Sterling's Conger Area Gains Three Wells, Two Tests

The Conger (Cisco oil and Canyon gas) pool of Sterling County gained three new producers and sites for two outposts.

Stoltz, Wagner & Brown of Midland has dually completed from the Cisco oil pay, two Canyon gasers.

No. 6-9 Hildebrand, a 1/4-mile northwest extension to Cisco pay, gauged a daily, flowing potential of 225 barrels of 43-gravity oil and 15 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio measuring 2,244-1. Production was through a 1/2-inch choke and perforations at 7,258-7,266 feet, which had been fractured with 30,000 gallons and 30,000 pounds.

Location is 1,420 feet from north and 1,330 feet from west lines of section 9, block 21, H&TC survey, 10 1/2 miles southwest of Sterling City.

No. 9-4 Hildebrand, a 1/4-mile west extension, finished to flow 81 barrels of 42.9-gravity oil and 11 barrels of water daily, with gas-oil ratio of 12,481-1.

Completion was effected through an 18-64-inch choke and perforations at 7,242-7,252 feet, which had been treated with 30,000 gallons and 30,000 pounds of fracture.

Wellbore is 1,320 feet from south and west lines of section 4, block 21, H&TC survey.

The same firm completed No. 5-2 Hildebrand as a 1/4-mile northeast extension to Canyon gas production, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 5,403 million cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-distillate ratio of 30,201-1. Gravity of the hydrocarbon liquid is 71 degrees.

Completion was effected through perforations at 7,444-8,025 feet, which had been fractured with 50,000 gallons and 50,000 pounds.

Sites Staked
Stoltz, Wagner & Brown also plan to drill No. 14-16 Hildebrand as a 2 1/2-mile northwest outpost to dual Cisco oil and Canyon gas production.

It has a projected depth of 8,200 feet, and spots 1,320 feet from south and east lines of section 16, block 31, T-S-S, T&P survey, 14 miles southwest of Sterling City.

The firm's No. 15-20 Hildebrand, stated as a 2 1/4-mile west outpost to dual Cisco and Canyon production, is 1,570 feet from south and 1,420 feet from west lines of section 20, block 31, T-S-S, T&P survey. It also has a contract depth of 8,300 feet.

Penrock Sets Pipe In Eddy Wildcat

Penrock Oil Corp., Midland, was waiting on cement after setting 4 1/2-inch casing at 2,800 feet, total depth, for completion try in the Delaware at No. 2 Allied, Eddy County, N.M., wildcat, eight miles north of Carlsbad.

A drillstem test in the Delaware from 2,710-2,835 feet, had gas to the surface in seven minutes during the 30-minute preflow, flowing on a 1/4-inch choke initially at the rate of 130,000 cubic feet daily, and increasing to 765,000 cubic feet

Senate Votes To Continue Oil Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today passed and sent to the House a bill that would extend the government's authority to control the price of oil produced in the United States.

The bill, approved 62 to 29, is being pushed by opponents of President Ford's energy program. It would extend the Petroleum Allocation Act, now scheduled to expire Aug. 31, until March 31, 1976.

Ford has threatened to veto the extension unless Congress permits him to implement a proposal to phase out the price controls on domestic oil over the next 2 1/2 years.

Such a veto, unless overturned by Congress, would bring an immediate end to the price controls when the current act expires Aug. 31.

That could mean a 15-cent-per-gallon increase in oil prices, according to estimates of the Senate Interior Committee.

As the basis of his energy program, Ford seeks to remove controls from oil and natural gas prices. He is sending his oil-decontrol program to Congress this week.

The Ford administration estimates the plan for phasing out oil controls over 30 months would cost an extra seven cents for gasoline, raise the cost of living by nearly 1 per cent, and boost the average family's energy bill by $200 a year.

Late Bulletins

WASHINGTON (AP) — Extensions of unemployment compensation were proposed today by the Ford administration, including covering six million more workers and guaranteeing most unemployed persons at least half their regular pay.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Calling the Apollo-Soyuz space flight a symbol of progress in U.S.-Soviet relations, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger today defended detente as a "means to regulate a competitive relationship" and challenged its critics to come up with a better alternative.

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Jury selection continued today in the Joan Little murder trial in spite of a telephone threat that a bomb would explode in the Wake County Courthouse.

VIPs, Thousands Of Summer Tourists To Watch Liftoff

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — VIPs join thousands of summer tourists to watch three American astronauts blast off today for a rendezvous in space with two Russians.

A break in seasonal thunderstorm activity may give launch crowds and millions of television watchers a clear view of the takeoff.

All motels and campgrounds surrounding the Kennedy Space Center were reportedly filled Monday, but the crowd was expected to fall short of the attendance of one million for the moon shot in December, 1972.

"We can't estimate how many people are going to come over, but it's not going to be a million," said Brevard County Civil Defense Director Bill Hall.

Benches and roadsides near the space center were relatively uncrowded Monday. Police officials said they would be packed by launch time. Police and Civil Defense officials prepared for the onslaught by ordering all available police on duty and stationing 16 ambulances and 11 first aid stations throughout the area.

"We're ready for anything, no matter how many come," said Hall. "I'm telling everybody I talk to to come on over and have a good time."

NASA officials said they expected a record 70,000 invited guests at the space center for a close-up view of America's last manned space shot until the Space Shuttle begins in 1979.

The official VIP list includes Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin and Princess Beatrix of the Netherlands. Susan Ford, President Ford's daughter, also will be on hand, but as a working photographer for the Topoka, Kan., Capital-Journal where she is now employed.

President Ford will watch the launch on television in the White House.

The South Florida Conference on Soviet Jewry also planned to attend — to protest Soviet immigration policies.

First Launching Of Joint Flight Called Perfect

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A two-man Russian Soyuz ship blazed away from earth today on the first of twin launchings that aim for a link-up in space between Soviet cosmonauts and American astronauts.

Cosmonauts Alexei Leonov and Valeri Kubasov rocketed flawlessly into orbit from the Baikonur Cosmodome on the edge of a central Russian desert where 90-degree temperatures and bleak landscape resembled the flat, dry areas of West Texas.

"Everything is normal, normal; everything is perfect. We are in good health," Leonov reported after they had completed their first circuit of the globe and checked out their spaceship systems.

Liftoff from the base, 1,400 miles southeast of Moscow, was right on time at 7:20 a.m. CDT. Ten minutes later, the Soviet Mission Control Center reported Soyuz was in a near-perfect orbit ranging from 114 to 126 miles high, moving at more than 17,000 miles an hour.

At Cape Canaveral, half a world away, the countdown proceeded without a hitch on the Saturn rocket which was to hoist Apollo astronauts Thomas P. Stafford, Vance D. Brand and Donald K. Slayton away from this seaside launch base at 2:55 p.m. CDT.

In midmorning, thunderstorm clouds built up over the Atlantic east of Cape Canaveral, but space agency meteorologists predicted there would be favorable weather at launch time.

Because of their late liftoff, the astronauts were still in bed and did not watch the Russian launch on television. They awakened at 9:10 a.m. and watched a videotape replay of the launch as they ate the traditional launch day breakfast of steak and eggs.

They immediately dispatched a message to the Soviet control center which was relayed to the cosmonauts. It read: "Congratulations on a great launch."

Soon after Soyuz shot into orbit, Soviet party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev messaged the cosmonauts, wishing them a "happy flight and a successful completion of your task, and a safe return to your homeland." He also wished their American counterparts well.

"Thank you very much," Leonov replied. President Ford, who watched (See SOYUZ Page 2A)

Summit Delayed

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The European Security Conference today delayed formally convening a 35-nation summit in Helsinki on July 30 and doubts began to spread whether that wrapup date would be met.

A meeting of the conference's coordinating committee that was to confirm the July 30 "target date" adjourned until tonight as efforts to clean up a variety of key texts stalled again. Most diplomats privately predicted that no final decision would be reached until later this week.

The super summit in Helsinki would bring together President Ford, Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev and other leaders to give final approval to a 100-page document on East-West detente.

Diplomats have been struggling for two years to put together the statement initiated by the Soviet Union as a confirmation of its post-World War II influence over Eastern Europe.

Greek Cypriots Begin Protests

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek Orthodox church bells tolled at dawn today to launch a week of protests and demonstrations in the Greek Cypriot part of Cyprus marking the overthrow of President Makarios a year ago today and the Turkish invasion five days later.

A one-day general strike was called today and rallies were scheduled in all towns to express support for Makarios, denounce his foes in the Eoka-B underground and call for the withdrawal of the Turkish invaders.

Postal, Rail Strikes Loom

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nationwide postal strike is threatened next week if union and management officials fail to agree on a new two-year contract for 600,000 postal workers.

"There will be no mail deliveries next Monday morning if we can't reach agreement within the week," warned President James H. Rademacher of the National Association of Letter Carriers.

Even though postal workers are forbidden by law from striking, Rademacher says "if we have no contract we have a right to withhold our services."

The letter carriers union is one of four unions whose contract with the Postal Service expires at midnight Sunday. Should the parties fail to reach agreement on their own, the law authorizes fact-finding and, finally, binding arbitration as a means of resolving their dispute.

It also would be possible for both sides to agree to an extension of the old contract, a step that federal mediators are likely to recommend.

W. J. Usery Jr., chief of the Federal Mediation Service, entered the talks over the weekend and has been meeting with both sides daily. He told newsmen Monday that he was hopeful of achieving a settlement before the deadline.

If not, he said, "we run the risk of having major demonstrations or major problems" in some cities.

Usery spent most of the day Monday shuttling between the postal talks and renewed negotiations involving the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, which has threatened to strike the nation's railroads at 12:01 a.m. Monday.

Both sides in the rail dispute have agreed to a Wednesday deadline for reaching a voluntary settlement, beyond which Usery said the administration may ask Congress for special legislation banning a strike and imposing a settlement on the parties.

"We want to do everything we can to avoid going to Congress," he said. "We have a very busy week — there is some tough bargaining that has to take place ... to get an agreement by Wednesday night."

The 117,000-member clerks union has insisted on a settlement which differs somewhat from the agreement signed earlier by other railway unions representing about 65 per cent of the industry's unionized employees.

The "pattern" agreement provided for wage and benefit boosts of about 41 per cent over three years.

