TUBBS BRUS MOVING

Robertson Old Furniture Stand and Bacon Building Has Been Leased

Tubbs Brothers are preparing to move their garage from the Phillips old stand to the building formerly occupied by W. E. Robinson's furniture store and that building as well as the Bacon building on the corner is being put in shape for this firm to occupy.

They have secured the agency for the Buick automobiles and will have a number of machines to arrive soon. They will continue to do a general garage and service car business and will be better prepared to take care of their increasing trade than ever before.

There former stand, the Phillips old garage has been purchased by the Weston Windmill Company and will be converted into a warehouse, which that company has been in great need of for some time, in order to take care of their immense stock of goods, which their main building will only partially hold.

Canyon News

The Sunday School rally last Sunday was well attended, and was made a decided success by the presence of the Sunday school workers, W. N. Wiggins, Mr. and Mrs. Hutton and Miss Mildred Dixon. Miss Dixon's piano solos were indeed a pleasure to hear, and the addresses of Mr. Wiggins and Mr. and Mrs. Hutton were

W. M. Williams was given $50 as damages, which he alleged was done by cutting off his underground passage under the railway track, by the fence which lanes the Lubbock and Slaton road.

The court allowed Frank Simnacher at the rate of $15 per acre for all land that would be used in going round the lake in the land adjoining his property, and the surveyor was ordered to ascertain the exact amount of land that it would take.

R. H. McCrummen was appointed as overseer of the Lamb county road. The report of the jury of view on the Lamb county road was received and the jury duly discharged.

An election was ordered held to determine whether or not Lubbock county would have exterminated the prairie dogs according to the laws now on the statute books of the state of Texas. Election was called for October 11, 1913.

A general changing around of school districts was made by the court, but on account of the length the Avalanche is not able to give the changes ordered.

Bills for various things were ordered paid and the court adjourned at noon on Wednesday.

highly instructive and entertaining. It is to be regretted that more of our own community were not present to share this great treat. Not the least enjoyable feature of the day was the dinner. In the afternoon the pulpit was filled by Rev. Eason.

Mrs. J. H. Harris, our popular music teacher, is again occupying her place in the auditorium. Mrs. Harris has recently returned from a visit to her father at Hubbard.

Miss Velma Warren is attending school at Lubbock.

Fred Green and wife, of Dallas, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Green, of Oklahoma, are visiting in the parental home.

The Mothers' and Daughters' Club met Friday, Sept. 5th. No program was rendered, the business matters being attended to. Refreshments of grape juice and cake were served by Miss Alice Williamson to the following ladies: Mesdames Harris, Cline, Warren, Burford, Farris, Job Green and Misses Wilda and Velma Warren.

We noticed the bright face of Mr. John Simpson among the crowd Sunday. Welcome back, John—but why that happy smile?

The Farmers' Institute will meet Friday night, Sept. 12. A good attendance is desired.

TATTLER.

J. D. Lindsey autoed in from Corpus Christi this week, and will spend several weeks here, before returning to his family, who are located at that place for the winter.

Miss Pepper, of Rock Springs, is visiting friends in our city this week.

LUBBOCK SCHOOL NOTES

Gathered by This One And That One at School, And From Other Sources

Between 650 and 700 pupils have enrolled in school up to date about 50 more than the enrollment at this date last year, an evidence that the school and town are both growing.

The class of 1913-14 is composed of eight boys and three girls.

About ten boys more enrolled in school than girls; the boys are coming to the front.

Misses Bessie Rush and Velma Warren of the Acuff community are attending the Lubbock high school.

B. O. McWhorter was a visitor at school Thursday morning.

Will Izard and Chester Hubbard enrolled in the senior class of 1913-14. These young men are from Lynn county.

Leslie Faw is still on the sick lists.

The boys and girls are enjoying the swings, etc., very much. Albert Bowers, of Santa Anna, a brother of Prof. Bower's entered school this week.

We have some nice shades on the school grounds, if some sympathetic friends would furnish some seats, tired teachers would appreciate it very much.

Miss Wardin Morley and Howard Sires of Dawson county, are attending school in Lubbock this session.

George Smith, Chester and Emmett Wright, of Shalower have entered the Lubbock high school.

Mr. Bowers has organized an excellent foot ball team from the boys in the high school and as he is an expert along this line we expect great things from the boys.

We are glad to welcome Robt. Watson of Independence back in school this year.

Parents see that your children get to school on time.

Charley Burgess of Tulia took his place with the seniors last week.

Guinn Harris of Shgo is one of the seniors who expects to make his mark in the world; hence has entered school again.

Lillian Holt of Brownfield and Ione Brandt of Abernathy have enrolled in the high school.

The expression teacher has a fine class and doing good work.

Miss Huff has purchased the Caldwell place, had the house repapered and is now teaching music in same.

Miss Brown the music teacher is teaching her class at home near the school building.

Mrs. Knox who taught the third grade in the school last session is now teaching art near the school building.

About half of the time since school opened we have had no water at the building on account of no wind, all of which is very disagreeable. Can't the city water works be extended to the school building?

The pupils and teachers of the high school met last Friday night and organized a Literary Society

Robt. Watson was elected president; Chester Wright, vice-president; and Miss Alvin Patterson, secretary and treasurer.

Heretofore the efficiency of the society has been crippled and interest destroyed by suspending on account of entertainments given by other organizations of the town but during this session the society will not be suspended for any other entertainment or shows.

Guy McGee, of Dalhart, has been visiting his parents Judge and Mrs. Jno. R. McGee the past week. He left Tuesday for his home.

THE OVERTON SANITARIUM

Tremont Hotel Building Has Been Secured and Will Be Equipped for Hospital

A deal was closed this week whereby the Tremont hotel building on North Cedar Street, was leased by Dr. M. C. Overton, for the purpose of converting it into a hospital.

When seen by an Avalanche reporter this week, Dr. Overton stated that he would have associated with him Dr. Chas. J. Wagner, who for the past three years has been with Dr. A. J. Oschner, of Chicago, who is one of the world's greatest physicians and surgeons.

The building, they have procured will be repainted throughout and such changes as are necessary in the interior will be made. The building was thoroughly remodeled some three years ago, and is in good condition and can very nicely be made to conform with the needs of a sanitarium.

The first floor will be used for offices while the second and third floors will be used for hospital purposes. Dr. Overton expects to move his offices from over the Citizens National Bank to the new sanitarium, which he expects to be ready for them by the first of October. Dr. Wagner and wife will arrive about the 20th of this month.

