NUMBER 39

Texas Cotton Co-Op. Meet in Muleshoe Friday, 2 P. M.

Rate Reductions to Gas Users Here Approximating 15 Per Cent Given Out By the West Texas Gas Company

Partial rate reductions covering a five months winter period, effective in Muleshoe and various other towns of this area, were made public last week by the West Texas Gas Co., which is furnishing the gas service for these towns. The announcement was made by R. F. Hinchee, vice-president and general manager of the company.

According to the new rate schedule, a cut of approximately 15 per cent will be made to domestic and commercial customers after the first 6,000 cubic feet of gas have been burned each month. Where domestic users have been paying 67 1/2 cents per 1,000 cubic feet up to 50,000 cubic feet, they will pay this year 67 1/2 cents per thousand for the first 6,000 feet and 57 1/2 cents for each additional thousand and up to 50,000 cubic feet. The new rate goes into effect after the readings of October, 1931, and will continue in effect until including the readings for March, 1932, Mr. Hinchee said.

In announcing the new commercial and domestic rate schedules, Mr. Hinchee also said that public schools and colleges would be served under the industrial rate schedule, lowest in the company's rate brackets, and under single meter connection. Here-to-fore schools and colleges have been paying on the single meter commercial schedule although efforts were made last January to secure the industrial rates for the educational institutions.

"The reductions," he said, "will effect savings to every customer using gas for cooking and heating during the part of the year when they use the most gas."

During the months of November, December, January, February and March, which are covered in the winter heating schedule reductions, our domestic and commercial customers burn approximately 70 per cent of the entire year's consumption of natural gas," he concluded.

The minimum bill for either domestic or commercial users has been $1.50 per month and is not altered by the winter reduction schedule. He said that he hoped the reduction in rates would result in more persons using gas, thus increasing the company's volume.

West Texas cities and towns affected by the rate reduction include: Lubbock, Hereford, Littlefield, Lamesa, Midland, Odessa, O'Donnell, Post, Plainview, Quitaque, Ralls, Silton, Stanton, Sudan, Southland, Elberton, Turkey, Tulla, Thakola, Wilson, Amberst, Anton, Abernathy, Brownfield, Canyon, Crockett, Friona, Floydada, Happy, Hale Center, Idalou, Kress, Lockney, Lorenzo, Levelland, Seminole, Seagraves, Muleshoe, Petersburg, Shallowater, Dimmitt andovina.

CALIF. AUTO HELD HERE NO CHARGE AGAINST DRIVER

Deputy Sheriff Jim Cook last Friday picked up on Main street a 1928 Chevrolet coupe driven by a man giving the name of H. P. Eundard. The car motor number was 4234745, and carried a California license number 2x, 566. It is being held here temporary in local storage.

The car was picked up on telegraphic advice from the National Automobile Insurance Co., of Los Angeles, claiming the unlawful removal of mortgaged property from that state. The driver was not arrested.

BAILEY CO. TO HAVE FINE EXHIBIT AT LUBBOCK FAIR

That Bailey county will have one of the finest, and in all probabilities the finest, exhibit of farm products shown at the Panhandle South Plains fair to be held at Lubbock, September 26 to October 3, is the statement of O. N. Robinson and R. L. Brown, who are now gathering the luxuriant specimens.

Never before in the history of the agricultural era of this county have there been finer farm products, and these men state they are certainly going to make some of the other counties showing hustle for first money.

PORTALES SHIPS BEANS

A carload of high grade string beans was shipped last week from Portales to Chicago by refrigeration freight.

FARMER HAS THREE 100 MILE ROWS OF CORN

Steve Bishop, a farmer of Longmont, Colorado, believes in being original, for he has three rows of corn that are each 100 miles long.

That seems like an unusually long narrow strip of corn, but not so. For he planted the corn in circular rows; beginning at the outer edge of his field they wind toward the center in a route 100 miles long.

BAILEYBORO SYRUP MILL MAKING MUCH SWEETNESS

J. S. Pears, operator of a community syrup mill located in the Baileyboro community reports busy days turning out molasses for winter consumption, and which is reported to be an excellent product.

He has made syrup today for the following people of that community: R. N. Thomas, W. B. Lee, Joe Young, John Calvert, J. J. Hamell, Pete Blackshear, F. A. Lafan, Spived Mayhall, Johnny Angel, L. B. Hobs, J. P. Vineyard, W. R. Hargrove, and has about 75 acres from other farmers to be converted into syrup, the work being done on the halves.

Ginners Association Sets Low Price On Service For This Year

The price of cotton ginning on the South Plains this year will be 30 cents per hundred pounds of seed cotton plus $1 for bagging and ties if recommendations adopted Saturday by members of the South Plains Ginners association, who met last week at Lubbock for their annual convention, are followed.

