holster said the rebate checks, unlike veterans and social security checks, have no specified date of delivery stamped on them. They could be delivered at any time.

Also proposed is expanding the multi-aged grouping concept to a 2-3 class at West Elementary, one of the pilot schools for K-1.

The first major item on the agenda, however, is inspection and acceptance of the Austin Freshman School vocational facility which trustees will tour prior to the meeting.

Designation of an authorized representative to request and allocate surplus commodities also is slated for action, as well as setting criteria for the selection of an agent of record for student insurance.

Other business will include consideration of comments to be given the Human Relations Council's application to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for project funding.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Turn Over A New Leaf And Save Your Plants

Dear Heloise: I have just learned the best way to water plants that are buried in pots of soil, without over-and-under-watering.

I take a plastic bottle with a narrow neck and cut the bottom out of it. I plant this in my soil upside down!

Then all I do is pour the water in the plastic bottle and it soaks the plant slowly without overwatering. This way, when you water an extremely dry plant, which you forgot about, it won't run over.

Anne Palivoda

Now aren't you the tricky one, my lassie? We all love you for letting us in on your secret.

When I flood a dry plant with water I always take my ice pick (or a pencil, if the plant is big enough) and punch holes in the soil. The bubbles start breaking and the water goes to the bottom of the soil quickly. Aeration, you know?

This way we do not get plant rot near the top of the plant and all these pretty leaves start dying from overwatering.

Also, if you are using plant food, some of it will get to those roots where it really needs to be.

Stop and think about this: The top soil sifts out all the vitamins the roots are supposed to be getting if the plant itself has not been reported in a long while. Filtering it, I suppose, etc.

So happy sticking the soil with your old pencil tomorrow.

Heloise

P.S. I just left all my oil pencils in each pot plant so I won't forget next time I water 'em. They don't show among the leaves.

Dear Heloise: I have found a quick and safe way to dice hard-boiled eggs for egg salad:

Use a French fry potato cutter. Place over bowl and press hard-boiled egg through the cutter.

My family prefers these finely diced pieces over the too mashed eggs in egg salad.

Sharon Ballew

It works. The egg is cut in a hurry. Much faster than cutting on the egg slicer.

Heloise

Dear Heloise: In this day of so many self-service gas stations, how easy it is to forget the gas cap and leave it lying on the pump or back of the car!

But here's a tip: always take the cap off and put it on the front seat.

If you forget it replace it; at least you haven't lost it.

Joanne Barris

Dear Heloise: The other night I discovered a great "mess saver" and wanted to share the idea.

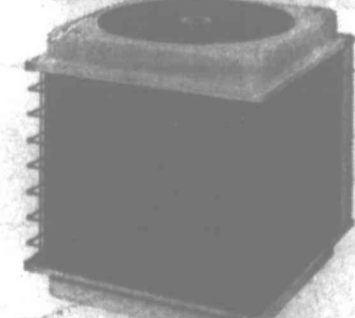

I needed to make a graham cracker crust. So I put the crackers into a gallon-sized plastic bag, let the air out and sealed the bag.

After rolling the crumbs fine, I added the sugar and softened margarine, made sure the bag was closed, then mashed and squashed it all together until it was thoroughly mixed.

Then I dumped it into the pie plate. Out went the bag and all I had to do was press the crumbs into the pan. No mess!

DAR Chapter Concludes Activities With Luncheon

The L. William Brewer Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held its final spring meeting, an installation luncheon, recently in the Midland Woman's Club.

The luncheon honored the state chairman of national committees and the chapter's leaders of the Children of the American Revolution. Reports were presented on the National Society, DAR, Continental Congress.

Mrs. John E. Cross, regent, presided. Mrs. George Staley, Mrs. Kingdon Hughes and Mrs. Joe Mabey were the hostesses.

Mrs. Cross introduced Mrs. L. H. Luckey, senior president of the Joseph Black Society, CAR, and Mrs. Robert C. Nelson, chapter member who is a state senior treasurer of the Texas Society, CAR, and who currently is senior vice president of the Texas Society, CAR. Also introduced was Mrs. Richard L. Denham, chapter member, who is the state chairman of the national committee of American History Month.

Dr. Dorothy Wyvell presented a national defense report on the national indebtedness and taxation. Quoting from "The National Defender," she gave figures indicating that if the Federal red ink spenders and the currency wreckers keep on at their present rate the next few years, before 1980, what cost $2 in mid-1974 will cost $8.

The chapter voted to cooperate with other heritage societies in the city in contributing to Green Horizons, a Bicentennial project for landscaping the grounds of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum and Hall of Fame.

Heleen Cross, who has served as president of the Joseph Black Society the last two years, presented the chapter a certificate of appreciation. Leaf Fallor, recently elected to the office of state recording secretary of the CAR, also thanked the chapter.

Guests introduced at the luncheon were Mrs. M. A. Bonnar, Mrs. Edna Hughes, Mrs. George VanHusen, Mrs. Dimple Currie, Mrs. W. A. Hutcheson and Mrs. Luckey.

Mrs. VanHusen, regent of the Col. Theunis Dey Chapter, DAR, attended the 84th Continental Congress in Washington, D.C. She gave highlights of the meeting. She said the DAR president general's project this year is painting ceiling murals in the halls of the national capitol. The Texas Society, DAR, is contributing $5,000 to this project. At the meeting, Texas placed first in membership, first in junior membership and also had the largest number of Junior American Citizens Clubs in the United States. Texas also contributed the largest amount to the DAR Museum in Washington and placed second in the scrapbook division.

Recognized as a new member was Mrs. James C. Parker.

Mrs. Donald A. Ross, acting chaplain, installed the new officers: Mrs. Staley, regent; Mrs. John A. Barbe, vice regent; Mrs. Arthur W. Jones, chaplain; Mrs. E. H. Judson, treasurer; Mrs. Homer T. Fort, recording secretary; Mrs. Jack Shepherd, registrar; Mrs. Frank E. Ittner, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Nelson, historian, and Mrs. E. M. Gorence, librarian.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

Thrice Burned Not Enough?

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 17-year-old girl, graduating from high school this June. My problem is my parents. They don't want me to have anything to do with my boyfriend, who is 18, because I've been impregnated by him three times.

The first two times I was forced to get abortions, and the third time I waited too long, had the baby and placed him for adoption.

My parents have also heard bad things about my boyfriend, but he did those things when he was 15 and 16, and he has reformed now. He has a job and is staying out of trouble.

Abby, there is absolutely no way I could ever stop seeing him. He's a lot of fun to be with, and we love each other and want to get married some day. Please don't tell me to date others because he is the only one for me. We've been going steady for five years and don't like to sneak around behind my parents' backs. Please help me convince them to let me see him.

IN LOVE IN N.J.

DEAR IN: Sorry, I can't blame them for feeling as they do. They have been through three nightmarish experiences with you, and they're not looking for a fourth. When you have matured and are on your own, you won't need their permission, but because of your past mistakes you'll have to wait until then.

DEAR ABBY: With all due respect to Ripley's "Believe it or Not," there is no documentation to support its story that a 99-year-old American Indian woman gave birth to a child. And the same goes for the one about the 64-year-old woman who was said to have produced a child with her 80-year-old husband.

"The Guinness Book of Records" has documents to prove that Mrs. Ruth Alice Kistler (nee Taylor), at 57 years and 129 days old, gave birth to a daughter, Susan, in Glendale, California on Oct. 18, 1956. This is the oldest recorded birth of which there is certain evidence.

AN M.D.

DEAR M.D.: I'll buy "Guidance." But how about the Biblical Sarah who, at age 90, bore a son for her husband, Abraham, when he was 100? (Genesis 21)

DEAR ABBY: Four years ago, my father was told that he had kidney failure and would have to go on a dialysis machine.

