OUR PROGRESSIVE RURAL SCHOOLS

COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD AND OTHERS VISIT SCHOOLS IN COUNTY—ADVOCATE CHANGE OF TIME OF OPENING

THEY SUGGEST DECEMBER FIRST AS OPENING DATE

In Order To Harmonize The School Term With The Crop Seasons In This Section It Is Probable That This Change Will Be Made This Fall. People Are Largely In Favor Of This Plan

The Lubbock County School Board is making a tour of the rural schools with plans looking toward unity and co-ordination. They mean to visit each and every school in the county and put some carefully thought out plans before the people. Judge Moore believes that all the rural schools can and should be worked up to a full nine months term, and recommends uniformity throughout—a uniform length of term, uniform course of study, uniform examinations and a uniform time of beginning. The board is of the opinion that December 1st is the logical time for rural schools to open, and are asking every community to consent to this schedule. It will take some two or three weeks to reach all of the schools and means quite a lot of expense and hard work on the part of the members of the board. But they are public spirited men and give their services cheerfully, and wherever they go, they have with them a live bunch of speakers each of whom has a message of interest and real value to everybody.

Last Thursday was their first day out, and they visited the schools of Slide, Foster and Ropes. The party consisted of, viz: Judge Moore who acted, of course, as master of ceremonies, with the first and last word on every subject; Mr. J. P. Webb, chief spokesman of the board; Mr. T. J. Richardson, also a member of the board, who can speak if necessary, and who since Thursday noon holds the record for driving his car off the highest embankment without serious mishap; Mr. Carroll Thompson, who made pig-talks at every place; Miss Millie Halsey, who recommends intensive gardening and poultry raising; Mr. Meskimen, of the Chamber of Commerce, who told of the great South Plains Fair Association being organized and what it will mean to us all in general; Mr. Ellis of the Security State Bank & Trust Co., and Mr. Peck of the Farmers National Bank, each of whom promised the boys and girls financial backing in their club work and offered a big prize to each of the winners in the contests at the fair next fall; Mr. Moines of the Moines studio, who photographed the crowd at each place, using the school building as an appropriate background; and last, if not least, was the Avalanche man, with his note-book and his nerve, who tried to tell the people something they already knew—that the Avalanche is behind every organization and every movement that promises better things to the South Plains people.

At Slide we found the school in session and several patrons present to welcome us and to hear what we had to say. When all had had their say both formally and informally, we bid those good people the time of day and launched out across the limitless plain toward Foster. We disliked to be so rude as to leave just at meal time, but our schedule called for it, and schedules are cold blooded.

At Foster, though school was suspended because of sickness, we were met by quite a number of the patrons and their families, who had prepared a warm fire and big boxes of genuine old fashioned picnic dinner. Foster is a new district about midway between Slide and Ropes, with a brand new $2500.00 frame school building finished and furnished complete. Dinner was the first number on program, after which was general speaking and discussions. About 3 o'clock we left Foster, proud of this new district and its hospitable people. Pretty soon we came into sight of a magnificent brick school building rising two stories above the basement. That's Ropes, just over in the corner of Cochran, one of Lubbock's attached counties. Besides the school building, Ropes that day consisted of a big townsite, a long string of cattle cars on a siding, a store or two and a depot. Its too new to be big, but is starting off right. Those town fathers know their business. When they conceived the idea of building a town, they went out on the broad unbroken prairie beside the railroad almost out of sight of even a ranch house and began by first laying off a school district and called for an election to vote bonds to build a fine school building. Nobody to go to school to it, nobody to send it to. But they knew the bond election would carry—there was nobody to vote against it. So the election was unanimous in favor of the bonds. There the building stands today, complete from basement to top, both inside and out—a credit to a town of several thousand inhabitants. It is a drawing card and the time will soon come when every room in that large building will be full to capacity.

After being shown through the building, we were escorted to Miss Ernest's class room where we had our turns at speech making. Mr. Carter and Mr. Cowan, the town promoters, responding with short talks, expressing their appreciation of our visit, assuring us that they were ready to back any movement for the betterment of the schools, and comfort of hogs and growing pigs to have their rations balanced and other important things about it. Just at that moment, is somehow struck Mr. Thompson that balanced rations were fine for even "humans." This, of course looked like he was intimating for dinner, and the writer will have to admit that this was the only time during the fine speeches of these gentlemen that he wanted to say one word, that being: that whether balanced or not rations would be welcomed at this hour. Mr. Thompson then stopped, much to some's amazement, and the principal, Miss McNeill released the children. "Out of a clear sky" came large dishes of chickens, fried ham, eggs, pies and cakes, that must have cost the housewives of that community, who were busily engaged in cooking for the threshing hands, many hours of tiresome work. Never before and maybe never again, will the County Board and those present, feast as they did at Union. Mr. Richardson was so enthusiastic about the fine dinner, that he wished for his wife and children to be present, also did Mr. Thompson. The only person whom we had reason to notice acting peculiar about the dinner meal was Mr. Briggs who would run outside every few minutes and play football with the children, then scamper back to the table, where the large dish of ham would melt away under his attack as would ice cream in the rays of the hot sun in the desert.

The after dinner speeches, made by Mr. Webb and Mr. Richardson, were really interesting. Everyone was "rationally" comfortable and the vote of the school showed that this community was heartily in favor of the proposed change in the opening date. About two o'clock, we left Union en route to New Hope, where we remained with this fine school of sixty-five scholars a few minutes, or until the speeches of the visitors could be repeated. New Hope is in favor of the proposed change in the opening date.

Monday's Trip
Schools visited—Posey 9 a. m. to 10:30 a. m.
Acuff 11 a. m. to 1:00 p. m.
Canyon, 1:30 p. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Members of party: Judge J. H. Moore; J. P. Webb, president of board; W. O. Sheely, member of board; Robt. Crump, member of board; Carroll Thompson, County Agent; Miss Millie Halsey, Demonstration Agent; R. E. Karper, experiment station; E. H. Meskimen, chamber of commerce; W. M. Peck, Farmers National Bank; S. E. Moine, photographer.

The program at each school consisted of an opening talk by Judge Moore in which he outlined the plan of the County Board for the opening of all county rural schools the first of December instead of the first of September. This was followed by an interesting talk by Mr. Webb on the same subject, in which he went into more details relative to the matter; Mr. Webb's talk was supplemented by short talks by the other members of the Board present. After these talks regarding the new plan the opinion of the trustees of each school was requested, and a number of the patrons of the various schools also joined in these discussions. With one or two possible exceptions the trustees and patrons of all the schools visited were in favor of the new plan, and there is good reason to believe that those who were inclined to question the new arrangement will be in favor of it when they have had more time to think it over and see it in operation.