The new schedule recommended is ten cents per hundred pounds less than the rate charged last year by most gins in this section, according to George A. Simmons, of Lubbock, vice president of the association, said last night.

Based on an average weight of 1800 pounds of seed cotton per bale, the cost of ginning this year will be $6.40 per bale. The association went on record as recommending that as a fair price.

John C. Thompson of Dallas, secretary of the Texas Cotton Ginners association, was one of the principal speakers of the day's session. Thompson discussed at length the effect the national state and local economic situations had upon the cotton ginner. He also discussed the federal farm board's plan for having the farmers to plow up every third row of their cotton.

"If the farm board wants to aid the cotton farmer it might destroy the surplus cotton it has on hand," Thompson said.

A resolution condemning the farm board's plan was adopted by the assembly of ginners.

Another resolution, opposing the raising of freight rates on cotton from West Texas points, also was adopted. The association asked the interstate commerce commission not to allow the proposed increase in that such change would injure the West Texas cotton industry.

The convention, in another resolution, petitioned power companies to make substantial decreases in power rates to gins using electrically operated machinery.

More than 400 persons, including about 300 ginners, attended the one-day session.

FORD EXHIBIT THIS WEEK

Under direction of the Muleshoe Motor Co., an exhibit of the different model Ford cars will be given at their place of business Friday and Saturday of this week.

A feature of the event will be talking moving pictures of the Ford manufacturing plant, together with other interesting and educational scenes.

Two picture shows will be given daily, one at 1:15 o'clock and the other at 7:30 o'clock p. m.

A large attendance is anticipated by the management.

Business men, bankers and professional men, as well as non-members, are especially invited to the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association meeting at Muleshoe, at 2:00 p. m., Friday, August 28, according to C. N. Payne, field representative of the association.

As receiving agents and members of the cooperative from places as far as 15 or 20 miles from here are arranging auto caravans to bring large numbers of out-of-town people to the meeting, it is expected to be one of the largest farmers' meetings ever held in the county.

Methods of handling the 1931 crop by the cooperative association, operations of the seasonal and price fixation pools in 1931 and other matters of interest to both farmers and the general public will be explained in detail by some of the best speakers in the cooperative marketing movement.

At this meeting full details of the new advance on cotton delivered to the seasonal pool will be explained. The advance last year was 90 per cent, and it will be approximately the same this year.

"There are three fundamental objectives of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association," declared Mr. Payne. "The first aim is to establish a system of marketing that will pay each grower of cotton on the basis of quality he produces. The second is to obtain more profit for the producer by establishing a marketing system that will carry the cotton from the producer to the consumer at the lowest possible cost and with the minimum amount of waste and unnecessary handling charges.

"The third objective is the establishment of a marketing system owned and controlled by the growers of cotton themselves and through which they can influence more effectively the merchandising of the entire supply of American cotton.

"Details of these purposes of the association will be explained and emphasis placed upon the resultant benefits to the nation in general. People more and more are coming to the conclusion that no permanent restoration or improvement of prosperity can occur until the purchasing power of the farmers is restored. When farmers are prosperous, people in the towns and cities are prosperous. Their interests are all bound together so intricately that when farmers cannot buy the things they need, people in the towns and cities cannot make and sell the things the farmers require, and this is consequent slowing up of business all along the line."

Farmers Discuss School Board Has Feeding Finance Expense Budget of Meet September 5 $31,866 For Year

A very important and interesting meeting of the Muleshoe School Board was held Thursday night of last week, and attended by several of the patrons of the school.

At this meeting the budget of contemplated expenses for carrying on the school for the coming year was presented for consideration and approval of the Board membership.

The budget is based on a nine months school year, and carries a total of $31,866.64, according to President R. H. Renfro, of Baileyboro; W. M. Ecker, on the expense list for the coming year are included $11,495 for the salaries of 11 teachers; bus service, $3,300; about $4,000 in unpaid salaries; $4,500 interest on school bonds and $4,875 to go into the bond sinking fund.

An insurance policy of $10,000 on one of the school buildings was also ordered renewed, making a total of approximately $60,000 insurance now carried on the two school buildings.

President Ecker stated there will be no difficulty in carrying the school on for the full nine months, if people will pay their school tax money as they should.

Members of the School Board this year are: A. H. Ecker, president; F. C. Skeeters, secretary; Will Harper, H. L. Reed, J. A. Wimberly, members.

Future regular meetings of the Board will be held on the night of the second Monday of each month. All meetings will be open sessions, said Mr. Ecker, and the public has a standing invitation to attend any time they desire.