Because his kidney failure was recent, the chance of obtaining a kidney transplant was small. (There are adults and children who have waited 10 years and longer for a kidney transplant because Americans are either unaware of this need or have hangups about having parts of their bodies removed after death.)

Thank heavens there was a dear man who had no such hangup. Unfortunately, he was in a fatal car accident, but he gave up his kidney, which matched my father's needs. That was two years ago, and my family is eternally grateful to that generous man.

Needless to say, the members of my entire family are card-carrying kidney donors. How I wish more people would become donors. If they know how much it meant to people like us, they would be.

M.C.P.

DEAR M.C.P.: I am, and have been for four years. And if my readers want to leave a legacy of inestimable value, write to The National Kidney Foundation, 116 East 27th St., N.Y., N.Y. 10016 for a donor card.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamp, self-addressed envelope, please.

Mrs. John P. McKinley, District 1 representative and organizing president of the Aaron Estes Chapter, is general chairman of the convention, which has been dedicated to Mary Moody Northern.

Mrs. George Plunkett Red

Theme of the convention is "The Alamo Bell", which was cast in 1722 and now is owned by the Nita Stewart Haley Memorial Library at Midland. The "pet project" of Mrs. Red has been the reconstruction and restoration of the Carriage House at the French Legation at Austin, of which the Daughters are custodians.

Much has been written about Count Jean-Peter Isidore Alphonse Dubois de Saligny, who in 1830, was the first foreign envoy to the Republic of Texas.

Yet of the house which Monsieur de Saligny built for himself, high on a hill-top overlooking the frontier capital of Texas, very little has been recorded.

The Count's house also served as the Legation de France, and a plaque to this effect hung just above the front entrance steps. The house was built of Bastrop pine with native rock foundation and chimneys and the architecture is Louisiana-French, or the type found in Creole settlements along the Caribbean. Square pillars supported the roof of the front veranda, and green shutters accented the white frame exterior.

Four rooms comprised the Count's house downstairs, divided by a full-length central hallway, which also served as a dining room. It was also used for dancing, when on formal occasions, guests included ladies.

Looking at the hallway today, it would seem terribly small for a dance, but feminine partners no doubt were relatively few, for of the town's total population of 856, there were 61 women.

When de Saligny bought the land Sept. 15, 1840, for $1,000, it consisted of just over 21 acres. Before the house was completed, he sold it to Bishop John Marri Odin of San Antonio. He agreed in the deed to complete the house, build a kitchen at the rear and a four horse stable; also to enclose the property with a pretty wall or fence in the front and a more ordinary one at the back, all at his own expense. He was to occupy the property until April 1, 1842 and then give possession to Bishop Odin.

The house was sold again Oct. 30, 1847 and then purchased by Dr. Joseph W. Robertson May 16, 1848. It remained in the possession of his family and heirs for nearly 100 years before the State of Texas, in 1945, bought the Legation and 2 1/2 surrounding acres from the Robertson heirs. The Daughters were then given custody of the building.

The restored French Legation was opened to the public April 5, 1956. The grounds are enclosed with a high fence of native stone, costing more than $11,000.

349-Pound Wrestler 'Big' Box Office

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — "I'm a 'big' box office," says Heather Feather, the 23-year-old Midwest U.S. Ladies Wrestling Champion and big she is indeed. She weighs 349 pounds.

Miss Feather, who was here to appear in an exhibition match, said she owes her bigness to pizza.

"Pizza and soft drink, pizza and steak, pizza and chocolate cake. A lot of calories in pizza," she said.

She was working at a Michigan bowling alley as a pin girl when she she was "discovered" by a wrestling promoter. Now she makes anywhere from $100 to $1,500 an appearance. She sometimes wrestles six or seven nights a week. Some matches are on the local ham-and-eggs circuits; others have been in Puerto Rico, Australia and Japan. She flies to San Francisco once a month to wrestle at the Cow Palace.

Her size doesn't turn men off, she said. What turns them off is hearing she's a wrestler.

"Guys on the dance floor say 'What do you do?' and I say 'I'm a lady wrestler' and they say 'Goodbye,'" she said.

Iris McCampbell Elected CANYON—Iris McCampbell of Midland, recently initiated into Kappa Delta Pi, an honorary education organization at West Texas State University, has been elected the group's president.

WHAT IS THE TRUTH?

"Thy Word is Truth" (John 17:17)

