WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford holds a news conference tonight and White House sources say he will announce plans to make public the Rockefeller Commission's report on its investigation of CIA domestic activities.

But the sources say the President will keep secret the commission's information about alleged CIA plotting of foreign assassinations. They say he will turn this information over to the Senate intelligence committee, investigating these allegations.

The President will announce his decision to release the commission report during a nationally broadcast news conference at 8:30 p.m. CDT. There was no word on when the report, dealing with allegations of domestic spying by the CIA, would be made public.

Odessa Accused Of Shooting Wife

ODESSA — Wendell G. Robinson, 38, of Odessa, remained in city jail today in lieu of $50,000 bond after being charged with murder in the shooting of his estranged wife at her home Saturday afternoon.

Police said Mrs. Mildred Ponds Robinson, 36, was found shot to death in the living room of her mobile home shortly after 4 p.m. Saturday. The shooting was witnessed by two of the couple's sons, 9 and 13, police said.

Officers said Mrs. Robinson had been shot with six or seven bullets fired at close range. Robinson was arrested about 6:30 p.m. in Pecos after being stopped by a highway patrolman on a traffic violation.

Mrs. Robinson was pronounced dead on arrival at Medical Center Hospital by Justice of the Peace James Harris.

Police said the couple were separated and were in the process of getting a divorce. Services for Mrs. Robinson will be at 4 p.m. Tuesday at Springhill Church just outside of Vernon, Ala.

Interment will be in Springhill Cemetery under direction of Memorial Funeral Home of Columbus, Miss.

Local arrangements were under direction of Easterling Funeral Home.

Mrs. Robinson was educated in Columbus, Miss., public schools and had lived in Odessa for the last 11 years. She was a Baptist.

Survivors include three sons, Robbie Wayne Robinson, Todd Robinson and Woodie Robinson, all of Odessa; her mother, Mrs. Hunter M. Shackelford of Columbus, Miss.; four sisters, Mrs. David Goodman of Meridian, Miss.; Mrs. Mike Russell of Rome, N.Y.; Mrs. Malcolm Pounders of Hamilton, Miss.; and Mrs. Paul Clardy of Columbus, Miss.; one brother, Jimmy Dale Ponds of Millport, Ala.; and one grandmother, Mrs. Clemmie Kyles of Millport.

Liz Taylor Often Thinks Of Death, Author Reports

LONDON (AP) — The widow of British movie star Laurence Harvey says Elizabeth Taylor often has the subject of death on her mind.

"It seems to be her favorite subject after diamonds," Pauline Stone quoted her husband as saying of Miss Taylor. "She knows more about suffering than Charles Dickens and St. Augustine put together."

The quote was contained in Miss Stone's book published today: "One Tear is Enough: My Life with Laurence Harvey."

Miss Taylor, a close friend, visited Harvey shortly before he died of cancer last November.

Fort Davis Site Visitation Up

According to the National Park Service, 6,212 visitors viewed the sites at Fort Davis National Historic Site during May 1975. This represents a 30 per cent increase over the same period of 1974.

So far during the year there have been 22,008 visits to the old Fort which is a 60 per cent increase over the first five months of 1974.

Visitors are also spending more time in the area. There were 18,206 visitor hours recorded for the year-to-date while only 12,307 hours were spent visiting the Fort for the same five months of 1974.

chaired by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, met later today to question Robert Maheu, a former aide to billionaire Howard Hughes, and Richard Bissell, former head of the CIA's clandestine "dirty tricks" department.

At the Senate hearing this morning, Maheu invoked the privilege against self-incrimination.

The Senate committee, investigating these allegations, provisions to boost the current 4-cents-a-gallon federal tax on gasoline by as much as 23 cents — the first 3 cents in 1976, to be followed in 1977 or later years by the final 20 cents in 5-cent steps.

The 5-cent additions would go into effect as national gasoline tax package approved by the Ways and Means Committee.

An estimated 160 amendments — an unusually large number — are ready to be offered as debate opens today and voting begins Tuesday.

Many of these amendments reflect deep divisions over major energy tax issues and how to shape a congressional response to Ford's energy proposals and tariff-hiking actions.

Most of the controversy centers on the committee bill's

AIM Chief Means Shot In Affray

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — Russell Means, the American Indian Movement leader, is recovering after being shot in the abdomen during a scuffle with a Bureau of Indian Affairs policeman.

The BIA said Sunday that the shooting was accidental. But Means, in satisfactory condition at a hospital here, said the BIA's entire account was in error.

The BIA said Means was wounded Saturday when the pistol of Lt. Pat Kelly, 45, accidentally discharged during a scuffle involving Means, other AIM members and Kelly near here.

Means, however, said the man who shot him was not Kelly at all, but Kelly's son.

Means was a leader of American Indians who took and held the town of Wounded Knee, S.D., for 71 days to protest their position in society. Federal charges against him in that occupation were dismissed after a trial. He is now free on $30,000 bond on a charge of being an accomplice in the murder of a South Dakota man who was shot in a bar March 1.

Union Supporters Block Border Entry

HIDALGO, Tex. (AP) — About 30 United Farm Workers Union supporters stopped Mexican field hands from entering South Texas for more than an hour today, then left quietly when asked by authorities.

The union sympathizers gathered here at the international bridge, a major crossing point between the United States and Mexico.

There were no arrests. A union spokesman said the demonstrators had planned to block traffic coming across from Mexico in an attempt to dramatize their demands for union representation elections at South Texas farms.

The sympathizers turned back about 25 carloads of melon pickers after trying to talk them into joining the union. Some of the pickers sat in their vehicles, allowing other motorists to pass.

The demonstration ended shortly after 7 a.m. when Hidalgo Marshal Robert Garza went to the center of the bridge and asked the union sympathizers to leave. He said he was making the request after the U.S. Immigration Office complained.

Radio To Carry Parliament Debate

Agence France-Press — LONDON — For the first time in British parliamentary history a House of Commons debate will be broadcast live this afternoon, though only on radio.

Listeners will "sit in" while Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Minister for Industry Anthony Wedgwood Benn deal with conservative opposition questions on the Labor party concept of economic matters, particularly nationalization.

Meanwhile, there were these developments: —Rep. Lucien Nedzi, D-Mich., said he will not resign as chairman of the special House committee investigating the CIA and other intelligence-gathering agencies. Nedzi acknowledged the CIA had given him information about "some sort of assassination" because he also is chairman of the standing committee that is responsible for overseeing the agency's activities.

The other five Democrats on the special committee have asked Nedzi to resign as chairman of that panel on the grounds that he had done nothing after learning about the assassination plots.

—Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi said Sunday the Justice Department would examine the Rockefeller report, if it is turned over to the department, and would "determine whether a criminal prosecution in the federal courts would lie" for any actions described in the study.

Levi, speaking on ABC's "Issues and Answers," also said a president does not have the constitutional power to order assassinations.

Maheu was the first witness to appear before the Senate committee under a subpoena. Church has promised to examine evidence of assassination plots against Cuban Premier Fidel Castro and other foreign leaders before moving on to other areas in his probe of the entire U.S. intelligence community.

For the moment, the 11-member panel appears to be focusing on what former CIA Director John A. McCone has described as the agency's principal effort to kill Castro in 1960 and 1961.

Several former agency officials, including Bissell, have acknowledged the existence of a Castro assassination plan involving underworld figures Sam Giancana and John Roselli, but sources disagree over whether any attempt was ever made on Castro's life.

House Action Set This Week On Complex Energy Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — As Democrats in Congress struggle over alternatives to key parts of President Ford's oil program, House action is scheduled this week on the controversial and complicated energy tax package approved by the Ways and Means Committee.

Elsewhere in Congress, Senate debate is due to begin on last November's still-undecided election contest between Democrat John A. Durkin and Republican Louis C. Wyman in New Hampshire for the Senate seat that had been held by Republican Norris Cotton.

Senate leaders indicate that radio and television coverage of floor proceedings will be permitted for the first time during that debate.

Elsewhere in Congress, the House votes Tuesday on whether to override President Ford's veto of a bill that would impose national environmental controls on strip mining, which accounts for about half of the coal mined in the United States each year.

When he vetoed the bill, Ford said: "We can develop our energy sources while protecting our environment. But this bill does not do that." He also charged the bill would create unemployment in the coal fields. "As many as 36,000 people would lose jobs when unemployment already is too high," Ford said.

Riley Inducted Into Texas Lions Hall Of Fame

ABILENE — Schley Riley, long-time Big Spring Lions Club leader and a past district governor of Lionism, was among those inducted into the Texas Lions Hall of Fame Sunday at a concluding session of the Texas State Lions convention held here this weekend.

The other honorees are P. E. Shotwell and Dr. Randy Watkins, both of Abilene, and W. L. Edelman of Friona.

Riley has been active in all phases of Lionism for many years and continues to devote a great deal of time and effort to affairs of his home club and Lions District 2-A1.

Don A. Buckalew of Conroe, a Lions International director, was the speaker at the Hall of Fame luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nipp, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bozeman and Mr. and Mrs. George Weis were among Midland Lions attending the function.

Funnel Clouds Roam Texas Areas

Heavy thunderstorms and numerous funnel clouds menaced Northeast and North Central Texas Sunday, but by dawn today most of the turbulence had dissipated or moved into Louisiana.

Many of the tornado sightings were within a 50-mile radius of the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Several mobile homes were damaged Sunday when tornadoes touched down at Decatur and Weatherford. Decatur also had some roof damage and high water. Weatherford reported golfball-size hail.

A tornado at Red Oak in southeast Dallas County caused some damage. Other tornadoes were sighted at Grapevine and Lake Grapevine, Willis Point in Van Zandt County, Fate in Rockwall County, Farmers Branch in north Dallas County, Duncanville, Cedar Hill, near Mineola and near Southlake. No damage was reported. More than four inches of rain drenched Aledo in Parker County and Gunter in Grayson County.

Winds gusted to 60 miles an hour on Eagle Mountain Lake near Fort Worth. High winds on Lake Ray Hubbard east of Dallas overturned a small boat carrying a young Dallas couple. The couple was rescued.

compatible with today's inflation economy. Democratic Gov. Calvin L. Rampton of Utah says he hopes to see the time "when the property tax would be phased out entirely for all forms of government, and I mean entirely, gone."

