CITIZENS SAY PORTALES, N. M. IRRIGATION CAN BE DUPLICATED HERE

Forty Muleshoe People Invade The Neighboring Valley In New Mexico Inspecting Farms, Pumping Plants

Friday afternoon of last week a delegation of 40 people, citizens of Muleshoe and immediate surrounding territory, visited the Portales, New Mexico valley, a few miles west of here on a tour of inspection and education. They had learned of the fame of that valley because of the bumper crops it was producing through irrigation, and they wanted more information and wanted it direct. "Seeing is believing," as one of them expressed himself, and the vision was indeed convincing.

Most of them first visited the canning factory in Portales, which they found working to full capacity. They learned that this factory was now in its third year of successful operation, and that this year the plant had been enlarged one-third more of its former output. Two hundred men and women were busily engaged in receiving, sorting, preparing and canning the luscious garden fruit. Hundreds of crates filled with big ripe tomatoes were packed in the receiving sheds and a dozen or more farmers were constantly unloading their trucks and wagons with the produce.

per acre, according to the character of the land, and the skill of the irrigator; tomatoes were bringing from $120 to $300 per acre.

However, the big thing that impressed each of the visitors was the fact that all they saw transpiring in the Portales valley could be readily duplicated in the Blackwater valley around Muleshoe. It was claimed by several upon their return that most of the land here in this valley was just as good and just as adaptable to the crops they saw growing in the Portales valley and that much of it was even better; railroad facilities are better, they said, due to the fact that Muleshoe is located on a main line of the Santa Fe; and the fact that it is in Texas, with more favorable freight rates, is also a consideration.

It is understood that several of the visitors, who were among the prominent framers of this section, who have been seriously considering putting in pumping plants for irrigation have now definitely decided in favor of that action, while several others expressed their favorable opinion with the probability that they too will be enrolled among the successful farmers of this valley who get their rainfall from the ground.

Among those making the trip last Friday were L. M. Day, J. H. Harnell, J. T. Lovler, J. W. Bickel, and son, S. E. Morris, D. R. Pochell, E. B. Hupp, H. L. Clark, I. W. Hardin, O. P. Burnham and family, W. S. Noland of Amarillo, Clarence Goins and family, Mrs. Irma Willis, J. T. Huggins, Carl Huggins, Mr. King, A. Goodson, J. D. Peters, Neil Rockey, R. L. Brown, J. D. White and wife, Bill Kistler, Mrs. A. P. Stone, Mr. Wilson and wife, H. A. Douglas wife and daughter J. F. Vaughan, J. E. Aldridge and wife, Jess Mitchell.

LAMB COUNTY FAIR HAS GOOD CROWDS; EXHIBITS

There was a large attendance at the Lamb county fair held at Amherst last week, and excellent exhibits of farm products shown.

Much credit for the fair is due D. A. Adam, county farm agent, and Miss Ruby Mashburn, home demonstration agent.

Dr. H. W. Duke, of this county judged the poultry and reports some fine birds shown.

GOLF COURSE BEING MADE READY FOR TOURNAMENT

Workmen are busy this week on the local golf course resanding the greens, mowing the grass and getting everything in readiness for a big tournament among local players to be held here next Sunday.

The local golf club embodies 40 members, and it is thought there will be 10 or 15 contestant pairs for the elimination games.

People Moving To South Plains Find King of Ambition Is Checkmated By The Charming Queen of Gratification

America has always been a nation of movers. The first settlers who planted their heels on the rock bound shores of the Atlantic coast, and built their cabins within sight of the sea, moved two or three times before the second generation came on and continued the process. They were always looking for "something better," and gradually the tide of human migration hit the rising ground from the coastal plain to the Allegheny mountains. Here the movers lingered a little while beside the sweet and fishable river banks and among the lovely fragrant valleys east of the great hills.

But the explorers came back from time to time and reported better and greater lands farther west that were ready for conquering. So again the settlements broke up, the men, women and children moving over the high barriers through the Cumberland Gap and other negotiable passes, going out into the vast unknown to settle again along the refreshing rivers flowing through the lovely valleys on the western side of the mountains.