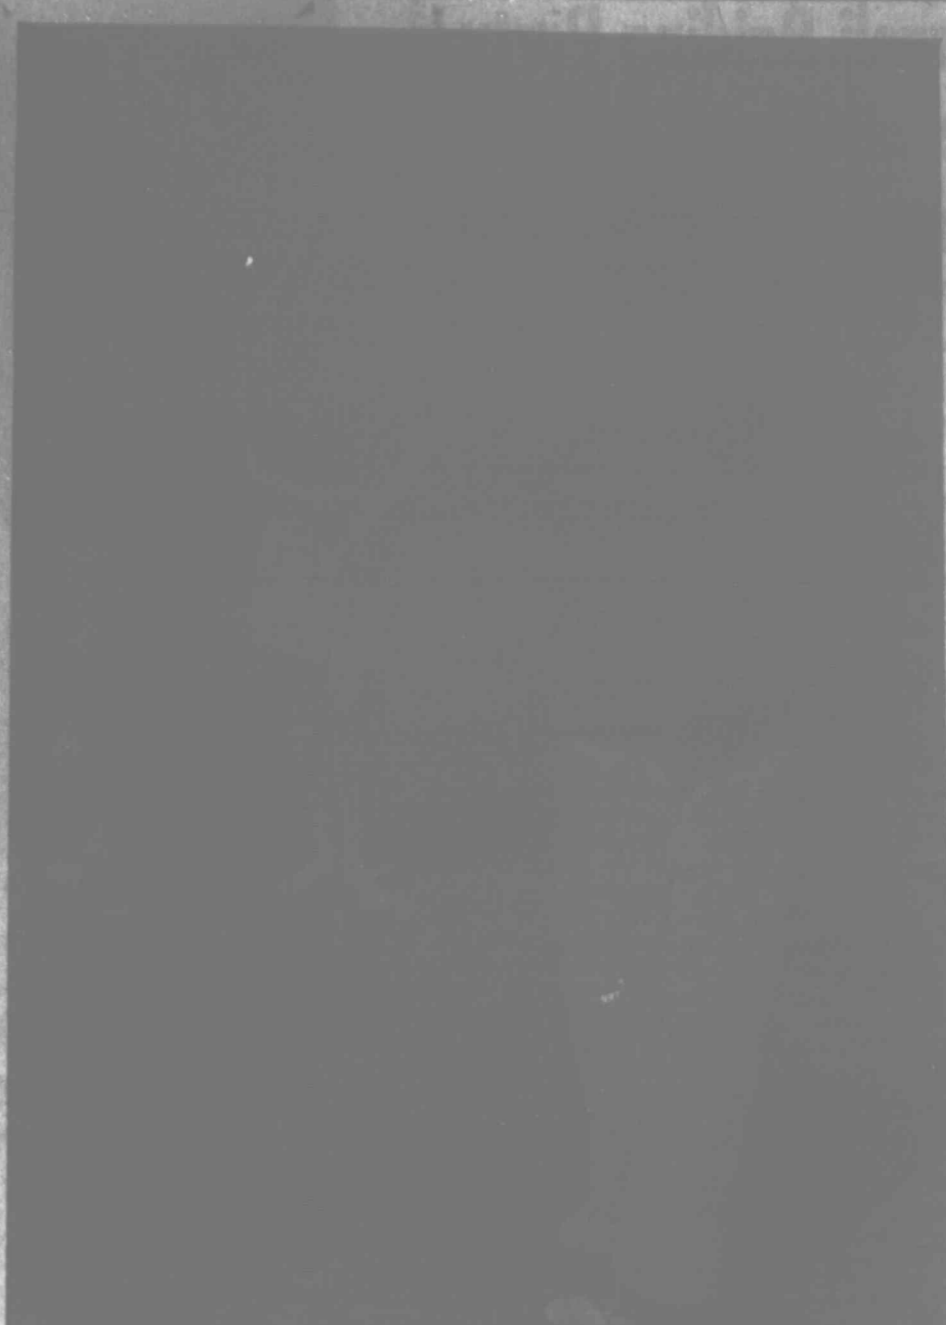

by Bryan Bost

Many thoughtful people wonder, "How can I know about God?" The Bible answers, "As a start, look around at the world because God made it." Indeed, we can know of God's existence through our natural surroundings. For example, Psalm 19 declares, "The heavens are telling the glory of God; and the firmament proclaims his handiwork." The apostle Paul concludes that all have a chance to know God since "his invisible nature, namely, his eternal power and deity, has been clearly perceived in the things that have been made" (Romans 1:20).

However, our knowledge of God must be more than a faith-building appreciation of a sunset or of majestic clouds in the sky. Nature lets us know that God is real but does not reveal him completely. Jesus Christ has that function: in him God was explained in human form, in terms we can understand.

Believe in God because of the universe he has created; know him and love him through the revelation of his Son Jesus Christ.

Since higher fuel costs are pushing the price of electricity up, it's important to use it wisely.

These two simple tools can help.

Proper insulation and weatherstripping will help you use electricity more efficiently for air conditioning. You can check the insulation and weatherstripping in your home with just a ruler and a flashlight.

Inadequate insulation is the single biggest cause of energy loss in most homes—in both summer and winter. Experts recommend about six inches of insulation in your attic.

If your attic insulation doesn't measure up, you can add more of either loose, blown-in insulation or "batts" (long strips). The loose kind of insulation settles, so it may be necessary to add more after several years.

To check the weatherstripping around exterior doors, have someone shine a flashlight around the edges of each closed door. If you can see light, it means you may have to add or replace worn weatherstripping.

Saving electric energy takes very little energy on your part, and, since electricity is costing more, it's worth the effort.

Israeli Raiding Party Seizes Five Suspected Terrorists In Lebanon

By The Associated Press
An Israeli army raiding party crossed into southern Lebanon this morning in an anti-terrorist operation and captured five suspected guerrillas, one of them a woman, the Israeli command said.
It said the raiders hit three villages about two miles across the border, the same area where at least two incidents of shelling by Lebanese gunners have been reported this month.
By Israeli accounts, the raid broke a hull in Israeli incursions into Lebanon that had lasted since Jan. 15.

The official in Bint Jbeil said the Israeli force numbered about 100 men. He said four other Lebanese were taken from the villages of Ait al-Shaab and Ait Aroun after a house-to-house search.
Lebanon has also charged Israel with four mine-laying missions on the Lebanese side of the border in the past five weeks.
The mine layers apparently were trying to block routes that the Palestine guerrillas might use for raids into northern Israel.

Guerrillas Take Hope
The guerrillas have taken renewed hope from the fall of the U.S.-backed governments in Indochina, Yasir Arafat, the chief of the Palestine Liberation Organization, cabled the Viet Cong that its "victory over American imperialism and its agents in your country has given us limitless confidence to pursue and strengthen our struggle the same way you did."

Other Mideast developments: Egypt and the wealthy Persian Gulf oil states of Saudi Arabia, Qatar and the United Arab Emirates contributed $1.04 billion in capital to form The Arab Authority for Military Industry, the first major step toward establishing an arms industry. Its first project is expected to be establishment of an arms plant in Egypt.
Israeli Ships Still Barred
Officials in Jerusalem said Israel has told the United States it will make no gesture toward Egypt to welcome the reopening of the Suez Canal, from which Israeli ships will still be barred. State Department officials in Washington spoke of the possibility of another Israeli withdrawal a few miles east of the canal to demonstrate a willingness to pursue peace with Egypt.

Growing Scandal Engulfs New Orleans Hospital, Second Largest In America

By PETER HERNON
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The nation's second largest hospital is engulfed in a growing scandal in which 20 persons have been arrested on a criminal investigation of widespread theft, illicit drug traffic and prostitution.
Two employees have been charged with trying to obtain drugs with forged prescriptions. And the hospital's security director and four top assistants were fired after a doctor was charged with buying a stolen electrocardiograph.

Investigators say hospital employees, apparently acting independently, are responsible for most of the crime. A secret state police report, however, has linked several officials to organized crime.
—At least one patient received an injection of distilled water instead of medication. —Marijuana has been sold in the corridors. —Thousands of pounds of meat have been stolen.

Five other guards have either submitted resignations or been fired. Officials said at least 20 employees are under investigation.
—A check of 900 of the hospital's 5,000 employees showed 170 had police records.
The agents, whose code names were Salt and Pepper, were pulled off the case after officials said their comments to newsmen had blown their cover. Salt and Pepper said inadequate security has led to much of the hospital's theft which ranges from wheel chairs to $2,000 X-ray tubes.
"One security guard sold two lids (bags) of marijuana to my partner while I was watching," said Salt.
The men said they have seen guards help load stolen equipment into cars. Loose security, they said, also has permitted pimples to smuggle prostitutes onto the wards.
State police have taken over security operations at Charity, a move that drastically plugged the flow of stolen meat.
Some of the crime is blamed on "the hospital's chronic overcrowding."
Director Lee Frazier said he has over 1,800 beds but has put up to 30 patients a day on rollers in the corridors because there is no room in the wards. He said he could use 200 more nurses to care for the 1.3 million outpatient visits handled at the hospital every year.
Charity, founded in 1735 with money from a sailor's will, offers free service. Only Los Angeles County Hospital, with 2,100 beds, is larger.

Security guards arranged phony bomb scares so sections of the hospital could be pilfered in the confusion.

Soviets To Increase Grain Storage

By DON KENDALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union plans to increase its grain storage facilities by nearly one-third by 1980, a move U.S. experts say could save much of the Russian crop now lost each year because of poor handling after harvest.
Fletcher R. Pope Jr., a specialist in the Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service, told a reporter he could not predict whether an improved Soviet grain handling system might eventually mean a lesser need for imports.
Pope said the Agriculture Department estimates about 10 per cent of the Soviet Union's grain harvest is lost each year on the average, much of it from lack of modern storage and handling facilities.
The proposed grain storage expansion was outlined in a report by A. Paul Danylyk, assistant U.S. agricultural attaché in Moscow. He said the Soviet plan is to construct about 40 million metric tons of additional off-farm storage capacity in the next five years, boosting the total capacity to 180 million tons by then.

"The sharp rise in construction plans follows in the wake of grain crops in 1973 and 1974 that were the largest ever," Danylyk said. "It also suggests a response to criticism about the high losses of grain due to shortages of both storing and drying facilities."
The push to improve storage facilities is reminiscent of similar massive expansions in the United States in the early 1960s when huge surpluses of wheat and corn caused existing warehouses to overflow. Currently, U.S. grain storage capacity — not counting farmers' own units — is around 160 million tons.
Danylyk said Soviet leaders became aware of storage deficiencies after the 1973 grain crop yielded a record of 222.5 million tons, about 25 million more than anticipated.

Agriculture Department officials think Russia may still be a fairly consistent buyer of corn or other feed grains if Moscow's plan to push livestock production continues. Improved grain handling and storage in the Soviet Union could, if crop losses are reduced, alter the situation in future years.

