Hearing Set To Check Assets Backing Bail Bonds

By ED TOOD

A justice court hearing to test the sufficiency of securities offered by Midland bail bondsmen Odell and Thomas Walker on three felony bail bonds totaling $230,000 has been set for 10 a.m. Oct. 20 in Peace Justice Court.

The sureties to be tested were offered on three $40,000 bonds underwritten by the Walker brothers on three men charged last month with felony possession of marijuana.

Traditionally, a defendant is required to post a bondman 10 percent of the bond's face value that together they had $80,000. The bond is to ensure a court in unencumbered assets.

The three were arrested by Department of Public Safety narcotics agents Sept. 23 on out the monetary worth — less additional bail bonds upon which the principal amounts added together exceed $120,000.

They underwrite the majority of bail bonds issued in the county.

Let me get my attorney, and he'll talk to you. He'll get to you," Walker said. His attorney in bond forfeiture hearings in state court earlier this year was H. Thomas Hirsch of Odessa.

Bail bonds here are kept by the sheriff's office. State law requires bonds to be filed in the appropriate courts. In Midland County, that would mean that felony bonds would be filed and stored by District Clerk Madge Wallis, and that misdemeanor bonds would be filed by County Clerk Rosanelle Cherry.

The trustees had a very good reception on their part. The trustee president had been waiting for a response expressed some concern that the general bond market and New York's financial woes might affect the Midland rating.

Higher ratings generally result in better interest rates. The board president noted that representatives of both bond rating companies were in Midland.

Doctor Says There's No Hope For Karen Quinlan

By STEPHEN M. BROWN MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP) — A neurologist testified today that medical science can do nothing to bring Karen Ann Quinlan out of a coma. Dr. Julius Koren, who examined Miss Quinlan as well as 200 other comatose patients in the last few years, made the assertion in testimony at a trial of a plea by Miss Quinlan's parents that she be allowed to "die with dignity." "Can the art of medicine repair the damage?" asked the Quinlan's attorney, Paul W. Armstrong. "In my opinion, no," the neurologist said. "Is there any course of treatment that will lead to the improvement of Karen's condition?" Armstrong asked. "No," the brain doctor said, "and many of my colleagues do not believe in saving a life that will lay as a vegetable for 10 years." During Koren's testimony, Julia Quinlan walked wobbly-legged from the courtroom with tears welling in her eyes. The slender, red-haired homemaker left in apparent reaction to Koren's description of her emaciated, comatose 21-year-old daughter, who has feeding tubes and a respirator hooked to her body. The daughter is in a vegetative state and has difficulty breathing without the respirator, Koren said. Mrs. Quinlan and her husband, Joseph, were scheduled to testify after Koren. They are seeking authority to disconnect the respirator, which has been keeping their daughter alive for six months. The parents were accompanied to court Monday by another daughter, Mary Ellen, 19, and the family's parish priest, the Rev. Thomas Trapasso, who supports the right to unplug the respirator. Two physicians caring for Miss Quinlan testified when the trial opened Monday that they would not disconnect the respirator even under court order, although there is little likelihood she will recover from the coma.

Oil's Hall Of Fame

The induction of 11 outstanding men into the prestigious Petroleum Hall of Fame of the recently completed Permian Basin Petroleum Museum is scheduled for tonight at the Midland Country Club.

This quite naturally makes this another great and exciting day in the history of the Permian Basin Empire of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico.

Merited recognition of persons who have distinguished themselves as leaders in the progress, growth and development of an industry, community or region always is a thrilling, heart-warming occasion.

The induction of the 11 men is a fitting tribute to the industry and the men who have made it what it is today.

The men being inducted are: W. W. Rife, Chairman of the Board, Permian Basin Petroleum Museum; W. W. Rife, Chairman of the Board, Permian Basin Petroleum Museum; W. W. Rife, Chairman of the Board, Permian Basin Petroleum Museum.

NICK THIMMESCH

The Fine 'Firm' Of Moynihan And Garment

Moynihan and Garment are the two men who have been the most vocal critics of the Nixon administration's foreign policy.

Moynihan, once optimistic about the emerging nations' ability to develop democratic governments, now is skeptical about the trend, and attributes it to Communist arms, intrigue and treachery in Asia and Africa.

Moynihan told me in his office here, "For Mr. Amin to call for the extinction of Israel is unacceptable to our government. This language is just unacceptable."

Currently, the U.S. mission to the U.N. is engaged in a ruckus over a resolution by 20 Arab nations to condemn Zionism as "a form of racism and racial discrimination."

Moynihan's partner in this effort is Leonard Garment, U.S. representative on human rights, and counsel to the U.S. delegation. This firm of Moynihan and Garment has been in so many brahms with Uncle Sam's antagonists already

It is well to consider, in this regard, the criteria for Hall of Fame nominees. "Any person, living or dead, and any firm, corporation or partnership, active or dissolved, who has or have, by their work, exceptional service, inventiveness or propagation of unusual ideas, contributed materially to the success of the petroleum industry in the Permian Basin . . . and by their activities and integrity have created a benefit to their community."

There is no doubt that the 1975 recipients qualify by wide margins. They have contributed much to many in the Permian Basin and other petroleum-producing regions.

They are and have been generous, unselfish and devoted in their service and contributions for the benefit of all. The Permian Basin Empire has prospered and benefited in numerous ways as a result of their efforts.

It is no wonder then that this such a great and memorable occasion, honoring as it does the Hall of Fame honorees, living and deceased.

The 1975 recipients rank right along with the Hall of Fame honorees of other years in records of service, accomplishments and benevolence.

