Leeper Completes Clearfork Strike In Hockley Area

Alan B. Leeper of Midland has completed his No. 2 John Givan as a Clearfork discovery in extreme South Hockley County, 6 1/2 miles southeast of Sundown.

The 24-hour potential test gauged 62 barrels of 30.2-gravity oil and 52 barrels of water. Gas volume was too small to measure.

Production was through perforations at 6,523-6,642 feet, which had been acidized with 10,000 gallons.

It was drilled to 6,730 feet, and has 5 1/2-inch pipe set at 5,870 feet, and 2 1/2-inch tubing at 6,650 feet. The plugged-back depth is 6,716 feet.

The new strike is 440 feet from north and west lines of section 16, block X, PSL survey, 3/4 mile northwest of the Hockley part of the Leeper (Glorieta) field.

Midland Projects Continue Testing

Production tests continued at two projects in Midland County.

David and Inez G. Fasken, Midland, No. 1-X Fee, wildcat reentry, 10 miles southwest of Wolfcamp oil production in the Midland Farms sector of Andrews County, flowed 28 barrels of oil, no water, in 24 hours, from the Wolfcamp.

Flow was through a 10-64-inch choke and perforations at 9,858-9,897 feet, which had been acidized with 2,000 gallons. Gas volume was 37,000 cubic feet per day.

The test is 660 feet from south and 1,900 feet from east lines of section 35, block 40, T-1-N, T&P survey, 8 1/2 miles northwest of Midland townsite.

Pool Well Tests

Petroleum Exploration & Operating Corp. of Midland, also was testing the Wolfcamp at No. 1 J. E. Hill Estate, offset to the two-well Wolfcamp area of the Hi-Lonesome field.

It flowed seven hours on a 22-64-inch choke and through perforations at 9,454-9,827 feet, which had been acidized with 3,000 gallons, making 36 barrels of oil, no water.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 30, block 39, T-2-S, T&P survey, three miles south of Midland.

Sterling Area Gets Oil, Gas Producers

Extensions have been completed in the Conger (Cisco and Canyon gas) field of Sterling County.

Dorchester Exploration, Inc., Midland, has dually completed as a fifth Cisco oiler and 9 1/2-mile southeast extension to that pay, its No. 2-6 Foster Conger, Canyon gas well, 13 miles southwest of Sterling City.

From the Cisco, it gauged a daily, flowing potential of 221 barrels of 45.7-gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 6.516-1. Production was through an 18-64-inch choke and perforations at 6,752-6,971 feet, which had been acidized with 3,000 gallons and

Ford Announces Decontrol Plan

Albert Can't Control Personal House

By DOUGLAS BROWN
The Washington Post

WASHINGTON—Rep. Carl Albert, D-Okla., speaker of the House of Representatives, stood in the hallway of his apartment building Sunday afternoon and pointed to the rainwater cascading through the roof and into eight 55-gallon plastic trash barrels.

"What if I have a bunch of congressmen over?" asked Albert. "This is a hell of a place for them to have to get through."

Albert and his neighbors on the top floor of the eight-story Chatham apartment building, 4501 Arlington Blvd., said each rainfall during the past two months has sent water pouring through the roof and into their hallway. And for the past three weeks their apartments also have been inundated with water when it rains, they said.

Sunday afternoon there were fifteen 55-gallon plastic barrels and smaller assorted cans and buckets in the hallway and in the four affected apartments. Every 15 minutes one of the 55-gallon barrels was emptied by a building maintenance worker.

Eight maintenance men armed with large brooms were on the roof, pushing the rain to one end where a surface pump was operating.

Tenants said their continuing complaints during the past two months had gone unheeded by the building's management.

Albert said he personally called the building's management numerous times but "I never could reach the owner." Albert said his messages had gone unanswered by the management.

"Our lease was up not too long ago and I was told they were going to raise the rent. At the time it was raining in my bathroom, so I sent them a sarcastic letter about the situation," Albert said.

The speaker grinned and said, "They sent me a letter saying I could ignore the raise in rent."

Although water was not dripping into the Alberts' living room Sunday, he said it has done so in the past. This forced the Alberts to move their living room furniture temporarily into the adjoining dining room, Albert said. Peering at huge water stains on the ceiling, Albert said, "It's disgusting. It's like moving into a ghetto or swamp."

POLICY BEGAN IN WORLD WAR II—

Kelley Acknowledges FBI Committed Break-Ins

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley today acknowledged that the FBI has carried out break-ins for national security investigations, beginning as early as World War II and continuing through the 1960s.

At a news conference, Kelley declined to say how many break-ins were conducted. He characterized the number as "a few" and "not many."

Kelley said that he has not been asked to authorize any break-ins since becoming FBI director two years ago. He said he would present any such requests to the attorney general and would be guided by his opinion.

"Yes, the FBI has conducted surreptitious entries in securing information related to the security of the nation," Kelley said in response to questions.

He defended the break-ins and said FBI personnel "acted in good faith" in authorizing and conducting them.

In 1966, Kelley said, "all such activity was terminated" except for break-ins considered necessary for foreign-related counterintelligence activity.

He declined to say how many break-ins have been conducted since 1966 or whether there was a substantial reduction in the number.

The director said he could not discuss many details because he expects to testify on matters before the Senate committee investigating Central Intelligence Agency and FBI intelligence activities.

He refused to identify the targets of the break-ins but said he knows of none which were not related to national security and foreign intelligence.

"There were a few" break-ins at foreign embassies in Washington in counterintelligence investigations after 1966, Kelley said, without identifying the embassies.

He said that he believes some of the foreign counterintelligence break-ins took place outside of Washington.

Asked whether the break-ins were carried out in conjunction with the CIA, Kelley replied, "I know of none. Subsequently, there may have been information which did go to them. But we were not in partnership with the CIA."

Asked whether full details of the break-ins will be provided to the Senate committee, Kelley said, "It will be a matter which will be completely presented to the attorney general."

Full disclosure, he added, "is (See FBI Page 2A)

Fighting Intensifies In Angolan Capital

LUANDA, Angola (AP) — Heavy shooting and mortar bombardments broke out in the Angolan capital today as fighting between rival African liberation movements intensified. Officials estimate that 300 persons have been killed in the flareup that began Wednesday.

The government palace was surrounded by Portuguese troops in armored cars as rumors spread of an attempted coup by the Soviet-backed Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola — MPLA.

The armored cars were later removed, but heavily armed Portuguese military police remained to guard Angola's military-administrative headquarters.

A large column of guerrilla troops of the Front for the Liberation of Angola — FNLA — backed with Chinese arms, were reported moving on the capital from northern Angola.

18 Years Of Space Competition Ends Tuesday

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts, cosmonauts, spaceships and rockets are ready for the joint U.S.-Soviet space mission that gets under way Tuesday, ending the space race that began 18 years ago with the launching of Sputnik.

Countdowns ticked away smoothly on two continents today for twin launchings that will propel the American Apollo and Russian Soyuz spacecraft into orbit for a historic linkup Thursday.

The Soyuz, guided by cosmonauts Alexei A. Leonov and Valeri N. Kubasov, will blast off at 7:20 a.m. CDT from the Baikonur Cosmodrome on the edge of a central Russian desert 1,400 miles southeast of Moscow.

Apollo astronauts Thomas P. Stafford, Vance D. Brand and Donald K. Slayton will take off from Cape Canaveral 7 1/2 hours later at 2:30 p.m. to begin a celestial chase that will end with the two ships joined together 140 miles above West Germany at 11:15 a.m. Thursday.

Three hours later, a tunnel connecting the vehicles will open, and American commander Stafford and Soviet commander Leonov will shake hands.

It will be an emotionally charged moment, not only because of its symbolism but because the two men — both veterans of space — have become such close friends during two years of training for this mission. Both believe that moments like this, high in space, can speed detente between Soviets and Americans on earth.

The two commanders spoke by long distance telephone Sunday.

Stafford said Leonov and Kubasov told him "that everything was real fine at the Soviet cosmodrome" and he told the cosmonauts that things were good at the Cape, except for "sweating out" the weather.

Meteorologists say the afternoon thunderstorms that have swept the Cape daily are a matter for concern, but "the amount of thunderstorm activity is expected to decrease by Tuesday." Chester M. Lee, NASA's program director, held a 2 1/2-hour readiness review Sunday and reported: "We are satisfied we are ready to carry out our part of the Apollo-Soyuz Test Project mission."

From Baikonur the report was the same: "All activities are being carried out according to the time line of the prelaunch flight plan."

President Ford, Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin, other diplomats and James Fletcher, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, plan to watch televised coverage of the Soviet launching at the State Department auditorium. Dobrynin and Fletcher will then fly to Cape Canaveral space stations and perhaps to the planets.

All agree that Apollo-Soyuz is the symbolic end to the space race, which unofficially ran its course in 1972 when the agreement for the joint mission was signed at a summit by then President Richard M. Nixon and Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin.

The agreement called for development of a common docking mechanism that would enable the spaceship of one country to fly to the rescue of that of the other.

But both nations also saw the possibility of cutting back on vast sums spent on space exploration by sharing in future ventures if Apollo-engineer and former test pilot, is making his first space flight after eight years in the astronaut program.

Many space buffs will be cheering for Slayton, the "old man" of the crew at 51. He is the only one of the original seven Mercury astronauts who has not flown in space.

A slight heart irregularity caused Slayton to be grounded a few weeks before he was to have flown the second U.S. orbital mission after John Glenn's flight in 1962. He helped train other crews for space as director of flight crew operations but fought all the while to be declared physically fit for flight.

Leonov, 40, achieved world attention 10 years ago when he became the first man to walk in space, stepping outside the Voskhod 2 for 12 minutes. An extrovert, he always seems to be talking and flashing a smile.

Kubasov, also 40, flew on the 1969 Soyuz 6 mission. A brilliant mechanical engineer, he is reserved and quiet.

Apollo, built to go to the moon, is larger and more sophisticated than Soyuz, designed only for earth orbit. That is why Soyuz will be launched first to serve as a target for Apollo. The U.S. craft will conduct all rendezvous and docking maneuvers.

Once the two ships are linked, all systems aboard Soyuz will be shut down except environmental and communications. Apollo has ample propellant and control capability to maneuver the combined vehicles.

Glynn S. Lunney, Apollo-Soyuz technical director for NASA, says each nation is spending about $250 million on the mission.