Mr. Karper of the Experiment Station, made a short talk at each school, in which he announced that his station now had ready for distribution a number of varieties of shade trees, particularly adapted to this country. It is Mr. Karper's plan to furnish these trees free of charge to each of the rural schools of this county, and he requested the trustees of each school to take his offer into consideration. The schools may obtain a supply of these trees by calling at the Experiment Station and bringing sufficient packing to insure the trees against bruising and damage. As these sprouts have been grown in this country and the process of transplanting them will require only a short time, Mr. Karper assured the trustees and patrons of the schools that he was confident that none of them would be lost in the process of transplanting.

Miss Halsey outlined the work of the various girls' clubs; Mr. Thompson talked to the boys relative to the coming fair at this point, and urged them to prepare to bring exhibits to the pig, baby beef, lamb, poultry and other exhibits to be held at this fair. These talks were followed by short talks by Mr. Meskimen, in which he assured the trustees, patrons and members of the schools that the Chamber of Commerce was deeply interested in their development and progress. Mr. Peck, president of the Farmers National Bank, made an interesting talk at each school, in which he spoke in highly optimistic terms regarding the future of Lubbock county, urged the boys and girls to stay on the farms, and assured them that the banks and business men of Lubbock would back them up in their enterprise of more efficient farming and the raising of better stock of all kinds.

A delightful dinner was waiting for the party at Acuff, which was a treat to all present. The members of the party desire to heartily thank the ladies of the Acuff vicinity for this dinner and its many delightful pies, cakes, chicken and other good things, too numerous to mention.

Dick Brownfield of Terry county, was here Wednesday attending to business matters.

JUDGE MOORE ENTERS RACE FOR DISTRICT JUDGE

Judge J. Harvey Moore this week authorizes the announcement of his entry in the race for District Judge of the 72nd Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in July. Judge Moore has a statement in another part of this issue which we call your attention to. He has served the people of Lubbock county as County Judge and County School Superintendent for the past four years, and has done so in a most creditable manner. The records of progress in school work as well as in county affairs is something that the people as well as Judge Moore himself can well be proud of, and shows his ability as an executive officer. He has been strongly solicited to offer for reelection as county judge, but like all other ambitious men, he seeks promotion, and will greatly appreciate your support and influence in the July primary.

JUDGE SPENCER IN RACE OF DISTRICT JUDGE

In the proper column will be found the name of Judge W. R. Spencer, of this city, who is asking for reelection to the office which he has so faithfully and efficiently held for one appointive term and two elective. It is not necessary for us to dwell upon the qualifications of Judge Spencer for this office, for his record is before the voters of the district, and he is perfectly willing for same to be thoroughly investigated at any time. The Judge has ruled in many important cases during the years he has sat upon the bench in this district and his decisions have very seldom been reversed.

He will appreciate due consideration of his claims in the primary election in July, and if he is the choice of the voters, he will endeavor to perform the duties of his office as efficiently in the future as in the past.

J. B. PRYOR SELLS BROADWAY RESIDENCE

Several weeks ago J. B. Pryor sold to C. E. Parks his splendid residence on Broadway, and was to have taken possession this week, but for the fact that Mr. Parks was taken severely ill and was compelled to go to Galveston to receive treatment from a specialist. The transfer will be made as soon as Mr. Parks can return home. Mr. Pryor and family will occupy the Parks residence in South Lubbock for the present, until Mr. Pryor can make other arrangements. He is not just yet decided when he will rebuild, but will no doubt materialize plans in the very near future for a new modern residence, equal or better than the one he recently sold.

WOMEN'S SHORT COURSE AT HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

Miss Halsey, Home Demonstration Agent of Lubbock County informs us that she has secured the services of several "specialists" in the Home Economics from the Extension Service of the Agricultural and Mechanical College. The course will be held in the High school building in this city, Miss Halsey informs us, March 11-12. It is her urgent request that as many as possible attend this meeting, at least one-half day, and she promises great benefits will be derived.

He was formerly a peace officer at Stamford.

O. E. Sears returned last Saturday from a visit to Bonham, White Wright and other points in that section of the State.

Robert J. Page, formerly a resident of Oklahoma City, arrived here recently and will make his home in this city in the future.

W. B. Powell returned the latter part of last week from Hubbard City where he had gone to visit a short time with his father.

A MODERN HOTEL TO BE BUILT

LOCAL CAPITAL NOW PERFECTING ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE ERECTION OF A STRICTLY MODERN BUILDING

TO COST OVER ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS

Company Will Incorporate Under Texas Laws And The New Plant Will Be Under The Management Of One Of The Best Hotel Men Of The South.

For many months the need of additional equipment and accommodations has been seen by our progressive people, and the situation has grown so acute that something must be done, and accordingly a number of Lubbock people have banded themselves together and are to form an association that will be known as The Lubbock Hotel Association, which association will make an effort to supply the needed equipment and it is their intention to go right to work and perfect all arrangements as rapidly as possible, so that the great need of more hotels in Lubbock may be overcome as soon as possible.

As this association is young, only having been formed this afternoon, we are unable to get the full particulars but enough has been given to assure us that there will be something of real worth come from its organization. Men of means are behind the proposition and we are permitted to say that G. Clark Smith, well known hotel manager, who for several years operated a hotel in the town of Crosbyton, and gave to that city the name of having the best lodging place in West Texas, will be manager of the new hotel. Besides Crosbyton, Mr. Smith has operated numerous hotels successfully, over various sections of the State. Mr. Smith has made this city his home for some time.

The new association will form a stock company and incorporate under the laws of the state of Texas, and application for a charter will be made at once, and as soon as that is granted, which will be a matter of only a very short time, work will proceed. The location has already been chosen, but as there are some details of securing the site that has not been consummated, we withhold this information for the present, but it is well located and will make a splendid hotel site.

It is the intention of putting up a building that will cost more than $100,000, and it will be thoroughly modern in every way.

The Avalanche is indeed pleased to be able to make this announcement as a hotel of the type this one promises to be, is a foremost public utility. It will be the organized host to the town's visitors, and will be the means of bringing hundreds of people here in order to spend the time in Lubbock—this was the case at Crosbyton, when Mr. Smith was manager of the house at that place. It is one of the finest advertisements that any city or town can have—its fine hotels, or its bad ones, on the other hand. In traveling around over the country we always remember the towns where the good hotels are.

Only a few days ago when discussing the hotel situation with a traveling man of wide experience, he said among other things:

"With an up-to-date hotel, a town can think of inviting outside capital. Until then its efforts are wasted. One night and one meal in a backbuilding hotel will drive away more prospective capital than a booster committee can dig up in a month."

"The social, political and business life of any progressive community centers around its hotel. In the ball room are held the social functions; around the banquet table men meet and get to know each other better, smoothing out their differences; in the meeting room groups of all shades of opinion gather and crystallize their ideas into action—all for the town's improvement and advancement."