Residents of the Permian Basin and beyond are indebted to the Hall of Fame honorees for their noteworthy achievements and unselfish service to the betterment of our community.

Moynihan's partner in this effort is Leonard Garment, U.S. representative on human rights, and counsel to the U.S. delegation. This firm of Moynihan and Garment has been in so many brahms with Uncle Sam's antagonists already

Moynihan and Garment are the two men who have been the most vocal critics of the Nixon administration's foreign policy.

Moynihan, once optimistic about the emerging nations' ability to develop democratic governments, now is skeptical about the trend, and attributes it to Communist arms, intrigue and treachery in Asia and Africa.

Moynihan told me in his office here, "For Mr. Amin to call for the extinction of Israel is unacceptable to our government. This language is just unacceptable."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON with LES WHITTEN

WASHINGTON — We recently reported that the Pentagon had its own plumbers squad which, like the notorious White House plumbers, tried to plug news leaks.

Now we have learned that even the Pentagon plumbers also investigated congressional leaks. Not even Senate Armed Services Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., was immune.

Above all men, he could be called the Pope of the Pentagon, the protector of the military establishment, the darling of the armaments industry. Yet the military brass apparently didn't trust him with all their secrets.

For when information was leaked out of channels to the venerable Stennis, the Pentagon plumbers were turned loose on his trail. The inside story is contained in the unpublished memoirs of W. Donald Stewart, the former chief Pentagon plumber.

As the fogged Stewart recounts it, he obtained from a congressional source a copy of the document that had been leaked to Stennis. The Xeroxing showed the telltale outlines of paper clips.

Stewart painstakingly tracked down every Pentagon copy of the document and finally found the "hot" one with paper clips intact in the safe of a retired major general.

Fingerprints on the paper helped him narrow his search to seven high military officers. One had handled the paper more than the others, but Stewart "offered" all seven a chance to take a lie detector test to clear themselves. Six accepted immediately.

The seventh officer, whose fingerprints occurred most frequently on the document, went to a lawyer. But Stewart prepared to close the trap he received word that Stennis' office had contacted Defense Secretary Melvin

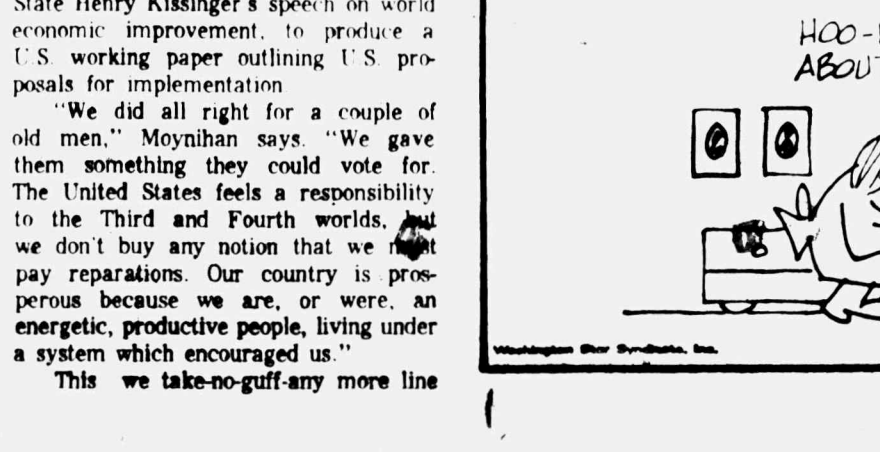

By Moynihan has the full blessing of President Ford and Secretary Kissinger. Moynihan takes his own initiative, though he is an instructed ambassador.

The President gives me all the support I deserve and need," he says. "I've been in government long enough under four Presidents, to know what to do."

So, as in the cold war days, when our U.N. ambassadors had to talk right back at the Soviet Union, we are now in a verbal confrontation with the Third and Fourth world nations.

Moynihan will not only fend off rude attacks from those quarters but he will also have to cope with the crucial vote on the two Koreas later this fall. For the first time in years, it appears we will be having a lively time at the United Nations.

The Comeback Trail; 'It's In The Cards'

WASHINGTON — The New Nixon was sitting on the porch of La Casa Pacifica at San Clemente slumped in his chair staring out at the sea. The Old Nixon carrying a golf bag came out jauntily whistling "Hail to the Chief."

"Where are you going?" The New Nixon asked bitterly. "I'm going to play golf with the Teamsters at La Casa," the Old Nixon said. "What a day."

"How can you play golf after what we've been through?" the New Nixon asked. "Cheer up, Dicky boy," the Old Nixon said. "We're on the comeback trail. Look at this. We're on the cover of Newsweek magazine. Did you ever dream we'd ever make the cover of Newsweek again?"

The New Nixon shook his head. "I don't get it. You never give up, do you?" The Old Nixon said. "You're damn right I never give up. They had me counted out after the presidential election in 1960. They said I couldn't get elected dogcatcher after I lost for governor in 1962. But I fooled them, Dicky, and I'm going to fool them again. They haven't heard the last of Richard Milhous Nixon."

"I wouldn't believe it if I didn't see it with my own eyes," the New Nixon said. "Wait until our book comes out," the Old Nixon said. "Just wait until they hear our side of the story. There will be more than Teamsters wanting to play golf with me then."

"Richard," said the New Nixon, "do you really think we can make a comeback? Or are you just saying that to make me feel better?" "It's in the cards, Dicky. After my interviews with David Frost, the American people are going to see that all we were trying to do was protect the Presidency of the United States. Oh, there will be some who will say we lied and we cheated and we brought disgrace on the office. But we won't hate them for saying that."