Dr. Overton further states that they expected to equip this sanitarium with modern hospital equipments throughout, for both medical and surgical purposes, and the building is connected with the City water and sewers system. Registered nurses will be in charge of all patients.

Miss Elva Glover Dead

Mr. E. J. Glover, who is engineer on the Crosbyton, South Plains railroad, returned Wednesday morning from Fort Worth, where he had been visiting his family, while there his daughter, Miss Elva, was taken suddenly ill and died of uric poison, with which she was sick only a very short time.

This family, it will be remembered, made Lubbock their home before moving to Fort Worth, and they have many friends here who will learn with regret of the death of this young lady.

Woodmen Circle Meet

The Members of the Woodmen Circle enjoyed nice refreshments at the Hall last Tuesday night after receiving two new members into the order. The circle has just recently taken on new growth, and the membership is more enthusiastic than ever, and there will be a very noticeable improvement in the organization in a short while.

Business Change

W. D. Kincannon last week sold to W. P. Brown his one half interest in the Palace barber-shop, on the south side of the square, and the firm name hereafter will be Brown & Payne.

Mr. Kincannon has purchased the pool hall on the north side of the square and now has charge of same.

Back to Lubbock

They will come back! Among the late prodigals are J. I. Osborne and family, who some months ago wandered off to the Lockney country, but soon tiring of that locality, we notice that he is back in Lubbock again, with his entire family, and expects to make this their home in the future.

Ira Judd and wife returned Monday afternoon from a month's visit to points in Iowa and other northern cities. Ira says it is very dry in that section of the country.

THE WEATHER MAN'S MANEUVERS

WEEK OF CLOUDY WARM WEATHER WITH OCCASIONAL LOCAL SHOWERS

GOOD RAIN IN LUBBOCK THURSDAY MORNING

Came in Time to Benefit Late Crops and Help the Range Conditions Very Materially. Seems to Have Covered Large Territory

Since our last week's report there has been a series of warm, cloudy weather, with occasional local showers during the early part of the week, these showers at the various times covering a good territory north and west of Lubbock and some south.

This morning between the hours of 2:00 o'clock and day break, a splendid slow rain fell, putting a nice top season in the ground. We have not learned the extent of this rain, but believe that a large territory has been covered.

Though this precipitation came rather late, still the benefits will be great, both to late crops and the grass.

The following reports come regarding the rains of the week:

The Amarillo News of Monday says: "Beginning about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and continuing for several hours, a timely and welcome rainfall visited Amarillo and was greeted with smiling acclaim by a host of expectants who awaited its arrival. The precipitation locally was not heavy, but was sufficient to deliver a temporary solar plexus to the dust and to bring a delightful and welcome coolness to the atmosphere.

Reports from outlying points indicate that the fall was gen-

Carlisle School House

The people of this community enjoyed a treat out of the ordinary last Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock. It was a Sunday School Rally conducted by Mr. W. N. Wiggins, secretary State School Association and his co-workers Mr. and Mrs. Hutton.

After a short song service led by Mr. Hutton, Mr. Wiggins gave a very interesting address along general lines of Sunday School work. He stressed the importance of "every member present every Sunday, with my own Bible, a studied lesson, an offering for Christ and a reverent heart."

He also stressed the importance of trained workers in the Sunday School; and why not? The Sunday School is one of the most important institutions in the world and there are very few trained workers. Mr. Hutton gave a short talk to children present. After a well rendered song by Mr. and Mrs. Hutton we were dismissed and returned to our homes, feeling we had enjoyed a rare treat.

The Sunday School appreciates Mrs. M. C. Overton's kindness in securing such noted workers for this occasion.

Miss Sallie Jones arrived here Monday and opened the school Tuesday morning. Miss Sallie taught a successful school at this place last session and we are all glad to have her teach for us again.

Miss Lucy Tubbs left last Tuesday for the Polytechnic at Ft. Worth, which institution she will attend the coming term. Mr. Casey, of Abilene, who eral The Santa Fe reported good rains as far west as Clovis, south to Tulia, and lighter in the North Panhandle. Showers fell along the Rock Island at Adrian and McLean, touching the intervening country."

RAINFALL TORRIENTAL HEAVIEST NEAR HAPPY

Tulia, Tex., Sept. 8.—A good rain fell here today. The precipitation was heaviest near Happy, where the downfall attained assumed the aspects of a torrent. The country was flooded and water in Tule canyon was deep enough to swim a horse.

The rain was timely and will give a decided boost to row and feed crops in this section.

TIMELY RAINFALL HELPS RANDALL FEED CROPS

Canyon, Texas, Sept. 9.—Within the last three days considerable rain has fallen in various portions of Randall county, there being, also, a marked decrease in atmospheric heat.

Sufficient rain has lately fallen in the county at large to prepare land for wheat plowing, a number of farmers already sowing their grain.

With the probable exception of a few spots the entire territory from the T. & P. north to the Texas line has had more or less rain, and this entire territory will be greatly benefited by it.

bought the Wm. Collins farm arrived last Thursday. We welcome Mr. Casey and family to our community.

Rev. G. B. Overton will preach at Prairieview next Sunday and at Carlisle school house the third Sunday. J. A. M.

P. N. Robertson, of Taylor, Texas, and his brother, M. V. Robertson, of Hereford, Texas, spent a few days here the latter part of last and the first of this week visiting their sister, Mrs. Yarbrough, who recently moved here from Abernathy. They are this week spending a few days in Crosby county, visiting other relatives, after which they will return to their respective homes.

P. T. Best and children returned Tuesday from San Antonio. Mr. Best had been visiting relatives near San Marcus, and the children have been with kins-people since the death of their mother some months since.

Will Beshear, of Cottonwood, Texas, who bartered in the Palace Shop several weeks ago, has returned and taken a position there again.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boyd are visiting in Amarillo this week, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ables, and other friends in that city.

Miss Glenna Burns returned Sunday afternoon from Lockney, where she had been visiting with friends for several days.

Miss Roberta Wilson, who has been spending a few days here with her brother, returned home Tuesday afternoon.

Beginning this month, a change will be made in the manner of making public the reports on cotton ginned. Heretofore the local correspondents of the Census Bureau sent their reports direct to Washington, and the results were not known until the complete statement was published by the Census Bureau. Beginning with this month, however, the correspondent in each county is authorized to make public in the county the results of his report as soon as he has sent his report to Washington. By this publication in the State papers of the correspondents' figures simultaneously with their dispatch to Washington a check on the accuracy of the Washington figures can be had.