Hill Rules Sales To Interstate Lines Must Be Taxed

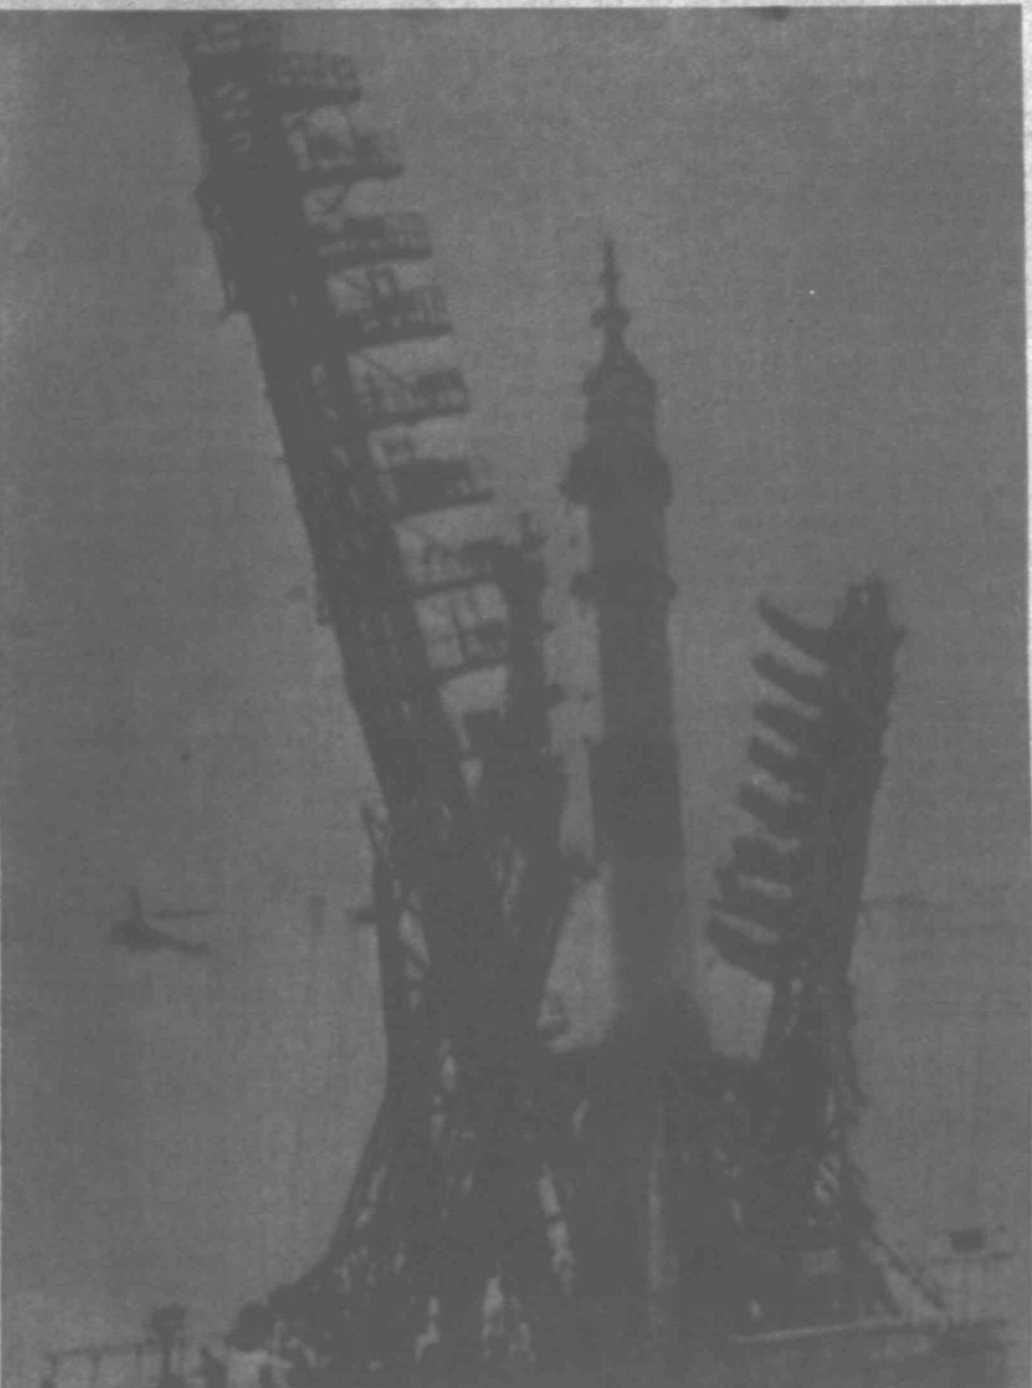

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. John Hill ruled today that sales of natural gas by producers to interstate pipeline companies must be included in the producers' sales for corporate franchise tax purposes.

Randall Wood, chief lawyer for the comptroller's department, said the decision would add millions of dollars to the state treasury.

He predicted that the major gas producers would fight the ruling in court "because so much money is involved."

Wood was unable to say precisely how much money the opinion would bring in because the sales had never been examined before by the comptroller's tax auditors. Former Comptroller Robert S. Calvert issued a ruling in 1971 that the sales were made in interstate commerce and therefore could not be included in a corporation's franchise tax base.

But Hill told Comptroller Bob Bullock, who had requested the opinion: "In our opinion the sales of gas involved in your request are intrastate sales for the purpose of franchise taxation."

California Couple Holds 'Undo' Party

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Everyone had such a good time at the Smiths' wedding 15 months ago, the couple decided to invite all the guests back for another party.

The champagne they received as a wedding gift was opened, and the best man was there to perform the honors — this time removing the wedding bands from the fingers of Ed and Mari Smith.

Ed and Mari filed divorce papers on July 9. Under California law, the final decree will be issued in six months.

The couple hugged — Ed called her "habe" and Mari called him "honey" — and everybody cheered.

Invitations to Saturday night's party read: "You are cordially invited to join us in celebrating our divorce."

Ed, 44, said the party was thrown "to show our friends that Mari and I are not mad at each other."

Mari, 24, agreed: "Ed and I are still buddies. Ed's awfully nice, but we just couldn't stand living together."

The party was Ed's idea, Mari said.

"Everybody thinks that divorce is some kind of a terrible thing, like a funeral. But if two people are not getting along it is good to find out quickly. Then it's nice to celebrate," she explained.

"I first thought he was a smart aleck and then I realized he was being cooperative. My husband amazes me. He's very ingenious."

The couple rejected one suggestion that Ed and Mari throw rice at the guests. Mari did offer to wrap and return all the wedding gifts, "but nobody accepted my offer."

In keeping with the spirit of things, Ed and Mari worked together on obtaining their divorce.

"The how-to-do-it book cost us $5 and the court costs are $53 and then that's it," Mari said.

Ford Spells Out Oil Plan

Ford's plan, Jackson, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for president, said he will seek Senate approval of a resolution to disapprove Ford's action.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said after the breakfast meeting with Ford he recognized that the United States is facing increasing imports and declining domestic resources. He said the President's decontrol plan will increase the cost of gasoline.

"I am concerned about the effect on inflation," Mansfield said. "It is now about 9.5 percent, and may return to double digit inflation with an increase in the cost of gasoline."

Until Sunday, Jackson said in a statement, President Ford "was advocating instant oil inflation by taking the price lid off on Aug. 31. Now he has backed off but is trying to slip it through on the installment plan."

The Ford program he said "means windfall profits for the oil companies, reduced purchasing power for the consumer, increased inflation for the economy and abdication of domestic price controls to the OPEC cartel."

In a statement issued in Ford's name, the President said that if Congress blocked his decontrol move, he would veto any legislation to extend the present oil price control law that expires next month. If such a veto were upheld, the result would be removal of all oil price controls as soon as the present law dies.

Ford labeled his own intended administrative action a "compromise oil decontrol plan."

Ford estimated his blueprint, if accepted by Congress, would add seven cents to the price of a gallon of gasoline by 1977 and reduce demand for imported oil by 300,000 barrels a day in the same period.

In a statement, Ford said, "There is no cost-free way to reduce our dependence on increasingly expensive foreign oil." He said the price boost detailed in his plan would represent "a small price to pay for our independence from the costly whims of foreign suppliers."

The oil that would be decontrolled under the President's proposal would be that coming from domestic wells that went into production before mid-1972. Under present regulations, such oil is subject to a ceiling price of about $5.25 a barrel. By contrast, domestic oil coming from more recent wells is uncontrolled and sells for about $13.

Under the Ford plan, the present controls on so-called old oil would be gradually removed over a 30-month period starting August 1 and ending in January 1973.

Congress Facing Sticky Problems

By CARL C. CRAFT WASHINGTON (AP) — Sticky internal problems in both the House and Senate remain to be solved as Congress resumes work after a weekend break.

In the House, the fate of the Select Intelligence Committee is set to be decided this week with members able to choose between a resolution that would abolish the panel outright and one to expand it by three members.

The Senate meanwhile has scheduled its first vote on an issue in the New Hampshire senatorial seat that has been disputed since the November election.

The House Intelligence Committee has been deadlocked in a dispute between its chairman, Rep. Lucien N. Nedzi, D-Mich., and other Democrats over whether Nedzi can lead an aggressive inquiry into the activities of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Earlier, the House refused to accept Nedzi's resignation of the chairmanship.

The Senate has set Tuesday for a vote on the first of 35 issues that have stalemated its Rules Committee in the contest between Democrat John A. Durkin and Republican Louis C. Wyman.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said in a weekend interview with reporters that the Senate cannot avoid its constitutional responsibilities by turning the contested election back to the voters.

"We (Democrats) are being accused of politicking and partisanship, but I don't see what else we can do," he said.

"We're going to stay with it. The Constitution makes us."

Mansfield said he has had no indications that Republican leaders are ready to drop their demands that the seat be declared vacant and a new election be held.

Asked if it is possible that the dispute would last all year, Mansfield replied that it could.

Other issues scheduled for congressional attention this week include President Ford's plan to decontrol prices of domestically produced oil and a House bill appropriating $13 billion for the Agriculture Department and related agencies for the next 15 months.

a question only he can answer."

The director said the Justice Department also is reviewing the break-ins to determine their legality.

Although suggesting that he might consider break-ins improper or unwise today, Kelley insisted that those who carried out the break-ins were acting for the good of the nation.

"I do not note in these activities any gross abuse of authority," he asserted. "I see a consistent thread of well-intentioned activity."

Kelley also declined to say whether he personally participated in break-ins as an FBI agent from 1940 through 1961, serving at various times in the Houston, Seattle, San Francisco, Birmingham and Memphis field offices.

He was asked whether civil rights groups were the targets of break-ins, and again refused to say.

He said all the FBI break-ins apparently were conducted in this country. "I know of none overseas," he said.

Youth Injured

Charles D. Frasier, 17, 1201 Harvard St., was treated for bruises at Midland Memorial Hospital and then released following a two-car collision Sunday at the intersection of Garfield and Wadley streets.

The collision involved a car driven by Royce Nathan Day, 15, 3115 Auburn St., and a car driven by Clemens Robert Winkler, 17, 1611 Stanolind St.

New Draft Plan Being Formulated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Selective Service, sharply reduced in size, is busy planning its new method of registering men for the standby draft. The new method is a one-day affair each year for men who turned 18-year-olds the previous year.

The date for this year's crop of 18-year-olds hasn't been set yet but it probably will be early in 1976 on a day to be announced.

Volunteer Help

Draft Director Byron V. Pepitone said he hopes to enlist thousands of volunteers to help in the registration so there will be no tedious waiting in line by the young men for the brief sign-up process.

"We hope to have enough places and enough people to make it the least onerous as possible, so a man can just pop into a place nearby that he sees every day," Pepitone said.

Many of the two million young men turning 18 this year won't have to take part, however, because they had already signed up when President Ford issued his proclamation in April changing the system.

One-Day Registration

Before then, men were required to register during the period 30 days before and 30 days after their 18th birthday. The law still requires the Selective Service to register men, although the part of the law giving the president draft authority expired in 1973.

The change to a one-day registration is largely an economy move as Selective Service continues to reduce the size of its paid force and keep volunteer draft boards on a standby basis.

New Bicentennial Stamps Available Following Delay

Midland's stamp collectors and Bicentennial buffs can rest easier today. The Midland Post Office has the Military Service commemorative stamps on sale.

The set of stamps has four different Continental Army uniforms and was first issued July 4 but the allotment of 50,000 stamps the Midland Post Office usually receives was distributed to other post offices in the area. A new shipment had to be ordered from Washington.

The 18-cent stamp plate block consists of 12 stamps.

The Apollo-Soyuz commemorative stamp goes on sale Wednesday. The Midland Post Office has received its allotment, a post office spokesman said today.

Grand Jury Hearing Cases

The Midland County Grand Jury was in session today to consider evidence for possible indictments in approximately 50 cases.

Evidence being presented by Dist. Atty. Jim Mashburn was to include that dealing with two alleged murders, 19 narcotic law violations, mostly unlawful possession of marijuana and heroin, and burglaries, thefts, forgeries and subsequent offenses of driving while intoxicated, a spokesman for the DA said this morning.