But they didn't stay settled very long. Kentucky and Tennessee were fine new countries, yet there was always a longing to know what lay beyond the mighty Mississippi river. Finally, the neighborhood became so thickly settled that Daniel Boone and a few others crossed over into the hunting grounds of Missouri, others into the forests of Arkansas, while still others pushed farther west into the great prairie domains of Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

It is now more than a hundred years since Stephen F. Austin, Hayden Edwards and Green DeWitte brought the first colonists to Texas; still the moving is going on. Horace Greely may have been the first who said, "Go west young man, and grow up with the country," but he was far from the first who thought it, for people were moving West in great numbers 300 years before that New York editor ever saw the light of day. Today the western immigration continues, but as the West comes nearer all the time, people are now more particular about picking the country they move into.

True, there are some people who move just to be moving. They are inherently restless. The habit seems to be ingrained in them. They are not entirely responsible for it, because it was bred and born in them—an inheritance from their mover fore-parents—these nomadic ancestors who hit the trail over the hills, across the plains and through the virgin forests with the spirit of the conqueror stirring their blood to action.

Even the folks in the cities show the constant out-cropping of this pioneer nature. They move from one quarter of the city to another, and after it has all been tried out, then they move to another city and repeat the whirl. Because of this, we are not yet certain what the ten largest cities in America will be in another hundred years or more.

Last year nearly a million and a quarter farms, about one out of every five in the United States, changed occupants. Several thousand farmers in Texas moved to other farms the same year. They wanted new homes to live in new and different lands to plow in, a different horizon to gaze upon—all with the hopes of more happiness and greater material prosperity than they had the year before.

West Texas Gas Co. Is Ready To Sign Contracts

J. S. Ryan, superintendent of city plants for the West Texas Gas Co., was in Muleshoe Tuesday, accompanied by J. J. Williams, who is to be the company's local representative.

Mr. Williams will this week begin taking contract signatures for gas service to Muleshoe patrons.

It is understood that material has already been ordered for completing the line between Sudan and Farwell, and that some of it has already arrived. The pipe line contract has been let, and it is thought that work on the ditch and laying will begin the latter part of this week from the Farwell end of the line, the great laying an average of one and one-half miles per day.

Pipe for the Muleshoe distribution system has also been ordered, and work of laying mains in the municipality will probably begin within the coming two weeks.

The company has rented an office in the Muleshoe hotel.

Six Million Lbs. Sudan Seed Will Be Shipped in Yr.

The Sudan movement began this week in earnest when the price went to five cents and above per pound.

Several farmers of this vicinity report considerable grain loss from recent hard winds which whipped the brain out and on to the ground.

Twelve carloads have been shipped here for today, and it is estimated that between five and six million pounds will probably be shipped from Muleshoe this year.

Judge Adams Will Head Legion For The Coming Year

There were 20 men at the meeting of the American Legion held Tuesday night. Commander W. B. McAdams was in charge of the meet. Following an excellent repast of good army grub served in true regulation style, officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

Judge J. E. Adams, commander; W. C. Cox, vice-commander; Sam Goodson, adjutant; K. K. Smith, treasurer; Connie Gupion, chairman executive committee; C. G. Wollard, chaplain.

The services of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Paul as caterers and care-takers for the Legion were highly complimented by the members present, and it was voted they be retained for another year.

BURROW GINS FIRST BALE

F. P. Burk, residing in the Fairview neighborhood, brought to town last Monday a bale of cotton which was ginned by the new Burrow gin. It being the first bale turned out by this gin and their first for this season, the ginning was done free. It was classed as strict middling.

The bale weighed 455 pounds, and was consigned to the Texas Cotton Co-operative association for sale.

Lamb Co. Sheriff Gets Law Violators One Makes Escape

During the past week, Sheriff Len Irvin, of Lamb county, has been making history in the law enforcement of that county.

A farm 12 miles south of Sudan was raided, a still confiscated, some corn whiskeys of the West Texas Gas Co., and son, W. O. Cook were arrested at the same time being held in bonds of $1,000 each.

Five miles north of Sudan a man giving the name of Davidson was arrested and placed under a $1,000 bond, when several bottles of beer were taken.

A complaint was filed against Homer Wright, Amherst, charged with selling whiskey.

A man giving the name of Wiley Bullard, from Sweetwater, and driving a Ford car, was chased for several miles, and when overtaken was found to have whiskey in his car. The man was arrested, taken to Otton, but later escaped.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE MATTER READY FOR MAIL

Austin, Texas, Sept. 22.—Copies of the 1930-31 Interscholastic League debate bulletin will be available shortly after October 1, according to Roy Beddick, chief of the University of Texas League Bureau.

The subject for interscholastic League debate this year is the question of trial by jury. The University Package Loan Library has prepared some two hundred pertinent material on this subject and this is available for schools to use until the debate bulletin is ready.