Lets have the biggest get-together meeting of farmers, ranchmen, professional men, merchants, bankers, etc., next First Monday that has ever been had on the Plains. The closer we get to each other, and the better acquainted we get the better we will be to work to the best interests of the South Plains country. All come to Lubbock October 6th.

FILLING SILOS IN DAWSON

That County Has a Number this Year—Gins are Starting for the Season—Fire Damage

Dawson County News: A number of our citizens went out to the R. C. Anderson place Wednesday to watch the process of filling the 321 ton steel silo which J. R. Weaver had put up there. The cutter and other machinery used is that belonging to W. F. Scarborough. Mr. Weaver will have another silo put up out on the ranch. After considerable delay, W. F. Scarborough's silo finally got in and is now being put up. This is a stave silo of the portable kind.

The threshing machine to be used in connection with the new gin came in on Thursday night's train, and Mr. Red tells us he will be ready to thresh the grain as fast as it is brought in.

There are two lots of seed cotton at the gin now, the first was brought in Wednesday by Walter McCarty. Mr. Red thought last night that he would be able to gin this cotton tomorrow (Saturday) provided a supply of bagging and ties gets in.

While burning the accumulation of needles which had gathered in drifts out at Mr. A. H. Crossett's place, one day last week, the flames spread over into a field and destroyed 50 acres of grass besides sweeping over a truck and watermelon patch and destroying a considerable piece of kaffir corn.

START YOUR LIVER, DON'T STOP WORK

Dodson's Liver Tonic Acts Mildly, but Surely, Livers Up the Liver and You Stay On Your Feet

It is the experience of calomel users that if they take enough of the drug to have the desired effect, it seriously interferes with their work the day after. But this is the least important item, for calomel is often a dangerous drug and acts on the system violently.

Don't take chances with calomel. Get a bottle of the pleasant, safe and perfectly harmless Dodson's Liver Tonic, guaranteed to take the place of calomel. Instead of making you feel worse the next day it makes you feel better—and you are actually better, for no remedy in the whole world 'livers up the liver, regulates the bowels and really rejuvenates the system any better than this does.

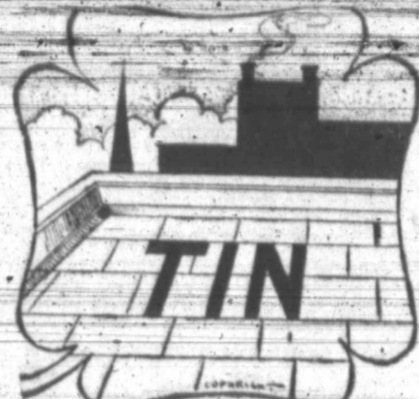

You are the sole judge of its merits. The Red Cross Drug and Jewelry Store is fully authorized to hand you back your money without question if it fails to please you—and relieve you.

Remember, if you feel constipated and bilious, what you need is Dodson's Liver Tonic. A large bottle and a good guarantee for 50 cents from the Red Cross Drug and Jewelry Store.

GOOD RAIN AT RALLS

Ralls Banner: Ralls and Crosby County was again visited by a splendid rain on Sunday night, which came at a very opportune time as late feed stuff, though practically made will put on a much heavier head. Cotton was not specially needing rain, but of course it will be of benefit to the fleecy staple. Nothing short of a disastrous miracle can prevent Crosby county from raising the largest crops in the history of the country this year.

LUBBOCK COAL DEPOSITS

Not Unlikely That Rich Coal Mines May Be Opened in Our County Soon

For some weeks it has been talked that there had been found coal in the Wheelock pasture on the canyon a few miles to the south east of Lubbock, not over three miles, but nothing definite has been given out, other than the specimens have been tested found to be of fine variety. Developments are being made and it is expected that this will result in the finding of a good vein of this very important article.

Since this talk was started it has developed that about thirty three years ago, at a point on the canyon in what is now known as the A. B. Robertson pasture, there was found a coal deposit, from which the discoverers procured fuel for one winter, but for reasons only known to themselves they abandoned the country, and have not been back here till this summer, when they came and re-located the mine. The following information was given out through the daily press correspondents from this county last Saturday.

"The mine was worked by J. M. Campbell, now of Mineral Wells, Texas, and his two sons, C. R. and J. L., of near Tuttle, Oklahoma, who resided on the Robertson land for almost a year and got all their fuel from the "slope," taking out 5 or 6 tons in one winter for home use.

"When they left the place they filled in the "slope," which had been dug back in the hill for a depth of over 20 feet and exposing a high grade vein of coal 18x30 inches thick, with the idea of some time returning and developing the mine, and since then the land has been past hundreds of times by cowboys and never once was the small outcropping of coal near the surface recognized.

Several months ago the Campbells returned to the spot quietly

Chamber of Commerce Column

To the farmers:

The Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is always glad to see you. Come in and see him, when you are in town. If you wish to write a letter, we have the materials. If there is any way that the Chamber of Commerce can assist either farmers or business men, ask us.

Remember that our County Fair is approaching, and we want a big exhibit. The prizes are worth going after also.

Keep sending in your list of names. We can use all you send.

A merchant, once failed. He had the goods, but he didn't advertise, so the cobwebs hung over the door. Lubbock has the goods, therefore we desire to tell about them, for we want no cobwebs hanging on us.

An editor told the truth when he said, "a good newspaper occupies about the same position in a town or community that a main spring occupies in a watch. It has to be kept wound up if it runs," and it takes lots of "kale seed" to keep the thing wound and going. This editor is right.

Everybody expect the editor to boom his community, and all the business of the community, even though they don't have a line of advertising issue to issue. Such an editor is in a position of the preacher who came to one of his deacons just before the service ask to borrow a couple of dollars. After service he returned them, and when the deacon ask him why he wanted the money just through service, the minister replied, "Oh I feel more like preaching when I can hear the jingle of money in my pocket. The average editor naturally feels more like boasting when he knows the people are backing him. We might add, the same is true of the Chamber of Commerce. It takes money, and good will. Few movements in civic developments have played a more important part than the well organized, strong, wide-awake chamber of commerce. That good old proverb, is true, "In union there is strength." We do not need to have that proven to us. To get-together spirit is the slogan of every enterprising community.

From Uncle Peter Radford, "No man can ever climb the ladder of success with his hands in his pockets."

"Good roads annihilate distance and cancel space. They bring the farmer nearer the market and place the city man in closer touch with nature."