Man Injured

Roy Lane Darden, 19, 1701 Cimmaron, was taken to Midland Memorial Hospital Saturday, where he was treated for bruises on the forehead and then released following a two-car collision at the intersection of Garfield and Wadley Streets.

The two-car collision involved cars driven by Spencer Evans Beal, 28, 2010 Country Club Drive, and Darden.

Odessa Arrested In Drug Clean-Up

ODESSA — Law enforcement officers made another arrest Saturday in connection with the Ector County Grand Jury's massive narcotics cleanup. The arrest brings the total to 46 since the crackdown began.

Charged with two counts of delivery of marijuana is Raymond John Grot, 18, 6707 Alderfer St., Odessa. Grot is being held in the Odessa County Jail in lieu of two $10,000 bonds.

Grot is one of 67 people named in drug related indictments handed down around two weeks ago by the Ector County Grand Jury.

Israeli Planes Strike Twice At Palestinian Refugee Camp

By The Associated Press

Israeli planes attacked a Palestinian refugee camp in Lebanon twice, and four persons were reported killed and 22 wounded. Several hours later rockets from southern Lebanon hit the Israeli town of Nahariya, slightly wounding two women, the Israeli command announced.

In Jerusalem, Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin reported to the Israeli cabinet on his meeting with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger. A communique said the government would continue "the process of clarification and negotiation with the purpose of reaching a positive conclusion."

The Palestine guerrillas claimed that their missile and gun crews hit two of the Israeli Phantom jets that on Sunday rocketed and strafed the Ein Helweh refugee camp near Sidon, 30 miles south of Beirut. The Lebanese Defense Ministry reported one of the jets was seen crashing in flames into the Mediterranean, and Palestinians in the camp shouted with joy and danced about at the news.

But the Israeli command said: "All our planes returned safely to base."

Residents of the camp said two reconnaissance planes flew over shortly before the attack, and this alerted the anti-aircraft crews and sent residents rushing to protective trenches. They said the first attack lasted 20 minutes, and the second attack came 20 minutes later.

The rockets destroyed a guerrilla radio station and damaged a number of huts and a mosque. The Israelis said a plant manufacturing war materiel for guerrillas was among the targets, but residents of the camp denied such a plant was in the camp.

Palestinian sources said those killed were a woman, a farm worker and two guerrillas.

GEN

Reported Eyewitness May Shake Up Joan Little Trial

By JAMES RESTON JR.
Special to Newsday
RALEIGH—Joan Little, a 21-year-old black woman whose case has attracted the attention of civil rights and women's groups, went on trial here today in the ice-pick killing of a Beaufort County jailer, Clarence Alligood.

In a surprising development for the eve of a major trial, word has leaked out that there may be an eyewitness to the slaying, a young trusty who was in the jail the night Alligood died and Little escaped. The defense is claiming that Little killed the jailer when he attempted to rape her. Alligood was found dead in her cell bunk. He was naked from the waist down and there was semen on his leg.

Although information is sketchy and sometimes confusing, sources involved in the preparation of the case say:

—The male trusty showed authorities how he could climb over a partition and get into the women's section of the jail.

—The trusty admitted being in the women's area on the night of Aug. 27 and said Little called to him to help her.

—The trusty originally told the authorities that Little had directed him to pull off Alligood's pants and arrange his body so that the incident would appear as rape, but has since said he lied because he hated Little.

The existence of the previously undisclosed potential witness in the case was confirmed over the weekend by Beaufort County Sheriff Otis Davis. Davis also confirmed that the trusty had said he had been in the women's area and that the trusty had made and then retracted the statement about helping Little position the jailer's body.

Davis said it was unclear whether the trusty had actually witnessed the slaying. However, the sheriff said, the trusty "told things about that night that he couldn't have known unless he saw something."

Both the prosecution and the defense refused to comment on the trusty or the possible impact of testimony he might give.

Two months ago, the defense team learned of yet another potential witness, one who may have heard Little's screams on the night of Aug. 27. A secret report of the State Bureau of Investigation, it was learned, states that an inmate in the jail heard screams from her cell that night. Defense attorneys say they were told initially by authorities that the inmate was an "old drunk" who subsequently had died.

However, the defense discovered that the inmate was alive and living in Gainesville, Fla. Under North Carolina law, the prosecution is not required to share information with the defense, unless it clearly is exculpatory, or vindictive.

Attorneys for both sides, however, are most interested in the trusty, Terry Bell, a white youth of 16. Bell was in jail on charges of breaking and entering. Little, who had been in jail for 81 days pending appeal of a breaking-and-entering conviction, was the only woman in the jail at the time of the killing.

Sources close to the case say that Bell had the freedom twice refused defense requests of the jail's corridors. The same sources say that Bell was interviewed by the local district attorney, William Griffin, and by Sheriff Davis shortly after Alligood's death and that he told them about helping Little. Subsequently, these sources say, Bell recanted his story saying that hatred of her prompted him to lie.

Bell was given a polygraph test by Beaufort County authorities early in the investigation, but the defense has questioned the validity of that test. The prosecution has to take Bell out of North Carolina for a Lew Lie detector test.

Jury selection is expected to take two weeks. Since last week, the prosecution has been contending that the selection of jurors had been made more difficult because of the remarks of a judge not involved in the case. As a result, there have been suggestions that the prosecution was considering asking for a change of venue. The judge, Carlos Murray Jr., was quoted saying at a meeting of the Raleigh Rape Crisis Center that, "From what I've seen reported, I don't see how the case could go to a jury." Murray added that he did not feel that a jury would get the case unless it could be shown that someone aided in Little's escape.

Robert Kennedy's Son Gets Traffic Ticket In Virginia

WOODSTOCK, Va. (AP) — David Kennedy, 20, son of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, has been charged with reckless driving, failing to have a driver's license in his possession and failing to have auto registration in the car.

Officers said Kennedy was stopped Saturday night near New Market, Va., after police observed a car speeding at 92 miles per hour on Interstate 81. The speed limit is 55 m.p.h.

Kennedy was held briefly at the Shenandoah County jail until the registration of the car was checked. He was issued a summons and released pending a hearing in General District Court here July 25.

Judge Says He'll Rule Today In Deaths Of Twin Male Fetuses

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — A Camden County Court judge said he would rule today whether fetuses that died after emergency delivery can be considered persons, allowing murder charges to stand against a man accused of shooting and wounding an expectant mother.

Judge Leon A. Wingate said he would dismiss the murder indictment against Winfield Anderson, 24, if he determines that the fetuses cannot be considered persons under New Jersey's homicide statute.

But he said if he rules that the fetuses were individuals capable of sustaining life, the indictment will stand, and a jury will have to determine guilt or innocence on the murder charges.

Anderson is accused of shooting Nikki Spearman, 22, who was wounded in the abdomen, during a March 9 robbery at a home here. Miss Spearman was 7½ months pregnant with twin male fetuses at the time.

The fetuses, each weighing 2 pounds, 2 ounces, were delivered by Caesarean section after the shooting. One died about four hours after delivery, the other about 11 hours later.

The prosecution says the fetuses were murder victims because they lived shortly and then died of prenatal injuries. The defense argues that the state homicide law has no jurisdiction over unborn children.

A county medical examiner testified that autopsies showed all organs in the twins were "normal for a premature child." He attributed the death of one fetus, which was struck by a bullet in the spine, to shock caused by injury and the death of the other to immaturity.

During the week-long trial, Miss Spearman identified Anderson as her assailant.

Nixon Strolls Beach Barefoot

CAMP PENDLETON (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon, barefoot and accompanied by three members of his family, appeared at a beach near here over the weekend, chatting and posing for pictures with beachgoers.

Nixon, his wife Pat, daughter Tricia and son-in-law Edward Cox strolled along Red Beach at the massive Marine Corps training base Saturday, not far from the Vietnamese refugee camp set up at this sprawling Marine base.

The former president — clad in slacks and a dark jacket emblazoned with the presidential seal — signed autographs, shook hands with well-wishers and posed for photographers during the hour-long stroll.

Holton is accused of robbing a Seattle bank in 1973. Following his arrest for the robbery he escaped from custody and was charged with the Nov. 1, 1974 slaying of a bartender during a holdup in Omaha, Neb.

Clay County Rancher Slain By Two Robbers

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Law enforcement officers continued an investigation today into the robbery-slaying of a Clay County rancher early Sunday morning by two men, one of them wearing blackface makeup.

Jim Keith, 61, was shot to death at his ranch home before the intruders stole cash and a valuable antique gun collection, police said.

Details of the slaying were given by Keith's brother Kenneth, 70, who said the two men tied him up after forcing him to open a safe.

The elder Keith told police he was getting ready for bed at his ranch near here late Saturday night when he heard a shot coming from his brother's room. He said he went to investigate and found his brother lying in a pool of blood and discovered a young man, wearing blackface makeup, who forced him at gunpoint back to his room and tied him up.

Kenneth said he heard a pickup truck being pulled into the driveway at the rear of the house. The two men then loosened his bonds and forced him to open the safe.

They stayed in the house, located just off U.S. 287 near Jolly, until early Sunday morning and they left after disconnecting the telephone.

Kenneth said he escaped his bonds and drove to a truck stop where he reported the murder and robbery.

General Declares War On Fat Marines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Louis H. Wilson, the new commander of the Marine Corps, has declared war on fat Marines and on officers who let them get that way.

"If I see a fat Marine, he's got a problem, and so does his commanding officer," said Wilson, who keeps lean by running two miles every morning.

Wilson told a group of newsmen he plans to send the Marine inspector general around to check on how unit commanders enforce physical fitness standards. "If they have fat Marines, then they are going to have to answer for that," he said.

Virtually every recent commandant has taken aim at flabby Marines. If Wilson gets everybody to shape up, he will be the first to succeed.

From the moment he became commandant June 30, the 55-year-old Medal of Honor winner has sounded as though he feels the corps needs a general bracing. "I call on all Marines to get in step and do so smartly," he said as he took over from Gen. Robert E. Cushman.

Now, two weeks later, Wilson said he intends to raise enlistment standards and weed out Marines "unwilling to accept discipline."

"I'm willing to sacrifice quantity for quality," Wilson said. He added, however, that he expects the Marines to attract enough quality recruits to fill requirements even after the economic recession ends.

Wilson said he will insist that the Marines recruit a higher percentage of high-school graduates. Indicating the goal is still under study, he said it will be well above the current 55 per cent level.

Nationalist China Completes 100-Day Mourning Period

Agence France-Presse
TAIPEI—Chinese in Taiwan today completed a 100-day period of mourning for the late Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek, official marking the end of his 50-year rule, half on the mainland. The last day's mourning was featured by the release of 8,000 convicts including 13 foreigners and an undisclosed number of political prisoners under a commutation of sentences bill enacted in memory of the late president.

This was the largest clemency ever since the Nationalist government set foot on Taiwan in 1949 following the Communist victory on the Chinese mainland.

British Uncover IRA Plan For New Blitz Of London

LONDON (AP) — British police have uncovered a plan by the Irish Republican Army's Provisional wing for another bomb blitz in Britain and the assassination of Britons if the Provos' cease-fire in Northern Ireland breaks down, British and Irish newspapers report.

The Dublin Sunday Press said that the partly burned documents found in a raid in Liverpool described an IRA plan to set bombs in London and cities in the English Midlands if full-scale warfare resumes in Northern Ireland.

The London Sun said the British police have details of IRA plans to shoot British judges and policemen. It suggested that the guerrilla army might have been responsible for the shooting of seven policemen in English cities since Christmas. The paper also said a buildup for the planned violence in Britain has been going on for months.

The raid in Liverpool last week netted IRA gunman Sean Kinsella, who escaped from a jail outside Dublin with 18 other IRA members last August. The Liverpool police said they also found the biggest IRA cache of arms and explosives ever uncovered in Britain.