In the postal talks, Rademacher called job security a key issue in the dispute. He said this included the union's insistence on retention of the no-layoff clause in the current contract, the conversion of part-time workers to full-time, and tightening of rules for contracting out work.

He said management has not discussed wages, preferring instead to wait until the non-money issues are resolved.

Brush Fire Menaces Village

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — More than 400 firefighters battled through the night to keep a fast-moving brush fire from encircling a small retirement village north of here.

Fire officials evacuated 15 persons from the hillside community of Ranchita and made preparations to move out about 200 other area residents as the flames blackened more than 4,000 acres and licked their way to within a mile of some 200 buildings in and around the town.

The approaching flames burned one house under construction, a mobile home, an abandoned trailer and five old mine shacks, said state Division of Forestry spokesman John Holz.

Two bulldozers were trapped briefly by the fire but their crews managed to drive out to safety, Holz said.

SOMEONE LOST HIS COOL—Travelers on Interstate 20 east of Stanton Monday were startled when they passed what looked like a small block of ice on the roadside. Department of Public Safety officials said a trailer with a broken axle was found apparently abandoned Monday morning and the DPS unloaded the ice and had the trailer towed away. Apparently, the motorist heard about the hot, dry climate in West Texas and decided to bring his own cooling device along with him. (Staff Photo by Larry Hitchcock.)

Soyuz Launching Kicks Off Joint U.S.-Russian Adventure In Space

The launch on television in Washington, wished the spacemen "the very best."

The only problem was the failure of a television camera aboard Soyuz. It was to have relayed live images of the cosmonauts as they lifted into space. The spacemen began a trouble-shooting operation to determine what went wrong.

As Apollo enters orbit, Soyuz will be 4,140 miles ahead, over Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

The more sophisticated Apollo, with commander Stafford at the controls, is to conduct all the tricky maneuvers to gradually close the gap and bring the two ships to an historic linkup 140 miles above West Germany at 12:15 p.m. Thursday.

Astronauts and cosmonauts will soar in a mission of détente, representing two nations once arch rivals in space.

For the first time, the Soviet Union provided live televised coverage of one of its launches to the rest of the world. But Western newsmen were barred from the launch site at Baikonur.

Millions watched as the rocket burst away from its launch pad and carved a fiery path in a clear sky, pitching quickly over toward the northeast.

The booster accelerated rapidly and drilled Soyuz into orbit at more than 17,000 miles an hour.

As the rocket rose, the flight control center provided news centers in Moscow, Cape Canaveral and Houston with a running commentary, using such phrases as "the engines are stable. The crew reports first stage shutdown and third stage ignition."

There were no direct comments from the crew. Once in orbit, Soyuz spread its two solar panels, which collect heat from the sun and convert it to energy.

"Have a happy flight," the control center communicator told the cosmonauts as they flew out of radio range of the first tracking station.

Earlier, a worldwide audience had a ringside seat as the cosmonauts arrived at the launching pad and Commander Leonov saluted the government commission overseeing the launch, saying:

"The crew of Soyuz is ready for the joint flight with the American spaceship Apollo."

"I wish you a lucky flight and a successful return to earth," a voice replied, but the speaker was not shown.

As the cosmonauts mounted the steps to the elevator for the trip to the top of the 150-foot, three-stage rocket, an unidentified voice called out the Russian expression for "good luck."

Leonov replied with the customary Russian response: "To the devil."

They checked out systems aboard the spacecraft, found no problems, and spent the final minutes before blastoff listening to music played over their communications system.

The Soviet rocket lifted quickly from its pad after first stage engine ignition, in contrast to the American Saturn rocket, which is held on the pad by restraining arms for a few seconds until full thrust is achieved.

The Russian booster picks up thrust as it rises through the atmosphere.

The Saturn-Apollo combination also is fed power until the liftoff by an electrical connection called an umbilical cord, which falls away on launch.

The Soviets disconnect this umbilical before blastoff. President Ford, Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, other diplomats and NASA Administrator James B. Fletcher watched the televised coverage of the Soyuz launch at the State Department auditorium. Dobrynin and Fletcher then flew to Cape Canaveral for the Apollo launch.

Ford told the State Department audience Apollo-Soyuz "marks the beginning of a very epic adventure into space."

We are blazing a brand-new trail of space cooperation that demonstrates the United States and Soviet Union are prepared to cooperate toward a common goal.

Walker Stoenel, U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union, his wife and a team of U.S. technicians were at Baikonur, the first Americans ever invited to a Russian launching.

Three hours after the space-ships dock Thursday, both ends of a connecting tunnel will open and the American commander, Stafford, and the Russian commander, Leonov, will embrace.

Scattered Rain Persists In Texas Coastal Areas

Rain persisted in the middle and lower Texas coast early today but most of the state had blue skies and cooling breezes.

Rain dampened Alice, Brownsville, Corpus Christi and McAllen during predawn hours. Showers also fell 30 to 100 miles offshore south and southeast of Galveston.

A few light showers lingered early today in the Amarillo vicinity but most of the rainfall activity that occurred in the Panhandle and East Texas Monday night had weakened or dissipated by this morning.

Early temperatures varied from 65 degrees at Longview to 78 at Corpus Christi, Brownsville and Galveston.

Southern and coastal sections of Texas were the scene of heavy thunderstorms Monday. Funnel clouds spun aloft in the Houston area.

Temperatures in the southern half of the state were unseasonably mild Monday because of the cloudy, rainy skies. San Antonio tied its record low of 68 degrees. Maximum temperatures ranged from 85 at Dallas to 75 at McAllen. The Associated Press reported.

Continued afternoon temperatures near the 90-degree mark and a 20 per cent chance of night thunderstorm activity is forecast for the Midland area by the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Air Terminal.

High temperature Monday was 90 with an overnight low of 65. Low tonight should be in the middle 60s.

GETS SCHOLARSHIP—Charles Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Arnold, 3815 Kansas St., has been awarded a merit scholarship to The University of Texas medical branch. A May graduate of Texas Tech, he was one of four students there to graduate with a straight A average. Arnold graduated from Robert E. Lee High School in 1972.

24 Area Students Head For Texas 4-H Congress

Nine Midland County 4-H boys and girls this morning joined 15 other members of District 6 in traveling to San Antonio to participate in the Texas 4-H Congress which begins today and concludes Friday.

Six hundred 4-H members from across Texas will take a closer look at their cultural heritage during the Congress. "Delegates will have an opportunity to hear speakers, take educational tours and participate in group discussions that should provide them with a better background of their culture," said Mrs. Judy Germany, Midland County extension agent-home economics and one of the sponsors making the journey.

4-H'ers attending the state event also will be treated to a number of group presentations, including a "Cultural Fair" by students of Trinity University, "Heritage in Music and Drama" and "Texas Cultures Today" by San Antonio Junior College students and an historical pageant by members of Extension District 12 4-H Council. Walking tours will include the Alamo and the Institute of Texas Cultures.

Those from the Midland area attending the Congress are Tammie Argo and Jimmy Post, both of Ector County; Vicky Callahan, Kathy Knox, Nancy McDaniel, Carrie Morgan, Rance Green, James Crook, Billy Parker, Lee Schweitzer and Ken Woodruff, all of Midland; Amy Hazlewood, Diania Wells, Tana Yates, Morgan Cox and Gary Hanson of Martin; Jan Hirt of Glasscock; Barbee McWhirter of Andrews; and Jack Gilbert of Crane. Market Burglars 'Rustle' Meats Valued At $1,500

What oldtimers might call some "lazy rustlers" made off with an estimated 900 pounds of freshly cut, packaged and meat canned meats in the early Monday break-in at Carter's Market, 1411 N. Lamesa Road, Midland police reported.

Market owner Edward Carter figured value of the meats at $1,500.

Robert Beggs, policeman investigating the burglary, reported that Carter's son, Darrell, noticed that the meat counter in the market was virtually cleaned out when he opened for the day's business around 7:40 a.m.

Beggs reported that butcher Don Mason, judging by the coolness of cut meat a burglar had removed from the counter but left in a tray on the cutting block, speculated the break-in had taken place about an hour earlier.

"They (the thieves) almost cleared out the entire meat counters," Beggs said. "They took nearly all of the canned hams, packaged lunch meat and most of all the cut meats in meat cases."

Break-in to the market apparently was by way of the store's compressor room, Beggs said. Outside bars to the room were pried apart, making an opening 18 inches long and 12 inches wide at the widest point, he said.

Several Other Thefts A padlock inside of the rear room was twisted off, Beggs reported, apparently with metal bars.

Police are also investigating several other thefts.

William D. Haywood of 4007 Tanner St. told police Monday afternoon that a citizens band (CB) radio valued at $125 was taken in a forced entry to his pickup truck parked on a service station parking lot at 400 E. Florida St.

Bob Green of 500 S. Benton St., police said, also reported theft of a CB radio, valued at $157, taken in the burglary of an automobile at the service station's parking lot. Both break-ins, police indicated, were over the weekend.

Auto Parts, Bicycles Ray Apin told police Monday afternoon that $452.33 in car parts were either stolen or damaged at Huckabay Chevrolet Inc., 4100 W. Wall St.

Mary Cadena of 415 E. Pine St. Monday reported the theft of a 22-caliber pistol in a burglary of her house.

Mrs. J. W. Farmer of 702 Shell St. reported the theft of a 27-inch, 10-speed Schwinn bicycle.

Adolfo Baesa of 411 Hart St. reported the theft of a 24-inch bicycle.

Big Spring School Budget Increased

BIG SPRING—A tentative 1975-76 budget of $7,774,242 has been approved by the Big Spring Independent School District, up $812,027 from last year.

Three assistant superintendents will be provided leased automobiles under the new budget.

Also approved was a travel policy for school personnel which coincides with the state travel policy for vocational personnel in the system. It includes 16 cents per mile for use of privately owned vehicles.

Allowances were also established for intrastate travel and per diems for lodging and meals.

A public hearing on the budget has been scheduled for 5:15 p.m. August 11.

Gunshot Victim 'Satisfactory'

Charles McClendon, 30, 1206 E. Pennsylvania St., suffering from a gunshot wound in the leg, was reported in satisfactory condition Tuesday morning in Midland Memorial Hospital.