Apropos the above, how about our road to Brownfield? We understand that Brownfield people stand ready to build a good road as far as their county limits, when Lubbock will tell them where we are going to put our road. Tahoka is getting a lot of trade which belongs to Lubbock. The Brownfield people to come to Lubbock, even though the road is longer than to Tahoka, and they have sent delegations to Lubbock urging Lubbock to give them a chance to trade at Lubbock. It is too bad that, when people want to trade with us, we won't let them, because we do not put our roads in shape.

We understand that a committee was appointed to see about this road, but we have not at this writing heard of any action. Get busy! And get this trade from Brownfield, before the teams know the way to Tahoka too well.

Amazing as it sounds, we believe that the worst enemies of Lubbock are people within our county. Why? Because with their pessimistic song of dull times, drouth, poor crops, etc etc, they sometimes make a bigger noise that the optimist can with a megaphone. Not that everything is ideal, nor that we have the best crops ever raised, ed, but man alive, when we hear the reports of other parts of the state and Kansas, and Oklahoma and in many other places, we should be rendering praises, rather than knocking.

people of Lubbock don't know what we have in the country anyway. I have taken trips through the country with people of this town, and the way they have opened their eyes would do you good. One man said to me the other day, "I never knew we could do such things." And yet he has lived in Lubbock for years. Strangers who travel through these parts are all praising Lubbock, yet there are some pessimists in our own community, who dolefully shake their heads and sigh. There are farmers, and they who tell me, that they haven't missed a good crop in years. Do you know why? Because they aren't afraid of working, and know how to farm.

I overheard two travelling men talking about Lubbock, and when I hear Lubbock mentioned, I always listen. One of them, evidently from Fort Worth, said "Lubbock is going to be the Fort Worth of West Texas." I agree with him. Lubbock will grow whether the pessimists believe it or not, but it would be more pleasant at least, if those who didn't believe it, would keep still about it. Some of these will be like the man in Dallas, who years ago refused to buy lots for a hundred dollars, because it was more than they were worth, but now he would be glad to get them for thousands, because he didn't have the proper faith and judgment.

SWEET CLOVER GROWTH

Some Has Been Planted in Lubbock County and is Proving a Good Thing

Time develops many things, and in the way of feed stuff in this section the developments have been great during the past few years. New feed crops are being introduced and it is found that a great percent of those tried out here are successfully raised.

Among the latest varieties of feed is Sweet Clover. This year Dr. Riley has grown a small patch in his yard, without irrigation, and he has produced some of as fine samples as one could wish to look at. As this is a new variety of feed in this section we take pleasure in giving the following article written by H. A. McKeene, Secretary Illinois Farmers' Institute, of Springfield, Illinois.

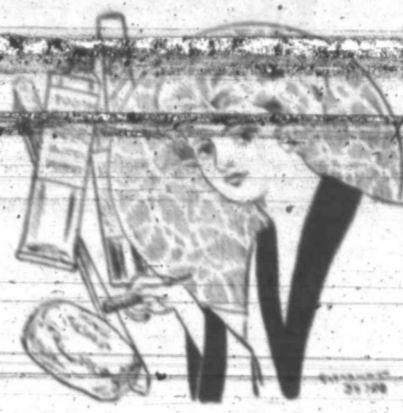

The value of sweet clover is a soiling crop long been known and appreciated in the East and South. As a nitrogen gatherer it excels all other legumes. In his reports on investigations Dr. Cyril G. Hopkins says that an acre will yield 6.4 tons of dry matter, of which 288 pounds is nitrogen, and that the amount grown on one acre will furnish as much nitrogen and humus as 25 tons of average farm manure.

For swine.—Prof. J. N. Westgate, Agronomist, U. S. Department of Agriculture, says sweet clover makes an excellent pasture for hogs. A sufficient number should be kept on it to keep it chopped close so that at all times there will be an abundance of fresh shoots for grazing. An acre will support 20 goats besides furnishing a light cutting of hay.

Does Not Bloat Stock.—Dr. J. J. Haskell, in an address before the Kansas Dry Farming Association at Garden City, Kansas, June 5th last, said: "For pasture, sweet clover is valued highly by the stockmen of this vicinity. It is the first available pasture in spring, starting a little before alfalfa. Two years ago this spring there were 2,000 head of cattle in our locality grazing on sweet clover for two weeks before another green thing appeared." Answering a question about danger of bloating stock Mr. Haskell said: "The Allen Bros. of Hartland, Kansas, shipped 1,000 head of cattle from Florida where they had never eaten sweet clover, and turned them on sweet clover pasture. The first day they picked out and ate other plants, but after the second day all were eating sweet clover. These cattle had been on the road eleven days and were very thin and weak—in fact in the best condition to bloat easily, but not one bloated. Not in their several years' experience have the Allens had any animal to bloat on sweet clover."

Harvesting the Crop.—For hay the first year's growth can be left until it is well matured before cutting, as it does not form such coarse, woody stalk as it does the second year. The old growth should be cut for hay just before the bloom appears. The crop is harvested much as alfalfa, but all possible care should be used to prevent the leaves from shattering, as they are the most valuable portion of the plant.

Sweet clover delights in hard, compact soils, exposed subsoils, strong situations, and condition too adverse for most other plants to thrive. Sweet clover grown in comparison with other plants used as green manures usually adds much more humus-forming material to the soil than any other. Sweet clover is a biennial; it is easily restrained and cannot be considered a noxious weed. Sweet clover makes good hay if cut just before it blooms, and is nutritious pasture for horses, cattle, sheep and hogs; if grazed while growth is young; it thrives best in soils rich in lime; it can be seeded on bare ground in January, February or March with oats in April or alone on prepared ground in May, or at the end of summer as often done with alfalfa. Sweet clover will help solve the problem of abandoned fields; it will help heal the scar on washed and gullied fields and make green pastures possible where barren clay knobs now prevail.

As to the reliability of Mr. McKeene we reproduce the comment that the editor of the Illinois Farmer and Farmers' Call says about him, in the following language: "Whatever comes from Secretary McKeene, of the Farmers' Institute can be accepted as correct. He is always strictly up-to-date, but always takes time to be sure that he is right and correct before he goes into print. Therefore those that may have been a little skeptical about the claims recently made for sweet clover may well have their doubts laid by what appears in this issue from the pen of Secretary McKeene.

"In the parts of Illinois that we see most, Sweet clover is generally regarded as a weed and largely a nuisance that occupies the roadsides. That is a real and great value for green manuring, pasture and hay is not known generally. On lands that are considered poor and worn, and especially on lands that should be kept in cultivated crops very little, it grows well indeed. It will make a good growth on land of this character where red clover will make very poor growth.