Philippines Government Said Planning On Using U.S. Base As University

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — The Philippine government is making plans to convert Clark Air Base, America's largest overseas military installation, into a university complex in expectation of a U.S. withdrawal, a well-informed columnist reported today.
"We are already drawing plans for the day when we can make the Americans go," wrote Teodoro F. Valencia, who is closely identified with the martial law regime of President Ferdinand E. Marcos.
"Clark will become a big university complex, to move out many of the overcrowded institutions of higher learning in the greater Manila area," he said.
Valencia added that a "new big city" will be built around the original Clark headquarters 50 miles north of Manila and that the target ranges and reserves at Clark and Subic Naval Station will be converted into agricultural areas. Modern superhighways will connect both areas to Manila, he said.
Marcos and his government have begun a review of U.S. Philippine military and defense agreements in light of what he has termed the American abandonment of Cambodia and South Vietnam. At the same time, Marcos is stressing the need to improve relations with China and the Soviet Union. He has said the Philippines and the United States will start negotiations over the bases "within weeks."

The United States maintains at least 17,000 servicemen plus about 70,000 family members and Filipino employees at Clark and Subic, which have been used as stopovers in the evacuation airlift from Saigon.
American officials here have said that the operation at Clark alone is worth about $165 million a year to the Philippine economy.

First quarter business reports revealed a loss of $541,000 on revenue of $115.2 million.

Welfare Errors Reportedly Cost $500 Million In 1974

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mistakes by state and local officials who administer the government's largest welfare program caused an estimated $500 million in erroneous payments last year, a new study says.
Another $500 million was spent erroneously because of incorrect information from welfare recipients about factors that determine eligibility for payments, according to the study by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.
Analyzing payments under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program between January and June 1974, the study found 9.3 per cent of AFDC families ineligible, 30.6 per cent overpaid and 8 per cent underpaid.
Seven of 10 errors by state officials resulted from failure to take action on information they possessed about AFDC families' circumstances, the report said. For example, welfare officials might not reduce payments to a family even though they have copies of birth certificates and can determine when children turn 18 and no longer are eligible.

Three out of four errors blamed on recipients involved failure to report changes in family income, the report said.
About $8 billion is distributed through the AFDC program to about 3 million families each year.

Busby blanks Milwaukee, 4-0

Free-For-All Livens Up Boring Contest

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

It wasn't a full-fledged free-for-all in the best baseball tradition, but for a lazy afternoon in Kansas City it wasn't bad.

The Royals were coasting 4-0 behind Steve Busby, Milwaukee wasn't making much of a comeback attempt and the 11,163 fans scattered around Royals Stadium were stifling yawns.

Then Kansas City's George Brett and Milwaukee's Kurt Bevacqua woke everyone up with some fistfights in the seventh inning. Brett barreled into second trying to break up a double play, both players came up swinging and the crowd had something to yell about.

So did Bevacqua and Brett. Both benches and bullpens emptied, but just to get a better look. No one else threw a punch. Bevacqua and Brett were ejected and everyone settled back to watch Busby finish off his five-hit, 4-0 victory.

Busby struck out nine batters and walked just two en route to his fifth victory against two losers. Brett, Cookie Rojas, Frank White and Harmon Killebrew collected run-scoring singles. For an added touch, Killebrew, the paunchy 38-year-old designated hitter, stole a base for the first time since Sept. 15, 1971.

RAINS HALT PLAY—Nelson Classic

DALLAS (AP) — Barring new problems from the weather, the rain-delayed $175,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic winds up today with at least nine and perhaps as many as 18 players still in contention.

A thunderstorm at high noon washed out Sunday's scheduled finale with about two-thirds of the field on the soggy Preston Trail course.

The 54-hole leaders, Bruce Crampton, Bob Eastwood and Rod Funseth, were not among the unfortunate group caught in the downpour that is becoming somewhat of a tradition at this course.

The final round was delayed a day last year and rainfall has created havoc during a number of other tournaments here.

Crampton, Eastwood and Funseth, deadlocked at 10-under-par 203, were only a shot ahead of Miller Barber, Bob E. Smith and Tom Watson. Two strokes back were George Knudson, Jack Ewing and Larry Nelson.

Johnny Miller headed a group of eight at 207, just four shots off the pace and still within striking distance for the $35,000 first prize.

Portions of the final round were to be televised by ABC beginning at 3:30 p.m. EDT.

WCT Doubles Finals Tonight

DALLAS (AP) — The World Tennis Doubles Championship will be decided here tonight, depending on whom you ask.

The World Championship of Tennis has scheduled a match between defending champions Frew McMillan and Bob Hewitt, both of South Africa, and Raul Ramirez of Mexico City and Brian Gottfried of the United States.

The winners get $25,000 and the losers $10,000.

Ramirez-Gottfried figure they won the title last week in Mexico City although McMillan and Hewitt were not allowed to be on the tournament scene because of the Mexican government. They were kicked out of the country because of South Africa's apartheid policy.

The WCT said the "real" championship is on the line tonight.

Ramirez and Gottfried say they are playing for the money and figure they've already won the crown. The South Africans counter they weren't given a chance to defend their title and the WCT agrees.

ONE-TWO PUNCH—Brett Blackwell, left, and Bobby Stevens, give the Midland Lee Rebels plenty of sock at the plate. Both are seniors and all-district performers in 5-4A. ## AT CUBS STADIUM TUESDAY—Lee Battles Rider In State Playoffs

By BOB DILON

When Midland Lee battles Wichita Falls Rider in Cubs Stadium Tuesday afternoon, starting pitcher Ricky Teakell will have to face a potent Rebel batting order which includes Bobby Stevens and Brett Blackwell.

Stevens, District 5-4A's Most Valuable Player, is hitting the ball at a .440 clip on the season and Blackwell is right behind with a .438 average. Stevens hit .563 in 14 loop games and Blackwell .429 and the Tall City nine averaged .391 as a team during the district race.

Rider just completed a best-of-three playoff series for the District 6-4A championship with the Raiders winning the first game, 8-4. Trinity of Euless won the second outing, 3-1, but Rider stormed back to whip the Trojans, 12-3 in the deciding game.

While Stevens and Blackwell have been hitting well all season, catcher Danny Brock and second baseman Rusty Laughlin are also having a good year with .348 and .342 averages. Alan Neal owns a .319 average and Javier Torres, another all-loop selection, is hitting .295.

Lee takes a 16-12 season record into the 4:30 p.m. game while Rider is 16-7, but the Rebels were 3-9 at one time during the year and have won 13 out of its last 16 games.

Stevens (7-4), will start on the mound for Lee. The 6-2 senior chucked up a 7-3 mound record in loop play. Teakell is 4-0, but Terry Ford who is 9-1 may get the nod over Teakell in the Class AAAA bi-district opener. The two teams switch sites Friday when they play at Hoskins Field in Wichita Falls at 3 p.m. If a third game is necessary, it will follow the 3 p.m. contest. The winner of the Lee-Rider series will face the

Ashe Wears WCT Crown

DALLAS (AP) — While everybody was talking about how Arthur Ashe chokes in the big matches, he is getting a giant confidence builder from a gypsy in Stockholm two weeks ago that helped in his World Championship of Tennis triumph Sunday.

"It almost sounds silly to tell you about this," Ashe explained after his 3-6, 6-4, 6-0 victory over Sweden's Bjorn Borg. "I really thought I was going to win two weeks ago after I met this lady in a coffee shop. It was quite unsettling."

America's Ashe, 31, said "This red-haired lady read my palms and my lines in my face and told me I would win this week. She didn't really know me from Adam."

"She told me things there was no way for her to know—like one of my parents dying when I was young. The last thing she said was 'You will cry a lot before the month is over.'"