The bulletin itself will contain some 125 pages and will set forth briefs of the affirmative and negative sides of the question, as well as selected arguments for each side.

Muleshoe Wins In Lfd Defeat; Will Encourage Team

The Muleshoe High school football team in its first game of the season played at Littlefield Friday last week met defeat in a score of 49-7, but it was a glorious victory in defeat for the home lads were game fighters until the last whistle was blown; they got some valuable experience of the game, had their morale considerably strengthened and feel confident with a little more experience they will be able to turn the tables of the score board in their favor.

It is a notable fact that in this first game there were six members of the squad who had never played a game before, and four who had never even seen a game of football before. Clearly this team is to be heard from later on, and with the excellent training they are receiving from Coach Bryant some wonderful development is expected.

Fred S. Reynolds Co. Farm Agent Is Here for Duty

Fred S. Reynolds recently appointed county farm agent for Bailey county, arrived here last week and immediately launched forth in his duties in behalf of the citizens of this county. He came here from Stonehill county, where he has just completed three years of very successful work. He is a product of Iowa and Oklahoma agricultural colleges, and is recommended to the Commissioners Court of Bailey county by District Manager Sterling Evans, as being one of the most successful men in his line throughout the entire State of Texas.

Mr. Reynolds states he is greatly impressed with the wonderful virtues of this county and the great opportunities offered in the line of development, and is anxious to do every assistance possible within the realm of his official activities. He desires as quickly as possible to meet the farmers residing in the various sections of the county. He has opened an office in the court house and as soon as a schedule can be arranged, will probably have stated office hours at which time the citizens may bring their problems to him for discussion and make arrangements for dates of visitation to their places. This week he received a farm lease, and will soon be doing some terracing, several farmers having already made requests for work in that line.

Mr. Reynolds lived for several years in Western Oklahoma and Western Texas and is thoroughly familiar with conditions over here, the type and character of farming needed, as well as the progressive class of people who live in this area.

LUBBOCK VISITORS HERE FRIDAY ADVERTISING FAIR

A party of 75 Lubbock booster citizens, including the High school band, traveling in 19 cars visited Muleshoe Friday of last week, advertising the Panhandle-South Plains fair. They arrived here at noon, and following a concert, speaking and other entertainment took dinner here before proceeding on their itinerary to other towns. The local school was dismissed and hundreds of souvenirs were given pupils by the visitors.

Mr. King, Lubbock business man, made the principal address, and was invited in charge of Garnet Reeves manager of the Lubbock fair. Other prominent citizens in the party were R. P. Bayless, Judge Robert Bean, L. C. Ellis, Dr. Millard Swart and Vaughn Wilson.

There were 202 miles covered in this trip, being one of four which embraced a total of more than 1,000 miles, made by the citizens in advertising the "Show Window of the South Plains."

LORIN GREEN BREAKS LEG

While working around a threshing machine Tuesday morning on the Wm. Elrod farm, four miles north of Muleshoe, Lorin Green had the misfortune of having a leg broken.

According to eye witnesses, the team he was driving to a wagon became frightened and began to run, throwing him to the ground and breaking both bones in the right leg about half way between the ankle and knee. He was brought to town, the bones set by a local physician, and is reported to be resting easily.

FARMERS WANT GAS

There were about 50 farmers residing on the highway between Muleshoe and Sudan who met with representatives of the West Texas Gas Co. at Sudan, Friday of last week, relative to securing the main gas line laid along the highway so that they might have individual service rather than coming directly up the railroad right of way. The company officials took their request under advisement.

YOUNG PEOPLE OF TOWN WOULD ORGANIZE A BAND

Much interest is being manifest in the organization of a band for Muleshoe. Several of the young people have expressed an interest to become members and learn to play some band instrument, and it is understood there are several experienced players who would join if such an organization was affected.

It is stated that a very capable director of several years' experience is available to direct a band in Muleshoe if such an organization is accomplished, and a meeting will probably be called in the near future for such purpose.

REV. BEAVERS PREACHED AND HOLDS CHURCH CONFERENCE

Rev. M. M. Beavers, presiding elder of the Plainview district, Methodist church occupied the local Methodist pulpit last Sunday morning, delivering an excellent sermon to an attentive congregation.

The last quarterly conference of the church year was held in the afternoon, and many favorable reports, including that of finance, were handed in.

