

Pecos Field Gets Second Gas Horizon

Pennsylvanian gas production has been opened 1/2 mile north of the one-well BMH (Devonian) gas area of Pecos County, with completion of Hanson Corp., Midland, No. 1-A Chester Parke, 2 1/2 miles southeast of Fort Stockton.

It gauged a calculated, absolute open flow of 12.427 million cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-distillate ratio of 29,940-1. Gravity of the distillate is 61.5 degrees.

Production was through perforations at 7,516-7,820 feet, which had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

The project was staked as an offset to the Devonian discovery, and drilled to 8,500 feet. It is plugged back to 7,936 feet, where 4 1/2-inch casing is seated. Ground elevation is 3,124 feet.

Tests reported were Yates, 1,900; Queen, 2,950; San Andres, 2,090; Wolfcamp reef, 6,611; Cisco, 7,128; Canyon, 7,736; Pennsylvanian detrital, 8,155; truncated Devonian, 8,240; Silurian, 8,248; Fusselman, 8,268; Monterey, 8,290 and Simpson, 8,432 feet.

Location is 2,835 feet from south and 1,516 feet from west lines of section 2, block 206, Mary Simmons Grantee.

WT Sectors Draw Sites For Probes

Exploration has been planned for Loving, Winkler and Andrews counties.

Bass Enterprises Producing Co., Monday filed application to drill No. 1 Bass-Quasar WLR Unit-State as a 22,000-foot venture in Loving, four miles southwest of Mentone.

It spots three miles northwest of the Vermejo (Fusselman and Ellenburger) field and also is 1/2 mile southwest of a recently scheduled outpost to that field.

Drill site is 1,925 feet from northeast and 1,330 feet from northwest lines of section 76, block 33, HATC survey.

Winkler Reentry
The Desana Corp., Midland, will re-enter and plug back to wildcat depth of 5,000 feet at No. 1 F. H. Hogg, Winkler County failure, nine miles southeast of Kermit.

It originally was drilled by Gulf Oil Corp. as No. 1-C Hogg, and was plugged and abandoned Feb. 7, 1968, at a total depth of 10,307 feet. Ground elevation is 2,364 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 8, block B-40, PSL survey, 1 1/4 mile east of the G.P.M., South (Pennsylvanian) field.

Exxon Reschedules

Exxon Corp. has refilled application to plug back as a wildcat for tests of Yates gas at No. 43 Parker Unit, former Devonian oil well in the Three-Bar field of Andrews County.

The firm filed for permit to plug back in December, 1973. (Continued on Page 9A)

Cutback In Oil Imports Builds Record Surplus

By GREGORY NOKES
WASHINGTON (AP) — Because of a big drop in oil imports, the United States had a record monthly trade surplus in June of more than $1.7 billion, the government said today.

It was the fifth straight monthly surplus in the surprisingly strong trade sector of the economy, the Commerce Department said.

The quantity of oil imported during June fell 26 per cent from May, to a low for the year of about 118.2 million barrels. It had been 159 million barrels in May.

By importing less oil, the United States saved $499 million over May, as the value of oil imports declined to slightly more than $1.3 billion, also a low for the year. May oil imports were valued at more than $1.8 billion.

The Commerce Department said the nation's trade surplus for the first six months of the year totaled more than $5.4 billion, compared with a deficit of more than $2.4 billion last year.

The huge surplus has surprised most government economists, since it had been expected that the nation's trade would be in deficit again this year by as much as $2 billion. The Commerce Department said that if trade activity continues at the same pace in the final six months of the year, the nation could end the year with an all-time record trade surplus of more than $10.9 billion.

The existing record was a $7.1 billion surplus in 1964.

LCRA Wins $25 Million Court Award

BRYAN, Tex. (AP) — District Court Judge W. C. Davis today awarded a $25.2 million judgment to the Lower Colorado River Authority (LCRA) in a suit brought against Coastal States Gas Producing Co.

The LCRA in its 11-week court case attempted to have Coastal States held to a 1962 contract to deliver natural gas to the electric cooperative at the contract price.

Davis ruled Coastal must pay LCRA the cost of gas above the contract price up to June 24, 1975, since, according to Davis, LCRA has passed on all damages to its customers and has suffered no damages due to the interim rate. The judge ordered the execution of the judgment be stayed until "all appeals from the judgment are filed."

The judge denied all other motions for judgment.

Maybe It Was Adam

At least one man stood naked in the eyes of the Lord — and all those assembled for outdoor worship services Sunday night at Wadley Barron Park.

Actually, he didn't stand. He sprinted from a car on the side of the park, past the worshippers to the other side of the park, where the car parked him up and departed.

Police were summoned, but could find neither hide nor hair of the stalker.

The announced sermon topic for the services was "God's Answer to the 'Why' Generation."

Ford Starts Poland Visit

By FRANK CORMIER
WARSAW, Poland (AP) — President Ford flew to Poland today for a two-day official visit, the first in a series of meetings with East European Communist leaders.

The President was greeted at Warsaw's military airport by Polish Communist party leader Edward Gierk, President Henryk Jablonski and Premier Piotr Jaroszewicz.

After a welcoming ceremony, Ford and Gierk left the airport in an open limousine and drove through streets lined with cheering Poles to Ford's guest residence in the Royal Wilanow Palace just outside the capital.

Ford arrived in Warsaw after talks with West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt in Bonn that focused chiefly on Western economic ills, and a symbolic visit to American and German troops at a remote outpost known to those stationed there as "The Rock."

Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger held a final session with Schmidt and German Foreign Minister Hans Dietrich Genscher over breakfast today at Gynnich Castle.

The breakfast was considerably delayed, however, when Schmidt's helicopter had to turn back halfway between Bonn and Gynnich because of

To control parking with 18 signs on a single row of spaces behind city hall has cost the city approximately $174. (Staff Photo by Charles McCain.)

Got That Straight?

Getting the message on where to park at city hall isn't very hard with 11 "City Business Only" and seven "City Vehicle Only" signs posted on a single row of parking slots.

Robert Chambers, traffic engineer, said the signs were put up before he came to work for the city. He said the approximate cost of one sign is $6, with the poles costing an additional $5 each.

When asked if one sign at each end of the row might do the same job, Chambers said, "The city tried that and people just kept parking in the slots. So, the only way to control the parking was to put a sign at every slot."

Crime Rate May Be Linked To Prosperity In Midland

By BO BASKIN
Midland's economy is enjoying a "boom" due to the oil industry and the prosperity may, indirectly, be causing a "boom" in the area's crime business as well.

Midland's crime rate has soared in the past two years, according to law enforcement officials, and several theories as to why have been offered.

Among the reasons given are: an increase in reported crimes; a sharp rise in population; more transients and, possibly, a few participation" in reporting crimes. However, he believes that greater participation is only a partial explanation. He says that part of the increase can be attributed to "better...more complete" records being maintained.

He also says the soaring crime rate in Midland must be viewed as a part of the increasing nationwide crime rate.

Rush To The Sea: The New American Oil Boom

OUTER CONTINENTAL SHELF AREAS UNDER CONSIDERATION FOR OIL LEASING

Darkened areas on the map point to places on the continental shelf which are being considered for leasing for oil and gas drilling on the ocean floor.

By STAN BENJAMIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oil companies and the Fed administration claim that new and massive drilling on the ocean floor may be just the ticket to reduce America's dependence on imports. So why not take that plunge?

According to a burgeoning number of environmentalists and coastal state leaders, there are reasons plenty. While few deny at least the possibility of an energy bonanza beneath offshore waters, many fear that any rush to capture it would trigger an environmental — and possibly economic — backwash of disastrous proportions.

"What's an oil company care about Cape May County?" asks New Jersey Gov. Brendan T. Byrne. "Once they've got a lease and they've got oil out there, what do they care?"

Massachusetts Gov. Michael S. Dukakis agrees. "I don't think anybody really trusts them," he said of the petroleum industry.

Right or wrong, such suspicions, aimed both at Big Oil and the Interior Department, were heard repeatedly in interviews with local leaders, environmentalists and others as the department hurried to lease huge offshore beds never before drilled.

The 17 offshore basins which may hold oil and natural gas cover some 199 million underwater acres, more than the total area of Rhode Island, Delaware, Connecticut, Hawaii, New Jersey, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Maryland, West Virginia, South Carolina, Maine, Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio.

Their undiscovered oil and gas may equal the nation's entire 115 years of past production, worth perhaps $30 billion at current prices — and it's public property; every taxpayer has a stake in it.

Shell Oil Corp. estimates that tapping offshore petroleum can limit imports to 36 per cent of U.S. oil consumption; without it, imports would approach 50 per cent within 15 years. Current imports total about 36 per cent of U.S. consumption.

But offshore production also threatens to bring oil spills and industrial blight, and many coastal states are demanding more information, more control, more money, more time to prepare.

The Interior Department, on the other hand, is not waiting to sort out these demands.

The department plans to auction 1.6 million acres in new areas off Southern California next October; California is suing.

Interior also plans to auction 1.8 million acres in the unexplored Gulf of Alaska in December; Gov. Jay Hammond is pressing Congress to block the sale.

The first East Coast leasing, off Middle Atlantic states, was tentatively scheduled at 2.6 million acres for May 1976; two counties and five towns on Long Island, N.Y., have sued to prevent it.

Opposition also runs strong in New England, faced with an August 1976 leasing of about 1.3 million acres on Georges Bank. (See MANY Page 2A)

Details Of Action Withheld

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkish units began moving into U.S. military installations scattered around Turkey today, officials of the foreign ministry said.

They said the troops were acting to take control of the bases but declined to give further details. No reports were available from the sites to confirm the official announcement.

Officials denied press reports that the United States had already closed down some of the key bases.

"There is no question of closing down the bases or sending the personnel away. But operations are being suspended gradually since Saturday in accordance with the Turkish government's decision," the officials said.

They added that "it will take some time. Some of the sensitive equipment cannot just be switched off at a moment's notice without being damaged."

Over the weekend, representatives of the Turkish general staff held talks with high-level representatives from the American military mission here towards ensuring a smooth turn of the bases' control from American to Turkish commanders, official sources said.

They said the takeover began this morning on the basis of a plan prepared by the Turkish general staff.

Apollo Crew Due 10 Days Of Seclusion

HONOLULU (AP) — The three Apollo astronauts, their lungs still congested from inhaling rocket fuel fumes, face a 10-day period of seclusion here because they are vulnerable to infections.

Doctors said Sunday they plan to release Thomas Stafford, Donald Slayton and Vance Brand from Tripler Army Hospital Tuesday, then place them in "semi-isolation." Their wives were to fly here from the Houston area after it was decided exactly where the astronauts would be kept.

The isolation period — which had not been mentioned by the doctors until Sunday — is intended to keep the astronauts away from other people, who might expose them to germs that would not harm a healthy person.

Dr. Peter Bartelloni, chief of medicine at the hospital, said the toxic gas the crewmen breathed last Thursday has disabled lung cells that normally fight infections.

Midland Air Park In No Danger Of Being Closed

By GEORGE MASSEY
 Contrary to rumors among general aviation interest groups here, Midland Air Park "is not in danger" of being closed, Henry Newman, director of the Southwest Region of the Federal Aviation Administration, said last week.

Newman said the airport "has priority" over retail and housing projects which have recently been approved in the Air Park vicinity.

"Air Park was there a long time before these developments," he said, "when it was a part of the World War II military establishment."

"It's the best general aviation air facility in this part of the country, and to close it would be a great mistake," Newman said.

The FAA director noted that developers have complied with FAA height restrictions for projects under the landing and takeoff areas near the airport.

Concerning two apartment projects located near the western end of the east-west runway, Newman said, "The people who decide to live there will have to put up with some light-aircraft noise. They're going to complain, but that's not going to close the airport down."

"The developers knew the facility was there before they chose to build in that vicinity, and the people who choose to live there will know it's there before they decide to move in," Newman said.

Newman said land donated to the city as a part of the airport could be sold, but all money received for the airport property "must be used to upgrade" Air Park. "The money cannot be used for any other purpose," he said.

If the air facility were closed, another facility, and not an addition to Midland Regional Air Terminal, would be required under the donation agreement between the city and the federal government to replace Air Park. "That would take a considerable investment," Newman said, "which the city very likely would not want to pay for."

Newman said Air Park is a primary relief valve" for Terminal. "Air Park takes the brunt of general aviation traffic away from Terminal, leaving the regional facility open for use by the major air carriers," he said.

Terminal traffic is heavy with airline service of "major importance" to West Texas, Newman said, and the general aviation traffic needs the other air facility.

The director said recent and on-going taxiway and runway improvements at Terminal are a sign of the importance of commercial and general aviation to this isolated area of the country. "Terminal provides the petroleum and other business interests here connections with other major business operations throughout the country," Newman said.

He said the "next major improvement" at Terminal "should be the extension of the 7,000-foot primary runway to 9,000 feet."

Officials at Terminal have indicated air-carriers using the facility are limited to the lighter DC9, 727 and 720C planes. With the runway extension on the north-south landing strip, heavier aircraft such as the DC10 and 747 would be able to use the airport.

Newman said that with larger aircraft, the regional air facility would get "better connections" to major cities and be capable of serving more passenger and cargo hauls with fewer flights.

Current improvements at Terminal have amounted to approximately $7.5 million for taxiway and runway overlays and runway lighting. Taxiway improvements should be complete by September, with runway overlays to begin their second phase thereafter.

Newman said the major runway extension project depends on action by Congress to appropriate the necessary funds which allow the FAA to give "support" to these local projects. He said the money has not been approved by Congress as yet, but noted that when Congress agrees to give the FAA the funds, the FAA will be ready to hand them over for the extension.

Miss Crane Picked

CRANE—Beth Doshier, 17, was chosen the new Miss Crane of 1975 before a capacity audience at the Crane County Exhibition center Saturday as the climax of day-long Bicentennial kickoff activities.

Miss Doshier is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Doshier and a senior at Crane High School.

With measurements of 35-25-36, she won over six classmates in the contest judged by Jack Milan, Betsy Triplet and Mrs. Jim Bobo, all of Odessa.

Debbie Hicks, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hicks was the first runnerup and Teresa Anderson, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Anderson, was the second runnerup.

Melinda Knight, 12, a seventh grader, won Junior Miss Crane. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Knight.

Phyllis Crane, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jime Crane was the first runnerup with second runnerup being Dee Dee Smartt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smartt.

The new Little Miss Crane, for elementary school girls, is Jodylyn Lindsey, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lindsey.

Runnerup was Janalynn Wright, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Wright and second runnerup was Melissa Hardy, 9, whose guardians are Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Dicken.

Features of the afternoon included carnival booths, fried rabbit, cornies, and such contests as egg throwing and highway patrolman dunking. Sharon Agnew won first place and $100 for her ice cream.

Second place winner in the freeze off, winning $50, was Velma Fox and third place, $25 prize, was awarded to Mildred Lewis.

Guitars, Air Conditioner Stolen Over Weekend

Two guitars and an air conditioner were among several items reported stolen to Midland police over the weekend.

Glen McNeilin, pastor of the Keltiev Heights Assembly of Christ Church at 409 W. Pine St., told police Sunday that two guitars worth a total of $300 were taken from the church.

A refrigerated air conditioner and the dolly it was sitting on were taken from the sidewalk in front of the Travel Inn Motel, George Roach reported to police Sunday.

Two citizens band radios worth $150 each were reportedly taken from the 3500 block of Seaboard. The radios belonged to Stephen Mark Hutchison, 3514

Midlander Injured In Cycle Mishap

A 26-year-old Midland man was listed in satisfactory condition this morning after suffering a fractured leg and facial bruises in a motorcycle accident Sunday evening.

Injured is Ronnie Michael Grissom, Rt. 1 Box 60F.

Police said Grissom was driving his motorcycle north on the 1200 block of South Midland Drive when he hit some loose gravel and lost control of the vehicle, which then struck the curb and hit a guy wire. Grissom was thrown from the motorcycle and into a field, police reported.

No Rain Expected For Several Days

Although thunderstorms still dotted parts of the state Sunday night and into this morning, none brought appreciable cooling and forecasts promised no relief, The Associated Press reported.

The latest storms even kicked up a couple more harmless tornadoes—one near Alice in extreme South Texas and another close to Rockwall in North Texas, along with occasionally heavy rain.

For the first time in several days, Midland's weather forecast is void of a rain possibility.

The National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal is calling for warmer afternoons today and Tuesday with highs in the lower 90s.

Sunday's high was 89 with an overnight low of 66. Low tonight should be in the upper 60s.

City Manager Returning Home Later This Week

By JAN WILLIAMS
 In spite of recent gasoline price increases, Midlanders still seem to favor the higher priced full service gasoline pumps to the lower-priced self-service models.

Out of eight of the city's major gasoline suppliers, three reported increases in self-service sales, four reported no increase and one does not offer self-service.

At the Kent Oil Service Station, 3310 W. Wall, Attendant J. W. Mondey said there had been no increase in the number of self-service sales.

"Currently it's running about 70 per cent full service and 30 per cent self-service," Mondey said.

Prices at full service tanks are 52.9 cents per gallon for regular, 53.9 for unleaded and 56 for premium. Self-service prices are 51.9 cents per gallon for regular and 55.9 for premium.

Arthur Sparks, operations supervisor for Kent Oil Products, said Kent was selling two or three times as much regular as premium and twice as much unleaded as premium.

Bill Holcombe, owner of Wall Street Gulf, also said there had been no increase in the number of self-service sales.

Thieves Return Stolen Radios

The thieves must have changed their minds.

Two citizens band radios stolen last week from the Thornwood Apartments, 2601 N. A St., were found today—in front of the owners' apartments.

The owner of one of the radios, Mrs. Dorman R. Blackman, called The Reporter-Telegram today to say that she had found her radio wrapped in a plastic bag in front of her apartment.

"I just thought I'd let you all know that there are some good thieves," she said.

Highway Department Studies Personnel, Service Needs

ODESSA—A 90-day study to assess minimum personnel and service needs of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation is under way in the Odessa District.

