Midlander's Test Develops Gas Flow In Pecos Sector

J. H. Purvis, Midland, No. 1 Slaughter, 3/4 mile southeast of the dual recent Ellenburger gas pay opener and Strawn oil confiner in the Yucca Butte, West Field of Pecos County, flowed gas at the rate of 817,000 cubic feet per day, and recovered 1,610 feet of 40-gravity oil and 245 feet of drilling fluid, on a drillstem test in the Ellenburger.

Tool was open an unreported time on the test taken from 10,740-10,800 feet. Gas surfaced in 15 minutes, flowing at the above rate on a 3/4-inch choke. Flowing pressures were 191-282 pounds. One-hour initial and two-hour final shut-in pressures were 4,648 pounds.

The sample chamber recovery was 1.02 cubic foot of gas and 490 cubic centimeters of oil, no water.

The project was bottomed at 10,822 feet, and operator was running 4 1/2-inch casing for completion attempt.

It originally was planned as a 9,400-foot Pennsylvania test, and was rescheduled as an 11,400-foot Ellenburger try.

Location is 1,650 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 39, block A-2, TCR survey.

The Ellenburger discovery, Texas Oil & Gas Corp. No. 1-C Blackstone-Slaughter, was completed May 23 for 29 million cubic feet of dry gas per day, through perforations at 10,624-10,714 feet. The Strawn zone gauged 24 barrels of 39.9-gravity oil daily, through perforations at 3,050-3,070 feet.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford ready to tell the nation about the next step in his energy program, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger strongly indicated today it will include at least a second dollar tariff on each barrel of imported oil.

Addressing the 18-nation International Energy Association in Paris, the secretary of State said the action Ford is to announce tonight will help reduce U.S. consumption of imported oil by 1.2 million barrels a day by the end of 1977.

As early as last March, the President said his energy conservation program, which included a $3-a-barrel tariff in three monthly steps and a gradual end to price controls on crude oil products, would cut imports by two million barrels a day at the end of 1977.

All major television and radio networks said they planned to broadcast the President's announcement of his energy plans live from his Oval Office at 7:30 p.m. CDT. A White House announcement said the President would disclose "his decisions on the energy program in the absence of any congressional action."

The talk is expected to last about 10 minutes.

The administration has said the program is designed to encourage fuel conservation and domestic oil production so the United States can sharply reduce its heavy dependence on foreign petroleum by the 1980s.

Officials estimate that each $1-per-barrel tax boost adds 1 to 1 1/2 cents to the retail price of gasoline.

Ford imposed the first $1 of the tariff Feb. 1 but set aside plans to add additional dollars on March 1 and April 1 after Congress began working on its own energy tax package.

The congressional effort has been stalled, however, and Ford took note of that when he told five foreign correspondents last Friday that he was weighing whether to impose the second dollar tariff.

"The Congress has failed very badly," he asserted. "They have done literally nothing affirmatively to solve our energy problem. Perhaps the imposition of the extra dollar will stimulate the Congress to meet the problem."

The House Ways and Means Committee, which initiates all tax legislation, has approved an energy tax package, but House leaders decided to delay floor action on it until after Congress returns from its Memorial Day recess a week from today.

Under the Ways and Means bill, energy conservation would be sought primarily through a boost in the federal gasoline tax. That levy, now 4 cents a gallon, would rise by three cents in the next year and as much as 23 cents by the end of the 1970s.

American Oil Policy Shift Seen

PARIS (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger today proposed the formation of a series of producer-consumer commissions on raw materials and other Third World concerns as a means of reopening the preparatory world energy conference.

U.S. officials acknowledged that the proposal outlined by Kissinger to the 18-nation International Energy Association represented a shift in American policy and could ultimately lead to controls against "excessive price volatility."

But they denied that the Ford administration has decided to participate in price-fixing schemes or would support the "indexing" proposal by Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi to tie the price of crude oil to major industrial products bought by the oil countries.

Kissinger told newsmen he believes the preparatory energy meeting can be resumed within a month. However, French officials said it might be several months before another meeting could be set up. The first preparatory meeting collapsed in March when the United States and other industrial nations rejected demands by Algeria and other underdeveloped nations that the future oil conference be broadened to include all raw materials.

Kissinger told the members of the International Energy Agency — IEA — that they "have no reason to recoil from a discussion of all the issues of concern to developing countries."

He said the proposed conference would be held in Paris. (See OIL PRICE Page 2A)

Outpost To Start In Sterling Area

HNG Oil Co., Midland, has made plans to drill No. 1-34 McEntire as a 2 1/2-mile southeast outpost to the four-well Credo, East (upper Claes) gas field of Sterling County, 10 miles northwest of Sterling City.

It has a projected depth of 8,000 feet, and spots 1,320 feet from north and west lines of section 24, block 23, HATC survey.

Granite Wildcat Spotted In Curry

J. V. Atkinson of Midland has staked site for a 7,000-foot granite wash wildcat in Curry County, N.M., about 20 miles northwest of Clovis. It is No. 1 Evelyn Brown.

Location is 600 feet from south and 400 feet from west lines of section 1-5n-94e. There is no nearby production.

Sitton & Norton Drilling Co. of Lubbock is the contractor, and Tuesday was building roads and location.

Miller To Plug Back Martin Test

Miller Exploration Co. of Midland, No. 1 Snell, Martin County deep failure, 2 1/2 miles south of Patricia, has been slated to plug back to 8,250 feet, for completion attempt as a 3/4-mile northwest extension. (Continued On Page 6A)

Tribute Paid To War Dead

A Memorial Day tribute was delivered by Harvey Holcomb, American Legion Division IV commander, at Memorial Day services Monday evening in Resthaven Memorial Park.

In honoring all the war dead who devoted their service to the nation, Holcomb said our nation, her ideals and traditions, will stand for all time as their most fitting tribute and as their greatest memorial.

"These heroes have shared in the preservation of this nation and her principles, from the dark days of the Revolutionary War to the troubled days of the Vietnam War," Holcomb said. "Their courage, in every crisis, has met the test."

Holcomb said the American Legion joined in the Memorial Day tribute with a special sense of its significance and of those heroes' services by reason of the service which its own members gave during the time of armed conflict.

"We must ever keep faith with our soldier dead by meeting the present problems of our nation and solving them in the best way we know how," Holcomb said. "The men who have died for America will have died in vain if we fail to perpetuate those ideals and principles which they held more dear than life itself."

Holcomb concluded his tribute by saying history holds simple but eloquent truths for us if we are but willing to search them out with mind and heart.

"Let this day be one that opens our eyes to the value of freedom for which we owe so much to so many."

AID COMPOUND TO BE RETURNED— U.S., Laos Reach Accord

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The United States and Laos agreed today on an eight-point plan that would return the student-held U.S. Agency for International Development — AID — compound and send all U.S. and third-country employes of the AID mission out of Laos by June 30.

The agreement was to be signed tonight, U.S. Charge d'Affaires Christian A. Chapman said he hoped Americans could reenter the compound tonight or Wednesday morning and the three Americans inside the compound would be released.

Chapman and U.S. political officer Steven Johnson negotiated the agreement with Pathet Lao leader Soth Pethary, students and a representative of Laotian U.S. AID workers.

Other points included turning over U.S. AID mission vehicles, equipment, commodities and funds to the Laotian coalition government, according to an unofficial text read out by students. No details were available.

U.S. AID would pay all its local employes until the day of its dissolution, under the agreement.

Protesters would leave the big AID administrative and warehouse compound but local employes of the agency would watch over the compound and the disposition of property, the text said.

Police of the joint Pathet Lao and Vientiane side force would be stationed outside the compound, and the government would take no legal action against the youths who took over the compound last Wednesday.

The first two points of the agreement noted that the U.S. government agreed last Saturday to dissolve the AID operation and that a letter to that effect had been sent to the Foreign Ministry.

The agreement was negotiated inside the Economics and Plans Ministry building as more than 100 students and local AID employes gathered outside and several hundred Vientiane residents looked on from outside the gates of the ministry.

The students brought in three signs that had been posted at the U.S. AID compound reading in English and Lao that the compound was U.S. government property.

The students, calling themselves revolutionary commandos, jeered whenever they saw Chapman through the window of the second-story negotiating room and cheered whenever one of their representatives came into view.

Commandeered AID vehicles blocked the gates of the ministry, and the students said they would not let Chapman leave until the agreement was concluded.

An embassy spokesman said earlier that once the agreement was signed, the embassy and the Communist-dominated government will begin renegotiating the 1961 aid agreement. The Pathet Lao, which now dominates the coalition regime, said it wants American aid to continue but without any American restrictions or supervision of its use.

At another American compound, the U.S. residential settlement outside the city, looters were cutting holes in the fence around the sparsely guarded area and carting off household possessions left by Americans evacuated from Laos.

An American, interviewed through the locked gates of the residential compound four miles outside the city said only about 80 persons remain there, including six American women secretaries.

He said four or five homes were stripped Sunday because there were only two unarmed volunteer patrols to guard the 150 houses in the compound.

Most of those remaining who lived on the periphery of the compound have moved into vacant houses in the center, he said.

Farm Union Supporters Jeer, Taunt Ranch Employee

HIDALGO, Tex. (AP) — About 300 farm union supporters—men, women and children—marched peacefully to the El Texano Ranch near here today where they jeered and taunted the man who shot and wounded 10 of their numbers Monday.

Shouting "Viva La Huelga" and "Viva Chavez," the demonstrators, accompanied by United Farm Workers organizers, marched from the International Bridge through the streets of this Rio Grande Valley town to the ranch's main house.

The large, vocal group stopped across the road from the big house and shouted insults at C. L. Miller Jr., a ranch employe who blasted 11 persons Monday with his shotgun after he said they entered ranch property and began stomping melons. One of the wounded was a ranch employe.

A half-dozen deputies watched the demonstrators, some of whom dared Miller to come outside.

Neither Miller nor ranch owner Bill Pate appeared and the marchers returned to the Rio Grande bridge, across which many of the Mexican laborers come each day to pick melons in this area.

There were no signs of Texas Rangers on the scene today.

Union organizer Tony Orendain said 3,000 laborers boycotted melon fields Monday before the shooting.

Miller was named in 10 complaints accusing him of aggravated assault after the shootings. He was released under $15,000 bond.

Miller said the union sympathizers were trampling his melons and urging his workers to leave the field.

Asked if he had been shooting at someone, Miller told KGBT-TV, Harlingen, "I haven't been shooting at them, I shot 'em."

Fierce Storms Club Broad Sections Of Texas Again

Fierce storms clubbed broad expanses of Texas anew today, raising flood dangers and threatening renewed violence later in the day.

The turbulence, attributed to the combination of a cool front stalled across Northwest Texas and tropical air billowing from the Gulf of Mexico to meet it, also generated a number of tornadoes during the night. None apparently caused major damage.

There were reports of seven funnel clouds in Taylor County around Abilene during the evening. Powerful winds, possibly in a twister, overturned one trailer and damaged others in a park at Lake Fort Phantom Hill northeast of Abilene.

Peace officers said two funnel clouds spun close to the ground also at Harriet, 10 miles northeast of San Angelo.

Shortly before midnight police at Azle, near Fort Worth, spotted another tornado seven miles west of town. It whirled away after lashing down from a thunderstorm which piled hailstones two inches deep at Azle.

Thunderstorms loosing rain at rates exceeding two inches per hour in places ranged from West Central Texas across the state toward the east and south.

Although their menace dwindled by early morning, mean storms still raged over a wide area which embraced such points as Laredo, Del Rio, San Angelo, Abilene, Wichita Falls, Stephenville, Dallas and Fort Worth.

Because of heavy downpours around Del Rio, the National Weather Service cautioned fishermen and campers to be on watch for a quick rise in the Devil's River.

Central Texas deluges Monday drew similar blame for a big rise on the Brazos River near Bryan. One resident of that area said the backwater level was at its highest in a decade.

Outside the rain belt skies were clear. (See STORMS Page 2A)

Beirut Gunfire Subsides As President Tries To Line Up New Government

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Gunfire subsided in Beirut today as President Suleiman Franjeh consulted politicians and tried to line up a new government for Lebanon.

A few isolated skirmishes were reported between leftist Muslims and right-wing Christians. An increasing number of armed security patrols were in the streets. Barricades erected by armed youths from a dozen factions began to disappear, but most shops and offices remained closed as fearful residents waited to see if the calm would last.

The city government called on employes to return to work. There was fear of disease as garbage uncollected for a week decomposed in huge piles under a hot sun.

Leftist Lebanese political leaders appealed for an end to the clashes after a week of paralysis. They were joined by leaders of all Palestine guerrilla factions.