Rev. W. B. Hicks, who has served as pastor of the Muleshoe church during the past three years, has done an excellent work here, and it is the wish of the congregation that he may be returned for another year.

DE LUXE FORDS ARE HERE

The Muleshoe Motor Co., local dealers in Ford cars, are co-operating in the national presentation of the new Ford deluxe cars, and have on display this week at their place of business some of the new models, according to Neil Rockey, manager.

Unusual interest is being shown in these cars, said Mr. Rockey, because they are especially designed for those who desire select appointments in a low price automobile.

AMHERST GETS PAVING

Amherst, neighboring city on the south, is rejoicing in the completion of their Main street paving, which adds considerably to the improved appearance of that municipality.

Funny, but a know-all generally knows very little.

Advertising helps you stretch your dollar.

CITY FATHERS ARRANGE FOR COMING GAS WORK

At a meeting of the City Commission held Monday night several plumbers present seeking information as to requirements relative to city plumbing and gas fitting.

It was stated that an ordinance had already been passed setting forth the kind of plumbing that would be required both for gas and sanitary work, and such ordinances would be strictly enforced.

Gas plumbers are required to pay a license fee of $15.00 and give a bond of $1,000, while sanitary plumbers must pay a license fee of $25.00 and give a bond of $3,000.

It is understood there will be five or six plumbers who will take out license here.

MULESHOE vs. LEVELLAND IN A GAME THREE FRIDAY

Muleshoe High school football squad will play their second game of the season Friday of this week with the Levelland team at Levelland.

Since the game with Littlefield last week, Coach Bryant has been giving his huckles some good workouts, and they are going into the coming game with high hopes.

MULESHOE GETS PUBLICITY IN AVALANCHE NEWSPAPER

Muleshoe and bailey county received a large amount of publicity in the special fall edition of the Lubbock Avalanche published last Sunday.

Prominent business men of Muleshoe paid for a half page of advertisement in that paper which went out to 60,000 readers. There also appeared in the edition 12 separate and distinct news assets and development of Muleshoe and Bailey county, these items, aside from the advertisement, totaling more than two columns of reading matter.

Copy and lay-out for the advertisement and publicity matter was prepared by Jess Mitchell, editor of the Muleshoe Journal.

In behalf of the business men of Muleshoe, the Journal is taking this opportunity to publicly express their appreciation to Charley Guy, editor of the Lubbock Avalanche, to Mr. McKinney, the advertising solicitor, and to the typographers who set the copy for their courtesies and their skill. Without doubt, this advertisement was the best arranged typographically of any other, regardless of size, appearing in the special edition.

REVIEW—THE GREATNESS OF THE GOD FEARING
Devotional Reading Psalm 8
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.
Fourteen outstanding characters in the Old Testament have been studied during the quarter. To read the Scripture content would take you from Genesis to Jonah. You can at least read the various Scripture passages indicated for each lesson and then summarize the general teachings by a careful perusal of each Golden Text. One of these conclusions, supported by the experiences of those studied in recent weeks, is found in today's Golden Text: "The fear of Jehovah is the beginning of wisdom, and a good understanding have they that do his commandments: his praise endureth forever." Psalm 111:10.

Since biography involves the study of history it is possible to trace the life of a mighty nation from the inception when Abraham left Mesopotamia to become the Father of the Faithful in Palestine until that nation, after reaching its summit in the days of Solomon, was led into Babylonian captivity. Those were days of pioneering in building up a religious faith as well as in establishing the life of a nation. The Bible is a book for humans and not just for saints. Therein we find the record of baseness as well as of goodness. All deeds recorded in this Book of Life are not to be commended, though we can profit from the experience of each.

Women always have an essential place in all progress. Deborah and Ruth are types for careful study. Men seemed to have lost heart when the nations oppressed Israel in those pioneer days. It was then that Deborah listened long enough to hear the commission to act as a deliverer. Naomi and Ruth present the fact that many know too well: how tragedy lies so close to the highway of life.

Carlsbad Explorer Finds A New Cave And Mummied Bodies

Jim White, original discoverer and explorer of Carlsbad Cavern has discovered another large cave near Carlsbad Cavern National Park which was the tomb of an ancient race in which remains were buried and discovered in almost a perfect state of preservation. The mummies of the ancient times were the most startling discovery of all by the veteran explorer. They were preserved scientifically like those of ancient Egyptians.