"We won't," the New Nixon said. "No," replied the Old Nixon, "but we'll keep their names on file cards and someday when we're back in power they're going to be sorry they ever made an issue of Watergate."

"What are we going to say about Watergate in our book?" "It was a mistake, and we should have taken more of an interest in what our staff was doing. They let us down. But we're not going to blame them. We're taking full responsibility for their actions, no matter how contemptible they were and no matter how much we disapproved of the illegal manner in which they carried out our orders. As President it was our job to see that they did not violate the trust we had given them, in spite of all the other things we had on our mind during that momentous period in American history."

"I think Florida will buy it," the New Nixon said. "It will just be a matter of time, Dicky, before we're on top again," the Old Nixon said. "We'll take a trip the China, then to the Soviet Union and then to the Middle East. They love us over there, not like the creeps in this country who always had it in for us."

The New Nixon suddenly was coming out of his lethargy. "You know, you might just possibly swing it," he said. "Six months ago I wouldn't have given 18 1/2 minutes of my time for our chances of making a comeback. But now with the book and the TV and the Teamsters I'm starting to think a new man."

The Old Nixon slapped him on the back. "My boy, Dicky. Don't forget what we tried to do to Patton."

"I think they'll invite us to the Republican National Convention," the New Nixon said. "Do you really think they'll invite us to the Republican National Convention?" "Invite us?" chuckled the Old Nixon. "Would you believe the keynote speaker?"

Watergate Comparisons Discounted In Burglary Try At Ford Campaign Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — Discovery of an attempted burglary at the offices of President Ford's campaign committee stirred memories of Watergate, but officials quickly discounted any comparisons.

Lester R. Benjamin, accountant for the President Ford Committee, reported finding two jimmy-bar marks on a file cabinet when he unlocked it Monday morning. But whoever tried to pry the cabinet open was unsuccessful and nothing was taken, he said.

The heavy-duty cabinet contained checks, cash and financial records but no political documents, according to Benjamin and Robert Visser, general counsel for the committee.

"We can't presume the burglar had any political motivations," Visser said. "There is no indication that this was any kind of a political attempt to do anything."

Visser said police concurred. Nevertheless, the attempted break-in evoked memories of the burglary of the Democratic National Committee offices at the Watergate complex on June 17, 1972 — an event which ultimately led to the resignation of President Richard M. Nixon.

Five men were arrested in the Watergate burglary, which proved to have been planned by officials of the Committee to Re-Elect the President. In addition to attempting to photograph political records, their mission was to remove listening devices previously implanted in telephones.

By contrast to the nighttime Watergate burglary, Visser theorized that the attempt to open the file cabinet at the Ford committee offices in a downtown Washington office building could have occurred during the daytime when staff members and some workmen were in the offices.

He said the committee is on a seven-day week and six to 15 staff members worked both days of the weekend. Several workmen also were in the offices, which are undergoing a major revamping that includes the moving of walls and relocation of electrical and telephone outlets.

There was no sign of forced entry on the office doors or of other cabinets, including those which contain political records, changes are expected soon, Visser said. He said the locked cabinet from the firm handling security is the only one of its kind in the building's offices.

26 Persons Die In Subway Crash

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mayor Octavio Senties blamed "technical and perhaps human failure" for the rush-hour collision of two subway trains that took the lives of 26 persons and injured 55.

A spokesman for the mayor said there was no suspicion of sabotage. Key factors appeared to be that the train in front was slightly behind schedule because its emergency cord had been pulled twice, and an electronic emergency braking system on the second train "somehow didn't work," Red Cross authorities said. An investigation commission went to work immediately. The collision Monday morning was the first major accident with commuters on their way to work, women on their way to market, university students in blue jeans and schoolchildren.

The impact was so tremendous that the second train ploughed halfway through the rear car of the waiting train, said Red Cross worker Arturo Luna. The first train was at the station, putting off and going.

There was blood everywhere. Train No. 10 crashed into its rear. The trains were packed with commuters on their way to work, women on their way to market, university students in blue jeans and schoolchildren.

Fever Sidelines President Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fever for about two weeks over a sinus infection and During that time, he has canceled his appointments today and plan to stay away from his office for a second day.

Under treatment that included an antibiotic, a decongestant, aspirin and rest, the President sent word through his press secretary, Ron Nessen Monday evening.

"I feel much better. I haven't slept this much in my life."

White House physician William Lukash ordered a second day of curtailed activities for Ford after the President's fever continued to be "a little above 100" degrees.

The presidential doctor declined to give a precise temperature reading beyond that and Nessen told reporters "this is Dr. Lukash's method of describing his patients."

Ford, 62, who prides himself on his good health, has been ailing from sinus irritation and "completely clear."

Ford canceled appointments Monday and spent most of the day sleeping and resting in the White House family quarters. He saw four of his top aides during the day in a study off his bedroom.

The presidential spokesman assured reporters that Ford had nothing more seriously wrong with him than all other scribbling his patients'.

Boys Build Grape Arbor

Fifteen seventh and eighth grade boys, all members of Aubrey Reid's vocational classes at Goddard Junior High School, have built a grape arbor of the highest quality.

The arbor, built according to specifications of the original arbor, was erected at the same spot where the original one stood. Lattice work will be done later.

Andy's Lumber Co. furnished the materials for the job without cost.

The arbor project was sponsored by the Pentecostal Garden Club of which Tommie Smith is president.

Mid-Pregnancy Tests For Genetic Diseases Now Pronounced 'Safe'

The Washington Post given to most of the 160,000 are still 99 to one that the baby will be normal. Those are pretty good odds.

In amniocentesis a thin needle is inserted into the mother's abdomen at about 16 weeks of pregnancy and a small amount of amniotic fluid is removed for analysis.