"We commend sweet clover to the careful consideration and experiment of our subscribers."

W. F. Schenck returned Sunday from a business trip to Dallas and other points east.

To The Public:

Owing to the fact that there seems to be a misunderstanding among many of our friends in their purchase of bread, we deem it but proper, in justice to ourselves as well as to you, that we offer this explanation. Bread is being shipped from a distance and people buy it no doubt thinking it was the product of our own home Bakery, as evidenced by the fact that several have recently complained to us that the quality of our bread is far below its previous record. We regret the necessity of calling your attention to these conditions, but right demands it.

DEACONS DENOUNCE DANCING

Baptist Officials of Midland Speak Out on the Subject and Place Higher Standard in Church

"Inasmuch as the question of the right or wrong of church members engaging in dancing is up, the pastor and deacons of the Midland Baptist church make the following statement:

"1. We are sure that the New Testament is clear in its teaching that all such 'revelling' is wrong. Gal. 5: 19-21; 1 Peter 4:3. And the only reason the modern dance is not mentioned in the Bible, as prohibitive, is that no such thing was known in the days of its writers. We could cite many scriptures like the one just quoted, for instance 1 John 2:15. The Bible is silent on saloon keeping and card playing for this same reason: such things were not known in the days of Paul and John.

"2. Baptists everywhere, are, and always have been, opposed to dancing because the fruit of it is always bad and never good. No woman who engages in it remains true and loyal to the church and useful in its work.

"3. The world always criticises church members who dance, and offer that as an excuse for remaining away from Christ and out of the church. And the Bible says for us to shun the very appearance of evil for the sake of the unbeliever. Thus those who dance lose their influence over their associates, and are unable to lead them to the Savior.

"4. To encourage the dance by attending it, by allowing it in our homes or by excusing those who engage in it, contributes to the fall of those who are too weak to resist its fearful temptations, and thus such persons become helpers of evil, rather than 'helpers of the Truth.'

"5. Some are saying that their dancing is a personal matter, and we have no right, as a church, to dictate to them and interfere with their pleasures. This is but the old argument of the whiskey traffic, 'personal liberty.' This assertion may be so of those who are not members of the church, but it is not true of our members, because a church is a band of believers united together by the bonds of Christian Fellowship, and when one breaks that fellowship, the Bible is very explicit in its direction to us to 'withdraw from every brother that walketh disorderly.' It is amazing to consecrated Christians that would want to remain in a church and continue to do that which nullifies the work of that church, and proclaim that it is none of the church's business.

"6. We do not want to lose any members of our church on account of the dance, neither do we want to make it hard for any one to renounce the dance and quit it; we do want to help all to higher things and we stand ready to do anything within the bounds of Christian duty to that end. We are praying very earnestly that all our young people will receive our admonitions and effort in the tender spirit in which they are offered and will consecrate themselves to the Lord.

"7. We would not leave the impression that we are not taking steps to recover those who have been swearing, drinking, and doing other things, for we are. The honor and glory of the church is higher than the interests of any man, and we are trying to get the church purged and cleaned so that God can afford to pour out His blessings upon us in the meeting which is to begin in October.

"8. We feel that we should not close this statement without saying that we deem contempt of such effort as we are making, and rebellion against high standards of the church and the Bible worse sins than even above mentioned. It is our settled conviction that the regenerate child of God will gladly give up anything which any considerable number of fellow church members point out as being wrong and declare hurtful to the church.

Our prayerful appeal to all members is to give up all sin and all questionable amusements, and consecrate themselves to the service of God for the greatest work this church has ever done. And we make this appeal with humility and prayer for the forgiveness of everything in our own lives not in keeping with the will of our Heavenly Father.

COTTON REPORTS

A New Method Will be Used This Year in Giving Out Reports of Ginners

Washington, August 29. Dear Sir: The work of collecting statistics of the quantity of cotton ginned from the crop of 1913 will begin promptly on Monday next, September 1. The first report on this subject will be issued by the Bureau of the Census at 10 a. m. on Monday, September 8. It has heretofore been the practice of the Bureau to publish the statistics of the quantity of cotton ginned in each county only where the local papers have made a special request for the information. It is my impression that the statistics concerning the quantity of cotton ginned are of great interest to every person residing in the section of the country where this important staple is grown. I have therefore arranged the work of the Bureau so as to permit the local papers in each county to give information of this character to the local papers. The special agent in your county understands this arrangement, and as soon as his report can be verified in the Bureau he will be given the total for the county with permission to distribute the item to all papers interested.

I trust that the importance of publishing statistics of this character will appeal to you and that you will carry the information regularly as a news item. It is also my impression that the publication of the statistics promptly in each county will assist in a verification of the figures that have been compiled by the local agents, and thus increase the confidence of the public in the accuracy of the reports.

Very respectfully,
WM. J. HARRIS, Director.

HOME

Mrs. E. P. Turner, Chairman, Rural Homes and Schools, Farm Life Commission says:

"Home is the place where our thoughts return in the hour of loneliness. Its memory seems to cling to us more in the time of need than in the moments of pleasure. We look upon home as a shelter where we find safety in times of distress, as a ship finds a calm sea behind the breakwater, when the waves roll high. Home is where we find a love worth while—a mother's love, childhood days and the thoughts of home fill the hearts of the lowly as well as the lordly. We all love home but sometimes our thoughts are prone to roam to other things that for the moment command attention and seem more pressing. The awakening sometimes comes too late—after loved ones have departed or furious elements have done their work—but it is inevitable as life and death. Home is the natural haven of rest."

Secretary of State Weinert has formally declined to accept the appointment tendered him by Governor Colquitt as a member of the Board of Prison Commissioners. He states in his refusal to accept the appointment that he did not care to change his residence to Huntsville, which the law provides must be done.

After a merchant passes the stage when he quits calling advertising a "donation" to the paper, he then enters the realm of merchandising and is a real merchant; but as long as he imagines that "everybody knows I am here and in business," he will envy the thoughtful advertiser. "Letting the other fellow waste his money on advertising" and hoping to get some of the trade when it comes to town, is shining by reflected light, and like the moon, is dim at its best. Waiting for hard times to pass before you begin to advertise is like waiting for the harvest before you begin to plant. The successful business is an everlasting advertiser. The people believe in the advertising merchant; they must know that he will not spend good money for nothing. Only back numbers argue that "it does not pay to advertise."—Hereford Brand.