No survey has been made by an anthropologist or authorities other than local. It is thought to be a later race than the primitive basket makers discovered by Carl Livingston, a few years ago. Two adult mummies, a man and a woman and two children, a boy and girl and four heads, with four different colors of hair, besides a number of other mortuary and fighting equipment has been excavated and brought to Carlsbad for display by Mr. White.

The value of this discovery is undoubtedly a great one as the surface of his findings has only been scratched, Mr. White says.

The exact location of the burial cave is not to be revealed until arrangements for the protection of the discoverer have been made.

FRUIT PUNCH IS PLEASING POTION

Delicious to Serve at Festivals or Parties.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

About fifty people can be served with punch made from the following recipe. While strawberries are in season, it is a splendid beverage for festivals, school and church socials, parties or a wedding. The proportions have been tested by the bureau of home economics and found to result in a very satisfactory blend of fruit flavor. One secret of making any punch evenly sweet is to prepare a syrup from the sugar and water instead of using plain sugar, which often remains undissolved at the bottom of the punch bowl.

- 4 cups sugar
- 1 quart freshly strained water
- 2 dozen lemons
- 2 dozen oranges
- 2 quarts strawberries
- 1 quart ginger ale or carbonated water
- 1 quart fresh fruit

Boil the sugar and water together to make a heavy syrup, and cool. Scrub the oranges and lemons and squeeze out the juice. Barely cover the fruit skins with water, let stand for an hour or longer, pour off the water and add to the fruit juice. Add the other fruits and the tea. Just before serving add chopped ice, the ginger ale or carbonated water, and the punch is too strong, ice water in small quantities until the punch is the flavor desired.

Old Musical Instrument
A psaltery was a stringed instrument shaped like the Greek letter delta. It was used by the ancient Hebrews. In medieval times a psaltery had from 15 to 36 strings and a sounding board. It was played by plucking the strings with or without a plectrum.

Conserving Happiness

Konjola Freed Ft. Worth Man Of Rheumatism

Suffered Five Years—Kidney And Stomach Ailments Also Banned.

MR. N. R. DANIEL

"I suffered from rheumatism for four or five years," said Mr. N. R. Daniel, 308 East Arlington avenue, Ft. Worth. "This settled in my left leg and hips and I became so sore and stiff that I walked with a limp. I could not stoop sufficiently to lace my shoes. Later I became afflicted with stomach pains caused by gas. My kidneys became affected and I suffered constant back pains.

"I watched local endorsements of Konjola and decided to give it a trial. I noticed a change while I was taking the first bottle so I continued the treatment. Today the pains of rheumatism have entirely passed. I move my limbs freely and without effort. The stomach and kidney ailments have gone the way of my rheumatism and I no longer suffer from constipation. Even head aches which bothered me for years has been relieved by this new medicine."

The files of Konjola contain many such instances. Konjola is free from alcohol, nerve-deadening drugs or heart-depressing chemicals.

Konjola is sold in Muleshoe, Texas, at Collins' Pharmacy and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

IRRIGATION MAKES LONGER STAPLE FOR GROWING COTTON

That irrigation of cotton produces a longer and stronger staple, and consequently a higher price to the grower, is the information given out by W. B. Landon, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, speaking recently at Texas A. & M. college. This news will be of interest to farmers in the Muleshoe vicinity who are contemplating growing cotton by irrigation.

The fact is amply proven by the staple of cotton grown in El Paso and Hudspeth counties, in Southwest Texas, as where irrigation is largely in vogue.

Way of Life by BRUCE BARTON

DIRECTNESS

Years ago it became necessary to discuss a near neighborly company with which I happened to be associated.

It was suggested that we might get some other company to offer him a position. Or he might be given a year's leave of absence, in the hope that he would not come back.

Finally it occurred to us that in scheming around to find a way to be kind to this man we were actually being very cruel.

We helped him find the proper environment; he is today prosperous and contented, and I believe that he counts us all as among his very good friends.

No citizen who is well sold on the home city can be indifferent to its needs and ambitions.

MIDGET MESSAGES

Nothing worries a Muleshoe girl more than to start taking on flesh about the time she has her first love affair.

Now they're telling that a certain young fellow in Muleshoe used to ride with his lady love a few nights ago.

There are still some folks in Muleshoe who can remember far enough back when the hem of mother's skirt was so long it could be used to wipe perspiration from her honest brow.

Muleshoe still has a few men who try to impress you that honesty and piety will be getting scarce when people of their age are gone.