McClendon was shot with a 22-caliber pistol, police said, after he and a woman argued on Midland's southside Saturday. McClendon told police he would not file charges.

Two Democratic Hopfuls Pass $1-Million In Gifts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Democratic presidential hopefuls have passed the million-dollar mark in campaign contributions, according to reports filed with the new Federal Election Committee.

Alabama Gov. George Wallace leads the money sweepstakes, reporting $1.67 million collected through June 30.

Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., followed with $1.2 million raised during the same time period, the reports, filed Monday, show.

All the new reports were filed by Democrats.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., was in third place with $763,000. Former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter and Arizona Rep. Morris K. Udall were nearly tied with just over $300,000 each.

Former Oklahoma Sen. Fred Harris, who is running a shoe-string campaign and staying with volunteer supporters instead of in expensive hotels, reported a total of $72,805.

Former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford listed $89,000 in contributions. But his debts of $34,000 were more than double the amount of cash on hand he reported.

The latest entry in the presidential race, Pennsylvania Gov. Milton Shapp, had filed no report by late Monday.

The only announced Republican hopeful, President Ford, has reported collecting $10,000 during the first 19 days since his announcement.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Accusing developing nations of "exhortation by confrontation... lopsided, loaded voting, biased results and arbitrary tactics," Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger says the "third world" countries are undermining the United Nations.

Kissinger sounded the warning, one of his sternest, Monday night on a campaign-style swing through the Midwest to build support at home for the Ford administration's foreign policy. He spoke to the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee's Institute of World Affairs.

New Marine Boss Plans Crackdown On Obesity

WASHINGTON — Gen. Louis H. Wilson, the new commandant of the Marine Corps, is out to shape up the corps — literally. He will soon issue a new, tougher directive on how much Marines can weigh.

"Obesity must vanish," Wilson told his troops.

The new standards for all Marine officers and men will be those that apply at present to aviation personnel only. To set an example, the 56-year-old commandant has pledged to continue jogging 1 1/2 miles every morning.

Unless a Marine has a physical disability or other legitimate reason, he must — under the soon-to-be-issued directive — fit into specific standards, regardless of age.

A male Marine five feet four inches tall, for example, would be required to weigh no less than 165 and no more than 180 pounds; five feet eight, between 115 and 181 pounds; six feet, between 131 and 203 pounds; and six feet four, between 147 and 225 pounds.

The existing standards for women Marines would not be changed, with some weight forgiveness for age. For example, a five-foot, five-inch woman Marine would have to weigh at least 104 pounds but no more than 140 pounds if she were 18 through 30 years of age. A woman Marine of that height over 41 years of age, however, could weigh a maximum of 158 pounds.

Honesty Proves Losing Policy

HOUSTON (AP) — Charles Elzie Washington filled out an application to become a Houston police officer so truthfully he wound up in jail charged with robbery.

Asked if he had ever been in trouble with the police before, Washington said, well, there was that liquor store he once robbed but he didn't get caught.

A detective quickly checked Washington's fingerprints and arrested him in the police gym. The detective also found a loaded 22-caliber pistol in a bag Washington was carrying.

As Kissinger spoke to the Institute of World Affairs, a dozen demonstrators in Nazi-style uniforms picketed across the street from his hotel, carrying anti-Semitic signs directed at Kissinger, who is a Jew.

In his speech and in reply to questions afterward from the audience, Kissinger said:

—The United States is "prepared to have serious exchanges with Cuba on the basis of reciprocity..." He did not elaborate, but did describe recent Cuban gestures toward the United States as "mostly atmospheric."

—The administration is determined to bring about settlements in the Middle East, Cyprus and other areas of dispute because local conflicts led to two world wars and "we must not have a third; with modern weapons there would not be a fourth."

General aviation activity at Midland Regional Air Terminal and Airport is expanding with increased flight operations by private and corporate aircraft.

Airport operations are averaging approximately 3,000 landings and takeoffs each month, according to the airport management staff. Sixty-three private and business planes are housed at the Airport hangar facilities, and there is a waiting list for aircraft hangar space.

At Air Terminal, 4,226 local-based private aircraft operations were recorded by the flight control tower during June as compared to 3,996 for the month last year.

More than 5,000 private and business aircraft made landings at the airport as transients last month. Management personnel at Rich-Air Co. and Aquila Inc., both located at Air Terminal, said their fixed-base operations are on the increase. Both of the general aviation operations base from 80 to 90 private aircraft at Air Terminal facilities.

General aviation operators have indicated the increased private and business aircraft activity here is due to the petroleum industry breakthrough of recent months. The general fixed-base operators have not indicated a movement to lesser amounts of private flying because of increased fuel costs.

Former Midlander Burvin Hines Wins Arlington Award

ARLINGTON — Burvin Hines, formerly of Midland, was presented Arlington's "Citizen for Service" award at the annual banquet of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce held recently at the Inn of the Six Flags.

Four such awards are presented each year and are based upon significant contributions to the community's betterment. Hines is senior vice president of the First National Bank in Arlington.

In his presentation, Arlington Mayor Tom J. Vandergriff cited Hines' achievements as a chairman of the Chamber's Economic Development Team and his work with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Arlington Big Brothers' and other civic activities.

Hines formerly was vice president of the Midland National Bank and before that, on the staff of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Sport Can Be 'Poetry In Motion' Or Calamity Event 'A La Court'

In view of the growing emphasis being placed on physical fitness, more and more people are coming about for a suitable sport in which to participate.

I felt that I had a suitable sport. But the children informed me that lying on my back watching "As the World Turns" while shooting Oh Henry wraps were into the overhead light fixture did not qualify.

Instead, I have chosen to concentrate on badminton.

Badminton is played with a "bird" (actually an eraser with feathers) which is hit back and forth over a net with a racket. While badminton is a sport vaguely similar to tennis, tennis rackets are extremely heavy; the first time you lift a tennis racket you know immediately

Jelly side down

By NANCY STAHL

that you couldn't possibly hit anything with it. Badminton rackets, on the other hand, are so deceptively light that one assumes a heady, completely unwarranted sense of control. There is, as well, a tendency to forget that tennis balls bounce, and it is standard procedure to hit the ball after this bounce. In badminton, however, you hardly have time to congratulate yourself on having sent the bird across the net in a high, graceful arch before it is being smashed back across the net in a straight, lethal line, aimed at the tender spot between your eyes.

A game of doubles includes all the problems of singles, with the added hazard of being battered across the bridge of the nose by your partner. Watching two experienced badminton players working skillfully to form a superbly coordinated unit is a vision of poetry in motion. Two inexperienced players like my partner and I spend all our time yelling "Mine!" and running headlong into each other while the bird sails over our heads.

Peggy Barnes Shower Honoree

Mrs. Russell Sexton was hostess to a kitchen gadget shower Saturday in her home, 2309 Pinnis St., honoring Peggy Barnes, bride-elect of David Donna Garrett. Co-hostess was Mrs. Robert D. Anson.

Miss Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Barnes, 1619 Pine St., and Garrett, son of Mrs. Carroll F. Garrett of Colorado Springs, Colo. and the late Mr. Garrett, will be married at 3 p.m. Aug. 2 in a garden ceremony.

The honoree and her mother were presented with corsages of calico which matched the tablecloth in the bride-elect's chosen colors of royal blue and green.

HINTS FROM Heloise

There's No Such Thing As A Little Garlic—Bugs Baer (1886-1969)

Dear Heloise: I use a lot of garlic in my cooking, but it was always such a trouble to peel it. I think I have found the perfect way to solve this problem.

Put the buds in water, bring the water to a boil and drain. The skin will peel right off—just as easy as peeling a banana.

I do two or three cloves at a time and keep them in oil for quick use.

K. Dekker

I, too, love to cook with garlic but have always hated peeling those slippery little cusses. Your hint will surely save me time and much frustration. Cloves of thanks to you.

Heloise

Dear Heloise: I just had to send you my favorite trick for making the times we travel with our children more comfortable.

I used this hint with mine years ago and now do the same for my grandchildren.

Most of us have some vacuum bottles on hand. I use a big-mouthed quart size, then roll up and stuff them in the bottle.

Then use a pan, pitcher or whatever, and put a few drops of liquid soap or detergent in it and fill with very hot tap water. Pour this over the cloths in the bottle and seal it tightly.

These cloths stay hot for hours and make a day's travel so much more comfortable.

A pinch of soda will even keep the cloths sweet for days, if they aren't all used during your trip.

Singles Keep Babies

Copley News Service LOS ANGELES — Cindi Smith had a blind date recently that just didn't work out.

"All he knew was I had brown hair and brown eyes and was 19," she says. "Boy, was he surprised and bummed out."

"I decided he wasn't for me and he decided I wasn't for him. We didn't even go out."

What the prospective date hadn't been told by the well-meaning matchmaker is that Cindi shares her nearby Redondo Beach cottage.

Her roommate is a good-looking guy named Travis Taylor Smith. He's 11 months old. He's Cindi's son.

Under the heading "Description" on a photograph release form, Miss Smith wrote, "I'm 19 with br. hair & br. eyes. 5-6. I'm a single mother, and very happy."

The last sentence also fits two of Miss Smith's friends. The three and their children had met once a week in suburban Lawdale with volunteers from the Children's Home Society (CHS) of California.

CHS, founded in 1881, is described by Charlotte De Armond, CHS public relations director, as a multiservice child welfare agency.

But to serve children, it must also serve their parents. And while most of that work still involves two-parent families, the trend is going the other way.

"In the late '60s and early '70s there has been greater social acceptance of rebellion against the status quo," Mrs. De Armond says. "Abortion has drained off many of the girls who would have planned adoption. More and more the very young, single mothers are keeping their children, with the consent of their parents and peers."

"While total birthrates are going down, illegitimate births are soaring. In 20 years we'll have thousands of adults who Corsages of royal blue and white were presented to Miss Lago and her mother, Mrs. Nils Lago, 2900 Mariana St.

Vows for the couple will be exchanged at 4 p.m. July 26 in the First United Methodist Church.

grew up in single-parent homes."

At the meetings the mothers discuss the week's problems and joys. They reach solutions and share adventures.

