Panel OK's Finance Measure

Teacher Pay Hike Included

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate Education Committee approved, 9-0, today a $602.6 million public school finance bill that apparently can be financed without any drastic adjustments in the proposed two-year state budget.

The bill is approximately $177 million less than the measure approved by the House.

A conference committee probably will write the final version after the full Senate votes Tuesday or Wednesday.

Under the Senate proposal, teachers would get a $1,400 pay raise in September. This would

Zaire Guerrillas Ask $460,000 Ransom For Trio

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Leftist guerrillas from Zaire have demanded $460,000, arms, ammunition and the release of two political prisoners as ransom for three Americans and a Dutch woman they kidnaped a week ago, officials said today.

They said the guerrillas set a 60-day deadline and declared that the hostages' lives depend on Tanzania's response, but that the government of President Julius Nyerere responded: "Tanzania will not be blackmailed. Now we must wait."

There was no immediate response from the U.S. Embassy.

A third American kidnaped by the guerrillas, Barbara Smuts, 24, of Ann Arbor, Mich., was freed early Sunday. She brought with her nine letters: three from the guerrillas to Nyerere, one to U.S. Ambassador Beverly Carter, one to the U.S. Embassy, one to Dutch Ambassador Jan van den Berg and three from the hostages to their parents.

Those still held by the kidnapers are Carrie Jane Hunter, 21, of Alherton, Calif.; Kenneth Stephen Smith, 22, of Garden Grove, Calif.; and Emille van Zinnick Bergman of The Netherlands.

Carter said their lives would be in danger "if anything went awry with what's been asked." He said negotiations will be conducted by the Tanzanian government in consultation with U.S. officials.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVANCE—Scenes such as these were repeated throughout the Midland Independent School District this morning as students and teachers took part in flag-raising ceremonies as a special Memorial Day activity. The flag ceremonies were sponsored by the MISD and the Midland Bicentennial Commission.

Memorial Service At 6 P.M. Today

The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars will participate in Memorial Day Services at 6 p.m. in Resthaven Memorial Park.

The services today will include the 10th annual "Avenue of Flags" in which flags will be flown in honor of each veteran whose family or friends furnish the flags.

The public is invited to attend the services.

Group Claims Credit For Deaths

PARIS (AP) — A group identifying itself as the Revolutionary Republican Movement of the Armed Forces of Iran today claimed to have killed two American Air Force officers in Tehran last week.

Col. Paul R. Shaffer and Lt. Col. Jack J. Turner were shot as they rode to work last Wednesday. The Iranian government blamed Marxist guerrillas and said it had identified the three killers.

A photocopied circular posted in Paris in a plain white envelope was received today by The Associated Press. The circular said: "The recent regrettable but unfortunately unavoidable imperative execution of two U.S. officers in Tehran, reported in the international press as an act committed by 'terrorists' is inexact. Such a statement is an insult to the honor of the Iranian people. The two U.S. officers were condemned by order of a special tribunal of the Revolutionary Republican Movement of the Armed Forces of Iran. The order of the military tribunal was carried out by a military command directed by an Iranian officer."

The statement attacked Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi as a despot who has squandered Iranian wealth and accused him of being under the orders of the CIA.

"We hope that our message to imperialism in general and to the American people in particular will be heard, falling which should the present bankrupt U.S. policy in Iran be continued, drastic and violent actions against all and everything American in Iran will be continued," the statement said.

Late Bulletins

AUSTIN (AP) — Senators today rejected the House version of a utility regulation bill, 19-12, and sent their own weaker version to the House, which is expected to reject it.

MCCALLEN (AP)—Police said nine United Farm Workers Union organizers or sympathizers were hospitalized today after a melon farmer opened fire on them with an automatic shotgun south of here.

MOSCOW (AP)—Two Soviet cosmonauts linked up with the Salyut 4 space station today, Tass reported.

Snipers Wound Three At Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Roving snipers, armed with an M-1 rifle and a shotgun, wounded three pedestrians in south Dallas early today, police said. Two of the victims, including a 15-year-old boy, were seriously hurt.

The boy and a 31-year-old man were listed in serious condition and a 23-year-old man was listed in fair condition, all at Parkland Hospital.

Police arrested two men about an hour after the first shooting. The men taken into custody gave Dallas area addresses and were 22 and 23 years old, police said.

The first two victims — John Kenner, 15, and Larry Vega, 23 — provided police with a description of the snipers' vehicle, officers said.

Police recognized such a vehicle while responding to the shooting of the third victim, Jimmy Lockridge, 31. The arrests of the suspects followed.

They offered no resistance, police said.

Police said Vega told them he was standing beside a car with his girlfriend about 12:30 a.m. when a car with its headlights off drove by. He was hit in the left leg by a single shot fired from the vehicle.

Kenner told police he was riding his bicycle 45 minutes later two blocks from the scene of the first shooting. A similar shooting episode followed.

Lockridge reported he was standing four blocks from where Kenner was shot when the snipers fired at him.

Police said they found an M-1 rifle and a 12-gauge double-barreled shotgun in the car in which the arrested men were stopped.

Both suspects are unemployed, officers said.

Police said they could find no apparent motive for the shootings, but the suspects were expected to be charged with two counts of attempted murder.

Baccalaureate Services Held

Lee High School seniors were urged to follow in the footsteps of the Good Samaritan, while Midland High School seniors were urged to make the best of an uncertain future at Sunday baccalaureate services for both schools.

Approximately 640 Lee seniors participated in the program which featured Bert Mercer, minister of the Golf Course Road Church of Christ. Nearly 530 Midland seniors were addressed by the Rev. Elbert L. Smithen of Bellview Baptist Church.

Mr. Mercer told Lee students the story of the Good Samaritan and urged them to "respond mercifully to other human beings."

"Jesus is teaching us in this parable (the Good Samaritan) that the only way we can serve God is to help people. The Bible also says, 'he that cannot love God cannot love God whom he has not seen.' The point of the story

Russia Doesn't Want To Pull Wounded Tiger's Tail

By PETER OSNOS
The Washington Post

MOSCOW — There is a Russian proverb that an American in Moscow is likely to hear a good deal these days. Loosely translated, it says: When a tiger is wounded do not pull him by the tail.

That appears to be the essence of Kremlin strategy in this delicate post-Indochina period of Soviet-American relations.

While Secretary of State Henry Kissinger bluntly warns the Soviets not to take advantage of U.S. setbacks and Defense Secretary James Schlesinger argues for firmer U.S. military policies, the Kremlin's main theme continues to be, as one major newspaper article put it the other day:

"No maneuvers by the opponents of detente can stop the onward march along the road of the development of peaceful and mutually advantageous relations between the Soviet Union and the United States."

A few days before his meeting in Vienna with Kissinger, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko criticized the secretary by name in a speech for supporting a larger defense budget. But the Gromyko comments were judiciously left out of all published accounts of his address. So as far as the record is concerned, they have been expunged.

Criticism of Schlesinger's remarks has been confined mainly to quotes from foreign newspapers — a standard Kremlin method of avoiding making an attack of its own.

Americans who have met with Soviet officials over the past week or so in a variety of forums have found them usually good-humored and cooperative. Kissinger told reporters after his two days of talks with Gromyko that he had never seen the foreign minister so relaxed in the six years they have been negotiating, according to one news agency account.

A delegation from the National Aeronautics and Space

Administration in Moscow to settle details for this summer's joint Apollo-Soyuz space mission came away with virtually all of the problems amicably settled — a rare conclusion even in such relatively non-political bargaining.

And a stream of other official U.S. visitors, including a group of eight state governors, have been getting a strong pitch for detente, with a heavy accent on the positive. "In fact," wrote Vikenty Matveyev, the sober-sided leading commentator for Izvestia, the government newspaper, "every day contributes something new to what has been achieved in the sphere of easing tensions."

In another time, the U.S. action in forcibly retaking the Mayaguez would certainly have set off paroxysms in Moscow. But in the nearly two weeks since the incident in the Gulf of Thailand no responsible Soviet spokesman has even mentioned it. Critical comments drawn from the foreign press have been notably mild.

The clear implication of all this is that the Soviets have again decided to avoid, wherever possible, antagonizing Washington in its moment of distress. This has been the basic Soviet approach since the combined collapse in March of U.S.-supported regimes in Indochina and Kissinger's shuttle diplomacy in the Middle East suddenly made U.S. foreign policy seem somewhat threadbare. Evidently, Moscow's strategy has now been reaffirmed.

There are a number of theories circulating among diplomats and Soviet sources as to what lies behind the Soviet leadership's reasoning. Among them are these:

—The ruling Politburo has set itself a timetable for events it expects to take place before the next congress of the Communist party in February 1976. Included are the 35-nation summit windup to the European security conference, the Washington summit signing of a strategic arms pact and a European Communist party conference.

Nothing that has happened in recent months has changed the leadership's eagerness to have such achievements to present to the party faithful.

—China is continuing its own successful policy of courting the West, most recently with the visit to France by a top-level Peking delegation. Coupled with the prospect of stepped-up Sino-Soviet rivalry in Southeast Asia, Moscow cannot afford to let strains develop in its relations with Washington.

—The belief that Soviet Communist party leader Leonid Brezhnev will step down at the next congress (revived again last week by (See RUSSIANS Page 2A)

Mesa Spots 18,000-Foot Test In Lea

Mesa Petroleum Co., operating from Midland, has staked an 18,000-foot Devonian prospector in Lea County, N.M., 30 miles west of Jal, as No. 1 Red Hills-Federal.

It is 1/4 mile southwest of Union Oil Co. of California (formerly The Pure Oil Co.) No. 1 Red Hills Unit, a 21,312-foot Ellenburger failure, which was completed as the dual Wolfcamp and Atoka gas opener of the Red Hills field.

Drilliste for the new test is 690 feet from north and east lines of section 6-26-33e.

Union No. 1 Red Hills Unit, completed dually in January, 1965, picked the top of the Devonian at 17,454 feet, under ground elevation of 3,415 feet.

It flowed gas at the maximum, daily rate of 7 million cubic feet, decreasing to 2.4 million cubic feet per day, along with black sulphur water, and also recovered sulphur water on a drilliste test in the Devonian from 17,364-17,575 feet. A subsequent test of the Devonian from 17,583-17,693 feet, flowed gas at the rate of 476,000 cubic feet per day, and the final Devonian test from 17,469-17,693 feet, flowed gas at the rate of 3 million cubic feet daily, along with 12 barrels of black, salty sulphur water hourly.

It also indicated production in the Bone Springs at 9,683-9,805 feet.

The Wolfcamp calculated, absolute open flow was for 15,750 million cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-condensate ratio of 23,941-1, through perforations at 13,440-13,967 feet. The condensate gravity was 85.5 degrees.