Until now, according to Alexander, doctors guessed the risk of the test itself was almost one in 100 based on occasional reports that a needle had damaged a fetus. But recently the risk has been reduced because with more experience doctors are more skilled with the needle.

"We will still have some occasional adverse effect," Alexander said. "But our results say to women and doctors they can now recommend amniocentesis without seriously adding risk."

The test takes five minutes and cost about $400 including an examination beforehand and counseling afterward, he said.

In these cases, women chose abortion and eight of their aborted fetuses turned out to have mongolism or Down's syndrome.

Among the 992 women who did not have the test, seven women gave birth to babies with Down's syndrome.

The risk of Down's or other chromosomal abnormality is only 1 in 2,000 to 3,000 in women up to the age 25," said Dr. Michael Kaback of the University of California at Los Angeles.

"In women 30 and over it's that the media's treatment of one in 1,000. But in women 35 and over it is one in 100."

Clublands Crashing In Britain

Agence France-Presse
LONDON—British clubland is crashing as money becomes scarce and customs change in the last half of the 20th Century.

Retired generals, diplomats and lawyers, who once spent all day every day in their exclusive haunts in the Mayfair clubland, now show up only once a month.

A sign of the times was the plea recently sent by the committee of the "United Services Club" for each member to pay a further $60 for their annual subscription—80 per cent of the 400 members sent nothing. Most are retired generals and admirals.

Its former secretary, Commander James Auld, explained: "In the old days, generals came every Wednesday, after having bought Walls' sausages in nearby Jermyn Street for a gift or two. Nowadays they have hardly enough for a train ticket to come to London."

The effect of a 27 per cent inflation on the fixed incomes of many club members is not the only reason for declining affairs clubland. Times and customs have changed. There is no more British Empire and officers no longer have a need to "get together as they used to discuss the 'war' and its burden."

At a time when the clubs are in financial difficulties and British lords open their mansions and country houses to the public for an entrance fee of $100, the clubs are struggling to survive.

THE PICTURE is not clear whether the clubs are dying. The Marlborough Club, one of the "The Authors" of the "The Carlton" and "The Reform" and "The United Services Club" and "The Admiralty" or "Boodles".

Richard Edmond, Chairman of the Association of London Clubs also secretary of "Boodles" in St. James Street, said that it was quite common at one time for members to pass the entire day in their club.

They would sit in the smoking room in the morning reading The Times, with a hand bell for the waiter beside them. They would lunch and afterwards spend a few hours on their own private business before going home for dinner. Today, most of our members only come a month.

While two of the surviving clubs, St. James and Boodle's, are still open, many others have closed their doors.

For instance, Boodle's prospered in the 1950s. Its staff has the same percentage of hotel and restaurant employees as in the 1950s.

One club secretary who preferred not to give his name said: "In the 1950s, the clubs were in the golden age of clubland was in 1980. Each club had not more than 150 members, but each of them was a rich man."

By 1945, the average membership figure of the clubs had risen to 800 and had fallen to 100.

Even though the annual membership subscription is in the range of $200, the clubs are losing money.

ONE CLUB secretary said: "It would be worth our while to give each member coming here for lunch $1 to go somewhere else." Labor costs are crippling.

The clubs are also victims of Victorian traditions of keeping out tradesmen or the rich as members. Many clubs still retain massive old premises far too costly to maintain and staff these days but they will not move to modern ones. Many have agreed to compromise in order to survive. For instance, many close down over the weekends and some of them for a whole month a year. Many have allowed women members to enter although keeping at least one place a strictly male area—usually the reading room where the men take an afternoon siesta.

Edmond, at "Boodles" for 10 years, believes that clubs will be able to beat inflation only if their committees run the clubs on a profit basis. "There would be considerable savings if the clubs formed a sales association for oil, gin and whisky." There could be no thought of such an association for wines—no club would like to have the same kind of Bordeaux as any of the others.

Lee
High
Chatter

By JOLEE AYLESWORTH,
JANA WILLIAMSON &
LISA McDONALD

Anybody need an unused run-through sign? The 1975 Homecoming was a big success despite the tough battle between the Lee Rebels and the Cooper Cougars. The Homecoming events were topped off by the announcement of our queen, Lisa McDonald. What better Dixie royalty than our fellow Chatter writer, Jana and Jolee extend congratulations, and we love you.

Saturday night saw the best-looking guys and gals in Rebland dancing to the tunes of the Traveling Salesmen. The Youth Center was decorated in the red, white and blue of our country in a Bicentennial salute. The murals were outstanding thanks to Lee's Rembrandts — Brenda Cary and the social committee led by Laura Wardrop and Jill Chism.

The mighty Rebs paraded downtown in a long train of maroon and white. The Senior Class's float took the Sweepstakes title with a liberty bell that really rang for freedom. The Maroon Platoon picked its sweetheart for this year — Robin Malone. Congratulations Robin! The Ramblin' Rebel Brigade couldn't be beat for one of the best. Alison Berry. The Lee Chorale honored Patti Roper as its Dixie Belle. Donette Earl represented the Future Teachers. The National Honor Society sweetheart was Susie Fischer. Lisa Drake represented those in Cosmetology. Congratulations to all these girls.

Thanks to Mrs. Comstock, Mrs. Chism and Mrs. Wardrop for helping with decorations, punch etc. And to Mr. and Mrs. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Welton, Mr. Woods and Dr. Smith for chaperoning. All of these adults helped to make our homecoming dance a success. Thanks to the hostesses and a special thank-you to Brady Smith for helping so much.

