Bailey Co. Interscholastic League Meeting Was Held Here Friday And Saturday Drew Enthusiastic Crowd

The Bailey County Interscholastic League meet held at the Muleshoe League school building Friday and Saturday of last week was one of the most interesting and largely attended events of this kind ever held in the county. Throughout both days the spacious auditorium was well filled with pupils and parents from all over the county, either taking part or as witnesses to the various events of the occasion.

There were nine schools in the county that participated in the events, as follows: West Camp, Progress, Longview, Balleysboro, Fairview, Bula, Circleback, Liberty and Muleshoe.

Muleshoe made a general leading average in the events, though there were some other schools that led in individual events, all the schools participating doing good work. Of special mention are the results from the Picture Memory contest among the elementary pupils. Five members composed this team, three of which scored perfect answers, the entire team winning 99.25 per cent. Thirty pictures were used in the test.

Winners of the county events will go to Lubbock April 3 and 4 to participate in the district games.

The report submitted this week does not contain results from the playground ball, the remaining games to be played off Saturday of this week, and finals will be announced in next week's issue of the Journal. The first game for Saturday will be called at 10 o'clock between Liberty and Bula boys. The winners will play West Camp. The Winners of the West Camp game will play the winners of the Muleshoe-Longview game for first place. The losers of the West Camp game will play the losers of the Muleshoe-Longview game for third place. Bula, Progress and Muleshoe are the remaining girls' teams. The Progress-Muleshoe game is called for Saturday morning. Should Progress defeat Muleshoe, Progress will place first, since Muleshoe has already defeated Bula. If Muleshoe is victorious, Progress and Bula will play for second and third places.

Legion Plans A Big Feed For St. Patrick Night For Army Men

Just whether St. Patrick was fond of oysters is not definitely known at this late date, but whether he was or not the Irish brigade of the Muleshoe American Legion, assisted by other assimilated strains of American citizenship belonging to the same patriotic order, have scheduled a big oyster feed for the night of March 17 to be held at the American Legion home located just off the court house square.

Two large barges and 24 athletic senagambins of amphibian propensities have already been chartered and engaged to occur the bottom of Lake Ponchartraine and other southern bays off the delectable bivalves which shall furnish the principal piece-de-resistance at the feedfest of that evening, according to announcement made by Sam Goodson and Curtis Taylor, chefs de luxe, de amour, etc. All ex-service men in Bailey County, accompanied by their immediate families are extended a free, hearty and voluntary invitation to attend and participate in this royal event, with the positive assurance that their individual equators will be considerably strutted and their composites greatly distended ere the evening is finished, to say nothing of the educational features and the enlarged patriotic stimulus that will be received via the high grade program which will also be a part of the evening's blessings. Underneath there is no financial charge of this.

BAILEY COUNTY WILL NOT MAKE USE OF STATE AID

That Bailey county will not make use of state aid as authorized by a bill passed at Austin last week, permitting county commissioners to issue warrants to buy stock feed and seed for destitute farmers, is the statement of County Judge J. E. Adams. Mr. Adams stated it is his understanding that this measure was passed principally for the benefit of those counties in the state that were not receiving government aid, and inasmuch as this county is receiving both government and Red Cross aid, the Court did not think it would be advisable nor necessary to call upon the state for assistance.

In fact, stated the Judge, we are not using one-fourth the government aid, and it was thought would be necessary when application for same was made.

GET TAIL END OF BLIZZARD

Thursday afternoon of last week lowering and dark, portending clouds served warning on the citizens of this section to get ready for a "blizzard," which quickly put into action its threat.

By dark of that day the thermometer had experienced a decided drop and the wind was coming out of the northwest quarter in swift manner. Shortly after dark snow began falling, drifting in places and being of little value to wheat or grass, so it remained on the ground for three days afterwards.

Friday night was still colder, but the weather began moderating Saturday morning. Daily papers indicated this section had merely received the tail-end of a big blizzard which swept over the northwestern states.

BAILEY COUNTY SINGING

The fifth singing by Bailey County will be held at YL, March 29, the Journal is requested to announce.

It will be an all-day affair. Everyone enjoying symphonic cadences is urged to come, bringing with them a basket of toothsome eats for the big feed at the noon hour.

Commissioners Court Sets Co. Court Term Names Deposit or y

At the regular meeting of Commissioner's Court, Bailey County, held Monday, it was decided that the term of County court would convene the first Monday of every other month, which means this court will be practically in session all the time. The setting was so arranged to save jury expense.

The Blackwater Valley State bank was selected as the county depository for all school districts in the county having a scholastic population of less than 150, and which effects all schools in the county except Bula, Circleback and Muleshoe.