In the prepared text of today's keynote speech at the 67th National Governor's Conference, Rampton called for "restructuring our tax sources at all levels of government so that each level on its own will have adequate sources of revenue."

At a news conference Sunday, Rampton said the federal government has virtually preempted the only viable alternative, the income tax, while local government is locked into a rigid property tax structure or handouts from the state and federal levels.

Rampton said state legislatures should relax restrictions on local income and sales taxes and predicted taxpayers would support the change "if they could get a tradeoff with the property tax."

Rampton conceded that the kind of tax restructuring needed would be difficult and take some time.

"I would not expect to see the whole thing I have in mind accomplished in less than two decades," he said. "But I would like to see the time come . . . when the property tax would be phased out entirely for all forms of government, and I mean entirely, gone."

In his speech he said: "The problems of revising our tax structure, difficult as they may be, are not nearly as great as the problems which are going to continue to face all units of local government in attempting to supply services in an inflationary period from their present tax sources."

German Trains Collide, Killing At Least 36

MUNICH, West Germany (AP) — A police spokesman today reported 36 persons killed and 88 injured in the head-on collision of two passenger trains in the Alpine foothills south of Munich.

It was West Germany's worst train wreck in four years.

Earlier today the police said the toll had risen to 42 dead. But later a spokesman said this incorrect report was due to confusion over the number of persons who had died in hospitals.

So far, no Americans were among the identified victims.

"The cars piled up on each other, and the locomotives were telescoped," a police spokesman said. "It's a terrible scene that recalls the wreckage after World War II bombings."

The two commuter trains were filled with passengers returning from weekend outings. They slammed into each other about 6:45 p.m. Sunday on a single-track stretch of the Munich-Bad Toelz line 30 miles from Munich between the villages of Wargau and Schafflach.

A detachment of U.S. Army Special Forces troops, the Green Berets, is stationed at Bad Toelz.

No immediate information on the identities of the dead and wounded was available.

The collision occurred several hundred yards south of the Wargau station. A police spokesman said the southbound train failed to stop on a siding at Wargau to let the northbound train go by. The northbound train from the mountains was a special that runs on Sundays and holidays while the southbound train runs every day.

Federal Transport Minister Kurt Gscheide went to Wargau early today to take charge of the investigation. The wreck was also being investigated by the Bavarian state police and the state prosecutor, who was studying the recordings of the radio traffic with the trains.

The collision occurred on a curve adjacent to a forest section which apparently prevented each engineer from seeing the other train in time to brake the trains. But a spokesman said the determination of what happened would be difficult because one engineer was killed and the other one was missing and believed dead.

The two locomotives smashed into each other at full speed.

"The cars piled up over each other," said a police spokesman. "Many persons were trapped inside, injured or dead."

"I could hear cries for help from people trapped in the wreckage," said a villager.

It was one of the most beautiful days in months, and the highways were jammed with holidaymakers returning from the mountains. As a result, ambulances were delayed by traffic, and 10 helicopters took most of the injured to Munich.

Hundreds of firemen, policemen, troops and government technical men worked through the night to remove the survivors and the dead from the wreckage.

The bodies were taken to the Wargau church, and the police began trying to identify them. Anxious persons swamped the police, the Red Cross and other agencies with telephone calls about friends and relatives they feared were aboard the trains.

West Germany's worst post-war train wreck occurred in May 1971 when a train hit a bus in the Ruhr industrial area and 46 persons were killed. Most victims were schoolchildren returning from an outing.

Mrs. Prichard were fifth with 335.

Mrs. Thelma MacWhorter and Steve Lawrence, both of El Paso, came in sixth with 330.5.

In the Open Pairs consolation, John S. Gordon and James E. Krenkorian, both of Big Spring, were first with 199. Taking second were Mr. and Mrs. John Burns of El Paso with 196.5, and in third place were Ken Wilson of Lubbock and Clyde Mace of Plainview with 182.5.

Mrs. Allison and Mrs. Smith won the Unmixed Pairs event Friday, with Mrs. W. D. Maxwell and Mrs. Wilma Brumfield, both of Odessa, second.

The Master's Pairs was won Friday by Mrs. Poole and Mrs. Payne, with second going to Mrs. J. C. Grenhaw of Lenora and Mrs. Bill Dillon of Midland, and to Mrs. Beverly McMillen and Elbert Hall of Abilene.

Saturday Morning, Mrs. Gloria Crites and Mrs. J. L. Smith, both of Midland, won the Alice McDaniel Memorial Game.

The three-day tournament, sponsored by the Permian Basin Duplicate Bridge Club and Unit

200 of the American Contract Bridge League, was played at Ranchland Hill Country Club.

South had a good hand, well worth his opening bid of one spade. He could expect to reach game with a little help from his partner.

Once North failed to respond, however, it was clear that North had a terrible hand. But South had fallen in love with his hand. When East bid two hearts, which — incidentally — couldn't be made, South tried one more bid.

This was all West needed. He had been hoping to defend against one spade and was even better pleased to get a crack at two spades.

No Medals
South had to play the hand rather well to get five tricks, but he got no medals for paying out 800 pounds when he should have been on the collecting end.

This is a fairly common situation, well worth a moment's study. When you have balanced distribution — no singleton, no void suit — stay out of the auction after your partner passes your opening bid.

You can afford to rebid only if you have great strength and a second suit worth showing.

Revolutionary Chic: Racy Necklines, Flared Bells Out

SAIGON — Plunging necklines and flared bell-bottomed trousers are not being worn this year by the fashion-conscious revolutionary woman in South Vietnam, a women's magazine announced here.

Phy Nu, the monthly magazine of the association of liberated women of Saigon, published two sketches showing what and what not to wear. Out go sunglasses perched nonchalantly on the forehead.

Out, too, are bouffant hairdos, low-cut flowery hippie-inspired blouses showing more cleavage than is now deemed proper, broad belts with gaudy buckles, bell-bottomed blue jeans and calf-length boots.

Instead, the properly dressed revolutionary wears her hair straight and carefully combed, a traditional Vietnamese "ao dai" tunic split at the waist and descending half-way down the calf (a trifle longer than the length now in fashion in Saigon). Vietnamese trousers made of silk or black cotton and simple shoes, the magazine affirmed.

The problem of revolutionary chic was raised in Phy Nu's very first issue when it replied to the evidently anxious question from a woman who asked whether it was true that the revolutionary government forbade women to use cosmetics or dress elegantly.

"Women should be beautiful, sister," the worried reader was told. "The greater the successes of the revolution, the more beautiful women will be."

"If we can no longer afford to stuff ourselves with food or put on magnificent clothes, it is because our country is poor and we must live modestly the better to enrich it."

Accused Wife-Killer Held At Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas business executive charged with killing his wife and putting her body in a freezer at his company's warehouse was returned to Dallas from Marietta, Ga., in his own car by Dallas detectives Sunday.

Arvind S. Patel, 39, president of Arvind Electric Co. of Dallas, was arrested in Marietta Friday after company employees discovered the body of Sumitra Patel, 38, Thursday.

His children, who were with him when he was arrested, were flown to Dallas Saturday night in the custody of a Dallas juvenile officer. Patel had been denied a ticket by an airline, forcing officers to return him to Dallas by car.

The two children, Anjan, 12, and Nehal, 9, reportedly were unaware of their mother's death or their father's arrest. They stayed with family friends Sunday.

Mrs. Patel's body was discovered wrapped in a blood-stained bedspread, tied with rope and cord, in a bound and locked freezer in one of her husband's warehouses.

Mrs. Patel, who was suing her husband for divorce, was reported missing since last month. Her disappearance coincided with a scheduled divorce hearing May 2, police said.

Patel returned to Dallas under a $250,000 bond for first-degree murder.

The Old Corporate Temptation Remains

By ROWLAND EVANS And ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — When Washington agents of big business received a May 14 plea for corporate political contributions...

Evans Novak out April 25 to a broad-based mailing list.

Temptation reared its head at a March 12 fund-raising cocktail party given by the Forum (featuring Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and labor leader Leonard Woodcock).

The new, May 14 letter, to be sent to some 70 Washington-based corporate representatives, was mailed with this paragraph added to the April 25 letter:

The Forum now apologizes for that (though only after we called it to the Senators' attention). But the broader question remains of receiving corporate contributions for a frankly partisan project...

CONNALLY VS. BENTSEN John B. Connally, riding a wave of amazing popularity back home in Texas, is being pressured to be the Republican challenger next year for the Senate seat held by his former political ally and now estranged friend, Democratic Sen. Lloyd Bentsen.

If he does reverse his present inclination against running, Connally would be heavily favored over Bentsen — completing a story drenched in irony. Only a few months ago, Bentsen was riding high as a sure shot for Senate reelection and a Democratic presidential contender.

Republican leaders in Dallas pushed a Senate race hard with Connally when he returned as a hero to Texas after a jury here on April 17 found him innocent of bribery and conspiracy charges.

Bentsen's successful longshot campaign for the Senate in 1970 was engineered by old friend Connally, then still a Democrat, and his powerful political apparatus. But the indictment against Connally by the special Watergate prosecutor ended that partnership and intimate friendship.

Connally's post-acquittal return to Texas amazed politicians there. When he appeared unannounced at the World Tennis matches in Dallas May 9, he received a standing ovation. The same thing happened when he showed up in the State House of Representatives for the formal unveiling of the proposed new state constitution.

But Connally's sights may be set higher than the U.S. Senate. He tells intimates he is interested in being President, but feels neither political party today speaks for the great mass of Americans, and talks vaguely about a "third" force in politics.

To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven: Ecc. 3:1

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON WASHINGTON — Probably nowhere under the American flag is clamor louder than on Capitol Hill for clean, honest government.

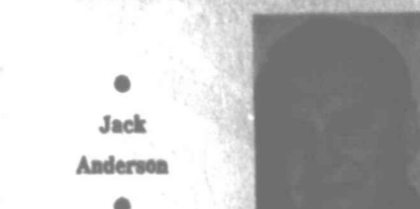

Yet most members of Congress are inclined still to embrace the form rather than the substance of ethical conduct. Evidence of congressional wrongdoing is solemnly delivered to the Senate and House ethics committees, which are equipped with handy rugs suitable for sweeping dirt under.