Brig. Gen. Nourreddin Rifai's government resigned on Monday, ending the republic's first experiment with military rule after three days. Franjeh named the 78-year-old general premier Friday night after nearly a week of street battles between Palestinian guerrillas and militiamen from the right-wing Christian Phalangist party.

Rifai's appointment was greeted with an outcry from Moslem leaders, who voiced repugnance to military rule and the fear that the officer corps is pro-Christian. Left-wing Lebanese militiamen joined the fighting, and the toll rose above 100 dead and 300 wounded.

In Paris, U.S. officials told newsmen with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger that Lebanon would bring on a civil war comparable to the Black September strife in Jordan in 1970. In that war, King Hussein's forces drove the Palestine guerrillas out of his country, and thousands of the guerrillas were killed.

U.S. Trade Balance Still In Black

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's foreign trade accounts withstood a surge of imported oil in April to record their third monthly surplus in a row, the Commerce Department announced today.

Oil imports, which have fluctuated widely so far this year in response to President Ford's imposition of a $1 per barrel tariff Feb. 1, jumped by 69 per cent in April to 201 million barrels.

The oil surge drove up the value of all goods imported into the country by 9.2 per cent. The value of goods exported dropped 1.7 per cent.

The trade accounts still managed to post a $566.8 million surplus after March's record

$1.4 billion surplus.

So far this year, exports have exceeded imports by $2.6 billion, compared to a $651.9 million surplus in the same period last year.

The nation posted a record deficit in its trade accounts last year, and administration economists are expecting a deficit again this year due to an increase in oil imports during the last half of the year in response to an anticipated economic recovery.

Oil imports hit a record 285 million-barrel level in January as importers rushed to beat the $1 per barrel tariff. Imports dropped drastically in February and March. Now that those swings are past, the average

Supreme Court Disbars Dean

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former White House counsel John W. Dean III was disbarred today from the practice of law before the Supreme Court.

Dean's disbarment stemmed from his involvement in the Watergate cover-up.

Dean, 36, pleaded guilty in 1973 to conspiracy to obstruct justice and defraud the government. He served a little more than four months of a one-to-four-year prison sentence.

Dean also has been disbarred in Virginia and in U.S. District Court in Washington. On Feb. 24, the Supreme Court suspended him and gave him 60 days to show why he should not be disbarred.

On March 25, Dean requested in a letter to the court that he be suspended, saying such action would be "appropriate" in view of the two disbarments.

amount of oil imported over the first four months of this year is about on a par with the first four months of last year.

The monthly average is running 190.2 million barrels this year, compared to the 180.7 million barrels at the close of 1974. This steady demand for imported oil in the face of declining production is a big reason economists expect demand to jump sharply later.

A breakdown of April's trade figures showed a $163 million drop in the major categories of agricultural exports — rice, corn, soybeans and fats and oils. The drop more than offset an increase of $87 million in wheat and animal feed exports.

Mayaguez Captain Denies Charges Ship Unseaworthy

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Capt. Charles T. Miller of the Mayaguez today denied a crewman's charges that his ship was not seaworthy and that he disregarded U.S. government warnings against sailing too close to Cambodia.

"It is not true we were warned by U.S. authorities," Miller, 63, of Fountain Valley, Calif., told a news conference here aboard the freighter, which is owned by Sea-Land Inc.

The suit was filed Friday in Court Refuses To Review Guides On Vinyl Chloride

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today declined to review controversial new standards limiting the use of vinyl chloride in the plastics industry.

The court let stand a decision of the U.S. circuit court in New York upholding the standards, which went into effect April 1.

The standards prohibit exposure of workmen to more than one part of vinyl chloride to a million parts of air breathed. The old standard was 50 parts per million.

Vinyl chloride, a gas, has been shown in laboratory tests to cause cancer and has been blamed for the deaths of 13 workers.

Oil Price—

Missions would explore such questions as finance, investment, trade and production and would have no deadline for completing their work. Principal exporters and importers of food and other raw materials would participate in the commodities panel.

One observer suggested that Kissinger was trying to "fine-tune" the energy controversy by offering to consider raw materials other than oil over the long, leisurely run while pressing for a vigorous united front against oil price increases.

A new round of oil price increases, possibly in the range of 20 per cent, is considered likely when the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries meets in Gabon in June. Kissinger told the IEA that another hike would be economically unjustified since oil is now in oversupply, inflation is slowing and prices are at record highs.

were clear to only partly cloudy across the state. Early morning fog hung low around Dalhart, Alice, Palacios, Houston, Beaumont, Port Arthur and Lufkin. The Associated Press reported.

With warm spring weather hanging on, forecasters looked for scattered showers and thunderstorms to become widespread over the state by late in the day.

The Tall City is under a flash flood watch this afternoon and tonight, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal.

The weather service is pegging chances of rain here at 60 per cent this afternoon, tonight and Wednesday.

Considerably cloudy conditions with afternoon and nighttime thunderstorm activity should result as a cold front which passed through West Texas today became stationary south of Midland and is backing up to West Texas today.

Weathermen said the front is changing to a warm front as it moves back to this area and carrying considerable Gulf moisture with it.

Extreme weather is predicted when the warm, moist air collides with cooler air over the area late this afternoon.

Monday's high temperature was 86 with an overnight low of 61. Today's high and Wednesday's should again be in the upper 80s with tonight's low forecast for the lower 60s.

Elias Natividad Services Held

DEKTER, N.M.—Mass for Elias Natividad, 30, of Odessa, was celebrated at 10 a.m. today at the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church here with the Rev. Joyce Finnigan, pastor, officiating.

Authorities Seeking Link Between Dallas, Sherman Gunfire Attacks

DALLAS (AP) — Investigators sought to determine today whether there was any connection between gunfire attacks in the dark on people and vehicles nine days and 70 miles apart.

In the latest such case, shots fired from a car wounded three pedestrians in South Dallas early Monday. Two were reported in serious condition. Officers arrested two men, ages 25 and 28, and held them without immediate charge.

Seven persons suffered wounds, none serious, the night of May 17 in similar attacks at Sherman, north of here in North Texas. Shots were fired first at four chartered buses carrying junior high school pupils, and glass from bullet-shattered windows cut several of the occupants. They had been on a trip to the Six Flags Over Texas amusement park between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Forty minutes later at another point on U.S. 75 in Sherman, bullets broke glass in three trucks and injured two of the drivers fatally.

Dallas police said there were an M1 rifle and a .12 gauge double-barreled shotgun in the car with the two men they arrested and both weapons had been fired. They reported no motive for the shootings had been learned.

Texas Rangers are probing to see whether there is any link between the Dallas and Sherman attacks, officers here said. Monday's gunfire sent Johnny Kenner, 15, and Jimmy Lockridge, 31, to a hospital in serious condition and Larry Vega, 23, in fair condition.

Detectives said Vega was struck in the left leg by a shot from a car moving with lights off about 12:30 a.m. while standing beside another car with his girl friend.

Similar attacks, officers said, wounded Kenner 45 minutes later as he rode a bicycle two blocks away and then Lockridge as he stood at a point four blocks from the Kenner shooting.

A description of the gunman's car given by Vega and Kenner led to the arrests by policemen en route to the scene of the Lockridge shooting. Patrolmen said the men taken into custody gave no resistance.

Many Air Force, Army Captains To Be Forced To Leave Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many Army and Air Force officers, mostly captains, are due to get word in the months ahead that they'll be forced to leave the military as the services gear down from the Vietnam era.

An Army personnel board is meeting this month to pick 2,150 from among 2,700 officers being considered for involuntary separation during the fiscal year starting July 1. In a departure from past practice, the board was told to give equal consideration to regular officers and reservists on active duty.

Maj. Gen. George W. Putnam, the Army's chief of personnel, estimated about 900 would be regulars. He said "we found we were cutting out reserve officers who were more qualified" than regulars being kept. But the Air Force is confining its cuts to reservists and will sever between 1,200 to 2,000 during the next fiscal year, depending on how many leave voluntarily.

So far, 512 reserve Air Force officers have been ordered out by July 31. This is in addition to 621 others told to be out by June 27.

The 621 brings to 1,500 the total of reserve officers that the Air Force has forced out in the two fiscal years ending July 1, according to Maj. Gen. Oliver W. Lewis, Air Force director of personnel. This will reduce the number of Air Force officers to around 105,000.

The Army forced out 5,000 reservists in fiscal 1972 and another 4,900 in fiscal 1974 in trying to reduce its officer force from a peak 170,000 in fiscal 1969 to 99,000 in the fiscal year ahead.

The Marine Corps and Navy plan no forced reductions in the year ahead, but the Navy plans to cut back about 1,500 officers by next means.

The Army is cutting back a total of 4,400 officers in the year ahead but counts on getting all except the 2,150 out by promotion passover rules and cutting back on procuring new officers.

Captains more than other ranks are getting forced out because they were the ones who came into the military service at the peak of the Vietnam war from 1967 to 1970 when the military was urging officers to stay beyond the required time after being commissioned.

This created a large number of lieutenants — now captains — which threw the desired rank distribution out of kilter.

The officers being forced out must be given at least 90 days notice and will be paid for accrued leave. But the main compensation will be "readjustment pay" of between $10,000 and $15,000 per individual. It is paid at the rate of two months basic pay for each year of service.

Howdy Doody's Creator Said Critically Ill

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) — Rufus C. Rose, creator of the puppet Howdy Doody, is in critical condition with peritonitis.

Rose, 70, was admitted to Lawrence & Memorial Hospital last Tuesday after being stricken at his Waterford home with a strangulated hernia.

A family spokesman said Monday night that his condition changed to peritonitis, an inflammation of a membrane lining the abdominal cavity.

Rose constructed and operated Howdy Doody while the puppet show was on national television from 1946 to 1960.

Rome (AP) — Count Giovanni Perdicari, 78, died Sunday in Rome, Perdicari, who preferred to go by the name of John, was a native of Florence. He emigrated to the United States in the 1930s and became director of New York's Italian-language newspaper Il Progresso Italiano.

IT'S NOT SNOW — Charity Johnson, 2, of Massillon, Ohio, plays in what looks like snow but actually is millions of dandelion seeds that blew into the woods on the farm of her grandparents, Isaac and Theresa Oakes. The seeds covered several acres of the woods, drifting to as much as eight inches deep. (AP Wirephoto.)

BENTSEN, JACKSON, UDALL — Demo Campaigns Taking Shape

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a trio of inconspicuous Capitol Hill buildings, the 1976 Democratic presidential campaigns of Morris K. Udall, Lloyd M. Bentsen and Henry M. Jackson are taking shape.

The settings reflect their candidacies. Udall's is a converted office building bustling with youthful workers. Bentsen's is the well-appointed parkside townhouse with low-key activity. Jackson's is a townhouse whose plushness and activity rate somewhere between the other two.

The maps on the wall display different interests. Udall's outlines organizational responsibilities. Bentsen's displays media markets. Jackson's shows the delegate totals and spending limits in each state.

Nearly a year before most of the nation has focused on the 1976 presidential battle, small groups of professional and amateur politicians are doing the fund-raising and organizational chores they hope will spell success next spring.

The three Capitol Hill offices aren't the only scenes of activity.

In downtown Washington, the campaign of former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford is about to move into new quarters that once housed the Democratic National Committee.

In suburban McLean, Va., the Fred R. Harris campaign is operating out of the former Oklahoma senator's home.

And in Montgomery, Ala., and Atlanta, efforts to put George C. Wallace and Jimmy Carter into the White House are well under way.

For now, nine months before the first primary will begin to sort out those who have survived that far, key aides look ahead with optimism.

"If we've got it figured right, we're coming along all right," said Robert G. Keeffe, the soft-spoken, rotund director of the Jackson campaign who probably knows more key Democrats than anyone else involved in the 1976 race.

Jackson is busy raising money, some $2 million so far; attacking President Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, but not his Democratic rivals; and moving relatively slowly to start organizing.

Keeffe conceded the reason is the 1974 campaign law, which sets tight limits on the amounts candidates can spend on a state-by-state basis.

A few blocks away at Udall's headquarters, the emphasis is on organization in the field, especially the key early primary states of New Hampshire and Wisconsin that created the momentum for George McGovern's successful 1972 drive.

But Udall aides freely concede they are being hampered by difficulty in raising money, especially from liberal money men who aren't sure that Udall is the candidate for them.

Bentsen's campaign director, Ben Palumbo, has no such problems. Bentsen has raised some $1.4 million, third behind Wallace and Jackson.

Although he isn't ready to say Bentsen will bypass the first batch of primaries, Palumbo puts great emphasis on the industrial East and Middle West, starting with the April 6 New York primary.

"It's all a question of momentum," he added, noting that Pennsylvania follows New York, with Texas a few days later.

