VOLUME XX

LUBBOCK, LUBBOCK COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JULY 17, 1919.

LUBBOCK ON LONG HIGHWAY ROUTE

FLORIDA TO COLORADO AUTOMOBILE HIGHWAY PASSES THROUGH THE HEART OF LUBBOCK COUNTY.

AMARILLO WILL ENTERTAIN NEXT MEETING IN SEPT.

George W. Briggs Represented Lubbock County. George H. Sheppard is Secretary of the New Organization. This is one of Most Important Highways in the State.

The first regular meeting of the directors of the Florida to Colorado Highway was held at Brownwood, Monday. Something like fifty directors were present, representing the entire state from Texline to Orange.

The body was in session only about five hours, but it proved to be one of the most inspiring road meetings ever held in this state. People came for only one purpose—that of making preparation to build a highway. A majority of the directors were prepared to pay their assessments and at this time the highway is assured.

In establishing this highway the summer resorts of Colorado will be connected with the winter resorts in Florida. Other states along the route have organized and at this time all that remains to be done is to go on with the work. In many sections the road is in good shape at present, though to make the highway what it should be, it will be necessary for each county to aid.

In the western portion of Texas the cost will be small, though in some sections of south and east Texas it will take many thousands of dollars to make the road passable during wet seasons.

Federal aid will be given, though at this time no definite sum has been mentioned. Parts of the proposed route, where the roads are in no way acceptable, it will be necessary for the various counties to vote bonds. And while the organization is less than two months old, directors from various sections reported at the meeting that their commissioners had ordered bond elections. This insures success.

NO STOCK WATERING PLACES YET PROVIDED

From present indications Lubbock is satisfied to let the farmers who drive to town let their teams stand all day without water, which cannot be helped by the owner unless he digs around and finds a private watering place somewhere. There is no public watering place in town, and it is badly needed, and while on this line we would suggest that a sanitary drinking fountain for livestock be installed. Now as to whose duty it is, we are not prepared to say. The county furnished water till it was ordered taken off the square and the hitching racks moved to a plot of ground owned by the city and maintained by the city, so in that case we would naturally believe that it is the duty of the City of Lubbock to provide this necessity, but if it is not the City's place to do this then our business men, or the Chamber of Commerce should take the matter up.

TERRY COUNTY COMMISSIONER UNDERGOES OPERATION

W. D. Winn, well known farmer-stockman and commissioner of Terry county for many years, who has been in a local sanitarium for several days receiving medical treatment, underwent a very serious operation the first of this week. Mr. Winn has had trouble with a growth in his side for several years. His condition getting so serious in the last few months that he has consulted and received treatment from many physicians. Only lately he returned from Arkansas City, Kansas, where he was in a sanitarium for about a month.

Attending physicians report his condition to be very satisfactory today and have hopes for an early recovery from the operation, and predict him to be a well man.

PROMINENT MAN OF SNEYDER VISITING HERE

M. A. Fuller, general manager of the Fuller Cotton Oil Company of Snyder, was here this week looking over the company's extensive interest and visiting with the district manager Mr. Raybon, of this place. The Fuller Cotton Oil Company have gins scattered over the plains country and are preparing to be in readiness for the coming season.

W. H. BLEDSOE IS ELECTED AS STATE SENATOR

Incomplete reports of the returns of the special election held July the 14th in the 29th Senatorial District of this State, promises the election of W. H. Bledsoe, as State Senator from this district, defeating his opponent, R. L. Templeton, former candidate for this place, of Wellington, Collingsworth County, by a vote approximated by conservatively estimated reports, 7 to 1. The election was called by the Governor of this State to fill the vacancy in the senate, caused by the untimely death of W. S. Bell, who was killed in Crowell a few weeks ago.

Representative Bledsoe, was elected in a special election called about two years ago to fill the vacancy in the house of Representatives caused by the resignation of Don H. Biggers also of Lubbock, and re-elected in the last primary election. He has made an enviable record in the House of Representatives, from this district, having been the father of the famous "Ranger Reform Bill," and an active and influential member in other legislation. Upon the merits of his record in the House of Representatives should be claimed as a great factor in his big majority vote gotten in this election.

Lubbock county, naturally supposed, carried in favor of Mr. Bledsoe with an overwhelming vote. Out of the four hundred and nine votes polled in the election in Lubbock, Bledsoe got 377 and Templeton 32.

CAMP GROUND SHOULD BE PROVIDED FOR TOURISTS

Lubbock is on a number of important auto highways, and tourist cars are coming through every day in large numbers, and in view of this fact we believe that Lubbock should procure a tract of land close in to the business section, or properly located at least, where these tourists can camp. Water should be provided for them, and the grounds taken care of in a way that it would be inviting for them to stop over with us for a few days if they might desire and become better acquainted with our country. The South Plains climate is so invigorating, cool nights and good breezes, that people coming from the lower portion of the state notice a wonderful difference the moment they mount the summits of the plains at the caprock, and many of them would be glad to remain here for several days if there was an inviting place provided for camping. This suggestion may be far-fetched, but we believe it would be a good thing for the town as well as the entire South Plains.

IF BASEBALL—WHY NOT A GRAND STAND

Now that progress is the watchword of Lubbock, why not a first class ball park? We already have one of the best locations marked and scraped, but even a baseball game should have an efficient management, some accommodations for the spectators and a method of reimbursing the expense of a game. Lubbock is now in a position to have a real ball team and interest in this sport by our citizens is manifested by the large attendance to the recent games played here. If not built and owned by the city, some one with courage and the wherewith, should build manage, and bear the expense of our baseball games and collect fees to cover expenses and realize a nice profit.

LUBBOCK BOY GETS PROMOTION WITH SANTA FE

Quinton Shelton, nephew of A. J. Hicks, of this place, and well favorably known in Lubbock has recently received a nice promotion with the Santa Fe Railroad Co., by whom he has been employed for some time. For the past year or more he has held a position in the Superintendent's office at Slaton. The new position offered to him will take him to Amarillo, where he will work in the General Auditor's office. Mr. Shelton and wife will probably move to Amarillo this week.

COUNTY AGENT TO ATTEND FARMERS SHORT COURSE

Our County Agricultural Agent, Carol Thompson, will leave the last of this week for College Station, where he will attend a State Agents Meeting and the Farmers Short Course.

Mr. Thompson will appreciate the trip we are sure. This year has been one of the hardest for our agent. No man could have worked harder and more efficiently to help the agriculturist of our county than he has the present season. The short course will be of much benefit to him and the trip a kind of vacation. The meeting will be held at that place commencing July the 21st and lasting until July the 26th. John Thompson, his father, who has been here visiting with him for several weeks left last Friday for his home in Greenville.

DUPRE'S FARM HOUSE BURNS—TOTAL LOSS

The four room residence on the farm near Canyon school house belonging to M. M. Dupre of this place, was burned last Friday morning following an explosion of an oil stove. The entire contents of the house, belonging to Mr. Davis, tenant on the place, was burned.

Only Mrs. Davis and two small children were at the home when the fire caught, about eleven o'clock in the morning. An attempt to carry the stove outside by Mrs. Davis, caused the explosion. Mr. Davis was in the field at the time it happened and had no chance whatever to attempt to save any of the contents of the building.

REV. GRISWOLD ANNOUNCES DATE OF METHODIST MEETING

Rev. J. T. Griswold has announced the date for the beginning of the Methodist revival meeting which is the 17th of August, to continue at least two weeks. He has secured the services of Rev. McIntosh, of Memphis, Tenn., one of the strongest preachers of the South, and one of the evangelists of the Southern Methodism, that has stirred millions by his powerful messages. He will have with him Mr. Horace Hay, who has been visiting in Lubbock the past few days who will have charge of the singing, and a great meeting is being planned for.

EX-SOLDIER BOY MAY TEACH FAIRFAX SCHOOL

Homer Winston of Brownfield, passed through here Thursday enroute to Ralls and vicinity. Mr. Winston has just recently returned from overseas service in the army and discharged. Prior to his enlistment in the army he had signed up with the trustees of the Fairfax school, near Ralls, to teach. Since his arrival back home, he received a letter from them, asking that he come to that place to consider teaching the coming term.

ROAD BONDS SHOULD BE VOTED ON

LUBBOCK IS ON IMPORTANT HIGHWAYS AND THE ROADS THROUGH COUNTY SHOULD BE MADE FIRST CLASS.

GOOD ROADS ARE VERY IMPORTANT TO DEVELOPMENT

Progressive Counties All Over the State are Voting Bonds for Putting The Highway in First Class Condition for Travel, and We Should Get In Line Now.

Lubbock county is now in position that better roads are a necessity if we would hold our position in the progressive counties of the Plains. Recently the great Florida to Colorado Highway has been put on foot, which promises to become one of the most popular automobile highways that traverses the State, and this highway enters the county below Slaton and leaves it at Abernathy and it is the intention of the promoters of this highway to get a first class highway every foot of the way. In some of the counties in the eastern part of the state where this highway passes through are already getting in shape to vote large bond issues for building a highway, and where there is not taxes enough in counties, this seems to be the best way to raise large amounts of money. This is largely true in the case of Lubbock county and we are of the opinion that there should be started a move right soon for calling an election to vote on the issuance of a sufficient amount of bonds to build a fine highway through this county. With the proper engineering and supervision we believe it would be a great thing, and would mean much for Lubbock county. By carrying along our part as a county the state and national funds can be obtained, which would add very materially to the amount, and at the same time would secure the services of expert engineers from the Federal Department, which would insure the proper construction of the roads and accurate engineering, which has been one of the main drawbacks to road building in this country.

Our people are fast awakening to the importance of good roads and when it is understood that the money raised in this way will be judiciously spent and the proper results obtained, there will be little opposition to the issuance of bonds, and the burden of road building will be placed upon equal basis among the taxpayers of the county.

Good roads are a great advertisement for any county, and they enhance the value of property about as rapidly as anything that can be had. We hope to see a movement of this kind started soon, and work on better roads in Lubbock county begun.

Plans are now being worked out right for paving some of the streets in Lubbock and before long the people will be given an opportunity to say whether or not they are in favor of paving, and better streets in Lubbock.