METHODIST MINISTERS RETURN FROM NASHVILLE

Rev. J. T. Griwold, pastor of the Methodist church of this city and Rev. George W. Shearer, presiding elder of the same church, of the Lubbock district, returned last Monday morning from Nashville, Tenn., where they went to attend an educational meeting of the M. E. Church South.

COMMISSIONERS GIVE PERMISSION FOR STANDARD PAVING

At the meeting last Tuesday evening, a letter from the Superintendent of the Panhandle & Santa Fe railroad was read and discussed. The letter had for its object a request to have the commissioners give their permission for this company to pave the property owned by them in this city with a certain material that the company had adopted especially in the larger cities. The commissioners gave their permission, the company paying for the paving. The material to be used is the same as that used in Colorado Springs and is manufactured by a Pueblo, Colorado, firm.

AUTO ACCIDENT NEAR RAILS LAST WEDNESDAY

What came near being a serious accident occurred on the Crosbyton-Ralls road Wednesday night, when a car driven by one of the Collier boys ran into a car of Russell Schudel, which was standing beside the road and Russell was working on the engine. Joe Harrison and wife and two little children were in the back end of the car, and a niece of Mrs. Harrison was in the front seat when the car struck. They were all thrown from the car and considerably bruised, while both cars were badly damaged.

hence interest in it lags. One often hears the remark that you cannot get anyone to take the same care of your home that you would exercise yourself. Perhaps so. But aside from, and deeper than, any disposition to destroy or neglect the care of a home, is the psychology of the matter. To the one it is home, the object of love, of toil and sacrifice, the place of a thousand sacred memories and associations. To the other, it is only a place in which they are to dwell temporarily.

In 1890, in the United States, 34.1 per cent of farm homes, 63.1 per cent of other homes, and 52.2 per cent of all homes were rented. In 1900, the percentage in each case had increased. In fifty cities of the United States, in 1910, only one, Spokane, Wash., had less than half its families living in rented houses. In 39 of these cities three-fifths of the homes were rented; in 16 three-fourths were rented; and one, New York, had nine-tenths of its homes rented. Increasingly we are losing that attachment to one spot which has helped to make the home a stable institution. Pride of appearance, sense of ownership, and development of interest in family life has a much better chance to develop when the family owns the home in which it lives.

The writer by no means assumes an attitude of opposition to the apartment. He is simply stating a condition. Neither does he for one moment insinuate that life in a rented house is not a worthy one. There is something more to the home than the house itself, namely, the spirit within. But the one who has been born and reared in a permanent home, who grows to maturity amid its surroundings and associations, finally goes out into life with certain experiences and ingenuities. FIF experiences and influences to which the other is a stranger.

We have merely set forth some facts and they are known to be, and have merely "scratched" the surface of the problem.

BIG RANCH DEAL IN DEAF SMITH COUNTY

One of the largest real estate deals ever made in Deaf Smith county has just been completed whereby Captain Harrison Trow, of this city, sold his ranch of 8,640 acres at $20 per acre to Sandy Murchison, of Amarillo, who recently moved to that city from Merit, Hunt county, where he still has large holdings.

This ranch has been owned and operated by Captain Trow for more than twenty years and has been widely known, not only for its cattle production, but in an agricultural way as well. More than four of the thirteen and a half sections are in cultivation. This is one of the very few large ranches in Deaf Smith County that has been held together and not subdivided to make way for the small ranchers who continue to come from time to time to this part of the state.

BODY OF MAN FOUND NEAR CLAIREMONT

Considerable excitement has been caused by the finding in a large pasture near Clairemont of the body of a man, identified as that of Allen Evans. Local attorneys employed in the case gave out the following information Monday:

On Feb. 1st of this year, Allen F.
Evans was working for Henry Gee, in Kent county, about fifteen miles of Clairemont. Evans was not seen any more until Feb. 18th, when the body of a dead man was found in a large pasture. Mr. Gee and others identified the body as that of Allen Evans.

About the middle of last week Virgil Gee, son of Henry Gee and Emmitt Stoneman were arrested in connection with the affair. It is understood that one of the boys made a confession, the nature of which is not given out.

BRIEF SUMMARY OF 1919 CLUB WORK.
By Eva Pool of Bledsoe.

It has been and always will be the duty of each individual citizen, or perhaps I had better say patriot, to stand by the needs and wants of his country; to render his service, no matter how small it may be. It is the small things that count most in life anyway; for if we undertake the greatest thing, very little will be accomplished. So it is with great love for country, and for what she stands, that I undertook the task of the Canning Club girl.

I became a member of the tomato canning club in Lubbock county in the early spring, March, 1918. I worked eagerly through that year; joined again in March, 1919.

The plot for my garden was selected in my mother's garden, in northwest corner near the windmill. One can readily understand why this location was so desirable, being where the water, fresh from the well, could give the plants water that is essential to their healthy growth; and too my plants would get most of the water, while what was left after running through one-tenth of an acre, was very acceptable to mother's wilted plants, in the remaining part of the garden.

Another advantage of my location was the sandy loam and well fertilized soil.

After the plot was selected, I at once began preparation of the ground to have it ready when the temperature would be suitable for transplanting the plants. I did this by first double-discing the ground and then harrowing it. After laying off the rows, I raked it with a hand rake. I used no fertilizer, as the ground had been well fertilized the previous year.

When the ground was sufficiently heated, or of a warmer temperature, I planted my seed in a big box, and some in the garden. I kept them well watered and covered them on cool nights, to keep them from being chilled or bitten by the cold.

Later, I transplanted these in my garden, putting them three feet apart each way. After making the holes with a round stick, I put my plants in and poured the hole full of water. Then making a sloppy mud, or in slang, "a lobb-lolly," I raked dry dirt over the soft mud and packed it tightly to the roots of the plants. This dry dirt kept the moisture from evaporating so quickly.

I kept them watered a little for several days. Then when they had grown for a week or two by sprinkling. I began to irrigate every day that I could get water. I cultivated this ground by hand with a hoe and rake.

After the plants had grown two months, the limbs or suckers were so numerous that I decided they would do harm by making small and faulty fruit, if not cut off. So with a sharp knife, I cut them off.

Some plants, especially tomatoes, are more or less subjected to insect-diseases or both. But my plants were not bothered with any disease, there were however, two species of insects or rather one insect and one pest. The insect was a long green worm that worked on the leaves. Later, a shorter worm, and a bunch of chick-

Woodrow Wilson Says:

"If a man does not provide for his children, if he does not provide for all those dependent upon him and if he has not that vision of conditions to come and that care for the days that have not yet dawned, which we sum up in the whole idea of thrift and saving, then he has not opened his eyes to any adequate conception of human life."