Lee Youth Center Chatter

By JOLEE AYLESWORTH, JANA WILLIAMSON & LISA McDONALD

Summer is just around the corner, so WE'VE GOT THE MUSIC IN US. Only four district championships? B-B-B-B-B-Y, YOU JUST AIN'T SEEN NOTHING YET. Maybe the rain got the best of us this year, but we'll fool Mother Nature next time. Way to go, Rebel Batmen! WE HONESTLY LOVE YOU.

The White team was really TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS when it rolled over the Maroon team 27-6, Saturday night. Hope everyone enjoyed the BUNGLE IN THE JUNGLE at the Youth Center last Friday. Ann Higgins and Brett Blackwell were really SHININ' ON as they were named Outstanding Athletes at the Sports Banquet. Congratulations.

Brad Swendig, for being presented the Janis Ottman Award.

We're HOOKED ON A FEELING of thanks to these Rebs for their custodial services after the dance: Bryce Pace, Doug Sandridge, Carolyn "Cuz" Collins, Mica Castor, Susan Lamkin, Kathy and Trey Shepherd, and an up-coming sophomore, Caren Copeland. It's GOODBYE YELLOW BRICK ROAD to Berry Spears as he hands over his presidency of the National Forensics League to Kent Sutton.

WHO DO YOU THINK YOU ARE, Tanya Jones? You're the recipient of the Midland Society of University Women scholarship. And you, Elizabeth Richardson? You're the receiver of the $500 scholarship from the National Honor Society. And you, Josie Estrada? You received the Mario Morales Memorial scholarship. We're proud of ya' girls.

John White and Virginia Day really LISTENED TO THE MUSIC as they were the Outstanding Band members at the Annual Band Banquet. Way to go!

The Class of 75 has been SEARCHIN' SO LONG for the end of their school days which was marked by the Baccalaureates Sunday night. The reception was hosted by Jolee Aylesworth, Jana Williamson, Lisa McDonald, Laura Folmar, Kathy Shepherd, Jamie Hale, Laura Wardrup, Jill Chism, Alison Berry and Lisa Luther. Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Cathoun, Mrs. Welton, Mr. and Mrs. Oshner and Mrs. Collins for organizing the reception.

ONLY YESTERDAY the seniors were silly sophomores; now they are ROLLING DOWN THE HIGHWAY to bigger and better things. WE MAY NEVER PASS THIS WAY AGAIN, so remember the OLD DAYS. All you seniors work hard, cause NOTHIN' FROM NOTHIN' LEAVES NOTHIN'.

OH, MY MY — IT'S GOOD-BYE AGAIN FROM

South took dummy's ace of diamonds and discarded the club from his hand. "That's one trick you'll never get," South chortled.

The trouble was that South still had two losing spades in his hand. If he drew trumps, he would have to give up the low spades sooner or later; and if South failed to draw trumps he couldn't even take his high spades safely for fear of a ruff by East.

South should consider the nature of the East-West hands. West is sure to have a poorish hand with long spades. From the lead, West also has some diamonds headed by K-Q.

Locating The Ace

West is unlikely to have the ace of clubs, for then he would not make a shutout bid. Hence East probably has the ace of clubs and only one or two spades at most.

This is enough information. Ruff the first diamond, leaving the ace in dummy. Draw trumps, cash the two top spades and then lead a club.

East can take the ace of clubs but must then lead either a club or a diamond back to dummy. You therefore win dummy's ace of diamonds and king of clubs, making the slam.

Three Men Die In Pickup Crash West Of Vernon

VERNON, Tex. (AP) — Three men died and a fourth suffered serious injuries early today as a pickup truck overturned and exploded into flames.

Officers identified two of the dead as Leroy C. Mooney, 26, of Springfield, Colo., and Edwin J. Spears, 17, of Moline, Kan.

Another man was burned beyond recognition and efforts to learn his name were unavailing.

John Leslie Cain, 28, of Harold, S. D., listed by authorities as the driver, was brought to Wilbarger General Hospital here in serious condition.

Sheriff's deputies reported the eastbound pickup ran off U.S. 70 at a curve .7 mile west of Vernon shortly after 3 a.m. and overturned several times before it caught fire and burned.

Girl Assaulted Inside Church

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A 12-year-old girl told police she was sexually attacked at Travis Avenue Baptist Church during morning services.

The girl said she and her sister were leaving their Sunday school class about 11 a.m. Sunday when they were approached by a gang of youths.

They began to tease her and make sexual suggestions to her, she said, and finally one of the youths pulled her into an empty classroom.

She said the youth threatened her, partly disrobed her and tried to rape her before a man knocked on the door, police said. The youth fled.

The man told officers he became suspicious when he heard noises in the room.

International Relations Topic Of Altrusa Program

Dr. Norma Porres of Lubbock, Texas, and American Field Service students were guest speakers for a banquet held recently by the Altrusa Club of Midland in Midland Country Club. Sixty members and guests attended.

Dr. Porres discussed international relations as relevant to Altrusa. A native of Cuba, Dr. Porres received her doctor of medicine degree from the University of Havana School of Medicine. She became an American citizen in 1957 and has resided in Lubbock since 1958. She entered private medical practice with her husband, Dr. Felipe Porres, in 1963. She is a member of numerous medical associations and affiliated societies and the Altrusa Club of Lubbock.

Dr. Porres was one of 20 persons in the United States selected to visit India in 1971 to study family planning in that country. She is listed in "Who's Who of Women in the World."

Dr. Porres urged Altrusans to engage actively in the organization's international relations projects, beginning with acquiring knowledge of other countries, and, then, through international relations committees, promotion of fund-raising projects for support of international understanding.

The featured speaker said her experiences have revealed to her that persons throughout the world are "one big family" with the same motives and aspirations. The problem in international understanding is caused by people-created differences and prejudices.

The mistress of ceremonies was Mrs. Loleta B. Guffey, chairman of the international relations committee. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Lewis Feagan, Mrs. Marie Lones, Mrs. Dollie Miller and Mrs. Robert Cain.

Students presenting brief resumes of their countries were Yoichiro Fujiwara of Japan, Esther Seeger of Switzerland, Juan Smith of Chile, Youth for Understanding students, and Janice Hickox, American Field Service student from Australia, and Susan Osterhout, exchange student from Finland.

Presiding was Mrs. J. P. H. McMullan Jr., vice president and president-elect of the club.

The Youth for Understanding Program was reviewed by Mrs. Guy Saunders, Midland area director.

The Midland Altrusa Club's Grant-In-Aid student, Yuki Ebara of Japan, also was introduced and presented a gift, as were the other students. She is doing graduate study at Texas Tech University and has a master's degree in special education.

Mrs. Roselle Cherry, a former member, was welcomed as a member of the club.

Other guests at the banquet included Mrs. Fayrene Byro, District 9, Altrusa, governor-elect, and Mrs. Bessie Cowden Ward and Mrs. Thelma Stephens of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hendrick, Marguerite Wooten, Mrs. Myrtle Tatum and Ruby Billings of Big Spring.

Also Bridget Mayes, Betsy Allday, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McCain, Mrs. Margaret Larkin, Mrs. W. E. Stirman, Marjorie Pinard, Susan Alstrin, Mr. and Mrs. Naren C. Shah, Franchelle Moore, Guy Saunders, Frank

Somewhere between the ages of ten and twelve, a typical child discovers the unparalleled joy of sleeping past 6:30 a.m.

On weekends, this discovery is a distinct boon to his parents, who heretofore have flipped a coin every Saturday and Sunday morning, the loser petulantly creeping out of bed and stomping off to the kitchen to burn oatmeal and stop his offspring from tie-dying the cat.

Unfortunately, this disinclination to arise does not confine itself to weekends. Realizing with horror that he has, in effect, wasted ten or twelve years of valid sleep-time, a child invariably spends the next six or eight years attempting to even things out by refusing to get up for school.

While I quite enjoy not having to try to love a child who is breathing onto my eyelids at 6:45 on a weekend morning, the blessing is more than a little offset by having to set fire to his pajamas the other five days of the week.

I am definitely not at my best at 7:00 on a Monday morning. What I really need is someone to bring me a cup of fresh-perked coffee, stroke my brow sympathetically, and tell me how dewy and translucent my skin looks. Instead, I find myself looting about the kitchen in a pair of plaid tennis shoes, trying to remember how many children I have, how many need lunches, and which ones go all pale and tremble when they discover chopped onion in their tuna salad.

I simply have all I can handle, frying eggs with one hand and chopping onions with the other, without having to run to the foot of the stairs every three minutes and bellow "If you don't get up THIS MINUTE, I'm going to sneak into your bedroom on Saturday morning and breathe on your eyelids!"

Janet Jean Presnall Wins Scholarship

The Midland Chapter of Lubbock Christian College Associates have selected Janet Jean Presnall, Midland High School graduate, as their scholarship recipient for 1975-76.

Miss Presnall is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Presnall, 708 Spruce St. She will attend Lubbock Christian College and major in business.

While in high school, Jan was active in Vocational Office Education, Future Secretaries of America, A Cappella Choir and Westside Church of Christ Youth Group.

Sheila Herberger Honored At Tea

An announcement tea honoring Sheila Herberger, bride-elect of William R. Sibley III, was held in the home of Mrs. Leon Roberts, 3214 Sentinel St. with Mrs. Billy Turney and Mrs. Clyde Kelley as co-hostesses.

Yellow daisies and candleabra with yellow tapers and green ribbon accented with white doves decorated the serving tables. Corsages of yellow and green, colors of the bride, were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Roy Herberger, and grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Phenix. Corsages were also presented to Mrs. William R. Sibley Jr., mother of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Charles Truby, grandmother, both of Abilene.

Mrs. Jim Sales of Abilene, sister of the bridegroom, registered the guests. Miss Jill Watkins and Janie Fischer also served in the house party. Mrs. Alden Cathey of Abilene was also a guest.

Dear Abby Bed Hopping Not The Way

— By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 20-year-old college junior. I made a bad mistake in my freshman year. I wanted to be popular so I gave in to several guys on the first date, hoping one would like me enough to stay with me. None did, and all I got was a lousy reputation.

About five months ago, a dude who was really neat started to notice me. I made up my mind that I would play hard to get with him because being easy got me nowhere. The first time he asked me out I fought it and fought it but gave in because I wanted to see him again. He never called me after that. I wanted to see him so much, I called him, but he always made excuses so he wouldn't have to see me.

He is the only guy I really felt anything for, Abby. How can I get him to realize that if I had him, I wouldn't look at another dude?

I think about him night and day. I can't sleep or study. I'm going crazy. Please tell me how to get another chance with him.

HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: Sorry, but there is no way to get a guy to see you, date you or even give you a second glance if he's not interested. You blew it when you gave in to him. Bed hopping is not the way.

New officers installed were Mrs. Ira Reavis, president; Mrs. Jerry Moritz, vice president; Mrs. Oland Butler, recording secretary; Mrs. Jim Cartwright, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Steve Montgomery, treasurer.

The exemplar ritual was conducted for Mrs. David Owens. The ritual of welcome was held for Mrs. Bill Stover, who has returned to Midland from Australia.

Social events for the year were announced by the social chairman, Mrs. Roy Henderson. There will be a dance June 28, barbecue July 19, Beginning Day Aug. 24, Las Vegas Party, Sept. 29, anniversary tea Oct. 19, Harvest Ball Nov. 15, Christmas party Dec. 16, Valentine Ball Feb. 14, Mexican Fiesta March 14. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Moritz.

Mrs. Pat McNair presented the program on "Enjoyment of Man."

The ways and means chairman, Mrs. Glen Gardner, announced a garage sale will be held Oct. 3-5 at the home of Mrs. McNair.

Mrs. Charles Gardner reported she will purchase two vacuum cleaners as the chapter's service project for Girlstown, U.S.A. Mrs. Carl Williams said the chapter's service project for the coming year will be the High Sky Girls Ranch.

Recipe Shower Fetes Jennifer Huff

Jennifer Joan Huff, bride-elect of James F. Gallagher, was the honoree of a recipe shower held recently in the home of Mrs. Paul Anderson, 1410 Community Lane.

The co-hostesses were Mrs. Stanley Bellows and Mrs. James Lucas.

Miss Huff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Huff, 100 Stanolind St., and Gallagher, Scholastic.

SAN ANTONIO—Jocelyn Landry, 1975 graduate of Midland High School, has accepted an academic scholarship from Our Lady of the Lake College. She plans to major in sociology.

Communication Subject Of Talk

Concepts of inter-personal communication were discussed in an humorous presentation of David Y. Burkett III of San Antonio, at a recent luncheon held by the Midland Country Club Ladies' Association.

Burkett, an assistant professor of journalism at Trinity University, noted there is an absolute need for communication and problems result from the inability of persons to communicate, or "get their messages across."