At 17, Carol Garcia of Lawndale is the veteran of this group. Her daughter, Kristin Desard, is almost 2 and she has spent that much time in the CHS program.

Deloris (who asked that her last name not be used) of Redondo Beach also is 17. But her Bonnie Jean was just born in December and she is able to gain from Miss Garcia's experiences.

More and more, pregnant teen-agers who decide to complete their pregnancies also decide to keep their babies. And when they are willing to work at it, to accept the disruptions and sacrifices and put the baby first, officials say some make good mothers.

"Sure they do," says Mrs. De Armond, executive producer of a controversial film on the subject. "I know one who is the most totally devoted mother I think I know in terms of thinking of what her child needs."

But Mrs. De Armond is quick to point out others often do not make good mothers, particularly the very young girls—as young as 11.

"I'm concerned," she says, "about what's going to happen to both the mother and the child when the mother is very, very young."

"They're all functioning very well as mothers, but this is not without some difficulties," says Terry Vinocur of the Lawndale group. Vinocur, 25, was placed with CHS by the University of Southern California, where she is a first-year graduate student in social work. She supervises the discussions in Lawndale.

Murder Trial Set Sept. 29

ANAHUAC, Tex. (AP) — The trial of a former director of a Liberty County school for troubled teenagers who is charged with killing a 17-year-old girl by failing to treat her for swallowing rat poison has been set for Sept. 29.

State District Court Judge George Taylor set the date Monday for the trial of Joseph D. Farrar, accused of murder in the death of Danna Annette Hvolboll, a resident of Artesia Hall, a school for troubled youths which Farrar directed.

Taylor set the trial date during a pre-trial hearing here to listen to defense motions. Farrar's attorneys claimed that the indictment should not have been returned because there is no such crime as murder by omission in the current Texas penal code.

Administration Sources Say Ford's Oil Plan Could Cost Family $200 A Year In Higher Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's proposal to end domestic oil price controls could increase the cost of gasoline by 7 cents a gallon and raise consumer prices by nearly 1 percent, administration spokesmen say.

The over-all impact would cost the average family $200 a year in higher energy prices. Administration officials say this is the price the nation must pay to increase its supplies of domestically produced oil and to conserve energy.

Ford's plan, announced Monday, would phase out petroleum price controls over the next 30 months, a move the President called a compromise between continued controls and immediate decontrol.

Congress will have five days to turn down Ford's plan after it is formally submitted. The President indicated he might veto legislation to extend the Petroleum Allocation Act, under which the controls were imposed. The Senate votes today on a bill extending the controls until March 1, 1976.

The President is required under the Petroleum Administration Act to set price control levels on oil produced in the United States. The price level, established by the Federal Energy Administration, is subject to congressional veto.

The law also gives the President authority to decontrol oil, but gives Congress five days to disapprove such action. As it now stands, all controls will end Aug. 31 unless extended by Congress — leaving oil companies free to increase their price without government restraint — unless agreement on an alternative solution is reached.

Democrats in key Senate positions on energy legislation outlined at a news conference Monday an eight-point Democratic energy program on which the Senate is working this month as alternatives to the Ford program.

Participants included Sens. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash.; Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.; Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C.; and Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash. The program includes extension of the energy allocation and price control authority. It also includes measures to improve auto fuel efficiency, speed oil production on the outer continental shelf, open the Naval Petroleum Reserve at Elk Hills in California, improve coal leasing and conversion, boost funding for non-nuclear gas prices, and establish an energy production board to launch an oil development program.

The price of oil is controlled under a "two-tier" system. About 40 per cent of the oil consumed in the United States is sold at $5.25 a barrel. The remainder is sold at uncontrolled world prices, currently about $12.50 a barrel.

This system would be eliminated by the Ford proposal, under which the cost of a barrel of oil would rise to an estimated price of $13.50 when all controls were removed in January 1976.

After Ford revealed the plan, the Federal Energy Administration conducted a briefing for reporters, predicting that de-

Justice Panel Weighing Legality Of FBI Burglaries

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department is weighing the legality of burglaries conducted by the FBI to gain information considered necessary for national security.

Department spokesman Robert Havel said Monday that officials will review the circumstances of the break-ins. But he said any criminal charges might be barred by the statute of limitations, which prevents federal prosecutions for most offenses after five years.

Havel said it is Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi's policy and the department's policy that burglary is a legal tactic to gather foreign intelligence in limited cases.

FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley acknowledged at a news conference Monday that the FBI burglarized some unidentified foreign embassies in Washington and some other targets for nearly 30 years.

After 1968, break-ins were conducted only for "foreign counterintelligence, which we felt had a grave impact on the security of this nation," Kelley said.

But from World War II until 1968, burglaries were carried out both for foreign counterintelligence and national security purposes, he said.

Kelley declined to identify the specific targets, pending his report to the Senate select committee investigating the intelligence activities of the Central Intelligence Agency, the FBI and other intelligence agencies.

He declined to elaborate on the types of break-ins carried out under the umbrella of "national security."

Havel said department officials have not yet examined the circumstances of those break-ins to determine whether they fit department policy and the law.

Kelley declined to say whether the FBI break-ins were personally ordered by any president or attorney general, and he refused to say how many were carried out. He said there were "a few."

Man Sentenced To 11 Life Terms

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A three-judge panel has sentenced James U. Ruppert to 11 consecutive terms of life imprisonment for the murders of 11 members of his family Easter Sunday.

The 41-year-old bachelor was sentenced Tuesday to serve the terms in the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility at Lucasville.

Eight doctors had testified during Ruppert's three-week trial that he was mentally ill at the time of the shooting. But two of the three Butler County Common Pleas Court judges hearing the case voted that Ruppert was legally sane.

Presiding Judge Fred B. Cramer dissented from that verdict, and concluded the possibility of a death penalty, which required a unanimous decision.

One of the mitigating circumstances which had to be considered before pronouncing sentence was whether the offense was primarily the product of a psychosis or mental deficiency although such a condition was not sufficient to establish a defense of insanity.

"There are already 11 dead in one of the most horrible things that has ever happened in America," argued defense attorney Hugh Hollupack. "Do not make it a worse crime by making 12 persons die."

Ruppert was convicted of killing his mother, brother, sister-in-law and eight aunts and nephews.

Prosecutor John Holcomb told the court that Ruppert deserved the death penalty because "there is too much blood on his hands."

The prosecution contended during the trial that Ruppert had murdered the family for its $500,000 estate. After the hearing, Cramer noted that by imposing consecutive sentences the judges "feel we have insured in so far as the law now stands, of his remaining incarcerated for the rest of his natural life."

investments at foreign embassies in Washington, Kelley replied. "Without naming or designating victims or institutions, I can only say there were a few, concerned with counterintelligence, foreign in nature, subsequent to 1968."

U.S. Proposing OAS Meeting On Embargo

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — The United States is proposing another meeting of the Organization of American States at the end of the month to speed up the removal of the remnants of the organization's 23-year-old ban on trade and diplomatic relations with Cuba.

Delegates from the 26 OAS member states will meet in San Jose to study a proposal to require only a majority vote instead of the present two-thirds to remove the quarantine the organization voted against Fidel Castro's Communist regime in 1962.

However, the voting change could not be put into effect until ratified by the 21 signers of the organization's Mutual Defense Treaty, a process that could take years, Knowlton said.

Other nations then would be free to resume relations with Cuba, but Washington would probably retain its embargo until the political climate in the United States is more favorable to a resumption of relations. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said Monday night in a news conference that the United States is "prepared to have serious exchanges with Cuba on the basis of reciprocity," but he characterized recent Cuban gestures toward the U.S. government as "merely atmospheric."

The OAS sanctions vote could not be put into effect until ratified by the 21 signers of the organization's Mutual Defense Treaty, a process that could take years, Knowlton said. The United States is putting its support behind a proposal to get around this. Immediately after the OAS conference ends July 23, a second meeting would be held to take up the Cuban question. This meeting would reaffirm the principle of nonintervention and would declare that all countries are at liberty to re-establish diplomatic and economic relations with Cuba. Fourteen votes — a two-thirds majority — would be needed up, and the move to revise the in advance for the resolution so voting system was the result.

Youth, 16, Survives Black Bear's Attack

WHITE PINE, Mich. (AP) — "I felt right then like I could be snipped in two," said 16-year-old Paul Cameron.

"The bear came up and grabbed me by the throat with his jaws, lifted me about a foot off the ground and dropped me back."

Cameron is recovering today after a 15-minute bout with a black bear in Pictured Rocks National State Park.

The Dearborn High School student had been lying in his tent, disappointed because he hadn't seen any bears on a weekend camping trip.

Then he heard a bear growling and scratching at his tent.

"He was trying to knock the tent down. I was still in my sleeping bag. He started biting my arm through the tent and dragging me around inside the tent. I was playing dead and thought maybe it would go away, but he just kept biting at me — at my arm. I thought he broke my arm because I could hear the bones cracking."

Cameron said the bear finally knocked down the tent and he rolled out on the ground, and lay still, hoping the bear would leave.

Instead, he said, the bear attacked again.

"I was playing dead as long as I could but after he bit me in the throat and let me go I just ran," said Cameron.

He said he climbed a small tree but the bear came up after him.

"He came right up after me, almost to me, so I jumped to the next tree," the youth said.

"He went right down the trunk and came up the other one, then just stopped and went away. I started screaming for help."

A couple driving through the park saw the bear romping through Cameron's campsite and heard his screams. They helped him down and called park authorities.

Cameron was listed in good condition Monday.

Park Manager David Balough said Monday that the bear, a female weighing about 125 pounds and about 2 1/2 years old, was shot within an hour of the attack. The animal's head was sent to Lansing to check for rabies.

Balough said it was the first attack in the 12 years he has been on the job. He said the bear may have been attracted by cooking odors from inside the tent, as the bear population has increased in the park and berries and other natural foods have been slow to ripen.

New Car Sales Show Decline

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. car sales for the first 10 days in July were down 9 per cent from the same period last year, industry analysts say.

Analysts estimate that sales for July 1-10 totaled about 180,000, compared with 195,000 for the first 10 days of the month in 1974.

However, sales for the period were up 2 per cent over the first 10 days of June this year, the analysts reported.