Anyway lets get busy on these road bonds and line Lubbock county up with the balance of the progressive counties of the state.

REV. J. E. CHASE HERE FROM BRIDGEPORT

Rev. J. E. Chase was here from Bridgeport, Wednesday, having come to perform the marriage ceremony of Judge J. E. Raley, of Wichita Falls, and Miss Ruby Jones, of this city. Mr. Chase says everything is moving along smoothly and very satisfactory with the Lubbock-Bridgeport Development Company. They have one well going down on their holdings of over three thousand acres. The drill is now pounding away at a depth of 1400 feet and has passed through some oil sand and encountered some gas, and it is expected within a few days that another oil sand will be reached, though possibly the oil will not be in paying quantities. They expect to strike the big oil at about 2800 feet. This company is composed largely of Lubbock people and the Avalanche hopes to be able to report a rich well soon.

B. R. McWHORTER HERE FROM WICHITA FALLS

B. R. McWhorter of the Mutual-Van Cleve Oil Company, is here this week from Wichita Falls, where he is at present making his headquarters. He says all the oil wells are closed down in that part of the country for thirty days, by mutual agreement, on account of not being able to dispose of the oil fast enough. The pipe lines are not adequate to carry the production. He says three big pipe lines are being built into the fields now, and one especially will be completed within thirty days and with the large number of storage tanks and additional pipeage, and also the holding up of operations for thirty days will put things in shape for taking care of the production when they resume operations.

After being out only about five minutes, the jury which heard the evidence in the case where P. H. Herndon was charged with assault and intent to kill, Fred Krause, the State's witness, a verdict of "not guilty" was found.

Several witnesses for the state and the defendant were summoned here Monday the day of the trial. Two witnesses of the defendant claimed to have seen no weapon on the defendant at the time of the shooting, which is supposed to have been March the 27th this year at the Prause place, about fifteen miles northwest of Lubbock. The State's witness acknowledged to shooting at the defendant.

C. Blair. Mrs. Blair is at the present acting as relief for R. D. Dodd, also an operator at the local station, who is in east Texas visiting with relatives.

Messrs. Dr. J. C. Anderson, J. C. Anderson Jr., W. L. Harrington, and Austin Anderson, all of Plainview, were here last Sunday spending the day visiting with acquaintances.

Mike Barrier left Monday morning for Floydada, where he will assist in the Barrier's Bros. store at that place while a member of the firm goes to northern cities on business. He will remain there about three weeks.

G. F. Allen, inspector of cattle, for the Chicago Cattle and Loan Co., with headquarters in Fort Worth, passed through here the first of the week enroute to Yoakum county on business for the company.

ASSOCIATION TO BE BIG HELP TO SHEEP INDUSTRY

The lately organized South Plains Sheep and Wool Growers' Association which assembled more than two hundred thousand pounds of wool in their warehouse in Lubbock and held a sale of this wool July the 10th, broadening in its working range, is promising to become the real backbone for this industry on the South Plains. Already the business men, bankers and County Agent, who have worked and boosted the organization, see the good that is to come through the co-operation of the sheep and wool growers, and now believe this step to be the foundation of the success of the industry.

It is indeed encouraging to note, that though very young in its organization, the members of this association have assembled the amount exceeding even in quantity that will be brought together in Lampasas, which has been noted for years for its enthusiasm over this particular industry and is classed among the first. Through the efforts of the County Agent and others who have helped in the organization, wool buyers representing some of the country's largest wool dealing firms were interested, and were present at the sale. Among them were Joe Cohen, representative and buyer for Jacobson & Co., of St. Louis, who purchased fifty thousand pounds at the sale. William Spohr, buyer and member of the firm of E. Spohr and Co., also of St. Louis, purchased thirty-five thousand pounds. And there were present also, independent buyers and speculators and some of these bought. A. G. Bell, of Hereford, bought forty-five thousand pounds and Cobb Rucker of Plainview bought twenty-five thousand pounds. Altogether one hundred and fifty-five thousand pounds were sold.

And now while many members of the association will naturally wonder after the sale of their crop, if through the organization they received a bigger price. It will be good for them and the association to wait and watch the grading and price paid for about fifty thousand pounds or more of unsold wool in the country that will likely be shipped out by different owners in small quantities to commission firms. Unless there is an unprecedented rise in the wool market, it is naturally to be supposed that several cents per pound difference will result. One principle reason would be the difference in the expense of handling in small quantities and the closer margin of buying always accompanying large quantities. The results of the recent sale is satisfactory in every way to men who have kept track and watched the different sales for this season. Heretofore, little knowledge of the care that goes with the sheep, has been known the grade of shearing. At least that to what extent that care will affect the way some of the more successful wool growers in the association speak of the present condition in this country. Prices ranging from about fifty-five cents down to thirty-five cents in the recent sale makes one sure of the fact existing. And to an end, for the betterment of the grade, uniformity and etc., the association will take immediate steps to help. At a special meeting that will be called in the near future, they will lay part of their plans before the members. These plans will be for the better care and feeding condition, preparatory for the winter months; for a higher breeding of better sheep, and a closer co-operation among the members. At this meeting they will also probably propose to help in the marketing of the lamb crop, a problem that has kept down the small sheep grower, this far from good markets, more than probably any one thing. Marketing of lambs in part car lots has been an expensive method. And no one realizes this more than the members of this association. Freight rates on part car lots to the closest market are absolutely prohibitive for selling at a profit. But if the plans of the association work, and no doubt will, by assembling whole car loads for shipments, from the different members a saving will be made that will not only justify the raising of lambs for marketing but will increase country to an extent that where one the interest in the industry in this man out of a hundred now has a small bunch nearly all the farmers, both large and small can keep a small bunch at a profit.

"DADDY LONG LEGS"

"Daddy Long Legs," in which Mary Pickford has the most appealing role of her career, and which will be presented at the Lyric, is one of the most celebrated stories of the past decade. It first appeared in the Ladies' Home Journal, where it was hailed as the most humanly interesting serial in the history of that publication.

It soon followed in book form, and was read in every city of the English speaking world. One million copies were sold, so that Jean Webster, a young woman not long out of college made a fortune from this single work. Of course the stage claimed it, and under Klaw and Erlanger management, it "cleaned up" making hundreds of thousands of dollars for the producers.

See this reel at the Lyric Friday and Saturday of this week. Read the display ad.

"Just can't work any more." The faded, jaded, over-worked woman, with pains here or there, should ask her neighbor for advice. Ten-to-one she was dragged down by the pains and ailments of her sex, and was completely cured by that temperance tonic made from wild barks and roots, and known for 50 years as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When a woman complains of backache, dizziness or pain—when everything looks black before her eyes—a dragging feeling, or bearing-down, with nervousness, she should turn to this "temperance" herbal tonic, known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It can be obtained in almost every drug store in the land and the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper. Put up in tablets or liquid. Dr. Pierce, of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., will send a trial size for 10-cents.

BATON ROUGE, LA.—"Going thru middle life I was afflicted with heat flashes and dizzy spells. Some friends of mine advised me to try Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I was mighty glad I took their advice for it gave me more comfort and relief than any medicine I had ever taken. I came thru the change in excellent health; the heat flashes and dizzy spells left me at once. I can't praise 'Favorite Prescription' too highly for the good it did me at that critical time."—Mrs. N. B. RICHARDSON, 135 St. Napoleon.

Judge J. E. Vickers who recently returned from a trip through some of the northern states. Mr. Vickers is a bigger booster for the plains than ever before. He said it was a great relief to get back to the South Plains where one could enjoy the night's rest and crawl under a quilt by morning. We hope to see the Herald continue to grow and prosper, as the years come and go.

LUBBOCK'S SANITARIUMS AS GOOD AS ANY OF 'EM

A lady who has just recently been in one of the local sanitariums for treatment, made the remark when she was ready to leave the institution and go home that she had been in some of the sanitariums that were claimed to be as good as any in the state, and that she received better treatment and enjoyed every convenience in the Lubbock institution that she had received in any of them.

BALDWIN WILL LIKELY OFFER FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Rumor has it that R. A. Baldwin, of Stalon, will become a candidate for the office of representative from the 122nd representative district to succeed W. H. Bledsoe, at a special election that will be called for a future date to elect a representative for this district. Mr. Baldwin will make a splendid representative, if elected, and he is a south plains young lawyer of ability.

NEW BANK TO START AT BROWNFIELD SOON

The First National Bank of Brownfield, will open for business, we understand about the first of August. Mr. Kendrick, of Plains, who is connected with the new bank was here last week and left an order for a large quantity of printed supplies for the new bank to be delivered by August first.

L. W. Squires, who has been in Cisco for several months has returned to Lubbock accompanied by his family, and will remain here. Mr. Squires is one of Lubbock's good carpenters, who went away temporarily during the dull building season during the war, and is very glad indeed to get-back to the South Plains for a fresh breeze and a drink of good plains water.

Big Work Garment Order

Dry Goods Co., for their three stores, an order which was the biggest he had sold over a territory which covers West Texas from Ft. Worth west and from the coast north, including the Plains.

Barrier Bros. D. G. Co.'s buyer recognizing quickly the true merit of the line, for it has an improved drop seat which makes it the best of its kind, bought for at once and later delivery big quantities at very low prices.

SAN ANTONIO MAN WILL ENTER BUSINESS HERE

No more remarkable is Lubbock's business possibilities than the fact that they are known over the entire State.

H. W. Smith, of San Antonio, who has been, from the beginning of the war, Chief Sanitary Inspector for the Government and also inspector of food control in the cantonments near that place, after making many inquiries over the State for a promising place to enter into a business and being invariably advised to come to Lubbock, arrived here the latter part of last week to look over the prospects. From the conversations we have had with Mr. Smith we find that he is well satisfied with the prospects that Lubbock offers for business opportunities and expects to enter into a business here as soon as a suitable location is secured. Mr. Smith was accompanied by his wife here.

George Green returned from a short visit and business trip to Lockney, Thursday morning.

MEXICAN INQUIRY MAY BE INAUGURATED SOON

Washington, July 15.—Mrs. John W. Correll, formerly of Ada, Ok., and who was recently maltreated by Mexicans near Tampico, following the murder of her husband, is expected in Washington tonight. Representative Tom D. McKeown of the Ada district hopes to have the widow before the President and officials of the State Department, that they may hear at first hand the story of the humiliating incident.