Body movements of an individual convey more truth about the inner person than does verbal communication, Burkett said. Oral communication may fail because definitions of words are interpreted differently by people. He discussed meanings believed associated with physical gestures and three phases in communication progression, including the true inner self, circle of resentment and the outer "circle" or facade of "playing games" with people.

Burkett pointed out that difficulties arise when the inner self is not the dominating feature and is in conflict with the facade. He mentioned such problems as drug abuse, alcoholism and other forms of mental and physical stress as results of the inability to communicate properly.

The speaker suggested that individuals should be primarily responsible to themselves and not to what they think other persons imply they should be.

Mrs. M. Pepper Chapter Hostess

Mrs. Mickey Pepper of 301 Bentwood St. was hostess to a recent meeting of Beta Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Social activities for the summer were announced by Mrs. Fred Adams, who also presented the program on "Adventure."

Mrs. Bill Morgan, president, announced the following committee chairmen: Mrs. Mike Williams, membership; Mrs. Adams, social; Mrs. Jerry Blanton, service; Mrs. Doug Rowan, ways and means; Mrs. Pepper, scrapbook; Mrs. James Laughlin, publicity and yearbook; Mrs. Rowan, telephone, and Mrs. Jerry Blanton, program.

Perfect attendance awards were presented to Mrs. Laughlin, Mrs. Max Moreland, Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Pepper and Mrs. Williams.

The best program of the year award went to Mrs. Robert Kozol.

Across the country more than 20,000 Sweet Adelines are sharing songs and harmony with their communities, their motto being "Harmonize the World."

HINTS FROM Heloise 'Mummy, I'm So Hot And Thirsty ...'

Have trouble with kids in hot weather with drippy ice pops on a stick? Several years ago someone suggested freezing gelatin for a cool, refreshing, low-calorie summer treat. I've found it ideal for kids in the hot weather because instead of turning directly to liquid when it melts, it pauses at the gelatin state first and usually is eaten before it turns too runny.

There seems to be an endless variety of flavors of gelatin but when you get tired of them, try chocolate instant pudding for fudge bars. Just make according to the directions on the box. A three-ounce box in the evening makes eight frozen treats for the next afternoon.

Wonder if diet gelatin for people on diets would make good frozen summer treats? Heloise

Five Wildcats Set In Basin

Plans have been made for exploratory projects in Reeves, Martin, Sterling, Pecos and Howard counties.

Hamilton Brothers Oil Co., Midland, accounted for the deepest of the scheduled tests. It is No. 1-A Hamilton Gas Unit, a 13,500-foot gas venture in Reeves, 11 miles northwest of Toyah.

Drill site is 600 feet from north and 2,100 feet from east lines of section 29, block 58, PSD survey, six miles west of the Athens (Devonian) gas field, and 1/4 mile south of a 13,732-foot failure.

Martin Probe

Texaco Inc. will drill No. 2-A X State of Texas in an attempt to reopen Ellenburger production and extend Devonian pay in the Block 7 field of Northwest Martin.

It has a projected depth of 13,900 feet, and is located 1,900 feet from north and 600 feet from east lines of section 17, block 7, ULS, a north twin to the depleted dual Devonian and Ellenburger opener, Texaco No. 1-X State of Texas, which was completed in 1960.

It is 25 miles northwest of Stanton.

Sterling Venture

Claud B. Hamill of Houston plans No. 1-T. Wayne Harris, et al., a 7,800-foot wildcat, in Sterling County, 18 miles south of Sterling City.

It spots 600 feet from south and east lines of section 104, block 6, H&TC survey, 2 1/2 miles northeast of the two-well Probank (Canyon) oil field of Sterling and Tom Green counties.

Pecos Plug-Back

Kokomo Oil Co. of Odessa filed application to reenter and plug back to wildcat depth of 3,900 feet at No. 1 Golden, Pecos County, 4,700-foot failure, 12 miles northwest of Girvin.

Originally drilled by Chambers & Kennedy, it was plugged and abandoned Sept. 3, 1964.

Location is 600 feet from northeast and 1,900 feet from southeast lines of section 92, block 10, H&GN survey, two miles southwest of the Katiynn (lower Clearfork and Tubb) oil field, but separated by a 3,600-foot failure.

Howard Workover

Tom D. Fowler of Midland intends to reenter and plug back to 5,900 feet as a wildcat, at No. 1-E Morgan, former Fusselman well in the Morgan Ranch multiple field of Howard County.

It was completed April 1 for a daily potential of 31 barrels of 50-gravity oil and 14 barrels of water, through perforations at 9,682-9,687 feet.

It is 540 feet from north and 2,177 feet from west lines of section 34, block 2, T-I-S, T&P survey, five miles southeast of Big Spring and one mile southwest of the depleted one-well Spraberry sector of the field, which produced at approximately 5,855 feet.

Geologists Believe Only 'Tip' Found

By FRANK T. MARTIN
Copley News Service

Alaska's North Slope may be only the tip of the iceberg in America's quest for new oil resources.

Some geologists believe Prudhoe Bay is one of many oil deposits to be discovered in Alaska and expect other vast oil fields will be opened perhaps before the 800-mile Alaskan pipeline begins to feed up to two million barrels a day to the United States in mid-1977.

The sites where exploratory work already is under way include Bethel in southwestern Alaska; Kotzebue on the west coast above the Arctic Circle; Umiat on the northern edge of the Brooks Range; and the Copper River Basin in eastern Alaska.

New oil strikes comparable to the multibillion-barrel North Slope discovery could come at a time when there is uncertainty over the continued flow and eventual price of petroleum imported to the United States from the Arab states.

Carl Brady, a pioneer Alaskan airman and helicopter pilot and now executive for two helicopter charter services which serve the Alaskan pipeline project, is one man who forecasts a string of new oil booms in the 49th state.

"People say to me, 'What will you do after the pipeline is built?'" says Brady, the first man to fly a helicopter to Alaska for commercial use 26 years ago. He is president of the Anchorage-based ERA Helicopters, Inc., and board chairman of Merric, Inc., in Fairbanks.

"I think Prudhoe Bay is just one of many oil bases to be discovered in Alaska, and soon."

His companies already have a fleet of 34 helicopters, plus 17 fixed-wing airplanes. Reflecting his faith in the future, Brady ordered 15 more helicopters. The chopper is the most reliable and often the only transportation of people and equipment in the rugged northern regions of Alaska.

In another potentially rich Alaskan oil region, five ships have been assigned to conduct environmental impact studies.

The government vessels will analyze the impact of oil and gas exploration in the Gulf of Alaska and the Bering and Beaufort seas. Operated by the Commerce Department's National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, they are the Discoverer, Surveyor, Miller Freeman, Townsend Cromwell and the Rainier.

A sixth ship, the Oceanographer, already has completed a Gulf of Alaska environmental survey.

Other government agencies and several universities are involved in the Outer Continental Shelf expeditions aimed at finding out whether offshore oil drilling will create environmental risks.

The study is managed by NOAA's Environmental Research Laboratories under contract to the Interior Department's Bureau of Land Management. The latter agency has jurisdiction over Continental Shelf oil leases.

The laboratory, equipped research ships will conduct biological, physical and chemical studies of the ocean water surface-to-floor column to find out what effect oil exploration and drilling might have on the complex and economically important marine life of the Outer Continental Shelf.

Scholarship Bill Sent To Governor

Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — The Senate has sent to the governor a bill to create three scholarship programs for needy college and university students.

Sen. Chet Brooks of Houston, who sponsored the bill in the Senate for Rep. Senfronia Thompson of Houston, said the new program would make the state eligible for $1 million from the federal government for needy students.

The bill creates three programs — the Student Financial Assistance Grant Program, the Texas Assistance Grant Program and the Texas Educational Grant Program.

The State Coordinating Board would administer the program at an estimated cost of $50,000 a year.

The bill states the only guidelines for administering the act will be the financial need of the students except that students on scholastic probation or disciplinary probation may not be eligible for aid.

Odessa Injured In Rig Mishap

ODESSA—Randall L. Moon, 20, of Odessa, was in undetermined condition this morning at Medical Center Hospital after being injured in a drilling rig accident near Crane.

A hospital official said Moon was injured when a floor line fell on his chest as he was working on a rig near Crane for John Drilling Co.

No other details were available at presstime.

Takeover Of British Newspapers Urged

Agence France-Presse

LONDON — The Trades Congress (TUC) today proposed the phased government takeover of newspaper printing plants.

In a report to a Royal Commission of the Press, the government is also urged to set up a Communications Council, and shares for workers in printing plants is additionally recommended.

The Communications Council would have the power to impose fines on newspapers.

The TUC General Council said in the report: "The fact that eight men control 90 per cent of Britain's newspapers means that the concept of 'freedom of expression or independence of editorial policy' is somewhat Orwellian."

Congressmen Say Decontrol Bill Must Include Windfall Profits Tax

By MAX B. SKELTON

DALLAS (AP) — Two Texas congressmen have told independent oil and gas operators any oil price decontrol bill will have to include a "windfall profits" tax.

Texas independent producers were expected to ask Congress today to decontrol the prices of both oil and natural gas.

A resolution proposing that such wellhead prices be determined only at the marketplace was submitted at the final session of the annual meeting of the 3,500-member Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association.

Other resolutions would oppose a "windfall profits" tax on the industry and oppose crude oil price rollbacks in any form.

Another would seek early restoration of oil's percentage tax depletion allowance Congress practically eliminated earlier this year although retaining part of the provisions for independent producers.

The two congressmen told the independents Monday there is practically no hope for an oil decontrol bill without the profits tax.

"I doubt we can get deregulation in this Congress without a windfall profits tax," said Rep. Bill Archer, R-Tex., a member of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Rep. Bob Krueger, D-Tex., outlined his proposal for a 100 per cent tax credit for profits earmarked for domestic oil and gas exploration and development.

"Politically, you will not get deregulation through Congress unless you have a windfall profits tax," said Krueger, a freshman member of House Commerce subcommittee on energy.

Krueger saw the subcommittee approve by an 8-7 vote his proposal that the current two-tier system of crude oil prices be eliminated through use of a gradual system that would lead to a single price by 1980.

"Politically, I know we can't get an outright decontrol bill

Californians Voting On Oil, Gas Complex

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Six years after an ocean blowout led to one of the most publicized oil spills in history, voters here were deciding today whether Exxon should be allowed to go ahead with a proposed $30 million oil and gas processing complex in Las Flores Canyon.

Environmentalists are talking ecology, but some other citizens are thinking about the economy.

The plant would work in conjunction with stepped-up offshore drilling.

The pendulum has swung too far in favor of environmentalists, says Charles M. Taylor Jr., a Santa Barbara electrical contractor and co-chairman of a pro-Exxon campaign. "It may be that the election here will force the pendulum back to a more reasonable pitch," Taylor says.

But antidrilling forces are prepared, says Francis Sarguis, president of Get Oil Out and the new Stop Exxon Here Committee.

He says that the election "could have a significant bearing on procedures in respect to the 1.5 million acres of Southern California federal offshore lands proposed by the Interior Department for immediate oil development."

There has been no expansion of drilling in the Santa Barbara

Channel since the 1969 blowout that killed some sea life and birds, leaving beaches blackened until time and cleanup campaigns restored the sands.

Drilling on previously existing offshore wells resumed some time ago.

Exxon won permission last year from the federal Interior Department to sink a $50 million stationary platform that would rise 90 feet above the water and provide a base for 28 undersea wells.

Exxon wants voters to approve the canyon processing complex so it can serve the offshore platform. The platform is five miles from land and out of the legal reach of both the county and environmental-conscious California.

Exxon isn't placing all its money on a favorable verdict by the voters. It prefers the more economical on-shore facility but says if necessary it will handle the processing on a floating platform at sea and then load tanker ships offshore beyond the three-mile state jurisdiction.

GOO's Sarguis declares, however, "stop the Las Flores Canyon plants now and then take Exxon to court to halt the new drilling."

The county election office predicted an unusually heavy voter turnout.

Drilling Rig Still Burning

PECOS—Red Adair of Houston, oil and gas well firefighter, was preparing to move in crews to extinguish a burning project 15 miles southeast of Pecos.

The project is American Quasar No. 1-23 Wortham. It caught fire about 3:25 p. m. Monday at a depth of 16,587 feet.

Pecos Fire Chief J. T. Pruitt said a six-inch stream of water has been directed at the burning rig since this morning.

No one was injured when the project caught fire, Pruitt said.

Midland Jaycees Named Gold Chip Chapter

Midland Jaycees were cited as a Gold Chip chapter for 1973-74 over the weekend at the Texas State Jaycees Convention in Houston which also saw the Tall City group garner a host of additional club and individual awards.

Marking its fifth year as a Blue Chip chapter, the Midland delegation also was awarded first place as the Top Extension Chapter in its division for starting new Jaycee chapters at Crane, Rankin and O'Donnell.