"An assessment on a position-by-position basis to determine the number of people of pertinent skills needed to implement and carry out responsibilities in all phases of the department is being conducted," Paul Coleman, district engineer, said.

Adjustment in the Odessa District will be started when the study is completed. We hope, however, that a large part of a 20 per cent reduction in the statewide work force achieved through retirements and other normal forms of attrition. If not, some additional people may have to be laid off over a long period of time," Coleman said.

He said, "This situation is brought on by our anticipated revenue from gasoline tax being reduced due to the energy situation."

Full-Service Gas Pumps Favored

He said it definitely was an increase over self-service sales prior to the last price hike, but was unable to determine how much of an increase.

Ken Peeler, president of Midland 66 Oil Company, said none of the Phillips 66 stations in the city limits had self-service tanks.

"We have had an increase in the number of unleaded gasoline sales," Peeler said. "But premium gasoline sales have dropped 50 per cent in the past two years."

L. B. Garrett, owner of the Mobil station at 3206 Midkiff, said there had been no increase in self-service sales.

"We've been selling about 50 per cent full service and 50 per cent self-service," Garrett said. "I think it's probably going to stay that way."

His prices are 58.9 for full service regular and 59.9 for unleaded. Self-service prices are 52.9 for regular and 56.9 for unleaded.

Based on this information, some Midlanders could be paying as much as six cents more per gallon of gasoline by using full service rather than self-service, the survey showed.

Boom Cause Of Rise In Crime?

 Tommy White, the increase in crime may be likened to a tidal wave. The wave, he says, has already covered the larger cities and is now reaching smaller cities such as Midland.

District Atty. Jim Mashburn, however, says that "part of the increase" in crime—particularly in the past two years—is largely due to the economy in the West Texas area."

Three years ago in 1972, Midland was ranked as the 26th safest city in the United States. At that time, the town's heart and soul — the oil industry—remained relatively inactive. With the price of oil around $3.50, the area's drilling activity and the city's population were relatively static.

In the wake of the 1973 energy crisis, however, the price of crude spiraled to over $10, increasing the incentive to drill. For the first time in years, Midland began to grow. Between June 1973 and June 1974, the total labor force in Midland and Ector counties grew by almost 6,000 workers.

As the area prospered, large newspapers and magazines began to take notice. The New York Times, The Washington Post and Business Week magazine all featured articles on the growth in the area. One article spoke of the "severe shortage of men" in the area, quoting one Odessa man as saying, "We'll hire just about any warm body and train it."

Months later, when the worst economic slump since the Great Depression of the 1930s plagued the nation, Midland continued to thrive. While the nation suffered an unemployment rate as high as nine per cent, the rate in Midland and Ector remained well below four per cent.

When the Midland Chamber of Commerce conducted a labor survey in the fall of 1974, it discovered that Midland had an acute labor shortage. The chamber responded by placing advertisements in metropolitan area newspapers throughout Texas and in a number of cities outside the state.

Once again the nationwide press took notice. CBS had a short feature on the area's booming economy. In December 1974, an Associated Press article said area industry was "begging for workers." The article quoted one Midland Chamber of Commerce representative as saying the area was "like the 1950's again," and another Midlander as saying, "What we need is people...all kinds of people."

And people came... In December 1974, the total labor force for Midland and Ector counties was 70,800. One month later in January, it was $3,610.

undesirable people," Chief Wallace said. "It always does. People come hunting easy money. When they're broke and hungry, they'll try to steal something."

"It's like the California Gold Rush," said Detective Capt. Sid Corley. "Anytime you project a boom situation, you're going to have some good people and some bad people."

"There'll be 98 per cent good and two per cent bad," he continued, "but it's that two per cent we have to deal with."

"We have more riff-raff on the streets than ever before," said Midland Police Inspector Tommy White. "Our patrolmen can tell you that."

The increase in the number of transients puts a great deal of pressure on the Midland police. Corley says that "most was aired—two Midland families were robbed at gunpoint, giving up a total of $132,000 in cash, jewelry and other items.

However, Chief Wallace says that the element of organized crime in Midland and Odessa is grossly overstated. We don't have any evidence of it in Midland."

According to Midland Police Department officials, another factor affecting crime in Midland is narcotics. Sgt. L. W. "Porky" Moseley, a narcotics officer, says that "a lot" of burglaries, robberies and thefts are "going to be drug related."

A big reason for the high correlation between drug use and other criminal actions is that supporting a hard drug habit is an extremely expensive endeavor, which forces many 10 years ago. Two narcotics arrests were made in 1966. A total of 92 arrests are unofficially projected to take place in Midland in 1975.

"Midland has got its share of narcotic problems—no more and no less," Moseley says. However, he adds, "We are at a disadvantage because we're so close to the border" of Mexico from which most of the country's heroin and marijuana is supposedly imported.

To what extent Midland's boom has affected the narcotics problem is difficult to gauge. Moseley says drugs are more prevalent partially because the population is up and because the economy is up and there is more money around.

He says, "There has been an increase in our population of undesirables" and that "a large number of out-of-towners have been arrested on drug-related crimes."

"The cost (of drug use) to the public is high," he says. "As long as narcotics are on the increase, burglary, theft and robbery will be on the increase."

"Our business, I'm unhappy to say, is here to stay."

In spite of the increased crime rate, however, Mashburn defends Midland's law and order. He says Midland is "probably better than any place in the country in terms of the number and types of crime committed. We don't have any large number of professional criminals."

White says that although Midland's crime rate may be growing somewhat faster than the national average, it had "a longer way to come" since three years ago the town had one of the lowest number of reported offenses per capita in the nation.

(NEXT: What to do about the increase.)

 one of the world's richest fishing areas.

Only two coastal areas — the Southeast, due for an undetermined amount of leasing in October 1976, and the Gulf of Mexico, accustomed to offshore petroleum since 1954 — seem at all satisfied.

"Unless the oil companies and let them go to work and start drilling," urged South Carolina's Gov. James B. Edwards.

"The criticism has been justified in the past," said Edwards, "but I think the modern-day industries are more sensitive to human needs, to the desires of the environmentalists.

"I think they can be profit-oriented and people-oriented at the same time."

New Jersey Gov. Byrne declared that turning the oil companies loose offshore "is trusting the free enterprise system on a set of standards I can't accept."

"I think their standards are to get the oil, to make a profit on it, and have whatever concern for the environment is consistent with the free enterprise system."

"The standards have got to be a little more carefully drawn in that regard."

In Maine, Ronald Poitras, director of coastal planning, said, "They've gotten a more intensive public relations campaign to make it look like they're more responsible, but frankly I don't think they are."

"I think the size and the incredible power of these large oil companies make them suspect from the beginning...They're bigger than state governments."

Leng Island's suit against Atlantic leasing contended it would only increase the power of major oil companies which "function as a cartel in setting prices, protecting profits and minimizing competition from independents."

Such charges are discounted

by officials in Louisiana, an oil state since 1902. "We think it's competitive as hell," said Commissioner of Conservation Ray Sutton.

The Interior Department, as manager of the offshore leases, has proposed to ban joint bidding by major companies as a move to give smaller companies a better chance at winning or sharing leases.

But the Long Island suit charged that Interior itself was dominated by the oil industry and should not be allowed to regulate the same offshore development it is trying so hard to promote.

Alaska Gov. Hammond said the leasing of "frontier areas" was a foregone conclusion, adding that Interior even ignored the recommendations of the President's Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ).

Early last year, CEQ rated the environmental risks of oil development in the three Atlantic areas and the Gulf of Alaska.

Meanwhile, oil companies listed for Interior their preferences among 17 offshore areas.

Among the four areas on both lists, this was the result:

—The CEQ put the Gulf of Alaska last, as the worst environmental risk. The oil industry put it first, as the best petroleum prospect. Interior scheduled it first.

—Both CEQ and the industry rated the Mid-Atlantic their second choice. Interior placed it second in the leasing schedule.

—The North Atlantic was CEQ's first choice. The oil industry put it in third place, and so did Interior.

—The CEQ ranked the South Atlantic third. Industry placed it fourth, and so did the Interior Department.

"There is great suspicion about the administration's posture in this," said Dukakis of Massachusetts, "because there's a feeling — whether rightly or wrongly — that things are done quickly and without much consultation, so that opposition can be headed off."

The widespread mistrust has spilled over, not only into the courts, but into Congress through proposals for greater public disclosure of offshore information and more direct federal control over petroleum development.

Interior's assistant secretary Roy Hughes, in charge of the offshore program, said the department can protect the public interest and doesn't need any new laws from Congress.

But Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., a leading spokesman for Interior's critics, said that the public, with 180 million acres and hundreds of billions of dollars at stake, needs the protection only new laws can provide.

Hollings said times have changed and Interior just hasn't caught on yet.

"We've moved from dark operations of the House of Oil (Interior) that was run by the API (American Petroleum Institute) ... and the buddy-buddy system," Hollings drew.

"It's all got to be done in a different fashion now."

"The public's not going to stand business-usual down there by Big Oil and the Interior."

No More Concessions, Says Israel

By The Associated Press
 Israel's latest proposals to fighting and Israel now feels the chances of another war are much higher than a year ago. Today, Peres said that Egyptian President Anwar Sadat "perhaps believes he can further harm American-Israeli relations by trying to force Washington to squeeze a bit more out of Israel." The strategic Mitla and Gidi passes in the Sinai desert would not be surrendered so that Egypt could turn them to its advantage against Israel, the defense minister added. Peres said the Israeli offer included alternative deployments at the passes but did not concede their strategic value. He said the latest Egyptian proposal showed Sadat wanted "a great deal from Israel in exchange for nothing." Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger met Sunday with Herman Eilts, the U.S. ambassador to Egypt, and sent him back to Cairo with Israel's latest reply to the Egyptians. Kissinger told Eilts to meet him in Yugoslavia next Sunday with the Egyptian response. U.S. officials would not discuss the plan, but it was

Wallace Fitted For Leg Braces

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace has been fitted for removable, plastic leg braces to protect his paralyzed legs from the sort of shin bone fracture that he suffered about three weeks ago. The governor is expected to wear the braces during physical therapy exercises and at times when he is moving and his legs are vulnerable. A Wallace aide Sunday described them as more experimental than mandatory.

Texas AFL-CIO To Back Most Of State Charter

DALLAS (AP) — Texas AFL-CIO has agreed to back all but two sections of the proposed new state constitution which voters will consider in a Nov. 4 election. The state labor organization said it would oppose the judicial section because it gives prosecutors the right to appeal in criminal cases. The organization also said it opposed the local government section because it would allow continued "proliferation" of special tax districts. State President Harry Hubbard praised Gov. Dolph Briscoe but at the same time expressed a lack of confidence in the Democratic Party to achieve labor objectives. Hubbard, elected without opposition to a second term as president of the labor organization as its four-day convention ended Saturday, said his No. 1 priority is to defeat Republicans in the 1976 elections.

Dear Abby Keep Chemicals Away From Children

By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a physician. About 72 hours ago, a previously healthy, beautiful, 15-month-old child was brought to our department with obvious burns around his lips and mouth.

Only a few hours before, while visiting his grandparents, he discovered a bottle of lye and injected only one mouthful. Fourteen doctors, and dozens of nurses and operating personnel have been involved in the three operations that this child has already undergone.

The boy is now in our intensive-care unit, his eyes held shut with plastic tape, his breathing controlled by a machine and his life supported by tubes placed in his neck, chest, abdomen, penis, arm and legs. All of his esophagus and most of his stomach were destroyed by the lye, which had to be surgically removed. If he lives, he will have to be fed through a hole in his abdomen for months.

Abby, please, ask your readers to inspect their kitchens, bathrooms, basements and garages, and to place all dangerous chemicals outside the reach of small children. And ask them to pass the word on to their friends and neighbors who may not have children but who occasionally have young visitors.

This type of needless suffering and death to small children can be stopped today without spending one penny for research or donations.

I hope you will consider this worthy of your column, which is probably read by more people than any other.

ARNOLD E. KATZ, M.D.
IOWA CITY, IOWA

DEAR DR. KATZ: Worthy? If only one letter makes my column today, this will be it.

Readers, please place all detergents, bleaches, cleaning fluid, paint, polish, rat poison, drain cleaner and pills (including aspirin and iodine) under lock and key today!

DEAR ABBY: In 1926, we were married. Four years later, we got divorced. Neither of us married anybody else.

Seven years later we got married again. Next year will be 50 years since our first marriage.

Use Lean Beef
When preparing a ground beef casserole where the fat is not drained off during the cooking process, buy the very leanest ground beef.

DEAR EAST: Go ahead and celebrate your 50th. Who's counting?

DEAR ABBY: I am highly allergic to dogs. The odor of dogs makes me sick. I can even smell it on people's clothing.

My problem is that my son has married a dog lover, and they have a dog. I explained to them what my problem was and even offered to buy my daughter-in-law a monkey or any other kind of pet she wanted if only she would get rid of the dog. So far, she still has the dog.

Of course I can't go over to their place, and when they come to see me, the odor of their dog is on them, and I can't tolerate it for long.

It seems to me that my daughter-in-law could live without a dog if she had to choose between having one and seeing me. What do you think?

DEAR HURT: Asking a dog lover to get rid of her dog is asking a lot. But I agree, people are more important than dogs. Or they should be.

WHAT IS THE TRUTH?

"Thy Word is Truth" (John 17:17)

by Bryan West

The fact that Jesus of Nazareth died on a cross is not too important for me until I realize that he died for me. Jesus' death has little meaning until I see that my sins or transgressions have alienated me from God and that only through his death can I be reconciled to the Father. The news of his death, which would ordinarily be thought of as bad news or even tragic news, becomes good news in light of the fact that through Jesus I can have fellowship with God. The apostle Peter wrote on this theme in I Peter 2:24. "He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed." When Jesus died for us, he did for us what we cannot do for ourselves—remove our sin.

"Consider Jesus". This phrase from Hebrews 2 sums up my plea to you: When you see yourself as you really are and Jesus as he really is, then you will want to be his follower and servant.

HINTS FROM Heloise Sticky Tape Solves Sticky Problems!

Dear Folks: I met the cutest girl at an airport recently and when she recognized me, she just couldn't stop talking. But I did finally figure out something that she had learned that I surely hadn't thought about in 15 years of writing this column.

It's a way to remember the hints that appear in our column daily.

When she sees a hint that she wants to try, she cuts it out and either tapes it on whatever product that it concerns or, better yet, she says she puts a rubber band around each bottle and just shoves it under there.

Say she is going to cook pancakes for instance—she tapes the hint for a new way to fix 'em on the box. Or sweeping floors, she tapes it to her vacuum or broom—and the next time she goes for that certain product, she has used all her life, she tries our new suggestion!

If she likes our way better, she leaves the hint taped on until it finally soaks through her noggin "NOT to use the old way."

Only when she gets this soaked into her belfry good, does she destroy the hint that was printed.

Now, that's not wasting any time or brains, right? So let's all tip our hats to a darling doll.

Dear Heloise:

I adore your features on unwritten laws and here are a few of ours.

No one is to take a bath, brush their teeth, comb their hair until Mom says so.

The trash is not to be taken out until it reaches the point of pushing us out of the kitchen.

Everyone gets up early on cartoon day (Sat.), so we will be sure to miss anything.

All paper and pencils must be taken to school, 'cause Mom never needs them.

Elken Degun

Dear Heloise: Ever since then when my plants need cleaning, I give them a shower. I put them in the shower and turn on the cold water. I usually turn the plants around a few times. The whole process takes only a few minutes. Shake the plant to get the excess water off, and drain the water from the pot. I just set the plant on the bathroom counter to dry and then place it where it belongs. If the plant has big leaves, I give it a squirt of furniture polish to give the leaves a lovely sheen. Louise Keicher

Dear Heloise: This is a hint that may help some readers who have large artificial floor plants as I do. They are dust collectors, and to clean them leaf by leaf is time consuming and tedious. One day I thought, "How does Mother Nature clean her plants?" "She" rains on them.

Dear Heloise: We are ardent campers and I found that using paper bags instead of cardboard cartons for carrying food, clothing, linens, etc., saved space. (Label what's in each one.) You can fold up a paper bag (or throw it away) when you no longer need it, and don't have the problem of what to do with several cardboard boxes once they are emptied. Olive M. Nordness

Dear Heloise: This COLUMN is written for you, the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of this newspaper. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Fireplace Smoke Can Be Nuisance

Copley News Service

Q. I was wondering if you could give me some instructions on how to clean a light-colored brick fireplace as I have problems with it smoking at times. Also what could be the cause of its smoking? It seems as though it helps when a window is left open a bit. It may be a poor draft, so is there any way other than opening the window to improve it? — Mrs. Mary B., Kelowna, B.C.

A. There could be many reasons for the smoke condition. In a new house, it is possible the fire is clogged, thus cutting down the draft. The chimney may be too low. It should extend at least four feet above a flat roof and two feet or more above the highest point of a gabled roof. The depth of the fireplace should be not less than 20 inches, and the opening at the front should not be greater than 10 to 12 times the area of the flue. Possibly, the opening is too high. The latter can be remedied by installing a metal hood across the top of the fireplace opening. The distance can be ascertained by experiment with boards or heavy cardboard. The fireplace damper might not be open sufficiently to provide proper draft. In a tightly built house, it might also be necessary to keep open the door of the room in which the fireplace is located. That's probably the reason the window opening helps. Lack of sufficient air movement could cause trouble. Cleaning and etching preparations for stone and masonry surfaces are available at most masonry supply and hardware stores. Or you can make a paste with powdered pumice and concentrated ammonia. Apply heavily to the smoked area with a brush and let it set for two hours. Then scrub with hot water and soap and rinse with clear water and dry. Repeat this treatment if necessary.

Q. I often see the letters Btu in brochures and other material used in connection with heating and air-conditioning systems. I cannot find anything in the dictionary about them. What do they mean? — Arthur M.

A. The letters stand for "British thermal unit." Each unit stands for the quantity of heat required to raise the temperature of one pound of water one degree Fahrenheit. While other considerations enter into the quality of a room air conditioner, it usually can be assumed that the higher the number of Btu the greater the cooling capacity of the machine. A conditioner rated at 6,000 Btu is capable of removing that many units of heat each hour.