It is the belief of W. F. Doughty, State Superintendent of public instruction, that the coming school year will be the most successful in the history of the State, his statement being predicted in the usual interest being displayed at county teachers' institutes and reports coming to his office.

FINE RAINS IN YOAKUM

Heaviest Rain That Has Fallen For Several Years—Other Items of Interest

Yoakum County News

There have been fine rains in portions of Yoakum county during the past week. On Tuesday a very heavy rain fell over the north and northwest part of the county, and at night time the heaviest rain fell at Bronco and vicinity that has fallen there in several years; it also extended northwest and southwest and as far west as Roswell. In the Bronco neighborhood it flooded the country and drowned thousands of prairie dogs and rabbits, and filled all the lakes in that country to overflowing. It put so much water in Sulphur Draw that it assumed proportion of a large river, and ran down to within a short distance of Plains. It is said that T. C. Ivey got the best rain on his north side ranch that has fallen there in the past five years. There have been very good rains down Sulphur Draw and over a good portion of the northeast part of the country, but very little in the southeast portion.

Mr. Meyers said it would only be a question of time till Plains land bring $100 per acre, as the eyes of the entire world is now turned on this country.

In conversation with Frank Proctor last Saturday, he said he had just finished filling his silo with corn, maize and cane, which cost him just one dollar per ton to put it in counting everything. Therefore he now has 200 tons of feed. The government estimates it to be worth at least $6 per ton or $1200 worth of feed. Watch the big silos go up in Terry next year.

ANOTHER CITY WELL

Council Decides This at Last—Meeting—Will Windmill Power

Terry County Herald

At the last meeting of the City Council, which was last Monday night, it was decided that another city well be put down immediately south of the sump. The new well is to be 100 feet deep, and will be equipped with a four-inch cylinder, and a ten foot windmill.

The water that is pumped from this well by mill force will be deposited in the sump, and it is the expectation of the city dads that it will decrease the expense of pumpage considerably, as the mill can be left running from one month end to another and will only cost the small repair bills usually incident to the operation of mills in this country, and will at the same time lift a great amount of water and deposit it in the reservoir.

Moved to Lubbock

In our rounds this week we find many new faces in our city, and upon inquiry find that many of them are worn by people who have come to Lubbock to reside.

Among the latest arrivals we find Mr. C. C. Doniphan, recently of Canyon City, who has accepted a position with L. B. Wright as salesman. He is an experienced hardware man, and Mr. Wright feels fortunate in having secured his services.

Mrs. Doniphan and child arrived Sunday and they are at present stopping at the Jordan boarding house till they can get possession of a residence in which to begin housekeeping.

DIPPING CATTLE

Lubbock County People Are Busy Complying With The Recent Requirements of the Assn.

For the past month or more there has been considerable activity among the ranchers of this section of this county regarding the dipping and disinfection of their herds of any infectious disease that they might have.

While it is a fact that a large percent of the cattle in this country have no disease at all, there are those herds that it is claimed to have diseases that are hurtful, and from which the disease is being spread.

Some time ago the Livestock Sanitary Board in conjunction with the Cattle Raisers' Association entered upon a campaign whereby they expect to eradicate these disease and stamp them entirely out. To do this it was deemed necessary to dip, spray, or in some way, approved by the sanitary commission disinfect all cattle within a prescribe territory, and Lubbock county was within that territory, hence every cow is receiving a disinfection this month. The town cows are being sprayed with a solution of the same strength as that used in dipping. For the past two days old Jersey, old Crumple and old so-and-so have been taken to the Brown Livery barn where she received a dipping under the supervision of the inspectors.

HAS A GOOD WELL

Commissioner Burford is Well Pleased With His Well Brought In Last Spring

E. O. Burford, county Commissioner of Pritchett No. 3, was in town Monday looking after court matters and was a pleasant caller at our office. He presented us with a photograph of his irrigation well that he had put down on his stock farm in the Acuff community last spring, and it shows up splendidly in the photo, which Mr. Burford says is true to the well. It flows on an average of 1000 gallons per minute.

While it may not be one of the largest wells on the South Plains, it is one of the kind that will do much toward developing the irrigation question on the Plains, as it is put into use and Mr. Burford did not spend the money that he put into this proposition merely for a show but to get results and results that are entirely satisfactory to him is what he is getting.

He expects next year to have something that will show for the well and money and time that he has put in on the proposition. He was a little too late getting everything in shape this year for as good result as can be obtained from the irrigation waters from this well, though as stated above it is very satisfactory.

Boy Accidentally Hurt

Monday morning on the school grounds, while playing on the trapeze, J. C. Sanders, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Liff Sanders, was quite painfully injured by a fall, which rendered him unconscious for an hour or more.

Upon examination it was found that no bones were broken, and the boy was able to go to school again in the afternoon of the same day.

BIG ABSTRACT JOB

Lubbock Firms Lands it. Mull Sells Hogs at Fancy Price—Other Items in Crosby

Crosbyton Review:
Mr. C. L. Adams, with the Guarantee Abstract and Title Company of Lubbock, has been here this week making up an original abstract of the J. R. Ralls property. He has contracted to get out for this company 465 original abstracts—enough to make an ordinary christian sympathizer turn giddy to think of it.

J. B. Mull sold to Uncle Abe Ellison two hogs for $100. Mr.

Mull offered to bet Mr. Ellison a gallon of rose-cloud water that the swinettes would weigh out that much at market prices.

E. B. Perry and B. W. Kieran were over from Lubbock yesterday.

J. B. Mull, who shipped a car of two-year-olds and a bunch of hogs to Fort Worth about two weeks ago, tried it again Monday, but with what luck the Review hasn't learned.

(f) That plaintiff and those, whose estate she has, claiming to have good and perfect right and title thereto, had and held peaceable, continuous and exclusive adverse possession of said land and premises hereinbefore described, cultivating, using and enjoying the same, for a period of more than ten years before the commencement of this suit, and that plaintiff claims title to said above described land and premises under the statute of limitation of ten years.

That the claim of the defendants unknown heirs of Mrs. Jessie F. Haslett, deceased, and their heirs and legal representatives, is, so far as plaintiff knows, based upon the claim that the hereinabove described land was the separate property of Mrs. Jessie F. Haslett, deceased; that the acknowledgment of said Mrs. Jessie F. Haslett to the above-described deed from Haslett and wife, Jessie F. Haslett, to Arnold Brown, is invalid and that said conveyance did not divest said Mrs. Jessie F. Haslett of her title to said above described land and that the same passed to the defendants upon the death of said Mrs. Jessie F. Haslett on or about, to-wit, the day of A. D. 1882.