Midland also was named Outstanding Chapter for Region 135, runner-up in the "World Series" competition for membership recruitment and third in its division for Community Action Programming and Individual Development Programming.

The Tall City chapter also received the Founder's Plaque for its assistance to the Stanton Jaycees and was recipient of the 1900 Club award for the three extensions of new chapters this year.

Winning project chairman included Larry Bell, first for Distinguished Service Award and Jaycee bosses night banquet, second for The Activator and third for membership and recruitment; Doug Henson, first for chapter elections and second for District I convention; Jim Sale, first for prayer breakfast; and Joe Reed, first for program for individual development.

Also winning were Bob Holmes, first for Crier Park Christmas activities; Dr. Billy Cook, first for sweetheart banquet; Ken Bradshaw, first for Operation Identification; David Moffatt, first for senior citizens picnic; Larry Simmons, second for new member orientation and third for membership recruitment; Jerry Cox, second for Christmas shopping tour; Wayne Green, second for Christmas in April.

Other awards went to Jim Long, second for the Mental Health-Mental Retardation Hike; Bike and Ride; John Hunt, third for City of Midland swim meet and third for Christmas parade; Bob Nobles, third for the roadrunner project; and Larry Matuschall, third for bicycle safety course.

Twelve Midland Jaycees also won Sharpshooter awards for recruitment and activation of new members.

Portuguese Military Clique Rebukes Socialists For Fighting Communists

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The ruling military clique rebuked the Socialist party today for its fight to check the growing power of the Communists.

Socialist party officials said the stand taken by the Armed Forces Movement, the leftist-dominated assembly of 240 military men, probably set the stage for the breakup of the military-civilian government and open military rule supported only by the Communists.

The military assembly said in a communique after a long meeting that it "approved a recommendation . . . to rapidly resolve the (political) crisis, informing the leaders of the Socialist party of the hard general tone of the criticisms expressed in the assembly because of the party's failure to take part in the last cabinet meeting."

There was no criticism of the Communists, who started the crisis by seizing the Socialist party newspaper.

The assembly said it would develop its own "popular organizations" to overcome partisan disputes and "guarantee a correct carrying out of the revolutionary process." However, it attempted to reassure the existing political parties, saying the formation of the new organizations were not an "attempt to marginalize the mass organizations already existing."

Some Socialist leaders said the party could either back down and give the Communists further encouragement or quit the government and leave the Communists as the military's only visible political support. However, they said no decision would be taken until another round of discussion later in the week with the military's Revolutionary Council.

The two Socialist members of the coalition government, party leader Mario Soares and Francisco Salgado Zenha, have been boycotting cabinet meetings to protest the government's closure of the Socialist party newspaper Republica after its editorial staff refused to take orders from Communist printers who seized control of the newspaper's building.

Republica was the only paper in Lisbon not controlled by the Communists, who also dominate the trade union movement and many local governments. Soares has threatened to withdraw the Socialists from the government unless the Communists are checked.

The military assembly also reaffirmed its support of leftist Premier Vasco dos Santos Gonçalves.

The assembly's statement was viewed as another move toward Marxism and a further erosion of non-Communist civilian political influence.

24 Crane Seniors Get Scholarships, Awards

CRANE—Twenty-four Crane High School seniors have been presented scholarships and departmental or special awards.

Top scholarship winner was Mary Margaret Slover who received a $4,000 scholarship from Texas Christian University. A $500 scholarship from the Trans-Pecos Society of Petroleum Engineers of AIME went to Bobby Hogan, and Carl Wilson took a $400 award from the American Legion Post and Auxiliary.

The auxiliary also presented a $200 scholarship to Sandra Treat, and $300 Student Council Ken Spencer Scholarships were awarded to both Wilson and Mickey Cunningham.

Presented $100 scholarships from the Crane Evening Lions Club were Cunningham, J. T. Epley, Steve Hooper, Keith Lewis, Bruce Norred and Miss Stover.

The Crane Noon Lions Club awarded $500 scholarships to Rosa Acosta, Guy Byrd, Judy Sommons and Wilson.

Other scholarship presented were Bud Taylor, General Motors Scholarship; Miss Treat, Texas State Teachers Association Scholarship; Bill Shumake, Howard Payne academic scholarship, and James Ready.

Texas Tech music scholarship. Departmental awards cited Mark Stagg, speech; Debbie Gray, home economics; Debby Overstreet, band; Cunningham, choir; Lisa Gallion, business education; Lois Wilkinson, art; Brenda Wilson, cosmetology, and Vickie Patterson, science.

Other departmental and special awards went to Hogan, industrial art; Charles Johnson, Golden Hammer; Norred and Linda Isbell, athletics; Norred, math; Miss Stover, English; Charlotte Blue, journalism; Shumake, Quill and Scroll current events; and Margaret Holland and Miss Slover, National Honor Society medal.

Astronomy, Rocketry Course Scheduled

"Star Shots," a program offering a chance for young people to learn astronomy, celestial photography and model rocketry, is open for registration through the Midland College department of community services.

The classes, open to students aged 10-14, will be presented in two sessions: June 9-19 and June 30-July 10. In each session, students will have the option of enrolling in afternoon or night classes. The course will meet Monday through Thursday from 2:30-4:30 p.m. or from 7:30-9:30 p.m.

Enrollment is limited to 18 students per session. The fee is $10 for materials.

The course, to be taught by Midland College astronomy students, will be in three parts.

Students first will learn the use of the telescope and spend about five hours of the course in astronomy, viewing the sky and its constellations.

During the second portion, they will learn camera and darkroom techniques and will be taking pictures of the stars through the telescope. The final portion will involve the design and construction of a rocket.

Actual launching will take place under supervised conditions.

Registration for the course is in room 124 of the Science-Faculty Building on the college campus.

Students Added To MHS Honor Graduate List

Cardozier Says McIntyre's Job Not In Jeopardy

ODESSA—Dr. V. R. Cardozier, president ad interim at The University of Texas at the Permian Basin, said that Dr. Kevin-John McIntyre, UTBP professor, was not acting as a representative of the university, but as a private citizen, when he made statements at the Midland-Odessa Citizens' Forum earlier this month.

Cardozier's assistant, Dr. John Walker, made an inquiry into statements attributed to McIntyre when he spoke at the May 9 forum held at Midland and reported May 11 in The Reporter-Telegram.

Cardozier said there "unfortunately" was no tape recording of the Midland session.

Walker did, however, question persons who attended the Midland session, and determined to his satisfaction that statements attributed to McIntyre were not valid.

Walker's inquiry came after May 19, when an editorial appeared in The Reporter-Telegram concerning McIntyre's statements.

When asked if he had talked to more than five people who attended the Midland session, Walker said, "no."

The statements attributed to McIntyre were taken from a question and answer period during the Midland session, and not from the professor's formal talk.

Walker said he listened to a tape recording of McIntyre's formal talk made by a radio station during an Odessa session May 10. He said statements attributed to McIntyre were not in that recording.

Cardozier said, "There is no question about McIntyre's remaining on the faculty" at UTPB.

Four Wheel Drive Club Sets Meeting

The West Texas Four Wheel Drive Association invites all owners of four wheel drive vehicles to its next meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the First National Bank.

The club, formed last March, currently has 35 members including four police officers. It was formed by a group of interested Midland residents to promote off-road trips.

So far the club has taken weekend trips to the Davis Mountains and Cloudcroft, N.M. The next trip is planned for July 4 to Cloudcroft.

The club observes all environmental preservation rules and laws when driving on off-pavement roads. Rallies and competition are also conducted, including barrel racing and hill climbing.

Most of the members also have CB radios and have helped people stranded out in the mountains.

Membership is open to all owners (18 years and over) of four wheel drive vehicles and there is a $12 annual membership fee plus a $15 initiation fee. Interested persons may contact Doris Haney at 694-3834.

Senators Expected To Vote On School Funds Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Senators were expected to vote today on a bill touted by its sponsor as the "first step" toward closing the gap in the educational quality of the richer and poorer public school districts.

A 10-member House-Senate conference committee tried for the fourth consecutive day to reach a compromise on a two-year state budget of approximately $12 billion.

The next move on utility regulation was up to the House as the countdown on the 140-day regular legislative session entered the final seven days.

Wealthiest Get Biggest Tax Breaks

By PETER MEIUS
The Washington Post

WASHINGTON — Preferential provisions in the tax laws saved 100,000 richest taxpayers in America an average of $45,000 in taxes last fiscal year — a total of $7.3 billion — according to a study made public by Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn.

The 100,000 were those percent with gross incomes of $100,000 and over.

The study, done for Mondale by the Treasury Department, compared what those people actually paid with what they would have paid had there been no special, tax-reducing provisions in the law.

Part of the taxes they were spared were attributable to sections of the revenue code that benefit average citizens as well — the right to take as deductions state and local tax and mortgage interest payments, for example, or charitable contributions.

But Mondale noted that, the way the tax laws work the rich benefit disproportionately from even these provisions; a $100 deduction is worth $70 to someone in the highest tax bracket (70 per cent), only $14 to someone in the lowest (14 per cent).

In addition, the senator said, there are still other provisions that benefit the rich almost exclusively.

Fully half the taxes that people in the $100,000-and-over class were spared in fiscal 1974 came from two so-called exclusions in the revenue code, one for capital gains, the other for interest income on state and local government bonds.

Capital gains are profit on the sale of stock or other form of property owned for more than six months. If you make such a profit, the law says you only have to pay taxes on half of it; the tax rate on capital gains is thus half the rate on ordinary income.

The Treasury Department would have collected another $6.2 billion in individual income taxes last fiscal year had it not been for this provision. About $3.1 billion of that would have come from people in the $100,000-and-over bracket.

Interest on state and municipal bonds is not taxed at all. If it had been, Treasury would have collected another $1.1 billion last year, $546 million of it from the $100,000-and-over class.

Mondale, a member of both the Senate Finance and Senate Budget committees, proposed no specific changes in the tax laws. The House Ways and Means Committee is scheduled to take up the subject of tax reform this summer.

The senator simply asked Monday whether it "makes sense" to go on with "a system which provides the highest benefits to those with the highest incomes."

According to the Treasury study, total individual income tax collections last fiscal year would have been $68.2 billion higher had there been no preferential provisions of any kind in the revenue code.

Almost a fourth of this money would have come from people with incomes of $50,000 and over — 1.2 per cent of all taxpayers. Only about a sixth of it would have come from those with incomes of $10,000 or less — 48.9 per cent of all taxpayers.

The preferential provisions did more for the rich than the poor.

The deduction allowed for state and local tax payments, other than property and gasoline taxes, was the government's greatest single money loser. It cost the Treasury $7 billion last fiscal year. The gasoline tax deduction cost it another $665 million, the property tax deduction $4.1 billion, the deduction for mortgage interest payments, $4.9 billion, Social Security payments (because they are exempt from the federal income tax) $3.2 billion.

Sen. Talmadge's Son, 29, Drowns

GAINESVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Robert S. Talmadge, 29, son of Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, drowned while swimming Monday. Sen. Talmadge, a Georgia Democrat who had returned to his home state for the Memorial Day holiday, rushed to Hall County Hospital when notified that the body had been brought there. Robert Talmadge, who operated a real estate agency in Atlanta, was the younger of the senator's two sons.

Birth Rate Dip May Be Temporary

WASHINGTON (AP) — A record drop in a key birth rate statistic may be a temporary dip that will be balanced by a later surge, a Census Bureau analyst says.

Campbell Gibson, who prepared the report, said the speed at which the drop occurred during 1974 suggests that postponement rather than abandonment of child-bearing was the cause of the decline.

It was the third year in a row that the statistic, the total fertility rate, has been below the level at which births and deaths balance. And it came despite the first increase in four years in the nation's total number of births, which was reported by the National Center for Health Statistics in February.

Gibson said it is too early to tell whether the drop foreshadows a permanent decline in the birth rate.

He said other census surveys showing that women of child-bearing age still are planning an average of a little more than two children apiece suggest that current birth rates are below what the long-term rate will be. The current total fertility rate means every woman would have an average of 1.86 children during her lifetime.

The total fertility rate, which census demographers consider the most useful of the three birth rates they compile, projects the number of babies every 1,000 women of child-bearing age would have during their lifetime at the birth rate for a given year.

In 1974 the figure was down to 1,862 compared to the previous record low of 1,896 in 1973. The population would theoretically balance at a permanent rate of 2,100.

Ohio Family Has Inherited Type Of Cancer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Twenty-nine members of a central Ohio family are victims or potential victims of a virulent form of thyroid cancer, the only kind of human cancer medical science has pinpointed as inherited.

The Clinical Research Center at Ohio State University is examining five other families for the same form of cancer, but the Wampler clan of Sunbury, Granville and adjacent areas is the largest.