Very special thanks go to these people for helping clean up the mess after the dance: Darlene Dot Sherry, Williams, Teresa Stoltz, Laurie Smith, Lisa Labby, Tammi Sweet, Kathi Wolf, Nancy Kallaja, Hillier Hall, Kristal Koch, Carl Comstock and Laura Wardrop.

A special Rebel salute goes to the sponsors for their patience and time that they gave so unselfishly for the seniors, Mr. Howard and Miss Baugh for the juniors, Mr. Gregory and Mrs. White, and for the sophomores, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Anderson.

The Spooks and Goblins are coming a little early this year. The 4th annual Halloween Carnival and Dance will be held Saturday. The carnival will be followed with a dance from 9:30 to midnight, with music by Sweetleaf. The Junior Council, 100 Club and Rebel Brigade are working to make this the biggest and best ever. Any group, club or organization can have booth space for only $1. If your group is interested in being a part of the Halloween Carnival talk to Bryan Pope, Jamie Hale or Missy Senght. Don't miss the fun. Ya'll Come!

The Lee Chorale is gonna send chills up your spine and shivers to your toes with its annual Spook House the 29th and 30th. Go to the corner of Mississippi and Weatherford with 50 cents between 7 and 10 p.m. to have the living daylights scared out of you.

The new smarties of Lee High are going to be inducted into the National Honor Society at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Lee auditorium. The old members of N.H.S. are reminded of the induction rehearsal at 3 p.m. Wednesday in the auditorium. Members of induction committee, don't forget to bake rookies or help set up chairs.

That's all for this week. Now let's all rest up for the Big Spring Steve Stompin' Friday night.

Love and Kisses,
Jolee
Jana and Lisa

P.S. We still have an un-used run-through sign if anybody needs it.

P.P.S. Happy Birthdays to Polly Haney, Robert Oschner, Deanna Whisnand and Bill Murray.

Proclaimed Republic
Goaded into resistance by the new constitution and rapidly drifting into more radical channels, the Hungarian Diet, meeting temporarily at Debrecen, on April 13, 1988, proclaimed the Hungarian Republic.

Supreme Hearing Texas O

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court Monday heard oral arguments in a case that could reshape the boundary between Texas and Louisiana. The court said it would hear the case in March. A senior justice judge from Louisiana, Van Pelt, appointed to look into a line between the two states at the mouth of the Red River. Texas argued that the line should be drawn along the shore of the river, while Louisiana argued for the middle of the river. This would have a boundary line far from the river.

Supreme Court To Set Hearing In Louisiana, Texas Offshore Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — The seabed up to nine miles offshore Louisiana's grant extends only three miles. Louisiana and Texas in their dispute over their offshore boundary in the Gulf of Mexico. The court said it will hold a hearing "in due course" on the oil and other natural resources underlying the gulf.

Van Pelt, a senior federal district judge from Lincoln, Neb., appointed by the court to look into the dispute, recommended a line extending seaward from midway between jetties at the mouth of the Sabine River.

Texas argued that the jetties should not be counted in determining the shoreline for the purpose of figuring where the middle of the river was. This would have resulted in a boundary line farther to the east.

The federal government in 1973 that the middle of the river was the boundary between the two states. Louisiana had hoped to set the boundary on the western shore.

Producers Final In Pecos Fields

The GMW (Montoya) field of South Pecos gained its fifth well and a one-mile north extension with completion of Texas Pacific Oil Co. Inc. No. 2-A Elanor, 17 miles south of Fort Stockton.

It gauged a calculated, absolute open flow of 3,223 million cubic feet of dry gas per day. Production was through perforations at 12,174-12,296 feet which had been acidized with 20,000 gallons.

Location is 1,900 feet from south and east lines of section 71, block D, GC&SF survey.

Government Recommends Support For Synthetic Fuel Producers

By STAN BENJAMIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration has decided to recommend federal support for projects aimed at synthetically producing the equivalent of 350,000 barrels of oil daily.

In an energy message last January, President Ford said the government should promote development of a synthetic fuels industry capable of producing the equivalent of one million barrels of oil a day by 1985 through conversion of shale to oil and coal to oil and gas.

Briefing reporters on Monday, however, officials said an interagency task force will recommend an immediate start on a more limited program and wait to decide whether to proceed to the million-barrel level.

Robert Seamans, head of the Energy Research and Development Administration, and William McCormick, chief of science and energy technology at the Office of Management and Budget, said the administration is proposing to underwrite up to $5 billion of private industry's investment risk for development of the synthetic fuels industry.

McCormick said that would be the government's maximum investment risk for development of the synthetic fuels industry.

Stennis Reportedly 'Doing Fine' After Gallstone Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., is "doing fine" after surgery at Walter Reed Medical Center to remove his gall bladder and a gallstone, his office says.

"I haven't talked with him personally since the operation but doctors say he's doing fine," a spokesman for Stennis said Monday.

The medical center issued a statement saying Stennis, 74, underwent surgery very well with no complications.

Stennis, of Dekalb, Miss., was elected to the Senate in 1947 and is chairman of the Armed Services Committee.

His office said doctors had not indicated how long he would remain hospitalized but that "the normal convalescence on something like this is two or three weeks."

Cox Stakes Site In Gaines Field

John L. Cox of Midland plans to drill No. 3 ODC as a southeast offset to production in the three-well Seagraves, South (San Andres) field of Gaines County.

It is projected to 5,800 feet, and spots 660 feet from south and 1,900 feet from east lines of section 2, block C-35, PSL survey, four miles southwest of Seagraves.

Pool In Scurry Gains New Test

William M. Fuller operating from Fort Worth, staked site for a 1/2-mile west stepout of the Earnest (E. S. Brown) Pennsylvania field of Scurry County. It is No. 1 H. P. Brown Estate.