SPENCER BEAVERS THROWN FROM TRUCK, ANKLE BROKEN

Spencer Beavers, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clara Beavers, suffered a badly crushed ankle Tuesday afternoon, when the oil truck driven by his father skidded in loose dirt throwing the lad to the ground. It is supposed one of the truck rear wheels passed over the ankle. He was rushed to a Lubbock hospital as quickly as possible, following the accident, where an x-ray picture was taken and the broken members set.

Jack Aldridge, 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Aldridge, who was also thrown from the truck at the same time, escaped with a badly skinned face.

COTTON CROP OPENING

J. H. Lucas, general manager for the Enoch Land Co., operating a large tract of land in the southern part of Bailey county, states there are now plenty of open cotton bolls on their land, and indications there will be much of it will make a bale of lint per acre.

He states their cotton crop will average pretty close to three weeks earlier than it generally is.

If the optimist is to be believed, business has turned the corner so often lately that it must be dizzy.

SHERIFFS DEET BEEN BUSY

If any citizen of Bailey county thinks the Sheriff's department has not been busy they have another thing coming.

Records kept at that office show members of the sheriff's force have traveled more than 40,000 miles in automobiles since the first of the year 26,919 miles of which have been covered by Sheriff H. J. King himself.

Work hard and keep your eyes open.

DAWSON FARMER TELLS EGG STORY RATHER UNUSUAL

F. C. Vogler, living 12 miles southwest of Lamesa on star route 4, tells us one this week. Vogler states a hen on his farm laid one large egg the size of a goose-egg in which there was found another egg. The outer shell covers the white of the egg, and the inner shell covers the yellow. He says the hen was so surprised that she pecked a hole in the egg to see what it was all about.

Growers Of Sudan May Deduct $1.25 Per Acre Expense

Fred Reynolds, Bailey county farm agent, received a telegram Monday from R. H. McEwen, in charge of the Federal Farm Loan office at St. Louis, stating it would be permissible for growers of Sudan grass to deduct the sum of $1.25 per acre for the cutting of the grass and the purchasing of binder twine in harvesting their Sudan crop.

This ruling comes as a great accommodation to several of the farmers of Bailey county who are short of finance for harvesting expenses at this time of the year. Heretofore, no deduction of any kind was allowed from the government loan.

According to this arrangement dealers may sell twine and collect for it before the government loan is paid, cutting charges may also be paid prior to payment of the loan.

18 Men and Women At Capon Demonstration Held on Davis Farm

A caponizing demonstration held at the farm of A. L. Davis, in the Fairview community, Tuesday afternoon, attracted 18 men and women, the art being supervised by Fred S. Reynolds, county farm agent.

There were eight men who tried their hand on the birds at the operating table. The following families: Bushy, Allen, Chester, Finley, Schuster, Mathis and Aque, were present.

"There are numerous cockerels at this time on nearly every farm that are just the right size for caponizing," said Reynolds, "which would grow into profitable birds by January and February."

It is believed that even Leghorn cockerels would pay a profit as capons. They usually sell at the price of heavy hens. Heavy capons bring five to 10 cents per pound more than hens at the proper marketing season.

This is just one more way to bring in an additional income and at a time when many need to pay taxes. Many who have raised capons claim they are the most profitable of any phase of the poultry business, Reynolds said.

SANTA FE STARTS PICK-UP AND DELIVERY SERVICE OCT. 1

That the Santa Fe railroad company will begin their pick-up and delivery service of freight October 1, is the information received here Tuesday by H. A. Ecker, local agent.

Ed Riddle, local transfer man, has the hauling contract for the Santa Fe company.

HIGHWAY MEN TO MOVE HERE

H. C. Emmons has accepted a position with the State Highway Department under Mr. Butts and will move his family here from Muleshoe within the next few days—Sudan News.

METHODIST REVIVAL HERE

The Methodist revival in progress here this week is attracting large and interested crowds.

Rev. D. B. Doak, pastor of the Methodist church at Plainview, is doing the preaching. The various members of the church have been organized for aggressive evangelistic work and good music is being enjoyed.

Kiwanis Men In Favor Of Sudan Co-Op. Planning

At the regular meeting of the local Kiwanis club held Friday of last week the principal subject of discussion pro and con was the organization of some plan having for its purpose the protection of prices growers are to receive for their Sudan seed this fall. Several of the members entered into a hearty discussion of the proposed plan, and this week a number of letters have been sent the Federal Farm Board, at Washington, D. C., urging that body to take some favorable action in behalf of the Sudan growers.