"In my opinion," said Mr. McKeown tonight, "steps will be taken in the near future, toward the Carranza Government in Mexico. The murder of American citizens and the seizure of their property is soon to be made the subject of discussion by Congress. The Gould resolution for a congressional investigation of the situation will be brought before the House Rules Committee this week for a hearing and the indications are that it will be reported. Once before Congress, it will be adopted, according to the belief of leaders on both sides of the chamber, and in a political way would furnish the Republicans with a campaign issue."

FIRES DESTROY SIXTY ACRES WHEAT IN HALE COUNTY

Rainview, Texas, July 9.—The wheat fields of Hale County are now covered with shocked wheat and where not cut it is plenty ripe for the reaper. The wheat is in danger of fire, since there have not been rains for two or three weeks. Three fires have started in the harvest fields during the last week by careless reaper hands smoking. There were two fires on Sunday, one in the field of W. J. Espy, which destroyed twenty acres, and the other with C. E. Moore, which burned forty acres.

Elbert Hughes passed through here the latter part of last week enroute to San Francisco, where he will take a ship to the Hawaiian Islands.

LADIES DEFEATS FATS IN FAST SIX INNING GAME

If ever the fats had a record for ball playing, it was shot all to pieces in the six inning game between them and the Lubbock ladies which was played here last Friday afternoon. Carl Hunt pitched the game for the fats and Kline caught. Ed Allen was agreed upon previous to the start, to act as umpire, and that position he held nobly to the end.

In the sixth inning with the ladies at the bat one score was made breaking the tie in the first half, which left the score standing seven and six in favor of the ladies.

The game was well attended by our people and the success of the venture is proven when the net proceeds $55, which was split between the fireboys and the library.

CHURCH NOTES

Baptist Church Notes.

Big Spring, Texas, July 7, 1919. To the members First Baptist Church Lubbock, Texas. My dear friends:

Allow me to express to you my deepest appreciation for the confidence and esteem manifested by you in calling me to the pastorate of your church.

Believing it to be the will of our Father, I am answering your call in the affirmative. I am coming to you with a keen sense of responsibility, and yet coming with a confidence unshaken, believing the Saviour will prosper that which He has ordered. Let us dedicate ourselves anew to Christ, that He may use us as may please Him in the ever expanding work of His kingdom.

I hope to be able to begin my work with you on the fourth Sunday in July.

Sincerely,
W. O. BOWEN.

HOUSE KILLS BILL TO PAY WITNESSES IN FELONY CASES

Austin, Texas, July 16.—The House bill making an appropriation of $75,000 to pay county witnesses fees in felony cases was killed in the Senate today by refusal to adopt a favorable minority committee report.

The House public weighers' bill empowering the Governor to appoint public weighers in all counties; gaining 100,000 bales of cotton; or cotton or more, was made a special order for this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The House eliminated the $30,000 appropriation proposed for support of the industrial accident board, and left provision only for the three members of the board, a secretary and a small amount for incidental office expenses. The salary of the chairman of the board was reduced from $4,000 to $3,000 a year, and an amendment adopted would require that members of the board devote their whole time to the work.

SALES MADE IN THE COUNTRY MOSTLY CASH

In conversation with a local merchant who has a car out over the country nearly every day we asked if the farmers were buying much these days, in reply he said, "Yesterday one man with the car sold $800 worth of goods and most of that was cash, and any day out for the past two or three weeks have resulted in like results.

This goes to show that with the good prospects of this year, people whom we might have thought to have little money, are now beginning to feel better and let it loose.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford one-ton truck may well be classed as an agricultural necessity, it fits into and fills so many wants on the farm. It is a reliable bearer of farm burdens, not only doing the work of several horses quicker and better than the horse, and does not "eat its head off" when not working. The aggressive farmer has only to consider the possibilities of the Ford truck and he is ready to buy one. We judge this to be so from the way farmers are buying them.

SCARCITY IN FARM LABOR MAY RESULT IN CROP DAMAGE

Not the first time in the short history of farming on the Plains have the farmers met with much discouragement by inability to secure labor for the harvesting season. In past seasons we have seen many bales of cotton and bushels of grain waste in the fields of the South Plains simply for the need of extra farm labor. The farmers of this country, especially, have always been classed as men who were willing to pay liberally for help. In the days past, when ranch work was paying the average hand, twenty-five to thirty dollars a month, farmers have been known to offer as high as a dollar and a half per day for labor and in closer times have even paid as high as three dollars per day, and still they were unable to get the help. This year, the year of all years for a big yield, and bountiful harvests, promises more hardships and lost feedstuffs for the farmer than ever. Yet we hear often of the unemployed. Probably if figures were available one would be amazed to know the exact number of men needed on the plains to handle the entire harvesting of wheat and small grains and to successfully cultivate and gather the growing crop of cotton. Nor more amazing will those figures be than when compared with the loss in dollars and cents the farmers of this country will sustain through the inability to secure help. What will the farmers do?

W. C. BOWMAN LUMBER CO.

Phone 204. The Yard With the Goods

Only recently we have seen men unemployed in Lubbock, men whom we know are not flush with money, idling the days away while the farmers, the backbone of our country are crying for their services and today are offering unheard of prices to induce them to help in the saving of their crops. How many positions can these men who are invariably untrained in any special work, hold in Lubbock that will pay one hundred and up to one hundred and twenty-five dollars per month with a house furnished for their use? There are men in this city who will verify the statement when we say many, yes many, farmers are today offering those wages for farm help. And this not only means the harvesting season, but the entire year. In fact we know personally of two gentlemen who have large farms near Lubbock who men, and today we are sure the position stands open. For the special have made the above proposition to work of harvesting of wheat and other small grain crops and for chopping and gathering cotton, the above prices are below the figures offered. Five dollars a day for cotton choppers and yet unable to get them, five, six, seven and more, for single handed men has been offered to shock grain and these same men are today calling for help, and unless clear, dry weather prevails over the Panhandle the next two or three weeks the loss will be great.

Our County Agent, our local Chamber of Commerce and business men of Lubbock are willing to help any man who comes to this city looking for employment in securing a place to work at prices that are flattering.

One man that we talked with this week has a lot of good hay cut and lying on the ground and unless help comes a big percentage will be wasted for the want of baling and storing.

CONTRACTOR HERE SCOUTING FOR CARPENTERS

L. W. McBride, contractor of Plainview, but temporary headquarters in Crosbyton, was in town one day recently in search of help on buildings under construction in that town. Mr. McBride was lucky enough to secure the services of one man that we know of and seemed to be satisfied with his trip over for him. He is at the present working on construction of a nice residence for G. M. McKey, cashier of the First National bank of Crosbyton, and says that he has at this time enough work contracted for to keep him busy for several months.

J. J. Lane of Cap Rock, N. M., and O. K. Johnson of Terry County, were here Wednesday attending to business interests.

YOAKUM CODNTY BOY DROWNED IN NEW MEXICO

Leonard Stapp, son of Mrs. Dr. Summit of Plains, was drowned last Friday afternoon in a lake about thirty-five miles west of Roswell. The boy had been there for some time working on a ranch and in company with another boy about the same age, while out riding over the pasture came to this lake. The boys decided to swim their horses across, both wearing their gloves and leather leggings. After going out into the lake until their horses were forced to swim or go under, it became evident that the horses could not stay up out of the water. The boys managed to get off their horses, one of which drowned immediately. Leonard, for some unknown reason, probably on account of his heavy attire, could not swim. The boy with him however attempted to save his life and dived many times to his rescue but to no avail. He then went for help at the ranch quarters and returned to get the body. It remained in the water only a short time.

The body was brought to Brownfield last Saturday and interment made in the cemetery at that place.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. M. D. Williams of that place. The deceased has lived in Yoakum county only a short time going to that place from Terry County, where he has made his home with parents since early childhood. He has many friends over the plains, who will be saddened to hear of his untimely death.

Robert Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Anderson, of Plains, passed through here the first of the week enroute home.

Robert has been in the 134th Infantry with the 34th division for the past two years. And has just recently returned from overseas with that division. He was discharged from the army at Camp Bowie, last week.

Joe George spent last Friday in Ralls transacting business and visiting with relatives.

W. A. Fulton of Terry County, was here last Saturday and Sunday visiting with his daughter, Miss Altha.

Jones-Raley.
A beautiful home wedding occurred Wednesday at high noon when Miss Ruby Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Jones of this city and Mr. J. A. Raley Jr., of Wichita Falls, were united in marriage. Rev. J. E. performing the ceremony. The wedding was a very quiet one, only members of the family, a few intimate friends being present. The bride was charming in a going away suit of blue with accessories to match.
Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a visit in Ft. Worth after which they will be at home in Wichita Falls. The best wishes of a host of friends accompany these estimable young people and wish for them every joy in their new relation.

Mrs. W. B. Powell and Charles Rush entertained last Thursday night, complimentary to Mrs. Kimberlin, of Oklahoma City. A profusion of cut flowers adorned the home of Mrs. Powell, the scene of this merry party. Bridge was the diversion offered and seven tables of players entered enthusiastically into the game. A delicious salad course was served to the following guests: Messrs. and Mesdames G. G. Johnson, Floyd Beal, O. L. Slaton, Noone, L. T. Martin, McLarty, C. L. Griffin, Roscoe Wilson, Mesdames Mast, John Penney, Woodruff, Frank Wing, Misses Delia Wilkinson, Lottie Boles, and the honoree, Mrs. Kimberlin.

Honoring Miss Neva Strickland, of Tahoka, Miss Nobia Slagle entertained last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Archie Hall. The guests enjoyed playing "42" and "hearts". Much merriment was caused in composing letters to Miss Opal McNew, who is to visit Mrs. Hall in August. Ice cream and delicious angel food cake were served to the following: Misses Neva Strickland, Olena Fain, Blanche Bean, Florence Jackson, Quida Carter, Nancy Dupre, Patti Rhea, Celeste Ellis, Lola Craig, Fern Parks, Nobia Slagle, and Messrs. Roy Clark, Luther Collet, Ed Haynes, Clyde Lokoy, Lawrence Martin, Bill Spikes, Mack Slagle, Fred Sims, Herbert Stubbs, and Harry Morris.