Not that Muleshoe folks are necessarily interested in mules, but just by way of suggestion, the only animal we know of that has its full strength the first day it "suckle mule" and there are some folks who could testify that at that time it surely has some kick.

We just pause to remind some of the Muleshoe fellows who are contemplating matrimony, that it's a great deal easier to love a girl when dad is paying the bills.

MULE TURNS MOTHER

It would be only natural that Muleshoe people should be interested in anything of a mullah nature, not that they are essentially of that disposition but rather that the cognomen of this municipality would just gravitate interest in that direction.

A MULESHOE IN ACTION

Mule in the barnyard, lazy and sick; boy with a pin on the end of a stick; kid rubbed the mule, mule kicked a bunch.

in touch with a friend of his in Chicago. Finally a large and restless member of the committee rose.

Said Walt Whitman, speaking of Sheridan, "Genius is ninety per cent directness, and Phil Sheridan was a genius."

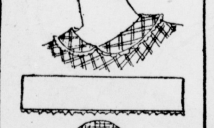

If one could gather up all the time that is wasted annually in scheming how to do the clever or polite thing, he would have hours enough to relieve all the farmers, kill each fruit fly individually and dig the canal from the ocean to the lakes.

SEW SEW CLUB MEETS

VERY LATESTS by MARY MARSHALL

Boudoir caps are no longer so generally worn as they were once because the woman with short hair usually has less need of them.

Still even the short-haired woman should have a boudoir cap of some sort to wear after she has had her hair waved to induce it to lie smooth and flat.

Several readers have asked us for a diagram of a cap they may make at home and the one given here is so simple that any one who knows anything about sewing ought to be able to copy it.

Cut a length of narrow elastic tape about seventeen inches in length. Sew the ends together and sew this on the wrong side of the cap about one inch from the edge.

The pictures show a boudoir cap of rose satin and cream lace, as well as a dust cap of checked blue and white lawn combined with white lawn, both made from the same simple pattern.

NELSON & CANFIELD SELL MUCH OF WARREN RANCH

Selling nearly $200,000 worth of land for one man in a year's time might seem like a big job, but that was practically accomplished by Canfield & Nelson, local realtors, whose sales of the F. P. Warren land during that time amounted exactly to $191,890.90.

Since those sales were made nearly half of this land sold has been occupied by the purchasers and they have it under improvement and much of it is producing profitable crops.

Some of these new farmers are contemplating purchasing pumping outfits and next year will be full fledged irrigators, as most of this land is located in the shallow water belt.

THE FAM DOCTOR JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

LAND-MARKS OF THE BODY

Four points about the pelvis should be kept in mind by women; the sacrum, the summit of the hip-bones, the pubis, or arch in front, and the low inguinal regions between the abdomen and the thigh. If persistent pain is in the sacrum, its origin may be in the uterus, rectum or bladder, and disorders of either organ should be corrected.

A sudden attack in the inguinal region may mean an ovary, especially if the time of its occurrence adds testimony! Or, it may mean appendicitis, or impacted colon above the appendix if on the right side. (Don't take purgative unless ordered by your physician after careful examination.) Pain in left low inguinal region may be due to inflamed ovary, or, if slightly higher up, an impacted colon at the narrow space known as the "sigmoid flexure."

Patients familiar with themselves as far as possible, are better able to describe their symptoms to the doctor intelligently—thus enabling him to prescribe more effectually, that relief may be obtained earlier. Remember, the ignorant one will tell you he has "a pain in the side," which may mean in the lung, the liver, the colon or the kidneys—and, which makes all the difference in the world when it is treatment.

The spleen occupies a space, left of the greater portion of the stomach, and is not usual as in the severe pain. Sometimes a dull, boring means enlargement or congestion of the spleen. Between the ribs the chest are the intercostal spaces. These are occupied by small blood vessels and nerve-trunks. "Interneuralgia" is met with quite often. Relation of the heart to the left hip is pretty well known. Pain in that locality, keen, persistent or intermittent should be investigated promptly to determine its origin—it may be serious.

Lazbuddie News

Steady Club Entertains
An outstanding social event of the season was the reception given Friday night by the Lazbuddie Study club in the home of Mrs. R. L. Bledsoe, the club president. The affair was given in honor of the Lazbuddie teachers. Club colors of pink and white prevailed in all the appointments, and the entire house held a profusion of beautiful autumn flowers and fernery.

A short appropriate program was rendered, including some delightful music and readings by the teachers. Dainty pink and white sandwiches and punch was served informally throughout the evening to more than 50 guests. Miss Billy Jones presided over the punch bowl.