Drillsite is 660 feet from south and 1,900 feet from west lines of section 31, block 3, H&GN survey, four miles southwest of Hermleigh. Contract depth is 7,650 feet.

Judge Again Delays Contract Lawsuit

By STEPHEN M. EAMES
SAN ANTONIO, AP — State District Court Judge Peter Michael Curry again delayed today the City of San Antonio's long-standing $200 million breach of contract lawsuit against LoVaca Gathering Co.

The suit had been set to begin Monday but legal snafus delayed it.

Judge Curry said he would set no new date until after hearing Dec. 1 motions by co-defendants Coastal States and Coastal States' Board Chairman Oscar Wyatt.

"I'm somewhat determined to go to trial this year," Curry said after lawyers swapped charges that each side was delaying the suit.

Curry at first set a trial date for Dec. 15 but relented when Coastal States lawyers called it an unrealistic date.

San Antonio filed suit against LoVaca whose parent company is Coastal States, nearly two years ago claiming breach of a 1960 natural gas supply contract.

LoVaca raised its prices to the city above the contracted prices under a 1973 Texas Railroad Commission emergency interim rate order issued after natural gas shortages developed in the early 1970s.

San Antonio uses natural gas in its own distribution system and to power electricity generators.

Petroleum Hall Of Fame Dinner To Draw Crowd

A capacity crowd is expected Friday at the Midland Country Club tonight for the Permian Basin Petroleum Hall of Fame Dinner.

Eleven persons, four of them living, will be inducted into the hall of fame organized several years ago as a vehicle to honor persons who made outstanding contributions to the development of the Permian Basin oil industry.

The living members to be inducted are W. Arthur Yeager and John P. Butler of Midland; Neville G. Penrose of Fort Worth and Ronald K. DeFord of Austin.

Two other deceased Midlanders, Fred Turner Jr. and R. W. Patterson, also will join the list of those honored by the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame.

The event will get under way at 6 p.m. with a reception at the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame.

W. H. "Bill" Collins, chairman of the museum's Hall of Fame Committee, will make a special museum progress report.

McCormick said that if Congress passes such a program quickly, construction of synthetic fuel plants could begin in 1977, and the estimated 14 billion barrels needed for the 350,000-barrel production level could be completed by the end of 1978.

More Clouds, But No Rain

Clouds of all shapes and sizes were visible in Texas today, but there was still no sign of precipitation that would end a fall drought.

Lox clouds were reported in South Central Texas, while middle cloudiness moved into West Texas. Thin wisps of high clouds blanketed much of Central and Southwest Texas while the remainder of the state was clear.

The Associated Press reported that Memphis, Tenn., generally light southerly winds caused warmer nighttime temperatures over the state. In most of the Panhandle and portions of East Texas, predawn temperatures were in the mid and upper 50s while the rest of the state generally had readings in the 60s.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William Mills, D-Md., would sponsor a bill to provide a new and rational approach to financial problems such as New York City is facing.

Speaker Predicts Development Of 'New Vitality' In McCamey

By LARRY LOVELACE Staff Writer

McCAMEY — Declaring that "Quality is not usually associated with small school systems," he said, "but we were far better prepared for college than the majority of our year's speaker, Brown said he'd predicted a "new vitality" for McCamey.

Kellerman was an honor graduate at UT Austin in 1957. He said he felt the school system provided distinct advantages in quantity and quality.

"Smallness is not usually thought of as good," he said, "but it allows close contact with the teachers, individual attention for everyone, and also permits those who want to participate in athletics to do so."

Lamesa Chamber Banquet Spirited Affair

By JAN WILLIAMS Staff Writer

LAMESA — The annual biennial provided the theme Monday night for Lamesa, an annual chamber of commerce luncheon. Whether we like it or not, we live in a political world, the guest speaker said.

Freeman said, "Expressing our thoughts to our representative U.S. Chamber of Commerce." Freeman also noted the importance of the agricultural community to the chamber.

"We need to work more closely with industry here," Freeman said. "And we want them to know we're willing to work with interest in the chamber."

Dutchman's Kidnapers Surrounded

MONASTEREVIN, Ireland (AP) — Armed police and troops stormed a house today in this sleepy town 40 miles west of Dublin where kidnaped Dutch industrialist Tede Herrema is being held, police said.

A squad of troopers smashed down the front door of the two-story house and police officers led by Supt. John Fleming of Dublin's special branch force charged in to occupy the ground floor, a spokesman said.

The kidnapers fired five shots at the assault group but no one was hurt, police reported. The assault team did not shoot back, apparently in fear of hitting Herrema.

The kidnapers, believed to be Irish Republican Army guerrillas Eddie Gallagher, 26, and Marion Coyle, 19, retreated to an upstairs bedroom holding a 53-year-old Herrema's head.

Mary Davern, who lives opposite the house in the St. Evans housing development, reported she heard a man being led to Herrema screaming, "Let me out, let me out!"

Earlier reports from the area said that Herrema was apparently hysterical as his kidnapers began shooting. Police could not confirm that but a spokesman said the kidnapers are shouting a lot.

"We're negotiating with the kidnapers for Dr. Herrema's release," a police spokesman said. "Police officers are at the foot of the stairs trying to persuade the man and the woman with Herrema to give up."

Kissinger, Mao Hold Surprise Meeting At Chairman's Home

PEKING (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger held a surprise meeting Tuesday night with Chairman Mao Tse-tung in a guest room in near ecstacy.

Communist China's 81-year-old leader invited Kissinger to the west of Peking in a setting reminiscent of the mountains of Vermont and New Hampshire.