The commissioners held considerable discussion regarding the refinancing of outstanding warrants, and several representatives from warrant and bond-buying companies were present. However, 94 cents being the highest bid offered, and members of the Court feeling a better bid could be secured, took no action in the matter. Every school teacher in Bailey county

Muleshoe Steps Forward In Seven League Boots As Future Prospects Brighten And Growth Is Continued

The financial depression which has been so generally cursed and discussed over the United States during the past year apparently has not struck Bailey county with the force it has some other areas in Texas. Of course, every community has felt its effects, more or less, and potent as it has been in some sections would naturally produce controversy over the matter in all sections, but a survey of actual conditions in this county shows it has fared better than most of its neighboring counties and much better than this section of the state in general.

True, Bailey county has had some assistance from the Red Cross, but that would probably be true nearly any year if the money was available, for there are some who are always ready to accept something for nothing. This statement is not intended as any reflection upon the really unfortunate and worthy ones of this county, of which there are some.

This county has also participated in the drought relief appropriated by the federal government in about one-fourth the number and amount it was thought there would be when application was made for such relief.

Perhaps the greatest set-back to the county has been a retarding of the general rapid advancement which was in vogue here a year ago. Settlers are not coming in so rapidly and not so much improvement is being done by the resident already here. Yet there has been considerable progress in this direction.

It is worthy of note there is not now a single business nor residence house vacant in Muleshoe, nor has there been for several months past. As a matter of fact, more of both are now coming in than ever before, and it is badly needed. There are at least four applicants for business houses now on file with realtors, and these people would come here immediately with desirable business concerns needed by the county could they secure housing facilities.

During the past six months there have been at least 25 new residences completed in Muleshoe, every one of them occupied as soon as the last nail was driven and the paint and paper dry—and still others continue coming looking for homes in this little city. At this time no less than five new residence buildings are in the process of construction here, and a number more are reported ready for starting as soon as the spring weather gets more settled. And each home, whether built by the man who will occupy it or not, is being closely watched and eagerly inspected by others who covet its tenancy. Really, houses are so scarce that many families, unable to secure better accommodations, are occupying rooms in the local tourist camp, some of which are business and professional men—and the camp houses are filled practically all the time. Some of the largest residences contain two families, several business men are living in the rear of their places of business, while others are occupying temporary houses until their permanent places of abode can be constructed.

With the coming of spring and more favorable conditions, together with the excellent future prospects, there is a general local stimulation in both the spiritual and economic condition. Citizens are growing more optimistic every day, while business is showing

Bailey Co. Teachers Will Attend Meeting At Lubbock Mar. 10

It is possibly that should attend the first regular meeting of the Northwest Texas Teachers association to be held in Lubbock April 10 and 11, according to Superintendent W. C. Cox, of the Muleshoe schools. Prof. Cox will be there and it is expected that most of his faculty will attend, especially the last day which comes on Saturday.

The purposes of the meeting are outlined as follows: To obtain a clearer understanding of the educational problems of Northwest Texas;

Working out the solution of our problems through discussion, analysis, and study under the guidance of our recognized leaders;

Securing a larger recognition of the educational leadership and further advancement of education in Northwest Texas;

Assisting all allied associations of the state and nation in promoting the cause of public education.

HANEY-ANDERSON

The marriage of Miss Jewel Haney to David S. Anderson took place in Dallas, N. M., Saturday night at the Methodist church of that city. Rev. W. B. Hicks, pastor of the Muleshoe Methodist church, officiating.

The contracting parties are one of the popular couples of this city in social and church activities, both having lived in Muleshoe for several years past and are well and favorably known to a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

The bride wore a beige chiffon gown with accessories to match, also a corsage of sweet peas.

The bride was a member of the local High school graduating class of last year, is one of the leading musicians of the city and a teacher of that art. The groom for many years resided up on a ranch near here, but recently purchased the Muleshoe Tailor shop, and is now numbered in the circle of prominent young business men of the city after March 10.

The wedding was very informal, only a few personal friends and relatives being present, the wedded couple leaving immediately after the ceremony for a few days visit in Roswell, N. M.

They will continue to make their home in the metropolis of Bailey county.

AMHERST SINGING SUNDAY

The Lamb County Plateau Singing convention is scheduled to be held at Amherst next Sunday.

Many of the leading vocal quartets, soloists and leaders are expected to be present, and a good time assured all who attend.

CHIX ORDINANCE TO BE ENFORCED HERE

That the "Chicken ordinance" will be enforced during the spring and summer months, is the mandate expressed by the Muleshoe City Commission with request that the public be so notified through the columns of the Journal.

The ordinance provides that all chickens, ducks, turkeys, geese and other fowls shall not be permitted to wander in or upon or invade the premises of any other person, under a penalty fine not to exceed $20 for such violation.

Names of candidates for trustee election in each district must be in the office of County Superintendent

Band Play Tickets Selling Rapidly For Play Friday Evening
Rough edges have been knocked off, a few remaining wrinkles ironed out, and finishing touches of excellent have been put to the forty-niner play the Muleshoe band will put on Friday night at the High school auditorium.