Ashe cried while accepting his trophy and a $50,000 first prize check after his unexpectedly easy victory over the scrappy 18-year-old Borg, who lost for the second consecutive year in the finals.

The blond-haired Borg said his five-set, four-hour marathon match against Australia's Rod Laver Friday night had taken too much out of him to handle the hard-serving, top-seeded Ashe.

Rico Petrocelli and Rick Burson rapped two-run singles as Boston made it seven wins in the last eight games and climbed to within one game of first-place Milwaukee in the East Division. Jim Rice added a solo home run for Boston and Bill Lee went the distance with a seven-hitter. Bill Singer, 2-5, dropped his fourth straight.

San Antonio Pitcher Throws No-Hit Gem

By The Associated Press

Righthander Tom McGough of San Antonio had just fired the first no-hitter of the Texas League baseball season but the best was yet to come.

McGough telephoned his parents in Johnstown, Pa., after every game he pitches, regardless of the outcome. And Sunday was Mother's Day and he had what he figured was a pretty nice present.

"This will be the biggest thrill," said the 19-year-old Pennsylvanian, now in his third season of professional baseball.

McGough allowed only one base runner in putting down West Division leader Shreveport 1-0 in a tight pitching duel. McGough, 2-2, faced only 28 batters — one more than the minimum. He struck out eight and walked one in going the distance.

Shreveport pitcher Doug Nelson fired a two-hitter, giving up singles in the first and third innings. But two errors by first baseman Ron Mitchell in the seventh inning allowed the Brewers to score the game's only run, which was unearned.

Elsewhere about the league Sunday, Lafayette shut out Alexandria 2-0, Midland beat El Paso 9-5 and Arkansas downed Jackson 9-5.

OVER CELTICS— Bullets Capture Eastern Crown

LANDOVER, Md. (AP)—When Kevin Porter keeps his cool, he makes things hot for the opposition.

The 5-foot-11 dynamo had his temper and his game under complete control Sunday, and stood tall among the giants of the National Basketball Association while leading the Washington Bullets to a 98-82 victory over the Boston Celtics.

The victory, Washington's 42nd in 46 home games this season, gave the Bullets the best-of-seven Eastern Conference title, four games to two, eliminating the defending champion Celtics.

"Kevin really took charge," said Porter's 6-9 teammate, Elvin Hayes. "He's the real key to this club. He makes things happen, and he makes us go. He proved it today down the stretch. It was a fine effort by the little fellow."

In addition to handing off 11 assists, as he did all year to become the NBA assist champion, Porter scored 13 of his 31 points in the final quarter to blunt a Boston comeback.

Washington will now have a week off, which could give Mike Riordan time to recover from a severe thigh bruise, before entertaining either Golden State or Chicago in the first game of the championship series next Sunday.

The Golden State Warriors won 86-73 at Chicago Sunday, tying the Western Conference series 3-3, and now are favored to win the deciding game against the Bulls at Oakland.

The Celtics, who won 10 of 11 championships ending in 1969 and were rebuilt into a title team a year ago, fought hard before relinquishing their shot at repeating.

Boston trailed by 18 points late in the second quarter and by 56-40 at halftime before Dave Cowens and Jo Jo White paced a third period charge that almost caught the Bullets.

The 36-year-old lady veteran earned her seventh career victory with a closing one-under-par 72 for a 54-hole total of 214.

"I thought they'd be taking some pitches to find out what I had," said Pete Falcone. The St. Louis Cardinals immediately liked what he had—and put

"I started them off with fast balls. I should've started them off with the curve," San Francisco's rookie pitcher added with momentous hindsight. Before Falcone knew what had happened, the Cards had jumped all over him for four runs in the first inning, all they needed for a 4-3 victory over the Giants.

EL PASO—The Midland Cubs rode the home run balls of Bill Bright and Ed Putnam to bomb the El Paso Diablos, 9-5, Sunday afternoon in a Texas League baseball game in Dugley Field.

The win gives Midland a two-game winning streak over the Border City nine.

Bright belted a two-run homer, his first of the season, in the fourth inning to stake the Cubs to a 2-0 lead. Putnam homered in the eighth inning for Midland.

Midland increased its lead to 7-0 in the top of the fifth inning by scoring five unearned runs. The Diablo defense fell apart, committing three errors. Bright also led a RBI in the uprising with a sacrifice fly to left.

Warriors, Bulls In Deciding Game Wednesday Night

CHICAGO (AP) — It looks like Coach Al Attles and his resilient Golden State Warriors may not be headed for a vacation after all.

"I said before this sixth game that if we didn't come out blazing, we'd go on a vacation until next October," Attles said after his Warriors stunned the Chicago Bulls 96-72 Sunday to carry the National Basketball Association's Western Conference playoff final to a seventh game.

The Warriors, and Rick Barry in particular, did come out blazing to create a 3-3 standoff with the Bulls and give the Warriors the home court advantage in the seventh game in Oakland Wednesday night.

The winner will face the Washington Bullets in a best-of-seven showdown for the NBA championship. The Bullets won the Eastern Conference title Sunday, beating the defending champion Boston Celtics 98-92 to win that best-of-seven series 4-2.

Barry, who has had an up and down series, was at his best before a Chicago Stadium record crowd of 19,594, which gave the Bulls a five-minute standing ovation before the game but began a quiet exit well before the final buzzer.

Barry led both teams with 36 points, but that was only one phase of his personal destruction of the Bulls. He also had seven steals, eight rebounds and eight assists.

It was Barry's hustling play that keyed a Warrior defense that outrebounded the Bulls 51-29 and had Chicago handling the ball like a hot potato most of the time.

Earlier in the series, Barry shot poorly in an 88-79 Warrior loss at Oakland Thursday night and miscued for a 90-89 Chicago victory in the second playoff game.

But this time, Barry was a firebrand from start to finish. His 12 points in the second quarter ignited a Warrior spurt which erased an early 25-18 deficit and moved them to a 46-38 halftime lead.

"For the first time in six games," explained Barry, "the Bulls had to play Warrior basketball. That means we run and they can't set up their defense."

"Our defense was so good that by default, I fell into it. I don't think I played any different on offense, but my shots were going in this time."

In the 36-point Warrior second quarter Barry hit for three field goals and was six for six from the free-throw line. The Bulls managed just 13 points in that period.

Barry came up with 20 points in the third quarter. The Bulls fell behind by 14 midway through the period at 62-48.

Chicago Coach Dick Motta observed, "The one thing that beat us was their 12 offensive rebounds because they got 16 points off those 12 rebounds. But I'm certain we can win the seventh game if my guys move the ball and go to the boards like they can."

Norm Van Lier led Chicago with 24 points and Bob Love got 22, but it was uphill for the Bulls most of the second half. They came back to trail by five at 71-66 early in the fourth quarter, but Cliff Ray hit a three-point play and Charlie Johnson and Bill Bridges each scored a field goal to put the Warriors ahead 80-68 with five minutes left.

Age Vs. Attitude

Bureaucracy and electricity are somewhat alike, according to the National Federation of Independent Business, Inc., in that people tend to fear the uncontrolled force of both, yet no one actually can define either term.

Perhaps you hadn't given this particular subject a great deal of thought... and neither had we. It does, however, put one to thinking—particularly about this bureaucracy business.

The Federation says that while bureaucracy means one thing to some people, often predicated on their age, the attitude toward this subject by the younger people who have never known anything but an ever-increasing bureaucracy is something else again.

Most persons who have been around for awhile and who have known something besides bureaucracy may not be able to give a generally satisfactory definition of it, but their attitude toward it, generally speaking, is not kind and they don't want further expansion of it. Many of them undoubtedly believe, with justification, that bureaucracy is one thing which is wrong with the country today.

But the Federation is desirous of going beyond this in research of the subject.

