R. M. BRADLEY BRINGS IN 1,500 GAL. IRRIGATION WELL

Underground River of Blackwater Valley Again Yields Copious Supply Of the "White Gold" for Irrigation

R. M. Bradley, recently of Wichita Falls, last Tuesday afternoon brought in a new irrigation well which, according to statements made by the driller and other irrigationists of the valley will yield at least 1,500 gallons of water per minute on the pump. The well went on the pump at 3:40 p. m., and after pumping about four hours "sanded up" requiring the pump to be lifted and a part of the suction pipe removed until the upper part of the well has been developed when it will be replaced if needed.

There was a big crowd of people from Muleshoe and neighbors of the new settler present to see the first gush of the new developer as the big centrifugal pump shot the full nine inch discharge pipe of sand and water out into the main canal previously prepared to receive it.

Bradley, a few months ago, purchased a 40 acre tract of land lying two and one-half miles northwest of Muleshoe on State highway No. 7, and in the proven shallow water belt of the valley. On this tract he is developing a modern homestead expending around $15,000 for improvements, which includes a brick veneer residence containing six rooms and bath, with basement 24x38 feet size, and which when completed, will have all modern appointments, including gas, private lighting plant, hot and cold water, etc.

The well brought in Tuesday was drilled by A. B. Hays, well known successful driller of this section. The hole was sunk to a depth of 125 feet and is 14 feet in diameter, a surface casing of 40 feet being dropped into the hole, the remaining distance being uncased, as is the custom in this section.

The first water, sufficient to operate a good size windmill, was encountered by the bit at 18 feet and continued on down for 60 feet, giving 42 feet of productive water sand. At the 92 foot level the two foot thickness of lime cap rock under which lies the sunken river bed, was encountered and the water began surging toward the surface, the hole being continued on down to the 118 foot level where five more feet of sand rock were pene-tured giving access to the sub-stratum of water.

Over the well has been installed a No. 12 Kimball-Krogh single stage centrifugal pump, having a 30 foot setting and a 20 foot suction which, running at the rate of 1420 r. p. m., develops 1,500 g. p. m., and at higher speed has an approximate maximum output of 1,800 gallons per minute.

Mr. Bradley already has his land leveled, plowed and the lateral ditches are run, the ground now receiving its first watering by irrigation. Practically the entire acreage will go into crop this spring, 20 acres of it into alfalfa, a good sized market truck patch, including some tomatoes for the canning factory to be located here this spring also, some acreage in Indian corn, together with smaller tracts of various grains to be raised experimentally.

Until recently, Mr. Bradley was engaged in the oil business in and around Wichita Falls, but he declares that the "white gold" of the Blackwater valley looks far better to him than the "black gold" of the oil fields.

This is the season of "West Texas rain." Dr. Matthews was on a call near Hurley one day last week, and reports seeing the prairie dogs in that section 40 feet up in the air digging their holes.

SPRING MAKES OFFICIAL ARRIVAL LOVERS AND GARDNERS WARNED OLD SOL MAY FROWN SOME MORE

"Well, Spring is here," advised Judge R. J. Klump, Muleshoe meteorological expert last Monday morning. "It arrived exactly according to schedule," he continued "at exactly seven minutes 34 seconds and two ticks after eight o'clock a. m., last Sunday morning, central standard time, for at that distinct time Old Sol, who has been gradually drawing himself away from the Antarctic pole where Admiral Byrd and some of his fellows were playing, crossed the equator to more directly east. His vernal eye upon the northern hemisphere.

"Now the sap will be rising, the buds will be swelling, the birds will be coming, lovers will be loving and gardeners will be gardening—all looking forward to June 21st, when summer will be officially ushered in."

"The coming of spring may be a matter of emotion with poets," said the Judge, "but it is one of mathematics with the weather statisticians and nautical almanac makers, and they keep it figured down to a nicety. Next year Spring will arrive at 2:45 p. m. on March 20th, and the following year it will come at 8:45 p. m. of the same day. Even changing the calendar to a 13-month per year type as is now being agitated, wont change the arrival time of Spring," the Judge said. "Just as long as Earth continues her present schedule of using 365 1/2 days to circle around the sun, that fraction of a day will cause scientists to continue delving into fractions in their computations."

Sunday was a beautiful arrival day for Miss Spring, but she is a capricious sort of dame and it takes her new quarters, so the Judge advises some time to get deftly settled in her that the straw hats and divs should still be left in the moth balls of winter for a while yet. "Keep your eye on this gay sister for a while," he said.

METHODIST ZONE MEETING HELD HERE LAST WEEK

A meeting of unusual interest, especially to Methodists, was that held in Muleshoe last week, when representatives of the Western Zone, No. 2 Plainview district, gathered here for the monthly service.

Rev. W. B. Hicks local pastor, was in charge of the program. The two principal topics for discussion were: "Kingdom Extension" and "Evangelism." Many helpful and interesting suggestions were offered by the various speakers on these themes.

Rev. D. B. Doak pastor, First M. E. Church, Plainview, gave a very inspiring and helpful address at the morning hour.

Ladies of the local church served a bountiful repast to delegates present, at the noon hour.

There were representatives here from Littlefield, Amherst, Sudan, Y1 Earth and Muleshoe circuit.

The next meeting will be held in May at Sudan.

PLAYING THE GAME OF LIFE

YOU are playing the Game of Life! The umpire calls, "play ball." The pitcher of fates doubles himself up in the box and hurls an opportunity at you. You strike for it, but miss—the opportunity passes on.

"Strike one!" calls the umpire.