Prof. W. C. Cox, president of the organization, has charge of the ticket sale and reports them going like hot cakes on a frosty morning. Practically everyone is interested in "Beyond the Rockies," whether they own a gold mine out there or not. It's just a nice place to visit. And the troupe putting on the play promise a journey into that land of scenery, romance and tragedy that will be entrancingly thrilling.

The play chosen for presentation by the band is one of considerable repute, having stood for week-time stands in several of the larger eastern cities where it attracted exceptionally large audiences. The cast is composed of the best home talent artists Muleshoe affords, and those attending are assured a full 100 per cent return on the price of their admission.

400 CHILDREN IN JAIL PARENTS ARE ADMITTED

Muleshoe claimed a record last Friday when about 400 children, their parents and teachers, were lodged in jail by Deputy Sheriff M. G. Miller, who was kept busy the major portion of two days turning the keys, swinging the great iron doors and admitting self-incarcerated "prisoners" to the local bastille to gratify a bit of curiosity.

The jail-rush was largely occasioned by the jail-break the night before and the visitors, practically all of whom had been locked out through the bars when the jail took advantage of the attendance at the Interscholastic meet held here to catch a glimpse of the one place they had no desire to remain in.

Having the key turned on them and looking out through the bars was an object lesson to many of the youngsters they will not soon forget.

LACK OF PROPER BLANKS HINDERS COMMITTEE WORK

All applications for drought relief in Bailey county could have been made out, mailed and the money received, had the committee, according to Fred S. Reynolds, county agent, if the local committee could receive the blanks.

To date only 15 applications have been sent off, while 75 farmers are being held up for lack of the proper blanks.

Form No. 7 which is an agreement to not transfer crop equity, is the one that is missing. A consignment of blanks was received Monday by the committee, but this form was still lacking. However, some have been printed locally.

Texas Utilities Co. Prepare A Booklet To Advertise S. Pl.

Plans for wide-spread advertising of West Texas are this week being formulated by the Texas Utilities Co., through a booklet which will soon be printed and freely distributed through out the eastern states with the view of detailing the merits of this area to the thousands of that section who are looking for profitable and comfortable homes.

In the booklet there will be one page devoted to each of the 46 towns now served with current by the Texas Utilities company. Each page will contain a brief write-up of that particular town, together with two or three pictures illustrative of some of its development. While the book itself will not be an exhaustive treatise on West Texas, it will contain sufficient information to whet the desire and increase the urge of the many back east who are looking for locations in the west to make more thorough investigations of this particular area, according to Judge I. F. Kelso, president of the company sponsoring the advertising booklet.

This leaves a balance of $8.00 per capita yet to be paid by the State and which will be forwarded on or before September 1, this year.

FORD SMOOTHNESS

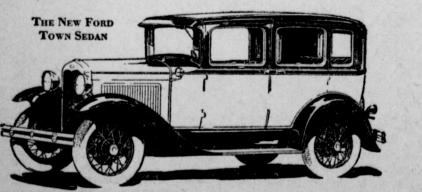

The new Ford has more than twenty ball and roller bearings

EVIDENCE of the high quality built into the new Ford is the extensive use of ball and roller bearings. There are more than twenty in all—an unusually large number. Each bearing is adequate in size and carefully selected for the work it has to do.

At some points in the Ford chassis you will find ball bearings. At others, roller bearings are used regardless of their higher cost. The deciding factor is the performance of the car.

The extensive use of ball and roller bearings in the new Ford insures smoother operation, saves gasoline, increases speed and power, gives quicker pick-up, decreases noise, and gives greater reliability and longer life to vital moving parts.

Other outstanding features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, three-quarter floating rear axle, Rustless Steel, the extensive use of fine steel forgings, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

Have School Debate
The Ladies High School Public Speaking class, under the efficient guidance of Prof. Wayne Eubanks, last Friday, gave an interesting debate on the question, "Resolved That a Substitute Should be Adopted for Trial by Jury." The negative side won the decision. The debaters were Robert Prather and Cecil Jones, affirmative; Misses Juanita Ivy and Zenobia Brock, negative.

Prof. Haskins and Eubanks, Miss Morgan and Geraldine Haskins were in Clovis, N. M., Saturday.

"Red" Flemming the local bronc buster, has met his match. A little mule had much fun in throwing the notorious (Brock or Red) against a fence post Saturday.

We were very glad to see Mr. Menefee and Mrs. Merriott at Sunday school and church Sunday.

The Home Economics girls are very busy these days sewing. Some of them expect to complete their garments by the middle of the week.

Senior News
Mrs. Harden is back in school this morning. Everyone is glad to see her smiling face.

The Juniors and Seniors have ordered their play books, and will begin work on it soon.

We are sorry to hear that one of the Freshmen has been taken to the hospital with a "pin in" her side. We hope that she will pull through in the best of style.

Mary Afton McClesky spent Saturday and Sunday with one of the prominent seniors, Miss Mildred West.

Junior News
Track is over, thank goodness. Now, maybe, we can do some excellent work. Let's hope so.

Why is it that the M. H. S. sends so many to the hospital of "pindisits"? One comes home Saturday and another leaves for the hospital the next morning.