Kissinger arrived at Mao's home at 6:30 p.m. accompanied by his wife, Nancy, and seven aides.

After being introduced to Mao, Mrs. Kissinger and five of the aides left George Bush, the U.S. liaison officer in Peking, and Winston Lord, Kissinger's special assistant, remained for Mao's talk with the secretary of state.

It was not immediately known how long the meeting lasted.

Despite his meeting with Mao, there was no indication that Kissinger would get to see Premier Chou En-lai during his five-day visit to the Chinese capital. Chou is reported very ill with heart trouble and is known to have seen a foreign brought squeals of delight from the Americans. The Chinese before his late afternoon meeting with Teng, Kissinger chuckled as they watched their guest spending most of the day in a guests' room in near ecstacy.

After an hour's drive to the west of Peking, Kissinger and his wife were taken to the mountains of Vermont and New Hampshire.

Foreign Minister Chiao Kuan-chung, Mao's spokesman, said only that there had been "a review of the international situation."

The secretary of state is also making arrangements for President Ford's visit next month.

Kissinger and his wife were taken Monday night to the new Chinese "revolutionary" opera, "The Azalea Mountain."

As he arrived at a guest house for lunch, Kissinger told the opera tells the story of a villainous warlord called the Viper in the 1830s.

Kissinger dozed repeatedly during the performance.

The Kissingers also interspersed Monday's meetings with tourism, spending part of the afternoon at the Forbidden City, the former palace for Chinese dynasties.

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Hugh L. Carey told Congress today that unless a bill to aid deficit-ridden New York City is on President Ford's desk by early November, both the city and the state will go into default.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana today announced his candidacy for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination.

MADRID (AP) — Gen. Francisco Franco developed a heart problem in addition to influenza, but specialists said his condition improved during the night.

Avoiding Embarrassment Said Reason For Refusal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and his aides are refusing to testify on all advice, including "vigorous dissent," he told on his Cyprus decision.

Kissinger said he had to project lower level officials who might fear their advice to him might later be exposed to public debate.

Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., indicated Monday that State Department reluctance to turn over a subpoenaed memorandum stems from concern that it will show the agency mishandled the Cyprus crisis last year.

Pike's Select House Intelligence Committee was scheduled to meet today to discuss Kissinger's refusal to turn over the document last week.

Pike and other members of the committee said that today they might only discuss Kissinger's refusal to comply with the subpoena, delaying until later a vote to decide how to deal with Kissinger.

"It is seven pages of promised cooperation wrapped around the word no," Pike said of Kissinger's letter refusing to turn over the memo.

In the letter, Kissinger said "I cannot comply" with the subpoena but offered to personally testify on all advice, including "vigorous dissent," he told on his Cyprus decision.

Kissinger said he had to project lower level officials who might fear their advice to him might later be exposed to public debate.

In the final analysis, they (Kissinger and his top aides) are not as interested in protecting this officer at the Cyprus desk whose memorandum was subpoenaed as they are in protecting themselves from embarrassment," Pike said.

The memorandum was written by Thomas Boyatt, former State Department Cyprus desk chief, who acknowledged to the panel that the document details what he considered U.S. mis-handling of the Cyprus crisis.

Boyatt's criticism has not been disclosed, but congressional sources say several operations officers urged Kissinger to take stronger action to try to prevent the Greek coup that started the crisis. A week after the coup, Turkey invaded Cyprus. Turkey still occupies about 40 per cent of the island.

Fiscal Watchdog Committee Approves Plan To Cut New York's Budget

By C. J. SCHOENER
NEW YORK (AP) — The state's fiscal watchdog committee for deficit-ridden New York City has approved an austerity plan that will cut the city's budget by $724 million over the next three years and slash thousands more municipal workers from the payroll.

Gov. Hugh L. Carey, head of the Emergency Financial Control Board, startled other board members Monday night when he told a meeting of the City Club that 55,000 jobs would be eliminated by 1978.

However, Kenneth Axelson, deputy mayor for finance, explained, "My understanding of the governor's remarks is that he was talking about the equivalent number of jobs represented by the $724 million."

Except to say that they would hiring, large-scale service cuts and end to new municipal construction.

The Control Board said it was cutting $390 million from the separate capital budget, used to finance construction projects, elimination of nonpersonnel items.

This year's savings on the $12 billion 1975-76 expense budget were targeted at $200 million.

The budget plan was managed by Abraham D. Beame, includes a three-year freeze on wages and cuts in city's deficit and to restore investor confidence in the city's now-shaky credit rating.

The city came within hours of default last Friday.

At the dinner, the governor lashed out at President Ford's continued opposition to federal aid for New York, which he claimed "all the nation will regard as cruel and short-sighted — a bankruptcy in its own right, the bankruptcy of presidential leadership."

In Washington, Beame felt Congress will do something to help the city but that it was too early to tell what work force by 31,000 jobs to 263,311.

"We can do no more," he told a House subcommittee. "We need help."

While Beame received criticism from several House members for both his request and his approach, Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., House majority leader, said that he felt Congress will do something to help the city but that it was too early to tell what

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said he would sponsor a bill to help New York.

Later, a White House spokesman said Ford "has refrained from saying that he would veto any bill that came to him," but he added, "There is nothing pending now that he realistically could sign."

The spokesman said Ford and his aides "do not think Congress will get together to pass anything."

Parents Continue To Fight For Daughter's Right To Die

By STEPHEN M. BROWN
MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP) — Karen Ann Quinlan's parents appear in court today to argue for their 21-year-old daughter's "right to die."

Two physicians caring for Miss Quinlan testified Monday that they would not disconnect her life-sustaining respirator, even under court order, although there is little likelihood she will recover from the coma she has been in for the last six months.