Both committees were formed as an act of public penitence after Congress was scorched by scandal in the 1960s. With a great outpouring of piety, each house also adopted its own code of conduct. The lofty language, however, was merely the incense that disguised the smell.

For the new standards — in the name of ethics — legitimized practices that previously had been considered unethical. The Senate, for example, gave its blessing to "slush funds" of the sort that Richard Nixon had made notorious. The majority solemnly voted that it would be entirely ethical thereafter for senators to solicit money from the special interests to pay their Senate expenses.

And the special committees, which were supposed to uphold ethics on Capitol Hill, concentrated instead on identifying and isolating congressional misconduct before the public found out about it. Occasionally the wrongdoing was corrected. More often it was condoned. But the main effort usually was to cover it up.

Since the Watergate reforms, we have cited at least two legislators whose misdeeds should have aroused the interest of the ethics committees. Last November, for example, we reported that federal auditors had turned up "at least 30 apparent violations of the campaign laws" by Rep. George Hansen, R-Idaho.

He pleaded guilty to two misdemeanors on February 19, thereby preventing the sordid details from being spread upon the court record. From the federal investigative files, however, we now can reveal the key charges that would have been made against him if he had gone to trial.

Hansen allegedly received at least 21 corporate checks, an outright violation of the campaign laws. The name of the firm was clearly imprinted on each check, including the abbreviation "Inc." Nine of the checks were made out to Hansen personally. Yet he assured the House Administration Committee: "I have not knowingly accepted corporation funds."

A federal audit report states that one of Hansen's secret campaign committees, called "Partners in Congress," opened account number 240065-81 in the Bank of Idaho. "Two corporate checks can be traced directly to this account," states the audit. "Mr. Hansen had sole control over this account."

The House clerk reported to the Justice Department that Hansen "made part of the huge cash flow from the federal government. Other billions are dispensed to layers of law, consultant and supplier firms in the area. The federal printing bill alone would astound you.

This city has become the locus for satellite systems thriving on big government. The Metropolitan Board of Trade proudly announces that only six years ago Washington trailed several other large cities in the number of trade and professional associations represented here. But now, their number has tripled, and Washington is ahead of New York City and is the new champ in the association business.

These firms deal in influence and communication, meaning they make sure their clients don't get shorted by Congress or the federal treasury. Their operatives are equipped with ready smiles, expense accounts, stout bladders and credit cards. Restaurateurs love them all like brothers. Labor skates of unionism and other uplift pleaders also know where the high-price restaurants are.

The blizzard of federal bucks settles on the non-government populace, bringing it the good life, too, thanks to Pismo Beach. The big law firms coin money. So do realtors, merchants and developers. Washington can always boast that at least two of its suburban counties are among the 10 richest in the republic in terms of household income. The school systems wallow in money. And the often plighted District of Columbia does not want for bucks, either; indeed, in many ways it is still Congress' favorite plantation.

Who is godfather to this affluence, in this dependence on the tax bucks of sweating citizenry in fresh and saltwater provinces? Why, it's Congress,

Safe Bike Driving

Bicycles are seen in ever-increasing numbers these warm days as riders pedal their vehicles over streets, highways and byways.

The Bicycle Manufacturers Association of America, Inc., and others are interested in keeping them pedaling along in safety.

The association, in line with its interest, has issued the following Suggested Safe Bike Driving Rules:

- 1. Obey all applicable traffic regulations, signs, signals and markings. 2. Observe all local ordinances pertaining to bicycle operation. 3. Keep right, drive WITH traffic, not against it. Drive single file. 4. Watch out for drain grates, soft shoulders and other road surface hazards.

5. Watch out for car doors opening, or for cars pulling out into traffic.

6. Don't carry passengers or packages that interfere with your vision or control.

7. Never hitch a ride on a truck or other vehicle.

8. Be extremely careful at all intersections, particularly when making a left turn.

9. Use hand signals to indicate turning or stopping.

10. Protect yourself at night with required reflectors and lights.

11. Drive a safe bike. Have it inspected to ensure good mechanical condition.

12. Drive your bike defensively; watch out for the other guy. And keep right on rolling along.

Food Stamps For All?

Several million more Americans will become eligible on July 1 to receive a subsidy payment in the form of food stamps, under revised Department of Agriculture guidelines.

The maximum income eligibility level, it is reported, rises from $513 to $540 a month, and the value of the food stamp allotment for a family of four will be increased from $154 to $162 a month.

It has been pointed out that the food stamp eligibility figure of $540 a month is net income, equivalent to $765 a month gross income.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics says the average American family of four has a gross monthly income of $985 and spends $170 of that for food.

The average family, then, is spending only $8 more on food than the government will be providing an estimated 20 million food stamp recipients, beginning the first of next month.

Oklahoma City's Daily Oklahoman, in pointing out that the nation has moved very close to putting the average American family on welfare, said that when more than half of those persons eligible for food stamps are above the poverty level, "something is clearly wrong with the food stamp program. What began as a program to help only the truly needy has expanded beyond all reason."

This really is traveling down the road to a total welfare state.

THE BIBLE

Can you quote it? By LAVINA ROSS FOWLER

1. The relationship between Yahweh (God) and Israel started with Abraham and other sons of Israel. The growth of this faith and an historical summary is found in Judges 5. This song is sung by a man and a woman. Name them.

3. "I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but —" Amos 8:11

4. At what event did Sarah become so angry with Hagar and Ishmael? Genesis 21:9

Four correct ... excellent. Three correct ... good.

NICK THIMMESCH—

Washington, D.C.: Where The Affluence Is

WASHINGTON — This city and its spreading metropolitan area live off the fat of the land. When the nation is afflicted with the Day of the Locust, Washington frets and pontificates but never suffers. Washington exacts its tribute from the citizenry and returns an avalanche of words and paper. This is a city of shadows and reflections, not substance or reality.

Nick Timmesch

Detroit groans under heavy recession. New York City loses confidence in itself because of its bum credit rating. Other great urban centers worry about the economy's shabby edges and hope for that upturn. But Washington whirrs on, turning out its national services and enjoying the greatest prosperity in the Republic.

Congressmen burp while lamenting the condition of the poor. Pundits and editors shake righteous fingers at Boston's ethnics over school busing and send their own children to private palefaced schools. Sleek gentlemen and well-coiffed madames buzz over the latest crops of bloodletting but don't miss the hor d'oeuvres trays at pristine embassy parties.

The bars, restaurants, bistros and theaters overflow with big spenders. Realtors lick their chops over the continued transient flow. It's hard to get help, and it's hard to get through the help-wanted sections, they are so long. Rudeness is boldly manifest at the jammed-up shopping centers. Gasoline gushes into millions of cars here like beer flowing on Friday night in Pittsburgh. Great speeches on conserving fuel and keeping the air clean, but why are those service stations so crowded and how come more people don't ride the bus? What's Congress doing, setting up more parking lots for its swelling staffs? Isn't this a liberal-reform Congress?

Ah, Washington saunters and mindlessly accepts its affluence. The money is coming here from somewhere. Could it be Buffalo, Greensboro, Little Rock, Dubuque, Wichita or Pismo Beach? No worry. The tax money is collected and flows here like electric current.

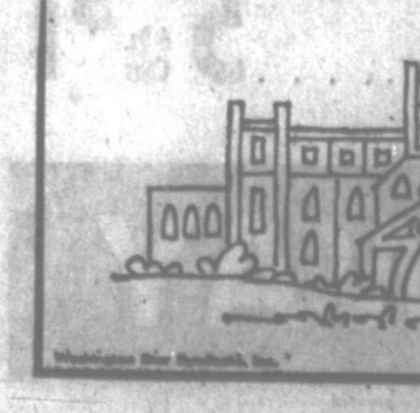

Per capita income here is 29 per cent above the national average. The national average pay for federal employees is $13,000 per year, but the Washington area average is now close to $16,000. Both figures are substantially higher than for comparable employment in the private sector.

The $46,000 federal employees in this area are paid more than $5.5 billion a year, plus the most generous benefits in Christendom. Some 63,000 military personnel drew close to another $800 million in paychecks annually. And metropolitan Washington has one of the country's largest pensionary populations; there are an estimated 70,000 people here getting generous pensions as retired federal employees. There are even more on private pensions.

There are some retired federal executives (whose last salaries were $38,000) who actually draw more in pension payments than they did while they were working. Their number is small, but the windfall is big, due to cost-of-living increases.

But salaries and pensions are only

Market conditions: The stock market settled back a bit today in a continuation of last week's hesitant, inconclusive trend. The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 1.87 at 237.77, and losers held a 6-5 lead over gainers in quiet trading on the New York Stock Exchange. More than a dozen major banks across the country cut their prime interest rates this morning from 7 1/4 to 7 per cent, but the reductions set off only a brief flurry of buying at the opening. Prices then turned back amid some apparent continuing uncertainty over the prospective speed and strength of the widely predicted economic recovery. G. D. Searle was the Big Board volume leader, down 1 1/2 at 17 1/2 after a 4 1/2 slide last week blamed on concern over sales prospects of two major drugs which are due for a toxicity review by a government committee.

Stock Market Continues Last Week's Hesitant Trend

The stock market settled back a bit today in a continuation of last week's hesitant, inconclusive trend. The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 1.87 at 237.77, and losers held a 6-5 lead over gainers in quiet trading on the New York Stock Exchange. More than a dozen major banks across the country cut their prime interest rates this morning from 7 1/4 to 7 per cent, but the reductions set off only a brief flurry of buying at the opening. Prices then turned back amid some apparent continuing uncertainty over the prospective speed and strength of the widely predicted economic recovery. G. D. Searle was the Big Board volume leader, down 1 1/2 at 17 1/2 after a 4 1/2 slide last week blamed on concern over sales prospects of two major drugs which are due for a toxicity review by a government committee.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index slipped .65 to 99.66. News of Belgium's selection of "General Dynamics" F16 fighter jet over a French competitor sparked interest in several issues. General Dynamics shares still had not traded by noon. United Technologies, whose Pratt & Whitney Aircraft subsidiary designed the engine for the plane, was up 2 1/2 at 50 1/2. And United Aircraft Products, which said it expected to benefit from the F16 contract, jumped 3 1/4 to 11 1/2 on the Amex.

The NYSE's composite index of more than 1,500 common stocks dipped .21 to 48.98.