We are proud to announce that the good old M. H. S. kept the cups again this year.

We hope that the boys who went to Plainview didn't get too much excitement when they were called to the office the next morning.

Well, folks of the paper, look for us again next week.

Sophomore News
We are proud of our President, Juston Danner, because he has won first place in Senior boy's declamation for the glorious M. H. S. He also helped win the first place in spelling.

Our vice-president Happy (Mary Afton McClesky) was defeated in senior girls declamation. Happy was first to declaim but won second place. The Sophs. hope to present a play in the near future. This play was composed by an "A" student of our class, Miss Iola Shirley. "Just in Time," is the name of it.

Fish Report
Alvin Farrel has been absent from school for several days with our good friend the "flu."

We are anxious for Mary Frances' quick recovery.

Scraps and Dry Mash
As we go along this rough highway we meet some of the strangest of people. Take Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, for instance. He started out in life just like you and me. He didn't study much when he went to school, but look where he went to. There are numerous fellows that are strange, oh, so strange!

Juston was asked why he didn't take Lillian for a ride Sunday, and he replied that the car wouldn't run. They then ask him what was the matter with it. "I suppose because we put a Ford tire cover over the engine. Balkiness in a mule is catching," was his immediate reply.

Arnold: "Lucille, may I have a date?"
Lucille: "Sure thing."

But when he came to get her she asked where they were going, and upon being told that they were going to church, she promptly dismissed him and he went alone.

Beulah had written a theme in English on "My Home Work." The closing sentence was "at night I wash my supper, eat the dishes, dress and go under the bed."

The class was studying pronouns and Arnold was called upon to define demonstrative pronouns.

"That is the kind that points out." "You're goofy, put in Alvis. "When I went to school in Plainview I learned that those things pointing out were hands."

25,000 ACRES OF NEW LAND OWNED BY 150 NEW FAMILIES WILL BE PUT UNDER CULTIVATION IN COUNTY THIS YEAR

That Bailey county will this year have in the neighborhood of 25,000 new acres of raw land to come under cultivation and to be occupied by about 150 new families who have already moved into the county or will be moving here before the real crop season opens, is the consensus of opinion expressed by local real estate men this week.

Farms for rent in this county have long ago gone on the premium list. Every week there are several people coming here who have heard of the fame of this new country and anxious to locate here. They do not have the means to purchase land of their own and would like to rent. Unfortunately though, few of them can be accommodated, as renters who already have farms contracted for are loath to give them up, and most of the new purchased farms are being occupied directly by the owners.

Bailey county boasts of approximately 400,000 acres of fine tillable land that is as fertile as any that ever "lay out of doors," and only a little more than one-fourth of it is now in cultivation. Clearly there is plenty more room for the home-hungry people who are looking for a spot they may call their own, and judging from the large number of inquiries that continually come to local realtors, many hundred acres more of this fine land will be purchased and subjugated during the coming months.

One of the most attractive areas of Bailey county is the Blackwater valley in which Muleshoe is located, and many experienced irrigation farmers from other states including Iowa, California, Wyoming, Oregon, Idaho and Minnesota, have already come hither and purchased tracts in varying sizes on which they have dug irrigation wells and are either already or getting ready to enjoy the large benefits coming from this high type of farming. Because of the shallow depth of the wells in this valley and the exceedingly slight draw-down said to be the lowest of any irrigation section in the United States, the inexhaustible supply that is obtained, irrigation farming in this valley is proving to be exceptionally profitable.

It was only a few years ago that this county was composed for the most part of big cattle ranches, but gradually they are being broken up into small tracts, purchased by people attracted hither and being converted into fine agriculture farmsteads. The Enochs, Figure 4 and Maple Wilson ranches in the south part of the county, are now largely under cultivation. Several farm tracts have already been sold out of the Steel ranch near Muleshoe, and approximately 15,000 acres of the famous Warren

Why we spend $2,000,000 to put CAMEL cigarettes in the new HUMIDOR PACK

WE have been in the tobacco business a long time down here at Winston-Salem and we take a lot of pride in the quality of the cigarettes we make.

While we have spent a good many million dollars advertising Camels, we've always held to the old fashioned idea that the thing that really counts is what we put into our cigarette and not what we say about it.

If we know anything about tobacco, and we think we do, Camels contain the choicest Turkish and the mellowest, ripest domestic leaves that money can buy.

In fact we have every reason to be proud of the quality of Camels as they come from the factory, but the remark of an old friend of ours from Denver some time ago emphasized a point that has been the problem of the cigarette industry for years.

As he inhaled the smoke from a Camel we gave him in our offices one morning, he sighed with very evident enjoyment and then asked jokingly, "What is this, a special blend reserved for Camel executives?"

"Certainly not," we told him. "This package of Camels was bought at the corner store this morning."

"Well," he said, "I've been a dyed in the wool Camel smoker for a good many years, but upon my soul I never got a cigarette as good as this in Denver. If you would give the rest of the world the kind of Camels you sell here in Winston-Salem, you ought to have all the cigarette business there is."