Colonel Flown To Germany

MUNICH, West Germany (AP) — The U.S. Army flew Col. Ernest R. Morgan to Munich today for a medical check-up and questioning about his two weeks as the captive of Arab guerrillas in Lebanon, the U.S. military reported.

Morgan, 43, of Petersburg, Va., was accompanied by his wife and son, with whom he was reunited Sunday in Turkey.

An Army spokesman said Morgan was sent to West Germany for questioning about his ordeal "because it was considered more appropriate away from his assignment in Ankara. He's been subjected to a lot of stress."

The spokesman added that U.S. medical facilities "are somewhat more complete" in West Germany.

"We don't know yet what Col. Morgan's ultimate assignment will be or whether he will be returning to Ankara," the spokesman said.

"Col. Morgan will also be given the opportunity to meet with the press after his briefing," the spokesman added.

Morgan, a member of the U.S. military aid mission in Turkey, was kidnaped on June 29 when he stopped for the night in Beirut on his way back from a meeting in Pakistan. He was taken from a taxicab when he went to the airport to buy some magazines at the height of street fighting between leftist Moslems and rightist Christians.

The colonel's captors identified themselves as the Revolutionary Socialist Action Group, a previously unknown organization, but the Palestine Liberation Organization charged that he was taken prisoner by the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine-General Command, a more radical group than the PLO.

Morgan was released Saturday after the Lebanese government complied with the kidnappers' demand for the distribution of food, clothing and building materials to a Moslem slum district that was badly damaged during the street fighting.

The colonel was given a checkup at the American University hospital in Beirut, talked with Lebanese security officials and U.S. Ambassador McMurtrie Godley and spent the night at the hospital.

Appearing before newsmen Sunday before leaving the Lebanese capital, he read a statement, appeared in good condition and refused to answer many questions.

Mediators Intensifying Contract Dispute Efforts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal labor mediators are intensifying their efforts to resolve contract disputes involving railroad and postal workers in an effort to head off possible strikes next week.

W. J. Usery, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, will shuttle between the separate negotiations involving the Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks, led by C. L. Dennis, and the National Association of Letter Carriers, headed by James H. Rademacher.

Both negotiations face a July 21 deadline.

Officials of the 117,000-member postal union and representatives of the Postal Service had a 14-hour negotiating session Sunday. Afterward, Usery told both sides it was important that they "engage in intensive bargaining" this week to avoid interruption of mail services.

Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar said Sunday he does not expect a strike, but he did not rule out some work stoppages if no settlement is found.

There were indications that the postal talks have entered the critical stage, and both sides were asked to have their full negotiating committees here this week.

Crowd Burns Communist Party Office In Portugal

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — A crowd burned the local office of the Communist party and a smaller ultra-left party in one small Portuguese town, while thousands demonstrated in northern Portugal demanding the return of the Roman Catholic church's radio station.

ANI, the national news agency, blamed "reactionary forces" for the attack Sunday in Rio Maior, a town of 2,000 people 60 miles north of Lisbon, on the offices of the Communist party and the Popular Socialist Front.

The report said the crowd was angered by rumors that the Communists were going to take over the local trade union. Troops were sent to restore order, and several persons were slightly injured, the news agency reported.

The Catholics demonstrated at Aveiro, 120 miles farther north, when their bishop, Manuel D'Almeida Trindade, returned from a meeting with Pope Paul VI in Rome.

Shouting "Radio Renascenca belongs to the people" and "United Christians will never be defeated," the huge crowd marched behind the bishop to his residence.

Neither the army, the police nor the local Communists tried to interfere with the demonstration. The Communists denounced the march as a "reactionary maneuver," and the local government radio station broadcast Communist communiques urging party members to boycott, the rally.

Meanwhile, the military regime on Sunday lifted a partial military alert that had been ordered the day before. A spokesman said the alert, or "state of vigilance," had been ordered because of plotting by "reactionary forces." He did not say why it was lifted.

Train Whistles, Jet Engine Noise Blamed For Births

Agence France-Presse
ANKARA—Does a train whistle make you feel romantic? According to the Planning Association of Eskisehir in Western Turkey, train whistles are one of the main reasons why the city has the second-highest birthrate in the world.

The other reason is the whining roar of jet engines from aircraft at Eskisehir's military base, the association said, ruefully admitting that it had failed to stem population growth.

"Awakened by the aircraft of the military base and the trains at the railway station, our townspeople continue to respond too readily to the stirrings of nature," the association declared.

Nixon 'Definitely Considering' Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is "definitely considering" moving from California to Bronxville, N.Y., according to U.S. News & World Report.

The magazine on Sunday quoted associates of the former president as saying he may "engage in projects with his close friend, multimillionaire Robert Abplanalp, who has a home near Bronxville."

Abplanalp and Charles G. "Bebe" Rebozo are said to have urged Nixon to sell his San Clemente estate as a way of getting out of a financial bind, the magazine said.

Midland Couple Married 30 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Leylon Jennings, County Road 30 West, were honored on their 30th wedding anniversary with a dinner party given by their daughter and her husband, Cindy and Dennis Bright, and granddaughter, Ginger Raye, of Odessa.

Also present for the occasion were other children of the couple, Marvin Leylon Jr., Ricky Earl and Martha Leyna Jennings.

The couple was married June 30, 1945 in Fredrick, Okla. They have been residents of the Midland-Odessa area for 16 years and are members of Odessa's Temple Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Leylon Jennings

Jennings is a 32nd Degree Mason and a member of Odessa Lodge No. 955, Odessa Shrine Association, Odessa Scottish Rite Association and El Maida Temple of El Paso. He also is a member of the Texas Farm Bureau and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He owns Bel-Air Drilling Co. and is co-owner of Lee Tank and Trucking Co., both at Midland.

Sharing TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Elaine Stevens and Jane Moenter are sharing the same bank teller's job and baby-sitting chores.

They take turns working, each for three days a week, in the Lacey Exchange Bank. When not at the bank, they do the baby-sitting for each other.

Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. Moenter are sisters-in-law.

HERE WE GO — Mr. and Mrs. William S. Bachman, who are moving to Newport Beach, Calif., were honored Saturday with a cocktail party and buffet dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Raman, 2305 Stanolind St. Pictured at the party are, from the left, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Upchurch, Raman, Mrs. George Donnelly, Mrs. Bachman, Donnelly and Bachman. The host couples were Mr. and Mrs. Raman, Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Renaud, Mr. and Mrs. Upchurch and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ward.

Students Have 'To Get Married'

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — All the seniors who sign up for the family life course at Sanger High School have to get "married" whether they want to or not.

Each couple must go out and find an apartment, buy furniture and decide how much to spend on groceries, insurance, clothing and the like — all on an income of $750 a month.

And each couple must also be prepared to swallow the bitter pills life has to offer such as an unexpected pregnancy, a large medical bill or a disastrous fire.

The success or failure of make-believe marriages are recorded in the teacher's passbook.

"A goal of the course is to delay but not discourage marriage," said instructor Larry Powell, who introduced the role-playing class format at the school.

"Statistics tell us that three out of four teen-age marriages fail within five years. The key problem is that marriage has been Hollywoodized. Teenagers expect marriage to be a cure-all. 'If we are in love,' they say, 'it will wash the dishes.'"

The course is offered as an elective to seniors. To date some 60 per cent of the seniors have taken the course.

Serve Molasses Milk

Serve molasses milk often in summer, over cereal or as a drink. It helps save the sugar and best of all it is rich in iron. Four tablespoons of molasses to a quart of milk is the right proportion.

HINTS FROM Heloise

It All Started In The Garden Of Eden . . .

Dear Folks:

Now is the time to realize that apples now cost the price of wandering birds — and they cost plenty.

So let's you and me take a few apples and make the most of 'em. O.K.?

I just happen to be an apple lover. I've fried 'em and boiled 'em and made many apple pies. But you know what? I never learned to stretch 'em . . .

Until this week. And it was a cutie. Really it was.

I took one apple and cut it into six parts, THEN cut the seeds out and when I put it in the pan with the water, I thought "Imagine me doing that? If the apple is red outside, why AIN'T it red inside?"

So? I picked up my bottle of red food coloring and dropped only three drops of this precious stuff in the water and sugar and, by golly, if my apples weren't beautiful!

Oh! I learned that apples go further if you just put 'em on a plate like this with your supper.

These can also be put on top of a mound of cottage cheese and a lovely lunch salad. The juice you've cooked 'em in is real juicy and red when boiled down.

I happened to use brown sugar in the water I cooked mine in, but white sugar does the same trick.

Love from a "baked apple" . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Just thought of a couple of hints that might bring a little pleasure to some of our older folks.

Dad is in a nursing home and we visit him often and take him things he likes or needs, one being paper hunkies.

One day my sister took him blue ones and he was so pleased. He said since his eyesight isn't so good, the blue ones were so easy to spot on the white bedding. You can bet we never take him white ones anymore.

Mrs. George Malinsky

LETTER OF LOVE

Dear Heloise:

Do you mind if I name my new Registered Angus heifer after you, Heloise?

My wife says you might take offense.

My heavens, no, my love! I would consider it the greatest compliment ever.

Maybe I could tell my cousin Heloise that she has a cousin in Montana? O.K.?

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I have 24 window screens to wash. To speed up the job, I take them to a car wash — the kind that has a wand to wash the car with.

I just stack the screens up along the wall, wash, and then rinse them.

They always come out like new.

Cathy Decker

Dear Heloise:

Some recipes call for grated chocolate in cake batters, etc.

I've found "chocolate cake or cookie decorations" work just fine without the mess of grating the chocolate.

I use half a cup to a cake — either the white or yellow cake mix, or a "from scratch" cake. They should be folded into the batter as the last ingredient.

New Captive Nations

This is Captive Nations Week... and although the observance doesn't receive the attention it once did, this by no means detracts from its special significance.

Actually, the lack of attention shouldn't be too surprising, in view of this nation's policy of detente with the Soviet Union and reconciliation with Red China.

The fact that Captive Nations Week yet exists perhaps is surprising to some. Every year since 1950, the President has proclaimed a week in July to remember those people under Communist domination.

President Ford, in his proclamation, called on Americans to rededicate themselves to "the ideals of our own democratic heritage," and "manifest our belief that all men everywhere have the same inherent right to freedom that we enjoy."

This compares with the first (1950) resolution, which held that "the enslavement of a substantial part of the world's population by Communist imperialism makes a mockery of the idea of peaceful co-existence" and that "the imperialistic and aggressive policies of Russian communism have resulted in the creation of a vast empire which poses a dire threat to the security of the United States and of all free peoples of the world."

The difference in the resolutions points up the change in U.S. foreign policy in the last 15 years. This makes it all the more essential that Captive Nations Week be observed on a continuing basis.

Although there has been change in U.S. foreign policy, it is felt that the majority of Americans have not lost interest in the millions of persons in captive nations. The plight of the captive nations yet is of deep concern to most residents of the U.S.

Rep. Daniel J. Flood of Pennsylvania, speaking on the floor of the House last month, said Americans and citizens of 17 other countries will take part in the 17th annual observance of Captive Nations Week.

"Despite our domestic concerns and numerous problems in the Free

World," he said, "the established tradition of the week has been strongly perpetuated by Americans with both a firm moral consciousness and conviction toward all of the 29 nations in Communist captivity and an unshakable political rationale that underscores these captive nations as our most formidable allies.

"This in itself expresses the real, existing moral fiber of our country and augurs well for our future, both in terms of our national security and the persistent values of our democratic civilization."

The congressman then called attention to the writings of Dr. Lev E. Dobriansky, professor of economics at Georgetown University and also president of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America and chairman of the National Captive Nations Week Committee, on the subject.

In his article on "The Despairing West and the Confident East," Dr. Dobriansky added both South Vietnam and Cambodia to his scorecard of captive nations.

He also has raised the question "Who is next?"