Hanoi Citizens Told To Prepare For Reunification Of Country

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — North Vietnam's National Assembly has called on the people of Hanoi to make preparations for the day when North and South Vietnam are unified and their city is the capital. The National Assembly hopes that people in Hanoi will develop the revolutionary tradition to establish Hanoi as the capital of the entire country, said a statement by the assembly broadcast Sunday. "The people in the capital are on the threshold of a new history which requires new efforts in response to the heavier and larger necessities in order to fulfill our responsibilities toward South Vietnam and Saigon."

The broadcast gave no target date for unification. Saigon radio reported that a number of Roman Catholic and Buddhist chaplains of the former South Vietnamese army had failed to register with the new government. They were given three days to report.

U.S. Denies Bombing During Saigon Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials have denied a report that American warplanes conducted heavy bombing raids in South Vietnam during the evacuation of Saigon. "They were evidently intended to demonstrate conclusively to Hanoi that the United States lacked neither the will nor the strength to protect the evacuation," the report said.

Joseph Latta, assistant secretary of defense, also denied the report. He said reports received by the Pentagon indicated that U.S. planes dropped two bombs during the evacuation operation — one on an anti-aircraft site near Saigon and the other at a similar installation about 50 miles away.

Refugee Processing Program Termed 'Shambles' By Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — A significant number of Indochinese refugees probably will remain in resettlement camps for more than six months and perhaps a year, says a Senate report that calls the processing program a "shambles."

In a sharp criticism of the administration's efforts to resettle 131,000 refugees, the report said: "What should have been an orderly, expeditious and relatively straightforward procedure for processing Indochinese refugees has turned into a nightmare for officials and refugees alike."

The report was issued Sunday by the Senate subcommittee on refugees. Chairman Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said that "drift and confusion mark the President's program and the activities of the interagency Task Force and because of this, the resettlement program is scarcely off the ground."

Catholic Priest Kills Teen-Aged Prowler In Rectory

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest shot and killed a teen-ager who allegedly lunged at him after breaching into the rectory of the Mother of Sorrow Church, detectives say.

Blaine Kidder, 19, of McKees Rocks, was dead on arrival at Ohio Valley Hospital at 1:05 a.m. Sunday of a bullet wound of the heart.

Allentown County Detective Capt. Robert Meinert said the Rev. Ralph Esposito called Stowe Township police at 12:45 a.m. to report a prowler in the rectory on Harlem Avenue.

After calling police, Meinert said, the priest heard a noise in the rectory basement and went to his second floor bedroom to await police.

Meinert said the priest told police that as a precaution he armed himself with a .22-caliber rifle which he had in his bedroom.

The priest told detectives that a short time later he heard footsteps on the staircase. He said that as he opened the door the young man lunged at him and that the gun fired.

Meinert said there was evidence of forcible entry and damage on the first floor.

No charges were brought against the priest pending an inquest later this week.

Soviet Sub Close To East Coast

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Soviet missile-firing submarine has been detected operating closer to the U.S. East Coast than ever before.

Pentagon officials are puzzled why the Russian command sent a Y-class nuclear-powered submarine to cruise within 350 miles of Cape Cod, Mass., and later about the same distance off Norfolk, Va., last week.

This is about 1,000 miles closer to the United States than Soviet Y-class subs normally patrol in the Atlantic.

Although there is no sign of any hostile intent, the recent track of the Soviet submarine would bring much more of this country within the 1,300-mile to 1,600-mile range of missiles carried in Y-class boats.

Intelligence analysts speculate that the appearance of the submarine in the new area could foreshadow a change in the patrol pattern of Soviet missile craft.

Or, they say the Russians could be trying to draw a reaction from the U.S. Navy to learn more about the effectiveness of U.S. methods and equipment in detecting the presence of submarines operating below the surface of the sea.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union are constantly at work attempting to improve techniques for concealing the locations of their missile-firing submarines.

Some years ago, the U.S. Navy learned that the Russians sometimes positioned attack submarines off ports like Charleston, S.C., Guam, and Holy Loch, Scotland. When U.S. Polaris missile submarines left those ports on 60-day submerged patrols, the Russian subs tried to follow.

On at least one such occasion, a Polaris sub and a Russian attack sub are reported to have bumped off Holy Loch. Neither sub was badly damaged and sources said they went their separate ways afterwards.

The U.S. Navy has developed a number of ploys aimed at foiling Soviet efforts to keep track of the Polaris subs. Details of these ploys are kept secret.

It was not known how close U.S. subs come to the Russian coast.

But Pentagon officials confirmed last month that U.S. submarines spy on the Soviet Union and collect data on Russian communications and military installations.

Getty's Grandson Arrested For Theft

Three Children Die In Fire

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Three children died in a fire here when a candle set fire to a home in which the electricity had been cut off. Eight other persons escaped.

Anna Mae Johnson, who has been out of work since January, said she was using the candle as a night light since her electricity had been cut off for nonpayment of a $46 bill. The candle had been placed on a fireplace to provide some light for her eight children and two grandchildren who share her home.

When the fire broke out early Sunday, Mrs. Johnson jumped from a second-story window, then hid her 17-year-old daughter, Vera Ann, and Mrs. Johnson's month-old granddaughter to her. Four of Mrs. Johnson's children and a year-old grandson also escaped safely. The six were hospitalized in satisfactory condition.

But three other children, Lashon, 1, Gloria, 2, and Michael, 5, were trapped inside a back bedroom directly above the fire.

Mrs. Johnson said she has not worked since being laid off from a Kansas City hotel in January. She said representatives of the Kansas City Power & Light Co. turned off electricity Saturday morning after saying she had not paid a $46 electricity bill.

Utility company spokesman Don Landes said part of the bill ran back to December.

"The last thing we want to do is cut anybody off," Landes said. "We generally let the customer (who is behind in payments) establish a payment plan and then we expect them to stick to it."

He said she had failed to live up to the agreement and had not made a payment since May 8.

France Confirms Recent N-Test In South Pacific

PARIS (AP) — France confirmed today it had triggered an underground nuclear explosion in the South Pacific last week.

Australian Prime Minister Gough Whitlam said Sunday night that Australia had reason to believe that an underground nuclear test had been carried out on Fangataufa atoll June 6.

France said the test was conducted June 5.

In view of strong protests from Australia, New Zealand and elsewhere, France has refused in recent years to confirm reports from other governments on atmospheric tests. With the protests stilled as the tests went underground, French officials apparently decided to follow a more liberal information policy.

President Valery Giscard d'Estaing announced last year that starting in 1975 French tests would be underground.

A Defense Ministry communiqué said of the latest test: "The complete success of this experiment, coming less than a year after this decision, confirms that France has the capacity to carry out experiments for perfecting nuclear armament under technical and security conditions equivalent to those of other nuclear powers."

Laos Said Ready To Reverse Opium Control Policies

The Los Angeles Times VIENTIANE — Reversing itself after four years of American-promoted efforts to ban opium, the Laotian government is moving to legalize the drug's cultivation and use.

The move reflects the United States' loss of influence in this mountain kingdom. The U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID), which is in the process of withdrawing from Laos following countryside demonstrations last month against its presence, was deeply involved in a campaign to stop cultivation and international distribution of Laotian opium.

The move also is part of an effort by the Communist Pathet Lao, which in the last month has gained virtually full control over Laos' coalition government, to placate the country's hill tribesmen. Opium has been the main cash crop of many of these tribes.

Late last month a committee of a government advisory body called the Joint National Political Council recommended legalization of opium cultivation and consumption, liberation of all people imprisoned for narcotics violations and establishment of an agency to oversee legal distribution of Laotian opium outside the country.

The full council must still approve the recommendations and pass them on to the government for a final decision. But the council committee's recommendations are considered a good indication of Pathet Lao thinking on the subject, and approval is thought highly probable.

If approved, the recommendations would erase a 1971 law banning cultivation and use of opium.

Thunderstorms Roam Great Plains

By The Associated Press
Thunderstorms persisted today through the Plains states and Mississippi River Valley, with the heaviest storms ranging from southern Utah to the lower Mississippi Valley.

Flash flood watches and warnings were common from Texas to Kansas and eastward into Louisiana.

The heaviest, although unofficial, rainfall was up to seven inches in southeastern Kansas. The official measure for Topeka was 1.39 inches.

Rainshowers also dotted the northern Rockies and were scattered along the northern and southern Atlantic coasts and the central Gulf of Mexico coast.

Cold air slipped into the northeastern corner of the nation where temperatures dipped into the freezing range.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 32 at Houlton, Maine, to 87 at Phoenix, Ariz.

Man Acquitted Despite Confession

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "I can't believe it," a shocked Judge Dominick Olivito said after a common pleas court jury acquitted a defendant who had confessed his guilt from the witness stand.

B. L. Kenley, 29, of Columbus, admitted in his testimony that he took 10 pairs of pants from a clothing store March 11. But he denied he stole more than 30 pairs, as claimed by the store manager.

Olivito instructed the jurors that if they found Kenley guilty they had to determine whether the value of the clothing was more or less than $150, the dividing line between grand theft and petit theft.

Big Mac To Be Served Up To New York Leaders Today

NEW YORK (AP) — City Council leaders and members of the Board of Estimate today were to be presented with the finished blueprint for the state's Municipal Assistance Corp., which is intended to help with $3 billion of the city's short-term debt by converting it to long-term bonds.

During a meeting Sunday night at Gracie Mansion, Mayor Abraham D. Beame and Gov. Hugh L. Carey said they hoped the proposal for Big Mac, as Carey dubbed the corporation, would be ready for passage by the state legislature today.

Aides to Senate Republicans in Albany said unless the final proposal included acceptable limitations on the city's short-term borrowing, the Republican majority in the Senate would approve its own version of Big Mac.

Officials in Albany and New York said broker Felix G. Rohatyn, of Lazard Freres, a brokerage house, was right when he warned Beame: "If Big Mac is not in operation by Monday, you're finished."

Rohatyn is one of the four men appointed by Carey to draw up the plans for the corporation.

Carey's group had tried to reconcile concerns about the erosion of home rule with the demands of the bankers and Republican legislative leaders that their investment in the corporation be protected from a quick recurrence of the city's money problems.