... Or Give It Back!

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has challenged the federal government to do something about providing more needed facilities in the Big Bend National Park, or deed the vast park acreage back to Texas.

This may shock some of the people in government, but this is exactly the way many West Texans, particularly those in the Alpine-Marfa-Fort Stockton area, feel about it. And they mean what they say.

The "back to Texas" wording also might be surprising to some persons. Texans acquired the land for Big Bend Park and the State of Texas deeded it to the federal government for the use, benefit and enjoyment of all persons.

The West Texas Chamber is of the opinion that if the federal government does not intend to fulfill its part of the bargain, then the facility should be returned to the people of Texas for the development required if its original purpose is to be attained.

The park cannot serve this purpose if 80 per cent or more of its 700,000-plus acres are designated as a "Wilderness Area."

This is what the Interior Department proposes.

It is felt that this would have the effect of placing the park in "deepfreeze" insofar as obtaining further development projects and funding are concerned. Neither can a "wilderness area" park live up to the purpose for which it was intended.

The WTCC executive committee, after discussing the matter thoroughly at its last Friday meeting at Stephenville, adopted a resolution urging return of the park to the Lone Star State if the Interior Department continues to pursue its 'wilderness' course.

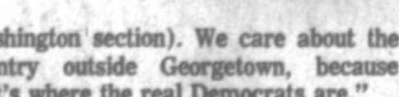

The chamber does not oppose a reasonable amount of the park area being placed under "wilderness area" designation. Some of the park area will remain as wilderness regardless. There is ample land for multi-purpose use.

Persons close to the park operation feel that once Big Bend is classified "Wilderness Area," then National Park development funds would be spent on other parks in the system.

Graham Pitches For Politics, Democrats

Nick Thimmesch

How did the Democratic party manage to get Billy Graham, the evangelist of our time, to make several spot appearances on their 22-hour extravaganza, staged to raise millions to fight Republicans?

"Now, I'll tell ya," says Democratic National Chairman Robert Strauss, a Texas charmer who can hold hands with Gov. George Wallace and Rep. Ronald Dellums, D-Calif., simultaneously and not quiver, "I've known Billy a long, long time, and he's a registered Democrat."

"We were talking on the phone at one place and another, and I told him the American political system needed reaffirmation, and he agreed. I told him our telethon was a montage of America, that we hit 46 per cent of the TV sets in the country for at least five minutes apiece during the last telethon, and that we were putting strength into the political system. Next thing I knew, he agreed to come on our telethon."

"I think it's a helluva coup to have Billy Graham on with us Democrats. Anybody with brains knows that I got a few letters of criticism. But I tell them, 'Bob Strauss is trying to rebuild the Democratic party, not please the fancy people in Georgetown (elite

'We Thought We'd Try Acupuncture'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The major television networks, including the Public Broadcasting Service, have to broadcast a conversation with President Ford about America.

Philadelphia businessman Edward J. Pizsek, who thought the American people should hear what the President had to say, offered to pay the networks commercial rates to present his views during prime time. Still, the networks rejected the program.

The story of their astonishing arrogance is worth telling, as evidence of the tight control a few network czars exercise over the tv channels. Here are the details:

It has been my lot to expose the blemishes on the American system. But the sight of the morning sun glinting off the Capitol dome still gives me a thrill. I arranged therefore, to do a Bicentennial television show with President Ford.

He was to give his reflections on the current condition of America, the health or illness of our basic institutions the general outlook for the American experiment after 200 years.

The President talked, quite upliftingly I thought, about the enduring values and strengths as he has experienced them over a lifetime of public service.

He spoke about the changes he would like to see. "There has been a tendency of late," he complained, "to herd people together. . . . The government is almost overpowering the individual, whether he is a production worker or whether he is a businessman or whether he is a farmer."

Oh, I asked some pertinent questions: How did he as a politician defend his profession? Has the presidency become too remote from the people?

After reminding him how the British ambassador had been startled to discover Abraham Lincoln shining his own shoes

INSIDE REPORT

Ford Transformation Termed Impressive

By ROWLAND EVANS And ROBERT NOVAK

MARENGO, Ill. — In just three months, Gerald R. Ford has transformed himself from a "nice guy" who simply did not belong in the White House into a forceful leader both of his country and his party, who now runs far ahead of Ronald Reagan.

Evans Novak

That transformation in this rock-ribbed Republican town (pop. 4,285) 85 miles from Chicago would have seemed impossible when we came here last April and found Reagan pressing hard on the heels of an appointed President without a constituency.

Some of the same registered Republicans who were saying in April that President Ford was badly miscast for the White House now see him as a President who (says one dress shop sales clerk) "doesn't soft-soap and pussy-foot around." Our interviews with 50 Republicans, conducted with the help of Patrick Caddell's Cambridge Survey Research, give the President high marks on handling foreign policy in an almost exact reversal of three months ago: 28 "excellent" and "good," to 19 "fair" and "poor."

The Mayaguez affair was mentioned, but at least as important was strong support for the President's attempt to play an even-handed role in the Middle East crisis. "We've given Israel too much for too long," the owner of a small beauty shop told us. Overall, 37 Republican voters said the U.S. should not get involved on either side of the Arab-Israeli struggle but should "keep out of it" altogether.

The real surprise from our interviews, conducted with Caddell's Midwest representative, Henrice Taylor, was the new perception of Gerald Ford as leader of his party. In April, when we asked the question, "Whom would you like to see your party nominate for President?" only 12 of 55 Republicans volunteered Mr. Ford's name. Last week, he was chosen by 25 of 50 Republicans.

All told, Mr. Ford now outdraws Reagan for the 1976 nomination in Marengo by 35 to 11, a sensational demonstration of party acceptance by Mr. Ford compared to April, when the margin was 22 to 22.

Part of this sharp rise for the President undoubtedly stems from publicity about his 1976 campaign, dramatizing the tactical weakness of Reagan's continuing indecision to run or not to run. Had Reagan himself announced for his party's nomination last April when Mr. Ford was at his nadir, he might have gained a major advantage over the President.

he started out with $450 in 1946 and founded Mrs. Paul's Kitchens, Inc. Its sales now exceed $65 million.

For Pizsek, the American dream had come true and he was indignant over the attitude of the networks toward a patriotic program. So he tried to buy commercial prime time to present the President. The networks wouldn't sell him the time.

Each network explained, in effect, that it doesn't carry interviews with the President unless he is buoyed up by a supporting cast of network personalities. In other words, it is not so much the President's answers that matter; it's who asks the questions.

Even more incredibly, public television turned down the show. The taxpayers are doling out $46.4 million to public television stations this fiscal year, plus another $9 million for facilities, plus additional funds for specific television shows. Yet the Public Broadcasting Service refused to present, at no cost to the taxpayers, the President talking about the greatness of America.

The explanation, believe it or not, was that the program contained no "hard news," which would justify its inclusion in a line-up that regularly features book reviews and programs about yoga, cooking and chess plays.

The purpose of my conversation with the President was not to make news. Still, there was a time when the opinions of the President of the United States were thought to be news. No holy writ, not even good sense all the time, but always news.

Editors felt that since he was the nation's leader — and since his personality might have something to do with whether there would be peace or war, justice or injustice, order or chaos — even his foggiest notions along with his great concepts were news.

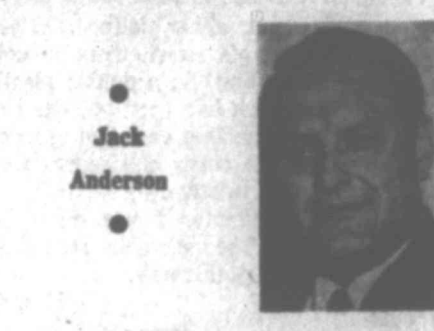

Besides, it was thought that a lot of people were interested in the President and in what he had to say — not only on matters of state but about sports, bringing up dogs, or even the quality of his daughter's singing voice. And if a President deigned to give an exclusive broadcast interview, well, that was in itself a news event.

That standard apparently expired, at least among the news czars of the television networks. In its place is a new rule — presidential programs are worthy of a public airing only if (a) they deal with "hard news," and (b) they are conducted by members of a network's news staff.

I have been saying for some time that the government doesn't own the news. Network executives don't own it either and their treatment of President Ford's patriotic comments can only diminish the standing of the free press in America.

Bible Verse

Jack Anderson

In the White House, I even asked: "Do you shine your own shoes?"

Ford shot right back: "I shined my own shoes for 61 years and I can do it. And I made my own breakfast for most of my lifetime."

The program was nonpolitical, non-controversial. But all in all, it provided a rather intimate glimpse of the President's faith in the country. I thought it was worthwhile television.

The networks, however, disagreed. This upset Edward Pizsek who had offered to help underwrite the production costs. The son of Polish immigrants, support, but he was down there praying over that Nixon administration constantly, and he epitomizes it. Couldn't we have even gotten a Republican instead of him?"

Anyway, Graham is no stranger to either party. When he became an international figure, Graham gravitated toward President Eisenhower and played many rounds of golf with him, besides joining in prayer.

While Graham backed Nixon in 1960, he accepted an invitation from President-elect John F. Kennedy to join him for golf in Florida. In his Kennedy book, Hugh Sides wrote that Rev. Graham "kept a ministerial silence" when Kennedy pocketed $20 he won in the game from Sen. George Smathers.

Later, Graham said he believed that "President Kennedy will become the most prayed-for man in the world" because of the awesome problems facing him and praised Kennedy's "highlevel" campaign. Soon thereafter, Kennedy asked Graham to supply him with a list of Bible quotations suitable for his inaugural address.

When Lyndon Johnson was President, Graham swam with him, counseled him, and as L.B.J. once reported: "People don't know it, but Billy Graham spent two or three nights in the White House. He got up at 3 in the morning and got down on his knees and prayed for me. At 6, he'd have coffee with me, and we'd talk over the problems facing the country."

In the 1968 campaign, according to L.B.J., Graham met with him privately and conveyed Nixon's message that, while Nixon would criticize weaknesses in the Johnson administration, he would never attack Johnson personally and, if elected, would try to establish a close working relationship with him.

Graham's relationship with Nixon was always this close and remains so. This past spring, Graham said he prayed with Nixon in San Clemente and observed that the former President had become deeply religious.

The evangelist's defenders — and he has many more than he has detractors — argue that Graham tries to discuss spiritual matters with political figures and doesn't really talk politics. As one friend said, "Billy loves his friends, he's a good American and a good Christian, and that's why he is around presidents and politicians."

My only meeting with Graham was in Detroit years ago at a press conference. When the TV lights went on, the great Divine from North Carolina turned to the crew and said, "Would you mind moving the camera lens over here? This is my better side."

Nader Says Breeder Reactors Dangerous, Expensive And Unnecessary

EDITOR'S NOTE: This, the second article in a two-part series giving pro and con opinions on whether the United States should develop a breeder reactor program, is by Ralph Nader, nationally known consumer advocate whose targets have included private and government organizations.

By RALPH NADER
Distributed by Copley News Service

Unless citizens make clear their displeasure, Congress will soon commit itself to spending at least $8 billion in taxpayers' money for the development of a new form of nuclear reactor which is immensely expensive, dangerous and unnecessary.

This new reactor is called a plutonium breeder reactor because over time it transforms more uranium fuel into plutonium than it uses.

The cost overrun in the plutonium breeder program would make even the Pentagon blush. Estimated program costs have doubled in the last two years and now total over $10 billion. This year it will use one-third of the federal civilian energy research and development budget, but would not produce any significant electricity until after 2000 A.D.

The development of the plutonium breeder will endanger public safety, require enormous public powers as well as waste billions of tax dollars.

One plutonium reactor, at full capacity, will annually process 2,000 to 4,000 pounds of plutonium, the raw material of nuclear bombs.

Dr. Theodore Taylor, a former Atomic Energy Commission weapons specialist, has warned that a terrorist who stole only 20 pounds of plutonium "...could design and build a crude fission bomb...that would be likely to explode with a yield equivalent to at least 100 tons of high explosive."

Plutonium is also a "fiendishly toxic" material. A milligram of a gram has caused cancer in laboratory animals.

Police state measures will be necessary to prevent these huge amounts of plutonium processed in the projected 1,300 breeder reactors throughout the country from falling into the hands of terrorists. And, extremely stringent safety measures will have to be instituted to prevent accidental releases of plutonium during transportation.

Breeder reactors can also explode. (Our present reactors cannot.) This explosion is possible, under accident conditions, because breeders use very tightly packed, highly enriched plutonium.

The plutonium breeder is also not needed.

Even using conservative government estimates of the predicted contribution of solar, geothermal, use of wastes and other energy sources (coupled with a more realistic energy demand projection), these sources will account for 50 per cent more electrical energy in 2020 A.D. than breeders will supply, assuming these breeders work regularly. The breeder will not be needed if these other sources, which do not have the safety hazards of the breeder, are developed and if we reduce the massive waste of energy in this country now acknowledged widely by both industry and commerce.

Citizens should examine this issue and express to Congress their opposition to this onerous taxpayer subsidy of the utilities.

Location is 1,900 feet from south and west lines of section 2, block A-54, PSL survey, 18 miles southwest of Andrews, and 2 1/2 miles southeast of Yates gas production in the Block 12 field.

The old total depth is 8,250 feet, and it is to be plugged back to 2,850 feet.

South Plains Fields Draw Zone Openers

Pay reopeners have been finated in Hockley and Borden counties.

J. Roy McCoy of Lubbock completed No. 1 Grissom, reentry project, seven miles southeast of Levelland, in Hockley, to reopen the McCulloch (Clearfork) field.

It pumped 48 barrels of 27-gravity oil and three barrels of water per day, on 24-hour potential test through perforations at 6,430-6,460 feet. The interval had been treated with 10,000 gallons of acid.

It originally was drilled by McAlester Fuel Co. as No. 1-A Grissom, and plugged and abandoned in August, 1963, at 10,310 feet.

It has a 4 1/2-inch liner hung from 4,600-6,810 feet.

It is 1,904 feet from north and 467 feet from west lines of section 14, McCulloch-CSL survey 24.

The depleted Clearfork opener, Shell Oil Co. No. 1 Gresham, was completed in 1957.

There is no Dean production in the HI Lonesome field.

Tubb Oil Reopener Finished In Crane

I. W. Lovelady of Midland has recompleted his No. 1 Reynolds, Crane County reentry operation, to reopen Tubb pay in the depleted Tubb field of Crane County.

It pumped 14 barrels of 38.1-gravity oil and 141 barrels of water on 24-hour potential test. Gas-oil ratio was 21.4-1.

Production was through perforations at 5,335-5,395 feet, after acidizing the pay zone with 1,000 gallons.

Total depth is 6,044 feet, where 5 1/2-inch pipe is cemented, and the hole is plugged back to 5,610 feet.

Derrick floor elevation is 2,459 feet.

The project originally was drilled by White Eagle Oil Co., and completed as a producer in the Tucker field in 1955.

Location is 330 feet from southeast and 2,331 feet from southwest lines of section 22, block 8, H&TC survey, abstract 997, 18 miles west of Crane.

Val Verde Sector Gets Confirmation

The Will O (Ellenburger) gas field of extreme North Val Verde County gained its second well and a 1/2-mile extension with completion of Mobil Oil Corp. No. 1 Mills Mineral Trust.

It gauged 7.9 million cubic feet of dry gas per day, on the calculated, absolute open flow potential. Production is through Ellenburger perforations at 14,095-15,548 feet, which had been acidized with 20,000 gallons.

Location is 1,639 feet from south and 1,895 feet from east lines of section 29, block Q-3, TCRR survey, abstract 1411, 6 1/2 miles northeast of Pandale.

The discovery, North American Royalties, No. 1-30 H. M. Mills, was completed Sept. 12, 1974, for 21.75 million cubic feet of dry gas daily, through perforations at 13,990-15,137 feet.

Gas Strike Assured In Southern Chaves

A Devonian gas discovery apparently has been assured in Chaves County, N.M., with the flowing of gas at the daily rate of 800,000 cubic feet per day for 24 hours, at Maralo, Inc., Midland, No. 1 Butler Springs Unit.

Flow was through Devonian perforations at 9,293-9,299 feet, which had been acidized with 1,500 gallons, and on a 3/4-inch choke. Testing continued.

The project has 5 1/2-inch pipe set at 9,435 feet, total depth.

Location, six miles southwest of the depleted King Camp, Southwest (Devonian) field, is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 2-15a-28e, 17 miles northeast of Lake Arthur.

Dual Test Slated For East Midland

Mobil Oil Corp. No. 29 Louise Shackelford has been staked as a 3/4-mile north offset to Atoka oil production and 3/4-mile northwest stepout to Devonian gas production in the Azalea field of Midland County.

It has a projected depth of 11,800 feet, and is 1,320 feet from north and west lines of section 30, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey, 13 miles southeast of Midland.

Western Governors' Energy Group Meets

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Gov. Jerry Apodaca says the Western Governors' Regional Energy Policy Office should give the western states some clout when a national energy policy is drawn up.

The organization, which includes the governors of the 10 western states, meets today in Santa Fe for the first time.

Apodaca, who is chairman of the group, said he doesn't expect any immediate results from the meeting, however. The main thrust, he said, will be to set priorities.

"I think that by November we will have identified the areas in which we will be working aggressively," Apodaca said.

The governors of the 10 western states and their representatives were expected in Santa Fe today for the two-day meeting, aimed at setting a common policy for developing the region's abundant energy resources.

The organization headquarters now is in Denver, with former North Dakota Gov. William Guy as staff director.

Guy said one of the group's first tasks will be to compare state laws on energy development, and how resulting problems are handled.

The conference's first session today was for representatives of the various governors, under the chairmanship of Guy.

The representatives were to review policy statements and proposed projects before submitting them to the governors.

The governors were to meet later, and again on Tuesday.

Former Interior Secretary Stanley Hathaway had been scheduled to attend, but his illness and subsequent resignation resulted in the designation of William Lyons to represent the Interior Department.

Lyons, a deputy under-secretary, is to discuss energy-related matters with the governors at a breakfast Tuesday.