The nation's automakers reported that July sales are down 8 per cent from June 1-10, but this time there is a slight increase indicating a further strengthening of the auto industry," one company analyst said.

Analysts expect July sales to approximate the rate of deliveries in 1971, making this period the lowest in four years. Earlier this year sales ran at a 14-year low, yet another indication the worst sales slump for the industry since World War II is slowly ending.

Midkiff Hearing Slated Aug. 14

A public hearing on the proposed project to widen Midkiff Road from U.S. 90 to Interstate 20 will be held at city hall on Monday, Aug. 14 by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

It was inaccurately reported earlier that the meeting was to be held this week.

Rhodes Joins Move To Abolish Intelligence Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — An effort to abolish the deadlocked House intelligence committee has been joined by House Republican Leader John J. Rhodes, but he predicts the move will fail.

"It does the intelligence agencies no service to be investigated again and again and again," Rhodes told the House Monday night in urging that the committee be abolished.

He said the Rockefeller Commission already has completed an investigation of the CIA and the House should wait until the Senate intelligence committee completes a similar inquiry before deciding whether a third investigation should be launched by the House.

He said he will support an amendment by Rep. James H. Quillen, R-Tenn., to abolish the committee.

Rhodes said he doubted the move to abolish the committee would succeed, but a Democratic leader said it would draw a large vote.

Quillen said he will try to abolish the committee not only on grounds no further investigation is needed but because there have been leaks from the present committee.

Meanwhile, retired Air Force Col. L. Fletcher Prouty said in an interview with the Springfield, Mass., Daily News, that he may have been given deliberately misleading information that Alexander Butterfield was the White House contact man for the CIA.

"They may have told me the wrong name to cover up the identity of the real contact man, Prouty was quoted as saying.

Prouty, a former Pentagon liaison with the CIA, had alleged last week that Butterfield, who administered the day-to-day operations of the White House under President Richard M. Nixon, was the CIA contact man there. The CIA and Butterfield strongly denied that.

In the House, Rhodes and Quillen took their positions during a debate on whether to abolish the present 10-member committee and replace it with a 12-member committee with an identical mandate to investigate all U.S. intelligence agencies.

All votes were put off until Wednesday morning.

Meanwhile, there were these developments:

—Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the Senate panel, said he plans to complete the questioning of witnesses in connection with alleged CIA assassination plots by the end of the week.

Church said he hopes to deliver a final report on the assassination issue by the end of the month. Meanwhile, the panel began its probe of CIA covert operations abroad, focusing on agency activities in Chile.

—Mitchell Rogovin, a Washington attorney hired by the CIA to represent it in congressional hearings, has resigned as general counsel of Common Cause, the lobby group. Common Cause is pressing a request under the Freedom of Information Act for the CIA's secret budget.

More Storms Predicted For East Coast

By The Associated Press

The National Weather Service predicted no immediate relief today from thunderstorms that battered the East and Northeast on Monday, leaving three persons dead and two others missing and causing an estimated $3.2 million damage in two states.

Three New Jersey men died and two others were reported missing in heavy rains and winds that flooded highways and forced evacuation of homes along swollen rivers throughout the state.

New Jersey Agriculture Secretary Philip Alampi estimated crop damage at $2 million.

A West Orange, N.J., man was electrocuted when he tried to plug an electric pump into a garage outlet at his home, a Nucleo rescue worker drowned when he tried to save others from the Third River, and the body of an unidentified elderly man was recovered from the Passaic River between Kearney and Lyndhurst. Two other men were missing in the storms that struck hardest in Middlesex and Warren counties.

Five inches of rain was recorded in Princeton, and New Jersey state police reported "disaster conditions" because of flooding in the town of Washington. States of emergency were declared in Plainfield and some other Union County communities.

In Maryland, Gov. Marvin Mandel asked federal officials to declare Baltimore eligible for disaster funds, and Mayor William Donald Schaefer said damage to homes and businesses in east Baltimore was estimated at between $1 million and $1.2 million.

Flash flood warnings were posted for western Connecticut and Massachusetts and for the lower Hudson Valley in New York, where many rivers were expected to crest early today.

Up to six inches of rain fell in the Washington, D.C., area and scattered thunderstorms were expected to continue through Wednesday. Minor flooding in the city and suburbs forced evacuation of some homes.

There were scattered showers in other parts of the nation Monday, including Wisconsin, southern Texas and northern portions of the Plateau and the Rockies. Rain left the Appalachians late Monday night. The interior Southwest was

Sonny, Cher Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sonny and Cher were putting each other down again gently in front of a national TV audience. But this time the setting was the Tonight Show.

Their meeting Monday night was their first reported public appearance together since their divorce three weeks earlier, and it came as a surprise to the Tonight Show's producers.

doing recently, Cher deadpanned: "I haven't been up to much lately."

Cher's response touched off a round of applause and laughter from the audience, most of whom were aware that Cher married rock musician Gregg Allman three days after her final divorce decree from Sonny and then proceeded to file for divorce from Allman just nine days after their marriage in Las Vegas, Nev.

"We get along really fine," said Cher, commenting on her relationship with Sonny. "Better now than we ever used to."

An NBC official said the show's producers had no idea who arranged the surprise encounter and a spokesman for Sonny also disclaimed any advance knowledge of the reunion.

Sonny and Cher marked their TV reunion with dinner following the show at Beverly Hills' fashionable Bistro restaurant. But the date was hardly a romantic reprise as Sonny brought along his new girlfriend, Suzy Cuelho.

Kelley normally returns to Kansas City on Thursday nights, works in the FBI office there on Fridays, and returns to Washington on Sunday nights, an agency spokesman said.

Use Throw-In Play When Breaks Are Bad

This week is devoted to the throw-in play. You throw an opponent into the lead at a time when any return will be favorable. This maneuver may protect you against a bad break in a key suit.

The average declarer takes the first diamond, draws trumps, and cashes two top clubs. On discovering the bad club break, he would take the ace of hearts and try a finesse with dummy's jack of hearts. The finesse would lose, and the opponents would cash a diamond to defeat the contract.

Since you are not the average declarer you want a better line of play. You can make the slam by forcing the opponents to help you.

NOT NEEDED

The heart finesse is not needed. After drawing three rounds of trumps you cash dummy's ace of clubs. Then you take the two high hearts and ruff a heart.

Now lead a diamond and let the opponents struggle over the trick. A heart or diamond return allows you to ruff in dummy and discard a club from your hand.

As the cards lie, East might win the diamond and return the jack of clubs. You would let this ride around to dummy's king, discovering the bad break from West's discard. But then you can lead a club from dummy and win a finesse with the nine of clubs.

American League Hopes To End Frustrations Tonight

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Vida Blue exudes confidence, along with little regard for the American League's recent history of All-Star frustration.

"I recall the last time the American League won one I was the starting pitcher," said the Oakland A's lefthander. "I don't see Jimmy the Greek here, but maybe that gives us a little advantage. There is no doubt in my mind the American League is just as good as the National."

The American League, led by seven players from the world champion A's, will try to back up Blue's boast in baseball's 40th midsummer showcase at Milwaukee County Stadium tonight at 7:30 CDT.

Blue Confident National League Will Lose

The American League's only hit for Vida. We're going to play to win this game. I'm sure (NL Manager) Walter Alton will do the same."

Dark's pitching corps was bolstered late Monday when Jim Palmer, Baltimore's 12-game winner, said he was ready and able to pitch following examination of his sore arm. Dark had planned to activate A's reliever Paul Lindblad if Palmer couldn't pitch, but Lindblad will continue to serve as batting practice pitcher.

Dark's other starting pitchers are Steve Busby, Catfish Hunter, Jim Kaat and Nolan Ryan. He has Rollie Fingers and Rich Gossage as bullpen specialists.

"They will confront a National League batting order consisting of: Pete Rose, Cincinnati, right field; Lou Brock, St. Louis, left field; Joe Morgan, Cincinnati, second base; Johnny Bench, Cincinnati, catcher; Steve Garvey, Los Angeles, first base;

Alton, whose pitchers did not have to be withheld from play last Sunday, wasn't sure who would follow Reuss, his freshest pitcher with four days of rest. Alton said Dodger right-hander Don Sutton, sidelined for a week with a groin injury, wants to pitch and may be ready.

Tom Seaver and Andy Messersmith of the Nationals pitched 6 2-3 and 7 innings, respectively, Sunday.

"I hope to pitch at least one inning," Seaver said, "being chosen for the All-Star game is truly an honor. I didn't want the three days of rest. I rested last season when I had a bad year."

Carew, upset last year when he was removed after 2 1/2 innings, will start for a ninth consecutive year.

"I know at the start of the season I said I didn't want to be here, but now I want to tell Alvin I'm ready to play as many innings as he wants," Carew said, "but I hope it's more than 2 1/2."

Dark said he tentatively planned a full nine innings for Carew, a graduate of George Washington high school in New York City. Another Washington alumnus is Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, scheduled to throw out the first ball.

Blue vowed to challenge National League hitters with "about 95 per cent fast balls."

"I don't think the All-Star record indicated the National League is better," he said. "I think maybe the fans just haven't always voted for the best American League player, and Hank Aaron is on our side this time."

Aaron, the Milwaukee Brewers' 41-year-old designated hitter and baseball's career home run king with 742, was picked as a backup outfielder for his 25th All-Star game.

Lookin' Down Muzzle Is Name Of The Game

Lafayette was leading 7-0 in the last of the ninth. Midland had Jose Ortiz on second, Bill Umfleet on first and Mike Droege at bat with one out.

The pressure was on Droege, but glancing at Wayne Tyrone over in the on-deck circle, we wondered what he was thinking.

Did he want Droege to get a hit and lift the load off his shoulders? Did he want a crack at those runs-batted-in and a chance to win the game himself? Would he just as soon be visiting the folks, at that moment, in Alice, Texas?

Droege popped out and Wayne, the No. 1 guy whom everybody depends upon to come through every time in these situations, struck out and the Cubs lost.

Battle Scene
By Ted Battles

Sunday night, Tyrone was again confronted with a couple of pressure cookers. The first came in the eighth after Bill Droege singled to launch a three-run rally that put the Cubs ahead 5-4 going into the ninth. Wayne contributed a "keep-it-going" single and then scored the tying run on a fly to short center.