The Atoka zone rated a calculated, absolute open flow of 26.8 million cubic feet of gas per day, with one barrel of 86.8-gravity condensate per million, through perforations at 14,360-14,776 feet.

Pay Reopened In Lea Area

Barber Well Servicing Co. has recompleted its No. 1 Peoples Security Co., former San Andres confirmation, one location east of the depleted opener, to reopen San Andres pay in the Garrett field of Lea County, N.M.

It pumped 25 barrels of oil and 18 barrels of water on the 24-hour potential test. Gravity of the oil was not reported.

Production was from open hole at 5,298-5,606 feet, the cleaned-out depth.

It originally was completed in July 1963 by Lea County Water Co., 1969 open hole at 5,298-5,616 feet.

It is 1,300 feet from south and 600 feet from west lines of section 25-16-38e, four miles north of Knowles.

The field also produces from the Drinkard zone.

The original San Andres opener, Texaco Inc. No. 1 W. C. Garrett, was completed in April 1947 for 15-barrels of 27-gravity oil and 18-barrels of water daily, through perforated interval at 5,300-5,400 feet.

Lebanese Military Head Forced To Quit

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Muslim opposition forced Lebanon's first military premier in 32 years to resign today after only three days in power.

Brig. Gen. Nouraddin Rifal, 76, announced he was quitting after a storm of protest greeted his appointment. Gunfire and grenade explosions continued during the night, and police said most of it came from left-wing Muslim Lebanese militiamen trying to drive Rifal out of office.

President Suleiman Franjeh named Rifal premier Friday night after a week of street fighting between Palestinian guerrillas and Christian militiamen of the right-wing Phalangist party. About 100 persons have been killed in the street fighting and about 300 have been wounded, according to unofficial police counts.

A joint Lebanese-Palestinian committee called for a cease-fire and said joint patrols began touring the streets during the night trying to stop the fighting and to get the warring factions to dismantle their barricades of barbed wire and sand-bags.

The patrols had orders to open fire on anyone violating the cease-fire. Some agitators were cruising the streets firing machine guns from cars with concealed license plates, the interior ministry said.

Palestine chieftain Yasir Arafat ordered his lieutenants in Lebanon's 14 refugee camps to keep out of the campaign to bring Rifal's military government down. Arafat joined the call for a return to calm following mediation by Syrian Foreign Minister Abdul Halim Khaddam.

Meanwhile, an Israeli raid across the border into southern Lebanon touched off infantry, artillery and air attacks by Israeli and Lebanese forces that lasted from midnight Saturday until nearly noon Sunday. A senior Israeli officer said it was the hardest fighting between Lebanese and Israeli regulars in three years.

The Lebanese defense ministry said seven Lebanese were killed and three were wounded. The Israeli military command reported two of its men killed and one wounded.

The Israeli command said one of its border patrols came under bazooka fire from Lebanon this morning. The patrol returned the fire, and there were no casualties, an Israeli communique said.

American Embassy In Laos Picks Up Evacuation Pace

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — U.S. Embassy personnel accelerated the burning of documents today and the Embassy's Marine guards moved their pistols and riot-gas supplies to safer upstairs storage areas as anti-American feeling mounted in Vientiane.

There were no flights today in the charter airlift that has reduced the American community in Laos from close to 1,000 to about 350. But more evacuees left on commercial and Embassy supply flights.

"Don't stay much longer," U.S. Charge d'Affaires Christian A. Chapman advised an American newsmen.

Students continued to occupy the headquarters compound of the U.S. Agency for International Development. Police guards outside the gate prevented news photographers from taking pictures and tried to stop reporters taking notes.

A crowd of about 200 students and Laotian AID employees cheered when told the AID workers would be paid by tonight.

But informed sources said this increased the potential for violence because the pay records were inside the occupied compound and it might not be possible to get the payroll ready.

One student entering the occupied compound carried an M16 rifle. Others had American military field radios.

Laotians employed by the U.S. government have been demanding immediate payment of their wages as the evacuation of Americans has continued.

The embassy was pressured into paying three months' severance pay instead of the one month contracted for when on Sunday it paid off the 937 employees of the security firm that guarded U.S. government property.

And then to make your task as pleasant and enjoyable as possible take along a little bit of honey."

Mr. Smithen told the students since they must deal with the serious business of life, they would be wise to carry along a little honey so that they might sweeten up their journey through life.

He said the "honey" is a smiling spirit, a sweet spirit and an optimistic spirit.

Heat, No Rain Predicted Here

By The Associated Press Cloudy to partly cloudy skies provided a rather gloomy stage for Texans' observance of this Memorial Day.

A weak cold front passed through the Tall City early today and continued southward lowering temperatures in its wake, but the mercury is expected to be near 90 both this afternoon and Tuesday.

The National Weather Service at Midland Regional Air Terminal said no precipitation was recorded in the last 24 hour period and chances of rain today are pegged well below the 20 per cent chance.

Sunday's high was 92 with an overnight low of 67.

Weathermen said the Tall City area is under a low pressure system influence and rain is possible if enough warm air collides with the cool frontal activity.

Temperatures near dawn ranged from 79 degrees at Galveston on the coast down to 53 at El Paso in far West Texas. Sunday's top marks went as high as 95 at Wink in West Texas, The Associated Press reported.

Members Of Congress In Europe For 'Investigations'

WASHINGTON (AP) — At least 40 members of Congress are taking advantage of the Memorial Day recess to make trips to Europe to investigate at taxpayer expense.

The trips include an inspection tour of NATO facilities, visits to the Paris air show and travels to look into the treatment of Jews in the Soviet Union and to examine prison systems in Sweden and Holland.

Time for sightseeing and shopping is set aside along with the work and members have time off at night for entertainment.

Russia Not Rocking Boat

(Continued From Page 1A) reports that he is undergoing more medical treatment) has set off an inevitable round of internal political maneuvering that make the possibility of more instability abroad seem an inconvenient diversion.

What affect these factors will have on the progress of pending negotiations, mainly on the strategic arms limitation talks (SALT), the Middle East and the European security conference, is another matter. The question, as posed by diplomats here, is whether the Soviets are prepared to make concessions on any of these issues to U.S. positions as a gesture of faith in détente.

Reports filtering back from the Gromyko-Kissinger Vienna talks last week indicate that some advances were made on the outstanding SALT problems. One Soviet source briefed at high-level in the Kremlin said the decision was made to push ahead on "the principles" and avoid getting bogged down in details.

On the Middle East, the Soviets may have appeared more sympathetic to American peace-making proposals because their own recent try at getting the Arabs together in a common front was so unsuccessful. The Soviets want to see the Geneva Middle East conference reconvened, as they have long demanded, but only if it makes some headway.

Perhaps, a joint initiative with Washington to get the talks going now seems a desirable tactic.

Fed Chairman Burns Predicts Upward Turn In U.S. Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economy is turning upward and will experience "a good and healthy recovery" in the second half of the year, Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns says.

"We are now in a turning zone. There are many signs of economic improvement," Burns said Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press."

He predicted an increase in the real gross national product, the nation's total economic output, of 4 to 5 per cent during the last half of the year.

Meanwhile, Chairman Al Ulman, D-Ore., of the House Ways and Means Committee predicted the upturn would come later.

"Late this year, unless something very unforeseen happens, we should be bottoming out and turning back up. Next year will be a fairly slow year with fairly high unemployment," Ulman said on CBS' "Face the Nation."

"We will go to a higher unemployment rate before it gets better," Ulman said. The jobless rate now is 8.9 per cent with 8,176,000 persons looking for work.

Burns listed these signs of improvement:

"Retail trade has been up this year. Employment rose during the month of April . . . The flow of money to our thrift institutions is rising rapidly. The mortgage commitments are increasing. New orders for durable goods were up sharply last month."

Burns also said that "we are now in the act of unwinding the inflation," though he added that inflation still continues "at a disconcerting pace."

Critics of the board have claimed that it did too little to curb inflation and then too little to fight recession.

Burns said the board, which regulates the amount of credit available to banks from the Federal Reserve System, and thus the nation's money supply, is trying to steer a "middle course of fighting recession without increasing inflation."

"If we increase the money supply more rapidly, the chances are a new wave of inflation would be rapidly unleashed. By pursuing the moderate course we are now doing, we're building confidence in our country," he said.

Russia Not Rocking Boat

Probably the easiest place for the Soviets to give ground is at the European security conference which the Kremlin is more anxious to see finish successfully than any of the other participants. After two years of haggling over such items as advance notification of military maneuvers and improved working conditions for journalists, Moscow could quickly bring the marathon to a close by making a few concessions — if it really wants to. That is the test.

On the Middle East, the Soviets may have appeared more sympathetic to American peace-making proposals because their own recent try at getting the Arabs together in a common front was so unsuccessful. The Soviets want to see the Geneva Middle East conference reconvened, as they have long demanded, but only if it makes some headway.

Common Market Conditionally Agrees To Provide Financial Aid To Portugal

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Common Market foreign ministers resolved today to launch a major attempt to head off dangers of economic breakdown in Portugal provided Portugal stays democratic.

The decision came in response to a plea by the Lisbon government for a comprehensive program of aid, and as Portugal's military rulers met in Lisbon to consider whether to take total charge of the political process.

It also followed reports by diplomats here that the Soviet Union has yielded to Western demands for advance notice of all major military maneuvers in an effort to clear the way for the summit conference on European security that Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev wants.

Diplomats attending the one-day meeting of the market's council of foreign ministers said Irish Foreign Minister Garrett Fitzgerald, their current president, will visit Lisbon June 1 and 2 for broad political and economic talks with Portuguese leaders.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise: I was fixing dinner for a very special friend and wanted everything to be perfect.

I made gravy, but couldn't decide what to put in it.

I didn't want to use a gravy boat because it was too big, and there wasn't enough gravy to fill it properly.

I went searching frantically through my cabinets for something to use and spotted my cream pitcher that I never use.

It was perfect! Just the right size, matched my china, and I didn't even need a gravy ladle. Looked so nice on my table, too, and it even seemed to make my gravy taste better!

Thought others just might like to use my idea, especially new brides who haven't completed their china yet and don't have a gravy boat.

Great! Good idea for live-aloners, too.

My little ones just love watermelon and cantaloupe, but always got their clothes wet when eating them, from the juice dripping off their elbows.

I remedied this by tying or taping paper napkins around their wrists to catch the juice.

Don't ever let your ice cubes run low—never know when you may need them for water in an emergency.

While I was in the hospital recently, I discovered something I would like to share with your readers.

After guests had visited, the lingering smell of the cigarette

The Gravy Boat's Docked With Heloise II

Dear Heloise: I washed the ash tray, dried it, and sprayed it with deodorant spray.