Two Sterling Territories Get Extenders; Site Slated

One Sterling field gained a producer and an outpost, and an extender was completed in another Sterling field.

HNG Oil Co. completed No. 1-10 Wilkinson as the fifth well and 1 1/2-mile northeast extension to upper Cisco gas pay in the Crede, East field.

Calculated, absolute open flow was for 3.95 million cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-liquid ratio of 110,000-1. Gravity of the distillate was 46 degrees.

Production was through perforations at 7,290-7,514 feet, which had been fractured with 56,000 gallons and 48,000 pounds.

Location is 1,230 feet from south and west lines of section 10, block 23, H&TC survey, abstract 624, nine miles northwest of Sterling City.

Reentry Slated

HNG filed application to re-enter and deepen to 8,000 feet on No. 14 McEntire, for completion try as a two-mile northwest extension to the same field pay, 15 miles northwest of Sterling City.

It originally was drilled by Monsanto Co. as No. 1 Toots, and plugged and abandoned in November, 1968, at 7,270 feet.

Location is 600 feet from south and 2,500 feet from west lines of section 6, block 23, H&TC survey.

Exxon Increases Gasoline Prices

HOUSTON—Exxon Co.-USA Saturday increased the price of gasoline a cent a gallon and raised the price of home heating oil. No. 1 diesel, No. 2 diesel and kerosene 5 cents a gallon.

The company said the increases "reflect a partial recovery of the increased costs" experienced in June.

Company spokesmen said the $1 per barrel lift hike, which went into effect June 1, was one of the factors leading to the price increase.

Elsinore Gas Pool Extension Finaled

Texas Pacific Oil Co., Inc., No. 8 Elsinore Cattle Co. has been completed as a 3/4-mile north extension to the Elsinore (Devonian-Permian) gas field of Pecos County.

It had a calculated, absolute open flow of 4.54 million cubic feet of dry gas per day, flowing through perforations at 12,980-12,998 feet, which had been acidized with 18,000 gallons and fractured with 60,800 gallons and 38,750 pounds.

Location is 2,440 feet from south and 1,320 feet from east lines of section 44, block C, GC&SF survey, 17 miles south of Fort Stockton.

Japanese Teen-Ager Nabbed In Hijacking

TOKYO (AP) — A 17-year-old seized the youth, who turned student at a private high school today decided in midflight to go to Hawaii and hijacked a Japanese airliner but was arrested when he let the plane land to unload other passengers, police said.

Police said that about 35 minutes into the flight from Tokyo for Sapporo the youth knocked on the cockpit door and was admitted.

Keeping his hands in his pockets as if he had a weapon, he demanded that the Lockheed Tri-Star bound for northern Japan return to Tokyo, unload the passengers and then go to Honolulu.

Police said there were 286 persons aboard the All Nippon Airways jet, including 11 crew members.

After the passengers were disembarked, two policemen wearing airport ground personnel uniforms entered the plane and

Shah Says Iran Must Borrow Money

Ageuse Franco-Presse

KUWAIT — Iran, No. 2 oil producer in the Middle East, has lost $4 billion in expected earnings and will have to borrow money, the shah said in an interview published here Sunday.

He blamed the loss on the rising cost of industrial products and the sinking value of Western currencies, and warned that Iran's aid program to poor countries would suffer.

(In Tehran Sunday, informed sources said Iran had asked the World Bank for a loan to offset the fall in the real value of oil revenue. Last year, the country was able to invest $2.4 billion abroad, the sources said.)

Interviewed by the Kuwaiti daily Al Siasa, the shah said Iran had lost $4 billion because of "a reduction in oil production, the rise in the cost of industrial products and the fall in the buying power of oil revenues."

Iran's foreign investment and aid program would suffer, he said, though "Iran will continue to respect its agreements with Egypt, India and Pakistan."

Asked what he thought a "reasonable price" for oil would be, the shah said he preferred to let the September meeting of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) study the question first.

The shah said, however, that a "reasonable price" for oil would be comparable with the cost of other energy sources, such as coke and nuclear energy.

(Observers in Tehran recalled that senior U.S. treasury officials recently predicted that within a year Iran would become a borrower, rather than a lender, of capital.

(Less than two years ago, Iran led the World Bank $350 million by purchasing 8 per cent bonds, according to informed sources in the Iranian capital, Iran has asked for a World Bank loan at normal rates, without obligation to buy more bonds.

Gas Strike Seen In Reeves Area

Union Oil Co. of California No. 1 Wortham Unit, Reeves County, will close, five miles west of the Devonian area of the Wortham-Bayer multipay gas field, flowed at the rate of 270,000 cubic feet of dry gas per day, for five hours, from the lower Devonian.

Flow was through a 1-inch choke and perforated interval at 18,147-18,240 feet. No treatment has been reported. Testing of the two-well Rasler dolomite area of the Block 16 field of Ward County.

Voters Veto Many School Budgets

By LOUISE COOK
(An AP News Special)

Americans fed up with rising taxes have rejected proposed school budgets at a record rate this year, defeating spending plans requiring increased levies on property and other items.

An Associated Press spot check showed the mood of discontent seemed strongest on the East and West Coasts, although there were signs of rebellion elsewhere.

New York State officials said 622 school district budgets were submitted to voters during May and June. They said a record 155 or 23.4 per cent were rejected. The previous high rate of defeat was in 1969 when just under 20 per cent of the budgets were rejected.

Loss Up To 10 lbs. in 10 Days

New Grapefruit Diet 'Pill' Gives Fast Weight Loss

PHOENIX (Special) — An amazing new improved version of the popular grapefruit diet has recently been developed featuring the use of a "grapefruit pill" that enables overweight people to easily and quickly become slim, trim and attractive "while eating almost as much as you want." The new chewable (candy-like) grapefruit pill puts an end to the inconvenient mess, fuss and high cost of eating half a grapefruit at every meal. Happy testimonials from people all across the country claim "you save time and money while achieving more effective weight loss results with this new diet plan."

Loss up to a Pound a Day
Those who follow this simple diet plan report an average loss of up to a pound a day and even more without strenuous exercise or starvation.

Fortified with vitamin E and C, the new whole grapefruit extract pill and foods as prescribed by the diet will, through natural action, act to help your body release excess fat and body fluids, allowing you to keep your weight down and figure in firm control.

Best of all, you can still eat almost as much as you want of the "forbidden foods" like steak, lobster, chicken, fish, some sauces, gravies, bacon, eggs, and still lose weight.

The biggest setbacks came in suburban areas where property taxes already are high. Some of the proposed tax increases ranged up to 20 per cent, with local authorities claiming they needed the money because state aid to education is not keeping pace with inflation.

The trade publication, the Nation's Schools & Colleges, estimated recently that it cost almost $1,170 to educate the average public school student in the academic year that ended last month. That was 14.4 per cent higher than a year earlier and school officials say next year's costs are rising even faster.

New School Plan At Corpus Christi Will Bus 1,500

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — More than 1,500 elementary pupils will be bused this fall under a new plan to desegregate classes in the Corpus Christi Independent School System.

The desegregation plan, drawn up by U.S. District Court Judge Owen Cox with the use of computers, will allow the district's other 18,000 elementary pupils to attend classes within two miles of their homes without busing.

The plan, effective Aug. 25 with the opening of fall classes, will result in the closing of four elementary schools in an effort to achieve a balance of 75 per cent white and 25 per cent non-white in the schools which remain open.

The biggest expense for most districts — ranging up to 80 per cent in some areas — is salaries, with fuel costs running second on the list of problems.

Local taxes on real estate and personal property provide the largest chunk of school funding in many areas and the voter rejections of levy increases have forced authorities to reshuffle budgets and cut spending to keep within existing revenues.

Maynard Mathison, a spokesman for the superintendent of public instruction in the state of Washington, said about 2,000 teachers are losing their jobs as a result of the cutbacks.

Washington officials said voters in 67 of the 275 school districts that had elections this spring turned down spending proposals, for a rejection rate of 24 per cent. In contrast, only 9 per cent of the tax plans submitted to the voters last year were defeated.

The turn-downs — including one in Seattle where voters rejected the proposed budget in two separate elections — affected about 300,000 of the state's 750,000 pupils. Only $305 million or 53 per cent of the $560 million requested was approved. The same districts requested about $319 million last year and got all but $30 million.

Texas Democrats Top Telethon Goal

DALLAS (AP) — Texans surpassed their Democratic party telethon goal of $300,000 with a total of $387,343 promised from the state during the 25-hour national fund-raising event, state party officials report.

After subtracting expenses involved, the state party and the national party will split the net amount collected on a 50-50 basis, a state party spokesman said at the end of the event Sunday evening.

Nationally, just over $4 million was pledged, and the state spokesman said Texas would rank either second or third among all states when the final pledges are tabulated.

The telethon, which ran from 8 p.m. Saturday until 6 p.m. Sunday, was carried on 18 Texas television stations and the state party had telephone banks in 19 cities.

Austin And The Baron De Bastrop

EDITOR'S NOTE: "Texas and Her Constitutions" is a 35-part series which follows the state's history from its period as a Mexican state to the present day. The Reporter-Telegram is publishing the series to acquaint its readers with the background necessary to decide on the adoption of a new constitution in November.

With his friend and political ally, Erasmo Seguin, sitting in the Constituent Congress and with his own great talent for dealing with Mexican officials, Stephen F. Austin was in a position to help shape the new national Constitution of 1824. In Mexico City in March of 1823, Austin wrote a draft of a proposed constitution for the United Mexican States. It was long and detailed, embodying many of his own ideas, as well as the basic principles of the Constitution of the United States of America. He knew that Mexico, at this time, had great admiration for the former British colonies, who had been the first in the New World to throw off the yoke of European rule and establish a successful republican form of government. The following June at Monterrey, Austin had his proposal translated into Spanish and presented copies to a number of influential Mexican leaders. One was given to the priest-politician, Miguel Ramos Arispe, who was leader of the strong Federal Party, and chairman of the committee on the constitution of the Constituent Congress. Arispe endorsed Austin's proposal and distributed copies to his friends.

Austin later wrote of this effort: "I condensed the principles of the Constitution of the United States in this plan. . . I believe that this plan had much influence in giving unity of intention and direction to the Federal Party."

The two factions fighting over the basic principles for the new constitution were the Federalists and the Centralists. One wanted a loose federation of the sovereign states, the other a strong central government with states as political subdivisions. This was the same basic conflict of ideas which later, in the United States of America, would lead to a Civil War. It brought conflict much sooner to Mexico.

Texas was represented in the legislature of Coahuila and Texas, which was to write their state constitution, by the wily Baron de Bastrop. This Dutch adventurer, who had lived in the Spanish territories of North America since 1795, was the ideal representative for the Texas minorities in this body. He had genius for political intrigue and for dealing with Spanish and Mexican officials. He was trusted by both the native Mexicans and Anglo newcomers. A close friend and ally of Austin's, he pushed for constitutional provisions favorable to Texas. He was unable to prevent inclusion of such items as the prohibition of slavery and of practice of any religion other than the national religion, both of which were required by the national constitution. He did, however, later secure laws which enabled the Texans to evade both restrictions.

Gurney Trial Jury Begins Deliberations

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A jury begins deliberations today on whether former Sen. Edward J. Gurney took part in a corrupt scheme to raise money by selling his influence to Florida contractors with federal housing projects pending.

Closing arguments concluded Saturday in the 23-week-old bribery-conspiracy trial of the Florida Republican and three others. Weary jurors asked for a one-day holiday before getting the case.

U.S. District Judge Ben Krentzman agreed to a Sunday recess, telling jurors he would instruct them on the law and send them out to deliberate when they returned today.

Krentzman must first dismiss four alternates before he charges the 12 men and women who will weigh the testimony of 105 witnesses and 500 exhibits in evidence.

The panel has been sequestered since last Tuesday, when closing arguments began.

Gurney, 61, ex-side Joseph Bastien, 33, plus Federal Housing Administration officials Ralph Koonz, 51, and K. Wayne Swiger, 61, are charged with conspiracy to raise an illegal $233,000 campaign fund for Gurney by peddling his influence with the FHA.

Gurney also is charged with bribery, accepting unlawful compensation and lying to the federal grand jury that indicted him a year ago. He faces a maximum jail sentence of 42 years if convicted of all the charges.

Two Lawmakers Plan To Visit Hydro-Lab Crew

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lowell Weicker and Rep. Bill Alexander are going to the source to gain knowledge of underwater resources.

Weicker, a Connecticut Republican, and Alexander, an Arkansas Democrat, will spend part of their August vacation taking part in three days of experiments in a 16-foot-long research cylinder 60 feet under the Atlantic Ocean.

Starting Aug. 4, they will join two scientists from the National Ocean and Atmospheric Administration in the eight-foot-diameter Hydro-Lab. The NOAA has been using the lab for three years as an underwater center for research on animal life, energy and pollutants.

Reagan Exercises Caution

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ronald Reagan says he won't "just jump off of a cliff with the flag flying" and enter the race for president if the odds are too great against him.

But the 64-year-old former California governor said he is encouraged by the response of audiences and local Republican leaders to his most recent national speaking tour.

Reagan, who finished a six-state, 8,500-mile tour Saturday, said he still didn't know enough about the extent of his support to decide whether to run against President Ford for the GOP nomination in 1976.

But he said he was pleased with last week's trip, which was climaxed with hundreds of "Reagan-for-President" signs and a cheering, enthusiastic crowd at a Raleigh, N.C., rally.

He also spoke at fund-raising events in Tacoma, Wash., Montana, North and South Dakota and Virginia.

Even in the most remote spots the response seemed uniformly friendly.

"You have to feel it was successful," Reagan said. "In most places we were told it was the biggest turnout they ever had. And obviously, my remarks were well received. So you feel good about it."

But Reagan said he will rely heavily on the newly formed "Citizens for Reagan" presidential committee to give him an objective and realistic appraisal of his chances of defeating Ford.

"To me, one of the reassuring things about the committee is these are knowedgable people who, like me, don't want to just jump off of a cliff with the flag flying," Reagan said.

"And I have the assurance in my own mind that they'd be the first to come instead and say, 'Hey, no go.'" If support is not broad enough, Reagan said he would oppose Ford only if the committee tells him there is a realistic chance of victory.

Let Partner Help Defeat Contract

It goes without saying that you're a far better player than your partner, but don't make it too obvious. If you let the poor beast win a trick now and then he will be pathetically grateful.

Opening lead — ♠ 2

Declarer put up dummy's ace of hearts, drew trumps and led a club to dummy's king.

South continued with dummy's queen of clubs, and West ducked again in the hope of embarrassing declarer. South got to his hand by ruffing a heart and led another club toward dummy.

West took the ace of clubs and got out with a club, hoping to escape the end play, but declarer led a diamond from dummy and played the ten from his hand to make West win the trick.

GETS KING
Now West had to yield a trick to South's king of diamonds. Declarer thus lost only one club and two diamonds.

West's opening lead would produce a ruffing trick only if East had the ace of hearts or the ace of spades. Otherwise South would surely draw trumps before West could ruff.

West should open the ace of clubs, give his partner a ruff, get back with the ace of diamonds and give East another club ruff.

The principle to remember is that your partner's tricks count just as much as yours. And just think how much pleasure you bring into his life when you let him defeat an opponent's contract.

DAILY QUESTION

You have opened with one diamond, partner has responded one heart and it is up to you again, holding: S-10 4 . H-2 D-A Q J 7 6 2 C-A 10 7 3. What do you say? This describes a good suit in a minimum opening hand. Don't complicate this simple story by showing the doubtful 4-card club suit.

Yams And Pork Natural Together

Just as mashed or pan roasted potatoes go with roast beef and rice with chicken, yams and pork are naturals. When the pork and cooked yams are heated with a tasty sauce and baked together, or when the yams are turned into Buttered Sweet or Yam Casserole, roast loin of pork and yams are a delicious team.

Loin of Pork with Yams
 (3 to 5-pound) center cut pork loin
 1 cup Karo dark corn syrup
 2 tablespoons grated orange rind
 1/2 cup orange juice
 1 teaspoon soy sauce
 4 to 6 cooked pared yams, cut in serving pieces

(about 1 1/2 pounds)
 1/2 cup margarine, melted
 1/2 cup Karo light or dark corn syrup
 1/2 cup orange juice
 2 tablespoons milk
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 Marshmallows (optional)
 Mix together yams, margarine, corn syrup, orange juice, milk, salt and nutmeg; mix well. Spoon into a greased 1-quart casserole. Arrange marshmallows on top, if desired. Bake in 375 degree (moderate) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until bubbly and the marshmallows, if used, are lightly browned. Makes about 6 servings.

Place roast in large shallow roasting pan. Roast in 325 degree oven until internal temperature reaches 185 degrees, 1 1/2 to 3 hours or until pork is done. (Allow about 40 minutes per pound). Meanwhile, mix together in a saucepan corn syrup, orange rind, orange juice and soy sauce. Bring to boil, cook 3 minutes. Arrange cooked yams in shallow roasting pan, place in oven with pork. Use sauce to baste and glaze pork and yams several times during the last 30 minutes roasting time. Makes 6 to 10 servings.

Butterscotch Sweets
 2 medium sweet potatoes or yams, cooked, pared and halved
 2 tablespoons margarine
 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 13 cup Karo dark corn syrup
 1/2 cup light cream or undiluted evaporated milk
 Arrange sweet potatoes in single layer in greased baking dish. Heat in 450 degree (very hot) oven 15 to 20 minutes. Meanwhile, mix together margarine, sugar, salt, corn syrup and light cream in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to full boil. Pour over sweet potatoes. Heat in 450 degree (very hot) oven 5 minutes, basting once. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Yam Casserole
 2 cups cooked, mashed yams

NATURAL COMBINATION — Yams and loin of pork is a natural combination. After cooking and slicing fresh yams, glaze them along with the meat in a well-seasoned corn syrup sauce.

Some Of World's Rarest Shells Come From Fish

GREENVILLE, Del. (AP) — Some of the world's rarest shells come from the bellies of fish.