The city is due to pay off $700 million in notes Wednesday. There were fears that without Big Mac to restore investor confidence, the city would have to default. Financial sources say a consortium of the city's major clearing-house banks, their names not disclosed, have agreed to give the city a "bridge" loan to pay the debt provided a satisfactory version of Big Mac is passed.

Bright, Wallis Pace Moore, Cubs Over Diablos, 9-5

Bill Bright, left, and Joe Wallis set bat pace for Cubs' 9-5 Midland win over El Paso Diablos Sunday at Cubs Stadium

BY TED BATTLES

When Midland and El Paso play, the script usually calls for lots of hits and runs, which is just what a vibrant, pulsating Little League Night crowd of 1,200 got at Cubs Stadium Sunday night.

El Paso jumped to a 5-1 lead in the fourth, but the Cubs rallied to win the Texas League slugfest, 9-5, to take a 3-1 lead in the current series.

Midland turned the tide with a five-run fifth to seize a 7-5 lead as Bill Bright and Joe Wallis delivered pressure-packed two-out doubles to plate four runs during the uprising.

Jose "Pepi" Ortiz poked a two-run breathing room homer in the sixth to make it 9-5.

Williams elected to pitch to Bright, who had doubled and singled previously, even though first was open.

Bright responded with a double into the left field corner off Tom Whiteley to make it 5-4 and then recored to third as Whiteley uncorked his third wild pitch while walking Al Montreuil and Mike Sember.

Ashford's liner to center, a routine single, skipped over Wallis' head in center, rolling to the fence for a three-run triple.

In the fourth, Lawrence Rush homered and Machermer came around after a walk, stolen base, wild pitch and passed ball to make it 5-1.

More trouble loomed for Moore when Paul Dade led off the fifth with a triple, but Moore got Butch Alberts on strikes and then a move by Manager Doc Edwards perhaps saved the game.

who promptly scooted into a shortstop Mike Sember-launched double play.

Moore actually pitched a better game than those five runs indicated, whiffing 13 before he required help in the eighth from lefty Dave Geisel.

By the time Edwards wrapped both arms around Donnie's neck and pried him from mound after two eighth-inning singles, he had thrown a lot of pitches, walking eight to go along with eight hits, so he was working under constant pressure.

Geisel wrapped it up by getting Marty Friedman to hit a double play ball to Sember and then coasted through the ninth.

CUB BRIEFS

Corder To Face Diablos Tonight

CUB BRIEFS — Dan Corder, 1-3, goes for the Midland Cubs in tonight's 7:45 Texas League game against El Paso at Cubs Stadium. Randy Smith, 15-6 at Salinas in the California League last year, will go for his fourth win in six decisions for the Diablos.

In the dugout Sunday night, Steve Clancy, former University of Texas catcher, was recalling the year the Longhorns met USC in the final game of the College World Series at Omaha. "We had it won with a fly ball to right for the last out. Everybody was heading off the field, whooping it up. The ball was dropped and Lynn, the next batter, hit a homer to win it."

Diablos centerfielder Marty Friedman just joined El Paso from Salt Lake City, despite a .330 Pacific Coast League average, because the Diablos were hurting for able-bodied fly-hawks. Tonight will be Gillette All-Star ballot night with every adult ticket-purchaser getting a razor.

TEXAS LEAGUE—

Caps Beat Brewers, 6-3

By The Associated Press

Harry Safertight and Jimmy Sexton doubled to bring Shreveport from behind to win 6-3 over San Antonio Sunday night in Texas League action.

Sexton also stole his 22nd and 23rd bases of the season. San Antonio had forged ahead 3-0 in the fifth on a double by Orlando Gonzales and a single by Mike Krizanich.

The Captains evened it in the fifth and went ahead in the sixth when Frank Gurdiner scored on a wild pitch. Safertight knocked in another run with a single.

Tim Jones was the winner while reliever Gerry Weese absorbed the loss.

In other league play, Midland beat El Paso 9-5, Arkansas shut out Lafayette 2-0 and Alexandria at Jackson was postponed due to wet grounds.

A triple by Jay Schleuter knocked in Doug Clary in Arkansas' win over Lafayette.

Clary had doubled. Leon Lee closed out the scoring with a solo homer in the seventh. Steve Waterbury picked up the win and is 4-3 while Dave Fuqua is still winless in five starts.

College Series Junkies Ratings

Who Are They And What Does THSCA Want?

Like a scene from Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid, "Who are these people? Where did they come from? And what do they want?"

The reference, of course, is the Texas High School Coaches' Assn. appearance in the Tall City to look into possible football violations by Midland Lee.

Since the District 5-4A Executive Committee had already put Lee on probation for a year, what is the purpose of the Coaches' double check?

Do the Coaches feel there was a shoddy investigative job, does it expect to uncover other violations in addition to the April 22 incident for which Lee was penalized or is it on a rubber stamp mission?

For some reason, we never knew the THSCA possessed an investigative arm. It was always presumed somehow that it operated in conjunction with the UIL and not as a separate entity.

Since Abilene Cooper, football coach Ray Overton is in charge of probes in the West Texas area, the Cougar coach was contacted for enlightenment.

The way Ray explained it, the visit here was not necessarily what it seemed.

"The coaches are just trying to make our own coaches aware," Overton began. "We try to make our reports separate from the UIL. We don't want to get a school on probation or a coach fired or anything else."

"The thing that happened on Midland Lee is that the UIL contacted us and told us about what it was doing. Then we assigned, as usual, two directors to go and investigate the situation."

"Our first objective is to protect the coach from unfair allegations," Overton said. "Sometimes fans or parents are unhappy or disgruntled and will accuse a coach of many things that are not true."

Overton added, "Then, of course, if a coach is doing something against the UIL rules, we want to try to get the word to him so he can correct it and get his house in order. This is our purpose. We are not a police agent or a group that wants to go out and hurt somebody."

Overton said, "We do feel it's important for all the coaches to live by the rules, because if they don't it is going to cause all the schools to lose privileges, like the time when we couldn't have football in the sixth period."

The THSCA sent two directors to talk to Lee Coach Jim Acree, Midland Schools Athletic Director Tugboat Jones and "probably the principal." Overton pointed out no report has been "turned in to me at all yet."

When it is, Overton explained, "Our procedure is to try to stay in line with the UIL. For example, if someone does something to get their team kicked out of the league, then we should suspend the coach for the same length of time. We are not trying to police, but rather we are trying to protect what we have and help the coach. A lot of times they do things without being aware that it is a violation."

Overton said he should receive some sort of report soon, but it wouldn't be presented to the Assn. board that rules on such matters until August.

Arizona State Nips UT; No. 1 Florida State Falls

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — So much for college baseball polls. Seton Hall and Arizona State proved that rankings don't mean much when it comes to the College World Series.

"This is really a great ball club, I am just sorry we did not show it to the people here," summed up Florida State Coach Woody Woodward after his top-rated team was eliminated Sunday 11-0 by Seton Hall.

Well, what about No. 2? That would be Texas, and the Longhorns also were on the wrong end, losing 5-2 to Arizona State but remaining alive in the double-elimination tournament that is down to six teams.

Gamecocks Win Fourth-ranked South Carolina recouped a little prestige for the ratings compiled by the newspaper "College Baseball," by topping upstart Eastern Michigan 5-1 in a game called in the sixth inning because of rain.

The only unbeatens—Arizona State, 40-11, and South Carolina, 49-4—battled Tuesday night, Texas, 53-6, tests Seton Hall, 33-9, and Oklahoma, 51-9, plays Eastern Michigan, 37-19, in elimination game tonight.

"It was a fantastic season for us, but we certainly did not let the people of Omaha know the kind of team we had," added Woodward, whose team was surprised 2-1 in 10 innings Saturday night by Eastern Michigan and finished 49-30.

"We didn't even show them we knew how to play. We are not proud of the way we performed here, but I am proud of the way we played all season."

Seton Hall, playing only hours after it had received word of the death of former Coach Owen Carroll, ripped five Florida State pitchers for 12 hits and coasted. Ricky Carone knocked in four runs including two with his 14th home run of the season, a 400-foot plus drive.

Classy Pitching South Carolina used a classy pitching performance by Greg Ward, 14-3, and three runs batted in by batterymate Greg Keasley to roll.

"We are looking forward to playing Arizona State—they're just a very impressive team," said South Carolina Coach Bob Richardson, the former Yankee standout.

He had high praise for Ward, who threw only 64 pitches and gave up two scattered singles. Eastern's only run was unearned.

"He was very sharp, throwing hard and had good control of his curve ball," he added. "But he's just a great competitor and I'm so happy he

Carner Wins In Breeze

Sets Sights On First $100,000 LPGA Season

PINE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — Veteran JoAnne Carner, who says she tends to "relax and make mistakes" when she has the lead, captured the top prize of $7,000 Sunday for her six-stroke victory in a $50,000 Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament.

Mrs. Carner, the leader throughout the three-day tourney, shot an even-par 73 Sunday on the All-American Golf and Country Club course to finish the 54-hole event with a 213 total, six under par.

"Relaxing with a lead is a flaw I'm trying to overcome," said Mrs. Carner Sunday. "I really wanted to go wire-to-wire here. When I birdied two of the first four holes, it surprised me, but I knew the pressure was off. I did make some mistakes on the back nine, but nobody was making a run at me."

Sandra Spuzick, who was trailing Mrs. Carner by four strokes going into Sunday's round, was only able to muster a 75 for a final 219 and the $5,200 second-place prize.

Carol Mann, the LPGA president, fired the day's only sub-par round, a 72, and tied for third with Sue Roberts, who scored to a 77. They received $3,230 each.

Mrs. Carner, the 1971 U.S.

Open Champion and five times U.S. Amateur champion, said that now she will be pointing her game toward the U.S. Open tournament July 17-20 at Atlantic City (N.J.) Country Club.

Her foremost goal, however, is to become the first woman to win $100,000 in a season. "Arnold Palmer was the first to do it among men and people remember it. It's always nice to be first in anything, but it's possible this year."

Her victory Sunday boosted her earnings this year to $31,918. Last year, Mrs. Carner, 36, of Lake Worth, Fla., set an LPGA earnings record of $97,094.

On the first nine, Sunday, she birdied two of the first four holes enroute to a 34. Although she jumped to a 39 on the back nine on the $200-yard course, her early performance had wrapped up the tourney.