A most interesting game of basketball was played last Friday afternoon between some of the ladies of Lubbock vs. the fat men. It was a close game from start to finish, the ladies displaying great skill. When the last inning was played the score stood 7 to 6 in favor of the ladies. This game was played for the benefit of the fire boys and the library club, both organizations voting thanks to the players. A refreshing supper was served them in the Manhattan by the ladies of the library club, after which Mr. McElroy extended them the courtesy of the Lyric.

Friends of Miss Mable Hundley were entertained in her honor Monday night at the home of Mrs. George Morris. Each guest contributed a bit of poetry or a good wish to a memory book which was given to the honoree. Mr. Horace Hay gave some interesting vocal selections. A novel little contest was introduced in which each guest deciphered another guest's name out of a jumble of letters. Several tables of players enjoyed playing "42" until a late hour, and then dainty refreshments of sliced pineapple filled with ice cream, nuts and cherries, and white cake, were served to sixteen guests.

Barrier Bros. do not believe in all work and no play. Tuesday afternoon they and F. F. Mayes carried their families and clerks down on the Canyon for a picnic. Mr. Mayes' father and mother of Dallas, were with the merry party. Mesdames Barrier and Mayes, prepared a real dinner which was enjoyed by everyone. Father Mayes entertained around the camp fire with his interesting stories about the civil war. At ten o'clock all returned home after having spent a very very pleasant evening.

Little Miss Peggy Whipp celebrated her ninth birthday last Saturday by entertaining a number of her young friends with a line party. After the picture show they all repaired to Miss Peggy's home where they played games and had a good time generally. The following children were served cake and fruit punch: Misses Irene, Maxine, Ruth Cannon, Ruby Sumpter, Evelyn Wilson, Jo and Ruth Noah, Ethel Mae and Peggy Whipp.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Slaton entertained the Double Dozen Club last Friday night in their home. Cut flowers lent their fragrance to the air that was filled with merry chatter as the game progresses. Six tables of players enjoyed this delightful occasion and were served a delicious ice course. The guests of the club were Messrs. and Mesdames C. L. Griffin, T. B. Duggan, W. B. Powell, and Mesdames Neil Wright, Rix and Kimbro.

The spacious home of Mrs. R. D. Benson was the scene of a delightful occasion last Friday when the 1911 Needle Club met in their regular monthly meeting. Fourteen ladies were present and indulged in dainty needlework and pleasant conversation. Refreshments of sandwiches, olives, cake and ice lemonade were served to the members of the club and guests, Mesdames O'Hair, Peck, and Doyle, of Kansas.

The Friday Afternoon Needle Club was entertained by Mrs. S. Lester Guinn with Mrs. Jot Smyth, assisting hostess. DEMILITARIZATION WORK ENDS AT CAMP BOWIE

Fort Worth, Texas, July 15.—It's all over at Camp Bowie in so far as making civilians of soldiers is concerned. The last 400 casualties filed through the narrow crevasse of the discharge mill in the tracks of the great bulk of the Thirty-Sixth and Ninetieth Divisions today. The military authorities at camp headquarters have turned their attention entirely to the matter of the disposal of Government property in their care.

The Government property at Camp Bowie is being removed both by soldiers and by the Philadelphia Wrecking Company which purchased the military structures and already several areas of the camp site with the long rows of semi-permanent military buildings shorn of their canvas tops present a skeleton-like appearance. A force of soldiers from the 43d Infantry will remain on duty to guard the property until disposal has been accomplished.

THE LUBBOCK AVALANCHE

Reminiscence of Pioneer Days By Hampton Steele

(From Groesbeck Journal.)

The following communication was written for The Journal by the eldest son of the last survivor of the battle of San Jacinto.

"Something over 80 years ago, a little band of people, wended their way through the forests and jungles of Texas until they landed at what is now known as Ft. Parker, situated about 2 miles from Groesbeck. There they stopped and built cabins and a stockade to protect them from the Indians. This was sometime in the year 1835. The following spring they broke land and planted corn to supply their wants.

"They were moving along nicely and they were happy and contented in their new home, but on the 19th day of May, 1836, a beautiful spring day, the sun was shining bright, the flowers were in bloom, the birds were flitting from tree to tree singing their songs, the buffaloes were browsing around some lone trees on the vast expanse of the prairie, the wild deer were skipping from glade to glade and all nature was smiling. The children were playing around their mother's feet and every one seemed to be happy. Perhaps the mother would look into the face of her child and think of the Indians and her cheek would blanch, there would be a little heave and a silent prayer that the Indians would pass them by. Little did they think that before the sun went down on that day, the tragedy of their lives would be played. There was a dark line coming from the west toward the fort. They were moving slowly in single file, with their war paint on. They stopped about 300 yards from the fort and were apparently holding a council. All the men from the fort were away at work with the exception of old man Parker. He decided to go down and see what the Indians wanted. He went down and it was but a few moments until they had killed and scalped him. Then they made for the fort. The women and children sought safety in flight. Many of them were killed and many captured. Among the number captured were Mrs. Plummer, her baby and a boy about 8 years old and Mrs. Parker and two children, a boy and a girl was known as Synthann, who was re-captured by Sul Pop in a fight with the Indians years afterwards.

"Now, my kind readers, those were the first white settlers in this county. They were all broken up and what they had built and planted was destroyed by the Indians. "I dare say that if the question was asked the present generation not one could tell who were the next settlers, who came to this country. I was one of them, and I shall attempt to tell about them. Reader, if you had been a spectator about 74 years ago you would have seen a wagon one morning about 100 miles southeast of here. This was in November, 1844. That wagon was not one of the striped bed and yellow wheel type, but was one of the pioneer wagons which the people used in that day. The type of wagon has passed out of use. "That morning you would have observed a small like man standing beside that wagon. You would have also seen a blue eyed woman and three little boys, the eldest about 5 years, the next about 3 and the youngest about 1. They seemed to be getting ready to make a journey. There was no furniture to load into that wagon such as bedsteads, dressers and the like. The bedstead in that cabin was a fixture to the house. It was one of the old Texas bedsteads made with one post and two poles which were joined together by means of an auger hole and to the wall by means of two other holes. The chairs consisted of a block of wood, smooth on one side and supported by three legs, and known as the old Texas stool which we used for chairs. So there was no furniture to go in that wagon with the possible exception of a very crude piece of furniture, a cradle, which was made for the writer. I wish I had that cradle to show to the present generation.

"At last everything was loaded into the wagon and the oxen were brought up. The mother and the three little boys climbed into the wagon and the start was made toward the north, some more pioneers blazing the way for civilization. The writer was but 5 years at this time and does not remember a great deal of what happened on the journey with the exception of one thing, which made a lasting impression on his mind. We had probably been on the road two or three days when I got tired of riding and would get out and throw rocks at the birds. One evening I was walking and had gotten about 50 yards behind the wagon, it was nearly camping time and we had just come down a long slanting hill. I looked up and saw two people on top of the hill. My father yelled at me to look at the Indians. One look backward and I made for the wagon yelling. I heard my father say afterwards that he didn't know but that they were Indians at the time. It developed later that it was two negroes who were looking for some stray hogs. Next morning everything was alright, and we moved on. We came up the east side of the Navasota river until we struck the old San Antonio road, when we crossed over to the west side of the river at what was then called Old Franklin. Father said there was a man living at the crossing then by the name of Frankin, who ran a little mill for grinding corn, and father traded him some yearlings for some corn which he had to return for after we had settled. The distance he was about 50 miles, a pretty good step to mill. But the meal did us for a long time. The greatest obstacle which confronted the early settlers was getting meal and salt. We had plenty of meat, for on the prairie there were plenty of deer and buffaloes and in the woods there were wild turkey and other kinds of game. We settled just across Frost creek of rather in the fork of Frost creek and Rocky creek. I think the place is now known as the Barrow place.

"Now as the other settlers, Father and mother said there were just 13 people here at this time. Among the number were: L. A. Stroud who first settled at Barook Springs on the Navasota river not far from Rocky crossing; Elisha Anglin, who first settled on the spring branch about 2 miles from where Groesbeck is now, Moses Anglin settled over on Summer's creek; William Anglin settled out on the hill just north of Groesbeck; John Anglin settled near where Groesbeck now is, I think his cabin stood about where the brick yard is now and perhaps some of the old house is still there; William Burns settled across Frost creek to the south of Groesbeck about a half mile above where the railroad crosses the creek; Forest Phifer settled down across Rocky creek at a point now known as Forest Chapel; Samuel Nelson settled on the south side of Frost creek, the old place has been torn down for many years, it is now known as the Stockton place. There first and second wife and 2 children are buried; Silas Bates built a cabin near where the old Bates spring is; John D. Smith settled at what used to be known as Smith's point, about one mile northwest of old Logville; Smith died there in 1874 and his wife died about a year later. They left 4 little girls who were taken to Louisiana. In after years I married the youngest of them. A man named Baker settled on the east end of Horn Hill. He was the farthest out of the settlement at that time. The place is now known as the old Bennet place. This completes the settlers who were here that year. The next year more people came, the Falkenberry's, Clinton Owens who settled at old Springfield, J. R. Henry came about January 1846 and Hesabia Jackson, the grandfather of W. J. Jackson settled on the head of Wagon Wheel branch about the first of July 1846 and the Pendergrasts settled at old Springfield. Mich Roberts, A. P. Smith, and J. R. Henry all settled at old Springfield, J. R. Henry was the first merchant to begin business at old Springfield, starting his business in 1846. This same year the county was organized. Moses Anglin was county judge, Clinton Owens was county clerk and a man by the name of Whitaker was sheriff. Everything was moving nicely.

"Then the Texas star, bright star of the west, was added to the stars of the Union which brought about a war with Mexico. There were not many people here at that time and being on the frontier we were subject to the raids of Indians at any time but notwithstanding many of the young men volunteered and went to Mexico. Those whom I remember to have gone were, Eli Davis, John Davis, H. P. Banks, L. L. Godfrey, William Burns and a man named Hicks. They all went through the war and returned safely. They are all dead now. Godfrey came to Texas with W. J. Biggs.