After the Drillers, who hate to give up as much as the Cubs, got a run back in the top of the ninth, Umfleet doubled and Wayne again came up with two outs and the game riding on his shoulders . . . and once again the guy out on the hill was Lanthorn.

"I was looking for sliders all the way," Wayne said, "but the pitch I hit was something else, maybe a sinker. It wasn't the slider or fastball. I was just trying to make contact."

The result was a looping liner to center that platted the run. That's not bad. A 500 percentage in game-winning situations against the league leaders.

But you can't satisfy everybody. One fan leaving Cubs Stadium complained, "Too bad Wayne couldn't have hit a homer."

The next night Wayne was asked what he felt while he was waiting for Droege to take his lick.

"I was hoping Droege would get hit in the head with a pitch so the bases would be loaded when I came up," Wayne grinned. "I'm just kidding about Bill getting hit. I was just hoping he'd get on."

"No, being the last hope doesn't bother me. I love to face that kind of a challenge. That Lanthorn (Gene) just got me on a good pitch."

"It makes it tougher when you have to get a base hit in a situation like that, with two out," Wayne explained. "If Droege had gotten on, my main concern would have been to make contact with the ball."

Montana Bowler Leads Meet By 18 Pins Over Johnson

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Tour rookie Guy Rowbury of Ronan, Mont., held an 18-pin lead over veteran Don Johnson after the fifth round of the $50,000 Tucson Open Bowling Tournament Monday.

Later in the day, the 24 semifinalists returned for the final eight games of head-to-head competition, with the top five returning Tuesday for the finals.

Rowbury, whose highest finish in four tournaments this year was 14th, totaled 1,764 pins for his eight-game block to smass a 24-game total of 7,783. Johnson, the leader going into Monday's action, won five of his matches but could only knock down 1,735 pins for a 7,765 tournament total.

Johnson is only one tour title away from tying Dick Weber's Professional Bowlers Association record of 24. He also needs a tour victory this year to keep his string of nine wins in the past nine years intact.

Carmen Salvino of Chicago jumped from ninth to third place with a 1,736 pinfall. Salvino won seven and tied one of his matches to boost his tournament total to 7,983.

Rounding out the top five was tour sophomore Bobby Fenton of Los Angeles and last year's bowler of the year, Earl Anthony of Tacoma, Wash.

Fenton held a three-pin lead over Anthony with a 7,628 total.

Women's Open Thursday

NORTHFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Cindy Hill hesitated for a moment. The question was whether the U.S. Amateur queen felt she could win the U.S. Women's Open at Atlantic City Country Club this week.

"No," she began, then offered the hope of every golfer—man or woman—who ever swung a club, "but if I play well."

And her voice trailed off as she left the rest unsaid.

The 27-year-old Miss Hill won the National Amateur last August. She has spent her time since, between work in a women's sports store in Colorado Springs, Colo., and golf when she has time.

Most recently she lost a pair of heartbreakers—in the final round of the British Women's Amateur, and the Broadmoor Invitational at Colorado Springs—both to Nancy Roth Syms. Mrs. Syms also is here for the Open.

Both Mrs. Syms and Miss Hill had hoped to practice Monday over the 6,165-yard, par-72 course, just 10 miles from Atlantic City's beaches. But it rained so hard, with thunder and some lightning, that even the qualifying round was called off until today.

The U.S. Golf Association postponed the first qualifying test in Women's Open history about an hour-and-a-half after all but 19 of the 61 women bidding for 44 spots had teed off on the rain-soaked course.

Four times on Monday the USGA restarted the qualifying round as rains drenched the resort area. Finally at 3 p.m., the first groups went off the first and 10th tees. But the rain had made several holes unplayable and play was halted. The qualifying round was made necessary by a record 185 entries.

The starting field for the 72-hole Open starting Thursday will be 150, with 106 exempt players and the 44 who qualify.

Miss Hill, sandy haired and bespectacled, doesn't lack confidence. She simply points out that she is used to the match play of amateur tournaments. She notes that in the last year she played one medal play tournament—the Ormond Beach, Fla. Open. She won that with a 29.

"I enjoy the competition with the pros," Miss Hill observed. "And I'll go out and play as well as I can. The fact that I don't play much medal is a disadvantage. But amateurs have finished high," she concluded hopefully.

Only one amateur has ever won the Open—France's Cathy Lacoste in 1967.

Miss Hill considered turning pro in 1970, but she injured an arm while playing in Spain, and missed a year of golf competition. She taught school, and then took the job in Colorado Springs. She gave up any further thought of joining the pros. She felt she wasn't strong enough for the steady diet of play.

"I enjoy playing when I want to, making the Curtis Cup team and playing for the World Cup. Her ambition—to make two more Curtis Cup teams. How about the Open. She said that would be nice, but she'd still play for fun."

IRVINE, Calif. (AP) — Neal Jeffrey, who led the Baylor University Bears to the Southwest Conference championship last year, completed 12 of 23 passes Monday for the San Diego Chargers in a scrimmage with the Dallas Cowboys.

Charlie Napper, a former Texas quarterback, completed eight straight passes for the Cowboys, but the Dallas team fell one touchdown short as the Cowboys had four to five for San Diego.

Napper displayed some of the experience he gained the past three years at Green Bay and scored on a four-yard strike and a 16-yard pass to Percy Howard. Howard, a 6-4, 215-pound free agent basketball player from Austin Peay, led the Cowboys with four catches for 79 yards.

Other Cowboy touchdowns were scored by Scott Laidlaw of Stanford on a two-yard plunge, and by Bob Harthorn of West Chester State, also on a two-yarder.

Jeffrey threw touchdown passes to Glen Printers and Ricky Young of Jackson State and Gus Brisco of Arizona State.

Steelers Open Training Camp

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers began formal preparation for defense of their National Football League championship with the opening of a training camp Monday.

A total of 59 players—20 veterans and 39 rookies—took part in two contact drills at St. Vincent College.

Two players were missing from camp, the Steelers said, including a veteran linebacker Henry Davis, a seven-year pro who is attempting a come-back after suffering a back injury last year in preseason.

However, Davis told Steeler

President Art Rooney by telephone that he was en route.

The other absentee was rookie tackle Marvin Crenshaw, a sixth-round draft choice from Nebraska.

He is the only rookie un-signed and the Steelers said they have not heard from the Toledo, Ohio, native regarding his plans.

Although veterans were not scheduled to report until Wednesday, 20 of them on hand for opening drills Monday. The balance of the squad, comprised of 28 veterans, is expected Wednesday.

Lady Golfers To Try Again

NORTHFIELD, N.J. (AP) — The qualifying round of the 27th Annual U.S. Women's Open Golf Championship was rained out Monday at the Atlantic City Country Club after all but 19 of the 61 gals got off the tee in their bid for 44 places in the four day tournament starting Thursday.

Officials of the United States Golf Association said they'd try again today starting at 7 a.m., CDT, but the forecast at this course just 10 miles from Atlantic City was for more of the rain that has drenched the Eastern seaboard.

Four times on Monday, the USGA rescheduled the qualifying round as the rains came, punctuated by thunder and some occasional lightning. Finally, at 3 p.m., the first groups went out on both the first and 10th tees. An hour and a half later play was suspended. The course in several spots was unplayable.

A record field of 185 filed entry for the Women's Open, forcing this first qualifying round in the history of the event.

The starting field for Thursday will comprise 150 players, including all the top pros and the U.S. and British Amateur champions. In all, 106 players are exempt under 10 categories established by the USGA.

Johnson Looking For New Job

By The Associated Press
Paul Brown once said one of his backs "has the finest balance of any football player I have coached."

No, Brown wasn't describing Jim Brown, the veteran coach's superstar in the 60s when both were with the Cleveland Browns.

Instead, it was his description of Essex Johnson, the career rushing leader of the Cincinnati Bengals who today is looking for a job with another National Football League team—or perhaps the World Football League—and hoping he can prove medical science wrong.

Johnson, one of the many pro players to come out of Grambling University in Louisiana, doesn't agree with the three Bengal team physicians who say there is a strong risk factor of permanent injury if the 5-foot-10, 200-pounder continues to play. Johnson had knee surgery twice in the past 18 months.

"I feel as if the knee can withstand anything," said Johnson after returning to his Shreveport, La., home from the Cincinnati training camp. "I was figuring on playing one or two more years."

Coach Brown put Johnson, who gained 825 yards in 1972 and 997 the following year but saw extremely limited duty last season, on waivers. That means any of the other 25 NFL clubs can claim him.

all normal life purposes, but not for playing football," said Brown. "If he continues to play... he puts himself in jeopardy. I can't play him under these circumstances and I must go along with the opinions of our doctors."

Johnson called Brown's decision a shock. "They weren't willing to take a chance for my sake," said Johnson, who would be starting his eighth NFL season this fall after rushing for a total of 2,893 yards.

He definitely wants to continue playing. "If I am claimed, I will play somewhere else," he said.

and then they can make the decision."

Elsewhere around pro football, the Super Bowl-champion Pittsburgh Steelers opened their training camp at Latrobe, Pa., with 39 players. Steeler veterans aren't due to report until Wednesday, but 20 of them showed up Monday.

Incidentally, one of the contributors factors the Steelers cite for their recent success is a weight program instituted by Lou Riecke of New Orleans, who is listed as Pittsburgh's strength coach.

So, since Riecke was in their own backyard, the New Orleans Saints got permission from the Steelers to also avail themselves of Riecke's services. The Saints are glad they did, because Coach John North reported from the New Orleans training camp at Thibodaux, La., that he was impressed with the shape his rookies are in and delighted with the veterans.

"Riecke's weight program has added strength, but not weight to most of our players," said North.

Shreveport Downs Jackson To Increase Lead In Western Division Flag Chase

By The Associated Press
Steve Nicosia had a hand in all six Shreveport runs Monday night as the Captains defeated Jackson to extend their Texas League West lead to 7½ games.

Nicosia homered, tripled and doubled to knock in three runs and scored three other times as Shreveport whipped the Mets 6-2. The three hits in four times at bat for the Shreveport catcher gave him seven hits in eight plate appearances in the last two days.

Coach Brown put Johnson, who gained 825 yards in 1972 and 997 the following year but saw extremely limited duty last season, on waivers. That means any of the other 25 NFL clubs can claim him.