In an effort to find out the attitude of the younger generation, the Federation of Independent Business, in cooperation with the Intercollegiate Studies Institute, has announced an essay contest open to all high school and college students, with $2,000 in awards donated by the small business organization.

The subject is "The Growth of Bureaucracy: Issues and Alternatives." It is said to be the second such contest sponsored by the NFIB as the Ludwig von Mises Memorial, honoring the famed economist who died in 1973.

Dr. von Mises was a strong proponent of the conservative school and while he abhorred bureaucracy, he took the position that bureaucracy is not the disease but a symptom, a Federation spokesman explained. The economist once asked how people can condemn bureaucracy and bureaucrats if they don't really know what the terms mean.

Thus, the NFIB's attempt to ascertain how the younger generation views bureaucracy. It will be interesting to see what the organization comes up with.

The deadline for entries from all bona fide high school and college students, incidentally, is July 31.

Back to the mention of electricity in the opening statement... well, let's leave electricity to the electricians, who know what they are doing. Unfortunately there is considerable doubt if this can be said of the bureaucrats.

Dangerous 'Breaks'

Over New Mexico way, the attorney general of that state, has advised the chairman of the Lea County (Hobbs) Board of Commissioners that coffee breaks for public officials could be dangerous if the number having coffee together constitutes a quorum of any official body, and if they discuss official business.

This could be equally as hazardous across the state line in Texas. And breakfast, lunch and dinner breaks could be just as hazardous. Such sessions have been held, but the practice definitely is not recommended.

"If a quorum meets to discuss official business without having advertised that meeting, they are in violation of the law and can be prosecuted," the New Mexico official said.

Let's Stick With Those Who Stuck By Us

WASHINGTON — Shame on those Americans who oppose the admission of South Vietnamese refugees to our country. We got South Vietnam into that horrible war and didn't get them out of it. We owe it to the South Vietnamese who stuck by us to help them settle in the United States, and that's that.

And yet the Gallup Poll shows that a majority of Americans don't welcome the South Vietnamese refugees. Some congressional wheel horses balk on appropriating needed funds. And there are expressions of meanness and racism.

You could almost count on Sen. George McGovern (D-S.D.) to make the most stupid statement. Before flying to Communist Cuba, the New Left's darling candidate in 1972 declared that 90 per cent of the refugees "would be better off" back in South Vietnam, "now that the initial panic has subsided."

Then there are fussy budgets like Sen. Charles Percy (R-Ill.) and Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman (D-N.Y.) fretting over the possibility that some affluent refugees won't pay their air fare or that profiteers and hoodlums would be admitted.

Crude signs ("Gooks Go Home") and fits of xenophobia ("I don't like their looks") disgrace the republic.

My own trade is also guilty. Cartoonist Pat Oliphant, a Pulitzer Prize winner, did a cartoon showing a seamy gang of South Vietnamese in front of the Statue of Liberty. The caption: "Send me your tired and huddled masses, your generals, your wealthy and privileged classes, your crooks and pimps and bar girls yearning to breathe free..."

Oliphant, an Australian, prospered mightily since migrating to the United States in 1964. If he would check his facts, he would learn that the tired, you haven't heard.

Those elected politicians playing to the cheap seats by moaning about unemployment, the housing shortage and welfare payments, in terms of the refugees needing jobs, housing and a start, sure show a lack of class. The country can afford the $507 million required to transport and resettle this small squad of humanity. And if Sen. Edward Kennedy (D-Mass.), who has made loud noises about poor refugees for years, drags his feet on the South Vietnamese, he only earns another black mark on his already stained record on Vietnam.

The United States took in 400,000 displaced people after World War II; 675,000 refugees from Castro's strange Cuba; 40,000 Hungarian Freedom Fighters, and additional thousands of East Germans, Russian Jews and others. These people are a plus for the United States.

It's heartening to know that 10 voluntary agencies are helping the South Vietnamese refugees, including the U.S. Catholic Conference, Migration and Refugee Services; the Church World Service, Immigration and Refugee Program (Protestant), and the United HIAS Service, the Jewish migration agency.

It's also encouraging that a liberal organization like the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), which bitterly opposed U.S. involvement in Vietnam, supports the admission of these refugees. "The United States should do all it can for them," says John Isaacs, ADA's legislative representative. "We deplore the attitude of some governors and politicians who oppose them coming in. That smacks of racism."

Coalition—Russian Style

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON with Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — Not long after the Communists captured Phnom Penh and consolidated their hold on Cambodia, they issued the following secret instructions:

"Eliminate all high-ranking military officials, government officials. Do this secretly. Also get provincial officers who owe the Communist party a blood debt."

These are the exact words, translated into English, that went out over the Khmer Rouge communications network. U.S. intelligence intercepted the radio transmission and sent a translation to Washington by secret cable.

We have taken pains to obtain the secret cable and to quote the exact language, because the Communists have denied press reports that a bloodbath is taking place in the captured countries.

The Communists are extremely sensitive about world opinion. The press could save tens of thousands of lives, therefore, by playing up the secret murder order.

Other radio reports from the field state that the blood reprisals already have started. One unit, relaying the orders from the Communist high command, called for the execution of all military officers from lieutenant to colonel, together with their wives and children.

Another intercepted report called for the elimination of anyone who offered resistance or opposed communism. Apparently, the Khmer Rouge want to eliminate everyone who might some day become a threat to Communist control.

The secret State Department cables also report that reprisals have been taken in Vietnam against people who worked for the Americans. One report claims 120 people were hauled out of DaNang and executed.

Jack Anderson

Footnote: The Communists also have been acutely embarrassed, according to intelligence reports, by press reports of refugees fleeing from them. Many of the refugees who got away, according to the cables, say they left because they feared for their lives.

HUMPHREY HOWLS: In sharp language intended strictly for the eyes of his staff, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., has accused administration spokesmen of scaring the country into a continuing recession. "If these administration spokesmen keep talking as they are," he wrote to aide John Stark, "they're going to scare the living daylight out of everybody."

The greatest single impediment and obstacle to economic recovery are the pessimistic and frightening statements of administration spokesmen. If they'd just shut up for about a month, cool their rhetoric and let this economy start moving again without shouting scare words, I think we'd be on the road to recovery.

Humphrey is chairman of the Joint Congressional Economic Committee, which oversees the economy. He was particularly disturbed, according to his private memo, over Treasury Secretary William Simon's "constant pro-

INSIDE REPORT—

Split Widens In Republican Party

ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

CAPE MAY, N.J. — South Jersey Republicans who paid $100 each for a lavish seafood buffet and a handshake with Ronald Reagan at former Rep. Charles W. Sandman's estate here are ready to back Reagan for President, showing why President Ford conceivably could be denied the 1976 nomination by his party.

In New Jersey, as in other states visited on his barnstorming lecture tour, Reagan encountered hardly anyone not ready to abandon Mr. Ford at the drop of Reagan's hat. But in New Jersey, as in most states, other prominent Republicans would have nothing to do with Reagan.

Thus, the widened split in the Republican party, which was horribly debilitated and demoralized by the 1974 election, provides a ready-made vehicle for Reagan to challenge Mr. Ford. Instead of Reagan weakening and dividing the party by threatening the President, it is the weakened and divided party that makes Reagan's threat viable.

This was experienced by Reagan throughout his recent five-day transcontinental jaunt. Liberal Republican Gov. Robert Ray of Iowa was absent as Reagan addressed cheering Republicans in Des Moines; Reagan had turned down a personal plea from national chairman Mary Louise Smith to cancel because the affair was outside regular party channels. The next night in Southfield, Mich., a Detroit suburb, Reagan was speaking under more orthodox auspices at a fund-raiser for the Oakland County Republican organization; even so, liberal Republican Gov. William Milliken did not show up.