"We are in this world to provide not for ourselves, but for others and that is the basis of economy."

ens made raids on the fruit and destroyed a large quantity. I picked the worms off the plants and killed them, but the only way I fought the pest, I tried, though in vain, to keep them in a closed coop.

In time my tomatoes began to ripen, more than the chickens could devour, so I had to gather them. From that time until this day, I have gathered twelve hundred and sixty-eight pounds. I sold two hundred and one pounds and used one hundred and fifteen pounds. The remainder rotted because I couldn't use them in time to save them.

I did my canning in glass jars and bottles. I canned fifty-two quarts of tomatoes, three bottles of catsup, and ten quarts of soup mixture and twenty quarts of different kinds of fruits.

I used many tomatoes at home in different ways.

The club has helped me in several different ways. It has taught me to lend a helping hand to mother in her need. Not only in her canning but many other things.

BLEDSENE NEWS OF THE PAST WEEK

The flu has been raging in this community the past month, but is well under control now. Most everyone has had it. However, only one death has resulted so far.

Mrs. Mae Jones and daughters, Rosa Mae, Golda and Willie, of Canyon, visited Mrs. W. E. Bledsoe last week.

Mr. Eddy built a house east of the church, where they are making their home at present.

Mr. J. O. Day threshed his oats last week.

School has been suspended three weeks on account of flu, but opened Monday with fairly good attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bledsoe arrived at Abernathy the thirteenth, from Mineral Wells where Mrs. Bledsoe went for treatment and while there contracted the flu. Mr. Bledsoe went to her and soon had developed another very serious case of the same disease.

During the time school was dismissed, Miss Althea Fulton visited her brother at Canyon. She also went home.

The farmers in this community are taking advantage of this pretty weather.

Mrs. J. M. Renshaw of this community passed away the sixteenth, after two weeks' illness of the flu. Mrs. Renshaw was seventy-five years old and had spent the last twelve years of her life in our midst. She lived a devoted Christian life, having been a member of the church since her girlhood. May the husband and two daughters, who survive her, not grieve, for their loss is Heaven's gain.

Our school has organized a literary society, officers as follows: president, Andrew Reid; vice president, Ray Furgeson; secretary, Sibyl Furgeson; We hope to render two programmes each month, beginning at seven p. m. Our first meeting will be March the twelfth. We expect to have an interesting program and extend to everyone a cordial invitation to be with us.

Great interest is being manifested in basket ball, by both boys and girls at school.

The school has just received a new Kurtzmann piano.

Mrs. Robert L. Bledsoe has returned from the southern part of the State, where she has been visiting relatives the past two months.

We are very sorry to state that we have just heard of the death of Mr. Claud Havenhill's little daughter. She died of the flu and pneumonia.

No Worms in a Healthy Child
All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly six or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

(By BLANCHE BEAN)
Last Friday two interesting basket ball games were played on the Lubbock grounds between the boys and girls teams of Lubbock and Hale Center. The Lubbock girls had a little hard luck and lost the game. But the boys soon made up for the defeat of the girls and won over a team of twice their size in weight. The score was 20 to 13.
Next Friday the boys will go to Post City. They are expecting this to be their hardest game. But we believe they will be able to bring home news of a victory over Post.

W. A. BOWEN.

The Baptist Womans Auxiliary met Monday afternoon in regular business session with quite a number present. After scripture reading by the president, Mrs. Stahl, followed by prayer, business was taken up. Several matters of importance were discussed and planned for the near future. The Auxiliary very reluctantly accepted Mrs. I. F. Holland's resignation as treasurer. Mrs. F. M. Payne was elected to fill her place. The fifth Monday being an extra meeting it was decided to have a social meeting for the elderly ladies. A program will be rendered and we hope to have a large number present. There will be ways provided for all who can attend.

Those who attended the mass meeting at the First Christian church, reported quite a pleasant time. The market to be held at Wilson & Spikes' Saturday the 6th, was discussed and all present promised to send many nice eats. Lunch will be served throughout the day. Our last market was quite a success, but we believe this one will be still better. We trust every lady of the church will remember to send something.
Our next meeting will be the Bible lesson taught by Bro. Bowen.

SOUTH IS TURNING AGAINST CALOMEL

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tone" Man, Responsible for Change for the Better

Every druggist in town has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.
"Calomel is dangerous and people know it." Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle doesn't cost very much but if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, just ask for your money back.
Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day.

the Ranger territory, closed the sale of a nice span of mules at Monday evening while walking up the street. The owner of the mules was leading them home and the buyer was following. The buyer offered $575 for the mules, and the owner, who did not care about selling, asked $600. After walking several blocks, the buyer stopped and made a proposition to the owner that he would flip a dollar to see if he paid $600 or $575, which they both agreed to and the owner turned the mules over to the buyer who returned to town leading the mules.

Similar trades as the above are being made daily. Buyers are coming from the oil fields here to purchase while many of our people are seeking other territories in which to buy. Andy Wilson shipped in two cars of horses and mules this week and will sell on the local market.

One man who is fixing up for the oil fields, paid $600 for a span of horses, and harness which was purchased for the span cost the owner $250. "The wagon," says this man, "and everything ready for the oil fields will cost at least two hundred and fifty dollars." Thus we see for one team ready for work in the oil fields entails an investment of $1,080.00.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Ok-In Producing & Refining Company of Ft. Worth is rapidly following out plans toward the construction of their 1500-barrel capacity refinery.

The company announced a week ago that the contract for grading and filling the refinery site had been allowed and that the arrangements had been completed for the side tracks to be laid by the Cotton Belt railway.

Actual work has now started in full swing and men and teams are working steadily to complete sufficient to allow the Cotton Belt to begin the immediate construction of the necessary trackage. Materials will then be forwarded with the least possible delay for the construction of the first units of the refinery.

The refinery site of the Ok-In Producing & Refining Company is located in the refining zone north of Ft. Worth, Texas, adjacent to the Magnolia and Pierce-Fordyce Companies. The site of 36 acres which the company owns in fee, was chosen by competent engineers who analyzed the refining possibilities thoroughly.

Ok-In's property is between two railways, the T. P. and Cotton Belt,

WHEN TO VACCINATE

The most susceptible age is between 6 and 18 months, but some few cases are reported in 3 weeks old calves, and cows over 4 years old. Thus it is shown that the safest way to prevent losses from Blackleg is to vaccinate all calves from 3 to 6 months of age, before the first calf dies, as the saving of one calf will often pay for the immunization of the entire herd. Very young calves can be safely immunized, but it is advisable to re-vaccinate such animals after weaning.

There are so many ways that electrical work may be "skimped" by unreliable workmen that for your own protection you should see that your wiring is done by a thoroughly reliable firm.