Enterprising collectors are finding the most-prized specimens by catching and opening shell-eating fish in South Africa, the Philippines and Brazil, according to Dr. R. Tucker Abbott, a conchologist — shell scientist — at the new Delaware Museum of Natural History here.

A report on ex pisces (out of fish) mollusks appears in "Kingdom of the Seashell," a book written by Dr. Abbott.

It reveals that shells removed from the stomachs of fish have brought an estimated $20,000 from collectors over a four-year period. Many of these ex pisces specimens are obtainable only from fish predators because they live in inaccessible shallow-water places.

Rare cone shells are often eaten by fish. These specimens include Glory-of-India, the Glory-of-Bengal and, perhaps the rarest of all ex pisces shells, the Du Savel Cone. It is known from only one specimen; it came from a fish caught off Mauritius in 1871 in 100 feet of water.

Steam Cooking Proven Method For Time Saving

Steam cooking, a proven method of cooking that saves time and fuel, retains flavors and food values and eliminates pot-watching, is becoming increasingly popular with today's interests in nutrition, economy and convenience.

The Wear-Ever kitchens give these tips on how to use this versatile utensil in preparing rice, vegetables, and cooked cereal and dried fruits.

Steamed Rice
 1. Place 2 quarts water in bottom section; bring to boil.
 2. Place 2 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt in steamer section; bring to boil. Stir in 1 cup washed rice; cook 1 minute.

3. Place steamer section in bottom pan; cover; reduce heat to low; cook until rice absorbs all water.
 4. Serve as breakfast food or as substitute for potatoes at luncheon or dinner.

Use the Wear-Ever Cooker for every meal where the vegetables are a part of the menu. It will steam vegetables in approximately the same time required for boiling.

1. Place 1 1/2 quarts water in bottom section; put steamer section in place.

2. Prepare vegetables in usual manner.

3. Place in steamer section; sprinkle with salt; cover.

4. Do not add any water to vegetables.

5. When water in bottom section boils, reduce heat; just use enough to keep water boiling.
 6. Allow vegetables to steam until tender.
 7. Serve with melted butter or cream sauce.

Due to the special construction of steamer section, several vegetables such as potatoes, carrots and onions, or beans, carrots, turnips may be steamed at one time. Flavors will not mix.

2 cups shredded green beans
 2 green peppers
 2 tablespoons butter
 1 1/2 cups drained whole grain canned or frozen corn
 2 tablespoons chopped onions
 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
 4 slices bread
 4 eggs
 1. Steam carrots, green beans in Wear-Ever Steam Cooker 20 minutes.

2. Sift peppers lengthwise; remove seeds; core. Place on top of carrots, green beans; steam 10 minutes longer.

3. Melt butter in fry pan. Fry corn, onion, pimiento together five minutes or until slightly brown.

4. Cut bread in circles; toast; butter.

5. Poach eggs; place on toast.

6. Pile beans, carrots in center of oval platter. Fry pepper cases with corn mixture; place around carrots and beans, alternating with poached eggs.

7. Garnish parsley, paprika.
 8. 4 servings

Vegetable Platter
 2 cups grated carrots

Doubling Produces Rewards

"What's a Double-Batch?" you may ask. Why, it's a convenient, timesaving way to get two dinners from a single recipe. The rewards appeal to every cook!

The method is easy — all you do is make twice the amount (we've doubled the recipes for you). Cook and serve one portion now and freeze the second for another day's meal. Or if you prefer, cook both batches, serve one and freeze the other to reheat.

To insure the quality of your frozen casseroles, be sure that they are properly protected with a moisture-proof, vapor-proof wrapping such as Heavy Duty Reynolds Wrap. Be sure to label each package with both name and date so there'll be no guess work when choosing tomorrow's entrée.

You'll have the benefits of extra convenience if you prepare each baking dish with a lining of Reynolds Wrap. Aluminum foil makes cleanup a breeze. For the portion to be frozen, place completed casserole in the freezer until solid. Remove frozen food from the casserole dish and overwrap securely with Heavy Duty Reynolds Wrap. When cooking time arrives, merely remove the overwrapping and place back in original baking dish. You may cook your casserole from the thawed or frozen state. . . . What could be more convenient?

CREAMY MACARONI AND CHEESE
 4 eggs
 2 tall cans (1 2/3 cup each) evaporated milk

2 cans (4 oz. each) mushroom pieces, drained
 2 teaspoons prepared mustard
 2 teaspoons instant minced onion
 2 teaspoons salt
 Pepper
 1 lb. processed American cheese, shredded
 1 pkg. (1 lb.) macaroni pieces, cooked, well drained

In large mixing bowl, beat eggs. Blend in remaining ingredients. Line two 5" x 9" x 3" loaf pans with Heavy Duty Reynolds Wrap. Divide macaroni and cheese evenly between two pans. Bake one loaf in 325 degrees Fahrenheit oven for 1 hour. Allow to stand 5 minutes before serving, garnished with tomato slices.

Minister Works In 'Marketplace'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Rev. Chris Morgan is a minister in a "marketplace."

Mr. Morgan is an ordained minister of the United Church of Christianity. His chaplain's office is in Crown Center, a retail complex here that has been called the "Rockefeller Center of the Midwest."

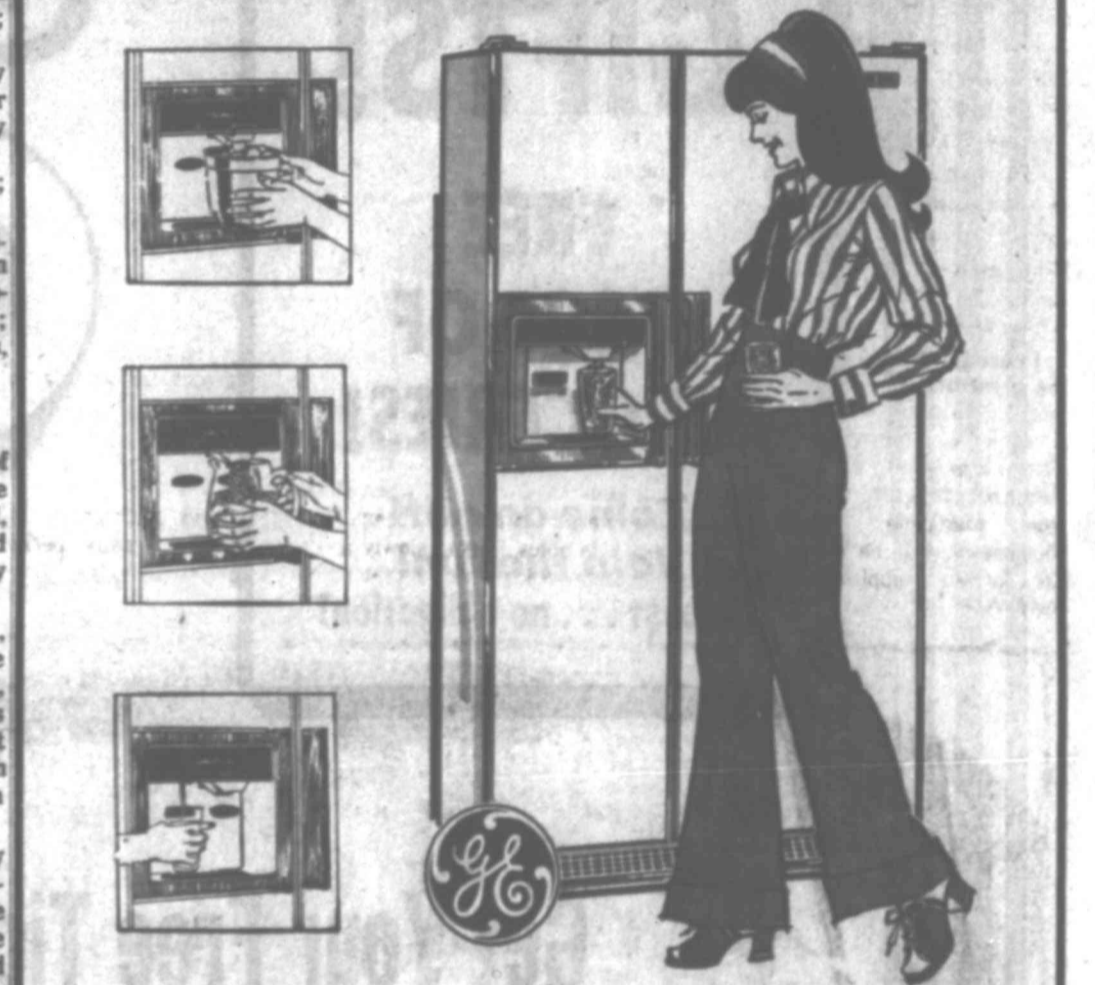

"This is the kind of ministry that is coming on strong," he explains of his free counseling service. "It's out of the churches altogether. It's people listening to what people are, not what you wish them to be. If you accept people exactly where they are, a gentle honesty comes from that. I believe that is what Jesus did in the marketplace."

From the second loaf. When frozen solid, lift from pan. Overwrap tightly in Heavy Duty Reynolds Wrap. Return to freezer. When ready to bake, replace frozen block in original pan. Bake in 350 degrees Fahrenheit oven for 1 1/2 hours or until firm in center.

Soups Can Save Homemakers' Time

By ELAINE SMYTH
Copley News Service

Soups are a friend to homemakers throughout the year. For the working gal, they are an ideal choice to prepare on the weekend and serve sometime during the week when time is at a premium. By adding a salad and hot rolls or an herbed bread she can put together a nutritious, flavorful supper without spending unnecessary and valuable time in the kitchen.

The same holds true for the woman at home who has a series of deadlines to meet—PTA meetings, Cub Scouts and the responsibility of getting Johnny to Little League or Sally to those ballet lessons. Today's recipes provide variety: beef 'n' cabbage soup and iced fresh tomato soup.

Beef 'N' Cabbage Soup
One and one-half lbs. lean beef, cubed
Oil
4 cups light beef bouillon
4 cups coarsely shredded cabbage (in two parts)
1 cup chopped onion
One-fourth lb. bacon, chopped
1 large garlic clove, minced
2 tps. salt
One-half tsp. pepper
One-half tsp. dry mustard
3 cups water
2 large potatoes, peeled and cubed
2 large sweet potatoes, peeled and cubed
2 tpsps. catsup

In large pot, brown beef in hot oil. Add bouillon, two cups cabbage, onion, bacon and seasonings. Bring to boil, reduce heat and simmer one hour. Skim foam.

Add water, potatoes, catsup and remaining two cups of cabbage; continue to simmer another hour until potatoes are tender. Makes about five quarts.

Iced Fresh Tomato Soup
2 tpsps. flour
1 tsp. salt
One-eighth tsp. pepper
2 tpsps. catsup
One-fourth cup water
2 cups chicken broth
6 large, ripe tomatoes, peeled, coarsely chopped or 3 cups prepared tomatoes
1 medium onion, chopped
1 cup heavy cream, chilled

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Place small-size (10x16-inch) oven cooking bag in ovenproof deep saucepan. Roll bag back to ease handling. Add flour, salt and pepper and mix inside bag. Blend in catsup and water. Add broth and mix. Add vegetables and gently turn bag to mix all contents. Close bag with twist tie, and make six half-inch slits in bag near twist tie. Cook until bubbling and vegetables are tender, 25-30 minutes.

Cool. Refrigerate until chilled. Add cream to bag and gently mix contents before dipping out to serve. Serve in small bowls set in crushed ice, garnished with thin tomato slice or unpeeled cucumber slice. Makes eight servings.

Fritters Stretch Leftover Corn

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A great way to use a little corn, cut from cooked leftover cobs, is in fritters made with cornmeal. These fritters have crisp and crunchy exteriors and soft insides. Served with maple syrup, they taste good with fried chicken, bacon, ham or pork sausage at brunch, lunch or supper.

CORN FRITTERS
1/2 cup flour, stir to aerate before measuring
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup enriched yellow cornmeal
1 egg
1/4 cup milk
1 tablespoon butter or margarine (melted) or vegetable oil
1 cup corn kernels, cut from leftover cooked cobs

In a medium mixing bowl thoroughly stir together the flour, baking powder and salt; stir in cornmeal.
In a small mixing bowl beat together the egg and milk until combined; add to cornmeal mixture with the butter and corn; stir just until dry ingredients are moistened.

Drop by generous tablespoons into hot deep fat (360 degrees) without crowding and fry until browned, turning once — about 3 minutes in all. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot with maple syrup.
Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Southern Kitchens School Scheduled

The Southern Kitchens Cooking School will be conducted at 1 and 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Lee High School Auditorium. The evening session will be a continuation of the course, which is being sponsored by Progressive Farmer Magazine and The Midland Reporter-Telegram.

Cooking demonstrations will be presented by Mrs. Pat Pittman, home economist for Progressive Farmer Magazine. She will be assisted by Mrs. Sue Hommel, program manager for the magazine. Midland businesses will have the latest in kitchen appliances and cookware on display. Special prizes will be awarded at both sessions.

Free tickets may be obtained from participating Midland businesses. The cooking demonstrations will depict ways homemakers can economically prepare meals for their families. There also will be gourmet cooking demonstrations.

Simmer Food
To simmer foods means to cook it in liquid just below the boiling point. You can tell when the simmering point has been reached; bubbles form slowly and collapse below the surface of the liquid.

Correspondents Meet At Last

VANDENBERG AFB, Calif. (AP) — After 29 years of correspondence, World War II pen pals Doris Breshears and Millie Thornton met for the first time recently.

Mrs. Breshears, wife of Technical Sgt. Marvin Breshears of Vandenberg's 1389 Photographic Squadron, was a happy hostess to Mrs. Thornton of Yorkshire, England. "We've grown up writing to each other," said Mrs. Breshears.

A little dried beef added to a macaroni dish really perks it up by giving it extra color and flavor.

Research Scientist Says Bulk, Fiber Good For You

Copley News Service

Talking about roughage may not be refined, but Dr. David Kritchevsky thinks Americans would do themselves a favor by eating a diet high in bulk and fiber.

Dr. Kritchevsky, a member of the Wistar Institute, Philadelphia, is doing research on the importance of fiber as it relates to heart and other diseases.

"There is no really good definition of fiber, other than to say it's what is left over after the stomach finishes its work; that is bulk fiber, or what we call 'ruminant nutrition.'"

To put it plainly, findings so far indicate that a diet high in fiber or roughage increases the bulk going through the system, there is more frequent elimination, and it seems less cholesterol has time to enter the circulatory system.

Roughage came under intense study after work done by the English in East Africa. The diet is high in corn fiber and the people are remarkably free of heart disease, cancer of the colon and diverticulitis.

"Since there are at least 30 concepts of what causes heart disease, the fiber theory is only one hypothesis," Dr. Kritchevsky said. "When unsaturated fat hit the scene, it was thought to be the big answer, but there is no cure-all. Environment, heredity, stress, numerous factors could be just as important."

But his studies have shown that a high-fat diet, to which fiber is added, may inhibit fat absorption by the body.

"It would certainly make people feel better about having that fried egg for breakfast and make life a lot more livable for those on a 'heart' diet," he said. Dr. Kritchevsky added that there is still the big question of how much cholesterol from the diet ends up in the bloodstream, and then how much of that in the aorta.

Woman Named Head Of Center

WOODSTOCK, Vt. (AP) —

When she was appointed superintendent of the Community Correctional Center here recently, Mrs. Barbara Chase became the first woman in Vermont to head a correctional center with male and female inmates.

Mrs. Chase is a 51-year-old grandmother and licensed mechanic who chose corrections as a career six years ago.

APPETITE APPEAL—A simple brush-on glaze made from dark corn syrup, orange juice and rind adds extra appetite appeal to broiled ham steak, sweet potatoes and peach halves.

Glaze Good On Several Meats

Buy the type and size ham best suited to your family's size and taste. Many hams have baking directions on the wrapper, so bake accordingly. About 1/2 hour before ham is done, remove from oven and score fat. If desired, stud with cloves. Then pour a thin layer of Karo dark corn syrup over ham. Continue to pour syrup over ham several more times until it is well glazed and tender. Karo Lazy Glaze is also good on pork roast, pork butt, ham steak, spareribs, canned luncheon meat or Bologna.

Shepherd Earns Honorary Degree

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Pamela Graham, who has been blind since she was a baby, has graduated magna cum laude from Oglethorpe. She also graduated as the William Randolph Hearst Scholar.

During graduation exercises, her female German shepherd seeing-eye dog, Nicole, was presented with an honorary degree.

Miss Graham, who received degrees in social work and education, said she hadn't decided on her future plans yet.

Expert On Cookery Urges Innovation

By SUSAN DELIGHT
Copley News Service

A gourmet cook is one who has a basic knowledge of good cookery, yet dares to deviate, says Mrs. Anne Otterson.

Mrs. Otterson's knowledge of good cookery has been influenced by attending well-known cooking schools taught by top professionals.

While residing in France, she studied French cooking. In Germany, she attended a Viennese pastry school in Munich. In this country, she studied in Julia Dannenbaum's Creative Cooking School in Philadelphia and at the California Cooking School, San Francisco, where classes were taught by Julia Child and Joyce Goldstein.

Now a cooking instructor on her own, she says she teaches her students the basics, then tells them to change dishes to suit individual tastes.

Mrs. Otterson has to urge her students into trying French cookery, she says.

"They're afraid of it—think it is too difficult. It really is no harder than Italian or Spanish food after you learn the fundamentals," she says.

SALAD BOCUSE
One and one-half lb. string beans
One-half lb. fresh mushrooms
1 cup chopped walnuts
Handful of parsley
Juice of 1 lemon
Two-thirds cup oil

Salt and pepper, to taste
Tip string beans and cut into julienne strips. Steam five minutes, then plunge into cold water. Cut stems from mushrooms and julienne. Pull parsley into pieces. Layer vegetables and nuts in salad bowl. Salt and pepper to taste. Mix lemon juice and oil. Pour over vegetables and toss. Let rest in refrigerator for about an hour.

ICE FRAMBROISE SOUFFLE
10 eggs, separated
1 cup superfine sugar
One-fourth cup lemon juice
One-fourth cup framboise
1 cup pureed strawberries
2 teps. gelatin
2 cups whipping cream
Beat egg yolks until light and fluffy. Gradually add one cup sugar. Add lemon juice and strawberries.