But splits in those Midwestern states are straightforward compared with the Byzantine divisions of the bedraggled, penniless New Jersey party. Appearing at three fund-raising functions in the state, primarily to reduce the massive debt of Sandman's disastrous 1973 campaign for governor, Reagan was sponsored by the party's right wing — a coalition of old guard Republicans and a newer element of Italo-American businessmen.

The State's Republican establishment, moderate and patrician, wanted no part of it. Veteran national committeeman Bern Shanley, a top White House aide in Eisenhower days, led the boycotters. Although solicitations for the Reagan functions claimed part of the take would go to the state party, the New Jersey Republican finance committee kept away.

Webster Todd, a 75-year-old party veteran who served as state chairman from 1961-1968 and returned to the post this year, tried to walk the middle road — and was savaged for his pains. When he urged other party leaders to attend the Reagan functions, they spurned Todd as a sellout. But the conservative wing regards him as a supporter of Vice President Nelson Rockefeller. Will Todd back the Ford-Rockefeller ticket? "Who cares?" replied one hard-liner munching shrimp at Sandman's house. "We're going to get rid of him anyway."

Reagan's supporters may not have that much strength. Nor is it certain where Sandman himself will land. But the party split is so pronounced that Reagan, with minimum effort, can win most South Jersey delegates and score impressively in the rest of this liberal, industrialized state.

By contrast, Reaganites run the party in the three Deep South states visited after New Jersey: Mississippi, Florida and Georgia. What's more, they seem close to crossing their Rubicon to deliver elite delegations to Reagan against a sitting President.

In Mississippi particularly, the delegation seems Reagan's for the asking. Dynamic, right-wing Clarke Reed, in his 10th year as state chairman, seems close to a public break with the President. Billy Moulter, the state's veteran Republican finance chairman, introduced Reagan to a party dinner in Jackson as a Moses to lead Republicans from the wilderness.

But even in Mississippi's growing, well-financed and energetic Republican party, there is factionalism. Some younger party workers grumble that the Reed-Moulter leadership is anchored to conservative clichés and complain about abandoning the President. One of the state's brightest Republican prospects, 28-year-old Jackson city commissioner Doug Shanks, told us he would support Mr. Ford in a showdown with Reagan.

Reagan, as Ron the Baptist preaching the old-time conservative religion, makes no attempt to smooth over divisions. Asked in a press conference at Newark whether he would welcome Gov. George Wallace into his party, Reagan said he would, paused, and then added with superb timing: "I'd like to welcome Cliff Case into the Republican party." Former Rep. John Hunt, a stalwart conservative foe of liberal Republican Sen. Clifford Case, chortled from the back of the room.

Reagan scorns accommodation with the likes of Cliff Case. Arguing the party must paint itself in "bold colors, not pale pastels," he invariably excites conservative audiences even beyond their elevated expectations. With his hope for the nomination based on a party schism not of his making, his campaign insensibly widens the gap.

nouncements that the federal deficit cannot be financed without choking off money and credit for the private sector.

"It seems to me that, if the economic counselors to the President are doing their job, they would be able to schedule government financing in such a manner as not to really interfere with the private and corporate financing."

CHINESE SUPPORT: Since the Saigon surrender, Peking secretly has encouraged the United States to hold the line in Asia. The Chinese apparently want to keep American military power in Asia as a bulwark against the Soviet threat.

The Chinese discouraged North Korea's Kim Il-Sung, according to the secret cables, from stirring up trouble on the 38th parallel. He wanted to take advantage of the U.S. setbacks in Southeast Asia and had gone to Peking to sound out the Chinese about it.

The Chinese even indicated, strictly unofficially, that they would not object to U.S. support for Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, Thailand and other nations surrounding Indochina.

The Chinese took exception, of course, to Defense Secretary James Schlesinger's statement including Taiwan in the U.S. defense line. They also are committed to support Communist insurgencies throughout the world. But strictly on the QT, the Chinese don't want the U.S. armed forces to leave the Far East.

AMBASSADOR HAYS: Blunt-spoken Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, a power in the House, was considered last fall for the ambassador's job in England.

Hays confirmed that he was approached about the post by a White House aide but that he "was never really sure whether it was an offer or just a feeler." In any case, he "didn't take it seriously" because he was "busy with campaign committee."

- 24-Hour Service for Midland and Odessa

At present Martin is working on a sales campaign in a national contest that will provide the winner with a five day trip to Hawaii for two, if the quota is exceeded.

Martin Distributing has been in business since 1937. Started in Big Spring, the company moved to Midland in 1957 as it was more centrally located to better cover the Permian Basin, West Texas and South Eastern New Mexico.

Originally a partnership, Martin Distributors is now a corporation. Frank Martin is president, Fred E. Martin, vice president and James R. "Buddy" Martin is secretary. Martin started selling cookies then branched out into selling perishables and semi-perishables such as cheeses from J. S. Hoffman Co., Pauley and Gromageries Bel. Gromageries Bel is a flavorsome French Cheese that is rapidly becoming a favorite among Americans. Under the Laughing Cow Brand there are cheese wedges, cheesebits in party packs in several flavors and different kinds of round wazzed cheeses.

Add cheeses to your Don's Onion Rings, and enjoy snacking or party time. Onion Rings become a real snack treat when deep fried in Don's Onion Ring Mix. Recipes on the box will aid the cook in making delicious dishes that will cause the family to clamor for more.

Consumers may purchase these Martin distributed items at their favorite food store in Midland.

Weekend Fatalities Record Sharp Drop

By The Associated Press

Far fewer violent deaths occurred in Texas during the second weekend of May than is often the case.

The toll tabulated by The Associated Press went to 11 fatalities between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday, including six in traffic accidents, three drownings and one each in a fire and a shooting.

The victims included:

Armando Terrazas Jr., 5, of Clint, east of El Paso in far West Texas, drowned Sunday while trying to save a small dog which fell into the water.

Russell McCloud, 28, and Donald Ray Newberry, 30, of Gainesville were killed Saturday night when the car in which they were passengers collided with another vehicle on U.S. 82 in Gainesville.

Mike Poprick, 50, of El Paso, died of burns suffered during a fire in the bedroom of his home, authorities said. His wife and stepdaughter suffered from smoke inhalation and were treated at a hospital.

Emmett Andrews, 17, of Beaumont drowned Sunday afternoon after falling from a pipe which crosses a bayou in the city, police said.

Robert H. Cartledge, 79, of Houston was struck and killed by a car Saturday as he and his wife walked along a street. Police said the driver did not stop.

A truck driver from DeRidder, La., was killed Saturday when his tractor-trailer rig collided with two other trucks and burst into flames on U.S. 180 near Bon Wier. He was identified as David L. Craft, 23. Authorities said the crash occurred on the Texas side of a bridge marking the boundary with Louisiana.

Valeria Werth Roberts, 64, of Dallas was crushed to death by the pickup in which she was riding Saturday when the vehicle skidded in a light mist, ran off the road and overturned in suburban Grand Prairie.

Betty Sue Gupton, 29, was shot to death in her East Arlington residence during a domestic quarrel Saturday morning, police said. They took a 33-year-old man into custody.

Metric System May Help Measurements Make Sense

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the sixth of a series of 14 articles prepared by Science Research Associates, Inc., that show how everyday situations can help children learn to add, multiply and divide.

The metric system is expected to become the standard system of weights and measures in the United States within the next decade. Today's children and their parents may soon be using it in their own everyday lives.

The metric system includes the "metre" for measuring length, "litre" for capacity, and "gram" for weight. It's used right now in most of the world, including Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America. Spelling can be "metre" or "meter," and "litre" or "liter." All are correct.