Our policy has not been to see how close we can come to the minimum standard and "get by." We aim rather to give you BETTER WORK than is absolutely required—thus assuring you of complete satisfaction, for the future as well as for today.

GRAND JURY INDICTS CON- FIDENCE SALESMAN

Fred Allen, who was here last fall as a stock salesman for the Gorman Home Refining Company, of Gorman, Texas, who, after collecting several hundred dollars in "confidence tricks," off of several of Lubbock's business men, was indicted in the Lubbock Grand Jury that closed last Friday, on a charge of forgery.

Allen was what is familiarly known as a "con expert." After gaining the confidence of several people of this city, who had previously investigated the Gorman Home Refining Company and found it to be a clean firm, he sold them hundreds of dollars worth of the stock. The money was collected, we are informed, by Allen, but no stock was ever received.

Prior to a telegram sent here by his company, Allen cashed one or two "cool checks," bought about two hundred and eighty dollars worth of jewelry from a local jeweler and raised two checks that were given him in the amount of $50 to where they read $150. These checks Allen cashed at local banks. Upon the theory that Allen was going to Amarillo where he and a gentleman of this city had business interests together, he left our city and was gone three or four days before any suspicion was thought. In the meantime, some of his bad checks returned unpaid and a telegram from the Gorman Home Refining Company advising the sheriff to arrest Allen.

Not a word has been heard of the confidence man. What his real name is, is a matter of guess. Allen was a foreigner, favoring the German race more than any other. He was about thirty-five years of age.

A. C. Jackson, assistant cashier of the Security State Bank and Trust Company of this city, recently handed in his resignation for this position. He will have a large territory to canvass and will travel most all the time, however, he intends calling Dalhart his home.

The many friends of Mr. Jackson in this city wish him every success possible in his new vocation.

V. A. Hargett, formerly a resident of this place, but now living near Ft. Worth, passed through here the first of this week enroute to Seagraves, where he will visit with home folks a few days. Mr. Hargett is now employed with the government at a camp near Fort Worth as electrician. He will return there within the next two weeks.

THIS INTERESTING WORLD

By Capt. R. Frederic Anderson, New Democratic Peace Time Army, El Paso Recruiting Office.

How do you do, everybody? These are great times, aren't they? Just think for a moment how lucky we are to be alive in this most interesting period of world history.

We don't really long for the good old days, though sometimes we think we do. The progress of the world is steadily onward, though there may be backward eddies from time to time.

Is everybody money-mad? Many seem to be. They will wake up pretty soon to find that money is not bringing them the real satisfaction in life after all.

Take the case of your friend who has made lots of money the past year or two. Is he really getting any more out of life now than he did before prosperity smiled on him? Be honest and thorough in your consideration of the case.

Hear the complaints and querulous questionings! On all sides cries of dismay go up. The rich think it terrible the way the workers are buying silks and jewels, while they have to cater to their servants to keep them. The white collared salaried man is disgusted because the plumber makes more money than he does. And the manual workers, with all their present prosperity, were never less contented.

The future looms uncertain. But this but adds to its interest. For yourself, only be sure that the part you play is one that is helping the world to be better and happier. Whatever you think or say or do that helps yourself or anyone else, that also helps the world in equal measure.

And, by the by, if you are not settled as to your own future, if your education needs a little rounding out, if you feel that you are not master

Training Little Citizens

By LOUISE H. PECK, of The National Kindergarten Association

Many parents long for the time when their child shall "show reason," and then, the majority of them proceed to check the development of their little one's reasoning power by resorting to methods of punishment which tend to fill him with fear! Not infrequently they resort to slapping, spanking, whipping, or even telling terrible lies in order to frighten him into obedience.

This kind of training naturally produces a lawless child; for through fear of unjust punishment he resorts to dishonesty in self-defense; then, too, the example of his parents teaches him to strike when angry. Let parents reverse this process, be honest and kind but firm with the tiniest child and teach him the importance of obedience and consideration for the rights of others; the cultivation of these qualities forestalls much trouble. When a child is disobedient let the parent "talk it over" with him in a reasonable, self-controlled way and reach a fair conclusion.

A mother cannot begin too early to train her little one. Before the child is old enough to understand words he understands the difference between her smiles and frowns and by the expression of her face she can teach even a little baby the difference between right and wrong. For example, take the habit of pulling the table cloth from the table; let her look directly into his eyes, her smiles all gone, take his hand from the cloth and shake her head with "No, no." She must have patience to do this well, but by these first lessons in obedience she is saving much future trouble for him, for herself and for society.

Of course there are times when discipline and punishment are necessary, and when parents need to correct their children they should do so in private. To permit another person to enter into the discussion or even overhear it and smile at such a time utterly ruins the effect of the punishment and the lesson is lost if it is not clear to the little one that right conduct brings approval whereas wrong doing merits disapproval and discipline.

A very effective form of punishment is social isolation. For example, excuse a child from the room and make him sit facing a corner in another room by himself; at another time send him to bed early; at another, have him eat his meal alone, away from the other members of the family. If he quarrels with his playmates make him play alone while the other children are happy together, until he is willing to be agreeable. Another form of discipline is to make a child go without something of which he is very fond, no desert for dinner, or no candy for several days are punishments which have a good effect. But to lock a child in a dark closet or to threaten him with terrifying lies is as harmful and useless as whipping, for such treatment instills dishonesty and cruelty into him.

Parents who use the rod or hand most often are generally the ones who complain that their children are naughty and disobedient. "Spare the rod and spoil the child" seems to be the one Scriptural text familiar to some irritable grown-ups. Why is it that the home is the last stronghold of whipping? The whipping-post disappeared long ago; whipping is no longer tolerated in schools, it is illegal even in prisons! Then why is it that many a gentle mother who cannot manage her own little one either whips him or reports his misconduct to his father, too often telling only her own side of the story, for in such cases the child is not allowed to appeal to the father as judge, but must submit to the whipping which his parents mete out to him at a time when they are tired and irritable. Let grown-ups cultivate self-control and justice and remember that wise parents never punish when they are angry but wait until they can see the child's misdeed from an impersonal point of view.

To associate anger with physical blows is to plant the seeds of war in tiny children. Before we can replace war with arbitration among nations we must do so in the home.

DIVERSIFICATION IN CROPS NEEDED AS INDICATED BY LOSS

Thousands upon thousands of dollars' worth of valuable grains are now wasting in the fields of Lubbock county farmers. Anyone who has ventured out over the farming territory of Lubbock county can easily see field after field with hundreds of acres of fine grains, such as kafir, maize and cane, literally wasting for the want of time, labor and threshing machines.