This is the question which really counts. It is sufficient to make residents of all remaining free countries sit up and take notice.

Dr. Dobriansky's analysis of detente points to new additions to his long list, based on historical perspective, cumulative causation, and Communist exploitation of captive resources, particularly those in the Soviet Union itself.

It is felt by Dr. Dobriansky and many others that the detente which is so much in the news these days, actually accommodates and abets the exploitation by Moscow in its fixed quest for world supremacy. This certainly could lead to the permanent captivity of the many nations in the USSR.

As we reflect on the plight of the captive nations, let us not overlook that question, "Who is next?"

NICK THIMMESCH

Endless War And Vengeance In Mid-East

WASHINGTON — The terrorist bomb in Jerusalem and the retaliatory raid-in-force by the Israeli military on Lebanon only dramatize the hopelessness of the Middle East situation without a settlement of the Palestinian question.

Nick Timmesch

feels it is fair game to go get them wherever they are and to use whatever means necessary.

The political structure of Lebanon doesn't help the situation. The power is balanced between Christians and Moslems, therefore the government can't risk internal turmoil by identifying and restraining the terrorists. There are about 200,000 Palestinians in Lebanon, half of them in camps.

The Lebanese government has been reticent to use its 16,000 man army against any troublemakers, much less the Palestinians. Lebanon has pretty much managed to stay out of the Israeli-Arab wars, and prospered as a consequence.

But now, with right-wing nationalists and left-wing extremists fighting in Beirut's streets for many weeks, Lebanon's political stability is strained. The Israeli raids complicate this dangerous situation.

There is no way that Lebanon's present small military force can perform credibly against the Israelis or anyone else. The 65 miles of Lebanese border

One And The Same

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON with Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — A chilling study for Congress suggests that Americans are closer to George Orwell's concept of 1984 than they may think.

Orwell described an advanced police state whose citizens couldn't make a move without the government knowing it.

With only nine years to go to 1984, the federal government may not yet be watching everyone, but it can concentrate an infinite variety of eyes and ears on anyone who arouses its suspicions.

A whole new arsenal of eavesdropping devices, according to the study, not only is available to government gunshoes but can be used with impunity.

For the 1988 law on the subject, thanks to the loose language drafted by law-and-order Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., places only the mildest restraints on the federal snoops.

The study was conducted by electronics consultant David Watters for Rep. Charles Mosher, D-Ohio. Watters' unpublished, 140-page report describes a number of devices which have turned snooping into a sinister science.

Here are just a few ways, under the 1968 statute, that the government can intrude upon individual privacy:

Electronic "scanners" can sort through teletype, telex and other written transmissions, pick out key words and then automatically reproduce the whole message, Watters reports.

Similar scanners can be used, according to the study, to intercept data, facsimile and video transmissions.

Devices known as "pen registers" can record the numbers dialed from a telephone, plus the date, time and length of the call.

"Certain exotic categories of switch and signal wiretapping equipment," states the Watters study, "(can) automatically sweep at high speed through thousands of communications circuits per hour searching for special signal address patterns." In other words, intricate equipment now available can scan whole communities, select out the call of a person under surveillance and automatically record the telephone data.

is only partially patrolled. Thus the Israelis come and go freely, as do the Palestinian terrorists.

In 1970 and 1972, the Israelis actually put several thousand troops into Lebanon for brief, but intense, bouts of fighting. The Lebanese engaged them, but that was the exception, rather than the rule.

Lebanon's military is no match for the Israelis. Lebanon's air force numbers perhaps two-dozen British fighters, all inferior to the U.S.-made Phantoms the Israelis have in quantity. The Lebanese have a mix of British, French and U.S. weapons, and recently acquired anti-aircraft guns from Yugoslavia. No complaint from the Lebanese when Palestinian guerrillas fire Soviet-made rockets at Israeli warplanes.

Lebanon is a sitting duck for Israel, whose raids ostensibly are to liquidate terrorists. More often, however, the victims are people who had nothing to do with terrorism. That means women, children and anyone around when the bomb or artillery shell hits, or the rifle fires.

Photographs of Lebanese villages and camps hit by Israeli air raids make them look like their counterparts in Vietnam. It's pretty grisly stuff.

Only Palestinian extremists justify terrorist raids on Israelis or targets deemed sympathetic to Israel. Such terrorism must be universally condemned. But Israel's retaliation is also cruel. Prof. Federico Alessandri, press spokesman for the Vatican, once wrote of Israel's raids on south Lebanon as

INSIDE REPORT

De-Americanizing The Philippines

By HOWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

MANILA — Attempts by President Ferdinand E. Marcos to balance suppression of Muslim insurgents with courtship of the Arab oil bloc reflects the new de-Americanized foreign policy of the Philippines.

To the dismay of army officers, Marcos has pulled military punches against escalated guerrilla operations on the southern island of Mindanao rather than give Arab states the impression of a Christian nation waging holy war against its Muslim minority. What's more, he has turned the other cheek to Muslim countries aiding the insurgents.

Such deference to the Arabs was prompted by Philippine economic suffering from higher oil prices last year with their big American brother standing helplessly. That was one of several shocks — beginning with the 1969 Nixon Doctrine and climaxed by the 1975 Indochina debacle — adding up to U.S. decline in East Asia and causing Marcos to end Manila's echoing of Washington. Besides the Arab courtship, the new policy emphasizes regional Asian ties, shuns vocal anti-Communism and embraces Communist China.

Nor does the Philippines any longer copy American political and social models. Martial law under Marcos is flourishing after 1,000 days, reflecting a consensus that American democracy is simply not for this country. Marcos returned last month from Peking rapturous about the Chinese system and suggesting its applications here. For better or worse, the Philippines are no longer, in William Howard Taft's unfortunate phrase, "our little brown brothers."

Marcos' determination to establish a distinctly Philippine foreign policy is shown by its interaction with his worst domestic problem: the Mindanao insurrection. While scattered Communist insurgents are no problem, Muslim guerrillas grow stronger and recently pulled off two bloody ambushes of Philippine troops (unreported in the controlled Manila press). Some 20,000 Philippine troops in Mindanao are not close to suppressing guerrillas whose shrewds plied Spanish and American colonialists.

But overshadowing the insurgency has been the world oil crisis, standing for this poor, oil-importing country. Impromptu remarks by Marcos in the town of Lucena last February more clearly reflect his thinking than formal speeches. What will happen, he asked, "if all these countries producing oil — Arab nations — would support this (Mindanao) secessionist movement? ... Where will we go? The United States is in a class too. She cannot even help Vietnam or Laos."

Since then, not only did Marcos unequivocally support the Arabs in the Middle East, but, outside his generals, he restrained the anti-guerrilla campaign in Mindanao. Although Marcos confirmed to us that Libya is supplying insurgents with European arms, he has raised no international furor.

Marcos also confirmed to us that the rebels are aided by Tam Masyaha, chief minister of the Malaysian state of Sabah, and that insurgent leaders have been trained by Malaysia's central government. But seeking to erase the American-puppet stigma and work closely with Malaysia and other Asian nations, Marcos has not protested.

At the heart of his new foreign policy is China. Could not the communique establishing diplomatic relations be interpreted as a non-aggression treaty? "Well," he replied in our interview, "suppose I don't interpret but merely quote Chairman Mao Tse-tung. He said we will not plot, conspire against each other or seek to overthrow each other."

Marcos has few illusions about how much protection that provides. But he was captivated by China — to the means of rich Filipinos. We heard him address civil servants here, admonishing them to avoid copying "foreign models" and then praising Chinese practices. Clearly, "foreign" meant "American."

In our interview, the President described Chinese "self-reliance, their unity, their dedication, their self-organization." Did he find anything unattractive there? "No," he answered, adding that workers and peasants could criticize commune leaders. "It gave a taste of democracy. My impression was always that it was authoritarianism and that orders came from above. But the impression that I got was the other way around."

Marcos' "new society" does resemble Chinese "democracy" more than the American original.

With his ten years in power comprising one-third of total Philippine independence, Marcos looms as the dominant figure in the republic's history.

as Watters wishes. But Sen. Charles Mathias, R-Md., and Rep. Charles Mosher have introduced legislation to close the most gaping loopholes in the 1968 law.

WASHINGTON WHIRL: There has been talk in the backrooms of Washington about setting arbitrary prices for food exports after the example of the oil cartel. The success of the oil producers in running up oil prices already has encouraged the formation of five more commodity cartels, covering bauxite, chrome, copper, phosphate and tin. Some Washington policymakers are saying, therefore, that the United States must play the game in self defense.

— According to our own survey, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger is the hardest working member of the cabinet. He puts in an exhausting day and wades through an immense stack of paperwork. Associates say he is a speed reader who can go through a two-inch stack of paper in 20 minutes and still absorb the essential points.

— The Navy last month abandoned bell bottoms for more modish trousers. If this is welcomed by style-conscious seamen, it could mean trouble for those who are spilled into the ocean. The reason sailors started wearing bell bottoms centuries ago was to make it easier to slip off their trousers in case their ship should sink.

The Country Parson By Frank A. Clark

Good conversation is essential exercise which helps the mind grow.

Even though the FBI has abused the law, it is still in Watters' opinion "the only agency in our country to whom we can safely entrust the privilege of intercepting wire and oral communications."

As a guard against FBI abuses, Watters would require the FBI to obtain a court warrant not only for routine wiretapping but for all other forms of electronic interceptions. Then after the eavesdropping had ended, the subjects would have to be notified and the eavesdroppers would have to be identified.

Kissinger To Take Word On Middle East To U.S. Middle West

WASHINGTON (AP) — Home from meetings with Soviet, Israeli and French leaders, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is leaving again, this time for the Middle West to tell Americans they should have confidence in his foreign policy.

After meetings last week in Paris, Geneva and Bonn, Kissinger reported Sunday night to President Ford about progress toward arms limitation and a Sinai settlement.

He departed today on a campaign-style swing through Milwaukee, Wis., where a summer fest much like the one Kissinger helped celebrate in Bonn wound up Sunday. The secretary then goes to Minneapolis, Minn., for two speeches and two news conferences.

The trip is one of a half dozen he has made this year within the United States. Kissinger has said the purpose "is to give the people... a sense that the government has a foreign policy and that they should have confidence in it."

At each stop on his European trip, which ended Saturday, Kissinger reported progress:

—"Very good progress" in a meeting with French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing in Paris on resuming dialogue between oil producing and oil consuming nations.

—"Progress" in more than seven hours of talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in Geneva on a new treaty limiting nuclear offensive weapons.

—"Progress" during a session with Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin in Bonn on "achieving an understanding of the elements that are needed" in a Sinai settlement between Israel and Egypt.

However, at a stopover in London on his way home, Kissinger said "we will have to wait and see" about the Sinai. "Significant differences still remain, and we will know in the course of the next few weeks whether they can be bridged."

Israel has resisted Egypt's demand for return of the strategic Gidi and Mitla mountain passes on the Sinai Peninsula, gateways for a tank invasion into the eastern Sinai.

The passes are now named by a thin Israeli force.

Aboard Kissinger's jet on his way home Saturday night, a senior U.S. official said the United States would help set up an electronic warning system in the desert to insure Israel against any surprise Egyptian attack.

Butterfield Says Prouty Allegations 'Defamatory'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former presidential aide Alexander Butterfield today described as defamatory allegations that he was a Central Intelligence Agency contact officer at the White House, but the man who made the original charge was sticking by his story.

"I don't back off from any of that," retired Air Force Col. L. Fletcher Prouty said Sunday night after Butterfield had denied the allegations on the CBS program "60 Minutes."

In a statement today to reporters, Butterfield said: "Mr. Prouty's initial public statements about me were sufficient to lead reporters to allege that, in my case, there was a spy motive, that I had infiltrated the White House, or in other words, that while there I served two masters."