Again the dealer of deserts twists himself into a knot and, as he unravels the heterogeneous mass of legs, arms and body, out shoots another opportunity. But—you were too slow, and it passed by before you had time to judge it.

"Strike two!" calls the umpire.

Only one more chance: Make ready now! Everyone is expectant. The air is thick with the aroma of the world is astrif. Friends are cheering. In the "box" you go—tap the plate Here it comes—WHACK!!

"Safe on first" calls the umpire. (HEALTH)

Another player goes to the bat, and you steal "second." (WEALTH) He sends a fly out over the right fielder, and you slide to third. (HAPPINESS)

Now the amphitheatre resounds with the chorus of many voices. It is going to be a "forced run."

Another takes his turn at the stick. Will he make good. Sure! Just a little "grounder" nicely placed, and you "walk in." (SUCCESS)

So goes the Game of Life. Some strike out in the beginning. They do not possess the elements essential to success. Some "die on first"—lacking in health. Many have a vigorous constitution, but fail to "make second." Health and a degree of wealth are essentials to happiness. These three are attained and one is very apt to make a success of life.

Much depends upon the condition of the "diamond" on which you play. See the point. Is it slick? Hard to get up speed, even if you do capture the opportunity? Many men do "fly out to first." Going against a strong head wind—a "scratch for second." Hot weather—third at last, but "most all in." Alas! How many never make the complete circuit—how many fall when prospects seem most flattering!

In the Blackwater Valley in Bailey County is to be found the perfect Playground of Life. Here all conditions are ideal—all opportunities present. Only the players are needed. Thousands of acres of the one-time big ranches have been cut up into small and suitable tracts and are being offered to the home-hungry people at very low prices as desirable plots on which to play the Game of Life. Muleshoe, marked municipality of matchless mission, invites you into her midst.

Here Nature has outlined the "diamond of success." Nestling in the bosom of the beautiful Blackwater Valley of bounty and blessedness; enthroned in a verdant valley; the scent of fragrant gardens filling the nostrils; the bloom and blossom of countless orchards and vineyards leaping into shining red and purple fruitage; wide fields of snowy cotton and golden grain; beneath a sunny canopy of the day and wearing a crown that sparkles with the myriad stars of the night; her thirst quenched by the purest water America affords, quickly responding to the elevating influence of the irrigation pump—the thus flings out her arms of welcome and bids all mankind come into her midst, where the Game of Life knows no failure.

AGRICULTURAL GENIUS SHOWS HOW TO MAKE A HALF HOG WORTH MORE THAN WHOLE HOG SOLD ON MARKET

Dealing in diametrical opposition seems to be quite a hobby with County Farm Agent Fred S. Reynolds, not essentially a hog raiser but has a peculiar interest in that direction, but rather because the very nature of his work is of that kind which produces the possible from the impossible, and so many people "from Missouri" just naturally have to be convinced regarding something they are absolutely sure can not be accomplished.

Making a half a hog worth more than a whole hog would seem to be an impossible feat yet that very thing has been accomplished in numerous instances, says Reynolds, and he points to a recent performance of the "miraculous" which occurred in Lamb county, wherein his comrade D. A. Adam, conclusively proved that the hams, shoulder and bacon of the average farm hog when dressed, was worth more to the farmer than the entire hog when sold on the hoof in the open market.

The story runs something like this: "The other week," Henry Pickrell, owner of a couple of hogs that weighed the beam at 250 pounds, was "shown" the theory. Henry believed the animals bring about $175.00 on the hoof,

"Out at Henry's farm there was a hog killing, with the county agent doing the experimental work and several neighbors on hand to watch the process. The animals were slaughtered and dressed. Then came the canning.

"The hams weighed about 18 pounds each the shoulders nine pounds and there was about nine pounds of bacon to the side. Thirty-three pounds of sausage worth 25 cents a pound; 66 cans of No. 3 size and 10 cans of No. 2 size, were produced besides head cheese, lard, etc.

"Almost any farmer can get 35 cents a pound for his cured ham if he knows how to cure it," says the county agent. "We figured what Henry would receive at the current prices for his two hogs. He would get more than $96 from the two. They would have brought about $35 on the hoof."

LOOMIS PLAYERS COMING

The Allertia Loomis players, well known in Muleshoe, will be here with their show about April 13, according to a long distance telephone message received Monday by J. E. Adams.

They will play here under auspices of the local American Legion post.

A GOOD CITIZEN'S BUSINESS

An Editorial

It used to be said in smaller towns that it is the business of a good citizen to mind his own business, keep out of debt and avoid breaking laws. It was commonly thought if he did that, it was about all that could be expected of him, and he was conforming to the ideas of good citizenship.

But a community's development cannot be promoted in these times on any such limited basis. The fact that so many small town people still have this spirit and expect to get along without doing anything particular to boost community movements, is one of the principal reasons why some towns do not get ahead faster.

Some one must take hold and carry on the work of churches and fraternal societies. Some of the men with a special head for business need to work in some organization for the commercial and other needs of the community. Some need to work in the clubs for educational purposes, and for more interesting social activities. There is something that each one should do and we must all take hold to do something in these public lines, if we expect that a town is going to keep up with the game.

People should not act as though they were making a great sacrifice if they devote a little of their time to such purposes. We should love our home town so much, we should be so ambitious to see it go ahead, we should be so conscious of the gains that people who have initiative or ability or industry, should be willing to give some time each week to helping forward such causes.

Ask yourself "What is my part!"

RED CROSS DISTRIBUTES GARDEN SEED OVER COUNTY

Two large cartons, each about three feet square, heavily packed with garden seed have been received and distributed by the local Red Cross organization to applicants throughout the county.