Monday before Superior Court Judge Robert Muir Jr. Morse spent some three hours on the stand describing his patient's condition and medical treatment. He was questioned by Armstrong as well as state Atty. Gen. William F. Hyland. Morris County Prosecutor G. Colleser, Miss Quinlan's temporary court-appointed guardian, Daniel R. Coburn, and attorneys representing the hospital.

Morse said Miss Quinlan was in a "chronic, persistent vegetative state" but that she has functional, cognitive person.

Church Letters Found In CIA Files

By DAVID C. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Church letters found in CIA files, according to a report by the House Select Committee on Assassinations, suggest that the agency was involved in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The report, which is the first of a series, says that CIA officials were aware of the existence of a "black book" of names of individuals who were considered potential targets for assassination.

The report also says that CIA officials were aware of the fact that King was a member of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), which was a major force in the civil rights movement.

School Bond Rating Looks Optimistic

By LUANNA CROW
MIDLAND (AP) — A delegation of Midland public school trustees traveled to New York City last week seeking a bond rating agency to rate the city's school bonds.

Don Ferguson, business manager for the school district, said this morning he hopes to hear the outcome of those meetings by Thursday.

James E. Winger Jr., president of the Midland school board of trustees, agreed that the delegation had a "very good reception" but speculated that less-than-good bond market and New York City's financial woes could affect the rating for Midland school bonds.

The city's voters approved a $42 million air conditioning bond issue on Sept. 18 which would fully air condition 20 school buildings. The bond sale is set for Oct. 28.

Mr. Winger said that he definitely has a liability as a result of what's happened in other areas," Winger said. "Default of municipal bonds has made matters a little more wary of public bonds."

I asked some of their people at one of the bond rating firms about this. While they didn't give as specifics, they did indicate concern if there is actual default or concern of default. It would affect the availability of money," Winger said.

Winger speculated also that a threatened default could affect interest rates even for a good rating.

He nevertheless was pleased with the group's reception when they made their presentations to both Moody's Investors Service Inc. and Standard and Poor's Corp.

Traveling to New York for the rating were Dr. James H. Martin, superintendent of schools, and Don Ferguson, vice president for the board of trustees. Bob Davis, the school district's fiscal agent, Ferguson, and Winger.

Winger said representatives of both companies were acquainted with Midland and this area.

Ferguson noted that most of the questions they were asked dealt with Midland's economy. He feels that Midland's rating will be handled on a local basis.

'Sesame Street' Called Chauvinistic

By MARY ELLEN HAY
NEW YORK (AP) — A group of children's television programming critics called "Sesame Street" chauvinistic because it is too male-oriented.

The program is the work of leadership in men, during the women's and the worst in the curriculum, said Mrs. Rosemary D. Dorn, executive director of the National Association of Public Schools.

Most female characters on the show are cast in traditional roles and have mental-type jobs, she said. She noted that of the two women on the program regularly one is a nurse and the other's occupation is not given.

Moroccans Begin Move Toward Spanish Border

By MICHAEL GOODMAN
RABAT, Morocco (AP) — The first convoys of Moroccans began moving toward the border of the Spanish Sahara today, despite debate in the United Nations Security Council over King Hassan II's plans to send 300,000 unarmed Moroccan men to the disputed territory.

Trucks and buses began moving the marchers out of bases around the country. Special forces were to take them to the border of the Spanish Sahara and to the capital city of the territory, Laayoune.

Motor convoys were being readied in Marrakech for the 500-mile trip to the border town of Tarfaya. From there it would be a 60-mile march over the stony desert to El Aaiun, the capital of the Spanish Sahara, to reinforce Morocco's claim to the northern part of the territory.

Officials said the fittest of nearly 325,000 volunteers were being selected for the march, which they said is likely to begin this weekend.

Spain asked the Security Council Monday to call on Hassan to hold up the march which it said constitutes an act of force against the territorial integrity of the Spanish Sahara. Costa Rica submitted a resolution supporting the Spanish request.

Morocco said the march would be a completely peaceful demonstration and asked the council to postpone debate indefinitely to await negotiations.

Spain Morocco, Mauritania, which is claiming the southern and eastern part of the territory, and Algeria, which with Spain said a self-determining referendum should be held.

Members of the council were consulting with each other today and were expected to meet again this afternoon.

One Moroccan official said the march can only be stopped by a Spanish declaration recognizing Morocco's right to the disputed area and offering to discuss arrangements for handing it over.

The Spanish cabinet met Monday night in Madrid to discuss the situation, and military commanders in the Spanish Sahara were meeting in El Aaiun. The governor, Gen. Gomez de Salazar, met Monday with leading members of the territorial assembly.

Hassan announced the march Thursday after the World Court found that neither Morocco nor Mauritania could claim sovereignty over the phosphate-rich territory although both had the right to the area at the time Spain occupied it in 1844.

Glasscock: Wet Or Dry?

Glasscock County is the only county in the Midland area which has not held a local option liquor election to declare itself wet or dry, a nine-county poll showed Monday.

The county clerk's office in Garden City, however, said Glasscock County was a dry county.

Local option liquor elections came to public attention Wednesday when Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill ruled that a political subdivision which has not declared itself dry through these elections is automatically wet. Local option elections are the only way political subdivisions can be legally dry, Hill noted.

County clerks in Midland, Ector and Howard counties reported their counties had declared themselves wet through local option elections. Reagan County is wet by precincts, and Upland County is wet but not for mixed drinks, according to their respective county clerks.

Andrews, Martin and Dawson counties have declared themselves dry through local option elections.