It was pointed out in the discussion that 90 per cent of the commercially raised Sudan seed of the United States was raised in the Panhandle territory, that territory being roughly designated as the "Santa Fe Triangle" and located between the cities of Lubbock, Plainview, Clovis and Amarillo.

With this restricted territory in which to operate, it is estimated the proposed association will be able to maintain something near the 10 year price average of $4.80, as compared to the price of $1.50 per hundred, as present indications forecast.

The normal consumption of Sudan seed is said to be about 25,000,000 pounds, while there was a carry over of about 5,000,000 pounds of the seed from last year's harvesting. It is said the 1931 crop is now being estimated at around 30,000,000, so that history promises an absorption of the carry over in a short time.

In the opinion of men in close touch with the situation, the only solution of the difficulty lies in the forming of a Sudan Grass Growers Co-operative Association under the Federal Marketing Act.

It has been suggested that the proposed organization be patterned after the newly formed Kentucky Bluegrass Seed Growers Association of Kentucky and a similar pool of the Middle West Grass Seed Growers which were organized within the past few months and are already functioning in a highly successful manner under Federal financing and supervision.

Growers are paid the established cash advances immediately upon delivery of the seed, the added probability of receiving further dividends when the marketing has been completed.

Under the proposed Texas cooperative plan, growers would be paid an agreed-upon cash advance, upon delivery, and according to the grades established. Existing grain and storage facilities would be employed. The crop would be handled by grain and elevator men as heretofore, and customary commissions and charges for handling or storage would be allowed. It is intended to secure the complete cooperation of county agents and the state agricultural departments.

Under the cooperative arrangement suggested it is expected a much higher price level will be realized for the growers than if handled without Federal financial aid or supervision.

Officials of the Farm Board, who have been approached on the subject have given their assurance that the same consideration and financial assistance would be given as has been accorded to other similar organizations recently formed.

Agricultural experts who have analyzed the situation have expressed the conviction that under the proposed plan, three-fourths to a million dollars might be saved for the growth of this commodity.

BAILEY CO. PASTURES ARE GOOD FOR COMING SEASONS

Farmers and ranchers of Bailey county report their prospects for fall and winter pastures are the best now they have been for many years past, and also because of the excellent indications for bumper feed crops, there will be much stock held over for winter feeding.

To date, few ranchers of this county have contracted many of their calves for fall delivery, though there will be much of the old she cattle stock that will be culled later on and shipped.

It is also reported that several farmers having large pastures and plenty of on-coming grain are making arrangements to feed out much of it to cattle that will be shipped in here this winter.

A COMMUNITY PLAN

Now that canning of home products is in vogue, various towns and communities are doing everything they can to aid the projects.

Various towns have already purchased large canning retorts, most of them capable of handling about 60 No. 2 cans at a time. This report is offered as free service to the people of that town and other communities in the county. Reports are already coming in to the effect that in many places there are waiting lists of communities for the use of the big canner in the putting up of meat, fruits and vegetables for the coming winter.

The Journal believes such a project would be good for Muleshoe and Bailey county, and will gladly go its part toward the purchase of a big retort for county wide use.

BIG FARMING

Much is being said now days about big farming, and sensational stories have come out of the press regarding big scale wheat farming, as though that one crop was illustrative of what might be done with all other crops grown from the soil.

So far as we know even big scale wheat farming has not yet proven a complete success. Hickman Price himself declares the average returns must be carried over a period of 10 years before valid determinations can be made. But why wheat farming as an illustration, when wheat farming is the cheapest and easiest type of farming there is and more readily lends itself to enlarged field operations? With large capacity power machinery the ground is prepared, seeded and harvested, and the time required for doing so is less than practically any other crop. And when harvest time comes the ripened grain goes directly from the combine to the elevator.

But humanity needs much more than wheat. There must be row crops of various kinds, dairy products, meat, spinach, beans, potatoes, tomatoes, etc. that a balanced ration may be enjoyed, and none of these crops are so easily and cheaply grown as is wheat.

CAPONE'S PAYMENT

Much speculation is going the rounds now relative to how much the Government is going to assess Al Capone, noted gang leader for his evasion of income tax payment, and some have gone so far as to speculate how the Government can honestly accept anything.

Of course, he can be fined for law-breaking, but it is being asked if Capone is making his money unlawfully, can the Government legally put a tax on unlawful money and claim a part of it the same as lawfully made income tax increment. Such action, it is declared would place the Government in the position of receiving money unlawfully acquired and thus it would be made a party to Capone's lawbreaking.

Suppose Capone robbed the United States treasury of a million dollars, and was caught. Would the Government require him to pay an income tax on the money he certainly would not. We fall to see where the Government can lawfully tax money made outside the law—but it can give him a prison sentence.