The only other Texas League action Monday night saw Arkansas blank San Antonio 5-0 and Alexandria edge El Paso 4-3.

Lefthander Randy Wiles got his first victory since June 15 with a six-hit shutout of San Antonio. Arkansas had a three-run fifth inning highlighted by Doug Clary's triple and Jay Schleuter's single.

Mike Dupree broke a 3-3 tie in the seventh inning with a waukee's Tom Murphy for the major league lead.

run-scoring single as Alexandria beat El Paso. Ralph Garcia, who picked up his seventh victory in 12 decisions, combined for a four-hitter with Dennis Yard, who relieved in the eighth to pick up a save.

There is an abbreviated schedule tonight with Jackson at Shreveport for the only game scheduled.

Hrabosky NL Player Of Month

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Relief pitcher Al Hrabosky of the St. Louis Cardinals is the National League player of the week, league president Charles S. Feeney announced Monday.

Hrabosky, who led the Cards to two victories last week over Los Angeles, picked up his 14th save of the year to tie Milwaukee's Tom Murphy for the major league lead.

Candidates competing with Hrabosky for player-of-the-week honors included Willie Stargell and Dave Giusti of Pittsburgh, Pete Rose of Cincinnati, Brent Strom of San Diego, and Garry Maddox and Greg Luzinski of Philadelphia.

Davis Sparks Sun To Easy 47-16 Win

ANAHEIM (AP) — Anthony Davis scored 20 points Monday night as the Southern California Sun spoiled the Memphis Southmen 47-16 in a World Football League exhibition game in which millionaire defectors Larry Csonka, Jim Kick and Paul Warfield played minor roles.

Csonka, who received an estimated $1.4 million contract, played only the first half in his WFL debut gaining only 12 yards on four carries.

Warfield, the second of the Miami Dolphins switching to the WFL, caught one pass for 28 yards as he also played only in the first half.

Kick played both halves but carried the ball just twice in the first four yards and three times in the second without a net gain.

Warfield reportedly received a $1.1 million contract and Kick $100,000 to switch leagues on multi-year deals.

Davis, the All-American from the University of Southern California in his rookie year of pro ball, highlighted the action before 24,610 in Anaheim Stadium.

He scored touchdowns on runs of four, three and one yard and caught a 17-yard touchdown pass from reserve quarterback Mike Ernst.

He added two more points on action points after touchdowns—first on a pass from Daryle Lamonica and the second on a run.

After the first Davis touchdown, the Sun never was headed in posting a second pre-season triumph.

Memphis, in its 1975 inaugural, did tie the count at 8-8 on a 22-yard touchdown pass from John Huarte to Ed Marshall early in the second period.

Then Davis scored twice more before intermission to put the Sun 15 points in front at 23-8.

Southern California scored the opening touchdown moving 36 yards in seven plays after Stan Brown intercepted a Huarte pass at the Sun 29 and returned to the Memphis 36.

Huarte brought his club back 51 yards in four plays with a 28-yard pass to Warfield carrying to the Sun 20.

Willie Spencer lost two and then Huarte, the former Notre Dame Heisman Trophy winner, uncorked his scoring toss.

Lonnie Stewart, a rookie quarterback from Tennessee State, took over for Memphis in the second half and Ernst replaced Lamonica.

Stewart's second pass attempt clicked on a 30-yard touchdown play to veteran Tim Veamer.

Ernst came back with scoring throws of 17 yards to Davis, 10 to Keith Denson and 40 to Cephus Weatherspoon.

Both coaches, Tom Fears of the Sun and John McVay of the Southmen, used regulars in the first half and substituted freely in the second.

Davis, who saw action only the touchdown play on the second half, rushed 15 times for 56 yards and added another yard on a pass in the opening two quarters putting his total production at 74.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers returned shortstop Rick Auerbach to the active list Monday and optioned shortstop Ivan De Jesus to their Albuquerque farm club.

Auerbach, hitting .209 with 33 hits in 138 at bats, sprained ligaments in his right ankle June 25th in Houston and had been placed on the 15-day disabled list. He will be in uniform Thursday after the All-Star break.

De Jesus had a .182 average with 10 hits in 55 at bats after being recalled from Albuquerque of the Pacific Coast League earlier this season.

Most of his at-bats were in a reserve role.

Bill Russell, also coming back after injuries, is the Dodgers' starter at shortstop.

CUTUPS—Clowning around during National League workouts Monday were Cincinnati's Johnny Bench, who kisses bald head of Pittsburgh's Manny Sanguillen. The 46th All-Star Game will be played tonight in Milwaukee. (AP Wirephoto.)

at the end of the flow period. During the two-hour final flow, on a 3/4-inch choke, gas volume was 800,000 cubic feet per day, increasing to a maximum, daily volume of 1.455 million cubic feet. The project is 767 feet from north and 1,830 feet from east lines of section 27-20s-27e, 1 1/4 miles south of the firm's No. 1 Combs-Federal, completed in June 1974, as a Delaware gas discovery.

Gas, Condensate Develop In Chaves Drillstem Test

Maralo, Inc., Midland, No. 1 Butler Springs Unit, Chaves County, N.M., wildcat, 17 miles northeast of Lake Arthur, flowed gas and recovered condensate on a drillstem test in an unidentified formation.

Tool was open one hour on the test taken from 9,233-9,259 feet. Gas surfaced in seven minutes, flowing on an unreported choke at the daily rate of 3.5 million cubic feet. Recovery was 95 feet of condensate, 730 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud and 60 feet of gas-cut drilling mud.

An earlier drillstem test from 7,950-8,018 feet, recovered gas and oil- and gas-cut mud and water.

Operator was waiting on cement after setting 5 1/2-inch casing at 9,435 feet, total depth.

It is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 2-15s-20e, six miles southwest of the depleted King Camp, Southwest (Devonian) field.

Yeates Completes Strike In Ward

Bob Yeates of Midland has completed No. 1 T&P, et al, in Cherry Canyon of the Delaware oil discovery, in North Ward County, five miles northwest of Pyote.

It was completed on the swab for 24 barrels of 43-gravity oil and 105 barrels of water per day, with gas-oil ratio of 200-1. Production was through perforations at 6,290-6,296 feet, which had been washed with 300 gallons of mud and fractured with 4,000 gallons and 2,700 pounds.

Drilled to 6,513 feet, it has 4 1/2-inch casing set at total depth, and is plugged back to 6,454 feet.

The following log tops were picked under Kelly bushing elevation of 2,698 feet: Rustler, 943; Delaware lime, 4,942 and Cherry Canyon, 5,862 feet.

Well site is 660 feet from north and 1,900 feet from east lines of section 15, block 17, ULS.

Amoco Sets Site In Dawson Area

Amoco Production Co. intends to drill an 8,000-foot venture in Dawson County, 11 miles northeast of Lamesa. It is No. 1-B Dean Ranch. Drillsite is 2,173 feet from north and 467 feet from west lines of section 15, block 1, T-6-N, J. Polivent survey and one location northeast of the Felken multipay pool.

Breedlove Area Gets New Oiler

The Breedlove, East (Spraberry) field of Martin County gained its third well and a 3/4-mile northwest extension with completion of Miller Exploration Co., Midland, No. 1 Snel.

The well gauged a 24-hour pumping potential of 33 barrels of 36-gravity oil and 80 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 1,021-1. Production was through perforated interval from 7,980-8,218 feet, after fracturing with 67,500 gallons and 120,000 pounds.

Drilled as a wildcat to 12,000 feet, it was rescheduled as a field test and plugged back to 8,250 feet, in 5 1/2-inch casing seated at 10,750 feet. Location is 660 feet from south and 467 feet from west lines of labor 11, league 260, Borden-CSI survey, 2 1/2 miles south of Patricia.

Companies Expected To Take Gas Ruling To Court

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — In an opinion that could feed tens of millions of dollars into the state treasury, Atty. Gen. John Hill ruled Monday that gas producers must count sales to interstate pipelines in figuring their corporate franchise taxes.

Major oil and gas companies are expected to take the matter to the courts, which have the power to overrule an attorney general's opinion.

"We are talking about one hell of a lot of money. It could be $10 million, it could be $50 million. We just don't know. We will have to readjust those companies," said Randall Wood, chief attorney for the comptroller's department.

He predicted that the major gas producers would fight the ruling in court "because so much money is involved."

Sales of natural gas to interstate pipeline companies have been part of the franchise tax base of gas producers since May 1, 1970, Hill's opinion said. But taxes based on such a calculation have never been collected. Former Comptroller Robert S. Calvert issued a ruling in 1971 that the sales were made in interstate commerce and, therefore, could not be included in a corporation's franchise tax base.

Wood said the comptroller now has the authority to collect

20 Companies To Drill In Egypt

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — More than 20 foreign prospectors, including 13 United States companies, are preparing the largest oil exploration campaign ever undertaken in Egypt, the Oil and Gas Journal said Monday.

The Tulsa-based trade journal said besides the 13 U.S. companies, seven European companies and one joint venture comprised of several Japanese firms have contracts with the Egyptian General Petroleum Corp. More than $100 million will be spent this year for surveys and drilling, the article said.

At least 20 wildcat wells are planned by late 1976 or early 1977. The wells will be drilled over a 59,860-square-mile area in and around Egypt's desert, coastlines, the Nile basin and offshore in the Mediterranean, Gulf of Suez and the Red Sea.

Two wildcats, both offshore, already have been drilled and abandoned. The Journal said. Two wells are currently being drilled in the Mediterranean and the Gulf of Suez and another is in progress in northeastern Egypt.

Coastal States Says Court Lacks Authority In Suit

BRYAN, Tex. (AP) — Coastal States Gas Producing Co. attorneys were scheduled to return to court today in their battle against a possible $26.7 million financial judgment against the gas company in a breach of contract suit brought by the Lower Colorado River Authority.

Attorneys for the gas company told State District Court Judge W. C. Davis Monday that his court has no jurisdiction or authority in the case because it involves an order from the State Railroad Commission which cannot be overturned by the court.