Wherefore, plaintiff brings this suit and craves that said defendants be each and all duly and legally cited to appear and answer herein in the manner prescribed by law; that an attorney ad litem be appointed by the court to defend this suit for said defendants cited by publication; that upon final hearing hereof plaintiff have judgment against all of said defendants for the title to and possession of said land and premises; for damages and for writ of possession; and for all such other and further relief, both at law and in equity, general and special to which plaintiff may be entitled.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this 9th day of September, A. D. 1913.

In Speeding Auto, Tom Clark of Frisco Claims to Have Roped Wild Horse

Littlefield, Tex., Sept. 3.—Tom Clark of Frisco, Texas, claims the distinction of having roped the first genuine Spanish mustang stallion ever lassoed from an automobile. Mr. Clark, accompanied by J. H. Taylor, Jr., and Joe Taylor of McKinney, A. E. Harp and Clint Shepard of Plainview, were interested spectators at the annual branding on Yellow House Ranch this week.

Mention having been made of the fact that there is one bunch of wild horses left on the Plains, the gentlemen decided to undertake the feat of catching one.

Antelopes and coyote wolves have frequently been run down by autos, but no record of a horse before. After a search of an hour or so they espied the mustangs and started in pursuit, driving a four-cylinder car. The chase over the prairies was very exciting. With Mr. Shepard at the wheel all dog-holes and ditches were safely negotiated, notwithstanding the car sometimes went as fast as 50 miles an hour. Horse flesh can not hold out against gasoline and machinery so after running about 15 miles the mustang weakened, the car ran alongside, Clark twirling the lasso, caught the horse, which was thrown to the ground and hobbled by the party of daring Texans.

Kodak pictures were taken as the race progressed which the gentlemen exhibit to prove the story.

After Three Weeks Illness Caused by Typhoid Fever Passed Away Saturday Afternoon

The sad news spread rapidly over our city Saturday afternoon of the death of Mrs. Minnie DeShazo, wife of our townsman J. W. DeShazo.

Mrs. DeShazo had been very sick with typhoid fever for about three weeks. Some hope of recovery was entertained until within the last few days. She did not realize until near the last that death was approaching, but when she did she said to her mother, who had come from Brownfield to assist in caring for her, that "It is all right," and later she said, "I believe I am dying."

Mrs. Minnie DeShazo was born Mar. 6, 1889, professed religion when 15, joined the Missionary Baptist Church at Mercer's Gap, Texas, and again later at Brownfield, Texas. And afterward made her home in Lubbock for a time; and on May 15th, 1910 was married to Bro. Joe DeShazo then a merchant of this city.

Later she and her husband joined the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and was a consistent and appreciated member until her decease. She died

The funeral was preached at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church Sunday afternoon by her pastor Rev. J. L. Elliott, to a crowded house even beyond its seating capacity. The music was rendered by a special choir, and was excellent. The pall bearers were selected from among the special friends of the family. The funeral services were beautiful and impressive. The flower tributes were elaborate and more in number than could easily be accommodated. After the funeral services a long procession followed the hearse to the cemetery where the remains were laid to rest in the presence of a throng of friends, and the grief stricken husband, mother, sisters and other relatives on both sides. And one of the saddest features in it is the fact that she leaves two small children and one of them an infant only 8 months of age.

Bro. DeShazo has the deep sympathy of a host of friends in Lubbock, by whom he is commended in this sad hour of affliction to Him who is able to give comfort here, and eternal relief and everlasting joy when we meet our loved ones in the realms of eternal glory. J. L. Elliott, pastor.

City Building Notes

By L. M. Ward, Sherman, Pres. Texas Com. Executives Asso.

To the builder belongs the spoils. Healthy discontent is constructive. Discontentment is commercial leprosy. It's a weak wheel that has a broken cog. Happiness is the natural reward of hard labor. The tree of knowledge is fed from the stream of experience. No city can be perfectly good, but it can be practically sanitary. The good ship "progress" makes little headway through the sea of discontent. The farmers of Texas are no longer villagers but are cosmopolitan citizens. Business men will profit immeasurably through the prosperity of the farmer. Success and systematic development of a business or community depends upon the united effort of the entire citizenship. The condition of the city's streets, sidewalks, buildings and residences are always noticed by the visitor. If unkept, an unfavorable impression is left. There is no disputing the fact we are all in business for what we can get out of it. But it is some times necessary to assist others along the commercial highway before we can collect our own reward. S. W. Jarvis stated to the Avalanche reporter Monday that his range was in fine shape, has better grass than for several years past, and his feed crop is very fine; cattle in fine condition, and he is well pleased with the conditions around his ranch.

Rev. Chase Will Move Here

Rev. J. E. Chase, who has been conducting a revival meeting at this place for the past two weeks, has accepted the call of the South Side Christian Church, and will move here immediately.

His family, which has been here since he began the meeting remained, while he returned to Benjamin Monday afternoon, to ship his belongings to this place. Mr. Chase is well pleased with Lubbock, and is a good preacher. Lubbock no doubt is very fortunate in having this family added to her population.

Moore in New Quarters

J. H. Moore, the grocer, is now snugly located in one of the Lowrey buildings on the west side of the square. He has heretofore been on the north side, but his new location puts him in a decidedly better location. He now has one of the nicest arranged grocery and racket stores in the city, and we predict for him a nice increase in business.

Lowrey Rents Last Room

R. H. Lowrey last week closed a deal by which he leased the remaining room on the ground floor of his new building. S. C. Spikes & Son will occupy a portion of the building, and Bryan and Duff will use the remaining portion, they having formed a partnership in the second hand business.

Moving to Lubbock

G. A. Faulk, was here this week from Arlington, Texas, and purchased the R. H. Haney residence, formerly the J. B. Pryor property in the Dupree addition and has returned to Arlington to move his family here. He was here several months ago and purchased some cattle and lease on pasture land.

Woman Makes the HOME

"It's a woman and only a woman."

It takes a woman to turn a house into a home. We have so many little things in our Tinware Department that will make housekeeping more a pleasure to her as well as save her time and convenience.

Space will not permit us to enumerate the many articles we have for use in the kitchen, but we will mention the following: In cake pans we have the square angel food pans, loaf cake pans, different sizes, perfection, clean cut and plain layer cake pans.