THAT statement simply emphasized again the cigarette industry's most important problem. The more we thought about it, the surer we were that he was dead right, and that somehow, something must be done.

Denver wasn't getting a fair break. Neither in fact was any other town. The only people who really knew how good Camels could be, were the folks right here in Winston-Salem.

That was due to a factor no cigarette manufacturer had ever been able to control.

Naturally there is no difference whatever in the quality of the tobacco in Camels, whether you buy them in Winston-Salem, Denver or Timbuctoo. But up to now there has been a very real difference in the condition of the cigarettes by the time they reached the smoker.

The flavor and mildness of fine tobacco depend upon the retention of its natural, not added, moisture content which is prime at about ten per cent.

In spite of our great pains always to make sure Camels left the factory with just the right amount of natural moisture, no cigarette package had ever yet been designed that could prevent that precious moisture from drying out.

THERE are three things about a cigarette that can sting the tongue and unkindly burn the throat.

- (1) Cheap tobaccos.
- (2) Particles of peppery dust left in the tobacco because of inefficient cleaning methods.
- (3) A parched dry condition of the tobacco due to loss of natural moisture by overheating or evaporation.

Always certain of the quality of our tobaccos we had already made Camel a "dustless" cigarette by the use of a specially designed vacuum cleaning apparatus exclusive with our factory.

Now, if we could perfect a package that would actually act as a humidifier and retain the natural moisture content, then Yuma, Arizona, could enjoy Camels as much as we do here at Winston-Salem.

We knew what we wanted. We tried many things. We asked the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory to help us.

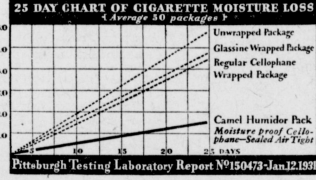

After many experiments and humidity tests covering all methods of packing cigarettes came the detailed report of which this is the net:

- (A) No existing cigarette package, including those wrapped in glassine paper or ordinary cellophane, gives anything like adequate protection against evaporation.
- (B) All cigarettes so packed tend to dry out rapidly from the day they are released from the factory.
- (C) Only a waterproof material with a specially devised air-tight seal could give the desired protection.

(D) This measure, while costly, could be relied on to keep Camels in prime condition for at least three months in any climate.

If you have a technical bent, the graph below made by the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory will show you the exact results of their exhaustive study.

Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory chart above graphically shows you that only the Camel Humidor Pack delivers cigarettes to you in prime condition

YOU may be sure we gave this report a lot of careful study. We checked it and re-checked it and then we went ahead. We tried this device and that. At last we met success. The air-tight wrapping involved the designing of special processes, special machines.

That costs a lot of money, more than $2,000,000 the first year, but after you have tried Camels packed this modern new way we are sure you will agree it is a fine investment.

For some time now every Camel that has left our factory has gone out in this new Humidor Pack.

We have said nothing about it until now, to make sure your dealer would be able to supply you when the good news came out.

Camel smokers of course have already discovered that their favorite cigarette is better and milder now than ever before.

If you aren't a Camel smoker, try them just to see what a difference there really is between harsh, dried out tobacco and a properly conditioned cigarette.

You can feel the difference, you can hear the difference and you certainly can taste the difference.

Of course we're prejudiced. We always have believed that Camel is the world's best cigarette.

Now we know it. Just treat yourself to Camels in the new Humidor Pack and see if you don't agree.

Lamb County Farmer Shows a Big Profit From Feeding Hogs

One of the best records on hog feeding made in Lamb county, adjoining Bailey county, this season was that of H. W. Farmer, who sold his pedigreed hogs the latter part of February, according to County Agent D. A. Adam, of Lamb county, who made the announcement while attending and speaking at the irrigation congress held in Muleshoe last week.

Adam stated that "Farmer" began feeding 23 shoats, about seven or eight weeks old, on December 10. The animals, 13 Duroc-Jerseys and 10 spotted Poland China hogs, were fed 79 days, and then sold.

"We found the average weight of the shoats when they went on the feeding program was 54 pounds," Adam said. "Farmer used a self-feeder. He fed threshed milo maize, cotton seed cake and tankage."

"When the animals were sold they averaged 194 pounds each. The grain cost Mr. Farmer $4.09 a hundred pounds. He got six and a half cents."

The ration consisted of 10,020 pounds of threshed milo, costing 90 cents a hundred pounds; 1,350 pounds of cottonseed cake, costing $1.70, and 575 pounds of tankage costing 3.40. Entire cost of the feed was $132.60.

Average gain per day was 1.78 pounds per animal for the 79 days. The total gain was 3243 pounds. Ten of the Durocs gained 550 pounds more than the 10 Poland China hogs.

"Mr. Farmer made $59.95 off his hogs," said the county agent. "When he sold them, they were 11 days less than five months old."