"I shall now try to give you some sketches along other lines. You know that there are certain things that happen in a boys life which make an impression on him that he never forgets. The next spring after we moved here there was a large herd of buffaloes came down Frost creek on the south side of the creek. They had gotten about opposite where the town of Groesbeck now stands about a mile above where we lived when my father discovered them. He and Uncle Marion Powell and H. P. Hanks got after them and the fun began. My father had a good Spanish horse at that time so he took his rope with him and the other two men had the dogs and the guns. Father succeeded in roping one and they had a time. He finally landed him down near the house. Mr. Powell and Mr. Banks crippled one with the gun. The dogs took after it, and it made for our cabin. Around and around the house it went. Now, friends, you can guess where those three little boys were when all this fun was going on, right up in the middle of the bed with the door shut. I can see that buffalo going around the house as plain as if it were yesterday. The fun ended when they succeeded in killing the buffalo.

"The one father had roped was tied to a tree and they killed him too. This gave us plenty of meat for awhile. "In the spring of 1846 there was an old man by the name of Ward came along and wanted to teach school, so the people, what few there were, employed him. He taught school in a little cedar log house close to the old Bates springs. I went to that school, the first school that was taught in the county. All the children who went to that school with me are dead. Out of the 11 families who were here in 1844 brother Rada and I are the only ones living in the county.

"The little boys and girls who were born under the Lone Star and who went with their parents to the frontier to blaze the way for civilization that we now enjoy are all old now. They did their part. As for myself I grew to manhood here and in accordance with the injunction of God to go forth multiply and replenish the earth, I married and have reared 17 children in Limestone county. 14 of these are still living. I have 53 grand children and 34 great grand children. I have one great grand son in the army now in France. My children are scattered over Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. There has been no race suicide in my family of about 100 living souls. I have tried to be a good citizen. I helped to build good roads and school houses and always paid my taxes as long as I had any property to pay on.

"The sad part of life comes in old age when we become crippled and have to live on the charities of our children. It seems to me that as such as the pioneers have done for Texas that the great State might scatter a few flowers along the path of those needy old people. Oh! Civilization, Civilization, where art thou? Does the survival of the fittest still prevail?

Yours respectfully,
Hampton Steele,
Thorn, Texas, oldest son of the last survivor of the battle of San Jacinto.

J. T. WOOLDRIDGE RETURNS FROM EXTENDED TRIP
J. T. Wooldridge, district manager of the Pierce Oil Corporation, returned last Sunday from an extensive trip over the northwest Texas oil fields. Mr. Wooldridge has been gone about thirty days and acting in the capacity of field manager for this corporation. While gone he was principally occupied in choosing locations for new stations. This work has been made necessary through the rapid development of some of the small trading centers. "Wildcatting over the entire country, with the best prospects for the greatest harvest in years and the fast growth of the smaller towns into good towns, were the principal features made prominent to me while away," is the way Mr. Wooldridge speaks of his trip.
Mr. Walker, of Lynn County, near Grassland, is here this week visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. Lee and his brother, R. W. Walker. Mr. Walker reports very fine crop prospects in his part of the county.

GOES BACK TO OLD RED RIVER KNOCKING

G. L. Humphreys, who moved from this county to Lubbock County the first of the year has returned to the Lone Star community. Mr. Humphreys has been farming in the West and prospects were favorable until about two weeks ago when the army worm invaded his cotton crop and completely devastated 90 acres of cotton. In addition to the havoc wrought by the worms, grass hoppers made an invasion of his maize crop, and after a careful survey of the premises Mr. Humphreys loaded his effects and headed for old Red River County. He landed last week in the neighborhood from whence he journeyed early in the year, bought a crop from a native and is happily pursuing the life of a contented Red River county farmer, knowing that he will be rewarded according to the efforts he puts forth in making a crop.—Bogata News.

Statement of His Landlord.
The above item was taken from a recent issue of the Bogata News, and is misleading for several reasons.

Mr. Humphreys was a tenant on the farm of W. R. Wilson of this city, and Mr. Wilson states that he lost about thirty-five acres of cotton by army worms, but that no other man on his large farm, nor any of his neighbors, suffered any from these worms where the crops were kept clean. In fact, Mr. Wilson states that army worms never appear where the fields are kept free from weeds.

W. R. Wilson came here from Grayson County, and owned 487 acres of black land in that county and Fannin. He says that he sold every acre of it and has the same money invested in about 1700 acres of land here, most of which adjoins the city limits of Slaton; and that in all his experience in farming that he much prefers this land, as on an average it will produce more with less effort, and the first cost is nothing to compare with the black land.

When Mr. Humphreys' homesickness could be endured no longer Mr. Wilson bought the crop that he claims was a dandy good prospect for starvation, had it worked out, and stated that he would not take one thousand dollars profit for it today, not including the stock and tools that he bought from Mr. Humphreys. So you can imagine how contented a real farmer can be in this beautiful plains country if he will put a little effort in his crop instead of trying to burn-up all the gasoline in the country in his tin henry. People who come here to farm should arrange their pleasure and sight-seeing trips during the months when they are not needed in the fields. And in the spring months when the weeds are growing they should devote at least a small portion of their time to their crops. It is a mistaken idea that you can come here from other portions of the country and make a crop without any work except planting the seed.

There has never been a year in the history of the Plains country when prospects for a bumper crop were better, and the section around Slaton has never known an entire crop failure.

We are giving these facts, not as a reflection on Mr. Humphreys, but simply to keep the record straight, because knockers and pessimists have no place in this progressive South Plains country, and it is better that they go elsewhere to make their permanent homes.—Slatonite.

The above is a fair sample of the knocks that this country receives. It is usually the fellow that does not try that blames the country for failures.

We asked a farmer a few days ago how his crop was looking, and he said it was looking fine. We asked if the worms had bothered his cotton and he said he had not had a worm in his cotton that he knew of and added: "It is only those who do not keep their cotton clean that suffered from the ravages of the worm." This is possibly the trouble with the man that fled to the Red River county.

A fair honest-to-goodness chance is all this country needs to put it over the top. The haphazard farmer will not make good here any more than in any other country, but even that tribe does better here than most other places, because our soil is new and rich, and is not infested with such poisonous weeds and grasses as many of the farms further east.

Criticisms of the Average Country School

Geo. W. Roberts, Shallowater

July 14, 1919.

To the Afterschool:
It is my purpose to present an impartial criticism of the average country schools, and to offer a few suggestions for their improvement. These statements apply to conditions in general, but especially are they applicable to the conditions existing in the Shallowater and adjacent school districts. Some faults found may be disputed and some reforms advocated may excite opposition, but I believe my position to be tenable and I shall therefore proceed with confidence.

Being a teacher, I may evoke the adverse criticism of those who may think a teacher should be content to teach and to draw his salary as per contract. Some may think the teacher's field of activity should be restricted to the schoolroom, that he should never register an opinion concerning matters upon which the people of his district might disagree. But there is a broader view of a teacher's office in a community, and a higher conception of his duties and his responsibilities in promoting the educational welfare of the children of the community, the future citizens of the State.

Opportunities for doing good should incite us to action. Perhaps for the sake of harmony among men, I should stand by and allow opportunities for doing good to come and go without urging that something be done. When opportunities come to provide better schools, so that boys and girls in school will waste less time and effort trying to learn, would hesitancy on my part to call your attention to the opportunity be excusable? When opportunities come to make the country schools more attractive, so that boys and girls out of school will feel again that natural desire to enter school and to learn what they will always need to know, would silence and inaction on my part be justifiable?

I am cognizant of the fact that a teacher owes much to the patrons and trustees for their co-operation and for their support of the schools. But a teacher owes a great deal more to the school children to whose welfare he is devoting the best years of his life. If there be a conflict of interests, which seems absurd, there is but one course for the true teacher, and that is to advocate and defend whatever is for the best interest of the school children. What could be the mental caliber or moral consistency of a man then, who would consider my position in a matter of mutual concern to be a subject for distrust and even unfriendliness?

It should not be a misfortune for a boy or girl to live in the country. It ought to be a privilege. But school conditions in the country at present are such as to render impossible an equal opportunity for country children and a fair chance for them to learn and to develop into the cultured efficient men and women they have a right to be. Such an unfair situation wherever possible should be corrected. The country children are as good, as worthy, and are as capable of receiving culture and training as are those of the town or city. Give them a chance. If this cannot be done, it is unfortunate that a child should be reared in the country.

In this and two adjoining districts there are more than a hundred boys and girls. They are average country children, strong, capable, ambitious. But they are laboring under serious handicaps. They are not to blame for their slow and uncertain progress. The schools are responsible, for they are inefficient. The schools are over crowded with grades and the time devoted to each grade is not sufficient. The classes are small, the class spirit is weak, much enthusiasm is lacking and interest is below normal. The result, while satisfying possibly a majority of the patrons, is discouraging to the older pupil and disastrous to his further intellectual progress.

In these two-teacher schools they attempt to teach eight or ten grades. Allowing six recitations per day for the first seven grades and four per day for the higher grades, in a school having nine grades there would be about forty-eight recitations per day, or about twenty-four recitations per teacher. In the average school day there are about 320 minutes for instruction, and the average time devoted to each recitation would be something like 13 minutes. Allowing the same amount of time to each grade the eighth and ninth grades would have some eighteen minutes for each recitation. In standard high schools recitation periods are forty or fifty minutes long.

This so-called high school work in the country under existing conditions is nothing more than a farce, a hollow mockery of something desired, but not to be had. There is a demand for such work, however, and the teachers are not to be censured for attempting to offer it. Many deserving and ambitious young people are unable for various reasons, to attend a standard high school, but in obedience to that instinctive longing for knowledge, to satisfy that natural desire to get acquainted with the wonderful fact and fiction in the "wide, wide world," they enter school, hoping that somehow, some day a way will be opened for them to realize those dreams and worthy aspirations of childhood. They have faith that they may yet have that "career," a faith too often subdued in ambitious children. This spirit of ambitious, hopeful youth is an auspicious sign and it should be made the most of by providing the proper school facilities so that they may achieve all worthy ambitions.