Mix until well blended. Stir over low heat until thickened. Soak gelatin in liqueur and stir into hot custard. Cool. Beat egg whites until soft. Fold whites into custard, then fold in the whipped cream. Arrange on an oiled paper collar around top of souffle dish. Pour mixture into souffle dish and chill. Decorate with whipped cream, crushed nuts and crystallized violets, if desired.

Thought Produces Quality Meals

It is not the amount of money you pay for food that produces quality meals, it's the care and thought placed in the preparation.

The finest food in the world can be ruined by poor cooking habits—yes, I do mean habits. Anyone who prepares meals day in and day out develops cooking habits.

If their efforts are generally good in flavor, texture, appearance and nutrition, they have probably developed some pretty good habits. On the other hand, those who hate to cook usually produce meals that reflect this attitude.

Cooking can be enjoyable and it can offer an outlet for creativity. It is an activity that can be enjoyed by others in the family.

Many men find it a relaxing and satisfying hobby and youngsters often find fun in the kitchen can be more than licking the bowl or snitching a snack.

In the average household, however, it is the lady of the house who manages the kitchen and feeds the family. Her cooking habits will be reflected in the health and welfare of her family.

Overweight is frequently the result of bad cooking habits. The statement is often made that overweight runs in the family. It is not fat that is inherited, rather it is the fat-producing habits which family members perpetuate.

You can make any meal more attractive with a little care and attention. The first ingredient in any dish should be love.

Love is expressed in simple touches—a bit of garnish here and there to add color and flavor. Adding a mint sprig to fruits takes only a moment but adds so much.

Place a wedge of lemon at the side of delicately poached fish. Fresh parsley accompanies any meat with a flair of elegance.

Spices and herbs, used with a light hand, flavor and enhance salads and vegetables and converts them into a delectable part of any meal.

The world of herbs and spices is fascinating to explore and offers a vast area for creativity. Fresh herbs grown in your kitchen or yard provide you with attractive plants as well as flavorful additions to food.

A few simple changes in preparation routines can help improve the nutritional value of foods and make the more unpopular kinds more acceptable.

Vegetables are a case in point and broccoli serves as a good example. Broccoli that has been steamed and treated to a touch of corn oil margarine a pinch of dried parsley, sprinkled with onion powder and a bit of grated Parmesan cheese is, indeed, a delicious dish.

Lots Of Laundry
If you have lots of laundry, it may pay to buy a large plastic garbage can to use as a clothes hamper. You will find it light enough to carry to and from the laundry room and no garment will be snagged in it.

Packing Dishes
Tissue paper makes wonderful packing for dishes when moving. If you happen to have a lot of outdated sewing patterns on hand, use those also.

Black Bottom Pecan Pie

3 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup Karo light corn syrup
1/2 cup margarine, melted
1/2 cup bourbon
1 cup chopped pecans
1 package (6 oz) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1/2 cup corn starch
1 unbaked (9-inch) pastry shell

In large bowl beat eggs slightly. Add sugar, corn syrup, margarine and bourbon. Stir in pecans, chocolate pieces and corn starch. Pour into pastry shell. Bake in 350 F. oven 60 minutes. (Filling should be slightly less set in center than around edge.)

Instead of the usual two water rinses after the shampoo, make the second rinse with good quality witch hazel. The pure herbal extract cuts soapy residue, neutralizes alkalinity and dries quickly, leaving hair fresh and odor free. Witch hazel also acts as a set.

Medicine Woman Cannot Practice Art Of Healing

By PETER HERNON
Associated Press Writer
CHARENTON, La. (AP)—The medicine woman for the Chitimacha Indians says her ancient treatments for snake bite, pneumonia and ulcers probably will die when she does.

Faye Stouff is the last of a long line of healers who have mixed and pounded wild herbs, grasses and barks into liquid concoctions for centuries.

Barely 300 of her tribe remain to trap and fish the bayous in southwestern Louisiana. They live on a small reservation of modest, one-story, frame houses. Most are elderly and the few young are not interested in the potions Mrs. Stouff says she has used to treat everything from athletes foot to venereal disease.

"No one wants to learn anymore," she lamented. "If that's the way they want it, fine. The secrets will soon vanish forever."

Champion Gives Tips On Omelets

By SUSAN DELAGHY
Copley News Service
Howard Helmer has built a cuisine reputation on one food category—omelets. This egg dish is responsible for Helmer setting a record, to be recorded in the 1976 "Guinness Book of World Records."

"It was last fall in Chicago. I made 236 two-egg cheese omelets in 60 minutes," he explained. "We fed 1,000 people omelets at a party sponsored by a radio station."

Omelet making started out as an avocation for Helmer, who works for a New York public relations firm.

"I was doing it for fun at first. I perfected my technique by watching Rudy Stanish, the recognized world's omelet king. Later, I started giving demonstrations for the American Egg Board."

Helmer makes omelet preparation look so easy that even novice cooks are lured into trying their hands. "There really is no mystique to preparing an omelet," Helmer says. "All you need is two eggs, two tablespoons of water, seasonings and a very hot pan. If the pan is smoking, so much the better. If you pour the egg mixture into a sizzling pan your omelet will be tough and rub-berly." Helmer thinks that flipping omelets is just a "show-off" trick. "It doesn't do a thing for an omelet," he declared. "And there is always danger of an accident."

After a person has conquered omelets, there is no trick to making quiches, souffles and crepes, says Helmer.

TWO-EGG OMELET
2 eggs
2 tbsps. water
Seasonings (salt, pepper or few dashes hot sauce)
1 tbsps. butter

Break eggs into bowl; add water and seasonings. Put pan on heat. Beat eggs with fork just until mixed, with a very slight froth on top. Put butter on the end of a fork and tap pan so butter flows over bottom and part way up the sides. As soon as butter foams, add eggs. Shake pan back and forth, at the same time stirring the eggs once all around with fork, then a few times in the middle, stroking mixture toward center.

Now smooth the top of the omelet with the fork and let it rest for a second or two. As soon as the center is set, start folding the meat.

'PUT UP' WITH SYRUP—Mixed Vegetable Relish is just one of the many good things that can be "put up" with corn syrup as the sweetener.

Syrup Excellent For 'Putting Up'

When "putting up" time arrives, try using corn syrup alone or along with sugar for sweetening. Corn syrup in jams, preserves and a variety of other canned items produces a product that is less sweet than if it were made with all sugar. And because corn syrup does not mask flavor, the "canned" product has a fresher taste.

Mixed Vegetable Relish
3 cups finely chopped carrots
1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper
1/2 cup finely chopped red pepper
1/2 cup finely chopped cabbage
1 1/2 cups finely chopped onion
2 cups cider vinegar
1 cup Karo light or dark corn syrup

1 1/2 tablespoons salt
1 1/2 teaspoons mustard seed
1 1/2 teaspoons celery seed
To 6-quart kettle, add carrots, green pepper, red pepper, cabbage and onion. Cover with boiling water; let stand 5 minutes. Drain well. Add vinegar, corn syrup, salt, mustard seed and celery seed to vegetable mixture in kettle. Bring to boil, stirring frequently. Reduce heat and continue boiling gently, stirring occasionally, about 20 minutes or until mixture thickens. Pour hot mixture into clean hot jars leaving 1/2-inch headspace. Seal according to jar manufacturer's directions. Process in boiling water bath 10 minutes for 1/2-pint jars. Makes 5 to 6 (1/2-pint) jars.

Capri Butter
2 pounds carrots
1 package (8 oz.) dried apricots
1 medium orange, cut in eighths and seeded
1 cup water
1 cup Karo light corn syrup
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon salt
Trim and pare carrots; cut in 1-inch pieces; place in large kettle. Add apricots, orange and water. Cover and bring to boil over medium heat. Reduce heat and simmer 15 to 20 minutes or until carrots are very tender. Remove from heat and turn through food mill. Return mixture to kettle and add corn syrup, sugar, cinnamon and salt. Stir to mix thoroughly. Bring to boil over medium heat, stirring frequently. Reduce heat and cook 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Butter will be very thick. Remove from heat and pour into clean hot jars, leaving 1/2-inch headspace. Seal according to jar manufacturer's directions. Process in boiling water bath 15 minutes for pint jars or 10 minutes for 1/2-pint jars. Makes about 6 (1/2-pint) jars.

Orange Beet Conserve
8 medium beets
1 large orange, cut in eighths and seeded
1 medium lemon, cut in eighths and seeded
2 cups Karo light corn syrup
2 cups sugar
1 cup silvered blanched almonds
1 tablespoon ground ginger
Cook beets in skins in boiling water to cover until tender, about 25 minutes. Drain and peel; cool and grate coarsely. (Makes about 4 cups grated beets.) Slice orange and lemon very thin. Mix together in large kettle beets, orange, lemon, corn syrup and sugar. Bring to boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Reduce heat and simmer 40 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add almonds and ginger; stir to mix and simmer 5 minutes longer or until thickened. Pour into clean, hot jars leaving 1/2-inch headspace. Seal according to jar manufacturer's directions. Process in boiling water bath 10 minutes for pint jars or 5 minutes for 1/2-pint jars. (If desired, ladle into sterilized jelly glasses and seal with paraffin.) Makes about 6 (1/2-pint) jars.

Empty Halves Can Be Useful
COLLEGE STATION — Next time you squeeze a lemon for juice, don't throw away the empty halves. Use them as a lemon boat or container for sauces, ice cream or jelly, Mrs. Gwendolyn Ciyatt suggests.

"The half can be frozen and used when needed. Store in a plastic bag in the freezer for future use," the consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said. When using a strip of lemon peel in hot tea, be sure to twist it first. This releases a bit of lemon oil for a distinctive flavor. Grated lemon peel is even more versatile. Store extra peel in plastic bags in the freezer. Use to garnish cakes, puddings, sauces.

Fresh Fruit Can Lock In Flavor

These days, with the price of goods and services going up and up, "do-it-yourself" is becoming more and more popular. However, one money saving "do-it-yourself" you might not have thought of is preserving your own fresh fruit.

The advantages are numerous. For one thing, if you stock up on fresh fruit now during the fresh fruit season, you'll be beating the off-season price hikes. For another, preserving fresh fruit means you'll be able to serve fresh fruit salads and desserts whenever you want it — no matter what the supermarket may have in stock.

Canning or preserving your own fruit isn't difficult. In fact, all you need is the fruit, a few hours time and a handy little product called Fruit Fresh. Fruit Fresh is what you need to keep the fruit you preserve looking and tasting as delicious as possible. Because Fruit Fresh has a special ingredient that locks in the "just-picked" freshness and flavor by preventing browning and mushiness.

For instance, as you pare, peel, slice or halve the fruit, put it directly into a Fruit Fresh solution (3 tablespoons to 2 quarts of water). This will prevent the browning or coloring that otherwise occurs when cut fruit is exposed to air. Since the fresh natural flavor of fruit is lost when it browns, Fruit Fresh actually preserves flavor by preventing browning.

For positive of Fruit Fresh's use benefits, simply cut an apple in half. Coat one half with Fruit Fresh and leave the other half untouched. You'll be able to see the difference in taste!

Incidentally, Fruit Fresh is equally effective when you're serving fresh fruit dishes, too. Like fruit salads or fresh fruit desserts. Before serving, simply sprinkle on some Fruit Fresh, and well and relax. Your fruit will stay fresh and flavorful. For yourself with the delicious Peach Pound Cake.

In the months ahead, here's one recipe that'll make you glad you preserved some fruit now in Fruit Fresh.

PEACHY POUND CAKE
1/2 pint heavy cream
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
2 tablespoons sugar
4 peaches
1 frozen pound cake, thawed
Whip cream; add 2 tablespoons sugar and almond extract. Refrigerate. Put peaches into sugar mixture; toss well to coat each slice. Refrigerate peaches. At serving time, slice cake and top each slice with cut peaches and whipped cream. Makes 6-8 servings.

Beans Save On Budget

Beans brighten the menu planning effort and give food budget a break when served as the main dish. One of the least expensive sources of protein, the bean family includes a wide variety of beans, not only black-eyed peas, but also kidney, pea (Navy) and marrow beans. All of them can be prepared in a number of flavorful ways.

To provide the body with the protein it needs, serve beans with rice, bread or pasta or with a small amount of meat, cheese or eggs.

Beans, Macaroni and Sausage Casserole

- 1 pound dry Great Northern or marrow beans
- 3 cups (about) water
- 1 package (8 ounces) elbow macaroni
- 2 tablespoons corn oil
- 1 pound fresh pork sausage
- 1 clove garlic, minced (optional)
- 1 can (16 ounces) tomatoes
- 1/2 cup Karo dark syrup
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon oregano leaves
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper

Wash beans; cover with water in 4-quart saucepan and bring to boil. Remove from heat and let stand 1 hour. Add additional water to cover beans, if necessary. Bring to boil; cover and boil gently over low heat about 1 hour or until beans are tender. Drain, reserving 1 cup liquid. Cook macaroni according to package directions. Drain. Heat corn oil in large deep skillet over low heat. Add sausage and garlic. Cook, breaking up meat with fork and turning occasionally, about 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Add tomatoes, corn syrup, reserved bean liquid, parsley, salt, oregano and pepper. Stir, breaking up tomatoes slightly. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat; cover and simmer 15 minutes. Stir in beans and macaroni. Cover and simmer about 15 minutes or until heated. Makes 8 (1 1/2 cup) servings.

Baked Lima Beans

- 1 pound dry large lima beans, rinsed
- 2 quarts (about) water
- 1/2 cup Karo dark corn syrup
- 1/2 cup margarine
- 1 1/2 teaspoons dry mustard

Place beans in large saucepan and cover with water. Soak overnight. Bring beans to boil, simmer, covered, 30 minutes or until tender. Drain, reserving 2 cups liquid. Place beans in 2 1/2 to 3-quart casserole or bean pot. Mix together corn syrup, margarine (1/2 cup), mustard, salt, ginger, thyme, parsley, pepper and reserved liquid. Pour mixture over beans. Bake, covered, in 350 degree oven 1 1/2 hours. Makes 6 servings.

Carbohydrates Provide Energy

Karo syrup, in nutritive value, is almost pure carbohydrate. Generally carbohydrates, that is sugars, syrups and starches in our food, provide about half the energy the body needs. They are the most economical and most readily available source of energy. Carbohydrates are necessary for the proper utilization of proteins and fats. These are the three energy-providing nutrients that work together in keeping the body warm and moving, and in growth and tissue repair.

Match Scheme

Try covering that old unsightly shower rod in your bathroom with adhesive-backed vinyl to match the color scheme of your bathroom.

- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/4 teaspoon thyme leaves
- 1/4 teaspoon dried parsley flakes
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper

Place beans in large saucepan and cover with water. Soak overnight. Bring beans to boil, simmer, covered, 30 minutes or until tender. Drain, reserving 2 cups liquid. Place beans in 2 1/2 to 3-quart casserole or bean pot. Mix together corn syrup, margarine (1/2 cup), mustard, salt, ginger, thyme, parsley, pepper and reserved liquid. Pour mixture over beans. Bake, covered, in 350 degree oven 1 1/2 hours. Makes 6 servings.

Syrup Produces Delicious Glaze

When menu planning becomes a humdrum affair, dress up favorites like smoked ham or pork roast with an easy, elegant glaze. To create a delicious "lazy" glaze, simply pour a thin layer of dark corn syrup over the ham or pork toward the end of the cooking time.

Glazed Ham and Sweet Potatoes

- 1/2 cup Karo dark corn syrup
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon orange rind
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1 fully-cooked ham steak, cut 1 inch thick (about 1 1/2 pounds)
- Whole cloves (optional)
- 4 parboiled, medium-sized sweet potatoes, peeled
- 4 canned peach halves, thoroughly drained

Mix together corn syrup, sugar, orange rind and juice in 1-quart saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved and mixture comes to a boil. Trim fat from ham, if necessary. Make diagonal cuts in remaining fat. Stud with cloves, if desired. Place ham and potatoes on rack in broiler pan. Brush with syrup mixture. Broil 6 to 8 inches from source of heat, basting occasionally, about 15 minutes. Turn ham and potatoes; add peaches. Brush with syrup. Broil, basting occasionally, 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Sardine Rolls Favorite As Snack With Canadians

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor

When I was a little girl growing up in Canada, my mother — an extremely good cook — often made Sardine Rolls when unexpected company came and she wanted to offer a snack.

Cans of brining sardines were always at hand in that commodious pantry off the kitchen that she called, in true British fashion, the larder. The rest of the makings for the rolls — lemon, butter, onion and fresh bread were usually also at hand. Nowadays really fresh bread isn't as likely to be in the kitchen and since it is absolutely necessary for concocting these rolls, you may have to do a slight bit of planning ahead when you want to make them. Now as then, they delight guests.

Sardine Rolls

- 3 1/2-ounce can brining sardines
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- Butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon finely grated onion
- 6 slices very fresh white bread, crusts removed (see note below)

Open the can of sardines and with a fork gently lift out the sardines onto a plate, discarding the oil; sprinkle them with the lemon juice.

In a small bowl stir together 2 tablespoons soft butter and the onion. Spread each slice of bread on one side with the butter mixture. Place 2 or 3 sardines — depending on their size, the number in the can will vary — on the buttered side of each slice of bread; reverse one of the sardines on each slice so they fit neatly. Roll each slice and press firmly to seal.

In a small skillet melt 2 to 3 tablespoons butter; with a pastry brush, paint the outside of each roll with butter making sure that the bread is entirely coated.

On a small cookie sheet (9 or 10 by 14 inches) place the rolls, seam side down, well apart. Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven until bottom sides are well browned — 5 minutes or so. With tongs, turn rolls and brown the sides that now face down — 5 minutes or so.

Cut rolls in half crosswise and serve at once. Makes 12 snacks.