A. J. White Joins The Ranks Of Terracing Farmers in Bailey Co.

The interest in terracing continues to grow, according to County Agent F. S. Reynolds, said. White, four and one-half miles northwest of Muleshoe terraced his farm this week. So far as known there were no terraced farms in Bailey county during the dry year of 1930, Reynolds said.

However, other counties on the Plains which have had terraces for two or three years are rapidly increasing their number of terraced farms. Mitchell county is one of these. G. R. Bearden, of Buford community, in Mitchell county, reports he harvested 26 bales of cotton in 1930 and a fine feed crop on his terraced farm. During 1929 this farm was not terraced and it made only 22 bales of cotton and a light feed crop. The increased yield was attributed to the terraces entirely since the rainfall in 1930 was much less than it was in 1929. Mr. Bearden also states that his crooked rows prevented the blowing of sand to a considerable extent.

As the farmers study more and more the increased yields of terraced farms on the Plains and begin to understand that the slope of land in Bailey county is around 20 feet to the mile on the more level farms and much more on those farms that are sloping enough to be noticeable, they will begin to think seriously of saving all the moisture by terracing, said Reynolds.

CRANES DAMAGE FIELD

Numerous reports are coming in relative to the great amount of damage that is being done farm fields by the thousands of ducks and cranes that are invading this season.

Wheat fields are often the recipients of the unwelcome feathery guests, and many farmers with feed still stacked in the field are complaining of the damage done by the cranes to the shocks and stacks.

The excessive damage done this year is being attributed to the lack of grain in fields farther east, and the fact that many of the lakes in this section are now full of water.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK
Fools make a mock of sin.—Proverbs 9. It is being a fool in a higher strain folly not to be a fool.—Pascal.

NEW FANGLED ACHES

Never notice that there appears to grow different kinds of aches and pains and general physical complaints. Muleshoe now than there used to be.

Not that the health of the city isn't as good as in former years, believe it is, generally much better. But just notice how many people make public their ailments than formerly.

done a lot of wondering, and we've reached the conclusion that changing styles of eating and changing varieties of food have a lot to do with it.

Modern isn't eating like the last more than it is dressing like it go in more for canned goods fancy prepared foods, and for sweets of every description.

Moderns don't care for roughing it mothers did, and with the can-season soon coming on you are to have a chance to observe fact.

Modernism now consists almost wholly of tins and preserves and fruit for in the old days it consisted of pickles, and canning corn, beans and the like in large quantities. We are not finding fault with the changed custom—we are bringing it back of it doesn't lie the reason for more minor physical ailments than befell our fathers and in our earlier days.

The death rates isn't as high now as in former years for which we are thankful, we are more given to complaining an ever before. We are more healthy and more complaining; we wear fewer clothes yet we are more comfortable.

It's a funny proposition any way, to make a like it and we know of no answer to it unless it is "stylish" now to brag about our ailments.

ABOUT LIGHTNING

We find in an exchange a statement from an electrician who has been experimenting over a period of years, to the effect that the chance of being struck by lightning is but one in a million.

He says the most dangerous point of residence is in a house on top of a hill and that then the chances are that lightning will strike there but once in 100 years.

We don't know how close we may be to it, but we do know from personal observation around Muleshoe that the old fear of lightning is waning. People do not fear it now as much as they used to. That is shown by the fact that few lightning rods are now sold where it used to be considered necessary to equip every house and every barn with them. However, we wish to say that lightning rods are a good thing, and if you own a radio its wise to have a lightning arrester hooked into the ground wire.

We have an occasional fire from lightning now days, but considering how many more houses there are now than in former years, the total loss is small, and even that is robbed of its sting by our modern system of fire insurance.

Perhaps the old-timer who thinks that modern youth is worse than he was at the same age, wouldn't make much headway in a memory contest.

THE "BACK YARD"

In Europe they call the space in rear of a house, the "garden," they raise lovely flowers there, America it is generally the dumping ground for tin cans and other refuse. Instances, families that have a back yard are now too busy stepping on the gas. American travelers are caught in Europe when they refer to such spots as "back yards." It lingers to the Europeans, and rightly so, the idea of a dumping ground, which to their mind is exceedingly reprehensible.

A casual trip over Muleshoe will reveal the fact there are already too many back yards here and not enough gardens and it is hoped that as spring advances many of these unsightly rear portions of lots may be given a genuine renovating and beautifying.

A little exercise in this direction would be healthful to some householders besides the satisfaction it would bring. It would help to tell the world that we have a nice residence section here and in many instances, instead of having to travel many miles to some faraway beauty scene we could enjoy such blessing the entire summer through right at our own doorstep.

Temper is about the only thing we know of that can be kept indefinitely without spoiling.

THE GRAVEYARD

Muleshoe citizens should consider well the timely article in the Journal last week by the local Fire Marshal, Dr. H. W. Duke, relative to fire prevention.

If all the structures that have been destroyed by fire could be gathered together in one place they would create the largest cemetery in the world. It would be a grave yard that would go for uncountable miles—containing street after street of ruin and desolation.