In standard high schools the teachers are prepared to teach some particular subject, such as English, history or science. In the country schools they have to teach such a variety of subjects of both elementary and high school grade, that special preparation in any line is impracticable. In standard high schools there is equipment to aid in illustrating, demonstrating, or in experimenting. For the history classes there are historical charts and atlases suited to the period studied, and ample facilities for the special study of some particular character, event, or movement. For the study of science there are laboratories where the phenomena of nature may be observed and their application to beneficent uses discovered. A place where one may get great truths at first hand and where the book is the guide and not the goal.

In the country there is no equipment and science loses much of its charm and inspiration.

In the standard high school there is a long recitation period, plenty of time to dismiss other matters from mind and to focus attention upon the subject in hand. In the country school the recitation is too short. The teacher's mind is not acrobatic. An entirely different subject has just been under consideration. Another quite different one is to follow in less than fifteen minutes. The recitation loses its poise. The subject is not and cannot be considered deliberately. There is a rush of questions hastily framed and more or less related to the subject. The pupil tries to solve the teacher's meaning, makes a few incoherent replies, pertinent or not, and there the recitation ends. Not enough time is there even to make a definite assignment of further work. Something (?) attempted, but feebly done. The teachers are not to blame; the children are not to blame. These country schools are at fault. They fail, have failed, and until radical changes are made they will continue to fail to perform the task of properly educating the sturdy and worthy sons and daughters of country people.

You men of the country need to see that the schools upon which you are depending to give your children a good education are incapable of doing so. And the longer you depend upon them the worse it will be for your children. You men and women who attended southern country schools twenty or forty years ago, got very little. You learned to read, to write, to "figure" a little, and to spell long words that you never learned to use. I hesitate to discredit such "learning" as you got there, for it, though small, has served you well. But as a well rounded education, as a preparation for complete living it was solely inadequate.

Every man no doubt has felt at various times his lack of education and training. But the child who is to be the man or woman of a great progressive tomorrow, will feel more sorely still, the lack of a fair education and a proper training for life.

Modern life is more complex and more exacting today than that of yesterday, and tomorrow will find the children of today living in a more complex age, engaged in a more trying and intense competition with their fellow beings, and confronted with more difficult problems requiring their serious thought and eventual solution. The uneducated, untrained man of today is having an arduous struggle for liberty and a decent existence. How much greater must be their struggle when they are met with the more complex and multifarious social and political life that is now rapidly evolving.

Would you men of the country be willing to have your sons and daughters ushered out into this new life, uneducated, untrained, unprepared to take their places alongside those more favored men and women? To take their place alongside those who were given a chance to get this education and training that is so essential to an equal opportunity and success? Men can not enjoy equal opportunities in life until all are given an equal opportunity to prepare themselves for life.

The ordinary country school has served a noble purpose in the past. It is a pioneer school, for pioneers, the best possible under pioneer conditions. It gave these pioneers a modicum of training, but this training was far from being sufficient. Conditions in pioneer days justified such poorly taught, poorly equipped schools. But the world has made rapid progress in various lines, and conditions here have changed. But the country schools are laggards in the movement. They have not kept up.

If the country school is to do its part in promoting the education and civilization of the world it must be reorganized and centralized, and the work systematized and standardized. Some men will object to this progressive movement. But opposition to progress is to be found everywhere, sometimes because of prejudice, but more often it is due to the fact that well meaning people fail to see that a change is desirable or practicable. An increase in the efficiency and consequent value of our country schools, is both desirable and practicable. It will come about just as soon as enough people realize the impotency of the present schools to produce satisfactory results, and set about devising ways and means of improving them.

The conditions mentioned and the few reasons given are not overdrawn. They are generally applicable to all sections of the State. The schools of Hardy, Grovesville and Shallowater should be improved and their efficiency increased. They should be centralized and reorganized, and their scope of usefulness enlarged and their course of study reformed to suit the pupils' requirements. It would give the country boys and girls a good school, an attractive school, where they would be delighted to attend and content to remain, and complete the course of study offered. It would give them a fair chance, an enviable opportunity. It is possible; it is desirable; it is practicable.

In my next article an attempt will be made to outline the ways and means now at our disposal to make the most of an unusual opportunity to provide and maintain an unusually good rural high school for boys and girls whose opportunities heretofore have been unusually limited.

County Home Demonstration Department

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

I go to College Station the last of the week to attend the Short Course here and will not meet any club or clubs in the county before August 10. Sincerely,
MILIE M. HALSEY,
Home Demonstration Agent.

Our Fourth of July picnic has come and gone, and that it was a great success goes without saying. The next big thing before us is the County Fair. No undertaking of any consequence can be a success without the united efforts of all. Every citizen of Lubbock and Lubbock County should strive to make this not only the best fair we have ever had, but also to make it the greatest County Fair in the State in 1919.

And, though you may not realize it, the time is very short in which to prepare for a fair. Every exhibit should be gotten ready in plenty of time, so that at the last moment you will not be saying regretfully "I had some things better than the ones they had, if I had only prepared them."

Of course our county wants to send the best County Exhibit to the State Fair, be sure to remember that. Besides the County Exhibit at the State Fair I want to call your attention to some attractive prizes offered to women in the Home Demonstration or Conservation Clubs. There are some very attractive prizes offered for both individual exhibits and for Club or Community Exhibits. I see no good reason why a community in Lubbock cannot send the products down to bring back that State prize.

Already Shallowater, Acuff and Slide, three of our strongest women's clubs, have signified their intention of trying for it. I shall be glad to give more specific information to those desiring it.

One announcement that I wish to make is about the containers. We understood, until recently, that the women were to use pint jars for all their canned products. But the Dallas Fair-announcement specifies that quart jars are to be standard. There is one exception, for jellies a twelve ounce container must be used. I am planning to find out about getting these right away. Plums and other fruits for jellymaking may be canned now and the jelly made later. Jelly deteriorates with age, hence filling the jelly glasses could be done any time between the first and tenth of September.

Besides the prizes offered for the best exhibit of canned products, the best exhibit of jellies, the best exhibit of dried fruit, there are also prizes for the best exhibit of dried vegetables. The dried products are also exhibited in quart jars, one quart of each. It seems to me that with the great variety of fruits and vegetables that we have in Lubbock County, that we could easily win some of those prizes.

In drying vegetables remember that the shrinkage is about nine tenths. That is, ten pounds of green vegetables will make about a pound of dried vegetables. Keep that fact in mind, so when you are ready to prepare them for exhibit you will have a full jar of each vegetable.

Just a word to the Canning Club members. Every girl expecting to enter her canned products or chickens at the County Fair must write and tell me just what she will exhibit. I must have that information before August 10, if possible, and in no case later than August 15. Otherwise I shall not be able to give you the help you will need in getting your exhibit ready. All girls preparing an exhibit for the County Fair or the State Fair must use the square quart jar. These jars are sold in Lubbock, and you should get your supply now, that you may put up the best products that you have, instead of waiting until the last moment and putting up just anything that you can get. Of course every club member understands that no premium will be given unless the exhibit is accompanied by a properly filled out record book.

I trust that every member of the Canning, Poultry and Conservation Clubs will at once begin preparing their exhibits for the fairs. I am here to help, so send in your names. Sincerely,
MILIE M. HALSEY,
Home Demonstration Agent.

The Statement of This Snyder-Resident Will Interest Our Readers.

Mrs. B. F. Hargrove, Church St., Snyder, Tex., says: "My back was in terrible shape. My feet and limbs were swollen and I had dizzy spells and frequent headaches. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me more good than anything else I had ever taken. I don't have near so much trouble now as I used to. I occasionally notice weakness in my back or my kidneys are irregular in action, but it doesn't take many of Doan's Kidney Pills to relieve me. I advise anyone to get a box of Doan's if troubled in that way."

SOME LOCAL NEWS

ITEMS FROM TAHOKA

Lynn County News.

Rev. L. L. F. Parker, pastor of the Baptist Church, Tahoka, left the first of the week for Burleson county, where he goes to hold a series of protracted meetings in that part of the State. He will join his family there and expects to be absent several weeks.

Drilling operations at the Cowan oil well south of town has been suspended for the past several days awaiting the arrival of a new boiler, which the company ordered from Tulsa, Oklahoma, several weeks ago. Just as soon as the boiler arrives drilling will be continued. The well had reached a depth of 2250 feet, when drilling ceased.

Lynn County was visited this week with a much needed rain, amounting to one and fifteen hundredths of an inch in Tahoka and immediate vicinity, according to the Government rain gauge. At O'Donnell, we understand, a regular cloudburst fell Monday night. The rain began falling about midnight Monday and continued until Tuesday morning, amounting to 1.05 inches. Again Tuesday afternoon a light rain came from the south amounting to .10 of an inch. The moisture coming at this time will be of untold benefit to growing crops, as it had begun to get somewhat dry in certain parts of the county. A bumper feed crop is now assured over this section according to those in position to know. Cotton chopping is the order of the day, and the prediction is that the price will go higher by fall, probably 50c per pound. Lynn county will soon be in the swim, when the farmers begin to market their crops, and good times will return as of yore.

Prof. and Mrs. St. Clair, were in Tahoka Sunday from Hermleigh, Texas. These people had been engaged to teach in our school during the next term, but we regret to state that they have resigned their positions here, to go elsewhere. They returned to their home Sunday afternoon.

Miss Maude Nevils, who has been teaching school in El Paso the past term, accompanied by Mrs. Daily, a resident of that city, are visitors at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Nevils, west of town, this week. Mrs. Daily is a Red Cross nurse, and has

Why Speculate?

When you can invest your money where it will bring a handsome dividend without the peril of possible loss. No other business in the country can show such a record of consistent profit as the Oil Refining industry.

The Union National Oil and Refining Company of Cisco, Texas, is capitalized at $1,000,000.00 and has its main offices at Cisco, Texas, a location conveniently accessible to three proven oil fields. This city has railway connection with two of these fields over the Texas & Pacific and M. K. & T. Railways. Mr. R. Q. Lee, capitalist of Cisco, has started construction of the Cisco Northeastern to the Stephens County oil fields.

The forty acre site which this Company owns is located one mile west of the city of Cisco, immediately South and abutting the Texas & Pacific Railway right-of-way and overlooks Lake Bernie, the source of the city's adequate water supply. Two large cooling pools will be constructed on this site lying East and West of the main plant. This plant will never have to shut down on account of water shortage.