Twenty-one families have already been served from Muleshoe, about one-half the seed received was sent to the south part of the county for distribution. There is some still left of different varieties.

ADJUSTMENT OF HUMAN BRAKES IS PREVENTION OF AUTO ACCIDENTS

"Not all accidents are chargeable to automobile drivers," remarked K. K. Smith, local auto dealer. A group of men had gathered in his place of business and were discussing the necessity of quick action to avert disaster.

"Of course," continued Mr. Smith, "there are plenty of car drivers who are careless with their brakes and they couldn't 'stop on a dime' by any means; but there are also plenty of pedestrians that need better brakes. It takes a certain length of time for an auto driver to press his foot on the brake when his brain has warned him of impending collision and it also takes a certain amount of time for the physical reaction to a mental message to his pedal extremities. The reaction to danger among different people has quite a variation. As a general rule younger people have quicker reaction than older ones, and that is one reason why older folks should drive their automobiles more slowly, and be more watchful when crossing streets. However, there are cases among people of younger years where the physical reaction to a mental warning is sluggish."

For instance, lengthy experiments made by scientists are to the effect that if a man was walking at the rate of four miles per hour, and a moving object should suddenly come up three feet in front of him, the chance of his colliding with the object is ninety-nine times out of a hundred.

But the reaction to danger among different people has quite a variation. #### MINISTER FROM HAPPY LEADS IN METHODIST REVIVAL HERE

Large audiences with marked interest are featuring the Methodist revival meeting which began here last Sunday morning.

Rev. H. C. Smith, pastor of the Methodist church at Happy, is doing the preaching, and a good job of it. His sermons are pointed and direct, unequivocal in their denunciation of modern sinful customs, convincing in their appeal for holier living, and being interspersed here and there with bits of acute humor, scintillating flashes of oratory and illustrations of merit, serve to hold the constant attention of the auditors in an enlightening and inspiring manner.

Morning services are being held at ten o'clock each day, while the night services begin at 8 o'clock.

WESTERN UNION LEAGUE MEET AT OLTON SUNDAY

The Western Union of the Epworth League, Plainview district will convene at Olton, Sunday, March 29, for the purpose of electing officers, and rendering of a program arranged by the district committee.

This union consists of Plainview Olton, Hale Center, Abernathy, Earth, YL and Muleshoe. There is quite a bit of rivalry between the leagues of these different places, and banners of efficiency are offered the league that has the best standing at these meetings. The Muleshoe Senior and Hi-League have won these banners the last two times. Great good is being accomplished by these meetings, the work of the church emphasized, and the young of the church are given an opportunity to develop into real church workers.

Correct this sentence: "My baby is so ugly, you ought to see how bad she looks."

can be countermanded and superceded by another one to halt, the collision takes place.

"What about the pedestrian having his brakes reined?" inquired the news hound who was listening in on the desertion. "That is entirely possible," replied K. K. Automobile brakes are reined quite frequently and the mechanism is set up so as to give quicker and tighter action. The same can be done with the human body, but that's the work of an M. D., instead of an A. D. Everyone knows that when they are in good physical condition they enjoy a keener mentality, and consequently a quicker action and better coordination exists between all the various anatomical functions of the being. Therefore, other factors being equal, the one in good physical health can the more quickly avert danger and disaster than one who is not.

"A pedestrian's safety from his personal standpoint, depends largely upon three things: the rate of speed he is walking, the extent or width of the danger zone and the time required for reaction. Experiments prove that if a man's reaction is normal, and he is walking at the rate of four miles per hour, six feet distance becomes his danger zone. Legally speaking, it is generally considered that the pedestrian has the right-of-way over the auto driver when the auto driver is within the danger zone with the brakes reined."

Twenty Million Drouth Fund Is Available In Co.

The Bailey County Drouth Relief Committee last week received blank applications under the $20,000,000 recent grant of Congress, and 1 applications have already been in, and returns are being received. These applications going to the office at Fort Worth receive prompt attention.

Under the provisions of this act a farmer who could not qualify under the $5,000,000 loan may participate in the purchase of feed and seed. He may obtain stock feed at the rate of $4 per hog not to exceed 5 head (pigs not included); $15 per cow, not to exceed 5 cows; 10 cents per head for grown chickens, not to exceed 100 head; the total of all mentioned not to exceed the sum of $75.00.

Money may also be obtained for the purchase of human food and clothing, the committee to be the judge of needs as to the latter. Also, money is granted for blacksmith work, purchase of medicine, fuel for cook stove, fuel for tractor, irrigation purposes, and various other commodities. The allowance for food until July 1 is as follows:

No. in family	Amt. per mo.
1	$ 6.00
2	$ 8.00
3	$ 9.00
4	$12.00

All loans are based on needs and the appearance of the applicants financial statement and his record and ability to repay. No loan will be made anyone who states his purpose to increase his acreage of cotton or wheat, neither will a loan be granted anyone who did not raise cotton or wheat at all last year, but intend to do so. It is stated that a close check-up will be made on all provisions, promises and violations.

It is suggested that all applicants keep a memorandum of their agreement with the government in money security, so they will have little difficulty in keeping their part of the contract. Where the sum obtained is $210 or less it is granted the applicant in one lump sum, amounts over that figure will come in two payments, the second payment to be made when the man reports he has spent all of the first payment according to agreement.

It is suggested there may be some instances where the amount granted will be less than the sum applied for, this will be because of final review of the needs at the Fort Worth office. At that office all applications have at least three reviews, one from the legal department, one from the agricultural department, and finally from the disbursing department.