BACK TO SCHOOL

Just a few days more and children from Muleshoe and all over Bailey county will again be back in the school room eager for another year's acquirement of education.

And there is always something about school days that seems to bring a new lease on life, not only among the pupils, but the older ones also become infected with the spirit, for everyone is interested in school and the enthusiasm and activities of school life are infectious.

A special effort is being made this year by the Muleshoe School Board to carry on a full nine months term, and they are to be heartily commended for their labors in that direction. But in the final analysis, their success will depend upon the individual patrons and tax payers, for it takes money to run schools and its only sources is from the people of the district.

Let every citizen strive hard to pay their taxes this year that the school children may have the needed benefit.

SMALL FAVORS

It is an old saying, "Small favors are thankfully received, and larger ones in proportion." Yet from the number of protests going up over the Plains country regarding the announced reduction in gas rates, it would seem that this favor is really too small to be appreciated by the mass of service users.

Several months ago it was announced that a new and lower rate would be effective about the first of September, and most of the towns of this area had been anticipating a reduction that would really be worth while and of value to the average user.

It is stated by local citizens that while the recent reduction will benefit the larger users in a saving of approximately 15 per cent of their normal winter gas bill, yet the average user will receive no reduction since the minimum rate remains the same and the reduction does not become effective until after several thousand feet of gas has been used.

WOULD CUT RATES

At the last meeting of the Lubbock City Commission a formal request was ordered by that body asking for a reduction of rates for telephone service in that city.

UNNECESSARY AUTOMOBILE NOISES TO BE TABOO AS LAW GOES INTO EFFECT FINES A PLENTY WILL BE PRESCRIBED

Unnecessary noises from automobile horns, bells and sirens will be taboo after Friday, when the new state law regarding motor traffic goes into effect, according to copies of the law being sent out by the state highway department.

Beginning August 22, automobile horns are to be used only for the purpose of warning pedestrians and other automobile drivers, and not for the purpose of summoning persons from houses, or to demonstrate the pretty tones of one's freak automobile horn, according to literal translations of the act.

Also, no vehicle may be operated on the public highways without adequate brakes to stop it within 45 feet at a rate of speed of 20 miles per hour. The penalty for violating this clause is a maximum of $200 for the first offense, $500 and a jail sentence of 60 days for the second offense, or $1,000 and six months in jail for the third offense.

All automobiles must be equipped with a horn, but are not allowed to have a bell, siren or exhaust whistle, unless they come under the classification of fire trucks, ambulances or police vehicles, according to the new law.

It will be unlawful to operate a motor vehicle, trailer or semi-trailer at night without a burning red or yellow light on the rear of the last vehicle. It also will be unlawful for any person to operate or move any vehicle upon a highway with a red light attached to or visible from the front of the vehicles, except that vehicles operated by law enforcement officers, fire departments and ambulances.

All cars operating on a commercial vehicle license and of more than one ton carrying capacity shall be driven by persons holding chauffeur's licenses, and all cars used for transporting persons for hire shall be equipped with at least one quart of chemical fire extinguisher. All cars exceeding a width of 70 inches must be equipped with clearance lights on the front of cars and trucks.

SELLING AND DELIVERING OF GOODS FROM TRUCK SUBJECT TO LICENSE IN LAW EFFECTIVE FRIDAY OF THIS WEEK

Austin, Aug. 25.—Selling and delivery of commodities from trucks or vehicles to retail dealers, all in one operation, will be for the first time made statutory "peddling" under the new peddlers license law effective Friday.

It will be peddling when employees or agents of a manufacturer take out supplies of goods, offer them for sale and deliver them on the spot; but will not be peddling if the manufacturer himself does the distributing, under rulings just given by Attorney General James V. Alford's department to Comptroller George H. Sheppard.

The new law as it was construed, will not interfere with the delivery of bread, ice or other commodities, where the principal duty of the truck operator is delivery, and not selling. Delivery over a fixed route, delivery of standing orders or telephone orders or orders given on previous trips, will not constitute peddling or subject the deliveryman to the peddlers' license fees.

The comptroller has been informed that incidental sales made from a delivery truck will not constitute peddling. The purpose of selling goods from the truck, or their hawking, or the customary selling from house to house would subject the operators to license fees or penalties for violation under the State rulings.

Officials of the state saw little difficulty or confusion under the new law. The only point where it may change old procedure is that factory agents cannot take out loads of supplies or goods to sell and deliver at the same visit to retail stores. This part of the law follows old court decisions and did not invoke new penalties, even though it classified in the statutes for the first time, this form of merchandising as peddling.