Any threat to research grants to the center, funding now under consideration in Congress, is of vital importance to all of them.

"There is no way to estimate what it would have cost us, certainly more than we can pay," Mrs. Doris Wampler of Sunbury said.

All other members of her family, including her husband, Gene, and three sons, are under regular treatment or surveillance by the center research staff.

Mrs. Wampler's immediate family represents various stages of the disease and its treatment.

A tell-tale harbinger of the cancer is the production in the body of excessive amounts of calcitonin, said Dr. Jack George, director of the center. When an excess shows up in members of susceptible families, the recommended treatment is surgical removal of the entire thyroid gland.

Fort Worth Woman Attacked Again By Same Man

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A 76-year-old south side woman was assaulted in her home a second time—apparently by the same man who raped and robbed her Feb. 19, police said Monday.

She told officers she was awakened by the smell of cigarette smoke in her bedroom. She said a man grabbed her, told her to be quiet and said, "I told you the last time I would kill you if you called police. It was in the papers. I can read." In February a man broke into the woman's house and threatened her with a knife before raping her twice and taking $12 from her purse, officers said.

The woman described her attacker as a young man, standing about 5-foot-9 and wearing a mustache.

SACRAMENTO, —Legislation aimed at ending decades of farm strikes in California is set to pass through the legislature after winning approval in a special session.

It is Gov. Ed Brown's plan to force workers with secret elections in 1976.

Brown's compromise marks the first step between two wars. The bill has been both Cesar Chavez United Farm Workers and the Teamsters well as major growers.

There have been 1,000 arrests, numerous acts of violence and one battle erupted between unions.

The Democratic governor halted the plan as in farm labor legislation he says could be a national.

Brown's floor hoped to have the governor's desk for early as Thursday pass first through a by committee hearing final Assembly floor.

If that timetable is met, the bill as early as Sept. 15.

California Legislation Aimed At Ending Farm Labor Strife Nears OK

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Legislation aimed at ending decades of farm strife and violence in California was halfway through the legislature today after winning Senate approval in a special holiday session.

It is Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr.'s plan to provide farm workers with state-supervised secret elections for union recognition.

Brown's compromise plan marks the first sign of peace between two warring unions. The bill has been endorsed by both Cesar Chavez and his United Farm Workers union and the Teamsters Union, as well as major growers.

There have been at least 5,000 arrests, numerous reports of violence and one death since battle erupted between the two unions.

The Democratic governor has hailed the plan as a milestone in farm labor legislation which he says could be a model for the nation.

Brown's floor managers hoped to have the bill on the governor's desk for signing as early as Thursday. It must pass first through two Assembly committee hearings and a final Assembly floor vote.

If that timetable is met, elections could be held under the bill as early as September.

A packed state Senate gallery burst into cheers Monday afternoon when the 31-7 vote was announced.

Brown personally led the negotiations which forged the compromise. He called the breakthrough "an event of great historical significance."

One foe, Republican Sen. Clare Berryhill of the San Joaquin Valley farming community of Ceres, has predicted California agriculture will become a "disaster area" because of flaws in the measure.

Sen. John Dunlap, Senate author of Brown's bill, said in floor debate it will bring peace to California farms.

"I'm sure there are elements that all sorts of persons involved in agriculture can oppose. But it is a bill that deals fairly with all elements concerned," Dunlap said.

Singer Vikki Carr Awarded Honorary Doctor's Degree

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Singer Vikki Carr was awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree by the University of San Diego in tribute to a scholarship program she started to help Mexican-American students.

Fifty-one Mexican-American students have been aided by the Vikki Carr Scholarship Foundation since its inception in 1970. It is supported from her earnings and from donations by her fan club.

Accepting the award Sunday, Miss Carr noted her diploma listed her real name — Florencia Bisenta de Casilla Martines Cardona.

The singer said she started the foundation "because I wanted to know that in my life I would do something more than just bring happiness to people with my singing."

Saigon Government Blames Crime Wave On U.S., Thieu

SAIGON (AP) — The new South Vietnamese government newspaper published photographs today of an alleged thief being executed by a firing squad in Saigon before a large crowd.

The newspaper Gial Phong (Liberation) blamed the current crime wave in the capital on the United States and former President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Gial Phong said the two men executed had been sentenced by "people's tribunals" and that two others had been given long prison terms.

There had been reports of several thieves executed in Saigon but the photos were the first documentary evidence.

One photo showed a youth identified as Vo Van Ngoc, 23, tied to a stake at the foot of a bridge in Cholon, the Chinese quarter of Saigon. Two soldiers were taking aim at him with AK47 rifles.

The newspaper said Ngoc was a South Vietnamese army soldier who had been repatriated after the fall of Saigon on April 30.

"However," it said, "he had hidden some weapons with which he threatened a passerby in Cholon to steal a watch. When he was captured by the population, he resisted instead of surrendering. He was shot to death by revolutionary justice."

The paper also reported that 30,000 citizens attended a people's tribunal trying three men who admitted using weapons to commit two robberies. It said one defendant, Dang Quoc Phu, was sentenced to death and that the other two, Dang Van Loi and Phan Thanh Hieu, were given unspecified long prison terms.

Meanwhile, the new regime indicated that rice will be a key item of barter and payment in the economy. This was disclosed when the Military Management Committee announced scales for civil servants from the old regime who are still employed by such special agencies as scientific and technical organizations, schools and universities.

professional branches, the fire department, and government-run factories and firms.

Although their pay has been roughly halved to the equivalent of $10 to $23 a month, they will receive a family allowance in rice of 22 pounds per month for a wife and half that for each child.

Under the Thieu regime, there was major corruption in the civil service. The new government's policy appears aimed at eliminating American-oriented consumer living in which refrigerators, automobiles, television sets and electric appliances were considered essential items.

Vietnam Refugees Are Heading For Pennsylvania Camp

AGANA, Guam (AP) — The first refugees headed for the new evacuee camp at Ft. Indiantown Gap, Pa., will come from Guam, authorities announced today.

Adm. G. Steve Morrison said a flight carrying 340 Vietnamese would leave Guam early Wednesday, Guam time. A second flight of 179 refugees is scheduled to follow within several hours and more will leave daily until June 1, he said.

The admiral said 1,779 refugees are scheduled to be transferred to the Pennsylvania camp.

This was not expected to make an appreciable dent in the size of the refugee population still on Guam. As of Tuesday, 47,081 remained on the island, with 37,631 jammed into sweltering "tent city."

Morrison said he is not optimistic about the prospect of flights resuming at a faster pace. A month ago, when refugee flights to the mainland began, thousands were moved out of Guam daily. But the flow has decreased to a trickle, and on Monday only 263 refugees were flown out in 24 hours.

"When we first started, they were leaving at 6,000 a day," said Morrison. "I thought that would go on forever. But now I realize it was just until they filled up the camps back there."

Search Nets Four Arrests

HOUSTON (AP) — Four persons have been arrested in a Houston apartment by a police detective searching for jewelry and guns taken in a robbery.

Arrested Monday were Charles Franklin Tate, 50, charged with murder in Dallas; Roy Joseph Abshire, 38, and Norman Faulkner, 33, both of Houston and both charged with aggravated robbery in a jewelry heist here.

A 25-year-old woman also was arrested. She was not charged at once.

Dallas police said Tate was being sought in the May 1 slaying of Dallas Morrison there.

Detective Walter L. Burkham said he arrested the four when he went to the apartment to look for jewelry and guns taken in the last Wednesday robbery of Spencer Larry Casey, a jeweler, and two of Casey's employees.

Casey said about $30,000 in jewelry was taken in the holdup at the apartment. Police quoted the jeweler as saying he went to the apartment because he thought he had a buyer for a bracelet and that he was robbed of his pistols and jewelry samples by three men there.

4-Day School Week!

The public schools of Cimarron, N.M., have tried a four-day school week on an experimental basis this school year.

And the fact that students and faculty members like it is not at all surprising. The school board apparently accepts this as fact, pure and simple.

School district officials, however, are desirous of determining what the parents think of the plan. Questionnaires have been sent to all parents.

The superintendent of Cimarron schools said that if parents approve, the next step is to get approval from the State Department of Education. He sees no problem in this respect.

The pilot program is said to have attracted the interest of other schools both in and outside of New Mexico.

News of the four-day school week undoubtedly would have attracted much more attention here and elsewhere now were it not for the end-of-school excitement.

It is something which very easily could gain widespread acceptance. School authorities, themselves, possibly will be interested in the plan strictly from a possible reduction in overhead costs of operation. It certainly would cut down on air-conditioning, lighting, heating, busing and maintenance costs. This is something to think about.

It was because of fuel shortages and costs that the Cimarron schools went to a four-day week on a temporary basis in January 1974.

Reaction was so favorable that the district adopted the four-day week for the present school year.

It is reported that students on the four-day system put in about the same number of hours at school each semester by staying 55 minutes longer each day.

Long weekends are in vogue, under the plan, with no classes being held on Mondays.

Administrators say that the four-day week has increased the desire of some students to attend classes. Results of end-of-the-year achievement tests also attest to the plan's popularity.

This very well could be a major, new direction in education. Further results of the New Mexico experiment undoubtedly will be watched with interest by school people everywhere.

'Down To The Wire'

The proposed creation of a state regulatory commission is headed right down to the wire, as the legislature nears the end of its regular session.

Hopefully, the measure will be defeated or will be sidetracked, although Sen. W. E. Snelson said here Friday that a utilities commission will come out of this session. He said he supports the measure because it will give many cities, other than those like Midland, which has good representation, an agency at which to direct rate complaints.

Rep. Tom Craddock of Midland has said he is opposed to any kind of a utilities commission.

Both the Senate and the House have passed commission bills. The measures, at last count, were being considered by a conference committee.

W. G. Marquardt, president of Texas Electric Service Co., said here last week that state regulation would compound problems by introducing uncertainties which possibly would erode investor confidence and damage a utility company's ability to raise vast sums of money required for new construction. And it would not solve the energy problem or reduce inflation. Neither is there any assurance of rate reduction.

Texas and Texans can get along very well without a utilities commission.

INSIDE REPORT—

Bob Strauss And Post-Watergate Ethics

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Donald Fowler, the astute young Democratic state chairman of South Carolina, last January asked his friend and political ally, national chairman Robert Strauss, whether he knew of any business he could steer down to the Charleston, S.C., advertising agency Fowler had just joined — an understandable request in every way except one: it led to a collision between the old politics and the new politics of post-Watergate morality.

Strauss was indeed able to steer a small bit of business Fowler's way — Democratic National Committee business. Without announcement or open bidding, Fowler was given a $25,000 public relations contract for the party's fourth annual national fund-raising telethon (for about two months' work). At the same time, Fowler and Strauss were collaborating in a highly successful political operation which resulted in Fowler replacing an arch-enemy of Strauss, Alabama state chairman Robert Vance, as head of the state chairman's organization.

In no conceivable way does this mixture of business and politics violate any law or party rule. Fowler's fee is reasonable, and his firm qualified. Fowler and Strauss say that they never saw in their arrangement any ethical difficulties. In truth, the entire matter probably would never have become public had not it been leaked by employees at the Democratic National Committee concerned by its implications.

The incident reflects the strengths and weaknesses of Bob Strauss, in his third flamboyant year as national chairman. By nurturing personal alliances to an unprecedented degree, Strauss has been unexpectedly and remarkably successful in gently nudging his party back toward both moderation and financial integrity while keeping the peace internally. But those alliances always have the potential for old politics cronyism.

That potential seems realized in the Fowler incident, arming Strauss' implacable foes on the McGovernite left wing with new ammunition in their untiring struggle to destroy him politically. Thus, as a case study of how an honest, well-meaning politician can momentarily lose his way in post-Watergate ethics, the incident is worth reporting in detail.

A Philadelphia agency named Sonder, Levitt & Sagorsky handled the 1974 telethon for a $30,000 fee but was not considered for 1975, according to telethon director Kitty Halpin, because it showed "no interest." However, a partner in the firm, Irv Sagorsky, told us a different story: "We would have liked to do it again. However, we were not asked to participate."

At least one New York firm wanted the contract. But when it telephoned Democratic national headquarters, ac-

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON With Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — From torture chambers around the world, helpless victims have smuggled their stories to us in the desperate hope that the publicity will restrain their tormentors.

At the risk of their own lives, couriers for the oppressed have brought us the smuggled documents. They have come to us, these brave priests, lawyers, newsmen and teachers, from a dozen lands.

We have met them furtively in backrooms, in out-of-the-way lunchrooms, in parked cars. The scenario is always the same. Carefully, they unwrap the precious, worn sheafs of paper, which contain the evidence of the terrible cruelties.