"Those serious allegations are altogether false," Butterfield said. "Moreover they are defamatory. In that I stated my White House duties in full under oath to the Senate Watergate committee and other high-level investigative bodies, Mr. Fletcher Prouty's allegation is tantamount to a charge of perjury. The damage to my reputation has been done."

Butterfield said, as he had in the Sunday night interview by CBS correspondent Mike Wallace, that "the fact of the matter is, I never was assigned, never was attached and never have been their (CIA) designated contact man. That is absolutely false."

In the interview, Butterfield also said that he has never met convicted Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt Jr., the man Prouty claims told him that Butterfield was the CIA contact man at the White House.

"I have never met Howard Hunt in my life," Butterfield said. "I have never seen Howard Hunt in my lifetime."

Referring to that statement later, Prouty said, "I think his words are chosen," explaining that one of Hunt's associates in the Washington public relations firm of Mullen & Co. may actually have contacted Butterfield in connection with Prouty's attempt to get White House backing for a project involving Indochina prisoners of war.

Prouty said his claim was based on the fact that Mullen was a firm with CIA connections and that Hunt was a 20-year veteran of the CIA.

Prouty contended, therefore, that whoever Hunt said he would contact at the White House "is by definition a CIA contact man."

Brief Earthquake Ruins Many Old Burmese Pagodas

PAGAN, Burma—A 20-second earthquake at this former capital of Burmese kings has ruined pagodas which had withstood hundreds of years and foreign occupation.

The city's 4,000 temples had survived the 13th-century invasion by Kubla Khan but, after last Tuesday's brief quake, not one of them remained fully intact.

The abandoned temples, jewels of Burmese and Buddhist architecture studded with a fortune in precious stones and gold, stand on a remarkable site where the Irrawaddy River forms a tranquil lake. Some toppled into the river or were reduced to heaps of reddish dust and brick rubble. Others were damaged by deep fissures.

No casualties were reported after the tremor, which was of fairly strong intensity.

U Bokay, curator of the Pagan tourist site, said he feared apocalyptic rains would cause further deterioration.

He said the Burmese government already had allotted $250,000 to keep the worst fissures from spreading, but that complete restoration of the richest temples might be beyond the resources of the nation.

Two of the most exalted of the pagodas, the Gawpawpali (Hall of the Ancestral Throne) and Thathayinnay (The omniscient), had their white outer flanks crisscrossed with sinister red cracks showing the brick underneath. But valuable mural paintings on the inner walls suffered little damage.

Paper Shortage Forces U.S. Offices In Laos On Short Week

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — security reasons," a spokesman said.

The U.S. Embassy's consular section and the U.S. Information Service library will only be open two days a week because of the two-week Communist occupation of the Embassy's warehouses, an Embassy official said today.

"We just don't have any more paper," said one American.

Other offices are also running out of supplies, and an employee commented: "They can force us to stop working."

Armed guards from the Communist Pathet Lao occupied the USIS building at the same time they seized the Embassy warehouse. The USIS building was returned to the Americans, but the Embassy has been unable to secure return of the warehouses.

In Bangkok, Thai Prime Minister Kukrit Pramoj said Thailand has withdrawn its consular staffs from Pakse and Savannakhet, on the Mekong river in southern Laos, and Ban Houei Sai in northern Laos.

Western diplomats in Bangkok believed the Pathet Lao wanted the Thai observers out to conceal Pathet Lao movements. Ban Houei Sai has been under Pathet Lao control for months, and the Thai staff there gathered information on the progress of the road which North Vietnamese and Chinese soldiers are building across northern Laos to the Thai border.

Laotian-Thai relations have turned sour in recent weeks in the wake of a series of shooting incidents between Thai marine police and Pathet Lao troops along the Mekong River between the two countries.

The Pathet Lao is also bitter because Thailand has given refuge to conservative Laotian leaders who fled when the Pathet Lao began to take over.

The South Vietnamese national bank announced the reopening of eight branches in Saigon and said it expects to have 14 branches in operation by next month, Saigon's Liberation Radio reported. The bank was re-established in mid-June by the Provisional Revolutionary Government and was instructed to take over the assets and operations of all former banks.

The broadcast also said 540 private factories and other enterprises have resumed work and provided more than 50,000 jobs around Saigon.

The Saigon radio reported that the Ministry of Information allowed a weekly news magazine Cong Giac Va Dan Toc, or Roman Catholicism and the People, to begin publishing on July 10.

Miss Texas Says Talent Strong Point

FORT WORTH (AP) — A hazel-eyed girl with talent who turned childhood plumpness into a 36-23-35 figure is the new Miss Texas of 1975.

She is Miss Waco, Mary Ellen Richardson, 26, who was chosen Saturday night and will represent the state in the Miss America contest at Atlantic City.

"As a little girl I was chubby," she said Sunday. "I have never considered myself a beauty. I always thought my strong point is my talent."

Miss Richardson is a student at Baylor University in Waco, but will attend North Texas State University this year thanks to a one-year scholarship that was one of the prizes she won as the new Miss Texas.

Other awards include a $3,000 wardrobe and a $500 fashion award.

Miss Texas, who has performed at Six Flags Over Texas amusement park, sang "The Jewel Song" from Faust.

She is not interested in a Hollywood career. "Texas is a prime place for music theater," she said. "There are marvelous opportunities for a career right here in Texas."

First runner-up in the contest was Miss Toledo Bend, Patrice McLemore, second Miss Hurst-Eules-Bedford, Rivers Hatchett; third Miss Haltom-Richland, Sherry Fager; and fourth Miss West Texas, Mary Ella Meek.

Miss Texas praised the other contestants, saying they were easy to get along with.

"We all helped each other," she said. "It's really not caty or back-biting."

Miss U.S.A. Abed With High Fever

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Summer Bartholomew, Miss U.S.A. and a contender for the Miss Universe title to be awarded this week, is sick in bed with a fever of 102.

"I guess I caught the flu running in and out of the hot sun and air-conditioned rooms and buses," said Miss Bartholomew of Merced, Calif., in a bedside interview at her hotel room.

"The doctor said I have to stay in bed at least a couple of days."

Preliminary judging opens Tuesday and the 23-year-old, chestnut-haired Californian said she would take part "If I have to crawl there. I won't be stopped now after coming this far."

Miss Bartholomew, wearing white tights and a red, white and blue bicentennial outfit, drew cheers from some 2,500 spectators in the national gymnasium when she delivered part of her remarks in Spanish at Friday's opening night ceremony.

More than 70 girls are entered in the competition, with 11 judges to name Miss Universe Saturday night.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

What's Best Way To Land Husband?

DEAR ABBY: To make a long story short, another girl and I are interested in finding husbands, and we don't want to waste a lot of time and money looking. I am 30 and she is 31.

Can you tell us where to look for eligible men — preferably with money? Or do you believe in that old saying, "Everything comes to him who waits?"

LOOKING IN ST. PAUL

DEAR LOOKING: Get out of Minnesota. There are only 8 eligible men to every 100 single women in your age bracket there.

Your best bet is Alaska. The unmarried men outnumber single women two to one.

The pickings are good in Hawaii, Nevada and Rhode Island. The ratio there is about six men to every five women.

Florida, California and Arizona are loaded with older eligibles who are loaded. But prepare to compete with rich widows.

The only thing that comes to those who wait is gray hair. Good luck and happy hunting, girls!

DEAR ABBY: We are a middle-age couple. We are neighbors to a young couple I'll call Tom and Ann who go out of town frequently. They gave my husband a key to their house so that he can feed their dog, water their plants and keep an eye on their house in their absence. I have never gone into their house while they are not home. Recently we went away on a trip, and my husband gave Tom and Ann a key to our house so they could keep an eye on it.

We've been back three months, and they still have our house key. Yesterday when we returned from shopping, we found a note stuck in our door. It read: "We called, got no answer, so we came in and borrowed some chairs we needed. Signed, Tom and Ann."

Abby, I feel that this was presumptuous. I don't want anyone in my house when I'm not home. And I certainly don't want them borrowing anything without my permission. True, had I been home, I would have let them borrow the chairs, but I feel they had no business helping themselves.

I've asked my husband to ask them for our key. He says I'm being foolish. I will abide by your decision. If you say I'm wrong, I'll apologize.

OVER 50 AND ANGRY

DEAR OVER: No apologies necessary. I think you're right.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I attended a small dinner party at the home of a friend. For dessert she served a lemon custard cake topped with whipped cream and coconut icing. It was delicious! Everyone raved and no one left a crumb.

The next morning I telephoned my hostess to thank her again for the lovely dinner party. Then I asked her for the recipe for the dessert. I was shocked when she said, "It's my own creation and I don't give out the recipe, but if you ever want one, I'll be glad to make it for you—for $10, which will be donated to my church."

How do you feel about that, Abby?

DUMBFOUNDED

DEAR D: It's her recipe and her right to refuse to give it out. I think it's a good deal for everyone — including members of her church.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

is to cash the ace of hearts and then lead the queen of diamonds.

Favorable Return
Somebody has to take the ace of diamonds. If a club comes back, you lose only two club tricks. If a diamond comes back, you win in dummy, discarding a club from your hand. If a heart comes back, you ruff in dummy, discarding a club.

If East happens to hold the ace of diamonds, he can return a trump, but you win in dummy with the ten of spades, after which you will discard a club on the king of diamonds.

The principle is to throw an opponent into the lead at a time when any return will be favorable. In this case you must cash the ace of hearts before giving up the diamond trick; for otherwise East would get out safely by returning a heart.

DAILY QUESTION
Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold: 8—None—H—J—10—9—8—4—D—J—9—7—3—2—C—K—8—7.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid four hearts. This shows strong trump support, good distribution (void or singleton on the side), and not more than 9 points in high cards.

M-Cubs Rally In 8th And 9th To Nip Drillers, 6-5

By TED BATTLES
Midland's comeback Cubs did it again for 1,886 Miss Softball America fans at Cubs Stadium Sunday night to take a tension-fraught Texas League series from the Lafayette Drillers, three games to two.

A one out double by Mike Umfleet to the wall in center and a two-out single by Wayne Tyrone in the last of the ninth propelled the Bruises to a 6-5 victory over the East division leaders.

Midland had rallied for three runs in the bottom of the eighth to take a 5-4 lead only to see the Drillers push over the tying run in the ninth.

Tyrone had a four-hit night, delivering vital hits in both the eighth and ninth, but the lineup was full of clutch performers for Midland Sunday.

With the Cubs trailing 4-2 going into the eighth, Bill Drooge opened the inning with a Texas League single to center and Tyrone singled to left. Bill Bright's sacrifice moved the runners into scoring position and Al Montreuil delivered a sharp single to left for one run.

Joe Wallis lifted a fly into short center and Tyrone tagged up on a daring gamble and beat the throw with a fadeaway slide to tie it. Bill Huisman, running for Montreuil, stole second and that left it up to Mike Sember who poked a go-ahead single over short.

Dennis Lamp, who had relieved starter Donnie Moore ran and Tyrone singled to left. Bill Bright's sacrifice moved the runner into scoring position and Gary Alexander and Jack Clark, the Drillers' home run hitters, loaded the bases.

Gary Jungo, who was to get the win, his second, came in and his pitch to Reggie Walton into the dirt let the run score. He finished intentionally walking Walton to lead the bases.

and then whiffed Rick Denocenzo and shortstop Sember turned Tommy Smith's grounder into the hole into a force at second to choke off the rally.

Catcher Greg Collins contributed run scoring singles in the second and fourth to give Midland a 2-0 lead and run his batting streak to 5-for-5 over two games, raising his average from .220 to .258.

"I had visions of 11-for-11," the Vanderbilt grad grinned after the game. "That is the Texas League record, isn't it?" Midland might have had more, but the Driller defense was superb, turning five double plays in the first six innings. With the Cubs making five errors, it was amazing that they led 2-0 going into the fifth.