The distinction between the drummer or traveling salesman has been retained and will be respected by the courts, the legal ruling pointed out.

"One is a peddler only if he adopts peddling as his principal vocation—that is, only if he goes into peddling, which has been called a trade or occupation, as a regular and customary business.

"A single sale is not such an act as if by itself, will render one a peddler," the decision quoted from court rulings.

Local Girl Scouts Royally Entertained At Roswell On Trip

Twenty-four Roswell Girl Scouts, Mrs. W. H. McCullough, Mrs. E. L. Wilde and Miss Dorothy Williams, leaders entertained the Muleshoe, Texas, group yesterday afternoon at the country club. After a glorious swim, watermelons and cantaloupes were served with a lavish lunch. Mrs. C. Weaver, well known former Roswell teacher and Sunday school worker; Mrs. Good Harden, lieutenant and Joseph Bartlett, driver of the bus were in charge of the Muleshoe girl scouts. Mr. Bartlett is the driver of the Muleshoe school bus and donated his services and his bus to the girl scouts for this wonderful trip to the great caverns. Captain Bowles, superintendent of the caverns took the Muleshoe scouts thru the famous rat hole and to visit his own home ending with a swim at the Carlsbad beach. He had his picture taken with the group which pleased the scouts greatly.

The Girl Scouts in the party were Bernice Arnold, Lorraine Danner, Alice DeBord, Ruth Eckler, Twila Farrell, Wanda Farrell, Eunice Griffiths, Carrie Agnes Lee, June McCoy, Nelma Moore, Bettie Nelson, Hazel Nelson, Melvina Rocky, Florence Stone, Frances Simmons, Mrs. Good Harden, lieutenant, Mrs. J. Sales Service TEXAS

MULESHOE,

REASONS SET FORTH FOR PURCHASE OF MAINTAINER BY BAILEY COUNTY BASED ON TAX SAVING AND A BETTER SERVICE

Not infrequently it is good business policy to spend money that money may be saved, the rule applying particularly to large business. The use of machinery has invariably proved a saving over human labor, and as such is to be commended, both for individual and community profit.

The recent purchase of a tractor and grader by the Commissioners' Court of Bailey County has raised the question in the minds of some of its citizens as to the advisability of such a transaction at this time. Apparently there was no doubt in the minds of the officials regarding this purchase, as will be seen by the following reasons which have been gathered from various sources.

It is more economical and more efficient, and the maintainer can be operated by one man, except when being used in barrow pits. When the maintainer is used on top of the road, it should complete 20 miles per day, at an immediate cost of $10.00. If the same 20 miles were maintained with road drags, the cost would be $28.00. If the maintainer maintains only 15 miles per day, the immediate cost would not exceed $9.00. The same 15 miles with the road drags would cost $21.00. This will leave $12.00 per day to be used in paying for the machinery. The maintainer will leave the roads in much better shape than the drag, and will leave the road in such condition that the drag can do much better work when it is necessary to use it. Unless the surface of the road is almost level, drags are of very little use. The drag does not cut the high, dry places, but removes more dirt from the low, wet places.

The maintainer will do much work in the borrow pit, heretofore done with the big tractor and grader, and at a much lower cost on gas and oil; when such work is done, it is being done with much cheaper machinery.

The State Highway departments of the various states have found it is much more economical and much more efficient to use maintainers than to use the road drags.

It is not the purpose of the Commissioners to deprive the people of their road dragging jobs, and the drags will be used in each of the three precincts where the maintainer is not located, when the commissioners deem it necessary to have the road dragged. The Commissioners believe that the county's business should be run just as economically and just as efficiently as the individual's business.

The farmer has substituted machinery power for man power because the same work can be done more economically and more efficiently. The combine has taken the place of the binder and the thresher; the tractor has taken the place of the oxen and the mule; the cotton picker has taken the place of the old method of picking cotton, not because the farmer wanted to deprive the laboring class of their jobs, but because it means more money to the farmer.

DON'T be FOOLED by Tricky SALES TALK

DON'T be misled by challenges—guarantees—laboratory analyses—price comparisons—claims of 25% savings—made by distributors of special-brand tires.

A recent example of a grossly misleading and extravagant statement by a distributor of special-brand tires is—"Mount one of our tires on one wheel of your car and a tire of any other make on the opposite wheel. If our tire does not give you equal service at a saving up to 25% in price, we will give you a new tire free."

This statement can be made for only one purpose—a desperate effort to gain your confidence and sell you a tire before you have had time to think about the ridiculousness of their challenge, which asks you to buy one of their tires and go to another store and buy a tire—have it mounted on the opposite wheel—then turn yourself into a tire tester!