Note: The easiest kind of bread to roll is from a loaf whose slices are soft and spongy and about 1/2-inch thick. But a loaf of bread whose slices are firm and thin (sometimes called Melba or diet-sliced) may also be used; with this bread, there may be a few breaks as the slices are rolled, but these may be pinched together. Whichever type of bread you use, make sure that it is extremely fresh — buy and use it for the Sardine Rolls the day the bread is delivered to your market because then it will roll most easily. Do not use firm-type bread that is on the crumbly side, because it will not roll.

VARIATIONS OF SARDINE ROLLS

Parmesan Style: Use the recipe for Sardine Rolls, but instead of spreading the bread with soft butter, spread with 1-3rd cup mayonnaise mixed with 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese — this will make about 1/2 cup. Fill with sardines, roll, paint with melted butter, and bake as directed.

Cheddar Cheese Style: Use the recipe for Sardine Rolls, but instead of spreading the bread with soft butter, spread with 1/2 cup mayonnaise mixed with 1/2 cup finely grated cheese — this will make about 2-3rds cup. Fill with sardines, roll, paint with melted butter and bake as directed.

EASY ON BUDGET — Marrow beans, elbow macaroni and pork sausage baked with tomatoes, dark corn syrup and a good blend of seasonings make a savory, nutritious casserole that's easy on the budget.

Homeowners Can Follow Suggestions To Assist With Energy Conservation

There was a time not too long ago at that, when our supply of electrical energy seemed unlimited.

Now, in major cities, there are recurring threats of "brownouts" and "blackouts" as electricity demand exceeds the ability of utilities to generate. And gas companies around the nation also are threatening rationing and discouraging new demand for their product, particularly from large industrial users.

The homeowner can do more than just wring his hands about the "energy crisis," however. And in the process, he can also reduce his own utility bill.

Here are some suggestions from John Cook, manager of utility relations for the General Electric and Hotpoint major appliance group, on how to conserve energy:

Naturally, doors and windows should be kept tightly closed, which may require extra lecture to small children who have a predilection for opening them and forgetting to close them again. This applies to doors and openings to attics and basements, too. And make sure any "ventilating" or "exhaust controls" on the air conditioner are kept closed during regular operation.

In using your dishwasher, try for full loads rather than partial ones. Most machines use the same amount of hot water heated by gas or electricity.

If your automatic clothes washer has a control for selecting a high, medium or low water level, be sure to select the setting that is appropriate for the size of the clothes load.

And consider using cold water for washing lightly soiled loads or special fabrics.

If you have automatic termination or electronic sensing controls on your dryer, use them in preference to timed settings. They will turn the dryer off automatically when the load is dry, whereas a timed setting may dry the clothes longer than necessary.

Keep your food freezer, or the freezer section of your refrigerator, well stocked; less electricity is used maintaining temperature in a full freezer than in one partially filled. Keep the refrigerator and freezer out of direct sunlight or tight niches where there is little air circulation; too hot a spot can add as much as 15 per cent to the cost of operation.

Many people keep a coffee pot warming all day or evening as a matter of habit; if you're not a coffee addict, break the habit, recommends Cook.

Plastic Bottle Boom Developing

NEW YORK (AP) — A plastic bottle boom is developing in the skin-care market and manufacturers are gearing up for a 40 per cent production increase by 1979, says John Malloy of the Plastic Bottle Institute, a division of the Society of the Plastics Industry.

Industry officials conservatively estimate that plastic bottle production will leap by 8 to 10 per cent a year through 1980.

FILLING FOR TORTILLAS—Wheat flour tortillas are favored in some parts of Mexico. Like the more familiar corn tortillas, they are an excellent vehicle for many different food flavors. Here is a zesty tuna-tomato mixture dressed with mayonnaise as the filling for the tortillas.

Pantry Foods Come To Rescue

Shopping once a week with a list in hand has long been a practice advocated by experts in household economics. It's still a sensible habit if handled with good judgment. Too often there is a tendency to overload the refrigerator with foods that must be eaten within a few days. At times they may even get lost in the crowded refrigerator, and leftovers are forgotten rather than being turned into another meal.

In these inflationary times, it is thrifty to go easy on perishables. Buy only as much of these foods as you know the family can eat. And when there are specials on your family's favorite canned or frozen foods or on other staples you use frequently, lay in a supply. With controlled buying, and stretching what must be used up promptly, it's surprising how much farther the food dollars can go. Toward the middle of the week, when you've exhausted your purchases of fresh produce and meats and the refrigerator is beginning to look bare, that's the time to turn to the pantry shelf and freezer and use staples to fill the gaps. Canned tuna is just one of the many pantry shelf products to count on to come to the rescue. It can be turned into dozens of dishes in addition to that old standby, tuna fish casserole with potato chip topping. For example, given here are two very different ways to serve canned tuna. The recipes are from the Hellmann's Kitchens where real mayonnaise is thought of as more than a spread for sandwiches or a dressing for salads.

Tuna Tortillas

12 (7-inch) flour tortillas (recipe below)
2 cans (7 oz each) tuna, drained and flaked

1/2 cup real mayonnaise
4 cups grated Monterey Jack cheese (1 lb)
3 cups shredded lettuce
2 cups chopped tomato
1* cup chopped onion

Prepare and cook tortillas following recipe below. Cover lightly with foil and keep warm in low oven. Stir together tuna and mayonnaise. Sprinkle about 1-2 cup cheese on each tortilla. Spoon 2 tablespoons of the tuna mixture on cheese. Top each with about 1/4 cup lettuce, 1/4 cup tomato and small amount of onion. Fold. Makes 6 servings (2 tortillas each).

Flour Tortillas: Stir together 4 cups unbleached flour and 1 1/2 teaspoons salt. With pastry blender cut in 1/2 cup margarine until small crumbs form. Stir in 1 cup warm water until soft dough forms. Shape into ball. On lightly floured surface knead 5 minutes. Divide dough into 12 equal pieces; form each into a ball. Cover with towel. Let stand 1/2 hour. On lightly floured surface roll each ball into 7-inch circle about 1/8-inch thick, stacking tortillas as they are rolled. Cover lightly with foil. In skillet over medium heat, melt 2 teaspoons margarine. Add one tortilla, cook turning once until lightly browned. (Tortillas brown unevenly.) Continue cooking tortillas, one at a time, adding 2 teaspoons margarine for each tortilla. Stack tortillas as they are cooked.

Tuna Casserole Au Gratin

1/2 cup real mayonnaise
2 tablespoons corn starch
1 1/4 cups milk
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 can (7 oz) tuna, drained and flaked
1/2 teaspoon lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3 cups cooked macaroni
1 package (10 oz) frozen peas and carrots, thawed
1/2 cup finely shredded Cheddar cheese
1/2 cup fresh bread crumbs

In small saucepan mix together mayonnaise and corn starch. Gradually stir in milk, onion, salt and pepper. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Reduce heat and simmer 3 minutes. In 1 1/2-quart casserole, stir together tuna, lemon rind and juice, macaroni, peas and carrots and mayonnaise mixture. Toss together cheese and crumbs. Sprinkle over casserole. Bake uncovered in 350 degrees Fahrenheit oven 25 to 30 minutes or until hot. Makes 6 (1 cup) servings.

Seasoning Chicken

Place mixture of half corn meal, half flour, with salt and pepper to season, in a paper bag. Dip chicken pieces in milk. Then shake in meal flour mixture. Pan fry until golden brown and cooked through.

Fruit Natural, Refreshing Idea For Desserts

Fresh fruit, served with an orange-flavored dressing is a light and refreshing finish for a meal. Corn syrup in the dressing lets the fresh flavor come through, adding to fruits' appeal as a natural dessert choice.

Fresh Fruit Compote

1/2 cup Karo light corn syrup
1/2 cup orange juice
4 whole cloves
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1 tablespoon grated orange rind

1 quart sliced, cubed or small whole fresh fruit
Stir together in 1 1/2-quart saucepan corn syrup, orange juice, cloves and ginger. Bring to boil over medium heat; boil 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Remove cloves; add orange rind. Pour over fruit. Chill. Makes 4 servings.

Baby Beef Lean, Less Costly

Copley News Service

Call it baby beef, calf, young beef, heavy calf or mature veal, but it's a meat to begin using if the spectacular hikes in beef prices have become much too much for the budget.

Not to be confused with veal, which is from unweaned calves, this is beef from young cattle—7 to 10 months old—and it is very lean. It has been fed only grass, unlike mature beef which has been partially grain-fed and is marbled with fat.

Keep Occupied

Coffee cans full of snap clothespins will keep toddlers occupied for hours, snapping the pins on the edge of the cans. Use Cornmeal Serve your family freshly baked breads made with enriched cornmeal. They'll like light and fluffy corn muffins, piping hot cornbread, and crispy corn sticks.

The lack of fat makes a great difference in the way you handle the cooking methods for young beef.

Cooking time is shortened considerably and it should not be overcooked. It is somewhat lighter in color than mature beef and has a notably milder flavor. Spices and herbs are needed to enliven the taste. It has fewer calories than marbled beef but contains the same protein and minerals.

Most important, the cost should be considerably less than that for mature beef. According to a report from the Grocery Manufacturers of America, cattlemen will have to begin mousing cattle off dry grasslands in great numbers before long. "When that happens, supplies of grass-fed beef will rise sharply and prices will decline, but also to bring down prices of fatted cattle," the report says.

Try Corn Syrup As Sweetener

The early American woman rarely used sugar for baking since the refining process is not the streamlined process it is today; however, her pies literally "went down in history" as delicious affairs. The Pennsylvania Dutch and other ethnic American cooks still use sweeteners besides sugar or combine other sweeteners with sugar when they are baking.

Sugar was found on the sideboards of early American kitchens in the form of rock sugar crystals. Well-behaved children were rewarded with a piece of rock sugar instead of candy. If sugar was used in baking, the early American cook would break off a piece from the pyramid of rock sugar on the sideboard or buy a string of rock sugar crystals and melt them down for cooking. The pioneer woman made dozens of pies without sugar during harvest season, and the pies, made with fruits of the season or dried fruits, were a welcome treat after a day in the fields.

Pies are an all-American favorite, especially apple pie, and, for pies as delicious as the ones from the good old days, try the following sugarless pie recipes. Corn syrup is the sweetener and the recipes include one for Apple Pie, Date Delight Pie and Pumpkin Pie.

Never-Bell-Over Apple Pie (Sugarless)

- 1 recipe pastry for 9-inch double-crust pie
 - 6 medium apples, cored, pared, sliced
 - 3 tablespoons margarine
 - 1 teaspoon corn starch
 - 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 cup Karo light or dark corn syrup
- Divide pastry dough almost in half. Flatten larger portion slightly and roll out about 12 inches in diameter on lightly floured surface. Fit loosely into 9-inch pie plate. Arrange apples in pan. Roll out top crust; cut circle from center large enough to insert end of funnel; cut slits for decoration and to allow steam to escape. Place pastry over apples; seal and flute edge. Bake in 400 F oven 30 minutes or until apples are tender and crust golden brown. About 15 minutes before pie has finished baking prepare cinnamon syrup. In small saucepan melt margarine. Stir in corn starch, cinnamon and salt. Then stir in corn syrup. Stirring con-

Bananas Cost About The Same

COLLEGE STATION — Texas grocery shoppers must "go bananas" to find any real excitement in food buying these days.

"Bananas are always in season — and cost about the same as they did 20 years ago," Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist, said this week.

"If you consider the increase in wages during the last two decades, this means bananas really cost less than half as much today in terms of real income," she continued.

Mrs. Clyatt, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said bananas must be picked when green, because, if allowed to ripen on the plant, they split open and are tasteless. "Smaller families may find it more convenient to buy bananas a bit on the green side and let them ripen gradually. "Select those that are plump, unblemished and bright in appearance, as a dull-looking banana often won't ripen properly."

stantly, bring to boil and boil 3 minutes. Remove pie from oven and immediately place funnel in hole in center of crust. Pour boiling hot cinnamon syrup into pie, about 1-3 at a time, tilting plate after each addition to allow syrup to spread evenly. Cool pie on rack. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

Date Delight Pie

- 1 package (8 oz) dates, finely chopped
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup dark Karo corn syrup
- 2 tablespoons margarine
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1/4 cup chopped nuts
- 1 package (8 oz) cream cheese, softened
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell

Whipped cream or whipped topping

In saucepan stir together dates, water and dark corn syrup. Stirring occasionally, bring to boil over medium heat and cook 8 to 10 minutes or until thickened. Remove from heat. Stir in margarine, 1 teaspoon of the vanilla and nuts. Cool. Stir together cream cheese, light corn syrup, egg and remaining 1 teaspoon vanilla. Pour into unbaked pastry shell. Gently spread date mixture on top. Bake in 375 F oven 35 to 40 minutes or until edge of filling is set and crust lightly browned.

If desired, serve garnished with whipped cream or whipped topping. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

Pumpkin Pie

- 4 eggs
- 1 cup dark Karo corn syrup
- 1 cup evaporated milk
- 2 cups canned pumpkin
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon ginger
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell with high fluted edge

In large bowl beat eggs slightly. Add corn syrup and evaporated milk; beat until smooth. Add pumpkin, salt, ginger, cinnamon and nutmeg; beat until blended. Pour into unbaked pastry shell. Bake in 450 F oven 10 minutes; reduce heat to 325 F and continue baking about 1 hour or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

Sunday Brunch Circuit Seems To Be Popular Throughout Year

Copley News Service

The popularity of the Sunday brunch circuit seems to have no season. In the winter it's a cozy way to pass a leisurely few hours with friends around a cozy fire. With warmer days, it may move out onto the patio or deck, but the casual flavor of the occasion remains the same.

A really basic menu might include bloody marys, scrambled eggs, bacon or sausage, hash brown potatoes and hot biscuits or muffins.

The recipes given here take you a bit further, but ease of preparation is considered in all of the menus.

If bloody marys or screwdrivers are tried and true, but trite, here is one of the great prebrunch drinks. It is smooth but can be devastating, so serve in big glasses over crushed or small cubes of ice.

Gin fizzes are made by combining a tablespoon of sugar syrup with the juice of a medium-size lemon or lime, a jigger and a half of gin and a beaten egg white. Shake this up well with a half-cup crushed ice and strain into a glass. Fill with soda water and a bit of ice. This makes one serving, but you may, of course, make a shakerful of the gin mixture, portion into glasses, and add the soda water and ice at the last minute, giving it a good stir or two.

MIXED GRILL

1 lb. lamb or pork kidneys (veal kidneys may be substituted but they are more expensive)

- One-fourth cup butter or margarine
- 1 tbsp. lemon juice
- One-half tsp. marjoram leaves
- 12 large mushroom caps
- 3 medium-sized tomatoes, halved
- 6 knockwurst
- Salt and pepper
- 2 tbsps. chopped parsley

Prepare kidneys by slicing in half crosswise and removing fat and connective tissue (if using veal kidneys, cut into chunks and remove fat and connective tissue).

Melt butter and add lemon juice and marjoram. Place mushrooms, tomatoes, kidneys and knockwurst on grill five to seven inches above medium coals.

Brush with butter mixture and season with salt and pepper.

Turn knockwurst and kidneys occasionally. Grill for about 10 to 15 minutes or until vegetables are fork tender and knockwurst is browned. Kidneys should be slightly pink. Remove from grill and serve with parsley sprinkled over vegetables. Serves six.

SPIT-ROASTED CANADIAN BACON

Select a piece of Canadian bacon that weighs about one and one-half pounds and is seven to eight inches long. (As a less expensive substitute, you may use a rolled boneless ham or a daisy- or shoulder-type ham.) Secure meat on a spit and follow manufacturer's instructions for using rotisserie.

Generally, grill over medium coals for about one and one-half hours or until meat is heated throughout and reaches an internal temperature of 140 degrees. This internal temperature is for fully cooked pork.

Model T Ford Still On Move

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — It has been driven 700,000 miles and is still going strong. That's the Model T Ford owned by Mike Tonis, 81.

Every day people stop him and want to buy the car. "Never," he says. "I'll drive it forever."

He has been driving the navy blue car for 41 years and got it for $5 during the Depression years.

He says he has been offered $3,000 and a 1948 Cadillac. He drives the Model T regularly. It runs fine and rarely gives Tonis any trouble.

Peach Ice Cream Treat Of Season

Search the attic for that old hand crank ice cream freezer or try your luck at locating one at a garage sale. They're collector's items, but functional as well. However, if you don't happen to be caught up in the current nostalgic mood and want to have your churned homemade ice cream with less effort, beg, borrow or buy an electric powered freezer. Just don't let the summer go by without making your own peach ice cream.

Along with the recipe for Homemade Peach Ice Cream are recipes for Buttermilk Lemon Sherbet and an ice cream bombe using commercial ice cream with Strawberry Sauce to serve over the Bombe.

An important ingredient in the ice cream and sherbet recipes is light corn syrup. Corn syrup in any homemade ice cream mixture helps control the size of the ice and sugar crystals, therefore making a smoother ice cream. As part of the sweetener, it also produces a less sweet, more flavorful ice cream.

Homemade Peach Ice Cream
 1/2 cup sugar
 2 tablespoons corn starch
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 3 cups milk
 1-3 cup Karo light corn syrup
 2 eggs, slightly beaten
 1 cup light cream
 2 cups finely chopped fresh peaches
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 2 drops red food coloring, optional

Stir together in 2-quart saucepan sugar, corn starch, and salt. Stir in milk, corn syrup and eggs. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture coats spoon. Chill. Stir in light cream, peaches, lemon juice, vanilla and, if desired, red food coloring. Freeze in 2-quart ice cream freezer following manufacturer's directions or as directed below. Makes about 2 quarts. Recipe may be doubled for 4-quart freezer. Follow freezer manufacturer's directions on how full to fill can; or fill no more than 2/3 or 3/4 full.