To my amazement, it eliminated the stale smoke smell for several hours and even lasted after emptying the ash tray.

If you use your favorite air freshener, you will be pleasantly surprised at how long it lasts.

I used lemon-scented and my living room smelled sweet for a day or two.

We should stop worrying about trivial matters...

Today while snipping off a length of thread, I noticed my sewing scissors weren't as sharp as needed and mentioned this to my husband.

He said, "Why don't you do what my mother used to do? Sharpen them on a bottle neck!" He then showed me how.

Use a small-necked bottle, place it between the blades and "cut" away.

When I tried the scissors again I was delighted to find they were much sharper.

After working late one night, we came home to fix a bite to eat and found no water. It had been temporarily turned off.

What to do without water? We put the hot dogs in the pan, added a half dozen ice cubes, also put ice cubes in the coffee pot and had coffee.

Keel plans to attend Texas A&M University.

by Carroll Righter

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day or two much care so you don't get into disputes with others who believe of compatible companies could take place. Know what your facts and figures are regarding a new project.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Make sure you do nothing that could burn your reputation. A bluff-up is less so clear case of this person. Be calm.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): The work at hand's home zone, and you want to go to new places, but it is best to get work done first. Be logical.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Don't try to avoid your responsibilities at this time. Show more understanding for loved one instead of criticizing.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Don't endeavor to change some sacred trust made with an associate. Disturbance in reputation who respects you. Be patient.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Do your work efficiently and don't try to overwork a co-worker with tasks that you should do. Become a more friendly person.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Don't give into a temptation to overwork when a commitment is concerned. A good time to discuss important matter with friend.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): The situation may be tense at home but if you relax and control all in sleep, you find it soon right itself.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21): Instead of being generous for their mistakes, show them how they can be recruited and all work out fine.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Don't think you can buy your way out of difficulties today. Avoid one who causes you to make mistakes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Try to be more understanding with mate. Show clear of the social where arguments need exist. Relax at home tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Don't delay doing important work early in the day. Later try to assist a friend who needs your help. Be generous.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Don't show your love to a friend who you feel has not been working against you since this is not the case. Be thoughtful.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

Should Twins Break Up Act?

DEAR ABBY: My brother and I are 17-year-old identical twins. Our parents have been separated since we were 10, and we haven't seen our father since then.

My twin brother and I are very close. (We have no other brothers or sisters.) Some people think that we feel "incomplete" when we're apart, but the truth is that we are always together because we really want to be. We have most of the same friends, doubledate a lot and stick together out of choice, not out of need.

Next year we will be going off to college. We want to go to the same college, but our mother says that we should go to different colleges so that we can learn to be independent. Our guidance counselor says it's time we made a break from each other.

Abby, we don't really want to make a break.

Are they right? Or are we?

family moved into a new house, and my father made some rules. One was "no eating" except in the kitchen. However, my father eats wherever he wants to. He dropped greasy food on the floor in the living room, which left a grease spot on the new carpet. My mother doesn't eat much, but she smokes a lot, and she already dropped ashes on the carpet and burned a hole in it.

My little sister and I are watched like hawks, but we don't eat in the living room and we are neater than they are.

What do you think? Don't you think my parents should practice what they preach?

HUNGRY IN NEW ORLEANS

DEAR HUNGRY: They should. But there is no way of forcing them to. They belong to that big club whose motto is: "Don't do as I do—do as I say." Unfortunately, rank has its privileges, and parents outrank their kids.

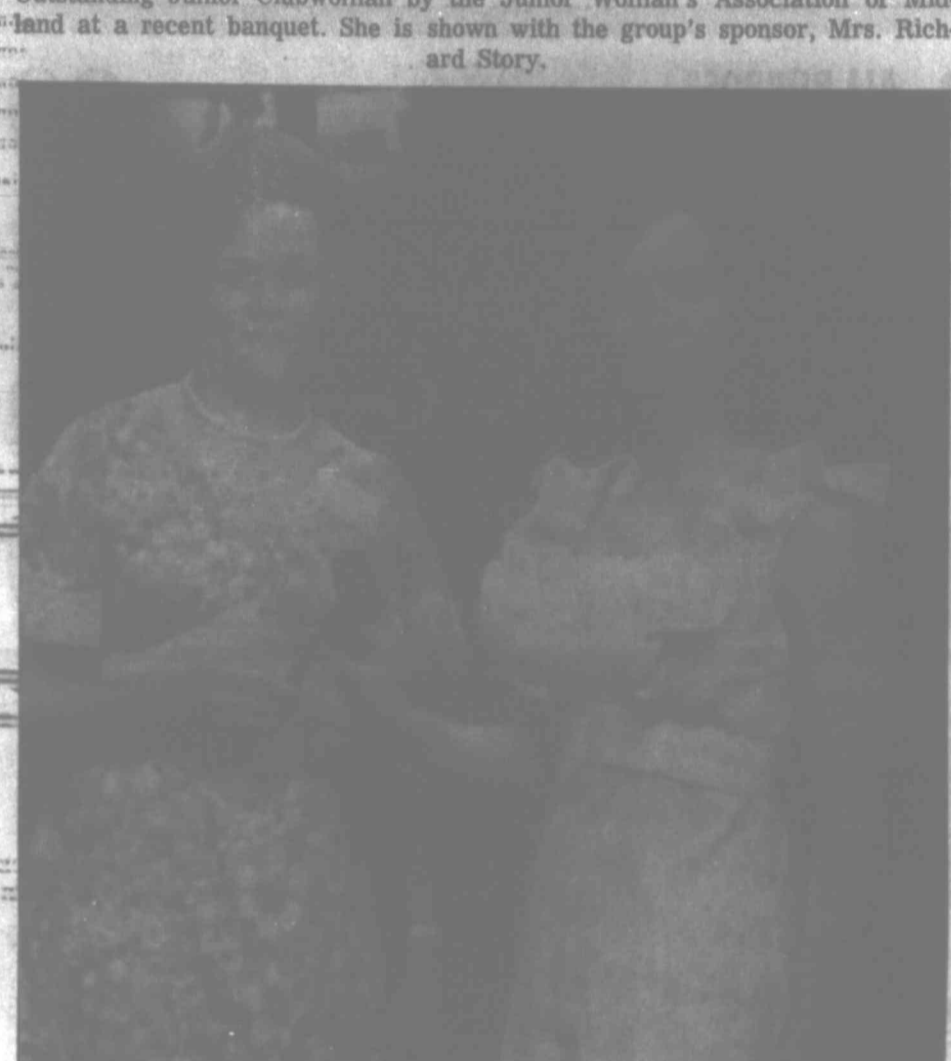

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HUNG OVER AND FEELIN' BOTTEN"

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

DEAR TWIN: IF you and your brother are not using your twinhood to get attention, if you are equally endowed, if you really enjoy each other as friends, if you can each cultivate friends individually, I would advise you to go to the same college—if you want to. A twin is more than just a womb mate. A twin is a friend. And a closer friendship never was. I ought to know.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 years old, and I have a problem. My

Midland Girl To Visit Chalet

Renee Branson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene E. Branson, 3809 Andrews Hwy., has been chosen to participate in a hiking and backpacking session at Our Chalet in Adelboden, Switzerland, from July 13-24, 1975.

After applying for an international opportunity, she went through a series of interviews and was one of only three girls in the U.S. chosen for this international event which is funded by the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund in the amount of $450 towards travel expenses. This grant allows time for further European travel. Miss Branson will be accompanied by Judy K. Justus of Sanderson.

Our Chalet is a Girl Scout International Camp and the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund is set up to allow girls in the U.S. and foreign countries to help broaden the channels of world friendship through participation in such events.

As one Girl Scout source said, "You will be traveling, not just as a tourist, but as an individual representative of a worldwide movement whose values have transcended the so-called barriers of culture, geography, religion, race and generation to touch the common heart of humanity. You will have a precious opportunity to get to know your sister Guides in your host country, to meet people and not just places and thus to make a real personal contribution to international understanding."

Juliette Low began the Girl Scout movement in the U.S. with one of her goals being to unite the youth of the world in international friendship.

Renee has been a member of the Girl Scout movement for eleven years, is a first class Senior Scout, earned the God and Community Award in 1973, has held committee chairs, served as treasurer and also president of Troop 144 during 73-74 and is a present member with Mrs. R. M. Carroll as advisor. She has participated in events at Mitre Peak, Hat-A, Camp Mary White, a West Coast Trek-West Group in 1971, day camps and fairs.

She has been a member of Explorer Post 233 for four years with Mr. Stephen Odom, advisor, and has served as secretary for two years as well as participated in Road Rallies, Explorer Olympics, Expositions and three canoe trips.

Miss Branson is an Honor Graduate this year of Lee High School, a member in the National Honor Society, French Club, Art Club and the outstanding Lee High Chorale with which she participated in "Youth and Music Festival—Vienna 1974" and recently the Buccanone Music Festival, Corpus Christi. She also lettered in Choir and was a finalist in the French Symposium held in San Antonio and the Language Quaterion held in Odessa.

Recently, she was cited for outstanding academic work in the Foreign Language Department by the Midland Exchange Club. She has written two, 160-word essays which were accepted by the National Essay Press, Los Angeles, Calif. and published in the National Publication, "Young America Writes."

She presently is a member of the Miss Softball America program and has participated the past two years in which she was selected to the All-Star teams that have won State Championships each year.

Miss Branson is a member of Memorial Christian Church and actively participates in the CYF program in which she served as Chaplain. She has attended summer camps at Brownwood Christian Retreat, is a member of the Adult Choir, teaches the Primary Choir and serves in Vacation Church School.

She has served with Volunteers in Midland, the Salvation Army, Christmas in October, Crop Walks and clean-up campaigns.

Miss Branson plans to attend The University of Texas at Austin this fall and major in Sociology and minor in foreign languages.

No Job is too tough for a Payne Air Management Specialist.

That menacing beast you're looking at is a tourist attraction in the desert near Palm Springs, California. It didn't scare us a bit.

With all its king sized problems (large rooms, small rooms, tunnels, stairs), a Payne Air Management Specialist was able to air condition it.

Without any problems. Which makes our point.

If a Payne Air Management Specialist can expertly air condition this monster, he can air condition your home as well.

Talks Under Way On Refugees Who Want To Be Repatriated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new head of President Ford's interagency refugee task force says the South Vietnamese government is cooperating with the United Nations in negotiating about refugees who wish to return to their home country.

Julia Vadeia Taft said in an interview that the names of those who wish to return are being submitted to the U.N. high commissioner on refugees, who will submit them to the new governments of Cambodia and South Vietnam.

"The receiving country has to say yes to each one before he can return," she said.