Firestone don't ask you to run test cars for them—they have twenty-nine test cars of their own, running day and night, on which they test Firestone Tires and other makes, including special-brand tires, and we have the proof of the safety, quality and extra values of Firestone Tires before you buy.

Drive in today—examine sections cut from Firestone Tires and special-brand mail-order tires—see for yourself the two extra plies under the tread which give you extra protection against punctures and blowouts—compare the construction and quality—don't be fooled by misleading advertisements. We will give you safer, more dependable tires at no greater costs.

*A "Special Brand" tire is made by a manufacturer for distributors such as mail order houses, oil companies and others, under a name that does not identify the tire manufacturer to the public, usually because he hides his "best quality" tires under his own name. Firestone puts his name on EVERY tire he makes.

Double Guarantee—Every tire manufactured by Firestone bears the name "FIRESTONE" and carries Firestone's unlimited guarantee and ours. You are doubly protected.

PANTRIES PLENTY AND FULL OF FOOD WILL MEAN MUCH TOWARD KEEPING FOLKS HERE HEALTHY, WEALTHY, WISE

Reversing the order of past activities the women all over Bailey county are now conserving instead of spending. Following the World War when prices sky rocketed, there developed an exaggerated confidence in the future, wherein people everywhere engendered a trusting faith in a kind Providence and a benevolent Government, and took life in a sort of "come easy, go easy" manner; but during the past year and a half nearly everyone has had their wings clipped and are again back with their feet on the earth.

Perhaps never before in the history of the United States has there been a greater desire for security than there is now. Everywhere people are giving up their plunging and speculative ideas and are playing safer with the economies of the day. Folks are now more interested in keeping and conserving what they have than in taking risks for greater profits.

Renew Your Health by Purification

Any physician will tell you that "Perfect Purification of the System is Nature's Foundation of Perfect Health." Why not rid yourself of chronic ailments that are undermining your vitality? Purify your entire system by taking a thorough course of Calotabs—once or twice a week for several weeks—and see how Nature rewards you with health.

Calotabs purify the blood by activating the liver, kidneys, stomach and bowels. Trial package, 10 cts. Family package, 35 cts. All dealers. (Adv.)

A row of "garden sass" growing under the vigorous influence of nectar yielding to the elevating influence of a windmill is worth much more to the grower and family than 10 times that amount in the market. While vegetables of nearly all kinds may be purchased cheaply in the market, yet it is quite a step between the store and the stomach and the fellow who is raising his own this year is just that much ahead.

Paraphrasing the old typewriter practice adage, "Now is the time for all good women to come to the aid of their pantry," and that they are coming and coming fast is fully attested by the thousands of cans of vegetables, fruits, etc., that are being put up and put away never to be touched until the frost line gets pretty well established in terra firma. Such practice as is now being diligently prosecuted all over this area, is potent with much virtue and one that will increase the protection of numerous families against the ravages of a stubborn and fickle winter, conserving health, inducing further happiness and contributing much to the upkeep of present and past standards of living.

Feeding a family is not only a task, but a science, also. There is as much in knowing how to do it as in doing it. The proper balance of rations goes a longer way toward generating health and happiness than the proper amount, for one can live better on a small amount of the right kind of food than they can on a super-abundance of the wrong kind. More and more folks are coming to learn this. The agriculturists first demonstrated this on the hogs, cows and chickens, then proved the same rule of selection and variety would work exactly the same way on humans. So these housewives who are now diligently prosecuting their canning campaigns are seeing to it that they have balanced rations to dish out to friend hubby and the rest of the household this winter, and eat with easier to swallow than medicine, and when the proper food is at hand for family consumption the medicine chest may be allowed to go bare, for it is seldom needed, while the doctor and the nurse may be passively greeted in the street merely as "friend in need," but one not likely to be needed.

Then, how handy it will be this winter to have all this fine stuff stored away in pantry and cellar when folks come a visiting. In many homes visitors eat on a silver rooster, but when advanced preparation has been made, it's easy to just step into the pantry and lift out a can of fried chicken gravy, one each of beans, corn and tomato salad of some kind, a can of fruit, and with a little spanked cream to go over it, the menu is quite well balanced, everybody enjoys a good feed and the wife has had plenty of time for gossiping instead of getting fussy in the kitchen.

As for it being cheaper, grain crops may not be worth much money this fall, but the farmer whose thrifty wife has been busy during the summer months with the pressure cooker is not worrying very much. Farmers in and around Bailey county may not have an abundance of silver jingling in their pockets but it is clearly evident they are going to have plenty of cans tinkling in the pantry, and their contents will travel through the stomach to his heart just as quickly, and as satisfactorily as though he spent hard earned silver for them.