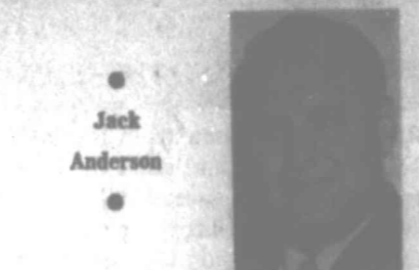

There is a sickening similarity to the stories. Only a few days ago, for example, a messenger from Catholic, Protestant and Jewish leaders in Chile brought us seven pages of names.

Those on the list — we counted 231 names — are the "desaparecidos." They disappeared into prisons and never came out. It is assumed that many of them were tortured to death, but there is no evidence except in a few cases. They are simply missing.

They range from a 16-year-old student to a 64-year-old architect. A mother, for example, related how her 21-year-old son had been hauled away by six armed men. The documents identify them as agents of the National Intelligence Department (SDNA).

The mother learned that her son had been subjected to vicious torture and then she heard no more. She appealed to Col. Jorge Espinoza, who supervises detained persons. He promised that the young man would turn up in a week. But nine months later, he was still missing.

The courier from Chile told us that the army, navy, air force and police each arrest and detain its own political prisoners. The lucky ones are those who reach a military tribunal for a secret trial.

Others are locked up for months without charges, subjected to brutal interrogations. Then there are the "desaparecidos," whose ghosts will haunt dictator Augusto Pinochet as long as he remains in power.

In Bolivia, another dictator, Hugo Banzer, has turned up Catholic Church leaders who have dared to defend the oppressed. The moody Banzer has shut down a church radio station, kicked out two esteemed foreign missionaries and sent his bullyboy security men to visit the archbishop of La Paz and the bishop of Santa Cruz.

The details are contained in smuggled documents now in our possession. Banzer's repression of the church began after priests issued a bold report on the "Massacre of the Valley." This was an attack by Banzer's troops upon a peasant demonstration.

The dictator claimed afterwards that his men had killed only 13 peasants. But the priests reported the true figure was 100.

There is more to the story of oppression and torture in Bolivia. Although some of the smuggled documents can't be verified, we have been able to get independent confirmation of other allegations.

mittie problem that we have to have? Not if we bury it here."

Although Strauss drew cheers and applause, the matter is not quite buried. The poisonous campaign against Strauss carried on by left-wing political operative Alan Baron will continue with new fuel. Silent in the face of the verbal intimidation from Strauss and Fowler, one middle-roader on the executive committee left the meeting muttering that "it's a damn dumb thing for them to do."

The "dumbness" derives from the changed world of post-Watergate politics. Strauss and Fowler told us they could see nothing wrong with an arrangement where the fee was modest and the services of unarguable high quality.

The problem is not size of fee or ability to perform, but a problem of political ethics which today is paramount. If they cannot understand that, worse troubles could lie ahead.

KEYVIN P. PHILLIPS— American Isolation Following Vietnam

WASHINGTON (KFS) — Agony try name is still national reappraisal. Thanks to President Ford's success in rescuing the Mayaguez, we have had our Errol Flynn brand of exhilaration — and it is exhilarating. Eighteenth Century Britain went to war over the ear of a seaman named Jenkins. Spanish-American war jingoists screamed "Remember the Maine" and the sinking of the Lusitania helped hasten America's entry into World War I.

This proud chronology could be enlarged by mentioning the Barbary pirates and others who were not allowed to enjoy their provocation, but now that we've had our glorious international moment, let's get back to inglorious reality. For anyone who hasn't pondered the awful problems that confront post-Vietnam America in a world of spreading Communist politics and grey Socialist economics, they will find one gruesome scenario laid out at discouraging length in the current issue of Ramparts magazine.

America is becoming isolated. Not only is the United States losing military bases all over the world, but we are losing trading partners and we are losing access to vital raw materials.

And as this occurs, we also are losing the post-World War II economic cushion that permitted American business and corporate enterprise a leeway and freedom from official control not allowed in poorer countries. Today, U.S. industries are being forced into the same regulation and resource-allocation molds that prevail in Europe. It is a discouraging analysis.

Four or five years ago, who could have thought that our defeat in Vietnam would have so many far-reaching corollaries and implications? After all, senator after liberal senator assured us that nothing was at stake in Vietnam but false pride, and that withdrawal would strengthen us. Alas, it now appears that by the late Sixties, once the U.S. had committed so much, Vietnam had become a do-or-die battleground for the future of American international capitalist supremacy.

If the Liberal Establishment didn't realize this in time, the Communists unfortunately did. I use the word "Communist" with some reluctance, having until recently shared the fashionable notion that only rubes and reactionaries so indulged themselves. I repeat: The Communist threat (even now, that phrase has a titillating new-McCarthyism ring to it) demands acknowledgement.

In July, 1971, when the multitude of presidential hopefuls in the U.S. Senate were beginning to vie with one another in making Vietnamese withdrawal noises, Gus Hall, general secretary of the U.S. Communist Party, spelled out the historic meaning of forcing the U.S. to withdraw from Indochina:

"This withdrawal will signify a qualitative shift in the world balance of forces. It will put an end to an era.

"Since the Second World War . . . U.S. armed forces, U.S. money have been the main link in the world counter-revolutionary chain that has held back and slowed down the world revolutionary process.

"A forced retreat from Indochina would seriously weaken and even break the main link in this chain. . . . It would greatly stimulate anti-imperialist movements. This qualitative shift would make the socialist sector in a new way the dominant political, economic and ideological factor in the world. It would force an agonizing reappraisal, a basic searching review within the United States."

As of May, 1975, it seems that Mr. Hall was prescient. Earlier this month, speaking at Gonzaga University in Spokane, Washington, House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Al Ullman told his audience that U.S. fortune has peaked, and that Americans "are on the edge of a national crisis more profound and destructive than any previous national danger," and that "unless we take stock of our real situation—not the dreams that appear in advertisements—we're not going to take the Constitution and a free economy into the next century."

I am afraid so, and that honest stock-taking will be painful. The Mayaguez episode does not really change anything.

Evel Says He's Finished Jumping

LONDON (AP) — Evel Knievel said he would never jump again after suffering painful injuries in a motorcycle leap over 13 single-deck London buses that he thought failed to set a distance record.

But promoters of the stunt and most of the newsmen who watched the 35-year-old American daredevil hit the dust at 100 miles an hour Monday night accepted the claim of his elder that he had set a new flying motorcycle mark of 140 feet.

"In two or three days, Evel may well reconsider the decision not to ride again," said his publicity man. "He is in considerable pain and the last thing in the world he wants to be thinking about at this stage is riding a bike."

A few persons said they thought Knievel's 750cc Harley Davidson touched the roof of the 13th bus and that caused him to fall before 70,000 scrambling spectators in London's Wembley Stadium. But most of the experts agreed he cleared the buses and crashed on landing.

The publicity man, Brian Cartnell, said the motorcycle split a plywood plank when it came down, throwing Evel and the bike into the air. The motorcycle landed on top of him.

He limped to a microphone, his costume in tatters and his face blackened, and told the crowd: "Ladies and gentlemen of this wonderful country, I have got to tell you that you are the last people to see me jump. I shall never jump again and that is the truth. I am through."

Then he was rushed to the London Hospital. Cartnell said he had a crushed vertebra in the middle of his back, a fracture of the right hand, other spinal damage and severe bruises.

The 140-foot jump bettered Knievel's previous mark of 104 feet, set in Toronto, and was the second longest he had ever attempted. The longest was his unsuccessful attempt to rocket over the Snake River Canyon in Idaho last September. Before that, he had tried to hurtle himself over cars, trucks and other objects more than 300 times. He failed in 11 attempts and broke 50 bones.

Holiday Death Count In Texas Reaches 46

By The Associated Press
Drownings took the heaviest toll among violent deaths reported in Texas during the Memorial Day weekend.

Altogether there were 46 fatalities, including 18 drownings, 10 in traffic accidents, eight homicides and six in plane crashes.

The toll was recorded between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday. These were among the latest victims: John R. Salter, 27, of Wheat Ridge, Colo., was killed Monday night as his light airplane crashed on a dirt road about 14 miles south of Lamesa in West Texas.

David Thrasher, 30, died Monday of injuries suffered in a fall down several steps at a Houston restaurant Saturday night.

Prosecutors Begin Presenting Final Witnesses In Halloween Poisoning Trial

HOUSTON (AP) — Prosecutors began presenting their final witnesses today in the capital murder trial of Ronald C. O'Bryan, charged with killing his young son with poisoned Halloween candy in order to collect insurance.

The final group of state witnesses was expected to include O'Bryan's wife, Doreen O'Bryan, and testimony from two men on the defendant's interest in cyanide, the lethal chemical that killed O'Bryan's child.

O'Bryan is on trial for his life under a state statute that permits the death penalty in a murder for profit. He is also charged with four counts of attempted murder in connection with the alleged distribution of cyanide-laced candy to four other children.

In five days of testimony last week, witnesses for the state pictured O'Bryan, a suburban Deer Park, Tex., optometrist, as a man in financial trouble, about to have his car repossessed and yet found the money to pay cash for $20,000 life insurance policies on his two children.

Testimony from a family friend and from three children told of how O'Bryan came away from a house during a Halloween trick-or-treat outing with Pixy Six in both hands.

He later distributed the Pixy Six—a powdered confection packaged in plastic tubes—to his children and three others.

O'Bryan's son, Timothy, 8, died late last Halloween night of a massive dose of cyanide.

A pathologist testified that four of the Pixy Six contained enough cyanide to kill two or three people. He testified the remainder of Timothy's Pixy Six contained no cyanide.

The pathologist said it was his belief the boy ate all the cyanide that was in the plastic tube.

An insurance agent said O'Bryan took out the $20,000 insurance policies on Oct. 3 and then called on Nov. 1—only hours after Timothy's death—to start processing a claim.

Belgium Holding Up Deal On YF16 Fighter Planes

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — The Dutch, Norwegian and Danish governments are ready to sign preliminary contracts and options for $1.3 billion worth of American YF16 fighters if Belgium will go along, Dutch Defense Minister Henk Vredeling announced today.

In a letter to the upper house of the Dutch Parliament, Vredeling said the governments of the Netherlands, Norway and Denmark planned to sign preliminary contracts and "memoranda of understanding" with the U.S. government this week.

Belgium needs 116 replacements for Starfighters, Norway needs 72 and Denmark wants 58. The YF16 is expected to cost about $5.5 million each, and the U.S. Air Force has said it wants 650 of them.

The Belgians would buy about $638 million of the new planes. "Unless the four countries have confirmed the agreement by June 15, the entire YF16 contract will become null and void," Vredeling wrote. "If the four countries cannot reach a joint decision, our government will take the view that a new situation has arisen."

He said his government would buy YF16's to replace 84 of the Dutch air force's 102 Starfighters and would take an option on 18.

Kleasen's Murder Trial Testimony Continues Today

AUSTIN (AP) — Robert Kleasen's lawyers have been unable so far to get before his Mormon missionary murder trial jury one of their main points of defense—that Kleasen could not have butchered two warm bodies on a taxidermist's band saw.

Testimony in the trial resumes today.

Kleasen's chief defense lawyer, R. Roscoe Haley, attempted Friday to get a state witness, taxidermist L. M. Rathbone, to estimate how long it would take to cut up two 150-pound deer.

Before Rathbone could reply, District Court Judge Tom Blackwell interrupted to ask Haley, "Is this really relevant?"

Haley said it was, but after a whispered conference between lawyers and the judge, the line of questioning was changed.

The defense is expected to argue that Kleasen could not have cut up the missionaries' bodies on the band saw, as the state claims, without first hanging them up and bleeding them for several hours. Kleasen had neither the time nor the place to accomplish this and then use the band saw in the taxidermy shop, they say.

Kleasen, 42, is accused of killing Gary Darley, 20, of Simi Valley, Calif., and Mark Fisher, 19, of Milwaukee, Wis. He is being tried at this time only in the Fischer slaying.

Burkhalter Dies
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Everett G. Burkhalter, 74, a former Congressman who vocally criticized the House seniority system, died Sunday at the City of Hope in Duarte. The film studio electrician turned Democratic politician once filed a $2 million slander suit against Richard M. Nixon for saying he "wouldn't endorse Mr. Burkhalter for dogcatcher," although he later dropped the action.

90 Persons Arrested In Cockfight Raid

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — A raid by local, state and federal law enforcement agencies netted 90 arrests at a cockfight on a small ranch near here.

The Sunday raid, coordinated by a federal Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) aircraft which flew overhead during the operation, was carried out by officers from the DEA, state Alcoholic Beverage Commission, Department of Public Safety, Webb County sheriff's office and Laredo police department.