An estimated 1,000 refugees have indicated a desire to return to their native countries. An estimated 130,000 refugees fled South Vietnam and Cambodia.

President Ford signed a refugee aid measure Saturday requiring the administration to report to Congress within 30 days on how many refugees want to go back home and what actions are being taken to assist them.

The new law provides $405 million in refugee aid. Mrs. Taft said U.S. money will be used to pay for transporting refugees who wish to return to their home countries but the United Nations will arrange the transportation.

"Money is not a problem," she added. "The question is how quickly the United Nations can move to get information on the refugees to the receiving countries and how quickly they act on it."

Mrs. Taft succeeded L. Dean Brown on Friday as head of the refugee task force.

She said that when Brown testified before a congressional committee last week that the South Vietnamese government was being obstructionist about the return of refugees he apparently was unaware of the progress being made in the negotiations.

But since then the U.N. commissioner, Prince Sadruddin Aga Khan, has said the Provisional Revolutionary Government authorities are cooperating "and would indeed welcome the return of those who left their country."

About 110 refugees at Ft. Chaffee, Ark., have said they will hold a demonstration if they are not returned to their native country by Thursday.

"The impression is that we're holding them here against their will, which certainly is not the case," said Mrs. Taft. "It's just that they have no place to go until the receiving country agrees to accept them."

Multi-Aged Grouping Again On Trustee Agenda

Multi-aged grouping once again figures prominently into the meeting agenda for the Midland public school trustees Tuesday as a parent survey is presented to the board to determine whether West Elementary School will implement a 2-3 class next fall.

Board members had voted at the last meeting, held May 13, to approve expansion of the multi-aged program at that school providing the results of a survey failed to prove negative.

Meeting at 1:30 p.m. in the central administration building of the school district, trustees also will consider a depository bank bid, hear a report on bilingual education programs and take action on plans for 1975-76 cafeteria operations.

Transfer requests will be acted upon as well as bids awarded for gasoline and cafeteria equipment.

Carrillo Lawyer Wants To Subpoena Briscoe

AUSTIN (AP) — The list of possible witnesses in the special House committee's probe of District Court Judge O. P. Carrillo continues to grow.

Over the weekend, Carrillo's lawyer, Arthur Mitchell of Austin, said he wanted to subpoena Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

In a committee hearing last week, Mitchell said he planned to call up to 50 witnesses, including the state attorney general, Carrillo's Duval County political opponent, Archer Parr, and Dist. Atty. Arnulfo Guerra of Rio Grande City.

The 11-member panel, which meets again Tuesday night, has already learned from its chairman, Rep. Dewitt Hale, D-Corpus Christi, that he does not think the group will be finished by the time the legislature adjourns next Monday.

The committee was created by the House after it approved a resolution by Rep. Terry Cales, D-Premont. The resolution cites Carrillo's indictment on federal income tax evasion charges as the basis for the impeachment study.

Already subpoenaed by the committee is wealthy Freer rancher-banker Clinton Manges—a mysterious figure in South Texas politics.

Manges was identified in a campaign suit against Briscoe as the donor of $15,000 in cash for Briscoe's 1972 campaign. Briscoe said he never used the money and has been trying to give it back to Manges.

Mitchell said he would like to question Briscoe about Manges' offer, "not to show any wrongdoing" but to show "that's how the system works."

Maryland Klan Conducts Rally

The Washington Post GAMBEL, Md. — The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan marched around a fiery cross and symbolically burned "The flag of communism" here Sunday in climax to a rally that drew 40 members and sympathizers to a cold and soggy hilltop.

The cross-burning, which was accompanied by records of "God Bless America" and "The Old Rugged Cross," followed speeches that deplored integration, crime, "forced busing," "socialism," "communism," and the alleged misrepresentation of the Klan by the news media.

As the flames reached the top of the 100-foot cross, Tony La Ricci, the Grand Dragon of the Maryland Knights of the KKK, said, "There it is folks, the most beautiful sight in the world — a flaming cross."

VA Seeking Private Homes Here For Disabled Veterans

BIG SPRING—The Veterans Administration, through the Big Spring VA Hospital, is looking for families in the Midland-Odessa area who will allow veterans to become a part of their families.

The homes where the veterans would be lodged, "personal care homes" need supply only basic room and board at a rate set by the Veterans Administration. Hospital officials said the veterans are fully ambulatory, but may need reminding to tend such tasks as taking medicine. They average 80 years of age.

All medication, including outpatient services, are provided by the VA. If a veteran should become ill, he can be placed in a local hospital until he can be moved to a Veterans Administration facility.

Sponsoring homes must meet a physical criteria set out by the VA, but the average home in America, died Saturday.

"more than adequate," according to Big Spring officials. The homes need not be licensed by the state providing they meet VA requirements.

The Veterans Administration is seeking a list of potential personal care homes in order to meet immediate placement needs in August.

Interested persons are requested to write: Social Work Service, Veterans Administration Hospital, Big Spring 19720. The telephone number is 263-7261, extension 267.

35 Persons Injured In Mexico City Panic

MEXICO CITY (AP) — An evening at the movies turned into horror-filled mayhem for thousands of people in a Mexico City theater Sunday night when someone in the audience shouted, "Fire!" authorities said.

Thirty-five persons were injured in the ensuing panic. Fifteen, including six women, were taken to a hospital, five of them in serious condition, the Red Cross said. Another 20 were treated at the scene and allowed to go home. The Red Cross said there were no fatalities.

"It all started when someone yelled, 'Fire!' when the movie was ending," a Red Cross spokesman said. "at that moment almost everybody in the theater jumped up from their seats and rushed to the exits."

"Outside was another crowd waiting to get in and the two masses collided."

Many were trampled and others fell from a balcony inside the theater, witnesses said.

A spokesman for the theater said fist fights broke out among the crowd in the panic to reach the exits.

Scores of seats were destroyed and many exit doors were torn off their hinges by the surging crowd.

The theater has a seating capacity for 3,200 and it was nearly full. Another 2,000 people were outside waiting to get in.

"It's really a miracle nobody was killed in all this," a police spokesman said.

The fire department said no fire occurred.

There were no children in the theater because the movie was rated for adults only. The movie being shown was "Mecanicas Nacionales" a satire about Mexican machismo.

Thunderstorms Roam Wide Area Of United States

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms rumbled over an area from the Plains to the mid-Atlantic states as temperatures in the teens and 20s chilled parts of the Rockies and Plains states.

Skies were generally clear or partly cloudy over the western and southern sections of the country and in New England.

Several tornadoes were sighted in central Illinois early today, but no injuries or damage was reported. At least ten tornadoes reportedly touched down in the central states since Sunday morning, six in Illinois, two in Kansas and one each in Nebraska and Ohio.

Winds of up to 70 miles per hour over the weekend buffeted Champaign, Ill., and Saginaw, Mich., damaging trees and snapping power lines. Golfball size hail bombarded Salina, Kan., in 60 m.p.h. winds.

Earlier in the weekend three tornadoes hit North Dakota Saturday night, damaging five mobile homes near Garrison and a lumberyard. No serious personal injuries were reported.

Record low temperatures in the 20s and 30s were recorded in Oregon and Idaho Sunday while down in Georgia, Memorial Day vacationers clogged the beaches in 95-degree heat.

"The Mandarin style food is cooked in oil in the Chinese way. Cooking in the Mandarin style is an art and takes the expertise of the Peking Palace chef."

Peking Palace serves many different authentic and delicious Chinese dishes that ordinarily would be found only in large cities.

Homosexual Issue To Be Discussed At Methodist Meel

FORT WORTH (AP) — Delegates to the annual four-day convention of the Central Texas Region of the United Methodist Church beginning here June 1 are expected to consider a resolution opposing the use of church funds for homosexual campaigns.

The conference council on ministers voted unanimously to sponsor the resolution which specifies "there be no United Methodist funds granted to support homosexual causes."

The resolution states that the United Methodist Church should not employ known homosexuals for activities which affect the lives of members.

A United Methodist church in San Antonio voted April 13 to recommend that its conference let an avowed homosexual serve in the pulpit.

The Central Texas conference also will elect delegates to the 1976 general conference in Portland, Ore., and discuss proposals for recruiting more blacks and Mexican-Americans for church work.

Billy Graham's Wife Charged With Assault

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—An assault warrant has been filed against the wife of evangelist Billy Graham.

The warrant was signed by Daniel Lewis Pollock of Charlotte, who said the incident happened while he was picketing during President Ford's visit here last week.

Pollock alleged in a complaint filed Friday that Ruth Graham committed simple assault, a misdemeanor, "by pushing him away and taking a sign away from" him during the protest.

Police said Mrs. Graham will be informed of the charge.

'Super Shoot III'

Midland is host this week to the third annual Firearms Industry Super Shoot, one of the nation's most significant shooting events of the season.

Several hundred shooters from various points across the land, including H. Skipworth Gordon of Dover, N.J., national co-ordinator, are on hand for the shooting spectacular, for which the Permian Basin Rifle and Pistol Club is the official host.

Competition between the best bench rest rifle shooters of the nation will begin at 8 a.m. Tuesday at the host organization's range southeast of the Tall City.

Midland and Midlanders are delighted to be hosts to this Super Shoot III and to all those persons it has brought to the Tall City.

It is the first time that a shoot of this magnitude has been held outside of a large metropolitan area, and members of the sponsoring group are determined to make this equal to any and better than most events held elsewhere.

The first thing they did was to make extensive renovations in their shooting range facilities.

They since have centered their efforts on arrangements looking to the comfort, pleasure, enjoyment and convenience of the visitors. They have left no stone unturned in this endeavor, and they have been joined by other Midlanders in greeting the shooters and their families and in helping to make them feel at home here.

This isn't the first time by any means that shooting events have been held here. A two-day shooting tournament, for instance, was held here back in 1909, with 27 shooters from Roswell, N.M., and Waco, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Midland participating.

The Midland Reporter at that time termed the shoot most successful and "enjoyed by large crowds of interested spectators both days."

"These days of shooting festivities had been looked forward to with much anticipation by the sportsmen of our city," the news story continued, "and every preparation was made to pull off the big shoot in style — and it was done."

Numerous other shoots have been held here through the years and always the goal has been "to pull off the big shoot in style." The Super Shoot III is no exception in this regard as members of the United States Marine Corps, Norman Read Assembly, Order of Eastern Star, and Texas Rangers (honor guard) assist the official sponsors in meeting the needs of the shooters.

Whether you have or haven't seen super shooters banging away at their targets, you undoubtedly will enjoy looking in on Super Shoot III this week.

Meanwhile, a super, typically West Texas WELCOME is directed to the Super Shooter visitors. It is hoped that their stay here will be enjoyable from every standpoint and that they will return to Midland at every opportunity.