The packed pantry provides cheap meals that those bought at town, and during the non-productive months of winter that it something to think about. If the wife is the kind of wife she ought to be, and thank heaven, most of them around here are that kind, she gets a certain "kick" out of putting away stuff for the future. There is in this canning campaign now being waged a certain sense of security in anticipation of future demands, and a "safety first" campaign of this nature can not be excelled. Any farm home that has an adequate supply of food stored away in cans, jars, barrels or crates is going to have a deep feeling of security this coming winter, and communities of this type will be grounded like the mighty oaks of the forest. Tho the winds of adversity may shake their branches and toss them about in the wrath of economic elements, yet firmly rooted in the soil of preparedness they may rest content and assured.

Food Preservation
The earliest food preservation was practiced by hunters who dried, smoked and salted meats and fish, while others preserved milk in the form of cheese and grape juice in the form of wine. Primitive man probably is entitled to small credit for the discovery of wine making, since nature coats the grape hulls with yeast cells which seize upon the first opportunity to start fermentation when the skin of the grape is broken.—Exchange.

THE MACHINE AGE APPLIED TO CRIME

Methods Employed by Criminals Demand New Police Methods, Bankers Association Official Declares.

USE by criminals of modern technological developments such as automobiles, machine guns and airplanes have given them advantages which old-fashioned local and disconnected police systems are powerless to combat and the situation demands the broader modern protection of State police systems, James E. Baum, deputy manager American Bankers Association in charge of its crime investigating department, declares in the protective section of the American Bankers Association Journal.

"The Association's Protective Committee has repeatedly urged the advantages of extending state police systems beyond the nine eastern States which have enjoyed this protection for many years," Mr. Baum says. "The time has passed when we can safely rely upon the disconnected and oftentimes ineffective methods of local and county police. The advent of automobiles, 'gun' systems of airplanes and other modern developments, demands the same wide latitude in authority and field of operation be given the police no less than the criminal."

Statewide Police Plans Best
He quotes a Kansas judge as saying that "our system of sheriffs and constables was not designed to meet present-day conditions. As a system of law enforcement, it is as out of date as old common-law pleading, both evolved about the same time. The semi-military, highly trained State police officer owing allegiance only to State laws, is the most effective agency for order yet brought forth."

"Every year the robbery experience of banks in the nine States having State police proves the merits and urgent need of State-wide police protection," says Mr. Baum. "Last year, for example, there were 38 bank holdups in Connecticut, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and West Virginia where State police forces are operated," he continues. "Although this total is exceptionally high due to an unprecedented number of robberies in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, it is little more than half the number of daylight bank robberies suffered in 1930 in Illinois alone. Furthermore, this total is 38 robberies in the nine eastern States was exceeded in California, where there were 42 bank holdups, and in Ohio where banks suffered 40 similar attacks."

Holdups Fewer Under New Plan
"If we extend the comparison of the robbery experience in these States enjoying State-wide police protection to the record in eight central and far western States, we find a total of 304 bank holdups in the latter group. The odds, therefore, continue to be not less than 8 to 1 against the banks in these western States, where they are denied the speedy, coordinated action of State police and their modern means of transportation and communication. The same comparison holds true of the farmers' losses through robberies of livestock, poultry, produce, etc."

"Moreover, these State police forces invariably yield an operating profit in the amount of fines collected and the value of stolen property recovered. Bankers interested in cutting down the cost of robbery insurance might well consider this job of extending State police systems as a timely, co-operative service to be undertaken alongside the farmers'."

BANK EMPLOYEES SENT TO SCHOOL

Modern Scientific Financial and Management Methods Taught Throughout Country.

THE American Institute of Banking Section of the American Bankers Association conducts 223 chapters, or local banking schools in as many cities throughout the country. One large city chapter has almost 6,000 students, who are combining formal theoretical and practical banking studies with their daily working experience and other places have these schools with a thousand to two thousand students. In addition there are fifty study groups in small communities with some 6,000 enrollments. All told over 42,000 bank people are taking these courses—not only clerks, but even office and senior officers in some of the more advanced work.

The work of the institute has been declared to be "a dynamic economic force, pouring into banking a broadening, deepening stream of better qualified bankers than could be developed merely by the daily workings of banking itself," and it has been suggested that every bank worker should be compelled to combine institute courses with his work. A good many banks now make it a part of the contract of employment that an employee shall undertake to render himself proficient and trustworthy in banking by taking institute work and others make successful progress in this educational aspect of banking a pre-requisite to promotion. Plans are being developed to make the benefits of banking education through this organization more generally available in the rural districts.