"It is a grave problem," says Eugene Holt, well known farmer of the Southern portion of the county, and one of the trustees of the Union school. "We can hardly afford to hire labor, that is, men with teams and wagons to help in the threshing of the grain, pay for the threshing and realize profit on the crop. In the first place, we cannot find help only among one another and then we are forced to pay prohibitive wages; for the simple reason farmers' time at this time of the year is very valuable." The writer and Mr. Holt was, at the time of this conversation, in sight of a field, having apparently three hundred acres of shocked feed. We were informed that most all of this field was planted to cane for seed purposes and that because of inadequate help the owner could not harvest the cane for the market at the early period and now since the value of cane had dropped to such a low price that it was hardly a paying proposition for the owner to pay the wages demanded by labor and the expense of threshing and hauling to market.

The writer passed by several fields of cotton—half picked, that the owners had recently run over with stalk cutters and were making preparations to plow the stalks under and plant the crop for the coming year. Conditions such as this, where valuable products of the soil are turned under in preparation for another like yield, is abnormal and cannot be successfully repeated. "The only solution now," says one of our bankers who is interested in the farming of this country, "is to cut these fields two and three hundred acres with one man, into two fields of half size and diversify the planting and intensify the cultivation and raise a fine crop and gather all raised and in the long run receive more for the products."

Of course, this is strictly a farmer's problem and we are sure farmers of Lubbock county and the South Plains have suffered costly experience enough to know about the precarious position they invariably find themselves in with the coming of mid winter and spring. The worst part of the whole circumstance is the fact that thousands of acres of fine farming land, that ought to be in state of spring cultivation, is being held back by reason of last years crops still on the ground and when planting time arrives we will find many of these acres untilled, either that or planted to fast growing crops which will repeat results of last years crop.

Alvin George, brother of Joe George, of the eastern part of New Mexico passed through here last Sunday enroute to Gorman and other points in the oil fields where he will transact business a short time.

PUBLIC OPINION

To whom it may concern:
The question of whether or not bank deposits grow, business flourishes and the people are happy and prosperous depends upon three things namely: Increased production, diversification and home ownership.

We cannot hope to have normal conditions without increase in production of all lines of farm products. In order to obtain greater production, every one should be interested in growing on the farms, ranches and in the backyards or residents in town more poultry, gardens and other lines of foods and feed stuff. There should be greater activity in inducing farmers themselves not only to raise more chickens and eggs, more pork and mutton, more butter, milk and beef cattle, but they should encourage their children to engage in such activities.

In the matter of diversification there seems to be a tendency upon the part of some farmers to plant their entire crop in cotton. The fleecy staple is a money crop and is of a great importance in this respect, but no farmer should grow large quantities of cotton without, at the same time, growing sufficient amount of food and feed to care for his family and stock. He should endeavor to supply himself with a surplus of milk and butter, pork and eggs and, at the same time, have a bunch of sheep in proportion to the size of his farm.

In the matter of home ownership, desire to say that the happiness of our people, the stability of our government and the solvency of every line of business depends upon the people being home owners. There has been a phenomenal increase in the number of people without homes. This is indeed appalling. The first object in every family should be a desire to obtain a home. There is no country anywhere which offers better opportunity for people to become home owners than here in the South Plains, where large tracts of land are being divided and sold at a price to enable every person to become a home owner.

To the end of obtaining a greater amount of production, diversification in all lines and to enable people to become home owners, the resources of this bank will be put to the greatest possible advantage. A great amount of money has been loaned by this bank in the matter of producing crops in the past three years. It has helped a number of families to obtain a home and has helped others to hold homes during these strenuous times in which they owned a small equity. Without this help, they would possibly have been homeless.

C. E. MAEDGEN.

P. S. This bank will give $50.00 as a prize for the best pig or hog produced in Lubbock county in 1927 to be given under the direction of the County Agent.

MORE ABOUT LUMBER AND BUILDING

As the high cost of lumber is a vital topic just now, when otherwise Lubbock would be on a big building boom, also other towns and the whole country, I also wish to contribute a few thoughts and present some facts from a U. S. Senator. The high prices are attributed to the great demand at home and the great export trade. In other words, because of this great demand at home and abroad, the lumber companies are bleeding the public for all they dare or the public will bear. That's the bald-faced truth and it can't be hid. Well, you know how great droves of buffalo ranged all over these beautiful plains not very long ago. They were just here and nobody had to care for them; they took care of themselves, (even so with the American forests) but where is the buffalo today? In a great measure, they were destroyed for sport and for their hides, and now we raise our meat at great expense and labor. Suppose we had conserved and the Government controlled or stopped the wanton waste in the interest of the public. Then suppose the same in regard to the natural forests that is and will be needed by the people at home, much of which is being ruthlessly destroyed or shipped to other countries for profits to private interests and to boost prices at home. And here is a letter to Senator Capper and some things he has to say in regard to lumber, trusts and conservation:

"There is no question but that all manufacturers and jobbers now can get any prices they ask. The lumber we use has advanced more than 500 per cent in the last 8 months, building materials about 200 per cent in 6 months. I shall be glad to send you invoices and quotations."

What better ammunition could the Government want for a drive on gougers that should land them where they belong? And there's lots of it.

And the lumber trust is no worse than the furniture trust, the coffin trust, the packing trust, the oil trust and many others. God gave us free land, free forests, free coal, free oil, also free air, sunshine and rain. The trusts now control about everything except air, sunshine and rain and would control that if they could do it and get a profit out of it.

NOTORIOUS VISITOR IN COUNTRY THIS WEEK

Ahy, Winned, step-son of Sammy Storm, who is one of the best known characters of the Southwest country and who has, for many years we know of, visited this section during the late winter months for the purpose of sending our real estate higher and higher. Windy, as he is known by some, had a great deal of work in this section of the country this visit especially in the city of Lubbock as there were so many busy-bodies here the last growing season that they had carelessly let the "tumble weeds" infest every vacant lot in the city. Windy, or Ahy Winned, is known to be the only expert mover of these infestious plants, who makes regular or frequent visits here and he certainly did "go some." He was in such a hurry, that the writer thought for a time something very disastrous would happen as there were numerous people walking down the street who were, in order to be on sidewalks, compelled to pass numerous bill boards which so thoroughly decorate several prominent lots of the city. As it is generally known, Ahy Winned does not respect these bill boards and in his rush, he nearly knocked one down, right on top of some of our good people.

COUNTY OFFICIALS OF TERRY WILL FARM NEXT YEAR

According to visitors from Brownfield here this week, we learn that the present County Judge, W. W. Price, the sheriff, Jim Lewis and the County Clerk, Jim Green, will not be in the race for reelection the coming primary. These men, we are told, will probably farm in the future. However, their position will be filled for there are already seven candidates announced for the sheriff's office and one of these candidates tells us there will likely be another, making eight. Two candidates announced for the other two offices, with prospects of several more entering the race in the near future.