NICK THIMMESCH

Onward, Onward With Senator Humphrey

WASHINGTON—The years don't slow Hubert Humphrey. He turns 64 this coming week, but his mind still boils with ideas, and his walk remains a fox trot. He's second to George Wallace in Democratic presidential polls, and he hasn't foreclosed the notion of running for the Big One again.

Nobody in the Senate dislikes Humphrey. He's friend to any Republican or Democrat who will respond to his effectiveness. "I feel very comfortable here," Humphrey says. "I feel assured and secure."

"You know, in legislating, you can't just know the structure, you've got to know the people, too. Most of the time we do a good job, but inevitably we spread ourselves too thin."

"I get discouraged with the low esteem politicians are held in today. There was just too much accumulation of power and permissiveness in the political process."

"People are unhappy with politicians, yet they are asking for more things and coming to us more than at any other time. It's a paradox."

"Congress is closest to the people, and I guess that familiarity breeds contempt. We're easy to get at—very little mystique, no big fences, no Secret Service, no limousines (?), no guards—we're just out here walking the halls. Most of us are just folks."

"When I go out (among the people), I am treated with more affection than most people are. That's my reward. I didn't get to be President, but I got to be the people's friend."

Humphrey is more than a back-slapper. He's a mind-slapper, too, with an unending flow of bills, resolutions, proposals and criticisms—all designed to win his letter "P" for Progress.

He fusses over the budget reform act, warns that Congress must concern itself "with income, as well as outlays." He laments over congressional "weakness in the energy area," claims "there are so many voices on the energy front, we can't get a focus." Congress has muddled over, but not passed an energy package for five months now.

Humphrey sees this failure as "a classic example of the difficulty in decision-making in Congress; Congress at its worst. Energy is all over the ballpark. We need a joint-energy committee, if for no other reason than to arrive at a policy which could be fed into legislation."

Humphrey is a friendly scold when it comes to reforming Congress, developing legislative oversight so someone on the Hill knows what happens to programs once they are authorized and in force and chairing the Joint Economic Committee which works to enable Congress to put its "cents' worth" in with the executive branch on national economic policy.

'You Wouldn't Want Nottin To Happen To Yer Nice Premises'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON With Les Whittier

WASHINGTON — Inside the Pentagon, it doesn't pay to mess with one of Strom Thurmond's boys.

Lt. Col. Wilfred Ebel found this out. He conducted a study, which rapped one of Thurmond's cronies as a lazy incompetent. There was a sort of annoyance from Old Strom. All of a sudden, Ebel's military career began collapsing around his ears.

Strom Thurmond, of course, is the straight-laced senator from South Carolina, a very model of a reserve major general, the Army's senior retreat on Capitol Hill.

He helped to win World War II, and he has five battle stars and 18 decorations to prove it, including the Belgian Order of the Crown and the French Croix de Guerre.

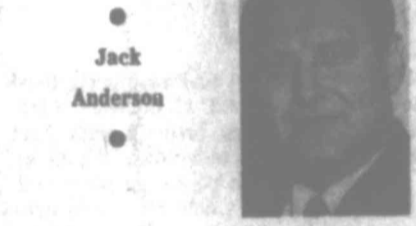

At age 72, he marches through the Senate corridors, ramrod-straight, as if to a military cadence. He is a power on the Senate Armed Services Committee where he fights for the Army with the same star-spangled fervor that he demonstrated on the battlefield.

Certainly, Thurmond is not one for a mere lieutenant colonel to tangle with. The unfortunate Ebel made the mistake of criticizing Maj. Gen. Milnor Roberts, the Army reserves chief, who happens to be one of Thurmond's World War II buddies.

Ebel was ordered to make a confidential study of Roberts' operation. His orders, Ebel has sworn, were to write a "no-holds-barred report."

This is precisely what the foolhardy lieutenant colonel did. He charged that Roberts, in his capacity as head of 730,000 reservists, was given to "intrigue," "indifference" and "lethargy." Roberts also lacked courage on tough decisions, wrote Ebel.

Subsequently, Ebel received a commandation for his "tremendous service" and "personal integrity." But this was before Old Strom spoke to Army Secretary Howard "Bo" Callaway about Ebel.

Callaway has assured us that Thurmond's approach was "low key." The senator passed on some allegations against Ebel. "He just said, 'Look into it,'" recalled Callaway. "There never was a case with less political influence."

Thurmond won't say who cooked up the charges against Ebel and slipped them to him. A classified Army document suggests that Roberts, the subject of Ebel's unflattering report "may have been the source in this matter."

The Army reserves chief, although conceding he had spoken with both Thurmond and one of his aides about Ebel, denied he was the original purveyor of the rumors.

But from the moment Old Strom gave Ebel the evil eye, the world of the 44-year-old lieutenant colonel began to crumble. Here is the swift sequence of events:

Callaway turned Thurmond's allegations against Ebel over to the Army Inspector General to investigate.

Astonishingly, the Inspector General issued a report condemning Ebel for writing a "derogatory" report about Roberts. Yet Ebel's Pentagon superiors had ordered him to prepare a frank report.

INSIDE REPORT

Ford, Laird And Mayaguez Incident

By ROWLAND EVANS And ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — President Ford's Mayaguez harvest with the right wing of the Republican party came precisely when needed most, after a spectacularly unsuccessful play by Melvin R. Laird had accelerated steady erosion of conservative confidence in the President.

Laird's attempt to draw conservative fire away from Mr. Ford by suggesting that Ronald Reagan challenge Nelson Rockefeller for the vice presidential nomination was one of the least successful plays by that inveterate political gamester. On the eve of the Mayaguez rescue, Laird succeeded in alienating both the Rockefeller and Reagan camps while giving conservatives the impression that Mr. Ford was dealing from weakness.

Laird's blunder was mitigated by the universal conservative approval of Mr. Ford's decisive use of force in rescuing the merchant ship. Nevertheless, the White House has been shocked to find many key conservatives not yet ready to endorse their incumbent President for 1976 — an extraordinary condition for Republicans. They are waiting to see whether the Mayaguez incident or the Laird play best reflects the presidency of Gerald R. Ford.

The lesson for the White House ought to be clear: the formula for loyalty from the party's dominant conservative wing is decisive action, preferably with a rightward slant, rather than backroom political horsetrading. Whether that lesson has in fact been absorbed is put in doubt, however, by confident statements from presidential aides that Mr. Ford nailed down the Republican nomination the night he called out the Marines.

Evans

On that night, Mr. Ford's stock in the Republican party had bottomed out, thanks partly to Laird, his usually astute adviser and longtime friend. But Reagan-vs.-Rockefeller, if not fully orchestrated at the White House, was more than merely Mel Laird's fertile imagination at work.

Five days before Laird unveiled his ploy to a breakfast of Washington correspondents, it was privately submitted via transcontinental telephone to a Reagan intimate in California by a Ford emissary in Washington. The emissary, a former Nixon aide now in Mr. Ford's political inner circle, suggested Reagan might best represent conservatism by challenging Rockefeller.

The Reagan insider immediately rejected the idea, presaging an angry reaction when Laird went public. "What kind of idiots does Mel think we are?" asked one adviser to Reagan. The Reagan camp correctly concluded that Laird was offering a dubious opportunity to challenge Rockefeller with no guarantee of success while risking Reagan's credibility among conservatives. The reaction in the Rockefeller camp, though obviously better shielded, was equally intense.

Worst of all from the President's standpoint was the response from uncommitted conservatives. "The problem is Ford, not Rockefeller," one party leader bluntly told Dean Burch, former political operative for Barry Goldwater and Richard Nixon now heading Mr. Ford's campaign planning group. In response, Burch virtually disavowed the Laird ploy.

That was the dismal situation when Mr. Ford called out the Marines. "That's what I've been waiting for nine months," one party fund-raiser telephoned presidential counselor Robert Hartmann. Human Events, the right-wing journal which has savaged Mr. Ford since he entered the White House, devoted its front page this week to a laudatory account of the way he handled the incident. The habitually cautious Reagan, a longtime friend told us, will be even more careful now in challenging the President.

But Mr. Ford's nomination is not yet at hand. Republican state chairmen from 13 Southern and border states, who last month warned the White House that Reagan was the party's choice over Mr. Ford in all those states, compared notes over the telephone late last week. They agreed the President's Mayaguez performance had been heartwarming but that they would stay uncommitted for now. Thus, working the long distance telephone to sign up Ford endorsers, Burch kept getting refusals.

That hesitancy stems from suspicion among conservatives whether the Mayaguez incident truly reflects Jerry Ford as President. They demand more demonstrations of decisive action, plus ideological constancy — vetoing spending bills, non-recognition of Cuba, non-transfer of the Panama Canal Zone, tougher detente negotiating.

That is scarcely what Mr. Ford and his senior aides have in mind. While grateful the President last week had a chance to display firm leadership, they believe his real strength lies in conciliation, moderation and mutual trust with the people.

What's more, hearing loud hurrahs from the right recently, Mr. Ford's advisers may now return to underestimating the Reagan threat. One senior aide, exhilarated by the rescue of the Mayaguez, told us Laird's ploy merely declares the truth: Reagan really is after second place, not first, on the ticket. Whether he honestly believes that or not, such words from the Oval Office suggest that President Ford's troubles with fellow Republicans are not over.

 The gauge was on a 32-64-inch choke and perforations at 14,875-14,896 feet, which had been acidized with a total of 24,000 gallons. The test is 800 feet from south and 1,000 feet from west lines of section 20-28s-31e, 15 miles southeast of Malaga.

Ford Honors War Dead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taps today and made a Memorial Day plea for U.S. military strength.

Midlander Says He Was Attacked By Several Youths

Tommy Keith Flud, 26, of 3303 W. Storey St., was in satisfactory condition in the intensive care unit of Midland Memorial Hospital today after being stabbed early Sunday during a fight.
 Police said the fight took place in a parking lot on the corner of West Illinois and Midland streets when Flud and another man were attacked by several youths. Flud's companion was not reported injured.

MC Machine Shop Sets Open House

Midland College Machine Shop will conduct an open house at its facilities at 109 Circle Drive from 9:30 a.m. to noon this Monday through Friday.
 The open house is designed, said Chris Robison, a student at MCMS, "to get the attention of the industrial community and let them be aware that we exist and what our purposes are."
 The purpose of the school, which is instructed by Leon Taylor, Robison said, is to retrain persons who have been educated in fields where there is currently high unemployment.

Retired Official Accuses Agnew

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — A retired county official has told a Baltimore newspaper that Spiro T. Agnew, when he was Baltimore County executive, forced him to deposit county funds in a Towson bank of which the former vice president was a director.
 Norman W. Wood, who served as finance director under four county executives, was quoted by the Baltimore Sun as saying that pressure to put the county money in the bank also came from J. Waller Jones, a close political and business associate of Agnew.