England just recently switched to the metric system. Now, the United States is preparing for the switch.

Some highways in the nation already are marked with signs indicating distance in kilometers as well as in miles. Labels on food often show weight in grams as well as ounces.

So before long, American children will include use of the metric system in their everyday math. And this means a new vocabulary for children as well as parents.

Some new mathematics textbooks introduce the metric system early and provide students with practice using metric measurements as well as the system currently in use in the United States.

Today's exercise is a "think piece." It helps children think about how measuring systems were developed and how various terms used came about. It can be used as a stimulus for additional research into "the wacky world of measure."

Parents who would like to give their children more practice with metric units can explain that the gram for weight, is the equivalent of about five wooden kitchen matches or two paper clips. The metre, for length, is slightly longer than a yardstick. The litre, used in measuring capacity, is almost the same as one quart.

If you want the a 2-page color booklet incorporating additional activities problems that may help your child, send it to: The Reporter-Telegram, Box 200, 200 W. Illinois, Midland, Texas 79701. Your booklet will be mailed directly to you from Chicago.

Queen Visits Japanese Shrine

TOBA, Japan (AP) — On the fifth day of her state visit to Japan, Queen Elizabeth II visited the shrine consecrated to the legendary goddess who founded the nation's imperial family. The British monarch was escorted Sunday into the unpainted wooden structure, which is rebuilt every 20 years, by a priest, but she did not view the mirror said to have been handed the first Japanese emperor of the sun goddess. The mirror is not shown to the public.

Keep Entries To Dummy's Suit

A famous climber was asked why he wanted to climb a mountain. "Because it's there," he replied. Some bridge players feel the same way about finesses.

Official To Lose Eye From Slabbing On Kindness Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors have told an Agriculture Department aide he will lose the eye injured when he was stabbed while walking through Human Kindness Day crowds near the Washington Monument.

"Nobody would help me," said Steven Laine, director of public affairs for Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz. "I said, 'Help me,' and there was no response. I said it several times, and no one did anything."

Laine said he was stabbed while walking Saturday through the crowds at the Washington Monument. He said he was attacked from behind and, when he turned, something sharp and thin was thrust into his right eye.

About 125,000 persons had gathered at the monument for a day of rock music sponsored by the Park Service and a group called "Compared to What, Inc."

Laine said after the stabbing he walked alone to a first aid station at the edge of the crowd. He then was rushed to a hospital.

Park police said about 100 persons had reported being robbed or assaulted during the day.

Refugees Continue To Pour Into Guam

AGANA, Guam (AP) — Refugees from South Vietnam continue to pour into Guam by the thousands despite a limit on departures to the United States.

The population of the sweltering Pacific island refugee camps approached 50,000 today as arrivals streamed in while departures trickled out. Camps at three locations stateside already are filled to capacity.

"It will be crowded but we will be able to handle it all right," said Rear Adm. G. Steve Morrison as four ships with 16,000 aboard approached Guam.

Among the latest arrivals were 94 refugees jammed aboard a sinking boat who made it to Guam only because the aircraft carrier Midway chanced by. The Midway already was loaded with 101 fighter planes and helicopters, the battered remnants of South Vietnam's air force.

About 3,400 refugees were scheduled to leave Guam today, with the pace slowing to 1,000 daily beginning Tuesday, Morrison said.

Overcrowding also was reported at refugee camps in Arkansas and Florida.

The Army said the number of refugees at Ft. Chaffee, Ark., would reach 20,000 sometime today. That is as many as the installation in northwest Arkansas can house at this time, the Army said.

James King, a State Department spokesman, said Arkansas Gov. David Pryor has no objection to raising the limit if it would not overburden sewer and water facilities or adversely affect nearby communities.

Red Cross workers at Eglin Air Force Base, meantime, were busy distributing toys to refugee children. Two planes loaded with toys from Daytona Beach and friendship boxes sent as a welcome from elementary school children throughout the United States arrived Sunday.

Refugee population at Camp Pendleton in California was as high as 19,000 over the weekend, about 900 over its capacity, officials said.

Author-Historian Paul M. Angle Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Author and historian Paul M. Angle, 74, director of the Chicago Historical Society for more than 20 years, died Sunday. Angle was an authority on Abraham Lincoln and Illinois history. His many books include "Mary Lincoln, Wife and Widow," written with the late Lincoln biographer Carl Sandburg, "The Lincoln Reader" and "Prairie State."

Wallace Statement Draws Soviet Blast

MOSCOW (AP) — A remark by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace that the United States may have fought "the wrong people" in World War II has been termed "fendish" by the official Soviet news agency Tass.

Tass said Sunday that the comment "is the voice of the forces that even today have not renounced the hope of frustrating peaceful coexistence and cooperation of states with differing social systems."

Wallace has since said that although he believes "you can't trust a Communist," the remark he made March 3 to a group of foreign journalists, including a Russian, was not meant to imply that Americans should not have fought against Nazi Germany.

Saigon Airport, Once Busiest Terminal In World, Now Just Aircraft Graveyard

(Editor's Note—The writer, winner of the 1966 Pulitzer Prize for Vietnam war reporting, is one of three Associated Press correspondents who elected to remain in Saigon after the American withdrawal. His dispatch was filed from Saigon on Friday and reached New York on Saturday.)

By PETER ARNETT
AP Special Correspondent

SAIGON (AP) — Tan Son Nhut airport outside Saigon was once regarded as the busiest air terminal in the world. Now it's an aircraft graveyard.

Millions of American soldiers came and left Vietnam via Tan Son Nhut, and big jet transports were lined up on the tarmac by the score at the height of the war.

Today Tan Son Nhut is littered with the debris of military aircraft, including at least 23 C130s, 11 H47 helicopters, 15 C119s and assorted smaller planes. C130s and C119s are transports.

Some aircraft are intact, including six U.S.-built F5 jet fighter-bombers of the South Vietnamese air force and a dozen Huey transport helicopters.

The last battle of the war was fought at Tan Son Nhut on the morning of April 30 when forces of the Provisional Revolutionary Government (PRG) entered the city.

Heavy rocket fire two nights earlier had demolished most aircraft and broken most windows in air base buildings.

The most spectacular destruction was to the former headquarters of the U.S. Military Command in Vietnam. The large sprawling aluminum building at the edge of Tan Son Nhut, once known as "Pentagon East," has been destroyed and looks like a giant beer can buckled and blackened in fire.

The extent of damage indicates the last Americans to leave deliberately destroyed the large gray structure.

Only one foreign aircraft has used the airport since the end of the war. A Polish jetliner carried away Polish and Hungarian members of the truce commission last Thursday. The pilot told reporters Tan Son Nhut control tower was not operating and he landed without guidance.

No attempt has yet been made to clear the litter of abandoned cars outside Pentagon East, where the last Americans departed on the day before the takeover of the city. But the PRG staff has moved into the airport terminal in a small way with several uniformed immigration officials, who carefully scrutinized the passports of the departing Poles and Hungarians.

A cameraman from Hanoi television filmed officials who posed under a sign in English reading "Welcome Service." This was part of the Air Vietnam installation in the terminal.

A large Air America installation and the Flying Tiger office at the airport have been locked up.

Western newsmen were allowed to drive around Tan Son Nhut and watch PRG aircraft—mainly jet prop Soviet-built planes—landing and taking off regularly, to and from Hanoi.

The wreckage of several PRG tanks outside the main airport entrance was removed after several days.

Fords Visit Camp David

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President and Mrs. Ford spent Sunday at the presidential mountaintop retreat at Camp David, Md., where Ford swam in the heated pool and played tennis with his official photographer, David Kennerly. White House physician William Lukash and a Secret Service agent.

A flood in Friesland, Holland in 1228 killed more than 100,000 persons.