LOCAL W. O. W. MEMBERS WILL FIGHT RAISE OF RATES

At the meeting Monday evening of this week of the Woodmen of the World of the local camp, the question of the fairness of the raise in the rates of the Grand Lodge was the chief topic of discussion. The local camp has suffered the loss of many members since the Grand Lodge started the new rate. At the meeting Monday evening, the discussion brought forward the fact that there were about eighteen States now opposed and fighting the Grand Lodge's actions and that it would be right for the local camp to do likewise, thus a vote was made unanimous. It is the advise of officials of the local camp to the members that they keep their old rate payments up-to-date, and hold their policies in force until it has been tested in the courts as to the legality of the raise and the fairness of it. This action it is claimed by the Grand Lodge, as we are informed, will necessitate a large lien against the policies in force, in order to meet the deficiencies that were supposed to have been met by the new raise in rates. In effect the following resolution was made by the members present Monday: To fight, morally and financially, the new raise; keep old rates paid up to date until a decision has been made by the courts.

EMBARGOS LIFTED HERE MONDAY OF THIS WEEK

Concurrent and simultaneous with the return of the railroads to their owners on March 1st, the embargoes, which have materially affected the sale of cotton and the shipping of other crops during the past several weeks, was lifted. It is presumed that the cotton market here will open this week and that there will also be a market for grains that have been held back for milling purposes. Under the embargo it was prohibitive to ship grains other than for the strict purpose of human consumption, or for the feeding of stock.

MOTHERS OF TEXAS, PREPARE

When a girl becomes a woman, when a woman becomes a mother, and when a woman passes through the changes of middle life, are the three periods of life when health and strength are most needed to withstand the pain and distress often caused by severe organic disturbances. Many women in Texas would testify just as do the following:

HOUSTON, TEXAS.—"When I was a young girl I suffered from irregularity and pain. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription relieved me of all pain and regulated me so that I was completely restored to health. Since I married, whenever I have needed a special tonic I have taken 'Favorite Prescription' and have been amply repaid for the comfort and strength it has given me."—MRS. M. FREEMAN, 414 Marie Street.

WACO, TEXAS.—"It is a pleasure to me to recommend a medicine that has been of such great benefit to me as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was while raising my family. I have taken this 'Prescription' as a tonic during expectancy and I know it helped me in every way. It is an ideal medicine for the mother to be."—MRS. BEULAH OWENS, 313 North 4th Street.

GALVESTON, TEXAS.—"When I was quite a young girl I had a terribly nervous spell. My stomach was affected so that I craved food all the time, and I could not sleep at night. My doctor advised me to take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription (sold by druggists), and before half the bottle had been taken I lost all the abnormal appetite and was able to rest well at night. I have never had such a condition since that time so can honestly say that the 'Favorite Prescription' cured me of my nervous ailments."—MRS. BESSIE LAWRENCE, 1024 10th Street.

I Owe My Life to PE-RU-NA

Mr. McKinley's letter brings cheer to all who may be sufferers as he was. Read it:

"I can honestly say that I owe my life to Ferrus. After some of the best doctors in the country gave me up and told me I could not live another month, Ferrus saved me. Travelling from town to town, throughout the country and having to go into all kinds of badly heated stores and buildings, sometimes standing up for hours at a time while plying my trade as auctioneer, it is only natural that I had colds frequently; so when this would occur I paid little attention to it, until last December when I contracted a severe case, which, through neglect on my part settled on my lungs. When almost too late, I began doctoring, but, without avail, until I heard of Ferrus. It cured me so I cannot praise it too highly."

It Cured Me

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL FOR COUNTY IS SOUGHT

There has been for some few years a need for a Central High School for the accommodation of three of the rural schools of this county in the Southern portion, i. e. Woodrow, Union and New Hope. This consolidation of the three schools in creating a Central High School is being advocated by members of the County Board who have sought the advice of Miss Blanton, State Superintendent, who is heartily in favor. We are informed that two of these school communities are also in favor of the new move but is being held back by the third community. In each of the above named schools there are eight grades taught. Woodrow school is under the tutorage of only one teacher.

They couldn't be built now for twice $71,000

When the talk turns from politics to railroads, and the traveler with the cocksure air breaks in with, "There's an awful lot of 'water' in the railroads," here are some hard-pan facts to give him:

American railroads have cost $80,900 a mile—roadbed, structures, stations, yards, terminals, freight and passenger trains—everything from the great city terminals to the last spike.

A good concrete-and-asphalt highway costs $36,000 a mile—just a bare road, not counting the cost of culverts, bridges, etc.

Our railroads couldn't be duplicated today for $150,000 a mile.

They are capitalized for only $71,000 a mile—much less than their actual value. Seventy-one thousand dollars today will buy one locomotive.

English railways are capitalized at $274,000 a mile; the French at $155,000; German $132,000; even in Canada (still in pioneer development) they are capitalized at $67,000 a mile. The average for all foreign countries is $100,000.

Low capitalization and high operating efficiency have enabled American Railroads to pay the highest wages while charging the lowest rates.

PECAN INDUSTRY IN WEST TEXAS GROWING RAPIDLY

Stamford, Tex., Feb. 23.—Thirty-five counties in West Texas reporting to the Research Department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, show that they have 590,234 pecan trees. The "big four" pecan counties of West Texas are, with number of trees for each:

Kimble, 84,718; San Saba, 60,162; Tom Green, 55,100, and Brown, 47,312. Then follow Shackelford with 32,100; Lampasas with 31,110. Mason with 28,311, Llano with 25,811, Coleman with 24,923, and Comanche with 23,815. Fisher county reported only thirty-four trees, Callahan county 17,150 and Taylor county 2,300.

Practically all the trees reported are bearing. With few exceptions all are native trees, though the propagation of the paper-shell varieties is now reported in Concho, San Saba and other counties, where the pecan industry has assumed a remarkable development recently.

The demand for pecans has been exorbitant lately, and wonderful possibilities in pecan culture are now held out.

CENSUS WILL REVEAL NEW YORK AS BIGGEST CITY

New York, Feb. 23.—New York will be shown by the 1920 census to be indisputably the biggest city in the world.

Results of the census, which will be available in Washington about March 15, will, according to census officials, give to the Metropolitan district a population of 8,500,000, as compared to an estimated population of 7,500,000 for the Metropolitan district of London—an excess of 1,000,000 in favor of New York.

The population of New York exclusive of adjacent territory, census officials declare, will be between 6,500,000 and 7,000,000 as compared to 4,766,883, which was the federation census figure in 1919. In 1911 the population of London proper was 4,522,967, or 243,919 less than New York's population in the previous year.