 "As long as there are lawbreakers in the world, we must have the strength and the resolve to stand up for what is right," the President told a crowd in the flag-draped, columned amphitheatre at the tomb.
 His remarks drew applause, and the President added: "It is the price we have always paid for being free. It is the price we must be willing to pay in the future."
 The President made no reference to the recently-ended war in Indochina during his five-minute speech. But he pledged to continue to seek an accounting of those still missing in action. This brought more applause from the crowd, estimated by cemetery officials at 4,500 persons.

TIRPO President Says '75 Tax Act Is Setback

By MAX B. SKELTON
 DALLAS (AP) — The president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America said today he believes the Tax Reduction Act of 1975 will prove to be a critical setback to the nation's energy independence.

"In time, I believe the Congress will see the error of this legislation and hopefully will take corrective actions," said John Miller of Allegan, Mich.

Bell Helicopter Employees Vote On Strike Proposal

FORT WORTH (AP) — Bell Helicopter employees, negotiating for a new contract, voted Sunday on a proposal to strike if management does not agree to union demands.

Members of United Auto Workers union Local 218 conducted the strike vote and pep rally at a closing meeting in Will Rogers Memorial College.
 Bob Williams, president of the local, said results of the voting will be disclosed at the union's next meeting June 8, when its contract expires.

Collision Victim Still In Hospital

ODESSA—James William Gilliam, 25, of Odessa, remained in guarded condition today in the intensive care unit of Medical Center Hospital after the truck he was driving was hit by a train Saturday morning.
 Two other men in the cab, Elias Natividad, 30, and Roderick Hollis May, 21, both of Odessa, were pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace John Biggs.
 The accident occurred at 10:05 a.m. 12 miles west of Midland just off U.S. 80.

The Tax Act repealed the percentage depletion tax provision for the bulk of domestic oil production and Miller said the action would have been the death knell for many independents had it not been for a small producer exemption.
 Miller spoke at the annual meeting of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association.

He expressed hope the industry has "learned enough to recognize that the real test lies ahead."
 "That real test does not just involve the transitional question of what crude oil prices will be this year, or what Congress may do about a gas bill or a 'windfall profits' tax that is in no way related to profits," he said.

"These issues are all very much alive, and very important, but they are just peripheral to the core issue of 'Will the industry or the federal government own and operate our energy resource industries in the future?'"

Miller said the industry's political turmoil does not involve just a philosophical difference over what the price of oil should be.
 "The real contest is over the philosophical differences of who should operate this industry, and that is the long-term proposition before the country," he said.

The Texas trade group's national energy policy committee reported Sunday that the defeat of depletion was a serious setback to the nation's battle for energy self-sufficiency even though part of the allowance was retained for independent producers.

"Still pending before Congress are equal or more crucial tests . . ." the committee report said. "In consequence, oilmen are having great difficulty evaluating the economic and political climate on which to base their programs to increase this nation's energy capability. Numerous operators, large and small, are sharply perching their projected outlays pending clarification on the political front."

 "This next year is going to be as critical as it can be," said John Christmann, the policy committee chairman from Lubbock.

10 Million GM Cars May Have Safety Defects

WASHINGTON (AP) — An estimated 10 million cars produced by General Motors and still in use are equipped with power brake systems which may have a safety defect, the Department of Transportation says.

The department's National Highway Traffic Safety Administration said Sunday that it has tentatively determined that a safety defect exists in the power brake vacuum check valves installed as original equipment on certain 1965 through 1970 model GM cars.

Failure of the check valves could lead to loss of the power brake assist feature on the models in question, the safety agency said.

Vehicles involved in the investigation are 1965-70 Oldsmobile 88s and 98s; 1966-70 Oldsmobile Cutlasses; 1965-70 Cadillac; 1965-69 Chevrolet Corvettes and Chevy IIs, and regular and intermediate Pontiacs; 1965-67 Corvettes; 1967-69 Chevrolet Camaros; 1969 Buick and Pontiac Grand Prix; 1967-68 Buick Electras, Wildcats, LeSabres and Rivieras; and 1968 Buick Special and Skylark.
 General Motors will be given a chance to rebut the safety agency's preliminary determination at a public hearing.

Latimer said Sunday that the 37-year-old Democratic maverick in New York's Republican Rockefeller family had told the board Saturday of his decision to resign effective July 1. Rockefeller was an unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1972.

Guesser Fails; Logic Prevails

How do you guess which ace your partner has? Most players solve this problem by scratching the head, although chin-rubbing has loyal supporters and staring at the ceiling has been known to bring inspiration. Which school of guesswork do you belong to?

Guesses Wrong
West scratched his head, rubbed his chin and stared at the ceiling. Then he led a spade.

This fell somewhat short of perfection. Declarer took 10 tricks and was then content to give up the rest.

Suppose East has the ace of spades and clubs of no particular value. A club shift will allow South to take several club tricks, but South cannot get to the diamonds except by leading spades. This will allow East to take the ace of spades and lead a heart.

In short, a shift to clubs will work, no matter which ace East holds. A shift to spades will work only if East's ace is the ace of spades.

The logic depends on the fact that South has only two diamonds. This is known because East played his deuce of diamonds first and a higher diamond later. East would have played high-low in diamonds with a doubleton.

West opened the six of hearts, and South won with the jack. South next laid down the ace of diamonds and continued with a diamond to West's king. West had to give his partner the lead in order to get a heart return. West's problem was whether to lead a spade or a club.

Treatment Center Underutilized

Midland physicians have been extended an invitation to send cancer patients to the new El Paso Cancer Treatment Center.

Dr. John Senszyn, who helped set up the cancer treatment operation just more than a year ago, was in Midland last week to outline the facilities for local doctors.

Senszyn said the center is handling less than half its capacity of 70 patients per day.

He said the center would help with the treatment of local cancer patients by allowing the patient to stay closer to home. Senszyn said those patients who could be treated at Midland Memorial Hospital would still be treated there. He said only those needing more sophisticated treatment would be channeled through the El Paso radiation treatment facility.

Other patients needing more complex treatments would still be required to travel to Houston, Senszyn said. The El Paso facility is closely associated with S. D. Anderson Hospital at Houston, a well known cancer treatment hospital.

The cancer facility works with patients requiring radiation therapy, but will add a chemotherapy center later this summer, Senszyn said.

Senszyn is the chief radiation oncologist at the center. Other staff members include Dr. Ira Horowitz, radiation oncologist; Dr. Don Arnold, chief physicist; two assistant physicists and four technicians.

Equipment at the center includes a Clinac-18 that produces 10 million electron volts (mev) for X-rays and electron beam therapy with energy ranging from 6 to 18 mev.

A Theratron-80 unit for cobalt 60 treatment produces gamma rays with an average energy of 1.35 mev.

A Maxitron-250 unit for X-ray treatment of superficial therapy (skin treatments). A Cesium-137 unit which produces capsules for intracavitary radiation treatment. Radium needles for intrasternal implantation are also produced.