County Judge J. E. Adams County Farm Agent Fred S. Reynolds, J. E. Aldridge and Connie Gupton, committee members for this county attended a district meeting held in Plainview, Thursday of last week, where they received full information relative to the handling of these loans and any of these men will be glad to be of any assistance possible to those desiring information or who want to make application. Applications are being filled out at the court house.

A. O. Dunn & Son To Open Liberty Cafe In Moeller Bldg. Sat'y

A. O. Dunn and family have moved here from Amarillo, taking a three years lease on a part of the Moeller building, in which they will open the "Liberty" cafe next Saturday morning. Mr. Dunn has been in the cafe business for the past 15 years and declares he knows it from one end to the other. In looking for a desirable location, he visited a number of West Texas towns and spent 10 days in Muleshoe before deciding upon his permanent location. He is greatly pleased with the future outlook of development here.

The room to be occupied by the new cafe has been thoroughly refurnished in snowy whiteness, has all modern equipment for sanitation and service, including a new type automatic phonograph.

From eleven in the morning until two o'clock that afternoon Mr. Dunn invites the public to be his guest for lunch and to get acquainted.

Senior Talk

The following conversation between two of the Fish's was overheard by a Senior recently:

Frank: "You know, Woodie, I don't know how I am going to get by with my report card this quarter."

Woodie: "What do you mean?"

Frank: "Well I don't know how I'm going to get dad to sign it."

Woodie: "Why don't you do like I do?"

Frank: "How is that?"

Woodie: "Well I watch for the truck and when I see it coming I rush madly to dad and ask him to sign it and tell him that the truck is coming. Well, he hasn't time to look at it and if he does he hasn't time to say any thing, and he has forgotten it by the time I get home nights."

Frank: "Pretty good guess I will have to try it."

This Senior decided that the Fish were not as dumb as they are given credit for:

One day as Mr. Cox was giving out reports he said, "Mildred, you are dumb, take this report." After a little thought Mildred replied, "What's the use? I'm too dumb to work it up."

Juvenile

Hello! Bailey County. We hope you are glad to hear from us again. Wow! what a time. We are burning midnight oil in order to win a place in the one act tournament to be held at Plainview Saturday the 28th of this month.

We are hoping that a goodly crowd of the Muleshoens will be there to cheer us on. We must arrive at 9:00 o'clock. If we win out in this contest we will get to go some place and try our luck again.

The play is a very heavy one and has some hard acting in it for amateurs, such as Courtland Paul, Troy and Arnold Aetkinson, Myrtis Burkhead and Ray Eckler. Alfio these are Juniors but one and we call Courtland a Senior.

Soph's, Quinine

We have ordered the books of our play entitled "The Dutch Detective." We will put this play on at the end of school free of charge.

Margaret Roach was absent two day last week but is back in school this morning.

Mr. Bryant: "You're lucky. I get indigestion."

W. B.: "I sure fixed Roy. He'll never copy again."
Charles: "How did you do that?"
W. B.: "Simple. He used to copy all my answers. I thought I would teach him a lesson, and consequently in the final exams I put down the wrong answers. He copied them and flunked of course."

Charles: "Gee, that's great but how did you get through?"
W. B.: "I never thought of that."

Progressive City Sees to Its Attractiveness

While much emphasis is being placed—and rightly—on the advantages that Indianapolis possesses as a commercial and industrial center, which are many and obvious, not enough thought or effort is directed to making it attractive as a place of residence. The men who work here have to live here, and therefore the town must be a good deal more than a workshop.

We have a fine start, there is much that might and should be done to increase the advantages that we already possess. We are richly endowed with churches, schools, libraries and art facilities, all of which make a strong appeal to those seeking new homes. We have our clubs, municipal playgrounds, golf courses and swimming pools and parks, and these are very important assets.

Valuable as they are, other things are needed. People like to live in comfort and amid beautiful surroundings. A campaign for the beautification of the city would yield rich returns. There should be greater care for our trees and a planting of new ones, even in streets supposed to be doomed to treelessness—certain of our business streets, for instance. The campaign against the smoke evil will, just as far as it succeeds, contribute very largely. For cleanliness is an element in both. Dinginess is certainly not attractive. Nor is it sanitary. Beauty, cleanliness and comfortable living conditions are all the marks of a wideawake and progressive community.—Indianapolis News.

It is customary to list French, Spanish, Portuguese, Italian and Rumanian as the Romance languages. These are largely derived from the speech of the Romans.

MR. AND MRS. ROCKEY HOSTS

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Rockey entertained a group of young people in their home Saturday evening with a surprise party for the two sons, O'Neil and Richard.

The guests gathered elsewhere according to prearrangements, and went in a body to the home, much to the surprise of the honored guests.

The entertainment of the evening consisted of forty-two, bridge and musical numbers. One of the evening's features were the vocal numbers by Fred Hinger, president Texas Tech Glee Club, he being one of the family guests.

Out of town guests were Miss Melzine Rockey, Richard and Glenn Rockey, Fred Hinger and George Finis all of whom are attending school in Lubbock.

MISS BOLES ENTERTAINS

Miss Malvina Boles entertained a few of her friends at her home Thursday of last week. The guests were: Bill Collins, Miss Margaret Roach, Aubrey Jorman, Miss Theron Kimbrough, Carlos Kimbrough, Miss Vera Rainey and Marvin Brock.

Forty-two and various other games were played. About 11:30 p. m., delicious refreshments were served after which the guests departed, saying they had a delightful time, and hoped Miss Boles would entertain them again before long.