Four women finished in a tie for fifth place with 223 total—Jane Blalock with a 74 on the final round, Amy Alcott and Jocelyne Bourassa, who each shot 76, and Sharon Miller, who carded a 77. They gained $1,850 each.

The season's leading money winner, Sandra Palmer, shot 74 for a 224 total and finished tied for ninth with Judy Rankin of Midland, Chako Higuchi of Japan and Betty Burfaint.

FINN PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — Five women are competing for the lead in the $50,000 LPGA golf tournament at the All-American Golf and Country Club.

Holtzman, Palmer Miss Bids For No-Hit, No-Run Games

Jim Palmer... one way to one-hitter

Rangers, Indians Divide Unslated Tripleheader

CLEVELAND (AP) — John Ellis' anticipation turned the scheduled doubleheader between the Cleveland Indians and the Texas Rangers into a tripleheader Sunday.

The Indians took the first game 3-2. Ellis hit a two-run homer in the Tribe's half of the ninth sending the second game into extra innings with the score tied 4-4. The Rangers finally won it 7-6 in the 17th.

"I was looking for an inside pitch and I got it," said Ellis of his home run shot.

The Rangers held a 6-4 lead going into the ninth inning on two-run homers by Jeff Burroughs and Jim Fregosi, a solo shot by Lenny Randle and Cesar Tovar's single which scored Jim Sundberg.

The Indians put four runs across the plate in the third on George Hendrick's three-run homer and Frank Duffy scored on a wild pitch.

"If (Jackie) Brown hadn't walked Duffy with a 3-2 count in the third inning, we would have won that game easily," said Texas Manager Billy Martin. "You just don't throw a curve ball to anybody with the count three-and-two when you have a three-run lead."

The Rangers won the game 7-3.

Larry Hsieh doubled to start Minnesota's six-run ninth inning that beat Boston and capped it with an RBI-single.

By The Associated Press
Oakland's Ken Holtzman was thinking about a no-hitter. He almost got one.

Baltimore's Jim Palmer wasn't thinking about a no-hitter... and he almost got one, too.

For Palmer, the thought of what might have been didn't really enter his mind until it was too late, well after Hal McRae's fourth-inning single, Kansas City's lone hit in Sunday's 1-0 loss to the Orioles.

But for Holtzman, the thought lingered on, as long as the dream of a no-hitter can go before it becomes a reality.

It lasted 8 2/3 innings. Actually it lasted more than that. It lasted until Detroit's Tom Veryzer was down to his last strike. Then, bang, it was all over with a booming double to center field that caught the wind and sailed about a foot beyond the glove of lunging Billy North.

So, with the dream of a third career no-hitter gone, Holtzman did what any good pitcher would do. He returned to the business of trying to win. And he did, striking out Roy LeFlore to end the game, and the A's trudged off the field with a 4-0 victory over the Tigers.

"I'm just thankful to get the win," said Holtzman, 35. "They've been hard to come by this year. I've already pitched two no-hitters and I never counted on throwing one. You've got to be terrifically lucky to get a no-hitter."

North took it a lot harder. "I wanted that no-hitter. I blame myself," he moaned. But if there was any forgiving to be done, Holtzman was ready to do it.

"When I hit the ball, I was sure it was an out," said Veryzer. Then, almost apologetically, he added: "I guess the no-hitter would have meant a lot more to him than the hit does to me."

Claudell Washington gave Holtzman all the hits he needed with his fifth and sixth homers of the season, a solo shot in the fifth inning and a three-run clout in the seventh.

Ray Floyd... missed putt on 14th

Eagle On Ninth Keys Floyd Win

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Coming into the ninth green in the Kemper Open, Ray Floyd stood 100 feet and six inches from victory on the pro golf tour.

It had been that long since his last victory, the 1968 PGA, and he had 100 feet of slick, rolling green to negotiate with his third shot on the 535-yard par five.

Floyd chipped an eight iron onto the green. It rolled over a low-lying stretch of grass, curved right and hopped into the hole for an eagle. The $50,000 Kemper prize was, from that moment, his to hold.

The eagle gave Floyd a two-stroke lead over South African Gary Player and enabled him to play cautiously down the stretch, using irons off the tees on the last four holes.

"From there it was just a process of knocking holes out of the way. I just struggled around," he said later.

Floyd, 32, said he didn't know the proper adjectives to describe his feeling after winning, "I've worked hard for a couple of years, applying myself to my game. It seemed like I was destined."

Floyd's final round 69 gave him a total of 278, three shots ahead of Player and John Mahaffey.

The ninth was also a good hole for Player, who has not yet won on the tour this year. He hit a delicate wedge over a sand trap to within four feet and holed the putt for a birdie.

But on the back nine, Player was frustrated by several putts that rimmed the cup and refused to fall. He bogeyed the 11th and 18th to finish with a 73.

That tied him with young Mahaffey, who started his round with a flock of birds, then coiled off on the back side and finished with a 70.

Player didn't speak to reporters after his round, but Mahaffey offered an unusual excuse for the putts he failed to hole.

"It's the white paint on the cups of the televised holes," he said. "I think it makes the hole hard and the putts go in and come out." On televised holes, cups are painted to make them easier to see.

Drivers Dispute Victory

MILWAUKEE (AP) — It wasn't the easiest $16,730 A. J. Foyt ever has earned, but he'll take it.

However, the racing veteran from Texas wouldn't be permitted the winner's share of the Rex Mays 150-mile race if Dan Gurney, Bobby Unser, Johnny Rutherford and Gordon Johncock had their way.

Foyt survived a disputed black flag, a challenge by Indianapolis 500 winner Unser and considerable post-race confusion Sunday to post his 51st swiftest victory in the Mays 150-miler before 34,082.

Passes Unser

Foyt overtook Unser on lap 129 of the mile oval and averaged 114.042 miles per hour to win his third Mays race and first since 1964. Unser was second, defending champion Rutherford third, Wally Dallenbach fourth and Mike Mosley fifth.

Gurney, Unser's team captain, thought Foyt had been penalized a full lap when he was black-flagged and that he therefore was running a lap behind the pack when he passed Unser on lap 129.

"We thought Foyt was un-lapping himself," Gurney said. "We would have raced differently if we thought Foyt was on the same lap."

Protest Filed

There was talk of an official protest, but none was filed.

The confusion began when the yellow caution flag went out on lap 54 after Mel Cornett spun on the north turn and was hit broadside by John Martin. Neither was injured, although their cars were damaged.

Foyt was black-flagged on lap 65 because, in the judgment of U.S. Auto Club officials, he passed Roger McCluskey just before the green flag went back out for the 65th lap. Drivers may not pass when the caution flag is in effect.

Foyt was sidetracked for five seconds, dropping him from second place to fourth at the time.

Rutherford, who with Gurney, Unser and Johncock huddled with USAC officials for more than half an hour after the race, said Foyt should have been made to wait a full lap before resuming racing.

"That's a lap penalty no matter how you look at it," Rutherford said.

Foyt Unhappy

However, a USAC spokesman said the chief steward, Art Meyers, determines the type of penalty, and that Meyers decided the infraction was not sufficiently severe to cost Foyt a full lap.

"Foyt didn't think he should have been penalized at all," he said. "If I had passed a guy in second place it's a different story, but I didn't improve my position, so I didn't think I did anything wrong. I was losing ground because McCluskey wouldn't get going, so I took off but I just got back to second."

STRANGE PHENOMENON—Phil Fans Accept Allen

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It's hard to believe, but the guy the Philadelphia fans once booed out of town, is now such a favorite that he gets an ovation for a ground out.

Dick Allen, whose relations with the fans and the media have severely tested the city's somewhat tainted reputation for brotherly love, has been accepted at long last.

Allen snapped out of a slump Saturday night with two home runs and a single in a 4-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers. He got ovations for each hit. He grounded out the last time up, and the fans cheered him as if the ball went out of the park.

The 33-year-old Allen is aware of his sudden popularity in a town he had doubts that he ever could return as a player.

"For the first time I'm paying attention to the fans' reaction," he said after Saturday's game. "It didn't matter before whether I hit a home run or struck out. All they did was boo."

How does Allen account for the change in attitude?

"There are new faces, new management, a new park, new fans," he said. "But me, I'm the same man, the same ball player. I have the same feelings."

Allen stood for half-an-hour talking with some reporters about the new Allen era in Philadelphia.

"It's a different atmosphere in '75 than it was in '65," he observed. "People are listening to me now. They're forming their own opinions. They are seeing for themselves and not judging me on the basis what somebody else or the media says."

Allen returned to the Phillies on May 7, took four days practice in a batting cage under the stands, and started his first game May 11. He singled his first hit but after eight months inaction, then he slumped, expectedly, since he was actually taking spring training while playing in regular National League games.

If there were boos during his slump, they were hardly discernible. The fans realized Allen was out of practice, maybe out of shape. They patiently waited for one of the best hitters in baseball to regain his form.

"The fans have been very patient, probably more patient than I've been with myself," Allen said Sunday before he went hitless in four at bats against the Dodgers.

Allen reported to the ballpark Sunday after Saturday's night game and went out and ran. He ran and he ran, trying to get into shape.

Puffing a little after the exercise, Allen commented, "As long as I've been in baseball I can't get used to a day game after a night game. You don't go home and go to bed. You have to unwind."

World Record 220 Tops Prefontaine Track Meet

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — A world record in the 220-yard dash by Don Quarrie and Steve Williams was an emotional moment for 8,000 track fans at the Steve Prefontaine Classic at Hayward Field Saturday.

On his victory lap, Shorter climbed into the bleachers to greet Prefontaine's parents. "I thought it was nice of them to come," he said. "I wanted to thank them myself."

Earlier, Quarrie lost to Williams in the 100-yard dash, then crossed the tape a step ahead of him in the 220. Both were timed in 19.9, however, and share the world mark.

Williams, who earlier tied the existing world mark of 9.1 seconds in the 100, also said he could run faster in the 220.

Francie Larrieu, who holds the American record in the women's 3,000-meter run, captured both the 3,000 and the mile.

"I was disappointed in my time in the 3,000 meters," said Larrieu, who was clocked in 9:06.6, five seconds off her U.S. mark.

She outspurred 14-year-old Eryn Forbes of Beaver, Ore., in the last 330 yards of the mile, finishing in 4:46.2.