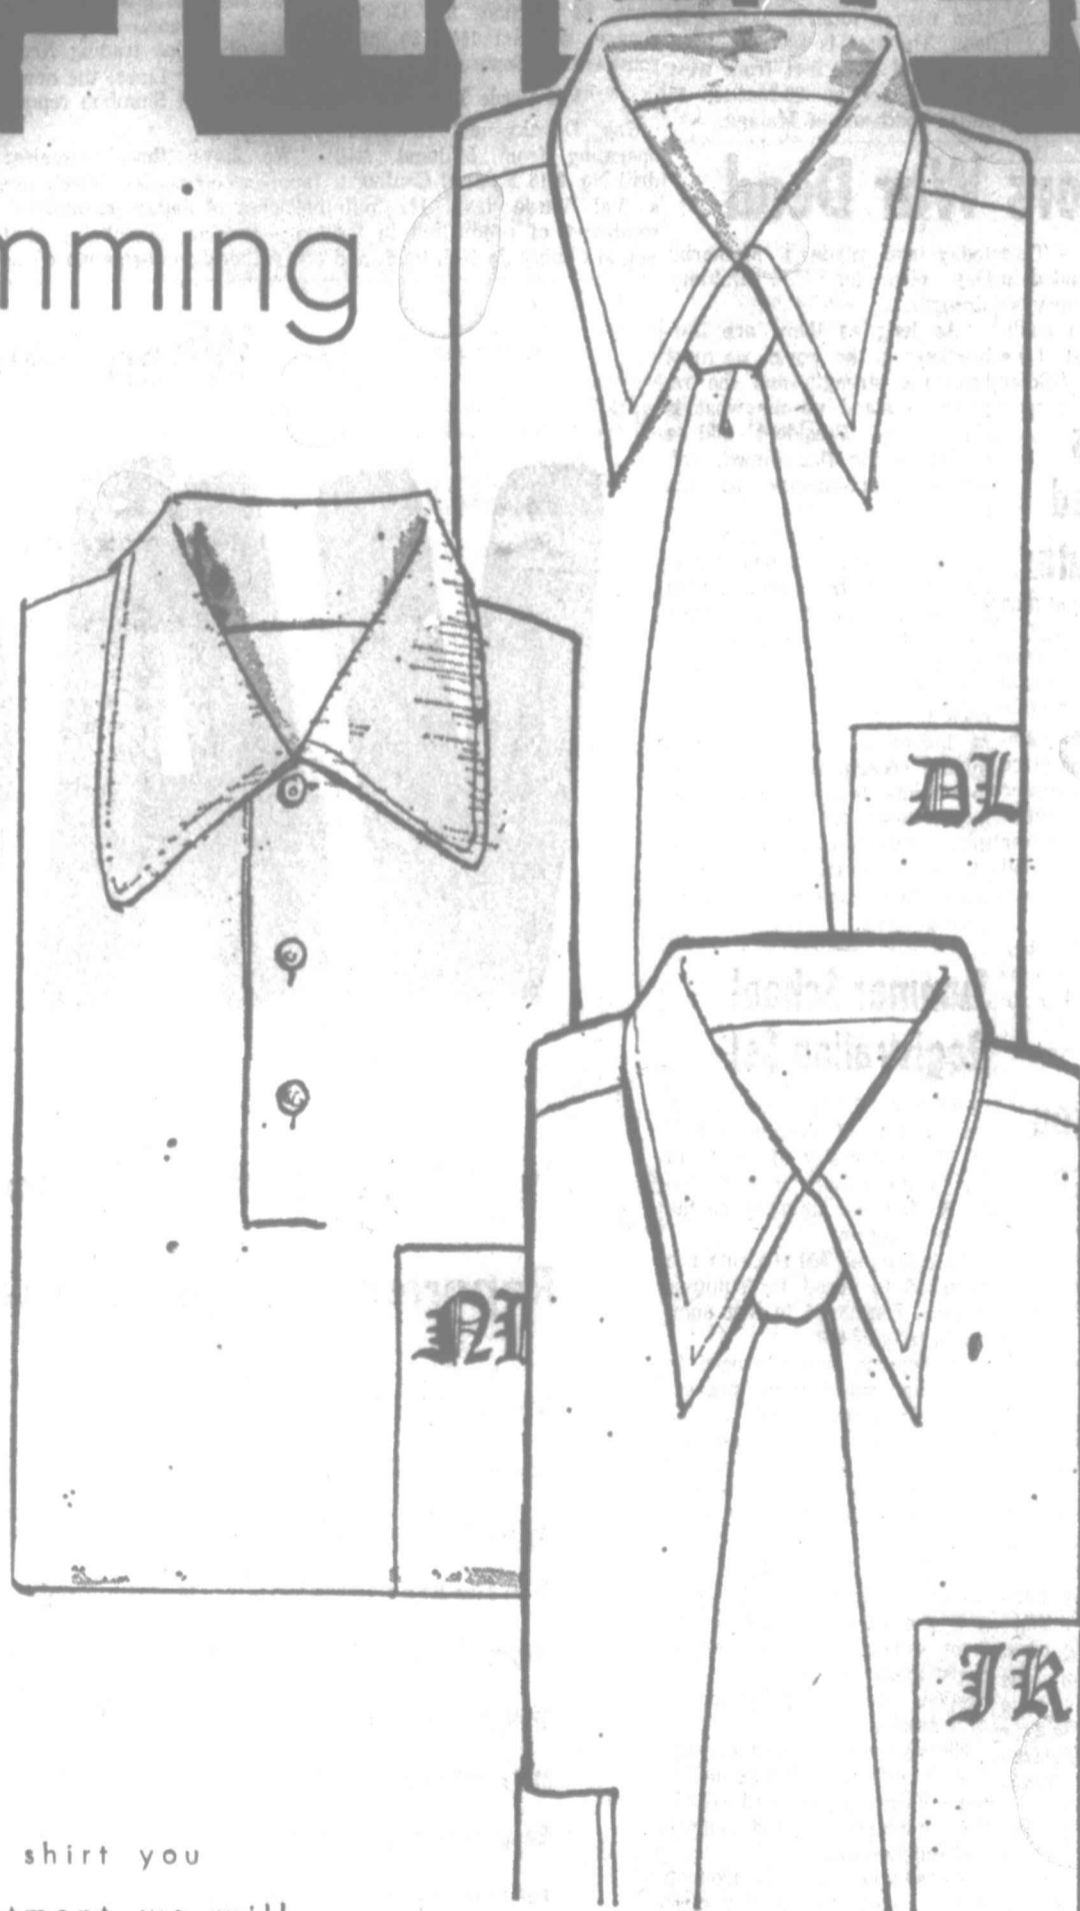

A PC-11 digital computer is available at the center for all treatment planning. Thermoluminescent dosimetry in the form of small crystals are used to measure radiation doses in every patient.

A beam shaping apparatus is used to shield normal tissue in the center's treatment program. A telecopy system is available for treatment planning communications with S. D. Anderson Hospital.

Unser Captures air-bortened Indy '435'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — It rained on Bobby Unser's parade, but he didn't mind it a bit. He was leading it.

It was supposed to go the standard 300 laps—500 miles—just like the race he'd won here in 1968 when he beat Dan Gurney.

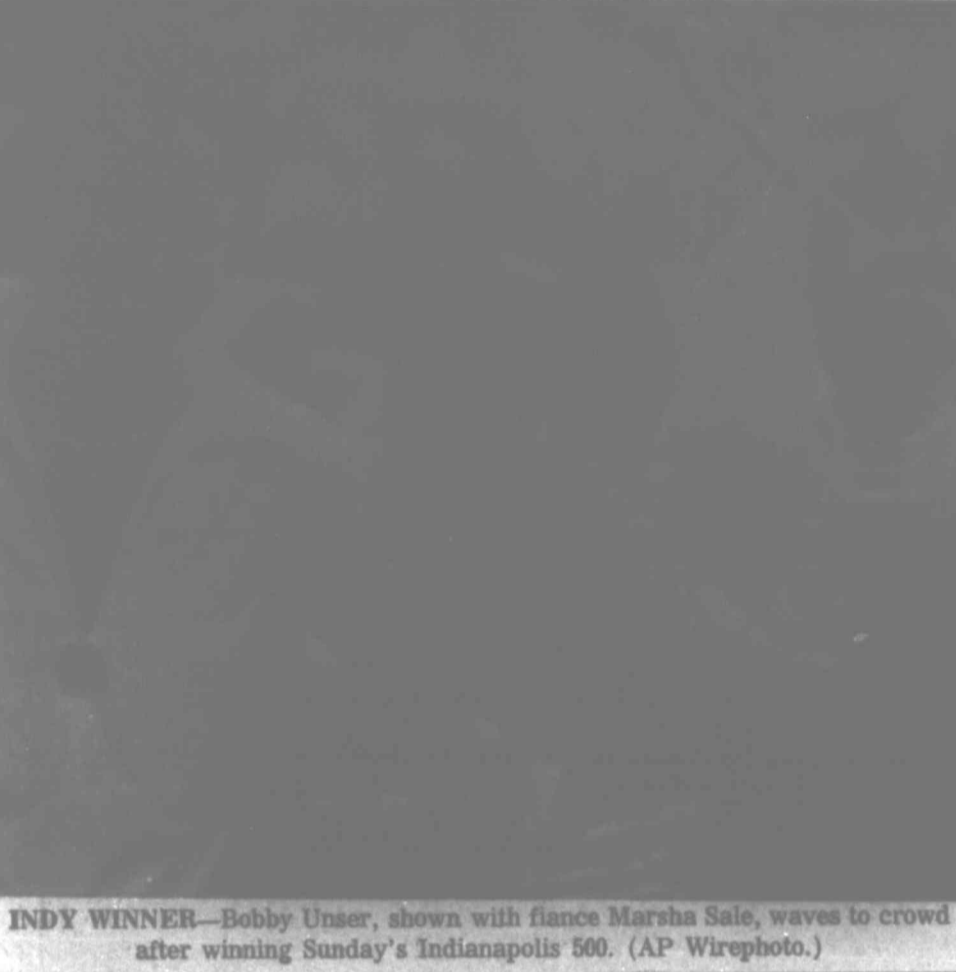

When he crossed the finish line, he was cruising along at a dainty 30 miles an hour, nowhere near his winning speed of 149.215 m.p.h., accomplished in 2 hours, 54 minutes, 55 seconds. But that didn't matter one bit.

As he toiled down the main straightaway, other less fortunate drivers were swimming and fish-tailing all over the place.

The winner's circle. "I've never forgiven Bobby for beating me in '68," he joked.

Actually nobody really figured on either of them being No. 1. That, everybody was saying, was reserved for Wally Dallenbach.

It virtually all the way until the 161st, opening a commanding 25-second edge, about half a lap.

Warriors Sweep To NBA Crown Bullets Fire Blanks In Title Series

ABA Issues Million $$ Challenge

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A spokesman for the Kentucky Colonels of the American Basketball Association said the ABA would make arrangements today for a New York news conference concerning the league's million dollar challenge to the National Basketball Association.

The ABA challenged the NBA Sunday to a $1 million, winner-take-all world championship series between the Colonels, champions of the ABA, and the Golden State Warriors, the NBA champions.

ABA Commissioner Dave DeBusschere issued the challenge in a telegram to Warriors President Franklin Mieleu, NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy, and NBA Commissioner-elect Larry O'Brien. He said the news conference to outline details would be held early this week.

The telegram congratulated the Warriors on their NBA title and issued the challenge "on behalf of the ABA champion Kentucky Colonels and the ABA league."

"The television networks would like to put on a world championship series between the two leagues. A three-to-five game series would provide an additional $1 million in revenue for the teams, the leagues and the players," the telegram said.

"Baseball has its World Series and football has its Superbowl between the leagues," it said. "Professional basketball should have some method to determine the true world champions. We stand ready to prove who has the best team in professional basketball."

LANOVER, Md. (AP) — There may still be a few hardcore disbelievers holding out, but Coach Al Attles of the new National Basketball Association champion Golden State Warriors no longer cares.

"Probably some people will still say that it wasn't how well we played, but how poorly the other teams played," Attles said after the Warriors beat the Washington Bullets 96-85 Sunday to complete a stunning four-game sweep in the title round.

"But we're not concerned about what people say," Attles said. "We won the championship, and we did it the way we had to do it."

The winning formula on Sunday, as it had been in two of the three previous victories over heavily-favored Washington and in the Western Conference title game against Chicago, was to overcome a sizeable deficit.

LANOVER, Md. (AP) — JoAnne Carner shot a three under par 69 Sunday to tie Judy Rankin at the end of 54 holes, then won a sudden death playoff to claim first place in the Ladies Professional Golf Association 74,000 Raleigh Golf Classic.

Mrs. Carner, the 1974 LPGA Player of the Year, sank an eight-foot par putt on the first playoff hole at North Ridge Country Club to beat Mrs.

Rankin by one stroke and take her first win of the year. They were tied at a three-day total 10-under par 206. Mrs. Rankin lost the two-stroke lead she took into the final round as she slipped to a one-under 71 in the final round.

Mrs. Carner picked up $5,700 for first place. Mrs. Rankin, who led the first two days of the tournament, pocketed $4,170 for second place. There have been three playoffs in the last four LPGA tournaments and Mrs. Rankin has been involved in all of them, and lost. "I feel kind of snake-bitten," she said.

Mrs. Carner, who won six tournaments and a record $87,000 last year, was winceless this season. "I hope this can be taken as a sign that I'm going to repeat last year's performance," she said.

"Really, I thought I played kind of erratic. I would birdie a hole, then I would bogey a hole. My strategy was to birdie the par-fives to force Judy to play hard."

She did birdie each of the four par-5 holes for North Ridge's 6,078 yards of turf. "I didn't play extremely well today, but I played hard," Mrs. Carner said as she looked ahead to the LPGA championship next week in Baltimore, Md.

Australian Jan Stephenson, the 1974 Rookie of the Year, finished third to earn $3,200, her best finish since joining the tour in 1974.

"I almost feel as if I won the tournament," said Miss Stephenson. She had begun the day at five under par 130, but quickly went below that figure as she birdied No. 2, a thin 406-yard par-4 with a five-foot putt. She added two more birdies to finish at 68 with a three-day total of 207.