PERSONAL ITEMS

The babe of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Chitwood, this city, died Thursday night of last week of diabetes at a Plainview hospital. Funeral services for the little one were held here Friday afternoon. Rev. C. A. Jolner, pastor, Baptist church, officiating, and interment made in the local cemetery.

Several of the school children following the example of some of the business men, have begun saving tin foil for the crippled children's hospital at Dallas. It is all greatly appreciated since it goes to a most worthy cause. Bernice Arnold brought nearly a pound to the Journal office last Monday, which she had gathered up. Let the good work continue!

Miss Claudia Johnston, county clerk of Crosby county, Crosbyton, was here Friday of last week, and attended the Red Cross meeting at Baileyboro that evening. She was greatly pleased with the appearance and prospect of this section, and declared her intention of returning at a later date to give the town and country a more definite investigation. While here she was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Tate.

Some one very kindly announced in school that the Journal was leading in a campaign to save tin foil for the children in the hospital for cripples at Dallas. The announcement is greatly appreciated, but a mistake was made in that the tin foil was being purchased. No money is being paid for it. The saving of tin foil is purely gratuitous, no one receiving any compensation for it, except the hospital where it is being sent. Several school children have brought in little bundles of the foil, and it is greatly appreciated. Those who do so are assisting in a worthy cause which contributes toward relieving the suffering and deformities of unfortunate children.

FARMERS REPORT FRUIT OF COUNTY IS SAFE TO DATE

Reports emanating from various sections of the county indicate that fruit of all kinds has not been damaged to date by any frosts nor freezes. Even the few apricot trees of this section are said to be safe.

Fruit is one of the most desirable crops of this section, and there is generally a good crop each year, though there are years when the early blossoming varieties get caught by frost.

There are several large orchards and a number of good sized vineyards in Bailey county, aside from a general sprinkling of fruit trees on nearly every farmstead, and owners are looking forward to enjoyment of a splendid crop this year.

Auto taxes put at $1,000,000,000 in fight on increases.

SAVE TI

Here's use for the good use too. Nearly everyone eats gum, and lots of folks smoke cigarettes and cigars. Most of the products are wrapped in tinfoil which when taken off, is thrown away. SAVE IT!

It's worth money, but it's not so much what it is worth as what it will bring, for it means comfort to numerous unfortunates of this life.

Masons everywhere all over Texas are gathering up tinfoil to send to the Orthopedic hospital at Dallas which is maintained by the Shriners. Hundreds of unfortunate crippled children are treated and operated on there every year. The institution is sustained entirely by gifts, even the doctors and surgeons giving their time, and some wonderful cures are being performed.

Last week Lubbock citizens gathered up 79 pounds of tinfoil and sent it to this hospital. Three pounds of tinfoil when sold by the Shriners will keep a crippled child in the hospital for a week.

Wouldn't you like to assist in this worthy humanitarian work? It costs you nothing to do so. Every time you purchase a package of chewing gum or candy wrapped in tinfoil, save the tinfoil. Those who smoke may save the tinfoil from around their cigars and -cigarette packages—it all counts up. When you have a little accumulation of the foil, leave it at one of the local drug stores or bring it to the Journal office to be sent direct to the hospital.

Several of the stores here have already placed boxes for receiving tinfoil, men who smoke, and several children, including a number of the Boy Scouts, who chew gum and eat candy are already saving tinfoil for these little unfortunates.

Think of it! Every time we send in three pounds, we have furnished hospital accommodation for a crippled child for a week. Let's see how many children we can help this year.

Advertising makes money circulate.

Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield has saved many lives in collisions

EVERY new Ford is equipped with a Triplex shatter-proof windshield. This is made so that the glass will not fly or splinter under the hardest impact. It has saved many lives and prevented injuries in many automobile collisions.

This shatter-proof glass windshield is just one of many features that make the new Ford a value far above the price. Others are the silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, sturdy steel body construction, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, extensive use of fine steel forgings, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, Rustless Steel, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

In addition, you save many dollars because of low first cost of the new Ford, low cost of operation and up-keep, and low yearly depreciation.

Maintenance Big Point in Real Estate Value

The owner who realizes that the maintenance of property is a real asset as to the sale or rental of the property does not have to be told of the necessity of keeping property in good condition. Unfortunately, however, there are many property owners, especially owners of unoccupied property, who do not realize this fact and then wonder why the property cannot be sold or rented. There is an old saying, "A stitch in time saves nine." This applies to many phases of business, but in regard to the maintenance of real estate it has a significance which can be measured in dollars and cents to an exceptional degree.

A small repair neglected can have much the same effect on an individual property as a decaying apple can have in a barrel of sound apples. The small repair develops into a bigger one which affects other parts of the property, causing a decay, so to speak, and a depreciation in value that really in the end makes the property unattractive and undesirable. It also affects in a detrimental way every nearby piece of real estate and deters persons who might be interested in nearby property to the extent that they will neither buy nor rent in a particular street or section.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Pennsylvania in Move to Beautify Highways

Community and civic organizations throughout Pennsylvania have been called upon to carry out plans of roadside development and landscaping to supplement construction of highways. The appeal was made by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation.

"Pennsylvania has spent and is spending millions of dollars for the construction of fine roads," S. Edward Gable, president of the federation said. "In connection with this there should be in each community a program of tree planting, landscaping and roadside care which, when completed, not only will make the roads more pleasing to the eye, but will give to the traveler a much better and pleasanter impression of the community. "There is little reason why the wind-swept, sun-baked stretches of concrete roads winding through the countryside should not be made more gracious to the eye by the planting of trees and flowers and roadside landscaping. The possibilities of roadside beautification are unlimited, and, if handled by community enterprise in co-operation with the proper authorities, can be worked out without burdensome expense."