Rough Roads for Wheels Are Smooth Roads for Passengers

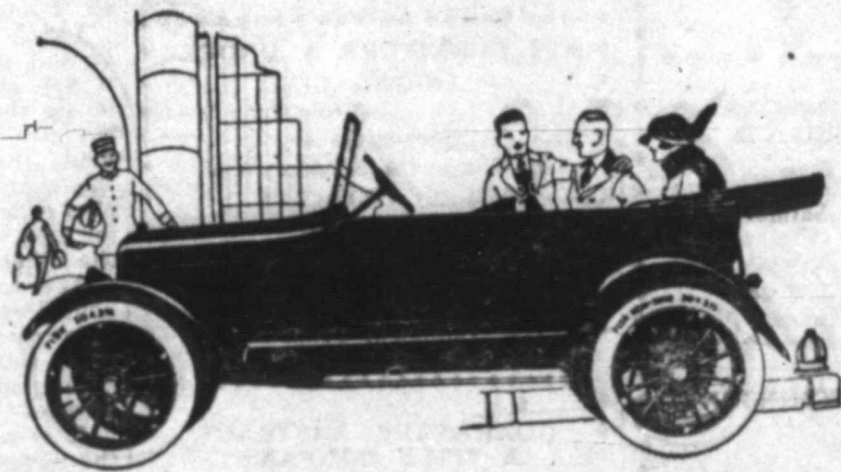

WATCH Overland 4 on rough cobbles or unpaved roads. The wheels follow surface inequalities, but the new Triplex Springs give car and passengers remarkable riding steadiness.

They give 130-inch Spring-base to a car of 100-inch wheelbase.

This makes for the gently buoyant road action of a large, heavy car with the economy in upkeep, fuel and tires, and convenience of handling of a scientifically designed light car.

Auto-Lite starting and lighting, door-opening curtains and dash light give but a hint of the completeness and quality which characterize everything about Overland 4.

Good Barns Make Better Farms

No farmer is highly successful who allows his cattle and horses to "run down." Good shelter is necessary to keep them in prime condition. Good shelter means commodious, comfortable barns.

Stock protected from cold winter weather and the cutting winds and rain of spring and fall will not require as much food as if they were unprotected. Grain and forage stored in a good barn will stay bright and retain the food value it had when stored away. And farm values are increased by good barns.

We can help you build better barns. In addition to supplying Long-Bell trade-marked lumber and other high grade building material, we will be glad to discuss all your building plans with you. This service, of course, is absolutely free.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Dress For the High School Girl

A high school girl's clothing should be simple, neat and comfortable. However, this does not mean that they should be ugly and out of style. She should dress inconspicuously and not try to follow the latest fashion. Her clothing should not be frivolous, but rather express individuality.

In selecting her clothing a girl should consider the wear to which it is to be put, and its price in regard to her allowance. She can dress well on a small amount of money if she does careful selecting.

Many girls think that to wear simple serge and gingham dresses to school means that one is not so well dressed as her neighbors, who wear silks and georgettes. But this is a wrong idea. Georgette blouses and dresses are never appropriate for school wear. They are for dress occasions only. To wear simple serge and linen dresses to school very often proclaims the good taste of the wearer. However, the dress is not all to be considered in regard to clothes. No matter how well dressed a girl is, if her accessories are not in keeping, her costume will not be complete. A high school girl should not always try to follow the latest mode of hair dressing. It is best to comb the hair in some simple, becoming, girlish way.

Hair ribbons that do not harmonize with either the costume or the hair should not be worn.

If a tie is worn it should not be too large and the color should either be the same as the rest of the costume, or harmonize with it.

A girl should be very careful about wearing beads and rings. In fact, very little jewelry, if any, should be worn.

High heels should not be worn to school. They are meant for dress occasions only. Elsie De Wolfe, costume designer and actress, says: "I cannot speak too strongly in favor of flat-heeled shoes for active women. I endorse them highly."

Louise Homer, noted operatic singer and soloist, says: "I believe that if you took a class of girls and allowed them to wear high heels for, say two years, and another set and made them wear sensible heels for the same length of time, the low-heeled girls would be healthier, wealthier and wiser, and also happier than the others."

The color of the shoe should be considered also. Black and brown shoes go well with dark costumes and white shoes with light dresses. White shoes should never be worn with dark dresses.

It is usually best to wear hose of the same color as the shoes. If they are not the same color as the shoes, they should go together well or they will mar the effect of any dress.

Silk stockings, especially in loud colors and striking designs, show poor taste if worn to school. Lisle stockings are less expensive and look

How Big Business Leads to Lower Prices

There's been a big increase in the amount of business this store does. Since our customers have made this increase, we think it's only right that they should get the benefit.

It costs just about as much to run a small business as it does a large one; not quite, but very nearly. It's pretty plain then that a merchant's profits increase faster than his business.

A merchant whose business is growing rapidly can do one of two things: He can leave his prices the same as they have been and take the additional profit, or he can reduce his prices and still make about the same profit each year.

We're satisfied with the profit this business has been paying. We're not satisfied, and never will be, with the amount of our prices—we want to give our customers the benefit of our growth—and we want to grow even more.

well. One piece dresses of washable material and simple tailor made woolen dresses and coat suits of good colors are in good taste for school wear. Plain hats of becoming styles are good for school wear also.

BLANCHE BEAN.
TO THE VOTERS OF LUBBOCK AND ATTACHED COUNTIES
I take this means of announcing to you my candidacy for the office of County Judge of Lubbock and attached counties. Since this office carries with it the duties of County Judge and County Superintendent of the Public Schools, I fully realize the qualifications, both from a legal standpoint, and from the standpoint of the public schools, that one should possess in order to render that service which should be required in filling this responsible office.

In this connection, I wish to state that I have had fourteen years' experience as a public school teacher in Texas, four years in the rural districts, and ten years as superintendent of public high schools. I hold a State Permanent Certificate, am a graduate of one of the State Normal Colleges, and my work for the past twenty years has been very closely and intimately associated with the public school systems of Texas. Since being in the agricultural work, I have been in close touch with the school work, and since taking up the agricultural work in your county, I have been deeply interested in the forward and progressive steps that have been and are being taken for the betterment and upbuilding of your country schools. Splendid foundations have been laid, you have builded well so far, and now, since the administration is going to change, I believe that the "gavel" for the school work should be placed in the hands of one competent to carry this work on to completion.

In connection with my qualifications for the school work, I also wish to state that I have taken the law course at the State University required for license to practice law. Hence I feel that I am qualified to handle the legal work pertaining to the office.

The duties of my work among you for the past two years has put me in close touch with the interests of the farmers and business men, so I now place my candidacy before you for your consideration, and, if elected, I shall have the pleasure of knowing that you have placed confidence in me, and in return I shall endeavor to maintain that confidence by putting forth my greatest efforts to fill the office to the best of my ability.

Sincerely yours,
CARROLL THOMPSON.