An error, single by Wendell Kim and walk to John Yegliński got Moore in trouble in the fifth. Alexander's fly to center plated one run and Clark's single brought home another.

The Drillers went ahead 4-2 in the seventh when Moore walked Yegliński and put the Drillers ahead and brought Lamp out of the bullpen with runners on second and third. A wild pickoff throw to second let Alexander come home before Lamp quelled the uprising.

The win kept the Cubs seven games behind first place Shreveport, 10-inning winner over Jackson, in the West race, Lafayette now goes to Shreveport while Midland will host the East's second place team in another pressure series beginning Wednesday night.

Watson Chases 'Choke' Rap

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (AP) — Any golfer who birdies 14th can feel pleased with himself.

Jack Newton of Australia did it in Sunday's playoff for the British Open. But Tom Watson went him one better. He eagled it.

Watson, who was earning a history of choking in major tournaments, went on to win the crown and he said his eagle chip at the 14th was the stroke that counted the most toward the title.

"I hit a good wood for my second shot, and it landed in short grass just off the green, about 30 feet from the pin," Watson said. "I took a chipping wedge for my third shot and it ended in the hole."

Watson went on to a one-under-par 71 over the 7,065-yard, par-72 course and edged Newton by one stroke. It was the fourth time in five days that Watson had shattered par on the famous course, and it helped ease bitter memories of two consecutive U.S. Opens when he blew chances to win.

The 488-yard 14th, where the playoff turned in Watson's favor, is called "the spectacles" because two big round bunkers peer out in front of the green.

Watson steered past the bunkers with his second shot but missed the green. The chip, however, was one of the outstanding shots of a memorable tournament.

Carnoustie is a dragon when the wind comes up, but for the first three days there was scarcely a breath of wind. Watson had scores of 71, 67 and 69 on the first three rounds; Newton shot 69, 71 and a course record 65.

Then a westerly wind came up, and in the fourth round, the title was up for grabs as player after player bowed in the stiff breeze. Watson made 72 and Newton 74. The scores put them even at 279, one stroke ahead of Jack Nicklaus, Johnny Miller and Neil Coles, and they went to an 18-hole playoff.

Sunday the wind blew again, but from the east.

"I guess we saw Carnoustie in different conditions," Watson said. "But I know we haven't had real Carnoustie weather. I expected it to blow 100 miles per hour."

In the playoff, Watson took the lead with a birdie on the second, then moved two strokes out in front when Newton, an Australian pro who plays the European circuit, bogeyed the third. But Watson bogeyed the fifth and Newton evened it with a birdie on the sixth.

Tyrone Finds Home On Defense At First

Midland's Cubs have the top two hitters in the Texas League in Al Montreuil and Jose Ortiz, the save leader in Bruce Sutter, the strikeout leader in Donnie Moore and Ortiz with more than 30 stolen bases is closing in on the lead.

Another area of interest is Wayne Tyrone's bid for a second straight Texas League home run title, something he shared with ex-Cub teammate Jerry Tabb last year.

More important to Wayne's future in baseball is what happens to him in the field this season. One of the reasons the former Ranger Junior College and Pan American University infielder was sent back to the Texas League this year was to find a home for him defensively.

A chronic sore arm has made it a problem finding a defensive position for Wayne. Last year when Tyrone wasn't the DH, he was at third.

This year, with Tabb gone to Wichita, Tyrone moved over to first and while most Cubs Stadium regulars are aware that Ty has been on the spectacular side at times, most probably aren't aware of the consistency with which he has performed.

Mid-season Texas League averages show that Tyrone has the best fielding average in the league for first basemen, showing just one error.

Relief pitchers Dennis Lamp and Bruce Sutter were discussing the Cub defense in the dugout and both agreed that Tyrone's work at first base has been a tremendous comfort to pitchers.

Battle Scene

By Ted Battles

"He made some big plays for us in the El Paso series," said Lamp. "With the best on, he rushed the plate a couple of times and still had enough quickness to backhand balls that usually would go through and turn them into double plays."

One of the things you have to like about this year's Midland club is the resilient, never give up spirit it shows. In two of the losses to Lafayette, the Cubs refused to quit. In the 7-6 loss Thursday, Midland rallied from a 6-3 deficit in the eighth to tie it. In the 5-6 loss Saturday in the first game of the doubleheader, the Cubs rallied from 2-0 and 4-2 deficits, and who knows what would have happened if it had been a nine-inning game.

In the second game Saturday, Midland came from behind 4-0 with a seven-run inning to win 10-7.

"Last year it seemed like we just sat around and waited for the home run," Sutter said.

"That's right. This year we're doing more things, stealing, running and hitting," Lamp chimed in. "We're not waiting for things to happen this year. We're making them happen."

Rain Halts LPGA Play

Carol Mann Leads Ferraris By Stroke

—BULLETIN—
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Carol Mann calmly sank a 2½-foot putt on the final hole today to win the lightning-delayed, $65,000 Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament here.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It must be ranked as one of the most bizarre final rounds of a Ladies Professional Golf Association Tournament.

"I've never been involved in anything like this before. Just rotten, terrible," said LPGA President Carol Mann of Sunday's attempted finish of a $65,000 tour event at Riviera Country Club.

Miss Mann carried a shaky one-stroke lead into her final four holes today over Jan Ferraris. The last three three-somes were forced to quit because of darkness.

However, the rest of the field finished. Most of the players headed for Atlantic City Country Club, the site of the U.S. Women's Open this week.

Miss Mann was seven under par and Miss Ferraris six under with only hole left, when they resumed play at the spot of their interruption.

Of the others still playing, Laura Bangh, Jane Blalock and Sandra Haynie were all four under. Judy Rankin, Pam Higgins and Murie Breer three under.

The clubhouse leader was Carol Jo Skala, the wife of a Sacramento surgeon. She sloshed to a two-under-par 70 Sunday, good for a 5-under-par 34-hole total of 211.

The wild final round included:

—Four weather delays totaling 4 hours, 15 minutes, stretching the round to almost 11 hours.

Reds Halted By NL Slate

By The Associated Press
The National League delivers a break today. It's got one. The Cincinnati Reds aren't playing. The Reds have been acting like starving men in a hamburger joint—eating up everything in sight. If a few days of enforced idleness can bring a halt to Cincinnati's momentum, then the All-Star break is the best thing that could've happened to the other 11 teams.

But Pete Rose thinks the three-day absence from the diamond will make the Reds' hearts grow even fonder of beating everyone else.

"We've always been a good second-half team," he said. "I don't think we'll do anything but get better. We're a hungry team because we've never won it all."

Rose's bases-loaded two-run single, capped a four-run seventh inning Sunday that propelled the Reds to their 10th consecutive victory, a 5-3 triumph over the New York Mets.

Cliff Johnson's two-run triple gave Houston a first-inning lead, the Phils scored four in the third, then Roger Metzger's single, Rob Andrews' double, Wilbur Howard's triple and Greg Gross' single in the fourth put the Astros on top to stay.

Maltbie Wins Quad Cities

MOLINE, Ill. (AP)—"One of the things I've been concerned about is my consistency," said rookie golfer Roger Maltbie. "For the last few months I seemed to have lost it."

Wherever it had been, the first-year tour pro found it Sunday to come from seven strokes off the pace set by leader Dave Eichelberger to claim the $75,000 Quad Cities Open.

Maltbie, 24, who joined the Professional Golf Association last November, had a four-round total of 275, nine under par, to win $15,000. Eichelberger finished at 276.

Eichelberger, whose last tournament victory was the 1971 Milwaukee Open, moved to a five-stroke lead Friday and was ahead by three starting Sunday's round.

"I'm having trouble getting my confidence back," the disappointed Eichelberger said afterward. "I've played so bad for two years. Several years ago, when I was in contention about five times, I felt great. Now all of a sudden when I was in there, I felt nervous and that hurt me."

Maltbie immediately gained two strokes on the 516-yard No. 1 hole when he scored an eagle and Eichelberger bogeyed.

After the first nine holes, Eichelberger, Maltbie, Howard Twitty Jr., and Terry Dill were tied for the lead with six under totals of 272.

But in an ever-changing race during the rain-delayed tournament, Mark Hayes came on with a 69 to place third with 277, two strokes off the pace. Gary McCord (79) followed at 278, and Honero Blancas (69), Dill (72) and Twitty (72) were tied at 279.

"Being a tournament winner—that's the big thing," the exultant Maltbie said, noting "there are three different categories" when tournament pairings are made. He said rookies are matched against rookies, the better players as determined by their current money winnings are paired with each other, as are tournament veterans.

Midland '9' Idle Today, Tuesday

CUB BRIEFS—The Cubs are idle tonight and the series opener with Jackson's Mets, last year's Texas League champions, on Tuesday has been rescheduled as part of a doubleheader for Thursday night because of the Major League All-Star game.

Midland and Jackson open their series here Wednesday with a single game. . . . Brian Boyne, who played shortstop for Lafayette on Saturday's second game, showed a lot of poise for a rookie just off the Rice University campus. . . . Best bet for major league stardom from the Drillers is Gary Alexander, last year's Class A Player of the Year. He has an on-base percentage of close to .700. . . . Drifter infielder Wendell Kim, a 5-4 Hawaiian-Korean, was up with the San Francisco Giants last spring in hopes that holter and hustle would infect the big club. His dad, Wildcat Kim, is reputed to have been a welterweight contender just after WW II. . . .

Cub infielder Mike Umfleet played in the College World Series three years with Oklahoma, but hails from St. Louis. "Bill Droge was a couple of years ahead of me, but we played on the same American Legion team." Jumping from college ball to AA ball is quite a leap, but Mike has impressed both with the glove and bat. When David Chalk made his pro debut in Midland with El Paso from Texas-Austin three years ago, the jitters got the best of him and he made two errors, but a year later he was in the majors. . . .

Streaking Boston Red Sox Rip Texas For 7th Straight, 7-5

BOSTON (AP)—Those swingin' Boston Red Sox are becoming the jet set of major league baseball with their hitting.

The Red Sox reached the All-Star Game break with a 4½-game lead in the American League East Sunday by rolling to their seventh consecutive victory in a 15-hit, 7-5 decision over the Texas Rangers.

In their longest winning streak since 1973, the Fenway swingers have totaled 84 hits and 57 runs. The barrage of hits include eight homers, two triples and 27 doubles, more than offsetting pitching which allowed 73 hits and 40 runs in seven games.

"I wish we could change the date of the All-Star Game," Manager Darrell Johnson said with a grin. "Of course, that's impossible. But when you're going the way we are, you never want to stop playing. Our guys really have been hitting, and the pitching hasn't been that bad with the wind blowing out in this ball park."

"We'll just have to try to keep going after the All-Star break. There's no reason we can't. The three days off will do some good."

Streaking Oakland 'Sews Up' Pennant

By The Associated Press
Wave bye-bye to the Oakland edge.

Those perennial world champions are not only first in the American League West at the All-Star break—but they're first by a whopping 8½ games.

"The pressure is on the other teams now," said Oakland's Bill North after the A's bested the Baltimore Orioles 4-3 Sunday and moved further ahead of the pack. "They'll have to play catchup baseball now."

Traditionally, the team ahead by the All-Star game winds up winner of its division. Pitchers Ken Holtzman and Rollie Fingers see no reason to change the accepted baseball rule now.

"Not having injuries is the main reason we're ahead," noted Holtzman. "I was once on a team that was nine games ahead on Aug. 20 and we lost it. But that isn't this team. We have more depth."

Holtzman referred to his time with the Chicago Cubs several years back.

Fingers, looking forward to participating in his fourth straight World Series, pointed out the obvious: "The reason why we're ahead is that Kansas City is playing bad and we're going good."