Good Citizen Defined

The qualities of good citizenship are both positive and negative. A hermit is not a good citizen because while he may do no real harm, break no important laws, he contributes little to the general welfare, does not assist in enforcing law and withholds from the world the good influence which he might exert. The good citizen is interested in and helps to promote religion, education, local politics, public economy and thrift; he keeps posted on public affairs and candidates in order that he may vote intelligently, attends the primary and regular elections and votes.

His greatest contribution to public welfare is perhaps in maintaining faith in the ultimate triumph of good in the affairs of men.—Grit.

Garage as Investment

Most home owners who embark on a modernization campaign are sold on the idea that no improvement on the home place will add more to the appearance of the property and help more on the case of sale, than an attractive garage building.

As a source of revenue, for the small amount expended or invested, there are few better revenue producers than a garage built on the rear part of a home lot as there is, in most residence neighborhoods, a continuous demand for rented garages.

Erecting a garage and venting it will in many cases pay the taxes on the property.

Brick Veneering Pays

Many old houses have sturdy frames despite the shabby and old appearance of the exterior. Given a veneer of face brick, these houses will put on an appearance of newness and will give service that compares well with an entirely new home. The brick exterior provides protection against the elements and takes on added beauty with the years.

Supervision Important

Many architects believe that supervision is more important to the house than good plans, for good plans alone do not insure good building. It is the least expensive part of the architect's service. He charges less for this than for making the plans and specifications, because it takes less time to do it.

Houses Hard to Sell

Houses may have sound timbers and built into them the best of workmanship, but if the exterior lines are old, the siding weather-beaten and unpainted, the interior tacking in all of those modern contrivances that make for the comfort and convenience of the housewife, they are avoided.

POULTRY

When Fowls Are Removed Pests Do Not Survive.

Under ordinary temperatures a louse will not live more than a week removed from a bird, so if louse-free chickens are to be placed in a henhouse previously occupied by other poultry, it is necessary only to clean the house a week or so in advance, according to F. H. Wilson of the department of entomology of the New York state college of agriculture. Incubator-hatched chicks can be reared louse free quite easily if they are isolated from other chickens, he says.

To rid birds of lice the sodium fluoride treatment is recommended. Finches of this material distributed among the feathers is the usual procedure. It is a rather irritating substance so precautions should be taken to prevent its getting into the eyes or widely distributed over one's skin. Dr. Wilson warns that if the bird is dusted over a paper, the dust which does not stay on the bird can be saved and used again.

A new method to kill lice suggested by the makers of nicotine sulphate is to paint the upper surfaces of the roosts with the sulphate, undiluted. It is thought that the fumes from this material rising among the feathers of the roosting chickens will kill the lice and cause them to drop off.

To merely clean the henhouse and leave it a few days will not kill red mites, however. These are small reddish colored creatures that live in cracks and crevices and crawl over the birds at night to feed, and then return to hide during the day. Painting or spraying the roosts with kerosene or a properly diluted solution of nicotine sulphate usually eliminates the mites.

Weed Out Boarders and Save High-Priced Feed

Weed out boarders that cost thousands in feed. Failure to weed out and sell the unprofitable hens during the summer costs poultrymen thousands of dollars each year. Profit that could be realized from the laying hens is used to feed those boarder hens that eat high-priced feed without producing any eggs. This loss can easily be stopped by culling the flock about once each month during the summer. Culling at regular intervals makes it possible to remove from the flock of unprofitable hens shortly after they cease production.

Cod Liver Oil Helps Build Up Ailing Hens

Adequate roosting room is essential to the proper development of chicks on range. Chicks that are crowded at night are overheated and weakened. From four to six inches of roost space should be allowed for each bird. If there are too many birds for the size of the colony houses, summer shelters should be built. A summer shelter consists of a roof, sides and door covered with wire and with roosts on the inside running from end to end.

Poultry Facts

Pullets thrive better if separated from the cockerels soon after sex can be distinguished.

Leghorn chicks will usually start roosting on low flat roosts in two or three weeks while the heavy breeds still prefer to stay on the floor at that age.

A board or concrete floor, either is suitable for a poultry house. Concrete has the advantage of not warping and being more easily cleaned than a board floor.

Careful market men no longer buy thin, sickly birds. Since the grower has been responsible for the condition of the fowls, it is only fair that he should stand the loss.

The only difference between white and dark eggs is the color of the shell. The insides are exactly the same.

Hens are rarely profitable layers after two or three laying seasons. Production drops sharply after the second or third years.

The best treatment for sick turkeys is the an. Ordinarily there is little that can be done after turkeys become affected and run down physically.

Training turkeys to roost while they are quite young helps avoid crowding in the brooders and may save many points from being crushed or smothered. Laths tacked on four-inch blocks make good perches for the small turkeys.

To control red mites, paint the wood with some strong, oily penetrating material. Carbolineum, creosote, crude carbolic acid and kerosene mixed in equal parts; whitewash; waste crank case oil; and lime sulphur are all recommended.

Lamb County Finance Plan Pure Farm Seed

Lamb county bankers and farmers are working on a plan of financing whereby farmers of the county who will put out a small block of certified cotton seed, will be able to secure their seed under a bank financing plan.

In the event the plan is worked out, between 400 and 500 or more blocks of cotton will be planted in an effort to secure pure seed for the 1932 crop. Several meetings have been held at which men who wanted seed indicated the probable amount they desired and so far the men have passed the tests that the bankers have given them. Gins have agreed to store the certified seed after the cotton is ginned, separating it from other seed.