Mrs. Loyal Lust received the guests and introduced the teachers.

Supper Guests
Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Disch had as supper guests Sunday night Miss Grace Jennings and Miss Billy Jones teachers, Bill Sheryly and Cecil Jones.

Other guests who came in were Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Lust and Mrs. A. C. Echols, of Friona. The evening was spent playing bridge and listening to the radio. At the close of the evening Mrs. Disch served sandwiches and cocoa to the guests.

School Overflowing
Enrollment in school is getting to be almost a problem, as all rooms are crowded to capacity and two of them almost to overflowing. Seven new ones were enrolled Monday which brings the total to 181 in grades and High school. Every one has got off to a flying start and all are optimistic about this being by far the best year in the school's history.

Girls Win Game
Our boys' basket ball team was quite disappointed last Friday afternoon when the boys from Oklahoma Lane failed to come for the expected game. Our girls however, defeated the strong girls' team from Oklahoma Lane 28-7. We are anxious to get games for both boys and girls with schools that have started basket ball. We have always found the teams from Oklahoma Lane to be the best of sports and able at all times to conduct themselves like ladies and gentlemen. We are glad to have these friendly relationships with them.

FARM POULTRY

CUTTING DOWN ON FEED MEANS LOSS

Curtailling Mash in the Late Summer Reduces Eggs.

"Cutting down the poultry feed, especially the laying mash, in summer means that laying will be seriously curtailed not only for the present season but later.

"Our experimental records show that to curtail or discontinue the laying mash to hens during late summer will result in poor yields of eggs later," says Dr. B. F. Kaupp, head of the poultry department at the North Carolina State college. "The body of the hen must be maintained first, and if sufficient feed is not furnished, she will use that given for egg production to build up her body. Production of eggs will fall off and if the hen draws on her body supply of nutrients, she will suffer in vigor so that production later will not be satisfactory."

If not sufficiently fed, the hen will draw on her body supply of fat to build the yolk of the egg and on her storehouse of minerals and vitamins to put into the egg. This drainage affects the condition of the body, says Doctor Kaupp, and undermines the health of the bird. He insists that the hen needs a mash feed along with the right amount of grain each day. When putting on the new growth of 8,000 feathers, she needs additional care and attention.

White corn feed alone will not give a hen all the food nutrients needed. While the egg is 65 per cent water, it also contains 10 per cent of fat, 14 per cent of protein and 11 per cent of minerals, mostly in the shell. Therefore, laying hens must have a good laying mash and grain feed each day in the year. In addition to this, each hen must also have at least seven pounds of green feed to each 100 birds every day.

If these requirements are met there is no reason why some eggs might not be secured throughout the summer and the body of the bird suffer no diminution in vigor for future production.

The first step in town beautification is to cut the weeds. Any aviator can get a big headstart out of just a little fall.

FARM AGENT BUILDS HOG FEEDER AND WATER TROUGH

County Farm Agent Fred S. Reynolds this week completed construction of a new type of self feeder and watering trough for hogs that will be of interest to the farmers of this section, and it is now on display at the Hart lumber yard, in Muleshoe.

The self feeder prevents waste of feed by being tramped under foot or blown out by the wind. It handles all kinds of ground feed, threshed grain, or maize heads, and can be used inside or outside, being protected from the weather, and the feed placed in it will keep indefinitely. The feeder has two compartments, one for tankage and cottensed meal in equal parts by weight, the other for any kind of grain the farmer desires to use.

The watering trough holds enough water for 20 hogs per day, keeping the water perfectly clean, as the hogs cannot get into the trough and it can not be rooted over by the animals.

All farmers, and especially the hog raisers are invited to call at the Hart lumber yard and inspect both these constructions.