Billy Williams' two-run double capped a three-run second inning and Holtzman won his fifth straight game and 11th of the season as Oakland edged Baltimore. Holtzman needed relief help from Jim Todd and Fingers after Brooks Robinson hit a two-run homer in the seventh inning, cutting Oakland's lead to one run.

Lubbock Takes Home State Softball Title

By BOB DILLON

The Lubbock Bandits reign as the new Women's State Fast Pitch Softball champions today following a 3-1 victory over the defending state champion Freepport Chargers.

Lubbock went undefeated in five games to walk off with two honors Sunday in polishing off the Gulf Coast team which had to come up through the loser's bracket after the Bandits took a 2-1 victory over the Chargers late Saturday night.

Defense and timely hitting were the key in the Lubbock entry with Most Valuable Player, third baseman Robbie Biggerstaff hitting a homer and coming up with a two-run single in the seventh to nail down the victory.

Lubbock's victory Sunday before a large crowd at Hogan Park, gives the Hub City two tournament championships in two weekends in the Tall City.

Only last weekend, the Lubbock Raiders won first in the July 4th Men's Slow Pitch Tourney.

Freepport started off by beating Georgetown 12-2 and then posted a 10-0 victory over Victoria in the second round, but Lubbock beat the Chargers, 2-1, on a bases-loaded walk, throwing them into the loser's bracket.

The Chargers then came back to rip Orangefield, 12-0 and blanked a good Stephenville nine, 2-0. Then came the shot at the finals as the Chargers took a hard-fought 8-7 victory over the Galveston Islanders in an eight-inning game.

Mary Ramsey knocked in the winning run in a battle of Gulf Coast powers with two out, scoring Billie Domingue from second.

Lubbock, meanwhile, beat Marble Falls, 7-2, in the opening round and then took victories over Orangefield, 4-0; Freepport, 2-1; Galveston, 1-0 and the big 3-1 championship triumph.

In the title game, Lubbock took a 1-0 lead in the top of the second inning when Biggerstaff smacked a homer all the way to the fence in right.

Freepport came back to tie the game, 1-1, in the third. Ramsey singled after one was out, was moved to second on a sacrifice by Jo Wiggan and scored on Teresa Burriss.

single into right. It was a standoff until the top of the seventh when Biggerstaff singled in two runs with two on and two out.

Centerfielder Tanya Armstrong made a great catch for the Lubbock crew in the seventh inning, robbing Sandy Fleming of extra bases with a rolling, tumbling grab of a low liner.

Debra Perry was the winning pitcher while Nancy Little, who came in to relieve Burriss, was the loser.

Paulette Burriss of Freepport, made one of the best plays of the entire two-day tourney in the exciting 8-7 win over Galveston as she dove parallel to the ground across the foul line in left field to catch a drive off the bat of Alice Castillo in the game that was as important as the title game, since the first two teams from the state meet qualify for the regional tourney in Dallas, Aug. 1-2.

Softball fans were treated to some outstanding play throughout the tourney which ran smoothly. Tournament officials chose a 12-player all-tourney team with Lubbock's Perry Biggerstaff and Armstrong on the elite team. Biggerstaff also won the MVP award handed down. Freepport players picked were Teresa and Paulette Burriss, Ramsey, Domingue and Wiggan. Others included Tued Uday of Humbleville; Cindy Carmichael of Nederland; Brenda Woodridge of Stephenville and Linda Norman of Galveston.

The Sportsmanship Trophy went to the Lampanas Stingers while individual trophies went to the winning team and all-tourney selections.

Stephenville finished fourth, Galveston, third with Freepport runnerup and Lubbock the top state champion.

Hogan Park will be the scene of the Men's State Slow Pitch Tournament, Aug. 8-10.

Redman Outduels Oliver

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP) — Brian Redman of England and Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., have been taking turns winning Formula 5000 races this year, and Sunday was Redman's turn.

Redman cruised to victory after dueling half the race with Jackie Oliver of England, who finally skidded off the course and out of the race. Andretti, meanwhile, had ignition trouble at the very start of the 30-lap, 100.23-mile race over the winding 3.57-mile Watkins Glen road racing course and fell to the back of the pack.

Redman earlier won the Formula 5000 at the Pocono circuit in Pennsylvania, the first in the nine-race series, after Andretti blew his engine. But Andretti won at Mosport in Canada, nipping Redman by only 6-10 of a second.

And quite a battle it was, with Oliver leading for 14 laps and Redman right on his tail. Redman said later that he knew Oliver was going to have trouble because of leaking oil from the engine.

"I couldn't pass him," Redman said. "He wouldn't let me. He weaved, and he shut me off."

Redman's opportunity finally came on the 15th lap, and he shot ahead of Oliver on a straightaway. Four laps later it was all over for Oliver, who blew his engine and skidded off the course at a 90-degree turn.

The victory left Redman comfortably ahead in the Formula 5000 series with 36 points. Al Unser, the two-time Indianapolis 500 winner, finished second Sunday and moved up to second-place in the point standings with 48 points.

Andretti, who had been second, dropped back to third with 41 points.

Redman averaged 119.22 miles-an-hour during the race after he and Andretti had both shattered previous lap records for a race here in preliminary heats.

Earlier in the day, Tom Bagley of State College, Pa., won a 19-lap, 64.16-mile race for speedy Little Super Vees which, like the Formula 5000 cars, are open-cockpit, single-seat, rear-engine machines.

The weekend of racing at the Glen began Saturday with a Six Hours of Endurance race for sports cars.

Derek Bell of England and Henri Pescarolo of France captured the overall race in an Alfa Romeo prototype, built especially for racing.

Redman and Sam Posey of Capistrano Beach, Calif., drove a Bavarian Motor Works car to victory in the race for Group Two sports cars.

BILLY WANTS INCENTIVE FOR PLAYERS—

Martin Urges Star Changes

BOSTON (AP) — Manager Billy Martin of the Texas Rangers urged some changes in the All-Star Game setup today while headed for the midsummer classic as a coach Tuesday in Milwaukee.

"I'm not enthused about the All-Star Game," Martin said. "We have to play National League rules, without the designated hitter. Why should we?"

"Also, if we want to put more emphasis on the All-Star Game, there should be more incentive for the players—like $5,000 for the winners and nothing for the losers."

Martin also is unhappy with the way pitchers are named alternates for the All-Star Game. He got burned Saturday when he started Ferguson Jenkins with just two days' rest against the Boston Red Sox. Under new rules, an alternate pitcher cannot start on the Sunday before the All-Star Game.

Jenkins, a 25-game winner last year, had to be moved up a day in the Texas' pitching rotation. He was shelled for eight runs in less than six innings as his record dipped to 16-10.

"It wasn't fair," Martin said. "I didn't know about Jenkins until a couple of days ago and had Fergie scheduled to pitch Sunday. There has to be some modification in the new rule. We should be notified a month in advance. If I had known about Jenkins, I could have changed the rotation to give him his proper rest."

Martin also was unhappy with his Rangers after losing four in a row to the Red Sox.

"We're going through a rough time, but we'll make some roster changes during the All-Star break," he said. "The main thing is we have to keep our cool—and I'm doing my darnedest to keep it."

"Most of the guys are busting their humps. They want to win as much as I do. However, when guys get down like some of them are, they start being more. They wish for things to happen. You can't wish. You have to make things happen."

"If I don't get what I want—aggressiveness—after I talk to all the players, I won't make a big deal out of it. I'll just bench them."

"Knowing my ball club, the breaks have to come. I'm going to push twice as hard after the All-Star break. We still have to play Oakland 14 times this year. This break (in the schedule) is the best thing that could happen to us."

McAuliffe Finally Makes Transition To AA Pilot

BRISTOL, Conn. (AP) — Dick McAuliffe, for 13 years a top player with the Detroit Tigers, now is locking the gate at the Muzzy Field minor league baseball field here at the night's end, and is pitching batting practice for young developing hitters. McAuliffe is manager of the Class AA Bristol Red Sox, farm team for the Boston Red Sox in the Eastern League. The league includes eight teams in New England and Quebec Province.

Initially the transition from playing to managing was difficult.

"You have to get over that hump and it's a big one," McAuliffe said. "But once you get it through your mind that playing the game is in the past, you take up a new challenge like this."

The Bristol team is only about a one-half hour drive from his home in Simsbury. McAuliffe is a Connecticut native.

McAuliffe said he took the manager's job because baseball is what he enjoys doing most.

"I could have gone into scouting or maybe front office work. But the nearest thing to playing the game is being on the field that's where I belong. I love it there."

The dual goals of winning games and supplying players for the major league parent team conflict, he says. "My first obligation is to the parent club," to provide new major league players.

"Therefore, the object of the game (to win) may be abused. The ideal situation would be to produce promising players and a winner.

"But it's almost impossible. I think the fans realize this. Most of them are versed in the minor league system. Sometimes we have to sacrifice victories for the future of an individual."

Cowboys' Staubach Finds Fans No Longer Forgive His Errors

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Cowboys quarterback Roger Staubach says his relationship with the fans is changing. They no longer forgive his mistakes and are more demanding.

Which is fine with the veteran Cowboy quarterback who feels confident he will do better this season than he did last year when he was slowed by injuries and a below-par performance. For the first time, Staubach heard boos from the fans at Texas Stadium. "I'll be second-guessed a lot more this year," Staubach said in an interview with the Dallas Times Herald. "The bubble has burst. I've been here long enough now that the idea of me being the new kid, and some of the charisma, has worn off. They don't put up with my mistakes. The idea that I could do no wrong doesn't exist anymore."

Staubach said he knows if he does not do the job at quarterback, "I'll be lambasted. If I do, I'll be appreciated. There were a couple of times last year when even Marianne (his wife) didn't like me."

Staubach is in good physical shape this year. Last year he had to undergo surgery in June and suffered a broken rib in August.

"Maybe it is a coincidence," he said, "but last year was the first time I didn't work out and the season was not a good one."

The veteran quarterback feels that the team has a chance to make the playoffs this year after missing them for the first time in eight years last season.

"We're as capable as anyone," he said. "But people have to produce. Things have to fall into place."

One problem will be the weakness of the running game caused by the loss of veterans Calvin Hill, who went to the World Football League, and Walt Garrison, who was injured in a rodeo accident recently.

"I think the other backs can make up the difference, but maybe not in the same way," Staubach said. "Perhaps more responsibility will be shifted to me or to other areas of the offense."

But, he went on, "I like our chances. I am glad I'm getting off to a fresh start. After the first five games last year I was ready to get out the Navy uniform and call out my old detail in Washington."

Samara Captures AAU's Decathlon Competition

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Fred Samara, a former Penn State athlete, won his first National AAU decathlon Sunday with a lifetime best of 8,061 points as America's top performers, Bruce Jenner and Fred Dixon, failed to make the U.S. team.

Samara, a 5-foot-11, 174-pounder, became the No. 8 American, though he didn't win an individual event during the second day of the two-day contest. However, he scored well in the high hurdles and pole vault.

The top eight men in this meet earned berths on the U.S. team, which meets the USSR and Poland later this year.

The 25-year-old Samara was 90 points ahead of Craig Brigham of the University of Oregon, who was also second in the recent NCAA championships.

Brigham's 7,971 total was better than his previous lifetime best of 7,847—at the NCAA meet at Provo, Utah.

Dixon, the 6-4 newcomer to the event, led with 4,282 points after the first day of the meet and widened his lead over Samara to 160 points after scoring 914 points in the hurdles.

Later, in the discus, Dixon fouled three times and failed to score. His career-best in the decathlon discus is 150-6.

Third in the final point totals was Steve Gough of Club Northwest with 7,918. Fourth was veteran John Warkentin of nearby Goleta with 7,882. Mike Hill of Los Angeles was fifth at 7,824, followed by Roger George of the Beverly Hills Striders, 7,808; Chris Aditt of Athletes in Action, 7,523, and Jim Sobolewicz, Club West, 7,476.