DUAL BANK SYSTEM FAVORED BY BANKER

State and National Institutions Supplement Each Other in Serving Country's Varied Financial Needs

RECENT suggestions that all banks in the United States be under Federal jurisdiction, doing away with the chartering of the various states recalls the opposition to this plan presented at the recent convention of the American Bankers Association by R. S. Hecht of New Orleans, Chairman of its Economic Policy Commission. Mr. Hecht said: "There are just as good reasons why there should be state as well as national banks, as that there should be state as well as a national government. I do not think that analogy is far-fetched. The states should not surrender all political jurisdiction to the central government, and the local business life of the states should not be made to surrender all control over financial functions to national financial instrumentalities. There are many variations of business conditions from state to state and there are special fiscal requirements of the various states.

"It is entirely logical, therefore, that the states should retain the right to charter banks so as to mold and direct their affairs in accordance with the states' governmental and business requirements and keep them adapted to localized sentiment and conditions.

"The argument is sometimes advanced that the dual system jeopardizes the life of the Federal Reserve System because under it there is a large group of banks that are free to remain out of or to withdraw from the system. Facts and figures prove that this is a specious argument.

"It is true that there has been some shifting from national to state charters especially in cases of mergers of large national banks with banks operating under state charters. However, the Federal Reserve System was not weakened in this process because the merged institutions almost universally retained their membership in the system on a voluntary basis. Moreover, the records show that state bank members are just as good members of the system as national banks and the ratio of state bank resources in the Federal Reserve System is constantly growing. In 1922, national banks held about 65 per cent of the resources of reserve members, and state banks about 35 per cent, while in 1929, the nationals held only 60 per cent and state banks 40 per cent.

Banking Systems Help Each Other

"Reciprocally the state and national banks systems have helped each other. If the national banking law has served in some respects as something of a model code toward which state banking laws have more and more have approached year by year, so have the state codes developed valuable reforms which have suggested improvements for the national laws. A great many undesirable competitive inequalities have been wiped out by this mutual evolutionary process and further progress along the line of uniformity so far as is desirable is anticipated.

"However, I do not believe that it is a disadvantage to have two banking codes that differ in some respects. It is quite probable that the state banking code in many instances represents a closer adjustment to local conditions than could be had under the national banking laws, and this is a situation that should be retained. There should, however, not be competition between the two banking codes. Competition should be between banks themselves and not between the laws under which they operate. The effort to offer too great allotments in one code as against the other could lead only to weak banking laws. But I do think that there should be the alternative opportunities that now exist which banking institutions and local business interests may choose, so that they can function or conduct their business relationships under that banking code which best meets the conditions of the times and of the place as they see them.

"This has been illustrated in both directions. In states where such unsound measures as the guarantee of deposits were operative state banks had the opportunity to escape the baleful effect of such laws. On the other hand, when a court decision was handed down in Worcester, Massachusetts, which rendered uncertain the position of trust assets acquired by a national bank through a merger with a state bank, it was a real advantage for national banks affected to take out and operate under a state charter, either on a temporary or a permanent basis, as circumstances make expedient.

"In my opinion, bankers, national as well as state, should combat the thought that conceives of depriving us of the vitalizing benefits of our dual system."

Finance Fights Erosion

Farm terracing to stop erosion is of major importance in Noble County, Oklahoma, the county agent said, and so one of the county's national banks bought five farm levels to be loaned to farmers without charge. The machines were immediately put to use and the farmers are showing keen interest in terracing. Two terracing schools were started for adults and 4-H Club boys.

Dairy Maid Will Be Crowned At Plainview Show

Muleshoe is now making preparations to attend the annual Panhandle South Plains Dairy show to be held in Plainview April 6 to 9.

One of the features of this event will be a pageant in which the Dairy Queen will be crowned and Bailey county along with 53 other counties of the Panhandle area will be represented by one of the charming maids to carry a milk pail.

Bailey county is much interested in dairying and already there are a number of good dairy herds throughout the county. The four days program to be staged at Plainview at this time will be both interesting and instructive. It is understood that already reservations have been made for the showing of some of the finest dairy herds located on the plains. Numerous concerns and factories manufacturing dairy equipment dairy feeds and general farming implements will have their products on display. There will be address by prominent dairy experts, and a program generally that is calculated to be of the highest type of interest.

There will be a good attendance present from all over this county.

Ex-Sheriff Irvin Of Lamb Co. Indicted On Assault Charge

An indictment was returned last week against Len Irvin by the grand jury of the Lamb County District court, charging aggravated assault, the case growing out of a shooting which is said to have taken place on Oklahoma Av., about two miles east of Littlefield, January 11, last year.

Prosecuting witnesses, Melvin Cowan and Vivian Miller, claimed that the shooting occurred as they drove by the former sheriff when his car was stuck in the snow in a ditch four miles north of Littlefield. They claimed he shot at them, and hit their car and that they were made to get out and turn around and pull the sheriff's car out of the ditch, being threatened with a pistol.

Irvin claimed that he shot into the air to halt them, since he was in a desperate plight, he and his wife being in the car that was stuck and that they were suffering from exposure and he had been unable to get anyone to stop and assist them.

State Sup't Marrs Demands Big Sum For School System

Superintendent of Public Instruction S. M. N. Marrs threw a bomb of consternation into the legislative camp last week by announcing that five million dollars must be appropriated from the general funds if the State department is to pay $17.50 per capita apportionment to pupils throughout the state during the coming two years. This in spite of the fact that the constitutional limit of 35 cents will most surely be made by the State Automatic Tax board.