The judge had called for the hearing Friday after a jury decided mostly in favor of LCRA in 21 issues presented to it at the end of nine-weeks of testimony in the trial. Sixteen issues were decided in favor of the authority. Five were determined in favor of Coastal States, but were conditioned to issues determined in favor of LCRA.

Coastal States asked the judge to overrule LCRA's motion for a judgment against the gas company.

The jury left the final decision to the judge, especially the settlement of the financial question.

Jefferson D. Geller, an attorney for LoVaca Gathering Co., a Coastal States subsidiary and an intervener in the suit, said the LCRA action was a collateral attack on a Texas Railroad Commission order and such attacks are forbidden by state law.

LCRA had filed the suit seeking the return of money it said it paid to Coastal States above prices specified in a 20-year, 1962 gas supply contract. Coastal States argued during the trial that the contract was nullified in 1973, when the Railroad Commission allowed suppliers to pass through to purchasers any additional cost in the acquisition of new gas reserves.

"This court is without jurisdiction," Geller said. "LCRA has no claim under the 1962 contract unless and until the Railroad Commission orders are set aside."

Geller said Coastal States was only carrying out the commission's order.

Hume Cofer, chief counsel for LCRA, asked for a final judgment saying: "There does not seem to be any real question as to the verdict."

Cofer said that the jury finding substantiated LCRA's claim.

Freshmen Democrats In House Try To Make Themselves More Effective

By RICHARD L. LYONS
The Washington Post

WASHINGTON — Thirty-five of the 75 new House Democrats, frustrated by Congress' haphazard operations held a two-day session in the Virginia countryside last weekend to seek ways to make themselves a more effective force.

Their discussions ranged from how to keep in touch with constituents to how to shape broad governmental policies, and while they came up with few concrete decisions their meeting at Airline House near Warrenton was called productive.

Seldom do 35 congressmen give up a weekend to travel 40 miles to talk to each other. But they also had a chance for softball, tennis and swimming at the former estate now used for gatherings such as this one.

There was no carping at party leadership, the target of some criticism last month after the House's failure to override presidential vetoes. Instead, participants said, the emphasis was on how to make the system work better, how to bring new solutions to bear on national problems.

They decided to strengthen their own organization of 75 members through use of an executive committee to review the legislative schedule and keep them advised of matters of interest.

They also agreed that they should form their own whip system to make sure members are on the floor at crucial times. One proposal was to use a "beeper" system a member could carry in his pocket.

The freshmen agreed to create three task forces to make studies of broad subjects cutting across limited committee jurisdiction. The subjects were concentration and abuse of power and the need for tougher government regulation, getting the taxpayers' money's worth.

Voting Rights Law Extension Sought

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Texas advisory committee of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, calling for an extension of the Voting Rights Act to include Texas, says the law can provide needed relief and attention for voting problems which face minority groups.

"The problems that minorities face as they strive to gain a greater voice in local political processes are not those which can be simply explained or exemplified by a single voting irregularity or a series of voting irregularities," the committee said in a statement Monday.

The statement was issued by the Rev. Patrick Flores, auxiliary bishop of San Antonio, who said it reflected a position taken by the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

The Voting Rights Act extension to include Texas has been approved by the U.S. House of Representatives and is now awaiting Senate action.

Bishop Flores said extension of the act to include Texas "would do much to insure that all people are afforded equal opportunity for participation in the electoral process."

The act would give the federal government the power to monitor state elections and review electoral redistricting.

The committee noted in its report to the commission's regional office that "the major allegations involved in the complaints include harassing and intimidating poll watchers, providing insufficient and wrong information on voting procedures, and denying many citizens the right to vote by unequal and inconvenient registration procedures."

Bishop Flores said extension of the act to Texas would allow the Justice Department to document the voting malpractices on a first hand basis and "take necessary action against those who violate the law."

Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Secretary of State Mark White have opposed extension of the act to cover Texas. They said there is no violation of voting rights in Texas. White called it an "injustice to the state."

Midlander Gains TCU Student Honor

FORT WORTH — Mark Stewart, son of Mr. Harold A. Stewart of Midland, has been recognized at Texas Christian University as a TCU Scholar for the 1975 spring semester.

The award, given for the second semester, cites those students who achieve a 4.0 grade-point average for a minimum of 12 semester hours.

Stewart, a graduate of Leo High School, is also a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

of government, and foreign and military policy.

Rep. Norman Y. Mineta (D-Calif.), chairman of the new members' caucus, said they hope the task forces can help provide solutions to national problems and also show the nation and their elder House colleagues that "we're not ram-blunt radicals. We want to help make the place function."

Mineta said there has been "polarization" between older congressmen and the freshmen, whom some of the seniors regard as hasty reformers, big spenders and against a strong defense establishment.

Mineta said there were complaints during the weekend session that Congress operates in aimless fashion and should have a more coordinated schedule; that members' time is spread too thin among too many subcommittees; that there is no time for creativity; and "over and over again, that we don't want to do things in the same old way, that people want better solutions."

Rep. Philip R. Sharp (D-Ind.) said there was discussion of members pooling their staff to avoid duplication and permit them to get more done. Some suggested that the House meet on Legislation three full days a week and permit committees to meet the other two days, without being constantly forced to recess to go to the House floor to answer quorum calls or vote.

One observer said that while a recent survey suggested the new members aren't really very different from their older colleagues, "They are different in their determination to be different, not to get co-opted by the system or ground into the earth by the special interests. They are very very sensitive to the unrest in the country, turn-off and alienation from politics."

The conference was sponsored by the Democratic Study Group, an organization of House Democratic liberals which in its early days suffered frustrations, set up a whip system, created issue task forces, pooled staff and has emerged as a powerful force which led the way for procedural change and ending U.S. involvement in the Indochina War.

Dear Abby
—By Abigail van Buren
Housewife's Lament

DEAR ABBY: I know you'll never print this because you career women have the idea that we housewives are second-class citizens, but I've kept this poem for a long time and want to share it, with you. (I never did find out who wrote it.)
JUST A HOUSEWIFE
Hello, Mrs. Jones, I've just called to say, I'm sorry I cried when you phoned today. No, I didn't get angry when your call came at 4:00. Just as eight cub scouts burst through the door; It's just that I had such a really full day. I'd baked eight pies for the PTA. And washing and ironing and scrubbing the floor. Were chores I had finished not too long before. The reason I cried and gave that big yelp Was not 'cause you phoned just to ask for my help. The comment that just about drove me berserk Was, "I'm sure you'll have time because you don't work." Sign me,
A HAPPY HOMEMAKER

DEAR HAPPY: I think the poem is great. And for the record, before I became "Dear Abby" (at age 37) I, too, was a cub scout den mother, and I also baked my share of pies for the PTA.
DEAR ABBY: I'm another one who hates to have people come to my home for dinner and just sit there, picking at the food and telling me they are on a diet and can't eat this and can't eat that! After I have gone to the trouble of making a nice dinner, I get very annoyed when a dinner guest hardly eats enough to feed a bird. If I were on a diet, I would tell the hostess not to count on me for dinner, but I'll come afterward. It hardly pays to invite people over to eat anymore. Almost everybody is on a diet. Think I'll just pass out carrot and celery sticks, and let 'em chomp like horses.
ELLA

DEAR ELLA: A thoughtful hostess includes some low-cal food for the calorie counters. And the ideal hostess pretends never to notice what her guests eat—or don't eat.
CONFIDENTIAL TO C.J. IN HOUSTON: The girl who steals your fiance steals your troubles. Let her have him. He's too wishy-washy to make a good husband.
Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Texas To Develop Acceptable Police Applicants' Tests

Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — A state agency will begin developing a test for use by all police for employment of new officers, one that is designed not to preclude members of minority groups from becoming part of the force. Chicago and Detroit have recently seen their entire police selection systems thrown out by federal courts because the tests administered, by their very nature, precluded blacks and Mexican Americans from service.

A similar suit was filed against the City of Houston and it has just received a grant of $332,510 from Gov. Dolph Briscoe's Criminal Justice Council to make a validation study of its various requirements. The agency hopes that by drafting a single test that is acceptable to the Civil Rights Division of the U.S. Justice Department and the Federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, that other state police forces can avoid the problem of having a court eliminate all their job application requirements.

Ford Gaining Ground In Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — President Ford continues to gain ground on Sen. Edward M. Kennedy as a favorite for election to the presidency in 1976, the Harris poll reported Monday. "Ford continues to ride high in popularity because of overwhelming public approval of his actions in the Mayaguez incident," the Harris organization declared. A survey of 1,303 likely voters showed Ford a 50-42 per cent favorite in June over Kennedy, a Massachusetts Democrat who has said repeatedly that he will not be a candidate. Ford's margin in May was 48-46 per cent, and in April Kennedy was favored 50-43 per cent.

Dallas Mapping School Strategy

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas City Council began mapping strategy Monday on how to prevent disturbances when school desegregation orders affecting the city are handed down by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. Mayor Wes Wise outlined problems of racial strife that he discussed with Boston Mayor Kevin White at the U.S. Mayors' Conference last week. "A decision from the court now appears eminent and we must be prepared for it," said Wise. "I don't think that what happened in Boston can happen in Dallas. But I think we can learn by another community's mistakes."

Authentic Chinese Dining Pleasure At Peking Palace

Peking Palace, 2100 Andrews Highway, Odessa, serves authentic Chinese food, both Cantonese and Mandarin in a genuine Chinese atmosphere. Serving many different authentic and delicious Chinese dishes that ordinarily would be found only in large cities, Peking Palace is becoming known as the place to eat Chinese food. Many Chinese people drive from as far as Pecos to eat because the food is authentic. Special buffets include eight items, all you can eat. The menu consists of pepper steak, fried rice, sweet and sour pork, fried chicken and a Chinese salad.

Some days broccoli with beef is served, other days it's green beans with pork, egg plant with pork, curry chicken, mushrooms with chicken or brown sauce with fish. The buffet changes each week. A beautiful oriental screen is just inside the entryway. When buffets are being served, the tantalizing aromas of Chinese dishes greet you, whetting the appetite. Fill your plate and be escorted to a table in the dining room decorated in red with black accents. Your host, James Ou, will tell you that red is a lucky color to the Chinese. Enjoy the delicious Cantonese and Mandarin foods. You may want to try the family style dinners or you may order your favorite dishes a la carte.