ABOUT THE LAZY COWS

"I FEEL so lazy," said Mrs. Cow. "Moo, moo, I don't want to do a thing."
"And the finest part about being a cow is that when one feels lazy one doesn't have to make a great effort. I've heard the members of the farmer's family talking about what they had to do at times when they didn't feel like doing anything. I have heard them say that they had to do this and that when they didn't feel like doing anything. "Now when I feel that way I can stay quiet."
"To be sure I have to go up to the

"I don't have to wash my hair. I don't have to shell peas. I don't have to weed the garden, and I don't have to water the flowers. I wouldn't mind that so much, but when one is lazy it is lovely not to have to do a single thing!"
"I don't have to brush off the front steps nor the back piazza."
"I don't have to dust the parlor and I don't have to do any 'upstairs cleaning.'"
"I don't have to do those things, and I'm not going to do those things."
"If a person didn't do what a person should do, she would be considered selfish, and would be selfish, as she'd only be making others do her work for her."
"But I'm not even considered selfish when I don't do these things."
"Of course it helps me to know how, and to be awkward about things."
"Years and years and years ago old Granny Cow said:
"Never learn to do too much, or you'll have to do too much. Always be awkward and clumsy, and you won't be asked to help."
"It's the capable creature who does things quickly and neatly and well, who is called upon to do things."
"Be lazy, and don't learn too much."
"Cows have always followed that advice."
"Now I feel lazy and I shan't do anything but lie in the meadow and chew a little and rest and have a lovely time of idleness."
"I don't have to hoe around the beans. I don't have to put sticks around the tomato vines."
"I don't have to thin out the lettuce and pick it just where it is thickest, and then wash all the dirt off it."
"I don't have to put fresh water in the flowers in the house. I don't have to wash the vases which have had flowers in them too long."
"I don't have to bring in kindlings to give the kitchen stove a fresh start."
"I don't have to do anything."
"I'm a lucky, lazy cow."
"We're all lucky, lazy cows," the others said as they looked at Mrs. Cow.
"Yes, all lucky, lazy cows," Mrs. Cow repeated. "Moo, moo, it is true."
"Moo, moo," said the other cows. "It is true. Quite true, quite true, moo, moo."

"I feel so lazy now, and I don't have to do a thing."
"I can just lie in this meadow and feel the warmth of the sunshine, and yet not too much of the sunshine, for the shade of the tree just by me is so pleasant, and such a help."
"I don't have to do chores, and I'm not going to do chores."
"I don't have to go to the village to shop and I'm not going to the village."

GOOD POSTURE IS QUITE IMPORTANT

Avoid Faulty Ways of Standing and Sitting.
(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Good posture throughout her active day is a matter of more importance to the homemaker than she may realize. It makes all the difference between weariness and freshness when her work is done. Faulty ways of standing and sitting cause much unnecessary fatigue, backache, tired feet, and a general feeling of slump which must be quite out of proportion to the amount of work done. If bad posture becomes habitual the spine may be affected, the shoulders become "round," the ankles may have a tendency to "run over," or other defects may develop. Sometimes these are sufficiently serious to cause displacement or cramping of internal organs leading to many physical ailments.
It is fairly easy to catch oneself stooping unnecessarily over the sink, the kitchen table, the wash tub, or ironing board. Sometimes a little adjustment in the height of these working surfaces is what is needed. Good sitting posture is often neglected because a natural tendency to relax in a chair if one is already somewhat tired. Putting the feet squarely on the floor and sitting with the base of the spine well back, helps to throw other parts of the body into good sitting position.

Perhaps the least noticeable and most frequent tendency to slump the shoulders and chest and thrust the hips out of place occurs when one is doing work that requires continuous standing, sweeping, or the like, standing at the stove, and so on. When one is making some dish which must be "stirred constantly," it is easy to forget about posture and allow the body to sag.
The illustration, taken by the United States Department of Agriculture in a Massachusetts farm kitchen, shows just how to stand properly when busy at the stove. The chest is high, the head erect and the back straight; the worker is standing squarely on both feet, which, incidentally, are clad in well-fitting, low-heeled shoes in good repair. The stove surface is at a good height for this homemaker.

Fell on Lamb Carcass Is of Great Importance
The fell is the thin papery outer covering on the lamb carcass. Although recipes frequently advise that it be removed before cooking, it is now believed, says the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, that flavor is not lost by the fell. Leg of lamb keeps its shape better if cooked with the fell, but shoulder, saddle, and chops are improved by its removal. Unless a roast from which the fell has been removed is rubbed well with flour, it will require longer to cook than a piece with the fell undisturbed.
Bifocals.
Benjamin Franklin invented bifocal lenses in 1754. In 1806 cement bifocals were introduced and the "invisible" bifocal appeared in 1890.
Moon's Movements
Owing to the fact that the moon's orbit does not lie in the plane of the earth's equator, the moon has an alternating north-and-south motion—moving north for two weeks and then south for two weeks.
Virginia's Pre-Eminence
The nickname given Virginia, the "Old Dominion," was taken from early documents, which referred to it as the ancient colony and dominion.