This plant will ultimately have a capacity of 5000 barrels per day which will be built in two 2500 barrel units. Our capital is sufficient that this plant can be built and operated without borrowing any money.

For a limited time this stock will be sold at par value of $1.00 per share. Orders will not be accepted for less than fifty shares. If you have a few hundred dollars that you can afford to invest in the oil industry, you can not place it where it will be safer and bring greater returns.

This company is not a speculative proposition but a sound business proposition.

Don't put off buying too long, you can buy at par value now.

NEWS ITEMS FROM THE RALLS BANNER

A trip over the Ralls trade territory will convince the most optimistic that there will be a bumper yield here this year. Corn is breaking all previous records, and promises to yield from 40 to 60 bushels to the acre, while the small grain will yield in such abundance that our farmers will not know what to do with it. King Cotton, too, will be gathered in quantities of from a bale to a bale and a half per acre.

The Banner neglected to state last week that L. L. Rutherford had happened to what came very near being a serious accident. He cranked his automobile, it being in high gear, and when the engine started, the machine bounded forward, striking him, and almost tearing the end of the shed out. His legs were badly bruised, and as a consequence he has been going on crutches.

The Ralls baseball club went to Plainview on July 4th, where they played a match game with the club at that place, the final score being 4 and 1 in favor of Ralls. This was among the best games that the boys have played this season, same running through 12 innings, the score up to that time being 1 and 1.

Doesn't hurt! Lift any corn or callus off with fingers

Don't suffer! A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops on the corns, calluses and "hard skin" on bottom of feet, then lift them off. JACKSBORO HAS TOO MANY NEWSPAPERS.

T. E. Bailey, editor of the Jacksboro News, has turned that sheet over to another party with this parting message:

"In this issue I am turning over the management of the News to Mr. E. M. Davidson Jr., whom most of you have known since early childhood.

"Since coming to Jacksboro some six months since, I have found the patronage given to the News insufficient to meet the necessary expenses and provide a living for myself and family. Instead of getting ahead and making progress, I find that I am traveling in reverse gear.

"I have often said in the News that Jacksboro would not get very far with any of its contemplated enterprises until it gets in behind its newspapers with a more liberal support. I repeat it again here, because it is a fact: and I know of no better message to leave Jacksboro people than to ask them to give this young man a chance."

For many years Jacksboro, with its population of less than two thousand people has been starved two newspapers. Why this is continued is a strange thing, but never the less is true. The combined subscription list of the two papers is a little over 1200 copies according to the Newspaper Directory, which is not enough to make a paying proposition to either one, and the advertising in both sheets is not enough to make a decent salary for a good workman, hence the papers cannot be what the publishers would like to make them, nor what they are capable of making them with the proper support. This support can never be given by the business men of Jacksboro as long as there are two papers in the town. It is a double expense for smaller results, and business men are fast recognizing it as such, will not agree to spend their money in that way. Jacksboro should consolidate her newspaper equipment and ability and then rally to the support of one paper, which if under the direction of a live, capable man could give the town better service, better boosting, and more publicity than half a dozen smaller sheets with a handful of readers, and the merchant is not out near so much money and gets better returns for what he does invest. A town of two thousand people has no more use for two papers than they have for an elevated street car system.

For the sake of humanity, and in the name of common decency lets have the weeds cut. Someone who has a team and mower can make good money by cutting the weeds off property owned by Lubbock residents. Why not start a machine now—mow 'em down. People will be willing to pay for the work, but they do not want to work themselves.

Come to Lubbock.

DAYLIGHT SAVING GOING.

There will be no more daylight saving after the present season. The law has been repealed, and its death is due to the antipathy felt for this scheme by the farming class of the nation.

On the other hand, we were told when the bill was being first considered that its being made law would save about one-fourth of the usual gas and electric bills of city folks, would save a million and a quarter tons of coal annually, increase gardening by allowing workers to have long afternoons for such purposes, and would add to the health by promoting outdoor sport and recreation. Maybe in later days, we will see it tried again; but, for present, it is destined to soon become a relic of war memory.

Not yet, Friend Shuffler. President Wilson used his veto 'ax on the Agricultural bill, to which the repeal of the daylight saving bill was attached, thus retaining the order unless it is passed over his veto by a two thirds vote of congress, which it seems doubtful to muster.

We note a very commendable act on the part of the First National Bank of Tahoka, in which they have purchased a car load of fine hogs and pigs which they propose to sell to the farmers of Lynn county in small numbers at actual cost in car load lots. This will give the farmers an opportunity to get these swine at a much cheaper price than buying in small lots and at different places. Such loyalty to home people is worthy of much consideration by the public.

Hamlin was hit hard the past year by wind and hail storms and we sympathize greatly with many people who lost their homes, business houses and some of the churches. We note that the Presbyterian people are tearing their old structure down that was damaged by a wind storm some months ago, and will use all of the material that is of any value in a new building which they expect to erect in the near future.

If something is not done, with those chug holes around the turning posts at the southwest and northwest corners of the square there will be a serious smashup there some day. A car is liable to turn over if it strikes the holes just right. A few dollars spent there will beat a five thousand dollar damage suit or possibly the death of some member of a Lubbock family.

ARMY RECRUITING PARTY IN TOWN

A recruiting party from the 19th Infantry, from El Paso, Texas, was here during the week.

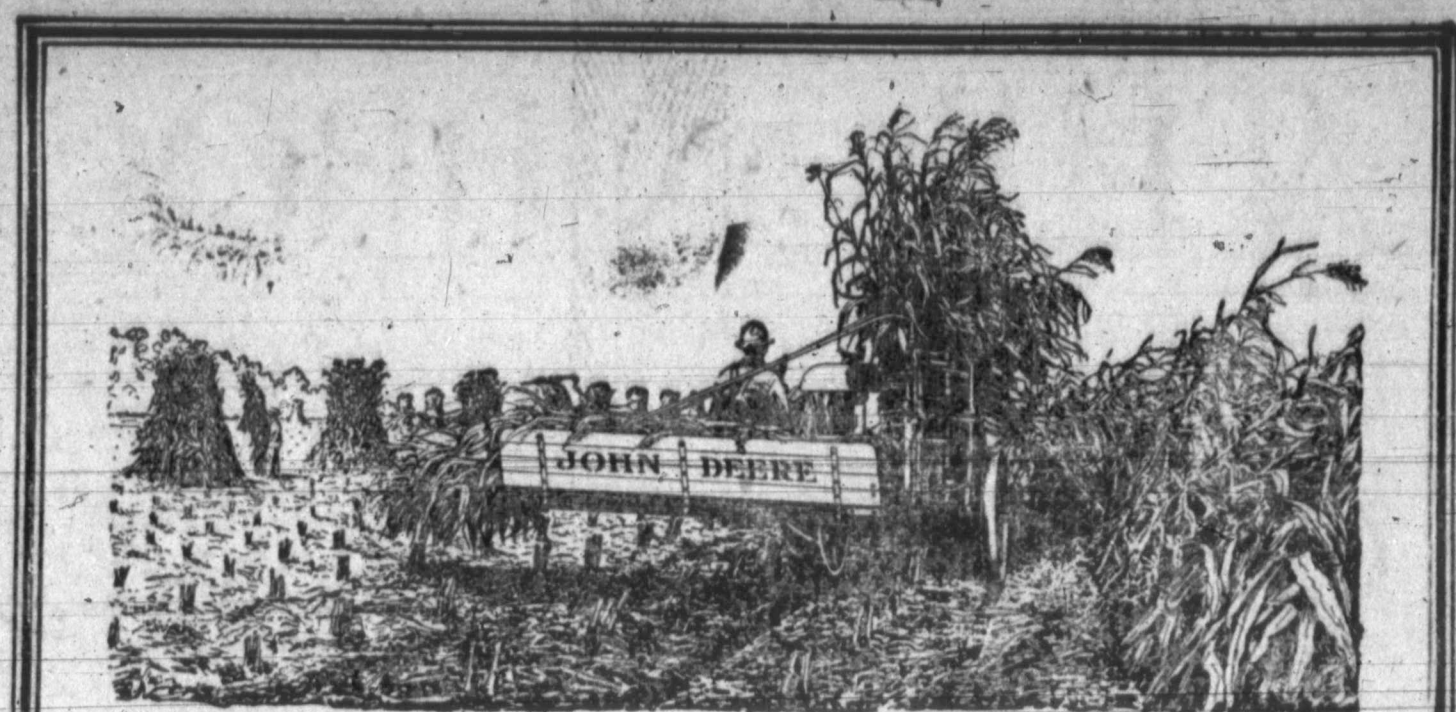

The army is filling up fast. Do not wait thinking that you will get in later, as your chosen branch may be filled up by then.

The army offers you a chance to educate yourself by contact with a large number of real live men and the ordinary problems of life comes up to that one has a chance to use his own judgment in settling them. It learns one to stand on his own feet. Do you see any men coming back from the army who haven't confidence in themselves? No! It is just the opposite, they think they can do anything. It is very necessary to have confidence in one's self in order to succeed. While schooling is necessary yet it lacks the practical experience to make it a success. Why not spend a short time in the Army school and get the advantage of this training.

The physical side of every man is carefully developed. The right kind of physical exercises at the right time and given in the right manner bring out every man. A course of exercises are given so as to develop every muscle in a man's body. Not only are the muscles strengthened, but one is also taught to make his muscles obey his mind. The harmony between mind and muscle is complete.

The mental side is developed not only by actual experience but also by study. A certain amount of study is necessary in any line of work. The army has provided for this by well organized and well conducted schools. The cooks in the army, as it is now goes to the schools for cooks and bakers. This assures good meals for all the men in the army.

The overseas service is filled up. The American is quick to take advantage of a good thing. Don't wait and let the other fellow beat you to some other place you like equally as

Makes Corn Harvesting Easy For Man and Horses

Operating the John Deere Corn Binder, the binder with the power carrier and Quick Turn Tongue Truck, is driving the horses chiefly.