Our assortment of egg beaters, basting spoons, mixing spoons, graters, vegetable slicers, forks, cake and biscuit cutters, measuring cups, funnels, strainers, etc., is the largest to be found in this section.

We Are Proud of Our Line of Fine Granite ware and if you will only favor us by calling on us and looking over our select stock you will say we have every reason to be.

Quality in granite ware means strength, durability and efficiency—you will find all three coupled with most reasonable prices in this department.

Our line of white ware is the highest grade ware obtainable, and its beauty is unsurpassed. Our White Rock line, blue and white mottled on the outside and white inside is a cheaper ware, but it is an excellent value at the price we ask for it. A 14 quart dish-pan costs you only 75c. The largest size Tea Kettle at $1.00 is a bargain. All other goods in proportion. See our Enameled Roasting Pans.

Statement Concerning Irrigation M. E. Layne, of the Layne & Bowler Co.

The following statement concerning irrigation, made by Mr. M. E. Layne is of interest. Mr. Layne of the Layne & Bowler Co., has visited and investigated nearly all the irrigated districts in the United States. He states that the well pumping proposition is a better home builder and the most satisfactory manner of irrigation, as each man controls his own water supply, which can be applied at the time most needed.

The water supply in semi-arid districts, as far as he has investigated, can be put in a commercial and usable shape by proper equipment of wells at a less cost per acre for installation than the average ditch or canal now in use in the states of Washington and Colorado and other western states. Mr. Layne states that the operating expense, including interest on the cost of well plant will be far less in keeping with results obtained, than the ditch or canal system.

The average cost of ditch or canal water along the Platte river in Colorado costs $250.00 per second foot, which is 450 gallons per minute. The water is delivered at the head of the canal (that is when there is sufficient water in the river to supply the canal), and the farmer loses the leakage and evaporation, which loss amounts to in many cases 50 per cent before the water reaches its destination. Thus it is clear that a well that will produce 1350 gallons per minute, which is three second feet, or 150 miner inches, if paid for at a ditch or canal price, if delivered on the ground at the point of consumption, would cost the farmer $1500.00 allowing for a loss of 50 per cent in delivery, to say nothing about the uncertainty of getting the water on account of dry seasons, and inconvenience of being forced to use it when your turn comes; whether your crops need it just at that time or not.

The first cost is usually from $40.00 to $75.00 per acre for ditch water, with from $8.00 to $1.75 per acre annual assessments for canal foremen, repairs, washouts and many other expenses, besides the interest on the first cost of installation.

In many cases, irrigation from the Columbia river, the fruit growers are paying $75.00 per acre for their water rights, then in order to deliver the water to their land, which is in many instances, on a much higher level than the ditch or canal, often ranging from a slight to an elevation as high as six hundred feet, they are forced to re-pump the water, besides being under heavy expense for long lines of conducting pipe.

The well proposition can usually be installed for from $15.00 to $30.00 per acre, which is less than the average cost of ditch water. Therefore, the interest saved on the smaller investment called for in well irrigation, will more than pay for the fuel consumed in operating pumps, and the upkeep on the ditch or canal will more than offset the deterioration on the well plant.

The greatest mistake and the most failures from well irrigation comes from installing a well too small and impractical machinery which does not produce water in sufficient quantities to permit of properly spreading same.

A beginner is inexperienced, and does not know how to measure the water and much less how to estimate it, but being enthused and excited, imagines that he can easily irrigate a township with his new 2000 gallon well. When in fact the 2000 gallons guessed at or estimated will in many instances only be 600 gallons per minute, so he usually fails in his first attempt. This discourages him and is the reason for so many failures in new irrigation districts.

Now, in order to be conservative and be on the safe side, Mr. Layne strongly urges all parties putting in irrigation plants to consult those who have had experience, who can properly install irrigation plants, and superintend the setting of a weir at some convenient location, so that they can at all times know the exact amount of water their wells are producing.

Always remember that overplanting, which is excessive acreage, limited cultivation and improper application of water will lead to bankruptcy.

Mr. Layne has given the study of developing and placing of under-flows or ground water in commercial or usable shape, his entire time for the past thirty years, and he is confident that the engineering world is just coming to know the wonderful possibilities to be developed in the very near future from this great source of fresh, life giving, energizing force stored in God-giving reservoirs, to be used for man's benefit, when he once understands how to best procure it and apply it as he should.

The well water is your own private property to be used at your pleasure and convenience. There is no waiting or guessing when your "turn" comes as with the ditch or canal, no litigation concerning priority rights such as is common in many canal and ditch propositions.

Therefore, a correctly installed well irrigation pumping plant is a water getter, a home builder and a mortgage lifter.

When we consider the fact that Lubbock county has this water underneath, at such a short distance from the surface, the above statement is very encouraging. Experts tell us that the main strata of water, from which the irrigation is done, averages a less depth from the surface than any county on the plains and that practically the whole county can be irrigated. When this fact once becomes known to the world, land values will certainly soar. The soils of the proper sort for irrigation, there is no alkali or other injurious qualities in either the soil or water. Thus everything indicates success in the future.

We understand the Cumberland Presbyterian congregation at this place have employed another pastor to take the place of Rev. J. L. Rev. Elliott's successor will be Rev. G. O. Hubbert, of San Angelo, and is represented as being an able man and a good pastor. Rev. Expect Cotton Caterpillar
The Department of Agriculture at Austin announces that the recent rainfall in many sections would undoubtedly lead to the production of the cotton leaf caterpillar, which eats off the upper leaves of the cotton stalk and is very detrimental to the farmers where a fine crop is anticipated. It was advised that where the caterpillar begins to make an appearance the stalks be dusted with arsenate of lead or Paris green while the dew is still on the stalk. This method has proven effectual in eradicating the caterpillar.

[We will be glad to make any announcements of Church Service, Programs, etc., in this column free of charge, where no revenue is received from the services.—Editor.]

The program committee is hard at work on the Children's Day exercises and there will be quite an interesting service by the children at 11:00 o'clock next Sunday. The parents of the children who are members of the Sunday School should make a special effort to be there. Visitors are most cordially invited to come.

Superintendent.

Good interest still continues in the Methodist Sunday School. The attendance, though short a few of the number the Sunday preceding, was good, and the service was one of the best yet. An instrumental selection by Master Dwight Brown, of Dallas, with his cornet, was greatly enjoyed. The teachers are all full of energy and are looking out for the new comers in town. If you are a stranger in our town and the Methodist Church is your choice, come and be with us in the Sunday School. You will be a stranger only once. Visitors are most cordially invited.