If we were possible to create this city it would provide an object lesson in the menace of a fire that would never be forgotten. It would show vividly the tragedy of a waste that destroys almost half a billion dollars worth of property and ten thousand lives each year.

Every town, large or small contributes annually to this monstrous sum, and realizing this, every Muleshoe citizen should resolve now as the windy season approaches to constitute themselves each a committee of one to avoid carelessness in any respect that will produce fire hazard.

Scientists believe America was once a part of Europe and just floated away. Maybe that's why Europe thinks we should still support her.

Jaunty Journalettes

The Muleshoe citizen who invests no thought or effort in the improvement of his home town, can't expect his home town to return him any dividends of increased prosperity.

You can always tell how happily Muleshoe couples are married by the way they celebrate their anniversaries.

There's nothing like a husband's good salary to make a Muleshoe wife forget his bad habits, but not many of 'em are forgetting them these days.

One never can tell. The Muleshoe girl who is easy on the eyes may be hard on some one's pocketbook.

Why is it that it's easier to get most Muleshoe men to make the third payment on a car than it is to get them to make the first payment on a home?

Lambquarter time will soon be here and it grows freely around Muleshoe. One thing to be said in favor of eating it is that it doesn't loosen the filling in your teeth.

Some of these new-fangled breakfast roasts in Muleshoe seem to be a place where you swallow a cup of coffee in the morning and eat your can of beans at night.

MULESENE

M is the thirteenth letter of the alphabet, and considered by some people very unlucky. Perhaps that's the reason they started spelling "mule" with it.

FOR UNLOADING A HEAVY RACK

Build this frame and you can unload a heavy rack single handed. Four posts and six 2 x 6's placed on edge and bolted securely as shown will make it. Posts should be set closer together than the width of the rack and high enough to permit the wagon to pass out. To unload rack, attach a chain to the end of the wagon tongue and to the front of the rack, drive the team between the posts and the rack will slide up on the 2 x 6's. When the rack is on top of the frame, unhook the chain and drive out. To load the rack, reverse the operation. This is just one of a hundred handy helps for which we have plans, including those of the "Farm Building Service Bureau" of Texas A. and M. College. Ask to see them. There is no obligation involved.

Blending makes it better

IN the test kitchen of a great soup maker, the gifted master-chef creates the blend of ingredients to produce the perfect soup. In a scent-laden room in a corner of France an expert blender of perfume invokes his highest genius that our sense of smell may be gratified. In a work-room fragrant with the aroma of many types of coffee beans, a highly-paid specialist concentrates his energies that we may be provided with a coffee blend to please our palates. Whether it's soup or soap, tobacco or tea, music or mustard... blending is vital to the production of the best of each. Equally as vital, if not first in importance, is the knowledge and genius of the blender. He must know how.

The best gasoline, too, is blended. In the processes of a modern refinery three types of gasoline are produced. They are, Natural Gasoline, Straight-run Gasoline, and Cracked Gasoline. Each possesses certain desirable qualities necessary for perfect motor operation... but... no one of them possesses all these wanted characteristics.

So CONOCO Gasoline is a blend of the three. There is Natural Gasoline, to give quick starting. There is Straight-run Gasoline, to give power and long-mileage. There is Cracked Gasoline, with its desirable anti-knock quality. Just as carefully as the perfume blender at his delicate task, CONOCO refiners have developed their balanced blend of these three ingredients. There is the gift of knowing how to merge the qualities of the three gasolines to create a balanced, triple-test fuel. One brand of coffee outsells all others because of the expertise of its blender. And so, with CONOCO Balanced-Blend Gasoline, the skill of the blender accounts for the popularity of the product. Stop today at the sign of the CONOCO Red Triangle and have your gas tank filled with this better motor fuel.

Certified Seed Farm Here Plans a Larger Acreage Than Before

W. M. Poole, who owns and operate a few miles south of Muleshoe one of the eight certified grain sorghum breeding farms of Texas, states they are receiving numerous orders for their certified products. They have been operating this farm for the past six years, milo, hegira, kafir and Shumate red top cane being the principal seeds they propagate.

Last year their crop yield was reduced about one-half from drought conditions, but Mr. Poole, Jr., states the prospects for this year are flattering, as moisture conditions are the best Young, Finis and Parley are at large as the result of a night of last week. Exit was y sawing through the bars. he same time the Chevrolet ile belonging to Sheriff H.

Sterling was found missing. The car belonging to K. K. Smith was rifled the same night, the clock stolen from the dash and the ignition all torn out. Evidently attempt was made to steal the car belonging to A. P. The car of Roy Jordan also showed signs of having been tampered with.