Nicklaus won $10,325 and moved well in front of the absent Johnny Miller in the race for the season's money-winning title. Nicklaus now has $165,500, Miller $155,233. Littler's share of the $175,000 total purse was $35,000 and pushed his winnings for the year to $110,555.

"The money's nice and the titles are important," Littler observed, "but what I'd really like to do is win one more major title."

Littler Fires 66 For Easy

Five-Stroke Memphis Win

"If I couldn't win this golf tournament, I think it's the greatest thing in the world for Gene Littler to do it," said John Mahaffey, who started the final round in a tie for the top and eventually finished second.

"To me, he is the epitome of golf. He is not egotistical, and is a perfect gentleman. I think that if all the young players coming up would model themselves after Littler, we'd have a helluva tour."

Mahaffey, who had to roll up a pants leg, take off a shoe and go wading after one wet, watery shot, finished off with a scramble 71 and a 275 total. It was the second time this year, and the fifth in 17 months, that he's finished second.

Nicklaus won $10,325 and moved well in front of the absent Johnny Miller in the race for the season's money-winning title. Nicklaus now has $165,500, Miller $155,233. Littler's share of the $175,000 total purse was $35,000 and pushed his winnings for the year to $110,555.

Stockton Triumphs

FORT STOCKTON — Allen Gregory, 2-0, pitched the Fort Stockton Blue Sox to their seventh win in 10 starts this season with a 3-2 semipro baseball victory over Barstow here Sunday.

lost only six of 48 previous games—after falling behind by 16 points.

With their regular home court in Oakland tied up because of an ice show, the Warriors posted victories in the next two games played in San Francisco's Cow Palace, 30-11 and 100-101. In Game 2, they once trailed by 13 points.

The opposing team, said Golden State's Rick Barry, the Most Valuable Player of the title round, "never knows whether they have the game wrapped up. It's like they're always looking over their shoulders, waiting for us to creep up on them."

Veteran Jeff Mullins, one of the 11 players used by Attles in each of the four games, claimed he detected something when the Bullets were looking straight ahead, too.

"Things had gone so bad for them at times, it was like they were in shock," Mullins said. "A couple of times, they had looks in their eyes like, 'Let's get out of here.' They didn't have that confident look."

The Bullets had a hard time beating Buffalo in a seven-game series, then required six games to eliminate the defending champion Boston Celtics.

Many observers figured Golden State would be the easiest post-season hurdle for the Bullets, who had not lost a home game to the Warriors since 1970. Even after three losses, Washington was favored by six points on Sunday.

But a field goal by Butch Beard put the Warriors ahead for only the second time in the game at 94-93 with 1:45 to play, and he added two of five free throw attempts in the closing 19 seconds to clinch the victory.

Chicago Blows 7-1 Lead; Reds Jump On Lonborg

By The Associated Press
It's a good thing the guy who said travel isn't a broadening experience didn't make the recent road trips with the Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phillies. The Cubs, who left the friendly confines of Wrigley Field with a 3 1/2 game lead in the National League East, concluded a 2 1/2 journey through three California cities Sunday by losing to the San Francisco Giants 7-1, their fifth consecutive setback. Their lead is down to 1 1/2 games over New York and Pittsburgh.

Meanwhile, the Phillies, fresh from a 7-0 homestand, concluded a winless six-game trek to Houston and Cincinnati by bowing to the Reds 4-3, giving them nine straight defeats away from home. The Cubs really had to make an effort to lose Sunday's game. They opened a 7-1 lead in the fourth inning but Chris Speier and Ed Goodson each collected two singles in San Francisco's seven-run fifth and Bobby Murcer provided an insurance run with a seventh-inning homer. The victory was the Giants' seventh straight.

"We just haven't been scoring many runs on this trip," said Chicago Manager Jim Marshall. "It's something every team has to go through. Steve Stone missed both pitching turns with a sore shoulder and Rick Monday has been out half the time with a knee injury."

Mustang Back Feels Coach Duped Him

DALLAS (AP)—Defensive back Louis Blanton has said he underwent a three-hour polygraph examination May 12 in which he answered questions about possible drug use by fellow athletes at Southern Methodist University, the Dallas News reported today.

The newspaper published a copyrighted interview with Blanton. He was quoted as saying he would not have taken the off-campus test if he had known he was the only SMU student doing so and felt he was deceived by the school's head football coach, Dave Smith.

Smith was not available at once for comment. "Coach (Smith) said he wanted me to answer some questions for about 30 minutes," Blanton was quoted as telling the News. "I was there about three hours. The investigator was the only other person there, but it was Coach Smith's idea."

Blanton was asked if he had talked with SMU's athletic director, Dick Davis, or any other school official about taking the polygraph examination, the newspaper said, and he replied: "No, I don't even know Dick Davis. I still haven't met him." "This investigator asked me about three or four questions about myself. Then, all the rest he asked about other people. I failed some of the test because I wouldn't answer some of the questions about the other people."

It was reported May 18 that at least one SMU player had taken the polygraph test and two others—Al Secor and Wayne Edmond—were suspended from the team for refusing to take it. This took place in the final two weeks of the spring semester during a crackdown by Smith on supposed drug users in the dormitory for athletes.

Cubs Begin Eastern Trip

Midland's Cubs open a 16-game invasion of the Texas League East Division at Little Rock against the Arkansas Travelers and left-hander Dave Geisel, 24, will probably hurl for the Chicago Cub farmhands.

Although the Tonawanda, N.Y., 19-year-old hasn't won since an April 28 7-2 win over San Antonio, he feels he's throwing the ball better than last year when he was 12-7 for the Cubs. In his last time out, Dave went into the seventh inning when he gave up a triple to Marc Rhea and a couple of infield hits. Geisel left and before three successors could retire the side five runs had poured across the plate.

"That seems to be typical of Dave's luck this year, but as long as I'm popping the ball pretty good, I'm not going to get discouraged," he says.

Edwards is glad to have Dan back in the rotation as the stabilizer and stopper on the staff. CUBS BRIEFS—Centerfielder Joe Wallis, who was supposed to be out two weeks after a collision with the wall, was back in the lineup less than a week after the mishap. The Cubs came up with two unusual double plays Saturday. The first came when left fielder Bill Droegge made a knee high catch of Rhea's fly along the foul line and doubled the runner off first when Aaron Randall made a great catch. Three innings later in the sixth, Wallis and Randall pulled the same stunt.

Randall played the Alexandria series all shook up. When the Cubs come off their current road trip, Aaron will be getting married, a girl he met last year in Florida, but who attended Grambling College the same time Aaron did.

WITH GOALS, NOT FISTS—

Schultz Sparks Flyers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dave Schultz of the Philadelphia Flyers was an unlikely hero in Sunday's 5-1 victory over the Buffalo Sabres in the fifth game of the National Hockey League's championship series. Just over a week ago, he had moped after a Flyers' practice, saying he had lost confidence in the little talent he said he possessed. "Too many fights and not enough good hockey games," said the man who collected a league record 472 penalty minutes in the regular season and broke the career playoff penalty mark earlier in the finals.

Sunday, Schultz occupied center stage—or center ice—with his first two-goal game of the long season and helped his teammates move within one now trails 3-2 in the best-of-seven set and faces elimination in Tuesday night's sixth game. "It took the starch out of us. But if we hadn't let them take the shot, it wouldn't have gone in." The goal started the first run of the series, and scores within 19 seconds by Gary Dornhoefer and Bob Kelly cemented the verdict. Reggie Leach made it 4-0 at 1:55 of the second period. Desjardins, and scored his first goal since March 29 when the five-goal bulge before Don Luce ruined Flyer netminder Bernie Parent's shutout bid with 5:58 left in the game.

Jones' Widow Dies

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Mary Malone Jones, widow of renowned golfer Robert Tyre Jones Jr., died Friday. Bobby Jones, who died in 1971, was a prime force behind the Masters tournament in Augusta, Ga., after finishing a brilliant playing career that saw him win the four tournaments making up the "grand slam" of golf in 1930.

But Doug Rader and Cabell doubled with one out in the last of the 12th off Don Demola and May greeted Dan Werthman with his game-winning hit. It was Rader's fifth hit and third double.

"I had to do something," said Cabell. "I was hoping I would get a chance, and I did. Things are falling in place for us. That ball would have been foul a month ago."

The Monticello choo-choo. A little train that's helping fight the rising cost of electricity.

You're looking at what may be the shortest railroad in Texas. The Monticello choo-choo runs only 12 miles from start to finish, but it's doing a big job hauling lignite coal to Texas Electric's Monticello power plant near Mount Pleasant.

The diesel-electric locomotive pulls seven to 15 cars. And each car is loaded with 100 tons of lignite per trip. After unloading at the plant, the train is "backed" the 12 miles to the mining area. This saves the expense of a turn-around facility. On the trip back the engineer drives the train using controls in a special caboose.

Monticello is our second lignite-fired generating plant. We're building these plants because new supplies of natural gas and oil — the primary fuels we use to generate electricity — are harder to get and more costly. Lignite plants cost much more to build, which means electricity is going to have to cost you more. But the increase won't be as much, because lignite fuel is available and more economical than new supplies of natural gas and oil.

At Texas Electric we're continuing the orderly development of our power system so that you'll continue having the electricity you need. About 20% of your electricity this year will be produced using lignite coal. And the Monticello choo-choo is a mighty fine line that's helping do the job.

Explanations Abound For Lack Of Energy Legislation

By PEGGY SIMPSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Democrats have various explanations for their failure to legislate an energy conservation program for the nation.

Some blame the leadership for not knocking heads together to get agreement before the current recess.

Others say the freshmen aren't following enough.

And others, including Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, fault the committee system for permitting overlapping and competitive jurisdictions within Congress.

President Ford, who earlier postponed planned increases in the tariff on imported oil, says he is considering increasing the tariff by $1 per barrel this week because of the fall-re of Congress to enact an energy program.

In varying degrees, the Democrats expect flak from the voters about the congressional impasse on energy.

Rep. John Joseph Moakley, D-Mass., a second-termer from the energy-scarce Northeast, said he expected President Ford "to go on the tube and whack the hell out of us. And I think he'll have the public sympathy because the people will say why didn't Congress do it."

Most Democrats are irate about the impasse because it breaks the momentum of what they consider near-historic speed and unity in acting on a variety of economic relief measures recommended by a leadership task force in January.

They concede it was easier to pass bills to help people get jobs or keep their houses when they are out of work than to agree on taxing gasoline or penalizing persons who buy gas-guzzling new cars.

After last week's collapse of plans to bring an energy bill to the House floor and the postponement of a veto vote on the strip mining bill, GOP Leader John Rhodes, R-Ariz., said "the public should be getting the idea that this Congress is inept."

In an interview later, he said the Democrats with their majorities of nearly two-to-one ap-