No effort is required to dump the bundles, simply press the foot trip lever—the power carrier, which is always in receiving position, does the rest. The bundles are delivered clear of the horses' path—the horses do not tramp on the bundles, knock off ears and break the tie strings. Practically all of the loose leaves are delivered with the bundles—not scattered over the field and wasted.

The Quick Turn Tongue Truck relieves the horses of all the pole whip and neck weight—makes turning at the end as easy as when hitched to a wagon. It keeps the binder running straight—does away with sluing on side hills because the axle is flexibly mounted, allowing the truck to conform to uneven ground conditions.

We want you to come in and see this better binder. We want to show many other points about it that combined with the above make the John Deere the best binder investment you can make.

Come in the first chance you get and give us an opportunity to show you the best corn binder on the market.

The Secret of Happiness

The Secret of Happiness is as securely hidden today as it was at the dawn of creation. We do not exactly know what things bring happiness; but we do know some of the things that do not bring it. Money doesn't bring it. That is sure, because if it did all rich people would be happy—and many of them are miserable. Position doesn't bring it; position brings responsibility and worry. Even good health is not essential to happiness. Sometimes chronic invalids are the happiest people in the world. Happiness is purely a state of mind. We are happy when we are lifted out of ourselves. Most of us are happy when we hear good music.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

will help to make you happy because it will bring into your home all the great music that has come echoing down the ages. More than that, it will give you all that you could get by actually hearing the greatest artists on the opera stage or concert platform. Only with the New Edison is this possible.

Let us demonstrate the truth of our statement.

We understand that several parties have the Russell building, which is being vacated by this company, in view, no doubt another business will open there in a short time.

LETTER FROM A LUBBOCK COUNTY BOY

The following is a letter from a boy recently recruited by the party from the 19th infantry from El Paso, Texas:

Ross Field, Arcadia, Calif., June 26th, 1919.

Hello, everybody. Well, I am off for two days because I have just finished my shots in the arm. I have also just had my first instruction in balloon handling and observation. I went up 2000 feet this morning with the Lieutenant. He taught me how to find range and how to phone down to the guns to give them the range I also looked for forest fires. I was given a strong pair of field glasses and told to point out autos on the streets of Pasadena and to follow them until they stopped and then to see how many men got out of the car. Pasadena is eight miles from the place that we went up so you can see how strong that they are.

Money would not hire me out of the army. It sure gives one a thrill to go up in a sausage balloon. An instructor and a student are all that go up at a time. I am in love with the service. Yes, there are a few that do not like the army or any thing else, but they wouldn't be satisfied in Heaven.

Oh, say, while I was in the air. I watched them taking some motion pictures four miles away.

Well I must close and go to Los Angeles. I can go for nothing by going out to the highway. Any one will pick you up if you salute.

Tell my younger brother to hurry up and come out. He can see any member of the recruiting party from the 19th infantry and get in.

Joy and Satisfaction in Sharing the Children's Work and Pleasures

Article XIX.—By Mrs. Princess B. Throwbridge

"Come let us live with our children!" What more fitting advice to mothers than this old motto of Froebel's? To live with our children not only makes for their best development, but also develops the best motherhood in us. There would be more happy mothers if all could know the joy and satisfaction there is in living with the children, in sharing their work and pleasure and letting them share ours.

Let the child be with you while you work; let him help you even if he does "hinder" a little. Let him take walks with you. Tell him about the birds, squirrels, rabbits, trees, flowers and all you see. Encourage him to see even things that you do not see, or if he is not inclined to observe readily, call his attention to the objects of nature, and gradually explain their life to him. He will soon begin to ask questions. Answer every sensible question truthfully—I want to emphasize this point. I have made it a rule to give information when it is asked for, and almost at no other time—at least not until the child shows by some word or act that he is ready for it. The best way to teach a child is to give him truthful answers to his questions. Someone has said, "It makes a vast difference whether the soul of the child is regarded as a piece of blank paper to be written upon, or as a living power to be quickened by sympathy, to be educated by truth."

I remember when my oldest child was about 2 years old, that in watching the sunset he said, "Mother, where does the sun go when it sets?" I explained to him as well as I could, and then, taking an apple to represent the earth, showed him how the little Chinese children had sunlight when it was dark on our side of the earth. Whenever he talked about it afterward he always said, "After dark the sun is down with the little Chinese children." One day, about three years later, he came running home from kindergarten and exclaimed, "Oh, mother, now I know what you mean by the sun setting!" Then he repeated for me the little song, "Good Morning, Merry Sunshine":

Good morning, Merry Sunshine,
How did you wake so soon,
You've scared the little stars away,
And driven away the moon.

I say you go to sleep last night,
Before I ceased my playing;
How did you get way over there,
And where have you been staying?
I never go to sleep, dear child,
I just go round to see
My little children of the East,
Who rise and watch for me.

I waken all the birds and bees
And flowers on my way,
And last of all the little child,
Who stayed out late to play.

—Eleanor Smith.

Another time my boy asked the question, "How are the mountains made?" To explain to him I took two apples, setting one in the window and letting it shrivel up, and baking the other at the first suitable opportunity. In showing the baked apple to the children, I pointed out that heat had made it burst out of the skin and, that in just this way the earth, which was hot at the center, erupted into mountains. With the other apple I showed how the drying of the skin had made ridges, like those on the crust of the earth. Some months later the boy went to visit his uncle, who is a geologist, and when the conversation turned upon mountains, he remembered all I had said, was interested and talked most intelligently on this subject.

On our walks through the woods, I do not say, "There is a beautiful tree," but rather, "there is an oak or an elm tree." When they were four and five years old, my children knew all the trees in our suburb, not only by their leaves but by their bark. In the same way they have learned about the flowers. Even the baby knows a "robber" (robin). Treat children as intelligent beings, not as playthings or little animals.

In simple little ways that will occur to every mother, we can explain the facts of life to our children. My family is fortunate in living in a semi-rural district, and we have a cow; the question soon arose, "Where did the baby calf come from?" We told the children truthfully as much as was necessary for them to know at that time. Later we shall tell them more.

A little training in child culture would be most helpful to any mother. My training as a kindergarten has made my work with the children much easier, more pleasant, and, of course, more intelligent. I would advise women with children to attend all the mothers' classes and parents' clubs they can and to read as many good books on child culture as possible. But these things are not absolutely necessary to the making of a good mother. She needs first to have an open mind, a full heart, and a love for her child which plans for its healthful and symmetrical growth, physically, mentally and spiritually.

SEMI-ANNUAL PRESBYTERY HELD JULY 3RD TO 6TH

Rails Banner.
The semi-annual Presbytery of the Amarillo district, convened with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church here last week, commencing Thursday night and lasting until Sunday. The following delegates were present: Quanah—Mr. Griffith. Floydada—E. L. King and family, Rev. Mealer and wife, Rev. Charley Bolin, L. H. Davis and family. Petersburg—Rev. Hugh Saxon and I. Z. Smith and wife. Lubbock—Rev. Collins and family, Geo. L. Davis, E. P. Earhart and Miss Kate Slover. Cone—Geo. Ragel and family, E. W. Jennings, Mrs. Plumleaf, Mannie Assiter and Mrs. Keen and son, Harold.

The opening sermon Thursday night was preached by Rev. Collins, of Lubbock. On Friday morning at 11 o'clock, Rev. Davis, of Floydada, delivered a sermon, he being followed Friday night by Rev. Jennings, of Rails. On Saturday Rev. Mealer, of Floydada, preached at 11 o'clock.

Saturday night at 8 o'clock Rev. Saxon of Petersburg, a young man who has just returned from overseas, took charge of the meeting and delivered a highly entertaining and edifying address, during the course of which he told of a number of experiences he had in the army, one of which was: That while on the soil of France, several soldiers were listening to a sermon being delivered. At the close of same a voluntary prayer was called for, but there seemed to be no one in the crowd who cared to offer a petition to God, but at last, after some hesitation, he offered one. From that time on, he said, the men seemed to view him in a different light, and many were the compliments and slaps on the back he received then, and during the course of the next day.

Sunday at 11 o'clock, Rev. Davis, of Floydada, conducted the services, after which dinner was spread on the ground, and was highly enjoyed by all present. In the afternoon sacramental services were conducted by Rev. Collins, after which a Women's Missionary Society, consisting of eight members, was organized.

During the meeting it was decided to re-instate the fifth Sunday meetings, which were discontinued some time ago.

All the delegates were well pleased with our town, and expressed the opinion that it had a promising future.

ELMO WALL RETURNED FROM COLORADO SATURDAY

Elmo Wall, who has been out in Colorado the past three weeks in the interest of the Leon Hog Creek Oil Company, returned Saturday. He reports fairly good success in the sale of stock, but not as well as he had hoped for. It is a bad time of year to sell oil stock in that country. The people do not have much money to invest just now, but as soon as the big crops are harvested and marketed, everybody will have quite a nice surplus to work on, and then he expects to be able to sell all the stock that he has to offer.

THE WESTERN STATES HAVE OFFICIALLY ADOPTED THE 56" AUTO TRACK WAGON

Neither too Wide nor too Narrow but Standard 56-Inch Auto-track

WEBER

Bought by Farmers Because of Its Known Qualities

REGARDLESS of all other considerations—the 60-inch wagon does not fit the road. Any advantages it might possess are offset by the fact that it is a stranger on its own roads. It rides the ridges, which causes broken axles, wheels and other parts, and the tongue whips about which is hard on the team.

The justly famous Weber wagon is built only in 56" auto-track because this is the standard approved tread of automobiles—and the automobile makes the ruts in mud or soft roads. If the farm wagon is not made to follow the same path it is out of date for road service. Automobiles are increasing among farmers because they are a time-saving necessity, and every farmer who hasn't an automobile intends to procure one at the earliest opportunity.

The Weber 56" auto-track wagon will do everything that the old 60" wagon would do. It will haul cotton bales as easily as the wide track wagon and the team can draw the load without having to pull every inch of the way. It lends itself just as readily to all kinds of farm work and in addition it fits the prevailing road tracks.

Besides the auto-track feature the new Weber has the patented Fifth Wheel and the "Safety First" Swivel Reach Coupling—two advantages that are worth $20 apiece to the user during the life of the wagon.

By all means see our Weber wagons before you buy. We can offer you something that will save you money and give you service.