CARE IN HANDLING CREAM AND EGGS BRINGS ITS OWN REWARD TO OWNERS IN HIGHER PRICE, SAYS ELMO HEAD

"One of the great causes for low prices of cream and eggs is their quality or condition when brought to market and offered for sale," said Elmo Head, local produce dealer, this week. "Cream as an article of food requires exceedingly good care and particular attention to reach the market in first class condition so as to be usable and palatable," he said. "Cream that is low number one quality naturally brings a lower price, and there is generally about three cents difference in the prices of No. 1 and No. 2 cream grades. Warm weather invariably produces a super-abundance of second grade cream, though that is not necessary, if it is properly cared for. "To produce a good grade of cream, at least three things are necessary: sanitation, cooling and mixing. All vessels used in handling milk and cream should be thoroughly sterilized and exposed to fresh air and sunlight. Warm, freshly opened cream should be cooled before adding to previous separations. After cooling, it should be thoroughly mixed with the other cream and stirred well at least twice each day, always keeping it cool. In hot weather cream should be marketed at least twice weekly to insure the quality and highest price. Cream that tests above .35 or 40 per cent butter fat will not deteriorate as rapidly as a lower test cream, hence it always pays the cream producer to keep cows yielding a high grade of milk them with them.

Young was arrested here a few weeks ago in the Ford garage, and at that time is said to have confessed his attempt to steal a Ford car and of having stolen goods from the C. D. Gupton grocery store in this city. He is also said to be wanted in Waco, Lubbock and Levelland on charges of car thefts.

The Hughes brothers were arrested about two weeks ago on charges of possession and transportation of liquor.

Sheriff Sterling has sent out description of the ex-prisoners all over the state with hopes of their capture, offering a reward of $50.00 for return of the men and the stolen car.

Young is described as being red-headed, light swarthy complexion, about 20 years old, blue eyes, and when last seen had on a reddish brown suit of clothes.

Finis Hughes is about 30 years old, dark complexion, had on blue overalls, dark gray sweater, cap, is about 5 feet, 6 inches tall, weight about 145 pounds.

Parley Hughes is said to have had on blue overalls, cap, is about 24 years old, height about 5 feet, 10 inches, weight about 165 pounds and of dark complexion.

Three other men in the jail at the same time refused to accept the liberty offered them by the cut bars.

Saturday night the car of Sheriff Sterling was found by officers abandoned in Lubbock. At the same time it was discovered that a Buick car, belonging to a Lubbock citizen was missing. Sterling's car was without gas, the ignition had been torn out, part of the carburetor missing and other damages totaling about $75 done to the car.

EE CITIZENS AGREE THAT MODERN MEN OF TODAY ARE SELF-CENTERED ES DIFFER FROM THOSE THEY HAVE

deal wife is just as possible as was," declared three representatives of Muleshoe today. These three men, accompanied by a representative of this paper, were imbibing a morning of "coke" at the Western water when the subject was raised. They were all married, just how satisfactorily is another question, yet quite decidedly so—and evidently been giving the subject of matrimony some recent serious consideration—for unknown reasons.

One citizen, who apparently had investigated the subject sufficiently to make a decisive and logical conclusion, declared there were five types of men to be found today: "The home-maker, or ideal type; the jazz or cancer type; the nagging type; the edge type; and the baby doll type. This classification seemed to be adopted by the other two men of the conversation.

Citizen No. 2 thought the women of today were very much what the men made them, or rather, permitted them to be. He was frank to admit he didn't believe in women's suffrage, neither did his friend wife; while on the other hand, he insisted the women should have the privilege of voting largely because the men hadn't taken care of them as they should.

"Under the force of economic change of today," he said, "women are consciously or unconsciously becoming self-centered. Marrying for love today has quite a different interpretation from what it had twenty years ago, when I became a benedict. Now says the average man establishes a financial foundation before asking the woman of his choice to share his lot. Today are more inclined to set their wives from an ornamental viewpoint than that of a co-laborer. Modern conveniences have given women more freedom than they enjoyed a few years ago. I don't mean by that, that a man necessarily chooses a wife with a pretty face; the beauty does attract. Most men do not expect their wives now days to begin with nothing and go through a period of slaving and saving before they start in with that of possession and enjoyment. Consequently, the women of today naturally have more of a feeling of self-importance and are more of a demanding type than formerly."

Citizen No. 3 was inclined to admit the logic of his fellow citizen, and frankly admitted that the rolling-pin had done a lot for him. "Men marry today just as they did 20 years ago when I got my wife," he said. "They marry for love. The finest woman and the smartest woman, is not always the prettiest woman, but if she is the good woman she should be to her husband she is the prettiest woman in all the world."

"What about this well propounded theory of 'catching 'em young, treating 'em rough and telling 'em nothing,'" queried the newspaper scribe. Pretty nifty, they all agreed—but none thought it advisable to try it.

Citizen No. 1 chirping in again, stated he did not believe modern girls were the bunk when it came to making wives out of them. "They are just as much ideals today as they were when I married. However, the ideal of the twentieth century has changed very much since the time when I took my bride. I don't want any of it. The old style courting and the old style wife suits me best; let modern chaps set up their own ideals and live up to them."

And so it was agreed.