To freeze: Fit dasher into chilled can. Pour in ice cream mixture, filling can no more than 2/3 to 3/4 full to allow for expansion. Set can into freezer bucket being careful to position it properly in bottom well. Place cover on can and secure motor frame (or hand crank) over cover. Beginning with a 3-inch layer of crushed ice, pack bucket with alternate layers of crushed ice and rock salt, using 8 parts (8 cups) ice of 1 part (1 cup) salt, filling bucket level with top, but not over cover. If freezer has multiple speeds, begin with low speed, then increase speed. Drain melted ice occasionally through plug hole and add more ice and salt as needed to keep bucket filled. Keep plug hole open. When machine makes laboring sound or motor slows, unplug freezer. When hand crank becomes difficult for adult to turn, stop churning. Remove about 1 inch of ice and brine from around top of can. Wipe cover carefully. Lift out dasher and remove ice cream with rubber spatula. Pack ice cream down into can. Cover can with waxed paper, then foil. Replace cover and plug cover hole. Refill bucket to top with ice and salt, using 4 parts ice to 1 part salt. Pack can top with mixture. Cover with large folded cloth or towel. Ripen until firm, about 2 to 3 hours. If desired, ripen ice cream in food freezer. Place covered freezer can directly in freezer or spoon ice cream into plastic containers leaving at least 1/2 inch headspace; cover with tight fitting lid and place in freezer.

Buttermilk Lemon Sherbet
 1 quart buttermilk
 1 1/2 cups Karo light corn syrup
 1-3 cup sugar
 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
 1/2 cup lemon juice

Stir together in large mixing bowl buttermilk, corn syrup, sugar, lemon rind, and lemon juice. Pour into 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan. Freeze until mixture is set 1-inch from edge. Turn into mixing bowl and beat until smooth. Return to loaf pan and freeze several hours or until firm. Makes about 1 quart.

Ice Cream Bombe
 1 quart orange sherbet
 1 quart vanilla ice cream
 1 (8-inch) cake layer
 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
 Chill a 6 to 8 cup mold in freezer at least 1 hour. With back of a spoon, press sherbet around inside of mold to make a shell. Freeze 1 hour or until firm. Fill center with vanilla ice cream, pressing firmly. Cover. Freeze 3 hours or until firm.

To unmold: Place cake layer on sheet of foil. Wipe outside of mold with hot damp cloth. Invert mold on cake. Gently shake mold to remove ice cream. Wrap and place in freezer until serving time. Before serving, decorate with whipped cream. Let stand 5 minutes for easier serving. Serve with Strawberry Sauce. Makes 12 servings.

Strawberry Sauce: Wash and hull 1 pint fresh ripe strawberries. Crush berries in bowl. Stir in 1/2 cup Karo light corn syrup, 1 tablespoon sugar and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Chill. Makes 2 cups sauce.

American Favorite Is Ice Cream

By TOM HOGE
 AP Newsfeatures Writer
 Many people look on ice cream as a strictly American dish, possibly because we consume more than 750 million gallons of the gelid stuff a year in a dazzling variety of guises from sundaes to frosted to baked Alaskas.

Actually ice cream was enjoyed in primitive form many centuries before America's ice cream parlors came into being. Historians tell us that the Roman emperor Nero Claudius Caesar sent teams of runners into the mountains for snow and served it to his guests laced with honey and fruit juices. Not too different from the snow and maple syrup mixes served at sugaring-off parties in Vermont each spring.

At the end of the 13th century, Marco Polo returned from the Far East with a crude recipe for sherbet. And in 16th century Italy, they made a kind of ice cream from milk sweetened with honey and then frozen.

Paul Dickson, who fascinated readers with "The Great American Ice Cream Book" a couple of years back, said the first substantial information on the frozen delight appeared in an anonymous manuscript in France about 1700. It told how to make such exotic goodies as apricot, violet, rose and caramel ice creams.

Everywhere
 Today's soft and comfortable lingerie and loungewear are "everywear." These lacy, sexy, feminine and functional garments can be worn almost everywhere.

HOMEMADE ICE CREAM—Whether made in an old style hand cranked freezer or in an electric powered one, you can't beat the pure flavor and good taste of homemade ice cream.

Lean Cuts Of Pork OK For Low-Cholesterol Diet

Copley News Service
 "Is there any pork that can be eaten on a low-cholesterol, low-saturated-fat diet?" asked a woman.

Most pork is higher in fat than other meat; however, lean cuts of pork contain no more saturated fat than is found in lean beef. Meats such as beef, lamb and pork have invisible fat between the red muscle fibers as well as the marbling of yellow or white fat seen throughout the meat.

It is suggested that lean pork, beef or lamb be limited to three or four small servings a week. The rest of the week's protein should be fish, poultry, calf or veal, or meat substitutes. When you use pork, choose lean cuts such as rib or loin chops, lean ham or Canadian bacon. Avoid the fatty cuts like shoulder or blade chops, butt ham, spare ribs, bacon, and all kinds of sausage.

The new textured vegetable protein breakfast sausages, bacon strips and bacon bits contain no cholesterol and no animal fat, so they are all right to use.

To ancient people, spices were valued like gold because of their preservative powers.

Parole Agency Selects Woman

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A 35-year-old woman has been appointed to head the state parole agency.

Arlene Becker will look after 17,000 people, all discharged inmates from California prisons, as deputy director of parole and community services in the Department of Corrections.

Miss Becker, who came up through the ranks as a parole agent and supervisor, spent the past year as assistant director of corrections in charge of women's affairs.

A native Californian, she was graduated from the University of California at Santa Barbara with a degree in psychology.

Cubs Rip Mets, 8-3

JACKSON, Miss. — The streaking Midland Cubs took an 8-3 Texas League baseball victory over the Jackson Mets Sunday night to move to within 1 1/2 games of league-leading Shreveport.

Dennis Lamp came in to relieve starter Mike Weiss in the sixth inning to pick up the win as he shut out the Mets the rest of the way.

Midland took a 2-0 lead in the top of the second inning before the crowd of 1,517 when Wayne Tyrone walked and Joe Wallis singled and Clancy followed with a ringing two-run double. Ortiz then singled in Clancy to make it 8-3.

Midland added two more runs in the eighth when outfielder Ogozto dropped a routine fly ball to hand the Cubs two more runs and the 8-3 victory.

Carol Mann Wins Washington Classic

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I four hole.

Miss McAllister's putt however, was two feet right of the hole, and she pushed it in for par.

Miss Mann came out of the bunker and holed a 15-foot par.

"I bogey and she birdies there, it would have been a swing of two strokes, and I'd been three ahead with three to go," Miss Mann explained. "Instead it was a swing or nothing. I still led by five."

Miss Mann rolled in a 10-foot birdie putt at the third hole to make up for her bogey on one.

Another three strokes back at 215 were Jo Ann Prentice and Kathy Whitworth, both recent Women's Golf Hall of Fame inductees. Miss Prentice finished with a 71, and Miss Whitworth a 74. JoAnn Washam, with a final round 72 was next at 214.

"This was one of the most satisfying wins I've ever had because of missing the cut in the Open," said Miss Mann, who was tied here Friday for the lead, and edged away by five strokes in Saturday's second round. "I was determined to make up for it."

The blonde from Towson, Md., admitted she was edged Sunday, never really comfortable despite leading by no less than three strokes throughout.

"I was waiting for someone to come out of the pack," she explained. "I wanted to be aggressive, greedy, make birdies. Shoot in the 60s, but I couldn't do it. I guess you call it protecting a win. The hardest way to win a tournament is to be in front (the final day)."

Miss Mann said the key to her victory was at the 15th hole, where she was in a bunker on the second shot, and her closest competitor, Miss McAllister, was on the green 16 feet from a birdie on the par

Weiskopf Wins Sudden Death Match Over Jack Nicklaus

ILE BIZARD, Que. (AP) — There was an air of deep, intense satisfaction, almost retribution, in Tom Weiskopf's attitude.

He'd just conquered Jack Nicklaus in a sudden death playoff Sunday for the Canadian Open Golf Championship.

And Weiskopf's thoughts drifted back to the spring of the year and "the greatest disappointment of my life," at Augusta, Ga. and the Masters.

"He asked me about his putting," Nicklaus said. "He was lining up right with his hands pressed forward. I told him if he was going to press his hands like that he had to line up more left and go through the ball."

That was the putting lesson. The lapses came on the final hole of regulation play and on the playoff hole.

Nicklaus, playing well in front of Weiskopf, appeared to have his first Canadian national championship in his pocket when he stood on the 18th tee.

But, now knowing that Weiskopf was in trouble and on his way to a bogey on the 18th, Jack pulled out his drive into a lake on the left of the 18th and eventually made bogey. That cut his lead to a single stroke.

Weiskopf, a close friend who will play as Nicklaus' partner in the National Team championship later in the year, rammed in an 18-foot birdie putt on the 17th to tie and chipped up close to make par on the 18th, setting up the playoff.

They finished the regulation 72 holes in a drizzling rain tied at 274, six-under-par on the 6,828 yard Royal Montreal Golf Club course. Nicklaus, who had shared the lead at the end of the first three rounds, had a closing 68, two under par. Weiskopf shot 67.

Drillers Burn Shreveport To Boost Midland Cause

By the Associated Press
Lafayette whipped Shreveport 10-5 in a battle of Texas League division leaders Sunday, but the three clubs trailing Lafayette in the West all mopped up on East rivals.

Midland beat Jackson 8-3, El Paso blanked Arkansas 4-0 and San Antonio defeated Alexandria 9-4 in the other games.

After spotting the Shreveport Captains a 3-1 edge, the Lafayette Drillers exploded for four runs in the third inning and stayed on top the rest of the way. For Lafayette, Craig Barnes singled in three runs in the big third, Tommy Smith belted a two-run homer in the fifth and Wendell Kim hit a double and three singles in five at-bats, driving in three runs.

Shreveport took its brief lead on Harry Saferight's three-run homer in the second frame. The victory fattened Drillers pitcher Frank Ricelli's record to 12-5.

In a battle of cellar dwellers, the San Antonio Brewers broke things open with a five-run second inning — four of the tallies unearned thanks to a pair of errors by the Alexandria Aces. Wayne Cag socked a solo homer for San Antonio in that inning, and teammate Steve Rametta later contributed a two-run homer and a two-run double.

Alexandria's Dave Hilton tried to make up for his three errors during the game by matching Rametta's feat of a home run and a double which each chased two runs across the plate, and added a second double for good measure.

Four Teams Gain State Tourney Berths

By BOB DILLON
Goodrich Service Center stormed past Snowwhite Cleaners, 12-3, in the finals of the District 26 State Slow Pitch Qualifying Tourney at Hogan Park Sunday night.

Four Midland teams qualify for the State Slow Pitch Tournament which will also be played on the Hogan Park diamonds, Aug. 8-10 while two Odessa and two Midland teams finished high enough to play in the Men's Class A State Slow Pitch Meet in Killeen on the same dates.

The state tourney here will feature the strongest in the Lone Star state and is an Open Tournament.

Besides Goodrich and Snowwhite, other Midland teams gaining a spot in the August tourney were Lincoln and Smith Brothers Pipe.

3-Way Construction of Odessa will go to Killeen along with Odessa McAfee, Rivas Carpenters and the Shakey Ground Gang, both Midland teams.

Goodrich was putting away its fifth first place trophy of the season by disposing of Snowwhite in the finals. The Tiremen already have won Wichita Falls and Lubbock to go along with first place finishes in the City and District Meets. Kent Sloan and Bill Williams will take Goodrich to Amarillo this weekend for another tourney which will feature strong teams. "We want to try and keep sharp for the state tourney the following weekend," said Sloan.

Goodrich went undefeated in six games and had three shutouts during the tourney which was rained out Saturday night, making a full schedule on Sunday.

Snowwhite started off by taking a 1-0 lead in the first inning on Hamel's homer, but the Tiremen erupted for six runs in the same frame and Goodrich pounded out 14 runs in the title game to Snowwhite's seven.

The Tiremen played superb defense throughout the tournament in beating Southwestern Bell of Odessa, 16-8; Rivas, 8-0; Clay Chemical, 14-0; Snowwhite, 8-7 and 12-3.

Goodrich had to score a run in the seventh inning to down Snowwhite in a quarterfinal game. Howard Varley slammed a homer for the winners in that game. In the title game, Snowwhite got homers from Harold Hamel and Mike Timmons while Tim Peden, former Kermit and University of Texas at El Paso star, poked one for Goodrich.

Snowwhite started off by taking a 1-0 lead in the first inning on Hamel's homer, but the Tiremen erupted for six runs in the same frame and Goodrich pounded out 14 runs in the title game to Snowwhite's seven.

Alan Wootan and James Rhodes had two-base hits for the winners along with Peden's homer. Skip Statton came up with two timely base hits for Goodrich.

Smith Brothers took an impressive 15-7 victory over McAfee with Randy Ward, Jim Livingston and Don Smith powering homers. Smith had two homers and Livingston had a grand-slam for the Pipers.

Snowwhite gained the finish with wins over HNG Oil 17-12; Crestview Baptist, 14-4; and Optimista, 8-3 before bowing to Goodrich in the narrow 6-7 loss and then came back to drop Lincoln-ORD, 4-3, for another shot at the Tiremen in the finals.

The stadium was very hot, too hot even for the fans, who were fanning themselves. As I said the other day, I only felt about 70 per cent. I felt good sometimes when I was in control of the ball.

SHR Greatest
Dallas goalie Ken Cooper said, "Injured or not Pele is still the greatest. That pass was really something."

Dallas Coach Ron Newman said, "I've heard criticism that Pele is a has-been. Well, I sure would like a lot of has-beens like that on my team."

The Tornado tied the score 1-1 on a goal by Richie Reynolds at 31:40 but the Cosmos seemed to put the match away on Marcel Maria's perfect shot on a rebound off the goalkeeper at 34:29.

However, Brazilian De was ruled handling the ball in the penalty area with five seconds remaining in regulation play. Mike Renshaw made the penalty kick to the things up.

After two fruitless overtimes, Cooper blocked De's penalty kick and Peter Creamer converted for Dallas. The Tornado won the penalty kickoff 4-3 and the game.

The previous record crowd for a Dallas game was 24,743 in 1972 to watch the Moscow Dynamo.

Cooper said, "You saw a crippled man play out three tonight and he was the equal of most on the field. That gives you an idea of what kind of a player he is when he's 100 per cent."

Pele Gets Record Crowd For Dallas

IRVING, Tex. (AP) — Pele, succeeded in drawing a record crowd to Texas Stadium, but it was difficult for the game's greatest star to showcase his talents with an injured thigh and teammates who usually ignored his pleas for the ball.

The 34-year-old Brazilian showed a brief flash of brilliance that has made him the most famed sports figure in the world midway in the first half Sunday night, with a cat-quick move, he flashed by a Dallas defender and placed a perfect pass for an easy goal by Mordchal Spigler.

Pele Rejuvenated
But Pele, who was injured a week ago in Canada, went down at 71:29 of the second half in a collision near the Tornado net. He reinjured his thigh and left for the night. Dallas went on to win the North American Soccer League exhibition 3-2. Penalty kicks after two 15-minute periods.

A crowd of 26,127 gave Pele a standing ovation as he entered the stadium flashing a victory sign before the match. Tornado owner Lamar Hunt had predicted a crowd of 30,000.

"I cried when I ran the lap around the field," said Pele. "It was a very emotional experience ... I loved the Dallas crowd very much."

About his injury, Pele said, "The left thigh hurt very much but felt better when I removed the tape. I should be able to play by Wednesday of this week."

DON'T TREAD ON ME—Boston's Denny Doyle (5) straddles New York's Roy White after completing a double play Sunday. That was the way things went for the Yankees as Boston swept a doubleheader. (AP Wirephoto.)

East Germans, Americans Dominate Aquatics Swim

CALI. Columbia (AP) — They pulled the plug on the second World Aquatics Championships and when it was all over, only the United States and East Germany could hold their heads above water.

The powerful American and East German contingents overwhelmed the field and their only competition was against each other.

The United States Sunday claimed its second straight World Aquatics Championships team victory, finishing with 16 gold medals, 11 silver and 10 bronze. East Germany totaled they have closed the gap somewhat, it still exists.

"We have come back and I think we have proven this," said Flip Darr, coach of the American women swimmers who won three gold, five silver and five bronze.

"Our situation after the Olympics was not a shortage of talent. We had many young girls who had done great, but the older experienced girls who retired hurt us a bit and we didn't realize it in time.

Overconfidence, however, is not the reason why the American women lose to swimmers like Kornelia Ender.

Sunday night, on the ninth and last day of these aquatic games, brought together more than 700 competitors.

WASHINGTON — Guillermo Vilas and Florin Di Mauro advanced to the semifinals of the $100,000 Washington Star International Tennis Tournament.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — Royal Glen, $10,000, led from start to finish Saturday and won the $250,000 Atlantic City Handicap on the grass at Atlantic City.

MEMPHIS (AP) — Five players who competed in the U.S. Tennis Association's 16 Girls National Clay Court Tournament have been selected for the Junior Wightman Cup team.

CISSIE COLLINS identified the five as Lea Antonopis of Glendora, Calif.; Barbara Hallquist of Arcadia, Calif.; Beth Norton of Fairfield, Conn.; and Paula Smith and Susan Hagey of La Jolla, Calif.

First — 400 yards: Double Gogo 5:30, 4:50, 2:50; Zurewice 6:30, 4:40; Amortorlat 5:30, 4:30.

Sox Sweep Yankees

By The Associated Press Break up the Red Sox!!! The boys from Boston are running away with the American League East and they don't expect to be caught from behind.

"I don't think we can blow it," said Manager Darrell Johnson. "These boys just love to play baseball and they play the hell out of it."

The reason for all the optimism was a 1-0, 6-0 sweep of the New York Yankees Sunday, a twin-killing that lifted the Red Sox eight games ahead of second-place Baltimore in the East Division.

Baltimore rallied for six runs in the ninth to tie the second game and five more in the 10th to win it.

Stock Prices Slump Deeper In Listless Trading Session

NEW YORK (AP) - Prices continued to pull back in a drifting, listless session in the stock market today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 4.38 at 829.71 following a 47.72-point drop over the previous eight trading days. Losers outnumbered gainers by more than a 2-1 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers blamed the cautious atmosphere on inflation worries and rising interest rates. A quarter-point increase to 7 1/2 per cent in the prime lending rate continued to spread in the banking industry today.

Polaroid led the active list on the NYSE, down 3 1/2 at 38 1/2. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .45 at 60.69.