Officers seized 30 live gamecocks, a dozen dead cocks, 10 cases of beer and gambling paraphernalia.

Dist. Atty. Charles Borchers said 70 men pleaded guilty to misdemeanor gambling and paid fines of $202.50 each, five pleaded innocent and were released under $500 bond each, and 15 were jailed in lieu of bonds ranging from $5,000 to $10,000 each. They were charged with felony gambling and illegal sale of alcoholic beverages.

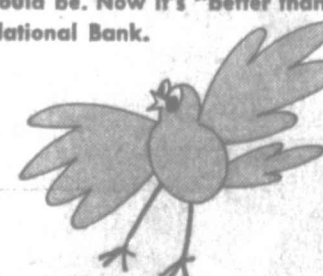

A high school bus was used to take those arrested to the Webb County jail.

She said she left the other three "in good health and in good spirits," but they were convinced their captors "will not hesitate to shoot" them if the demands are not met.

The guerrillas want to overthrow President Mobutu Sese Seko of Zaire and are reported to control a sizable territory in the eastern part of the country.

Bench Paces Reds Sweep

By The Associated Press
The fickle fans at Riverfront Stadium have been up and down on Johnny Bench during his career with the Cincinnati Reds.

Monday they were up—hilariously. Bench, who has had a love-hate relationship with the crowds at Cincinnati, was treated to a rare standing ovation after hitting a grand slam home run that keyed the Reds to a 5-4 victory over the Montreal Expos and a doubleheader sweep.

The 25,094 fans at the Red's ballpark, already giddy over the 4-3 victory in the opener, went absolutely berserk when Bench's homer capped a five-run rally in the fifth inning of the second game and incidentally tied him for the Red's all-time grand slam leadership.

Andy Messersmith, Messersmith, 74, had allowed only one hit since the third inning when Mike Phillips tripped with one out in the ninth. Jerry Grote, who singled a run across in the second inning, was given an intentional walk and Garrett, hitting for winning pitcher Tom Seaver, crashed his second home run of the season into the right field seats.

Super Shoot III Opening Top Shooters Set For Four-Day Meet

Competition got under way today in the Firearms Industry Super Shoot III at the Permian Basin Rifle and Pistol Range with more than 350 entries shooting for more than 80 trophies.

The actual competition got underway at 8 a.m. today with top shooters from all over the United States in the Tall City for the four-day affair.

Skip Gordon, national co-ordinator from Dover, N.J., is in charge of the meet along with his wife Johanna with more than $300,000 worth of guns and accessories on display during the meet.

Individual trophies for each match will be given. Grant awards will also be presented after scores are tallied Friday evening.

Shooters such as Arvie Martin of Fullerton, Calif., are here along with Alvin Davidson of Las Cruces, N.M.; Don Gercal of New Orleans, La.; Harold Shipley of Alamogordo, N.M.; Bill Brawand of Wilcox, Pa.; Debbie Sue Stekl, 12-year-old from Mohawk, N.Y. is here and last year, she finished third in this very same meet back east. Her Mother, Donalee, has three world records in the Sporter Class, aggregate and one group record.

All of the top bench-rest rifle shooters in the world are expected to compete.

The U.S. Marine Corps will furnish fresh water while the Norman Read Assembly, Order of the Eastern Star, will be on hand all four days with hot coffee, donuts and breakfast, each day at 6 a.m. It will also furnish hot beef sandwiches, hamburgers, cold drinks and coffee for the contestants.

Texas Lands Six On All-Tourney

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Six members of champion Texas—led by most valuable player Rick Bradley—headed the 1975 NCAA South Central Region All-Tournament baseball team announced Monday.

Runnerup Pan American placed four men on the team. South Alabama had two and Louisiana Tech had one. The 13 players were selected by the news media covering the tournament.

Bradley and South Alabama designated hitter Jerry Stamps were unanimous choices. Stamps had the second best tournament batting average, .418.

Bradley's clutch hitting, including a three-run homer in the Longhorn's 7-4 victory over South Alabama, made him the tournament favorite. He drove in at least one run with each of his hits.

Other Longhorns named to the squad were pitcher Jim Gideon, outfielder Mike Anderson, first baseman Mickey Reichenbach, shortstop Blair Stouffer and third baseman Keith Moreland.

Pan American's Craig Sebek made the all-tournament team as a utility man after tying in the balloting with Moreland. Sebek led the tournament in hitting with a .428 average.

Another deadlock vaused three pitchers to be named—Gideon, Pan Am's Ron Edquest and Louisiana Tech's Rodney Howard.

Rounding out the team were Pan Am outfielders Jim Raney and Ron Lair, and South Alabama second baseman David Stapleton.

Bradley captured eight of the possible 16 votes for the MVP award. Reichenbach was second with three votes.

Fight Tickets Selling Fast

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — More than 3,000 tickets have been booked, including 1,000 from the Middle East, for the heavyweight championship fight between Muhammad Ali and challenger Joe Bugner here June 30, officials said.

Orders also have been received from Japan, Australia, England and the United States. Ali is to receive $2.5 million while Bugner will get $800,000.

Goodrich Fourth In Clovis Meet

CLOVIS, N.M.—Goodrich Service Center of Midland wound up third over the weekend in the Memorial Day Slow Pitch Softball Tournament.

The Tall City team played six games, winning four of them and went into the semifinals with a 4-0 mark before losing to Triangle-Citizens of Clovis, 14-15 and then to Hereford Bi-Products, 15-14, for third place.

Don Haney and Howard Varley of Goodrich were named to the All-Tourney team after hitting .330 and .350, respectively.

Stevens To Play In Dome

HOUSTON—Bobby Stevens, Midland Lee first baseman and pitcher has been chosen to play in the 2nd annual North-South High School Baseball All-Star Game in the Astrodome, June 21.

Stevens, who hit .330 in leading the Rebels to the District 5-4A baseball crown and a sweep of Wichita Falls Rider in bi-district play, joins Lubbock Monterey's Rocky Alburds on the North squad along with Duncenville's Terry Edge. Duncenville beat Lee, 7-5, in Midland last Tuesday in regional play and then was awarded the crown when rains washed away the other two games of the series.

Stevens was 5-4A's Most Valuable Player and hit .533 in 14 loop games while on the team, the 5-2 senior had 11 doubles, three triples, four homers and knocked in 40 runs.

Other Rebels chosen for all-star competition in August are Keith Bishop, all-state Lee tackle, in football and Brett Blackwell, second team all-state guard, in basketball.

Jones Competes In Chicago

Milton Jones, Midland Lee shot putter who recently won the Class AAAA state crown in Austin, has been invited to compete in the National Prep Track and Field Championships in Chicago, June 21.

Jones will be competing with the top 10 high school shot putters in the country at Mount Profit High School in Chicago.

Lee Coach Sam Volpe will accompany Jones to the Meet in the Windy City with departure either June 17 or 18.

The top 10 track and field athletes in 14 events are invited to the yearly meet, according to Volpe.

Sam has two former Lee pole vaulters who have qualified for the NCAA finals in Provo, Utah, June 6-7. They are Bill Currow and Randy Lewis. Currow is a senior at the University of Colorado and has gone as high as 17-9 while Lewis, a freshman at Texas Tech, vaulted 16-4 last week in the Southwest Conference Meet.

New from Philip Morris.

Saratoga 120's.

Enjoy smoking longer without smoking more.

That's the Saratoga idea.

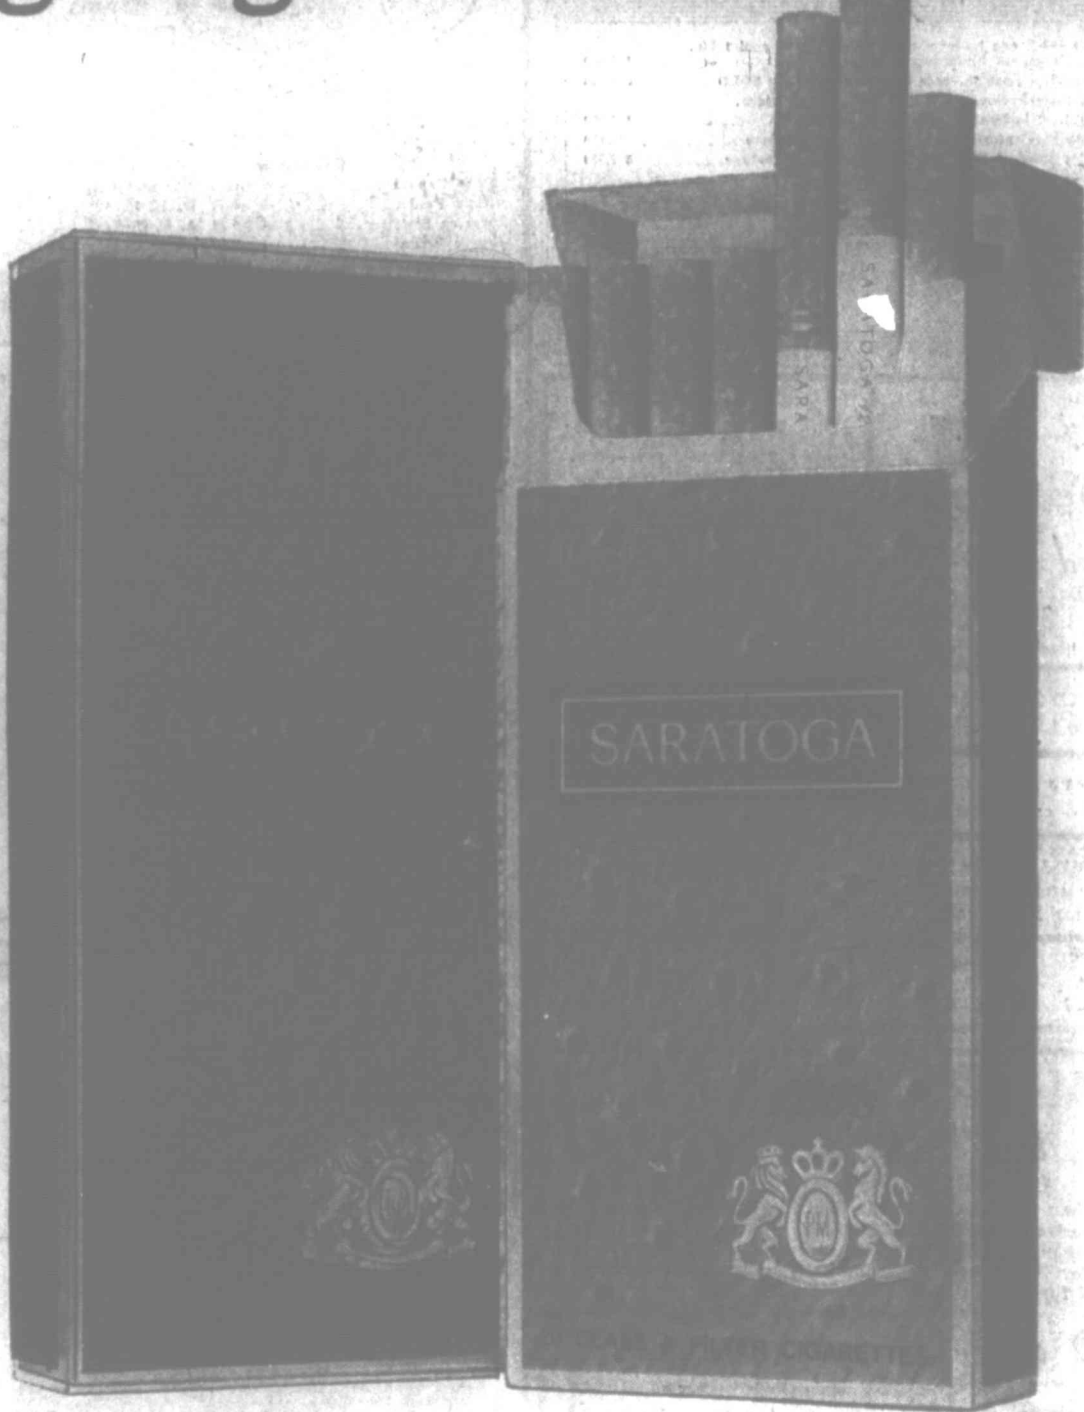

More puffs than 100's.
Tailored longer and slimmer than 100's,
so you enjoy extra smoking time, extra smoking pleasure, without smoking more cigarettes.

Priced no more than 100's.
And Saratoga 120's are rich, full-flavor cigarettes made from a fine blend of tobaccos.

More than just a new brand.
Saratoga 120's are a whole new idea in smoking pleasure.
Because now you can enjoy smoking longer without smoking more.

Look for them in the new 120 mm crush-proof box.

Menthol and Regular.

"For the same money,
I get extra puffs.
Good deal."

16 mg. "tar," 1.1 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined
That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.