This is the largest drain from the general funds ever called upon by the state educational department, says Clyde W. Warwick, representative from the 123rd district, and will put a crimp into the general funds for the coming two years.

Like Color... the best Gasoline is Blended

THE artist stands before his canvas with color-laden palette. Blues, greens, white and touches of warmer tones are blended by his inspired brush as the waves of the seascape take form. His genius tells him that only through the blending of just the right colors is the ideal result achieved. Otherwise his most painstaking effort could only result in a monotonous, wholly lacking in brilliance.

Artistry and genius have their place in the making of CONOCO Gasoline. CONOCO engineers long since have found that the ideal gasoline is a balanced blend of the three types containing the elements most desired in a motor fuel. There is high volatility. Natural Gasoline, to give quick starting. There is Straight-run Gasoline, to give power and long mileage. There is Cracked Gasoline with its well-known anti-knock quality.

Like the artist with his colors, CONOCO refiners take these three types of gasoline in balanced proportions and blend them. The result is as pleasing to the car owner as it is a Rembrandt to the art connoisseur. Of course the genius of "knowing how" is the vital element and it is here that CONOCO refiners excel.

Convince yourself of the merit of CONOCO Blended Gasoline. Try it today. You will find this triple-test motor fuel wherever you see the CONOCO Red Triangle.

Of course your baby probably has one or two "party" dresses made of fine cotton mull or handkerchief linen with dainty hand work and a bit of fine lace. But most of the time all needs by way of a dress is a very simple thin white cotton slip made with roomy sleeves and armholes so that there will be no trouble getting it on and off.

To make a slip dress of this sort, you will need no special pattern. Simply measure off twice as much thin cotton material as the desired length of the dress. Cut a small circle in the center of the folded edge for the neck, and then cut out the material on either side to make the side seams of the skirt and the sleeves. The small diagram shows how this should be done, the measurements depending on the size of the baby and the length desired.

The daytime slip may be done up at the back or the front and for this you should make a four or five inch slash from the neck down the center of the back or the front of the slip. To make a practical sort of night gown, you may use the same pattern, with a front opening. To make a practical sort of night gown, you may use the same pattern, with a front opening. The gown should be cut long enough to allow for folding over and tucking in over baby's feet. A practical sort of dressing gown may be made from the same pattern, by simply cutting down the front from the neck to the bottom of the hem, and if you like, you may make a little house jacket by cutting the pattern off a little below the waistline.

A man would not have much of a garden unless he planted seeds and cultivated it.

Neither will he have much money unless he starts to save and does it steadily. As a garden produces food—saved money produces interest.

(Delayed in the mails)
 Thursday March 12 was the date of the most delightful affair in the realm of Lazbuddie society.
 Mrs. Loyal Lust and Mrs. Ralph Disch entertained as joint hostesses in Mrs. Lust's beautiful modern home, in honor of Mrs. Cecil Sims, one of our High school teachers. The color scheme was white and green. As the guests arrived each was presented with a small white card with green ribbon bow ties, hand decorated in green ink with Jones-Simms. February 15th, and three leaf clover, St. Patrick motif.
 Mrs. Cecil Sims was formerly Miss Billie Jones, of Lubbock. She is also a niece of R. L. Bledsoe. Mrs. Ralph Disch called at Lazbuddie High school for Miss Jennings and Mrs. Simms. Mrs. Simms thought she was just going to Mrs. Lust's home for a few moments to chat before going on to her uncle's home. Imagine her surprise when she arrived and found it was her own party. A special chair was placed for her, and little Eleanor Joe Lust gave a reading about a "Young Man Who Thought he Wouldn't Get Caught." Miss Morgan, our music teacher, gave an interesting reading on "Married Bliss," portraying an old couple who had journeyed life's pathway together and in the evening of life had only each other and sweet memories for company since their children had all flown the home nest. Then each guest was asked to advise the bride on what she should and shouldn't do. This caused much merriment. Masters Dale Treider and Adrian Disch marched in carrying a heavily laden basket and deposited it at the feet of the bride. Music, "You Are the One I Love." Little Eleanor Joe Lust and Mary Frances Bledsoe carried arm loads of presents and the finish came when little David Black, aged four years, laid a beautiful hand embroidered, hand quilted, "Love bird" quilt over the other gifts, amid many Oh, and Ah's of the bride.

 After prettily thanking the guests, Mrs. Simms began inspection of the gifts. As the lovely things were passed from guest to guest it was a "mutual admiration society" for quite awhile interspersed with many squeals of delight from the bride and exclamations here and there. At a late hour the hostesses, who were ably assisted by Mrs. R. L. Bledsoe and Mrs. George Treider served sandwiches, punch and afternoon mints to the following guests: Mesdames Eva Abney, DeLos Knight, Jim Black, Emma Dyck, Claire Gallman, E. R. Haskins, O. Treider, Lee Nobles, Finis Jennings, R. Prytz, Willie Steinbock, Cecil Sims, T. G. Raper, C. E. Merriott; Misses Grace Jennings, Margaret Morgan, Gladys Treider, Mary V. Wilson, Frances and Alma Steinbock, Alena and Reba Raper, Betty and Mary Frances Bledsoe, Dale Treider, Eleanor Joe Lust, David Black, Adrian Disch, and hostesses and assistants, Loyal Lust, Ralph Disch, R. The Lazbuddie teams were composed of the following members: boys Cecil Jones, Robert Prather; girls Juanita Ivy and Zenobia Brock.
 Coach Eubanks after seeing his squad in action says he believes with another week's work his teams will be prepared to hold their own with any team in the Panhandle.