"Eryn is a real fine runner with a world of promise," said Miss Larrieu. "She's run a 4:48, and I was 16 before I broke five minutes."

Dwight Stones won the high jump in 7-2, short of his world record of 7-6 1/2.

Baby Girl Joins Bob Dillon Family

"It's all over and I'm glad," said Reporter-Telegram sports writer Bob Dillon after becoming a proud papa.

Carnie DeOn, a healthy eight pounds, 10 ounces, arrived for Mr. and Mrs. Dillon at 5:10 p.m. Sunday at Midland Memorial Hospital.

Bob's wife, Connie, is doing fine and after 26 hours of labor agreed with Bob, "Now, if I can just get a little sleep."

Strack, Ferguson Cop Golf Crown

SWEETWATER — Midlanders Dr. Dean Strack and Ted Ferguson shot a 106 Sunday to win the championship flight of Country Club's 25th Partnership Golf Tournament.

Mike Sparkman and Wendell Fallon of San Angelo won a playoff over Boss Mincald and Mike Walling of Fort Stockton to win the President's Flight after both teams fired a 213.

First Flight winners were Sam Braswell and T. E. Harden of Kerbyville who recorded a 220 while Abilene's Wynn Dorchard and Vinnie Stephenson defeated Midland's Hal Battle and Joe Gelb in a playoff after both teams shot a 227.

That menacing beast you're looking at is a tourist attraction in the desert near Palm Springs, California. It didn't scare us a bit.

With all its king sized problems (large rooms, small rooms, tunnels, stairs), a Payne Air Management Specialist was able to air condition it.

Without any problems.

Which makes our point.

If a Payne Air Management Specialist can expertly air condition this monster, he can air condition your home as well.

Since higher fuel costs are pushing the price of electricity up, it's important to use it wisely.

These two simple tools can help.

Proper insulation and weatherstripping will help you use electricity more efficiently for air conditioning. You can check the insulation and weatherstripping in your home with just a ruler and a flashlight.

Inadequate insulation is a major cause of energy loss in most homes — in both summer and winter.

If the insulation in your attic measures less than six inches, we suggest you call a qualified insulation contractor who can evaluate the efficiency of your present insulation. He can also tell you how to bring your insulation up to recommended standards.

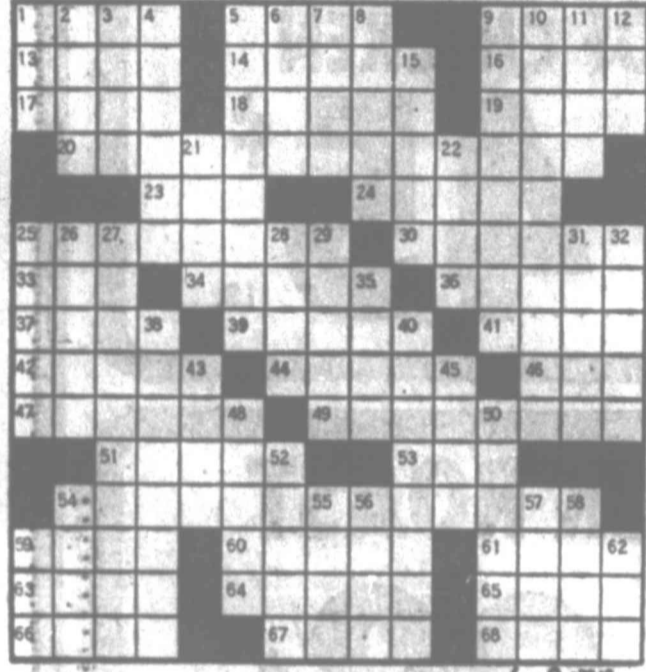

To check the weatherstripping around exterior doors, have someone shine a flashlight around the edges of each closed door. If you can see light, it means you may have to add or replace worn weatherstripping.

Saving electric energy takes very little energy on your part, but since electricity is costing more, it's worth the effort.

Wallace Chief Political Topic At Governors' Conference

By EDWARD WALSH
The Washington Post
NEW ORLEANS — The chairman of the Democratic Governors' Conference said here Sunday that Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace should pledge support in advance to the party's eventual presidential nominee if he expects to gain support in his own quest for the nomination.

posed or not supported the democratic nominee in the last three presidential elections. "Obviously, I am not willing to support someone who is not making the same commitment that I am," Anderson said. "Gov. Wallace's track record on party loyalty is zero."

Arriving here late Sunday for the 67th annual meeting of the National Governors' Conference, Wallace brushed aside the comments. "I wonder if all these national leaders want to say that they will support me if I am the nominee," he said. "I never had anyone with me but the people anyway."

Conceding that Wallace holds the loyalty of 68 per cent of his own constituents, Louisiana Gov. Edwin Edwards said that nationwide Wallace is "looked into" the support of a minority of Democrats, with no realistic hope of expanding that base enough to win either of the top spots on the party's ticket.

That's as far as he goes; he runs out of gas after he passes those people," said Edwards, who supports Sen. Lloyd Benisek, D-Tex., for the presidential nomination and who acknowledged that Wallace would easily defeat Benisek in Louisiana.

At a press conference here Sunday, the chairman of the National Governors' Conference, Democrat Calvin L. Rampton of Utah, said he could not support a Democratic presidential ticket that included Wallace.

"I just feel that Gov. Wallace is not physically able to stand the rigors of the presidency or vice presidency," Rampton said of the Alabama governor, who has been partially paralyzed since being shot at a rally during the 1972 Maryland presidential primary.

Wallace also dismissed these comments after he arrived here Sunday. Declaring himself "well enough to do anything I want to," Wallace said, "I don't know that Gov. Rampton, who's a fine fellow personally, has a degree in medicine . . . It's just another example of people talking about things they don't know anything about."

Oil Lobby Pays For Governors' Cruise

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Courtesy of an oil lobby, the nation's governors and their guests cruised the Mississippi on the red-and-white paddle-wheeler "Natchez" listening to Dixieland bands and partaking of local seafood delicacies.

There were 900 persons in all on the Sunday night voyage, paid for by the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, which represents small and large oil companies and one of nine private associations and companies paying a third of the conference's $375,000 cost.

Each state pays for governor's aides and news organizations pay for the 300 reporters.

The $375,000 represents only a portion of the actual cost. "For every dollar we're spending, there's probably $3 in volunteers," Griffith said.

The attack took place about 15 miles north of Tel Aviv at the Beit Lid intersection, where there is a maximum security prison for Arab guerrillas and Israeli criminals.

Seven hours later a bomb exploded in an apartment house in Kfar Saba, about five miles from the Beit Lid intersection. Nobody was reported hurt.

Israel returned three Egyptian soldiers it said were captured last week on a spying mission behind Israeli lines in the Sinai Desert.

Workers at Israel's Mediterranean oil port at Ashkelon ended a 19-day strike. The strike halted the shipment of Middle East oil through the Israeli pipelines from the Gulf of Aqaba to the Mediterranean coast.

Israelis Resist Kissinger Pressure

JERUSALEM (AP)—Resisting pressure from Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, the Israeli cabinet says it won't modify its terms for another troop withdrawal in the Sinai Desert unless Egypt comes up with a new offer.

The cabinet decision Sunday night was a victory for Premier Yitzhak Rabin, who has been pressed by Kissinger to bring new proposals to Washington for his meeting with President Ford this week.

Kissinger and Ford blame Israel for the collapse of Kissinger's attempt to negotiate a withdrawal agreement last March because Israel insisted on a pledge of nonbelligerency from Egypt. After Ford's meeting with President Anwar Sadat of Egypt, the secretary of state said he could not determine whether he would try to revive the Israeli-Egyptian negotiations until after Ford met with Rabin.

A communique issued after the Israeli cabinet meeting said Israel's terms "remain in force" but "the government will be willing to re-examine its policy noncomitant with changes that may occur in the Egyptian position."

Some members of the cabinet urged that Israel abandon Kissinger's step-by-step approach to peace and offer a detailed plan for a final peace agreement with all her Arab adversaries. The cabinet rejected this, saying a series of partial settlements "is the only realistic way to advance to peace."

Meanwhile, police reported a group of Israeli troops hitchhiking back to camp after a weekend leave shot and killed an Arab guerrilla who attacked them with hand grenades and a submachine gun. The grenades did not go off, and none of the soldiers was hit by gunfire.

He's Too Old To Climb Walls

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Dale Otto Remling says he plotted a daring helicopter escape from the Southern Michigan State prison because he's getting too old to scale its walls.

Remling, 46, is to be arraigned today on skyjacking charges in Jackson. Four others are to be arraigned with him in federal court on a charge of conspiracy to commit air piracy, the FBI said Sunday.

Remling said the escape plan, which bought him just 30 hours of freedom, was hatched months before the movie "Breakout" was released. The movie depicts a similar attempt.

Officers bust did stem from news accounts of a whistled escape by Joel Kaplan, a millionaire who gained freedom from a Mexican prison and is reportedly now living in the southwest United States.

Remling said he never saw the movie, and it was never shown in the prison, officials said.

Despite its initial success, Remling's scheme unraveled quickly. He was picked up alone and unarmed Saturday in a Leslie bar, 13 miles from the prison in Jackson.

Police are seeking Morris Conlisky, whom they say skyjacked the helicopter at endpoint on Friday, and Gertrude Woodbury, suspected of being the go-between for Remling and his accomplices.

The women reportedly drove decoy getaway cars from the point where the helicopter dropped Remling and the skyjacker, six miles from the prison. Calvin Woodbury is the son of Gertrude Woodbury.

There's Little Love For Sale In Paris

PARIS (AP)—There was little love for sale in Paris Sunday night as picketing prostitutes enforced a strike call from the Changement through Pigalle to the Rue St. Denis.

"I went on strike yesterday, like they said, now I'm back at work," said the only girl found at work during a half-night tour of the city. But a few minutes later she was involved in a heated argument with two pickets.

The bumpy doorman at a Pigalle strip show said there wasn't one girl working in that red-light district.

Leaders of the strike contend that only about 20 per cent of the girls are still connected with pimp, but the police say the percentage is much higher.

The Committee of Women Prostitutes of Paris is demanding an end to police repression and fines for soliciting, income tax status, social security including mothers' benefits and old-age pensions, the reopening of hotels used for prostitution and suppression of a woman's vice-squad file after she retires.

Leashed Dogs Hare-ible Goof?

JEWELL, Iowa (AP)—The hounds were taken off the streets but the hares took over.

Mayer Francis LeMaster, who waged a successful battle to enact a leash law for dogs here, says he has had 20 complaints in the past two weeks from residents whose gardens have been chewed up by rabbits.

He said the roaming dogs apparently kept the rabbit population in check.

Cincinnati Zoo Has New Giraffe
CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The Cincinnati Zoo, which recorded the first giraffe birth in the United States back in 1989, had its first such birth in 19 years Sunday.

A Masai giraffe standing about 5 1/2 feet tall and weighing 100 pounds was born to one of the zoo's three East African giraffes, an 8-year-old named Trisha.

The dead man's identity had not been established by this morning.

IN LONGEST U.S. SENATE RACE—

Suspense May End Soon

By JOHN H. AVERILL
The Los Angeles Times

WASHINGTON — The seven-month nightmare of suspense for Louis C. Wyman and John A. Durkin finally appears to be drawing to an end.

Within the next few days they should learn which of them is the new U.S. senator from New Hampshire — or whether they have to return home and engage in a special runoff election.

Beginning today or Tuesday, the Senate will try to resolve the final issues involved in determining who won the New Hampshire Senate contest last Nov. 5.

It was the closest election in Senate history and involved two recounts. Democrat Durkin won the first recount by 10 votes but Republican Wyman emerged from the second with a two-vote margin.

Acting on an appeal from Durkin, who cited the constitutional provision making each house of Congress the final arbiter of its members' elections, the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration has grappled inconclusively with the contest for six months. Now the committee has turned to the Senate for final guidance.

"If they don't resolve it soon, Louis will be eligible for Medicare and I'll have to go on food stamps," Durkin said, the other day in reference to Wyman's age (58) and the heavy legal and other debts the two men have accumulated.

Durkin, a 39-year-old Manchester lawyer and former state insurance commissioner, said he has been living off his savings since he began campaigning against Wyman in January 1974.

Since the election, Durkin has received about $40,000 in contributions from various Democrats groups "but I'm about $40,000 in the hole."

Durkin also has been accorded considerable staff assistance from New Hampshire's only present senator, Democrat Thomas J. McIntyre.

Wyman, a former five-term congressman who gave up his House seat to run when Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., retired, has received more than $50,000 in Republican contributions.

But Jerry Schiappa, Wyman's presently unpaid administrative assistant, said Wyman had to borrow $2,500 from the Republican National Committee and that his legal fees are approaching $100,000.

Adding further to the expenses of both men have been trips back home practically every weekend to campaign just in case they find themselves in a special runoff election.

"We must proceed on the assumption there will be a new election," said Wyman, a tall, balding man who manifests great self-assurance despite his uneasiness over the outcome of the Senate race.

"It has been the longest election campaign in history," said Durkin.

During the week, Wyman and his wife live in the $270-a-month apartment they have maintained in southwest Washington since his House days.

To hold down expenses, Durkin, a fast-talking and frequently brash Irishman, has often acted as his own lawyer before the Rules Committee. He and his volunteer aides also are able to live rent-free in a house in northwest Washington owned by his wife's family.

His wife and three small children have remained at the Durkin home in Manchester.

"I sometimes think it is harder on the family than on me," Durkin said.

It is traditional in challenged Senate contests that the Senate reimburse the contestants for their legal and other fees.

Furthermore, the winner will begin receiving the standard $42,500-a-year Senate salary, plus staff allowances, retroactive to Jan. 3 when the new Congress began.

But in the meantime, both Wyman and Durkin are relying on volunteers for office support as they await the Senate's verdict.

From all indications, the Senate battle this week will develop into one of the fiercest partisan donnybrooks in years.

Senate Republicans, outnumbered 61 to 38, charge that the Democrats are trying to steal the seat from Wyman. For their part, the Democrats charge that New Hampshire Republicans stole the election from Durkin.

Wyman, fearing the Senate's majority Democrats will award the vacant New Hampshire seat to Durkin, has renewed his demand for a runoff election.

"On the record before the Senate there is no ascertainable winner possible," Wyman said the other day. "The New Hampshire Senate seat should be vacated and the election returned to the people of New Hampshire for decision. This is the only fair and reasonable way to accord to the people of a sovereign state their constitutional right to elect their own senator."

Durkin countered that "the Senate has a constitutional obligation to decide who won."

"It would be a dangerous precedent," Durkin said, "if every close election could trigger a runoff."

Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., R-Conn., who led an unsuccessful effort last January to have the New Hampshire seat declared vacant, has announced he will lead a similar effort this week.

Council Faces Lengthy Agenda At Tuesday Afternoon Meeting

Midland city councilmen face a multi-faceted agenda when they meet at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in the council chambers.

During the session, they will consider a resolution authorizing refund of over-payment and double-payment of taxes, discuss possible selection of auditors for this budget year and consider a request of Cameo Beauty Salon for a lay-down curb at 407 Kent St.

In the realm of finance and purchasing, they will discuss hiring an auctioneer to dispose of surplus city vehicles and other equipment and consider a resolution approving specifications and authorizing the advertisement of bids for an estimated annual supply of chlorine for the Water Purification Plant.

Also on the agenda are consideration of the request of McCoy Home Buildings to locate at Air Terminal as well as a resolution authorizing the assignment of the existing Avis Rent Car agreement.

Additional items slated for consideration include a resolution awarding the bid for the new garage service center, the request for water and sewer service agreement outside the city and the request of Paul Rochester for participation in over-size water line as well as drainage system improvements for Skyline Addition.

In Tuesday's meeting, councilmen also will consider a resolution adopting the City of Midland Affirmative Action Plan as well as one amending the budget for the balance of the current year to provide for lease of emergency ambulance.

Discussion of the tennis court complex proposed to be built at Midland College is on the day's agenda, too, along with ruling on a request for closing and abandoning the alley in Block 52, Original Town Addition, considering a resolution appropriating funds for purchasing a typewriter and setting the June 24 council meeting time.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development enters the agenda through a proposal to utilize the balance of Section 23 funds available to the Midland Housing Authority. The final item for the day will be consideration of a request by Cord Land and Development, Inc. for waiver of floor elevation requirement.

Planning and zoning hearings, scheduled for the beginning of the meeting include requests by Conrad Lloyd and David Lloyd for 5001 Andrews Highway zone change; Wagner L. Thomas, temporary trailer permit, 1105 E. Parker St.; Margaret M. Cerf, zone change, 1806, 1806 and 1810 Keith St.; William D. Hays Jr., zone change, 2400 W. Golf Course Rd., replat consideration; William D. Hays Jr. and Emory T. Corbett, zone change, 2607 through 2613 Northrup St. and 2606 through 2612 Whitney St., replat consideration; and Don Brookshire, zone change, property behind 3010 W. Front St.

Odessa Woman's Search For Father Finally Over

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — "I'm so glad I found this little, dear, sweet man," Mrs. Helen Dixon said after a 30-year search for her father ended during the weekend.

"I just couldn't give up," the 47-year-old Odessa, Tex., woman said after finally being reunited with Douglas J. Russell, 82, of Mobile.

She had feared that her father was dead. But she found him, confined to a wheelchair and "very much alive."

Mrs. Dixon said her parents' marriage broke up in Alexandria, La., when she was a little girl. Her older brother and sister, who are now dead, stayed with her father, while she and a brother went with their mother.

Soon after their parents separated, Mrs. Dixon said, her mother became ill and gave her daughter and son to friends to raise.

An active search for her father began when she was about 18 years old, she recalled.

Records of distant relatives took her to Arkansas and Tennessee, where she found that in 1957, her mother died. But one of the relatives, a 92-year-old man in Memphis, Tenn., told her that in 1936 he heard that Russell owned and operated a gas station and grocery store here.

After she returned to Odessa, Mrs. Dixon asked the local Social Security office for help in locating her father. The person there looked in a 2-year-old Mobile city directory and found that there was a listing for her father owning the same store.

"I was amazed," she said. "It was so simple."

A quick check with Mobile officials showed that her father was still alive and they met this weekend for the first time in decades.

After the reunion, she said: "A (Russell) neighbor told me my father had said just a few days ago that he doesn't have anything to live for — now he knows he does."

married Saturday and probably would live in Pouy's house in the exclusive Dolphin Cove development. But a vigil by reporters at Pouy's home Saturday turned up no wedding.

Miss Fyodorova, 29-year-old child of a Russian actress and an American military man stationed in Moscow during World War II, came to the United States in March to see her ailing father, retired Navy Adm. Jackson R. Tate of Orange Park, Fla., for the first time. Her visa expires June 22, but if she were married her husband could ask that she be granted permanent residence.

Last week, they took out a license in Stamford Tuesday but would not disclose when or where the wedding would be.

Neighbors and relatives were tightlipped. Pouy's father, Alexander Pouy of Vernon, said Sunday night that he couldn't say anything until his son was ready to make a statement.

Pouy's father said his son wanted things "private for the trip" but would not say if he alluded to a honeymoon trip.

A. E. Smith Married By A. E. Smith

NORTHBROOK, Ill. (AP) — Alfred E. Smith, great-grandson and namesake of the Democratic presidential candidate in 1928, has married Nan J. Moore of Northbrook in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Alfred E. Smith.

The minister is a grandson of the one-time governor of New York who lost to Herbert Hoover, and an uncle to the bridegroom. The ceremony was Saturday.

International Lovers Wed In Connecticut

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — Russian actress Victoria Fyodorova and Frederick Pouy, an American pilot, were married privately Saturday by a justice of the peace here. Town Clerk Louis Clapes said today.

Clapes said Justice of the Peace Loren H. Jaffe, who performed the ceremony, delivered the marriage license to him today.

There was speculation that Miss Fyodorova and the 35-year-old Pouy would be married here over the weekend. Pouy, a pilot for Pan American World Airways, has a home here.

Clapes had said he wouldn't be surprised if the couple took out their marriage license here just to throw off the news media, then took out a license elsewhere. However, he said if the couple did get married their license is a permanent record of the marriage and had to be returned to his office.

Navy Capt. Hugh Tate, Miss Fyodorova's half brother, had said the couple was likely to be
